PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE

OFTEN it happens that a ringing pupil in course of time outdistances his teacher in ability and performance—a fact that should excite gratification rather than jealousy in the teacher, and no loss of respect on the part of the pupil, but only thankfulness for the joys and prospects to which he has been introduced. It may be generally helpful, then, before we claim much from the opportunities and developments which a New Year may bring to reflect a little upon such introductions to our art; upon what has been contributed in the past to provide the facilities and privileges which can be enjoyed to-day—an endowment, as it were, which bears a cumulative interest to be reinvested for the benefit of succeeding generations.

A tower surmounted by pinnacles is a symbol of the heights which can be attained. One would be rash to assert that the highest pinnacle of ringing progress has yet been reached. There was a time when the composition and achievement of a 5,040 of Grandsire Triples was acclaimed as a noteworthy performance. What would, say, John Garthon or John Holt, we wonder, have thought about the present-day accomplishments of Surprise Major, Royal and Maximus, not to mention the multiple spliced compositions? There are ringers now who take these easily in their stride and this age in which we live has brought a new assessment of standards.

But no sane ringer can ignore the past or surround himself with an aura of superiority with, perhaps, an indulgent smile for the ancient, maybe somewhat crude, pioneering efforts in change ringing and composition. For what an advanced ringer can glory in to-day is, after all, the superstructure which has arisen from those early efforts and discoveries.

There be of those pioneers that have left a name behind them, such as Fabian Stedman, Benjamin Annable, William Shipway, Henry Hubbard, Jasper Snowdon; and in the present century the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, Sir A. P. Heywood, John Carter, Charles Henry Hattersley, J. W. Washbrook, J. A. Trollope, the James and the Pye brothers, to mention but a few. Many, too, that have no memorial but whose industry and scientific insight, as well as their practical ability, have brought ringing on to a very high plane and opened the door for others to follow in their steps of enthusiasm, research and perseverance.

Yet, withal, these earlier exponents of the art were ready to confess to a limited outlook and to a consciousness of greater realms not given them to reach. Witness this remark in 'The Art of Ringing,' by William Jones, John Reeves and Thomas Blackmore (published about 1786), on Stedman Triples: 'Should the learner expect a greater extent than 1,260 changes in this method, perhaps the 5,040, we beg leave to observe that it is one of those occult mysteries that have never yet transpired, and the most diligent researches we have been able to make have not been attended with that success which we would have gladly communicated to the public; and so remote does it appear at present that there is every reason to believe that the composer of this system never designed it for more than five bells.' So again Shipway in his 'Campanologia' (1816): 'A true and complete peal of Triples on this principle has for many years been the constant research of the most eminent professors of the art. The author has paid great attention to the subject, but hitherto without effect.' He says, too, of Cambridge Surprise Major: 'It is very complex and extremely precarious in its composition, so that not one of the peals which have been rung proved true in its composition: nor is it probable that 5,000 changes of it can be composed true.' Also, referring to Holt's Original, he remarks: 'Few individuals, even among proficients in the art, have at any time undertaken to ring a bell and call this intricate peal; indeed, so great is the difficulty attending it that even Mr. Holt himself, on its first performance, did not attempt to call in the ordinary manner, but availed himself throughout of the assistance of the manuscript.' Compare again Hubbard (1868) on Double Norwich: 'The ringing of this peal is so extremely intricate as to render it impossible for any but the most experienced practitioners to accomplish it.

To all of such quotations we may be disposed in these days to add exclamation marks.

And here a pertinent question suggests itself: How were the great men of ringing history taught? If they could be seen handling their ropes and controlling bells of all weights without any of the modern easements of self-aligning and ball bearings one wonders what criticisms would be forthcoming from the exponents of instruction whose 'Manuals' are clothed in such a multiplicity of words that — if a paraphrase may be allowed from one of the Prefaces of the Book of Common Prayer — 'the number and hardness of the Rules was the cause that many times there was more business to find out what should be done than to do it when it was found out.' One is content to say that the reputations and accomplishments of these worthies of the Exercise required no official certificates or diplomas to guarantee their recognition as master campanologists. Somehow or another they found the means and inspiration for fostering their skill and provoking their interest and that of others, obviously quite independently of a mass of regimentation or an over-elaborated vocabulary.

Finally, the present generation and those to come may well reflect upon the advantages and fellowship, secured by the labours of both clergy and laymen within the last hundred years or so, in lifting the art of ringing out of the category of mere pastimes and giving it a closer association with the Church through the formation of Diocesan Guilds; resulting in the development of a wide and much needed belfry reform and a general recognition of ringers as valuable church workers.

We all know the pleasure and companionship which such voluntary organisation of ringers brings, not overlooking the inspiration it has been in setting forward the restoration and care of bells everywhere that they may fulfil the primary object for which they were dedicated in our church towers, viz., the calling of the people to the worship of

Year after year, then, in every way may we go from strength to strength.

BOW BELLS AND CROMER

An association of Bow Bells with East Anglia is mentioned in the following note from 'The East Anglian Daily Times':—

'Early Bow Bells ring in tradition. They are those whose message persuaded Dick Whittington to "Turn again." All of the ring in the old tower were melted in the Great Fire of 1666. Just over a century later the new tower of St. Mary-le-Bow, Cheapside, one of Wren's masterpieces that had been completed in 1683, received four recruits to its existing ring. They came, tradition has it from Norfolk. 'Early Bow Bells ring in tradition. tion has it, from Norfolk.

tion has it, from Norfolk.

'In a leaflet on Cromer Church, authorised by the present Vicar, the Rev. D. T. Dick, Mr. B. Smith recalls that Bishop Philip Yonge, of Norwich, gave the parishioners of Cromer permission for four of the five bells, lead from the roof and other saleable items to be sold to raise money for the repair of their decayed church. This was in 1767. "The bells were sold to St. Mary-at-Bow, Cheapside, London, and became (it is believed) the famous Bow Bells." These were destroyed by enemy action in May, 1941.'

SOMERSET RINGERS AT EXETER

The unceasing rain on December 15th did little to dampen the high spirits of a party of 12 ringers from North and Mid-Somerset (including two from R.A.F., Locking), who travelled to Exeter. The primary object of the journey was to join the Cathedral ringers in their monthly practice, but before this we visited Newton St. Cyres—a charming light eight—where standard methods were rung both with and without the aid of electric light! (Fortunately one of the local ringers was able to procure two candles for us.) The party then returned by bus to Exeter, and 12 slightly damp ringers presented themselves at the Cathedral, where there was ringing to suit all tastes. where there was ringing to suit all tastes.

A convivial evening, spent in the vicinity of the Cathedral, followed and the exuberant spirits of some of the party were still in evidence (despite the rain!) when we had to leave to catch the 10.6 p.m. back to Bridgwater and Bristol.

Many thanks to the Newton St. Cyres and Cathedral ringers—and also Cyril—for helping to 'make our day' (not to mention ticket inspectors, etc. !).

Having no regular change ringers at Wrentham, the Rector was very interested in the visit of a peal band on December 17th, and what of a peal band on December 17th, and what they were going to ring. At the conclusion of the peal the ringers could faintly hear the 'Town Prize Band' playing carols at the Rectory, some 50 yards away. It seems that the band were not going to be 'beaten' by mere bells ringing nearby, and the Rector complimented the ringers(!) on the effect of 'Silent Night' with Plain Boob and St. Simon's Doubles as a background. as a background.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Cook, of Hunstanton, received golden wedding congratulations from Hertfordshire friends, by a peal of Grandsire Triples at King's Langley on December 15th. It was at this tower Mr. Cook was formerly captain and he conducted the first peal on the bells—Grandsire Triples—in 1922.

The tariff on handbells admitted to the United States has been reduced from 20 per cent. to 19 per cent.

The peal of Yorkshire Surprise rung at Overseale on December 15th was a birthday compliment to Peter Staniforth and J. W. Cotton.

Mr. John Armstrong, Master of the London University Society, has completed the Cambridge 'family' with a peal of Cambridge Minor at Brentford. He has rung his 'first' on all numbers within the space of last year.

News of veterans is always welcome, and older members of the Exercise will appreciate news of Mr. John Dale, of Hornchurch. Now aged 92 years, he is in excellent health—a grand example of the spirit being willing but the 'legs being weak.' John retains his interest in the Exercise through the columns of 'The Ringing World' and is looking forward to the peal attempt for his 100th birthday.

By calling 250 peals of a total of 426, George E. Symonds has had some novelties in conducting. Among these are the first peal of Oxford Treble Bob Maximus after 112 years, on handbells, several first peals of Surprise Maximus, Plain Bob on eight different numbers of bells, in 1926, Forward, Duffield and short course of Bob Maximus calling 448 bobs and six singles in the three peals. In addition he has conducted 40 of his first peals in different methods on tower- and handbells.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Walker, of Birmingham, celebrated their 58th wedding anniversary on December 12th. The following day Albert conducted a peal of Stedman Cinques at Birmingham Cathedral.

We have this week a spate of first peals on the bells. Such performances have taken place at Abbot's Ann, Hants, Broadwindsor (restored), Dorset, Carlton Colville, Somerset, and Tangley, Hants. A peal at Horsmonden, Kent, was the first on the augmented eight.

Soham, Cambs, band make their appearance in our quarter peal columns after an absence of many years. The band was re-formed in July, 1954, and in spite of a break from February to July, 1955, when the bells were being rehung, there are now some 14 ringers, who are proud of their record of having rung the bells twice every Sunday for service and for other special services.

The handbell peal rung for the Society of Rambling Ringers at Stoney Stanton was not without incident. The band had to compete on several occasions with a telephone which persisted in ringing loudly, and a large chiming clock which faithfully sounded the quarters. Towards the end of the last extent the door was flung open and four large retriever dogs bounded into the room, one of which proceeded to make quite a fuss of the treble ringer. They eventually quietened down and appeared to quite enjoy the last few courses.

UNIVERSITIES' ASSOCIATION REUNION DINNER

Mr. J. F. Smallwood and 'The Ringing World'

A FTER a day spent ringing in the east of London, during which the towers of St. Mark's, Dalston, St. Matthew's, Upper Clapton, St. Saviour's, Walthamstow, St. Mary-the-Virgin, Leyton, and St. John-of-Jerusalem, South Hackney, were visited, and Evensong was attended in the last-named church, members of the University Association held their annual dinner at the Victoria, Buckingham Palace Road, London, on Saturday.

Mr. Paul L. Taylor presided in the regretted absence of the president, Mr. Edwin H. Lewis, whose apologies were received. A spirit of happy informality prevailed, and to the delight of the company there was an interval of ten minutes between the dinner and the annual meeting to enable the secretary to write his minutes of the last meeting of the Association.

In proposing the toast of 'The Church,' Mr. S. Darmon thanked all the incumbents of the churches where the Society had rung that day for putting up with them. Particularly, he would like to thank the rector of St. John-of-Jerusalem, South Hackney, for not only letting them ring in a most interesting belfry but also for conducting their service. He mentioned that he had no ringers in his beautiful church; he hoped he would soon raise a band and ringers living in the neighbourhood would help them. When the Society were ringing there the rector received a number of telephone messages stating how much the bells were appreciated. Such an éxperience was unusual. He recalled a case where the rector said to the tower captain: have had a complaint about the bells today. The captain asked how he dealt with it. 'Easily,' replied the rector, 'I buried her yester-

A FACET OF THE CHURCH
The rector of South Hackney, the Rev. J.
Isherwood, in reply said the Church was like a diamond which had many facets and each was important. They might look on the clergy as insignificant people, but he would say that most clergy were travelled and experienced men. and were brought into touch with every shade of Today they were drawn from all classes and made an interesting group, as indeed did all professions in this democratic age.

They had a desire in their Church to progress, and he looked on Christianity as a progressive thing and the Church as a living thing, living according to the generation in which it happened to be. The technique of the present Church was in accordance with this generation and it would be very interesting to see what the technique of the next generation would be.

While the clergy might be shy people, they loved people, especially the people they served. 'I have been in a few churches around the world and in England,' he said, 'and looking back I found that each church had something to teach me, and I hope and pray that we as clergy have something to teach our people.

'A LITTLE HARMONY INTO A HARSH WORLD'

'You as bellringers have a wonderful chance You as bellringers have a wonderful chance of evangelising the people, as it is through music that people listen, and music does strike the responsive chords in human nature. It is a difficult world, and for many a struggle from the cradle to the grave, and a little music is a good thing; it encourages and brings a harmony into a harsh world. You bellringers have a wonderful conceptuality in belongs to lift up the into a harsh world. You bellringers have a wonderful opportunity in helping to lift up the hearts of the people. This afternoon as you were ringing 1 had several telephone calls. People said how much happiness the bells gave them with their message of peace and goodwill. My experience has taught me that we are much indebted to the few who are public-spirited and prepared to contribute to the age in which they live. I believe you bellringers have something to contribute. You are welcome to come to our church, and in 1957 I hope to arrange for 15 to 20 people to learn to ring our bells. You are to 20 people to learn to ring our bells. You are one of the facets of the Church—a very necessary facet, because when the diamond turns round and shines it is your part to make one of the contributions to the life of the Church.

The chairman announced that they had lost by death that week one of their oldest members, the Rev. F. Llewellyn Edwards. At his request the company stood in silence to his memory.

ginning, of course, with Oxford and Cambridge and extending to other universities. He had lived to see the recognition of the work of the Universities' Association by the Exercise generally, and recognition by the Central Council which, as one of their members remarked, was 'a classic example of complaisant futility.' 'Be that as it may, the Central Council had done very good work.

'I have been casting my mind as to what is the most valuable contribution this Association can make to the Exercise. Many of you join either the teaching or medical profession. Those who join the teaching profession have all the qualifications for teaching the young ringers; they know all the short cuts and are better qualified to teach than the old-timers like myself.

Another way the Association could help would be to give the bell-founders a jolt. It seems to me in this atomic and electronic age there are all sorts of wonderful things. We are thinking of space travel and yet we have not been able to devise a simple system of bell lubrication. That is where the Universities' Association could come in.

Another way would be in trying to make the Exercise generally more conscious of its responsibilities as the owners of a newspaper. The Exercise not only owns its newspaper but depends for the articles in that newspaper from the people who own it. Who are more suitable to provide readable articles than members of your Association? I must confess that up to now we have seen very little from you. except Rodney Meadows and Denis Layton.

'A PERPETUAL HEADACHE

"The Ringing World" is a perpetual head-We seem to be no sooner out of one mess than we are in another. By the end of 1955 we were sitting pretty. We had made a 1955 we were sitting pretty. We had made a profit of no less than £1,000, but in 1956 came a terrific increase in printing costs that has put us back to where we were, so that we cannot introduce the improvements which would increase the circulation.

"We want to make "The Ringing World" more attractive and we look to you to provide us with the material. It cannot be said that the Universities' Association, through one of their distinguished members, has not provided us with some material in recent times. We have had a spate of letters of all sorts of opinionsome for and some against-and I certainly think that if we were to award a prize for the most prolific contribution to "The Ringing World" it should go to one of your distinguished members. If I were to select the prize it would be one of Shakespeare's works, "Much Ado About Nothing."

othing." [Laughter.]
'Seriously, it must be said that "The Ringing orld" has to cater for tastes of all kinds of World people. The Editor is continually being badgered for more instruction for learners, and if they are not satisfied with what they have had for the last three or four months, well, they have had it.

'I appeal to you to act as a liaison between your University and "The Ringing World." Supply the Editor with news. I am sure you have enough brains and ideas to fill his editorial bag twice over.

THE YEAR REVIEWED

Mr. Brian Threlfall, the hon. secretary, extended a welcome to the guests—the Rev. J. Isherwood, Mr. Smallwood, Mr. Alfred Peck, secretary of the Ancient Society of College Youths, Mr. A. A. Hughes and Mr. T. W. White. Mr. Smallwood had asked the Association to increase as far as possible the circulation of 'The Ringing World.' It seemed to him that the Association were decreasing rather than increasing the sales because they had seven married couples present, and it was his pleasure to congratulate two couples present on their engagements.

In his report on the year's activities, the secretary said they had rung four peals, of which two were rung during the summer ringing week, The week was not an unqualified success as it was found that there were not enough sheets for one each. They rang at what some people said were too many towers and others too few; but most people would agree it was quite a suc-

PEALS IN CUMBERLAND AND WESTMORLAND

TPHE tour in 1956 in Cumberland and Westmorland was the fifth during the past 31 years, the others being in 1925, 1927, 1931 and 1933. Peals in these two isolated counties have been few, and people not conversant with local conditions may wonder why.

At the time of the 1925 tour, organised by the late Mr. W. H. Fussell, only Kendal and Ambleside had bands and so Westmorland was limited to 24 ringers, the majority having no peal to their credit.

WESTMORLAND

Westmorland, with a population of 66,000, comprises an area of 504,917 acres, a large part being moor and fell land, besides the lakes, the whole of Lake Windermere being included in the county area.

It contains one ring of ten at Kendal, rings of eight at Ambleside, Kirkby Stephen, Orton and Windermere, and rings of six at Beetham, Burton, Milnthorpe, Heversham, Langdale, Crosthwaite, Shap, Appleby and Kirkby Lonsdale, and a ring of five at Bampton.

The first peal in the county was rung at Kendal in 1796, the method being Grandsire Triples. Grandsire Caters followed in 1819, and from this period until 1898, 12 peals of Grandsire Triples were rung and another one of Grandsire Caters: these two peals of Caters are the only ones to be rung. The foregoing peals were rung by the local bands, and one more was rung in

1904 by the locals.
From this period until and including Mr. Williams' party's peal, another 13 peals have been rung as follows: Bob Major, the first of Major in the county in 1909, conducted by W. Robinson, of Ambleside; peals of Grandsire Triples, followed in 1910 and 1913; Kent Treble Bob Royal in October, 1925, rung for the Cumberland Association and conducted by W. Keeble; three peals of Grandsire Triples, conducted by E. Jennings; Bob Minor, called by W. Robinson; Cambridge Royal, conducted by W. Pye; Cambridge Major, conducted by Frank Bennett; Oxford T.B. Major, conducted by W. Sharples, of Brindle, 1936; and then in 1956 a peal of Grandsire Triples, conducted by J. E. Burles, and Mr. Williams' peal of Yorkshire Royal.

Kendal, however, has maintained a Sunday service band since 1765, but since 1904 very few of the members have been keen on peal ringing.

AT AMBLESIDE

The ring of eight at Ambleside was opened with a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major in July, 1901, conducted by A. E. Wreaks, of Manchester, all the ringers belonging to that district. The local band rang Bob Triples in 1912, the conductor being W. Robinson, and this remains the only local band peal on the bells. Grandsire Triples followed in 1925, Henry Hodgetts, of Oxhey, being in this peal, which was conducted by T. B. Newton.

W. Robinson called Parker's twelve-part peal of Grandsire Triples in 1926, and the next peal ductor being George R. Pye, and London Surprise Major in 1939, the band coming from Bolton, Liverpool, Cheshire and the London area, the conductor being J. C. E. Simpson.

Orton has had a ring of eight since 1917, and had its first peal of Cambridge Surprise Major in 1933, conducted by J. C. E. Simpson.

Kirkby Stephen has had a ring of eight since 1877, and had its first peal in 1930 when E. Jennings called a peal of Grandsire Triples for the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association. Superlative followed in 1933, conducted by Frank Bennett.

Bowness, Windermere, Parish Church, with a ring of eight since 1897, had its first peal in 1929, the conductor being E. Jennings, who called peals of Grandsire Triples in 1930 and called peals of Grandsire Triples in 1930 and 1931. The local band rang a peal on Boxing Day, 1931, and a Lancashire band a peal of Bristol in 1947, conducted by Jim Simpson.

Of the 6-bell towers, Langdale had its first peal in 1904. Crosthwaite 1913 (A. W. Brighton, of London, was in this peal); Beetham and Burton in 1927, the conductor being W. Robinson; Kirkby Lonsdale, six since 1825, had its first peal in 1932, the conductor being E. Jennings; while Haversham, six since 1870, had its first peal as recently as 1954, George Braithwaite, of Burton, being the conductor. waite, of Burton, being the conductor.

Let 1957 Be Your Red Letter

No young ringer can feel he is part of the great ringing fraternity until he is a regular reader of 'The Ringing World.' We are now enrolling subscribers for 1957. We ask District representatives to make a special effort so that 1957 will be a red letter year. The drop in circulation reported at the Central Council annual meeting has been made good, but we want to do much better.

The majority of the Minor peals have been mg by Westmorland and Furness District ringers, and the total number of peals rung in Westmorland by local ringers or otherwise amounts to less than 50 peals in the county since

The record for peals rung by any one ringer in the county amounts to 26 peals rung in ten towers and having conducted 14 peals.

In the writer's opinion, the lack of peal ringing and ringing of advanced methods is due entirely to the isolated positions of the towers and the difficulty of travel to practice methods with other difficulty of travel to practise methods with other

COLLEGE OF CAMPANOLOGY

Dear Sir,-Our attention has been drawn to statements that the College of Campanology has the full support of the committee set up by the Central Council to revise the handbook 'Hints for Instructors and Beginners.'

While some of us individually are members of the College this does not imply that we are in full agreement either as a committee or in-dividually with 'The Manual,' as published in 'The Ringing World.'—Yours faithfully,

UNIFORMITY

Dear Sir,—Now that you have been taken to task about deleting the word 'Plain,' may I suggest you have some consistency in printing records of peals of Cambridge Major composed by C. H. Middleton? Sometimes these are entered as 'Composed by C. H. Middleton' or 'Johnson's Variation' also just 'Middleton's' on the top of the names. This last way is my idea that the peal should always appear in your paper, and so have uniformity.

NOT AN INDUCEMENT FOR RECRUITS

Dear Sir,—I read, with not a little disap-pointment and disgust, the article in the current issue of 'The Radio Times' by Tom Ingram. The article opens up by picturing a village band meeting at the rear door of the church at 6 a.m. on Christmas Day, ascending the belfry stairs, off come their coats, away into changes. The next paragraph makes an attempt to extend the coats are the coats. plain how the bells are raised; surely the cart before the horse. Sallies are mentioned as flying up through holes in the ceiling, and the sally is checked in its upward motion.

Then there is the gruesome picture of the interior of the ringing room, which looks like an old-fashioned cowshed. The ringers are not forming part of a circle with the contours of their bodies, in fact two are standing in such a manner as might possibly bring on a hernia—no neat stance as is practised by most experienced ringers.

There is also in the article a brief account of a fatal accident in the year 1884 in Dorset through the breaking of a stay.

The second picture shows a bell at 'set,' the crude idea of the stay and its fittings would make our bellfounders weep. The writer goes on to say such names for methods as 'The Whirligige' and 'Blunderbus' are splendid names for methods. What rubbish! Our methods for ringing changes, or at least the composition of the same, are likened to the game of chance—football pool perms.

This brief explanation brings me to my game of chance—football pool perms.

This brief explanation brings me to my point. If such an article covering this subject which the writer has tried to do could have been entrusted to one of our experienced ringers with a more journalistic mind than I have, a great deal of good propaganda could have been done for the art of change ringing, by way at least of making bellringing appear more attractive and might be a step towards getting many of the bells ringing which have been silent so long. Instead, I fear, the reverse may be the result; in short, the article does not give much inducement to would-be learners to try ringing the bells.—Yours faithfully,

RICHARD NEWMAN.

14th CENTURY BELLS AT HAYLING ISLAND

This interesting picture sent to us by Mr. A. J. Buswell, of Havant, shows the mid-14th century bells of St. Peter's, North Hayling, Hants, which are still on their old wooden axles and half-wheels.

The tenor bell is inscribed 'Sancta Maria Ora Pro Nobis' (St. Mary, pray for us). The bells may have been dedicated to the Church of St. Mary, South Hayling, and later moved to St. Peter's. The three bells are all ringable. The founder of the bells is unknown.

EXPERIMENTS IN SPLICED MINOR

Dear Sir,—A short while ago the Exercise was confronted with a poser that wasn't; may I now present a poser that is?

recently made an arrangement of a 720 of Spliced Minor in which there were 24 methods. This was one more than any previous 720, and furthermore a variation of it in 23 methods made it possible to extend the present Minor record by one method.

Shortly after I had shown it to Mr. W. F. Moreton (who is, I have recently been relieved to discover, a Yorkshireman after all!) he pointed out that by the introduction of a bob lead of Lytham these 720's could be made to contain 25 and 24 methods respectively, and the possible Minor record therefore increased by two.

It is argued that seeing that Thelwall is not included in the 720 the introduction of a bob lead of Lytham is quite permissible, and may be therefore counted as another method.

The logic of this is unanswerable but I don't like it, nevertheless, probably because—as has been observed by one of my galaxy of friends—I am obstinate and perverse. (The other friend maintains a discreet silence!)

I have also an arrangement which contains bob leads of Frodsham, which in this case, seeing that Frodsham has no 6th place counterpart, rather weakens my case.

What would the Exercise think of the following 720?

Newdigate (Willesden, Old Oxford or College Bob IV) 23456 -64235 Double Oxford 26543 Lytham 35426 London Bob 64352 Newdigate, etc. Double Oxford - 23645 College (Wavertree in Part 1) 62534 S 45632 London Bob 26345 Double Oxford 32564 Bamborough Surprise 53426 Double Oxford 64532 St. Clement's (Childwall in Part 3) 56243 Thelwall

> London Bob Twice repeated.

Bacup Surprise

London Bob

Here we have bob leads in four treble bob methods and single leads in two plain methods. Each of the treble bob methods (4ths place delight, really) has an alias!

It could, of course, be argued that a 'single' doesn't make a method, but the fact remains that if St. Clement's was called by the conductor instead of College and a single called at the end of the lead, the places made would be 2nds, 3rds and 4ths, instead of 4ths, 5ths and 6ths.

That I have been able to get out a variation in which all the treble bob methods have plain leads should indicate that if I were patient—or clever—enough, it might be possible to do the same with the plain methods.

There must, of course, be a maximum somewhere, but who is to say when we have reached it? The maximum number of methods in the Spliced Minor record thought to have been reached a few years ago has still continued to

Have we now reached it? Time (the stuff between pay-days) will tell. Meanwhile, ought we to allow bob-leads (or single-leads) in Minor records?—Yours sincerely,

H. CHANT.

Ryhill, Wakefield.

A Stonham Aspal Bride

For five years a member of the parish church company of bellringers and for ten years a member of the church choir, Miss Dorothy May Largent, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Largent, of Chapel House, Stonham Aspal, was married at Stonham Aspal Church recently to Mr. Raymond Arthur Ellis, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ellis, of Church Walk Stownbad Walk, Stowupland.

Given away by her father, the bride wore white net over taffeta, with a pannier of diamante studded net, and she had a full-length veil. Her bouquet was of dark bronze chrysanthemums.

There were five attendants—the Misses Jean Thorpe, Marjorie Rutter, Daphne Frost, Muriel Pipe and Rita Pratt. The Misses Thorpe, Rut-ter and Frost were in blue full-skirted dresses of net over taffeta, with matching boleros. The others were in similar ensembles of lemon colour. The bridesmaids were headdresses of their bouquets were of pale bronze and yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. David Garrod, a friend of the bridegroom, was best man.

POPULARITY OF HANDBELL RINGING IN U.S.A.

FROM the current issue of 'Overtones' to reach us this week we learn of the amazing growth in popularity of handbell ringing.

At the annual convention of the American Guild of Bell Ringers at Ipswich, Mass., Mrs. Arthur A. Shurcliff, the president, wore the costume of her band of Beacon Hill Bellringers, scarlet skirt and white peasant blouse with scarlet embroidery, and in her opening remarks she described how the Guild had grown in three years from the 25 original bands to its present 120, representing 29 States as well as Alaska, Canada and England.

With the expansion in numbers, the bell-ringing art has become more widely known. The group which travelled furthest to the Ipswich festival were the Cathedral Ringers from Atlanta, Ga., who have played at the White House in Washington and been featured on the Ed. Sullivan show. The 20 boys and girls from south of the Mason Dixon line were identically costumed in black shorts, white blouses and knee socks with an announcer white blouses and knee socks with an announcer in page's outfit of white satin with a purple cape. They played a programme of hymns, a Bach chorale and a folk song, and brought down the house with a spirited rendering of Dixie. As an encore they played an arrangement of Adeste Fidelis, as presented on the Ed. Sullivan show.

At the suggestion of their coach, Canon Eckles, the Cathedral Ringers joined with several other bands in 'Onward, Christian Soldiers,' with the audience singing the words.

A virtuoso performance was that of Sharon Spurgeot, who played two solos accompanied by the piano. She used 19 bells and 12 bells, picking them up and laying them down without a false tinkle or a missed note, an exhibition of great dexterity and control. The Beacon Hill bellringers, under Mrs. Shurcliff's direction, rang a plain course of Grandsire Triples, a traditional and difficult bellringing exercise, states The Lawrence Eagle.'

One of the most musical groups were the Berkshire Ringers from Pittsfield, six players with deep-toned bells. Their Ukrainian 'Carol of the Bells' was one of the most beautiful offerings of the evening. Another charming selection was the Polish Carol by the Village Lutheran Church Choir from Bronxville, New Lutheran Church Choir from Bronxville, New York. A group with a high degree of technical proficiency were the Cape Anne ringers of Gloucester, a veteran group. They were expert with the trick of swinging the bells loosely at arms length, seeming to emphasise the singing overtones with a fascinating effect.

The same technique was used effectively by the Paul Revere group from Bedford, five ladies in evening dress, who have been ringing together ten years. They used a great assort-

APPEAL TO THE YOUNG

Commenting on the festival and the way young people are responding to handbell ring-ing, David Knickel gives these conclusions of the Board of Management of the Guild:-

- (1) A substantial number of young people over the country are regularly ringing in handbell bands and choirs on a voluntary basis, and
- (2) Handbell ringing brings certain satisfaction to the beginner immediately, yet practice and imagination bring rich rewards through discovering the potentialities of the bell as an
- .(3) Young people respond to handbell ringing as a vital part of religious worship as well as for recreation.

- (4) Esprit de corps which rivals that of a football team can be established among any combination of ringers. Once having declared membership in a group, the individual is in-dispensable—fellow ringers will bring this to the attention of the absentee.
- (5) The demand for sets of handbells by schools and churches is increasing every month.
- (6) There is every reason to believe that the future of the American Guild and interest in handbell ringing is guaranteed if the quality of interest demonstrated by young people at this festival is a true cross-section.
- (7) It is apparent to the board of managers that the young belong at the annual festival. It is apparent, also, that they should have their own programme for study, performance, ob-servation and recreation. A special festival committee has been planned for the summer of 1957, and the committee would like to encourage bands of young people to attend the fourth annual festival next August.

Peal Ringers of 1956

We are hoping to publish at an early date a list of the prominent peal ringers of 1956., Will those who have rung 25 peals or over during the past year kindly submit details. What we require is num-ber of tower-bell and handbell peals separately and also the number of each conducted.

MR. L. E. LAST RETIRES To Live in Suffolk

His many friends in the Exercise, particularly in the South-Western District of the Essex Association, will join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Last many years of happy retirement. For the best part of 20 years Mr. Last has been physical education organiser and adviser to the educational authorities at Barking and Walthamstow, and during that time has been an active member of the Essex Association.

He has been most helpful in stimulating knowledge of the Exercise and was always willing to give lectures, illustrated by film strip, to societies, church organisations and bodies during their winter programmes.

A native of Suffolk, Mr. Last returns home, hoping to educate his gracious wife to say 'How are yew bor?' One cannot imagine a retirement of inactivity, and from the nature of the presents given by his educational col-leagues—a strip film projector and a camera it is easy to see where Mr. Last's activities will be.

Mr. Last's future address will be Low Street, Hoxne, Diss, and doubtless he will soon be trying those grand rings once again in Suffolk and South Norfolk.

May good fortune attend both him and his wife in the years ahead.

Annual Meeting of the North Staffordshire Association

The annual meeting of the North Stafford-shire Association was held at Stoke-on-Trent on December 1st. The president, the Venerable George Youell, Archdeacon of Stoke-on-Trent, in his opening remarks, said he knew the diffi-culties many towers had in maintaining ringing. It was not easy to bring people from their other jobs' into the service of the Church and he would do all he could to encourage the Association in its hard but invaluable work.

The Archdeacon paid tribute to the tremendous record of his predecessor, the Venerable Percy Hartill, who had retired owing to ill-health earlier in the year. President from 1935 to 1956, he had missed only one annual meeting, that of 1955. The Association had intended to present him at that meeting with a suitably engraved salver as he token of its apprentice. suitably engraved salver as a token of its appreciation, but the petrol crisis had prevented Mt. Hartill from making the long journey from his new home. The Association wished him a long and happy retirement.

The Archdeacon then expressed concern at the lack of provision for bells in the new churches being built. This was a serious omission. Although it might not be possible to afford a ring of bells in the first instance, bells offered an excellent form of memorial, or in any case could be purchased at a later date. Bells had an important part to play in the ministry of the Church and he hoped that all ringers would use their influence whenever possible to ensure that reservation was made for the installation of bells in new churches.

In conclusion, on behalf of the Association, he extended a warra welcome to the Rey F.

he extended a warm welcome to the Rev. F. A. R. Chapman, the new Rector of Stoke-on-Trent, who had taken the service and been host to the Association that afternoon.

The meeting then stood in silent prayer in memory of members whose deaths had occurred during the year—George Holbrook (Newcastle), George Jones (Hanley), Frederick Palmer (Bucknall) and the Rev. J. J. Mac-Donald (Cheadle R.C., honorary member).

Hazledine; Central Council representative 1957-59, Mr. R. S. Anderson.

OBITUARY

MR. WILLIAM T. TUCKER

A fortnight before his 80th birthday, Mr. William T. Tucker, of North Stoneham, died, to the regret of many friends.

At the request of his only daughter and relative, Mrs. D. M. Brown, three members of the local band had learned to ring handbells, and had been practising assiduously for ten weeks with the intention of paying him a surprise visit on his birthday, on December 10th, and ringing 360 Bob Minor.

He came to Eastleigh at the beginning of the century, being employed as a painter in the railway carriage works; immediately he became attached to St. Nicholas' Church, soon beattached to St. Nicholas' Church, soon becoming captain of the band there. He conducted the first peal—Plain Bob Minor—on the bells on February 15th, 1905, and rang in a great many others afterwards. But his interest in ringing was not for peals alone, for he never missed a service if it were at all possible, and for many years he also served on the Parochial Church Council and as a sidesman.

As an early member of the Winchester Diocesan Guild he did yeoman service in the cause of ringing in the district, helping to teach and encourage learners in the art. For many years he was secretary of the Winchester District of the Guild and was a member at the time of his death.

It was only fitting that the first peal on the new bells should be rung to his memory, also that the method rung should be his favourite—Kent Treble Bob Major.

He was laid to rest at the foot of the tower, beside his old friend and mentor, George Williams, on December 1st, the service being conducted by the Rector, the Rev. W. F. Shail. Ringers present included Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Kippin, Mr. M. J. Butler (District secretary), the Rev. K. W. H. Felstead, Mr. Owen Giles and many others, including the local band. A course of Plain Bob Minor was rung at the graveside by three members of the local band. graveside by three members of the local band.

To his daughter his ringing friends extend their deepest sympathy but, as she herself said, the beauty of the service would remain to comfort her, as would also the knowledge that he was laid to rest near his beloved bell tower, and with a goodly company of friends to may him. to mourn him.

MR. WILLIAM NASH

Another stalwart from the North Mymms, Herts, tower has passed on. Mr. William Nash, in his 77th year, died suddenly on his way home from a meeting on December 18th. He had rung at St. Mary's Church for over 50 years, and for a time acted as secretary of the St. Albans District of the Hertford County Association. Stedman Triples was his favourite method, and the local band rang half-muffled the day after his death as a tribute to his memory.

He led a full and devoted life in the service of others and was a prominent Freemason and the Rev. Frank Llewellyn Edwards at Poole on Christmas Eve, aged 83 years.

He was one of the oldest members of the Central Council and for many years was convener of the Press, Publicity and Broadcasting Committee. For the long period of 48 years he was Rector of Kington Magna, Dorset, from which living he recently retired. He gave long service to the Salisbury Diocesan Guild and was honorary secretary for 37 years. Mr. Edwards was one of the oldest members of the Ancient Society of College Youths.

A memoir will be published in our next issue.

MR. E. E. PRATCHETT
The funeral service for Mr. E. E. Pratchett, of Hendon, whose death in his 82nd year was reported in our last issue, took place at St. Mary's Church, Hendon, where he had been a ringer for 66 years, on December 20th.

The service was preceded by some beautifully struck Grandsire and the bells were also rung after the service.

The Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild was represented by Messrs. T. J. Lock, H. G. Hart, W. N. Genna, E. Prior, R. Sanders, R. Stoddart, S. A. Warwick and

H. Arnold.

'One thing we will always have with us is the memory of this lovable and unassuming character, this Grand Old Man of St. Mary's, Hendon,' writes H. A.

MR. FREDERICK JAMES FREESTONE

Members of the S.W. District of the Essex Association will learn with regret of the death of Mr. Frederick James Freestone, late of Hornchurch, and lately residing at Epsom. He had been in failing health for some time and passed away in Norbury Hospital, Surrey, at the age of 84.

A native of Sawston, Cambs, he learned his ringing on the local bells. Eventually he moved to Hornchurch, where he was watchman at Harwood Hall. From here he moved on to Dagenham Dock, where he was for many years berthing attendant.

At Dagenham he was a member of the local At Dagenham he was a member of the local band and journeyed many miles to attend local practices, mainly, however, to Hornchurch. He was also connected with St. Andrew's, Holborn. On retirement from the dock he took up residence again at Hornchurch, became active again with the local band and eventually took over the duties of towarkneper, succeeding Mr. John the duties of towerkeeper, succeeding Mr. John Fred was no great peal ringer and no records are available of his peal total, but he could be rightly described as one of those stalwarts of the Exercise—hail, rain or shine he could always be relied upon to be there.

A life member of the Essex Association, he was specially proud of his connection with the College Youths.

Visitors would sometimes find Fred rather remote—a certain brusqueness and austerity of manner contributed to this, but beneath the rugged and rather outspoken exterior was the proverbial heart of gold, a keen sense of loyalty and an impish sense of humour.

The funeral was at Streatham Crematorium on December 21st.

Rest in peace, Fred.

L. V. G.

MR. JOHN T. HERBERT

The death occurred on December 6th of Mr. John T. Newbert, of Gamston, Notts, at the age of 69. He had been at home three weeks following an operation and was making a good recovery when he had a sudden heart attack from which he passed away.

Although he had lived in Gamston only 15 years, he had been the village blacksmith for 35 years, a first-class workman and highly respected by young and old alike.

In his younger days he rang at a three-bell tower and it was not until 12 years ago that he joined the local band at St. Peter's Church. In all he rang 19 peals of Minor, including one in five methods. His one regret was that he had not commenced change ringing earlier. A good attender, he always gave of his best. 'Jack' will be sadly missed by those who rang with him, and many others.

When not taking part in a peal if there had been any bad ringing he would be sure to criticise but would give praise if it had been good.

He was laid to rest on December 8th a few paces from his own well-kept garden and near the tower and bells he loved. After the scrivice, which was conducted by the Rev. S. M. I. Salt, four of the local band and two of his friends rang a 360 Bob Minor, half-muffled. He leaves a widow and a brother.

On December 22nd a peal was rung as a last tribute to him. May 'Jack' rest in peace.
