ANCIENT BELLS.

Although the trouble, which has recently occurred in a Kentish parish through the 'mutilation' of old bells in the process of rehanging, was not connected with a peal used for change ringing, the subject is certainly one which concerns ringers. With the incident at Chalk, and upon whom the blame rests, we have nothing to do, but we have on more than one occasion in this column pointed out that when bell restorations are taken in hand, the comparatively few really ancient bells which we now possess ought to be jealously guarded. The destruction of bells of real antiquarian interest in the past has robbed the present and future generations of valuable relics, which, once lost, can never be replaced. Some of these old bells may have been perfectly useless in conjunction with a modern ring, and because of this they have been sacrificed. Those that are gone, are gone for ever, and no amount of lamentation will bring them back. With those, however, that still remain, it is a different matter.

When restorations are contemplated, the fact ought not to be overlooked that these ancient bells, particularly those of the pre-Reformation period, however crude they may be as 'musical' instruments, are, after all, specimens of the bell founder's art which in themselves are archæologically valuable, and which will increase in value as the centuries pass. There is also a sentiment in regard to them which ought not to be ignored, and to put them into the melting-pot is rank vandalism. Where there are precious relics of this kind, and it is impossible to utilise them in connection with a restoration scheme, they ought to be preserved and retained in an honoured place in the It is true that such action would involve a greater expense than if the old bells went into the new peal, but we think little of a parish that would not gladly meet this extra outlay to preserve such relics.

We are glad to observe that a strong point is made of this matter in the joint report of the conference between the Central Council and the Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings. That valuable old specimens of mediæval handicraft have been ruthlessly sacrificed in the past has been one of the reasons why antiquarians sometimes put obstacles in the way of the restoration of bells to make them pealable. It may be urged, and quite rightly, that what has happened has seldom been the fault of ringers; but, as ringers, we look upon ourselves as guardians of the bells, and wherever a church possesses bells cast by an early founder, special responsibility falls upon the ringers to see that such specimens of ancient work do not irretrievably disappear before some authority has had the opportunity of expressing an opinion upon their antiquarian value.

ELTHAM BELLS TO BE RESTORED.

TO BE MADE INTO AN OCTAVE,

An appeal is being made for funds for the restoration and augmentation of the bells at Eltham, Kent. After the war the Council of the Parish Church was faced with several problems involving repairs to the structure and furniture of the church. Of these the most urgent were the cleaning of the organ, and the restoration of the bells and clock. The former has been completed, and the Council now propose to take in hand the more formidable task of restoring the bells and clock. For many years the clock, which was erected in the tower in 1884 has not been doing its duty properly as the chief clock of the village, partly on account of repairs necessary to its own works, and partly because the mechanism which connects it its own works, and partly because the mechanism which connects it to the bells for chiming the hours and quarters is worn out. Further, some months ago the wheel of one of the bells broke and the Council took the opportunity of having the belfry and clock surveyed by an expert. The survey revealed the fact that the wooden framework and wheels are in a state of decay, that three of the bells are cracked, and that any money spent on repairs would be wasted—total restoration being necessary.

The history of the bells is lost in the mists of antiquity. Ancient records, however, inform us that in 1467 there were three great bells in the steeple and a Sanctus bell of brass. In 1571 two of these bells were recast: the peal was again recast and a tenor added in 1610: were recast: the peal was again recast and a tenor added in 1610: the whole peal was again recast in 1794. In 1879 the tower of the present church was completed and the bells rehung on the old framework. In 1897 the wheels were repaired and the bells quarter-turned. Hence, when considering their great age, the condition of the bells is not surprising, and it has, therefore, been decided to embark on the work of restoration, and at the same time to complete the peal by the additions of the bells.

plete the peal by the addition of two bells.

This will entail: (1) Clearing the tower of existing bells and clock:
(2) fixing a new steel frame with eight bells, the metal of the old (2) hing a new steel frame with eight bells, the metal of the old six bells being used in the new peal: (3) repairing and cleaning the clock, replacing it in the tower and connecting to the bells with modern mechanism; (4) providing a new clock face on the east side of the tower, i.e., facing up the High Street.

The modern method of casting and tuning bells, says the appeal, results in a tone far superior to that produced by the present bells, any this captured with cartain alterations to the mindows of the results in a tone far superior to that produced by the present bells, and this combined with certain alterations to the windows of the tower, which will throw the sound higher, will completely do away with the rather harsh tone at present noticeable by those in the close vicinity of the church.

The total sum required for this is about £850, and the whole work will be entyusted to Messrs. Gillett and Johnston of Croydon. Subscriptions (however small and by instalments if desired) are invited, and may be sent to Captain W. Anderson, M.C., 8, Sherard Road, Eltham, S.E.9, the hon, secretary and treasurer of the Eltham Bells and Clock Fund. Should a person or group of persons wish to give a bell either as a memorial or from any other motive the Coungive a bell either as a memorial or from any other motive, the Council would gladly allow the bell to be suitably inscribed.

The appeal has the support of many leading people of Eltham, and it is interesting to note that the list includes the names of the Wesleyan and Baptist Ministers.

DEATH OF MR. SPENCER MARSHALL.

It is with regret we have to record the death of Mr. Spencer Marshall, which took place suddenly on March 17th, at the early age of 35 years. The deceased was born at Rainham, Kent, and started ringing there in 1904. He rang his first peal at Sittingbourne. About ringing there in 1904. He rang his first peal at Sittingbourne. About 1906 his family moved to Bromley, Kent, and he joined the band at the parish church, and rang several peals with them. Working at Bexley Heath, he used to visit Crayford on practice nights and do his Sunday ringing at Bromley when he went home at the week-end. During the war he worked at Weybridge, Surrey, and took part in whatever ringing was available in that district.

Returning to his old employer after the war, he resided permanently at Bexley Heath, and joined the Crayford band, being a most regular attendant. He rang his last peal at St. John's, Deptford, last December, this being a Foresters' peal, conducted by Mr. W. J. Jeffries.

After ringing was suspended at Crayford last September, he, with After ringing was suspended at Crayford last September, he, with three others, concentrated on handbells, and had it not been for Mr. E. Barnett, senr.'s, long illness would doubtless have rang a peal, having rung over half-way several times before Christmas. His peals number about 36, several of which he conducted, his last as conductor being Holt's Original at Crayford.

He had been subject to fits from a child, and he passed away in one of these seizures.

The funeral took place at Crayford on Thursday last, the Rev. Canon Jones (Rector) officiating. The deceased was carried to the grave by four of his brother ringers, and the lesson in church was grave by four of his brother ringers, and the lesson in church was read by Mr. E. Barnett, junr., who also carried the processional cross. A fortnight before his death he paid a visit to Whitechapel Foundry to see Crayford bells, and they were due to reach the church on the day of the funeral. Fortunately they did not arrive until the following day .- R.I.P.

FIVE-TONED OPINIONS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—I note, with interest, the very courteous letter in the issue of March 16th by the Rev. C. H. Clarke; also those in recent numbers. As Mr. Clarke truly says, in this small hide-bound convention-ridden, 'British-Navy-girt portion of the terrestrial sphere it has always been our proud boast that each and every citizen, be he ever so humble, is entitled to hold and to hold forth on " his own opinion." ' The aforesaid citizen is also entitled forcibly to inculcate his opinion on the rest of his compeers, of course, always providing the aforesaid compeers will allow him so to do. We admit that this great and glorious privilege has two disadvantages; some people have an unacceptable opinion, and will express it and other people have a good and sound opinion and can't be made to voice it. Mr. Bar. nett, to my thinking, had a sound opinion, and he had the courage to voice his opinion, and opinions voiced, as his was, lead to dis-cussions which open the eyes of some at least, and cause them to think, and only good can come from sound thinking and honest debating on well-grounded opinions, and the Exercise owes a debt of gratitude to men like Mr. Barnett who have the courage to voice their beliefs in the face of decided opposition. And if this controversy will advance the art of campanelogy, by leading to improvements in tone and life of resonance, the Exercise will owe my old friend more than an ordinary debt of gratitude. The opinions already voiced include those of the expert Mr. Jerram, 'A Flat,' 'A Flat Seventh,' the very courteous letters of the Rev. C. H. Clarke, the very lucid and soundly-reasoned letter of Mr. A. P. Smith, and the letter which friend 'Irenæus Pistor ' has not ' half done.' One could almost persuade concept that Irenæus led very lived as converted to the transfer of the courter of the converted to the converted suade oneself that Irenæus had really taken counsel's opinion on the case; and one wonders what size of a refresher the momentous brief is marked with, but I still agree with 'A Flat' when he says that he cannot see what relation rubber is to copper; it is no more like rubber than a minor canon is like a gun of large calibre nor has as much resemblance to tin as 'A Flat' bears to a metallurgist. But all castings being formed in a moiten state, bear more than a marked resemblance one to another in their traits, he they copper, iron, steel or rubber; and the effect of machinery on each is the same, the effect of chipping is the same; but the effect of the one operation is not the same as the other. All castings have a power of resilience, and it has not yet been proved to us (as ringers) what operation effects that resilience most. No doubt none but the most expert metallurgists could give us these formulæ, and as yet the very few members of the Exercise who have this knowledge (I only know one) have not spoken. In conclusion, I should like to point out to 'Irenæus Pistor spoken. In conclusion, I should like to point out to 'tremens Pistor' that Bradford Cathedral bells have replaced a peal which had not even reached middle age. There are people alive to-day who remember Bradford old bells in their pristing glory, when there was music in their voices, but not a soul regretted their demise. Dor was it necessary to request 'no flowers.' Tremens Pistor,' my hat is off to you. I can joust with a rubber quarter staff, an ye will't.—Yours sincerely,

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.
A meeting of the South and West District of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was held at Feltham on Saturday, March 17th, when over 40 ringers altended, it being an ideal afternoon. The Ringing Master (Mr. R. Helloway) and the hon. secretary arrived at the church just before 3 o'clock, to and only Mr. J. B. Mackman of Reading, and another waiting. Within a few minutes, however, St. Mary's (Ealing) cycle section arrived, led by Mr. F. Goodfellow, and they were followed closely by Mr. W. Welling and his Boy Scout band from Windsor on their 'steeds.' The bells were then set going to various touches from Grandsire to Double Norwich

The Vicar (the Rev. F. G. Browell) attended the tea at the Parish Hall, at the invitation of the hon, secretary, and welcomed the association to Feltham, this being the first occasion he had had the pleasure of meeting the members.

At the business meeting, presided over by the Ringing Master, the usual vote of thanks was accorded to the Vicar and Mr. Denford (host), and steeplekeeper, after which the tower was again visited, and touches up to Cambridge Surprise was rung. The bells were kept going till 9 o'clock, when a pleasant afternoon ended.

THE BREAKING UP OF OLD BELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the 'formal inquiry' held at Chalk, it should be borne in mind by your readers that the founders are not always to blame for breaking up old bells. Founders are business people who have to show the largest profit they can on their year's work, and, as an employe of a firm of contractors. I can truthfully say that 90 per cent, of contracting firms would willingly smash up and recast, even the Pearly Gates, an they received the order so to and recast, even the Fearly Gates, an they received the order so to do. Sentiment and business do not agree; the sentiment, if any, should be shown by those who place the order, and no amount of 'skilful commercial travelling' should allow the placer of the contract to allow himself to be talked into allowing the contractor to make the contract a 'bigger job,' by breaking up and recasting.—Yours faithfully,

After the interval the Rev. C. D. P. Davies called attention to a feature of Holt's peals of Grandsire Triples in connection with a statement on page 12 of the 2nd edition (1905) of Grandsire in the Snowwherein the Editor states that the calling of the two don series: halves of the ten-part, starts in opposite directions from the same and those of the six-part from two points a lead apart from each other. But that the reverse was in reality the case. He exhibited a diagram, with a few leads pricked out in full, to prove the correctness of his argument. No resolution, however, was made, and

The Rev. H. Drake moved, 'That the Council draw up a card of instructions, on the care and use of bells, suitable for hanging in a tower.' This being seconded by the Rev. Canon H. J. The Rev. H. Drake then moved his further resolution, 'That every tower should be officially affiliated to some one society and only one.'

BOLSTERSTONE RINGERS' LOSS.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN WILMOT.

In John Wilmot, Bolsterstone ringers have lost a staunch and loyal member. Born in Devonshire in 1867, he first learnt to ring a bell as a lad in that country of cream and cider, and, although, wherever he went (and he was a great roamer, having been to several English Colonies) he always visited the nearest tower and rang with the ringers there, he never learnt change ringing till he went to the ringers there, he never learnt change ringing till he went to Bolsterstone about eight or nine years ago. Since then he has been most enthusiastic and regular in his attendance at service ringing. On the occasion of his first peal two years ago, on New Year's Eve, he rang the tener to a peal of Minor on the front six with the 7th and tenor covering, a monotonous job which no one but a real enthusiast would attempt. After much struggling and many attempts he rang the 6th to a peal of Bob Major, a good peal, on December 31st last—his first and last peal inside, for he was even then suffering from the complaint of which he died. After the peal he presented a splendid oak framed mirror to the tower, in appreciation of the ringers' efforts to teach him change ringing. to teach him change ringing.

His death occurred after an operation at the Sheffield Royal Infirmary. When he knew he would have to go there on some date unknown, he said, 'If I don't turn up some Sunday morning or to a practice you will know where I am,' and we did.

During the last seven or eight years the deceased has also fulfilled the duties of sidesman at St. Mary's, where his regularity at service was much appreciated. A man who had worked hard all his life, chiefly on public works, he was noted for his great physical and moral strength, his uprightness and honesty of character, and he will be greatly missed, both by his fellaw workmen and his brother ringers. In the tower, his quiet geniality, his kindly and practical help and general ability in all matters connected with the bells were invaluable, and his untimely death will leave a gap not easily filled. May able, and his untimely death will leave a gap not easily filled. he rest in peace. J. R. B.

STOKE DAMEREL BELLS TO BE RESTORED

The fine peal of six bells at the old church of Stoke Damerel, Devonport, are, owing to their bad state, to be restored by Messas. Aggett and Sons. The bells were cast by Bilbie, of Collumpton in the year 1789, and the tenor is 16 cwt.

The hells are to be hung on modern fittings, including Messrs. Wm. Aggett and Sons' patent adjusting hearings, and it is hoped to commence in the tower by May, Messrs. W. Aggett and Sons, of Chagford, have in hand the restoration of the peal of bells at Collaton, Paignton, Devon, and they hope to have these completed by the end of April. The date of the dedication of the dedication of the desired of the cation service will be announced later.

A correspondent asks: Will the next attempt at ringing a record peal of Stedman Caters be broadcasted by wireless so that all who can will be able to listen in? It would be a novelty and much appreciated by all ringers interested.

The first known long peal of Treble Bob with the tenors parted was rung at St. Michael Coslany, Norwich, on April 1st, 1727. The tablet in the belfry recording it, says, 'A remarkable peal was rung by the eight persons as under, called the quarter-peal of Oxford Treble Bob, all eight in, or the Union Bob, consisting of 10,080 changes, which they rung in 6 hours 28 minutes on the 1st day of April 2002. April, anno 1727.'

On April 3rd, 1899, the peal of 15,072 Double Norwich Major was rung in 9 hours 24 minutes at Erith by the Kent Association. At that time it was the record for the method.

On April 1st 1777, the first 6,000 of Treble Bob Maximus was rung. This was a College Youths' performance at Southwark.

The first recorded peal on the ancient bells at St. Bartholomew-the-Great, Smithfield, was rung in commemoration of the 800th anniversary of the dedication of the church on Wednesday in last week, when forty-two six-scores of Grandsire Doubles were rung by five ringers, who, on Saturday, by way of contrast, took part in a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus, at Bow!

DEATH OF MR. JOHN RICE.

A WELL-KNOWN SUSSEX RINGER

The death occurred recently at Grawley of Mr. John Rice, a well-known Sussex ringer, who was 52 years of age, had for some time past been in indifferent health, and partial paralysis and other complications brought about his death after a short but painful illness. He was laid to rest on the 7th of March, near the tower in which he had spent so many happy hours. The sad service was attended he had spent so many happy hours. The sad service was attended by a great gathering of townspeople to pay their last repects, many local bodies, ringers and friends being present. Besides his interest in ringing John Rice was secretary of the local Co-operative Society, a past Grandmaster of the Oddfellows, and was ever foremost in reaching for charitable chiefe in the bounds.

a past Grandmaster of the Oddfellows, and was ever foremost in working for charitable objects in the town.

His loss to ring at Crawley, with which tower he has been associated with for over thirty years, is irreparable. A good ringer and a good striker, regular for service ringing, he was an example to all who came in contact with him. He was of genial and retiring disposition, but into any task he undertook he put his whole soul and energy. For some years he served on the committee of the Sussex County Association, and he was also a member of the Sussex Association and Royal Cumberland Youths.

NOMENCLATURE OF MINOR METHODS.

CENTRAL COUNCIL COMMITTEE'S REPORT,

As instructed by the Central Council at Lincoln last May, given this matter our careful consideration, and beg to submit our Treport.

We have been guided in our work by the principles we made known at the Lincoln meeting, viz., by priority of use, and by the advisability of retaining as much as possible, consistent with our present definitions, all that has been in use in the past. We have also had in mind the decision of the Council at London in 1921, that all claims to give names to unusured methods in the collection should be sent to give names to unnamed methods in the collection should be sent to give hames to uniamed intended in the concerns should be selected to the librarian within six months.

The result of our effort is, we believe, quite in accordance with these conditions. To secure this we have been obliged to set aside a number of claims which were sent in at shorter or longer intervals after the lapse of the time allowed. Under such treatment some of these may be described as 'hard cases,' and we have real sympathy with the are concerned in them in their disappointment. But we realised all who are concerned in them in their disappointment. But we realised that to have dealt with them otherwise we should have been obliged to draw a dividing line between claims, all which, nevertheless, share in a common feature, viz., being too late. We were not willing to attempt the settlement of a question so justly open to a diversity of opinion, nor did we feel our terms of reference required us to do

It is, of course, open to the Council to modify or reject our decisions. This we think, will afford the necessary opportunity for any claimant, who considers himself aggrieved, to renew his claim. The following is the complete list of the names of all the regular Minor methods included in the C.C. Collection, and also of those not included. For the latter, see 'Bell News,' June 6th, 1914, p. 160, and 'Ringing World,' March 7th, 1913, p. 166.

In the case of methods to which more than one name had been given before the Council considered the question of Nomenclature, we have attributed those which our researches showed to be the first

SPLICED 720's OF MINOR.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—There is yet another method of splicing, not used in the Norbury peal. This can best be explained by an example. In the Collection of Legitimate (Regular) Minor Methods, pages 14 and 15, it will be seen that Fourth's Place Delight, Nos. 3 and 5 contain the same changes in a lead except for the two middle changes.

No. 3

No. 5

623541 236541 632451 326451

Therefore, if in a 720 of No. 3, three leads be picked out which have the same bells in the same position in 4th's and 5th's places at the 'lead head,' Method No. 5 can be substituted for No. 3 in these three leads. Similarly Nos. 10 and 14 and Nos. 11 and 15 can be spliced by picking three leads with the same bells in 3rd's and 5th's, as shown by the figures below.

Yours faithfully.

Sir,-We should like to acknowledge, through the medium of your columns, the courtesy shown by Messrs. Fernley and Blood in their replies to our questions, and to point out that the construction that may be placed upon the reason of our inquiry, as shown in Mr. Wilkerson's first paragraph, may not be correct; we were seeking knowledge only.

wheresons are paragraph, may not be correct; we were seeing knowledge only.

We should like to see some decision by the Methods Committee, regarding the names of the Minor methods, mentioned in our letter. We think the cost of printing these on a sheet would be small, and willingly would volunteer to undertake this, and the distribution of such slips, if only to prove our belief that the loss would be small, if any.—Yours faithfully.

The last paragraph of the above letter is to some extent answered by the report of the Central Council's Committee, published in this issue.-Ed. 'R.W.'

BOB ROYAL ON HANDBELLS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—With reference to the handbell peal of Bob Royal, mentioned on page 168 of your issue of 16th March, it would be interesting to know whether that rung at St. Albans in 1889 was actually entered in the College Youths' books, and if so, at what date it was inscribed. When Mr. G. F. Woodhouse sent up the report of our rung at Caius College on 3rd March. 1897, we certainly gathered that up to that time there was no peal of Bob Royal 'in hand' recorded in the society's books. It is only a small matter, but it, has its etailetical interest as far as it week.—Yours truly statistical interest as far as it goes .- Yours truly Kington Magna Rectory, F. LI. EDWARDS.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION.

EASTERN DISTRICT MEETING AT YORK.

The annual meeting was held at York on Saturday, March 17th, and the attendance was one of the largest seen at a district meeting for some time past, the delightfully fine day no doubt having much to do with the success of the gathering. The peal of twelve at the Minster was available during the afternoon and evening by permission of the Very Rev. the Dean of York (Dr. W. Foxley Norris), as were also the rings of six at SS. Philip and James', Chifton, and St. Mary's, Bishophill, by consent of the respective Vicars, the Rev. C. T. Alexander, M.A., and the Rev. B. W. Wood M.A. Various touches were rung on the bells in the standard methods by the visiting companies, who made good use of the time allotted to them. panies, who made good use of the time allotted to them.

YORK MINSTER.

Choral evensong was held in the Minster at 4 p.m., and was attended by a large number of ringers, who greatly appreciated the beautiful service.

The was provided at the Ebor Hall, to which no fewer than 68 sat down, representing towers at Badsworth, Beverley, Goole, Hemingboro', Hull, Leeds, Market Weigliton, Fontefract, Selby, Sherburn, Sutton, Tadcaster, Wetherby and York. At the conclusion, Mr. G. Horner, who had charge of the local arrangements, requested the Rev. R. G. Pyne to read a letter from the Dean, which he had received that morning. In this letter the Dean said he was more than disappointed not to be with them. He had been in London for some days with his son, who was very ill, and he would not arrive home until too late to be present at tea. The Dean asked Mr. Horner to tell the visiting ringers how cordially they welcomed the members of the association to York, and how much he wished he could have been amongst them. amongst them.

A vote of sympathy was passed to the Dean, with an expression of hope for the speedy recovery of his son.

The business meeting followed in St. Michael-le-Belfry Schoolroom, Sionegate, the Rev. R. G. Pyne, M.A., Vicar of St. Cuthbert's, York, presiding. He was accompanied on the platform by the Rev. C. T. Alexander, the Rev. B. W. Wood, Mr. A. E. West (Sutton-on-Hull), vice-president, and Mr. A. B. Cook (Hull), hon district secretary.

The Chairman (who was formerly curate at Beverley Minster) remarked that he appreciated the honour at being invited to preside, not merely because he was interested in church bell ringing, but because he recognised the sense of fellowship and spirit of brotherhood that existed amongst ringers, and that they were all fellow-workers that existed amongst ringers, and that they were all fellow-workers in one cause in the service of God, and in that way they could materially help and strengthen one another. The following new members were elected members of the Association: Miss Violet A. Imeson and Mr. S. Steel, York; Messrs. L. M. Woodhead, A. White, W. Stephenson, and A. Jackson, of Goole; Mr. F. Hatfield of Heminghoro'; Mr. A. Turner, of Sutton-on-Hull, and Mr. J. W. Johnson, of All Saints', Hull.

Mr. F. Cryer (Selby) and Mr. R. B. Smith (Howden) were re-elected on the committee and the vacancy caused by the retirement of Mr.

H. Walters (Pontefract), who had served for several years, was filled by the appointment of Mr. A. Walker, senr. (Pontefract), Mr. Cryer was re-elected on the Central Committee.

Mr. A. B. Cook was re-elected hon. district secretary.
Mr. W. Middleton (Beverley Minster) invited the district to hold the next quarterly meeting at Beverley, in June, and this offer was unanimously accepted.

On the motion of Mr. P. J. Johnson, hon, general secretary, a cordial vote of thanks was passed to the Dean of York, the Rev. C. T. Alexander, and the Rev. B. W. Wood for the use of the bells, and to the York ringers for the excellent arrangements made for the meet-

The Rev. C. T. Alexander and the Rev. B. W. Wood replied, and both spoke in appreciation of the opportunity of getting the bells rung. The ringers were doing a really good piece of church work in ringing the bells, and it was highly appreciated by the parishioners.—Mr. T. F. Earnshaw responded on behalf of the local company. The meeting then concluded with a vote of thanks to the chairman, and the Benediction said by the Rev. C. T. Alexander.

NORWICH, ST. EDMUNDSBURY & IPSWICH ASSOCIATION

NORWICH, ST. EDMUNDSBURY & IPSWICH ASSOCIATION

A practice meeting of the Halesworth District was held at St. Peter's Church, Wenhaston, and was attended by ringers from Bramfield, Brampton, Halesworth, Henham, Mells, Wissett and Wenhaston. Several well-struck touches were rung in the following methods: Grandsire and Bob Doubles, Plain Boh Minor, Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Minor. The district secretary, Mr. F. C. Lambert, had arranged the meeting in connection with the 74th birthday of the popular verger and tower keeper, Mr. George Eastaugh, who look part in the ringing during the evening. Reference was made to the loss the society had sustained by the recent death of Mr. Jas. Motis, of St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, the respected Ringing Master of the Suffolk branch, and for many years one of the leading ringers of England. After leaving the tower, an hour's ringing on the handbells brought to a close a very successful meeting.

FALSE METHODS.

FALSE METHODS.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir.—On looking through the hook of Legitimate Methods I see there is given Double Grandsire Doubles, which is not a true method, there being two false rows beside the hand stroke treble lead 5324 and 4352. It is impossible to get a true 120. Also there are only three true methods in Triples, viz., Grandsire, Stedman and College Single. Take Double Grandsire, for instance. There are three false rows beside the hand stroke treble lead 564732, 764235 and 567243, so that it is impossible to get a true peal; and the rest are all about the same.—Yours truly,
