EATON HALL CARILLON

THERE must be a number of infantry National Service men among ringers to-day who have passed through the famous cadet training school at Eaton Hall, Cheshire. In the realm of bells Eaton Hall has its own peculiar place as possessing a carillon of 28 bells. Mr. J. W. Clarke, in his 'Cheshire Bells' (Part III.), provides some interesting observations on these bells which are housed in a lofty clock tower of splendid proportions, which adjoins the chapel. The present Eaton Hall was designed by Waterhouse and is built in the early Gothic style and replaces a former great mansion built to Porden's plan in 1803.

The carillon at Eaton Hall is the only example in Cheshire of bells of foreign workmanship. They were cast by Chevalier Severin Van Aerschodt of Louvain in 1877. The Louvain foundry was opened by Peter Van Den Ghein about the middle of the sixteenth century and developed into one of the greatest of the Low Country bell foundries. In the nineteenth century it was in the hands of Van Aerschodt, who succeeded to it through marriage. Another example of his work can be seen at Cattistock in Dorset (35 bells), and there was formerly a carillon by him at Boston, Lincolnshire.

Mr. Clarke writes that in the tower at Eaton the bells are hung in a framework of oak, which occupies the space between the operating room and the clock dials above, the bells being arranged in tiers with the largest at the base. A spiral staircase of wrought iron ascends through the centre of the frames and thus gives access for adjustments to the striking mechanism. Both clock and carillon are weight driven, and 31 tunes can be played from the five hardwood barrels, each of which is ten inches in diameter and studded with brass pins. A list of tunes is displayed in the operating room. Barrels one and two are set for fifteen hymn tunes (for use on Sundays), while the remaining three produce secular tunes ranging from a Bach fugue to 'The Bluebells of Scotland.' The carillon is set in motion by the clock mechanism, which causes one tune from the barrel to be played after the striking of the hour on the bass bell.

This hourly music was formerly much enjoyed by the many visitors who walked in the park, but the carillon has not been heard for a number of years. The tone of the bells, however, can be judged from those used in the clock chimes, which are still heard from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily, and from the deep note of the bourdon as it marks the hours. All the bells are inscribed with an ornamental letter 'W' on the waist, and the bass bell bears the following inscription: 'This peal of 28 bells was cast at Louvain for his Grace the Duke of Westminster by Van Aerschodt. A.D. 1877.' The reputed weight of the bourdon bell is 2½ tons, Note C. It has a diameter of 60 inches. In contrast, the diameter of the smallest bell is only 12 inches.

Closely associated with Eaton Hall is the picturesque village of Eccleston, a name familiar to readers in our peal and other columns. The Church of St. Mary was twice built in the nineteenth century, the first being a rebuilding of a 12th century church. This was in 1807 and the existing four bells were disposed of, one being a recast by Abel Rudhall in 1757. For this church Thomas Mears cast a ring of six with a tenor of 13 cwt. The following note, copied from the fly-leaf of an old account book belonging to the Swindley family, tells of the official opening:

Eccleston New Peal of 6 bells was rung for the first time Wednesday Octr the third, 1810. Lord Grosvenor gave a sheep and the Church Wardens plenty of ale at the house of Mr. Geo. Taylor. Opened by the young ringers of St. John's, Chester, consisting of the following persons:— Geo. Sinclair, Wm. Doyle, Jno. Doyle, Edw. Jones, Geo. Nichen, Jno. Andrews, Geo. Woodin and Richd. Wildman, with a detachment of the Liverpool ringers.

The second rebuilding was in 1896 on an adjoining site, the church being demolished to provide stone for the new building. On the evening before work began the bells were rung for the last time, and on the following day they were lowered to the ground. Mr. John Taylor was called to Eaton to discuss proposals for the bells which the Duke of Westminster desired should match the back eight of the carillon at the Hall. As this proved impracticable, they were eventually cast as a heavy ring of eight in the key of D. They were first rung in 1907 and the result was more than satisfactory, for these bells, states Mr. Clarke, are without doubt one of the finest eights in the country.

This Duke of Westminster seems to have been a patron of ringers. In 1903 he presented two bells to Pulford, on account of the keenness of a young band of change ringers. The captain of the ringers, Mr. James Morgan, made the frame.

Part III. of 'Cheshire Bells' deals with bells in the Rural Deanery of Chester and the Deanery of South Wirral. It is reprinted from the 'Transactions of the Lancashire and Cheshire Antiquarian Society,' Vol. lxii.

INSTRUCTING

The author of these notes, a Suffolk ringer of long experience, would be pleased to hear other views on his reference to Grandsire.

Brief notes on my system of instruction in teaching change ringing, preferably to a new band. I would want assistance until the hunting stage is accomplished.

1.—Teach how to strike the handbell.
2.—Practise dodging (varying the number), place-making and snapping, paying strict attention to open leads.

3.—Hunting. Commence on four bells, proceeding to the higher number, coursing up and down and ringing 1-2 double-handed in the odd numbers.

The above comprise all the elements in ringing and from thence I could carry on without assistance.

In hunting I would have chalk and black-board and strike one change at a time, repeating same until the correct or next bell is observed. This helps to remember the order of going out, which also should be practised separately until mastered.

4.—I would then go on to Stedman, not Grandsire, insisting on the diagram being drawn out and described three or four times every day. Attempt only six changes before proceeding with the next six changes, and stopping at every intended extent, even when correctly done.

5.—From Stedman to Plain Bob, Treble Bob and Grandsire, thence to Double Norwich, and when the last-mentioned stage has been reached the Surprise methods follow automatically.

Study the figures of all methods; they will tell you all you want to know. H. D.

Eight V.I.P.'s included in 'Pipe's Pilgrims,' who have just finished a tour of Devon and Cornwall, rounded off Thursday by ringing a touch of Spliced Surprise Major in eleven methods at Camborne. One of the methods is 'brand new,' never having previously been rung.
One of the wags of the party suggested that the method should be called 'Pilgrims' Progress'
or 'Land's End Surprise.'

Mr. Edward Jenkins and
Mr. John Worth each rang their 700th peal at Wakefield on July 31st. The band who participated would like to express their grateful thanks to Mr. Vernon Bottomley and his helpers of the Haley Hill band for their hospitality on the following day.

Hopes of a peal at Flitton, Beds, as a welcome to the new Vicar were frustrated by the rope of the fifth snapping. The band, however, rang 2,280 Grandsire Doubles.

The Bedfordshire Young Ringers are now on tour in Dorset. There are 14 members of the touring band and 25 churches, including two tens—St. James', Poole, and Wimborne Minster.

There will probably be a police court sequel to the outing of Roade ringers on August 3rd.
After arriving back at Northampton two of the party were caught by the police riding through the town at 12.30 a.m. without lights.

The composition of the peal of Lincolnshire Surprise Major rung at Shirley on July 14th was by William Barton, and not W. H. Barber as published. The misunderstanding of those concerned is regretted.

After being ringers at Buckland Dinham,
Somerset, for over 50 years, Mr. Henry Carver
(68) and Mr. Charles Pearce (69) have entered our peal columns. Their first peal of 'Grand-sire Doubles at Whatley is reported in this issue.

An interesting point about the peal of Grand-sire Caters at St. Stephen's, Bristol, on July 31st, was that it was the first peal Mr. Trevor M. Roderick had rung outside the Province of the Church in Wales. Mr. Roderick has rung 101 peals in Wales.

BELFRY

GOSSIP

Mr. J. Michael Stephens, general secretary of the Bedfordshire Association, is leaving Bedford upon acceptance of an appointment at Deal. In his absence Mr. John Sunfield, of 4, Queen Street, Houghton Regis, Dunstable, will act as general secretary until the Association's annual meeting next Easter Monday. A farewell peal to Mr. Stephens at Kempston on July 31st of Little Bob Major was lost 200 changes from the end.

Two claims for first peals on the bells are made this week—at Midgham, Berkshire and North Marston, Buckinghamshire.

We had not long to wait before the handbell enthusiasts at Sherburn-in-Elmet, Yorks, scored their first peal. It is recorded this week. Good luck to Sherburn!

The annual joint meeting of the Middlesex Association and the Oxford Guild will be held on October 23rd and not, as previously announced, on October 16th.

After ringing what is believed to be the first peal on the bells at North Marston, Oxon, the band were entertained to a bountiful tea by Mr.
and Mrs. Felix Gregory, two local ringers. Their kind action is much appreciated.

One of the pioneers of change ringing in Devonshire, Mr. Alfred Lovering, has passed over. To his memory a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at Withycombe Raleigh on July 31st, a tower with which he was at one time associated.

At a recent meeting of the Southern District of the Durham and Newcastle Association, Mr.
F. W. Cooke, 10, Lymehurst Road, Darlington, was appointed 'Ringing World' representative.
The new secretary of the District is now Mr.
E. Peter Rock, 64, Tollesby Road, Linthorpe, Middlesbrough.

PEAL RINGING IN CORNWALL

AFTER writing about peal ringing in Cheshire with thousands of peals to talk about, it comes as rather a change to have a county where peal ringing has always been rare. A peal rung at Penzance on June 4th, 1883, is claimed as the first ever to have been rung in Cornwall, and since that date only another 312 have been recorded—fewer than some individual churches have to their credit. Even so, the single 10-bell tower and all the 43 8-bell towers have had at least one peal, which is more than Cheshire could say! Only 6- and 5-bell towers remain to be conquered. Of course, the reason for the paucity of peals in this county is its adherence to call changes in the majority of churches. There are very few resident change ringers and most of the peals rung have been by touring bands.

Some idea of the difficulties which have always had to be faced in Cornwall can be seen in the many years which have often elapsed between peals in the county. After 1883 13 years went by before the next peal. No peals were rung between 1897 and 1901 and 1903 and 1907. The highest in any year before 1914 was eight peals in 1913. After the first war only one peal was rung before 1926—in 1924 at St. Stephen's-by-Launceston. Nineteen was the highest number of peals in a year between the wars—in 1927, followed by 16 in 1938. Since the war more peals have been rung, indicating an increasing interest in the art. The best years have been 1953 with 26 peals, 1948 with 24, and 1951 with 21. Only five have been recorded this year so far, however, so the total may be lower again.

To mention individual towers, only six have reached double figures at the moment. The only 10-bell tower in the county, Truro Cathedral, is one of these, with 17 peals. The first was in 1911 followed by 12 between 1926 and 1838, and four since the war. The other five are 8-bell towers with Carbis Bay leading the list with the most in the county—18. All these have been rung since 1946 and indicate how the enthusiasm of the incumbent of a parish can make such a difference in promoting the art. Both Kea and Kenwyn have recorded 15. Both started at about the same time (1909 and 1907 respectively) and show the same pattern of a peal every two or three years. The remaining two have each 11 peals to their credit—Gulval (first peal 1926) and St. Germans (first peal 1913). Redruth and Tuckingmill both have nine.

Less than half the 6-bell towers have had a peal rung at them—only 40 out of 93—so there is plenty of scope for tower grabbers here (if permission can be obtained in a 'hostile' land!). The greatest number of peals at any of these is eight at Perran-at-Worthal, all of which were rung between 1927 and 1937. Two out of the eight 5-bell towers have each had a single peal rung at them—Bradoc and St. Samson (Golant).

Cheshire and Cornwall certainly show two sides of the picture as far as peal ringing is concerned!

NATIONAL GUILD OF POLICE RINGERS

A District meeting of the Guild was held at Aylestone, Leicester, on Thursday, August 5th. It was arranged especially to encourage those members of the Police Service who had had little or no experience of change ringing. Details of the arrangements had been published in Police Orders by kind permission of the respective chief constables, and the result was that 25 persons attended. The occasion was one for the renewing of old friendships and making new acquaintances. Seven new members were made. It was six or seven years since some of those present had touched a bell and their enthusiasm was certainly rekindled.

Another District meeting was fixed for Oakham on Thursday, October 14th, the local arrangements being in the hands of Det.-Sgt. Hoy, who is in charge at the Parish Church. It is the intention to arrange similar meetings in other Districts and by this means to bring into the Guild more new members. Many members of the Police Service have at some time or other taken part in church bell ringing and a special invitation is extended to them to join the Guild even though they may have had little or no experience in change ringing.

The annual Guild Dinner will be held in London on September 18th. Any persons interested in the Guild are asked to communicate with P.C. Cecil Knight, Police Headquarters, Charles Street, Leicester, or with Inspector Harold J. Poole, president.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Ashford District

The morning of August 7th, which date we had chosen for our meeting at Woodchurch, brought drenching rain—but, as was the case on two other occasions this year, the sky cleared for the afternoon and evening. The bells were available from 2.30 and were put to good use until 4.15, when the Rector (the Rev. V. B. Wynburne) conducted our service. With Mr. Albert Barnes (a Woodchurch ringer and the church organist) at the organ, the singing went with a swing. Mr. C. Hillis read the lesson, and the Rector gave a good address which included a welcome to his church. The offertory was given towards the work now being carried out on the church spire.

About 34 members and friends sat down to a good tea, and a short business meeting was held afterwards. Votes of thanks were accorded to the Rector for the use of the bells and for conducting the service, and to Mrs. D. J. Russell, the secretary of the local ringers, for having made all the arrangements for the meeting.

During the evening we were joined by more ringers, bringing the total to over 40, the following towers being represented: Ashford, Bethersden, Benenden, Biddenden, Brabourne, Canterbury Cathedral, Faversham, Folkestone, High Hilden, Lydd, Marden, Maidstone, Willesborough and Woodchurch.

Methods up to London Surprise Minor were rung.

Yass, N.S. Wales

Mr. Harold L. Curll, in a letter to the editor, reports that the rehanging of the original five bells at St. Clement's Church, Yass, New South Wales, was completed on May 1st. They have been placed on ball bearings, and should give many years of ringing. He writes:—

'The work was carried out by Mr. John Duncan, of St. Jude's, Randwick, with the assistance of our tower captain, Mr. Dick Burden, and myself. The cost of the work was covered by the refund of duty on our sixth bell. We are very much indebted to Mr. Duncan, who gave up his annual holiday and carried out the work voluntarily.'

MANCHESTER UNIVERSITY TOUR IN EAST ANGLIA

THIRTEEN members of the Manchester University Guild assembled at Naughton Mill Hostel, near Ipswich, in the evening of Monday, July 5th: this was the official start to the tour though seven members were not content merely to grab 31 towers on the organised tour but left from the North on the previous Saturday, ringing at a meeting at Hope, in Derbyshire, that afternoon, and for Sunday evening service at Melton Mowbray, in Leicestershire. Eighty-seven miles of cycling on the Sunday through rain, hail and storm left them somewhat discouraged and they sheepishly admitted to travelling by train for all but 30 miles on the next day. The Ringing Master's comments, made while laboriously cycling down hill in middle gear, with reference to the scientific theories of a certain Mr. Newton are unfortunately unprintable!

On Tuesday the weather, though improved, was still showery and not all the party made the pilgrimage to East Bergholt. Those who did, however, were rewarded not only by seeing the famous bellcage, but also by a visit to Flatford Mill and a pleasant cycle ride through the Constable country. The whole party reassembled in Ipswich at 2 p.m., where, after a slight delay, ringing was enjoyed on the 12 bells at St. Mary-le-Tower. Here we were visited by Cecil W. Pipe, who invited us to ring at Grundisburgh. Unfortunately our timetable did not permit us to take advantage of his offer. We were subsequently entertained to tea in Ipswich by Mrs. Hopkinson, the mother of one of the members of our party. She soon discovered our thirst and hunger and very short work was made, inter alia, of a scrumptious chocolate cake. Thence we cycled at full speed to Hadleigh, where we arrived almost on time. This fine-toned ring of eight presented some difficulty in handling and it was the unanimous opinion that a bellhanger's time would not be misspent here.

VERSATILE PREVAILING WIND

Wednesday morning saw an improvement in the weather and the ride to Sudbury was much enjoyed. Once in Sudbury we managed to find every other church in the town before, almost accidentally, we stumbled across St. Gregory's, our scheduled destination. The striking here, and, in fact, at the next two towers, was well below our usual standard and neither hard words nor black looks seemed to produce any improvement. After a protracted lunch we cycled to and through the very long village of Long Melford to the Parish Church and its musical eight. By this time the prevailing wind had strengthened and being full in our faces somewhat slowed our progress: before the tour ended we became well acquainted with this versatile East Anglian headwind, which perniciously changed every time we changed our direction, and moreover appeared to increase its force as we progressed into the Fenland.

From Long Melford we had but a short journey to Lavenham and its famous ring; the tenor is certainly a magnificent bell but, perhaps partly due to our bad striking, we were somewhat disappointed with the ring as a whole. More disappointing, however, was the discovery that it was Lavenham's early closing day and it was a 'tea-less' party that proceeded to Rattlesden. Here we partook of sustenance before ringing and this appeared to influence our striking for there was a marked improvement, and a well-struck touch of Cambridge

Minor was brought round. After supper at Naughton Mill Hostel an unsuccessful attempt was made to ring a quarter peal of Bob Major 'in hand.'

'THE NINE TAILORS'

Thursday morning saw us cycling along the now familiar road to Sudbury, where ringing was enjoyed on the heavy eight at All Saints'. Lunch was interrupted by a loud bang which heralded the tour's fifth and last puncture. Repairs were speedily effected and the party made good time against a strong head wind to ring on the five at Wickham St. Paul, a name reminiscent of 'The Nine Tailors.' Ringing was delayed at the next tower—Gestingthorpe—whilst a frantic search was made for the key to the bell chamber in order that a rope used for clocking might be disconnected. Whilst ringing on this six, which are somewhat out of key, we were visited by Mrs. A. Catterwell, the wife of the chief ringer at Sible Hedingham, who invited us to join them in their practice that evening—an invitation that was eagerly and gratefully accepted. Prior to this, however, we rang on the backward six at Castle Hedingham and later joined two local ringers in ringing handbells, which they also rang anti-clockwise! Before adjourning to Castle Hedingham Youth Hostel were entertained to tea by a lady of the Castle Hedingham congregation, formerly of Manchester, who was very pleased to welcome us.

On Friday our ringing and striking both improved and during the day we rang Erin Doubles and Triples and a course of London Surprise Minor. Towers visited were Wethersfield, where a few arrived in time to join the Vicar in saying the Litany, Finchingfield, Great Bardfield and Thaxted. In the evening at Saffron Walden Youth Hostel we entertained the wardens and other hostellers with handbell ringing, which included a course of six Spliced Major methods. Here we temporarily lost two ringers, who, in the company of two hostellers of the 'weaker' sex, claimed to have paid an interesting visit to the famous country house at Audley End!

UNIVERSITY'S WELCOME

On Saturday we rang on the famous 12 at Saffron Walden and on the noisy six at Littlebury, where a good touch of London Minor was brought round. Here we were shown round the church by the Vicar, the Rev. P. A. Wright, who told us of the fantastic tricks of Henry Winstanley, the builder of the first Eddystone Lighthouse, who lived in the village. Apparently this gentleman played numerous tricks on visitors to his house, and he was the designer of an armchair that imprisoned anybody who sat in it! We arrived in the late afternoon at Cambridge, where we were met at the Church of St. Andrew-the-Great by Chris. M. P. Johnson and other members of the Cambridge University Guild. We joined them again at St. Andrew's on the Sunday morning, and in the afternoon two Manchester and three Cambridge members attempted a peal of Bob Royal 'in hand,' which, like a quarter of Cambridge at St. Andrew's in the evening, was unfortunately unsuccessful. Others visited Great St. Mary's but the majority took advantage of a free day to tour Cambridge and, of course, to go punting and canoeing on the Cam. Our Master's first efforts at punting were described by Chris. Johnson as 'an expert imitation of the blue line of Bristol.' No comment about one ringer who was last seen rapidly disappearing in the direction of Girton College.

We were on the road again on Monday and we visited Histon, Cottenham and Wilburton, where we were joined in the ringing by veteran

Henry Sharp. Our day's ringing officially ended at Ely Parish Church, where the bells were raised for us and where we also accomplished our first course of Yorkshire Surprise Major. After supper at Ely Youth Hostel we heard bells ringing and soon discovered that one of our courting couples in their wanderings had met the Vicar of Witchford and were sampling the three bells in the church. The whole party was soon on the scene and an inspection was made of an old and somewhat worm-eaten oak frame containing three bells cast in 1676 by local bellfounder Christopher Gray. The bells were ringable but handling was somewhat hampered by a large number of rather ineffectual splices in each rope.

Tuesday we visited Sutton, a rather 'lumpy' ring with an almost tuneless tenor—rather disappointing after first seeing the fine tower with its excellent view of the Fenlands and its beautifully maintained ringing room. Our next tower, Haddenham, was approached with misgivings as we had been frequently warned that these bells were difficult to handle; however, we were pleasantly surprised to discover a very fine ring in good condition—indeed we were tempted to overstay our allotted time. The timetable prevailed since we were due at Somersham, where we were pleased to meet Canon B. F. Sheppard, of the Cambridge University Guild. After showing us around, Canon Sheppard celebrated Holy Communion with us. We then adjourned to the tower, where Bill Ransome had already raised the bells, and after an all too short period of ringing, in which Canon Sheppard joined, we were entertained to a sumptuous tea. Once again our timetable pulled us away much too soon and even so we were nearly 50 minutes late at St. Ives. However, Frank Warrington was very patiently waiting for us and he joined us in the ringing which was concluded by a good fall in peal.

COPYBOOK BLOTTED

We welcomed Mr. Warrington to our company again on Wednesday, when we rang on a very nice light six at Hemingford Abbots. After lunch we rang on the musical eight at Godmanchester, where unfortunately Yorkshire wouldn't come round. We badly blotted our copybook at All Saints', Huntingdon, where we were met by Mr. H. S. Peacock. There the only touch successfully brought round was of Plain Bob Minor, and it was here also that the writer resolved to learn to ring London before endeavouring to call a touch.

Our tour was successfully concluded at Holywell, where we were again joined by Canon Sheppard and Frank Warrington. This ring of six was probably the finest of the tour and on the whole our ringing was of a better quality; the tour was brought to a close with an almost perfect fall.

Methods rung were:—Plain Bob Doubles, Minor, Major and Royal, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Triples and Caters, Erin Doubles and Triples, St. Simon's Doubles, Kent and Oxford Minor and Major (and the two spliced, of which only one touch appeared to be known). Cambridge Surprise Minor and Major, Yorkshire Surprise Major, Double Norwich and the following Minor methods: London Surprise, Oswald Delight, Thelwall, Childwall, St. Clement's, Double Oxford, Oxford Bob and Original.

May we express a grateful word of thanks to all the clergy, local ringers and Y.H.A. wardens who co-operated to make our tour an undoubted success, and also, on behalf of all, tender special thanks to Pip Carter, who planned and supervised, and also to our retiring Master, Wilf. Robinson, who expertly kept the bells moving.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE DEVIL AT CORNHILL

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. Symonds' letter, it is probable that he refers to an incident at St. Michael's, Cornhill. Stow, our worthy historian, reports the incident thus:—

'As I have oft heard my father report, upon St. James' night certain men in the loft next under the bells ringing of a peal, a tempest of lightning and thunder did arise, an ugly shapen sight appeared to them, coming in at the south window, and lighted on the north, for fear whereof they all fell down, and lay as dead for the time, letting the bells ring and cease of their own accord: when the ringers came to themselves they found certain stones of the north window to be razed and scratched as if they had been so much butter, printed with a lion's claw: the same stones were fastened there again, and so remain till this day. I have seen them oft, and have put a feather or small stick into the holes where the claws had entered 3 or 4 inches deep. At the same time certain main timber posts at Queen Hith were scratched and cleft from top to bottom; and the pulpit cross in Powle's churchyard was likewise scratched, cleft and overturned. One of the ringers lived in my youth, whom I have oft heard to verify the same to be true.'—Yours sincerely,

London.

B. K. LUNN.

Dear Sir.—I think that what Mr. G. E. Symonds must be thinking of is when 'His Satanic Majesty' honoured the ringers at St. Michael's, Cornhill (not St. Clement Danes') with a visit. It appears that instead of asking the old gentleman if he was a ringer, they panicked and did not even set their bells. No wonder he got a bit angry. It must have been a sight for sore eyes to see them coming down that long staircase.—Yours sincerely,

E. H. OXENHAM.

Bampton, Devon.

Dear Sir.—In your last issue Mr. Symonds has asked for information about a phenomenon occurring at St. Clement Danes'. Has he got slightly mixed? Should it not be St. Michael's, Cornhill? I believe he will find the answer in Stow's 'Survey of London,' 1912 edition, page 176, commencing at line 15.—Yours sincerely,

CECIL EBBERSON

Snettisham, King's Lynn.

PEAL RINGING IN CHESHIRE

Dear Sir.—The eight-bell tower of Winsford doesn't exist—its duplication with Over is one of the unfortunate mistakes in the 'Book' which Mr. Felstead has used in the course of his researches, and for which I offer my apologies.

I hasten to draw attention to this error myself before other enthusiasts (like F. E. W. in his report of the Yorkshire tour by Sussex ringers) are at pains to do so.

F. E. W. is correct that Todmorden, Lancs. (as it is known to the Post Office) is, in fact, in the West Riding of Yorkshire, but may I in turn correct F. E. W.? Howden bells came from Loughborough and not from Croydon!

R. H. DOVE.

Mr. W. Gorrings, of Hawkhurst, was able at the last minute to make up a band to ring a quarter of Stedman Caters at St. Mary's, Cheltenham, on July 22nd, in honour of the 75th birthday of Mr. J. S. Hawkins. To complete the evening the band adjourned to Mr. Hawkins' favourite 'local,' where the landlord was also celebrating his birthday.

FINANCING 'THE RINGING WORLD'

Dear Sir.—I have been trying to make up my mind whether my friend, Arthur Davis, in his letter about 'Sentimental Energy' ('Ringing World,' July 16th), is displaying (a) undue pessimism or (b) lack of confidence in 'The Ringing World' Committee. I would hesitate to accuse one who has expended so much energy in many different directions of being pessimistic; and lack of confidence in our Central Council Committees is surely quite unwarranted.

However these things may be, he has only partially quoted what I had to say at our A.G.M. recently. Perhaps I did not make myself clear at the time, but my main objection to the suggestion of a subsidy imposed by the Central Council—or by any other body for that matter—is that the principle is wrong.

Not all ringers are interested in the journal. That is an unfortunate fact, but there is no reason on earth why they should be compelled to contribute towards the cost of a paper which is only read by a very small minority.

As Mr. Davis says: 'Those ringers interested in 'The Ringing World' are taking it, the others turn a deaf ear to our pleadings. Why should they listen?' Exactly! Why should they? Those who are taking it will continue to do so, even when the price is increased to an economical level, as indeed it must be before long.

Can we not be assured that the relevant committee is still weighing the pros and cons, and considering all the pertinent details which are within their ken, but outside ours, and will eventually arrive at the proper decision?

Could the committee publish some of those facts and figures, together with a summary of the arguments and suggestions which have been put forward to date? Such an article would make interesting reading and would, perhaps, let in to some of us a new light on the matter.

Would it not be possible to have a kind of Gallup Poll regarding, say, price increase and postal distribution?—Yours faithfully,

R. A. REED.

Eastleigh, Hants.

SENTIMENTAL ENERGY

Dear Sir.—It is a matter of some surprise that no reply or comment has been made concerning the letter from Mr. Arthur V. Davis, Bournemouth, published in your issue of July 16th. Surely the financial position of 'The Ringing World' is of importance to all ringers.

Mr. Davis stresses the necessity of subsidising 'The Ringing World' by the Central Council. He knows that the income of the Central Council from Associations and Guilds is negligible so far as a subsidy is concerned.

Next Mr. Davis outlines a scheme whereby the finances of 'The Ringing World' might be made secure. While agreeing most emphatically with his aim, I do not like the idea of an all-round £5 levy on Associations and Guilds, but let us leave the method of raising a fund out of consideration for the moment.

The salient point of his letter is in his statement: 'I have been told that such a scheme has been discussed and turned down as impracticable. Why?'

May I support him in his inquiry? When was such a scheme considered? And by whom? What scheme exactly was put forward, and when was report made to the Central Council?

Perhaps Mr. E. A. Barnett, as hon. secretary of the Central Council, or Mr. Frank Smallwood, convener of the Editorial Committee, will be good enough to satisfy our thirst for information.—Yours faithfully,

J. W. WILLIS.

Folkestone.

WHO IS THE AUTHOR?

Dear Sir,—A few days ago in looking through my papers I noticed a method called Stanton, composed by John Reeve in 1788. The same method was used by J. W. Parker in the method called Premier, in 1892.

Although the figures are not quite the same in both compositions, the method used to produce these figures is. Premier is the better arrangement, it does not have the fault of two bells striking after each other that is found in Stanton—3 and 8 in the first set of eight changes, and in the same position in each set, 2 and 7, 3 and 6, and 2 and 8, in the last set.

A peal of Stanton was rung at Stony Stanton on July 16th, 1948; possibly this was the first peal.—Yours sincerely,

E. WEATHERBY.

BOB TRIPLES—NOT IN C.C. COLLECTION

Dear Sir.—Mr. H. O. Over is in error. The Collection of Legitimate methods, Section I., published in 1907, does not include Bob Triples. Paragraph two on page nine of the preface gives the reason.—Yours faithfully,

C. KENNETH LEWIS.

Altrincham, Cheshire.

Note.—The paragraph reads:—'Triple methods form a comparatively small group. The reason for this is that Triples should be all Triple changes, hence there can be no Imperial methods: further, there can be but a small number of Bob methods with two hunts, and the like of Court methods with two hunts, for methods having but one hunt will not produce a plain course in Triple changes.'—Ed.

LETTERS—Continued

'SCISSORING' AT THE HALF LEAD

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. York-Bramble, there are a number of rows which permit of 'scissoring' at the half lead. Here is an example:—

86745231	86745231
87654321	68472531

The first is the first half lead of Plain Bob Major. If a plain course is cut up as described in my article and the 14 half leads re-arranged, Double Bob and Reverse Bob will result and the first half lead will be altered as above.

I would have liked to have used this example in my article, but these methods are not in Diagrams (except in Minor). Mr. York-Bramble says 'scissoring' at the trebles lie in conflict with a conventional feature of method construction. If he objects to Double Bob being formed out of Plain Bob, or Double Oxford being formed out of Double Norwich, he should send his complaint to the Methods Committee. I am not the culprit. These things were done a long while ago.

I shall be pleased to send to Mr. York-Bramble a complete list of 42 Major, 54 Royal and 110 Maximus half lead rows which permit of two places being used. All produce legitimate lead ends. I am indebted to Mr. C. H. Kippin, of the Methods Committee, for his assistance with these rows.

I hope private correspondence will clear up Mr. York-Bramble's difficulty about the 'opposing half from a different method.' The word 'different' does not appear in my article.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN SEGAR

FIRING AT WEDDINGS

Dear Sir,—I think that Mr. J. C. Birt is quite right in suggesting that 'firing' the bells at a wedding is not desirable; and not only at weddings but at all times.

After all, surely we endeavour to make our ringing sound as attractive as possible to those outside the church by our best striking, and to do anything that suggests a discordant tinnabulation to the public is not in the interests of change ringing.

LEONARD W. GILES.

SHEFFIELD & DISTRICT SOCIETY

The August meeting of the above Society was held jointly with the Ladies' Guild (Northern District) at Rotherham Parish Church on Bank Holiday Monday and, as usual, these fine bells attracted ringers from a wide radius. Over 21 towers, including Leeds, York, Bradford, Derby, Luton and Brighton, were represented, and all tastes were catered for, methods ranging from Plain Bob to London and Bristol Surprise Major and a variety of Caters and Royal methods.

Ringers and a number of friends were welcomed at the Parish Hall by Bishop G. V. Gerard. After a sumptuous tea a course of Grandsire Caters on handbells was greatly appreciated, and the business meeting followed, the chair being taken by the Society's president, Mr. H. O. Chaddock. Much interest was shown in the Society's peal book which was available for inspection.

The secretary announced that a joint meeting with the Southwell Guild had been arranged for November 6th at Retford (10), and that the next meeting was the annual cup contest at Killamarsh on September 4th. After suitable votes of thanks, ringers returned to the tower for further enjoyment until all too soon the available time was gone, and at 8.45 p.m. the ten bells were lowered in peal, so concluding a very enjoyable meeting. OBITUARY

MR. JOHN W. BEST

It is with deep regret that we record the death of Mr. John W. Best, of Chester, on July 26th, after a short illness. He was 46 years of age.

The funeral service took place at St. Mary's Church, Handbridge, Chester, on Thursday, July 29th, and was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. W. N. Digby Thomas), assisted by the curate. The service was attended by many of his bell-ringing friends. Half-muffled ringing took place before the service and afterwards a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung.

Born in Durham, 'Johnny' spent his earlier life in Richmond, Yorks, where he learned to ring. He came to Chester at the beginning of 1935 and joined the Cathedral and Handbridge band. He was an accomplished ringer and rang 150 peals, the last being one of Carshalton Bob Triples as recently as July 3rd.

Included in his total were peals in eight different Surprise Major methods, all the Triples methods with two hunts, the first peal ever in 18 different Plain Major methods—many rung without previous practice—and the first peal in the method for the Chester Diocesan Guild in a further six Plain Major methods. He also conducted peals of Superlative Surprise and Plain Bob Major.

He will, however, be best remembered for his kindly nature, cheerful disposition and ready wit. He could always be depended upon to give of his best and was a regular and punctual Sunday service ringer at both the towers to which he was attached, and will be sorely missed.

His many friends extend to his wife and relatives their deepest sympathy in their very sad bereavement.

MR. GEORGE W. PARK

It is with regret that we record the death of Mr. George William Park, of Darlington, County Durham, who passed away on Sunday, August 1st.

Born in 1872 in the Parish of Holy Trinity, Darlington, he lived all his life within 400 yards of the church in which he was baptised, confirmed and married, and in which he worshipped for the whole of his life. In an unobtrusive way he took part in many of the church's activities and was connected with the Sunday School, Bible Class, was a founder member of the Young Men's Club and a former member of the Parochial Church Council; but it was in the belfry where he gave of his best.

The son of a ringer, he joined Holy Trinity belfry when the ring of six bells was installed in 1891. His ability quickly took him to leadership of the band and under his guidance the standard of ringing was raised to and maintained at a very high level. Except for illness and essential holidays he rarely missed ringing for a Sunday service. Not a great peal ringer, he had scored just over 100, chiefly in the North of England, but he was a staunch Association member and so long as health allowed was a regular attendee at Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association and District meetings, and was for a time vice-president of this Association.

Interment was on Wednesday, August 4th, at the West Cemetery, Darlington, after a service in Holy Trinity Church, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. E. J. Simpson, M.A., before and after which the bells were rung half-muffled.

Mr. Park leaves a daughter and three sons, two of whom, Norman and Roland, are at present ringers, and were taught by their father.

Thus passes to higher service one who leaves an inspiration and example to be followed.

THE BELLS OF SEALE, SURREY

The village is situated in a fold of the hills under the Hog's Back between Farnham and Guildford, a village that is ancient, picturesque and unspoilt. Motor traffic speeds along the top of the hill, but Seale seldom gets troubled with much mechanical transport, being off the main road.

The foundation of the church, dedicated to St. Lawrence, is lost in the mists of antiquity, and the present building has a square tower over the choir. Originally you had to approach the ringing chamber by a staircase behind the choir stalls, and if you happened to be a 'broad' ringer, a door of minimum width was certainly not helpful, for even a 'thin' ringer would have to go through edgewise. Another inconvenience was when the ringers came down just before service time, for they had to disturb the organist from his seat before they could proceed anywhere. To stop this arrangement, a new entrance was cut in the outer wall to give access into the stairway from outside, and, though this method of approach is better than the previous one, it is still a difficult job. At the top of the stone stairway wooden steps up the side of the chancel roof take you to the small ringing chamber, but even here big people were never catered for, as a low arch forms a trap for the unwary, and you are liable to damage your head.

The bells are a ring of six with a tenor of 7 cwt. 40 lb. The first three are by Warner in 1873, the 4th by Thomas Lester, of Whitechapel, in 1744, the 5th by Richard Eldridge in 1608, and the tenor was recast by Warner in 1873. The previous tenor was a 14th century bell from the Wokingham foundry without any inscription.

The Royal Inventory of 1552 gives; iij belles and one sance bell,' and for further details concerning the history of the bells later in that century the church accounts provide some interesting items. In 1588 'paid to Jhon Jure for kepinge the belles 12d.' This is probably the steeplekeeper's wages for a certain period. Other items are:

'1589 for a new bell rope 14d.'

'1591 to ohn Turner for ringing 2d.'

In those days the anniversary of Queen Elizabeth's Coronation was celebrated by the ringing of the bells, and two items are: '1591 drinke to the ringers on coronation day 8d.,' and '1594 to a carpinter for one days work mending the bells against the coronation daye 10d.'

Ringing has changed considerably since the closing years of the 16th century, and at the present time it is pleasing to know that Seale is a village where the tower is included in the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild; also that its ringers take interest in the work of the Guild by practical support in every possible way.

Ringers from Chester, with friends from Buckley, made a tour into Staffordshire and Derbyshire on July 17th.

Ringling took place at Uttoxeter, Ashbourne, Youlgreave, Bakewell and Fairfield (Buxton). Members of the local companies joined in some of the touches at most places and, with the help of Rev. Mr. Graham at Bakewell, a course of London Surprise was rung. Other methods rung were Grandsire, Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Spliced Plain and Little Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Southwell and Superlative Surprise Major.

The outing was most enjoyable, despite the very inclement weather during the later part of the day, and the thanks of all are due to Mr. R. G. Corby, who made the arrangements, to the incumbents and the local ringers.

HORSHAM, SUSSEX

Horsham ringers spent a very pleasant day in Kent on July 24th. After coffee at Tunbridge Wells, the day was started well with the fine six at Horsmonden, followed by the ten at Leeds. After lunch, Harrietsham (8) was visited, and here ringing concluded with an excellent 'lower.' Ashford (8) was the next stop, the bells being much appreciated by all the ringers. An excellent tea was taken at a local hostelry.

At Rolvenden difficulty was experienced in raising the tenor in peal and time did not allow a long stop at this tower. The day finished with excellent ringing at Benenden, where a course of Superlative was rung. A stop was made at West Higham for liquid refreshment and Horsham was reached at about 10.30 p.m.

The outing was very successfully organised by Mr. L. Stilwell, to whom is owed grateful thanks.

SPALDING, LINES

A coachload of ringers from Spalding and district left the Corn Exchange at 7 a.m. on July 10th and headed for the Suffolk border. First call was at Thetford, where our ringing was soon stopped when the headstock on the 6th broke in two. Luckily the bell wedged in the frame and no one was hurt.

Our next tower was Elveden, where the bell tower is detached and joined to the main church by cloisters. The Vicar's wife kindly met us and gave us a very interesting tour of this fine church, which is partly 11th century and partly modern, before ascending to the belfry.

At Bury St. Edmunds both SS. Mary and Peter's and St. James' Cathedral towers were visited. We also had lunch in Bury, for which we were all ready. More ringing followed at Lavenham, and then to Sudbury, where again we rang at two towers, St. Gregory's and All Saints'. Tea was had at Sudbury. Our last tower of the day was at Clare and, although we were a little late on arrival, we still stayed for a good hour's ringing. Alas, Mr. Newington couldn't get that Stedman into rounds.

On towards home again, with a short stop at Huntingdon for refreshments. All agreed it was an excellent and well organised day. The thanks of all go to the incumbents of towers visited and to the local ringers who met us at the towers. R. C. N.

ALL SAINTS', ROCHDALE

A visit to Messrs. John Taylor's bell foundry at Loughborough was this year's outing of All Saints', Rochdale. A start was made at 7.30 a.m. in unfavourable weather. Fairfield, near Buxton, was reached at 9.15 a.m., and a break was made for 1½ hours' ringing.

After lunch at Derby, Loughborough was reached at 2.30. Mr. John Fidler conducted the party around the foundry—a most interesting tour—which ended with testing the well-known foundry bells. The last ringing of the day was Osmaston; home was reached at 11 p.m., after one stop at Ashbourne.

Methods rung during the day were Plain Bob, Oxford Treble Bob, Kent Treble Bob, St. Clement's, Double Oxford, Stedman and Grandsire, and call changes for the learners.

BOLSOVER, DERBYSHIRE

Since the early days of the year the Bolsover ringers and their friends had looked forward with eager anticipation to Saturday, June 19th, the day fixed for the annual outing to the Cambridge district, and, after a very long and tiring day, all agreed that this year's tour had proved to be one of the very best in a long line of successful outings.

An early start was necessary and, at the scheduled time, the organiser was relieved to see the full 'Bolsover' complement waiting to board the luxury coach outside the Parish Church. The evergreen Walter Allwood had joined the coach at 6.15 a.m. in Chesterfield and the party was completed by friends from Warsop and Sutton-on-Trent, the latter being picked up in Newark.

The first tower, St. Mary-the-Virgin, Godmanchester, was reached in good time, and the fine ring of eight, recently overhauled, was soon raised and set going to various methods, including Little Bob, Double Norwich, Cambridge Major, Superlative and Stedman Triples. The striking was extremely good and set a good standard for the day. The Rev. P. J. Disney and his wife spent some time with the party and seemed very anxious to make everything comfortable for visitors.

The coach arrived at St. Neots exactly on time and the party were heartily welcomed by the Rev. L. Galley. The heavy eight proved rather difficult to raise in peal, but reasonable touches of Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Cambridge Major were brought round. The local captain was anxious that there should be no damaged stays and, fortunately, nothing untoward happened, the Misses Joan Smith and Doreen Armstrong surprising him by their ability on the heavy bells. Arnold Hill turned in the tenor to Double Norwich and an excellent fall in peal completed the ringing at this fine tower.

After the early start and the strenuous ringing during the morning the party did justice to an excellent lunch at the Blue Boar Hotel, Cambridge.

Ringling took place during the afternoon at the famous Church of St. Bene't, Cambridge. Unfortunately, it seems that these bells are not regularly rung, and certainly need some attention. The ropes required considerable adjustments, but the Minor experts eventually settled down to some good striking. Herbert Rooke insisting that a touch of Stedman Doubles should be rung before leaving St. Bene't's. The programme allowed for a break to give an opportunity for sightseeing, and, as the weather was glorious, most of the party made a special effort to visit King's College Chapel and the river. Several of the youngsters would have liked a trip on the river, but time was short, as tea was arranged at St. Ives.

The meals have always been a special feature of Bolsover outings, but all agreed that the tea at St. Ives was certainly the very best on record.

The evening was spent on the very attractive light eight at the Church of All Saints, St. Ives. The rather long draught of rope presented some difficulty at first, but the ringing eventually settled down and several good touches were brought round. A broken rope on the treble made it necessary to change to ringing Minor, and the North Notts section of the party were so anxious to extend the stay at this tower that ringing did not cease until after 8 p.m., instead of the scheduled time of 7 p.m. Mr. Frank Warrington joined in one or two touches of Minor and the local representatives were greatly impressed by the standard of striking. The extended stay at St. Ives gave the youngsters their opportunity to spend some time on the river.

The long journey home was broken for a short time at Stamford, and the coach finally reached Bolsover shortly after midnight. The party was kept awake by community singing, and it would be interesting to know how many popular songs, hymns, etc., were revived by the very mixed voices. The highlight was the rendering of 'Herr von Schmidt,' the action song so popular at the Derbyshire Association dinners.

ROADE, NORTHANTS

On August 3rd a party of ringers from Roade, Blisworth, Rothersthorpe and Northampton set out to visit eight towers in the Kettering district. A good start was made at Orlingbury (5, 10½ cwt.), where we met three friends from Bozeat, bringing our number to 11. Next were Pytchley (5, 8 cwt.), and Barton Seagrave (5, 9 cwt.). Lunch was then taken in the Wicksteed Park, Kettering.

At Geddington (5, 11½ cwt.), a touch of 200 Spliced Doubles more than made up for a poor 'rise.' After some difficulty Weldon (6, 10½ cwt.) was reached. At the top of this tower is a large lantern which, we were told, in days of old was lit by 16 candles and guided travellers through Rockingham Forest. Tea was taken at Corby and we then tried the light six (tenor 7 cwt.), the difference in weight of the treble and fourth being only 77 lb.

Although several members of the party might have been a little reluctant to move on after seeing a sample of the town's female population, we travelled to East Carlton (6, 9 cwt.). We were not expected here, the priest-in-charge from whom permission to ring was obtained failing to inform the tower captain. We were made very welcome, however, and made good use of the bells. Our last call was at Rushton (6, 8 cwt.), where we finished off the day's ringing with a good 240 of Spliced Doubles and an excellent 'fall.'

Thanks are due to the incumbents and the tower captains for their co-operation, and to Mr. G. F. Roome (hon. secretary, Northampton Branch, Peterborough Diocesan Guild), who so ably arranged our tour. J. E. H.

OXFORD GUILD WEDDING

Mr. Edmund E. Pearson and Miss Betty West

A very pretty wedding and one of considerable interest to ringers in the Diocese of Oxford took place on July 24th at Deddington Parish Church when Mr. Edmund Ernest Pearson, younger son of Mr. Ernest C. Pearson and the late Mrs. Pearson, was married to Miss Betty West, second daughter of Mrs. G. West and the late Mr. W. C. West.

Both bride and bridegroom are ringers at Deddington and indeed the bridegroom is well-known in ringing circles, having a goodly number of peals to his credit. The bridegroom's father, Mr. Ernest C. Pearson, is not only the respected and well-loved secretary of the Banbury Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, but also a churchwarden of Deddington and a Diocesan lay reader.

This fine XIVth century church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and was comfortably filled with a large number of relatives and friends. The service was conducted by the Vicar of Deddington (the Rev. M. Frost), assisted by the Vicar of North Aston-with-Duns Tew (the Rev. W. L. Smith). The service was fully choral.

The bride, who wore a gown of ivory brocade and carried a bouquet of cream rosebuds, was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. R. P. Stevens. Mr. Cecil H. Pearson, the bridegroom's brother, was the best man. The bridesmaids were Miss Ann West (sister of the bride), in pale blue taffeta and nylon net, Miss Gillian Stevens (the bride's niece), in ivory satin and nylon net, and Miss Margaret Bird (the bridegroom's cousin), also in ivory satin and nylon net. The page boy was the bridegroom's cousin, Master Peter Pearson. The bridesmaids all carried sweet peas.

Touches of Grandsire Triples were rung before and after the ceremony, in which the local and visiting ringers took part.

The reception was held at the home of the bride, and the sun at last broke through the clouds to give the finishing touch to the day's happiness. As the bride and bridegroom departed for their honeymoon at Kingswear, a peal of Plain Bob Major was commenced in the church tower and details of this will be found in another column. Suffice it to say that this too was worthy of the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Pearson will continue to live at Deddington and will not therefore be lost to the tower.

WILTSHIRE WEDDING

Mr. F. D. Mack, B.Sc.—
Miss M. I. Kennelly, B.Sc.

A picturesque wedding of particular interest to the bellringing fraternity took place on Wednesday, August 4th, at St. Michael and All Angels' Church, Melksham, between Mr. Frank Devereux Mack, only son of the Rev. and Mrs. Devereux Mack, of Churcham Vicarage, Gloucester, and Miss Mary Irene Kennelly, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. P. Kennelly, of Melksham. The Rev. C. A. Witcombe, M.A., officiated.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a fitted white silk honeycomb dress with a long full skirt and a headdress of lilies and orange blossom. She carried a bouquet of dark red roses and pink begonias.

In attendance were two bridesmaids, Miss Mary Hobbs, who wore a dress of printed nylon over cyclamen taffeta and Miss Daphne Mack, youngest sister of the bridegroom, who wore a similar dress of hydrangea blue taffeta. Both wore headdresses of white begonias and carried bouquets to match. Mr. Lance C. I. Watson was best man.

On leaving the church after the ceremony the happy couple were greeted by an archway of handbells held aloft by members both of the local band and of the University of Bristol

MR. W. WEATHERSTONE

With reference to the late Mr. W. Weatherstone, Mr. A. C. Hazelden, of Guildford, informs us that he met and rang with him once at Chislehurst about 1898-1899.

According to the records of the Biographies Committee of the Central Council, Mr. Weatherstone was born on October 23rd, 1840, and died on September 17th, 1914, and was buried in Nunhead Cemetery. He was a carpenter and joiner by trade.

He rang his first peal, Grandsire Triples, at St. Alphege's, Greenwich, on January 29th, 1884. Among the towers with which he was connected were Westminster Abbey, St. Clement Danes, St. John's, Waterloo Road; also in the Deptford and Lewisham areas. When the Society of Trinity Youths was re-established in 1888 he was elected Master. He rang his 101st peal at Greenwich in 1891. He was elected a member of the Central Council in 1897 as a representative of the London County Association and remained a member until 1905.

To his memory a half-muffled peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at St. Mary's, Rotherhithe, on September 26th, 1914, by the following band: J. J. Lewis 1, W. Truss 2, C. H. Hughes 3, T. H. Taffender 4, H. Burton 5, C. W. R. Grimwood 6, T. Groombridge (conductor) 7, G. H. Harmer 8.

Society of Change Ringers, of which Mary and Frank are highly popular members, whilst overhead the church bells pealed forth their tuneful sounds over the sunlit scene. The reception, attended by 62 guests, was held at Melksham House, and the honeymoon is being spent on the Norfolk Broads.

Immediately after the marriage ceremony a quarter peal of Stedman Triples was rung by the following:—C. F. Andrews (conductor) 1, S. R. Cockell 2, B. Enid Lloyd Roberts (U.B.S.C.R.) 3, R. J. Stokes (U.B.S.C.R.) 4, I. H. Trueman (U.B.S.C.R.) 5, G. R. Eyles 6, W. C. West 7, F. Price 8. L. C. I. W.
