INSURANCE

From Derbyshire we have received an interesting query concerning the insurance of ringers. In a form attached to the policy the amount of payment per annum to the various church workers is given, and the ringers are shown as receiving £52 yearly. Here the ringers are all voluntary; their services to the Church are gladly given. What is their position in the event of a claim in case of injury?

We submitted the question to a legal friend, who at once said that without seeing the policy it was difficult to express an opinion. He assumes that the liability of the insurers is limited to indemnifying the Church authorities in respect of any claim against them under the Workmen's Compensaton and Employers' Liability Acts. Voluntary ringers or an unpaid steeplekeeper would not succeed in a statutory claim under the before-mentioned Acts against the Church authorities, and the insurers would not therefore be called upon to indemnify except perhaps to the extent of legal costs incurred by the policy holders in resisting a claim.

A voluntary worker might have a Common Law claim against the Church authorities for any injuries occasioned through 'negligence' of the responsible authority. Some years ago a boy was awarded substantial damages against the authorities at a church by reason of the fact that, while he was tolling a bell, the clapper fell out and struck him, causing severe injuries. The word 'negligence' should be taken as meaning something narrower than its accepted sense. Perhaps it would be clearer if we state that the volunteer was injured by reason of some defect which was known or which might, with due care, have been known to the authorities, but was not and could not without undue investigation have been patent to the volunteer. If such was the case, a good claim for damages would exist.

It must be remembered that a Church Council is a corporate body, and its members are not individually liable, and as a body are only liable to the extent of the funds in hand. In the case of paid workers, if there is a definite contract for service at an agreed remuneration the worker could in case of injury arising out of and in the course of the employment be entitled to the compensation prescribed by statute. The maximum weekly payment under the Workmen's Compensation Act for total incapacity is 35s., plus sundry small war-time additions which depend on the number of dependants of the injured persons. The total sum payable in respect of a fatal accident under this Act varies, according to the dependants left, from the cost of the funeral to £700. Generally speaking, the Workmen's Compensation, Employers' Liability and Third Party policies are not usually agreements by the Insurance Company to pay compensation in respect of accidents but are indemnities to the policy holder against claims which are legally substantiated. A subtle difference!

CHESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

DIAMOND JUBILEE FESTIVAL AT MACCLESFIELD.

In glorious summer weather the Chester Diocesan Guild held its diamond jubilee festival at St. Michael's, Macclesfield, on May 31st, when a large number of ringers from all parts of the diocese and friends from further afield were present. An early start was made with ringing, and the B.B.C. recording van arrived shortly after 1 p.m. Some speech records were made as well as two of the fine twelve at St. Michael's, one of rounds and the other of Queens, which were later used in the Northern programme. It is to be regretted that the B.B.C. gave only twelve hours' notice of its intention to make these records and no definite intention to make these records and no definite time appears to have been arranged for the subsequent broadcast, which was, in fact, made the same evening after the news.

Service was held at 3.30 p.m. and opened with a special bidding prayer fitting to the occasion. In the absence of the Bishop through indisposition, the festival sermon was preached by the Ven. F. J. Okell, Archdeacon of Macclesfield, who had formerly usen associated with ringers at both Excleston and ciated with ringers at both Eccleston and

The Archdeacon spoke of those whose convictions and foresight 60 years ago brought the Guild into being and whose efforts had resulted in its foundations being well and truly laid. He mentioned especially the names of Archdeacon Barber and Mr. H. A. Heywood. To its founders and to those who had so ably carried on since their day the Guild owed a debt of gratitude. He also stressed the objects which were in mind when the Guild was formed, including not only the advancement of the art of change ringing, but also the recognition of ringers as officers of the Church. Finally he emphasised the spirit of fellowship which existed, between members of any Guild and among all ringers everywhere.
Tea was served in the Beehive Cafe.

At the annual meeting, the Master, Mr. J. W. Clarke, presided and at the outset expressed the thanks of the Guild to the Archdeacon for his kindness in preaching a sermon which was so perfectly in tune with the feel-which was so perfectly in the with the color ings of all members on that occasion.

The report on the past year gave clear indication that the Guild had gone a long way towards the recovery of its pre-war prosperity. It showed increased activity in peal ringing with many members ringing their first peal, and with membership rising there is ample evidence that service ringing is almost back to its former high level. Several restoration schemes are contemplated and others have already been completed, notably the ring of ten at Christ Church, Macclesfield. It was fitting, too, that in the report the names of several members who had given loyal service to the Guild throughout its 60 years of existence were recorded, and some who had but recently passed over proudly remembered. Among the latter the name of Mr. Harry Brocklebank, for over 30 years secretary of the Wirral Branch, had a special place of honour.

The Master gave a report on the meeting of the Central Council at Exeter, stressing the point made by the president of the import-ance of striking and of the lesson the 'scientific' ringer might profitably learn from the round ringer of the south-west where great accuracy of striking is insisted upon.

In the election of officers the Master was re-elected and his first duty was to propose the re-election of the Rev. J. D. Pearson as secretary, at the same time paying high tribute to the work he had so willingly done in the past. The fact that Mr. Pearson was not a ringer made his efforts for the Guild all the more commendable. After having held office for a considerable number of years, both the report secretary (Mr. H. Parker) and the peal recorder (Mr. R. W. Worrall) asked to be allowed to resign. In accepting their resignations with extreme regret, the meeting expressed its keen appreciation of the work done by both these officers. Mr. Whittaker and Mrs. Lawton were elected to the vacancies.

The meeting concluded with hearty votes of thanks to the branch officials, whose untiring efforts had done so much to further the Guild's prosperity; to the Vicar of St. Michael's for his hospitality and to those members of the Macclesfield Branch who had been responsible for the arrangements for the day. was made of the many bells available during the evening.

Six towers were visited by the Chester Branch on Whit Monday when they held their annual trip in Shropshire. The touches included Plain Bob, Grandsire, Kent Treble Bob, Cambridge, Double Norwich and London, both in Major and Royal in Major and Royal.

ROYAL ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

In response to the telegrams sent from the meeting of the Central Council at Exeter to Queen Mary and Princess Elizabeth, the following replies have been received:—

'I am commanded to express Queen Mary's sincere thanks to your very kind message of congratulation on the anniversary of Her Majesty's birthday.—Private Secretary.'

The Lady-in-Waiting is desired by the neess Elizabeth to thank the Central Princess Council of Church Bellringers for their most kind message sent on the occasion of Her Royal Highness' 21st birthday, which the Princess very much appreciated.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Very successful was the Whit Monday meeting of the Wisbech Branch at Walpole St. Andrew, when the visitors included Mr. W. A. Stote (Coventry), Mr. C. E. Jefferies (Mauldon, Beds), Mr. A. Mason (London) and Mr. F. W. Lack (Great Staughton).

The Vicar (the Ray A. Lee, Werner) con-

PLANNING THE 70th ANNIVERSARY.

Sixteen towers and visitors from Catterick Camp attended the half-yearly meeting of the Association at Darlington on May 31st.

Ringing was enjoyed at St. Cuthbert's (8) and Holy Trinity (6), and a service was held in Holy Trinity conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. J. Simpson), who gave an inspiring address. Mr. A. Minto, F.R.C.O., was the organist, and the lesson was read by Mr. W. N.

A company of 45 sat down to tea at the Fleece Hotel. The president (Mr. R. L. Patterson) was in the chair at the business meet-

Miss Armstrong said that the watch tower bells at Morpeth were in a very bad state and the local Council were disinclined to do anything towards their rectification at the present time. The President referred to the recent death of Mr. George S. Taylor, of St. Ignatius', Sunderland, formerly secretary and treasurer of the Association and whom he personally had known for 50 years. At the president's suggestion the meeting stood in silence dent's suggestion the meeting stood in Sheaters as a mark of respect.

New members elected were Messrs. J. W. Addison, F. R. Addison and H. A. Ward, of Thornaby, and the Misses B. E. Shutt, N. Benson, M. Walton and D. M. Killingley and Messrs. G. A. Holmes and R. Spencer, of Richmond, to whom the president extended a hearty welcome.

The Hon. Treasurer referred to the difficulties encountered in catering arrangements at the present time, and reported that he had booked at the Three Tuns Hotel, Durham, the annual festival, and this action was ratified by the meeting. It was felt that as the annual festival this year was the 70th anniversary of the Association's formation, some additional expense might be incurred, and on the proposi-tion of Mr. Kenneth Arthur seconded by Mr. Fred Robson, the treasurer was empowered by a unanimous vote to spend up to £5 at his discretion.

After votes of thanks a move was made to the towers, where further ringing took place, which included Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Treble Bob, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise. A collection for the Association's Bell Restoration Fund realised £1 12s. 10d.

THE ESSEX ASSOCIATION

INCREASED SUBSCRIPTION DEFERRED.

In an uplifting address at the 68th annual meeting and festival of the Essex Association at Chelmsford Cathedral on Whit Monday, the Bishop of Chelmsford (president of the Association) called upon all ringers to greater efforts, saying that ringers could reach those outside the Church and remind all people that the Church had the answer to a great many the Church had the answer to a great many of the vexing problems besetting the world to-day. The Precentor (the Rev. Dore) conducted the service.

The Master, Dr. P. T. Spencer-Phillips, J.P., presided at the annual meeting held in the Chapter House, supported by the hon. secretary and treasurer (Mr. Robert C. Heazel) and 150 ringers and friends.

The annual report recorded a very successful year with steadily increasing progress and membership. After a lengthy discussion the report was adopted. A slight decrease in the balance in hand was shown in the treasurer's statement.

Alterations made to the rules and on the recommendation of the committee included the creation of the new office of Deputy Master and increasing the number of trustees from two to three.

The Master spoke of the 60 years' service to the Association by Mr. George Green, of Great Baddow, and on Dr. Spencer-Phillips' proposition he was unanimously elected a life vice-president.

The Master was re-elected and Mr. G. L. Joyce was elected to the new office of Deputy Joyce was elected to the new onice of Deputy Master. Also re-elected was the general secretary and treasurer. In order to make way for a younger representative, Mr. E. J. Butler resigned his membership of the Central Council. He was thanked for his services and Mr. F. V. Gant was elected to fill the vacancy. The three representatives attending the Central Council meeting were thanked for their services and re-elected en bloc.

Mr. C. Ellis reported progress made with the Nevard memorial and said he hoped it would soon be completed. The Master reported that a £10 grant had been made to the Great Tey Bell Restoration Fund and that enquiries had been received from St. Mary's, Maldon.

Under the heading of 'Any other business,' the question of increasing subscriptions was raised by Mr. G. L. Joyce, who stated that to carry out the policy of the Association a greater income was necessary. Several memgreater income was necessary. Several members spoke on the same lines, but owing to the shortage of time no decision was reached.

A letter from Mr. George Gilbert re the appeal for Burnham bells was read.

A vote of thanks was accorded to all those who had helped to make the meeting a success.

Following the lunch the company split into small parties to visit the churches in the surrounding parishes, where a very pleasant after-noon with some good ringing was enjoyed by all. R.O.H.

Chesterfield's New Ten

An air of expectancy prevailed at Chester-field on May 24th, the day of the dedication of the new ring of ten. Townspeople gathered in the vicinity of the Parish Church of St. Mary in the afternoon to hear the bells for the first time. Most of the ringers in the district attended with enthusiasts from Birmingham, Derby, Doncaster, Leeds, Manchester and other distant towers.

The bells had previously been baptised by the Assistant Bishop on April 12th, and the dedication by the Bishop of Derby took place during evensong. After the words of dedication, the bells were rung in rounds. In his address the Bishop said the bells were to be rung to the glory of God and to call people

A well-struck course of Grandsire Caters followed the service, the ringers being J. Thorpe, G. Briggs, F. B. Ditcher, B. Knights, A. P. Knights, L. Trevor, A. Firth, N. Chaddock, E. A. Thorpe and W. Allman (tenor). Tea followed at St. James' Hall, a company of 130 being present, including the Bishop and the Archdeacon of Chesterfield. The ringers then redurined to the tower and an endeavour then returned to the tower and an endeavour was made for each to have a pull. Methods rung included Cambridge Royal and London Major.

The last occasion the old ring of ten was rung was in 1924, when owing to the oscillation of the tower and the weakened structure of the spire, which is built of timber covered with lead slates and stands quite a normal height and proportionate to the church, the authorities pronounced further ringing unsafe.

The tower and spire have now been fully restored, the old wooden frame removed and the bells recast into ten with a tenor a little over 25 cwt. and hung in a new steel frame with modern fittings The bells are placed well below the louvred windows. They possess well below the louvred windows. They possess a delightful tone and their volume in the vicinity is reasonable. All the bells can be clearly heard in the belfry. The new ropes proved a little springy, but from a ringer's point of view an excellent ring has been provided, and Messrs. Mears and Stainbank are to be congratulated on a fine piece of work.

Chesterfield tower has a few qualified ringers and a number of learners who can read and are under the direction of Mr. S. Scattergood. It is hoped that the bells will be rung regularly for services, as they are a worthy asset to the church and a joy to the H.O.C. and a number of learners who can ring rounds

WEDDING OF REV. R. D. St. J. SMITH

Ringers gathered from far afield at Calverley, Leeds, on June 5th, for the wedding of the Rev. Roger Douglas St. John Smith, son of the Rev. and Mrs. D. G. Smith, of Chaplain's House, Ravenstone, Leicester, and Miss Frances Mary Calderbank, daughter of Canon and Mrs. J. Calderbank, of Calverley Vicarage. The Ven. Archdeacon S. E. Lowe conducted the service, with the Rev. D. G. Smith.

The bridegroom, who is a well-known ringer, was a chaplain of the Forces in West Africa, was a chaplain of the Forces in West Africa, India and Burma during the war. The bride, who was physiotherapist at Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Birmingham, was attended by her sister, Miss Kathleen Calderbank, and two friends, Miss Frances S. Pedley and Miss Patricia M. Creaser. Mr. A. W. Chalmers, the best man, was a friend of the bridegroom in the Burms, campaters.

in the Burma campaign.

The company included ringers from Ashton-under-Lyne, Somersham, Norwich and nearer places. Immediately after the wedding the eight bells of Calverley Church were fired and rung in rounds and Queens, and later in the day a peal of Bob Major was rung. Handbell ringing—Bob Major and Grandsire Caters—was a pleasing feature of the reception. A.G.G.T.

Peterborough Guild

GIFTS TO THE RETIRING MASTER. Appreciation of the services of the Rev. E. S. Powell during the 12 years he was Master of the Peterborough Guild was expressed in a tangible manner at the annual meeting of the Guild at Northampton on Whit Monday. Powell gave the address at the service in St. Giles' Church, which was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. G. W. C. Thomas). A company of 103 sat down to tea.

The president (the Archdeacon of Northampton) presided at the business meeting. The officers elected were: President, the Archdeacon of Northampton; Master, Mr. E. E. Whitmore; secretary and treasurer, Mr. R. G. Black; representatives to the Central Council for the next session 1948-49-50, Messrs. G. W. Jeffs, W. Rose, G. S. Valentine and E. E. Whitmore. The office of auditor (vacant by the sudden death of Mr. A. P. J. Ward last March) was filled by the election of Mr. B. J. Saddington. Grants from Bell Restoration Fund approved were: Great Brington £10, Grafton Regis £10, and Paulerspury £5.

The President, in a very appropriate speech,

Grafton Regis £10, and Paulerspury £5.

The President, in a very appropriate speech, made a presentation to the retiring Master as a mark of appreciation of the great work he had done during the 12 years he held the office. The presentation took the form of an illuminated address framed in old oak, expressing appreciation of his efforts and good wishes to him and Mrs. Powell on retirement. It was accompanied by a roll of notes. The Rev. E. S. Papull withhy replied, and thunked the mem-Powell suitably replied, and thanked the mem-bers for the thought which prompted the presentation.

Mr. H. Baxter moved a vote of thanks to all Mr. H. Baxter moved a vote of thanks to an who had in any way assisted in making the meeting a success. Four non-resident life members were elected, viz., Messrs. G. Hart, R. E. W. Wenban, W. Wenban and J. R. Mayne, all of Harrow, Middlesex.

All the bells in Northampton were available and good use was made of them. Among the visitors were some from London, Leicester, Chesterfield, Huntingdon and Wolverhampton. Wellingborough was selected for next year's annual meeting.

LEEDS AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

PRESENTATION TO MR. W. H. SENIOR. Batley bells are claimed by Mr. W. H. Senior to be the finest light ring in all Yorkshire, and it was after hearing these bells that the May meeting of the Society was held on May 31st.

The president (Mr. J. McGlenn), supported by the Rev. L. A. Smith and the full com-mittee, presided and the most important business was the presentation to Mr. Sentor. In making it the chairman said Mr. Sentor was the sixteenth to hold the office of president, and during the nine years he was president and the seven years as vice-president he had put in a lot of very hard work. He had nad put in a lot of very hard work. He had very great pleasure in presenting him with a silver cigarette case and a barometer in the hope that the Budget would not affect the supplies or prevent the case from always having some stock inside.

Mr. Senior, in reply, regarded when he joined the Society at Rothwell as the finest day's work he had done. He had learnt a lot day's work he had done. He had learnt a lot and had had much pleasure, and formed friendships which had lasted through the years. He had also learned to ring Surprise methods, but the gifts he had received were the greatest 'surprise' ever. In conclusion he asked all present to support the president and the Society, paying their best attention to striking as the listening public did not like jumble bells.

Other tributes to Mr. Senior were from Mr.

Other tributes to Mr. Senior were from Mr. Walsh and Mr. Lofthouse. The latter, in thanking Mr. Senior for all he had done, said they could not expect the barometer always to be showing 'set fair' but they wished Mr. Senior's future would always be bright and happy and his path of life as fair as possible.

Scene—The Tower of a Liverpool Church, one Practice Night recently.

Two young men, about 20-22, came up into the ringing chamber and stood by the door till the short touch was finished. The tower-keeper wished them 'Good evening' and asked if they were ringing. They said, 'No, we came to ask if the ringers would stop ringing.'

On being acked why they replied that they On being asked why, they replied that they were playing 'housey housey' in the street opposite and could not hear the numbers called! Collapse of towerkeeper.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

'Guillotine'

Dear Sir,-May I be allowed to make one or two comments on your very fair leading article in this week's 'Ringing World.' Firstly, concerning the 'guillotine.' Of course, there are times when it is better that 'we pass on to the next business' without further delay, but I believe this chould be done convingly and believe this should be done sparingly and when there has been a fair time allotted for full discussion. I don't think there were any objections to this procedure at Norwich because objections to this procedure at Norwich because there had been a chance for everyone, but at Exeter this was not the case. However, as the secretary remarked, it is up to the mem-bers to reject it, Secondly, concerning the Basingstoke peals (and I am sorry to keep on bringing them up, but it seems to be necessary). There still seems to be some confusion about what the nine bells are (this is where I think the leadnine bells are (this is where I think the leading article is again misleading). These nine bells are unique (I think) in that they are the back nine of a peal of ten, i.e., nine bells in the diatonic scale, or an octave with a treble added (note re). It is no comparison at all to mention a 13 where one bell is a flattened 6th—the 13 are not the back 13 of a peal of 14, i.e., are not in the diatonic scale. In the usual sense, it is wrong to describe them as two rings of eight.

There would have been no peals rung on the Basingstoke bells if they had not been a nine in the diatonic scale, and if nine such bells are not a Caters combination, I don't bells are not a Caters combination, I don't know what is! Perhaps I ought to add that I neither took part in the peals concerned nor did I know they were being rung. I think it also ought to be mentioned that the second peal of Kent with a cover was rung because it was thought to be allowed by the rules (Mr. Kippin told me this after the performance) with the idea of showing how illogical they were. I confess I for one am still not clear why it was ruled out of order—the sudden ending of the matter prevented us from learning this ending of the matter prevented us from learning this.

Thirdly, concerning 'music.' All would agree that we secure as musical a combination as possible, but I still maintain that the first criterion of a peal is 5,000 odd different changes. I don't believe the public (if they ever really listen to a peal) would know ever really listen to a peal) would know whether a peal was a good one for music or whether it made all the most obvious 'mistakes' musically as the ringer regards them. For instance, has there been any hestation in parting the tenors in certain Major methods when a 'different' peal was required? Also, since it is usually acknowledged that odd bell methods with a tenor covering give the most musically satisfying peals, who is to say that a Major method with a tenor covering is less musical than on the eight bells alone? I would hesitate very much in denouncing it. is less musical than on the eight bells alone? I would hesitate very much in denouncing it. No, sir, you cannot argue from the musical standpoint, I am certain (with all due respect to Mr. Johnson)—and remain logical, of course. I am sorry to go on at such length about this matter, and I fear some think that I am just trying to be awkward; that is why we were 'guildtined,' I suspect. But until I am convinced that we have not a fair case I shall convinced that we have not a fair case I shall be able to prevent myself having a hrm opinion on the question. Being a newcomer to the Exercise, I believe I can see things with a more unprejudiced eye than many who have been many years on the Council (I say that with all respect), and anything which is illogical is more apparent to such as I. To me, illogicality savours of unfairness, and so, for the good of all concerned, I feel bound to fight to remove it, and may I add that I hope this point will be carefully watched when the revision of rules and decisions takes place.—Yours faithfully, K. W. H. FELSTEAD.

P.S.—How about the Central Council adding a trable at Pacingsteke and thus prepaying its a treble at Basingstoke and thus removing its peculiarity and making a respectable ring of 10?—K.W.H.F.

A True Ring

Dear Sir,—We ringers at Basingstoke are much concerned that so many people are talk-ing about the ring of nine belis at All Saints' Church, without a true knowledge of the facts. Without entering deeply into music, the facts are these:-

are these:—
The nine bells hung in the tower are a true ring of nine, their notes being G, F, E, D, C, B flat, A, G, F. It is impossible to obtain more than one true ring of eight, in either major or minor key, and that is the back eight. This may be checked on a piano or hand halfs. handbells.

A previous incumbent used to insist on the ringing of the front eight during Lent, but those bells do not give an eight in a minor those bells do not give an eight in a minor key, or, for that matter, any musical scale. This practice is now discontinued. To obtain an eight in a minor key a flat third bell, namely E flat, is required, giving the following eight: G, F, E flat, D, C, B flat, A, G. That bell does not exist. In any case the ringing world has its own means of expressing senders that of using muffles. sadness, that of using muffles.

I repeat that the nine bells are a true ring of nine, and would be a true ten if another treble bell, note A, were added.

This case has no comparison with the 13 bells at Leicester, and that to be completed at Lincoln.—Yours truly, Basingstoke.

DAVID H. ANSTEY.

50 YEARS REGULAR SERVICE RINGER

Dear Sir,-I noticed an item in the Belfry Gossip concerning the ringing of some church bells every Sunday over a period of 40 years. St. Peter's Bournemouth, can boast an un-broken record of regular Sunday ringing for morning and evening service for over fifty morning and evening service for over fifty years. I wonder how many towers start their Sunday ringing every Sunday at 9.30 a.m. This has been so at St. Peter's since 1906 when the 10 o'clock Sung Eucharist was introduced before 11 o'clock Matins. Messrs. Charles Forfitt (84) and Eli Waters (81) are still most regular in their services. Mr. Waters cycles in from Southbourne twice every Sunday to do so. Both these veterans were ringing at the church 50 years ago, and since the re-moval of the recent ban have rendered valuable service and assistance with the training of young ringers.

RINGING IN FILMS

Dear Sir,—On opening this week's 'Ringing World' (June 13th), I chanced to see Mr. Goodenough's letter on ringing, which took place in Elstree Studios, Herts, for the film, 'Green Fingers.' This is not the first time a studio has been treated to such an event.

Three or four years ago, during the Archers production, 'A Canterbury Tale,' at Denham, a complete bell frame was built by the studio pattern-makers, and a complete ring of 'bells' pattern-makers, and a complete ring of 'bells' cast in plaster by the plasterers under the guidance of Mr. Richard Deal, a well-known London ringer. This 'ringing peal' was assembled and rung 'upset' in rounds. I'm afraid I forget by whom.

This sequence represented the interior of the Cantarbury Cathaland.

Canterbury Cathedral bell chamber, and was eventually used as a background to the credit titles of this film. The bells of St. Margaret's, Westminster, ringing Grandsire (or was it Stedman) Caters were dubbed on for the sound effect to complete the faking.—Yours sincerely, PATRICIA HOLMES.

From Australia recently we heard of a quarter rung in three methods (Old Doubles, Plain Bob, Grandsire Doubles) at St. Jude's, Randwick, Sydney, on Whit Sunday, by Miss R. Donnelly 1, I. Napper 2. N. Robinson 3, R. S. Rowe (conductor) 4, J. Duncan 5. G. Shaw 6. It was the first quarter in three methods on the bells for the N.S.W. Association and by all the band.

Chilvers Coton Dedication

NOW A RING OF TEN.

The dedication of two new trebles at Chilvers Coton, Warwickshire, on May 17th, completed the ring of ten. The church now shares with St. Mary's, Warwick, the honour of being the only churches in the Coventry Diocese with with the control of the hells. rings of ten bells.

The date of dedication was aptly chosen as the sixth anniversary of the destruction of the church by enemy aircraft. The service was held in the chapel, which has been built by German labour on the ruins of the old and is nearing completion. The tower was only slightly damaged and the ring of eight unlurt, although the ringing room suffered from

The new bells were dedicated by the Vicar of Coton, the Rev. R. T. Murray, who is the president of the Coventry Diocesan Guild. Among those taking part in the service, which was well attended, were the Rev. J. Emrys Jones (curate) and Capt. R. Willett (Church Army). Mrs. D. E. Beamish (secretary of the Coton band and also of the Coventry Diocesan Guild) read the lesson. Mr. J. P. Fidler represented the Loughborough founders.

Among the congregation were Mr. Albert Walker, St. Martin's Guild; Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas, Evesham; Mr. F. E. Pervin, Master of the Coventry Diocesan Guild; Mr. E. Dodds, East Dereham, and Mrs. G. M. Mosedafe, Taunton, son and daughter of the late Canon M. A. Dodds, some time Vicar of Coton; Miss M. V. Godderidge, Folkestone; and Mr. H. C. Spencer, Birmingham.

After the dedication of the two rew bells the Vioar handed them over to the care of Mr. J. E. S. Moreton (Ringing Master). In his address, the Vicar spoke of the art of bellringing and stated that he had used some of the dedicatory prayers offered when the bells were dedicated 39 years ago. He praised the work put in by the members of the Coton hand towards the competition of the ring and band towards the completion of the ring, and congratulated them on the success attending their appeal for funds, stating that they had raised more than the original estimate of the cost of the bells. This was given to them over cost of the bells. This was given to them over a year ago, but since that time the rise in the of materials and labour had added an additional £65 to the estimate. Of the revised total they now needed just under £30 to wipe off the debt, which spoke volumes for the ringers' enthusiasm and the generosity of the various subscribers.

The dedication was followed by a few rounds on the completed peal of ten, and after the service the following members of the Coton band rang a course of Stedman Caters: Mrs. D. E. Beamish, Miss Margaret Beamish, Messrs. A. H. Beamish, J. E. S. Moreton, J. F. Clarke, J. Draycott, J. Gibbons, J. Thompson, H. Harris and L. Trevor.

Touches by mixed bands from various parts followed, all pronouncing that a newfact splice.

Touches by mixed bands from various parts followed, all pronouncing that a perfect splice had been effected. About 140 people sat down to tea prior to the service in the Parish Hall, the guests including parishioners, subscribers and German prisoners of war.

TRURO DIOCESAN GUILD

Approximately 100 members of the South-East Branch attended the meeting at Pillaton on May 31st. Mr. Freeman conducted the seron May 31st. Mr. Freeman conducted the service and the address was given by the Rev. Dr. Brown. A very fine tea was provided in the Church Hall. The branch secretary, Mr. H. J. Clark, thanked all those who had done so much to make the meeting a success, and welcomed the general secretary, the Rev. W. Trewhella, and the Ringing Master. Mr. W. H. Southeard.

During the afternoon the ringing consisted of call changes and Grandsire. Some of the bands were congratulated by the Ringing Master, who said they had reached perfection with their call changes, also with rising and falling the bells. There was only one thing for them to do and that was to start half-pull ringing.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

MR. A. W. DAVIES THE NEW MASTER. MR. A. W. DAVIES THE NEW MASTER.
The annual festival and meeting of the Hereford Diocesan Guild was held at Ross-on-Wye on Whit Monday. The first festival ever held by the Guild, 1888, was at Ross, but the last time it was held here was over 30 years 290. The bells of Ross (8) and of Bridstow (8) and the six at Weston-under-Penyard were available from 11.30 and were kept going by the many ringers present.

six at Weston-under-Penyard were available from 11.30 and were kept going by the many ringers present.

In the afternoon the Guild Office was sung in the Parish Church and the sermon was preached by Preb. Barker (Rector of Ross). After tea at the Valley Hotel the annual meeting was held in the Church Room at first presided over by the retiring Master, Mr. William Poston, of Bridstow.

Mr. A. W. Davies, of the Hereford Cathedral tower, was elected the new Master of the Guild, and on his election took over the chair. All the other officers were re-elected: The Rev. E. G. Benson, hon. secretary and treasurer: Mr. L. Evans, assistant secretary and peal recorder: Mr. W. J. Beniams, auditor; and Messrs. G. J. Lewis, W. F. Moreton, G. E. Oliver and W. T. Poston, representatives on the Central Council (1948-50). The committee was re-elected with the addition of the Rev. R. H. Hill, of Berrington.

The statement of accounts showed a balance of £25 6s. 8d. in the General Fund and £21 9s. 10d. in the Bell Restoration Fund.

It was decided that the annual subscription should be increased from 1s. 6d. to 2s. 6d. as from 1948, the whole of the increase to go to the General Fund of the Guild.

The secretary informed the meeting that the forthcoming report would contain a complete list of the rings in the diocese with details of the bells, and it was hoped this would add much to the interest of the report. Some discussion arose in connection with a proposal for a war memorial to the fallen, and a committee meeting is to be called to consider it. Hereford was chosen for next year's festival.
