PEAL RINGING IN 1953

A N indication was given at Newcastle last Whitsun that peal ringing in 1953 was not equal to 1952 despite the inspiration provided by the Coronation, which produced some of those 'once in a lifetime' peals. The total for the year was 2,566, compared with 2,619 in 1952 and 2,915 in 1951. The drop is entirely due to the lack of popularity of handbell peals. The total of these was 154, compared with successive years of 223, 293, 362 and 382. Unless there is a revival, handbell peal ringing will soon be a forgotten art.

The following table gives the general trend of peals on tower bells:—

			1953	1952	1951	1950	1949
Maximus			27	36	39	31	47
Cinques			55	43	48	50	43
Royal			96	82	121	86	109
Caters			97	86	104	89	99
Major			887	906	997	938	1,052
Triples			331	339	315	297	335
Minor &	Dou	bles	919	904	1,008	870	839

Twelve-bell ringing maintained its own. Nineteen Guilds or Associations scored peals in higher numbers, St. Martin's Guild leading with 24, followed by Leicester Diocesan Guild with 13. Leicester's experiment in Spliced Surprise Maximus, which culminated in a peal in 12 methods, was one of the highlights of the year. There was a drop of Surprise Maximus peals from 31 to 23.

It was a better year for ten-bell peals, as these totalled 193 against 168 in 1952. These were spread among 36 Guilds and Associations. There were 60 peals of Surprise Royal against 49 and 67 in the two preceding years. Cambridge with 27 and Yorkshire with 17 were both an advance on the previous year. Leading associations for tenbell ringing were Stafford Archdeaconry 15, Lancashire Association 14, Leicester Guild 12.

The year saw more peals of Major in Surprise methods than Plain, the respective totals being 455 and 432. There were five more Surprise peals rung than in 1952. These were in 48 different methods. Cambridge held its popularity with 115 (last year 106), followed by Yorkshire 90 (81), London 51 (41), Superlative 35 (48), Bristol 31 (14) and Rutland 14 (19). Spliced Surprise totalled 35 peals (in 1951 there were 43). Being Coronation year probably accounted for Plain Bob showing an increase from 196 to 209. Double Norwich Court Bob Major dropped from 101 to 83 and Kent Treble Bob from 85 to 72.

Included in the record there are those debatable 12 peals of Plain Bob Triples. Grandsire Triples totalled 183 compared with 209, of which the Oxford Diocesan Guild rang 14, and Stedman Triples had 108 peals, one less than last year, with the Leicester Guild scoring 21.

Five and six-bell ringing showed an increase, 919 against 904 (Minor 647, Doubles 272). Outstanding performances were 42 methods Doubles peal by the Archdeaconry of Stafford and a 35 method Minor peal by the Lincoln Diocesan Guild. The four leading Associations for these lesser number of bells were: Essex 71 peals, Lincoln 65, Suffolk 56 and Kent 54. There were 276 one method peals of Minor and 129 of Doubles. Some of the Minor were Surprise, but the great majority were Plain Bob. We regard this as an encouraging sign, especially the one method Doubles peals. If a ringer can maintain concentration in a simple method for 2½ hours he has the ability to go forward. The village bells of England and Wales are one of the gems in the diadem of the nation's ringing.

For the fifth successive year the Leicester Diocesan Guild had most peals to their credit with 196 (206 in 1952). The order of the other leading Associations is as follows: 2 Lancashire 135 (147), 3 Essex 131 (108), 4 Kent 130 (155), 5 Oxford Diocesan 126 (115), 6 Lincoln 116 (118), 7 Suffolk 111 (90), 8 Chester 103 (108), 9 St. Martin's 102 (105), 10 Yorkshire 86 (86), 11 Norwich 84 (97), 12 Worcester 73 (81), 13 Stafford Archdeaconry 72 (94), 14 Winchester and Portsmouth 66 (81).

A glance at the handbell record for the year indicates that there are few centres where consistent ringing takes place. The Irish Association head the list with 20 peals, and it will be noted that all these peals are either in Minor or Doubles methods. Leicester Association followed with 17 peals, and to them came one of the highlights of handbell ringing during the year with a peal of Stedman Sextuples. Another was a great performance of 21 Spliced Plain Major methods by the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, who rang in all 11 peals. The Bournemouth enthusiasts had a quiet year, but scored a peal of eight spliced plain methods. The total for the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild was 14. Oxford University did some good work during the year, mostly on six bells. They had a peal in 23 methods and another of 17 in Minor. In all 29 Guilds or Associations rang handbell peals.

The tables are the work of Messrs. Walter Ayre, Harry Miles and G. L. Grover, who deserve a vote of thanks for their arduous labours.

BALDOCK GUILD'S DINNER

Baldock Guild of Ringers will celebrate their 75th anniversary next May and this fact was mentioned to the members and their friends when they assembled for their annual dinner at the Rose and Crown, Baldock, on December 18th. A peal attempt during the afternoon was unsuccessful. unsuccessful.

The menu was of Christmas fare, with turkey and plum pudding, with Canon Smith in the chair.

The toast of 'The Chairman' was proposed by Mr. E. R. Harriss, who suggested that a short prayer should precede ringing, and that an annual ringers' Communion be held to an annual ringers' Communion be held to remind the Guild of its true motive.

In the absence of the Rev. G. Kenyon (Norton), Canon Edwards replied and agreed with Mr. Harriss' observations. He regarded the war-time ban on ringing as pathetic; what was needed was the proclamation of a living Church.

Church.

The achievements of the past year were recalled by Mr. R. T. Newman in submitting the toast of 'St. Mary's Guild.' He said the Guild was stronger now than ever before, in spite of gaps caused by National Service.

Mr. E. G. Buck, whose name was coupled with the toast, said that the Baldock ringers could not sit back, but must go forward as a band. He emphasised the necessity for good striking and gave a few details of two of the proposed outings—on April 16th to Watford and May 14th into Cambridgeshire. May 21st would be the 75th anniversary of the Guild.

Mr. H. S. Bonnett welcomed the ladies and visitors and said it was the first time the ladies had been invited to the dinner, although in the tower they had been found even upon the tenor box. Mr. G. W. Critchley acknowledged the warm welcome that is always extended to visitors.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Extract from 'The Ringing World'
January 8th, 1915

LADIES' FIRST QUARTER PEAL It has fallen to the ladies' band at Portishead, Somerset, to ring the first quarter peal for the Ladies' Guild. That there should be associated with one tower eight members of the fair sex capable of such a performance speaks volumes for the progress which ladies are making in regard to church bell ringing, and we can only believe this quarter peal to be a stepping stone to the first complete 5,000 by a company of ladies all belonging to one church. At any rate, the band seems to be exceptionally well placed to achieve this record.

The quarter peal, which was Grandsire Triples . . . occupied 48 minutes, the band being: Misses Mabel Jukes (first quarter) 1, Blanche Mitchell 2, Adelaide Stokes 3, Dorothy Sage (first quarter) 4, Doris Coles 5, Edith Hole (conductor) 6, Nellie Gillingham 7, Mary Jukes 8. All are residents of Portishead.

[The peal was rung only a few weeks later. The writer cannot recall one being rung at any other tower by a local all-ladies' band.]

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Ernest Morris addressed the City of Leicester Y.M.C.A. on December 22nd on 'The History and Romance of the Bells.' He brought with him specimens of cow, sheep, camel, sleigh, horse and other bells.

Mr. F. Farrant, who has been secretary of the Ilchester Deanery Branch of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association for 42 years, has just retired from office. During this long period he only missed two meetings. A fireside chair was one of the gifts he received from members. May he have many happy memories.

MR. SAM QUINTRELL'S 99th BIRTHDAY

Mr. Sam Quintrell, the celebrated ringer of St. Columb Major, Cornwall, was 99 on December 13th, and on this actual day his own ringers rang specially in his honour. The occasion never passes now without this being done. The local ringers were Messrs. W. Crapp, J. Knight, F. Minnear, P. Thorpe, H. Caddy, J. Minnear, A. Minnear, F. Salmon, G. Key and R. Nelson. Although Sam was born and bred in call

Although Sam was born and bred in call change and competitive ringing he has now many good words to say for a well struck method, and a peal attempt has become an annual event also. This year the peal was successfully rung two days prior to his birthday, and by special request the tenor was not turned to the peal was a treat for Sam to listen and by special request the tenor was not turned in. A peal which was a treat for Sam to listen to from his little house close by was the result. After the peal the band paid him a visit and made him a little presentation. Sam expressed his appreciation for this and for the compliment of yet another peal. He was in reminiscent mood and talked of the past. He referred to the days when ringing was really hard work. He told us, too, that his mother had often told him that she witnessed, in 1827, the casting of the tenor bell in St. Columb tower, which was carried out in the old school yard. As we left, Sam waved us goodbye and said 'Come again next year.' Let us hope that we can truly celebrate Sam's centenary. It may well be a great ringing day at St. Columb.

The composition of 5,152 Spliced Surprise Major for the peal at Willesden on December 16th was published in 'The Ringing World' for 1943 on page 210. It is the belief of the comductor, Mr. R. F. B. Speed, that this was the first time the composition was rung.

LATE NEWS

Bells will be heard before the broadcast of the evening service in the Welsh Home Service on January 16th from St. Nicholas' Parish Church, Montgomery.

Mr. F. V. Sinkins, formerly of Slough, who will be 90 next month, ascended the 35 steps at St. Leonard's, Streatham, on Christmas BELFRY morning and took part in the ringing for service. He rang the treble faultlessly in touches, including a 350 Grandsire Triples; he also rang for Sunday morning service. Mr. Sinkins claims to have rung on Christmas day for 78 years, excepting, of course, the 'ban' during the last war. He learned to ring at Slough at the age of 11. Is this a record?

A seasonable article on 'Christmas Bells—Art and Method of Change Ringing' appeared in the Christmas Eve publication of the 'Harpenden Free Press.' It was written by J. D. P.

There was a gathering of veterans at St. Giles-in-the-Fields on December 18th, when eight ringing associates of the late Mr. William Pye rang a peal of Stedman Triples.

A loss to Shrewsbury ringing is the impending departure of Mr. W. A. Farmer for Cheltenham. From his pen have come many delightful articles on Salop bells and ringers.

All the ringers who took part in the first peal at Ashbocking, Suffolk, have now 'passed on.' They were remembered when a commemoration peal in the same method was rung on December 22nd.

With the peal at Gresford, Denbighshire, on December 18th, Messrs. Basil Jones, Leslie W. G. Morris, C. Kenneth Lewis, Edward Jenkins and John Worth have rung Mr. A. J. Pitman's composition of four Spliced Surprise Major methods in four countries during 1954.

North Weald ringers were honoured to have Mr. Stedman Symonds to conduct the first peal for Miss Wendy Bowak on December 31st. There was a previous attempt on December 18th which was lost halfway through due to that unwelcome individual 'Mr. Bob.' GOSSIP

We hope to publish early in the New Year our list of peal ringers who scored 40 or more peals during 1954. Details required by the Editor are total peals on tower bells and 'in hand' separately, with the number in brackets after each of those peals conducted. It is not necessary to send a list of the peals.

The peal at Whitwick, Leics, is the first peal by a Sunday service band at this tower for over 50 years.

Mr. Harold Haynes, of Harpole, Northampton, prefers circular diagrams to the orthodox upright style. He maintains that the methods are easier to learn.

The band which rang an 89th birthday compliment peal to Mr. John W. Jones, of Newport, at Llangattock-Vibon-Avel, wish to express their thanks to Mrs. Wilson for her hospitality after the peal.

The ringers who took part in the peal of Stedman Cinques at St. Mary's, Redcliffe, Bristol, extend their hearty congratulations to Mr. Albert E. Reeves, who celebrated his 76th birthday the next day.

Mr. W. J. Robinson, who conducted his farewell quarter peal at Holy Trinity Cathedral, Guildford, on December 26th, had rung 141 peals and conducted eight in this tower since he joined the band in 1926. During these years he had rung 314 peals with Mr. A. H. Pulling.

Miss M. M. Butler, formerly of Shalford Surrey, writes from Durban of the great welcome that was accorded her by the captain (Mr. Wood) and ringers of St. Mary's Church, Woodstock, Cape Town. It was the first time she had rung since she left England for Northe Breather and The late are thern Rhodesia two years ago. The late arrival of the ship at Durban prevented ringing there, but Miss Butler was hospitably entertained by Mr. Chambers, the Durban captain.

PEAL RINGING IN HAMPSHIRE

By The Rev. K. W. H. FELSTEAD

THE effect that a single person can have on ringing is well illustrated in my own county of Hampshire, for the tower where the late Mr. George Williams rang at for the last 40 years of his life, North Stoneham, has recorded nearly three times as many peals as any other in the county. It was hoped that during the Patronal Festival in December, the 250th peal on the bells would be rung. At the moment it is two short of this total. At the beginning of our story there were only six bells there and the first peal was only rung in 1905. Ten had been rung by the time the bells were augmented to eight in 1909. It was during this period that Mr. Williams came to live nearby, and from then onwards peals came with great regularity. Even the first war did not stop them, and as far as I am aware, North Stoneham is the only tower in the country where one or more peals were rung in each of the four years of the first world war. Between the wars 159 of the peals were rung, an average of almost eight a year. The highest number in any year was ten, so this shows how consistent the ringing was. The bells were augmented to ten in 1932 and became the lightest ring of ten in any church in the country (Grundisburgh is now). I think it would be true to say that they have never been very popular as a ring of ten, for less than half of the peals rung at Stoneham since 1932 have been on the ten—more have been on the original eight. The records of this tower will ever remain a memorial to the prowess of Mr. George Williams—one of the most prolific peal ringers of all times, despite the fact that he didn't score his first peal until he was in his thirties. not stop them, and as far as I am aware, North in his thirties.

No other tower in the county has reached the century mark, the nearest being Portsea (Portsmouth, St. Mary's) (8) with 94. These have come fairly consistently during the period under review, after the first peal was rung in 1892, but the average has been slightly higher since the last war, for 31 peals have been rung since then. The other Portsmouth tower, St. Thomas' Cathedral (8), comes next with 82 peals. Only 23 of these had been rung prior to 1939, so its 59 since the war makes it the highest scorer since then. One reason why peal attempts are now so frequent is that the Cathedral is in the middle of a 'blitzed' area and the bells do not interfere now as much as they did with the life around. When it is built up again it is probable that the number of peals will diminish. Two towers which were far more popular before 1914 than since come next on the list—Farcham and Hawley (both 8). At the former, 76 peals have been rung, 63 prior to the first war (43 last century) and only 13 since 1914. Hawley has had only six of its total of 72 rung since 1914, so this tower appears less frequently still in the peal lists at the moment.

In mentioning St. Michael's. Southampton, which comes next with 60 peals, we can turn to look at the towers according to the numbers of bells. This tower is one of the three 10-bell towers in the county. It was an 8-bell tower at the beginning of the period, and the Rev. F. E. Robinson rang in the first peal there in 1894. Just before the first war 12 peals were rung and there were eight between the wars, so that 39 of the total have come since 1945. The bells were augmented in 1948 and it has proved to be a popular 10-bell tower since then. The third 10-bell tower in the county is also in Southampton—St. Mary's. The bells (8) were put in during the first war and the first peal was rung in 1916. Thirty peals were rung from 1920 to 1939, the bells being augmented in 1934.

They were destroyed with the church in 1940 but were put back in 1948, being the first war-destroyed church in the country to have its bells back (and that before the church was rebuilt). Ten peals have been rung since then.

TWO 12-BELL TOWERS

There are two 12-bell towers, Christchurch and Winchester Cathedral. Neither of them had 12 bells in 1881, so that all the 12- and 10-bell towers have become such in the last 40 years—quite a good record for a county in itself. Christchurch has had 54 peals rung there since 1888—31 before 1913, six from 1920 to 1927, eight from 1933 to 1939 and nine since the war. The Cathedral has had only 18—ten before 1914, six between the wars and two since. It is very difficult to obtain permission for a peal attempt here, I fear.

Before coming to the remaining 8-bell towers, and at risk of causing further controversy, the only 9-bell tower in the country should be mentioned—Basingstoke, All Saints'. It seems that the idea was to have an eight for ordinary ringing with a treble added to them so that the front eight (giving a sort of minor key) could be rung on solemn occasions. The result is the back nine of a ring of ten. Only six peals have been rung there (the church is about 40 years old), the first two in 1920. The only two peals rung since the war were in 1946 and were the famous(!) two on the nine bells—Grandsire Caters and Kent Treble Bob Major with a cover.

Apart from the 8-bell towers already mentioned, the other Basingstoke tower, St. Michael's, has the most peals—60. This tower was very prominent before the first war, 42 of the peals coming from 1885 to 1909. Only three were rung between the wars, but there has been a revival of interest in recent years and 14 have been rung since 1945. Only one other tower has passed the 50 mark—Soberton, with 58. This tower has had its ups and downs. It was very popular early in the period and 26 peals were rung between 1884 and 1898 (on several occasions two in a day). Then only three more were scored before 1914. Fifteen more came between 1920 and 1940 and 14 from 1944 to 1950, but at the moment it is suffering from a depression again for various reasons. It was here that Mr. George Williams rang his first peal and (by a coincidence) his last in 1940. Towers that have reached 40 are Privett and Romsey Abbey (42) and East Tytherleigh (40).

As for 6-bell towers, only three have reached double figures—Wonston (14), most in recent years; Damerham (11), all but one in the years 1948 to 1952; and Godshill, Isle of Wight (10), eight since the war. All the 8-bell towers have been conquered, but there are still 12 6-bell towers which have never recorded a peal out of the 67 in the county. Very little has been done at the 32 5-bell towers. Only five have ever appeared in the peal lists—Bentworth, Bishop's Sutton, Hinton Admiral, Monk Sherborne and Sopley, and only the latter has appeared twice.

So much for my own county of Hampshire.

The Master-Ringer and members of St. David's Cathedral bellringers, Hobart, Tasmania, send their New Year greetings to all

The peal at North Bradley on December 18th was rung to mark the Vicar's 25th year with the parish. He is a great friend of ringers and was responsible for the rehanging of the bells in 1935, and also for the augmentation to eight in 1950.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

42 Years as Branch Secretary

The annual meeting of the Ilchester Deanery Branch at Yeovil on December 18th was of more than passing significance. It marked the conclusion of 42 years' service as hon. secretary of Mr, F. Farrant, and there were present about 50 ringers, including many from outside the Deanery, to pay tribute to one who had served with great faithfulness.

The company included the Master of the Association, the Rev. M. Hurst-Bannister (Vicar of Pilton), the general secretary, Mr. Roger Fry, Canon Saunders, of Bridport, a past chairman of the Branch, the Rev. L. E. Walsh, of Martock, present chairman, and Mr. A. E. Dawe, churchwarden.

Ringing took place during the afternoon, followed by a service in the church, conducted by the Vicar, Preb. H. Mortlock-Treen, the Rev. E. P. Foote acting as the organist.

Rev. E. P. Foote acting as the organist.

The service was followed by a meeting in the Sunday School Rooms, presided over by the Rev. L. E. Walsh, who was elected chairman for the ensuing year. Mr. F. Farrant, hon. secretary, and Mr. W. H. Poole, Ringing Master, having intimated that they wished to relinquish office, Mr. T. J. Setter was elected as hon. secretary, and Mr. W. E. Turner as the Ringing Master. Two new members were elected.

Following the usual business of the meeting Canon Saunders, who previous to his retirement had been for 32 years chairman of the Branch, made a presentation to Mr. F. Farrant, the retiring hon. secretary, who during his long tenure of office for 42 years had only missed two meetings. The gift was a fireside chair and framed testimonial subscribed for by members of the Branch.

Canon Saunders paid tribute to Mr. Farrant's services to the Branch, and appreciation of his services was also expressed by the Master of the Association and general secretary. Mr. Farrant thanked all who had subscribed to the gift and assured the assembled company of his appreciation.

Mr. W. Turk, who organised the collection from the various towers, was thanked for his services.

Thanks were accorded to Mr. W. H. Poole for his services as Ringing Master over the last ten years. The Vicar of Yeovil was thanked for conducting the service and for the use of the bells and schoolroom, and Mr. Foote for playing the organ. Tea was partaken at the Cottage Cafe, after which further ringing J. S. T. J. S.

THE NEW YEAR

Throughout the land from many a tower, We twelve, or ten, or six or eight, Poised ready on our stays, await The passing of the midnight hour.

In those faint moments of the night, Half-muffled clappers tell our pain, And sobbing echoes float again Across the fields where snow lies white.

From far beneath a cry comes 'Stand!'
The task is done that wrung our souls.
Our ties are loosed—the tenor tolls—
And tensely waits the ringing band.

We feel the ropes take strain: we rise Each on the balance, till 'Look to! The treble's gone '—and blow on blow We shout our message to the skies.

Glory and gladness, joy and peace To men of kindly heart and will, So angels sang, so sing we still, A gospel that shall never cease."

A. D. H. ALLAN.

Exeter Branch Discuss Teaching Learners

The Exeter Branch received a cordial welcome from the Rev. F. G. Rice, Vicar, when they met at St. David's Church, Exeter, for their annual meeting on December 9th. At the service he gave an excellent address.

The resignation was received with regret of the Branch chairman, the Rev. J. G. M. Scott, on moving from the district. The Rev. C. G. Poulton was unanimously elected as his successor for 1955.

The secretary presented a summary of the financial position which showed a slight increase of £3 on the General Account. The Instruction Account stood at £38, and the Bell Preservation Fund had benefited by £2 10s. 6d. collected at meetings

The Branch annual report showed an increase in membership which now stood at 115. During 1954 peals had been rung in honour of the 80th birthdays of Mr. C. G. Glass and Mr. E. J. Ryall, also as wedding compliments to the president and Branch chair-

With regard to the future the following suggestion was submitted by the secretary for serious consideration. The for serious consideration. The, Branch now has the recruits and the material to build a strong element of change ringers. Instruction is urgently needed at some of the local towers and assistance would be appreciated at other Branch towers. Could members visit at least one other practice weekly, as well as their own?

ELECTIONS

The following officers were

The following officers were re-elected: Hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. F. Wreford; assistant hon. secretary and treasurer, Mr. F. Wills; Ringing Master, Mr. E. W. Biffin; General Committee. Messrs. H. Butt, J. Corry and E. W. Biffin.

The president (Prebendary E. V. Cox) presented certificates to the following members of Newton St. Cyrestower: the Misses P. Vicary, J. Williams, A. Williams, Mrs. J. Williams and Mr. D. Sharland. Congratulations were extended both to the instrucextended both to the instruc-tors and learners at Newton St. Cyres. This was believed to be the first time in the history of the Guild that a mother and two daughters received their certificates together.

New members elected were: G. Tribe (Bratton Flemming); C. Smale (St. Mark's); T. Smith, B. Brokenbrow, Miss P. Gilbert, N. Beckett, S. Flynn, M. Grayer, V. Parcker, V. Seymoor (St. David's); Miss M. Wills, P. Prouse (St. Thomas'); G. H. Williams (Heavitree); G. Hooper, W. Street (Brampford Speke); C. H. Drewett (Unattached). Non-resident life members: Messrs R. F. Price and life members: Messrs. R. E. Price, T. Price and G. W. Pipe.

Mr. E. J. Ryall tested the feelings of the meeting by suggesting that the Branch, as a whole, should start teaching learners to ring

Plain Bob instead of Grandsire, as had been the custom in the past.

Prebendary E. B. Cox agreed that while Bob Doubles and Plain Bob was a good foundation stone for learners, it must be kept in mind that Grandsire was very deeply rooted in the county. It was also agreed that many instructors felt more competent of teaching Grandsire than other methods to a beginner. After much discussion the Rev. C. J. Poulton concluded by saying it must surely depend entirely on the Ringing Master and the band concerned and the matter should be left for their decision.

Cranleigh Family of Ringers for 100 Years.—Three generations of the Charman family of Cranleigh are pictured here with the newly-cast bells of Cranleigh Parish Church. The Charmans have been a ringing family since 1855, commencing with Mr. James Charman, who had a family of six sons, three of whom—William, Harry and Alwyn—became ringers

Of Mr. William Charman's six children, two daughters and three sons—Evelyn, Ida, Cecil, Horace and Gilbert—also became ringers (Evelyn, now in Canada, married a ringer). Mr. Cecil Charman, of the third generation, had two sons, one of whom, Raymond, now rings. Will Keith, pictured here with his father (Raymond) and grandfather, represent the fifth generation of family bellringers?

In addition to the standard methods a 'peal' of call changes was rung at St. Austell with local ringers, and courses of Grandsire and Stedman were rung on the handbells of the local band at Lanlivery. The thanks of the party are due to Douglas Burnett, of St. Ewe, for organising the outing so satisfactorily.

B.B.C. SUBSTITUTED OTHER BELLS

Disappointment For Newark Ringers

Recently in the B.B.C. Television Children's Newsreel a film of Newark Parish Church was shown, but the bells that accompanied the film were from another tower.

When the film was made a 40-second recording was taken of Newark bells ringing Grandsire Caters, and in the opinion of Mr. J. W. Raithby, Master of the Newark ringers,

'it was particularly good ring-

Substituted by the B.B.C. were eight bells ringing rounds. Said Mr. Raithby to the 'Newark Advertiser': 'In any case it was not very good ringing. The bells were not as rich as ours—they had not enough tone. That is what makes us a hit sore.' makes us a bit sore.'

The explanation given by the B.B.C. to the 'Newark Advertiser' is that when the film was edited, it was arranged that the organ music should be faded out and overlapped by the sound of the bells, which provided the climax. But when Newark bells were faded in they clashed so horribly with the organ that they had to be abandoned, and one of the B.B.C.'s 'stock' recordings of bells was 'dubbed in' instead.

It is only, however, in the much shortened 'home consumption' version of the film that alien bells are heard. In the full-length programme for overseas the 'fade in' is not used and the bells heard are Newark's own.

Watford District's Social

The third annual social of the Watford District held at the Wheatsheaf, Watford, on December held at the Wheatsheat, Watford, on December 18th, was a great success and was attended by a company numbering 26. An excellent dinner was followed by Messrs. C. and A. Wenban playing a wide selection of tunes on handbells, and touches of Plain Bob Minor and Grandsire Triples were rung. Several members contributed to the general entertainment, 'That's all' came all too soon. Thanks are accorded to Mr. R. G. Bell for again organising this event

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE EDITOR WAS HOAXED!

Dear Sir,—In case Mr. Critchley has contemplated accepting Billy Bunter's offer to stand in the next long peal attempt, perhaps he should be warned that there seems to be something not quite genuine about the letter over his name. As every pre-1939 schoolboy knows, Tom Merry's school is not Greyfriars, but St. Jim's. Greyfriars indeed! Harry Wharton and Co. will have something to say about that !— Yours faithfully,

THE BEAST AND THE BELL(E)

THE BEAST AND THE BELL(E)

Dear Sir,—May I say how much I enjoyed and appreciated the libretto of The Beast and the Bell(e). The plot is most 'Gilbertian' and the words fit in perfectly to Sullivan's music. S. A. Hill is undoubtedly a producer of Gilbert and Sullivan operas and, were it not for D'Oyly Carte, copyrights and infringements of. I would say 'Do it well—perform it at the next Central Council meeting.' But as a member of the chorus I would say 'Wot, no chorus'!

J. B. S.

FLOWER NAMES FOR METHODS

Dear Sir,—Mr. D. Mottershead's suggestion that a method be named 'Daffodil Delight'— 'thus adding a little variety to the present system of nomenclature'—recalls the controversy over floral names which dragged on through most of the 1920's. The Analysis Committee most of the 1920's. The Analysis Committee of the day gave such names to various previously unnamed Treble Bob Minor methods—'Bluebell,' 'Fuchsia,' 'Hyacinth' and similar horrors—and these were eventually changed, thank goodness. Old-established names like 'Primrose' were left, but I trust the others will never be resurrected. 'What,' asked the Editor of 'The Ringing World,' 'will be the comment of an already mystified public when they read that an already mystified public when they read that their local ringers have distinguished themselves by ringing their first extent of Geranium Treble Bob?' And later he wondered whether, after flowers, ringers would turn to vegetables and give methods names like Onion Delight or Beetroot Surprise. He summed up one article on the subject with words with which most ringers will agree: 'Such titles are not dignified.'—
Yours faithfully,

E. A. BARNETT. Crayford, Kent.

DUPLICATED NAMES

DUPLICATED NAMES

Dear Sir,—With reference to the figures of Netherton Surprise Major published in your issue of December 24th, 1954, if the method was rung with a 4ths place bob and with 2nds at the lead end, then it is identical with Oxfordshire Surprise Major, first rung at Kidlington on January 17th, 1953. The error is all the more surprising in that the conductor of the (20-called) first peal of 'Netherton' rang in the Kidlington peal of 'Oxfordshire,' which peal is, I believe, still the only one recorded in the method. If this is so, 'Netherton' becomes the second peal of 'Oxfordshire.'—Yours sincerely, ALAN R. PINK. Yours sincerely, ALAN R. PINK. Oxford.

Dear Sir,—May I be allowed a little space, as I would like to point out to those concerned that 'Moorside' Surprise Major was first rung at Birmingham on June 10th, 1954, under the name of 'Quinton,' conducted by Aleo assured.

Also, assuming that the method 'Netherton' Surprise Major has a 1-2 lead-end, I would say surprise Major has a 1-2 lead-end, I would say that it was first rung at Kidlington, Oxford-shire, on January 17th, 1953, as 'Oxfordshire,' conducted by Alan R. Pink.

Both methods were published under my name.—Sincerely yours,

E. W. TIPLER.

AUTOMATIC ART (?)

Dear Sir.—Some strange and scarcely factual statements, liable to create false impressions, have recently been made in these columns by correspondents on the subject of Method Mak-It may be useful to consider a few

"... To have composed a certain method."
Methods, of course, are NOT 'composed."
This misuse of words, especially in ringing matters, has frequently led to discussion almost entirely futile. 'Composing,' in ringing, strictly relates solely to modifying and building-up courses of a method into touches and peals. The composer can thus begin composing only when the method designer has completed his job—a job by no means confined to a half-lead of figures! Methods are 'constructed' or 'designed,' and from 'principles.' (Vide Central Council publications, also the last-quoted example, below.)

'Surprise methods can be written down at 'Surprise methods can be written down at a higher rate than one a minute.' Phew! So your correspondent apparently thinks that 'marking the places' in the rows (which, by the way, can be done faster than he says—in fact at the rate of about one row per second, or the whole grid for a Surprise Major method in about a quarter of a minute)—apparently he thinks this constitutes designing a method, and that the art is, therefore, almost automatic! There is, of course, more, far more, to it.

For example, in what time can he extract the false course-heads? Indeed, of what use is a method so churned out if it is found to have method so churned out if it is found to have six or seven f.c.h.'s, as many designs have? And is, consequently, probably unpealable. Other desirable, and intended, qualities, for example musical and textural, make the business of method designing, for general ringing acceptance, highly selective; otherwise far more of the methods hitherto published would have been rung; that is to say other than those been rung: that is to say, other than those rung simply as 'firsts ever.'

rung simply as 'firsts ever.'

But apart from this vetting of each design as it is unfolded, there remains the question of stage variation; it being a particular advantage to derive a design that will apply 'naturally' to all stages for ringing.

Thus the whole process for any one design may take the investigator anything from a couple of hours to a couple of months or more (depending on what time he can devote to the job and what particular features he is endeavouring to incorporate). But enough on this point has been said to show that the mere this point has been said to snow that the mele-writing down of a large number of (or all in-some groups) forms of 'method' all based on one 'principle,' e.g., the plain-hunt even-bell group of methods—this does not constitute the serious business of selective method design.

'The same number . . . (of claimants) . . . to so-called extensions.' This example shows the need for a lot of clear thinking. There can be no such thing as designing (or even claiming to design) a true or natural extension, once the basic stage is evolved. Since 1950-51 some of us have known that stage-variation of a basic method (though this has not yet been officially recognised) results in either—(a) Unique forms of contraction and/or extension for each stage, of contraction and/or extension for each stage, such forms being inherent in the basic; or (b) None at all. There can be designed, of course, 'versions' of the extension or contraction, and to these compromised forms the designer's own (or some other distinguishing) name may well have been given. But as to the unique and natural forms, springing inherently from the basic design, they can assume only the basic name, since their 'designing' ended with the basic stage. basic stage.

'Tradition of claiming . . . a method.' While it is not wished to make out any case for 'claiming' designs, yet your correspondent should revise his ideas about the degree of individual effort attached to the design of a specific form of method. In the first place he seems to have forgotten the technical distinction between a method and a principle; which, as the Central Council's dictum tells us, is that the latter is a design in which all bells trace out the method pattern; while the former, based on the latter, has one or more bells plain hunting (i.e., the method is what we know as 'hunt-controlled') with only the remainder tracing out the specific pattern of the design. Once the principle has been established, the methods, based on it, may fairly easily be 'written out,' if no selectivity be exercised.

Your correspondents, on this point, seem to have ignored entirely the class of principles, used as methods, such as Stedman and Duffield. In this large and almost enitrely unexplored field (there are, I think, only about a dozen principles so far designed), the construction of method patterns is not easy; but once the new design of principle is established, it may well lend itself to adaptations of method design.

In the second place your correspondents seem to neglect the art of procedure. It is said that a mathematician once calculated the 'probability' that a number of baboons, continuously chattering throughout a given agelong lapse of time, might utter sounds in sequence that might be recognised as the entire works of Shakespeare. Similarly, a number of babes, scribbling with pencils on pads might conceivably, in time, produce all the designs of Wren. Even so, is the art of these great masters to be denied. And on the wholly illogical basis that 'it needed only to be written down'? Far more methods than the '200,000' he mentions may be capable of being produced, but how many of them would qualify for performance? formance?

It is agreed that very few designers have 'claimed' their designs, though their names have sometimes become attached to their work usually by those afterwards ringing and publishing the method. (A fact perhaps scarcely known except by those of us who have experienced it!)—Yours very truly,

A. YORK-BRAMBLE.

Southsea.

BOXING DAY IN NORTH DEVON

On Boxing Day, despite 'much hill fog and fairly persistent drizzle,' an outing in the South Molton area was much enjoyed by about a dozen ringers and friends from Devon and Somerset. The trip was organised by Wilf Panter with his usual efficiency, and although the anticipated 'trials section' was omitted this time, the district provided good practice for the navigation experts.

During the morning about half-an-hour's ringing took place at each of the following towers: Meshaw (6), Romansleigh (6), Mariansleigh (6) and Bishop's Nympton (6). A short drive brought the party to the Anchor, South Molton, where Mine Host is himself a ringer. and a welcome repast of hot pasties and liquid refreshment according to individual taste.

The first tower after tea was Rose Ash, where there is a lovely little six and a tablet recording the fact that the living was held by the same family consecutively from 1675 to 1948. Then on to the rather rough six at Knowstone and the lumpy five at Molland. The last tower (and incidentally the writer's 1,100th), East Anstey (6), provided the comedy act of the day Whilst ringing up, the rope of the third broke below the sally and became entangled in the guides. As no ladder was available, a well-known stalwart from the Exeter area was prevailed upon to act in this capacity, and the organiser scaled his sturdy back to retrieve the rope. After a temporary repair to the rope half-an-hour's ringing was enjoyed to complete the programme. After 'Goodbye' and 'Happy New Year' the party dispersed, grate-'Happy New Year' the party dispersed, grateful to Wilf and the various incumbents and locals who had contributed to a very happy

Methods rung were Bob Minimus, Doubles and Minor, Grandsire, Stedman and Reverse Canterbury Doubles and Oxford and Kent Treble Bob Minor as well as a few call changes at Molland. E. T. P. F.

OBITUARY

MR. FREDERICK TIMBRELL

Mr. Frederick Timbrell, of Chipping, Lancs, died on December 26th at the home of his son whilst on Christmas holiday. He would have been 88 on December 29th, and was the eldest of three ringing brothers who rang handbell peals together in 1898.

His activities were numerous, such as 59 years secretary to the Queen Adelaide Lodge of Oddfellows, clerk to the Parish Council, churchwarden and village postman. Mr. Timcourenwarden and village postman. Mr. I imbrell had not rung for a number of years but maintained his interest by scanning the peal columns of 'The Ringing World,' looking for any of his brothers' peals being rung. These he carefully cut out and pasted in books which he compiled about local happenings.

He joined the Lancashire Association in 1892 and was the oldest member at the time of his death. He leaves a married son, his wife having died about two years ago.

The funeral took place at Chipping on December 30th and was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. A. Nye, who described Fred Timbrell as the grand old man of Chipping and a Christian gentleman. The Lancashire Association was presented by the vice president and brell as the grand old man. The Lancashire Association was represented by the vice-president, and Oddfellow brethren acted as bearers. It is regretted that owing to short notice it was not possible to arrange a handbell band to make the journey to Chipping.

E. R. M.

MR. J. J. TAYLOR

We regret to report the death on December 17th, at Wellingborough, of Mr. J. J. Taylor, who had a long association with St. Mary's Church, Stafford, and was well known as a ringer in the Midlands.

He was taught to ring at Brewood at the end of the last century and joined St. Mary's, Stafford, early in the present century. Later he was appointed head ringer, which position he held until leaving Stafford for Northampton in 1928. He was devoted to the ringing of church bells and taught many to become ringers. He returned to Stafford a few years ago and again rang at St. Mary's Church. On the death of his wife he went to live with his son at Wellingborough and it was there he passed peacefully away.

The funeral service was held at St. Mary's, Stafford, on December 21st, and to his memory a quarter peal of Plain Bob Major was rung on the bells of St. Mary's. So to his rest passed one who had given of his best to ringing and to the service of his church.

MR. G. NOWELL

We regret to record the passing of Mr. G. Nowell, of Radcliffe-on-Trent, Notts, on December 14th at the great age of 87 years. George, as he was known to his friends, had been a ringer at Radcliffe Parish Church for 65 years and had been captain for most of the time since 1892. Never an enthusiast for peal ringing he was a regular attender for service ringing, and at Evensong a constant and familiar figure in the pew he regarded as his place liar figure in the pew he regarded as his place in the church. George was a 'tower of strength.' His services to ringing were marked when the Southwell Diocesan Guild made him a life honorary member in 1946.

The funeral, which took place on December 17th at his own church, was attended by the chairman, secretary and treasurer of the Southwell Guild, as well as members of the Rad-

During the evening a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung with the bells half-muffled by the following band: S. Loach 1, A. C. Lygo 2, C. Glenn (conductor) 3, J. Hoodless 4, C. Burrill 5, W. Nichols 6, C. Knapp 7, Ancliffe 8.
