SOLIHULL CHURCH AND BELLS

EDGAR C. SHEPHERD has given to the Exercise a book in which it can take a just pride—'The Bells and Tower of Solihull Church.' It embodies far more than an historical essay or catalogue of the history of a ring of bells, some of which date from the 16th century. Woven into the story are some of those famous personalities who created change ringing as it is to-day and who knew Solihull tower and bells. Solihull has a lifelong connection with the author and few ringers of to-day could have had his 'baptism.' More than 50 years ago Charles Fairfield, the towerkeeper, of Solihull, so he tells in the Preface, carried him into the bell chamber and there laid him inside the upturned tenor bell. Thus began a long attachment and out of the affection engendered 'by years of this genial bondage' came the desire to write this book, which is dedicated to his brother, Hubert Shepherd, who was for more than 50 years a chorister at Solihull Church.

It was in the early part of the 13th century that the first church at Solihull was built. First came a wooden spire and then a stone edifice on the top of the central tower to a total height of 190 feet. This spire crashed in a hurricane on March 15th, 1757, into the church roof, leaving a jagged, grotesque stump squatting upon the tower. The rebuilding of the spire was not completed until 20 years after and then it was some 22 feet shorter than the old one. Since those days Solihull Church has constantly been in the hands of the builders, the last big restoration scheme being completed as recently as 1948.

In pre-Reformation days Solihull had its 'custod campanor' (towerkeeper), and there are records of payments to him for repairs to the three bells. It was when Henry Greswold was Rector that Solihull was provided with a ring of eight. A friend of his from his university days was Anthony Scattergood, whose son, Samuel, a friend of Fabian Stedman, brought a company of 20 Leicester ringers to Solihull for the opening and testing of the bells on August 27th, 1686. Samuel Scattergood was then minister of Blockley, Worcs, and the certificate he gave as to the worthiness of the bells is quoted by Mr. Shepherd. What better praise could be given than the following: 'Ye said 8 Bells to be well and workmanlike made, every way right for tone and metall, ye chearfullest and best Ring of Bells for their weight that I ever heard?'

Mr. Shepherd deduces that this opening ceremony was the first time when Solihull bells were rung to changes.

Scattergood, he reminds ringers, was a contributor to Stedman's book, 'Campanalogia,' was a member of the Society of College Youths, and an accomplished ringer and composer. The Leicester Scholars were established some years before in 1669 and Fabian Stedman stayed with them several days explaining his 'artes and mysteries.'

The first peal on the bells was 5,184 Bob Major, rung by the St. Martin's Youths, Birmingham, in three hours and ten minutes. The composer and conductor was a famous personage, Samuel Lawrence, who was then 26 years of age. Lawrence was said to have attained the weight of 32 stone and there were many churches at which he could not ring because the stairs were too narrow for him to ascend. The historic incident in his life was his visit to St. Alkmund's, Shrewsbury, where he got stuck on the belfry stairs, and, according to the story, it took five ringers to get him out—two to push and two to pull and Lawrence in the middle.

Modern ringing at this tower dates from May 2nd, 1891, when a preliminary meeting was held and the outcome was the formation of the Solihull Guild of Amateur Ringers. Mainspring of this Guild was Geoffrey Martineau. The bells were then in a deplorable condition. An appeal for funds was issued, two bells, the 3rd and 5th, recast by Messrs. Barwell, and two new trebles added. A new wooden frame was also made. The ring of ten was dedicated on July 6th, 1894, by the Bishop of Marlborough, and ten members of the St. Martin's Guild from Birmingham were invited for the opening ringing. Their peal attempt failed after 2 hours 25 minutes, the tenorman being overcome by the heat.

The present ring of ten, with a tenor of 21 cwt. 1 qr. 11 lb., came into being following a report in August, 1930, by the late Major J. H. B. Hesse, who found the bells extremely faulty in their harmonics and other defects. The contract was placed with Messrs. John Taylor and Co. and the ten rededicated by the Bishop of Birmingham on Oct. 1st, 1932. It was the author who composed the first peal on the new ten—5,057 Grandsire Caters—rung on Dec. 9th, 1933, and conducted by his old friend, Mr. Albert Walker.

We close this brief review with the words of Mr. John Burman, who wrote the Foreword: Mr. Shepherd's book may easily become a classic of its kind, and will certainly be read as long as the bells of Solihull are heard on the Warwickshire air.

MRS. E. K. FLETCHER.

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

By ringing a peal at Little Petherick last Saturday, the Rev. A. S. Roberts is the first to ring a hundred peals in Cornwall. Ninety-nine have been for the Truro Guild and one for the Devon Guild.

Herrick B. Bowley has realised one of his ambitions, that of ringing a peal on handbells. His question of 'What can I do to get my name in Belfry Gossip?' has been a standing joke with the Leicester Cathedral members for some time. It was his 150th peal and on the way to P.H.Q. he was collided into by a youthful cyclist and received a nasty cut on his leg. What Herrick said and did does not concern the Ringing Exercise, but to add to his soreness he raised a blister on his finger and this broke during the first quarter peal and he finished the peal with a very sore finger which was bleeding. He little thought the start of a handbell career was so cruel. Needless to say there was abundant sympathy extended to him.

Will readers please note that there was an error in the numbering of 'The Ringing World' on November 3rd. There will be no issue No. 2065.

In honour of the 81st birthday of Mr. Anderson Y. Tyler, of Irthlingborough, a peal of Minor was rung at Great Addington, Northants. on November 9th. Mr. Tyler is still ringing and working and is as cheerful as ever. He rang two peals of Superlative in 1949 and hopes to ring more. He has been known to make an excellent job of turning in to Surprise the 30 cwt. tenor of St. Neots and other heavy tenors in recent years.

In honour of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Nichols, of Rectory Cottage, Ducklington, near Witney, Oxon. 1,260 Doubles (480 Reverse Canterbury, 240 Bob Doubles, 120 April Day and 420 Grandsire) was rung at St. Aldate's, Oxford, on November 18th, by D. Woodley 1, Miss A. Rodwell (first quarter 'inside') 2, Miss M. Biederman 3, A. F. Barrett 4, W. Fenn (first quarter as conductor) 5, T. Bowles 6.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Last Tuesday was the 25th anniversary of Mr. James George turning in the tenor of St. Mary-le-Bow to a peal of 5,040 Kent Treble Bob Maximus in four hours and seven minutes. The tenor weighed 2 tons 13 cwt. 22 lbs. Mr. George was then 72 years of age; he performed a feat unsurpassed for a man of that age.

Miss Rosemary Seabrook, the latest life member of the Essex Association, impressed the company by the way she rang in a peal of Minor in four methods at Great Yeldham, Essex, on November 18th. 'She never made a single mistake,' writes the conductor.

Our friends at Piddlehinton, Dorset, are progressing. Ruth Jeanes (aged 12) and N. B. Davis (13) rang their first 720 on an 'inside' bell of Plain Bob Doubles on November 19th. Also in this young company were B. Cheeseman (16), I. T. Read (15), E. T. P. Field (conductor) and F. C. Davis.

Handbell ringers will appreciate the very fine performance at Burton-on-Stather by Mr. George E. Feirn and his band in ringing a peal of Spliced Major in 36 methods. It is the greatest number of Major methods yet rung to a peal. Congratulations to all concerned in setting such a high pinnacle of achievement for the Exercise.

After 12 months' exile in London, Mr. Percy W. Cave is back again in Liverpool ringing peals with his old friends. He has been travelling to London every Monday morning and back to Liverpool on Friday evenings. While he had been able to keep up his regular Sunday ringing at Halewood, he had not been available for many peals. Now transferred back to Liverpool he looks forward to resuming his old 'habits.'

A NEW EIGHT IN NEW ZEALAND

Hamilton Cathedral's Long Awaited Day Christchurch Ringers' Long Trip for Opening Peal First Ringing Meeting in Dominion

ST. Peter's Cathedral, Hamilton, New Zealand, has now a ring of eight with a tenor 20 cwt. 2 qr. 6 lb., in E. The Cathedral has had this tenor since 1933 and in 1948 received a treble, the gift of the junior Ladies' Guild of the diocese. By Christmas Day, 1949, the fund to provide the remaining six was complete and an order was placed with Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. The bells arrived in August and, after a ceremony of blessing, were installed in the tower, the work being completed early in October.

For the opening ceremony six members of the Christchurch Cathedral Society—Messrs. N. Sloan (secretary), A. Lancefield (Master), N. Reeve, C. Hollobon, D. Sloan and C. Ward—set out on October 19th. There was first a 180 mile sea trip to Wellington, where a visit was paid to St. Peter's Church with its ring of eight (tenor 15 cwt.) which has not been rung for 20 years owing to the instability of the tower. Opportunity was also taken to see the National War Memorial Carillon, and Mr. S. Baker, carillonneur, explained the system of playing the 49 bells. The afternoon was spent in the home of Mr. S. H. Barnett, a 'long distance member' of the Society.

Wellington was left at 7.15 p.m. by the Night Limited express and Frankton Junction reached at 7 a.m., where the Very Rev. Dean Chandler, of Hamilton, and respective hosts awaited the visitors.

The first assembly of ringers was at 10.30 a.m., the visitors being joined by Squadron Leader Mason, R.A.F., who had travelled up from Wellington the day before to check the bells, and John de Lambert of the Christchurch Cathedral Society, who had made the journey by car. Other ringers present were Mr. A. J. White, of Auckland, formerly of Mitcham (his farewell peal was rung in 1908), Mr. Roberts, of Plymouth (formerly of Gravesend), and the Hamilton Cathedral ringers who, with the exception of Mr. D. Caldwell, had previously been taught the rudiments of changering at Christchurch.

The bells, all on ball bearings, were rung silent for a while in order to get used to the feel of them and then lowered to unlash them and to allow an inspection of the handiwork of Mr. A. C. Caldwell, district hydro electric engineer, who had installed them.

After lunch a short service was held in the Cathedral and the Te Deum sung by the large congregation.

Promptly at 2 p.m. the music of the bells was heard in rounds and Grandsire Triples for the first time over the city of Hamilton and the broadcasting station I.X.H.

CHERISHED AMBITION FULFILLED

Important though this moment was for everyone, it was particularly momentous for the Dean and Vestry of St. Paul's Cathedral, for it spelt the fulfilment of their most cherished ambition. It was on October 21st, 1948, soon after the induction and institution of the present Dean, that he first mentioned publicly the desire of the Bishop and Chapter to complete the ring of bells in the Cathedral. He named this as his first objective and it was indeed fitting that they should ring out for the first time on the second anniversary of the appeal.

The initial ringing over, the tower was unlocked to admit the other ringers and a number of visitors anxious to see how it was done. The Hamilton ringers all rang in rounds, the majority for the first time, and for the remainder of the afternoon an enjoyable Ringing

Meeting was held, believed to be the first of its kind in New Zealand. To terminate it on a good instructional note, a slow, well-struck touch of Bob Minor was rung on the back six by the more experienced ringers. It was acclaimed by the Dean and all listening, both inside and outside the belfry, as our 'show piece' of the day, and obviously served to convey to all potential campanologists present some of the excellencies of the Art.

In the evening, all members of the Christchurch Society except two, who were visiting friends, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Caldwell who, we fancy, were keen to see and hear the Society's set of handbells which our worthy secretary had been guarding well. This set of handbells (a fine 17 by Shaw) was bequeathed to the Society by the late Mr. J. Wilde, of Dunedin. Grandsire Caters, Bob Major, Grandsire Triples and Grandsire Doubles for the learners, all too quickly tapped the evening away and all retired at 10.30 p.m. happy, if very tired, to their places of rest.

The next day, Sunday, October 22nd, ringing commenced at 8.30 a.m. for choral communion service at 9 a.m., Grandsire Triples being the method rung. All ringers stayed to the service, the sermon of which was preached by the Rev. K. Liggett, of nearby Cambridge.

After the service the bells were rung again for half an hour until 11 a.m., as a friendly and appreciative gesture from the Dean to the other churches of the city.

THE PEAL

It was expected by the Dean, and previously mentioned in the local Press, that a peal attempt would be made by the Christchurch where the record peal of 21,600 Bristol Surprise Major was rung on November 4th.

ST. CHAD'S, OVER

Society while in Hamilton, and the Dean had kindly consented to our request that it be on Sunday afternoon, to allow more time on the Monday to put the Hamilton enthusiasts through their paces. The question was what to ring and be assured of a good chance of success! We all realised that the chances of being together again as a band in this north region were slender. Grandsire Triples was the favourite but the Master considered that, owing to lack of practice by all in the method, it would not be a 'first time bet.' and so Bob Minor on the back six was finally decided upon.

The afternoon was warm, 76°, causing the lucky six to strip off and prepare to sweat. This they were doing freely by the end of the first 720, but the bells were going well and everyone looked safe. Looks did not belie, for apart from an occasional irregularity of pace and a missed dodge or two, the peal was successfully accomplished in three hours and seven minutes. This made everyone happy, the large gathering of anxious listeners more so, it seemed, than the few blistered ringers, but who would care to say! Ringing for the evening service at 6.30 concluded our activities for the day, and a quiet evening, strolling round and drinking innumerable cups of tea, was had by all.

A PROGRESSIVE DAY

Monday was devoted to practising, both the Hamilton and Christchurch ringers having a progressive day. Good progress was made by the former in rounds and hunting and the latter rang touches in Grandsire, St. Simon's and Bob Doubles, St. Clement's and Bob Minor and Grandsire and Bob Triples. All wished that the company could be longer together, for a strong enthusiasm for new and better methods was rapidly taking form. Ringing terminated at 4.30 p.m. to allow everybody to 'get spruced up' for the parish tea at 6 p.m. This was a very jolly affair, the culmination, one might say, of the happy and friendly spirit of true Christian hosts, and an evening that we will long remember. All appropriate toasts were honoured, including 'Mears and Stainbank,' 'The Dean' and 'Visiting Ringers,' and speeches of various lengths and texture, but all on a very grateful note, were made and replied to. The Master of the Christchurch Society thanked the Dean and Wardens and people of Hamilton for making the trip for the opening ceremony of the bells possible and for the great welcome received. Some good handbell ringing was given by the Society during the course of the evening.

As a means of relaxation before departing south for home, a trip was arranged for the following day by Mr. A. C. Caldwell, to the Lake Karapiro and Arapuni dams and power houses. This was most enjoyable through countryside green with lush spring grass and hedges of blossoming hawthorn, with a stop at St. Andrew's Church, Cambridge, where the Rev. K. Liggett and ringers welcomed us and allowed us to have a go at chiming the Vickers ring of six.* The same evening virtually marked the ending of 'The Little Adventure,' for four members of the party boarded the south-bound express at 9.40 p.m., one had already gone north and one west, and the remainder were 'on vacation.'

THE YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

VISITS BIRTHPLACE FOR 75th ANNIVERSARY MEETING

The 75th anniversary general meeting of the Association was held on Saturday, November 4th, at Birstall, birthplace of the Association on October 30th, 1875. It was to this West Riding overgrown village that the late Jasper Whitfield Snowdon assembled a handful of enthusiastic ringers who had formerly held small meetings amongst themselves, mostly at private houses, culminating in the birth of the Yorkshire Association.

He became its first president, and it is a singular thing that, despite his early death, the Association has only had four presidents since its inception.

By kind permission of the Vicar, the Rev. F. G. Patterson, the bells were available from 2.30 p.m. and made good use of during the afternoon and evening, the methods rung ranging from Plain Bob to London Surprise Major.

A meeting of the committee was held at 3 p.m. followed by a most enjoyable service, at which the address was given by the president, very appropriately so, as since the last meeting he had been appointed Archdeacon of Leeds, bringing attendant prestige to the Association.

AN HISTORICAL ASSOCIATION

Tea followed in the schools, after which the Vicar of Birstall was accorded a hearty vote of thanks, together with the churchwardens, for the use of the bells. In reply, the Vicar said he was delighted to have the Association at Birstall, and was glad to welcome them. It was the first church that he had had charge of that possessed a ring of bells, and he felt proud to have as his charge a tower with such historical associations. He had to leave for another engagement and wished the Yorkshire Association success and continued prosperity.

At the business meeting which followed, the chair was taken by the president, supported by the general secretary (Mr. L. W. G. Morris), the hon. treasurer (Mr. F. S. Palmer) and the retiring peal secretary (Mr. W. Barton). Apologies for absence were received from J. B. Hutchinson, A. H. Fox, R. B. Smith, J. Ambler and H. Chant.

After confirmation of the minutes, the president said how glad they were to have the Western District secretary, Mr. W. Ambler, with them again, and congratulated him on his recovery from illness. They mourned the loss of the former vice-president, Mr. George Lewis—a household word in the sphere of composition—and Mr. Joseph Kellet, of Birstall.

A hearty vote of thanks to the local company was accorded on the motion of Mr. P. J. Johnson, seconded by Mr. H. Lofthouse, and suitably acknowledged by Mr. S. Britton.

The president announced that in the absence of any specific invitation, the committee proposed that the next meeting should be held at Guiseley on January 20th. Mr. P. J. Johnson moved and Mr. W. Barton seconded that the committee's proposal be accepted if the necessary arrangements could be made. Mr. A. C. Walsh, of Guiseley said they would be pleased to entertain the Association as suggested, and it was unanimously decided to accept.

The president reported that the committee had considered an application from Harfield to be transferred from the Eastern District to the Southern District, and had agreed to the transfer. An application for a grant from the bell repair fund by the Scarborough company had also been accorded to.

NOW 1,520 MEMBERS

Some considerable time was then spent in an historical picture of the life and development of the Association, the president reading the minutes of the first meeting, and giving a list of the founder members. Mr. P. J. Johnson had vivid recollections of many of the early ones, and Mr. J. W. Moxon said he was particularly glad to be at this meeting as his father attended the foundation meeting 75 years ago. The past 75 years had seen the Association grow from 53 members to 1,520.

Mr. C. McGuiness brought fraternal greetings and best wishes from the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, which was greatly appreciated by all present.

The president remarked on the coming Festival of Britain, and suggested, where local festival weeks were arranged, ringing wherever possible should be included in the programme.

SNOWDON DINNER

Mr. H. Walker said he had made enquiries about the possibility of arranging the Snowdon Dinner at York next year, and was confident it could be done. This was very well received, and will have the earnest attention of the committee at its next meeting.

The following new members were elected: Charles Thornton, Edwin Hirst and Tony Hudson, of Mirfield; Mervyn Storey and Miss Mavis Macvean, of St. Chad's, Headingley, and Jack Turner, of Northwram.

Mr. E. Hudson rose to congratulate the president on his appointment as Archdeacon of Leeds, pointing out that their former president, Canon C. C. Marshall, had been appointed an Hon. Canon of Ripon Cathedral, and that the Venerable C. O. Ellison had brought a new prestige to the Association by virtue of his new calling in the same diocese.

In acknowledgment, the president said he regretted that, in the Press reports of his appointment, little or no mention was made of the fact that he was the president of the Yorkshire Association, but the whims and fancies of editors were unpredictable. He was grateful for the speaker's kind references, and hoped that, in spite of the increased responsibilities attendant upon his new appointment, he would be able to serve the Association as they would wish.

ROLL OF HONOUR

Mr. P. J. Johnson said he was very perturbed in reading through the names published on the Ringers' Roll of Honour, and was certain that there must be more than the two given for the Yorkshire Association. He appealed to all members and tower secretaries who knew of any member, either Forces or Civilian, who had paid the supreme sacrifice to send particulars to the general secretary immediately.

This concluded the business, and an adjournment was then made to the tower by most of the younger members for further ringing, whilst the goodly muster of older ones continued their reminiscences of early events in the life of the Association.

ANCIENT SOCIETY OF COLLEGE YOUTHS

At the meeting held on November 25th, at the Whitechapel Bell Foundry, the following officers were elected for the ensuing 12 months.

Mr. J. Frank Smallwood, Master; Mr. A. B. Peck, secretary; Mr. A. A. Hughes, treasurer; Mr. J. G. A. Prior, senior steward; Mr. F. E. Collins, junior steward; Mr. H. G. Miles and Mr. W. H. Pasmore, trustees.

RINGERS' SERVICE AT MITCHAM

A well-attended ringers' service was held at Christ Church, Mitcham, on November 19th and 27 took part in the ringing from 5.30 to 6.30 and 7.45 to 8.30.

The towers represented were: Christ Church, Mitcham; St. Mary's, Wimbledon; St. Leonard's and Emmanuel, Streatham; Merton; Bushey; Ruislip; Battersea; Lewisham; Putney; Kingsbury; Northaw and Southwark. Ringing consisted of touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob Minor Kent T. B. and Cambridge Minor.

A course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells during the service by four Streatham ringers, which was much appreciated by a large congregation. Thanks are due to all who helped to make the service a success.

OBITUARY

MR. P. O. BAKER

The ringers of Gillingham, Dorset, have suffered a severe loss by the death of Percival Osmond Baker, for many years captain of the band.

Born in the neighbouring village of Semley, Wilts, he learnt to ring there at an early age, and last New Year's Eve he revisited his native place and joined with the local band in ringing in the New Year in the same tower where he had first had that experience 50 years before.

Over 40 years ago he settled in Gillingham as a garage proprietor and soon began to take an active interest in the eight bells of the Parish Church. His enthusiasm and genial disposition made him a welcome personality among the ringers of the district, and while he exercised a stimulating influence in his own belfry, he frequently visited neighbouring towers and made it his habit to join in practices at Mere. It was a great shock to his many friends when after six weeks' illness he passed away at the age of 68.

The funeral service on November 15th was conducted by the Rev. E. L. Seager, Vicar of Gillingham, assisted by the Rev. F. L. Edwards and the Rev. W. Uphill, secretary of the North Dorset Branch of the Salisbury Guild, and was attended by a large gathering which included ringers from ten parishes in Dorset, Somerset and Wilts.

In the evening many members of the Salisbury Guild and the Bath and Wells Association joined with the Gillingham band in ringing muffled touches as a last solemn tribute to a keen ringer, a loyal churchman and a valued friend.

F. L. EDWARDS.

MR. W. G. THORPE

Mr. William George Thorpe, whose death at the age of 63 years, at Grantham, Lincs, was announced in 'The Ringing World' of last week, will be remembered by many friends over a wide area, especially in Grantham and district.

A regular Sunday service ringer, a good striker and very capable conductor, he was always ready to help young ringers.

He had been a member of St. Wulfram's band, Grantham, for 41 years, and had rung just over a hundred peals. He was a member of the Lincoln Diocesan and Midland Counties Guilds.

The interment took place at Grantham Cemetery on November 15th, following the funeral service at the Parish Church. A good number of ringers and other friends attended.

In the evening the bells of St. Wulfram's were rung half-muffled by members of the local band and visiting ringers from Bottesford, Caythorpe and Hough-on-the-Hill, as a token of respect to a good ringer.

H. R. W.

DR. T. WOOD, Mus.Doc

The whole country will mourn the loss of Dr. Thomas Wood, Mus. Oxon., of Bures, Suffolk.

He was a great friend of all ringers and was due to countersign the contract for the new trebles to be installed in St. Mary's tower to complete the octave. Dr. Wood and his wife were giving the treble and the second was being given by public subscription to commemorate the Festival of Britain.

It has now been decided that the augmentation shall be to Dr. Wood's memory.

His passing will be received with great regret throughout Australia, where he was greatly loved. He returned from one of his many visits to London in connection with music by the midnight train on November 18th and passed away very suddenly just before the ringing for Matins on Sunday. He was 58 years of age.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE AXMINSTER TRAGEDY

Mr. E. H. Lewis recalls that in his presidential address to the West of Scotland Iron and Steel Institute in 1924 he quoted to a Mr. W. A. Millar the case of Re v. Churchwardens of Axminster 16 Chas II. (1676) and received back the following verses dedicated to E. H. L. :—

This simple tale that you restage,
From Ellacombe's archaic page—
Its spartan briefness, drama, tense,
Have touched my poor historic sense,
And I can see 'mid lawyers' wrangling,
'One Brockhurst' from the belfrope dangling,
(Town of Axminster, famous reckoned
For Carpets; Time: King Charles the Second),
So full of beer or pious frenzy
That in a twinkling his life ends he,
'Caught up,' like old Elijah, Bitter?
Why, no sir! Sic ad astra itur.

Perchance—a martyr—he foresaw
A problem in the ancient law,
And flung his neck, with the halter,
Upon the sacrificial altar,
Hoping his death, thus greatly planned,
Would help define the Deodand.

Alas, my pen records with pain
That gallant Brockhurst died in vain!

For though 'twas bandied to and fro
Whether the Bell was 'fixed' or no,
And wardens of the Church were bent
To prove it 'hereditament':
While Rex's Counsel made great battle
To show it but a 'Tenant's chattel':
The Church's case being—blunt and bold—
That it was fixed to the freehold,
While answer came for Rex and people
That Bell was only tied in Steeple,
And bound—so rang the further pleas—
With paltry pines and cunning keys,
Four Judges of King's Bench Division
Quite failed to reach a clear decision—
(Poor Brockhurst's shade, oh how incensed!)—
For two were 'For' and two 'Against.'

And to this day throughout the land,
Such Bells are doubtful Deodand.

EPILOGUE.

And still we seek, with pen and parchment,
To solve such problems of 'attachment'!

Two hundred years and fifty gone
The seekers then went searching on:
Two hundred years and fifty hence
Our Trades and Courts and Parliaments
Will still conform to 'wont and use',
And what is 'fixed' and what is 'loose',
W. A. M.

The old English law whereby a personal chattel which caused death was forfeited to the Crown as deodand was repealed in 1846.

CHRIST CHURCH, OXFORD, RECORDED

Dear Sir,—We thought it might be of interest to the Exercise to know that the B.B.C. has recently made a recording of the bells of Christ Church Cathedral which is to be relayed by the New Zealand Broadcasting Company some time in December in connection with the Canterbury Settlement Centenary Festivities.

We rang a very nice touch of Grandsire Cinques for this and afterwards heard it back in the Great Quadrangle of Christ Church from the B.B.C. recording van and it sounded very good. A piece of ancient stone from Christ Church Cathedral here has been sent out to New Zealand to be built into the Cathedral of Christ Church, New Zealand.—Yours faithfully,

V. BENNETT, Hon. Secretary.

BROCAS BELL

Dear Sir,—I was interested in the letters of Messrs. N. Mallett and M. J. Horseman in a recent issue, but at once looked up the late Rev. H. T. Ellacombe's 'The Church Bells of Devon,' from which I quote a few extracts.

Axminster: February, 1662 (not 1663), 'One Brockhurst (or Brocas) ringing a bell in the church was strangled by the rope of the third bell (one of the original six). For the King it was argued that the bell "shall be forfeited as a satisfaction for blood to be disposed of by the King to other pious uses." Two judges were of opinion that the bell was not a deodand (i.e., must be forfeited to the Crown for pious uses), the other two seemed of a contrary opinion; but nothing further was done in the case.'

In a Revised Supplement to Charles Pearson's 'Ringers' Guide' it is stated about the present eight bells that 'the old fifth (which has a curious history) is hung above.'

Widcombe-in-the-Moor: Ellacombe gives the inscription on the third bell as follows: 'Gathered of The Young Men and Mayds Fyftene' (the word 'pounds' does not occur), and inserts a footnote to the effect that there is a bell at Fordingbridge, Hants, inscribed 'Young men and mayds made me 1665.' In the light of the above can Mr. Mallett tell us why the bell was replaced, and did Mr. Horseman read the inscription himself or only see an alleged copy of it?—Yours faithfully,

E. V. COX.

PEALS AT TIBSHELF

Dear Sir,—I may be able to help Mr. H. T. Rooke regarding his enquiry in last week's issue of 'The Ringing World' as to dates of previous peals at Tibshelf, Derbyshire.

I have taken part in two peals there, i.e., one of six methods on June 6th, 1931 (conducted by H. Lowman) and one of three methods on July 1st, 1933 (conducted by J. England).

As far as I am aware, the previous peal to those was rung in July, 1909, and I have no knowledge of any other peal having been rung on the bells.—Yours faithfully,

W. TOMLINSON.

MAKE THE OUTSIDER WELCOME

Dear Sir,—May I, through your columns, express my regret that so many ringers, while lamenting the lack of understanding of ringers' tastes shown by non-ringers, do nothing to establish a contact which would probably encourage that understanding.

I feel very strongly that when a non-ringer asks to be allowed to watch the ringing, he should be made as welcome as any Surprise ringer. We welcome ringers who are often strangers to us, therefore why should we not welcome our fellow townsmen or villagers, even if they do not share our interest? We do not have to be able to play an orchestral instrument to attend a concert, why then should we have to be a ringer to enter a belfry?

Bellringing is one of the oldest of our English arts and if more people knew 'how it worked' there would not be the number of ignorant statements made which throw so many ringers into a state of rage!

When non-ringers are welcomed to the ringing chamber, I think it is essential that they should be shown how a bell works and told a little about change-ringing. I am quite aware that in many cases this is not practicable through the bells being inaccessible to all but the very steady-headed, but where a staircase leads right into the belfry, it needs only one reliable person to conduct a small party thither. Failing this, why not have a working model in the ringing chamber? It would save a lot of trouble.

Finally, I would like to say that I know there are many bands of ringers who put into practice all I have said, and I admire those tower leaders who always have a few minutes for the outsider, however crowded (or empty) the belfry may be.—Yours faithfully,

STELLA M. WICKENS.

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW

I do not think any tribute has been rung to mark the passing of this great writer and it does seem to me some reference to the late G.B.S. should appear in such a journal as ours.

No two people will agree concerning this man; he has been described as an atheist yet his writings and lectures seem to reveal that the sage had a more intimate knowledge of God than is vouchsafed to the majority of us.

What did Shaw think of church bells? If one reads and studies his masterpiece—'St. Joan'—one gets the impression that he was deeply moved by the sound of them. Joan says—'It is in the bells I hear my voices, not to-day when they all rang, that was nothing but gangling.' Had Shaw heard some bad striking or had he detected the great difference between Continental ringing and our English method? Joan goes on to say—'Where the bells come down from heaven, and the echoes linger, or in the fields where they come from a distance through the quiet of the countryside. . . .'

Later in the play when St. Joan pictures the life she will have to lead in perpetual imprisonment, she said she could renounce the material comforts of life 'if only I could still hear the wind in the trees, the larks in the sunshine, the young lambs crying through the healthy frost, and the blessed, blessed, church bells that send my angel voices floating to me on the wind.'

Did the most ardent campanologist ever write a greater tribute to our church bells? A peal 'in memoriam' G.B.S. would not be out of place, preferably rung by a notable company.—Yours faithfully,

ARTHUR V. DAVIS

PROGRESS FROM WALES

Dear Sir,—It is now six months since Porthkerry, in the Vale of Glamorgan, had two trebles added to its ring of four, and readers may be interested to hear of progress since.

We made a start on Grandsire, but did not stay long on it before moving to Plain Bob Doubles, noting the similarities. As soon as we could ring Plain Bob competently we made the slight alteration necessary to turn it into Reverse Canterbury. April Day was then rung to combine Grandsire and Plain Bob before moving on to St. Simon's.

Having rung Double Bob Minimus on the old four, St. Simon's front work gave us no trouble, and knowing Plain Bob made the rest of the work simple. We had, in between times, rung several courses of Bob Minor, so with St. Simon's Double accomplished, we rang our first plain courses of St. Clement's Minor. We want to ring New Doubles, with its St. Simon's front work, before settling down to consolidate the ground gained; we then propose to learn Stedman.

It will be noted that the methods rung lead on from one another, but for a band starting almost from scratch we think it a good six months' work. We have 14 ringers, including learners; only a few, of course, have done all the work listed, and some are only now picking up plain hunting.

The ringers have creosoted all the woodwork in the tower, limewashed the inside walls, and installed electric light. The bells and fittings receive regular attention from the steeplekeeper, and continue to go well.

We extend a warm welcome to anyone wishing to visit the tower.—Yours faithfully,

L. J. MALINGS.

TOWER CORNER (19)

'METHOD-LEARNING: DIVISIONS AND LINKS.'

Dear Improvers.—Continuing with Lesson XI. we shall examine the blocks of change-rows which we have come to know as a 'Division,' such blocks being 'linked' together to form the larger block of rows, known as the 'plain course' of the method

TERMS.

But first, a reminder, that we are making a special effort in this course of instruction to avoid using ringing terms in more senses or meanings than one. Such words include 'lead,' 'course,' etc., to which we shall give one particular meaning only. Other words such as 'changes,' 'lead-ends,' etc., we shall avoid using altogether as even more misleading, and because there are preferable substitutes, e.g., 'change-rows' and 'links.' Moreover we shall try to make statements of general, rather than of particular, application; so that you may form your conclusions more independently. For example, our reference to 'methods' will imply both 'principles,' by which is generally understood omni-working systems such as Stedman, and hunt-controlled methods, having one or more bells with an unvaried hunt, such as Grandsire.

METHOD STAGES.

At this point we give a table of names of the various 'stages' of methods on both odd and even rings of bells

Odd-numbered Rings of bells	Stage-name	Even-numbered Rings of bells	Stage-name
3	Singles	4	Minimus
5	Doubles	6	Minor
7	Triples	8	Major
9	Caters	10	Royal
11	Cinques	12	Maximus

It is interesting to note that the names of the 'odd' stages are derived from the number of transits normally occurring from change-row to change-row.

ANALYSING A DIVISION

Older ringers will recognise the C.C. term 'division,' which we introduced last time, as meaning what they often call a 'lead of changes' in a 'treble dominated' method, e.g., Plain Bob. But it also stands for 'sets' of change-rows, as we saw, in a 'principle,' i.e., a method with no hunt-control bell, such as Stedman.

GRID PATTERN.

Now we have already learnt that a change-row is formed from its preceding row by the introduction of one or more transits: a transit being the mutual exchange of positions of a pair of neighbouring bells. The number and arrangement of transits between one row and the next, and the form in which these arrangements succeed one another constitutes the character or pattern of the method. If the numbers representing the bells be written out in rows vertically successive, the figures will form columns also. In fact they may be written down most conveniently on squared paper. The rectangle of squares to accommodate the figures is known as a 'grid.' The name is derived not only from the grid-like structure of this frame-work, but also from the fact that for detailed analysis of the framework a system of notation of its squares is employed similar to that used for a grid of map-squares. (The application of this scheme comes in a later Section of this Course, but it has been briefly explained in passing.) Now if lines joining all figures of the same denomination be drawn neatly from square to square, an interesting network pattern of the method results. This is known as the 'grid-pattern.' It is far easier to study a method by its grid-pattern than by any other known means.

TYPICAL HUNT-CONTROLLED GRID.

Let us take a look at a division, first of all, of a hunt-controlled method. (See fig. 7.). We will take, as typical, the Minor stage of the method known as 'St. Clement's Bob,' simply using d-h row, 142635, is also given to show the form of Link (a second's place one) between the divisions in this method. Positions of Links (L) are marked by continuous transverse lines. The dotted transverse line (J) marks the position of the Junction of the two halves of the Division, for indeed every Division comprises two similar halves.

AXIS OF SYMMETRY.

This dotted junction-line across the grid is also called the 'axis of reflection' or 'axis of symmetry' of a Division; and it is important, now, to see why. At the close of our previous instalment we spoke of appreciating 'a more important factor to be discussed next time.' This factor is that of the symmetry in the structure of a Division—a symmetry about the axis of reflection just mentioned. If you take a thin pocket mirror, such as from a lady's handbag, and place it edgewise along the junction, facing the upper half of the Division but leaning back slightly, the reflection of the upper half of the pattern may be seen to be identical with the pattern of the lower half on the paper behind the mirror. Thus the two halves are mutually reflective. (See * below.) Or again, if you place a piece of translucent tracing paper over figure 7. above, and draw in the grid-pattern and the axis; then remove the paper and 'reflect' it, (bend it backwards) along the axis line, you will observe, on holding the folded paper up to the light, that the two halves of the pattern of the Division coincide exactly. In short, the structure of a Division is symmetrical about its junction. From this it follows that the same pattern features are to be found in change-rows equidistant from the junction, above and below it. (Test this!)

SECOND AXIS.

Before leaving this material question of symmetry of Divisions, it is important to note that in a group of change-rows extending through more than one Division there is a second position where an axis of symmetry can be drawn. This may be visualised more readily by reference, again, to fig. 7. The rows in the first half-division are bracketed as 'G,' this portion being what is called the 'Grid' of the method. The rows in the second half are bracketed as 'G-r' (grid-reflect), being simply the reflection of the rows in 'G.' From this it follows that all we need for making out a method in any given stage is the group of rows in 'G,' or the Grid. (This is often unwisely called a 'half-lead.' It is unwise because 'half-lead' usually means the row either just above or just below the Junction; but more especially because in methods like Stedman, with no hunt-bell, it is meaningless.) However, please imagine another Division following on below the one in fig. 7. Now consider the group of change-rows beginning with the G-r set of rows and continuing with the following G set of rows. We saw above (see * in previous paragraph), that these groups are mutually reflective; so that the line between them must also be a reflection-axis. This is the Link, as we have seen. So that axes of reflection are found at both the Junction and the Link. Test this by (a) inspection, (b) mirror, and (c) tracing paper.

HALF AND HALF.

It follows that in any and every method (according to established practice), whether it be hunt-controlled or otherwise, there are two positions in the row-succession where the grid-pattern reflects upon itself. In the same way we shall discover that there are two positions in the blue line of any and every method where the pattern of the bell-path 'reflects' upon itself. In this highly-important conclusion lies the basis of the modern system of learning methods. Indeed, you may now recall that in Lesson X. we drew attention to the way in which the Stedman figures start off with half a 'six,' and we said that the very important significance of this fact would come out in our study of method structure, as arising from the principle of symmetry.

In our next lesson we will study the structure of the Stedman method, with which we began, noting particularly the arrangement of its Division.—Cordially yours.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD NORTH NOTTS BRANCH AT EDWINSTOWE

The meeting of the North Notts Branch at Edwinstowe on November 11th proved to be an attraction, some 34 ringers, including a newly-formed local band and visitors from Lincolnshire, Derbyshire and Yorkshire, representing 17 towers, were present

The bells, a light ring, 6½ cwt., were raised just after 2.30 and kept going until 5 p.m. when tea was served.

Afterwards a brief meeting was held in the church, preceded by a short prayer by the Rev. W. B. Evans, who was most pleased to welcome the members to Edwinstowe. The place of the December meeting was arranged for Barlborough on December 9th. The collection for the Bell Repair Fund amounted to 13s. 9d.

Thanks were accorded to the Rev. W. B. Evans for the use of the bells and there seemed every hope of the local band joining the Guild. It is 12 years since this tower had a Guild member.

Some sixteen Minor methods were rung during the day including six in Surprise.

JOINT MEETING AT BECCLES

A joint meeting of the Suffolk Guild and East Norfolk Branch of the Norwich Association was held at Beccles on November 4th, 40 members attending. Ringing started at 2.30 and tea was served at the Co-op Restaurant.

The Rev. A. S. J. Heard, president of the Norwich Association, thanked the churchwardens for the use of the bells, and also Mr. E. R. Goate, Master of Beccles tower, for arranging the tea.

It was proposed by members of East Norfolk Branch to hold their annual meeting at Gorleston on February 24th, 1951.

Ringling was resumed after tea until about 9 p.m. Stedman and Grandsire Caters, Kent and Plain Royal, Bristol, Cambridge, Double Norwich, Plain Bob Major, Grandsire Triples and rounds for learners were rung. Ringers from Isleworth were also present.

THE SHROPSHIRE ASSOCIATION

The last meeting of the year of the Shropshire Association was held at Church Stretton on November 18th.

Some enthusiasts had arranged an hour's ringing at the nearby Hope Bowlder where Plain Bob, Kent, Grandsire and Stedman were rung on the light six.

These standard methods were afterwards practised on the eight at Church Stretton, the attendance being below the average on account of the atrocious weather conditions.

Returning along the main Shrewsbury Road afterwards, about two feet of water was encountered, and we have yet to learn what the two motor-cyclists said about this.

Surrey Association

A well representative meeting of the North-Western District of the Surrey Association was held at Ewell on November 18th; the Vicar conducted the service and gave an address in which he welcomed the ringers. Mr. Miller gave his service at the organ.

Fifty-one ringers sat down to tea. At the commencement of the meeting, Mr. F. Collins announced the death of two members—Mr. J. Corbett and Mr. W. H. Scabrook. Five compounding and three ringing members were elected.

The following were nominated for 1951. District officers—Master, F. E. Collins; secretary, R. Lathbury; treasurer, H. N. Pitstow; auditor, C. Dean; committee, Miss J. Smith, D. Parsons, R. Davis and E. G. L. Coward.

The sum of £1 12s. was subscribed toward the New Bell Fund. A vote of thanks to the Rev. V. P. Davis, Mr. Miller and Mr. Beams, for their various services was carried. Further ringing was carried on till 8.30.

'ROUND BLOCKS'

SHALL WE UNDERSTAND THEM?

By GEORGE BAKER

There is no better method for this purpose than the method of Norfolk Surprise, first published in 'Bell News' in 1897 by the writer of this paper as Arundel Surprise but later claimed as the work of the Rev. E. B. James and as having been practised at Gloucester under the title of Norfolk Surprise.

Following are half leads of the Minor and Major. In the Major the tenors (7-8) are dodging behind for the first 12 changes, so an exact replica of the Minor can be seen in the Major without the help of Round Blocks but the latter gives a mathematical proof that Minor and Major are perfectly related with a progression of 4321—3412 throughout and the Round Blocks will be given and compared in the next paper when the editor can find the space.
