"THE PEAL IS A SACRED COW!"

BROWSING through some past "Ringing World's", it is evident that there is repeated trouble from the public about our ringing. The curse of it to the non-ringing fraternity is partly the noise level, but more especially the length of time which bell-ringers ring when ringing goes on for hours on end as in a peal.

What are some of the facts? Most towers are in the middle of built-up areas — as we would expect churches to be. Peals take anything from two and a half hours to three and a half hours or more. The ringing fraternity itself is conscious of the noise level, or else efforts would not be made in some towers to erect shuttering, bricking-up, using sound-absorbing material, and the various devices for reducing the noise level. Why, at the Loughborough Bell Foundry, I understand all this is so effective that the bells cannot even be heard outside. It's a bit like putting a 100 watt electric bulb inside an opaque shade!

There must be thousands and thousands of folks who enjoy our bells, but haven't the faintest idea of the mechanics of composition. No repetition of a change, or an "extent", means nothing to them. They couldn't care less. But they do appreciate rounds, the going into changes, and the coming into rounds again before stopping. In fact, they appreciate the "touch", though they probably don't know that that is what it is called. When bells go on ringing for hours on end, with, to them, no particular reason, they get thoroughly fed up. Peals may well have done more harm than good! No wonder incumbents are pestered. No wonder incumbents oft-times restrict ringing to 45 or 60 minutes, peals to one a year, or even no peals at all.

What is the prime cause of all this? It is simply that today, as in the past, we accept the peal as requiring 5,040 changes on seven bells or less, 5,000 (or more) on eight bells or more. What a pity that the 720 was never regarded as the peal! And what good fortune that 40,320 is beyond the range of most! To many ringers, the peal is a selfish achievement at the expense of the outside world. And what is there in it after all? It is mainly a feat of endurance. I've done it several times myself, and each time I do it I wonder why I bow down to such conservatism. For we stubbornly hang on to the tradition of our forefathers, regardless of the public interest.

How pedantic to select 5,000 changes as the minimum for any peal on eight or more bells. 5,040 would have had some reason behind it. But then, some peals go on to 5,200 plus. There is no limit. The issue is purely one of endurance. In that respect I see little difference between pole squatters, or people who spend months alone in a cave, and peal ringers.

Don't think I am entirely against such feats. As a glider pilot possessing a "Silver C" certificate and badge, amongst the things I had to do was to remain airborne in a glider for a minimum of five hours. Crazy you might say, especially when I tell you I did this in the bitter cold in Germany, in an open cockpit, mid January. But then, this interfered with no one, and was purely my own affair.

Peal ringers can do what they like in battened-up towers, isolated towers, or in homes with handbells, or anywhere where they are not a nuisance to others. It's all due to the slavish acceptance of the 5,000 or more. The peal is a sacred cow!

Wouldn't it be more sensible to pin our peals to a 720, or even a 1,260, and be hanged to the 5,000 (except behind bars)? Let it be noted that there are half as many quarter peals again as peals published in "The Ringing World." And just why should a peal in "The Ringing World" take up three and a half times the space of a quarter-peal, just because it carried on four times as long, and was probably eight times the nuisance?

What about it all?

REBELLIOUS.

Worcestershire & Districts Assn. Dinner

SATURDAY, October 22nd, was not only the date of the annual dinner of the Worcestershire Association but was also the last day of Summer Time. It is becoming something of a tradition to hold this event on that day—the advantages of having it so need no explaining!

The dinner was again held in the Co-operative Hall, Worcester, and was attended by 127 members and friends, including visitors from Bournemouth and Leicester. This hall has been the venue for the past six years but re-development plans make it seem likely that another hall will have to be found for next year.

One of the features of the Worcester dinner is that speeches are kept to a minimum and, following the loyal toast, the Rev. J. G. Barnish, R.D., rose to propose the toast of "The Association." Mr. Barnish is Rector of All Saints', Worcester, and is also Diocesan Director of Religious Education. Remarking that bellringing is part of our national heritage and that no church is complete without a ring of bells, he said that today people are very concerned with freedom. Before he came to Worcester he was Vicar of Cleve Prior, and there he had found that the parishioners had also been very concerned with freedom three centuries ago when, during the time that it was illegal to have church bells rung, they had gone ahead and ordered four new bells from Bromsgrove.

MEMBERSHIP

Mr. Barnish also referred to some points from the secretary's report for the previous year and said that members must not be complacent that the Association had a membership of over 500. As the secretary had pointed out, there were over 1,000 bells in the area and if all were to be rung there should be many more members.

Replying to the toast, the Rev. H. L. Davies, chaplain to the Association, also stressed the need for new members. He said that one of the features of bellringing was the way it attracted people from all walks of life and of all ages. Mr. Davies went on to say that he was glad that the Rector of All Saints' had been invited because it gave the Association an opportunity of thanking him for the way in which his church and bells were always at their disposal for the annual service each Easter Monday.

The only other toast was "The Chairman," this position being occupied by the Association's president, the Very Rev R. L. P. Milburn, Dean of Worcester. The toast was proposed by the Master of the Association, Mr. W. B. Cartwright, who said that once again it was his duty to thank the Dean for his interest and the help he gave them.

COMING HOME

In his reply, the Dean said that members would probably be interested to hear that he had now retrieved one of the early Cathedral bells which had been disposed of to various places in the country in the last century, when the new ring of 12 was installed. This particular bell had gone to Holy Trinity, Worcester, now a redundant church, and so the bell had come back home again. It was interesting to link this with Mr. Barnish's remarks earlier in that this bell came from almost the same period. It was dated 1640 and inscribed "God Save The King"—the King being Charles I, beheaded in 1649. As to the bell's future now that it was back he had not yet decided, but it would probably go on show.

After the interval the company was entertained. Traditionally the first item is change ringing on handbells, and L. J. Haines, M. R. Ashmore, D. G. Franklin and D. Beacham rang courses of Bob Major, Grandsire Triples and "Scalded Witch." This was followed by John Hinton playing tunes on his boxed handbells, and then John's 10-year-old son Philo gave a short piano recital. Following this, the professionals took over, and Eric Williams and his party kept the company amused for a further 45 minutes. D. B.

SURREY ASSOCIATION AID TO LEARNERS

THE SURREY ASSOCIATION is no stranger in the realm of teaching learners. Assistance to struggling towers has been given in the form of special monthly practices, in some cases ranging over several years. The Association provides an instructor and a team of competent ringers to assist the local band. In this way some eight towers have been helped.

This year a committee of the Northern District, Mr. Christopher Mew, saw a need for instruction in the theoretical side of change ringing. He undertook to give a course of six lectures on elementary change ringing.

The series followed this pattern:—

- (1) First steps: Plain hunting, methods and principles, method construction, the lead, place notation.
- (2) Method construction, the plain course, transposition of lead-ends.
- (3) The nature of the bob, the effect of the bob, types of bob, position of bob, sub-sequent work.
- (4) The single, coursing order, conducting—position of calls, "observation" bells and position; writing down simple touches, text book styles.
- (5) Results of calls, transpositions, simple touches.
- (6) Types of compositions, simple proof of Bob Major, aids to ringing, bibliography, test paper.

The lectures took place in the Vestry Hall at Putney on consecutive Wednesdays in September and October, each session lasting for about 1½ hours. Diagrams and figures were written out on kitchen paper, previously ruled into squares, and a blackboard was used. This appeared to make points made in the lecture more clear. Squared paper was provided for the pupils to carry out exercises. Duplicated notes were distributed covering all aspects of the lectures and, when made up in the folder, provided a useful and comprehensive manual of reference.

The attendance at the lectures was most gratifying; thirty-eight different people attended from 13 towers. Ten persons attended all six lectures. A short test was given at the end of the course and one-third of the papers scored 80 per cent, or over: the top mark was gained by a lady ringer—95 per cent.

These lectures have undoubtedly been a success and the Surrey Association is most grateful to Mr. Mew for the time and effort he has put into them.

BANSTEAD, SURREY.—On Oct. 5th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: A. E. Checcaman 1, A. J. Adams 2, Andrea Tilley 3, Elizabeth Farrow 4, H. N. Pistow (cond.) 5, G. R. Smerdon 6, G. Huxley 7, L. Reece 8. Rung half-muffled in memoriam R. F. Layton.

DARLINGTON, CO. DURHAM.—On Oct. 13th, at Holy Trinity, 1,272 Plain Bob Minor: D. Cox 1, Irene Park 2, G. A. Barker 3, I. Eggleston (first quarter) 4, P. M. Park (first as cond.) 5, R. Park 6.

REDEDICATION LECHLADE GLOS

THE rededication of the rehung ring of six at St. Lawrence's Church, Lechlade, was performed by the Bishop of Gloucester on Saturday, October 22nd, in the presence of a large congregation which included ringers from a dozen towers, one party having made the journey from Bedford. The Loughborough Foundry was represented by Mr. J. P. Fidler.

After the choir, clergy, churchwardens and Bishop had entered in procession during the singing of "O Worship the King," the Vicar (the Rev. H. R. Radcliffe-Cox) welcomed the visitors and thanked all those who made it possible to carry out the work.

The service included Psalm 122 and well-known hymns, which were sung with great gusto. "Lifted high within the steeple," set to the tune "Austria," went particularly well.

Immediately following the dedication prayers a touch of Grandsire Doubles was rung under the direction of Mr. W. F. Scudamore, Association Ringing Master. The band included Mr. W. Godwin (Ringing Master, Cirencester Branch), the other members being local ringers.

One group of prayers was led by the Rev. F. F. Rigby, Rector of Bromsberrow and chairman of the Association. The collection swelled the Bell Restoration Fund by £19 10s.

After the service, refreshments were served in the school by the ladies of the P.C.C., following which the ringers returned to the tower and kept the bells going until 7 p.m. All agreed that Messrs. Taylors had done an excellent job both in improving the "go" of the bells and in mellowing their tone.

On the previous evening a most successful dance was held in the Memorial Hall in aid of the Bell Restoration Fund. A profit of £40 was realised and a draw, for which nearly 3,000 tickets were sold, brought in a further £70. Coupled with the draw was a competition for guessing the total weight of the bells in pounds. A sealed envelope from the foundry was opened and the weight was announced as 5,943 lbs. The winner was Mr. Mike Cook, tower secretary of All Saints', South Cerney, who was only 1 lb. short. We were all surprised to know that the tenor, which has been reckoned to weigh varying amounts from 14½ cwt. to 17 cwt., does in fact only scale 13 cwt. 1 qr. 13 lb. H. R. L.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD Marlborough Branch

The October meeting of the Marlborough Branch was held jointly at the two Ogbournes, St. Andrew and St. George, on the 22nd. In the unavoidable absence of the Ringing Master (the Rev. R. Keeley), the ringing was under the direction of Mr. F. Read (vice-man), and visitors were present from Nailsea and Backwell (Somerset), Stratton St. Margaret, Swindon and the Royal Air Force, Wroughton. Unfortunately after an hour's ringing the treble clapper came adrift and, breaking the slider in the process, brought the proceedings to an abrupt close.

After the Guild service, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. W. Dunn), a move was made to Ogbourne St. George, where tea had been provided in the Village Hall.

Thanks were expressed by the chairman (Mr. G. Newman) to the Vicar, the organist (Mr. Wiltshire) and, not least, to Mr. and Mrs. White and their tea helpers.

Ringing was resumed on St. George's heavy five until 7.30 p.m., this bringing an eventful afternoon and evening to a very wet end.

College of Campanology's 10 years of Usefulness to Exercise

"Pro Deo et Ecclesia"

NOTICE, in a recent issue's advertisement columns, of the dissolution of the College of Campanology, evokes not only a sense of regret but also an attempted review of what this society of ringing people may have meant to the Exercise.

Born ten years ago in a surge of optimism the College sought, by practical means, to institute a remedy for what was being recognised by many conscientious ringers of that time as no longer tenable; namely, the lack of rational and more carefully detailed ways of ringing training, especially with the increase in practice of more complex ringing methods.

The project was envisaged almost simultaneously in Eire and in Britain: but, as the latter's Press invitation came out first, Irish support was generously given to it.

The proposed College had three main objectives:—

- (a) The collection of up-to-date information on all theoretic and technical aspects of ringing, for dissemination in lectures, pamphlets and book form; this last being planned as the "Ringers' Manual of Reference" in nine "Parts."
- (b) The raising of standards of training by definitive demonstration, by affiliation of Ringing Schools and by courses of instruction of three kinds:—
 - (i) The One-day Instructors' Course.
 - (ii) The Week-end All-grades Residential Course.
 - (iii) The Three-monthly Serial Course for Beginners.
- (c) The building up of "Panels" of Tutors and Examiners, through whom the standards could be maintained, and certificates of proficiency awarded as desired.

Invitations were issued, both by letter and through the columns of "The Ringing World," to join those putting forward this project in drawing up a constitution for, and establishing, the proposed College. To arouse immediate interest a draft script of "Part One" of the proposed Manual was submitted to "The Ringing World," and comment, constructive criticism and suggestions were invited from the Exercise generally.

Unfortunately one or two well-known ringers took the (mistaken) view that the provisional rough draft was to be set up as "The Law of the Medes and Persians that altereth not"—for ringing; and that the College would be some sort of body of opposition. Indeed there was some attempted ridicule in reference to the proposed certificates of proficiency (similar to those issued by many Ringing Associations) as "speech day presentations of parchments tied up in ribbon." In fact the College has shown itself to be jealous in the issuing of its certificate awards—the tests being clear-cut, and the purpose—maintenance of set standards. However, the College has awarded for meritorious service four honorary fellowships.

The ultimately adopted constitution of the "College of Campanology" demonstrated the fallacy of the initial criticism. Ringing is, of course, a voluntary service, just as has been the service for the College of all its members, with no compulsive examinations or tests. Far from being "in opposition" in any sense, the College claims to have endeavoured to be co-operative, for example in the arranging of courses in any given ringing area together with the local bodies.

FIRST RESIDENTIAL WEEK-END

The first residential week-end was that at Dillington House, Somerset, run in conjunction with the local education authority. It made ringing history, in so far as it has proved to be the "parent" of the now well-established form of week-end ringing course, often organised entirely locally.

A direct development of one of the College week-end courses was an invitation from the Director of the Royal College of Music to confer as to their proposal to introduce Campanology into the College syllabus. The Principal had a discussion with the Director and his Registrar, and was able to offer several proposals which the College of Music noted for consideration, and expressed great interest therein. Future action was bound up with the Director's visit to the U.S.A., however and remained "under consideration."

Another request for guidance was from the Boy Scouts' Association in regard to proficiency badges in bell ringing. In complying the College made reference also to the Central Council as an advisory body.

AN INDICATION OF WORK

For several years the College called for fairly detailed reports annually from its members, and from these was compiled an annual or triennial return, appropriately. The following particulars are taken from the last rendered return, i.e. end of second triennial period: Correspondents (local representatives) 20; tutors 36; examiners 12; College officers in 35 counties in Great Britain, Northern Ireland and Eire; also in Southern Rhodesia, Tanganyika, U.S.A., Australia and New Zealand. Affiliated Schools of Ringing 5, (to that date —); Learners instructed 736; Beginners helped 542; Locations or centres of instruction active 16; Courses run by the College and/or individual members 48; Recommendations to promote College activity 213.

Talks (not courses) including broadcasts on ringing subjects 163; Special efforts to promote Sunday service ringing (specified in the constitution of the College) reported as well distributed; Tower inspections and reports by College consultants and members 143. One or two bell augmentations reported as directly due to members' advice and/or perseverance.

The issue of leaflets on college work, publications and courses has proved helpful. Part I of the Manual series has run through two editions and inquiries are reported as still being made concerning it. Entitled "Bell Handling and Control in the Elements of Change Ringing," it is a compendium of experience of several leading ringers and tutors. Introducing some quite new "mechanics" in ringing training it shows how instruction in bell control and in method ringing can be given effectively before any specific method itself is attempted. Part II—"Method Structure in Change Ringing" is patently unique in its coverage and treatment of this subject. High praise has been reported in these columns from leading figures of the Exercise. (Vol. lxii, 1966, pages 339 and 490.) Experts in their various fields had promised to contribute to the remaining seven parts, but some are no longer with us and others have not found the time. (The remaining parts were planned as: III—"Introduction to Method Ringing on Tower Bells"; IV—"Handbell Change Ringing"; V—"Composition and Proof"; VI—"Calling and Conducting"; VII—"Belfry Administration and Maintenance"; VIII—"The Art of the Carillon"; IX—"Historical, Bells, Towers, Records"). However, arrangements have been made for continuance of distribution of current editions and of any future issues on this plan.

DISSOLUTION

The foregoing factors and others, including the Founder-Principal's intended retirement and the real difficulty in securing the voluntary service of younger people to carry on the work, led the Administrative Committee to approach the College Governors (12) and active members and affiliated schools for a policy decision. The conclusion was that it might be preferable to effect dissolution of the College now, while those experienced in handling its affairs are still in office. So this was the decision, the "official" notice (referred to above) making immediate dissolution effective. Three members of the College Administrative Committee are to continue to "stand by" until the end of 1966 to deal with any outstanding matter that might arise. It is understood that any (necessarily small) credit balance that might then remain in the financial accounts of the College is to be offered as a donation to the funds of "The Ringing World." It is intended to offer to the Central Council for its archives a portfolio of papers giving information as to the foundation and activities of the College during the ten years of its life. And points from its didactic experience and results are to be at the disposal of the Sunday Service and Education Committee of the Central Council, on request at any time up to the end of 1966.

Looking back it may be asked "Has it all been worth the effort?" It has been honoured by a Bishop as its patron, and a world-famous ringer as its first president. Its 12 governors have included some of the best-known ringing personalities in the Exercise, while its members include some in various parts of the Commonwealth. The following unsolicited extract comments are indicative:

TRIBUTES

"... When it (the College) no longer exists they (the Exercise) will realise what they have lost. It has given much valuable service, and the work which it has begun will live on afterwards" (Lifelong ringer, tutor and officer of ringing societies and retired member of Central Council).

"... I am sure that the results of (these) great efforts will not just die away. I should be surprised if the high standards (the College) has set have not permeated throughout the country and done much good in that way." (Retired president of a university ringing society and local tower officer.)

"... In ten short years the College has exercised tremendous influence in the educational and instructional field, and I am sure that the very many who have responded to its challenge have never regretted it. There can be no doubt that the College has won for itself a permanent place in the annals of ringing..." (Retired officer of Universities' Association and of county ringing association.)

And from Canon Gilbert Thurlow, president of the Central Council: "Colleges and Societies of many kinds come into existence to meet a need; they flourish and then inevitably their work is completed. What is of real importance is the lasting value of their work. And undoubtedly the work of this College is of very great lasting value. To constitute an important step in the progress of any great human art (painting, music, science) is to become part of human history. To be able to say that (one) has made a contribution to history is to say something important. I personally am most grateful to you, and I am sure the many who have benefited must be grateful also."

Senior officers of the College wish to thank publicly all who have supported and encouraged it throughout its life.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH ASSOCIATION Monmouth Branch

On a warm, sunny, autumn day the last Monmouth Branch meeting of the year was held at Chepstow on October 8th. A large crowd of ringers gathered here from both sides of the River Severn, an area fast becoming known as "Sevenside" because of the new bridge. Around the tea table was a happy mixture of accents, Welsh mingled with "Forest" and "Somerset."

The choral service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. Barrie-Evans, and Master Richard Shore read the lesson. One new member, Roger Bastin, of Newport, was elected. It was reported that the quarter-turning of Bedwellty bells had been completed.

Next meeting: Marshfield, January 14th, 1967.

EAST MEON, HANTS.—On Oct. 15th, 1,260 Doubles (six methods): Claire Bray 1, Mary White 2, Betty Daysh 3, R. A. Stone 4, C. E. Bassett (cond.) 5, N. J. Lambert 6. For the wedding of Susan Lanham and Anthony Messenger.

Letters to the Editor

SPlicing—SOMETHING NEW

Sir,—I was most interested in Mr. Lomas's very clear article on splicing. How true the old saying: "Different ships, different long splices"! Though I'd always supposed the reference was to wire, of which I know three different methods.

But though I've been splicing rope for at least 70 years I've never come across Mr. Lomas's finish for a long splice in hemp. The orthodox finish has always seemed a poor show for a bellrope, as it gives three lumps nearly as big as the single one of a short splice, and it never therefore seemed worthwhile, at the expense of a good deal of good rope. But Mr. Lomas's finish puts a new complexion on it and completely overcomes this handicap. I'd be interested to know whence he got it. Did he invent it or has it been passed down, or does it appear in any book?

My one doubt would have been as to whether it would not require serving over. But obviously the author has complete knowledge of it and seen it in action, and indeed my criticism applies equally to what one might call the old standard method of finish. Halved and quartered ends are likely to pull out on a bell rope and from the very nature of Mr. Lomas's finish, where there is no direct pull on the half strands, this is less likely than in the "orthodox" finish, where the strain is direct.

Thank you, Mr. Lomas. One is never too old to learn.—Yours faithfully,

C. F. JERRAM, Lt.-Col.
Helford, Cornwall.

HALF-MUFFLED RINGING FOR WEDDING

Dear Sir,—Mr. Peter Pavey asks in "Belfry Gossip" if any other towers besides St. David's, Exeter, have rung half-muffled for a wedding. Long Sutton, Somerset, bells were rung in this fashion about 18 months ago, although the reason for so doing was slightly different from that given at Exeter. A friend of the bride's father was to be buried in the churchyard earlier on the day of the wedding. In view of the fact that both burial and wedding were to take place on the same day and in the same church the family asked if the wedding bells could be rung half-muffled. Naturally, permission was given for this to be done.—Yours faithfully,

C. J. B. MARSHALL.

CONGRATULATIONS, WITH MISSING METHOD QUERY

Dear Sir,—Since I was the first person to conduct a peal in 100 Minor methods, I would like to congratulate Anthony R. Peake on his achievement in being the first to conduct a peal in 100 Major methods. Also my congratulations to the rest of the band who made Mr. Peake's feat possible.

I can only count 99 methods published, so I am wondering if one was lost during transit.—Yours truly,

GEORGE E. FEIRN.

CONFUSION IN COMPOSITIONS

Dear Sir.—This is the first time that I have written to "The Ringing World" and I put pen to paper in the hope that certain points which confuse me and almost certainly confuse others may be clarified. I find that in many publications, Central Council or otherwise, whilst clear, concise explanations are given of the elementary terms and to some extent of the more complicated, the links between the two are usually dealt with somewhat summarily. Allow me to explain, by some practical examples, what I mean.

A little over three years ago, three ringers just capable of Plain Bob decided that if they were going to ring peals they would have to form a band and conduct their own. With the help of the "Lancashire" book they found out about coursing orders. It also stated that the best peal to start with is Howlett's:—

W, M and 5H (— S — — S). 5H, W and 5H twice repeated.

They picked out the lead-ends for this and it did not come round. There is a W missing. From "Ropesight," which explains very simply how to set out the course-ends in columns and how to check them, they were able to find where the missing W went and also to prove it was true.

The above points out the first lesson, never ring a peal without first proving it.

Proof of Plain Bob abounds, but what happens to the proving columns in more ambitious methods like St. Clement's or Yorkshire, where a bob before cuts out leads, not puts them in, and which column do you write the false course-ends in? I have yet to find this explained.

The articles I have read on proof use most of the space deciding if it is false lead-heads or false lead-ends they are trying to find. "Who cares?—call them what you like and explain (with examples) in simple words how to get and use them.

An example of not explaining is taken from a C.C. publication, "The Blue Line System of Extracting False Course-heads." This is the one I find easiest to follow on this subject but—page 1 states the user of this system must write out a skeleton course. Why? It is not referred to again. Page 6 says "read off the false course-head." How?

An example now of what can happen to a composition. A gentleman I know is planning to call 5,040 Plain Bob Royal by R. W. Pipe ("Ringing World," page 640). He has worked out from a plain course that the calling positions for the tenor are 1: 9.10 up, 4: make the bob, 5: run out, 8: 7.8, down and 9: 9.10 down also the 6 without explanation at 9 are all bobs. When I tried to explain that this was not the way to call this peal I was told that Mr. Pipe knows more about ringing than I will ever know (true), and he would not put in print anything which was wrong, but what will they say when the peal comes round 1762398450?

Mr. Smith is guilty of four unexplained bobs at home ("Ringing World," page 590), 5,056 Double Norwich by R. D. Bradley ("Ringing World," page 696), the standard calling positions are numbered leads, i.e. 1.4.5.6. Where is H and O and is the "X" a double bob as in Stedman?

I hope these few examples of hard work and confusion may be of some help to the people who write future articles for "The Ringing World."—Yours faithfully,

Stafford.

STRUGGLING BEGINNERS

Dear Sir,—I note with keen interest all that is said about teaching beginners in the columns of this journal and elsewhere. Yet nearly all seem to present the case of teaching beginners at a tower where there is an abundance of ringers. Why not a thought to a "teacher" to a tower where all the ringers are "beginners"? From personal experience I try and give help at the weekly practices at two towers, usually with the help of another comparatively experienced ringer.

Teaching up to the plain hunt on five is fairly easy—then comes the difficult part. For example, four learners and two "teachers" ringing a plain course of Bob Doubles can sound really terrible—and this after careful explanation and writing out. One struggles on, week after week, until it seems to have been learned. Then, the next step is the 720. You discover that your beginners have been learning the plain course by numbers. (How else, I suppose? Ropesight is impossible in such a situation.)

At both the towers in question there is one thing that I've noticed missing in the so-called experienced towers—and that is a real warmth of fellowship. There is none of that nervous tension—do I really know my London Major "bob" work? Am I striking my bell properly? I enjoy trying to teach at these two towers despite the difficulties that are to be overcome. It's worth it, too! The smile of pleasure on the face of one of these beginners when he'd just completed his first quarter peal was something far more rewarding than if I'd rung a peal in unteemed Minor methods.

Perhaps I set my ultimate standards too low. What does concern me is that there are "silent" or struggling towers adjacent to strong towers. Which gives more satisfaction—a strong, active tower with a high standard adjacent to a struggling tower, or a strong, active tower from which its members gives constant help to their struggling neighbours?

Two or three years ago I was at a strong tower and asked the ringers there, "What about your near neighbours"? The answer, "Oh, we don't ring there; they only ring rounds and call changes." That answer was, to me, appalling. Are we neglecting the struggling towers to a level of incompetence? Do we just shrug our shoulders? After all, we are all ringing, or trying to ring, the bells of our churches, which give one message, whether there are three or twelve bells, and that is the message that they are the voice of the Church to the outside world. With this message in mind, perhaps our "experienced" ringers will look again and see if they can help out more at our silent and struggling towers. — Yours faithfully,

MICHAEL KING.

HILLINGDON JOINT MEETING

THE date was booked at the local ringers' meeting in January. So was the Church Hall. The Vicar put the date in his diary. So did the organist. Thus the plans were made for the annual joint meeting of four Guilds at Hillingdon on October 22nd. Came the week and feverish activity was the order. The belfry was swept and dusted, the bells oiled and greased. Numerous ladies were detailed to cook, cut up, serve, wash up and generally work themselves to a standstill. All seemed to be thought of.

Then Blow No. 1! Bill Birmingham, our M.C., couldn't make it. He promised to send the tools of his trade for another to step into his shoes. Blow No. 2! Bill Coles was going to the Guildford dinner instead of the Hillingdon tea. He would let us have his tape if George Hart would play it. George would and more! The weather forecast was fine and dry. Little did we realise what that really meant. At about five o'clock onwards it meant teeming wet rain!! And it didn't stop.

Hanfield's six bells were open at 2.30 p.m. with Frank Corke's cheery face to welcome the visitors. John Hill had St. John's ten going soon after three and good practice was had, the level of the ringing remaining reasonably good for a mixed gathering of this kind.

The service was short and bright, with the ringers outgiving the choir. The Vicar surprisingly (to the locals) commenced his address with some lines of Housman's "Shropshire Lad" about the bells of Bredon. It was a new approach to the well-worn theme of bells and worship and indeed was greatly appreciated—a well thought out talk which left its mark on those who heard it.

Sixty-eight in the congregation, plus choir and clergy, plus those too late for service visitors, signalled panic stations in the Church Hall. By the time the Vicar said Grace there were 90 hungry (and thirsty) customers to be coped with instead of the 60-odd anticipated.

SET OF TANKARDS

After a warm welcome to the four Guilds, the Vicar presented an inscribed tankard to the captain of St. John's Guild to commemorate the Guild's two recent successes in the tower-bell section of the Richmond Music Festival. It looked as though it would be several years before the shield presented by the Festival could be won outright, so there was a chance of a set of tankards if the Guild continued its successes! The tankard was donated by Mrs. Grace Goodfellow on this occasion!

Among visitors from London were Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Sanders, brought down by Jack Euston. It doesn't seem long ago that Reuben Sanders rang one of his birthday peals at Hillingdon. Memories of visits by George Kilby were rekindled by the presence of Mrs. Kilby. The four Guilds were well represented, including a good sprinkling of general officers as well as officers of local Districts. Reg Darvill, of St. Albans, was taught to ring at Hillingdon, and here was his own son, Ken, looking remarkably like his father did in those early days. Old friends, Marjorie and Norman Genna, paid us one of their rare but always welcome visits.

THE SOCIAL

It is always a bit of a surprise to some of the locals that the social evening goes so well, but at 10.30 the visitors were saying "thank you for one of the best evenings yet"! The accordion playing of David Price, a young local ringer, has improved very much since we last heard him, and he soon had his audience singing. Norman and Mrs. Randall and son John gave great enjoyment with a variety of pieces on two violins and piano. John Hill told of the visit recently of Middlesex ringers to Westminster Abbey, where they rang a quarter peal of London Surprise Major.

George Hart had recorded this and played some of the latter part of the quarter. Bill Coles was also heard on tape giving his broadcast talk on handbells. This included some remarkable tune ringing by Mrs. Hughes. We had the pleasure of listening to Mrs. Hughes, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Lock, at one of the recent Hillingdon suppers.

The now famous cricket match was again won by the Oxford Guild, who soundly thrashed their Middlesex opponents. So the battered old china cup, which is the trophy for the winners, will remain in Slough belfry. And so to bed. F. W. G.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION

The quarterly meeting of the Stow-on-the-Wold Branch was held at Stow-on-the-Wold on October 22nd. The chairman, the Rev. L. W. Potter, R.D., presided.

The Rev. O. A. Griffiths (Moreton-in-Marsh), the Rev. R. W. N. Harris (Temple Guiting) and the Very Rev. E. J. Camier (Lower Staughton) were elected honorary members of the Branch. Mr. A. Rigg (Moreton-in-Marsh) and Mr. P. Clifford (Stow-on-the-Wold) were elected as performing members.

The Branch secretary (Mr. L. C. Dowdeswell) reported that visiting ringers from Saffron Walden, on ringing at Adlestrop on August 28th reported that the treble bell was loose on the headstock and that repairs were needed to the wheel. Mr. P. R. Coveney, the secretary of the Chipping Norton Branch, carried out the repairs and the treble bell is now in good working order. It was decided to send a letter of thanks to Mr. Coveney.

The fourth bell at Bledington had been repaired by Mr. F. White of Appleton, and the bells are now available for ringing.

It was decided to start weekly practices at Stow-on-the-Wold on Thursdays and the Rev. P. Newing, of Blockley, and Mrs. Newing had volunteered to assist in the effort to provide more ringers. It was also proposed to start practices at Moreton-in-Marsh on Fridays.

The secretary was asked to write to the Rector of Temple Guiting, inviting his tower and ringers to join the Association.

A short service was conducted by the Rural Dean. After tea some excellent touches of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Plain Bob Major were rung. A party of ringers, who were the guests of the Rev. Peter Newing, attended the meeting and expressed their pleasure in joining in a most enjoyable gathering.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

There were eight entries for the first striking competition promoted by the Bath Branch and held on October 29th, viz.: St. Michael with St. Paul's, St. Mary's, Bathwick, A and B, Corston A and B, Twerton, Dunkerton and Keynsham.

A very enjoyable afternoon resulted. Mr. Harry Sanger, from Evercreech, was the judge and he pointed out to each band the various reasons for their faults although he was pleased to say there was no poor ringing. The result was: 1 Corston B with 18 faults, 2 St. Michael with St. Paul's (24), 3 Corston A (24), but not quite such polished ringing as No. 2. It is hoped to make this an annual event.

OBITUARY

MR. J. HALL

Ringers in the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association have lost their oldest member with the death on October 12th of Mr. Jack Hall at the age of 86 years. Jack Hall began his ringing career at the turn of the century and along with my grandfather, the late Mr. Tom Metcalfe was instrumental in teaching the ringers on the new bells at Ormesby in 1908. He conducted the first peal on these bells in 1910; it was Grandsire Triples and was rung by the local ringers he had helped to teach.

During the first world war his job took him to Tyneside, where he rang with the late Mr. Bill Barber. I understand he was one of the umpires in Bill Barber's famous peal of Stedman Triples at St. Mary's, Gateshead, which Mr. Barber conducted blindfolded. After 1918 Jack returned to Teesside and his ringing with the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association, often cycling 30 or 40 miles to ringing meetings. He rang over 100 peals and was an active ringer till he was 80 years old.

As a token to his memory a half-muffled peal of Bob Major was rung by the local ringers of Ormesby on the bells which meant so much to him and on which he had rung so many times. T. M. C.

MISS ELIZABETH WILLS

With deep regret we record the passing of Elizabeth Wills at the early age of 19 at the Nuffield Orthopaedic Hospital, Oxford, on October 20th.

Elizabeth, whose home was at 31, Norton Way, North Leitchworth, Herts, was a first-year student at St. Hilda's College, Oxford, and had gained her University Blue for swimming last March. A few weeks later she was admitted to hospital, where she stayed, except for a few days spent at home, until her death. She was taught to ring at Norton some six years ago by the late Horace Werrett, but when this band was wound up in 1964 she joined the Baldock band, where she soon made rapid strides. Her ability to pick up a new method was in context with everything that she did and that went for swimming, hockey, tennis and social work as well.

Liz, as she was affectionately known, rang a few peals her first being a peal of Plain Bob Minor at Wallington on February 13th, 1961. Her many activities prevented her taking part in many more.

I did not think that when I sat opposite her at the Hertford County Association's annual general meeting last April at Watford that I would be writing this some seven months later. She then told me she had just rung Spliced Surprise Major on a University tower.

Her humour will be sadly missed, as will her ability in Oxford and in Baldock, and, of course, her punctuality: she had the farthest to come and was always first to arrive.

To her parents and sisters, Caroline and Sally, both of whom have been taught to ring, we send our sincere sympathy in the passing of a true and great "gel." E. G. B.

NORWICH DIOCESAN

For their meeting on October 15th the Branch paid its first visit to Tharston. After ringing in the afternoon a short service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. T. C. Macnaughton-Jones, with Mrs. Macnaughton-Jones as organist.

Tea was arranged and served by Mrs. H. Duffield and helpers, followed by the business meeting, with Dr. P. Jonason presiding.

Later, ringing took place at Tasburgh and Fornett as well as at Tharston and was much enjoyed on these three fives.

ST. JOHN OF BEVERLEY, WHATTON-IN-THE-VALE

By W. L. EXTON

"Colston's cracked pancheons,
Screveton's egg-shells,
Bingham's tro-rollers and Whatton's merry bells."
—An old rhyme.

WHATTON-IN-THE-VALE is a small Nottinghamshire village, straddling the main Nottingham to Grantham road, and situated about midway between the two. A village firmly divided between old and new, with a fine and beautiful church, dedicated to St. John of Beverley.

Perhaps its main claim to fame is the Cranmer Memorial Chapel, dedicated to Thomas Cranmer, Archbishop of Canterbury, who was baptised in this church and worshipped here as a boy. Thomas Cranmer left for Cranmer at the age of 12 and as far as is known never returned, but amongst his many writings in later years he recalled the joy of hearing Whatton's merry bells across the meadows.

Of the bells Cranmer heard nothing is known, all the early records have since disappeared, and in 1590 Henry Oldfield came from his nearby Nottingham foundry to cast (or perhaps recast) the present tenor bell. This extremely fine bell, pessimistically given as 13 cwt. 24 lb. in E (diameter 44 inches), bears continuing witness to the skill of Henry Oldfield. Satisfaction must have been given, for in 1618 he was recalled and cast the front four bells to complete a ring of five, these bells remaining as a ring of five for nearly 300 years.

In 1870 the short central tower, surmounted by its equally short spire (viewed from the west end (as illustrated), was completely rebuilt, the old segmental arch from the south wall being removed and rebuilt into the north side of the tower. The bells presumably were removed and replaced during this operation.

AUGMENTED TO SIX

The frame and fittings deteriorated during the ensuing years, for on October 30th, 1912, a parish meeting was held in the Church School Room, when it was decided to rehang the bells. A committee was appointed and from estimates submitted that of Messrs. Gillett and Johnston of Croydon was accepted. The bells had their canons removed, were quarter turned and tuned on the Simpson five tone principle, and rehung in a new iron frame. Following a further meeting on August 8th, 1913, it was decided to add a new treble bell and so complete a ring of six bells.

As far as can be ascertained the bells have been rung for service and practice from that time until the present day, with only a short break during the last war.

About two years ago the ringers decided that the time had come when consideration must be given to the possibility of rehang the bells on ball bearings. The existing brass bushes had become worn and loose, the gudgeons loose and scored and, despite the weekly oiling, the "go" was not all that could be desired. Permission to raise the necessary money was granted by the Parochial Church Council, although they could give no financial help due to other commitments.

During the next two years money was raised by various means, carol singing (and ringing), lectures for the Rural Community Council, a coffee evening and finally a skittles and putting tournament.

"DO IT YOURSELF"

In order to reduce costs, a "do it yourself" scheme was considered and, following a discussion with Mr. P. Taylor, and the granting of permission by the Parochial Church Council, a start was made on August 30th, with the dismantling of the bells and their fittings.

The work commenced with the tenor and the fifth, the wheels, clappers, pulley blocks and slider mechanisms being removed, timbers inserted across the frame below the bells and built up to the bell mouths, thus allowing the headstocks and bearings to be dismantled. The fittings were lowered to the ringing room, carried down the spiral staircase and delivered to Loughborough.

The process was repeated on the four remaining bells in turn. During the time the bells were out of action the grease and oil was scraped from the bells, the frame and the floor, the bells and frame washed with paraffin and the floor with a detergent. Following this the frame was painted with rotarista, undercoat and gloss paint.

During the first week in October the headstocks, complete with their new bearings, the clappers rebushed and the pulley blocks complete with new pulleys and bearings were collected from Loughborough. Before leaving the foundry the tenor headstock was weighed and found to turn the scale at 2 cwt. 1 qr. 16 lb., and in view of this it was decided to raise the headstocks by block and tackle rather than carrying them up the stairs.

By the following Sunday, October 16th, the restoration was sufficiently advanced to allow the bells to be rung for morning service. During the ensuing weeks the remainder of the work and redecoration had been completed, and the bells will be rededicated by the Archdeacon of Newark, the Ven. Brian Woodhams on November 11th at 7.30 p.m.

All the money for the restoration, except for a donation of £15 from the Parochial Church Council, has been collected by the ringers themselves. If any ringers are interested in our project, which now includes the provision of two additional bells to complete the octave, donations would be most gratefully received. The above pen and ink drawing has been used to illustrate a Christmas card, and these are available (3s. per half dozen, 6s. per dozen, plus 6d. packing and postage) from W. L. Exton, St. Ouen's, Whatton, Nottingham.

In conclusion thanks are due to Messrs. J. Taylor and Co., Loughborough, and to our friends in the Derby Association and Southwell Guild for their kind assistance and encouragement during the whole of the work, and to all ringers and friends who have enthusiastically supported our fund-raising efforts.

THE ST. MARTIN'S GUILD

THE quarterly meeting of the St. Martin's Guild was held at Yardley on October 15th, and was preceded by a striking competition. The crocketed spire of the Parish Church of St. Edburgha contains a beautiful ring of eight bells, and the ringing, being of a higher standard than is usually attained at open meetings, gave pleasure to those who like to stay outside the tower and listen.

The result of the competition, with comments upon the ringing, was given by Mr. Peter Border, who stated that the ringing generally was superior to that of last year's competition. The chief fault seemed to be a tendency to "clip" at backstroke. The band of Erdington Abbey, who rang a touch of Stedman Triples, were recorded the lowest number of faults.

In the unavoidable absence of the Master, Mr. Frank W. Perrins (vice-president) occupied the chair at the meeting. Messrs. P. Tovey and M. Kirkham, of Aston, and Messrs. R. Harris and P. L. D. Grove, of Solihull, were elected resident members of the Guild. The tower elections, as life members, of Miss D. M. Chapman (Bristol) and Messrs. R. W. Sweet (Bristol), P. Bridle (Long Ashton), R. A. J. Inglis (Nottingham) and H. J. F. Muncey (Cambridge) were duly ratified.

For the next meeting, the annual, it was decided to seek permission to use St. Martin's Hall on the first Saturday in January, 1967.

The Ringing Master, Mr. Alan Ainsworth, extended an invitation to any band in the diocese to visit St. Martin's by arrangement, on a Tuesday evening, for a special practice, at which they would be assisted in ringing any method they desired.

The conditions at Yardley being ideal, both for ringing and judging a striking competition, it was agreed that permission be sought to hold a similar competition there in October, 1967.

The Vicar of Yardley, the Rev. David Edwards, who joined the ringers at tea, gave a warm welcome to the Guild.

Mr. Harold Fitter was heartily thanked making the excellent arrangements, and gratitude was expressed to Mrs. Fitter and her helpers for preparing tea.

ELSTOW OUTING

With Apologies to John Bunyan

SINCE the days of John Bunyan, who was born at Elstow, Bedfordshire, and became an enthusiastic bellingier there, the fine old English art of campanology has thrived at Elstow's ancient abbey church and in recent years an annual outing has been arranged.

Now in this year of grace it was decided that a visit should be made to a county many leagues to the south, a place renowned alike for its natural beauty, its bells and its bell-ringers. At the appointed time, therefore, on October 8th, a large party assembled at a prearranged meeting place and set out for this land of tree-clad hills and verdant plains.

Guided by one Robert of Elstow, who hath a fair knowledge of the terrain, being a student of theology in that distant place, the party proceeded south at a modest speed, there being a good deal of fog in the low-lying areas, and came, in time, to a great city, a place where dwelled many hundreds of thousands of people, and where merchandise in wondrous variety was offered for sale. Hampered by the fog and by the density of the population (for people spilled into the very roadway, there being insufficient houses to contain them), the party pressed on for many a weary mile until at last they found themselves clear of the great city and in open country. And now, as by a miracle, the fog lifted and a most wonderful sight presented itself, for they beheld the sought-for land, this "garden of England," in all the richness of its varied splendours.

And soon, at a place called Westerham, they stopped and practised their art on the splendid ring of eight bells. And presently they came to Sevenoaks, and the time being around noon, they refreshed themselves according to their various needs, after which they made their way to the Parish Church, where they were received by Philip of the House of Corby, a leader among the ringers of these parts. And there also was Andrew, son of Philip, and there was much hand shaking and gestures of welcome, and both hosts and guests did join together and ring upon the bells that most delightful method called London Surprise Major, and many other methods.

And this was the pattern of the day, and now the party were joined by Bob Sherlock and Fred Budgen, both dwellers in this part, who had an uncommon knowledge of the lay of the land hereabouts, and they happily attached themselves to the party for some hours and directed and guided them to Seal and Leigh, both places of wondrous charm and beauty, and at these places, too, the bells were rung. And towards evening they came to a place called Brasted, where formerly lived one Edwin Lewis, a great servant of the art of campanology, and this place having a very fine set of six bells, they made merry in their accustomed manner, as they did also at nearby Sundridge, but here there was much creaking and groaning in the timbers of the bell frame.

And now it was time to say farewell to this hospitable and beautiful land, and so they retraced their steps and made their way homewards, pausing only at a place of public entertainment, where they refreshed themselves most plentifully, not only to assuage the thirst of the present, but as a sure guard against further thirst in the near future!

And they reached their various homes with grateful hearts, and long will they remember their welcome in that distant place. A.E.R.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

A quarterly meeting of the Dorchester Branch was held at Piddletrenthide on October 15th, when the heavy ring of five bells was rung to a variety of methods.

The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. E. B. Cattell, and Mr. Blythe, of Puddletown, played the organ. Ladies provided an excellent tea at the Vicarage for a company of 31, and welcome visitors included the Master of the Guild (the Rev. R. N. Longridge). Guild secretary (Mr. J. T. Barrett) and Mrs. Barrett. The Branch chairman (the Rev. C. E. C. Brinkworth) presided at the business meeting.

Young North Notts ringer: "Now I've started to take 'The Ringing World' I've given up my other comic."

Duplicated.—The conductor of the peal of Beverley at West Wickham on June 16th regrets that he submitted it twice.

In the peal rung for the Ely Diocesan Association at Chicheley on May 8th (page 529) the ringer of the second was George E. Bonham. David E. Rothera rang the third, and not as printed.

The handbell peal at Melksham, Wilts, on September 25th, while the first at Melksham was not the first for the Salisbury Guild for 30 years. Mr. Dan Matkin has recollections of quite a number.

Mr. J. R. Pratt, of Battersea, thanks Mr. A. Baldock for calling attention to a previous peal at Ripe, Sussex, in 1963, and withdraws the footnote claiming the peal on September 10th, 1966, to be the first on the bells since rehanging.

OVERSEAS SUBSCRIPTION RATES INCREASED

The new postal rates that became operative on October 3rd necessitate a revision in postal charges for overseas subscribers. From January 1st, 1967, the following charges will operate:—

Air Mail.—£5 per annum Australia and New Zealand; £4 16s. per annum Singapore, West Africa and U.S.A. Other countries on application.

Surface Mail.—£2 7s. per annum; additional copies in same wrapper £2 2s. each.

Forces.—Europe same rate as Great Britain. Outside Europe: Air Mail £4 per annum; Surface Mail as Great Britain.

Because of the increased charges we are unable to grant extended credit to overseas readers. Annual subscriptions are due on January 1st, payable to Mr. J. E. Jeater, Greystones, Cusgarne, Truro, Cornwall, or to The Editor, "The Ringing World," c/o Seven Corners Press Ltd., Guildford, Surrey.

GABRIEL LINDOFF

From the "Irish Bell News": "It will be 25 years on November 7th since Gabriel Lindoff died. Let us therefore be thankful on that day for his life on this earth, for the foundations laid by him in Ireland in regard to bellringing and change ringing, and for the man himself who not alone in Ireland, but in England too, left his work and made many respected friends.

"How he would rejoice that ringing and change ringing in Ireland did not cease with his decease, but that it is now generally in a more flourishing and advanced state, due to the seeds sown by him.

"We will all remember him."

BELLS IN STOCKHOLM

By BRIAN AUSTIN

ALTHOUGH the National Church of Sweden is in communion with the Church of England, information about its activities possibly does not extend beyond the unusual feature of female ordinands. It was therefore with interest that in the course of an architectural study tour in Sweden in October both new and old churches were visited.

Unlike most churches in Great Britain, Swedish churches are invariably locked, and the clergy, hampered by language difficulties, were not over enthusiastic in giving permission to investigate the church towers.

Bells can be heard throughout the day in Stockholm, where all the mediæval and Renaissance churches seem well equipped.

In Stockholm Cathedral Church of St. Nicholas (the Stork Kyrkan) is a large bell dated 1631 in the north aisle. It is five feet in diameter, but why it was there and not in the tower is not known.

It was encouraging to find a new church, St. Mark's, Skarpnacks, Stockholm, with a belfry and a ring of six bells. These were complete with metal wheels and apparently rung by hand.

However, before a ringing band is arranged to "grab" this tower it should be pointed out that both the bell chamber and the ringing chamber were open to the elements. The Vicar managed to convey that he would have preferred a more practical solution at the expense of the aesthetics!

If a roof and floor were provided and if a ringer were to reside in that part of Stockholm long enough to train a band, change ringing could possibly be inaugurated. It is rather doubtful if such circumstances will ever exist, and the discovery of a possible ring of six must presumably remain a point of interest only.

At least the Church of Sweden realises the relevance of bells as a prelude to worship in 1966.

MEMORIAL TABLET TO FRED ROGERS

On October 23rd, during Evensong at St. Mary's, Portsea, a memorial tablet was dedicated to the memory of the late Mr. F. W. Rogers, who was for 46 years a ringer at Portsea.

He was remembered in a quarter peal, rung half-muffled for the victims of the Aberfan disaster, at Portsmouth Cathedral that day for Evensong. The Battle of Trafalgar and the death of Lord Nelson were also commemorated.

LONDON COUNTY ASSOCIATION AND RECORDING OF PEALS

After a very full discussion, the committee of the London County Association unanimously agreed to oppose any alteration in the present method of recording peals. The reasons for the decisions were:

- (a) The Greater London Council is a purely administrative body and therefore county boundaries remain, and
- (b) Postal addresses remain unaltered.

It follows also that locally the churches continue to be identified as heretofore and are likely to remain that way, at least for a very considerable time. V. D.

KENT UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

At a meeting on October 27th it was decided to form a bellringing society at the University of Kent at Canterbury. About ten members have had some experience of change ringing, and the following officers were elected: Ringing Master, Derek Carr; secretary, Hannah Talbot-Ponsonby; treasurer, Michael Tong.

ISLIP, OXFORDSHIRE, & WESTMINSTER ABBEY

In the peal columns will be found a record of a peal rung for the Oxford Diocesan Guild in a new Surprise Major method at Islip, a lovely village north-west of Oxford, to commemorate the 900th anniversary of the founding of Westminster Abbey by Edward the Confessor.

Perhaps Islip's greatest claim to fame is that here, more than 950 years ago, was born the Confessor, son of Ethelred the Unready, and fifth in succession from Alfred the Great (whose statue at Wantage is in the area of the same Guild). Edward's mother, Queen Emma, gave Islip to him on his first birthday; 60 years later he in turn presented the hamlet to Christ and St. Peter at Westminster. To the Dean and Chapter of Westminster Abbey, Islip still belongs, and visitors will know of the lovely Islip chapel there.

Islip has already given its name to a method, so this could not be used again. When giving permission for the peal, the Rector (the Rev. A. W. Blanchett) asked that the method should be named Githeslepe, by which name the hamlet was known when given to the Abbey all those years ago. A difficult name, perhaps, but who can say that this Saxon form is inappropriate in view of its association with those early Saxon kings.

W. G. WILSON.

BELL METAL 160 YEARS AGO

Turning out old account books from the cupboards of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry, Mr. Douglas Hughes found in one dated September, 1801, the following note at the top of the page:

Price of bells to gentlemen 19d. per pound Ditto to Ship's Chandlers 18d. per pound. "I do not know," writes Mr. Hughes, "whether it was a question of soaking the rich or denigrating the ship's chandlers.

"Incidentally, 19d. per lb. seems a very good price for 1801. This comes out at £8 17s. 4d. per cwt. In 1939 we were selling bells at £7 7s. per cwt., so it seems our margins must have been tightened considerably."

WHY NOT A BELL OF YOUR OWN?

Many ringers are amusing themselves and instructing their pupils nowadays by hanging small bells in model frames. Here is an opportunity for someone to acquire for himself a nice little 1 cwt. bell which is also a piece of history. At present in the possession of the ringers of a small Devon parish who are raising money for a treble to augment their ring of five, this bell is an Exeter foundry casting, probably by Thomas Byrdall and dating from about 1570. Like many bells of this date, it bears a nonsensical inscription: the religious upheavals of this period made any inscription, English or Latin, unsafe.

The bell's canons are missing, but it is otherwise perfect, and anyone interested should get in touch with the Rev. J. G. M. Scott, The Vicarage, Newton St. Cyres, Exeter. Offers should bear some relation to the present scrap price of bell-metal, which is in the region of £28 per cwt.

If they can't find a buyer for it, the owners are planning to sell the bell for scrap; this would be a great pity, as the bell is of no little historical interest, but as it is not a church bell there is nothing to prevent this from happening.

"METHOD STRUCTURE IN CHANGE RINGING"

An introduction to its Theory and Technology—being PART II of the "RINGERS' MANUAL OF REFERENCE"

—This work, second in its series in Campanology is again unique. It is complete in itself.

—It is prepared both for beginners and advanced students.

—It is not a text-book on specific methods, but shows, for the first time, the detailed structure of the general plan of change-production, by type of "methods" and their "cognate" stages. The analysis is helpful in method-learning.

—The style of text, etc., while not "de luxe," is adequate, in view of cost-reduction. A corrigenda list picks up printer's errors, for correction before studying the book.

—Well bound, in an attractive stiff cover in blue with gold lettering, the book measures 8"x11" and contains nearly 300 of such large pages; with some 80 "figures" or diagrams, and 8 double-page and 5 single-page "charts."

—Each chapter closes with test-questions and indicated answers. There are also series of definitions, "descriptions" and axioms, arranged to serve as an index. Paragraphs throughout the book are numbered for ready cross-reference.

—The book is remarkably well commended, especially by leading figures of the Exercise, including Canon Gilbert Thurlow, Fredk. Sharpe and E. C. Shepherd. (See 'Ringing World' 1966, pages 339 and 490.)

—Without this book a "ringing" bookshelf is incomplete.

—The whole work was planned for issue at minimum cost of production, the price being thereby cut from pounds to shillings, so as to be within the reach of all. The price, packing and postage included, is only 17/- (Seventeen shillings.)

—Your copy comes by return of post, from—
Publisher's Agent—"Method Structure,"
40, Parkstone Avenue, Southsea, Hants.
You would be well advised to secure it, now!

"RINGING WORLDS" WANTED.—A complete set, in order to continue work on history of the Exercise and to complete work for the Records Committee. I need 1911 to 1946, but would buy a complete set. Details to F. T. Blagrove, 57, St. Andrew's Crescent, Windsor. 313
