OBITUARY*MR. ROBERT A. STRONG

We regret to record the death of Mr. Robert A. Strong, M.B.E., of Saffron Walden, at the age of 79, in Addenbrookes Hospital, Cambridge, on June 26th, following an operation.

Mr. Strong was born at Warminster, Wilts, and came to Saffron Walden in 1904, as a pupil and teacher at the Boys' British School. He continued teaching at this school till 1932, when the Borough Council took a lease of Fry's Gardens, and he was appointed gardening instructor to local schools. He was awarded an M.B.E. in 1946 for this work.

When he arrived at Saffron Walden he could just manage Grandsire Triples. The following year he rang his first peal on the local bells, the method being Stedman Triples. Two years later he rang a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major. He became secretary of the local society in 1911, and was responsible for all the clerical work connected with augmenting the ring from eight to 12 bells in 1914 and the catering arrangements for over 200 visitors. He was very fond of 12 bell ringing and his favourite method was Stedman Cinques.

In his younger days he was a fine sportsman and played for the town football and cricket clubs.

The funeral service took place in the Parish Church on July 2nd and was attended by a large gathering of mourners. The church had been most beautifully decorated by the 'Flower Club' for the Patronal Festival, which made a fitting tribute to one who had loved flowers and worked with them most of his life. In the evening the local band rang the bells half-muffled as a tribute.

His companionship and sense of humour will be greatly missed. R.I.P. L.E.P.

LINCOLN CATHEDRAL

The very good weather on June 20th made the annual outing of the Cathedral ringers into Worcestershire more enjoyable. Broms-grove was reached at 12.30 and ringing was prolonged by a quarter of an hour to ring a bride into church.

Excessive traffic meant a late start at Worcester Cathedral, where as most of the party were not accustomed to such heavy bells the ringing was not of the best, but the last half course of Cambridge Maximus went well. More delay arose by parking problems as our coach was hemmed in by cars. In consequence we had to miss ringing at Great Hampton in order to be on time for tea at Evesham.

Before ringing at the Bell Tower we listened to a first class half course of Maximus by some well known ringers who had been unable to start for a peal at Tewkesbury because of a broken clapper. Our ringing was most enjoyable. The highlight of the homeward journey was a spirited altercation between two drivers after a very slight collision in the car park of a hostelry known as 'The Herald of Peace'.

Lincoln was reached at 11.30 p.m.; it was a day of happy memories. G.P.

LATE NEWS*DOUBLE NORWICH C.B. MAJOR NEW RECORD

A new record length for Double Norwich Court Bob Major was established at Llanfeigan, Breconshire, on July 11th, when a peal of 20,160 changes was rung in 11 hours 6 minutes. This was about 3,000 changes short of what was intended, due to a late start. The previous record was 17,104, rung at South Wigston, Leics, in 1904. Mr. Brian J. Woodruffe also informs us that this is the longest peal to be rung in Wales.

TONBRIDGE RINGERS' SERVICE

Evening Prayer on June 28th at Tonbridge Parish Church was given to the ringers for their annual service.

Ringing on the eight bells preceded the service, which was conducted by the Rev. C. F. M. Boddington, who will shortly be leaving for St. Leonards-on-Sea.

After the Third Collect a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by Miss M. A. Ladd 1-2, Mrs. F. I. Hairs 3-4, W. H. Dobbie 5-6, Mrs. S. M. Dobbie 7-8, and at the end of the service a course of Grandsire Caters was rung as a Voluntary by Miss M. A. Ladd 1-2, Mrs. F. I. Hairs 3-4, W. Rogers 5-6, W. H. Dobbie 7-8, Mrs. S. M. Dobbie 9-10.

About fifty members of the congregation accepted the invitation of the ringers to visit the tower and watch the ringing in progress. One or two even ventured to try their hand under guidance from Mr. Dobbie and it is hoped that seeds have been sown for recruits.

Supper was then enjoyed by the ringers in the Vicarage by kind invitation of the Vicar, Canon T. F. C. Bewes, and Mrs. Bewes.

A DEVON COAST OUTING

For the benefit of a small number of visitors on holiday, another successful half-day outing was held on the South Devon coast on July 1st. At Kenton, a fair going six with long draught and upstairs ringing room, two good six scores of Grandsire Doubles were rung. The next tower was Powderham, a ground-floor six in splendid going order, where Grandsire, Stedman and Plain Bob were rung followed by a 'superb' lower. Ide proved to have another ground-floor light six. After tea at the Peamore Garage Cafe, Kenn (another good six rung from upstairs) was visited and a local ringer joined in some well-struck call changes. A. L. B.

HALIFAX ARCHDEACONRY

A broken clapper in the ninth bell limited the ringing at the Association meeting at Marsden on July 4th, but a programme which included Cambridge, Double Norwich, Stedman and Stedman Doubles was enjoyed.

A halt was made at 4.30 p.m. for a short service, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. E. L. Facey), with Mr. V. Nutton as organist. Mr. R. Shaw and his band of youthful ringers provided a good tea. The Vicar was an entertaining chairman for the business meeting, and we were pleased to have with us visitors from Darlington and the Wakefield area. W. M.

SUFFOLK GUILD

The quarterly meeting of the S.E. District was held at Oton on June 6th. About 50 members were present, including a number of beginners. An excellent tea was provided. Often bells were kept going with methods from Plain Bob to Surprise. Barking bells were available after tea.

Next meeting: Ufford, September 5th.

A GENTLEMAN RINGER

By CYRIL A. WRATTEN

RECENTLY a slim, black-covered notebook came into my safe-keeping. Inside its cover were written a name and date: 'G. H. Phillott, Jan. 1872.'

George Henry Phillott was born in 1852, the son of the Rev. W. H. Phillott, and spent his early years in Staunton-on-Wye, Herefordshire. In 1871 he went up to Christ Church, Oxford, and in the following January he began to learn change-ringing. The notebook he started at this time covers a period of 16 years, and contains details of his ringing up to June, 1888.

It does not disclose where he learnt to handle a bell; the first entry is dated February 6th and runs:

'Several peals of Grandsire Doubles at Horspath. First time of going out to ring—J. E. Troyte, R. H. D. Troyte, Gardiner, W. H. Poole, H. du B. Hill, Bampfylde (and) G. H. Phillott, tenor.'

Gardiner I cannot identify further, and his name appears only once more in the notebook, but the others were all members of the University. The two Troytes were the brothers of the well known C. A. W. Troyte, who had written his 'Change Ringing' three years previously, and Phillott's association with the family, formed at this time, was to stay firm for many years. Together with C. C. Knollys, who was at Magdalen, this band rang regularly together at various towers in and around Oxford during the months that followed. About the same time they founded the Oxford University Society, 'not so much with a view to bringing the art to any pitch of excellence among undergraduates, which would be almost impossible owing to their short and intermittent stay in Oxford, as to promoting among them such a love for a knowledge of change-ringing as would enable them, when scattered throughout the land at the end of their University career, to spread the art and make it more universally known and appreciated.'

Beneath a manuscript date of June 5th, 1872, there is pasted a cutting that reads:

'Oxford University Society of Change Ringers.—The above Society had a very successful meeting at Appleton last week, where some long touches of Grandsire Triples were rung. The ringers were as follows: Treble, C. C. Knollys, Magdalen; 2, G. H. Phillott, Christ Church; 3, F. G. Bampfylde, Magdalen; 4, R. H. D. Troyte, Trinity; 5, A. du B. Hill, Magdalen; 6, W. H. Poole, Magdalen; 7, J. E. Troyte, Christ Church; tenor, A. W. A. Pollcock, Brasenose; conducted by J. E. Troyte.'

Phillott's comment was: 'Supposed to be 1st touch of Triples rung entirely by Gentlemen.'

The next report of interest is dated February 20th (1873), and runs:

'St Thomas 360 Grandsire Minor. Phillott treble, Pridden 2, Hill 3, Bampfylde 4, J. E. Troyte 5, Poole 6. First touch of Minor rung by Society.'

Eleven days earlier virtually the same band had rung a 720 of Grandsire Minor on handbells, single-handed, but as this was apparently for practice it evidently did not count as a 'first.'

The notebook goes on to record more ringing at Drayton, Appleton, and St. Thomas', Oxford, and for May 1st there is an entry: 'A short touch of Triples at 5.15 a.m. at Magd.' The band was a mixed one, with Phillott, Hill and Poole of the University Society, and the rest (Field, Mills, Rogers, Bayliss and Charles Hounslow) from the Oxford Society, which, to judge from contemporary accounts in 'Church Bells,' was flourishing at this period.

From then until he took his B.A. in December, 1874, Phillott seems to have rung with two bands—the University men he had learnt his ringing with and the mixed band we first hear of at Magdalen on May 1st. The ringing was mainly Grandsire Triples and an occasional course of Stedman. In June, 1873, they apparently had an outing to Worcester, and at the Cathedral rang 'a touch of Triples 330, with also some rounds on the ten bells with the Revds. H. T. Ellacombe and Cattle; the Rev. H. T. Ellacombe ringing treble.' The Rev. Ellacombe has left his name to posterity through his chiming apparatus, but Canon Cattle also did much for ringing. He was an old Oxford man, and was largely responsible for the augmentation of Worcester Cathedral bells to twelve, and was also instrumental in procuring for St. Paul's their 62 cwt. tenor.

The following year on December 19th, having taken his degree and appearing proudly in the report cutting as 'G. H. Phillott, Esq., B.A.' he rang the treble at Kirtlington, Oxon, to his first peal, Holt's Original, conducted by J. Field; for practice the same band had earlier rung a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples at Witney. His comment about peal was: 'My first peal; true; deep snow.'

In June, 1875, George Phillott came down from Oxford and moved to Cheltenham, where he was to live for the rest of his life. He seems to have done little ringing of particular interest that year, for the next entry is a report of 5,364 Grandsire Caters at Appleton on March 4th, 1876, conducted by F. White. There followed Holt's Original at St. Mary's, Cheltenham, on July 21st, when he got his old friends Field and Hounslow to join him from Oxford, and on the 29th he went to London and at Bethnal Green rang his first peal of Stedman Triples with the College Youths—and what a band it was: Greenleaf, Matthew Wood, Mash, Muskett, Horrex, with Cooter conducting.

Appleton was, it seems, a great love of his, and he often went there for the Ringing Day. In 1877 he stood in a 5,079 of Stedman Caters, conducted by the Rev. F. E. Robinson; the ringers of the treble and second in this peal, F. S. White and E. Holifield, were claimed to be 'the youngest ringers of Stedman Caters on record, being respectively of the age of 14 and 15 years.' In 1880 an almost identical band rang 6,264 Stedman Caters there, 'a first clap peal and perfectly true.' George Phillott and the Rev. F. E. Robinson had already rung the same peal once, with the College Youths at St. Clement Danes in the previous December, after an earlier attempt for the peal at St. Clement's in the July of 1879 had broken down after more than 6,000 changes had been rung. In 1882 they rang two peals over the week-end—the usual Stedman Caters on March 3rd, and then a peal of Grandsire Triples on the back eight three days later. In 1884 they rang 5,035 Stedman Caters, but 1886 was not so lucky.

'Appleton, 4th of March, 1886. No ringing owing to illness of Mr. J. Wearing's children close to church. Also no dinner! What a 4th of March!! The bells were first rung, a peal of 68 years ago, and such a 4th of March has up to the present year never been known—no ringing!! and no dinner!!'

It is perhaps little surprise that Mr. Wearing's children were ill, for he goes on to write:

'Boys sliding in morning on pool at Appleton on 4 March '86—winter ever since Dec. 1885. No sign of alteration at present. Snow still remaining in the drifts everywhere here in Chelt. and elsewhere. Trains arrived up in the North on 2d and 3d of March, starting in Chelt. on March (presumably February was meant) 13, 15 and 17.'

WINCHESTER AND PORTSMOUTH GUILD'S TRIBUTE AT A.G.M. TO MR. F. W. ROGERS

THE 1964 A.G.M. of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild was held at Basingstoke on June 27th. Despite the repeated warnings of our old friend, George Pullinger, that much more favourable weather conditions occur on the first Saturday in July (the traditional date for the A.G.M. for many years), the last Saturday in June had been chosen, and proved to be a fine and warm day.

Ringing started at 9.30 a.m. at the extreme ends of two separate routes which converge at Basingstoke, thus giving a choice of a dozen or so towers for ringing before the business of the general meeting, scheduled for 2.30 p.m.

The meeting, held in St. Michael's Church Cottage, was opened by the chairman, Canon K. W. H. Felstead, Master of the Guild, with a welcome to the 70 members and visitors present. The Master's welcome was necessarily tempered with a degree of sadness by the recent death of the Guild's Immediate Past Master, Mr. Frederick W. Rogers. The Master asked one of our oldest, long-serving members, Mr. George Pullinger, to say a few words in appreciation of all the valuable and loving service which Fred Rogers had given to the Guild and ringing over many years.

MR. PULLINGER'S TRIBUTE

Mr. Pullinger expressed his deep regret at the passing of one of the Guild's most faithful and devoted servants over so many years. Born in 1902, Fred Rogers was a choirboy at St. Mary's, Portsea, and used to sit up in the tower watching the Sunday service ringing. With him were the two sons of the tower captain, Mr. E. J. Harding, and as soon as the three boys were big enough Mr. Harding taught them to ring. Fred made rapid progress, ringing his first peal, Grand-sire Triples, at the Church of St. Thomas à Becket, conducted by Frederick A. Burnett, in June, 1919. Fred soon attracted the attention of such well-known conductors of that day as George Williams, Keith Hart and A. H. Pulling, and was soon a regular member of their Surprise peal bands.

In the early 1920's, Mr. Harding retired from the post of Portsmouth District secretary of the old Winchester Guild and Fred was elected in his place. Thus started what proved to be a period of over 40 years' continuous service to the Winchester, and later the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild, in many and varied offices.

Later as captain of the St. Mary's, Portsea, band, Fred built up a very fine record with one of the finest Sunday service bands in the country. Many ringers rang their first peal under his conductorship, and the Spliced Surprise Major practices at Portsea were a feature of the Portsmouth District for many years.

IN OFFICE FROM 1926

Fred was elected Guild peal recorder in 1926, followed by Guild general secretary in 1931, which office he held for 25 years, before being elected Guild Master in 1956. Fred retired from Mastership in 1962, though still continuing to serve as one of the Guild's Central Council representatives, with a record of unbroken service in that office from 1932 until the time of his death. He was the last surviving member of the Guild Committee which had served continuously since the days of the old Winchester Guild, and so another link with the past is broken.

As mentioned earlier, Fred was in office at the time the old Winchester Guild was split up and the Guildford Guild formed in 1926, and he gave valuable assistance in re-forming the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild. He later piloted through the Guild's 1939-45 War Memorial and the George Williams Memorial Library schemes.

Fred was a great ringer and safe conductor; taking part in a number of ringing tours in his early days he became well known to many throughout the British Isles. Altogether Fred rang 672 peals, his last being Spliced Surprise Major in four methods at his home tower of St. Mary's, Portsea, on December 7th, 1963.

His passing means a great loss to the Guild and ringing. We appreciate his great love and work for our art, which will never seem the same without him.

The chairman thanked Mr. Pullinger for his kind appreciation, and added that he was sure the words spoken of Fred by the Vicar of Portsea at the funeral were echoed by all who knew him—'He was a gentleman in every sense of the word.'

The Master then went on to say that this last week we had lost another old member, who was to have been elected a life member of the Guild at this meeting—Mr. Robert Fisher, of East Meon, who had died at the age of 92.

The assembly then stood for a few moments in silent prayer as a mark of respect to these two past members.

OFFICERS' REPORTS

Continuing the business of the meeting, apologies were received and the minutes of the last A.G.M. read and confirmed. The general secretary, Mr. R. R. Savory, read letters of thanks received from the Parochial Church Councils of Eling and Sopley for grants received from the Guild towards rehanging and augmenting these bells respectively.

The treasurer's report, presented by Mrs. T. Chapman, was received showing a fairly steady financial balance. The peal recorder's report, presented by Mr. D. T. Matkin, stated that fewer peals were rung in 1963 (56) than in 1962, although there was a good variation in methods and plain and Surprise continued to be achieved. Four new Surprise Major and three new Surprise Royal methods had been added to the Guild's list, including the first peals to be rung of Christchurch Surprise Major and Royal. Of particular note was the Warnford Sunday service band's achievement with a peal in 14 methods of Doubles, conducted by Mr. C. E. Bassett. Seventeen members rang their first peal, and in one Mr. B. R. Walton conducted his first peal.

The librarian's report, presented by Mr. D. E. House, showed that all books were in good condition. A copy of all Central Council publications was now obtainable from the Guild library. It was agreed that in future the librarian present a written report, which would include an up-to-date library list. The Guild handbells were in good order and being put to good use.

Rule 17 of the Guild was then discussed and an alteration passed, which would enable the activities of December in any year to be included in that year's District report, instead of, as previously, having to complete reports by mid-December.

Grants to bell restorations were considered from Titchfield, Curdridge, Kingsclere, Fawley and Winchester Cathedral; the first four for rehanging and the fifth for hanging a newly acquired flat 6th bell. Donations of £10 to each of these appeals were granted.

The 1964 striking competition will be held on October 31st, St. Michael's, Southampton, being probably the most suitable venue. Canon F. A. Sanders rose to ask whether the band of St. Michael's, Southampton, would be entering a team this year. When informed that they would not, he agreed that the venue chosen was probably quite suitable!

In recognition of unbroken membership of over 50 years, Mr. George Noice was elected a life member of the Guild.

The 1965 A.G.M. will be held on the first Saturday in June at Christchurch Priory, upon the kind invitation of the Christchurch District.

CHANGE OF OFFICERS

As Mr. D. E. House will be leaving Hampshire in the near future the Executive Committee have appointed Mr. J. R. Faithfull to act as honorary librarian until the triennial elections in 1965.

Due to the death of Mr. F. W. Rogers, the Executive Committee have appointed Mr. R. R. Savory to act as Central Council representative until the 1965 elections.

After the general meeting, the Guild service was held in St. Michael's Church, Basingstoke. The 15 minute service touch was an excellently struck touch of Stedman Triples, rung by the following members: R. R. Savory 1, Mrs. T. Chapman 2, G. K. Dodd 3, M. J. Butler 4, D. E. House 5, M. J. Thomas 6, C. H. Kippin (cond.) 7, T. Chapman 8. The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. N. J. Woodhall, and a very interesting address given by the Archdeacon of Basingstoke, the Ven. R. C. Rudgard.

Following the service, an excellent tea was served by the members of the St. Michael's, Basingstoke, ringers and lady helpers in the Church Cottage.

Ringing was resumed after tea in several towers in the District, to complete a very successful day. Thanks are expressed to Mr. Jack Chatterman, the District secretary, Mr. Andrew Taylor and Mr. Paul Holmes for tea and ringing arrangements, and clergy for the service and use of bells.

R. R. S.

POSTAL TROUBLES

With the uncertainties of post, this has been a difficult week for 'The Ringing World.' Fortunately those who obtain their copies through newsgagents should have received them at the usual time.

It was not until after mid-day last Friday that the Postal Authorities informed us that they were prepared to accept the journal at letter rate.

Unfortunately the weight was a shade over one oz. and necessitated 4½d. postage. There was no time to trim the copies as they were all bundled ready for franking. This involved 'The Ringing World' in an extra £20 but we felt in view of the continued generosity of readers we could not let them down: we regarded it as our duty to do everything possible to minimise any delay in distribution.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD

Coleshill was the venue for the quarterly meeting of the St. Martin's Guild, held on July 4th. The very fine crocketed spire is a landmark for miles around, and contains a ring of eight bells, hung anti-clockwise. The Vicar conducted the Guild's form of service in the chancel, which was followed by tea and the meeting in the Town Hall.

Miss Rosemary Tailby, of King's Norton, was elected a member of the Guild, and the tower elections, as life members, of Kenneth J. Hesketh (Liverpool) and Geoffrey Pearson (Cambridge) were duly ratified.

The secretary reported that the memorial tablet to the late Albert Walker was now complete and would shortly be fixed in St. Martin's tower. Notice would be given in 'The Ringing World' to enable anyone who wished to attend the unveiling ceremony.

The Master referred to the Guild's Tuesday evening practices, and regretted that in recent weeks they had been poorly attended. One reason for this might be that St. Martin's bells were not easy to ring, but the practice had served a useful purpose in the past, and opportunities still existed for ringers desirous of taking advantage of them. The secretary was of the opinion that learners would profit by learning to master the handling of awkwardly going bells, and advised them not to stay away from the practice because the bells did not run perfectly.

It was decided to experiment by holding a monthly practice at various towers in the diocese, in an endeavour to interest ringers who did not normally attend meetings of the Guild.

The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Vicar for the use of the bells and for conducting the service, and to the ladies who provided an excellent tea.

A COLLECTION OF DOUBLES METHODS

Compiled by
GEOFFREY K. DODD and ROY H. JONES

This collection contains many of the 'variations' that have been rung. There is no doubt that some have been omitted. It is hoped that ringers will add these in due course.

Many of the names have been duplicated and several methods have more than one name. Where possible the original name has been traced and used. We hope that conductors will not be offended because the name they used has been disregarded.

Mr. Percy Amos sent many of the 'Saints Methods' and his names have been used. Information regarding 'names' which has appeared in 'The Ringing World' has been acted on.

Our grateful thanks to all those ringers who were kind enough to send their Doubles Methods or information to either of us. Without their help this collection would have been impossible.

We hope that some of the confusion with regard to 'names' and 'composition' will be ended by this collection. It is hoped also that it will be of use to ringers of Doubles.

Letters to the Editor

East Anglian Television

Dear Sir,—One further East Anglian item that appeared on television has not yet been mentioned. A short film was shown on the day after the birth of the Queen's fourth child on the 'East at six-ten' programme on B.B.C. There were pictures of Gresham's School boys ringing handbells in a cart which was towed round the town of Holt and a recording of Bob Doubles on handbells.

The ringing took place on a moving cart which toured the town as the parish church in Holt has but two bells and although these were raised and rung, it was felt that the music of eight handbells was probably better.—Yours, etc.,

PAUL CATTERMOLLE.

St. Peter-de-Witton, Droitwich Spa.
Droitwich Spa.

Jasper Snowdon had the Answer

Dear Sir,—Your correspondent, writing about the nature of rows, seems to need sledgehammers with which to crack very small nuts.

Eighty odd years ago Jasper Snowdon settled this matter very simply in 'Treble Bob,' Part I. Just write out the row to be tested and bring it back to rounds one pair at a time. Only a few exchanges are needed to do this, and generally the nature of the row becomes evident before the job is completed. Perhaps this is unscientific.—Yours sincerely,

PETER LAFLIN.

Heaviley, Stockport.

Robert Roan

Dear Sir,—I would be grateful if one of your more erudite readers would confirm or dispel my suspicions that the article on the origins of change ringing by Mr. Ernest Weatherby contains several inaccuracies.

Firstly, I can find no mention in any of the historical and topographical works I have consulted of the existence of a Benedictine monastery in Cambridge. The Church of St. Bene't was, for a time, the chapel of Corpus Christi college. The nearest religious house to Cambridge appears to have been Barnwell Priory, which was Augustinian.

The last of the monastic establishments was dissolved in 1540, so that Robert Roan must have been a veritable Methuselah if he was still alive in 1625, assuming, as Mr. Weatherby implies, that he was the monk in question.

According to Trollope, Robert Roan was sworn Clerk of the Pantry under the Board of the Greencloth (Lord Chamberlain's Office), joined the College Youths in 1647 and was Master in 1652. Thomas Roan was Master in 1689.—Yours sincerely, W. E. BOX.
Harborne, Birmingham.

Dear Sir,—Re the origin of Grandsire Doubles by Ernest Weatherby, I think that Armiger Trollope would turn in his grave if he could read it.

I have not read anywhere that there is any evidence to suggest that Robert Roan was a monk, but even if he was I find it hard to accept the fact that he sent the figures of Grandsire or Plain Bob to the College Youths 87 years after the suppression of the monasteries.

Really, Mr. Editor, Mr. Weatherby makes the most telling statement in his last paragraph, when he states that very few ringers know anything about Robert Roan. You're telling me!—Sincerely yours, ERNEST J. ROWE.

Tottenham, N.

Stowmarket Appeal

Dear Sir,—I thank you most sincerely for the help given through 'The Ringing World' to the Stowmarket appeal. On July 2nd I sat at the south porch of our church from 7.30 a.m. to 7.30 p.m. for what was to be one of the most memorable days of my life. At 7.30 a.m. the first caller brought a signed promise of a covenant scheme which would bring in £100—a fine worm for an early bird! We never looked back! I had callers at the rate of two a minute, on average, for most of the day until about 6 p.m. About noon the postman brought the letters—from as far away as Scotland, Ireland, Bath and Lewes. I cannot mention more. It was as exciting reading out the messages and announcing the donations to the little crowd who had gathered as the best man's duty at a wedding! We were thrilled! Among letters coming before and since were collected donations from 'the home tower,' where I learned the art as a boy, and from the tower where I was curate and often rang with the band. These most moving and heart-warming replies echoed in every letter.

The callers from the town filled fourteen pages of a book with their signatures. People from the surrounding villages came, too. I had a wonderful time playing an old phonograph with its round record of bell accompaniment, to the joy and amazement of many old hands as well as the young and curious!

There were smiles all round—the broadest on the faces of the ringers and the church officials. What a day! There was everything, from bun pennies to five pound notes and £10 cheques, and the total now stands at £245 for this appeal. What a cheering experience! If you wish to share it with your readers please do. They deserve it.—Yours sincerely,

A. ARTHUR MUXLOW (Rev.).

The Vicarage, Stowmarket, Suffolk.

Striking Competitions

Dear Sir,—Following up Mr. Hall's letter about judging striking competitions ('R.W.' June 12th). I feel sure readers would welcome an informative article on the subject from one of our Devon or Cornish call change judges, who could give us the benefit of his experience, and explain the principles on which their system is based.

These competitions are obviously gaining in popularity, which is a good thing, but whilst most ringers have their own ideas on judging, information from an area where good striking is an established tradition could provide a useful pointer in formulating general principles, especially for Branches who may be considering the introduction of striking competitions in the near future.

Perhaps one of our estimable C.C. representatives in the area might be able to do a little missionary work on our behalf?—Yours sincerely,

JOHN BRAIN.

Backwell, Somerset.

Old Peals

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. F. C. W. Knight (page 464) the peal containing 194 bobs and 46 singles was of course a 'Bob and Single' peal, most likely Taylor's or Vicar's, and the other one with 98 bobs and 2 singles called from the second would doubtless be Holt's Ten-Part.—Yours faithfully,

E. V. RODENHURST.

Prees Green, Salop.

'Spike' Stays

Dear Sir,—Those of us who make a habit of visiting ancient and dilapidated belfries are all conscious that 'spike' stays are by no means unusual. Sometimes they were used when the space is particularly confined.

Even more strange are the stays on the three bells at Stratford Toney, in Wiltshire. These are of conventional pattern, but roped and nailed to the wheels. At Winterbourne Gurney, in the same county, where two bells occupy an ancient three bell frame, the bells still have 4 wheels (but I think these are modern copies of their predecessors). One of the bells has a stay six foot long protruding from the centre of the headstock. Why? I can only guess that it is to prevent the bell being rung up too high.—Yours sincerely,

A. CLAYTON

Tooting Graveney, S.W.

Doubles Methods

Dear Sir,—I worked out the Doubles variations using Antelope singles many years ago. The majority of them were rung during July of 1961. All of these variations have extents with the 2nd as observation.

We have also rung the following concotions in handbell peals.

Allestree—Grandsire with Antelope calls.
Alvaston—Plain Bob with Plain Bob hobs and Old singles. (I have a note of this being rung at Alvaston in 1956.)

Shardlow—Reverse Canterbury with Plain Bob bobs and Old singles.

There are also the following Doubles METHODS which are not in the Doubles Collection.

DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION Chesterfield District

The attendance was lower than usual—probably due to the holiday season—at the Chesterfield District's meeting at Barlborough on July 11th.

Ringling during the afternoon ranged from rounds and call changes to Killamarsh T.B. and Cambridge before the company of some 20 members and friends adjourned to the nearby Church Hall for tea.

In his welcome, the Vicar told us of his experience of bell hanging in South Africa, which consisted of a large bolt striking a ploughshare hung from a tree!

David Nuttall (Staveley) was elected a new member, and the District secretary (Mr. M. Phipps) gave preliminary details of this year's outing—to Oxfordshire on September 12th. After the vote of thanks to the Vicar, local ringers and ladies for providing the tea further ringling was enjoyed on the 11 cwt six until 8.30 p.m.

Next meeting: Bolsover (8) and Scarescliffe (5), August 3rd (joint meeting). M. P. P.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Mr. L. H. Bywaters, the chairman of the Biggleswade District, and the local tower captain, was the Ringing Master when the Biggleswade District held an evening meeting at Henlow on July 11th.

Although it was only an evening meeting there was a good number of both District members and visitors present, and the nice ring of six was put to good use.

The varied ringing catered for all tastes and many different Minor methods were rung before the meeting ended just before 9 p.m.

Next meeting: Eaton Socon, August 8th.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Devizes Branch

About 40 members tried their handling on the long draught eight at Urchfont on July 4th, when the Devizes Branch held their quarterly meeting there. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. R. H. Owen, a full choir attended and the organist was a local ringer.

After an excellent tea, the business meeting was conducted by the chairman, Mr. N. Knee. The members stood in memory of the Rev. S. L. R. Sharp, late of Bishop's Cannings, who had always been a great friend of the Branch.

The chairman drew attention to slack ringing habits which were creeping in among some of the junior members and appealed to everyone to check them whenever they appeared. The next meetings were fixed for Bratton, Upavon and Bishop's Cannings, subject to confirmation. After the votes of thanks ringing was continued. A. K.

Salisbury Branch

The practice meeting of the Salisbury Branch, held on June 27th at Britford, was made the occasion of a striking competition. This was the second organised by the Branch, but unfortunately entries were down on the previous year. Results: 1 Fittleton (Grand-sire), 2 Wilton (Stedman), 3 St. Thomas', Salisbury (Grandsire). We are most grateful to the Rev. R. Keeley, Messrs. N. Knee and G. Harding for their help as judges. G. A. T.

DURHAM UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

This year's annual outing was held on June 20th, when five towers in Northumberland were visited. Rothbury, a town beautifully situated amongst the hills in the north west, was the first tower. Coffee was taken before ringing on the bells—a fairly good sounding 13 cwt. eight. It was a pleasant route over the moors to Bamburgh, where we had lunch. Some were daring enough to defy the cold wind and venture into the sea; others went for a brisk walk along the beach and admired the magnificent castle on the headland. Later the bells were raised in peal and a pleasant hour's ringing was spent on this good 13 cwt. eight.

A coast road was taken to Newton Hall, where it was planned to ring for three-quarters of an hour. It turned out to be a mission church without a tower and one small bell—there is another Newton Hall in the county. A relaxing hour was spent on the beach sunbathing. As we left Newton Hall there was a wet dress flapping from the sun-roof. (I hasten to add that the owner had been 'padding' and was now suitably garbed in a large raincoat.)

The bells of Embleton (6. 11 cwt.) did not prove to be as interesting or as beautiful as the church. The tenor rope broke as they were being lowered and this caused a 20-minute delay while it was spliced. Tea was taken at Alnwick, and then came the excellent eight at Morpeth Watch Tower, where the bells were rung for an hour. At Cramlington, the last tower, the Vicar allowed us to ring fully-muffled in view of the late hour from 8.15-9 p.m. Our thanks to incumbents and those who met us. B.R.

MEDIAEVAL BELL FOUNDRIES OF NORWICH

By T. A. BEVIS

THE mediaeval bell foundries were equal to that at Norwich, which for a period of 200 years, through the excellence of its products, particularly from an artistic point of view, was in great demand with ecclesiastical authorities far and near.

The BRASIER family were largely responsible for the evident popularity of this flourishing business for in the course of its existence it had many managers. Members of the Brasier family enjoyed eminent positions in the civic life of Norwich city, and it is gratifying that a number of bells from this establishment can still be heard above the hustle and bustle of Norwich and over the Norfolk and Suffolk countryside.

The earliest Norwich founder, WILLIAM DE NORWYCO (also said to have practised under the name WILLIAM BRASIERE DE NOTTYNGHAM) was admitted to the Freedom of Norwich in 1376. He is credited with bells at Hellesdon, Barford, Little Melton, Thurne, Conington and one which hung in the cupola of the old St. Andrew's Hall, Norwich (removed in 1863). This bell is now to be seen in the St. Peter Hungate Museum of the city of its origin.

Following William de Norwyco's death, the business was continued by JOHN SUTTON, 'BELEZET', who in 1404 was admitted to the liberty of the city: unfortunately no bells have as yet been associated with Sutton as his work. The first accepted connection with the Brasiers—THOMAS POTTER—followed Sutton, the former name indicative of one who manufactured pots as well as bells, and whose trade-mark depicted a three-legged vessel. He also employed two very distinctive sets of lettering for his bells, both alphabets different to those used by the Brasiers.

The Brasiers or Brasieres (various spellings) were an old and esteemed Norwich family, and appear to have trodden in the footsteps of RICHARD BAXTER, who cast bells between 1416-1424. They are accurately recorded from as early as 1386. Robert Brasier, a city bailiff, is mentioned for 1391, 1398 and 1403, the latter year in which he was chosen to be one of the city's first sheriffs. In 1410 he was elected Mayor and Burgess, and represented Norwich in two Parliaments—1st and 5th of Henry V.

Robert Brasier, whose probable occupation was that of a mercer, directed in his will that his remains be interred in the Chapel of the Blessed Mary on the north side of St. Stephen's Church, Norwich.

PETER BONDE BRASIER (Sheriff in 1424) is thought not to have been a bell-founder, but a worker in brass. RICHARD BRASIER, who was admitted to the Freedom of the City in 1424 was without any doubt a founder. In the 'Free Book' of Norwich, is recorded 'Rics. Brasier Goldsmith, Robert Brasier Belzet.' In that entry there is an element of doubt as to whether he was admitted as a bell-founder or goldsmith. In 1450 it was decreed that the admissions should be entered under the various trades; consequently Richard is listed as a bell-founder and goldsmith. This man was an eminent figure in civic business, serving as Sheriff and Mayor (in the latter instance, twice, in 1456 and 1463). He served Norwich well and in 1452 received the city's thanks for his diligence.

Richard Brasier devised all his tenements called 'lez werkhouse' in the Parish of St. Stephen, to his son, who received all tools and instruments appertaining to the trade, except pots and bell-metal, which the father called 'pot-metal.' and the pots newly made, these to be sold. Richard junior had also inherited his father's prowess in civic affairs and was duly elected to the offices of Sheriff and Mayor. His will directed the executors to place a marble stone displaying his arms and an image of both him and his wife above the tomb, and also a stone for his father's tomb.

The Brasier establishment was situated at the north-east corner of St. Stephen's parish. A triangular plot of ground bounded by Red Lion-street and Rampart House-lane and Little Oxford-street in the King's Map of Norwich, 1766, is marked 'foundry'; it is also referred to by Blomefield as 'A Workhouse.'

Specimen of lettering and foundry marks

Norwich has about nine bells by the Brasiers: four at the cathedral, one at St. George, Colegate (and the crown of another), one each at St. Giles and St. Julian and two at St. Catherine, Mile Cross (according to information received).

Concerning this well-known enterprise, Walters (Church Bells of Essex) says: 'A surprisingly large number of these beautiful Brasier bells . . . are to be found in East Anglia. In Norfolk, out of over 300 ancient, at least 137 are by these founders . . . Dr. Raven reckons about 100 in Suffolk, and there are two in Cambridgeshire, and one at Ford Abbey, Dorset.'

The Brasier alphabet is an admirable example of artistic skill practised by a craft at a time when bells performed a more useful part between Church and laity than perhaps they do nowadays. The beautiful lettering employed by them is rarely surpassed; it may be seen in various sizes—the largest type generally used for large bells. There are at least two different shields displaying three bells, a crown and ermine, and sometimes sprigged. Another mark used by the foundry was that of a lion's head, sometimes incorporating a cross (see illustrations).

Inscriptions on Brasier bells are also worthy of note. All of course, are in Latin, a few translations being:

- 'I have the name of Gabriel sent from Heaven.'
- 'May thy offspring, Anna, feed us with celestial manner.'
- 'The sound of Giles rises to the vaults of Heaven.'
- 'I am, when rung, called Mary the Rose of the world.'
- 'May Nicholas strive to join us with Christ on high.'
- 'May this ring be blessed, by the function of the Baptist,' etc.

When the last of the Brasiers had died the business was taken over by William Barker (bells cast between 1530-1538) who used his predecessors' moulds and type. Thomas Lawrence, who, it is believed, had connections with the celebrated Culverden, acquired the Norwich premises after Barker's death in 1545. Lawrence expired in 1582, the foundry passing into the hands of John Brend 'who crowded his bells with the initials of subscribers and parishioners, and whose lettering is large and clumsy, and arabic numerals very misleading.' Brend died in 1582, 'greatly indebted to diverse men in diverse sums of money.'

Finally the ancient establishment was removed by William Brend to the parish of All Saints. Thus the remaining link with a renowned medieval bell-foundry—the birthplace of fine Gothic bells for fine Gothic churches—was completely severed.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY GUILD

Last term the University of Dublin Guild of Change Ringers was started, under the auspices of the University Central Music Committee. The president is Professor F. E. Vokes, B.D.; the Ringing Master A. Vere Hodge, the secretary treasurer Miss E. A. Sadler (c/o No. 6, Trinity College, Dublin), and the committee member is Miss M. Bernard Smith. There are at present about 30 members and ringing for services and practice takes place in Dublin's four towers and others nearby. We have been on a tour of the southern towers in Ireland, and in October we are going on a tour of North Wales, at the invitation of the ringers of the Welsh Universities.

MELTON MOWBRAY

A happy choice of good towers was made by the Melton Mowbray ringers and friends for their annual outing. Leaving Melton at 7.45 a.m. an hour was spent at the first tower, the old Norman church of Melbourne, Derbyshire. Then came the beautiful eight at Uttoxeter, where the ringing was very good. An excellent lunch at the Meeting Point Restaurant preceded our visit to Stafford, where we had the pleasure of ring for a bridal couple. Alrewas bells (8) gave pleasure, and after a tea break a move was made to Atherstone, where there is a new eight, which are a delight to ring.

A warm welcome awaited us at Chilvers Coton, the last tower, from Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Beaumish, their daughter and lady ringers, who took part in the ringing. Melton was reached about 10.15; the excellent arrangements were by Mr. R. E. Manton.

PETERBOROUGH

An enjoyable day was spent in Derbyshire on June 27th by ringers and friends of St. John's Church, Peterborough.

The coach left at 8.15 a.m. and Derby Cathedral was reached on time. The beautiful 10 were thoroughly enjoyed by all, and was the initiation into 10 bell ringing for some of the younger members who handled very well indeed. We then took a short walk to St. Alkmund's Church and spent half an hour on short touches of Double Norwich, Plain Bob and Stedman. We had lunch at Youlgrave before climbing the tower steps to tackle the heaviest ring of the day.

Then on to Ashover, Darley Dale, Matlock and, finally, Heanor: a welcome awaited the party at each tower and in two instances we found the bells raised. On the homeward journey, one call was made for hard-earned refreshments, and Peterborough was reached by 11.30 p.m.

We extend our thanks to our Branch president, Mr. J. H. Bluff, and to all who helped to make the trip so enjoyable.

OUTINGS*OTTERY ST. MARY, DEVON

Not blessed with this year's usual fine weather but nevertheless in high spirits, two coachloads of ringers with their families and friends departed at 8 a.m. on June 6th for the annual outing.

This year it was to Somerset, with Bridgewater as the first stop. We did not really get to grips with this fairly heavy ring of eight and the striking left a lot to be desired.

Promising to do better at the next tower, Wrington, we certainly did on the very fine ten, with the aid of the local ringer who rang the tenor and kept things moving. A reasonable touch of Grandsire Caters (one of the best of the day) was brought round by Cyril.

Mr. Price, the tower captain, met us at Yatton and our thanks to him for conducting a very musical touch of Stedman Triples. A most enjoyable hour was spent ringing on the magnificent eight bells even though the Oxford Treble Bob Major came to grief.

Thank goodness the rain had stopped when we reached Weston-super-Mare. No ringing had been arranged here, and most of the party seemed quite pleased when we were on our way towards Taunton. Here, at St. Mary's, several of the local ringers were present and had kindly raised the 'back four.' With some help a plain course of Grandsire Cinques just about came round. A few more touches of Grandsire and Stedman Caters and it was time to lower for the last time.

The programme said we were due to leave Taunton at 9 p.m., but should we go on and leave the Arbury brothers and Edward behind? Eventually they arrived—apologies for taking the wrong turning—complaints about distances between church, 'pub' and coach—but your correspondent suggests that Jim had got involved with one of his fishing stories.

Our thanks include the organiser, Charles Turner, who once again produced an outing with first class bells, immaculate time keeping and good company.

C. C. T.

COALBROOKDALE, SALOP

The weather was beautiful as we left Coalbrookdale for the annual outing, on Independence Day. At Ledbury, the first tower, we had to wait while a funeral procession passed, and then while the Little Aston and Lichfield ringers rang. They made a far better job of their Cambridge and Plain Bob than we did of our Grandsire. The large amount of free rope rather disturbed our ringers.

We had lunch at Ross, but, owing to lack of time, had to leave the glorious eight after a course of Plain Bob Major and some Grandsire. Monmouth was a long climb for quite a reasonable eight, and we gave our non-change ringers some practice, and also rang Stedman Triples. Another long climb was necessary to the rather loud but fine ten at Leominster, where the only decent ringing was a course of Stedman Triples.

After dining at Leominster, our last tower was Eardisland. As generally happens, the best ringing of the day was enjoyed on the very fine light eight. It included Plain Bob Major, Stedman Triples and our promised course of Kent.

We thank Graham Rich for a well organised outing; also the incumbents.

ASHCOTT, SOMERSET

An enthusiastic party of Ashcott ringers and friends enjoyed their summer outing to Weymouth to sunbathe on the beach and take the first dip of the year. On the journey down a halt was made at Evershot (6, 8 cwt.) to ring touches of Grandsire, All Saints and Plain Bob.

After Weymouth, the delightful village of Upwey was visited. Here we were greeted by the Vicar and a local ringer and the pleasant six bells were ably handled. As the bells were ringing others of the party made their way to drink of the crystal-clear waters of the famous wishing well. More ringing took place at Maiden Newton and there was a stop at a fish bar at Ilchester to renew acquaintance with former Ashcott people. Mr. and Mrs. K. Prime thank all those who made the day so successful and ask for their support next year.

Those who rang the peal at St. Michael's Cornhill, on Saturday, July 11th, would like to associate with it the name of the Society's senior Past Master, Mr. Albert A. Hughes, whose 79th birthday anniversary fell on that day. Mr. Hughes was for many years a regular Sunday ringer at Cornhill.

After an absence of 30 years Mr. Walter L. C. (Bill) Barlow's name is back in the peal columns with a peal by the Society of Windsor Youths. He was one of the band taught at St. Andrew's, Enfield, in 1930, by Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fletcher. Are any more of the band still ringing?

The peal in 21 Doubles methods at Whitney-on-Wye, for the Hereford Diocesan Guild (see page 423), was rung on Sunday, May 31st, in 2 hours and 42 minutes, now writes Mr. Colin A. Lewis.

A subscriber is asking for information concerning the Ernest Morris stained glass window which was to have been placed in St. Margaret's Church. Information from Leicester friends would be welcome.

On July 18th a party of German visitors from Darmstadt visited Chesterfield Parish Church for an organ recital by their organist. In honour of the occasion the Chesterfield District of the Derbyshire Diocesan Association were invited to ring the bells as a welcome to the visitors.

The Rev. Peter N. Bond writes expressing grateful thanks to many friends in Somerset for help and kindness during his recent holiday at Clevedon. He specially mentions Mr. and Mrs. Michael Horseman for ringing arrangements and hospitality, and Mr. Yates and ringers at Exeter Cathedral and St. Petrock's.

The meeting at Orton, near Penrith, on July 18th was the first meeting of the Cumberland and North Westmorland Association in the tower for at least 40 years. With the help of two ringers from Kirkby Stephen, 15 miles away, the new Vicar has got the bells going again and they have taught a band of young ladies. The Vicar's car travels 60 miles every Monday night.

BELFRY GOSSIP

During a South Midlands Peal Week, organised by Mr. Cyril A. Wratten, 12 peals were rung out of 18 attempts. Peals lost included seven Spliced Surprise at Usk after 2½ hours' good ringing. Conductors were Robert C. Kippin, George E. Thoday, D. John Hunt and Cyril A. Wratten.

Holt's Original was rung silent and non-conducted at Harrow Weald, Middlesex on July 16th.

Mr. Gordon A. Halls, who is bell consultant to the Derbyshire Association, is to be appointed adviser on bells to the Diocesan Advisory Committee.

Mr. Norman Chaddock writes with knowledge on English handbell ringing in the current issue of the American magazine 'Overtones.' Another valuable article, with music, is 'Westminster Chimes' by Harry A. Sykes, First Christian Church, Galesbury, Ill., U.S.A.

The quarter rung at Ebbw Vale on June 28th was a farewell to both Canon Oliver Davies, B.A., who was largely responsible for the installation of the bells, and Mr. R. Stephens, and as a tribute to Mr. T. Stephens, who has retired after 25 years as tower Master.

If the person who lost a black silk headscarf at the Chesterfield District's meeting at Creswell on June 13th would care to contact the District secretary, Malcolm Phipps, 18, Dowdeswell Street, Chesterfield, Derbys, it will be returned.

A peal of Grandsire Caters was rung as a farewell peal for Malcolm M. Powell and John H. Taylor, who have graduated at Southampton University this year and are now leaving Hampshire. They have both learned quite a lot about ringing during their stay in Southampton and returned this 'in kind' by very regular attendance for Sunday service ringing at St. Michael's, Southampton. The latter has been much appreciated by a local band which is currently at a low ebb through recent losses caused by ringers leaving the area. Our best wishes go with Malcolm and John, in their future careers and in their ringing, writes P. R. S.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE
BELLRINGERS' SOCIETY

Freedom from exams in the last week enabled the Society to enjoy a week of relaxation and ringing. On June 19th, six members revisited Hunsingore (6) to hear from the active 80-year-old verger that a team from Bradford Cathedral had visited the tower recently without much success! The College team fared probably worse — part of the second's wheel rim came off and the tenor's rope broke (fortunately, later, time was sufficient to allow a revisit and to effect the necessary repairs). At Kirk Deighton (6) a noisy tenor put some of the members off their stride.

On June 21st, the silent ring at St. Leonard's, Malton (8), was rung for an hour in the evening. The pre-war station wagon which the team were using caused a look of incredulity on the face of a sweating Malton policeman as it passed him on the way to Whitwell-on-the-Hill (6) where the recently restored six were rung in short bursts for nearly an hour. The team were then nobly entertained by Mr. Fox, the churchwarden, and his wife and daughter.

On June 22nd, six members attempted to score a peal of Plain Bob Minor at Bramham. The amazing thing was that the attempt started off without hitches and was going quite well until . . . approx. 2,800 changes and 'stand.' So it's up to next year's members to try and score the Society's first peal.

Finally, seven members and two non-ringing friends had an afternoon and evening tour on June 24th. The first tower visited was Wye-ham (5), where the bells hang in a detached tower, which also acts as a gatehouse to the churchyard. Then to Scalby (6), where the Ringing Master failed miserably in trying to call a quarter peal in five Doubles. After an hour in the sun by the sea at Scarborough, the steps to St. Mary's Church were climbed and, joined by Bert Sutton and three of the Scarborough team: the eight bells were rung for an hour. Then came the run to Kirkby Moorside (6) where low sallies upset the ringing. A drink at the 'Black Swan' and fish-and-chips finished off a most enjoyable day (and also a very active first year). M. K.

OBITUARY

CHRISTINE CAROLYN GOLDEN

The whole Exercise will unite in sympathy with the President of Norwich Diocesan Association, Nolan Golden, and with Iris and Hilary, in the loss of Christine at the age of eighteen years.

She was proving a worthy daughter of a Diocesan president. She had been elected a member of the Association in March, 1957, and was making progress in Minor and Triples.

A gay and happy personality, she had many friends, amongst the Exercise, in the Norwich Union Insurance Society where she worked, and in the locality. During her illness, she never complained, and was indeed an inspiration to all who were able to see her.

May she rest in peace.—Gilbert Thurlow.

OUTINGS

KINGSTON'S WEEKEND IN SHREWSBURY

The perennial Kingston week-end opened in Shrewsbury this year, under the guidance of Margaret Lewis. At Wroxeter (6) on Saturday morning we collected Michael Bangham and his non-ringing mother who, plunged into campanulistics, contracted out by falling down and retiring temporarily to hospital. Irrepressible Fred Dukes and his family augmented us to 24 at Coalbrookdale, and the date echoed back our Double Norwich Caters on these attractive bells. Ambition thus whetted and lunch-time thirsts slaked, four-spliced Surprise Major was rung at Madeley before fitting five towers comfortably into as many hours. Perhaps the most outstanding visit was to the largely Rudhall eight at Much Wenlock. Culturally however, the crown went to Stokesay and its 13th century fortified manor house next to the church.

Kingston Treble Bob Minor was dutifully rung at Hope Bowdler. Here Stanley Crouch's newly-affiliated Pauline and her Horsell (Woking) contingent showed us what Reverse Canterbury Pleasure Bob Doubles meant. Not so similarly, Tony Bishop made us demonstrate later what could be done with Surfleet.

Devious entertainments followed supper, handbells being amongst the more commonplace. But an early start on Sunday morning was rewarded by a ring on Shrewsbury's fine ten and twelve bell rings at St. Mary's and St. Chad's—surely the highlights of the trip. Lunch at the Red Lion outside Wellington was preceded by half an hour's handbell ringing on the lawn in brilliant sunshine, and then we made for the six at Tong, with its 2½ ton Bourdon bell. We were now homeward bound, and brought the evening to a colourful close with six-spliced Surprise Major for service at Shirley, Warwickshire. Thus from Doubles to Siedman Cinques, the range of methods had been full enough for everyone's desires.

Our sincere thanks are due to Margaret Lewis for her organisation, and we wish her well in her new tower, Farnborough (Hants). We are also indebted to the incumbents and hands of all the towers visited, for a thoroughly enjoyable week-end. W. H. J.

ITCHINGFIELD, SUSSEX

St. Nicolas', Itchingfield, ringers and their friends from the neighbouring towers of Billingshurst, Warnham, Horsham and West Grinstead chose East Sussex for their first outing this year. As we have only a light five bell tower, we were grateful to have a number of experienced ringers with us and, in fact, the ringing ranged from rounds to Surprise methods.

Our 41 seater coach was somewhat delayed by traffic and was unfortunately a little late at the first and best tower of the day at Wadhurst. However, we left late rather than curtail our ringing time, and made up lost time on the way to Bodiam. Resisting the temptation to see over the castle, we eventually found the picturesque little church, with its light six.

Our able secretary, Mrs. K. Hoare, had arranged tea at Batemans, the National Trust owned home of Kipling. Alas, we lost about half the party here temporarily, the attractions of Kipling's home proving irresistible to the less bell-struck of our party. The remainder adjourned to Burwash Church, where some of the best ringing of the afternoon was had.

At Heathfield the long draught caused a little difficulty, and Mayfield, the last tower, was not really suitable for beginners, but the more experienced met the challenge with a couple of fairly good touches. Certainly, these two towers taught our younger ringers that there is a big gap in experience between the ability to make pleasing music on one's own bells and that of being able to strike a strange bell well.

We look forward now to our main outing on September 19th, which will be a full day in Kent. C.M.G.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION Frome Branch

The second quarterly meeting of the Branch was held at Compton Dando on July 11th. Ringing started at 3 p.m. after search parties had been formed to locate the whereabouts of the Ringing Master who, after leading two of his comrades three miles up the wrong lane, was last seen walking across a field toward the wrong church. On his arrival some 15 minutes later, ringing maintained a somewhat steadier pattern culminating in an excellent service touch at 4.30.

The Rev. A. J. Frith conducted the service and tea followed in the village hall. At the business meeting six towers in the branch proposed eleven new members and nine non-resident life members were put forward for election, all being accepted.

Members then stood in silence to mark the passing of the Rev. W. M. K. Warren, past Master of the Association. The annual general meeting was fixed for Midsomer Norton, all facilities being available. Mr. F. Savage in proposing the usual vote of thanks specially mentioned Mrs. Frith and her helpers for an excellent tea. Ringing on handbells and in the tower then continued until 8.30 p.m.

Next quarterly, Doulting, October 10th.

MR. CLAUDE RUSH DELVES INTO 'CHURCH BELLS'

Volume VIII, Advent 1877 - Advent, 1878

ST. MARTIN'S, DORKING, SURREY

The fine ring has lately (i.e., to January 5th, 1878) been hung in the new tower by Messrs. Hooper and Stokes, of Woodbury, near Exeter, running for the first time on December 21st, 1877. 'The tenor weighs about 25 cwt.'

Nov. 18, 1878.—5,040 Grandsire Triples, 3 hrs. 20 mins. 'First peal on the bells since they were placed in the new tower.'

ALL SAINTS', OTLEY, YORKS.

Dec. 15, 1877.—8,000 Kent T.B. Major in 4 hrs. 28 mins. Tenor 16 cwt. J. W. Snowdon conducted on the tenor. . . . the first true exact 8,000 of Treble Bob Major which has ever been composed or rung without parting the tenors . . .

ST. MARY'S, LEWISHAM, KENT

Dec. 15, 1877.—Eight members of the Society of Lewisham Youths: 5,040 Holt's Ten-Part Grandsire Triples, in 2 hrs. 52 mins. Tenor 22½ cwt. Rung to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the rebuilding of the church and casting of the tenor.

AMERICAN CATHEDRALS

John Harris, writing from Bath, on Christmas Eve, 1877: . . . the only American cathedral like a British one was that of the diocese of Long Island at Garden City, now (1877) in course of erection at the sole expense of Mrs. Alexander T. Stewart (draper's widow) in memory of her husband . . . an outlay of £400,000. In the bell-chamber will be placed the chime of bells which were used in the machinery hall of the Centennial Exhibition—thirteen in number, weighing altogether 20,000 lbs., tenor D flat, 35 cwt., all cast by M'Shane, American founder . . . I only found one set that could be rung, the eight at Christ Church, Philadelphia, cast Whitechapel, 1754, tenor 18 cwt. . . . The only peal ever rung in the States was at this church, June 9th, 1850, by nine Englishmen . . . New York diocese has no cathedral . . . the heaviest bell seems to be at Strong Place Baptist Church, D flat, 36 cwt. 2 qr. 12 lb., cast by Meneelys, of West Troy, 1855.'

ALL SAINTS', FULHAM

Grandsire Caters, 26 Dec., 1877.—'The bells struck off into changes at 12.25. Some excellent ringing was heard till eight o'clock, when the conductor (J. W. Cattle) called "Stand," two bells having changed courses two leads previous.' The number of changes rung was 11,412—7 hours 35 minutes. Royal Cumberland Society (late London Scholars).

ST. DIONIS' BACKCHURCH,

FENCHURCH STREET, LONDON

8 Jan., 1878.—5,200 Kent T.B. Royal, 3½ hours. Ancient Society of College Youths. 'This is the last peal that will be heard from the above tower, as both church and tower are to be taken down in the course of the year.'

In 'Church Bells' in September, a report showed that the church was demolished, but the tower still stood. Mr. R. Payne, architect, suggested that the tower should be purchased by St. Botolph's, Aldersgate, 'and erected in lieu of the mean and unsightly structure of wood which now serves as the tower for the church.'

'The ring of bells from St. Dionis' are destined, we believe, for the neighbouring Church of All Hallows, Lombard Street. . . .

MILEHAM, NORFOLK

Tues., 8 Dec., 1877.—Special services, 8 and 11 a.m., and 7 p.m. to celebrate the opening of the new ring of bells. The four old bells, tenor cracked, had been taken down and disposed of, wisely or unwisely (the two trebles were cast by Draper in 1610 and 1608), and had been replaced by a new ring of five, tenor 7½ cwt., by Warner. A new floor and cage had been made for them by Crane and Son, of Fransham, and on the day of the opening they went well.

ST. CHAD'S HEADINGLEY, LEEDS

22 Dec., 1877.—5,056 Kent T.B. Major in 3 hours 8 minutes. Although these bells have for some time been augmented to eight, they have never before been fit for peal-ringing. . . . this being the first peal attempted.' Tenor 19 cwt. Conductor, Jasper W. Snowdon.

ST. ANN'S, WATH-UPON-DEARN

'On Shrove Tuesday, 27 Feb., 1816, was rung . . . 21 Peals (720's) . . . making in all 15,120 changes which were brought round in a grand and Masterly Style in Eight Hours and twenty-seven minutes without a man quitting his Rope . . . 6 bells.'

SS. MARY AND EANSWYTHE,

FOLKESTONE, KENT

Sunday, 17 Dec., 1815.—5,040 Bob Major, 3 hours 5 minutes, 'being the maiden peal on these bells.'

KELSEALE, SUFFOLK

'On 2 April, 1832, was completed on the pre-eminent Peal of Eight Bells . . . 6,016 changes of Oxford Treble Bob Major in 3 hours, 52 mins., being the first and only extraordinary changes ever completed on this Peal. They were performed by the Kelsale Society of Youths who had experienced only eight months' practice under the meritorious instruction of Benjamin Oldring. . . .

CATHEDRAL CLOCK, BELLS AND ## CHIMES AT WORCESTER

'The Dean and Chapter desire to express their deep sense of obligation to Rev. R. Cattle, for his unwearied exertions in raising no less a sum than £5,000 for these important objects . . . 27 Nov., 1877.'

MILTON-NEXT-SITTINGBOURNE, KENT

'A few days since (i.e., to 12 Jan., 1878) the fine tenor bell was cracked, owing to the clapper having worked down and so struck the bell too low. We have heard of other bells being cracked in the same way, owing to the neglect of not occasionally examining the clapper gear.'

ST. PAUL'S, SHIPLEY, YORKS.

5 Jan., 1878.—Quarterly meeting of the Yorkshire Association. Peal of 5,184 changes (? method) in the morning. 'At five o'clock more than 300 ringers sat down to tea. . . .

Apparently the next meeting, at Leeds, would have normally taken place in Lent so it was postponed.

This brought a note from the Editor.—'We hope the above example of not ringing pleasure peals during Lent will be followed by other associations.' The Editor repeatedly lashes out right and left to those who ring for pleasure during Lent, such as the footnote by him to a peal entry by the Ancient Society of College Youths—21 Mar., 1878, 5,040 Grandsire Triples at St. Matthew's, Upper Clapton, in 2 hours 59 minutes: 'Cannot our belfry friends in London and elsewhere practise a little self-denial during Lent, as is being done by eminent ringers in the North? An example worthy of imitation.'

And again: 'Friendly Hint to our Ringing Friends Generally. Will you, one and all, take into consideration—unbiased by any party feelings—the propriety of ringing pleasure peals during the season of Lent. . . .

ST. PHILIP'S, HULME, MANCHESTER

24 Dec., 1877.—5,040 Holt's Ten-Part Grandsire Triples, 2½ hours, 'it being the first peal ever rung on those bells by a company all connected with the church.' Ringers aged 19 to 25.

KEIGHLEY PARISH CHURCH

'On Christmas morning, 1877, immediately the clock struck twelve midnight, 720 changes of Bob Minor were rung in 27 minutes . . . tenor 15 cwt. The ringers volunteered their services two years ago after the bells had stood several months because the Rector refused to let them be rung for the successful candidates of the School Board. We would say to others who would become ringers "Never despair!" for time and patience overcome difficulties as in our case.'

SS. PETER AND PAUL, EYE, SUFFOLK

5 Jan., 1878.—'An excellent peal of 5,280 Kent T.B. Major in 3 hours 38 minutes.'

A correspondent, 'A College Youth' in the next issue of 'Church Bells' remarks, 'It would be satisfactory to know in what respect the peal of Kent T.B. at Eye on 5th inst. was "an excellent peal".'

(I see no reply to this in later issues.—C.R.)

CHURCH BELLS—WHAT DO THEY SAY?

An S.P.C.K. leaflet sets out what the Society considers are the proper occasions on which bells should be rung, then goes on—'In old and careless times church bells came to be rung on occasions where there was no thought of God—at sales, fairs, wakes, or feasts, where drinking and swearing, lust and all ungodliness and folly prevailed, as they do sometimes still. This cannot be right. . . . It is to prevent the wrong use of church bells that the care of them is entrusted to the clergyman of the parish, and he will gladly allow them to be rung on any occasion which is to the honour and glory of God.'

CLERGY AND RINGERS

J. R. Jerram, a correspondent, asks: 'As a matter of curiosity, may I ask what is your opinion of a parson who neither knows or cares about change-ringing; subscribes about 30/- annually to the ringers' fund; never enters the belfry at ringing times; gives several suppers and breakfasts to the ringers in the course of the year; likes to hear the bells on festivals, but thinks that ringing for practice at any other time all "bosh" (though he does not prohibit it); is very particular about the liquor question, takes a great interest in the choir and attends weekly at their practice; dislikes his ringers ringing anywhere else than at home, and objects to any non-parishioner being a ringer; thinks money spent on repairs to bell-gear all wasted; never comes near the ringers even at the suppers of his own providing (except once a year when the choir are included); expects all his ringers, nevertheless, to be model churchmen; thinks chiming much better than ringing, and consequently regards the steeple-keeper as the only one of the company of any real use?'

(I see no comment in subsequent issues.—C.R.)

IPSWICH SOCIETY OF CHANGE-RINGERS

17 Jan., 1878.—1,061 Grandsire Caters in 50 minutes. Tenor 32 cwt.—not mentioned, but, of course, at St. Mary-le-Tower.

'It will be seen that the above is no great skilful performance, but it is recorded merely to show the progress made since the formation of the Company about 12 months ago, at which time they were scarcely able to ring a course of Grandsire Triples, but through the kindness and perseverance of the old members, several young bands have been raised that are now able to acquit themselves creditably in various methods; so that, at last, it seems probable that this fine ring of 12 bells will have attached to them a good band of ringers which they so richly deserve. . . .

SAMUEL AND ROBERT TURNER, BELLHANGERS

By 1770 these two brothers had hung more than 50 ringers of bells for Lester and Pack, Whitechapel. They were employed all over England.

ST. PETER'S, THETFORD, NORFOLK

3 May, 1875.—'This peal of 8 Bells were Rehung and Returned to the Glory of God and the Honour of His Church by the exertions of the Rev. Reginald Hay Hill, Rector. The repairs were carried out most efficiently by Messrs. George Day and Son, Church Bell-hangers, of Eye.'

MONK BRETTON, BARNSELY, YORKS

12 April, 1878, opening of a ring of six 'magnificently presented by Miss Bright, of Monk Bretton, as a loving memorial to her two sisters. The first essay on the bells took place at ten o'clock by ringers from the adjoining parish of Royston. . . . Mr. T. Mallaby, of Marsham, to whom the hanging of the ring was entrusted. . . . superintended the whole series of performances. The village. . . was in a state of pleasurable and grateful excitement the whole evening up to ten o'clock. The ringers from St. Mary, Barnsley, came twice on Sunday, 14th. . . .

(The Editor added a note asking why so much pleasure afforded in the Lenten season.)

WEST BROMWICH, STAFFS

16 Mar., 1878, at Mr. Carter's, Churchfield, Holt's Original One-Part peal of Grandsire Triples on handbells in 2 hours 35 minutes, 'the first ever rung in the county upon handbells.'

A GENTLEMAN RINGER

But to return to 1877. Five days after the peal of Caters at Appleton seven members of the Oxford University Society—J. R. Keble, F. A. Milne, C. D. P. Davies, H. W. Ellicott, W. C. H. Burne, the Rev. F. E. Robinson and Phillott—were joined by Charles Troyte, who had been at Cambridge, and rang there 'the first peal ever rung by members of the two Universities without the assistance of any other persons.' The Editor of 'Church Bells' commented:

'The above unprecedented band regret to have been as it were obliged to ring in Lent; they might never again have the opportunity of pulling all together, for after Easter each would be scattered, one to this place and another to that, and therefore permission was yielded.'

and Phillott added: 'A peal but not well struck, the 5th being almost unpealable. The hardest job I ever had or ever wish to.'

In December of that year, Phillott, together with C. D. P. Davies, who was living in Cheltenham at that time, circulated all the Gloucestershire clergy, informing them that it was proposed to form 'in the diocese of Gloucester and Bristol, an association of Church Change-Ringers, similar to those already established in Devonshire, Durham and Norfolk.' The inaugural meeting was held in the Cathedral Chapter Room at Gloucester on Tuesday, January 8th, 1878, and the notebook contains a lengthy cutting about the new Association's first-annual meeting, held in Bristol during the following July.

Not content with such a 'first,' Phillott participated in another in August, when he was one of the party that met at Huntsham Court, the Devon home of Charles Troyte, for the first Ringing Week. A cutting from a local Devon paper makes interesting reading.

'...The ringing party did not expend all their energies in the Huntsham belfry: they paid a visit to Dunster, Somerset. and made excellent practice on the bells. ... Another day was spent in Tiverton. Mr. Troyte driving his guests there in his brake, for the "Squire of Huntsham" can handle "the ribbons" quite as well as "a bell rope," and to get "a team" nicely through our Devonshire lanes is quite as intricate a matter as to find one's way through the mazes of "Treble Bob" or "Superlative Surprise"! The neighbouring village of Oakford was also enlivened by musical strains, the result of the amateurs' efforts. There the good folks can boast of a peal of eight bells, and a still finer Rector, who gave the ringers a hearty welcome, and proved to the strangers that a west country parson is made of the right stuff. ... We wish we could have recorded some peals on (Exeter) Cathedral bells, as all Devonians know there are 10 bells in that fine old tower unsurpassed in all England in size and musical qualities: but until the hanging and fitting are seen to, there will be no ringing there worthy of the name, nor can those who ring for pleasure be expected to patronize the Cathedral belfry.'

One peal was rung during this week—Kent Treble Bob Major at All Saints', Huntsham, conducted by Joseph W. Snowden and credited to the Ancient Society.

On November 9th that year the new ring of twelve at St. Paul's Cathedral was opened. A cutting records that 'at 10 minutes to 6 the bells rang out a merry peal under the well-trained manipulation of the Society of College Youths. The Cathedral was crowded to the doors, and a large number of persons collected outside in the churchyard on the Ludgate-hill.' One of those listening was obviously Phillott, for he comments:

'A touch of Stedman Cinques was rung, but no one in the Church-yard could tell scarcely what was being rung, the hum of the bells being so great. The large bells are fine bells, the trebles and some of the small bells —'

The year 1878 was obviously a busy and interesting one, as the above shows, but no explanation can be found for a cutting which appears without comment opposite the report of the St. Paul's opening. In spite of its non-ringing nature, I will venture to repeat in case any members of the Ladies' Guild find it of interest (and value, perhaps?):

'The Uses of the Lemon.—A piece of lemon bound upon a corn will relieve it in a day or so. The free use of lemon-juice and sugar will always relieve a cough. A lemon eaten before breakfast every day for a week or so will entirely prevent that feeling of lassitude peculiar to the approach of spring. Perhaps its most valuable property is its absolute power to detecting any of the injurious and even dangerous ingredients entering into the composition of so very many of the cosmetics and face-powders in the market. Every lady should subject her toilet-powders to this test. Place a teaspoonful of the suspected powder in a glass, and add the juice of a lemon. If effervescence takes place it is an infallible proof that the powder is dangerous, and its use should be avoided, as it will ultimately injure the skin and destroy the beauty of the complexion.'

Over the next few years Pates rang in thirty or more peals of Grandsire, Stedman and Treble Bob. They included the first Oxford University Society peal, Stedman Triples at Drayton in 1882. Henry Johnson's last peal, Stedman Caters at Aston in 1884, and, two years later, the first peal of Grandsire with clergymen ringing the seven 'inside' bells, at Prestbury, near Cheltenham. This last was originally intended to have been a purely clerical peal, but two failures the previous day had put paid to the idea as the Rev. A. D. Hill was unable to stay for a further attempt, and Phillott rang in his stead. It was at Prestbury, too, that in the following year, 1887, he called his one and only peal as conductor. This was the first peal on the bells by a local band, and the composition was Taylor's bob-and-single Grandsire Triples.

Most of the peal cuttings have 'true peal' or 'very good and true peal' written against them, but occasionally there appears 'bad finish and not true peal,' 'not true—a shift course,' 'a true peal, but might have been better striking' or, simply, 'rough.' Some of the footnotes, too, make interesting reading:

'Rung on the occasion of the mustering of the Royal Gloucestershire Hussars for their annual drill' (Grandsire Caters at Cheltenham in May, 1885);

'Rung on the occasion of the opening of the New Water Works for the borough of Cheltenham. Dinner was provided for the ringers by the Mayor' (Treble Bob Major in October, 1886, also at Cheltenham).

Then in 1887 the Cheltenham ringers decided to try to beat the College Youths' record peal of 11,111 Stedman Caters rung at Fulham four years before. On Whit Monday, May 30th, they started for 12,345 with Phillott ringing the second, only to lose it after ringing some 8,500 changes in 5 hours 12 minutes when there was a trip in the Slow. (The College Youths were even more unfortunate that same day: they lost 10,030 Stedman Cinques at Cornhill in the very last course.) Quite undeterred by this failure, and by another on Boxing Day, when the same band only managed to ring between 5,000 and 6,000 changes, Phillott made his usual March journey to Appleton in 1888, and on the 5th of that month he rang the second there to a 12,041 conducted by James Washbrook: his comment is terse and to the point—'excellent peal.' 'The Bell News' was apparently a little doubtful about the truth of the peal, a composition of Washbrook's:

'The figures of the peal have been forwarded for publication, and they will be published next week, but we fervently hope that nothing will be found amiss with the composition, because it must be confessed that the talented conductor has been somewhat remiss

RECORD LENGTH OF DOUBLE NORWICH C.B. MAJOR

By BRIAN J. WOODRUFFE

IN a hollow beneath the stately hulk of the Brecon Beacons stands the solitary Church of St. Meugan. Solitary, because the majority of its parishioners have a good half-mile's walk to worship along a rising country lane. But the church is not forgotten, not by ringers at any rate, for in the last month it has witnessed four peals by four different hands.

Why, though, should such a peaceful spot at Llanfeigan, overlooking the pleasant and picturesque Usk Valley and the wooded slopes of the more distant Black Mountains, be chosen for a long peal?

The reasons are straightforward: several preliminary visits by scouting members of the band indicated that here was a very easy-going ring of eight bells (tenor 12 cwt.) in a cool yet comfortable belfry, situated well away from any residential areas. And so, the operation of making plans for an attempt began. Permission to ring was applied for and obtained.

SELECTING THE METHODS

All that remained were the band and method. Neither was simple. The ringers of the extent of Major were given the first choice: only four took the plunge again and we welcomed three more experienced long peelers and a newcomer, David Llewellyn, of Cardiff. However, the final team was not settled until about two weeks before the attempt, due to late alterations.

Then the method: originally Bristol, its fortunes wavered then from London to Belgrave and Yorkshire, back through two long peals until D.N.C.B. was finally agreed upon. The length was also indecisive. All we wanted really was to break the 60-year-old record of 17.104, but then it seemed a pity not to complete the half-extent of Major (20.160). Then having reached here, why not the church-bell record in changes (22.400) or in time, 12 hours 58 minutes (21.600 Bristol). It almost seemed we should end up attempting 40.320 D.N.C.B.! Our target was finally set at 23.072, if all went well: if not to reduce as necessary.

THAT HORRIBLE FEELING

Early on the morning of July 11th, three cars departed from the Maesllwch Arms at Glasbury-on-Wye and joined the string of West Wales holiday traffic almost to Brecon before turning off into the the country, and so on to Llanfeigan. A quick photograph for TWW, we believe, a few minor arrangements to ropes, and we were all ready to go. Once again that horrible feeling before a long peal of not wanting to ring but, at the same time, a longing to beat another record. After three to four hours this feeling subsides and ringing becomes automatic, almost unconscious.

We set off in changes at 8.19 a.m. prepared to ring for about 13 hours if necessary. However, the ringing was a little faster than anticipated and the end of the first part showed that it would take 12 hours 40 minutes for the 23.072. The first 5.040 came up in 2 hours 46 minutes, the 10.080 in 5 hours 30 minutes and 15.120 in 8 hours 17 minutes.

SIGNS OF STRAIN

From then on, the ringers on the back found the pace a little too exhausting and the ringing slowed up. The strain of 10 and a half hours' continual dodging was beginning to show, and a relative deterioration in the ringing ensued. Under these circumstances, it was hard to foresee a return to the earlier standard and therefore the bob at 6 in the 10th part was omitted thus allowing the bells to run into rounds at 20.160 after 11 hours 6 minutes.

So we partially achieved our target, leaving the church bell record for another day. Slightly disappointing for some not to have 'rung the clock round' we must do what the Vicar of Llanfeigan (the Rev. I. L. Davies) asked us, and that is to return and ring longer next year. We left Llanfeigan returning thence to dinner at Glasbury, and spent the remainder of the evening ringing handbells and replenishing the liquid content of our bodies.

ANOTHER PEAL NEXT DAY

The following day, we rang for service at Glasbury, and to add a new county to our peal records rang a peal of Lincolnshire in the afternoon at Clifford, Herefordshire. So ended a pleasant, tiring yet enjoyable weekend, and we hope that now Llanfeigan is well-marked on the ringers' map, if not on the Ordnance Survey ones.

Our thanks go out to the Vicar of Llanfeigan, to Colin A. Lewis of Glasbury for making the arrangements at Llanfeigan and at the hotel and lastly to the manager and Staff of the Maesllwch Arms for their co-operation, toleration and attention.

50th ANNIVERSARY AT BRISTOL

On June 25th, 1914, a peal of Grandsire Minor was rung at the Church of St. John on the Wall, Bristol, as a compliment to Mr. George Staddon on his 78th birthday. The peal is commemorated on a peal board in the tower. Taking part in this his first peal under the conductorship of Mr. Edgar Guise was Mr. A. York-Bramble, then a student at Bristol University. He had learnt a great deal of his early ringing from the conductor at Emmanuel, Clifton and St. Stephen's.

This was some thirty years before the foundation of the University of Bristol Society, but when the Society eventually got under way in the middle 1940's, A.Y.B. became one of its very first non-resident life members.

The original peal was probably the very first of many peals rung by members of the University with City ringers, thus instituting a happy relationship which has continued right through to the present day. With this in mind the Society felt it should mark the 50th anniversary by a peal in the same tower.

Mr. York-Bramble had hoped to be present but unfortunately was prevented from doing so by ill-health. However, a good peal in four Minor methods was duly rung, and afterwards, thanks to Mr. York-Bramble's generosity, a fine meal was enjoyed at the 'Hole-in-the-Wall' Tavern. During the evening glasses were naturally raised to the band of fifty years ago and to A.Y.B. and his return to good health. It is hoped that the anniversary peal will be commemorated by a framed peal card hung beneath the peal board.

FUNERAL OF MISS C. C. GOLDEN

The funeral service in St. Peter Mancroft Church, Norwich, on July 11th for Miss Christine Carolyn Golden, elder daughter of Mr. F. N. Golden, president of the Norwich Diocesan Association and Mrs. Golden, took place in the presence of many friends. Canon Gilbert Thurlow and the Vicar (the Rev. F. Jarvis) officiated.

Those represented included the Norwich Union, where Christine was employed, the Mancroft Youth Club, of which she was a member, and ringers and friends from a wide area as she had been a member of the Norwich Diocesan Association since 1957. Cremation followed.

The bells were rung half-muffled before and after the service, and a peal of Grandsire Triples was attempted in the evening, but came to grief after ringing for one and a half hours. Mr. G. Sayer conducted.

A LUCKY ESCAPE

Faulty Lightning Conductor

IT WAS a fairly pleasant morning when the six of us met outside St. Stephen's Church, St. Albans, to attempt a peal of Minor, on the morning of July 18th. After two false starts we eventually settled down to a comfortable pace only to be disturbed again in the second extent by ominous rumblings from the now not so pleasant weather. The storm seemed to be right overhead, and at times we could hardly hear the bells because of the rain and thunder. It was after one particularly loud bang that the conductor was heard to remark to the ringer of the third, 'I hope that wasn't the bell frame shifting!'

Alas, not only the ears that were meant to hear this did so, for only a few changes later our ringing was brought to a very unharmonious and abrupt ending as the tower was struck by lightning. We were all of us deafened, and one or two half blinded by the sparks that shot through us. Luckily no one was hurt and it was perhaps as well that our dulled ears never heard the noise of the treble, 4th, 5th and tenor as they were hurriedly lowered in what was certainly not any regular order. The treble ringer in fact said that his rope had been completely whipped out of his hand, and the ringer of the 5th also informed us that he had felt a distinct shock through the rope and his feet.

We had no time to worry about things like that; the lightning called the bob, and all 6 bells ran out, closely followed by the ringers! Despite the fact that the main fuse had taken our light away, we were fortunately not left in complete darkness, as the bells are rung from the ground floor, and are not in their own closed room. A cursory examination revealed that no damage appeared to have been done, but it was thought wisest to summon the fire brigade to check fully that there was no danger of fire. The Rector was informed that 'an appliance' would be sent to the church immediately, despite his modest request for nothing more than a fire officer, and we were shortly rewarded with the sight (and sound) of a large fire engine headed towards the church. After a full inspection of the wooden tower, it was decided that no danger of fire remained, but we found ourselves rather sobering fact.

This forms the moral of what could have been a serious event. The lightning conductor from the top of the spire terminated in a joint to the frame by the treble bell, and there was no proper conducting path to earth from this point. (The frame in this case is a steel one.) We were thus provided with the explanation of why our treble ringer lost his rope. It appeared that the only escape for the lightning was through the conduit pipe of the electric light supply, and also through the clock wires and the clock, which is earthed by virtue of being mounted in the stone floor below. The clock wires pass very close to the rope on the 5th bell, and I suppose this is why the ringer felt a shock.

While the ringing of the bells is supposed traditionally to drive the thunder away, I would suggest to all intending ringers of peals, and the like, that they make sure the tower where they are ringing is adequately protected against lightning damage by having a proper conductor, when it seems likely they will be ringing during a storm. We certainly will! It is no fun being so close to so many volts, and we are all thankful that the only casualty was the clock, which for some unknown reason stopped, although it is weight driven. We can also feel thankful that we have not lost the talents of Mr. John R. Ketteringham, who was ringing the treble, and also those of a well-known Christine. R. E. H.

A GENTLEMAN RINGER

MR. GEORGE H. PHILLOTT

The subject of our front page articles in last week's and this week's issue was born in 1852 and died in 1926, aged 74. He was a founder member of Oxford University Society in 1872 and a founder member and first secretary of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association in January, 1878. From 1891 to 1899 he was a member of the Central Council. For 51 years he was attached to St. Mary's, Cheltenham, and in this tower he rang his two longest lengths—13,054 Stedman Caters on May 21st, 1888, in 8 hours 16 minutes, and 15,227 Grandsire Caters, on April 22nd, 1889 in 9 hrs. and 43 mins. He was an architect by profession.

EAST YORKSHIRE VETERANS MEET

For the eight consecutive year, Mrs. J. J. Taylor, of Goole, invited the older generation to an afternoon's ringing and tea at Eastington, on June 27th.

To qualify for attendance at one of these gatherings is officially 50 years' membership of the Yorkshire Association, but such people are becoming increasingly difficult to find so numbers are swelled by admitting a number of the younger fraternity.

Principal guests for the day were H. Redmill (84) Sutton-on-Hull, L. Rodmell (82) Patrington, T. Goodin (82) Sutton-on-Hull and H. S. Morley (75) Sefton, F. Atkinson, of York, was unable to attend.

Ringing in the afternoon ranged from Plain Bob to Cambridge Surprise. This was followed by a short service conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. H. Bryden, who welcomed the visitors and reminded us during prayers of past attenders at these gatherings.

The service was followed by the usual sumptuous 'Taylor type tea' in the church room, where a total of 25 sat down—a miniature district meeting! The day was rounded off by further ringing.

Thanks are accorded to Mrs. Taylor for organising this event, her band of willing helpers, the Vicar for granting permission and also the organist. R. D.

KENT RINGERS' RALLY

For some years it has been the custom of the Kent County Association to organise a dinner in each of the six districts of the Association in turn. In some of the centres it is becoming increasingly difficult to find a place with adequate seating accommodation where a meal can be provided at a price sufficiently economic to appeal to the large and widely-scattered membership, especially the increasing numbers of young people that the Association is happy to count within its ranks.

It was therefore a happy thought on the part of the octogenarian chairman and vice-president of the Association, Mr. J. Willis of Folkestone, that as no suitable place could be found in the Maidstone district for a dinner there should instead be a Ringers' Rally centred on Maidstone at a time when members could take advantage of a long summer evening. At its annual meeting on Easter Monday the Association decided to adopt this idea and on July 4th 140 ringers of all sorts and sizes from all over the county and beyond sat down to tea in the Tovil Working Men's Institute at Maidstone.

Ringing commenced in some fifteen towers in the district early in the afternoon and continued until after 9 p.m. except for a most inspiring service in Maidstone Parish Church and tea afterwards. The service was conducted by the Rector of Bredgar, the Rev. Stanley Evans, who was taught to ring some years ago by Mr. Walter H. Dobbie.

Rochester Cathedral was to have been amongst the towers available for ringing but permission had to be withdrawn owing to repair work to the tower. At one time it looked as if Maidstone was also to be a casualty as the tenor clapper had broken. However, due to the initiative of Mr. Trevor A. Cross, the Maidstone district secretary, and the professional skill of Mr. E. J. Beer, so well-known to the older generation of Cumberlanders, it was possible to get the clapper repaired in time.

At tea Mr. Willis expressed the sincere thanks of all the members to all who had worked hard in making the arrangements and particularly Mr. T. A. Cross. As a mark of appreciation he handed suitable gifts to Mr. and Mrs. Cross, the Rev. Stanley Evans was thanked most sincerely for his help in taking the service and it was announced that the offertory, amounting to £5 10s., would be donated to the Bredgar bell restoration fund. P. A. C.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

A well attended quarterly meeting of the Chew Branch was held at All Saints', Wraxall (8) on July 18th, when a most welcome visitor was the Master of the Association, the Rev. H. F. Warren.

In the absence of the Rector the service was taken by the Rev. P. Foster, curate at Weston-in-Gordano. Tea was served at the Rectory to a company of 35 members and friends, after which the Master took the chair for the business meeting which followed. Five new members were elected from Wraxall, one from Wrington, and one re-elected from Chew Magna.

Subject to permission, meetings were arranged as follows: Quarterly (October), Publow; August, Portishead; September, Clevedon All Saints'. The venue for the Branch Corporate Evensong was left to the next meeting to decide.

Favourable comments were passed on the success of the striking competition held in May, which now seems an established date in the Branch calendar.

'Spur' Stays

Dear Sir,—I was interested to read the letters of Messrs. Cawley and Knight in the "R.W."; I write to make corrections and additions to the former, and to mention some points of interest concerning the latter.

First, with regard to the 'spur' stays in Kent, I have notes on the bells at Westwell, and I beg to differ with Mr. Crawley. The treble and 2nd bells here have traditional wooden stays and sliders (the former, however, being attached to the same side of the headstock as the wheel), while the third bell has no trace of stay or slider. The tenor has the remains of a stay, but no slider. I agree with Mr. Cawley that the third bell is split, and the others unringable, but I would hesitate to substantiate his paradoxical remark that the bells are in good order.

I have also visited the church of St. Lawrence, Godmersham. I did not find the bells waist-deep in debris (although I did find a dead snake in the bell-chamber—has anyone had a similar experience?). I do not remember anything unusual in the fittings of the bells, but I did not take detailed notes, and I will check when I am next near the church.

Other examples in Kent include the complete ring of 8 at Mersham (restored by Mears in 1880), 5 out of 6 at Brabourne, and 4 out of 5 at Kingsnorth. The ten bells at St. Barnabas', Pimlico, S.W.1, are all equipped with these stays (installed by Mears c. 1850).

To correct Mr. Cawley's reference to the bells of St. Alphege, Canterbury. Only the 2nd and 3rd bells were cast by S. B. Goslin. The treble was a 17th or early 18th century casting which was adapted by Goslin and subsequently used in the ring; originally it was uninscribed, but Goslin incised an inscription upon it. It would be interesting to know exactly where Mr. Goslin practised his trade, and whether there are any complete rings of bells by him. He would appear to have done some of his work at Warners, as he describes himself as of the Crescent Foundry, London. Besides those mentioned by Mr. Cawley, his only other examples in Kent were two bells at Sellindge, cast in 1906. These were, however, such poor bells that they had to be recast when the ring was augmented to 6 in 1909.

Regarding Mr. Knight's inquiries, the 'Institution for Change Ringing in Quex Park, Isle of Thanet' was founded in 1819 by John Powell Powell who built the famous campanile, and equipped it with a light ring of twelve bells in this year. Apparently Shipway was in the band of Cumberland Youths who rang the first peal on the bells at their opening, and was subsequently employed by Powell as a tutor to his band; they rang many peals in neighbouring towers, most of which were conducted by Shipway. The peal at Margate must have been the first on the bells, as they were augmented to 8 in 1823. They also rang the first peal at St. Peter's, Sandwich, in 1823, and the first peal on the ten bells at Canterbury Cathedral in 1824. I have no information as to the calling of the peal but it may have been one of Shipway's compositions. The calling of the other peal at Margate in 1885 may possibly be found in the K.C.A.C.R. report for that year if the peal was rung for the latter association.—Yours faithfully, N. J. DAVIES.

Robert Roan

Dear Sir,—It is unfortunate that Mr. Ernest Weatherby on page 466 should have got his facts concerning Robert Roan all mixed up with Richard Duckworth and Stedman, and more so that he should have sent it to Washington and Groton, because as was said in these columns recently 'corrections never catch up with mistakes.'

Robert Roan did not invent changes, he had no connection with Cambridge, neither was he a monk.

On pages 117—119 of 'Grandsire' in a long and interesting account of Roan and his achievements, the late Mr. J. A. Trollope tells us that Roan's great contribution to ringing was that he composed the first 120 of Grandsire Doubles, and then goes on to explain how he adapted the calling of this to give us the standard 720 of Bob Minor. As Mr. Trollope rightly says 'It is quite safe to say that no man has had his compositions rung so much as Robert Roan.'

It is too much to ask you to reprint all Mr. Trollope tells us but perhaps you can spare me space for the first paragraph.

'Robert Roan spent the whole of his working life in the service of the officers of the Green Cloth, the government department which had charge of the royal palaces, and for some time he was sworn clerk of the pantry.

'Charles I was king when he began his service but the Civil War and the Commonwealth made little difference to the permanent officials, or indeed to the ringing societies which flourished while Cromwell ruled the country. When the Restoration came however, Roan lost his job. He was promised as compensation £50 a year board wages, but that fell into arrears, and was afterwards reduced to £25. So he petitioned the King more than once for redress, but though the treasury books record his petitions they do not tell us what happened to them.—Yours sincerely, E. BARNETT, 10, Kings Close, Crayford.

Old Peals at Margate

Dear Sir,—It should have been obvious to Mr. F. C. W. Knight (page 464) that the peal of Grandsire Triples Shipway called at Margate in 1824 was either Taylor's or Vicar's Bob and Single, from the number of bobs and singles given on the board, and the bell he rang.

Regarding the 1885 peal, practically all the compositions of Grandsire Triples existing at that time were Holt's Original. Holt's six and ten parts. Penning's one part, one or two one parts by Parker, two or three five parts, and the bob and single peals.

This, coupled with the fact that the number of calls is also given, and Mr. Willshire called it from the second, leaves no doubt whatever it was Holt's ten part.—Yours sincerely,

E. BARNETT

The Editor also thanks Mr. W. J. Whitmore, of Raunds, for his reply. While Mr. Whitmore is of opinion that the 1824 peal was E. Taylor's it could have been any of the old three lead course peals that have the same number of bobs and singles with the 6th observation, such as Annable's or Vicar's.

Miss Joan Beresford Congratulations on 500 Peals

Dear Sir,—Some people do an awful lot of work and spend an awful lot of time in doing it—but dividing these people into categories one soon gets to know those who like to broadcast their achievements, those who will talk quietly and passively about them and still those who hardly ever make any reference about them at all.

Miss Joan Beresford, who learnt to ring in Lichfield, Staffs, and now resides in Dartford, Kent, would come in the last-named group, for while she may remain in one place at her work she is here, there and everywhere at ringing, as evidenced by reading the columns of this journal. Along with many others, our names used to be found in the front half of the paper and although progress in our modern age has promoted these names to appear in the back half, this major operation has challenged us to greater successes in our activities, but we are not out for publicity or self-praise.

As Joan is fully engaged in Sunday service ringing, and in teaching young recruits; as she travels literally miles and miles for her ringing; commits herself to engagements at various places (accessible and inaccessible), some of which I am sure the Duke of Edinburgh would not fulfil in his helicopter; is obliged to refuse invitations in peal attempts from time to time; is, on certain occasions, in one place when it is thought she would be elsewhere, she understandably forms the subject of quite a complicated problem! But, wherever Joan is she can be relied upon to do her best and never to let the team down. This brings to mind some qualities of a good ringer—high standard of performance, reliability, punctuality, team spirit. Joan possesses all these, and with a character of seriousness. In addition to her activities mentioned above and the fact that she is a far-above-the-average performer on handbells, having rung several peals of Spliced Surprise Major, her 'official' positions as honorary treasurer and Central Council representative of the Ladies' Guild mark her as complete a ringer as most people can be. May I plead on Joan's behalf, however, not to be invited to such places as Bath Abbey, Launceston or Pershore Abbey—she would enjoy the ringing but not the approach work!

My object of penning this 'half-column' is an attempt to offer Joan congratulations on achieving the high total of 500 peals, made up by an extremely wide and varied range of methods (including up to 30 Spliced Surprise Major) and on all numbers of bells, coupled with an appreciation of her services to the ringing Exercise and to wish her continued success with the 'good work'.—Yours, etc.,

North Mimms.

T. J. LOCK.

Composition of Unusual Quality

Dear Sir.—Those interested will have noticed that the composition of Cornwall on page 476 contains the 18 combination courses and the sixth the extent home in 24 courses only, a tight squeeze. I should be interested to know of any other compositions with this quality (and no singles). It is admittedly a composer's composition, though perhaps the music is quite suitable for the method.—Yours sincerely, Bilston, Staffs.

P. G. K. DAVIES.

Not to take any risks about the rejection by his Guild of his first peal as conductor, a letter was sent to the Guild general secretary to verify the membership of one of the band. It took him two months to secure confirmation, as the secretary was in America.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD*Marlborough Branch

Following the successful June meeting at Great Bedwyn and St. Katherine's (Savernake Forest) the Marlborough Branch met at Chisledon on July 18th, and there was again a good company present.

Members were present from St. Mary's (Marlborough), St. Peter's (Marlborough), Aldbourne, Everleigh and, of course the home tower with visitors from Gloucester, Axbridge, Swindon, Lynham, Buckingham, and Weymouth. Ringing in the unavoidable absence of the Ringing Master (Rev. Roger Keeley) was under the joint direction of Mr. George Brown (assistant secretary) and Mr. George Newman (chairman), and ranged from rounds and call changes to Cambridge Surprise Minor. The bells, an easy going and mellow-toned six, were raised in peal at 3 p.m. and, with an interval for service and tea, were kept going until 8 p.m.

The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar (Canon I. W. A. Collins) with Mr. W. Drewitt at the organ, and a sumptuous tea followed in the 'Elm Tree' annexe, provided by Mrs. Court, sen., and her helpers.

Mr. G. Newman presided at the business meeting and thanked all who had helped to make the day a success, and welcomed the visitors.

Mr. Newman announced, with very real regret, that Mr. T. A. Palmer (honorary secretary), who was injured recently while at work, was not progressing as rapidly as had been hoped. Although out of hospital he was still in some pain and discomfort, and had asked that Mr. Brown should run the Branch for the time being. Members expressed their sympathy and hopes were voiced that he would before long be quite recovered.

Next meeting (August): Burbage and Milton Lilbourne (subject to permission); Branch outing, September, probably Chichester area.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD*West Lindsey Branch

The weather was kind on the last Saturday in June when the West Lindsey Branch had their annual outing. The venue was Coventry, suggested by our very youngest member at the annual meeting, and a very enjoyable day it proved to be.

Our first call was at Enderby where several touches were rung on an eight with a very pleasing tone and our second call, at St. Andrew's, Shilton, gave us six that were very light, the tenor being 64 cwt.

Enjoying a picnic lunch en route we carried on to Stoke, Coventry, where our arrival coincided with a wedding and we were able to ring as the bridal pair left the churchyard. A local ringer kindly met us and several methods were rung on the nice sounding eight.

At Coventry we had time to visit the Cathedral and some were privileged to witness one of the Mystery Plays in the old ruined Cathedral. We all met again at tea in the Cathedral Refectory. On the homeward journey we called at Monks Kirby where the eight were a joy to handle and to hear. Our final tower was St. Mary's, Bitteswell, a light six. Some of our regular members were not with us and they were missed, but nevertheless we had a most enjoyable day. H.C.R.

OBITUARY*MR. PERCY SWINDLEY

With deep regret we record the death of Mr. Percy Swindley, at his home in Chester on July 15th, at the age of 64 years. He had been in poor health for the last two years, during which time he had not been able to go any ringing.

Percy Swindley learned to ring during the first world war, but did not take a serious interest in the art until 1928, when he rang his first peal at St. Mary-within-the-Walls, Chester. Since that time, however, he became one of the leading figures in the Chester Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild and did much to advance the standard of ringing in the area.

He succeeded his father as captain of the Handbridge St. Mary's and Cathedral ringers in 1951, and he will be remembered for his patience with learners, the welcome he extended to visitors and his unassuming nature. His achievements in the ringing sphere were many and varied and while the exact number of peals he had rung is not known, it must be in the region of 500, and included Surprise Major, Triples in many different methods and the first peal in many different plain Major methods. He was a capable conductor, an excellent striker and heavy bell ringer.

By trade he was a blacksmith and specialised in ornamental ironwork, latterly taking over the family business, which had been in existence for several generations. Unfortunately his was the last link as his uncle predeceased him the previous week and there is now no one to carry on the family tradition. He was an expert craftsman and there are many examples of his work to be found in the county, including the fittings for electric lighting at Pulford, Runcorn and Shotwick Churches. He also adapted the fittings at St. Mary's, Handbridge, when the lighting was converted from gas to electricity. For the last four years he had given instruction in ornamental ironwork to students of Chester College.

The funeral service was held at St. Mary's, Handbridge, on July 18th, and was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. W. N. D. Thomas, and the lesson was read by the Rev. A. J. H. Scott. Members of the local company, the Chester Branch of the Chester Guild and the North Wales Association attended. The bells were rung half-muffled.

His passing will leave a gap which will be hard to fill and he will be sorely missed, but we give thanks for the example of a very fine ringer and craftsman, and for his achievements in a full life. J. W. G.

MR. S. J. ORCHARD

Mr. Sidney James Orchard, chairman of the Chiltern Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild and foreman ringer at St. John the Baptist Church, Little Missenden, Bucks, died suddenly on July 8th.

It is difficult to praise too highly the value of the work Sid had done for ringing over the past 40 years, both in his own tower and elsewhere in the Chiltern Branch. His enthusiasm and painstaking efforts in training beginners made it possible to build up and keep in existence a ringing band at Little Missenden Church for many years.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD*Banbury Branch Without a Secretary

Although Mr. Roper had warned the Branch last January that he would not seek re-election to the post of honorary secretary and treasurer in view of his proposed move to Yorkshire, there were no candidates for the vacant post at the annual meeting at Deddington on July 11th. It is hoped that someone will come forward soon and in the meantime Mr. Roper is 'caretaker.'

After the service, conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. G. H. Palmer, and the usual Deddington tea (first class), Miss Cross, general secretary of the Guild, took the chair in the absence of the Branch chairman (church fete) and got through a long agenda as expeditiously as possible, although not in her record time of 15 minutes.

The Rev. J. Goddard was re-elected chairman, Mr. C. C. Clarke as Ringing Master and Mr. R. A. Reeves as deputy, and in future the deputy is to succeed the Ringing Master each year. Messrs. W. N. Genna and C. C. Clarke were elected to the General Committee and Mr. C. Wightman as honorary auditor.

It was agreed to hold a Branch striking competition, the winning tower to go forward to the Guild competition later in the year, and it was agreed to revise the rota of towers for quarterly meetings.

Next meeting: Hanwell, October 10th.

H. L. R.

CORRECTION

The peal of Seven Surprise Minor methods (page 471) was rung at Thurlaston and not Thurcaston, and the same error appears in Higham-on-the-Hill outing (page 475).

OBITUARY—S. J. ORCHARD (Contd.)

A loyal and wholehearted churchman, in addition to his ringing activities, he served the parish for a long period as churchwarden and treasurer, and has his permanent memorial in the belfry, where his name appears in the casting of the new treble bell, added to the ring after the last war and during Sid's term of office as churchwarden.

At his request, the bells were rung unmuffled at his funeral and again when a quarter peal in his honour was rung at Little Missenden on July 14th.

He will be sadly missed by very many friends. A. J. P.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

Opposition to Striking Competition

THE summer quarterly meeting of the Leicester Diocesan Guild was held on July 11th in the Market Harborough District. This is the smallest of the six Districts with a membership of about 50, but a very good day had been arranged by their District Committee.

During the afternoon the bells at Oxendon, Foxton Lubenham and Great Bowden were available, as well as the octave at Market Harborough Parish Church. At 4.15 a ringers' service was conducted by the Vicar (Canon D. A. Adams), an honorary member of the Guild. Tea had been prepared in the Old Grammar School by Mr. and Mrs. R. Binley and other helpers.

At the business meeting there were a number of apologies (due largely to the Ladies' Guild annual meeting). After the presentation of certificates of membership and the reading of the minutes of the annual general meeting, the election of the following 22 members was confirmed:

The Very Rev. J. C. Hughes Leicester; Ian Hall, Wiveliscombe; John T. Parrington, Great Glen; James Lacey, Hathern; W. Drury, Broughton Astley; Martin Howe, Maidstone; Judith Corby, Sevenoaks; Robert Hinde, Hilary Martin, Orpington; Pamela Cotton, Great Bowden; E. John Hill, Higham-on-the-Hill; Aubrey Everleigh Newbold-on-Avon; Pauline Green, Birstall; Anthony Ellway, Swithland; Stephen Wells, Judith Suffolk, Burbage; Lawrence Greenhow, Edward R. Whitehead, Ian Hall, Leicester.

Christine Broughton, Christine Foote, Martin Brown, South Wigston.

£40 GRANT

An application had been received from Heather for assistance in the rehanging of the existing three bells, the provision of two trebles and the addition of a frame for a future treble. The committee had decided to make a grant of £40—the largest such grant ever made by the Guild.

The committee had decided to confer upon Mr. H. Wright, of Earl Shilton, the distinction of honorary life membership in recognition of his service to ringing not only in his own tower but in the diocese generally.

After many months of protracted and fruitless discussion, the committee had come to the conclusion that no definite use could be made of the Archdeacon of Loughborough's offer of making All Saints' Church, Leicester, a Guild church for ringers.

PRINTING COSTS

The next item concerned the cost of printing the annual report. As this has continued to rise over the last few years, the committee had decided that reports would be on sale to resident members at 2s. each (5s. to others), but each tower with members would receive one free copy.

The committee had also discussed the interpretation of the deletion of Rule 3, which had been made at the A.G.M. The rule would be deleted as from the date of the A.G.M., 1964. Concerning membership, the committee also decided that membership of the Guild would cease on December 31st in the year that a subscription was not paid.

A proposal had been received from the Leicester District suggesting that a Guild striking competition should be arranged. In view of there being some strong opposition to such a proposal it was agreed that each District should discuss this matter and report back at the next meeting, which would be held in the Melton Mowbray District on October 17th.

The secretary reminded members that the Guild dinner would be held in the Shakespeare Hotel, Braunstone, Leicester, on November 14th, at which the chief guest and speaker would be Mr. John Freeman, vice-president of the Central Council. Tickets would be on sale at 17s. 6d.

In any other business Mr. T. C. Belton suggested that the Guild might do more to implement Object No. 5, which was to provide instructors for those towers which required them.

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

A beautiful day and a first-class lunch added to the enjoyment of the Hunts District ringers on their annual tour on July 4th. Together with a few friends, they journeyed to Leicestershire, where the first stop was at the Loughborough Bell Foundry. Here a personally conducted tour by Mr. Paul Taylor was most instructive and entertaining. We almost feel now we know how it's done. After a not too successful session on the Campanile bells, we made our way to the War Memorial where an inspection of the carillon was followed by a most enjoyable recital.

At Hathern after lunch we were to join in the church garden party, and many prizes and trophies were evident in the bus after this. We were unable to do justice to the beautiful bells in the short time at our disposal. Cambridge and Grandsire went well on the octave at Kegworth, but at Diseworth after tea misfortune befell us when the Ringing Master discovered there was no stay on the treble. (At least that's his story.) Here the Vicar very kindly gave us an informative history of this ancient church, now undergoing restoration due to the ravages of the dreaded death watch beetle.

Shepshed, the last tower, provided the best ringing of the day. St. Clement's, Kent, and Stedman being successfully rung on the beautiful eight. The local fair provided entertainment for our younger members (and some who are still young in heart). Grateful thanks to all incumbents for permission to ring their bells, to ringers who met us, and to Paul for the excellent organisation.

EMMANUEL (PLYMOUTH) MEET
TOM MYERS AT SEATON

From a weather point of view, ringers of Emmanuel Church, Plymouth, had a dreary start at 7.30 a.m. on July 11th, but by the time they reached Honiton it was perfectly dry, and by lunch time at Seaton it was a glorious day.

Before ringing commenced at Honiton, the Rev. Hayman, Assistant Priest at Emmanuel, led the party in prayer. We then left the hurly burly of the main road and headed for Seaton. Again there was very good ringing, and Mr. Tom Myers who we were delighted to have with us, joined in a short touch of Stedman Triples, ringing being on the ground floor. An innovation this year was a hot lunch: it was so much appreciated that there is no doubt that it has come to stay.

At Colyton (the heaviest six in Devon) we ran into trouble, first the rope of the second jumped the wheel and 'got stuck.' Mr. Sims, captain of Emmanuel ringers, went up and put it right: it went again, and was sorted out a second time: then the same thing happened to the treble. By now our time had almost gone, and Mr. Sims decided we would have some rounds on the five so that all could have a ring.

Our ringing during the day was very good, but at Woodbury it was really the best, set off by a beautiful rise.

We had tea at a cafe in the Cathedral Close at Exeter where we were joined by Mrs. McCabe and her two sons. Mrs. McCabe's husband (unable to be with us) is priest in charge at St. Stephen's, and was formerly Assistant Priest at Emmanuel. The meal was followed by ringing on the grand eight at Heavitree, and at St. Thomas; at the latter church the Secretary, Mr. H. H. Thomas, was a member of the band for three years, rang his first peal of Grandsire Triples in 1927, and married in 1929.

Our sincere thanks to the incumbent and local ringers who welcomed us. H. H. T.

Histon, Cambs, have an enthusiastic young band, which, under the leadership of Mr. M. W. Carter, have just rung their first quarter. With one exception, they have had less than 18 months' instruction. Their ambition lies also in another direction—to have the present six recast and two bells added. This will cost approximately £1,200; a fund has been opened and about £56 received. Ringers who would like to be associated with this venture are asked to send their donations to Mr. M. W. Carter, 78, Mill Lane, Histon, Cambs.

Mr. George Seth, who rang the treble in a peal of Minor in six methods at St. Peter's, Bedford, on June 20th, will be 76 in a few weeks' time.

After an unsuccessful attempt for a peal at Steep, Hants, in which four service ringers took part, a quarter peal was rung as a first birthday compliment to James Edward Snelgar, son of the Vicar, the Rev. D. J. Snelgar.

A correspondent in Sussex, whose name appears in the local town guide under 'Campanology,' was recently shaken by a phone call requesting information on nearby camping sites. 'Strue!

Before leaving Stoke Bishop, Bristol, the Rev. D. Sansum had the pleasure of conducting his first quarter of Minor. He has been installed Vicar of Stechford, Birmingham. Unfortunately, this is a church without a ring of bells.

There were six Old Boys and two members of the present school (Geoffrey Foster and Christopher Forster) in the peal of Grandsire Caters rung at St. Albans Abbey on July 18th to mark the retirement of the headmaster of St. Albans School, Mr. W. T. Marsh. He had been at the school for 33 years.

A letter marked 'Urgent' from Mansfield took 11 days on its journey to Guildford. There have been others in the 12 day category. Despite the disruption, we were delighted to receive from St. Ives, Cornwall, a letter franked at 6 p.m., the following morning.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The ringers who participated in the silent peal of Holt's 'Original' at Harrow Weald, on July 16th, would like to express their thanks to Mr. Syd Bailey, who rang the treble for two previous abortive attempts and who had to star down from the successful third attempt owing to a prior engagement. A competent substitute was found, however, and Mr. George Hart is thanked not only for his reliable treble ringing but also for placing Harrow Weald bells at the disposal of the band.

Mr. Wilfrid F. Moreton acknowledges with thanks the great help of Mr. John F. Mayne in the multi-method peals he has rung in identifying methods and checking names.

The last peal on Truro Cathedral bells before rehanging took place on July 18th. It had the distinction of being the first on the front six.

Mr. W. H. Raxter had the pleasure of conducting Mr. Len Parry, a regular Sunday service ringer of the Worcestershire and Districts Association for 49 years, through his first peal at Leigh on July 11th. He had previously limited himself to a quarter peal.

The band who rang the 'Michael' peal at Great Tew, Oxon, on July 18th would like to express their appreciation to the Rector for providing liquid refreshment after the peal. With the temperature in the 80's for most of the day, it was more than a welcome gesture.

Mr. J. L. Garner-Hayward informs us that his recent operation is proving to be most successful and already he has had a rope in his hand. He would like to thank all friends who sent letters to him while in hospital.

An attempt for a quarter peal at Withyham, Sussex, to celebrate the wedding of Jean Barnett and James Woolford unfortunately came to grief in the last course. The attempt was arranged by the vice-captain in the absence of the captain. A peal failure also occurred at St. Mary Magdalene, Holloway, where the conductor called halt after two hours' ringing.

in the structure of some of those compositions he has lately sent for publication. The one in question, however, is upon no intricate plan.

And indeed the peal was perfectly true.

Two months later, on Whit Monday, May 21st, the Cheltenham men again went for their long length and again Phillott rang the second. This time they were successful, and rang 13,054 changes in 8 hours 16 minutes. The peal was particularly noteworthy, too, for being the first of Stedman Caters called by W. T. Pates, who was for many years to be the Ringing Master at Cheltenham. Phillott was unusually enthusiastic in his praise of the ringing: 'True and first-class peal; splendid striking throughout—excellent and could not be surpassed.'

And on that note of success the notebook ends. Most of George Phillott's later ringing career until his death in September, 1926, in a Cheltenham nursing home can be traced through back numbers of 'The Bell News' and 'The Ringing World.' He lived through one of the most stirring periods in ringing history; when he learnt to handle a bell, the standard methods were Grandsire and Stedman; Diocesan and Territorial Associations were unknown—and he was instrumental in forming some of the earliest; there were no ringing tours—within six years of learning to ring he was one of the pioneers. How much do we all owe to such as George Phillott, Esq., B.A.?

We hear an encouraging report from St. Andrew's, Whitchurch, Devon. Here Mrs. D. A. Bray has been teaching Grandsire since Christmas to five boys between the ages of 14 and 17. Two of the band rang their first quarter on July 21st and it was well-struck and practically faultless. This is believed to be the first quarter on the bells. The rest of the team hope to ring their 'first' soon.

MR. CLAUDE RUSH DELVES INTO 'CHURCH BELLS'

Volume VIII, Advent, 1877-Advent, 1878

QUARTER PEALS

ST. MARY'S, LEIGH, LANCS
2 Feb., 1878, being the anniversary of the opening of the church after having been rebuilt and the bells having been recently rehung and quarter turned by Mears and Stainbank... 5,040 Grandsire Triples, 3 hours. Tenor 21 cwt. 'The first true and complete peal since the bells were rehung.'

DURHAM DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION
Meeting at the Cathedral, 25 Feb., 1878. 'A dinner will be provided (1s. per head) at one o'clock at the Half Moon, New Elvet.'

'RINGING FARCE AT STOKE CLIMSLAND, CORNWALL
On 14th Feb., 1878, a ringing match was held on the fine ring of eight bells at the parish church. Great interest was taken in the contest, the church and churchyard being crowded during the competition....

The Editor adds a note saying that the competition was a waste of money and utterly useless in the way of bellfry reform and progress in ringing proper.... 'As for prize-ringing, the parsons are to blame for allowing that... Fancy "fifty-four cross changes" being called a "capital peal"! he concludes.

Apparently the Rector wrote to the Editor and in a subsequent issue the Editor wrote: '...there can be no objection to "ups and downs and rounds and rounds" before services, they are more after the ancient practice than change-ringing, which is a comparatively modern introduction. What we object to is the offering of prizes for any ringing. All the best ringers in England confess that pleasure-ringing for money never made out anything. It must be studied and practised as a labour of love.'

WHERE ARE THE FINEST BELLS?

'A Lover of Good Bells' writes, 'It would be a great advantage to some of your readers to know where the finest bells really exist in this country. For myself, I think the ring at Lavenham, Suffolk, especially the tenor and treble, the most beautiful I have yet heard.'

This brought a number of observations during the succeeding weeks.

'A Lover of Good Ringing and Good Bells' thought the finest bells were at Holbeck, Yorks. 'The whole ring of 8 is the most beautiful I have heard.'

Charles P. Davies, of Pembroke College, Oxford, after explaining how difficult it was to make a decision, mentioned the ten at Magdalen College, Oxford; the eight at Pershore, Worcestershire; and the last ten of the Painswick twelve. He added, 'Why are so many of our tenors made disproportionately thick, so that even in rounds and "tenor behind" they come with a slight crash on the rest, and when "turned in" absolutely drown them?'

'College Youth' said that East Retford, Notts (tenor 24 cwt.), St. Mary's, Sheffield (25 cwt.), St. Peter's, Nottingham (25 cwt.), and Youlgreave, Derbyshire (26 cwt.), 'are acknowledged by all who have heard them to be the finest rings in the Kingdom.'

Then 'A Lover of Good Bells' returns with a long letter which ends, 'I know a ring of ten, having a fair repute, cast by an eminent firm, the scale of which, being put upon a rod shows itself to be of the very worst description: a large, thick, fluty treble, third and fourth within a quarter of an inch of the same size, the fourth being hacked to pieces to flatten it to something like its note; the ninth and tenth twice the proper distance apart they should be, to correspond with the eighth and ninth; the ninth very fluty; and the tenth crazy in the extreme!'

These views of his were strongly condemned by later correspondents.

Hervey Reeves writes: 'It is the prevailing opinion that the most musical ring of twelve is at St. Michael's, Cornhill, which vies with St. Peter's, of Norwich, in beauty of tone.' For a ten he gives St. Michael's, Coventry. For eights, St. Botolph, Aldgate, St. Stephen, Westminster, and St. John South Hackney. Of Lavenham, he says, 'I have frequently heard of Lavenham bells, the tenor of which is said to be a most extraordinary bell; but, her companions not coming up to her standard, the exceedingly beautiful tone of the tenor is somewhat marred.' He also mentioned the eight at St. Helen's, Worcester, 'said to be a maiden peal.'

H. Dains, Royal Cumberland Youths, thought St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, superior to St. Michael's, Cornhill: St. Andrew's, Holborn, was his choice of any eight in London.

Another correspondent asked, 'Who is to judge or tell, for who has heard all the rings in England? Or who is able to retain the sounds of one ring in Scotland and another in Cornwall, for comparison? Or who has the musical ear to appreciate fully all tones and harmonies?'

ST. MARY'S, NOTTINGHAM

'Centenary of the great peal of 10,260 Grandsire Caters rung at this church, March 3rd, 1778, in 7 hours 22 minutes. Conducted by W. D. Crofts, Solicitor.'

On 7 Mar., 1878, the ringers of St. Mary's commemorated the event by ringing 5,219 Grandsire Caters in 3 hours 27 minutes (tenor 34 cwt.), the company all having been taught to ring by the conductor, W. Widdowson, his last peal. The correspondent regretted that the ringing should have taken place during Lent, but it was to celebrate the centenary of the great peal.

WIGAN PARISH CHURCH

23 Mar., 1878, the ringers of this church rang their first peal. Holt's Ten-Part Grandsire Triples, 3 hours 12 minutes. Tenor 28 cwt.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION OF CHANGE RINGERS

22 April, 1878, the Easter meeting was held at Leeds. Leeds, Holbeck and Hunslet bells were rung. During the morning a peal of 5,040 Kent T.B. Maximus in 3 hours 50 minutes was rung on the Leeds bells, the first of Maximus on the bells, 'which have lately been put in order by Mr. T. Mallaby, of Marsham.' Tenor 36 cwt.

Eastern District

Twenty-three members and friends of the Eastern District of the Ladies' Guild journeyed by coach on Friday, July 10th, to Ashbourne (where we stayed for two nights) to attend the annual meeting of the Guild at Macclesfield. Those who had been allocated lodgings in the Old Parsonage were not at all well received when they mistakenly arrived at the Vicarage at 11 p.m., but otherwise the journey was uneventful.

Saturday morning proved somewhat hectic. A funeral at the first tower, Bollington, and broken fifth and tenor ropes at Nether Alderley made our visits to these towers and to Prestbury and Chelford hasty, in order that the ladies on the Executive Committee might be in Macclesfield as near to 1 p.m. as possible. During the afternoon and evening most of the party managed to ring at the three Macclesfield towers as well as attend the service and excellent tea. On the way back to Ashbourne we rang at Gawsorth, Sutton and Congleton, and made a detour in order to visit 'The Cat and Fiddle' (the highest inn in England).

The journey home was less tiring, beginning at 9.15 a.m. on Sunday. We rang for, and attended, Matins at St. Alkmund's, Derby, and after lunch went on to Loughborough Parish Church (where we failed to do justice to either the bells or ourselves), Sileby (where we redeemed ourselves somewhat), Rothwell, and Kettering, where we joined the local band in ringing for Evensong. A meal in Kettering put us in good voice for the 100 miles still ahead of us, which were soon covered thanks to our very efficient driver, Gunner (also a ringer).

We are all most grateful to Alice Lester for arranging the trip and look forward to a repeat performance next year. Eastbourne, here we come!

BETJEMAN — A POET OF ECCLESIOLOGY

By PETER CAME

JOHN Betjeman's love of churches, their architecture and furnishings, is well known from his many articles, poems, broadcasts and from the book he edited: 'Collins' Guide to the English Churches.' He is in fact one of the few interesting and sophisticated writers on the subject and seems to discover aspects about any church that both please and amuse him; things that the average person would overlook.

Again, Betjeman's familiarity and deep affection for English ecclesiology is only too apparent from his 'Collected Poems.' The reading of these gives one the impression that he has much more than just an interest in matters ecclesiastical; he is fanatical about them. Anything from musty hassocks to a great piece of architecture like Westminster Abbey gains his attention. This interest is of paramount importance to his life and his enthusiasm for things ecclesiastical has perhaps come down from Gray, of 'The Elegy in a Country Churchyard,' who seems to be Betjeman's true poetic ancestor.

In 'Before the Anæsthetic' or 'Real Fright' are found many ecclesiastical terms as well as other terms that are obviously analogous with those in campanology, together with the author's apparent fear of death. In this poem many terrifying thoughts are conveyed to him through the noise of the bells. The bells at first call softly and gently and finally become hard:

Now hard and new as pitch pine stalls,
Now full with hope from ages past,
Now dull with death and hell at last.
Swing up! and give me hope of life,
Swing down! and plunge the surgeon's knife.
I, breathing for a moment, see
Death wing himself away from me
And think, as on this bed I lie,
Is it extinction when I die?

After his doubting during the fright, the bells ask him whether he has known the Lord. He replies:

St. Giles's bells they hear me call
I never knew the Lord at all.
Oh not in me your Saviour dwells
Your ancient, rich St. Giles's bells
Illuminating missals—spires—
Wide screens and decorated quires—
All these I loved, and on my knees
I thanked myself for knowing these.

Once again this poem shows only too clearly Betjeman's love for churches. They delight him and however pathetic or depressed he feels he knows that there is something to live for: 'I thanked the Lord for knowing these.'

Betjeman has studied Victorian architecture with great diligence:

On villa'd hill and on Sir Gilbert's spire
So new, so high, so pure, so broached, so tall.

The author can appreciate that the spire of '... Christ Church, Swindon,' has qualities as a piece of architecture: it is tall and broached and is as pure a Gothic as Sir Gilbert Scott could make it.

Betjeman's pursuit of things Victorian, if he is being serious, is well brought out in the poem 'Hymn,' referring to 'The Church's Restoration in eighteen eighty three,' of which he sings the praises:

Worthy persecution
Oh dust! O hue divine!
O cheerful substitution,
Thou varnished pitch pine!
Church furnishing! Church furnishing!
Sing art and crafty praise!

It seems that Betjeman finds something aesthetically beautiful in Victorian architecture which other people perhaps fail to appreciate. He has a very deep feeling for it, which may be either religious or sentimental, as conveyed to us in 'St. Saviour's, Aberdeen Park, Highbury, London, N.':

Great red church of my parents cruciform crossing they knew—

Over these same encaustics they and their parents trod Bound through a red-brick transept for a once familiar pew

Where the organ set them singing and the sermon let them nod

And up this coloured brickwork the same long shadows grew.

As these in the stencilled chancel where I feel in the presence of God.

Lord Birkenhead in his introduction to 'Collected Poems,' quoting John Sparrow, has described Betjeman as 'a landscape poet' (though he does not completely ignore his ecclesiastical interests). This description does not do justice to Betjeman's true interest. There are few of his poems in which one does not find mention of the 'broached spire,' the 'Victorian tower,' the tombstone or even the noise of bells. He is obviously so aware of churches, their architecture and furnishings, that he rarely fails to leave them out of any of his writings. Even in 'The Licorice Fields at Pontefract' he has to include:

From various black Victorian towers
The Sunday evening bells
Came pealing over dales and hills:

MISS JEAN BARNETT'S WEDDING

THE wedding took place at St. Paulinus', Crayford, on Saturday, July 18th, of Miss Jean F. Barnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Barnett, of Crayford, and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Barnett and Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Hairs, and Mr. James A. D. Woolford, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Woolford, of Acomb, Yorks. The service was conducted by the Rector (Canon P. C. Collins), and during the ceremony Miss Gillian Sunmall, a young member of the Crayford band, sang 'Jesu, joy of man's desiring.'

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a princess line white satin brocade dress with a short bouffant veil and carried a crescent of dark red roses. The bridesmaids were the Misses Pat Wayman (Surfleet), Ann Fellows (Kings Norton and Exeter), Judith Corby (Sevenoaks), Amanda Woolley (Bushey Heath) and Jennifer Freeman (Lincoln), who all wore green taffeta brocade dresses and carried white prayer books. The best man was Mr. Colin Reeves, a fellow member with the bridegroom of the York Minster band.

A reception, attended by some 90 guests, including a number of well-known ringers, was held at the Royal Victoria and Bull Hotel, Dartford.

Before and after the service the bells were rung by Messrs. H. E. Audsley, W. E. Bond, P. A. Corby (Jean's godfather), F. J. Cullum, J. Freeman, T. J. Lock and C. W. Woolley, all of whom have known Jean 'since she was so-high,' and Mr. V. Bottomley, a friend of Jim's.

Both bride and bridegroom have recently been living in Exeter, where they rang at Heavitree and at the Cathedral, also taking part in a number of peals in the area.

During the evening a peal of Cambridge Major was rung at St. John-the-Baptist's, Eriih, and Cumberlands assembled at Lincoln rang a peal of Bristol Surprise Major. An earlier attempt at St. Mary Magdalene's, Holloway, was unfortunately unsuccessful, as was one for a quarter peal at Withyham. Other ringing included quarters on the following Monday at St. Clement Danes by some of the 'first Sunday' band, of which Jean was for several years a member, and at Sidcup by six of the Crayford band.

After a honeymoon spent touring Jean and Jim will be living at Tattershall, Lincoln, when Jim takes up a teaching appointment at nearby Coningsby.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

A successful quarterly meeting of the Northern District was held at Knebworth on July 4th. Ringing in methods to suit all began soon after 3 o'clock, until the Rev. P. Maddox, from Codicote, conducted the service. There had been difficulties in arranging tea, for which apologies were made, so some enjoyed a picnic meal.

Mr. W. Critchley was chairman for the business meeting, at which Mr. R. Trebilcock (Balcock) and Miss R. Spicer (Knebworth) were elected members, and Mr. B. Cousins (Saffron Walden) a non-resident life member. The District was invited to hold its next quarterly meeting at Codicote on October 3rd; the August meeting will not be held, but we hope to visit Graveley for the evening meeting in September. There was some discussion on the topics of ringing courses and district boundaries. Members were asked for their views on the contents of the annual report. The members stood in silence in memory of the late L. Fidler, who had one time been Northern District secretary and also president of the Association.

Ringling continued until 8.30 with many visitors. J.S.

Mr. E. P. Inskio, of Bromham, Beds, writes that he is very pleased with the new plan for peals. He has taken 'The Ringing World' since No. 1 and has not missed a copy.

MR. J. A. D. WOOLFORD—MISS J. F. BARNETT.

WEDDING OF MISS JANET S. BAILEY

The ringers of St. Mary's, Sunbury-on-Thames, rang their bells on July 18th in honour of Miss Janet Sylvia Bailey (a member of the band) who was married there that day to Mr. William Charles (Joe) Hopper, of Putney. The Vicar, Rev. David Savill, officiated at the fully choral service. In the beautifully decorated church each pew had been bedecked with flowers and the base of the tower with 'trees' of carnations by the Altar Flower Guild, assisted by a friend of the bride skilled in the art of floral display.

A full length dress of nylon organza with bouffant veil was worn by the bride, whose bouquet was of green orchids with stephanotis. She was given away by her uncle and attended by her sister and the bridegroom's niece.

Janet was one of a group of Sunbury learner-ringers taught change-ringing by Tony Price, of Feltham, about 15 years ago. Her progress was rapid and in a short space of time she had entered the peal-ringing field with a high standard. Surprise Major, Royal and Maximus, and Cinques came easily to her. She was also a member of the Roving Ringers and toured with them. A soprano singer, she has taken the leading parts in oratorios with several local choral societies and with the Parish Church choir which she joined when a schoolgirl. The bridegroom, who is an engineer with the B.P. Research Centre at Sunbury, does not ring but is a frequent visitor to the belfry and well-known to the ringers.

The reception was at the Mitre Hotel, Hampton Court, and the honeymoon in Corsica. D.B.

Grantley Hall Course

The next Grantley Hall Ringing course will be held from September 25th to September 27th with Messrs. Frederick Sharpe, Nolan Golden and Norman Chaddock as lecturers. A talk on the Washington visit illustrated by coloured slides and recordings of the bells will be given by Mr. Chaddock.

Further details later. Applications to The Warden, Grantley Hall, near Ripon, Yorkshire.

Centenary of a Leeds Parish

The peal recorded in our columns at St. Mary's, Hunslet, Parish Church (Leeds) to commemorate the centenary of the church was a send off to the Anniversary Week which commenced on July 12th. Records of the installation of this ring of eight bells in the parochial Church Council minutes are practically non-existent.

The report in the minutes on the recast bells in 1939 by John Taylor and Co. state that they were cast by John Warner and Sons, 1863. A peal record book, in beautiful copperplate writing exists, which gives the first peal in this tower. Oxford Treble Bob Major, in 1871. In all 16 peals were rung up to 1922. J. W. Snowden, founder of the Yorkshire Association, conducted three peals in 1876 and 1878; as far as I can ascertain only 4 have been rung since. Amongst the past incumbents who attended this anniversary was the Rt. Rev. E. M. Gresford Jones, now Bishop of St. Albans, who was the vicar from 1939 and through the last war years.

This church with spire is in a district in the suburbs of the city of Leeds: the district is older than the city itself, and is set amidst engineering works and industry where such firms as Hunslet Engine Co. and Towlers Tractors produce diesel engines and tractors for many countries of the world today.

One wonders about the future of this church and parish as the population is fast disappearing under the steam roller of Leeds Corporation slum clearance programme? But one closely connected cannot help but have affection for this church which, despite an occasional broken window and its blackened stonework, stands gaunt and defiant, its bells ringing out God's message far and wide. A.C.

OBITUARY

MR. FREDERICK W. ROGERS

An Appreciation

Mr. E. A. Barnett writes:—

I was glad to read the tribute paid by Mr. George Pullinger to Fred Rogers at the annual meeting of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild. It seemed wrong that the passing of such a ringer should have gone almost unnoticed.

I first met Mr. Rogers in the early 1930's. For several years he and his great friend, Alf Greenwood, spent a week or so peal ringing in this area, and Crayford, which in those days was something of a Mecca for peal ringers, frequently figured in the list. My grandfather, who was no mean judge, once described Fred to me as 'a perfect striker', a distinction he accorded, in my hearing at least, to one other ringer only, Mr. Reuben Sanders. I also recall visits around that time to St. Mary's, Portsea, during family holidays in the area, and being smuggled afterwards into 'The Salvation', having fortunately the height, if not the years, to carry it off.

Among Fred's numerous ringing distinctions was that he rang more than fifty peals at St. Peter's, Brighton, although living many miles away. One memorable tour in which he took part was in South Wales in 1932 along with a number of the finest ringers of the day—Keith Hart and Oliver Sippetts, Charles W. Roberts and Wilfred Williams among them. It is rather sad that of the eleven whose photograph appeared in 'The Ringing World' afterwards, five are dead and only Don Clift and Wilfred Williams are now active ringers. Fred served the cause of ringing in many ways and his passing is a great loss.

MISS CHRISTINE GOLDEN

The ashes of the late Miss Christine Golden were interred in the quiet setting of the church of St. Mary, Northrepps, the birthplace of her father, Mr. F. N. Golden.

Canon A. G. G. Thurlow officiated, and after the interment 720 Bob Minor was rung with the bells half-muffled by Mrs. G. Sayer 1, Mr. G. Sayer 2, Chris Sayer 3, Canon A. G. G. Thurlow 4, Mr. F. N. Golden (cond.) 5, Mr. C. Bird 6.

WRATTEN'S WRINGERS, 1964

SATURDAY, July 4th, dawned bright as ringers from Swindon, Bristol, Southampton and East Anelia made their way to Colwall, in Herefordshire, for the start of the second annual peal tour of 'Wratten's Wringers'. The first peal attempt of the week was delayed to enable a number of the ropes to be replaced and, more importantly, to allow the tenor man to satisfy himself that England were going to lose the third Test. These preliminaries over, the band settled down to ring a good peal of Stratford Surprise, the first in the method for all. By eight o'clock the week's headquarters, the Great Western Hotel, Cheltenham, had been reached, and three more members of the party collected.

An early start was made on Sunday by those staying at the Wratten establishment, who rang at Charlton Kings (8. 17 cwt.), before joining the local band and the rest of the party for ringing at St. Mary's, Cheltenham, with Cambridge Royal, Stedman Cinques and Little Bob Maximus. Sufficient time remained before lunch for the Bristol contingent to beat The Rest 9-8 at football.

When we arrived at Hanbury (8. 12 cwt.) for the afternoon peal there was no sign of Brian Bladon, the last 'full-timer' of the party, and Chris Kippin was persuaded to take his place. The conductor having learnt a new composition of Aldenham, a good peal was duly rung. Outside Brian was waiting for us, having repaired the mechanical trouble to his car, and shortly afterwards the non-pealers returned from ringing on the ten at Kings Norton.

NO 'MONDAY MORNING FEELING

There was no sign of the 'Monday morning feeling' about the attempt for Cambridge Minor at Ripple, Worcs. (6. 13 cwt.), but unfortunately a broken rope put paid to it after 1½ hours' ringing. Meanwhile the rest of the party were more fortunate with a first-class long length (5,216) of Lincolnshire at Malvern Link (16½ cwt.). Claines (10. 14 cwt.) was the afternoon tower, and here two-spliced Surprise Royal was rushed round in 24 hours—rather too fast for these easy-going bells, and it was suspected that the cricketing tenor-man was impatient to know the outcome of the Test match.

One car-load managed to 'grab' Strensham (6. 11 cwt.) on their way back to Cheltenham afterwards. Once back at headquarters, it soon became apparent that Cheltenham's famous Promenade had been taken over by teenagers (quite legally, as part of Cheltenham's Music Festival), and after tea various members of the party joined the throng. The sight of six of them standing in a circle on a zebra-crossing and solemnly going through the motions of ringing a touch of Minor on tower-bells caused considerable interest, and it is expected that the Twist may soon be replaced by another 'dance' that may seem rather familiar to those who know something of ringing!

Tuesday morning's programme called for Minor at Great Barrington (8 cwt.) and Superlative at Kingham (8. 12 cwt.), but again the Minor didn't go, this time because of a shift. Once more the eight-bell peal was luckier. After the fast peal here, Pudsey was rung in what seemed a very stately pace at Kirtlington (8. 16½ cwt.) in the afternoon while the non-ringers disappeared to the cinema in Oxford.

With haze hanging round the Malvern Hills the next morning eight made their way to Ross-on-Wye (8. 25 cwt.) for a peal of Yorkshire. Some of the bells have a tendency to drop here, and a fair amount of hard work was called for. After two hours a couple of men appeared in the belfry and, to the conductor's consternation, made their way towards the bells. Fortunately they had only come to wind the clock, and the peal was concluded without further incident. Meanwhile six more had gone to Aston Ingham (6. 5½ cwt.) for what turned out to be the only successful attempt for Minor during the week. A good knowledge of Minor splicing enabled thirteen methods to be rung, rather to the surprise of the Bristol member of the band, who was sure he knew no more than seven or eight methods altogether!

The afternoon attempt was on the fine eight at Usk, Monmouthshire (14½ cwt.), but unfortunately 7-Spliced was lost through a shift after 2½ hours with only one more part to go. Spirits were soon revived on returning to Cheltenham, where the non-drivers showed that there was 'nothing to it,' albeit only in dodgery (surely a misnomer!) at the fair-ground.

CAMBRIDGE AS AN ALARM CLOCK

Thursday morning started for Chris Kippin with Cambridge 'in hand' over his bed, as effective as any alarm clock. Later, Bisley (8. 17 cwt.) proved a surprising handful, and at the end of the peal of Rutland the refreshments provided at the Rectory were extremely welcome. After well over two hours' ringing at Tetbury (8. 17 cwt.) the conductor set up an attempt for Whitminster, when it became clear that something was wrong. The 'something' turned out to be the composition, which would have been one of the most musical yet rung, having the sixth 16 courses in 6ths!

Two ringers were found to be missing upon descending from the tower. They returned in the early hours of Friday morning from, of all places, Birmingham, where they'd scored a 'bonus' peal of Royal at the Cathedral.

Two good peals were rung in the Vale of Evesham on Friday—four-spliced at Bretforton (8. 9 cwt.) in the morning, and Whitminster at Hinton-on-the-Green (8. 10 cwt.) in the afternoon, making up for the previous day's failure. The non-ringers took to golf for the afternoon, with varying degrees of success. In the evening the usual celebration was held at an unsuspecting inn, the highlight being Chris Kippin struggling to master an antiquated accordion. By the end of the evening he had become quite adept and we were able to fulfil musical requests from the public bar to everyone's satisfaction.

Alas, the end was now in sight and the pace telling. On Saturday morning a tenors-parted composition of Cambridge Major was lost at Iedbury (8. 22 cwt.) after an hour because of a shift, and in the afternoon Minor in the method at Tisbury (6. 12 cwt.) didn't last beyond the first extent. Fortunately the afternoon's eight-bell band managed to ring a peal of Ashted at Watermoor, Cirencester (8. 19½ cwt.), so we could still hold up our heads.

Our appreciation and thanks are due to Cyril and Margery for the excellent arrangements and accommodation during the week, and also to all the incumbents and ringers who made the week possible and us all so welcome. It only remains to say: 'Roll on next year!'

G.E.T.

MERSHAM CHURCH BELLS

The bells, 5 by Joseph Hatch c. 1630 and 3 by Mears 1880-2 are in urgent need of repair, a new frame and fittings are required, and if possible a new ringing floor, and new floor under bells. This is not all: the south wall of the tower needs extensive repairs.

Mersham is a small parish and although a good sum has been raised, there is still a lot more to get.

Will anyone who has rung these or may like to when the job is finished care to send a donation to the Rev. C. F. Pollard, Mersham Rectory, Ashford, Kent.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Ashford District

About twenty visitors were present for the service and tea at Cheriton on July 18th. Unfortunately the meeting coincided with the Hythe and Lympne outings, and these towers sent their apologies, as did Mr. B. Marks of Brabourne.

The service was conducted by the Rector, (the Rev. C. Munt), Mr. W. Chandler, choir-master and hon. secretary of the Cheriton ringers, was at the organ, and the choir was in attendance. The Rector, who is himself a change-ringer, gave an interesting address. Tea was afterwards enjoyed at the Church School, served by the ladies of the Cheriton ringers.

At the business meeting it was reported that work was to start on rehanging the bells at Pluckley about the middle of August. Ringing at Brabourne has finally had to stop until a major restoration can be undertaken. A new frame is needed, which, it is hoped, will make provision for eight bells. This thinly populated parish has already raised £4,000 for the restoration of the church, and is now faced with this further heavy expense of £2,000. Brabourne has eight enthusiastic learners, recruited by Mr. Marks (who is also organising the Bells Appeal Fund). In the meantime they are continuing to practise at Stowting. They rang every Sunday until the ban was imposed. The historic bells of Mersham will probably be taken to the foundry at the end of the year. The report on the tower at Ashford has been received, but it is not yet clear whether or not the ring will be augmented to ten.

Eight new members, three adults and five juniors, were elected to the Association. Mr. Alan Berry, the Ringing Master, voiced the thanks of the visitors to the Rector, to the organist and the choir, and to Mr. A. Eastmoad, captain of Cheriton ringers, and his helpers for making all the arrangements.

Some useful practice continued for about an hour on the light eight. The old tower, splendidly situated, and with its Saxon window and doorway, has been much improved by its new ringing floor. Ringing continued until about 9 o'clock at St. Nicholas', Newington, where the ringers were joined by visitors from Chelsfield, Greenwich and South Wales.

C.T.H.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

The annual general meeting of the Hereford Diocesan Guild was held at Clifford, Herefordshire, on Whit-Monday, and during the day ringing took place at towers in the Clifford District.

Over 120 members and visitors were present at the service in St. Mary's Church which was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. J. Hayes). Tea was served in the Church Hall, and was followed by the annual meeting.

Mr. H. G. Thomas, of Bridgnorth, was elected Master to succeed Mr. A. T. Wingate, whose term of office had expired. All other officers were re-elected. In recognition of services rendered to the Guild, and in appreciation of the services that he still performs, particularly in regard to week-end courses of instruction, Mr. W. F. Moreton was made a vice-president.

Proposals made by the Rules Revision Committee were adopted and it was decided that the revised rules should operate from January 1st, 1965. A striking competition was inaugurated.

The 1965 annual general meeting will be held at Clun.

A LAYMAN ON A BELLRINGERS' OUTING

'If you are not doing anything on June 27th, care to come on the ringers' outing?' My son casually put the question across the table one morning some months ago. 'And do you think you could do a piece for "The Ringing World"?' you know, the layman's point of view? I thought for a moment what I would have in common with the number of lusty (vigorous and healthy connotation) young lads and lasses who make up the band at St. Mary's of Beddington. Ale! It has been my experience that wherever there is a church so there would be a pub. I have often wondered which was there first, a church or a pub. While the ringers sampled the bells, I could sample the local brews — an arrangement which should bring pleasure to all concerned.

Although not being a ringer I am not entirely ignorant of the profession. I know that Grand-sire is pronounced to sound like Grantser, that a touch is not an attempt to borrow half-a-crown, that a spliced double is not a mixture of spirits, that a canon, besides being a Church dignitary, is also a part of a bell and that if one wishes to upset a ringer call him a campanologist.

And so on June 27th, 35 ringers and non-ringers set out for the Thames Valley. It was such a day which old and middle-aged talk about nostalgically when discussing their youth. Warm, clear-skied, peaceful, apart from the hundreds of maniacs hurtling along the roads at breakneck speed. Past Kempton Park, of unhappy memory (never did any good there), we left the main roads and twisted and turned through the lovely quiet lanes of Berkshire, lanes green and hedges high, through gaps in which one could see the rolling, wooded hills stretching towards the horizon. Past the White Hart at Sonning, the sight of which made me lick my lips—this coach-riding was thirsty work —to Shiplake, the square tower peeping over the tree-tops, which at that time were wreathed with mist.

The coach stopped outside the Plowden Arms (not yet open). Alighting, we crossed the quiet country road, along a tree-tunnelled lane, where diminutive, triangular flags were being draped in preparation for the afternoon's fete, past a board which informed us that Tennyson was married at the church and that the church was at least 12th century, to a spot where time appeared to have stood still for at least a couple of hundred years. My brochure informed me that the tower has 8 bells (9 cwt. tenor), but for me the joy of the church was a really beautiful memorial in the form of a clock set on the west wall of the building, facing the pulpit.

Coming out of the church I happened to glance over the hedge and thought for the moment the standing figure was of a lady wearing one of the new topless dresses. Being both short-sighted and embarrassed I nudged my companion, who reassured me it was a piece of classical statuary in a garden. I immediately repaired to the Plowden Arms for a little something to assist my recovery from what had been quite a shock. Sitting outside the bar on a wooden bench, my back against the wall, a pint of good ale, drawn from the wood, in my fist, the sun blazing down and the sweet sound of the bells one felt that the England of our ancestors had not entirely vanished in the fumes of diesel, petrol and burning rubber and the cacophony of juke boxes and portable wireless sets.

And so to Dorchester. Topping a hill, across the green flat fields one saw again a square, stone tower topped by a gaily waving crossed flag of St. George. Sweeping round the bend in the road at the entrance to Dorchester, passing on the right the ancient-looking Fleur de Lys, a coaching inn, and stopping outside another charming white-faced hostelry, the White Hart, we alighted and walked back over the pavement of rounded stones—in modern thin shoes, most uncomfortable to traverse. Through a most imposing entrance to the church, with the museum on the left, one enters the grand old Abbey, as it once was. For me at least it was all rather spoilt because of the bustle of preparing the church for a concert. I was invited to see the ringing room, and large and important it was. Continuing up the narrow, twisting, steep stone stairs (with visions of becoming jammed and spending the rest of my life stuck on the stairs) I rather recklessly entered the bell chamber. I now know just how the poor unfortunate in Dorothy Sayers' 'The Nine Tailors' must have suffered. There they were—a nest of bells, brazen throated and iron tongued—the large (16 cwt.) bossman in the middle, surrounded by his ever-decreasing satellites, turning over and over, roaring and bellowing their message over the surrounding countryside. To assist my eardrums to recover, I adjourned to the hotel across the road to imbibe in the quiet of the bar beer from a pewter pot. Whether it was the bells or the warmth of the day the ale tasted superb.

After the excellent lunch, on 20 miles to Bampton (8 bells, with a 25 cwt. tenor). With its extraordinarily high needle-like spire, the church set on a rising mound appeared not only a fortress against evil but against marauding bands of raiders of long ago. The stone-walled houses with their slate roofs flanking the wide roads seemed to have stood there for ever. Where the inhabitants were I do not know, but the place appeared to be deserted, even the roads were so empty that I could stand in the middle of the main road and take photographs without having to make frantic leaps sideways to avoid traffic—there just wasn't any. If anyone is seeking employment, not particularly highly paid but obviously leisurely. Bampton is seeking a clerk to the council—£60 p.a., plus a further £20 for looking after the Graves Register.

On a further 15 miles to ancient Abingdon. Another tall spired church set beside the river (10 bells this time, with a 20 cwt. tenor). To describe adequately the treasures of Abingdon Church would take up much more space than I am likely to be allotted—the old chained Bible, a rare Breeches Bible (I know of another at Rye), the velvet covered pews for the Mayor and other civic dignitaries. A pause beside the river—to see a large carp flirting with the bait of an outraged angler and the excitement when he thought he had a 'good 'un' only to find he had hooked into a large sunken tree... Tea in the High Street and on another 20 miles to Reading (8 bells and a 25½ cwt. tenor). The church being locked I was forced to make a tour of some of the local inns, and I can only hope that the church was more impressive than Reading's pubs. The paper seller outside the church was not. I fear, either a ringer or a lover of bells. After having difficulty in hearing which paper I required and giving me the correct change from a sixpence he grunted something about 'bloody row every Saturday night,' and looked as if I were responsible.

And so along the darkening roads, with one further stop to permit the thirsty ringers to remove some of the dust of Reading Church from their throats, we made our way back to Beddington, tired but happy and satisfied ringers, and at least one not tired but very happy, satisfied non-ringer.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A Gentleman Ringer

Dear Sir,—Mr. Wratten's article recalls several names which were well-known to the Shepherd family of Exeter in the early years of the Devon Guild, and Mr. G. H. Phillott was no stranger to the county. At 39 he was a member of the Central Council (1891) and the names of Troyte, Ellacombe, Field, Hounslow and Rev. F. E. Robinson were also associated with change ringing in Devon.

Regarding Ellacombe's chiming apparatus I prefer to remember him best for his wonderful work as a West Country historian.

Canon Cattle is a new name to me, but it is news that he was largely responsible for Worcester Cathedral having a ring of 12, and also procuring a 62 cwt. tenor for St. Paul's Cathedral. Taylors cast a peal of 13 for Worcester in 1876 and the ring was designed by Lord Grimthorpe, who had a wide influence for big bells, including St. Paul's Cathedral in 1878. The tenor is inscribed 'Presented by The Corporation of the City of London'; in fact all the 12 were presentations or gifts.—Yours sincerely,

WILLIAM SHEPHERD.

Addlestone, Surrey.

'Our Ringing World'

Dear Sir.—Yours and mine; now at its peak; a lovely set-up; something for everybody from cover to cover; and no complaints lately.

Then the postal upset, but still our journal arrived, thanks to the thought of the Editor and staff.

Thank you for the thought not to let us down, and here is a little practical appreciation from OAD BAT-ER.

Note.—Canon C. Carew Cox has also sent us a donation and has expressed the hope that others might be induced to help. Extra postage has now reached £60.—Ed.

Jarrom Surprise Minor

Dear Sir, — Re peal of Jarrom Surprise Minor (page 503 of 'The Ringing World', July 24th, 1964).

I would be very grateful if the seven extents of the above method could be published, please.—Yours sincerely, A. BISHOP.

London, S.W.

Peals withdrawn

Dear Sir,—I wish to withdraw the following peals conducted by myself, the composition of which is false, and offer my sincere apologies to all who took part.

The peal is 5,008 Plain Bob Major, attributed to the late Mr. G. Hughes, of Wednesbury, and this was rung at: Broseley (Hereford Guild), June 24th, 1961; Eardisland (Staffs. Society), November 26th, 1962; and Brewood (Staffs. Society), October 5th, 1963.

The figures were given to me with the inscription: 'This is an excellent peal and contains some good music, I have called it several times.' I regret to say I have done the same.—Yours faithfully,

BARNABAS C. KEY.

Gnosall, Stafford.

The thanks of all who went on the outing for the interesting route and other arrangements he made are due to the organiser and Master of the tower, Stewart Kimber

HANDBELL ARCH AT RAVING RINGERS' WEDDING

On July 4th (Independence Day) Mr. Anthony L. Mann and Miss Heather Oakley were married at St. John's Church, Aldenham, Herts. In the morning a peal of Plain Bob Major was rung at Bushey by fellow members of the Society of Raving Ringers.

The bride wore a full-length dress of white brocade and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

After the ceremony, while the couple were being photographed beneath an archway of handbells, a cascade of rose petals descended on them from the tower.

The reception was held in the Memorial Hall, Letchmore Heath. The couple afterwards left for Northern Ireland, where Tony has been posted by the Air Ministry Police.

In the evening the Ravers joined three members of the local band in a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples at Aldenham. H. O.

HANDBELL RECITAL AT CATHEDRAL

The Launton Handbell Ringers gave a recital to the Friends of Hereford Cathedral on July 4th in the nave of the Cathedral. The music included items by classical and modern composers, mediæval, foreign and traditional English carols.

Seventy-six handbells were used in the recital. They form part of the collection of 207 bells which Mr. F. Sharpe has acquired in an effort to include examples of the work of all known English bellfounders from the time of Charles II until the present day. All the bells have been tuned and fitted with leatherwork by him and are in first-class order. Examples of the work of seven founders are required to complete the collection.

The ringers were first entertained to lunch by the Dean of Hereford (the Very Rev. R. P. Price) and afterwards attended Festal Evenson. Mr. Frederick Sharpe then gave a lecture and the company of over 500 were present at tea in the Bishop's palace gardens. The recital followed.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Western District was held at Collingham on June 20th.

The business meeting was held in the church. This probably accounted for the subdued behaviour of those present and the speed at which the business was conducted. Before the election of officers took place it was learned with regret that Mr. T. W. Strangeway wished to resign from the General Committee. The vice-president, Mr. W. Barton, spoke warmly of the many years' active and faithful service he had given to the Association.

COWBRIDGE SCHOOL RINGERS AT WHITECHAPEL

(Condensed from report in the school's weekly magazine, 'The Lion,' dated July 11th.)

On July 7th Mr. I. Davies took ten of the school's bellringers on a trip to London to visit the famous bell foundry of Mears and Stainbank at Whitechapel. At 8.30 we all piled into Mr. D.'s van and commenced our journey to Cardiff, where we arrived at the station safely.

On the journey in the train the back six of our 12 handbells appeared and a course of Plain Bob Minor ensued. While standing in the corridor Mr. D. heard two ladies' remarks about our ringing. One said: 'Doesn't that sound lovely!' while the other said: 'Coo! Get away from this lot!' and proceeded to do so. During a course of Cambridge 'Evs' let out a cry of 'Hi! I'm trying to get a snap at lead!' to which remark Gareth Jones replied: 'You haven't got a chance.' Which was the truth.

After a satisfying lunch we made our way to Whitechapel. At 2.15 we entered the foundry and a very enjoyable tour followed. We saw most of the aspects of bell founding except the bell being actually cast. We went to the handbell shop and saw the way Mears finish their handbells. 'Ken' then played 'Hyfrydol,' an old Welsh tune, on the back six of 16 bells for Cape Town Cathedral, to the delight and amazement of our guide.

We returned to the station after visiting St. Paul's, and caught the 7 p.m. train to Cardiff. After fish and chips at Canton we crept into school at about 11.15 thus ending an enjoyable day. C.R.

OUTINGS LUTON, BEDS

The annual outing of the Luton Parish Church ringers took place on July 4th, when they visited Lichfield, Walsall, Wolverhampton and Redditch.

After a stop for coffee en route, Lichfield Cathedral was reached in good time, and the fine ring of ten much enjoyed, as were the architectural features of this venerable pile.

An excellent lunch was followed by the short run to Walsall where an enjoyable hour was spent on the easy-going twelve at St. Matthew's. The noble Parish Church of St. Peter, Wolverhampton, has a fine ring of twelve, and a very pleasant hour was spent here.—What a pity that, through lack of ringers, these bells are seldom heard! One hopes that soon those residents of Wolverhampton who possess ringing potential will wander into the belfry!

Approaching Redditch the scenery became very attractive, though the roads became narrower and narrower, retarding our progress, but allowing more time to admire the view! After a pull on the light eight at St. Stephen's, full justice was done to a most adequate tea, and the homeward journey, through Stratford-on-Avon and Banbury was quite delightful, on this pleasant summer evening.

It was a great privilege, and one that was much appreciated, to ring at all these interesting places, and the grateful thanks of all are accorded to the Dean of Lichfield and the incumbents of Walsall, Wolverhampton and Redditch, and to the local ringers who were so kind. May I say, 'So nice to meet you!' from all of us.

BARNSELY DISTRICT SOCIETY

Barnsley and District Society made a 7 a.m. start for their annual outing on July 25th so as to reach St. Andrew's, Kildwick by 9.30. A memory of this eight-bell tower is the gravestone in the churchyard representing an organ. At Skipton we had the privilege of ringing for a wedding, and some of it was very delightful. Julia will remember Skipton, not only for the lunch at the Midland Hotel, but where she lost the sole of her shoe! Providentially, one of the ladies had brought along two pairs and all was well.

A hymn tune was being rung by a ringer as we climbed the steps of St. Andrew's Church, Gargrave (8). Our third St. Andrew's tower of the day was Aysgarth (6), where we had good ringing and visited the falls. High tea was waiting for us at the Blue Lion, Witton, and afterwards we found the six bells at St. John's Church a little tricky. Opportunity was taken by some of the party to see Jervaulx Abbey.

Happy memories remain of this well-organised outing by Mr. Christopher Moxon, and of the skilful driving of Mr. Eric Stainrod. Incumbents and those who met us are thanked.

EASTBOURNE, SUSSEX

Leaving Eastbourne on the traditional second Saturday in July, St. Mary's ringers, with some friends and neighbours, set out for a quick tour of Kent. The coach was soon weaving along the smugglers' roads to Lydd, and on this excellent octave the best performances of the day took place—Double Norwich and Grandsire Triples. From Lydd we counted the Martello towers to Folkestone, where a heavier eight with newish ropes demanded more attention, and we added Kent and Stedman to our repertoire.

After lunch at Ramsgate, the unorthodox entrance to St. Laurence's tower caused some comment. Cambridge and Grandsire Caters came round, but Little and Plain Bob Spliced failed before moving on to Faversham. Here St. Clement's Major and Bob Major were included.

The final tower was Marden, where the tiring band rang more Grandsire, Plain Bob and Double Norwich. On the way home we fought paper battles, stole Jane's shoes, named a new method for three bells Spong Sorrow—and decided NOT to submit it for publication. The day's achievements also included Paul's first and second touches of Bob Major, and Harold's discovery that a certain bell was very deep set, due to the slider being in the next pit.

LITTLE ASTON, WARWICKSHIRE

Celebrations were not only being held throughout America on July 4th. Little Aston, too, was aroused from slumber in the early hours of the morning as local ringers and friends piled languidly into the coach, which was waiting to take them on the annual outing—this year to the Wye Valley. Welcome additions to the party came from the Cannock and Lichfield bands..

The prospects of a day's good ringing and fine, sunny weather lay before us as we set out for the first of the seven churches, Ombersley. After a ring on the 16 cwt. six, we moved on to Ledbury and spent a most enjoyable hour ringing the very pleasant eight there to a variety of touches including a half course of Cambridge Major. Then, after a coffee break, there followed a long drive through delightful countryside to Symond's Yat, a beautiful corner of Herefordshire on a bend in the River Wye. An unexpected opportunity of having our packed lunches while 'cruising down the river' was seized without delay. The boatman, however, despite enthusiastic requests, disappointed some by refusing to shoot the 200 ft. long rapids—a drop of a mere eight feet.

During the afternoon ringing took place at Longhope Church and Norton, and from here we went into Tewkesbury for high tea. Afterwards we took the opportunity to look around the Abbey and admire its floral decorations.

On our homeward route we stopped at Dumbleton (a pleasant ring of six), where a touch of Six Spliced Surprise Minor was accomplished without undue difficulty. The last tower of the day contained the eight at Norton, Evesham, where, after touches of Stedman and Little Bob, a respectable course of Yorkshire completed the day's ringing.

Despite the earlier misgivings of our organiser, Kay Moore, all concerned agreed that it was a most successful outing. Thanks must be given to those who made the arrangements, and to the incumbents and ringers of the churches visited. M.C.S.

OUTINGS*ALDRINGTON, SUSSEX

With perfect weather on June 27th, we welcomed ringers and friends from several local towers on our annual outing. Arriving a little late at the first tower, we enjoyed our ring at St Mary's, Staines, and ate our refreshments. At Bray we admired the beautifully decorated church and splendid panoramic view from the top of the tower. Lunch was at Maidenhead followed by ringing at Twyford and then Wargrave, where a course of Cambridge Major was attempted; meanwhile several of our visitors became engrossed in looking for the tomb of Madame Tussaud, but were unsuccessful.

We found Henley preparing for the beginning of the Royal Regatta and enjoyed the tone of the bells. After a splendid tea at Bagshot we made our way to Pirbright; unfortunately we were late owing to flower purchasing! As we are used to 6 bell ringing the bells were not too bad and we managed a course of Kent Minor and touches of Stedman Doubles.

We wish to thank two of our honorary members, Pam and Diana Gough, from Guildford, for kindly inviting us to have refreshments in their garden. After this pleasant climax we arrived at Aldrington at 10.30 p.m. Our thanks go to the incumbents and the ladies of the band for organising the refreshments. S.G.R.

LYMPNE OUTING

Lympne bellringers made up a party of 27 for their annual outing on July 18th which included friends from Burmarsh and Foikestone and rang in seven towers in that delightful area to the east of Canterbury.

Ringling at the beautiful old churches of Bekesbourne and Sturry was followed by a picnic lunch on the banks of the Stour during which the company were entertained by handbell ringing by Folkestone's Richard Hough, his sisters and friends who came drifting down the river in a boat.

Those charming villages (and churches), Wickhambreux and Littlebourne, were visited followed by the stately towers of Wingham and Ash where some excellent touches of Grandsire Triples and Kent Treble Bob Major were rung.

Finally to the seemingly remote and pleasant church at Goodnestone and so home.

At each tower except Ash where time pressed, touches in various methods were rung by the ladies in the party.

Thanks are due to the incumbents and ringers at the towers visited for their hospitality which helped to make the outing so enjoyable.

ELSTOW, BEDS

On June 27th the Elstow ringers, with friends from other Bedfordshire towers, spent a happy day in the Surrey area.

St. Margaret's, Uxbridge (an excellent eight), whetted our appetites for things to come, and it is surely an indication of true British fortitude to say that Stanwell failed to damp the enthusiasm of the party, though the bells here were generally vote-hm!—I forget what I was going to say!

After an excellent lunch we entered Surrey and the very fine six at Ottershaw were considered a ringer's dream—after the Vicar had been persuaded to leave his sylvan retreat and let us in.

Some enjoyable ringing took place at Chobham and Old Woking. A little difficulty was experienced in finding St. Mary's, Send, but the pleasure of a pull on the fine ring of six and the joy of lingering awhile in this charming and peaceful spot were well worth the effort. Horsell (another good six) was the conclusion of the day's ringing, which ranged from rounds to London Surprise, and the journey home was broken for the usual convivial half-hour.

Sincere thanks to our hosts in Middlesex and Surrey, and to our organiser, M<sup>rs</sup> M. Pettitt. A. E. R.

According to 'The Irish Bell News,' Derek Jones is taking a peal ringing band to Northern Ireland at the beginning of August; Robert Smith a band of long-lengthers to Dublin for a week-end's peal ringing at the end of September; the University of Wales Society visit Southern Ireland at the beginning of October.

The memorial tablet to Mr. Albert Walker, in St. Martin's ringing room, will be unveiled by Canon Bryan Green immediately prior to the 11 a.m. Matins, on Sunday, August 9th, ringing from 10 a.m.

The peal at Exhall-by-Coventry on July 20th was arranged to enable the Rev. M. C.
C. Melville and Mr. Arthur Rowley to ring a peal together there after a lapse of over 30 years. It was at Exhall where Mr. Melville lived as a boy, and learnt to handle a bell.

On two consecutive Tuesdays at Lowdham, Notts, a well-known lady broke the stay on the same bell when she missed the sally during peal attempts. Unfortunately both attempts were well over half way. G.A.D. inquires if this is a record?

Mrs. Beatrice Morris writes fully endorsing the request for information concerning the proposed memorial window at St. Margaret's, Leicester, to the late Mr. Ernest Morris.
'Fancy being dead 2 years and 4 months and nothing done—not even a memorial peal on April 28th—well only one.' She also deplores the indifferent service ringing on Sunday evenings (only three or four bells) and regrets that with all the talent in Leicester recruits are not being taught at St. Margaret's.

The band who rang the peal at St. Neots,
Hunts, on July 18th would like to associate
John Gipson and Harold Peacock with it.
They were both in a previous attempt on June 20th which came to an abrupt end when the 7th bearings completely dried up with about an hour to go. The conductor and the rest of the band also wish to thank 'Joe' Chamberlain and George Bonham for their hard work in cleaning and oiling the bearings, which made this attempt possible.

BELFRY GOSSIP

In answer to Mr. W. L.
C. (Bill) Barlow's query as to other members of the band taught by Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fletcher in 1930 at Enfield, Mr. George B. Collins of Colchester, writes as one of the band to say that he is still ringing, his name appearing intermittently in the peal columns. He has been in hospital for some months but expects to be active again soon. As a tailpiece he adds: 'Does 32 years to ring one's first 50 peals qualify as a record for slowness?'

Another member of this band is Mrs.
E. M. Bagworth (nee Greenall), who has never left off ringing and frequently participates at St. Clement Danes', St. Margaret's, Westminster, and elsewhere as available.

The hospitality of the newly-inducted Vicar of Surfleet, the Rev. D. F. Button, and Mrs.
Button after the peal of welcome on July 13th was much appreciated. Surfleet has had a great ringing parson in the past who unhesitatingly laid down the law when the occasion demanded.

Capt. Marybelle Nissly, a member of the U.S.A.F. stationed near Huntingdon, and already well known to many ringers in this country, attempted and was successful in ringing her first quarter peal at All Saints', Huntingdon, on July 12th as reported in our last issue. The conductor, Mr. H. S. Peacock, who first introduced Marybelle to tower bell ringing, was very pleased at the performance, and looks forward to the ringing of more quarter peals, and then a peal.

Eight girls of St. Elphin's C. of E. Public School for Girls, Darley Dale, Derbyshire, rang the bells of Bakewell Parish Church for their annual service for scholars and parents on July 18th. The girls had been trained to ring at St. Helen's, Darley Dale, and had assisted in the Sunday service ringing there during terms. Only rounds were rung at Bakewell, but several of them can ring Plah Bob on handbells as the girls come from all parts of the country. We hope they will continue to ring at their own churches; many of them are daughters of clergymen.

BETJEMAN—A Poet of Ecclesiology

and in 'Bristol':

Ringers in an oil-lit belfry—Bitton? Kelston? who shall say?

Smoothly practising a plain course, caverned out the dying day

As their melancholy music flooded up and ebbed away.

By the tall embattled church-towers of the Bristol waterside.

And an undersong to branches dripping into pools and wells

Out of the multitudes of elm trees over leagues of hills and dells

Was the mathematical pattern of a plain course on the bells.

It is apparent that John Betjeman can be more aptly described as 'a poet of ecclesiology' and it is appropriate that the Central Council of Church Bellringers is approaching him to become an Honorary Member of that body—a branch of ecclesiology in which I am sure he will be pleased to share and has unwittingly shared, as for example:

Come on! come on! a final pull. Tom Blake
Stalks over from the bell-rope to his pew.

MR. CLAUDE RUSH DELVES INTO 'CHURCH BELLS'

Vol. XI, Advent, 1880 - Advent, 1881

ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL, LONDON

The bells will be rung on the following days throughout 1881:—January 1, New Year's Day; January 25, Dedication Festival; April 17, Easter; May 24, Queen's Birthday; May 26, Ascension; June 5, Whitsun; June 20, Queen's Accession; November 1, All Saints' Day; November 9, Lord Mayor's Day; December 24, Christmas Eve; December 25, Christmas Day; December 31, New Year's Eve.

Eleven Tuesday evenings are listed for practice.

Later.—The Dean and Chapter have decided to have the grand ring of 12 rung every Sunday before Divine Service in the morning and afternoon to commence on Easter Sunday.

Looker-on in India, writing from Calcutta, expresses the view that there should be a new hour bell at St. Paul's.—It should be E flat below the present tenor. If it had two wheels, it could be raised and would then give such a sound as has rarely been heard. I need hardly say that it should be offered for competition to the world and the best bell should be chosen.

In March, 1881, Canon Robert Gregory, treasurer to the Dean and Chapter, wrote: "The Dean and Chapter are anxious to obtain a large Bourdon bell. Many City Companies have generously responded to our appeal. Owing to the very low price of bell metal we can secure a good bell, but not quite so good a one as we desire, for the money we have or have had promised. If we had £600 more we believe that St. Paul's would have the finest bell in England. We have determined to delay sending the order for a short time in the hope that some citizens of London or some of the Corporations which have not yet contributed will be moved with a public-spirit determination that St. Paul's shall have the finest bell in England."

"We are now being perpetually urged to ring our bells more frequently, while no complaints reach us of any being annoyed by them. Before they were rung we continually heard of the fears of those living in our immediate neighbourhood."

ST. ANDREW'S, WELLS STREET, LONDON

This new ring of 8 bells has been presented to the church by a mother in memory of a beloved daughter. They have been cast by Mr. T. C. Lewis, of Shepherd's Lane, Brixton, and are what is called among bell-founders "a Maiden Peal," none of the bells having required any kind of tuning since they left the moulds. The whole ring weighs 76 cwt. The weight of the tenor is 21 cwt. its note is E. flat. Given by Susanna Imbert-Terry in memory of Antoinette Catherine Imbert-Terry, died 1878, aged 18. Dedicated by a solemn service after Evensong on St. Andrew's Eve, 1880.

"Tubal Cain" asked in the next issue of 'Church Bells'—"A maiden ring of eight bells is a wonderful turn-out from a bell-foundry. Will Mr. Lewis tell us how many of the castings failed before he obtained correct eight virgin bells?"

The next issue contained no reference, but later 'Another Tubal Cain' wrote, "Every-one connected with 'Church Bells' has learned to 'ring in the true' in connection with all reports of skill and practices, and would be very glad to see an answer by Mr. Lewis to the query lately put by 'Tubal Cain'...to the report of his doings as a bellfounder, knowing him to be clever at organs and architecture. How many bells did he make or have made, so as to pick out his octave of maidens; and how many maidens' hearts has he broken, or has he in stock with useless inscriptions for other places or suitors, resulting from his selection? Will he answer?"

Then, later, Ed. Matthews, of Macclesfield, wrote, "I see from the tone of one or two of your correspondents that they seem to doubt the existence of a 'maiden' ring of bells. Without entering into the controversy as to how such a ring is got out, I will just state that we had a maiden ring of ten bells, cast in 1777 by Rudhall, in the tower of Christ Church here; seven of which are now in the tower, the other three—the 1st, 2nd and 9th—being given in exchange for the present seventh in place of the then 9th which got broke in 1815."

I see no reply by or on behalf of Mr. Lewis.—C.R. (To be continued)

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION

The Church of St. Lawrence, Cucklington, with its six bells rung from the porch and extensive views of Somerset and Dorset to be seen from the churchyard, was chosen for the summer quarterly meeting of the Cary Branch on July 25th. Members were joined by ringers from the Salisbury Guild and visitors from Bedford and Newbury.

The service was conducted by the Rector, Rev. R. G. Harewood, the organist was Rev. G. S. Robinson (Branch chairman), and the lesson was read by Preb. O. H. Skipwith (vice-chairman).

After tea, in the Village Hall, those present stood in silence in memory of Rev. W. M. K. Warren, a former Master of the Association.

The chairman presented Association certificates to eight members from Cucklington, two from Bruton and two from Castle Cary.

Plans for the Branch outing were announced and the date for the Corporate Communion at Charlton Horethorne in October was fixed.

An amusing tape recording of the Cucklington ringers' New Year's Eve party was played. This featured the Rector leading the singing, in his own composition on the bells and ringers, sung to the tune of 'Uncle Tom Cobley.'

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Rector and to the ladies who had provided tea.

Ringling was then resumed at Cucklington, and also took place at Stoke Trister.

OUTING

FRAMSDEN AND DISTRICT

Memories of a few of the party in the Framsdens and district outing on June 25th to Kent were revived by visiting Christ Church, Erith, Dartford (and lunch), Swanscombe, Northfleet (and tea). Ringling was finally completed at Gravesend.

Standard methods to Spliced Surprise (which was well rung) and rounds for the juniors were included in the programme. Thanks are expressed to those who met the party, incumbents, Mr. E. A. Barnett for valuable assistance, Mr. Rayfield as guide and Mr. G. Butcher for arranging such sumptuous meals.

Having previously been presented with a bundle of stationery and a Parker pen, the organiser (Mr. L. G. Brett) has now been given a set of touring maps and an atlas in the hope that many more new towers can be visited!

HIGH FINANCE

'ONLY two classes of people,' said the Professor cryptically, 'ever made money out of bellringing: bellhangers and insurance companies; and of these only the former ever made enough to extract a living!'

We were talking about various aspects of ringing when the subject of payment came up. The Professor had, apparently, fairly strong views on the matter. Not that this was, in itself, surprising; his views about anything are usually fairly strong.

'Nobody should expect payment for the privilege of ringing church bells, whether the ringing be done for divine service or for non-secular purposes. In the days when people were desperately poor and the Church was comparatively rich there may have been some justification for the practice, but now the position is in many cases reversed. How often does the ringer come to church in his car while the P.C.C. struggles (like the sausage manufacturer) to make both ends meet?'

'I remember,' I said reminiscently, 'how as a youth I used to look forward to the half-yearly payments of 10 or 15 shillings which, at that time, was equal to a month or six weeks' pocket money. I used to share it with my mother and no doubt it was a welcome addition to the family budget. The ringers had devised a system of fines for non-attendance with the surplus returned to the "kitty" for a further share-out, but I was seldom penalised. I am horrified in retrospect to think that the band at one time threatened to "strike" because an absent-minded parochial treasurer didn't produce a cheque at the appointed time!'

'In the past,' said the Professor, 'when money was scarce, payment of ringers led to some rather doubtful, if not pernicious, practices. I was talking to an old ringer not long ago who told me that when he was learning to ring it was customary to demand that before a ringer was admitted as a member of the team he had to ring, unassisted, a 720 on an "inside" bell. The old hands, well aware that another full-time member meant a reduction in their income, took good care that their number did not grow to an inordinate size. Of course, the young aspirant was given his opportunity but it was surprising how generous everyone could be with his advice if the learner made the slightest hesitation or evinced the least sign of uncertainty.

'On the other hand if, with confidence and aplomb, he marched ahead until the end was in sight, some catastrophe seemed unaccountably to overtake the venture. The conductor would miss the last "Bob" or the oldest and safest member of the band would get lost doing a seven-pull dodge in the last lead but one, something that had not happened before in living memory. So it was that a ringer would often have to wait several years for his full membership and was then promoted often only after one of the older members had died, or left the district, or both!'

'But surely,' I said, bringing him back to his original statements, 'if organists and choristers receive remuneration then ringers should be given similar treatment?'

'Not necessarily. The organist in larger churches and cathedrals is, in any case, a professional musician. Often he is also the choirmaster and is in charge of the choral scholars or the choir school, and his connection with the church can be regarded as part of his normal work or at least an extension of it. With the organist of the smaller or village church this is not so, but it must still be remembered that behind him are often years of training for which he has had to pay. With most younger organists the "salary" is used to assist in paying for further studies or for purchasing musical scores.'

'But the choir,' I argued, 'is more or less on the same footing as the ringers and they,' I concluded triumphantly, 'have their choir trip?'

'Well,' admitted the Professor, 'there is a closer parallel here. Nevertheless, many choristers give their services voluntarily and often the money for choir trips is raised by their giving concerts or through similar efforts. All this however, doesn't affect my original arguments. It should be a matter of personal integrity or conscience that money is not accepted for ringing!'

'What about weddings?' I demanded with some asperity. 'Surely these should be regarded as one of the legitimate perquisites of ringing?'

'Could be! Although I maintain that at least some of the money should find its way into the parochial coffers. Of course ringers should be reimbursed for loss of wages or great inconvenience, but in some towers, I know, the money thus raised is put into a fund in order to defray the cost of outings or subscriptions to ringing societies, or is allowed to accumulate to bear the cost of new ropes or the redecoration of the ringing chamber. This I think is making better use of the money than simply putting it into the ringers' pockets.'

We argued for a long time, but I came home far from convinced. What is your opinion?

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON SOCIETY'S SUMMER TOUR

THIS year's summer tour of the Society was organised from London mainly by undergraduate members and took place in the first week of July. To lessen the cost, many people camped or stayed in youth hostels, and transport was by car.

Our ringing during the week was generally of a higher standard than we achieve in London: the explanation for this is quite beyond me. Ringing at eight-bell towers usually followed the pattern of rounds, Grandsire, Stedman, Yorkshire with London, Bristol or Rutland and Spliced Surprise Major. We also attempted Spliced Surprise Minor.

The tour commenced, one hour late, on Saturday, July 4th, at Bridgnorth. We rang first at St. Mary's, where the Vicar seemed a trifle upset by the ease with which we found the 'well-hidden' belfry key. As the week went on, indeed, we became quite adept at key finding, a field of endeavour in which I feel we showed more enterprise than members of a certain other University Society. After lunch we continued ringing further along Bridgnorth's main street, first on handbells outside St. Leonard's and then on the eight bells in the tower.

Then through the countryside, pausing only for ice cream (the first of many such pauses) to Bewdley. Here we found that a thoughtful local council had provided road signs, swaying in time with the bells, just outside the church. The last tower of the day was Cleobury Mortimer (a fine Rudhall six). There followed a desperate search for an elusive camp site and an even more elusive youth hostel, where we arrived by car ten minutes after it closed: perhaps the crisps in the sleeping bag which I hired were the warden's revenge.

LATE ARRIVALS

On the following day, Sunday, our numbers were further augmented by the long-awaited arrival of Elizabeth Birmingham, Tim Pett and Jeremy Salter. Their explanation of their lateness was that Tim's car, deciding that it did not like the look of a hill, had stopped at the foot of it and refused to budge, so that the unfortunate occupants were forced to spend the night in a field (luckily they had tents with them). After this the week was punctuated by encounters with Tim's car stopped in some country lane.

Ringling activities that day began with the heavy eight at Ludlow, which we rang for morning service. The remainder of the day was spent on the Welsh border. At Leintwardine we had an appreciative audience of three little girls, who stood in a garden near the church and clapped continuously. We then went on to the nice eight at New Radnor and finished a day of eights with some quite good ringing for Evensong at Clun.

DEFEATED AT WORCESTER

Monday's ringing began with two sixes, Clifton-on-Teme and the heavy six at Powick. Personally, I was quite satisfied with just one ring on these bells but perhaps they were intended as a practice for what was to come next. There can be no doubt that Worcester Cathedral boasts beautiful bells, but I am afraid that we failed to do them justice, though in all fairness I must add that they have defeated many who have come before us. Attempts were made at Grandsire Cinques and Cambridge Royal, but the only satisfactory ringing was achieved in rounds.

We continued an interesting day's ringing at the renowned Pershore Abbey, which we found most disappointing—we were not at all scared! However, we were sorely tempted to drop pennies in the font from the ringing platform (or perhaps cage would be a better word). Our day ended with the ten at All Saints', Worcester.

On Tuesday morning an attempt was made to ring a peal of Yorkshire Major at Presteigne but this 'fired out' after one and a half hours' ringing, during which we never seemed to settle into a rhythm. Meanwhile back at Kingston the remainder of our company, having rung on the six bells there, were gorging themselves on large quantities of food while the 'peal' band had to be satisfied with (or without) sandwiches and darts.

IN SEMI-DARKNESS

After lunch we rang at Pembridge, where the five bells are housed in a detached tower, which is a roughly conical structure reminiscent of a dovecote. Unfortunately the electricity had been turned off at the mains and we had to pick our way in semi-darkness between the beams searching for ropes. Having found them we rang rounds and Doubles methods, including St. Simon's, on what turned out to be quite a nice five. From Pembridge we went on to the excellent Taylor ring at Eardisland and then to the good ten at Leominster, where before ringing we were treated to an interesting potted history of this large church. That evening Mary Taylor arrived and we knew that peace was shattered: in no time people were playing darts and eating jellied eels, mussels and pickled onions.

On Wednesday we set out from Ludlow for the last time. Marden was found after many wrong turnings. From there we went to dodge with the beams at Hereford Cathedral, where we got through a half-course of Cambridge Royal. After an afternoon of wandering around the Cathedral and writing postcards we went on to ring on the fine new Taylor six at Clodock Church (the only church of this dedication). From here we went on to Abergavenny, our centre for the second part of the week. It proved to be a wise choice as it possessed a good fish and chip shop, where we dined every evening, and also a pub where our constant darts playing was tolerated.

IN SOUTH WALES

Thursday was another day of eights. Mary, Pauline and I justified our presence in a youth hostel by walking all of three-quarters of a mile to the first tower, Llangattock, where we raised seven of the eight bells (including the 14 cwt. tenor) before the arrival of the rest of the company. Three industrial towns of South Wales followed: Aberdare, where there are eight nice bells and also a good Chinese restaurant; an excellent eight at Pentre; and then on to Pontypridd and Bedwellty, a bleak spot on a mountain with a ring of bells which is reputed to be the highest in Wales. Here

PUBLICITY FOR LADIES' GUILD ANNUAL

EACH year there seems some special feature at our annual general meeting. This year the keynote seemed to be publicity. There were small paragraphs in the national daily papers informing readers we should be meeting at Macclesfield; there was a reporter waiting at the Parish Church to greet us; a photographer from the local press (we never did see eye to eye about the best pose—should we pretend to ring and so have our faces hidden by ropes and arms, or should we appear in our full beauty and bear with stoicism the ribald remarks of other ringers?); and then the highlight, the representative of the B.B.C., who recorded our ringing and had an interview with Madam President. Those who were up in time to hear the first edition of 'Today' on the following Monday morning reported that our part of the programme came over well, but our apologies to Mrs. Hairs for adding a couple of years to her real age. Possibly it was because some of us seemed to cram a couple of years' experience into that week-end!

Once again ringers travelled long distances to be present, including a contingent from London on the overnight coach, our faithful family of campers from Somerset, and a coach party of members and 'supporters' from the Eastern District. With eleven towers open during the day there was ample scope for those who like variety, and full advantage was taken of the time allotted to each.

The service was held at St. Michael's, conducted by the Archdeacon of Macclesfield, the Ven. T. Clarke, who welcomed the Ladies' Guild to Macclesfield and in his address gave a most informative and interesting brief history of the church. After the service he honoured the Guild with his presence at tea, when we were also delighted to have with us Mr. John Worth, and the Secretary of the Macclesfield Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild, Mr. H. C. Lonyon.

After a wonderful tea, organised by Mrs. H. L. Horn, secretary of the North Western District of the Ladies' Guild, and her members, Mrs. O. Barnett expressed the very grateful thanks of the Guild to all those who had helped to make the meeting such a success, the Archdeacon, the organist and his assistant, the incumbents of the various churches, and the members of the North Western District.

After the men had been sent off to ring, the real business of the day began, with the minutes of the meeting last year being read, confirmed and signed. The members stood for a moment in memory of the Hon. Barbara Gibbs, O.B.E., a member of the Central District, who had died since the last annual general meeting.

No new members were elected, these elections usually taken place at the District meetings, but the Guild expressed their appreciation of the work of Miss I. Thompson, of the Midland District, by electing her to Honorary Life Membership. Miss Thompson has been a member of the Guild for over fifty years and for some years was Vice-President of the Midland District.

The treasurer gave the welcome news that our income had exceeded our expenditure during 1963, and this in spite of the fact that we had issued a report, which usually means a deficit. A special word of thanks was accorded the Central District, who had collected twice as much as any other District in subscriptions.

The Central District, through their Vice-President (Mrs. K. Lock), proposed an amendment to the rules, that any member who wished to do so could pay two guineas for life membership. After some discussion this was agreed, so any member reading this who finds it a bother to remember to pay 2s. a year can now send in two guineas and have no further worries about subscription.

The Sussex District proposed the venue for the 1965 annual general meeting should be Eastbourne, and it was agreed it should be held on the first Saturday in July.

Mrs. Oatway reminded members that the President's daughter was being married the following Saturday and expressed the good wishes of the Guild for her happiness in the future.

After the meeting the members, still armed with sketch maps kindly provided by Mr. Horn, dispersed to fit in as much ringing as possible during the evening. D.C.

LINCOLN RINGER'S FALL

It was originally intended to attempt a peal of Stedman Cinques at Holy Trinity, Hull, on July 25th, but Mr. J. L. Millhouse, the conductor, had to be confined to bed. On the way to the church Mr. Joyce M. Gurnhill fell and fractured a small bone in her foot. With Peter A. Sharpe she spent most of the peal time listening from the infirmary, whilst receiving treatment. She is recovering nicely now.

DOUBLE NORWICH RECORD

Though little can be added by way of an 'Umpire's Report' to what has already been said of the peal of 20,160 Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Llanfeigan by its conductor, I would like to add a few words 'from the outside.'

The weather was perhaps ideal for long peal ringing, being cool, overcast and somewhat breezy with intermittent precipitation.

A number of people came up during the day to listen to the ringing—all of them passing favourable comments on its quality, and most expressing horror at the idea of the band (and me) starving all day. Among the visitors were several ringers from the surrounding district, including Jack Pryor from Cardiff (who taught Bob and Frank to ring), Lord Brecon and the Vicar of Llanfeigan, to whom I owe grateful thanks for the lunchtime snack he so kindly provided.

The Press phoned the pub down the road every two hours and inquired as to the state of the proceedings 'up the hill.'

The old record was passed at about 5.30 p.m.—after 9½ hours' ringing, which continued until the end of the 10th part where the omission of the shunt at six allowed the bells to run round at 20,160 changes.

It is interesting to note that the arrangement of the composition used on this occasion produced alternative 56's and 65's at the 'part-ends' and this, coupled with the fact that adding such shunts put one back in the peal, made it very nearly impossible to shorten save in two places—an indication perhaps of the conductor's intention not to ring a shorter peal? This is unlike the arrangement used for the 18-, 32- and 40,000's of Plain Bob, in which 'the end' could be brought up from any position in a very few courses.

GILES B. THOMPSON.

CORRECTION.—There was an error in the order of names given in the caption of the band who rang this peal: David J. Llewellyn is third from the right and Robert B. Smith extreme right.

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH

Portsmouth District

The second quarterly meeting of the year was held at St. Peter's, Curridge, on July 25th. The Rev. A. Turner (Vicar) conducted the service.

At the business meeting the following were elected to compounding membership: Michael Wake and Anne Smith (Feltham), Andrew Stevens (Chichester). The next quarterly meeting will be on October 24th, the towers selected being Swanmore and Bishop's Waltham (alternative). A practice meeting will be held on September 19th from 6 till 9 p.m.

Letters to the Editor

High Hoyland Bells

Dear Sir,—We would like to draw attention to an article which appeared in the 'Huddersfield Weekly Examiner' of July 4th. The newspaper speaks with reference to the bells of High Hoyland Church, All Hallows', as follows:

'The 219-year-old bells, and what to do about them, will be on the agenda at a Clayton West and High Hoyland parish meeting, and will also be considered by the Church Council next month.'

The Rector, the Rev. E. A. Crowe, comments: 'The bells have been recognised as being dangerous for a long time, but nothing has been done about them. Now some action will have to be taken, but we don't know what to do. The principal alternatives seem to be either to take the bells down or put steel girders across the tower to stop the bells falling.'

'We have been told that it would be more expensive to take down the bells, one of which weighs about a ton,' said Mr. Crowe. 'It would apparently be cheaper to put in the girders, but even this would cost hundreds of pounds.'

On consulting 'Dove's Guide' we find listed: 'Hoyland, High, W. Yorks, 6, 8 cwt.—Unringable.'

Having read the Central Council Truro meeting report, in which advice to churches on bells is mentioned as being in increased demand, we feel that some advice here would be welcomed, even if only on the removal and disposal of the bells. Surely the value of the bells to some other church, or to the bell foundries, would cover the cost of lowering the bells.—Yours faithfully,

PAUL EBSWORTH,
LAURENCE TEBB,

S.S. 'British Sailor' at Sidon.

Stravinsky and Bells

Dear Sir,—Recently, while browsing through a book, 'Private lives of the great composers', I came across this quotation by Igor Stravinsky.

He was driving through London with a friend and stopped the car as he was passing St. Paul's Cathedral while the bells were ringing. He said: 'This is the only ideal way to make music. A man pulls a rope, and far away at the opposite end a sound is born, entirely independent of the man's doing. The way he pulls does not make any difference to the bells, he cannot make them ring softer, louder, slower, quicker. The music is not his: it belongs to the bells. He pulls the rope and the bells sound forth...'

An interesting summary of bells as musical instruments from one of the greatest musicians of the age.—Yours faithfully,

RICHARD E. PRICE.

Thrybergh, Yorks.

A Protest

Dear Sir,—Having just sat outside Cirencester Parish Church and listened to a visiting band ringing, I felt I must protest against tour organisers who pick towers their band cannot handle.

It was obvious to me, as I listened, that the visiting band could not handle this tower's bells. The striking was awful, the rhythm non-existent. Why, why, I ask myself, do people who organise outings let themselves, their bands and the Exercise down so badly? —Yours faithfully,

GORDON W. LAND.

Lechlade-on-Thames, Glos.

'Latchet' Stays

Dear Sir,—Mr. N. J. Davies' letter in the issue of July 31st is worthy of some comment.

Mr. Davies will find it unnecessary to 'substantiate' my 'somewhat paradoxical comment' that the bells at Westwell are 'in good order' because I made no such comment. I simply said that the bells were well looked after, which is correct; the belfry is in fact a good deal cleaner than many towers where the bells can still be rung.

I regret the error I made about the above tower, and also about the treble bell at St. Alphege, Canterbury. Unfortunately there is no indication at all in the belfry that the treble is an 18th century bell which Goslin adopted. Mr. Davies' comment about the bad tone of Goslin's bells is certainly justified. A well-known Canterbury ringer was heard to remark about one of his bells 'It sounds like a cannon going off.'

Mr. Davies may not find yet another dead snake in Godmersham belfry but he will find latchet stays (this is the correct term). He will also find them on the now unringable six at Elmsted, which both he and I omitted from our lists. At one time there was quite a bit of ringing done at the latter tower. Are there any older ringers who have rung there? —Yours sincerely, DAVID L. CAWLEY.

The London Hospital.

P.S.—I am informed that latchet stays are still fitted in towers where space is confined.—

D. L. C.

Eryri Major

Dear Sir,—I think Eryri Major is rather a pleasant method, but as far as I know there is only one composition available at present:

5,136 by H. G. CASHMORE.
234567	B	W	H
235764	In		—
536247	4ths	X	5ths
53246	X		—
53462	X		—
23564	X		—
43265	X	—
43652	X		—
43526	X		—
63425	X		—
63254	X		—
63542	X		—
23645	X	—
23456	X		—

I should like to ask, through the medium of the 'R.W.', whether any of our composers can produce some further compositions.

Incidentally, having rung the above last year, I think an improvement could be made if it is possible to insert more courses like the first two, which are rather musical, and to have only the 4, 5 and 6 in sixths.

The optimum qualities of the above would no doubt be realised by ringing it as initially conducted by the composer in 1935; commencing with the last bob to give only 4, 5, 6 and 3 in sixths.—Yours faithfully,

D. MOTTERSHEAD

Holt's Original and an Umpire

Dear Sir,—I was interested in the non-conducted peal of Holt's Original, rung at Harrow Weald on July 16th last, and I should like to congratulate the band.

I am surprised to see the peal published without an 'umpire,' and assume there is some explanation for this.—Yours sincerely, Brenchley, Kent.

T. E. SONE.

Ernest Morris Memorial Window

Dear Sir,—The reason for the long delay in placing the Ernest Morris Memorial Window in St. Margaret's Church, Leicester, is the difficulty in getting a suitable design.

The first design received was rejected by the Council for the Care of Churches, another design was obtained from the same artist, and the P.C.C. decided to get a second artist also to submit a design in the hope that one or the other would be accepted.

A meeting was held a month ago with this artist, who has promised to get to work on it immediately but, as he says, these things do take time, and agrees with us that the window should be worthy of the man.

The fund now stands at over £400 from all sources, which we hope and believe will be sufficient for the work.

I will keep 'Ringing World' readers informed on progress and hope they will be as patient as we are trying to be.—Yours sincerely,

GORDON A. OLLIFFE.

Braunstone, Leicester.

Bells of Smethwick Old Church Sold

Dear Sir,—Older ringers of the Black Country will be interested to hear, with mixed feelings, that the bells of Smethwick Old Church were sold, except for the treble, towards the end of 1963. They were cast in 1897 by Charles Carr of Smethwick, but were replaced with another ring in 1899.

The inscription on the treble reads: 'Peal of 8 bells erected to commemorate 60 years' reign of Queen Victoria by Public Subscription.' Let us hope the dear old lady wasn't extravagant.

By a twist of fate the business of Charles Carr has also been sold, the site being required for new development by the local authority.

Another bell in the tower, cast in 1732 by Joseph Smith of Edgbaston, has also been retained.—Yours faithfully, SIDNEY O. HOLLOWAY.

Smethwick.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION Northern Branch

Honingham was the venue for the quarterly meeting of the Northern Branch on July 18th. The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. A. Hodgson), who also played the organ.

At the business meeting the chairman (Mr. G. Sayer) spoke of the loss of Miss Christine Golden, at the age of 18, who had always been bright and cheerful and very popular. On behalf of the meeting he expressed sympathy with her parents and sister Hilary. Mrs. Loft, of Hethersett, had also passed away at the age 87; she was the mother of Raymond, and, although not herself a ringer, had always gone out of her way to make ringers welcome when visiting Hethersett. Members stood in silence as a tribute to their memory.

Alan and James Hinchcliffe, of Honingham, were elected ringing members.

The chairman expressed thanks to the Vicar, to Mr. and Mrs. B. Willgress, the two Mesdames Hinchcliffe, Mrs. Hohl for arrangements and serving tea, also to James Hinchcliffe for blowing the organ.

Ringing was at Mattishall after the meeting.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The July meeting of the St. Albans District was held on a glorious (though not for ringing) day at Kimpton. It was quite a relief to go into the cool church for the service, at which the Vicar, the Rev. K. Martin, gave an inspiring address. Robert Hardy from the Watford District was the organist. Tea was served in the Memorial Hall by the local ringers' wives.

The Vicar was in the chair for the business meeting, at which it was agreed to accept the Northern District suggestion that King's Walden and St. Paul's, Walden, be transferred to the St. Albans District, subject to the local ringers' approval. C. Hewitt and D. Keen, of Harpenden, were elected probationary members, and N. Perrins, of St. Stephen's, St. Albans, and Anna Mary Johnston, of Wheathampstead, were raised to the status of ringing members.

Next meeting: August 15th at Welwyn.

BALDOCK OUTING

The Baldock ringers and their friends enjoyed a tour of bells in three counties on June 20th. Despite heavy traffic on the Great North Road, Grantham's lovely ten were reached early. These bells have tone and blend, but some little distance away they are almost inaudible. The rain fell, but weather improved later, and we went on to the pleasant heavy eight at Bottesford, lunch and time for exploration or shopping in Nottingham before ringing at St. Peter's. The other ten were not available because of a music festival, but we were pleased with these, even if one or two bells were rather odd-struck. Some listeners in the crowd outside were most disappointed that there was no bride to see!

Next was Basford, pronounced Base-ford (a 14½ cwt. octave that sounds much heavier than this). Back to tea at the Ashbourne Cafe, and then to Radcliffe-on-Trent. The top of the tower here is most unusual, being a tiled saddleback. The last tower of the day was also unusual in its architecture, for Colston-Bassett's tower is on the N.E. side of the church, and for a comparatively short tower it has quite a complicated route past the chancel, round the organ and up steep steps to the ringing chamber.

Our thanks to Mr. E. G. Buck for a most successful day's outing, and to those who allowed us to ring.

OUTINGS

M.U.G.S. IN DERBYSHIRE

At 8.30 a.m. on June 13th, bleary-eyed members of the Manchester University Guild met for the now annual day's outing after exams. There were a few doubtful looks at the weather, but the gods were to be on our side. After a few navigational errors, All Saints', Glossop, was reached, with eight which needed a bit of striking. We were pleased to be joined in the ringing by the Vicar. At Hayfield (8), we were joined by Ian Maycock and his fiancée, Ann, and the lazier members of the Guild. The local organist, although drowned out, was quite friendly and told us a lot of local history.

Castleton (8), with its multi-coloured sallows, was our next stopping place and a quite disastrous one. In the second touch, one of the girls broke a stay and a second ringer stepping back to avoid the flying rope knocked a vase of flowers over. Having got this sorted out, ringing recommenced, but within seconds there was another clanging crash. On investigation, we found the tenor clapper had dropped out. Deciding we had wrought enough havoc, we lowered the bells and departed hastily to have some lunch.

In the afternoon, we had a break from ringing and the party, except for two who got lost in Castleton, went down the Speedwell Cavern. This is a flooded lead mine and we had a very interesting tour, transported by boat which was propelled by a man walking on the roof of the mine. The mine passages led into a natural cavern which we were told was the deepest accessible cavern in the country. The water going through this cavern went into 'the bottomless pit,' an underground lake estimated at one time to be over 500 feet deep.

When we had reacquainted ourselves to the light of day, we drove to Darley Dale, where a good course of Bristol was rung. We were welcomed at St. Helen's by the Rector, the Rev. St. John Smith.

The cars now made their way to our last tower, St. Peter's, Fairfield, Buxton. However, before ringing, there was another very important item on the agenda, a Chinese 'nosh,' and 16 hungry ringers packed into 'The Mandarin' Chinese Restaurant.

Eventually the Guild got itself to St. Peter's and were welcomed by the tower captain and his wife who joined us in some ringing. The highlight here was a touch of six Spliced Surprise which mistakingly went on for twice as long as it should. The journey back to Manchester was broken at 'The Cat and Fiddle,' a pub situated right on the top of the hills between Buxton and Macclesfield.

The outing, I think, was one of the most successful the Guild has had. It was helped by reasonable weather, marvellous scenery and a fair standard of ringing. I would like to thank all incumbents for allowing us to ring.

COWBRIDGE, GLAMORGAN

A party of 25, of whom 18 were local ringers from town or school, left Cowbridge in a chartered bus on July 11th for a trip to West Wales.

Our first tower was Sketty, Swansea, where the pleasant eight (134 cwt.) went well to Grandshire Triples. We then proceeded to Carmarthen where, after an excellent lunch and a further wait of half an hour we were admitted to the tower of St. Peter's. The somewhat rough eight (154 cwt.) which (alas) are not rung regularly nowadays, were raised and Triples was tried with scant success. However, Plain Bob Minor came round on the back six.

The day's best ringing came on the delightful six (114 cwt.) at Llandeilo, where the enormous clock-pendulum in the middle of the ringing circle is not such a hindrance to rope-sight as one might think. Grandshire, Stedman, Plain Bob Doubles and Plain Bob Minor went nicely here. Our thanks go to the incumbents and those who welcomed us at the towers where we rang; and especially to Mr. Bert Thomas, who made the arrangements.

THE YATES TOUR OF NORTH DEVON

ON July 16th, 17 ringers mainly from South Northants travelled to Mere, Wiltshire, for the annual tour arranged by Mr. W. A. Yates. It was a pleasant ride down and we made a slight detour to see Stonehenge.

All the towers were octaves, deep in the heart of call-change and competition ringing country, so we were especially conscious of the raise and lower in peal, and the opening musical touch of Stedman before venturing to 'turn the tenor in'.

Friday dawned glorious sunshine and at 9.30 a.m. Mere's 23 cwt. ring were spiralling upwards with great precision. Stedman, good Yorkshire, indifferent Cambridge and London were rung before the fine ride to Gillett's excellent-toned ring at Wincanton, which are similar to our own Wicken. The Vicar said a short prayer before a good raise and some Stedman. Bristol went well, and fast Yorkshire, but four-spliced 'wouldn't go'.

A long ride brought us to the similar ring at Huish Episcopi for rhythmic Yorkshire to echo from the tall rusty coloured tower, and unfortunately for Superlative to pile up. The Vicar met us at Curry Rivel, our first tower after a sumptuous lunch. The 'go' was good for fair Stedman, scintillating Superlative and choppy Double Norwich on the 18 cwt. ring.

EERIE BELLS

Journeying via Taunton brought us to Wiveliscombe, where the bells are peculiarly out of tune. The treble and tenor were added in 1829 to the rest, which were cast in 1750. The tenor is a maiden bell and the treble is very flat. Mears, we understand, are to retune them shortly. Stedman was rung, and patchy London was made up for by a good course of Yorkshire. It was almost eerie to hear a well-struck touch of Double Norwich which Mr. Young, who met us, rang in. We all admired his lovely garden with a trout stream running through it.

From Somerset into Devon at last, and after tea South Molton proved to be the best ring of the day and, as was later agreed, the tour. Superb Stedman on the fabulous 25 cwt. ring preceded six-spliced with a rich heat, excellent Yorkshire, and Bristol which improved as it went on. A Yates inspired touch of Grandshire for the benefit of our call-change hosts pleased the locals very much, and we reluctantly finished the hour's ringing at 9 p.m. to journey to our hotel in Barnstaple.

A LOVELY SETTING

Saturday again was fine, though not hot, and after a little difficulty we found the 14th century church at Tawstock, nestled on the side of a hill at the end of a narrow, twisting lane. The 17 cwt. ring sounded better outside than in, the belfry, which was reached by an outside turret, a walk along a wooden gantry and a six foot ladder both overhanging the church. Stedman went well and Bristol far outshone Yorkshire. Four-spliced ended the ringing here, and so through Bideford with its picturesque tidal harbour, to Northam (14 cwt.) —Chris' 1,200th tower. London went better here; Cambridge and three leads of Grandshire were rung before an early finish to get back to the lovely 17 cwt. ring at Bideford for good Yorkshire and Rutland.

Lunch and shopping completed, we left for Great Torrington, a church with a spire instead of the typical West Country massive tower, where the clanking about in London couldn't have done our reputation much good. There were even mistakes in Bristol, and it took Superlative to show these bells at their best before a noon lower by our standards.

David, armed with an Ordnance Survey map, aptly proved that the shortest journey to Chulmleigh wasn't the quickest — Jim and Charles declared their cars had never seen such narrow, steep hills! A thatcher met us here, where the 22 cwt. ring, done up by Taylors in 1957, hang in a dark, solid tower. (The bells were cast by Gillett and Johnston, 1924; and Evans of Chepstow, 1718.) They are slow-turning 'men's bells' —not for tired men pulling on very long ropes.

BEST SCIENTIFIC TEAM

Tea followed, then a look at local thatching skill and an early arrival at Witheridge for liquid refreshment. There were long ropes here again, but the raise in peal was good, and Stedman on the 24 cwt. ring was excellent. Several locals just back from competition ringing said our first touch was 'a pretty peal.' London was good and Bristol even better. Another touch of Stedman was first-class and we were acclaimed 'the best scientific team that's been here for a long time.'

And so through the drizzle to Chittlehampton, our last scheduled tower. The course of Yorkshire here contained some of the best Surprise ringing of the tour. A 317 of six-spliced Surprise went well and a decent fall ended our ring on these rhythmic bells.

A grab for Sunday morning ringing at St. Brannock's, Braunton (a handy 16 cwt.) was our last ring. The Vicar gave us an enthusiastic welcome and the locals kindly gave up their ringing to us. A bobbed course of Stedman, Double Norwich and half a course of Cambridge ended yet another tour—except for a 200-mile journey home!

The ringing was always good, but seldom perfect. The long ropes the call-change ringers seem to cherish had a degrading effect on our striking. They liked our Triples and tolerated our Major and handstroke leads. We thank them for meeting us and allowing us to ring their fine bells our scientific way; and also Bill Yates for arranging it all so well.

DEVONSHIRE GUILD'S ANNUAL MEETING

THE annual meeting of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers was held at Exeter on June 20th. It was notable for two events, the dedication of a memorial tablet to a former president, and the retirement of a devoted honorary secretary.

The memorial tablet to the late Prebendary E. V. Cox in the ringing chamber of the Cathedral was dedicated by the Dean of Exeter. It takes its place below that to another great name in the Guild's history, the Rev. Maitland Kelly, and records briefly Prebendary Cox's twenty-eight years as president. 'The gift of members of the Guild as an expression of affection and gratitude' will convey to succeeding generations of ringers something of the place which Prebendary Cox held among the ringers of Devonshire.

One unwilling absentee from the ceremony was Mr. Maurice Atkins, honorary secretary of the Guild, kept at home by the ill health which also compelled him to decline re-election. The Guild can have had no more faithful officer. His competence was matched by his enthusiasm, and every detail of the Guild's affairs was his care. It was a satisfaction to him to be able to hand over a 'going concern' to Mr. D. J. Roberts, the secretary of the Mid-Devon Branch. The President made reference to his devoted service to the Guild, and the meeting elected him a vice-president.

At the service in St. Mark's Church the preacher was the Bishop of Plymouth, the Rt. Rev. W. G. Sanderson. Once again the Guild had a warm welcome from the Vicar and ringers of St. Mark's, and the ladies of the parish provided an excellent tea. The bells of the Cathedral and of the city churches were open to visitors. The committee's recommendation that the following year's annual meeting should be at Plymouth was for the second year in succession rejected by the meeting, which voted for Exeter again.

MORE BELFRY GOSSIP

A recent practice at Leicester Cathedral was recorded for the B.B.C. Stedman Cinques and Surprise Maximus were rung and some of the ringers were interviewed by Kay Webb. It is hoped that this recording will appear in 'Woman's Hour' on Friday, August 14th, between 2 and 3 p.m.

During the refreshments that followed an excellent meal of New Cambridge Surprise Royal at Swindon on July 25th, Mr. Walter Judge made the younger generation sit up when he disclosed that when his band of spliced experts were practising, changes of method were called at the half-lead! Has any composition been evolved using this system? asks the conductor. There were congratulations to Shirley Little on the way she rang her first peal on 10.

A wide circle of English friends will join resident members of the Irish Association in congratulating Mr. William H. Wilson, president of the St. Patrick's Cathedral Society, and Mrs. Wilson on their golden wedding anniversary on July 20th. He has been a member of the Cathedral Society since 1907 and rang regularly until a year ago when as a result of an illness he was forbidden the long climb to the ringing chamber. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are enjoying good health and activity. A congratulatory greeting was rung on St. Patrick's bells on July 19th.

The farewell quarter-peal to Mr. Harry E. Good on July 26th was rung with the sincere good wishes of his fellow-ringers at Ewell, Surrey, on his departure for South Milford, Yorkshire, where his daughter resides. Coming from Charing, Kent, where he was one of a family of ringers, Harry Good has been attached to various towers for 55 years, twenty-nine of them at Ewell, where he will be greatly missed. His nearest bells will now be at Sherburn-in-Elmet, where he hopes to continue his ringing career.

His many friends will be pleased to learn that there is considerable hope that Mr. George Cross, now living at Chardstock, near Axminster, will regain all his faculties after his paralytic seizure of about six years ago. His wife gives him untiring care and can now take him for little outings in their car, writes Canon C. Carew Cox, who visited them recently.

Friends of Wells Cathedral have voted the sum of £1,000 for the renovation of the Cathedral bells.

Who was the St. Albans District ringer who rang Sherborne Abbey tenor with one hand and held his trousers up with the other?

During the First World War ringers in America were unable to receive their 'Ringing Worlds.' Reason? The local censors thought that all those figures must contain a code!

Who is the youngest ringer to take part in a multi-method peal? Stephen Hall and Michael Roberts, of Shepshe, both aged 12, rang 'inside' bells to a peal of 31 doubles methods at Heather, Leicestershire, recently.

A correspondent points out that the 'Cat and Fiddle' is not the highest inn in England. If the Eastern District of the Ladies' Guild travel to the head of the Arkengarthdale, Yorks, they will find there the 'Tan Hill' Inn, which, at 1,732 feet, is some 42 feet higher.

A peal of Yorkshire at Clare which came round after 3 hours eight minutes was found to be two courses short. It will have to be 'third time lucky' for the conductor, Mr. George E. Thoday, who has now conducted the method there for six and a half hours without success.

A successful peal week was held in the South Bucks area recently, with eight peals scored out of nine attempts. The one which was lost was an attempt at Hitcham on the Friday morning, where Hitcham Delight wouldn't seem to go. Sale of zinc oxide plaster must have been at a peak towards the end of the week.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Four visitors from Surrey and Essex combined with two local ringers to ring a quarter peal for the wedding anniversary of the popular Ringing Master of the St. David's Guild and his wife. It is good to notice that the Rector of St. Florence is one of the first local ringers to score a quarter on this new six, together with Mr. M. E. Lewis, tower captain. Ringers on holiday in this lovely county of Pembroke will not find many bells but will find a really warm welcome.

The Campingologists' peal tour, 1964, is in Derbyshire, starting August 15th.

St. Peter's, Nottingham, ringers, while on a visit to Bedfordshire, saw a horse tied up in the churchyard with two bell ropes (complete with sallies). This is an eight-bell tower but only six bells were being rung for the wedding. 'Now we know why they are only ringing six,' commented one of the visitors as he glanced at the grazing horse.

Gardening and ringing often go together. Mr. Stuart Bonnett, last year's president of the Herts County Association, has a write-up in 'The Citizen,' Letchworth, under the heading 'Garden "Paradise" for only £2.' The picture of the back garden of 6, Chiltern View, Letchworth, is most attractive, but then Mr. Bonnett has been a keen gardener for more than 40 years.

An example of Christian unity comes from Buckfast Abbey. The Lord Abbot has agreed to the request of the Devon Guild to hold their service in connection with the ringing meeting at Buckfast in the Abbey on September 19th.

Miss Janice Morris, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morris, of Burghill, Herefordshire, will be leaving London Airport on August 25th to take a situation as nannie to a family of four young children at Montclair, New Jersey, U.S.A. At present she is a staff nurse at Droitwich Children's Residential Nursery. During her school days Janice was a Girl Guide, a member of the church choir and a bellringer.

OBITUARY

MR. PERCY COX

Although Mr. Percy Cox, of Pitney, Somerset, had been in very poor health for some considerable time, he had recently been able to take up ringing again and his sudden death on July 28th came as a great shock to all who knew and respected him.

'Perce,' as he was affectionately known, learned to ring over 40 years ago on the five bells at Pitney and soon became a keen 'method' ringer. For the past 12 years he had been a member of the Langport band. He was always welcome in any ringing function, for besides being a safe ringer and a good striker, he had a sense of dry humour and a friendly personality which endeared him to all who met him. One of his greatest attributes was possibly the fact that a promise was a promise and he would never intentionally let a band down. He was laid to rest in Pitney Churchyard, and by his passing the world is a poorer place. E. T. P. F.

RACHEL ELIZABETH FIDLER

It is with regret that I report the passing of Rachel Elizabeth Fidler, on August 1st, 1964, after a long illness but most patiently borne. At the same time, however, what a privilege it is for me to put pen to paper to express, though inadequately, a most sincere appreciation of her life and work for the Church, and particularly on behalf of ringers.

Ringers' wives are of that breed where every consideration, tolerance and forbearance are most essential attributes and these were certainly evident in Mrs. Fidler. Her consideration for ringers was shown by the fact an empty bed was invariably kept at the ready for stranded ringers who were always welcome and her willingness to assist the other ladies of Loughborough in preparing teas for visiting ringers. But more especially her tolerance and forbearance were shown by the loneliness she endured during the time her husband had to be away on ringing business, but without complaint and particularly with the illness she had to bear during the past 12 months.

May the example she set during her lifetime be followed by those who come after and may God grant her eternal rest. To Jack and her family we offer our most sincere condolences. P. J. S.

MR. ALBERT A. HUGHES

With deep regret we announce the death, peacefully in his sleep early on Tuesday morning, of Mr. Albert Arthur Hughes, J.P., of the Whitechapel Bell Foundry, London. He was 79 years of age.

Mr. Hughes was taken ill on Sunday night and was admitted to the London Hospital on Monday. Mrs. Hughes was summoned to the hospital early on Tuesday and was with him when he died.

He led a life devoted to the art of bell-ringing, in its many facets. His services were recognised by the conferring on him of life membership of the Central Council. He had been honorary treasurer of 'The Ringing World' since its acquisition by the Council. He was one of the greatest stalwarts of all time of the College Youths.

The sympathy of the Exercise and bell-ringers the world over is extended to his widow and two sons in their bereavement.

A memoir will appear in our next issue.

ALBERT ARTHUR HUGHES

RINGERS in many parts of the world will share the sorrow of Mrs. A. L. Hughes and her family at the passing to higher service of Albert A. Hughes, head of the world-famous Church Bell Foundry in Whitechapel. He was held in highest affection by ringers everywhere, and was one of the best-known figures for over half a century. He was a true Londoner, always at pains to preserve and enhance the high and ancient traditions of that great city, and he played an important part in its civic affairs, receiving many honours during his long and active career. In 1919 he was admitted to the Livery of the Worshipful Company of Skinners, and in 1958 was presented with the honorary Freedom of the Founders' Company. He had been chairman of the board of governors of Sir John Cass College in the City of London and chairman of the 17th century Davenant Grammar School, Whitechapel, also a lay magistrate in the Tower Division, London, and General Commissioner of Income Tax for the same division.

For many years he was warden of the Corporation Church of St. Lawrence Jewry, by the Guildhall, and churchwarden of St. Botolph's, Aldgate.

As a ringer he possessed outstanding qualities. Being a pupil of the famous Matt. A. Wood, it is not surprising that his standard of ringing was very high, and older College Youths will well remember his achievements. The Society will greatly mourn his loss, for he was one of its most loyal members. Elected in 1903, he became Master in 1914, and served in that capacity during the whole of the First World War. He served as its representative on the Central Council and for 40 years as hon. treasurer. The Central Council at its last meeting in Truro presented him with its greatest honour and elected him as a life member. It is sad that he was not able to enjoy this honour for very long.

Albert Hughes was a very quiet and unassuming man who endeared himself to all. He was solid and sincere with a depth of character which is an example to us all; and we shall remember him for his warmth and friendliness. Whatever he did he put his best into it, and his influence for good was very great.

We shall also remember him for his work in maintaining the work of the famous Bell Foundry — often through most difficult times, particularly during the Second World War when the foundry was damaged many times by enemy air raids. Throughout these most trying and dangerous times both he and his wife continued to live on the premises, and were near death on many occasions. They carried on bravely and came through safely.

As Albert Hughes carried on the business on the death of his father in 1916, so now his two sons, William and Douglas, succeed him; and the whole Exercise will extend to them and to Mrs. Hughes its heartfelt and deepest sympathy in their great loss.

May he rest in peace.

JAFUS.

EXETER CATHEDRAL BELLS

The Rev. J. G. M. Scott is an authority on Exeter Cathedral bells and Exeter Foundries. Recently in Mr. Frederick Sharpe's book on the bells of the Channel Islands, Mr. Scott contributed a chapter dealing with Exeter Foundries; he has now written a booklet on the bells of Exeter Cathedral which also appeared in the 34th annual report of the Friends of Exeter Cathedral.

There is a magic about Exeter Cathedral bells; until Liverpool Cathedral bells were dedicated, "Grandisson," weighing 72½ cwt. was the king of all ringing tenors, the ambition of all young males even just to strap it to a peal. "Grandisson's" predecessor was mentioned on the Fabric Rolls of 1372 and of the eight listed by the Commissioners for Church Goods in 1552 there is "Bishop Graundson's" bell.

In 1625 Thomas Pennington was ordered to recast "Grandisson" and two other bells in the south tower, and Mr. Scott gives us confirmation that the present bell and her predecessor both bore the impression of a medal bearing the head of Archbishop Laud. The story of Thomas Purdie's work on the bells some eight years after the Commonwealth is entrancingly told. The bells were traditionally cast in the Deanery garden and the casting was regarded as Purdie's masterpiece. He writes: "What Purdie's 'Grandisson' was like we shall never know, for she has since been twice recast but "Peter," "Stafford" and "Cobthorne," are superb. "Stafford," in particular, being reckoned by many to be one of the noblest bells in the kingdom."

William Evans, of Chepstow, was given the job in 1729 to provide a proper ring of 10. "Grandisson" and two other bells were cracked and these were recast. They remained like this until 1902 when, because of the difficulty in ringing, Messrs. Taylor of Loughborough, were called in. "Grandisson" was not only recast, but a half ton of metal was added to increase her power. A full ring of 12 came in 1923 through the gift of Mr. A. C. Thomas and in recent years the Loughborough foundry has rehung the three back bells on ball bearings. The 13 bells of today are the product of four different centuries and six different founders and as the author concludes: "Each seeks perfection in his own way, and together they make music the finer for their diversity."

The illustrations are well chosen. "The Bells of Exeter Cathedral" is obtainable, price 1/- post free, from the Friends of Exeter Cathedral, 1 The Cloisters, Exeter.

ALBERT ARTHUR HUGHES: A MEMOIR

MR. ALBERT ARTHUR HUGHES, whose death, at the age of 79 years, on August 11th in the London Hospital was briefly recorded in our last issue, will be remembered as one of the pillars upon which the art of bellringing has been built throughout the world. It was not only with the Whitechapel Foundry that links Elizabeth I with Elizabeth II that he made a notable contribution to the advancement of bell music, but by his liaison with the public at large. From both sides of the Atlantic people came to Whitechapel—journalists, writers, lovers of bells—to meet him be inspired by all that bells mean to the community.

Albert Hughes was born into the bell-ringing business and in the bedroom at 34, Whitechapel Road, where he normally slept. He was here when he was taken to the London Hospital on his last illness. In fact, except for a period from 1910 to 1918, when he lived at Leytonstone, he spent his life at the foundry. His father, Arthur Hughes, took over the foundry in 1904, and a memorable day for him was when George V and Queen Mary visited the foundry. Arthur died in 1916 during World War I and Albert, then a young man of 31, succeeded him. Although he spent three years in the City after leaving school, it was an innate love of bells that made him decide upon his vocation in the family business.

THE COLLEGE YOUTHS

It was as a youth that he learned to handle a bell with Mat Wood at Bethnal Green, and came in contact with many College Youths. Another of his tutors was Mr. W. D. Smith, who was to become his father-in-law, at the old church at Hackney. He joined the Ancient Society in 1903 at the age of 18, and in those days established a reputation as a heavy bell ringer; he was invariably to be found at the back end. His prowess is indicated by pulling up all the bells at Bow, Cheapside and ringing the 52 cwt tenor to a peal. Other tenors he rang to peals during that period were at Cornhill, Southwark, Wrington and Stenney, and his total of peals is thought to be 200. His first peal was rung at Upper Clapton in May, 1906. It was Holt's Original and was called by Mr. Challis Winney. He called his first peal—Holt's ten-part of Grandsire—from the third at St. Matthew's, Bethnal Green, on June 16th, 1909.

The College Youths elected him as their Master in 1914 and throughout those five years until 1918 he remained in office. The Society owed much to him—for 40 years until 1956 he was the treasurer, and he was one of their representatives on the Central Council from 1915 until 1930. He did much to guide the destinies of this great Society to the unique position it holds in ringing today.

In World War II, when the headquarters of the Society were bombed and many of the records destroyed, it was the Whitechapel Foundry that provided them with headquarters for almost weekly meetings under dire conditions. Even in those years, when Whitechapel seemed an inferno with the constant air raids and the foundry was damaged on more than one occasion, he resolutely refused to budge, and Mrs. Hughes stoically remained by his side. Throughout their life together Mrs. Hughes has been an essential part of the foundry. Upon her has devolved the payment of wages and attending to P.A.Y.E.. During the last war on more than one occasion she climbed on to the roof of the foundry and extinguished incendiary bombs.

Of later years—since the death of Mr. Alexander Young in 1956—at College Youth dinners he had given the toast of 'Fragrant Memory of Masters of 300, 200 and 100 years ago.' The College Youths, their history and tradition, was very much a part of his life.

THE CENTRAL COUNCIL

Mr. Hughes was one of the best loved members of the Central Council. He was a trustee of Carter's Ringing Machine, and also served as an auditor of the Council's accounts. His biggest job, however, was as honorary treasurer of 'The Ringing World' to which he was appointed in 1952. Mr. Hughes was one of the original committee formed in 1942 to take over the journal and his attention to the financial side of its affairs had been most assiduous. Most of the meetings of the committee were held in his home at Whitechapel.

It seemed more than appropriate that at the last Central Council meeting at Truro the Council's greatest honour of life membership should be conferred upon him. Unfortunately an injury to his leg prevented him from attending the meeting. With Mrs. Fletcher he shared the honour of being the senior member of the Council.

IN THE CITY

Throughout his life he took a great pride in the City of London, its churches and its customs. He was admitted to the Livery of the Worshipful Company of Skinners in 1917, and in 1958 he was presented with the honorary freedom of the Founders' Company. He took a deep interest in the Lord Mayor's Church, St. Lawrence Jewry. In 1927 he formed a band at this church and these bells were rung regularly every Sunday until 1939. For many years he was churchwarden here—an office he held at the time of his death. One of the proud moments of his life was the dedication of the ring of eight bells in the restored church. He was also a churchwarden at St. Botolph's, Aldgate. Mr. Hughes was a Freemason and a past master of the Pellyar Lodge No. 2693.

Technical education appealed to him and he was a governor and for many years chairman of Sir John Cass College, resigning this office only last year. He was also chairman of the Davenant Grammar School, Whitechapel, which was founded in the 17th century. A Justice of the Peace, he sat for many years in the Tower Division of London. He was also a general commissioner of Income Tax for the same division.

FOUNDRY PROSPERED

Under his leadership the Whitechapel Foundry has prospered. One of the first things he did when he took control was to introduce modern harmonic tuning with a subdued minor third. The foundry has played no small part in the replacement of war damaged bells in the City of London. A notable casting was that of the new Bow tenor, witnessed by the Lord Mayor of London and the sheriffs. The frieze of London Pride on his bell seemed most fitting. Probably his biggest job was Liverpool Cathedral. The concrete bell frame was his special design and this idea has been incorporated in the frame of Washington Cathedral. Throughout the world—in Canada, United States, Africa, Australia and New Zealand—the products of the Whitechapel Foundry are to be found. But he was also the champion of the small parish with bells and lent a sympathetic ear to the person in difficulties. Many a time where major work was necessary he would undertake a repair job to get the bells going and to keep cost within the limited resources available.

HANDBELLS

An important side of the Whitechapel Foundry relates to handbells and during the days of dollar shortage in Britain these proved to be an exceedingly valuable export to America. The craftsmanship in these bells is highly prized in the States. The American League of English Handbell Ringers is a virtue organisation. Eight times Mr. Hughes had crossed the Atlantic to visit U.S.A. and Canada. The annual handbell festival of the League had been attended by him and Mrs. Hughes on more than one occasion. Mrs. Hughes was in the forefront of handbell soloists and her services at the festivals were much enjoyed.

Mr. Hughes married in 1910 Miss Annie Lilian Smith, daughter of Mr. W. D. Smith, of Hackney. On the occasion of their silver wedding they were presented with a silver salver by the Ancient Society of College Youths. Their golden wedding was an occasion for presentations from the staff and family. Mr. Hughes was looking forward to his diamond wedding in 1970, which would be the quater-centenary of the foundation of the foundry. Their two sons, William A. and Douglas, have been master founders since 1950, and have the knowledge and experience to carry on in the long list headed by Robert Mot, 1570. Their daughter is the wife of Mr. H. G. Stokes, of Woodbury, Exeter.

THE FUNERAL

The funeral service was held at St. Lawrence Jewry Church, next to the Guildhall, where M. and Mrs. Hughes had worshipped regularly for many years and where he was a churchwarden. This was the first funeral service to be held in this church since its rebuilding in 1957, although there had been a number of memorial services.

The bells were being rung at the cortege arrived to Stedman Triples. The band consisted of: Ernest J. Rowe 1, John Chilcott 2, Rodney B. Meadows 3, Jack A. Waugh 4, John H. Crampson 5, Philip A. F. Chalk 6, John Phillips 7, Trevor N. J. Bailey 8. The coffin was received at the church door by four of the churchwardens—Messrs. Russell Wilson, Steele, Douglas Clarke and Tom Collett—who escorted it to the entrance of the chancel. Behind the family mourners came members of the foundry staff, many of whom are known all over the country as bellringers.

The Rector, the Rev. J. F. D. Trimmingham, conducted the simple service. Psalm xxiii was read, and the hymn 'How sweet the name of Jesus sounds' was sung. The lesson from Revelations was read by the Rev. Derek Harbord, of St. Botolph's, Aldgate, where Mr. Hughes was also a churchwarden. Miss Margaret Cobb was the organist.

The long drive to the City of London Cemetery at Manor Park followed. The bell at St. Botolph's, Aldgate, was solemnly tolled as the cortege passed the church. The committal sentences were said by the Rector of St. Lawrence Jewry and then followed by the graveside a plain course of Stedman Triples on handbells rung by John Chilcott 1-2, Wilfred Williams 3-4, Michael V. Chilcott 5-6, Trevor N. J. Bailey 7-8.

The family mourners were Messrs. W. A. and D. Hughes (sons), Mr. Alan Hughes (grandson), Mr. H. G. Stokes (son-in-law), Mr. E. Hughes (cousin) and Mr. G. J. Nott.

Among those present were Messrs. F. Sharpe and G. W. Fletcher (life members, Central Council), E. A. Barnett (hon. secretary), H. A. Pitstow (hon. auditor), R. S. Anderson (convenor), F. I. Hairs, W. G. Wilson ('Ringing World' Committee), E. G. Fenn, E. E. Collins, W. F. Oatway, W. J. Rawlings, E. Barnett, J. Phillips, T. J. Lock (Middlesex County Association), A. R. Agg. (Hertford County Association), H. Rumens, F. C. Maynard, W. B. Kynaston (Gloucester and Bristol Association), John Chilcott (secretary, Ancient Society of College Youths), M. Chilcott, W. Williams, Randal Clouston, G. W. Debenham.

FALSE COURSE HEADS AND THEIR APPLICATIONS

There were two points which I failed to make when dealing with the above subject. After having compared the rows with treble in the same place and having same sign 'up' against 'down' (page 440) it is necessary to compare 'down' against 'up' therefore the F.L.H. for 3+ and 4+ will be as follows:—

3 + 26143857 up	58176432 down
17582346	12345678
58176432 down	26143857 up
15673824	12345678
4 + 62318375 up	85714623 down
17582346	12345678
85714623 down	62418375 up
15673824	12345678

After having checked the courses with tenors parted as shown on page 465 it is necessary to check the courses with tenors together for fakeness against the courses with the tenors parted. As 7th is in thirds in these courses look for an F.C.H. with 7th in thirds and compare with each course with tenors together. Take lead two, the only F.C.H. with 7 in thirds is at 2734568.6 as tenors are together in lead 6 this can be disregarded. The same F.C.H. occurs false against lead 3. Look at table of N.C.H. and it will be seen that 26435 is the only course in the first part where there is any chance of falseness but transposing gives 2764358 so as this course ends does not occur in the peal it is still true. Similarly in the other two parts. The third lead also only has 2764358 but 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 1st lead have 6745238. Look for 2nd in 6ths in N.C.H. table this does not occur so the composition is still true.

A great deal of care is needed in proving compositions with tenors parted—I cannot stress this too much as I have recently been caught out in one of my own compositions—luckily the peal broke down! I should like to thank John Mayne for his comments upon which these notes are based.

SUFFOLK GUILD N.W. District

On August 8th the N.W. District ringers held their quarterly meeting at Horringer, where ringers from a great distance joined them. Two came from Bradford, two from Birmingham and the Misses Burchall from Sutton, Notts. Mr. George Pipe, the new Suffolk Guild Ringing Master, and Mr. A. Beckwith, the Suffolk Guild general secretary, brought ringing friends from Ipswich and district and a great variety of methods was enjoyed. Bristol Surprise Major, Stedman, Double Norwich, Kent, Oxford, Grandsire and other methods were rung.

At 4.30, when the ringers should have enjoyed a picnic tea in Ickworth Park, the long awaited rain came so cars became eating rooms. The service was taken by the Rector, and Miss Joan Ivings was at the organ.

The meeting was brief, Mr. Wright being in the chair and Mr. A. Balham, the District secretary. No evening meeting will be held in September.

Next meeting: October 8th, Barrow, Suffolk. G. R.

GOLDEN JUBILEE RINGING DAY AT SOUTHEND-ON-SEA

On Saturday, July 18th, the Southend and District Guild held a ringing day as their part in the Golden Jubilee celebrations of the borough of Southend-on-Sea.

During the afternoon ringing took place at Great Wakering and Prittlewell. The Guild service, held at Prittlewell, was conducted by the Rev. W. H. Wareing and the address was given by the Ven. W. H. Welch, Archdeacon of Southend.

Afterwards over 60 ringers and guests sat down to a cockle and shrimp tea. The guests included the Archdeacon, local clergy and Mr. R. C. Heazel, Master of the Essex Association.

Visitors came from Suffolk, Bedfordshire and Hertfordshire and the ages of ringers ranged from 12 to 90 years.

After tea ringing took place at Leigh, Thorpe Bay and Prittlewell, ranging from rounds to Yorkshire Major and Grandsire Caters.

LADIES' GUILD AT DARTMOUTH

The quarterly meeting of the Devon Branch was held at Dartmouth. Ringing took place on the light six at St. Petrox Church in the afternoon. Several visitors took advantage of a short boat trip to visit this church which adjoins Dartmouth Castle at the mouth of the river Dart.

The service was held at St. Clement's Church, which is near the Naval Training College, and was conducted by the curate (Rev. D. R. Hooper). The six bells were rung before and after the service.

A delicious tea of cold meat and salad, strawberries and Devonshire cream was provided in St. Clement's Church Hall. This was followed by a business meeting presided over by the vice-president (Mrs. D. R. Bould). In the absence of the secretary (Miss V. Porter) the minutes were read by Mrs. Bould. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Ottery St. Mary in October with ringing at Sidbury in the evening. Miss V. Goss proposed that a quarter-peal attempt should be arranged in the near future. Mrs. P. Farnham was elected assistant secretary. A new member from Trimmingham (Miss S. Powell) was elected.

Ringling continued during the evening on the eight bells at St. Saviour's Church. A.E.R.

WEEK-END AT MOOR PARK COLLEGE

EXCELLENT weather, an historic building in magnificent grounds, a cordial atmosphere and ample, well prepared food combined to make the Guildford Diocesan Guild's first week-end course most enjoyable. From July 17th to 19th some 40 students and lecturers occupied this 17th century house set in its 65 acres and transformed its 'peace and tranquillity' into a somewhat typical ringers' gathering with the handbell ringing of the keen, the reminiscences of the older, the shrieks of the younger and the loud voice of another.

The Warden, Dr. Grimwood, in extending a warm welcome, briefly mentioned the historical interest of the house. Whilst some were impressed to think that part of Darwin's 'Origin of the Species' was written at Moor Park others were interested in the love letters written by Dorothy Osborne to Sir William Temple, the first owner.

Many questions were provoked by a well balanced talk under the heading of 'Bells, fittings and maintenance' by Mr. Douglas Hughes. His splendid illustrations were very helpful. Before returning to London he played part of the Washington peal on his tape recorder. The remainder of the evening was spent with handbells.

Mr. W. H. Viggers began Saturday's lectures with one on 'Striking'. The personal experiences, which he used so effectively to illustrate his points, and his original ideas were much appreciated. Mr. A. D. Barker later gave a talk on bell handling, using a rope hanging over a door for illustration. The remaining lectures of the day, and indeed the course, were most ably given by Mr. W. G. Wilson. Method building, splicing, composition, conducting, place notation, falseness and kindred subjects were all explained: many of those present were amazed at the simplicity of the basic ideas. Practical ringing at Seale and Farnham and on handbells was under the guidance of the day's three lecturers.

Holy Communion preceded and followed by a course of Grandsire Triples in hand in the College chapel began Sunday's official programme. After breakfast the company dispersed to five neighbouring churches for morning ringing and reassembled at noon for the final lectures.

An opportunity was given for views on and criticism of the course to be aired. Although a few modifications were suggested it was generally agreed that the week-end had been most enjoyable. Not everyone shared the obvious enthusiasm of the girls who, feeling that the 16-hour days were too short, thundered up and down stairs for a couple of hours each night and morning.

At £4 per head (after County Council subsidy) the course was perhaps the most expensive of its kind but this did not prevent every available place being booked well in advance. A valuable week-end and the first of many no doubt. D. A. R. M.

HALIFAX ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting and prize contest of the Association was held at Longwood on July 18th. Five teams entered the contest to ring 600 changes with the following result:—

Meltham 49 faults, Sandal 56 faults, Friezland 35, Shelley 19, Barnsley 30.

The Shelley ringers were presented with the cups and prizes by Mr. Edward Earnshaw, the president, who asked to be relieved of the duties of the chair after 35 years' loyal service. Mr. Farrand, of Friezland, was elected the new president.

Thanks were accorded to the Vicar and local ringers and ladies for light refreshments, and to Messrs. Hilton and R. Tarbatt, judge and marker.

Mr. G. Hughes' 5,008 Bob Major

Dear Sir,—I was very sorry to read on page 528 of 'The Ringing World' that Mr. B. G. Key has had to withdraw three false peals of Plain Bob Major but I should like to inform you that the composition which he mentions, a 5,008 by the late George Hughes, is perfectly true, if called correctly.

Here are the figures:—

23456	W	B	M	H
46325	S	—	—	S
36524	—	—	—	—
35264	—	—	—	2
63254	—	—	—	3
56234	—	—	—	—
23564	—	—	—	—
36245	—	1	—	2
43265	—	—	—	3
64235	—	—	—	—
23645	—	—	—	—
34256	—	1	—	2
53246	—	—	—	3
45236	—	—	—	—
23546	S	—	—	—
23465	A	—	—	—
23654	A	—	—	—
23456	B	—	—	—

This peal has the full combination of 4, 5, 6 in 56 at the course-ends, and, after the two introductory courses, the 2nd is never in 5, 6 or the 3rd in 6ths at a course-end.

This is a simple and highly musical peal, perhaps one of the best on the plan, and is perfectly true.

Unfortunately, a false 'variation' of this peal exists, in which the singles have been moved from the last Wrong in each half-peal, to the last Home. This alters the part-ends, and makes the composition false, causing changes in the first course to repeat with changes in the 24th course, as follows:—

1st Course	24th Course
2345678	3245678
S 3257486	— 3257486
2738564	2738564
7826345	7826345

How this false 'variation' came into being, I cannot say, but it appears in the Midland Counties Association Report for 1937, page 109, peal 4,810, and no one appears to have noticed its obvious falseness. If a peal of Plain Bob Major is commenced with a single at Wrong, the course-end 3245678 must not be followed by a bob at Wrong under any circumstances, as repetition is bound to occur.

It cannot be too strongly emphasised, that any alterations of true compositions should always be carefully proved, and never attempted by those who cannot prove their efforts. Whoever was responsible for this alteration has caused disappointment to at least four bands, and two conductors, a sorry state of affairs, and most distressing to any conductor who innocently makes use of figures purporting to be the work of such a talented composer as the late Mr. George Hughes.—Yours sincerely, CHARLES W. ROBERTS, Waltham Abbey.

Essendon's Girl Recruits

Dear Sir,—For many months now Mr. F. Banford, Ringing Master at Essendon (Herts), has been struggling to get a band of ringers up to a reasonable standard!

He has five girl learners who have made much progress since they started ringing.

Just recently two ringers from Wheathampstead have been helping Mr. Banford in his excellent attempt as the girls could only ring Grandsire and Plain Bob Doubles. Now by verbal tuition by Mr. M. J. Sherrick and Mr. K. J. Walpole, they can ring inside to short touches and have made attempts to learn and ring many new methods with outstanding success.

After a short time all the girls should be up to the standard for full ringing membership of the Herts County Association. The writer, who wishes to remain anonymous, asks Mr. F. Banford, Mr. M. J. Sherrick and Mr. K. J. Walpole to keep up their excellent work.—Yours, etc.,

R.M.F.

Herts.

Village Celebrations

Dear Sir,—Whilst the Rev. Robert Kilvert was curate at Clyro, Radnorshire, the following event that involved the local ringers took place on June Day, 1870. This entry is taken from 'Kilvert's Diary, 1870-1879,' edited by William Plomer.

'Going out to the school at 10 found Mary Brooks, the Vicarage housemaid, at the door just going to ring. She had run down breathless with an open letter just received in her hand to announce that Mrs. Venables (the Vicar's wife) was confined of a nice little girl at 1.5 a.m. yesterday. Three cheers, the news flew through the village like wild-fire. Charlie Powell, Richard Brooks and John Harris rushed to the church and the bells were soon in full peal.

'Hannah Witney, standing at her door knitting, heard the bells ringing and asked 'What has God sent her?' The bells ringing at intervals all day. Mrs. Price of the Swan, sent the ringers a gallon of beer. I sent another gallon, and went to the belfry to see them ringing...—Yours sincerely,

PETER J. CAME.

Danbury, Essex.

Surprise Minor Peals

Dear Sir,—Could any of our friends who maintain records please inform me of the following:—

What is the greatest number of Surprise Minor methods rung in a peal at their own tower, by a Sunday service band? and where was it rung?

How many peals, under these conditions, have there been of over fourteen methods?—Yours truly,

G. S. G. JOYCE.

St. Peter's, Wolverhampton

Dear Sir,—Reading the report of Luton ringers' outing on July 4th ('R.W.' 2781) to Lichfield, Walsall, Wolverhampton and Redditch, I nearly choked on reading that St. Peter's, Wolverhampton, bells are seldom heard through lack of ringers. As a member of the band at St. Peter's, I hotly deny that this is so. A year ago, this would have been true, but it certainly is not now. There is a list of ringers up in the church porch (thirteen altogether), and we ring from 10 to 11 a.m. and 5.45 to 6.30 p.m. on Sunday and practise on Monday from 8 to 9 p.m. It is rare now for the back eight not to be rung for Sunday service. The band has too many treble ringers, but six months ago the treble ringers could only ring call changes. Nevertheless, we can ring Grandsire Triples, Plain Bob Minor, Stedman Doubles and Triples, and usually ring call changes on ten and occasionally on the twelve for service.

It will not be long now before we will be able to ring a peal on our own bells, with members of the service band, and it will be a good one.—Yours sincerely,

ELIZABETH TIMMINS.

Tettenhall, Staffs.

Peals withdrawn

Dear Sir,—I wish to withdraw the following peals which I conducted, the composition having recently been found to be false. The peal is 5,008 Plain Bob Major composed by the late George Hughes of Wednesbury, Staffs. I conducted this composition at St. Andrew's, Litchurch, Derby on December 28th, 1937 and also at St. Andrew's Netherton, on July 23rd, 1960. These peals were rung for the late Midland Counties Association and Staffs Society respectively. My sincere apologies to all who took part. I also took part in this composition at St. Martins, Tipton, on December 28th, 1929 and am withdrawing it from my total was my first peal of 'Major.'—Yours faithfully,

H. BOSWELL.

Blakenhall, Wolverhampton.

HITCHIN'S TRIUMPH OVER DESPAIR

By TREVOR A. BEVIS

VISUALISE a great Perpendicular church set in the midst of a well-kept churchyard, lawns sweeping down to a picturesque brook overlooked by attractive terraces, and one becomes familiar with the pleasant Hertfordshire town of Hitchin.

St. Mary's Church has stood in this agreeable acre for over 600 years. 'A noble pile of buildings' was erected on this site as long ago as 792 A.D., founded by Offa, King of Mercia.

Misfortune fell upon the Benedictine monastery in the relentless form of fire which destroyed in so thoroughly a manner that the brethren were obliged to join their fellow monks at St. Albans. Out of the ruins came forth a church of modest dimensions.

The site, however, seemed fated, for the church was subjected to destructive forces in the form of lightning; even an earthquake in 1298 shook the walls to such an extent that the centre of the building collapsed and all of one side was no more. The year 1304 witnessed the fall of the roof, irreparably damaging many relics and monuments of antiquity.

'Resurgam' was the watchword for the day. At the third attempt in 1305 another church materialised from which has developed the present large building, the latest addition being completed just before the Reformation. It represents Hitchin's triumph over despair.

There are many interesting features to see at St. Mary's, and the most notable of all exterior objects is the massive tower of two stages. Its great sprawling bulk somehow reminds one of the forbidding appearance of a castle keep. It is fortunate that the tower remains, for right from the beginning of its history this part of the church has given trouble. In 1301 and again in 1311 there were alarming settlements which threatened a new lease of disaster to the fane.

After much wrangling with the bishop of the diocese, the parishioners 'under threat of canonical enforcement and under pain of excommunication' eventually agreed that the swallow angle pilasters at the western corners of the tower be overlaid by two pairs of formidable buttresses, ten feet in depth. By their weight the buttresses arrest the outward lean of the tower and their impressive proportions add considerably to the sentinel's squat and heavy appearance.

The tower contains a heavy octave (tenor 25-2-26). Earliest mention of bells at Hitchin is made in 'Church Bells of Hertfordshire.' In 1552 the 'Church of Hytchin possessed the rather unusual number of vj great bells in the steeple. The six great bells thus described were recast in the year 1689.'

These bells were again recast in September, 1762 and two trebles added by Joseph Eayre of St. Neots. In 1784 the tenor was reintroduced to Edward Arnold's furnace, and further recasting was found unnecessary until 1901 when the treble was refashioned by Warner's, who also rehung the remainder in the present substantial steel frame. The treble at that stage was inscribed:

'With louder bells my voice I raise

To swell the great Creator's praise

Recast John Warner & Sons London, 1901

Recast by Subscriptions raised by Choir

L. Hewsley, Vicar

Wm. Onslow Times, Shillito, Geo. E

Spurr, Churchwardens

H. G. Moulden Organist Oct. 1901.

In 1927 the three heaviest bells were hung in ball bearings, and in 1939 the complete ring was retuned and rehung (all on ball-bearings) by John Taylor & Co., who also recast the treble.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH, HITCHIN.

INSCRIPTIONS

Treble.—That our sound might again go out in perfect harmony: to Thee honour and glory O God most High; I was recast and the whole Peal was rehung.

Towards the cost £170 was given and collected by the Ringers themselves: O. C. Mears, captain, W. L. Mackennal, C. J. Widdows, A. E. Beck, J. A. Males, churchwardens.

Second.—At proper times my voice I'll raise and sound my subscribers' praise. Sept. 24th (1762).

Third.—John Pilkington Morgan, Vicar, Joseph Margetts Pierson, John Everitt, John Collinson, churchwardens.

Fourth.—We the sacred nuptials joyous proclaim and every sound and every vained peal call smiles of transport from the happy pair. Anno Domini. 1762.

Fifth.—Laudo Deum Verum. Plebem Voco. Congrego (Clerum)? Defunctos Ploro. Pestum Fugo. Festa Decoro. 1762.

Sixth.—Omnia Fiant ad Gloriam Dea. Joseph Eayre. St. Neots cast us all eight. Anno Domini (1762).

Seventh.—Pilkington Morgan, Vicar. John Everitt. John Collinson. Joseph Margetts Pierson. Churchwardens. 1762.

Tenor.—Rev. W. T. Morgan, W. Chapman, W. Powers, T. Goodman, Churchwardens. Edward Arnold, St. Neots. Fecit. T. I to the Church the living call, And to the graves do summon all.

The fourth is a maiden bell.

The Rev. John Pilkington Morgan, whose name is inscribed on the third, was instituted Vicar on August 18th, 1755; he died on July 16th, 1788, aged 72, and is interred within the church. It seems that the name W. T. Morgan, inscribed on the tenor (1784), is an error; it may refer to a curate, but certainly not a Vicar at that time.

37 PEALS

A short ascent brings one to a tidy and commodious ringing gallery, from which a good view of the church interior can be obtained. Approximately 37 peals, including Hitchin Surprise, have been rung, the earliest by a local team of ringers on February 20th, 1782, comprising 5,040 changes of Plain Bob Triples. Another 'local' peal materialised on May 12th, 1933, and those who took part were W. J. Houghton, Rev. R. F. J. Routh, A. E. Symonds, W. Houghton, T. R. Scott, H. W. Else, C. V. Hare and L. Fidler.

In pre-war days a very keen band of ringers existed at Hitchin, and the ringing of Bristol Surprise on practice nights was a regular thing. Nowadays a few adults and several young people keep the bells active.

Mr. H. D. Trigg (tower secretary) explained various points of interest to the writer, one of which was a tower clock already ancient when repaired by John Briant, of Hertford, in 1792; it continues to give reliable service. A floor between the bells and the gallery contains a disused tune ringing machine made in 1885 by Gilletts. It has an interesting repertoire, including 'The Bluebells of Scotland.'

MR. S. J. POUND

The Bath and Wells and Salisbury Guilds have lost a valued member by the death on August 3rd of Sidney John Pound after a short illness. He was 88 and had been a keen change ringer for nearly all the years of his long life.

Residing in earlier years at Ditchcat, then at Stoke Trister, he was a regular service and practice ringer at these towers and at Wincanton nearby. For the last nine years he had resided at Templecombe where in spite of advanced age he was still as regular as possible at practices and service ringing. His last ring was in a Sunday morning service touch six weeks before his passing.

The funeral took place at Templecombe on August 7th when several ringers from surrounding parishes attended. The service was conducted by the Rector, Rev. R. S. Jones. The interment was in the churchyard and immediately after the service a half-muffled quarter peal was rung as a tribute to his memory.

It was in three methods (Stedman, Plain Bob and Grandsire Doubles) and the following ringers took part: P. Jeanes 1, F. J. Hazzard 2, J. Ralph 3, Mrs. D. J. Howcutt 4, H. P. Sparks (cond.) 5, E. Priddle 6.

The ringers of the 3rd and 6th were from Gillingham and Stourton Caundle and represented the North Dorset Branch, Salisbury Diocesan Guild, of which the deceased was a life member.

MR. JACK PAICE

We regret to hear of the death on August 11th of Mr. Jack Paice, of Croydon, who was trained as a carillonneur in Belgium and held the diploma. For some years he worked for Messrs. Gillett and Johnston, and later for a short time with Messrs. Mears and Stainbank. He was a lovable character and loved bells and ringing, writes a correspondent.

OBITUARY*MR. FREDERICK W. ROGERS
AN APPRECIATION

Mr. B. P. Morris of Ashbourne writes:— I would like to write a few lines in tribute to my old friend Fred Rogers.

It was about 1931 when I first met Fred at Peterborough, on August Bank Holiday Monday at a district annual meeting, with Alf Greenwood, Charlie Roberts and Wilfred Williams, where they tapped off four 'spliced' where in this magnificent church Fred had an ring.

For several years during the early thirties, I spent my holidays at Southsea and was always made welcome at St. Mary's, Portsea, where in this magnificent church Fred had an excellent ring of bells and a band that could ring same.

We spent some very good times together. I recall one peal of Superlative at Shoreham with Keith Hart and Oliver Sippetts. One Sunday evening we went to St. Peter's, Brighton, where Keith Hart really made the most of half an hour's Sunday ringing — no time wasted.

Although Surprise ringing at St. Mary's, Portsea, was then at a high level, Fred never neglected learners, but there was no half-measure in his teaching, nothing slipshod would do.

The Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild have lost a loyal and faithful servant in Fred Rogers who for years was general secretary and later master. I think George Pullinger paid an excellent tribute to him at the Guild's annual meeting, and I think it would have been a nice gesture if the recent peal at Winchester Cathedral had been rung as an 'in memoriam' to so prominent a member of the Exercise.

May he rest in peace.

MR. P. WESTON

Denby, Derbyshire, has lost an outstanding personality by the death in Derby City Hospital of Mr. Percy Weston, of Breach Road, Denby Village, aged 79. All his life had been spent at Denby and his service to St. Mary's Church included choirmaster for 71 years, bell-ringer and in charge of the bells for 65 years and verger and sexton. From 1937 until 1963 he was a member of the parish council and also manager and trustee of the village school.

At the funeral service the Vicar, the Rev. John Tranter, said in an address: 'Percy Weston joined the choir at the age of nine and served God and his fellow men faithfully up to the time of his death. He loved the church and its fabric; he cared for the bells and the ropes, and his bell-ringing extended to many other churches in Derbyshire and the adjoining counties.

The bells of the parish church were rung half-muffled on the day preceding his funeral as a tribute to his memory.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Despite the long draught, the meeting of the Bingham District at Langar was a success, with 11 towers being represented and visitors from Melton, Yorkshire, Hull, Newark, Leicester and Nottingham District. The District padre, the Rev. F. W. Stephenie, conducted the service, and tea was prepared by the District's ringing ladies. Ringing continued until 8 p.m.

September meeting, Radcliffe, to be followed by the first District ringers' dance in the British Legion Hall.

EDITORIAL COMMITTEE:

FRANK I. HAIRS,

J. FRANK SMALLWOOD,

W. G. WILSON.

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

Miss Mary Shepherd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Edgar Shepherd, of Warminster, was married at Warminster Parish Church on August 8th to Mr. John Spencer, son of the Rev. E. Spencer, Vicar of St.
Christopher's, Springfield, Birmingham. The bride has been teaching at Marlborough Grammar School for the past two years and her husband is a master at Solihull School. The bells of the Minster Church were well rung for the service but unfortunately a quarter peal in the evening was lost in the last few leads.

A cockle and shrimp tea was provided by Southend and District Guild to mark the Golden Jubilee of the borough.

Miss Lynda Challinor is the new secretary of St. Peter's Church, Woolton, Liverpool.
Her address is 10, Dominic Close, Childwall, Liverpool 16.

Mr. Edward W. Martin, of Great Bowden, had the pleasure of steering through their first peal the rest of the band who rang a peal of Doubles at Marston Trussell on August 3rd.

Mr. Peter S. Bennett thanks Mr. R. D.
Hart for standing in the peal at Arley on August 3rd at very short notice and great personal inconvenience.

The ringer of the 3rd in the peal of Stedman Cinques at Lincoln Cathedral on April 23rd, 1964, was Peter A. Sharp and not Norah
M. Randles as published.

In the peal of Grandsire Triples at Thurcaston, Leics, on Whit Monday, Raymond
Benfield should have appeared instead of J.
Richard Perkins. The conductor sends his apologies.

Mrs. A. Salter, of Hyson Green, Nottingham, writes thanking all ringers who visited her husband while in hospital. She is pleased to say that he is now at home at 64, Randal
Street, and is progressing slowly.

Mr. J. E. Jeater will be away from home from August 20th to September 5th. Will all changes of address, remittances and other correspondence be sent to the Editor of 'The Ringing World' during this period.

BELFRY GOSSIP

For more than 200 years
oscillation of Magdalen Tower, Oxford, has been prevalent. The bells have been lowered 40 feet and are now housed in the old ringing chamber. The bell frame, put in by Mr. F. White's grandfather, was found to be in a perfect condition despite the fact that certain parts of the beam removed from the tower were riddled with 'death watch.' A new ringing chamber, 14ft. 11ins. high, has been provided and there is a clock chamber above that before reaching the bells.

The bells of Weldon, Northants, have been rehung by Mr. Frank White, of Appleton, and are now ringing again after a silence of two years. The treble and tenor (8 cwt. 3 qr.
26 lbs.) have been recast by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

We thank a Kent ringer for meeting one-hundred and twentieth of the £60 extra entailed in our endeavours to get the journal to readers during the postal dispute. He adds:
'I hope that all postal subscribers appreciate your action as much as I did, and will reimburse you for the expense incurred.'

'A ringing belle' from a Derbyshire tower asks if Darley Dale dropped a clanger:

'November the thirtieth,

St. Andrew's Day to a Scot,

Is also Winston's birthday,

July 29th is not.'

During a recent Tuesday practice at Wimborne Minster, five Bishops rang in a touch of Grandsire Doubles. They were not blackgaited gentlemen but members of the Bishop family of Wimborne, and included two brothers, one son, one daughter and a niece. The top six were rung on this occasion with a friend ringing the sixth.

Long Eaton public library has ordered three books on change ringing. A sudden demand for literature on bellringing? No, the librarian is a ringer and why should he buy books when the ratepayers can do it for him? The librarian is Mr. C. Browne; he is learning to ring at Breaston and is making good progress with Bob Doubles.—'The Belfry News,' the newspaper of the Derbyshire bellringers.

HURSLEY, NEAR WINCHESTER

The bells of Hursley, the home of John Keble, have been augmented and rehung—Dec., 1880. The five old bells had been badly hung many years previously, now hung by Hooper and Stokes, of Woodbury, Devon. New treble by Mears and Stainbank, and ringing chamber raised in height and put into order, Mr. Seage's apparatus fitted.

Rev. A. D. Hill, The College, Winchester, writes, 'Will any ringers help me to make up a side capable of ringing 2 or 3 six-bell methods on the occasion of the re-opening on 14 Dec. 1880.'

On that day a party of 9 College Youths went for the reopening, but it was postponed at the last minute. However, they rang at Winchester College and the Cathedral instead. Hursley bells were eventually rung by Winchester Cathedral ringers 11 Feb., 1881.

A REVIEW OF RECENT COMPOSITIONS

By P. G. K. DAVIES

WHEN the study of composition is keen and intelligent, then practical ringing flourishes; when it has been languid, then practical ringing has declined.—J. A. Trollope.

The frequency with which compositions are published in 'The Ringing World' means that over several months quite a collection gathers together, and as often only the composer concerned judges their merits, a few comments might be appropriate.

Firstly, false peals still occur quite frequently. I think it should be a general rule that one competent person, other than the composer, checks any new composition before it is rung. This is particularly important when the composer is inexperienced or difficult splicing is involved. If this rule is not adhered to, disappointment is certain for some of the bands who have rung. Instances in the recent past can easily be quoted.

It has been pleasing to see that someone other than Mr. Pitman is tackling 'all the work' Spliced Surprise Major in several methods, and Mr. Richard Crosland has produced some very original work. The layman may not appreciate the fantastic complications involved in 'all the work' which is not, however, so difficult in the three-lead course stuff—especially up to eight standard methods. The middle lead is usually true and Rutland will go if London won't.

Compare Mr. R. Baldwin's five-part of the standard eight spliced ('R.W.' 3-4-64), with similar peals produced some years ago by Messrs. A. J. Pitman and W. E. Critchley. The thing to aim at would be to produce a peal simpler in calling than the previous ones, and with better, or equally good, distribution of methods. But Mr. Pitman has only 80 bobs to Mr. Baldwin's 105, and the method distribution is similar, except that Mr. Baldwin has only one lead of Pudsey per part (rather little). The later peal is similar to the others and where it differs it is really inferior.

The introduction of New Cambridge, according to C. D. P. Davies, quoting Sir A. P. Heywood, was to reduce the falseness of the parent method and get a change from Middleton's. What purpose is there in ringing this in spliced? Most people would agree that this is an inferior method, and its presence implies that the composer couldn't manage to get Cambridge in. I assure Mr. E. F. P. Bryant (15-11-63) that all the work compositions of Cambridge, Yorkshire and Rutland, with similar changes to these in his peals, are possible. In any case, this composition is on the same plan as that used by the late J. L. Morris in 1956, for the same three methods.

Whilst on the subject of spliced, I am pleased to see some original work by Norman Smith, using mixed long and short courses.

It amazes me that Mr. W. Eric Critchley thinks that the 5.088 Peterborough Surprise (25-10-63) could be original. The identical peal occurs in the Central Council Collection of Double Oxford, page 262, No. 16, by H. W. Wilde.

Another very unoriginal peal is that of 5.024 Llanfihangel-rhydeithon Surprise (6-4-64) attributed to C. J. Sedgley, which is by Henry W. Wilde and was published in the issue of September 8th, 1911.

The first two parts of the Cleveland Surprise Major, by J. R. Mayne (27-12-63), are Pitstow's well known three-part of Superlative, and surely originality cannot be claimed for the last part, which is wrong and three times repeated, with a shunt bob at middle to produce the requisite part-end. With great respect to Mr. Mayne, whom I much admire as a ringer, the peal should be Pitstow's (or some other early composer of Superlative).

It is, of course, desirable that figures should be published if they are not readily available, but why republish figures when they are in recent collections? The peal of Putney (3-1-64) is in the 1950 Collection, page 29, No. 28; the peal of Hounslow by A. Knights (26-6-64) is in the same collection, page 30, No. 25, and the peal of Gloucestershire (4-10-63) is Washbrook's London (C.C.C., page 47, No. 1). All that was necessary in these cases was the page reference given together with the appropriate place notation, instead of wasting space writing out the composition; this is done as I suggest by Mr. Mayne on page 534 (7-8-64) when he refers to a composition in another issue.

The question of claiming clean-proof scale Surprise Royal raises many doubts in my mind and there is much to be said for the custom amongst certain eminent conductors, not to mention any composer (as happens with Maximus). Clean-proof scale Royal is excellent practice for the beginner composer as it is one of the easiest things to compose, but it is doubtful if most are not variations of peals rung 50 or more years ago to Plain Royal. The Pudsey Special (31-7-64) is really just calling the fifth right, wrong, right, three times (as in Bob Minor) with blocks of three added to make up the 14 courses. The same simplicity applies to long lengths where no falseness is involved. All one has to do is add the necessary number of blocks of three.

It is clear that a certain amount of confusion is occurring. It is much worse in Association annual reports where some composers put their names to almost anything and nobody is available to correct. For example, I see a peal of Plain Bob credited to a well-known ringer which is by John Reeves, 1788. Other compositions are passed from conductor to conductor without publication. Perhaps someone should collect the commonest of these and expose them (with reference to the original composer.)

Finally may I suggest that a clearing house for compositions is necessary to help the editor. A committee could be appointed to whom compositions should be submitted for comment, still leaving the final decision in the hands of the editor. This committee would not have authority to stop publication if the composer still considered his peal meritorious. This system would at least prevent gross blunders and be an advisory centre for the young composer who sends his efforts to the editor, only to find after publication that they are worthless. The trouble nowadays is that it is almost impossible for the learner-composer to produce anything worthwhile, and a long apprenticeship must be served. Never before has there been such a demand for the expert composer. Several bands have reopened vast territories in Spliced Surprise Royal and Maximus, hardly touched by the composer. Gone are the days when the composer could put out simple compositions of Plain Bob and Superlative! This clearing house would also save the embarrassment of writing and reading the correcting letter, and anyway corrections often don't catch up with errors. The difficulty would be finding competent people to serve since some of the biggest names are the worst offenders. How about it, Peals Collection and Editorial Committees?

EAST RIDING'S PANTECHNICON-CYCLING TOUR

THIS year the East Riding Ringers' 'Poly-Gold' tour was held in the Gloucester-Worcester area, rich in fruit production and especially apples (thus giving rough cider and explaining why we were in this area at all!).

As usual a furniture van was employed to convey the bikes and their riders to the starting point, Stratford-on-Avon. Here we helped to produce the proper atmosphere of Shakespearean England for the American tourists by ringing the bells of Holy Trinity Church for an hour. It was only at this late stage that the fact struck many people that they would now have to cycle 20 miles in a head wind before having another ring and a bed for the night!

This 20 miles in fact proved a testing ground for many people: the Master of the Manchester University Guild (an honoured guest!) found he had a perished inner tube and after mending four punctures in as many minutes he gave the task up and started walking. He was very lucky however, and after walking for a mere hour was picked up by a passing van and conveyed in luxury to Stow-on-the-Wold where a new inner tube awaited him.

Meanwhile Ron Ducker cunningly managed to get his chain entangled in his back wheel, so locking it while travelling downhill. Thus by the time he stopped the road had worn a nice hole in his tyre casing. Here we were able to make a temporary repair however, which got him to Moreton-in-Marsh where a new tyre was procured. Although one or two others suffered punctures the majority had only to contend with exhaustion and for those who reached Stow in time the bells were well worth it.

Stow Youth Hostel is sandwiched between two pubs and every other building in Stow seems to be a tavern—so the reader can probably guess how the older ringers spent their evening.

SUNDAY SERVICE RINGING

On Sunday (August 2nd) the party of 39 split up to fill 39 vacancies in Sunday service bands in the area and to stay for the service. The five who went to Upper Slaughter thought that they would try a simple quarter peal of Grandsire. This somehow came to grief, however, at the end of the first 240 when the conductor for some inexplicable reason called 'This is all.' We joined a party of Girl Guides from Bushey for Matins and were entertained to a bellringing sermon by the Vicar who explained the difficulty he had had in Bath after the war in trying to stop anti-bell movements among his parishioners and quoted the old 18th century rhyme that had been sent to him:

Ye rascals of ringers—ye merciless foes,
Disturbers of all who seek calm repose.
How I wish for the peace and the good of the land

Ye would wind round your neck what you hold in your hand.

Another group went to attempt a quarter at Broadwell but one of the band fell off her bicycle at the bottom of a steep descent and unfortunately had to be taken to hospital suffering from concussion etc.

Randall (Warwick), G. Blackburn (Goole), D. Swan, I. Stevens (Selby), S. Royal (Kenilworth), D. Whitehead (Selby).

In the afternoon various towers were visited including Adlestrop. Here the ropes fall within inches of the wall so causing the treble ringer to be very unsociable and stand facing a corner. The tenor ringer also found it easier to stand facing the treble and peer over his shoulder at the 4th. Three quarters were attempted in the evening but all came to grief. Cambridge at Stow half way through, Grandsire (it was to have been Stedman but the conductor had to be abandoned in the wilds with a damaged back axle) at Kingham near the end and one of Doubles at Broadwell in the last extent.

August Bank Holiday Monday started with a ride over the Cotswolds, to Broadway, where the six proved rather difficult to handle. Then after lunch to the glorious 8 at Mickleton and the 12 at Evesham. To the latter we unfortunately did not do justice although the holiday makers seemed reasonably pleased to hear the bells ringing out. The other towers of the day were Hinton-on-the-Green and Dumbleton. From Dumbleton the road dragged uphill almost continuously for eight miles to Cleeve Hill Hostel. The warden was obviously unused to ringers and hadn't anticipated that we would still be struggling in for 7.30 supper at 8.45. Later in the evening a few climbed down a mountain for some cider.

CHURCHYARD EPITAPH

Tuesday dawned another glorious day for the downhill rides to Prestbury where we were amused by the local ringers' rhymes on the walls. Thence to the splendid 12 at Cheltenham where we were met by Cyril Wratten. It was generally agreed that this was the best ringing to date and even our course of Maximus went well. We noted a churchyard epitaph which could perhaps be adapted to ringing by someone(!):

Here lies John Higgs

A famous man for killing pigs,
For killing pigs was his delight
Both morning, afternoon and night.
Both heats and colds he did endure
Which no physician could ere cure.
His knife is laid, his work is done:
I hope to heaven his soul is gone.

At lunch in Charlton Kings we were regaled with the experiences of the motorised brigade at their Cheltenham hotel. It was stated that one member had been seen crawling down the entrance hall at midnight mumbling 'I'm not drunk.' This was, no doubt, somewhat exaggerated.

Charlton Kings bells went very well after lunch and, since none of the rings in Gloucester were available for a variety of reasons, we rang at Barnwood instead. It had been thought that we would be able to join in at the practice at the Cathedral in the evening but this was not to be and after a lot of messing around we had a ten minute ring at St. Mary de Crypt.

CONFIDENCE AT TEWKESBURY

Wednesday started with a ring at Bishop's Cleeve where the ringing chamber is reached by a Tudor staircase and was followed by the pleasant five hung in an Elizabethan wooden tower at Tredington. Lunch was enjoyed on the lawn of the Odessa Inn on the Tewkesbury road where a variety of foods was available, and members were observed eating cockles, mussels and ¼ chickens. The 12 at Tewkesbury went extremely well and we confidently rang our complex (three consecutive bobs!) touch of Kent Max. Tirley and Eldersfield, both sixes, followed and a small group cycled on to grab Castle Morton—a light six with a very long draught. The youth hostel at Malvern Wells was the best on the tour but the warden tended to have the cares of 'real hostellers' more at heart.

Thursday it rained. That would perhaps normally be enough to explain the whole day but we had some really splendid rings in front of us. The first tower contained the excellent 8 at Malvern Link with a perfect Taylor (c. 1900) circle. At this stage one cyclist, after resoling his shoes all week with puncture repair outfits, decided to buy some new ones at great expense (19/11d). Then, via a couple more punctures to the six at Leigh (pronounced Ly) before lunch.

After lunch came the highlight of the tour for many, Worcester Cathedral. Here we found the bells easier going than anticipated and managed reasonably well. The eight at St. John's followed and we were able to show a couple of young girls from the town the intricacies of ringing—perhaps they'll take it up in later years. After a good course of Lincolnshire Surprise we cycled on in the rain to the light ten at Claines. Time was cut short here because of the weather and so we dragged back through Worcester (thus crossing it for the fourth time) in the rush hour to the very heavy six at Powick. The weather men had obviously decided by this time that a heavy drizzle was not enough and so on the way back to the hostel the heavens really emptied down on us. It was too much to expect that we could get through a whole summer tour without a real soaking. We had heard during the day, however, that our casualty of Sunday had left hospital and returned home: obviously the fruit and flowers we had sent the day before had done a power of good!

CONVIVIAL EVENING

A convivial evening was spent in the 'Railway Inn' and singing included such famous ringing songs as 'She'll be ringing Grandsire Triples when she comes, calling "Bob, Bob, Single, Single, Bob"' (to the tune of 'She'll be coming round the Mountain') and '12 good ringers, ringing Maximus well and if one good ringer should overturn his bell, there'd be 11 good good ringers, ringing Cinques well' (to the tune of '10 Green Bottles').

The first tower on Friday was Longdon where we found that the six bells are normally clocked—an appalling practice. Here we suffered our only broken rope of the tour. A long cycle ride took us to Eckington where our special method was Wells Surprise before we moved on to the famous ringing chamber at Pershore Abbey. One or two of our party decided not to risk the caged-in chamber suspended from the roof whilst others bolted rapidly after ringing, suffering from various stages of vertigo. We would like to apologise to Paul Cattermole for, due to a misunderstanding, we rang for rather too long to enable him to complete his peal attempt (started after we had finished) before Evensong.

Some ringers then took the wrong route to Bishampton (and also suffered from a puncture) but all arrived eventually to be met by Vicar, a great enthusiast, who was himself responsible for the installation of this pleasant ring of six in the '30s. The last tower of the day was Salford Priors and here the old sixth bell of 1735 is preserved in the church and was replaced in the tower by a 'Peace' bell.

NOTORIETY!

From Salford it was only two miles to Broom Y.H.A. where it seemed that our reputation (or was it notoriety?) had arrived long before us. Even the local publicans had been told to expect us by the Youth Hostel warden!

The last official tower of the tour was Bidford-on-Avon (a pleasant Rudhall six to which two indifferent trebles had been added). However (thanks to the assistance of the temporary incumbent of Bidford) the Vicar of Welford-on-Avon, himself a ringer, kindly allowed us to ring on the first rate light six at his tower before returning to Stratford to pick up the furniture van. As the bikes were loaded it started to pour with rain again and so we were pleased to have escaped it.

Thus ended a splendid tour, ably organised by Ian Goldthorpe, but due in great measure of course to the kind co-operation of incumbents and Ringing Masters of the towers visited and the wardens of the youth hostels.

MANCHESTER UNIVERSITY GUILD ROMANCE

Two former officers of the Manchester University Guild, Mr. John Harry Scanes, of Gorleston, Norfolk, a former Master, and Miss Nancy Robins, of Brixham, Devon, a former secretary, were married at All Saints' Church, Brixham, on August 15th. The best man was the present Master. This is the sixth marriage between Guild members in three years, and these include four ex-Masters and three ex-secretaries.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

The Mansfield District held their bi-monthly meeting at Sutton-in-Ashfield on July 25th. Notice of this failed to reach the 'R.W.' owing to the postal dispute, and only District towers received reminders. Nevertheless, a pleasant afternoon and evening's ringing was had by all. The final of the Crawford Cup contest will be held at Cuckney on the next meeting date—September 26th.

'TANFIELD' REGAINED

Thought of revival first sprang to mind when perusing the columns of some 19th century editions of 'The Bell News,' where it was reported that in 1896 the ringers of Tanfield challenged the ringers of Newcastle to a game of cricket and a right royal battle ensued on the village ground.

Notion became fact in 1957, just over 60 years after the first match, when the then president of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association issued a challenge for a return contest to the then Vicar of Tanfield, who readily accepted, and a most enjoyable social-cum-ringing occasion resulted. The success of the venture called for repetition and 'Tanfield' took its place in the local ringing calendar on the third Saturday each July until 1961, when St. Margaret's bells were pronounced unringable owing to the discovery of a destructive fungus in the woodwork of the tower.

Three seemingly interminable years then followed when the sounds of bells and bat on ball were silenced, but with the advent of a new Vicar, who is a ringer, hopes for a restoration of 'Tanfield' rose high. The Vicar, the Rev. A. J. G. Elbery, soon showed that these hopes were not in vain, for within 18 months of his induction we were able to arrange for another 'Tanfield,' complete with newly rehung and refitted bells, on July 18th, 1964.

The day dawned the wettest of the summer and prospects for play looked grim. Ringers, like actors, however, are good troupers and the show must go on whatever befalls. So it was that over 50 ringers turned out, some from as far afield as Ripon, in Yorkshire, in order to keep the appointment. The president, Mr. E. P. Rock, was unfortunately unable to be present, owing to illness, and Mr. K. Arthur, the Ringing Master, was deputed to act as captain of the president's team. A slight easing of the downpour raised hopes for the match and after an inspection of the wicket, which had been prepared on the Vicarage lawn, it was decided to defer the decision to start until after tea and to limit play to 12 overs a side. Meanwhile, full opportunity was taken to try out the newly-restored bells in the tower and at 4.30 p.m. an adjournment was made to the nearby Peacock Inn, where a sumptuous tea had been prepared by the local branch of the Mothers' Union.

Following a short business meeting, a return was made to the church, where the Vicar conducted a ringers' service, in which handbell ringing and the ringers' hymn (A. and M.) were featured. Then having been physically and spiritually refreshed and with the improvement in the weather being maintained, a general movement was made to the field of play, and after a brief consultation the captains agreed to make a start using a matting wicket. The local men won the toss and put the visitors in to bat—and the battle was on! The result? Well, without going into detail, it will suffice to say that the tables were turned and for the first time the men of Tanfield carried the day—the scores being:

President's XI: 30 for seven wickets;

Tanfield XI: 51 for nine wickets.

Highlights of the game were some big hitting by a certain ringer from Teeside, including one swipe which was 'homed' on to the church tower; a superb catch on the boundary by a 'fielder' who turned out to be a spectator; and some stubborn batting by the Lancheester contingent, which turned the game in favour of the home side after an apparent collapse when the score stood at 0 for three wickets. Mr. Arthur congratulated the winners on their success, saying that the change in the result was no doubt due to the enthusiasm of the new incumbent.

To round off another 'Tanfield,' further ringing was enjoyed by many until 9 p.m., while other devotees got together in the 'historic' surroundings of the Peacock to mull over the day's proceedings and to regain the climate of the occasion.

A BRISTOL UNIVERSITY WEDDING

The wedding took place at St. Peter's, Dorchester, on July 4th, of Mr. Royston Blackler and Miss Jane Tuffin. Both are members of the U.B.S.C.R., the bridegroom a Past Master, while the bride is well known to many resident members, having graduated in 1963. The best man was Mr. John Mackie, also a member of the Society, while the two charming bridesmaids were the Misses Myra Savage and Anne Kemp.

The ringers at St. Peter's, the bride's home tower, rang before the wedding and despite heavy traffic in the town the bride arrived on time. Sunshine greeted the happy couple after the ceremony and the bells were rung out merrily by ringers from Babbacombe, where the bridegroom learned to ring.

At the reception at St. Peter's Hall there was a large number of friends, including many from the U.B.S.C.R. Naturally the following extracts from John Mackie's speech were received by them with enthusiasm. John said of Royston: 'He taught me to "ring the changes" for as you see, he is no "Plain Bob." However, he has now become a "Steady-man" and we think this is "Grand-sir." This "touch" "course" of "Doubles" is a "Royal" affair. With his "methods" it was no "Surprise" to us that he got through without "Erin."'

Jane and Royston are making their home in Nottingham.

More Computer Methods

Mr. Hugh Bishop, of 29, Grange Road, Cambridge, has recently obtained some Surprise methods from the University computer. They are based on the same possible place notation of the Hudson-McClenahan collection, except double changes have not been included. Wrong places are allowed but only methods with no false course heads are printed. There are only 311 methods, but many of these should be well worth ringing.

Non-conducted Holt's Original

Dear Sir,—The members of the band who rang the above on July 16th will, I am sure, wish to thank Mr. T. E. Sone for his congratulations. He was surprised that the peal was 'published without an umpire.' We are equally surprised at his surprise.

The Central Council's conditions for peals require an umpire in the case of a peal rung to surpass previous peals of 6,720 changes and upwards. There is no other requirement for an umpire, to my knowledge. The only differences between the non-conducted peal and an ordinary one were (a) a welcome relief from chatters and (b) the need for finding six people who could learn the position of the calls. No need to find a 'conductor'—by the nature of the performance there can be nothing to conduct.

With Bill Birmingham's figure picture of the calling it was a simple matter of memory, especially for the younger ones, to learn the calling. Nobody suggested an umpire when we rang Parker's one-part similarly last year. There could be far more need for one when one of our experts in belfrymanship is using a composition unknown to the rest of the band.

In the same issue of the 'R.W.' there were 47 other peals. One was a record length and had an umpire. In the others 334 ringers took part and the need for an umpire to prove that they rang what they claim is not suggested.

A postscript.—At a previous attempt we did have an umpire (quite fortuitously) and every time we saw him tick his figures we had the reassurance that we were still right. Surely more truly 'silent' without that!—Yours sincerely,

WILFRID G. WILSON.

London.

Dear Sir,—I was recently invited by the band who rang Holt's Original at Harrow Weald to umpire this peal, but unfortunately I could not be present. A few weeks previously I umpired an unsuccessful attempt by the same band and enjoyed about two hours of beautiful ringing.

One of the band after this attempt remarked that an umpire like me was quite useful, because I was taking such an obvious interest in the matter when calls were imminent, and looked so relaxed at plain leads: next time I must do it Harry Withers style!—Yours sincerely,

BILL COLES.

Hillingdon.

Dear Sir,—In addition to Mr. T. E. Sone I, too, congratulate the band who rang the non-conducted Holt's Original at Harrow Weald on July 16th. As no umpire is mentioned it is a query who called 'Go' and 'That's all': if by one of the band it would not be absolutely silent.

I well remember ringing the same composition silent at St. John's, Waterloo Road, London, S.E., on June 4th, 1898, with Fred Perrin (nicknamed Derf Nirrep) as umpire, who called 'Go' at the commencement and 'That's all' at the end, not a word being spoken by any ringer.

During the last 700 there was loud knocking on the belfry door. Fred ejaculated, 'We shan't be long'; this did not disturb the band.—Yours, etc.,

G. E. SYMONDS.

Ipswich.

20,160 Double Norwich Court

Bob Major

Dear Sir.—It is with mixed feelings that I read the news of W.W.'s masterpiece being surpassed at last. W.W. was a man of many parts, but with Double Norwich he was supreme. On Sunday evenings when he had brought round a spectacular touch he would jump off the tenor box, rush across the belfry, fling open the door and say, 'Hark! buckets full of music rolling down the stairs.' And he was right; far superior music to what is produced from these fancy-named Surprise methods of today.

Many an evening practice in the dim light of the smoke, after a couple of L.B.M.'s, he would describe the drama and glory of the Wigston peal—of whether to call it round or not, and the uncertainty of whether he had won or lost. In one mood he would claim the Wigston tenor was 261 lb. heavier than that at Llanfeigan. It has, however, taken 60 years to lower the Wigston record.—Yours, etc.,

A. FLAT.

Ringing Courses

Dear Sir,—As I receive frequent requests for dates and information about bellringing courses pending, it would help me if I could be given such information by those organising courses in bellringing.

I should be grateful if those concerned would be so good as to let me know of any courses that are planned.—Yours, etc.,

N. CHADDOCK,

Convener,

Sunday Service Ringing and Education Committee C.C.

17, Herringthorpe Grove, Rotherham.

Cambridge Royal Peal

Dear Sir.—In case no one else has pointed it out, the composition of Cambridge Royal on page 540 of the 'R.W.' for August 7th appears in my collection as the property of the Rev. E. Banks James. Unfortunately I have not recorded where I found it so am unable to give 'chapter and verse.' No doubt someone else will oblige, if necessary.—Yours faithfully, STEPHEN IVIN.

Houghton Conquest, Beds.

Enderby Surprise Major

Dear Sir.—The list of 18 f.c.h.s for Enderby was most impressive: but would it not have been shorter to print just one member from each group, or better still to say 'falseness: groups D, N, O, T.' The information is useless anyway, without incidence, as the method is obviously not pealable in full courses.—Yours faithfully,

D. J. MARSHALL.

Long Eaton, Nottingham.

Dear Sir.—We have, on page 550, 'R.W.' August 14th, in the report of the peal of Enderby S.M., a prime example of the futility of publishing false course ends (or heads if you prefer it) without including their incidence.

At first glance one is much impressed by the ingenuity of the composer in producing a peal in a method with 18 f.c.es. Visions of a complex tenors parted peal arise.

However, on proving the method the truth dawns. One is tempted to ask whether it is coincidence that the length of the peal is 40 courses with a Before in each, such courses being clean proof.—Yours sincerely, Eastleigh, Hants.

D. J. FORDER.

A Washington Visit

Dear Sir,—On a recent visit to my daughter and son-in-law in America I was extremely fortunate to be able to spend two days in Washington and whilst there I quite naturally made a special point of visiting the magnificent Cathedral Church of St. Peter and St. Paul.

After numerous preliminary inquiries I was introduced to the assistant clerk of works, Mr. J. Fanfani, who for the summer months is Acting Ringing Master, and he quite readily agreed to conduct me to the recently dedicated tower for an inspection of the bells, the spacious ringing room and the carillon. As the bells were already silenced for practice I was privileged to ring up one of the bells, and the ringing conditions were certainly most impressive. Mr. Fanfani invited me to assist at the weekly practice on Saturday morning, but our schedule did not allow for a longer stay and I had to be content with a silent ring.

My wife and I were most thrilled to be conducted around the wonderful Cathedral of which the foundation stone was laid in 1912 and is still only partly completed. I was most grateful to receive from Mr. Fanfani a copy of the magnificent coloured brochure produced in connection with the recent dedication of the Gloria in Excelsis Tower. Circulation of the brochure has been very limited and my copy was inscribed by Mr. Fanfani as follows:

'Presented with the compliments of the Washington Cathedral Ringing Band.'

It was made abundantly clear to us what a wonderful impression was left behind the English ringers and we shall always cherish the memory of our visit.—Yours faithfully,

A. B. COOPER.

Kirk Ella, East Yorks.

'Bottling up' the sound

Dear Sir.—I recently came across another tower where sound control is inadequate due to the local church council's knowledge that to do so would imperil the tower by 'bottling up the sound.'

In my opinion less and less rings of bells will be available in the future for practices, meetings, tours and peals unless sound control is introduced widely. One of the obstacles to introducing sound control is this misconception on 'bottled up sound.'

It would be a great help if the Towers and Belfries Committee would issue a statement which would convince people that the sound from bells, bottled up or otherwise, has absolutely no deleterious effect on the tower structure.—Yours faithfully,

Derby. DENIS R. CARLISLE.

Yorkshire Royal in Herefordshire

Dear Sir.—Whilst congratulating the band that rang the peal of Yorkshire Royal at Hereford Cathedral recently, it is not the first peal of Yorkshire Royal in the county. One was rung at Leominster on April 7th, 1956.—Yours faithfully, Lichfield. J. E. CAWSE.

Lichfield.

First Handbell Peal in America

Dear Sir.—I wish to amend, through the columns of 'The Ringing World,' the footnote to the handbell peal rung in Washington, D.C., U.S.A., on May 7th, 1964.

The footnote should read: 'First peal on eight handbells and of Major in U.S.A.'

I am obliged to Messrs. Kenneth Arthur and Roland Park for writing on the subject and trust that the foregoing is acceptable for record purposes.—Yours sincerely,

FRANK C. PRICE.

Crowthorne, Berkshire.

OBITUARY

MR. ALBERT A. HUGHES

AN APPRECIATION

With the death of Albert A. Hughes the London ringing scene is deprived of another inspiring and stalwart character.

Although he was known to have given generously of himself to church and civic life, he may well be best remembered by College Youths for his services as an officer of the Society and for his always genial companionship.

Throughout a membership of over sixty years he had enjoyed the full confidence of his colleagues. His Mastership during the 1914-1918 war was a memorable one and, without the generous hospitality he and Mrs. Hughes extended at the foundry from 1941 until 1954 it is hard to believe that continuity in the Society's activities could have been maintained.

Bert Hughes was a City liveryman and, quietly, over many influential years, he caused the College Youths to absorb something of the best in City tradition. The Society's proceedings today owe much to his example and by maintaining the simple dignities of the anniversary dinners, the Society will help to perpetuate the standards he valued and exemplified.

Always forward-looking and youthfully enthusiastic, he was also a valued link with ringing heroes of the past. His early ringing career was greatly influenced by the famous Matthew A. Wood, and it was at Bethnal Green that he learned to delight in good striking of the simpler methods. His apprenticeship on the rough-going East End rings enabled him later to tackle successfully many notable heavy bells and, although he did not aspire to the most complex heights of change ringing, he had taken a place with the best in Stedman Cinques. He was proud of having rung in the 1918 Thanksgiving for Victory peal at St. Paul's Cathedral, conducted by Mr. William T. Cockerill, and, until incurring a shoulder injury in the late 1950's, he regularly joined in the Sunday morning Stedman Cinques at St. Michael's, Cornhill.

Many will remember his conviviality. He loved the company of ringers and, ensconced in the meeting room with hat, pipe and stick, would talk happily with young friends and old, often regaling his companions, in convincing West Country style, with tales of the legendary Bulling-Hesse-Coleridge ringing tours.

The wise counsels of this kindly gentleman will be greatly missed, and all ringers will regret that to the roll of names such as Wood, Pettit, Cockerill, Lewis and Peck, the College Youths must now add, sadly but proudly, the name of Albert Arthur Hughes.

J. E. C.

Mr. William Shepherd (Addlestone) writes:-

'Bert was a fine personality and carried on the business with striking efficiency. Like his father, Arthur Hughes, he was a great friend of ringers, was a good practical ringer and certainly we have lost one of the best shining lights of the Exercise. My deep sympathy goes to Mrs. Hughes and the family.'

Please Note:-

Where B-P-S-P has been used P-B-P-S and S-P-B-P can be used.

B-S-B-P and S-B-S-P may work to many methods where they are not shown.

CONCLUDED

Errata —(a) Buttermere, Dedworth Supreme, Stanford and Wychbold notes should read B-Ex-S-S-P-S Ex-B-P-Ex-P.

(b) Broadwas, 'See Northrepps' should be 'See Norfolk.'

(c) In Thurlby in Part B, Rev. St. Bartholomew should be at the bottom of the plain course, i.e., the change below should be above.

Rev. St. Bartholomew has not been left out. The plain course of Thurlby is made up of Grandsire Singles. Such a 'plain course' is usually called 'Rev. St. Bartholomew.'

Warning.

Before calling methods in Part D to peals (or quarters) please check them even if they have been named. Those in Part D under the heading false have been called to quarters and, perhaps, to peals although we have not seen them in a peal column.

Some named methods in Part D could be another way of writing a method which appears in Part C: cf. Warkton and Charlton with Oxford and Honeysuckle.

JOINT MEETING AT HARROW

There was a good attendance, with over 50 members present, at Harrow-on-the-Hill for the joint meeting between the North and East Districts of the Middlesex County Association and the Central District of the Ladies' Guild on August 8th.

From 3 p.m. onwards the bells (8, 19½ cwt.) rang out to a variety of methods, including Spliced Surprise: the ringing being of good standard. An all ladies touch of Stedman Triples showed that the services of the gentlemen were not really necessary, even to handle the heavier bells. The roof of Harrow Church is easily accessible from the belfry, and many took the opportunity to have a look at the latest acquisition to London's skyline, viz., the new Post Office Tower, near Tottenham Court Road.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Guy Whitcombe, vicar of St. Mary's, who gave an enjoyable résumé of the history of bells throughout the ages. Mr. White accompanied at the organ. An excellent tea then followed in the adjacent Church Hall.

As most of the ladies present were members of the Middlesex Association, the business of that Association was first on the agenda. At this meeting Mr. M. Miller (Stanmore), Miss Susan Jenkins and Mr. C. Brundrett (Harrow Weald) were elected as ringing members, and Miss Christine Rimmer (St. Albans), Peter Joyce (Farnborough), Julia A. Fellows (St. Albans) and Malcolm M. Powell (Bristol) added to the list of non-resident life members. Visitors present included Mr. M. J. Hallett, secretary of the S.W. District of the Essex Association, and Mr. H. Heath, secretary of the Chippenham Branch, Gloucester and Bristol Association.

Before the Middlesex members returned to the belfry, Mr. G. Hart thanked all who had contributed to the success of the proceedings: Miss Lorna Simpson for making the arrangements and other members of the local band and Mr. Rose for an excellent tea. Mrs. T. J. Lock expressed the thanks of the Ladies' Guild for the arrangements made for a joint meeting at rather short notice. E. H. K.

OBITUARY*MR. WILLIAM LINTER

We regret to record the death of Mr. William Linter, of 16, Uplands Crescent, Fareham, on August 15th, aged 74.

Mr. Linter came of a bellringing family and rang with his father and brothers at Swanmore, Hants. For many years he was a Church Army officer and worked in various centres.

After settling in Fareham, he took an active part in local ringing, ringing in peals at various churches. He served the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild faithfully as treasurer and also as chairman of the Portsmouth District, and when unable to take an active part maintained his contact with the Exercise through 'The Ringing World.'

Mr. Linter was one of the ringers who took part in 'The Great Adventure' to Australia and New Zealand in 1934.

The funeral service was at Fareham on August 19th and was followed by interment at Swanmore. There was half-muffled ringing on the ten bells at Fareham after the service.

MR. P. SWINDLEY

Regretting the passing of Mr. P. Swindley, of Chester, Mr. B. Harris writes: Though a controversial figure in Cheshire ringing, he had given a great deal of encouragement to many, including myself. He had a clever knack in selecting simple new methods for inexperienced bands and there were several of us ringing with him round about 1950 who had rung only very few peals, but in a great variety of methods.

Though a capable conductor and tenor man, he was always ready to hand over these duties to others to encourage them. He was always ready to help out with train fare or non-resident life subscriptions for those of us who were then still at school.

WILBURTON, ELY, CAMBS.—On Aug. 5th, 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: Mrs. A. Payne 1, G. Markwell 2, Miss J. Cook 3, D. Murfett 4, J. Causer 5, A. Payne (cond.) 6. Rung half-muffled in memoriam Mrs. H. M. Boswell, wife of Rev. H. M. Boswell (retired), Vicar from 1946-1958.

OUTINGS*CHARING AND LITTLE CHART, KENT

The success of the outing of Charing and Little Chart ringers and friends on July 25th justifies the hope of making it an annual event.

Sussex was entered after ringing at Sandhurst (6), and Burwash and Heathfield provided eight-bell ringing to which a large proportion of the party were unaccustomed. Grandsire Triples and Bob Major were, however, achieved. Ringing at Warbleton (6) followed a picnic lunch. The afternoon's towers were Hailsham (8) and Westham (6), where Stedman provided the best ringing of the day.

An hour was spent on the beach at Pevensey and then came high tea at Sedlescombe. At the church a rope was broken. Ringing ended at Northiam (6), where a course of Cambridge was rung. Incumbents and ringers who met the party are thanked for their kind co-operation.

HARSTON AND DISTRICT

Cars from Harston, Haslingfield and Mel-dreth, nine in all, took ringers and their families to visit some Bedfordshire sixes on August Bank Holiday.

Ringing started at 10 a.m. at Henlow, then the party went on to Arlesey. The next move was to Haynes for five bells and a picnic lunch in the churchyard. Here it was discovered that two junior members of the company were no longer with us. However, they were speedily recovered from police custody in Arlesey.

The interval before tea at Sandy was pleasantly filled by calls at Silsoe, Elstow and Cople. Half an hour at Pottton rounded off a most successful day.

We are all most grateful to the local ringers and to Brian Threlfall for his efficient organisation. H. E. B.

A SOUVENIR

We feel certain that the silver and blue ash or pin tray which Mr. W. H. Viggers is now marketing specially for those with an interest in bells will meet a demand from ringers and their friends. The bell, which forms the centre-piece, is modelled from Bow tenor. Details were advertised on p. 571 of last week's issue.

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

The 92nd birthday of the G.O.M. of the Dunster Branch, Mr. Jack Pugsley, was duly honoured on August 15th by a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples on Minehead bells. For many years Mr. Pugsley was conductor of this tower, and also Ringing Master of the Dunster Branch of the Bath and Wells Association. There was a late completion of the band, and Messrs. P. J. Mallock and C. J. Clegg, of Ashton-under-Lyne, and Mr. F. C. Arscott, of Selworthy, are thanked for their services.

Mr. Frederick Sharpe asks for photographs of cracked towers, especially those split vertically. His address is 'Derwen,' Lapton, Bicester, Oxon.

Two eminent Sussex ringers taking part in a recent peal attempt found that a third hand would have come in useful to hold up their 'self-supporting' trousers.

Mr. Peter Bridle, of Long Ashton, met with a cycling accident on August 9th, receiving head injuries. He is now recovering in White Ward of the Bristol Royal Infirmary, after having been unconscious for several days. His friends wish him a speedy recovery.

We hope that 14-year-old Lesley Britton, one of St. James', Taunton, teenage ringers, whose name appears in our quarter peal column, will be able to continue her ringing at Slough. Her father, who is a schoolmaster, was a lay reader at St. James'.

The 75th birthday of Mr. Charles Geary, of Long Eaton, was not only commemorated by a peal on Long Eaton bells on which he rang the fifth on the actual day, but with the presentation of a pipe and tobacco afterwards in 'The Queen's.' This is reputed to be the first building Charley entered when he came to Long Eaton over 50 years ago.

On a recent Yorkshire peal week, Kenneth B. Sissons, of All Saints', Sherburn-in-Elmet, rang his 100th peal for the Yorkshire Association, being the fifth ringer from this tower to do so during the past seven years. Also Alan Sheppard and John Potts rang their 100th peal together, being the second pair from this tower to do so during the same period.

BELFRY GOSSIP

In the peal at St. Florence, Pembrokeshire, three generations of the Jenkins family took part—L. Henry Jenkins, his son Ivor, and grandson Christopher, aged 14 years. It had long been Henry's ambition to ring in his grandson's first peal and this was achieved at the first attempt. These three generations have rung in a 'first' together before at Cardigan in August, 1962, when Christopher rang his first quarter at the age of 12.

A correspondent who read with great interest Mr. Peter Came's article comments that Mr. John Betjeman entitled his autobiographical blank-verse poem, 'Summoned by bells.'

Mr. P. D. Chapman informs us that Miss Janet Gamble is the first lady taught in Walthamstow tower to ring a quarter peal there. Her twin sister hopes soon to ring her first quarter there.

R. Offen, aged 11, of Tenterden, writes regarding 'spur stays' that he has found another tower in Kent with a complete set—at Egerton (6, 10 cwt.). These bells are rung regularly.

Mr. F. A. Salter, of St. Peter's, Nottingham, has recently left the City Hospital, where he underwent a major operation. His many friends in and around the Mansfield district wish him a speedy recovery, and look forward to ringing with him again before long.

The so-called 'Battle of Hastings, 1964,' did not hinder the ringing, at the first attempt, of the first peal on the new Taylor eight at St. Clement's, Hastings. Three of the ringers in this peal have now completed the 'hat-trick' by ringing peals at the three Hastings towers on successive Bank Holidays.

The Percy twins—Susan and Charles—children of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. R. Percy, of Willington, Sussex, rang their first quarter at Bobbing, Kent, on August 10th. Father and mother and sister Janet, who conducted, also took part. Tenor man was Mr. F. J. Cheal, with whom the Percy family had a very enjoyable holiday. Ringing was at Rainham, Milton Regis, Hartlip and Hoo.

BELLS — A NUISANCE

By MICHAEL R. MEADOWS

ARE you a nuisance? Do you annoy people? When you ring bells do you realise your harmonious changes may be nothing more than an irritating clatter to others? Do you know this might also be a legal nuisance actionable in the courts?

Have you considered what might happen if Mrs. Smith complains the noise keeps little 'Johnny' awake in the evening or the music teacher across the way alleges that the sound of the bells drowns the dulcet tones of her soft pedal? No problem arises if the complaint comes directly to you or the Vicar, particularly if you have a 'ringable' Vicar; just a few sympathetic words and a short lecture on the purpose of the exercise and nothing more. But what happens if the courts are asked to decide whether you were justified in ringing that last peal or practising for two solid hours last Friday in addition to ringing for weddings on Saturday and twice on Sunday for services?

The law permits you to make as much noise as you like provided it does not interfere substantially with anyone else. But if your noise becomes unreasonable or excessive then it is possible you will be committing a legal nuisance and ordered to stop.

Clearly some noises will never constitute a legal nuisance. If the village busybody complains because ringing for Matins ruins his lie in on Sunday morning, the courts will have no sympathy for him. Conversely, if a team of ringers was to attempt a long length peal starting in the dim light of dawn, this would obviously make a difference. It has been held that the loss of one night's sleep through excessive noise is an actionable nuisance. The test is when did you ring or how long did you ring?

The law only protects the average or reasonable man. The music teacher cannot complain because she requires an exceptional amount of peace and quiet. She is not an average person and cannot rely on her sensitivity as an excuse to stop the bells.

The question is really one of 'live and let live' or 'give and take.' Are you so enthusiastic you are expecting the rest of the community to tolerate rather more than the common man can be expected to endure? What is the purpose of your ringing? Where are you ringing? Can you prevent the noise? All these factors are important. The courts would certainly regard it as reasonable to ring the bells to call people to worship on Sunday or to announce the birth of a Royal son. It might also be reasonable, if not essential, to practise once a week for an hour or so lest the noise be even more unpalatable. But what happens in the case of peal ringing where the object of the exercise is to show off your prowess and skill? The courts would take note of the world of difference between ringing for events connected with the Church and ringing purely for pleasure. You might justify a peal rung on the occasion of a wedding, but have great difficulty in convincing anybody that a peal rung to mark the end of summertime was anything but excessive ringing, particularly if it had rained most of the year. The more weird and wonderful your excuse, the more likely it is going to be unreasonable in the eyes of the law.

What may be a nuisance in one parish may not be so in another. You can ring as many thousand changes as you wish in the remote fastness of an unoccupied island, or in one of those parishes where the residents 'love the sound of the bells.' Try the same in the middle of the city with offices, shops, schools, houses and perhaps a library within audible distance of the church and your activity would certainly bring a storm of legal threats about your ears.

Furthermore, you must always try to prevent excess noise if practicable. Some towers install adjustable shutters in the louvres, others ring the bells fully muffled simply to minimise interference on those occasions when it is not essential that the bells be heard throughout the neighbourhood. No one would expect the shutters to be closed on Sundays or for that Royal peal. It might be unreasonable, however, to expect the whole population within a two-mile radius of the church to sit back and enjoy five hours assorted ringing while the local district society holds a meeting at your tower. That the society comes once in three years is irrelevant.

All these factors of time, place and purpose are interrelated. It will not be necessary to install shutters in every tower, this will depend on locality. Similarly in certain places no one is going to care whether you are ringing to congratulate the vicar's warden on re-election or to welcome the new year. It all depends on the inhabitants. If they complain then the courts will want to know when, where and why you were ringing. Would it be reasonable to expect you to cut down noise on certain occasions; all practical and factual problems which will differ from belfry to belfry.

Who can complain and who will be held responsible? A person can complain only if he is the owner of land or has a legal interest, such as a tenancy, in land, the enjoyment of which is being interfered with. A guest who has the temerity to complain has no remedy. On the other hand, whoever is responsible for making the noise is liable to those who have a right of action.

What can you say to defend yourself if accused of being a legal, or should one say an illegal nuisance? If your noise has annoyed the same person for twenty years or more and he has slept on his rights, you may acquire a right by prescription to go on being noisy with impunity. However, you cannot say 'Mrs. Jones came to the nuisance because she bought the house next to the church.' The old argument of 'the bells were here first' is not as sound as most people imagine. Neither can you say 'the nuisance has only arisen because Dr. Jekyll has decided to use the hut at the bottom of his garden as a surgery, whereas if he stayed inside the house he would not be disturbed.' The law permits every man to enjoy the use of all his land. That the noise does not disturb him in one corner of his estate is irrelevant if it is unendurable in another.

Finally, if three or more people are sufficiently disgruntled and present a petition to the local authority, under the Noise Abatement Act 1960, the authority must require a Justice of the Peace to abate the nuisance.

Next time you decide to 'rattle off' five thousand and for y Plain Bob Minor or Surprise Maximus, have a few defences ready in case anyone complains. Remember, the prescriptive right is always a good weapon against the oldest inhabitant. On the other hand, in this day of the 'Mersey beat' and other assorted noises, when people prefer the monotonous clatter of the bingo club, the nightly pandemonium on the television or the insidious blare of the transistor radio, it would seem unreasonable that they are unwilling to tolerate the only loud noise made to the Glory of God.

MR. FRED PRICE GOING TO WASHINGTON AS INSTRUCTOR

Mr. Fred Price of Bournemouth is flying to Washington on October 14th to assist in teaching change ringing to the band who ring on the Gloria in Excelsis tower at Washington Cathedral.

Mr. Price wrote to the Dean and offered his services for four months if his expenses could be paid. His offer has been gladly accepted.

Many of our older readers will recall that Mr. Price was a member of the St. Martin's, Birmingham, Sunday service band from 1927 to 1935, during which period he took part in most of the broadcast ringing from the Cathedral church on the old ten: all ringing at the Cathedral was then undertaken by St. Martin's ringers.

He resigned from the St. Martin's band—with some regret—in 1935 to honour a promise made 10 years earlier to return to Aston if, and when, the bells should be restored. Aston had then a new ring of 12 bells by the addition of two new trebles and presented a great opportunity for the enthusiastic instructor. Soon the 12 bells were being regularly rung for one hour before Matins and Evensong every Sunday, and it is on record that a peal of Stedman Cinques, conducted by Mr. Price, was rung in 1939 by the Sunday service band, it being the first peal of Stedman Cinques for no less than seven of the band.

Mr. Price has been assured by Mr. Wayne Dirksen that plenty of recruits, eager to learn, await him, and he is confident that his success of 30 years ago can be repeated.

LAVENHAM BELLS NOW AT FOUNDRY

The famous Miles Graye tenor at Lavenham, cast in 1625, was safely lowered on August 21st by Messrs. John Taylor and Co., prior to its removal with the other bells in the tower to Loughborough. The ring of eight is to be retuned and refitted.

Experts have agreed that the time has come for the medieval bell frame of oak, often repaired with wood and iron, to be replaced before it becomes really dangerous.

New cast-iron framework with a foundation of rolled steel girders will replace it, and the estimated cost of the restoration work is estimated at £2,500. Towards this £1,400 has already been subscribed by visitors to the church and Capt. G. A. D. Cooper, treasurer for the bell frame fund, of Yaxley Cottage, High Street, Lavenham, hopes donations to meet the balance will be sent to him or the Rector, Canon H. W. S. Cotton, without having to launch a special appeal.

REMEMBER YOUR PARACHUTE!

Miss Ethel Lloyd, of St. Peter's, Ballaarat, had the misfortune at the meeting of the A.N.Z.A.B. at Hobart to be carried up when a stay broke and fell heavily. Her injuries included a chipped elbow bone, fractured collar bone and fractured vertebra. 'Ringing Towers' states that the Cathedral insurance policy will indemnify her.

Thanking the St. David's Guild, Hobart, for the many kindnesses to her whilst in hospital, Ethel writes: 'A word of advice I pass on to all ringers. "Remember to fasten your parachute before entering the ringing chamber."'

COMING-OF-AGE OUTING

Ten ringers from Christ Church, Swindon, went to Kent on August 15th to meet Miss Rosalind Roworth in Rochester to celebrate her coming-of-age. A good quarter of Grand-sire Triples was rung at St. Margaret's, Rainham, by Miss J. Davidge 1, Mrs. J. Minchin 2, Miss S. Little 3, M. Penney 4, Miss R. Roworth 5, A. G. Wells 6, M. Stanley (cond.) 7, E. Sutton 8. Further ringing took place at Chatham. Thanks are accorded Messrs. Sutton and Cheal.

MR. J. FRANK SMALLWOOD

who is known as 'Jafus' to his friends, celebrated his 80th birthday last Tuesday. He has been nominated as a life member of the Central Council in honour of his services as convener of 'The Ringing World' Committee.

CREWE'S VISIT TO WALES

Crewe's annual visit to Wales on August 15th attracted 40 ringers and friends who travelled by coach and more followed in Doreen's bus. At 9.15 a.m. the party were ringing on the rather unmusical ring at Ellesmere.

Mid-morning refreshments were taken at 'The Coach and Dogs,' Oswestry, and then, after queueing through Welshpool, we were enjoying the delightful eight at St. Beuno's, Berriew. It can't honestly be said that the ringing was as good as the bells merited, but it was a warm day and the local hostility was a distraction. However, we did try.

A quick run to Newtown for the ample lunch and all were appreciative of the long and restful journey through the hills to Dolgelly. Lovely bells—they ring themselves... well, almost, and a very good course of Cambridge Major was easily the best ringing of the day.

Ten miles of narrow twisting road meant we were late at Barmouth. Hopes of hearing the bells of St. John's Church—the finest eight in Wales' (rumoured to have been quoted by a famous ringer of the past)—were soon dashed. Raising a bell which only speaks halfway up is somewhat puzzling. Investigating, we found the bells muted, the clapper having been tied to one side, about one inch from the bell. Unfortunately the full-throated sound from these bells has brought forth complaint, which has led to this muting. This is a great pity since the resulting sound is a very poor substitute for open bells.

After an evening meal we set off through the pouring rain to Llangollen, arriving at 10 p.m. In view of the long journey home it was probably a blessing in disguise that there was only half an hour for refreshments. Crewe was reached at 1 a.m. I. R. N.

PIPE'S PILGRIMS HAD A MIDLAND PILGRIMAGE

'Young men and maidens, old men and children.—Praise him upon the well tuned cymbals.'

THIRTY of us from thirteen counties were eventually safely housed in the luxurious comfort of the Station Hotel, Dudley, and with an age range from 14 to 74 were certainly a broad cross-section. Jim's recipe for an enjoyable tour—good friends, good food, good bells, good weather and various other goods were with us for the greater part of the week.

We rang in seven counties—Gloucestershire, Leicestershire, Northamptonshire, Shropshire, Staffordshire, Warwickshire, and Worcestershire, covering 47 towers with tenors ranging from 3½ to 25 cwt.; methods extended from Bob Doubles to Spliced Surprise Major and Cambridge Maximus.

DAILY HIGHLIGHTS

Picking highlights is a problem because of individual preferences, but these are mine:—

Sunday—Meeting A. J. Pitman at Leamington; and the grand 10 at Solihull where time was all too short.

Monday—Listening outside at Tewkesbury and Hallow, and the grand tea at the Mug House at Claines (no comments please).

Tuesday—Much Wenlock, where a well struck course of London was accomplished after Norman Bagworth had done a grand job raising the tenor in peal (I'll agree it's no great weight but that rise is one of my memories).

Wednesday—A day full of grand memories:—Penkridge ringing Stedman and listening to Yorkshire and Cambridge; Brewood for a grand eight; Tettenthall where we made a poor show on what I think were good bells; Penn where four married couples rang Grand-sire; Claverley where my young friend Patricia Lockwood was in charge of the ringing.

Thursday—A course of Pudsey at Sutton Coldfield; at Tamworth the rise and fall of the back six was a pleasure to listen to. This was a day of good ringing and good bells and the only day it rained.

Friday was rock and roll day—most of the towers visited did either one or the other. Ron Edwards replied to someone who asked if the bells were on ball bearings, 'I don't know, but I think the tower is.' Sylvia called spliced Surprise at Northfield—what a lot of noise from such a dainty piece of femininity?

I must tell the truth about Lye—have you ever met a dumb bell at both ends of rope—it happened to me on the 5th, not a sound save the raucous comments of those not ringing. But a good course of London was rung.

PRESENTATIONS

On Friday evening in the hotel lounge Arthur Barker introduced his wife Gladys who made a presentation of a garden chair to Jim and a wheeled basket to Sylvia as a token of our appreciation for organising the tour. Jim replied in his usual entertaining manner and presented our driver with a pair of cuff links on our behalf. Next year's tour was discussed and I've a feeling we're heading West to where the cider apples grow.

Saturday's six towers were good, but we weren't. The rot started with yours truly mis-calling Grandsire on the cack-handed eight at Coleshill. Others did their best to redeem things but with little success.

On behalf of the 'Pilgrims' I would like to say thank you—to all incumbents and local ringers who met us, to our driver, to Norman Goodman who acted as pilot on many occasions, to Mr. and Mrs. Beamish who guided us to Chilvers Coton and for the rest of the day, and finally to Jim and Sylvia for organising another grand week.

For those who like all the details here is a full list of the towers: Bewdley, Brewood, Bridgnorth (2), Bromsgrove, Broseley, Chilvers Coton, Claines, Claverley, Coleshill, Dudley, Erdington, Halesowen, Hallow, Handsworth, Hartlebury, High Ercall, Hinckley, Knowle, Leamington, Lye, Malvern Link, Market Drayton, Madeley, Much Wenlock, Monks Kirby, Netherton, Northfield, Northampton, Old Hill, Penkridge, Penn, Rugby (2), Solihull, Shifnal, Sutton Coldfield, Stourbridge (2), Tewkesbury, Tettenthall, Tamworth, Worcester St. John, Wellington, West Bromwich, Wednesday. IRVIN SLACK.

ROVING RINGERS' 1964 TOUR

THE 1964 tour started on Saturday, July 25th, in Salisbury, and finished in Bristol on Saturday, August 1st. Touring members came from Essex, Surrey, Worcester, Devon, Wiltshire, Hertfordshire and Bristol. Despite traffic conditions around Salisbury we had a surprisingly good attendance at the first tower, St. Paul's.

Our first full day commenced with ringing for morning service at St. Thomas's, Salisbury. In spite of the springy ropes we drew a favourable comment from a member of the congregation, of how much she appreciated the bell music. After lunch, during which time some members rang handbells whilst padding in the Avon, we rang at Downton, and thence to Cranborne, stopping at Fording-bridge for tea. It was on the way to Cranborne that the first puncture occurred—to the same person on the same afternoon as last year! After ringing on the pleasant eight at Cranborne, followed by dinner in the hostel, we aired Fred's handbells on the village green.

It was a great disappointment on Monday to learn that, due to a service, Wimborne Minster bells were not available; but the substitute, Wimborne St. Giles', proved to be well worth the detour. A good course of Yorkshire was rung here. A long ride brought us to Poole, where we were glad to eat and drink before ringing. Restoration work was being carried out and after an alarming noise whilst attempting to ring up the treble, it was discovered that ladders were occupying three bell pits. A compromise was reached with the workmen, who retired to the 'local' for an hour while we rang.

BRAVE ONES BATHED

The majority of the party took the ferry from Sandbanks en route for Swanage, our last tower of the day, but several of the younger ones cycled via Wareham. Swanage proved to have an excellent ring, though we did not really do it justice. That night was spent at a Swanage hostel, which was up a hill too steep for even the lowest gear. After dinner the party divided, the braver ones—mainly girls—went for a dip. Richard encountered a female acquaintance, while Rosemary and Geraldine found the dodgem cars a relaxation. Unfortunately, 'all in' at the hostel coincided with 'all out' at the 'local,' which resulted in the girls being smuggled back into the hostel via the men's washroom!

Tuesday took us first to Wareham, via Corfe, where those with sufficient energy and time struggled up to the castle. Kent went well here. On the heavy six at Bere Regis a good course of Oxford Treble Bob, and also Beverley, one of the special methods, came round successfully.

The long climb to Okeford Fitzpaine was rewarding by the magnificent view. At attempt at George's 14 Spliced Minor and Doubles was unsuccessful. By now the bicycles were beginning to feel the strain, and more mechanical troubles were developed this year than in Cornwall last. It was a relief to reach Marnhull, and after quick refreshment we tackled the 19 cwt. six, the second heaviest of the tour. Unfortunately the young man on the fourth slackened his backstroke, causing his rope to slip the wheel, and valuable time was lost searching for the key to remedy this—it was eventually discovered hanging behind a photograph in the ringing chamber! During dinner at the hostel, Roger remarked that he had consumed eight pints that day, which was realistically interpreted as cycling at the rate of 37 miles to the gallon! It was, in fact, the longest day's run of the tour!

On Wednesday we headed for Milborne Port, the church having a considerable amount of Saxon and Norman architecture in evidence. No electric light could be located in the vast ringing chamber, so ringing was conducted in semi-darkness. In view of the adverse conditions ringing was below standard.

Recalling the words of one of John S's new songs—'We're coming, we're coming, our brave little band'—we entered the belfry of Sherborne Abbey determined to do justice to the magnificent ring. We were not disappointed. We had some of the best ringing

Tourers not in the picture: Don and Sally Cobb, George and Janet Evenden, Alan Tubb and Rosemary Blyth (who took the photograph).

The week-enders: Michael and Kathleen Chilcott, David and Kitty Beacham, Derek and Marilyn Astridge, Peter and Jean Minchin, Martin and Mary Bywater, Cyril and Daphne Deem, Michael and Monica Horseman, Bill and Hilda Kingcott, Frank and Eunice Lewis, Ron and Audrey Short, Brian and Haze Stirling, Albert and Frances Tyler, Sue Secker, Chris Webb, Genebeth Mooring, Michael Austin, John Brain and, when clerical duties allowed, Roger Fry.

of the tour, including a slow well-struck touch of Stedman Triples. Our sympathy was extended to the back-enders, who did a grand job, especially as this was the heaviest day of the tour. Yeovil must surely be in the top ten! But, though beautiful for tone, inside and out, we were unable to strike them as perfectly as was desirable, but a course of Double Norwich Caters was again a success. Ten miles further north, at Somerton, we were met by the Rev. Chris Marshall, Vicar of Long Sutton, one time curate at Leatherhead, Surrey, and well known to the Surrey tourers.

LIFE RATHER PRIMITIVE

The sight of the hostel after a day's cycling was always a great relief, and Street, after the long final hill, was no exception. Life here was found to be rather primitive. Goats were kept to provide milk, and hostellers were kept to pump water. Those who saw the goats' milk being strained through a sieve did not tackle their 'morning sunshine' with quite the usual enthusiasm, while those voluntarily conscripted to pump water found the action rather familiar. Handbell ringing provided after-dinner entertainment and Stedman Triples was well rung by Adrienne, Fred, Don and Roger. The distance to the 'local' and the prospect of the return uphill drag did not deter many from venturing out.

Thursday was a circular tour, returning to Street Hostel. Chris Marshall's own church, Long Sutton, was the first of the day. The bells are a splendid six augmented from five by Mears. The bells were rung half muffled as a mark of respect to one of the local ringers interred that day. After coffee we cycled to Martock, the heaviest eight of the day and the most difficult to strike well. The arrangement of ropes here of the chiming apparatus was undoubtedly a spider's masterpiece. Drayton was the first after lunch. A short push on the pedals brought us to Lungport, where, after tea, Chris Marshall joined us again. A neat touch of St. Clement's Minor had the ringing off to a good start and we ended with George calling a well-struck touch of Spliced Plain, Little and Single Oxford Minor.

Without expending another ounce of energy we free-wheeled into Huish Episcopi, where Fred C. joined us again on his way home from holidaying. Spliced Stedman and Grand-sire was attempted here, and was good until one ringer omitted to complete his Stedman six. The ringing down of the bells was probably the best we achieved. Diversity of opinion on the best return route to Street split the party. George and Janet on their tandem, believing theirs to be the best, shot off the main road along a narrow lane, only to reappear some two minutes later cycling madly round the next corner towards us!

On Friday, hostel chores completed, the mystery of Roger's sleeping bag unsolved, we sped downhill to Street Parish Church. The bells were difficult to strike, particularly as the front four become inaudible to those ringing the back four. As we descended the staircase an S.O.S. came from Adrienne, stranded with long loaves of bread for half the party's lunch, and unable to mount her bicycle. Gallantly John S. went to her rescue. A short ride took us to Glastonbury, past a most pungent-smelling sheepskin curing factory, to the glorious 13 cwt. six of St. Benedict's. The ringing here was good and the bells ran like clockwork. The ladies proved their worth with a well-struck touch of Plain Bob Minor called by Adrienne from the tenor.

'FIRST AND LAST'

The ride to Mark was somewhat of an ordeal: 13 miles across bleak but somehow beautiful moors. Traversing this barren scene we realised the significance of the sign outside the inn appropriately named the 'First and Last.' The tower contains a very old eight with some of the bells dating back to the 17th century. The last eight of the day were the excellent ring at Banwell, where we had a good course of Yorkshire. A short distance from Binwell was Hutton and the hostel. This being the last hostelling night, spirits were high. Personal memories are sufficient to record the events of that night out.

Saturday morning began with ringing at Congresbury, where we were greeted with a rather painful smile from John S., who, unable even to attempt breakfast, had set off some time before the main contingent, and much to everyone's surprise had successfully steered his way across country. Thank you, John, for leading the singing so lustily that night! Congresbury bells do not 'go' well, and we wondered how this 35 cwt. eight was ever put into the tower. A short trip to Yatton's lovely ring with a tenor of 21 cwt. The seventh bell is dated 1451. Yorkshire went well, and the influx of weekenders helped to raise the standard of striking. At the attractive Norman church of Clevedon, Superlative went well. Then on to Portishead. Roger Fry's parish and the last tower before the Bristol week-end, John H. at last called a successful touch of Stedman. The final nine-mile stretch into Bristol and the hotel reminded one of the straw that broke the camel's back, the climb to Abbot's Leigh being almost the last straw. At the hotel, across the bridge, a scramble for baths ensued.

Now joined by the last of the weekenders, a party of 50 ringers sat down to a welcome dinner. During the evening the customary short business meeting was held. It was unanimously decided that next year the tour should still be arranged to coincide with August Bank Holiday. Later, those still with an insatiable thirst remedied it, others went to admire that fine example of Brunel's work,

Sunday Service and Multi-methods Doubles

Dear Sir,—The following peals of Surprise Minor were rung at St. Mary's Church, Lamberhurst, Kent, by the Sunday service band, all resident in Lamberhurst parish: February 6th, 1930, 21 methods; May 15th, 1930, 26 methods; March 2nd, 1935, 32 methods.

At the time it was rung it was thought that the 32 methods was the most that could be rung in seven 720's.

The late Mr. A. G. Driver supplied the figures for the peal.—Yours faithfully,

A. RELFE.

Lamberhurst.

Note.—Mr. E. A. Barnett gives the band who rang the first two peals as follows: Ernest E. Woodage 1, J. Bassett 2, B. J. Luck 3, A. Marshall 4, J. Waghorn 5, A. Relfe (cond.) 6.

Dear Sir,—The Sunday service band of Shenfield, Essex, have rung the following Spliced Surprise peals in their own tower: April 20th, 1954, 18 methods; December 27th, 1960, 14 methods; November 25th, 1961, 28 methods; November 24th, 1962, 34 methods.

As opportunities for peals here are not too frequent, the same band have rung peals as follows: Twenty methods, February 18th, 1961, at Rettendon; 25 methods, May 20th, 1961, and 31 methods, July 21st, 1962, both at Downham.—Yours faithfully,

H. TURNER

Peal Ringing a Sport

Dear Sir,—It was interesting to read Stravinsky's summary of bells as musical instruments ('Ringing World,' page 544). I have a newspaper cutting from the 'Observer' dated August 28th, 1927, in which Bishop Frodsham, then Vicar of Halifax, expresses his views on bellringing. He was speaking at the dedication of a peal tablet to mark the record length of 17,824 Oxford Treble Bob Major at Heptonstall on April 18th, 1927.

He said: 'Peal ringing demanded bodily strength; it required mental concentration and concerted action of a high order by eight men all alert, prompt and exact. There was no room for a stupid, selfish or self-indulgent player at such a sport—for bellringing was a sport. There was no team of footballers or cricketers who were so united as a first-class team of bellringers. There was one great difference between them and other sportsmen—bellringing had a very close and intimate connection with religion stretching back into remote antiquity.'

While I think it odd that a member of the clergy, or indeed anyone, should regard bellringing as a sport, it is useful to note what people think of our art. I should like to see more letters telling us 'what the people say.'—Yours faithfully,

MICHAEL R. MEADOWS.

Wentworth, Yorks.

Why Non-Association?

Dear Sir,—I see on page 569 that the Southern District secretary of the Coventry Diocesan Guild rang and conducted a peal in his own tower and that it was rung non-Association.

I presume that he had a reason for not ringing it for the Coventry Guild.—Yours, etc.,

M. C. HUGHES.

Solihull.

Visitors' Ringing at Cirencester

Dear Sir,—To Mr. Land, who protested against mediocre ringing by a visiting band at Cirencester I say 'piffle and poppycock.'

Let us rejoice in that there was a band willing to 'have a go,' and that the tower was blessed by visitors, which is a very different story in a great many instances.

Is Mr. G. W. Land such a perfect ringer that naught but perfection will suffice? Why didn't he stir his bones into the tower and give such enthusiasm his expert advice and refrain from publicly criticising them?

In answer to his question, I'll tell him why. Apathy by the experts who criticise rather than advise. Those who stand at the foot of the belfry steps and refuse to ring 'with a bunch of amateurs.'

We at Bushbury cannot claim peal proficiency but we can claim keenness and a service ringing record attendance second to none. We can only manage plain course Grandsire Doubles but, believe me, the ringing is well meant for service, and not personal satisfaction only.

I'm a learner, Mr. Land, and have been for two years, and until there's a change of mood by the experts I look like remaining so for quite some time yet.—Yours faithfully,

M. R. BUCKHAM.

Bushbury, Wolverhampton.

Dear Sir,—The complacent tone of the letter from Mr. G. Land is amazing. It is noted from an article in the same publication that this gentleman has rung in 100 peals, and it is presumed that he must consider himself really someone!

However, there are many who are unable to spend quite so much time 'ringing,' and, although quite sincere, cannot come up to the perfection of Mr. G. Land. To an outsider and non-ringer, like myself, the efforts of the 'duffers' in Cirencester may have sounded beautiful indeed, and keen novices are entitled to the same facilities as the experts, or how are they ever to achieve efficiency? Surely ringing is a Christian exercise, and tolerance and encouragement are likely to help the cause much more than scathing and unpleasant criticism.

Hitchin Tower: a War Memory

Dear Sir,—Mr. T. A. Bevis' article on Hitchin was most interesting. Perhaps you will permit me to add to it.

During World War II I had an enforced stay at Luton and the hospitality shown to me there, and throughout the Beds and Herts area, will long be a cherished memory.

Prior to the ban being lifted I came to know of handbell ringing at Hitchin. Despite the ban the ringers met regularly for Evensong (then in the afternoons). The congregation was always rung in by handbells from the balcony ringing floor. I much enjoyed the pleasure and privilege of joining them in several splendid touches of Grandsire Caters.

It was a great treat, when the ban was lifted, to take part in some excellent ringing on the fine eight. Thanks again. Hitchin.

High Hoyland Bells

Dear Sir.—The letter in 'The Ringing World' about High Hoyland bells will no doubt cause some interest so a few details about the parish and church should not be out of place.

All Hallows', High Hoyland, has an ancient foundation, 1250, with the present short tower built 1697, in which are six bells, the treble by T. Mears of London, 1822, and the remainder by E. Sellers of York, 1745, the tenor being 36½ ins. in E flat. Owing to an increase in population, a new church was built nearly two miles away at Clayton West in 1875, and a few years later All Hallows' was closed except for burial services, as the only burial ground for the two villages was, and still is, at High Hoyland. The local newspapers at the time contained many letters complaining bitterly about the closing of the old church but to no avail.

About 1909 a surprising event took place for, considering the church was practically closed, the nave was pulled down and completely rebuilt, one good reason being that the existing nave was a 19th century monstrosity and a building more in keeping with the tower was erected. During the excavations many ancient stone works were discovered which set back the history of the church by over 300 years. About 20 years ago monthly services were commenced at All Hallows', gas heating has recently been installed and with the fixing of the new notice board the old church is living again, due in no small way to the care of the verger, Mrs. Clarkson.

All Hallows' stands on a high ridge 1½ miles from Cawthorne, and in 1933 we took ropes to the High Hoyland tower, repaired some wheels and, by some great effort, rang a few changes. I do not think that the bells have been since raised to the set position. We visited the tower a few years ago, but the condition of the wheels was too bad to attempt any ringing. The third bell is cracked but the others are quite tuneful and the frame is not in the bad condition as suggested by the newspaper article. There is also an old clock movement, early 18th century, derelict but more or less complete: the dial was removed some 50 years ago and was replaced in 1954 by a sundial!

The Clayton West Church Council are reluctant to spend money on the bells at All Hallows', and as a last hope I suggested that the third be recast and Ellacombe chimes fitted, but there is a strong desire to sell the bells. Some years ago the Friends of All Hallows' was formed with the object of caring for the old church, and much has been done in repairs and renewals, but of course nothing can be attempted without the approval of the Church Council.

Now the position is made clear, perhaps some guidance from the Central Council will be helpful to the people concerned: an estimate has been obtained that the recasting of the third bell and Ellacombe chimes can be done for under £300, so I am passing this information to the secretary of the Friends of All Hallows'.—Yours faithfully,

Cawthorne, Barnsley. N. F. MOXON.

A DURHAM APPEAL

A band of young ringers formed in 1962 have made the three bells at St. Mary the Virgin's, Shincliffe Village, Co. Durham, safe to ring. Unfortunately the bells need new fittings, cleaning and retuning. With the Rector's permission, they have opened a bell fund for this work to be done and two more bells added, as the frame is good and will take them. So far they have raised £23 in one year. They ask those who would like to help them to send donations to Mr. Thomas Jopling, 8, Willow Tree Avenue, Shincliffe Village, Durham.

St. Peter's, Wolverhampton

Dear Sir,—I am sorry indeed to hear that my remarks re St. Peter's ('Ringing World,' August 7th) had the effect of causing Miss Elizabeth Timmins nearly to choke, and can only hope that she has sustained no permanent injury!

If my information was a little out of date the fault lies not with me but with my informant, who apparently wandered a little from the truth! I am, however, delighted to know that the ringing strength is increasing, and am looking forward with immense pleasure to the promised peal by the local service band.

—Yours sincerely,

A. E. RUSHTON.

The Rev. R. Cattley

Dear Sir,—My statement that Canon Cattley was 'largely responsible for the augmentation of Worcester Cathedral bells to twelve, and was also instrumental in procuring for St. Paul's their 62 cwt. tenor' was a quotation from a contemporary report of the tenth anniversary meeting of the Oxford University Society, held at Drayton in February, 1882. That the first part is true is beyond doubt, but evidence of the latter part is less conclusive.

Canon R. Cattley, M.A., was an Honorary Canon of Worcester Cathedral, and became the first vice-president of the 'Association of Change Ringers for the Diocese of Worcester' (later the Worcestershire and Districts Change Ringing Association), when it was formed, in August, 1882. Taylors cast the twelve bells for the Cathedral in 1872 (not 1876), and on August 10th that year a band from the St. Martin's Society visited the Cathedral and rang the first touch of Stedman Cinques on the new ring. 'The Church Bells' account reports that they were met by ... the Rev. R. Cattley, the indefatigable originator of this grand scheme of twelve bells, with clock, ... Ellacombe's simple chiming hammers, ... (and) carillons by Gillett and Bland, of Croydon.

Work on the carillon wasn't finished until the December of that year, and in a lengthy report on the apparatus and its workings the 'Worcester Journal' for December 28th congratulated 'last, certainly not least, the Rev. R. Cattley, upon the full accomplishment of a work in which he has taken such a zealous interest. ... The reverend gentleman is to be heartily congratulated on the success which has attended his efforts to furnish the Cathedral with a magnificent ring of bells, and to develop their excellence to the fullest possible extent.'

At this time there were only twelve ringing bells in the tower, and the Rev. Cattley set to at once to raise the money to add two semi-tone bells to the ring. As has already been remarked in Mr. Claude Rush's excellent series of extracts from 'Church Bells' ('R.W.' July 24th, page 507), he succeeded in obtaining some £5,000 in all.

Canon Cattley's association with St. Paul's is by no means as clearly documented (at least as far as I can discover, although someone with closer associations with the Cathedral may be able to help). It is, however, quite clear that when it was decided to obtain a ring of bells at St. Paul's, the new ring at Worcester was very much in everyone's mind. At the meeting held in the Mansion House on November 2nd, 1875, to launch the appeal for the necessary funds the then Dean of St. Paul's, the Very Rev. Gregory, said, inter alia, that 'St. Paul's only desired to be put upon an equality with Worcester Cathedral, which had a splendid new ring of bells,' and later Sir E. Beckett Denison, Q.C., described the ring at Worcester as 'the finest in England.'

Later, in 1882, after Great Paul had been cast, tests were made at Loughborough in the March to check the striking of this huge bell. Present at these tests were Dr. Stainer, the organist at St. Paul's and closely associated with everything to do with the Cathedral bells. Mr. F. C. Penrose, the Cathedral architect and surveyor, Capt. Troyte, the Very Rev. Lord Alwyne Compton, Dean of Worcester—and the Rev. Cattley.

Perhaps someone can help to fill the very obvious gaps in this last part of the story. Certain it is that the twelve bells at St. Paul's were, as Mr. Shepherd says, all presentations or gifts: the treble and 2nd were given by the Drapers' Company, the 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th by the Turners' Company and Lady Burdett-Coutts, the 7th by the Salters' Company, the 8th by the Merchant Taylors, the 9th by the Fishmongers, the 10th by the Clothworkers, the 11th by the Grocers, and the tenor by the City Corporation.—Yours sincerely,

C. A. WRATTEN.

Cheltenham.

Ringing Courses

Dear Sir,—As I receive frequent requests for dates and information about bellringing courses pending, it would help me if I could be given such information by those organising courses in bellringing.

I should be grateful if those concerned would be so good as to let me know of any courses that are planned.—Yours, etc.,

N. CHADDOCK,

Convener,

OBITUARY

MR. JAMES TAYLOR

It is with great regret we report the death, on August 10th, of Mr. James Taylor, of Haslingden, Lancs, at the age of 58 years.

Jim, as he was familiarly known, had been in failing health for the past twelve months or so, prior to which he had been a staunch stalwart at Haslingden over the past 40 years.

The manager of a large local cotton concern, he endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact by his quiet and cheerful disposition, and this was reflected in the large congregation which assembled at St. James's Church, Haslingden, for the funeral when the local ringers rang the bells as their tribute to an old friend.

MARKET DRAYTON REVISITED

August 22nd saw the return to Market Drayton, Shropshire, for just a few hours of Mr. William J. Chester, now of Helmdon, Northants. Mr. Chester, who was accompanied by friends from South Northants and North Bucks, lived here for many years between the wars. The occasion was a day's outing.

During the day we rang at five eight-bell towers. Hincley and Atherstone in the morning, Brewood and Cheswardine in the afternoon, and after an excellent tea, ably arranged by Mr. Fred Price, Market Drayton in the evening, where we were pleased to be joined by the local band.

Before the long journey home we partook of refreshment which enabled Mr. Chester to renew friendships made in this district so many years ago.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Marlborough Branch

Visitors far outnumbered the members when the Marlborough Branch held its monthly meeting at Burbage and Milton Lilbourne on August 15th. This was partly due to the holiday season and to the claims of the harvest taking priority.

Ringing commenced on the five at Burbage, under the direction of the Branch Ringing Master (Rev. R. Keeley), who also took the Guild service. Amongst those remembered in prayer was Mr. Albert Hughes, of the White-chapel Bell Foundry, who was buried the previous day. Mr. Peter Steele was the organist.

A sumptuous tea had been provided in the Church Hall by the wives and friends of the Burbage ringers. Everyone was pleased to see Mr. T. A. Palmer (honorary secretary), who, although not yet fully recovered from his recent accident, was nevertheless making steady progress. The Rev. R. Keeley announced that the annual outing would take place in September and was to be in the Chichester area. Thanks were expressed by the chairman (Mr. G. Newman) for the use of the bells, the hospitality shown and to all who had helped in the day's arrangements.

This was the last meeting that Mr. Alan Keen, of Aldbourne, would attend for some time, as he has gained entry to the Northern School of Music, Manchester. While congratulating him on his success, the Branch will be sorry to lose such an able and enthusiastic young ringer.

After tea a move was made to Milton Lilbourne and the tufeful six of medium weight was in constant use until 8 p.m. At one time during the evening there must have been at least 40 ringers awaiting their turn at the ropes.

ROVING RINGERS—Continued

the Clifton Suspension Bridge, under floodlight, while the remainder talked far into the night.

On Sunday morning we rang in Bristol, at St. James' (Horsefair) and Christ Church with St. Ewen, where half a course of Cambridge Royal was successful, despite the difficulty of striking these rather old bells. Ringing in the afternoon was at the Cathedral, after a delayed start while the key was still in the verger's pocket. Evening ringing was arranged at St. Stephen's and St. Mary Redcliffe. It had been hoped that a quarter peal of Stedman Cinques might be rung at Redcliffe after Evensong, but owing to an 11th hour decision by the powers that be this was not possible. Instead a few good touches were called by Michael C. Frank recorded part of the ringing and the final lower on his tape recorder, which was always with him.

Three towers were arranged for Bank Holiday Monday: Long Ashton, Backwell and Wrington. After ringing concluded, the majority were pleased to accept Hilda and Bill's invitation to a 'cup of tea,' and were astonished by the large spread which constituted a 'cup of tea.' Bill expressed a desire to air his handbells, and several methods were rung. In this informal manner the tour was brought to an end.

Our grateful thanks to all incumbents, tower captains and those who met us and arranged for us to ring, and especially to Don and Sally for their very capable organisation. Lastly, but by no means least, our thanks to Fred, our Master, for ably catering for all tastes.

EASTBOURNE RINGERS' 700 MILES TRIP

Some of the party outside St. Lawrence's Church, Snaith.

A party of Eastbourne ringers, consisting of P. Howard, Pat Weller, L. Weller, A. Baldock, G. Francis, D. Slater, D. Smith, F. Hicks, H. Reynolds, Ruth Reynolds, Valerie Howard, Janet Slater and Evelyn Hicks, had a week-end in Yorkshire, starting on June 19th, travelling in all 700 miles.

On the outward journey calls were made at Surfleet, Newark, Rotherham and Conisbrough. Headquarters was at Selby. Another full day was Saturday, starting at Northowram, followed by Bradford Cathedral, where 10-year-old Stephen Munday rang with the visitors. At York Minster Verdi's Requiem Mass was being rehearsed and because the tympani thundering out Dies Irae drowned the sound of bells in the ringing chamber, no more than rounds was attempted on the 12 and the best touch was Cambridge Major, with Leslie Weller on the 5½ cwt. tenor. Beverley Minster, St. Mary's and Hemingbrough were visited before thankfully sitting in a Chinese nosh bar.

Sunday started with Communion at Selby Abbey and ringing with Mr. Foster's band. Then the homeward journey began. Snaith bells were rung and lowered in time for Matins and Oundle's during ringing for Evensong. Here the local band invited us to handle the eight to Bob Major.

Turning on to the M.1 and, looking forward to a speedy homeward run, the car-burettor float on the mini-bus decided to part company. The efficient breakdown machinery ground into action and we were towed to an all-night garage. Only after several hours did one come to light and we sped on to the cheers of the gang. We arrived home at an hour when only burglars, milkmen and ringers on tour were about.

Much of the credit for the success of the trip goes to F.H.H., who combined the offices of boss and general factotum with his usual bonhomie. (Abridged.) H.R.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE ASSOCIATION

In the absence of Mr. F. W. Cooke, who is on a visit to Canada, the chair was taken at the annual general meeting of the Southern District at Staindrop on August 22nd by Mr. P. Rock. Mr. Cooke was re-elected District vice-president, but Miss J. Warwick, of Eastbourne Road, Darlington, succeeds Mr. E. Thompson, who retired from the secretaryship. The chairman thanked Mr. Thompson for his past services.

The methods rung included Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Plain Bob, Double Norwich, Cambridge and Bristol Major, together with a short touch of an irregular Minor method which was found hanging on the belfry wall. It was suggested that this should be sent to the 'Professor' for identification. J.W.

SUSSEX UNIVERSITY GUILD

The Sussex University Guild of Change Ringers was formed at the end of last term and the following officers were elected: Master, Peter J. Came; secretary, Michael J. Bew, Hestercombe, Carlton Road, Harpenden, Herts; treasurer, Catherine M. Powell.

At the inaugural meeting the coming year's programme suggested was a summer ringing tour preceded by occasional day outings and a dinner in February or March. The first peal for the Guild is eagerly looked forward to, and with regard to this the Society is fortunate to have the great experience of Roger Baldwin, who is at the University for a year completing his post-graduate course.

The help and interest of our friends of the Sussex County Association has been of great encouragement, especially at St. Peter's, Brighton, where we have been made very welcome both at practices and service ringing.

The hon. secretary would be pleased to hear of next year's freshers. M.J.B.

OBITUARY

MR. W. F. RICKWOOD

It is with regret we announce the death of Mr. William Frederick Rickwood, of West Stowe, Suffolk, who died suddenly at his home on August 28th at the early age of 44 years. 'Bill', as we used to call him, was a most reliable ringer in always being on time at the tower. Our sympathy goes out to his wife and two sons. Mrs. Rickwood is also a ringer. May he rest in peace. A.F.B.

LATE NEWS

Mr. A. P. Cannon, of Dorking, rang his 1,000th peal on August 26th at Pilton, Barnstaple. It was Double Norwich Court Bob Major.

OUTING

SLEAFORD AND GRANTHAM DISTRICTS

A beautiful sunny morning greeted the ringers as they set out on their long journey into Bedfordshire on August 3rd. Seven towers were visited, viz: Potton (6), Sandy (an excellent 6), Cople (6), Cardington (a glorious eight), Northell (6), Biggleswade (8) and Old Warden (6).

A wide variety of methods was rung, including:

Doubles: Plain Bob, Grandsire, Stedman and Reverse Canterbury.

Minor: Plain Bob, Double Court, Single Court, Double Oxford, Single Oxford, Little Bob, St. Clement's, Kent and Oxford T.B. and Cambridge Surprise.

Triples: Grandsire and Stedman.

Major: Plain Bob, Little Bob, St. Clement's, Double Norwich and Cambridge Surprise (a little doubtful).

It was an enjoyable outing with a good standard of ringing throughout. Thanks to Mr. Edgar Cole, who arranged the outing, and to the incumbent and kind friends who met us at the churches. J.A.M.

UNEXPECTED HUMOUR IN HIGH PLACES

By JOHN P. FIDLER

IN 'The Electric Magazine,' Vol. 13-14, page 658, 1871, the Rev. H. R. Haweis, M.A., wrote an article headed 'Our Belfries.' He did not intend that any part should raise a smile for his article was a serious criticism of belfries in general. Some of his comments certainly were forthright and to the point, and many of them could apply to quite a number of towers today, but others show his lack of knowledge and expose his ignorance.

He commences in grand style and the reader thinks here is someone who knows his stuff: 'The foot sinks into black dust at least an inch thick' is the commencing line. (I have not seen much black dust in a tower, but have seen plenty of bird droppings; perhaps he meant this, but by virtue of his office he turned them into black dust.)

'A startled owl sweeps out of the old belfry window; the shutters are broken, and let in some light and plenty of wind and rain in winter. The cement inside the steeple has rotted away, and the soft stone is crumbling unheeded. Some day the noble old tower will be proclaimed unsafe, and if no funds are forthcoming twenty feet will be taken off it, and the peal of bells will have to come down.

'Everything is already rotting and rusting. The inscriptions of the six or eight great bells are almost illegible; the beams which support them have lost their rivets' heads, and all are loose, probably unsafe; the unpainted wheels are cracked, and every time the bells ring the friction from mere rust and decay is very great.' (If the wheels are in the condition he says they are, how could the bells be rung!)

Then the reverend gentleman asks, 'Why are mighty dust-heaps and vagrant owls almost invariably to be found in the belfry? Alas! because the belfry is one spot in the church which is hardly ever visited. When a rope breaks or a wheel gets out of order, someone climbs up and mends it.' (I should imagine that the particular ring he refers to had no gudgeons and bearings so there was no need to go and lubricate them)

'When an antiquarian wishes to see some famous peal, or copy the legend on some bell, he gets permission to ascend the tower—perhaps this may happen once a year. Yet the bells are often the most interesting things about the church.' (This must have been one of those towers where the 'Peal Grabbers' go to; so long as they can get to the ringing room, they are satisfied, how things are above is no concern of theirs.)

'But who is to stumble up the old decayed stairs or plunge into the dust and filth of centuries, at the risk of breaking his neck?—only poor bellhangers and suchlike or 'a few enthusiasts, who are powerless to help the poor bells in their rust, and the poor towers in their rottenness.' (The poor bells in their rust, eh! these must have been steel bells and they would be poor or else the critical gentleman must have been colour blind and could not tell the difference between the patina, bird droppings or rust.)

'The notion that there is nothing to do up in the belfry after the bells are hung, but to let them swing and everything else rot, seems to be a very prevalent one.' (Now our friend is talking sense and strange to relate the same notion is prevalent today.)

SKELETON IN THE HOUSE

'Thousands are spent annually upon the outward decorations; every Gothic detail is carefully replaced, every mullion repaired; the interior is rehabilitated by the best architects; all is scrupulously clean about the nave and chancel, and the side aisles and sacristy, and not even an organ pipe is allowed to get out of tune; but there is nevertheless a skeleton in the house—we need not descend into the vaults to find it—our skeleton is in the belfry. His bones are rotten timbers, his dust is the indescribable accumulation of ages—the vaults are clean in comparison with the belfry. Open yonder little door at the corner of the nave and begin the dark ascent; but before you have gone far you will sigh for the trim staircase that leads down to the vaults.' (Methinks some of you on your outings have struck stairs like these and listened to the oh's and other ejaculations peculiar to the female of the species.)

'Enter the windy, dirty, rotten room where the poor bells that cannot die are allowed to mildew and crack for want of a little attention, until they ring the tower down in the angry resonance of their revenge.'

'If the care of belfries and tower walls were a mere affair of sentiment, there might be room for regret, but hardly a matter for protest. But, indeed, thousands of pounds might be saved if the anything but silent ruin going on inside our church towers all over the land were occasionally arrested by a few pounds' worth of timely cement, or a new beam or rivet, just enough to check the tremendously increased friction caused by loose bell machinery.' (That's it, let the local joiner and blacksmith loose on your bells as he suggests, then open a 'Bell Fund'.)

'The other day we ascended the tower of one of the most beautifully restored cathedrals in England. It was by no means as badly kept as many; we therefore select it as a good average specimen to describe. The tower and spire of red sandstone, massive, but soft, and therefore specially dependent upon good cement and protection from the weather. The shutters were, as usual, old and rotting; large gaps admitted rain and wind, whose action was abundantly manifest upon the flakes of soft stone that lined the interior of the spire: in places the old cement had completely fallen out, but the spire may still stand for another hundred years or more, after which it will have to be taken down and replaced at enormous cost. The bell machinery, like every machinery intended for mere peals (not carillons), was of course the roughest kind—the old primitive wheel, and nothing more. This simple, and at the same time cumbrous apparatus, never can work smoothly on a large scale, and more complicated works, which would save half the friction, might easily be devised; but then who cares what the works up in the belfry are like? The wretched man who pulls the rope may sweat and fume, but nobody sees him, and besides, he is paid for it.' (I do not know what to say about this outburst, but as there are wild comments it is perhaps as well to say nothing at this juncture.)

IN A CATHEDRAL

'There are ten bells in L---- Cathedral, of which I am speaking, the largest weighing 14 tons. These bells are in pretty constant use. On examining the wheels, I found them all to be more or less rough, rotten and split. Each wheel, of course, swung between "two stout beams." There was a rest for the axle of the wheel provided upon the surface of each beam, whilst a piece of wood kept fast by a movable rivet was fitted over the indentation in which the axle-tree worked, so as to prevent the wheel from rising and jolting in the beams when swung. I had the curiosity to go round and examine each socket. In every case the rivet was out, lying on the beam or on the floor, or lost; consequently, whenever the peal is rung, the jolting and creaking alone must, in the long run, injure the tower greatly. Indeed, I feel convinced that, in nine cases out of ten, it is not the sound of the bells so much as the unnecessary friction of the neglected bell machinery which ruins our towers and shakes down our church spires.' (Well, well, this seems a case for the want of a nail, the battle was lost. So the little wooden peg that held down the flat wooden bearing caps becomes a most important item and causes jolting and creaking. Even today there still are little wooden pegs that are not in their rightful place, but lying somewhere amongst the rubbish on the floor. When rivets were referred to before in connection with wooden beams I wondered what the writer was getting at, now I know, he means wooden pegs. Be patient, there is still some more material of a similar sort and you can laugh or cry according to the mood you are in.)

'Let architects remember that the towers are not only good for bells, but also for lovers of scenery; and let them repair the staircases. Unless the staircase is decent, safe and clean, the neighbouring panorama of hill and dale, land and water, will be lost to all but a few adventurous climbers. Then the better the ascent, the more chance there is of the belfry being visited and cared for.' (Perhaps if you ask them kindly, those who climb the tower for the scenery will oil the bell bearings whilst they are up there!)

'But here are the bells; why should they be covered with rust?' (Yes, I have come to conclusion our clerical friend was colour blind; had he said they were covered in some sort of white substance I would have agreed with him, but rust! never.)

'The Belgian bellfounders take a pride in sending out their bells smooth and clean. The English bell-founders send them out sometimes with bits of iron and rough metal sticking to them from the mould, and full of pits and flaws. Well they know that none will care for the bells, or notice their condition, until they finally crack or tumble down. Why turn them out clean, when they are never to be clean again?'

(I wonder what the bellfounders thought of that libellous statement. Seems to me that our friend was one of these Englishmen who condemns everything British and praises the work of the foreigner.)

THE BELLS OF OLD BAILEY

By CHARLES BROWN (Churchwarden of St. Sepulchre's)

'When will you pay me?
Say the bells of Old Bailey.'

FOR centuries English children have been singing 'Oranges and Lemons,' the rhyme about the church bells of London. Here is the best-known version:

Oranges and lemons,
Say the bells of St. Clement's;
You owe me five farthings,
Say the bells of St. Martin's;
When will you pay me?
Say the bells of Old Bailey;
When I grow rich,
Say the bells of Shoreditch;
When will that be?
Say the bells of Stepney;
I do not know,
Says the big bell of Bow.
Here comes a candle to light you to bed,
Here comes a chopper to chop off your head;
The last, last, last, last, last man's head.
That is a fairly late version of the rhyme, but its antiquity is clear enough from the allusion in the last lines; the chopping off of heads refers to the execution of traitors, which was a common enough event in mediæval England.

The rhyme did not appear in print until 1744, when it took this form:

Two sticks and apple,
Ring ye Bells at Whitechapple,
Old Father Bald Pate,
Ring ye Bells at Aldgate,
Maids in White Aprons,
Ring ye Bells at St. Catherines,
Oranges and lemons,
Ring ye Bells at St. Clemens,
When will you pay me,
Ring ye Bells at ye Old Bailey,
When I am rich,
Ring ye Bells at Fleetditch,
When will that be?
Ring ye Bells at Stepney,
When I am old,
Ring ye Bells at St. Paul's.

In all the versions, with their many variations, the bells of the Old Bailey appear. They are the bells in the tower of St. Sepulchre's Church. For years they had a sombre connection with the nearby Old Bailey, which was built as a prison in 1770. There was another prison close at hand, too, for Newgate, one of the City gates, had served as a prison for countless years. 'When will you pay me?' is no doubt an allusion to the numerous debtors in the prisons. 'When will you pay me?' is still a pertinent cry, for the famous bells have been silent since 1940 and their restoration will be a costly undertaking.

FIRST RECORD

There have been bells in the tower of St. Sepulchre's Church for hundreds of years. The tower itself dates from the 15th century and there was evidently an earlier tower before that time. The first known reference to a bell in the tower is a 1345 Ordinance of the Spurriers' Company:

'No one of the trade . . . shall work longer than from the beginning of the day until curfew ring out at the Church of St. Sepulchre's without Newgate.'

Curfew rang at 8 p.m. The name comes of course from the French couvre-feu, instituted by the Norman conquerors to ring the Saxon serf to bed at dusk. The ringing of curfew ceased to be mandatory about the year 1100, but the name stuck to the bell rung for Vespers in church at about the same hour. Sometimes it became known as the 'eight o'clock bell' and the name still lingers in parts of England to this day, though in places it is still rung as 'curfew.' In mediæval times bells not only called people to worship, but they also marked the hours of the day and the seasons of the year, while the tolling of the 'passing bell' marked the end of a man's life and called for prayers on his behalf.

Up to the 16th century little can be deduced about the bells in St. Sepulchre's, except that there seems to have been a large one called Baynard's Castle. The first date of importance is 1539, when the church acquired six fine bells. They came from the nearby Priory Church of St. Bartholomew on the surrender of the possessions of the Priory to the Crown. There were 11 bells in the Priory; six went to St. Sepulchre's—whether by gift or by purchase is not clear—the other five are still in the Church of St. Bartholomew the Great. All 11 were almost certainly cast by Thomas Bullisdon about the year 1510.

We next read of the bells in the Churchwardens' Inventory made for the Edwardian Commissioners in 1552:

'Item one greate bell callyd baynardes Castell that servyth the Clock with syxe other belles in one Ryng and one santes bell.'

Baynard's Castle had hung in the tower for years. It was almost certainly the bell referred to by Robert Dowe, a merchant tailor, who in 1605 gave the sum of £50 'for ringing the greatest bell of St. Sepulchre's Church on the day the condemned prisoners in Newgate were executed, and for other services for ever concerning such condemned prisoners.' The spiritual plight of the poor prisoners was keenly felt by Robert Dowe, for one of the 'other services' was the ringing of a handbell (preserved in the church) outside the condemned cell in Newgate on the eve of executions, with an exhortation to prayer and repentance. The 'greatest bell' (whether Baynard's Castle or, later on, the tenor bell) continued to ring from 6 to 10 o'clock on execution mornings until the late 19th century, though by that time the tolling was for a shorter period. It is uncertain when the great bell was last tolled at an execution; the probability is that the gruesome custom went on until about 1900. In earlier times, before executions took place at Newgate, the condemned prisoners were taken 'in the cart' to Tyburn and as they passed up Giltspur Street beside St. Sepulchre's Church, the Parish Clerk was to stand by the church wall and to say:

'All good people, pray heartily unto God for these poor sinners, who are now going to their death, for whom this great bell doth toll.'

There are few records of the bells in the middle part of the 17th century, though this is presumably because the Puritans disliked bells and forbade their ringing. An Ordinance of the Lords and Commons of 1644 ordered the removal of organs from parish churches, but bells were not so easy to take down and fortunately they seem to have escaped the Puritans' zeal in many cases. But although the bells of Old Bailey may have been silent during the Commonwealth, they undoubtedly rang out again at the Restoration. In the Churchwardens' accounts for 1660 we read of them being put in order for ringing:

'To Mr. Turner, the Bellhanger, for work done about the bells £4.15.4.'

In 1665, just before the Great Fire, we read again in the accounts of the 'great bell' clearly used as the curfew bell:

'For mending the clapper of the eight a Clock Bell £1.6.0.'

THE GREAT FIRE

The Great Fire of 1666 gutted the church but left the walls and the tower standing. The heat of the fire melted the bells and the molten metal cascaded down, mingled with lead from the roof. There is, however, evidence that the 'greatest bell' (which hung in a turret apart from the others) was not destroyed. The Sanctus bell, too, seems to have remained. Ford, writing in 1667, the year after the Fire, has these lines:

'A lofty pile (now humbled) next appears,
Once christened 'twas St. Sepulchers,
Which, since it felt the all-interv'ring flame,
The Saint lost, kept its empty name.
They tell us here of one unmelted Bell,
That toll'd condemned Felons knell,
This Rumour heard, hang still, said she,
to do

That work for London Fauxes too.'

(Londoni quod reliquum).

The Churchwardens were not dismayed by the catastrophe of the 'dreadful fire.' They were impatient to rebuild the parish church and at once set to work making contracts with the masons without waiting to consult Sir Christopher Wren, who had been appointed to rebuild the churches. One of the first things they did was to restore the bells and this they did in a surprisingly short time. On September 21st, only 17 days after the fire, they decided to search for the bell metal in the ruins. In the following month arrangements were made to 'clear and cleanse the bell metal melted by the fire.' The Churchwardens' accounts show a payment of £22 18s. 6d. 'to the Refynor for melting the bell metal.' Enough seems to have been recovered to cast three bells, for in December we read in the Vestry Minutes:

'Bell metal to be taken up and delivered to John Hodson of Bishopsgate, Carpenter, he giving his bond to cast the same into three sound and tuneable bells.'

Three other new bells were cast by Hodson at the same time. Why the Minutes call Hodson a carpenter is not clear. John and Christopher Hodson are known to have been active bell founders between 1653 and 1690.

The work must have gone ahead fairly quickly, for on February 13th following there is a Minute that:

'The Churchwardens do take order . . . for providing wheels and other necessities for the hanging up of the bells against they shall be brought in from the Founder, and later, on March 16th:

'John Hodson to make a good and substantial frame to hang the six bells.'

Once the bells were in, numerous amounts were spent on their maintenance. Here are two typical payments from 1670:

'For a bell rope for the 6th Bell 9s. 0s.'

'To Mr. Allon Bellhanger for ye 5th Bell Clapper 18s. 6d.'

There are also many records of payments to the ringers at this time.

But soon, alas, Mr. Hodson's bells seem to have given trouble. On March 21st, 1671, the Vestry decided:

'That the Doctor' (i.e., Dr. Bell, the Vicar), 'Deputy CC, Churchwardens or any five of them, treat with Mr. Hodson the Bellfounder regarding the bells that are faulty and make such arrangement with him as they shall think fit.'

What they did 'think fit' is not clear from the Minutes, but apparently they got grander ideas about the bells, for the following month it was decided to increase the ring to eight bells. Thus on April 17th, 1671, we read:

'Mr. Wyse to make clock and chimes . . . the Iron Barrell to be for eight bells.'

Nevertheless, it was another six years before the eight bells became a reality. The final decision was taken on January 28th, 1677:

'That two new bells shall be made with convenient speed and the bell and lead about the Turret at the top of the steeple be sold in order to defray the charge.'

This bell in the turret must have been the old sanctus bell mentioned in the 1552 inventory. As it was at the top of the tower it may well have escaped the fire, as did the 'greatest bell.' That the sanctus bell did survive seems clear from an entry in the 1670 accounts:

'For a rope for the Sancts Bell 8s. 0d.'

The two new bells were cast by 'Mr. Darby,' though the parish records do not help in establishing his identity. He may have been John Darbie of Ipswich, the founder of the 1671 bells for nearby St. Vedast, Foster Lane. On the other hand he may have been Michael Darbie, an itinerant bell founder, who is known to have been active at this time and whose work was of poor quality. The Minutes certainly indicate that the new bells may not have been of the very best. Thus we read on August 5th, 1678:

'That Darby the Bellfounder be paid no more money till he hath made good the first bell.'

Again, on December 10th, 1678:

'That Mr. John Branson, Churchwarden, do pay to Mr. Darby, Bellfounder, what is due to him on his former account for casting the two least bells and also for what metal he hath added to the bell last cast. And as to his account for new casting the said bell, the Vestry do suspend the same till the bell be better approved.'

From this it would seem that one of the old Hodson bells must have been recast.

Now we come to an event of some importance. On January 17th, 1690, the College Youths rang touches of the first recorded Grandsire Triples on the bells. The Rule Book of the Ancient Society of College Youths indicates that it was a proper peal, rung in 3½ hours, but some authorities have disputed the accuracy of the entry.

Soon, however, there were yet more troubles. In 1695 the 'great bell' was cracked and had to be recast. The work was done by Thomas Povey, who does not seem to have been a well-known founder. The 'great bell' was evidently not the tenor of the ring but the old Baynard's Castle, the execution bell, which had certainly done very good service. We hear of it again a few years later.

SOUTHAMPTON UNIVERSITY GUILD'S TOUR

A rather 'clapped' Capri estate car sped out of Southampton on July 4th carrying a happy cargo of seven ringers with full baggage. To enable some of the party to warm up for the 46 towers of our tour in Cornwall, a peal was attempted at Stoke-sub-Hamdon, Somerset, with Malcolm Powell driving the glorious 17 cwt. tenor. This was unfortunately lost after one and a half hours. Before arriving at the Globe Hotel, Truro, we had already eaten one batch of Oggies.

Sunday was a lazy day, with the afternoon spent on the beach, handbell ringing at St. Michael's Mount.

Tony Davidson, later known as 'Barsham' Davidson, joined us on Monday, when we were quickly 'broken-in' to Cornish ropes as two or three of the seven towers had knots instead of loops in the tailends, much to the displeasure of 'Hertfordshire' Jose Harris. Two towers stood out during the day, Redruth, because only the ringer of the second could hear the bells properly and then only if he pressed his ear to the pipe jutting out of the wall by his head; and Newlyn East, because the tailends were three feet too long and without loops. The remaining bells of the day were rung with enjoyment and were generally good.

A full programme was arranged for succeeding days, including joining in the practice at Truro Cathedral. (Space prevents us from reporting the activities in detail, but the concluding day is a sample of activities.—Ed.)

We left on Saturday, joined by Fran, determined to make the most of our last day's ringing and as a result the standard of ringing was perhaps at its highest. Mullion was quickly followed by Landewednack, Manaccon, St. Anthony-in-Meneage, and Mawgan-in-Meneage. It was with regret that we closed the door at Constantine, our last tower, as it had without doubt the best ring of six we met in Cornwall. Before our journey back to Southampton the following morning, we had one thing left to do and that was to conquer our 100th 'Oggie,' and even this was achieved, in the company of Alan Carveth at a pub in Penzance.

After such an enjoyable tour in the 'land of the Oggie,' we extend our thanks to the incumbents and local ringers for making us so welcome, Tony Davidson and Peter, from Leighton Buzzard, for enabling us to increase our repertoire of methods, also to John Taylor, for his perfectly-timed programme and skilful driving. MICK.

BATH RINGERS IN CORNWALL

During recent weeks a project long discussed, of a holiday in Cornwall combined with some ringers, by five members of the Corston, Bath, company, was brought to fruition. Our days were spent mostly 'on the beach' and our evenings at various towers in the Penzance area. Sunday service ringing took place at Paul, and we were privileged to join in practices at St. Mary's, Penzance (twice), specially arranged by Mr. H. Miles, Gulval (twice), Paul, Carbis Bay and Lelant. An evening's ringing was arranged for us at Phillack by the Rev. A. S. Roberts, some of which was recorded by a non-ringing visitor who happened to be present. We were also joined by two of the local band. Another pleasant evening was spent at Madron, where we were made welcome by Mr. G. Taysom.

On the afternoon of Saturday, August 1st, we visited Sennen, Zennor and Towednack. On most of these occasions we were joined by Mr. E. Langley, late of Taunton, now residing in Redruth, and by Mr. F. V. Gant. To these gentlemen, to the tower masters whose practices we joined and to the incumbents who gave us special permission to ring, and not least to Mr. H. Miles and the Rev. A. S. Roberts our grateful thanks are due. We hope to repeat the experience in the not too distant future. L. R. G. T.

MR. CLAUDE RUSH DELVES INTO 'CHURCH BELLS'

Vol. XI, Advent, 1880 - Advent, 1881

CHRISTCHURCH, NEW ZEALAND

19 Nov. 1880.—Meeting to form a Society of ringers. Resolved to form a society on the basis of Ancient Society of College Youths to be known as 'The Society of Christchurch Cathedral Bell-ringers.' 'Some good change-ringing on the Cathedral bells as soon as they are ready for use is promised.'

CEFN COED, MERTHYR TYDVIL.

20 Dec. 1880.—New ring of 6, tenor 9 cwt. in A, opened. Cast and hung by Llewelin and James, Bristol. Funds by public subscription.

MUFFLED BELLS

'Our opinion is asked how bells should be muffled. The great beauty arises from the second blow being, as it were, the echo of the first—to produce which the clapper is muffled on the side opposite the pulley or the fillet: if changes are rung they should be in whole-pulls, as recommended and practised by Squire Troyte at Huntsham, and a few other places: the effect is most touching.'

CLERICAL RINGERS AT WILTON, NORFOLK

3 Jan. 1881.—By invitation of the Rector, Rev. W. W. Hutt, several clerical ringers of the Norwich Diocesan Association met at Wilton to try a ring. Seven clergymen are named. They rang three methods of Doubles and two of Minor. Next day Mr. Hutt took his guests to neighbouring Methwold, 'to ring and hear the fine-toned bells of that village.' Here they rang 720 Oxford T.B. Minor in 27 minutes. Tenor 14 cwt. 'This is believed to be the first 720 of T.B. Minor ever rung by a company composed entirely of clergymen, and we may gather from this that art of ringing is gradually becoming esteemed and practised as it deserves.'

CHALFORD, GLOS.

5 Jan. 1881.—Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan meeting at Stroud. One band visited Chalford 'where there is a ring of six steel bells, but if they are no better than the ringers report them to be, it will be a long time before steel will beat the good old-fashioned metal of our towers....'

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD OF CHANGE-RINGERS

17 Jan. 1881.—General meeting at Oxford. 'Great disappointment was felt that no ringing could take place owing to the refusal of the College authorities to grant permission for the use of their bells on this occasion.... It was finally decided to admit a round-ringer as a probationer, and on payment of 1/- to grant him all the privileges enjoyed by a change-ringing member, exception having been taken by the Bishop at the world "performing member" which, he said, savoured too much of a street organ and a monkey, so the word "change-ringing-member" was substituted. Several paid their two guineas which entitled them to life membership.'

SHREWSBURY, HANDBELLS

24 Jan. 1881.—'630 Grandsire Triples containing 24 bobs and 6 singles were rung by tapping on handbells by D. Davies and called from a MS. by D. H. Davies, in 25 minutes.'

ST. OSWALD, COMPTON ABDALÉ, GLOS

The 4 old bells have been recast by Warners into a very pretty ring of 6, and hung by Savory and Sons, of Painswick. The timber for the frame was presented by the Earl of Eldon. Dedicated 14 Jan. 1881, before a crowded congregation. Old tenor 12 cwt. 1 qr. 14 lb. in G. New tenor 8 cwt. 5 lb. in A flat.

WESTMINSTER ABBEY

1 Feb. 1881.—The 6 bells, tenor 36 cwt., rung for a wedding. 'Church Bells' remarks: 'There have been rumours of late that the fine ring of 6 was to be augmented to 8. It would be a great improvement.'

PETERBOROUGH PARISH CHURCH: INVITATION TO KEEP A CENTENARY

The Vicar, Rev. H. S. Syers, announced that on 15 Mar. 1881, they would keep the centenary of the death of Matthew Wildbore (or Wyldbore) who left £5 to the ringers annually for a peal to be rung on the anniversary of the day of his death. He did this for the encouragement of bell ringing in his native parish. For 99 years the gift had been earned. Now the Vicar writes, 'May we ask some of the brethren to come and help us observe the day with such éclat as may give a stimulus to the science' and art of ringing here in Peterborough. Will anyone form a team to come and ring; will any Priest who is a lover of ringing give us a sermon on our special service on that day; and will anyone give a public lecture on Ringing? We have a fine ring of 8 and we offer a hearty welcome and hospitality to any of the craft who will volunteer to come.'

On 15th the bells rang at an early hour and continued during the day. Fifty dined at the Falcon Hotel. Rev. D. W. Barrett said that when he was a boy he could stand on a hill near his home at Christmastide and hear no less than 15 sets of bells ringing in the neighbourhood. He stressed care to be taken of the ringing-chamber, and not let it become a storehouse for coal, candle-ends, pieces of rope and other rubbish. 'There are 40,000 church bells in England and each has a rope with a ringer at its end.'

Rev. Mr. Syers referred to the Peterborough founder, William Penn, and to 'Bell Dyke' by Bridge Street, where bells were floated down the river to be taken away on waiting barges. He also said that the metal of Peterborough Parish Church bells was a portion of the great bell of Leicester Abbey which, at the Dissolution, was purchased by the churchwardens of Peterborough and brought by road by teams of horses to the city in Henry VIII's reign.

'STANDARD METHODS IN THE ART OF CHANGE-RINGING,'

BY JASPER W. SNOWDON—

price 2/6 post free from any bookseller or the author—just published, 19 Feb. 1881, 'to continue the instruction given in "Ropesight".'

ALL SAINTS', MAIDSTONE

7 Feb. 1881.—5,040 Grandsire Triples, 3 hours 2 minutes. Tenor about 30 cwt. in C. 'Rung on the first 8 bells, the 9th and 10th not being in ringing order for so long a peal... the first peal of its kind ever rung on these bells... and not one of any kind for more than 60 years....'

SEEND, WILTS

'More than a year ago (to 1881) one of the bells gave way at the canons and, in falling, broke the treble. Last autumn the parishioners agreed to have the broken bell recast and the whole ring rehung in a new cage. The munificence of a lady in the parish enabled them to add a new bell, making 6. The casting was by Mears and Stainbank and the hanging by Alfred York, of Bristol. Reopened 17 Feb. 1881. The Vicar, Rev. A. B. Thynne, 'having himself taken to ringing with a good will, gave the first pull at the new treble.'

SS. MARY AND NICHOLAS, SPALDING

R. Mackman writes, 26 Feb. 1881, 'Mr. Jerram says that the weight of the tenor is 15 cwt. I have been told it is 18 cwt. The correct measure is 5,493 cubic inches. Would any of your readers tell me the weight of the bell from that measure.'

Mr. Jerram replied, 'It is nonsense to attempt to calculate the number of cubic inches in a thing of irregular thickness and shape. Had he given the exact diameter at the mouth, and the thickness of the soundbow, and the note, perhaps someone might have been able to answer his query.' (I see no further reference, but today 'Dove' shows 15 cwt. 1 qr. 12 lb. in F.—C.R.)

CHRIST CHURCH, BRAY, CO. WICKLOW, IRELAND

'We are advancing in the practice of Bell-ringing in Ireland, and the hanging of bells in our parish churches is becoming more common. On 10 Feb. 1881, 8 bells are to be dedicated in Bray tower—entire weight 113 cwt. 14 lbs., tenor 28 cwt. 3 qrs. 6 lbs., "raised by one man and clapping truly." Ellacombe hammers fitted. The two largest, D and E, are maiden bells... Towards the cost of £1,000 the following sums were contributed—Lord and Lady Brabazon, £200; Lord and Lady Meath, £90; Mrs. Symes, £60; Mr. Breslin, £100; Mr. Jackson, £50; Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, £50. The "Daily Express" said, "The art of Campanology is one which for many years has been too much neglected in Ireland... and Bray now promises to enter the strife (i.e., vieing with other towers). We hope the day will come before long when Irishmen will take the field against Englishmen in this and other rivalries and challenge the ringers of Lancashire to a friendly contest of skill with a not too presumptuous hope of victory.'

NOTICE.—'Wanted for the parish of Bray, an experienced instructor in the art of change-ringing. Remuneration, 10/- per week with additional 10/- until employment has been obtained, which would probably be found quickly by a good and steady tradesman or mechanic. Copies of testimonials to Rev. J. G. Scott, Rector, Bray.'

ST. BARTHOLOMEW, DUBLIN

12 Feb. 1881.—'A splendid ring of 8 bells shortly to be hung in the belfry of this beautiful church.'

ST. GEORGE'S, DUBLIN

26 Feb. 1881.—Grandsire Triples were rung at Bray, 10 Feb. 1881. 'We should be pleased to report some day the same style of scientific ringing from St. George's, Dublin, where we understand, they they do nothing but call-changes.'

'HANDBELL MUSIC.'

BY W. GORDON, of STOCKPORT.

'We have been favoured with a copy of this clever production and strongly recommend it. We are sorry to see that the author styles himself "Teacher and Conductor of the Stockport Campanological Band," a horrible mongrel word which we desire to stamp out, preferring plain English Ringing instead....'

Later, the paper published this notice—'Campanology. We would suggest to our correspondents to discontinue the use of this mongrel word. Campanology, and use plain English Bell-ringing instead. The word is as absurd as Bellology. Some people like to use long and grand-sounding words; but there is nothing like calling a Spade a Spade.'

(In a previous volume I had noted that the Editor of 'Church Bells' had said that Campanology was half Low Latin and half Greek and therefore mongrel.—C.R.)

'NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.'

'Friends who send us cuttings from newspapers are requested not to cut off the heading and the date of the paper or even to write them.' ('R.W.' Editor will undoubtedly endorse. 'Church Bells' Editor also asked correspondents to include the name of the county when they referred to a place. I would heartily endorse that. Often in the 'R.W.' which I read very thoroughly, I don't know if I am reading of a place in Cumberland or Kent and so lose a certain amount of interest.—C.R.)

SOBERTON, HANTS

March. 1881.—The fine old bells in the tower, which was built by a butler and a dairymaid, have been rehung by Mr. Mallaby, of Masham, Bedale. All is now in perfect order and the best judges say that Soberton can boast of one of the most perfect and sweet rings of bells in Hants. They date from 15th century.

SS. SIMON AND JUDE, NORWICH

OLD BELLS FOR SALE—12 Mar. 1881—Two from a ring of five—4th—30½" dia. 5 cwt. 46 lb., by W. Brend, 1607; 2nd—25½" dia. 2 cwt. 84 lb., by W. Brend, 1634. Apply to churchwardens.

HANDBELL RINGING

19 Mar. 1881.—Holt's Ten-part Grandsire Triples has been recently rung, with an interval between each part, by tapping on handbells by a convalescent, without a caller, or help of any kind. Total time 3 hours 42 minutes.

ROTHWELL, YORKS

19 Mar. 1881.—Recently Benjamin Walker, one of the oldest inhabitants of the town and a noted ringer, passed away in his 83rd year. He rang at the parish church, and assisted in ringing fifty-three midnight peals on as many consecutive Christmas nights.

ST. DUNSTAN'S, STEPNEY, LONDON

5 Mar. 1881.—Ten Ancient Society of College Youths rang 5,007 Stedman Caters in 3½ hours. Tenor 31 cwt. in D. 'Church Bells' adds, 'We are sorry that our College Youths friends should have set an example of pleasure-pealing in Lent.'

ELSTREE, HERTS

2 Apl. 1881.—Lately Warners have cast a ring of 6 for this church. tenor about 7 cwt., where the Rector and the curate are taking much interest in the ringers, the latter being one of them. Mrs. Bedford has added a treble. 'Quarterly Notes' of the parish states, 'Under the able instruction of Mr. J. R. Haworth we hope to...astonish the natives with some touches of Doubles and Minor and other mysteries of the art.'

ST. EDWARD'S, ROMFORD, ESSEX ACCIDENT TO A RINGER

29 Mar. 1881.—One of the ringers, G. Roughton, went to the belfry with another ringer named Perkins to get the bells ready for weekly practice. The usual signal having been given, Perkins left Roughton and the ringers began to raise the bells, Roughton staying to turn the clappers.

All bells were raised and then one of the ringers, seeing Perkins enter the ringing-chamber, pulled off the 7th bell just as Roughton was going to turn the clapper. The rim of the bell caught his left heel and crushed it between the beam, cutting almost all the flesh off the bone, severing his shoe completely in half. The ringers knew nothing of what had happened until they saw blood dropping down near the door and looking up, saw Roughton descending as best he could the ladder which leads from the bells, which runs quite straight up the wall. It was found necessary to put 6 stitches in the limb...

CHERITON, KENT

Easter Monday, 1881.—New ring of 6 by Mears opened at Dedication Service. Subscribed for as a memorial to the late Mrs. K. Hugessen, wife of the Hon. Sec. of the Kent County Association and formerly Rector of Cheriton. Tenor 17 cwt. 1 qr. 5 lb. Hung by Messrs. Finn, of Mersham.

EYE, SUFFOLK

Easter Monday, 1881.—Ringers' anniversary ringing from 10 a.m., continued throughout the day 'with great spirit' and kept up until a late hour. Also on handbells. 'Several clergy and gentry visited the town for the purpose of hearing the bells... Tenor 24 cwt. in E flat by Miles Graye, 1640.' (This tenor was recently found to weigh under 19 cwt!—C.R.)

CARE OF BELFRIES

In April, 1881, W. Wigram urged all who had charge of church towers to 'examine the bell cage at once and tighten all nuts. The East wind will have searched every joint, and will have moved every atom of wood which drought can affect, and many bolts will be found to be so loose that they can be moved with the fingers. Every tower should be provided with a powerful screw-hammer ready for such times because loose work means useless wear and tear.'

Messrs. Moore, Holmes and Mackenzie wrote that they fitted an iron frame at Weybread, Suffolk, in 1879, and now, 'two years later, the nuts and bolts are still tight, nothing having been done to them in the meantime although the bells have been rung 2 or 3 times almost every week and still go to perfection.'

It had been suggested by Mr. J. R. Jerram, bellhanger of Spalding, that iron expands and contracts with heat and cold, and so constant attention is necessary to keep the nuts tight. 'Can Mr. Jerram say as much for any bells he ever hung in wood?' they ask.

Mr. Jerram replied at length and ended, 'It should always be borne in mind that bells may be sadly neglected, and everything should be arranged to allow, as far as possible, for this.'

CRAWLEY, SUSSEX

Easter Sunday, 1881.—7 a.m. Several six-scores of Grandsire Doubles on the first five of the eight bells, cover bells and the two tenors behind. The Rector, Rev. J. B. Lenard, was on 5th. 'The first peal ever rung by the Crawley Society which has only been in existence since Dec. last. Until last Oct.,

Crawley, which has a fine tower, possessed no bells to ring.'

ROTHERHAM, YORKS

Easter Monday, 1881.—Sixtieth anniversary of the opening of the bells. 6,006 Royal and Caters in 4½ hours. Tenor 32 cwt. C. H. Hattersley, composer and conductor, on 6th. 'This is the first performance on these bells.'

YALDING, KENT

1881.—'The Round-ringers of this place have disgraced themselves in the eyes of all right-feeling people throughout the kingdom by rigging at intervals all through Good Friday—taking advantage of the absence of the Vicar... They may well be ashamed of their conduct, and deserve to be excommunicated from the County Association or not admitted as members when they apply.'

DEATH OF LORD BEACONSFIELD: FUNERAL PEAL

26th April, 1881.—5,003 Grandsire Caters in 3 hours 26 minutes at St. Clement Danes', Strand, London. Tenor 24 cwt. Half muffled. Rung while the funeral took place.

Much ringing to his memory took place up and down the country. At Cheltenham they rang Stedman with the bells 'deeply muffled,' then rang out his age. 'The ringing out of the age is not generally understood. It is, however, when well done, very effective, and solemn in sound. The execution is by ringing all the bells round, backstroke and handstroke, then all the bells stand while the tenor strikes twice—counting the two strokes for one year. The Union Jack hung from the steeple half-mast high on this occasion.'

At Castle Donington, Leicestershire, 'the large bell of the parish church was tolled at intervals during the day.'

ST. CLEMENT'S, CORNWALL

April, 1881.—Four new bells have been supplied by Warners—two ancient bells having been exactly reproduced as to stamp and inscriptions. The firm supplied instructions for a new cage to be executed by a local artisan, but he thought he could improve the design and therefore added to the expense.'

The quarter at Dagenham this week owes its beginning to Brian Downey, of Birmingham, who 18 months ago while under a course of training took in hand 12 teenagers and one adult from scratch. When he left, after six months, Mr. J. Armstrong and his wife continued the training. Now the first hurdle has been cleared, there are hopes of more frequent quarters.

The peal of Grandsire Cinques at St. Giles', Cripplegate, in memory of Mr. A. A. Hughes, was the first peal in that method on the bells.

The ringer of the third in the peal at Wootton Waven on July 4th (see page 569) was James West and it was his first peal attempt.

A yellow woollen scarf was found in the West Wycombe belfry after the joint meeting there on June 20th. The owner should contact Miss Doreen Hague, 6, Stompits Road, Holyport, Maidenhead.

An Abraham Rudhall bell of 1710, which formerly hung in Gloucester Prison, has been presented to Gloucester Museum. It was rung vigorously when a prisoner escaped and tolled mournfully to mark an execution.

We are informed that the peal at Holt, Wilts, on August 15th, was only the second of Surprise Minor on the bells and was rung on the 18th anniversary of the first. All the 'inside' ringers were members of the local band.

Congratulations to Stephen Hall, of Shephed, Leics, who, at the age of 12, rang in two peals on August 18th, viz., a peal in three Minor methods at Packington and the treble to a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at the Loughborough Bell Foundry. He is probably the youngest ringer to ring two peals in one day.

Until the Rector recognises the keenness of the young band of ringers now learning at Chartham, Kent, and obtains some new ropes, the ringers from surrounding towers will be disinclined to come to their practices to help them, writes Mr. Colin H. Cook, in forwarding a quarter peal rung on these bells. The last, he states, was rung at least 16 years ago.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The quarter peal at Ottery St. Mary was rung after an attempt for a peal of Oxford Bob Triples broke down. It was 12-year-old Miss Margaret Retter's first peal attempt. Don't worry, Margaret, it won't be long before you score your first peal. Though she is an ardent fan of the Beatles, Margaret would sooner miss one of their performances than miss a chance of ringing anywhere, such is her enthusiasm.

Mr. L. Stilwell 'circled' St. John the Baptist Church tower, Egham, on August 20th. His first peal at this tower was in 1927.

David J. Hopkins made an auspicious start to peal ringing. Participating in Alan G. Payne's Lincolnshire Peal Week, he rang his first two peals in six and a half hours.

The band who rang the wedding peal at Ludgershall on August 16th are grateful to the Rev. and Mrs. Oliver for their hospitality afterwards.

We are now informed that the peal at Sempringham (see page 552) was rung for the Peterborough Diocesan Guild and not the Lincoln Guild.

The quarter peal at Leigh, Surrey, is believed to be the first on the bells for at least 30 years but unfortunately there seems no means of checking, writes a correspondent.

The peal rung at Kingham on August 8th (see page 583) was for the Worcestershire and Districts Association and not for the Oxford Diocesan Guild.

'A Ringing Belle' takes up her pen,

To correct a fault once again.

She hails from fair Notts' lovely vales,
And not from Derby's hills and dales.

Would all intending visitors to the Lichfield Diocesan Festival on September 5th please note that Lapley bells are not now available, and that the time of ringing at Gnosall is 7.15 until 8 p.m. sharp.

Mr. Arthur Cole, of Great Bromley, rang a quarter peal on his 80th birthday. He learned to ring at Ardleigh in 1900. He moved to Bromley in 1919 and has been captain of that tower for the last 25 years.

RINGS OF FOUR IN SHROPSHIRE

By P. R. JOHNSON

Having done a little research into the smaller rings of bells in Shropshire, I would like to give my experiences. Some of the rings are mentioned in Dove, a few are not.

Acton Burnell, St. Michael (4). Here there is a wooden Barwell frame, probably put in when the back two were recast. The 2nd was cast by T. Clibury in 1651, and 3, 4 were by Barwell in 1889. The tenor weighs 5-1-14. The treble is, I believe, unscripted. I have no information as to their condition.

Baschurch, All Saints (4). These were recast by Taylor about 1912, and put back into what was probably the old frame, which contains pits for six bells. The tenor weighs about 12 cwt. The ropes fall in a straight line across the belfry, and the bells 'go' well considering that they are rarely rung. The tone is good, and the Vicar is only too glad to have them rung.

Bourton, Holy Trinity (4). These are all by A. Rudhall in 1700, one year after the four at Bobbington, in Staffordshire. The tenor weighs about 2 cwt. The Vicar is very reluctant to give permission for ringing, believing that the wooden tower would not stand the strain. This is probably untrue. However, the tenor stay is so long that it catches on the clock hammer, which cannot be pulled off so, unless a bit of work was done, the bells could not be rung. The wheels and frame are quite sound.

Cardington, St. James (4). Here again, the bells are supposed to be unsafe, owing to the condition of the frame, which is an old triangular one. The treble and the 3rd are by Barwell in 1887, the 2nd either W. or T. Clibury, in 1626 and the tenor by A. Rudhall in 1752. I very much doubt whether permission could be obtained to ring them, but the tower certainly could not be blamed for this, as it is easily big enough to accommodate quite a large ten. The ropes here fall in a straight line.

Diddlebury (4). These were cast by J. Martin, of Worcester between 1665 and 1670, and rehung about 1910. They form Nos. 1, 2, 4, 5 of a ring of five, and 'go' quite well. They are rung only by the very few visitors they receive, but are in good condition. There are pits for six bells. The tenor weighs about 12 cwt.

Ditton Priors (4). Here the two trebles are unscripted, and obviously old bells; the 3rd was by Clibury and the tenor by Charles Carr, of Smethwick. They are hung in a large wooden frame, with a slantwise part in the middle for the tenor. I can see no reason for this. The tenor weighs about 8 cwt. The Vicar will not allow ringing, and it is not hard to see why; the wheels are in an advanced stage of decay, and the wooden tower would probably not stand the strain of ringing bells anyway.

Hopesay, St. Mary (4). The front three are by John Rudhall in 1822, and the tenor, which weighs about 5 cwt., by J. Finch, of Hereford, in 1862. The bells here are hung dead.

Hughley (4). Cast by A. Rudhall in 1701. The tenor weighs about 4 cwt., but I have no other information as to their condition.

Kemberton (4). The treble was cast by T. Clibury in 1671, the 2nd by A. Rudhall in 1735, the 3rd by H. Oldfield and the tenor (about 7 cwt.) by W. Clibury. The ropes fall in a straight line. The bells are ringable, but the wheels are somewhat rotten and the clappers are very loose. This makes them seem as if the bearings are octagonal.

Munslow, St. Michael (4). Treble by R. Oldfield in 1632. Second by T. Mears in 1822. Third is an old bell cast around 1450, and the tenor is by W. Clibury in 1623; it weighs about 12 cwt. The bell is supposed to be unringable.

Onibury, St. Michael (4). The treble is by J. Rudhall in 1824. The 2nd and 3rd are 14th century and the tenor, which weighs about 6 cwt., is by H. Clibury. There is an old triangular frame, dated 1626. The architect has pronounced judgment upon the tower, so there is very little likelihood of the bells being rung again, unless the tower is strengthened.

Stoke St. Milborough, the Priory Church of St. Milburgha (4). The treble is by W. Clibury in 1622, and the rest are by T. Clibury in 1637. The wheels are falling apart, and the fittings are generally in very bad shape. The bells are chimed in Minimus, with some short pieces of rope tied to the clappers. The tenor weighs about 10 cwt.

Stottesdon, St. Mary (4). Originally a Rudhall five in 1752. The 2nd became cracked and was sold to defray the expenses during the first world war. The tenor weighs about 9 cwt., and the bells are swing-chimed for service.

Wentnor. Dove gives this as a ring of four, but the front three have disappeared. They were originally hung 'dead,' and the remaining bell is probably just for the clock to chime on.

If anyone is interested in rings of three in Shropshire, they are invited to write to Philip R. Johnson, 3, Lansdowne Avenue, Codsall, Staffs. Can anyone supply me with information on rings of three and four in Staffordshire, as I hope to supplement the above list by Staffordshire rings of four in the near future.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT IN AUSTRALIA

The Australian ringing scene is constantly changing and improving, reports the current issue of 'Ringing Towers'. There are new bells (10) at St. Andrew's Cathedral, Sydney; recast bells at Bendigo; rehung and retuned bells at Melbourne; restored bells at Adelaide Town Hall. For the future, a tower at Bathurst Cathedral for 1970, the centenary of the diocese, for six bells lying idle; rehanging at Ballarat, including the two trebles at present hung dead; possible rehanging and augmentation to eight at Parramatta.

RING OF TEN FOR SYDNEY CATHEDRAL

An anonymous gift of £10,000 has been made to St. Andrew's Cathedral, Sydney, for the purpose of installing a ring of bells in memory of the donor's late husband.

'Ringing Towers' states that it understands that for some time the Cathedral authorities have been considering acquiring a ring and had a certain amount of money in hand. The bequest meant that they could go ahead, and John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, have secured the order for a ring of 10 bells, with tenor of 29 cwt.

Comments 'Ringing Towers': This is wonderful news. A ring of ten in the heart of Sydney.

SUFFOLK GUILD

A quarterly meeting of the N.E. District was held at Aldeburgh on August 15th. Ringing took place in the afternoon and evening. The Rev. R. J. Stanford, of Friston, conducted a short service, followed by a business meeting, presided over by the chairman, Mr. R. Bickers.

Next meeting: Saxmundham and Benhall, Saturday, November 21st. M. B.

JOINT MEETING AT ROYSTON

Good relations between the Southern District of the Yorkshire Association and the Barnsley District Society were maintained at a very enjoyable joint meeting held at Royston on August 8th, with ringing also taking place at Felkirk and Barnsley.

The proceedings were not entirely uneventful as ringing on the six at Royston took place minus a stay in the treble, the fifth stay fell out at Felkirk and a rope broke at Barnsley after the bells had been lowered. After tying the second rope to the rope down to the church, John Seager tugged at it to test his handiwork, the rope broke, so did his spectacles and he finished splicing and threading the rope through a complicated route just in time to miss getting some well-earned liquid refreshment.

Miss Sheila Connery, of the local company, was in charge of catering and kept up the high standard of the Barnsley Society in that direction. Tea was followed by the Southern District's quarterly business meeting and at this stage members welcomed Rev. J. E. K. Law, Vicar of Royston, who kindly undertook the duties of chairman and opened the meeting with prayers.

Ten new members were elected: K. J. Hesketh, Liverpool; D. J. L'wellyn, Bury; W. R. Parker, Lincoln; Miss Margaret Whyte and Miss Pat Stafford, Sheffield; Harold Johnson, Adwick-le-Street; Rev. N. Webb, curate of Royston; P. S. Wood, Bradford; Miss Joan Book and John Hiner, Rawmarsh.

It was proposed that the next quarterly meeting be held at Handsworth on November 21st. The sum of 19s. 6d. was collected for the Bell Repair Fund. The meeting ended with a vote of thanks by Mr. R. J. Sandersen to all concerned in this successful meeting, which was seconded by Mr. J. Seager.

CHANGES THROUGH THE YEARS

JUST 100 years ago a clergyman, at a meeting of clergy, advised that on no excuse should permission be given for ringing on Sunday. 'Ringing,' he said, 'is an intellectual and scientific enjoyment, as much so as chess or violin playing . . . and we know what view we should take of Sunday chess players or Sunday concerts.' In a climate like this—and to combat such opinions within the Church—the modern territorial associations were formed, the movement growing during the last quarter of last century. The older ones among us are fond of telling the young that in our time we sat in the ringing chamber and waited to be asked to ring. Encouragement was the last thing we expected. The late J. Armiger Trollope has told how he and his school friends fared. With Troyte's book and permission to ring on an unused six at Norwich they taught themselves to handle the bells and then to ring changes. With handbells made from the old-fashioned bells that hung in the servants' quarters, they learned double-handed ringing. And still they were not readily accepted in the towers of Norwich.

By contrast let us consider the position of the new ringer today. He has a local Association to encourage him and to arrange practice meetings at which he can make progress; he is welcome in almost every tower, either as a beginner anxious to learn or as an addition to the local band; judging by the numbers rung, peal ringing facilities are as good as they ever have been, and of course travel is much easier; day or week-end courses of instruction are held, at which well-known ringers are found to impart their knowledge to anybody willing to listen. This is a big change from the days when a man kept his hard-won knowledge to himself. Central Council and other publications, though not numerous enough to satisfy some, are available for private study, written by ringers only too willing to share their expertise. To come nearer home, 'The Ringing World' exists to focus all these activities by publicity, by notices, peal reports and willingness to publish suitable articles, whether technical or historical, about our art.

Like organ playing or choral singing, our service to the Church has a secular aspect, and it would appear that this secular side is flourishing. In spite of many other attractions, more and more young people are seen at meetings and courses and in our towers. One wonders, however, whether the attention being given to this side of our art overshadows to some extent the fact that we are, or should be, primarily church workers and as such should be active members of our Church, in its worship and its other activities. From time to time one hears that an incumbent is in conflict with his ringers because of their non-attendance at church. Often there are explanations. Perhaps the ringers worship at another church, without bells; perhaps they go on to ring at another church with a later service; and so on. The recent ringers' festival at Kirby-le-Soken showed the bright side of the coin. The bells were rung before and after three services, most of the ringers joining at least one of the large congregations. A ringer travelled many miles to preach and others similar distances to read the lessons. Equally inspiring are the annual gatherings of some of the territorial Associations referred to. Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford, for example, resounds annually with the hearty singing of the ringers of the Oxford Guild.

The writer's experience is limited to his own area, and it may be that in other parts of the country the position is more encouraging. But one has a feeling that often the ringers are not as closely-knit to the Church as both parties should desire. As ringers we must admit that we owe almost all our opportunities for indulging in our hobby to the Church, and also that basically the service of the Church is our raison d'être. What more can we do to bring ringers and other church workers into close contact where it does not now exist? Most Association meetings are held on Saturdays and they often include a short service. But those services are by their nature exclusive. Would it not be possible for Association or District officers and the more active members all to meet occasionally on a Sunday by arrangement to help ring at one of their less-flourishing towers, and then all to attend the service as an act of corporate worship? No doubt the incumbent would be happy to make reference to the event during the service. Our readers, with their extensive collective experience, will have their own views on what can and should be done to bring our work closer to the Church, and we shall welcome their ideas. No doubt the members of the Sunday Service Ringing and Education Committee of the Central Council will also be glad to hear their views.

W. G. WILSON.

LOCKED IN ST. MARY-LE-TOWER

An awkward predicament confronted ringers at St. Mary-le-Tower, Ipswich, at the conclusion of their practice on August 31st. The belfry door was locked against them. It has been customary to open the belfry door with a key which is left in the lock.

The first to leave could not open the door. About a dozen ringers were like rats in a trap: one suggested the fire brigade (that useful institution when in trouble), another, endowed with a fair amount of initiative, recommended firing the back eight. This brought the caretaker to the churchyard, and he was asked to tie a screwdriver and hammer on a bell rope, let down from a window. The tools were hauled up; after a lot of hard work the screws were removed and the whole lock taken off, occupying about half an hour.

A late arrival at the practice, noticed two or three lads loitering near the porch: it is supposed they climbed the 30 steps locked the door and decamped with the key. They probably thought it a huge joke, but the ringers did not!

Now the stable door is being locked after the horse is stolen. G.E.S.

FIRST LADY TAUGHT IN WALTHAMSTOW

Mr. W. Shepherd, of Addlestone, writes repeating Mr. I. D. Chapman's statement, that Miss Janet Gamble was the first lady taught in Walthamstow tower to ring a quarter there. In the spring of 1907, he states, Miss C. Beasley, a Walthamstow ringer, scored her first quarter there and this was recorded in 'The Bell News.'

Mr. H. Rumens writes that Miss Sonia Coles, daughter of Mr. C. T. W. Coles and granddaughter of the late Mr. C. T. Coles, learned to ring at St. Mary's, Walthamstow, in 1948 and rang in several quarter peals, including Grandsire Triples, Caters, Stedman Triples and Bob Minor. Going back before 1914, Miss Clara Beazley was taught at St. Mary's and was the young lady who rang the tenor to the first 'all ladies' peal at Cubitt Town.

80th BIRTHDAY CONGRATULATIONS

The heartiest of congratulations go forth from the Midland District of the Ladies' Guild to a member who was the first Vice-President of the District when it was formed in 1946. She is Miss I. B. Thompson who celebrates her 80th birthday today—Sept. 11th. For 14 years Miss Thompson held the position of Vice-President in the District, but during the whole of her ringing career her support for the Ladies' Guild, her Church and all ringing has always been readily given.

After 52 years in the Guild it was our privilege to make Miss Thompson an Hon. Life Member and she continues to serve on the General Committee. Many of the older generation will remember Miss Thompson as Treasurer of the old 'M.C.A.' as affectionately known in the Midlands.

Ringers everywhere will join with us in offering our congratulations in her new-found retirement. S.E.C.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The St. Albans District held a full meeting at St. Mary's, Welwyn, for the first time on August 15th. We were met by the tower captain, Mr. Steer, who showed us his set of new ropes, bought not a moment too soon. Two were on by evening!

The new Rector, the Rev. Mr. Walsh, took the service and gave a most interesting address on the history of one of his bells, which bears the inscription, 'Down with enthusiasm.' Is it just hearsay that this bell cannot be rung to a peal? Tea was arranged by the local band at a cafe in the town.

A business meeting was held in the churchyard, Mr. Rex Agg, the Association secretary, presiding. The meeting was pleased to hear that it had been represented at the funeral of Mr. A. A. Hughes. Thelma West was elected a probationary member and Paula Healey and Peter Dale ringing members.

MADELEY RINGING JUBILEE

The diamond jubilee of ringing service in one tower, St. Michael's, Madeley, Salop, was in July reached by Mr. Thomas Pritchard, of Court Street, Madeley.

During the past 60 years Mr. Pritchard has been most dedicated to his church, not only as a bellringer, which included 28 years as tower captain, but as a sidesman, deputy warden and churchwarden. As a bellringer his only absences from Sunday service and practice ringing were during the two world wars and while the bells were being recast and augmented to eight; except the occasional day of ill-health.

In 1907, after only three years as a ringer, he taught the complete band change ringing as he was the only experienced change ringer there. Mr. and Mrs. Pritchard celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at Whitsun, 1962, and to mark the occasion presented an electric clock for the ringing chamber.

During the past six months Mr. Pritchard unfortunately has been very poorly and in hospital, but he is now making progress.

To mark the diamond jubilee, the local company rang a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles, with 4, 6, 8 covering, on August 13th. Many of the band had long service in the tower, details being: J. Tranter (one year, first quarter) 1, T. S. Wilkes (38 years) 2, Miss P. Alford (2 years) 3, J. L. Stanier (56 years) 4, F. W. Jones (18 years) 5, A. J. Molinoli (one year) 6, H. Tranter (32 years, conductor) 7, H. Hyde (54 years) 8.

OBITUARY

MR. J. E. S. MORETON

The ringers of All Saints' Church, Chilvers Coton, Warwickshire, have suffered a severe blow in the sudden passing to higher service of their oldest member, John Edward Spencer Moreton, at the age of 67, on August 24th.

He came of a ringing family and first learned to ring in 1910. From 1923-1952 he was captain of the band and also tower keeper for a great part of the time. He rang about 100 peals. In his capacity as a carpenter and joiner he, together with the late Ernest Stone, made and erected oak panelling in the ringing room to the memory of Mr. G. J. Lewis, father of Mrs. D. E. Beamish, a staunch worshipper at the church for many years.

The funeral service on August 27th was attended by the majority of the local ringers together with Mr. F. W. Perrens, Mr. A. J. Hinde and Mr. J. L. Garner-Hayward, representing the Coventry Diocesan Guild, of which Jack had been a member for 50 years.

The bells were rung half-muffled before and after the interment and a quarter peal was rung in the evening. Prior to a quarter peal on the Sunday morning following, a minute's silence was observed and the captain, Mr. A. H. Beamish, offered a short prayer and hoped that the band would gain inspiration from the life of Jack Moreton and render the same loyalty to the church that he did.

MATT. WOOD, OF BETHNAL GREEN

In their tributes to Mr. Albert A. Hughes, your recent contributors have referred to his learning to ring under Matthew A. Wood, of Bethnal Green. Mr. E. E. Holman, of Walthamstow, has recently presented to the London County Association Matt. Wood's peal books—five small notebooks in good condition and written in excellent copperplate. As a matter of interest and for the benefit of future historians of our art, I give brief particulars of these books and at the same time express thanks to Ernie Holman, for his kindness in presenting them, and for the care with which they have been preserved.

Book 1.—Contains 105 peals of Grandsire Triples, including his first peal in 1846, and his last, conducted by A. A. Hughes, in 1909. Forty-one of these peals were conducted by Matt. Wood and they include four on handbells.

Book 2.—Eighty-five peals of Stedman Triples (conducted 16) from 1847 to 1907. It is noticeable that Matt. was at home anywhere 'round the circle,' though in not one of these peals did he ring the tenor behind. He rang 5-6 to the first peal of Stedman Triples 'in hand' in 1854 and, in the same year, 7-8 to the same method, now-conducted. In 1906 the name of 'A. A. Hughes, junr.' first appears in these books—he rang the tenor at Bethnal Green.

Book 3.—Records 68 peals of Major, between 1846 and 1908, the majority of them Kent Treble Bob, with 8,448 in 1870 at Spitalfields; 8,896 at Bethnal Green in 1890 and a record length, 15,840, in 1868. Peals of London, Cambridge and Superlative are included in this section.

Book 4.—Records 82 peals of Caters and Royal between 1848 and 1902, including four of Stedman Caters 'in hand,' that in 1851 being the first such performance.

Book 5.—Records 40 peals of Cinques and Maximus between 1848 and 1901, including the first of Stedman Cinques 'in hand' in 1854, rung for the St. James' Society. These peals also include the then record lengths of Stedman Cinques—7,524 at Cripplegate in 1851 and 8,580 at Cornhill in 1861.

At the end of this volume there are summaries of these 380 peals, a considerable total for those days; and a list of names of all the ringers who took part in them, which reads like a roll of honour of famous London ringers, with distinguished visitors, of the last century.

A note about Matt. Wood, with photograph, appeared in 'R.W.' for August 30th, 1940. He came of an old ringing family, his grandfather and great uncle being notable early members of the Cumberlands. He was born in 1826 and lived from 1829 until his death in 1912 in Church Row, by St. Matthew's Church where he succeeded his father as steeple-keeper.

OUTING

DEVIZES, WILTS

The ringers and friends of St. John's, St. Mary's and St. James', Southbroom, held their annual outing on August 29th. The coach left St. John's Church at 1 p.m., the first tower being Wilton, where we were met by the Rev. C. A. Witcomb and Mr. A. Trimby. At Fordingbridge Mr. Marlow met us and everyone rang on the eight bells.

Bournemouth was reached at 5 p.m. and after tea Mr. Colin Conway and Rev. David Haslam met us. We enjoyed our hour's ringing on these fine bells. The homeward journey was through the New Forest and Lyndhurst, to Salisbury, where there was a half hour halt. Devizes was reached about 10.45 p.m.

A. T. W.

DOUBLE-HANDED PEAL OF MAJOR

Having rung the triple-double-handed peal at Preston Candover in 1961, thoughts turned to a peal of Bob Major with four ringers. Tom Chapman was the obvious choice for the fourth ringer, and the only problem was a suitable tower.

Two attempts were made at Atherstone, Warwickshire, in 1963, but both were stopped about half-way due to bells crossing. This did, however, give us much valuable practice.

The third attempt, at Balcombe, was successful at the first try. The first half was good, although the time of 85 minutes was probably too fast, resulting in a few patches in the third part. A few words from the tenors to 'Slow it up' led to some good ringing in the last part; time for the second half being 94 minutes. In this attempt we rang Pritchard's Four Part instead of the handbell composition used in the other attempts. The greatest difficulty in all-double-handed ringing is the difference in weight of the two tenors. The success of the peal was undoubtedly due to the skill and ease with which Tony rang them.

After the peal, welcome refreshment was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Laker, and we express our appreciation to Mr. Laker and the Balcombe ringers for the peal arrangements.

F.T.B.

BATTLE RINGERS IN HERTS

Regarded by some as a rash decision, Battle ringers held their annual outing on August Bank Holiday. It turned out, however, to be a glorious day and the arrangements went surprisingly smoothly. For the first time, the Dean accompanied the party.

It was a long ride into Hertfordshire for Cheshunt (an easy-going ring), our first tower. To start with we did not do justice to the bells, but later on some well-struck Grandsire and a half course of Cambridge were achieved. The unusual happened at Hertford (10). The stay of the third was bent, but a Heath-Robinson operation put things right with the 'supporting bar,' consisting of the original bent stay plus wedge and various lengths of rope. Funnily enough, nobody dared to set the bell.

After lunch ringing at Baldock was spoiled by trying to ring the bells too fast. At Hitchin, the heat of the day seemed to be telling itself and ringing was confined to standard methods. A most enjoyable salad tea at the Cavalier Hotel Sevenage, was followed by a narrow lane route to Wheathampstead, where 36 feet of unguided rope proved a problem to some who were not so agile with their footwork. At the last tower, Aldenham, Stedman and a half course of Yorkshire were rung.

I.V.J.S.

Some still awake attempted to ring hand bells on the journey home. However, this soon ceased and the coach drifted into moderate silence, with the back seat, of course, occupied by, '.... Oh do move over a bit, Colin.'

Letters to the Editor

Mr. John Betjeman and The Central Council

Dear Sir,—Readers of Mr. Peter Came's leading article on Mr. John Betjeman in your issue of August 7th may like to know that in reply to my letter inviting him to allow his name to go forward for election as an honorary member of the Council, Mr. Betjeman replied: 'I am honoured that my name should be considered as an honorary member of the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers. It is some years now since I handled a bell and when I did I never rose to method ringing, call changes were all I could manage, but the sound of bells and the joy of the exercise are things which are dear to me. I am thoroughly in agreement with the aims of your Council.'

I have sent him a copy of the above issue.—Yours faithfully,

E. A. BARNETT,
Hon. Secretary,
Central Council.

More Yorkshire Four-bell Towers

Dear Sir,—Recently fresh information has come my way on some Yorkshire four-bell towers:

Bossall (near York).—The ring here has now been declared unsafe owing to excessive movement in the frame and supporting floor. This is a pity as efforts had been made to restore the ring in the old and beautiful church.

Badsworth (near Pontefract).—Recently I had the pleasure of joining the Hemingbrough band in ringing for a service. Despite the necessity of respicing the tenor's rope the 'go' of the bells is quite good. The tone is decidedly odd and I can't understand why they occupy the four largest pits in the six bell frame, for they are certainly not tuned to be a back 4 of a 6.

Filey.—St. Oswald's Church has a chime of 4 bells hung 'dead.' Except for the treble, all are old bells with canons and Latin inscriptions. The tenor about 12 cwt., is dated 1689, the 3rd 1700 and the 2nd 1675. These 3 bells, originally hung for full-swing ringing and then later for swing-chiming, were hung 'dead' by Taylor's in 1928 and a new treble was added at the same time. Insufficient money meant that a ring of 6 or 8 wasn't forthcoming. Although there are 4 bells in the tower, the present treble, 3rd and tenor form a chime of 3 bells and the 2nd (a semitone between the treble and 3rd) is used as a service bell. The bells hang in a frame reputed to be of pre-Reformation ship's timbers and are well cared for. In the ex-ringing chamber is preserved the wheel of the tenor.—Yours sincerely,

MICHAEL KING.

Wentworth, Rotherham.

A Disappointment

Dear Sir,—A deal attempt of Bob Major was lost at Blethingley, Surrey, on August 29th after two hours and 50 minutes ringing. If successful, this would have been a 'first' as conductor for Richard Stevens and a welcome for Alison Streeter who contrived to be born a few hours before the attempt commenced. The happy father was ringing the treble. Richard's handling of the 'not so easy' tenor was worthy of note.—Yours faithfully,

K. TABER.

Stravinsky and Bells

Dear Sir,—I came across a mention in a newspaper, about two years ago, of the same Stravinsky incident as Dr. Price relates in your issue of August 14th. My own clue led to Eric Walter White's book 'Stravinsky: A Critical Survey,' where the telling is even more pointed:

'Despite its possibly apocryphal origin and faulty logic, the following anecdote is typical of the composer, both in its line of argument and the dogmatic nature of its utterance. It is said that one morning in London he was with a friend in a taxi when, just as they came to Ludgate Hill, the bells of St. Paul's began to ring. He leaned forward to listen and tapped on the window for the driver to stop. Then he turned to his friend and said: "That is really the ideal way to make music. A man pulls a rope; but what happens at the other end is of no importance to him. He cannot make the bells ring more softly or more loudly; he cannot alter their rhythm, nor increase or diminish their tone. He has nothing to do except pull the rope—the bells do all the rest. The music is not in him: it lives in the bells. The man at the rope is the prototype of the ideal conductor..."'

Granted that Stravinsky is, as Dr. Price says, one of the greatest musicians of the age, he does seem to have acquired his notions of College 'Youths' ringing from something like the Coronation Scene in the opera 'Boris Godunov,' or perhaps the bell-clanging antics in the film 'Femmes de Paris.' One hardly likes to spoil by further comment this delightful piece of utter bosh.—Yours faithfully,
R. B. MEADOWS.

High Hoyland Bells

Dear Sir,—I was interested to read the letter about High Hoyland bells in your issue of August 14th.

The P.C.C. have decided that the best thing to do is to remove the bells and we are in process of applying for a faculty to do this.

It may be that another church would be interested in buying them. It does seem to be a pity that they should be sold for scrap metal.

Five bells are dated 1745 and the treble is dated 1822 (by Thomas Mears). The tenor weighs 8 cwt.—Yours faithfully,

The Rectory, E. A. CROWE (Rev.).
Clayton West, Huddersfield.

Clarification wanted

Dear Sir,—Could I appeal for some clarification of the notations of the following methods published recently as the information seems inconsistent:

Rothley S.M.: The notation given does not produce 1352 . . . with 2nds, if the halflead were to be 18 then 2nds would give 13 . . . but there would have to be another 'extra 2nds' in the grid for this to obtain.

Hunslett B.M.: The notation given does not produce 164 . . . What are the missing places? It is interesting that Hunslett is Leeds's classic slum area; perhaps the method is a slum too?

Bombay S.M.: There is a transit missing (presumably when the treble is in 5-6 the places should be - 2 - and not as printed, with the 1458 at the cross section?).

Now that all the Doubles variations have been exposed, could I appeal for a complete list of the 'irregular' Minor methods, as well as a list of all those with built-in singles, not all of those rung have been given I think. Perhaps one of our Barnsley and District friends would oblige?—Yours sincerely,

GILES B. THOMPSON.

Chorlton cum Hardy.

Naming Doubles Methods

Dear Sir,—Would you please insert this in the 'R.W.' to try to find the names of the following Doubles variations (if they have been named):

(a) Plain Bob, Reverse Canterbury, St. Simon, St. Martin, St. Nicholas, Winchendon, St. Osmund and St. Remigius, all of which have a London Single as the Bob.

N.B.—Not an extreme.

(b) Grandsire P.C. with a Grandsire Bob and an Antelope Single as the single.

Grandsire P.C. with a Grandsire Bob and a P.L. of All Saints as the single

(c) Methods which have New Bob (or Grandsire Extremes each lead end) at the back and front work, which is the front work of St. Simon, Winchendon, St. Remigius and St. Osmund, e.g., New Bob which has St. Simon's front work. The call being a P.L. of Plain Bob or Rev. Canterbury.

(d) P.C. is St. Remigius with an Old Doubles Single as the single and half lead of Original as the bob.

(e) St. Osmund with a P.L. of All Saints as the single.

St. Remigius with a P.L. of All Saints as the single.—Yours faithfully, Birstall, Leicester. DAVID F. MOORE.

Reply to Mr. Moore's letter:

All these methods except Newborough have a multiplicity of names and should be checked before use to ensure that they are true 120's. The fact that a method (except one in common use) has a name does not mean that it is true. This point was made very clear by the Collection of Doubles Methods. * These methods are still subject to investigation. † The names given are most likely the original.

UNEXPECTED HUMOUR IN HIGH PLACES

THE BELL STOKER

Now is the time for the steeple-keepers to sit up and take notice, for the man who knows it all goes on: 'But the bells should have their official, like the clock. He should be called the Bell-stoker. He should rub his bells at least once a week; then they would never rust, the inscriptions would be preserved, and the surface of the bells protected from disintegration, the sound would be improved, and the bells would be less liable to crack.' (I am sure that if the steeple-keepers cannot find time to rub the bells as suggested they have only to contact the Mothers' Union who, I am sure, will be only too delighted to do the work for him.)

'The stoker should keep every rivet in its place; the wheels and beams should all be varnished or painted regularly. I have visited many belfries at home and abroad, but never have I seen a bit of paint or varnish on one yet.' (Bellhangers always make a special point of placing the bells in such a manner that it is impossible to carry out most of the suggestions. He may argue that he is limited for space, don't believe him, he can always make more room by pushing the tower walls out.)

'The shutters should be kept from swinging, with their flanges sloping downward, so as to keep the wet from driving in, whilst allowing the sound to float freely out and down upon the town. But a far more radical change is required in the machinery of bells. In these days of advanced mechanical appliances, it is disgraceful to reflect that exactly the same machinery is now used to swing bells as was used in China a thousand years ago.' (I always thought that it was the Russians who discovered the art of ringing.)

'A wheel with a rope around it—that and nothing more.' (What! no headstock.) 'The bell-works might occupy much less room, and the friction, by some of the simplest mechanical appliances might be reduced to almost nothing.' (The bellhangers would not like this, they would not be able to make things awkward for those who have to look after them or for the clockmakers who have fix clock hammers.)

'The belfry should be cultivated. The belfry should look like a fine engine room in a first class factory. It should be a pleasure, as well as an instructive lesson, to go into. When all was in motion, everything should be so neatly fitted and thoroughly oiled that we should hear no sound save the melodious booming of the bells themselves. At present, when the bells are rung the belfry appears to go into several violent convulsions, corresponding to the herculean efforts of the poor ringers below. At last the wheel is induced to move enough for the clapper to hit the bell an indefinite kind of bang—an arduous operation, which may or may not be repeated in some kind of rhythm, according as the ringer may or may not succeed in hitting it off with the eccentric machinery up aloft. We shall have to return to this subject at the close of our article.' (I have heard various explanations as to what happens when a bell is rung, but this one should take first prize.)

Our critic devotes himself to quite a number of pages on the out of tune-ness of English bells, but I do not propose to bore the reader with this and will proceed to the subject at the close of his article.

'Meanwhile we cannot help repeating in more detail a suggestion made at the commencement of this article, and which occurs to us whenever we enter a dilapidated belfry full of creaking wheels and rotten timbers. Before we think of keyboards and barrels, let us supply some simple machinery for the common ringing of the bells. We hear about towers being run down by the vibrations of the bells; but it would be truer to say that they are rocked down by the friction of coarse machinery. If all the bellowing of the Prussian guns failed to make any material impression upon the fragile stone filigree work of the Strasbourg tower, it is not likely that the sound of bells has much to do with the ruin of brickwork and masonry.'

LONDON'S BELLS

In that part of the article on the out of tune-ness of bells, which I have not repeated, Mr. Haweis says, 'Great bells in London are generally considered an insufferable nuisance. One church with a daily service materially injures house property in the adjoining streets.' (Now this does want sorting out: in one breath the sound of the bells damages neighbouring property and in the next breath he states that the sound of bells is not likely to ruin brickwork and masonry. Prussian guns may not have made much impression on Strasbourg tower, but he should have seen what bombs did.)

'In connection with the swing of a heavy bell there must always be considerable strain upon the tower. But the friction might be indefinitely diminished if the bell machinery worked smoothly, and the labour, at present herculean, of the poor bellringer might be reduced to almost zero were that machinery a little more scientific.' (I think the Editor and others that we know will agree, but read on.)

'When it is once understood that an improved system of tolling the bells would save Deans and Chapters all over the country enormous sums of money, by suspending the wear and tear which now goes on in all our cathedral towers, we cannot help thinking that little opposition will be raised by those who have to pay the damages. Bell-ringers are doubtless the most obstinate of men' (hear, hear); 'but if they were paid the same for working machinery which produced twice as much effect with less than half the labour, they too would soon give in to a better system. That ungrateful and barbarous rope and wheel, whose action upon the bell is now as uncertain, would probably disappear' (and so would the ringers, methinks) 'and give place to something like a handle, a piston, or even a keyboard and a set of wheels and pulleys. There is no reason whatever why, with a better tolling mechanism, one man might not ring half a dozen bells, instead of as at present, half a dozen men being often set to ring a single big bell. We make these suggestions with the more confidence because they have been favourably entertained by the heads of one of the most eminent firms of horology in England. We are glad to say that in accordance with our suggestions these gentlemen have promised to give their attention to the development of 'better mechanism for the tolling of bells.' (Oh, dear, this chap does not seem to know the difference between ringing and tolling; anyhow, from the above it would appear that it is only the ringers at cathedrals whose heads are to be chopped off, you who ring at parish churches are to carry on sweating in the traditional manner.)

'In conclusion, let the reader try and remember the mechanical improvements which have been already realised, and let him by a stretch of imagination realise those which have in the foregoing pages been suggested. We shall then, indeed, pity him if he is able to read the following narration without emotion.

THE DOOMED BELL

'When BIG TOM at York has to perform the arduous operation of striking the hour, a truly heart-rending spectacle is said to occur. A strong man, who has, doubtless, long since grown insensible to the sufferings of his victim, ascends the tower and, advancing towards a mighty hammer, raises it often to a most cruel height above the bell, and bangs out the hour with a ferocity more than enough to shatter the constitution of even Tom.

'We are credibly informed that bronze fragments of this doomed bell lie thickly scattered beneath him. An old bell which has gone cracked or out of tune has no real objection to be melted or recast—nay, it often bears the fact proudly inscribed upon its regenerated front, but to be deliberately pulverised by the brutal and irregular assaults of a remorseless destroyer, that is indeed too much for any bell to bear. We say it with shame and sorrow, Poor Tom of York, formerly called Great Peter, and weighing ten tons 15 cwt., is being literally beaten to death.'

According to the wife of one of the York ringers, who has ceased to beat his wife, first practised on Peter.

(I like that bit about the 'ungrateful and barbarous rope and wheel' and it gives one an idea: why not tie the obstreperous ringers to the wheel by the ungrateful and barbarous rope—how Dorothy Sayers could have made a story out of that.)

Well 'The Ringing World' has published some bilge in its time and I have read some articles in various books and magazines, but never have come across such utter tosh as this one on 'Bells and Belfries' by the Rev. H. R. Haweis, M.A. It is more likely than not that because of this particular article, the reverend gentleman would be considered an authority on bells.

This is meant to be a museum piece and not an historical record.—J.P.F.

THE BELLS OF OLD BAILEY

Next, in 1698, comes another momentous event, for it would seem to have been in that year that the ring was made up to ten. Two new bells were cast by William Eldridge of Chertsey, a well-known bellfounder this time. Of these two bells, the smaller one remains in the tower to-day as a sacring bell. It hangs in a little frame of its own above the main frame and is regularly rung during the consecration at Holy Communion.

In 1699 the Vestry Minutes contain a puzzling entry:

'Mr. Richard Castleman, Mr. Peter Bradshaw and Mr. Elisha Mason appeared in Vestry and made a proposal to take down ye 9th Bell and new cast it and to bring it home and sett it upp again at their own charges in six weeks tyme and yt the same should be made useable and tunable. The Vestry accepted their propositions and referred it to the Ch. Wardens to see the said Bell taken downe and delivered to ye persons . . . weighing the same out and in: they the Church Wardens then taking Surety from the persons for ye performance of the matter proposed and that they be obliged to return the bell of the same weight and goodness of metall as it now is or better. And if any of its weight should be wanting that they do pay to the Ch.W. the value thereof. And that they doe not chip or cause any damage to the other bells.'

The Minute illustrates the considerable amount of detailed care which was lavished on the bells (though they were not quite so favoured as the organ, which boasted 'a committee for ye affairs of ye organ'). But who were the 'three persons' and what was wrong with the ninth bell? Elisha Mason later became a Churchwarden, and presumably the other two were parishioners. The ninth bell would have been one of the Hodson bells of 1667: possibly it had become cracked.

Before long there were yet more recastings. In 1701 the second bell (one of the two new Eldridge ones of 1698) was recast and yet another of the ring in 1712, when the Treasurer Churchwarden reported that 'a new bell was cast and hung up for approbation.' At the same time we hear the last of the 'great bell,' which had been taken down and laid up in the church. Its days were now numbered, for on December 17th, 1713, we read in the Minutes:

'Ordered that the great Bell that hangs in a Loft of the Steeple by itself and hath for some time been taken downe be sold by the Churchwardens to the best Chapman and applied to the use of the Church and the Bells.'

It was perhaps a rather sad end for such an old friend, despite the gruesome associations it had with those fearful executions.

For a few years all seems to have gone well and the ten bells rang merrily. They must have been well cared for and the Churchwardens' accounts show numerous small amounts spent on them including such items as 'sand and sweet herbs for the belfry.'

THE RECASTING

But now was to follow the greatest event in the bells' history. The Churchwardens had at this time considerable amounts of money at their disposal for the upkeep of the church fabric and it was a period of continued repairs and alterations. In 1738 came the momentous decision to recast the whole ring of bells. The Vestry Minute runs:

'Ordered that all the bells except the old Treble, being nine bells in number, be taken down out of the steeple and new cast. And also that a new bell be cast to make up the said nine bells to Ten Bells to go together in Peal.'

The work was done by the great founder Samuel Knight, whose foundry was in the neighbouring parish of St. Andrew Holborn (probably in Shoe Lane). Six of these bells survive to-day, among them the ninth, which fortunately bears the inscription recording the work:

'Samuel Knight cast us and William Catlin made the frame and hung us all 1739.'

William Catlin's massive oak frame remains to this day, as solid and sound as the day it was made. William Catlin must have been closely connected with Samuel Knight, for we know that Robert Catlin succeeded Knight as a founder, so perhaps William was Robert's father.

The parishioners were rightly proud of their new ring of ten. Indeed it was not long before the bells achieved fame. On April 7th, 1741, members of the Society of Eastern Scholars, a ringing Society founded in 1733, rang the first known peal of Treble Bob Royal on the bells. But this peal was afterwards found to be false and on May 30th in the same year the College Youths came to the tower and, as recorded in the ringing chamber, rang a true peal of Treble Bob Royal.

The Knight bells gave excellent service and little was done to them until 1804, when No. 7 was recast by the elder Thomas Mears at the famous Whitechapel bell foundry. Three years later he also recast the treble.

It is interesting to note from the accounts the occasions on which the bells were rung at this period. Taking the year 1818 as an example, we find that they were rung on the following days: New Year's Day, the Queen's Birthday, Easter Day, St. George's Day, on the Churchwardens, etc, being sworn in, on the occasion of a Charity Sermon. King Charles' Restoration, the King's Coronation anniversary, the King's Accession anniversary, Gunpowder Plot and Christmas Day—an odd mixture of sacred and secular. On each occasion the sum of £1 11s. 6d. was paid out to the ringers.

In 1829 there was another disaster. On Lord Mayor's Day the bells were gaily ringing the Lord Mayor past the church when suddenly the tenor fell down with a terrific crash. As far as we know, nobody was hurt. The parish records draw a discreet veil of silence over the whole affair. Things were soon put right and the following year the damaged tenor was recast by the younger Thomas Mears at Whitechapel. At the same time No. 6 was also recast. The weight of the new tenor, 31 cwt., was slightly more than the old one.

Since that time there have been no recastings. In 1886 John Warner and Sons re-hung one of the bells and Nos. 3, 4 and 5 (all Knight 1739 bells) were 'quartered' or turned on their headstocks so as to bring a fresh part of the sound bow under the blow of the clapper.

Finally, in 1905, the whole ring was rehung and new fittings were provided by Mears and Stainbank, who also put No. 8 on ball bearings at a later date. Otherwise the bells have not been altered since. They have not been rung since 1940. Before they can be rung again the tower will have to be strengthened considerably and the bells themselves restored and rehung. This would, of course, involve a very large expenditure and the money would have to be raised if the work were to be considered. But perhaps one day, after all these years of silence, the famous bells of the Old Bailey will ring out once again over the roofs of the City—the City which brought them into being and which I.O. doubt will help them to ring again.

LEAPING AND SKIPPING

Dear Sir,—For about 300 years change ringing has remained basically unchanged. Techniques and theoretical knowledge have been developed to near perfection, but the basic idea of bells weaving their patterns by the interchange of adjacent bells remains unaltered.

Possibly this system originated because in the early days of ringing it was very difficult to move, with accuracy, more than one place at a time. Now, however, with modern bell-hanging and bell-control technique, such a system seems needlessly restrictive.

I should like, therefore, to put forward two new basic systems both of which are related to simple plain hunting.

The first is as follows:

12345678 This system contains exactly the same changes as a block of plain hunting. Each bell leads and lies behind a whole pull, but in proceeding from lead successive steps are made to 3rds, 2nds, 5ths, 4ths, 7ths, 6ths and 8ths place; the reverse order being used on leaving behind.

42618375 I propose that this system should be termed a 'leaping' as opposed to a 'plain' hunt.

21436587 It should be noted that the work of Plain Bob can be applied at the treble lead, the net effect then being to short-circuit a section of the hunt instead of to dodge. I would name such a method Leaping Bob.

My second system is formed simply by omitting alternate rows in the plain hunt system, viz:

12345678 It contains, therefore, just half the changes in a block of plain hunting. There is no leading or lying and the blows are made successively in 1st, 3rds, 5ths, 7ths, 8ths, 6ths, 4ths and 2nds place. In this case of Plain Bob, lead ends are substituted, places are made instead of dodges. (Such sudden near cessation of movement amid a whirl of activity should be attractive to the ear and call for finesse in bell control.)

This system I would propose to call a 'skipping' hunt and its method counterpart Skipping Bob.

Dare I hope that some brave hearts will try these systems out on the bells? After all, what better time to start than Leap Year?—Yours sincerely,

PHILIP H. WHITAKER.

Coleraine, County Derry, N. Ireland.

On Sunday, August 30th, at Rotherham Parish Church prior to Evensong, a farewell presentation was made to Ian Tilling, who, having recently obtained a B.Sc. degree, is sailing to Africa to take up work in Uganda. His fellow ringers presented him with a leather writing case, in appreciation of his loyal service as a ringer over a period of 8 years. A farewell quarter peal of Grandsire Caters followed.

The first peal on the new eight at Thorncombe was marked by three first peal, a first 'inside' and a first as conductor.

Mr. John W. McClenahan, of St. Albans, has left for Philadelphia, U.S.A., to study for the degree of M.Sc., during the next two years.

At the eighth attempt and after twelve years Mr. Alan Carveth, the president of the Truro Diocesan Guild, has succeeded in ringing a peal at Helston.

In the peal of Stedman Cinques at Lincoln Cathedral by Cambridge University Guild on June 13th (page 582) the seventh was rung by L. R. H. Smith and the eighth by M. Press, and not as printed.

We are happy to announce a belfry engagement of two ringers from St. Anne's Parish Church, St. Annes-on-Sea, Lancs—Miss Carol Pickup, daughter of the Vicar's warden, and Mr. Alex Maitland.

Mr. George E. Symonds, of Ipswich, now in his 90th year, stood in a peal of Grandsire Caters at Stradbroke, and rang the third in his usual masterly style, for the birth of his fourth great grandchild.

Ten-year-old David A. Lawrence was taken to Grafton Underwood to ring his first quarter on August 30th. His own bells at Great Addington were thought to be a little too heavy for him. The visit was successful.

Four Cowbridge Grammar School ringers at this year's school camp at Llangorse, Brecknock, rang a quarter on the four (tenor 10 cwt. approx.) at Llangasty, on the edge of Llangorse Lake. This was the first quarter of Minimus by all, and the first quarter rung by a band consisting entirely of boys from the school.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Encouraging additional orders have been received by Mr. W. H. Viggers, of 37, Highfield Gardens, Aldershot, for his ringers' ash or pin trays which were introduced to the Exercise three weeks ago. Specimens are available. See advertisement in this week's issue.

Omitted from Mr. A. P. Cannon's vital statistics is the note that his 1,000 peals have been rung in 67 counties.

Mr. A. Patrick Cannon beat Mr. J. W. Cotton, of Overseal, by a short head for his 1,000 peals. When Pat rang his, Joe was six behind! Another happy event is pending!

It is regretted that the place names for the London County Association meeting on September 11th were transposed in the notice. Afternoon ringing is at Bethnal Green and evening ringing at Stepney—see revised notice.

Will any 'old soldier' who wishes to stand in a peal attempt on November 11th contact Mr. T. E. Sone, Castle Hill, Brenchley, Kent, or Mr. L. Stilwell, 34, Bramber Road, Worthing.

Mr. Colin H. Cook suggests that the last quarter peal at Chartham, Kent, was at least 16 years ago. Mr. F. C. W. Knight tells us of 1,800 of Minor on August 9th, 1963, and Mr. W. Ring of a quarter of St. Clement's College Bob on August 8th, 1962.

The energy of Douglas Snoswell in improving the 'go' of Ditchling, Sussex, bells during the past year is commended by a correspondent. For his 19th birthday a complimentary quarter was rung on the bells on September 2nd.

The quarter peal at Camborne on September 2nd was not only a welcome to Mr. E. H. Langley to Cornwall for which he expresses his thanks. It celebrated also the birth in Bulawayo, Southern Rhodesia, of a son to his daughter Sylvia.

On August 29th Mr. H. Milborne climbed the stairs to the tower at All Saints' Church, Castle Cary. Although this was his 92nd birthday and his sight is failing, he joined in ringing rounds with the other ringers present. He has been a ringer for over 50 years and this was his first ring for ten years.

THE MAN IN CHARGE

THAT bright little news sheet, 'The Belfry News,' coming each month from the Derbyshire Bellringers, can invariably be relied on to provide an entertaining and sometimes provocative editorial. The July-August number of the journal devotes its front page to some consideration of that important official of church and belfry, the Tower Captain, and the main theme of the writer is a review of the ills that result from the permanent occupation of the post of leader by the wrong kind of man.

We are reminded here that once a Tower Captain is appointed there is often no change in the office for a very great number of years, one usual reason for this being that no one is ready to offend the holder of the post by suggesting any change. It is agreed that if the man so installed is of the highest quality in leadership and ringing ability then permanence is all to the good, and it is indeed easy to quote the names of men who have held the office for long periods of time with nothing but benefit to their towers and the Exercise. It is also pointed out that where the Captain is a poor ringer and an indifferent instructor, the teaching of beginners, one of the vital tasks in the belfry, will not be carried out with the correct approach to technique so necessary for the making of a good change-ringer.

The Tower Captain who has no plan for his learners, the man who discourages his students from visiting other towers and acquiring more proficiency than himself; the one who tries to shut his tower to visiting ringers: all these, we are reminded, still exist in some districts; and the writer is driven to conclude that some routine change, a yearly, biennial or triennial election may be the solution to the problem of the obstructive or stagnating Tower Captain.

The article is fresh, forthright and outspoken, and it has the merit of leading us to other thoughts about Ringing Masters and Tower Captains. There is nothing new, of course, about leaders of genius and leaders of little minds. When, some 70 years ago, John Day wrote his criticism and deep appreciation of the eccentric William Chattell, he was at pain to point out two things: one, Chattell's extraordinary skill and enthusiasm as an instructor, and two (by way of contrast), that many of the old ringers tried to make things as mysterious and difficult as possible. We have all met the incompetent Instructor and the selfish Tower Captain, but of the former it may be said that his persistence and patience are based on a devotion to tower and church, and of the latter we may surely say that the number of such grows less and less.

The important thought that comes to mind as we read this interesting article is on the other side of the question, that is, not what is due from the Tower Captain to us but what is our duty towards the Tower Captain. How easy it is at a meeting to propose, second, and elect this man, and how easy it is to go away and forget the responsible position in which he has been placed and the onerous duties attaching to that position. It is his prime duty to see that the bells of the church are rung at the times demanded by the church offices, and for this purpose he requires support, not with the words of our lips but with the work of our hands. For the maintenance of an ample supply of ringers he must needs teach, and in the teaching he wants not our sympathy and our interested inquiry but our active help.

The first thing, therefore, that the Captain has a right to demand from his ringers is regular attendance for ringing on Sundays. To the bellringer who regards his ringing as a serious part of his Sunday observance there is no need to offer such an observation; to one to whom ringing is a piece of casual entertainment, to be indulged in or omitted as whim or fancy dictate, there is much that might and ought to be said on this matter. Let it be argued, as has sometimes been done, that our work is voluntary. The answer to this was bluntly and pungently expressed in another connection, thus: the only thing voluntary about a voluntary organisation is the joining of it; thereafter its demands are there to be met.

The second thing the Tower Captain has a right to require is that his band take steps to keep themselves in training so that, as our belfry prayer says, 'our skill may be increased' to the greater glory of God's name. No choir can perform its work without regular rehearsal; no ringing band can make a worthy offering without constant attendance for practice together. How often do we allow some triviality to interfere with this most pressing duty! And yet we require the Tower Captain to be ever present and never-failing in his duties.

As for the learners, let us grant that they are entitled to the greatest care and attention we can give them. But they, too, have a duty to perform in regular attendance for instruction, in keeping a mind open to the teaching, and in performing assiduously the tasks, at home or in the belfry, necessary for their progress. This they will do all the better in towers where the older ringers themselves show practical loyalty to their Captain by regularity, punctuality and unshaken support of the man in charge.

So while we cannot but agree with 'The Belfry News,' we should also recollect that many men are Tower Captains and Ringing Masters because no others will tie themselves to the responsibilities of such posts. We may all ask ourselves once again if we are as grateful and helpful as we might be.

MR. A. P. CANNON'S TOUR OF NORTH DEVON

100 Per Cent. Tour Success and Visits to 45 Towers

After last year's successful tour in North Wales, North Devon was chosen for this year and owing to Robin Leale's indisposition the arrangements were left to the writer, who had been the original organiser of this tour from 1950 to 1959.

The choice of venue enabled the party to visit a comparatively unspoilt part of this county, new territory to most of them, and in addition to ringing peals they were able to visit many of the delightful villages, whose churches contain some tuneful and good-going sixes. All the towers for peals were very kindly arranged by Mr. Aubrey L. Bennett, of Buckfastleigh.

Leaving home early on Saturday, August 22nd (in some cases very early), the nine ringers, travelling in four cars, arrived punctually at 1.30 p.m. on the village green in front of the fine church at Long Sutton, Somerset. They were greeted by the genial Vicar, the Rev. Chris Marshall, who joined them for London and Cambridge on this 'old-style' six, and also with the local captain ringing the tenor to Stedman Doubles. The next place, North Curry, has an octagonal tower with a ringing chamber close to the bells. We rang Cambridge and Bristol while the Vicar, the Rev. G. T. Rogers, sat in the tower and watched us. A drive of 18 miles brought us to Wiveliscombe, where the writer was delighted to see Mr. H. V. Young (late of Leatherhead) and Mr. W. A. J. Knight. They joined us for London, Cambridge and Yorkshire, and afterward 'Brig' Young led us 'up and over' the steep hill to Waterrow, where he and Mrs. Young kindly entertained us to tea in his delightfully situated house on a bend on the main road, with an inn next door! Reluctantly we left this charming spot, but we were due at our headquarters, the George Hotel, South Molton, in time for dinner at 7 p.m. We still had one more tower to visit, at the remote village of Rose Ash.

THE LANES TO LYNTON

For Sunday morning service we rang on the magnificent Taylor eight at South Molton, where the three tape recorders were soon registering Yorkshire, Bristol and Stedman Triples. The church is situated on high ground, and the 105ft tower is a landmark for many miles around. The Vicar of South Molton is also in charge of the sixes at Charles and High Bray, and to reach these villages, situated on either side of a valley, we had to climb gradients of 1 in 4! Continuing to Kentsbury, we found a very good six, rehung by Gillett and Johnston in 1953. There is a direct route to Lynton from here, but George Thoday decided to go as near the coast as possible! With Colin Harwood and the writer, we travelled along numerous 'roads,' barely more than cart tracks, and eventually came to a 'dead end' in a farm yard! However, we had plenty of time and soon met up with the others for an evening service ring at Lynton, where the bells are rarely rung owing to lack of ringers. There is little now to show of the flood disaster of 1953, and after a visit to Lynmouth, a drive up Countisbury Hill (someone was having a picnic in an 'escape' road) and a short call at Simonsbath on Exmoor, we returned to South Molton.

TWO PEALS AND TWELVE VILLAGE SIXES

On Monday, August 24th, we started the more serious business of peal ringing. Philip Mehew, his parents and Christine Rimmer were waiting for us at Witheridge, where the church stands on the north side of a large square. The bells, retuned and rehung by Taylors in 1957, boom out loud and clear, and the writer was delighted to call a peal of Cambridge, with excellent striking, in the slow and steady time of 3 hours 32 minutes. Mr. T. Kingdom, local captain, who had rung the tenor to Grandsire Triples (first on the bells) said that since the bells had been re-hung, the local band had become the champion eight-bell team in the competitions run by the Devon Association for the last two years, and proudly showed us the shields in the church to prove it. 'Brig' Young and Christopher Daws (Kingswood, Surrey) joined us for tower hunting in the afternoon, and we visited Washford Pyne, Thebridge, East and West Worlington, Meshaw and Romansleigh, mostly above average rings of six.

On Tuesday, August 26th, our peal tower was the very fine Taylor ring at Uffculme. The Vicar met us in the churchyard and we rang a good peal of Superlative from a ground-floor ringing chamber. Lunch consisted of bananas and pears, before going over to Washfield, where 'Brig' and Christopher again met us. Mrs. Balment was waiting for us and we noted the peal board recording Grandsire Doubles rung by the local band in 1926, in which she and the rest of the company rang their first peal, a very creditable performance at that time. Afterwards we visited Calverleigh, Rackenford, Knowstone, Bishop's Nympton (G. and J., 1948, and the best six of the week) and Mariansleigh, where the Rector, the Rev. H. G. Tucker, with three rings of six under his control, showed an amazing knowledge of North Devon bells. At 11.20 p.m. Robin Leale arrived by car, having left Teddington in the late afternoon, so that he could join the writer in his big day on the morrow.

THE 1,000th

The opportunity to ring a peal on the famous bells at Pilton was very much appreciated, and it was a most suitable place for the writer's 1,000th. Only two other peals have been rung here—Stedman Triples in 1921 and Rutland in 1961, and it was important that a high standard of striking should be maintained. As we could not start until 10.30 a.m. we had a short ring at Filleigh on the way and were met at Pilton Church by Mr. A. Griffiths. Peter Lawrence, our tape recording expert, was detailed to get a good recording here on all three recorders. The bells are a fine 'old-style' ring which have been eight since 1853, but they certainly require ringing, and plenty of perspiration was lost by the end of the peal! Norman Mallett, of Exeter, had been specially invited, as he used to live at Barnstaple, and it was a pleasure to have Tom Sone, who called the writer's fourth peal in November, 1931, and Robin Leale, with whom he has rung 100 peals, taking part. The usual congratulations from the band ended a rather tense morning!

After lunch and a farewell to Robin, who was returning immediately to London (it was his first peal since September, 1963) we decided to abandon the peal attempt at Braughton in the afternoon. It was such a hot day that we confined ourselves to a short ring and spent the time on the beach at Saunton Sands, and later at Croyde Bay. In the evening, at the George Hotel, South Molton, the landlady specially requested us to ring handbells in the lounge bar and to play a recording of some of our ringing for the benefit of the customers. It was a joy when Mr. James G. A. Prior, who was staying at Exford, came into the bar at 10.15 a.m. to offer his congratulations and, of course, enjoy a drink! He took part in the writer's first peal as conductor on December 2nd, 1933, at St. Olave's, Hart Street, London.

CHULMLEIGH AND SIX MORE TOWERS

Our venue for August 27th was at the very fine church and tower of Chulmleigh. Phil Mehew made a good job of the tenor to Yorkshire at a brisk pace and the lower in peal was favourably commented on by several listeners. We drove over to the Fountain Inn, North Tawton, for lunch, where we were very pleased to meet Mr. Aubrey L. Bennett, who had travelled up from Buckfastleigh to spend the afternoon with us. We knew two days beforehand that we could not attempt a peal at North Tawton, owing to the sudden death of a cousin of the local captain, Mr. R. J. Bennett. However, we were able to get Aubrey two new towers, Down St. Mary and Colebrooke, and also rang at Zeal Monachorum, before saying farewell to him at Yeoford Station at 6.45 p.m., with many thanks from our band for all he had done for us. Then we continued to Bow, Lapford, and finished the day on the very fine Taylor six at Chawleigh. Incidentally, the belfry at Down St. Mary is overflowing with shields and certificates from striking competitions, as they have been the champion six-bell team of Devon for many years.

APPLEDORE AND BIDEFORD

For August 28th we were booked for two very fine Taylor rings at Appledore and Bideford. Appledore has a ground-floor ringing room and we decided to leave the door open leading to the churchyard. For this comfort we had to endure plenty of noise and talking from men working outside in spite of a notice pinned on the door! However, a good peal of Rutland was scored and we rushed back to Bideford for a hurried lunch so as to be outside Bideford Church at 3 p.m. This is another tower where only three previous peals had been rung, Double Norwich in 1921, Grandsire Triples in 1935 and Bristol in 1963. Mr. F. H. Parsons met us, and Phil Mehew proved for the fifth time that he can call this composition of Lincolnshire! Bill Deason scored his 200th peal and we were all delighted to ring a peal at such a 'rare' tower. We had a quick ring at Weare Giffard, and returned to our headquarters to meet the photographer of the 'Echo and Express.'

CHITTLEHAMPTON AND SEVEN MORE TOWERS

The end of a busy week was approaching and as we had scored 100 per cent. so far it was decided to ring Bristol on another excellent Taylor ring, which is hung in Devonshire's most decorated tower. With young David Hilling conducting in a confident manner, David Leach was able to complete his first three peals of Surprise Major in a week, justifying the confidence placed in him. After lunch at the local inn, we visited Atherington, Yarnscombe, High Bickington (very long draught), Burrington (the writer's 2,575th tower), Ashreigney, King's Nympton and Warkleigh. We returned home via Chittlehampton to record the Pilton ringers on their outing, having heard them ring at Chulmleigh as well.

On the way home on Sunday, August 30th, we enjoyed a ring on the wonderful Taylor bells at Tiverton.

Thus ended a very successful week in which all enjoyed themselves, and we split up to continue our various ways home. We would like to thank all the incumbents for giving us permission to ring, both for peals and touches. Tom Sone and the writer called in at the George Hotel, Taunton, to wish 'Good luck' to Tom Lock and several of his party, who were starting their annual peal week, and we arrived back in Dorking at 7.30 p.m., a little tired, but contented. A. P. C.

OUTING

ROTHERHAM PARISH CHURCH

For this year's outing Rotherham Parish Church ringers decided to travel by private cars instead of the usual coach and combined a visit to the Shakespeare Exhibition at Stratford-on-Avon with ringing at three towers—Southwell Minster, Wigston Magna and Stratford-on-Avon.

The respective good qualities of all these bells were thoroughly enjoyed and the ringing included Grandsire and Stedman Caters and various standard eight-bell methods, including Yorkshire, Cambridge and Superlative.

All our hosts were most helpful in the arrangements they made for us—Mr. Foster at Southwell, Miss Joy Watkin, Mr. Carter and Mr. Smith at Wigston, and Mr. Stead at Stratford-on-Avon. We are grateful for the facilities made available by them and the various church authorities concerned, all of which combined to make a happy and memorable day. N. C.

OBITUARY

MR. L. A. GOODENOUGH

To his many ringing friends the news of the death of Mr. Lewis Albert Goodenough will have come as a great shock.

Born at Aldbury, in Hertfordshire, in 1891, he lived for some years at St. Albans and here, at the Cathedral, his ringing career started.

Having learned to handle a bell, he spent some three years as a tenor man, covering to Triples and Doubles.

Realising the beauty of change ringing, he gradually developed a determination to get 'inside,' but it was not until he settled in Luton, during the first world war, that he really found an outlet for his great talent. At that time Luton Parish Church had a keen and progressive band of change ringers, who soon discovered that this newcomer had possibilities as a conductor, and in 1918 he became tower captain, a position he held for 45 years. In 1919 he called his first peal at Luton—Thurstans' Stedman Triples. This was followed in 1920 by a peal of Double Norwich.

In the next year or so Cambridge and Superlative were added to the list and in 1925 a peal of Bristol was scored. All these peals were the first in the methods by an entirely local band, and the Bristol was the first in the county. In 1931, after several attempts, a peal of London was rung and this missed being the first in the county by only a few days—it was the first in the county by a local band!

In 1932 he called the last peal on the old eight at Luton, and in 1950 he called the first peal (Stedman Caters) on the new ring of ten.

Unfortunately, no complete record of his peals has so far come to light, but should it be possible to compile one it will be published later. He was for nearly 50 years a most regular Sunday service ringer at the beautiful Church of St. Mary, Luton. For the past two years his health had been perceptibly failing, and he died peacefully at his home on August 25th.

AN APPRECIATION

Lewis Albert Goodenough, born in the beautiful village of Aldbury in Hertfordshire, was a man who had a fine sense of civic pride and became very attached to Luton, the town of his adoption, and where he spent all his life, from early manhood.

A man of parts, he was, among other things, a keen horticulturalist. His exploits in the art of chancing are well known but he was perhaps most distinguished for the faithful manner in which he carried out what he always held to be a ringer's first duty, that of ringing for Sunday service. A

BELLS

Eight ringers climb the twisting stair,
Out of the evening's freezing air,
They climb the steps up to the tower
To see the bellropes hanging there.
Each takes his place beside a bell.
The sally grasps; all study well.
In order due the bells ring out,
Their sound is heard o'er hill and dell.
The master calls, the bells go round.
High o'er the town their voices sound;
A change of peal now fills the air.
Heartens the traveller homeward bound.
So, week by week for church they ring.
At times for weddings they will sing;
A funeral knell they sometimes toll.
In joyful days glad tidings bring.

J. POLLARD.

Elland, Yorks.

superb bell-handler, he was never late either for service or practice ringing, and prior to his last long illness (about two years) he was one of the ever-presents.

His loss will be more keenly felt than words can express.

On August 28th a service in Luton Parish Church preceded cremation. Luton Crematorium stands on the hill to the eastern side of the town and well back from the busy Hitchin Road. It is a place of beauty and has an atmosphere of quiet repose and of peace, and it was here, in the presence of the devoted wife whose tender ministrations brought him comfort through his long illness that we said goodbye to the mortal remains of Lewis Goodenough. The solemn words of committal were followed by soft music—'Jesus, joy of man's desiring.'

As the mourners, including a strong representation from Luton belfry and also of his employers, moved reverently through the doors and into the clear sunlight, one recalled the words of St. John the Divine—'And there shall be no more death, nor sorrow nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain.'

WENTWORTH RINGERS AT FOUNDRY

On September 5th a coach party of ringers and friends from Wentworth, Rawmarsh and Bradford, Yorks, visited the Bell Foundry at Loughborough. We arrived there in good time despite early morning fog north of Nottingham. Mr. Paul Taylor showed us round, and amongst other things we saw the Lavenham tenor, a carillon for Newcastle and a five from Molland (Devonshire) awaiting attention. We failed to 'bong' out a course of Grandsire Double on these bells! We enjoyed the experience of ringing on the foundry bells and agreed that they were far too heavy for us!

On to Ashby-de-la-Zouch for lunch and a ring on the eight bells of St. Helen's (16 cwt.). The long draught of rope did not deter us from enjoying these bells whilst the non-ringers had a look round the delightful church and castle grounds. Two more towers were visited in the afternoon—St. George's, Ticknall (6, 11 cwt.) and Melbourne (8, 15 cwt.). At Ticknall we aspired to the heights of Cambridge Surprise Minor. The ringing encouraged the old ladies in the nearby cottages to venture out and they waved us off afterwards. (I wonder why?) At Melbourne ringing took place in the church—this is one of Derbyshire's finest churches.

We took tea at Derby in a Chinese restaurant and then on the way home we visited Ripley (All Saints', 8, 16 cwt.). Here we enjoyed the best bells of the day and the ringing included Spiced Kent and Oxford. Little Bob and Grandsire as well as Plain Bob, rounds and call changes.

A short break was made on the way home for fish and chips, etc., and we arrived in Wentworth at 10 p.m., tired, but having enjoyed the day.

The ringers and non-ringers missed the cheerful face of 'Dan' Archer, who is unfortunately in hospital.

Our sincere thanks are extended to Mr. Taylor at the Bell Foundry, local incumbents for the use of the bells, to the ringers who kindly met us at the various places, and Mrs. King, who organised the meals, to the non-ringers for not being late, and the coach driver, Mr. Lindley.

INFORMAL OUTING IN LONDON

For those not on holiday, August is a slack month for ringing, so an outing does not come amiss. This year we went to London on the 29th, many from North Hertfordshire but some from farther afield—St. Albans, St. Neots, Cambridge and Saffron Walden. Some of the party made such excellent progress that we were able to start ringing St. Dunstan's magnificent ten early. We included Cambridge Royal in the methods rung here, then went to the highlight of the tour—Mears and Stainbank's Foundry. There we saw and heard the new carillon for Fortnum and Mason, and visited the workshops to see both tower and handbells, and the Mears Museum. How many knew or would have realised if they had not been told, that we had walked through the template of Big Ben?

We were early at St. Vedast's, Foster Lane, inconspicuous until you looked up to see the little spire, and went through the beautiful Wren church to climb to the springy-rope six. Meals are not easy to arrange in London for an unknown number, so it was 'fend for yourself.' Those who had brought their own meal were able to enjoy the sunshine, others had varying luck nearby.

Walking down Gresham Street to St. Lawrence Jewry we heard faint sounds—handbells—being rung in a sunken garden. Some people were not wasting good ringing time! St. Lawrence Jewry bells are fine and we had some passable Bristol. Perhaps the fascination of the bells was to blame, but we overstayed our time and had to hurry to St. Matthew's, Bethnal Green. Those with good navigators—or local knowledge—were able to time it so that the bells went up just as the clock-winder came to do his job. . . . However, that did not delay us very long and we did our best to get some good ringing; certainly we entertained some of the local children.

The one-way street system is like a maze, you can see your objective, St. John of Jerusalem, Hackney, but to get to it may be a different matter. Neither is the way up to the ringing chamber straightforward, and the kettledrums behind the organ case marked the passing of various members: when you get to the ropes they are parted by gigantic beams across the floor. The treble was unmanageable until the clock hammer had been encouraged to stay clear of the bell—there are advantages in having experts with you!

Tea problems were much the same as for lunch, but everyone was back in good time at St. John's, Hackney, to await the man with the key. We waited, and waited . . . so we abandoned Hackney and went to the final tower, St. Anne's, Stamford Hill, and finished by ringing the fast, light bells there.

Thank you, Mr. Rowe, for arranging the towers and for guiding us round the Foundry; a score of ringers had a very pleasant day.

J. S.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

The pleasant, warm afternoon of August 29th was ideal for the meeting of the Chertsey District at Send and Ockham. Some 40 ringers turned up and enjoyed methods up to London Minor at Send, till a broken tenor rope brought the afternoon ringing to a halt about 20 minutes before service time. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. C. E. Sylvester.

Following the usual excellent tea, the Guild Master, Mr. D. A. R. May, took the chair for the business meeting. One new junior member from Old Woking was elected and two from Chobham.

Ringing was resumed at Send and Ockham, the ringing being brought to an early conclusion by a broken slider on the tenor. R. C.

Bellringing Finds in Excavations

Dear Sir,—One of the greatest archaeological 'finds' in the history of campanology in this country (Note: similar discoveries have been found abroad) has just been discovered at Winchester, where the site of the tenth century cathedral is being excavated.

Beneath the floor of the tenth century building, which had not previously been disturbed, was found a bell casting pit, with remains of furnace nearby, and inscribed portions of bell-moulding copes, charcoal and bell metal.

At the invitation of the Ministry of Public Works and Buildings I visited Winchester recently and inspected the site of the excavations, and examined the 'finds.' Work will proceed very slowly, and if sufficient parts of any particular moulding cope are discovered they will be pieced together. The metal will be analysed. Meanwhile special attention is being given to the site. The discovery is of especial interest as Saint Ethelwold, who was largely responsible for the rebuilding of the cathedral in the tenth century, is known to have been a bellfounder.—Yours sincerely,

FREDERICK SHARPE.

Bicester, Oxon.

No Comment

Dear Sir,—Some little time ago a peal of Surprise Major was rung with the footnote 'X Surprise Major is not the extension of X Surprise Minor,' or words to that effect. It was the first peal in the Major Method. The Methods Committee have made no comment.—Yours faithfully,

H. POYNER.

Retford, Notts.

An Explanation

Dear Sir,—Your correspondent, Mr. Hughes, is quite correct in his presumption. Part of Rule 15 of the Coventry Diocesan Guild states: 'No peal shall be accepted as a Guild peal unless each ringer taking part in it has paid his subscription for the current year.' One of the ringers in the peal to which he refers had not paid the subscription for 1964 and had no wish to do so for private reasons. Thus it was impossible to ring the peal for that Guild.

The peal could not have been rung for any other Guild or Association for two reasons.

Firstly, it would have shown a marked absence of good taste and good manners, and secondly, there is no other Guild or Association to which the entire band belong.

I fail to see what my secretaryship of the Warwick Archdeaconry District of the Coventry Diocesan Guild has to do with the matter. The peal was arranged and rung by the local band for a definite reason, as indicated by the footnote in the peal columns.—Yours faithfully,

PETER S. BENNETT.

Bearley,
Stratford-upon-Avon.

High Hoyland Bells

Dear Sir,—With reference to recent correspondence regarding the bells of High Hoyland: After the first letter was published in 'The Ringing World' the convener of the Towers and Belfries Committee wrote to the Vicar saying the services of the Council were at his disposal if he wished.—Yours faithfully,

FREDERICK SHARPE.

Launton, Oxon.

Wrong Impression Overseas (?)

Dear Sir,—More and more frequently the 'Ringing World' contains news of the spread of interest in our Exercise overseas. It therefore follows that an increasing number of copies of our journal will go to all parts of the world and be read by Australians, New Zealanders, Africans and Americans.

With this thought in mind I feel that some of the writers who describe outings and tours in our paper's columns should be a little more careful about the image of the English Church bellringer which they convey to these distant countries. Protest has been made before against the use of Christian names in these articles but I am more concerned about the impression one gets, sometimes, of ringers' tours and outings being no more than glorious pub-crawls.

It has taken years of patient hard work by our Guilds and the Central Council to raise the recognised status of the bellringer. I feel that the writers of these articles should read and re-read their work before submitting it for publication; in these writings they have an opportunity to convey a word picture of our English countryside, of the picturesque and historic churches they visit, and of the bells they ring. This is so much more interesting than some of the antics of their members which may have been amusing at the time, but which tend to appear somewhat dull later on in print.

I hasten to add that the above criticism does not apply to all the articles which appear—some of them are of a very high standard and a joy to read.—Yours faithfully,

ARTHUR V. DAVIS.

Bournemouth.

Worcester Cathedral Bells

Dear Sir,—There seems to be some confusion of dates and historic material here. My notes record that Taylors cast a ring of 13 in the year 1868, quite different from 1872 or 1876, as given in Mr. Wratten's letter, but I may be wrong. My notes also record that Sir Edmund Beckett became Lord Grimthorpe in 1866 and he actually designed the ring of 12 at Worcester Cathedral. He had a strong belief that bells to be of good and superior tone should be heavy of metal, also thick in the casting, but few people cared to contradict him during the time big rings were being called for.

'Church Bells' devoted but little space to ringers and ringing and much interesting material sent by contributors failed to find space.

WILLIAM SHEPHERD.

Addlestone, Surrey.

A Quarter at 11 years

Dear Sir,—I notice 'Belfry Gossip' has frequent references to the achievements of the young. I wonder if you would hatch something for Angela Quick of Lyme Regis. I recently called her first quarter thinking her to be 13 or 14 years old. The following week at practice she told us it was her 12th birthday, so she was only 11 when she rang the quarter peal. This made me look through my own records for I thought she must be running me a close race for the youngest Lyme ringer to do such a thing. In fact the record showed that I was six weeks older when scoring my first quarter. Congratulations to Angela. It was a pleasure to conduct the touch for the one who now holds the new record.—Yours sincerely,

ROGER KEFLEY.

Marlborough, Wilts.

Suggestion for Muting

Dear Sir,—Ringers are aware that the 15cwt. bells of Dolgellau Parish Church are rehung and are regularly used on Sunday and for practice; progress albeit is very slow.

I had heard that for reasons of public relations the Barmouth bells have to be rung muted and I have developed a very simple and effective method of muting ours which may be of use to other towers. A 5/16th in. diameter nylon cord with a spliced slip knot is passed around the clapper, which is drawn back to give exactly one inch clearance between it and the bell.

The rope passes through 1/4 in. diameter alkaline pipe pressed into a piece of wood the same height as the bell, the pipe being 3 ins. long and hooked over the lip of the bell. The nylon rope passes through the timson at least four times and is finally clip-hooked to a lug welded to the washer securing the clapper and the headstock. The effect is to mute the bell effectively enough to stop complaint but not enough to stop accurate ringing when the bells are up.

I stake no claims to originality about the method but can claim to have completely eliminated all chafing and worked out a way to mute a ring of eight bells effectively in a matter of five minutes.

So far the citizens of Dolgellau have been tolerant enough not to require their use.

After initial fitting, the rope mutes require no adjustment and being nylon, are completely rot-proof.—Yours faithfully,

E. W. K. WALTON.

Dolgellau, Merioneth. Tower Captain.

'Not All in our Favour'

Dear Sir,—May I express my appreciation of the article by Michael R. Meadows—'Bells—a Nuisance.'

It is right that we enthusiasts should perhaps be reminded that all is not in our favour. Nevertheless we shall no doubt go on ringing away merrily, or madly, however the listener regards it.—Yours faithfully, Helston, Cornwall. D. STEPHENS.

Epitaph to an Old Ringer (?)

Dear Sir,—Prompted by the suggestion of P. B. M. in the 'Ringing World' of August 28th (page 574) to adapt the quoted epitaph to a certain gentleman 'John Higgs,' found in the churchyard at Cheltenham, perhaps we were one to search long and diligently the following might be discovered. But perhaps not!—Yours faithfully,

S. MARSHALL.

Dereham, Norfolk.

Here lies Cornelius Picton Pells.
A famous man for ringing bells.
For ringing bells was his delight
At morning afternoon and night:
His raising, ringing and his fall
Drove many laymen up the wall:
Around his name a tale is spun
That he could 'turn-in' seven ton.
Though other ringers had careers
Within the art he had no peers.
Knock off all comers he could spots
With 'Bourbons' up to 'tinny pots.'
Both 'Queens' and 'tittums' he could call
And even ring 'Original'
Ere destiny caught in its sieve,
A hundred years saw 'Picton' live.
When Gray wrote of the 'parting knells'
The ringer was old Picton Pells.
Behold 'tis said that in his day
(And none there are disputing, Nay.)
Composing had him on his toes,
Now all he does is de-compose.
No one could ere surpass his fame
So, passer-by, revere his name.

GRANDSIRE TRIPLES: THE MAKING OF TOUCHES

EDGAR C. SHEPHERD

Considering the vast quantity of touches of Grandsire Triples appearing in text books and ringing papers it is surprising what a limited number seems to be current in belfries and how unenterprising so many conductors are in a field that offers such variety of calling. The following notes have been compiled with the object of awakening some desire to explore the possibilities of this very flexible method, giving the normal tower captain an interest in expanding his change ringing education and an opportunity to know the joy of introducing some novelty into his own belfry.

Nothing deeply scientific has been attempted here. Emphasis has been laid on the need for paper work, but there is nothing in these paragraphs, we venture to think, that may not be understood and proceeded with if approached with desire and pursued with a little patience.

BEFORE any attempt can be made to construct touches, the student must make himself familiar with two important processes. The one is the writing out (or pricking, as it is sometimes called) of blocks of changes by the treble leads; the other is the method of proof. Both these matters are touched on here, but if the reader is already competent to deal with both he may skip this bit, with the generous recollection, we hope, that there are others not so well informed.

Pricking changes by the treble leads needs some little practice before facility and speed are attained, but with regular and patient attention to the process the student will soon be able to proceed at a good rate. And it must be emphasised here that such knowledge and ability are absolutely necessary if the would-be conductor wishes to achieve the dual aim of understanding the touches provided for him in the text books and making up touches for himself.

If a plain course of Grandsire Triples is examined it will be seen that from 1234567 a plain lead produces a lead 1253746. Experiment would show that a bob lead from 1234567 would produce 1752634, and a single instead of the bob would give us 1572634. These three facts we may set down as under:

Effect of plain lead	Effect of bob lead	Effect of single lead
253746	— 752634	S 572634

It will be noted that we have not troubled to insert the treble, for this bell will always be at the beginning when we prick the leads.

If 253746 is produced by a plain lead from 234567 then it is clear that if another plain lead is rung from 253746 the bells will be changed about in the same way that they were from 234567. In detail this may be stated:

EFFECT OF A PLAIN LEAD

The 2nds.—Place bell stays in 2nds place.
The 3rds.—Place bell moves to 4ths place.
The 4ths.—Place bell moves to 6ths place.
The 5ths.—Place bell moves to 3rds place.
The 6ths.—Place bell moves to 7ths place.
The 7ths.—Place bell moves to 5ths place.
So just as a plain lead from 234567 gave 253746, so a plain lead from 253746 will give 275634, and a plain lead from 275634 will give 267453; and so on until we get back to rounds.

It is excellent practice for the student to prick out a large number of plain courses, starting from leads far removed from the plain course. Such courses as 345267, 534627, 764532, will provide practice in transposing by the lead ends; and if a return is not made to the starting point in five leads then it may be certain that a mistake has been made in the pricking. After some practice the student will find that he can get along quite quickly, but he will always have to check over his work to ensure that no mistake has been made.

Alongside the acquisition of facility in pricking plain leads, attention must obviously be given to the pricking of bob and single leads. Three bobs in succession will bring rounds again, and it will be easy to get plenty of practice in writing out these little touches, starting from any chosen lead and returning to it after three leads.

The student may then experiment with single leads, and find out for himself how many successive singles may be pricked before rounds appears again.

The question of pricking by leads having been examined (not unprofitably, we hope) we must now touch on the matter of proof. The full explanation of what follows must be sought in one of the Grandsire text books or from someone willing and able to explain. Here we state briefly how the truth or falseness of a touch of Grandsire Triples may be established with certainty.

1. If the touch contains bobs only, then if all the backstroke leads of the treble are different, the touch is true.

2. If the touch contains singles as well as bobs, write out all the handstroke and backstroke leads of the treble and make sure they are all different.

It will be seen that touches in which singles are used require more attention in proof than those having bobs only. When bobs only are used in Grandsire Triples no backstroke lead of the treble can recur at handstroke in another part of the touch. Where singles and bobs are used it is quite possible for the handstroke of a treble lead to occur again at backstroke.

Here is a simple example of the falseness that can occur in a touch of Grandsire Triples where both singles and bobs are used. If the two leads marked F are examined it will be seen that the backstroke of the first one is repeated in the handstroke of the second one and that the backstroke of the second one is the same as the handstroke of the first one.

A further interesting and instructive point may be made here. If the student has the curiosity to write out etc.

573426
547632

Portion of a false touch
436527
453726
475632 F
— 264375
— 532764
S 745632 F
764253

every change in the lead following 1532764, and to write out every row in the lead following 1746523, he will find that he has written out the same rows in the reverse order. So, not only are the handstrokes and backstrokes of the treble lead repeated, but a whole lead of changes is repeated.

Note that this falseness can occur without being apparent by inspection of the backstroke leads only.

The other example of falseness occurring through the use of singles is shown in simple form here. It arises when the handstroke lead of the treble is repeated at handstroke somewhere else in the touch, and once again the falseness will not be revealed by an examination of the backstroke leads only.

If the handstrokes of both leads marked F are examined, it will be seen that they are identical; but the difference between this and the previous case is that in this instance the only repetition is one handstroke—quite sufficient, however, to rule out the touch altogether.

The would-be composer should make a note of this last revelation, for it may prevent him from falling into an error that has trapped more than one person. Following a plain lead, in no circumstances must bob, bob, single, be called in succession in Grandsire Triples.

Despite the above rule it must be noted that there is not the same objection to single, bob, bob, single. This succession of calls may often be used very usefully and with good effect, as will be seen later when we examine the plan of certain touches. The student may now like to study S.B.B.S. and find out why this succession is permissible, while B.B.S. is forbidden.

And in this connection he may like to find out why the touch given here is not false, although it begins with bob, bob, single.

The examples of falseness given here are only two of the ways in which the introduction of singles will provide possibilities that must be guarded against, but the only proofs needed are these two:

1. Where bobs only are used, the truth of the backstroke leads of the treble ensures the truth of the touch.

2. Where singles are introduced the truth of all the handstroke and backstroke leads of the treble will ensure the truth of the touch.

'CAMPINGOLOGISTS' PEAL TOUR

Compared with the low level of previous years, the campingologists this year reached lofty heights, thanks to Mr. Rowbottom, on whose farm we stayed for the week. There was a tent as well, but who would forgo the airy comfort of a loft with its smooth floorboards for the sloping ground in a draughty tent? Three out of every 13 campingologists would!

But we had come to ring peals and have a good time socially as well; we passed out with honours on both counts, we thought, with an oh so slight bias towards the latter.

After ringing the initiatory peal of Yorkshire Major at West Hallam on Saturday afternoon it was the turn of F. Hector Bennett to come into his own by giving us his expert opinion of the local brew, which he gave as being excellent both for taste and strength.

Sunday dawned with everyone eagerly awaiting the arrival of one of the greatest composers who ever lived—namely P. G. K. Davies; but it was not until that same evening that the 'pop-pop' of his two-stroke was heard entering the farmyard. Incidentally John Robinson made a point of contending that the former was the greatest composer ever, though whether his tone of voice was sportive or not could not be ascertained.

Ringling for morning service was at Derby Cathedral, and consisted of Yorkshire Royal and Stedman Caters; for evening on the peculiarly fine ring of bells in the town where they have their own brand of tart—Bakewell.

By this time an air of seriousness and anticipation for the tasks ahead showed itself in the faces of the ringers, and the timetable so expertly arranged by our organiser, David Friend, was duly made known and accepted with fervour.

A DISAPPOINTMENT

What a disappointment then that the first peal on Monday morning should be lost through the sixth bell losing its tongue! And with only five courses to go Cambridge Major at Belper ended thus. However, the morale of the party was boosted by the unsuspected success of a handbell peal of Bob Major in Darley Dale belfry and fully restored by a good peal of Aldenham in the afternoon at this same tower, so much so that everyone found it in himself to drink to further successes during the week.

Our ringing appetites whetted and our drinking ones wetted too, we went off on Tuesday morning in our two designated bands, which, by the way, were not the same every day—this state of affairs tends to lead to an 'A' team and a 'B' team. The first band rang a slow but well struck peal on the deep-sounding bells of Ashover; the method was Double Norwich. The afternoon band were successful in an attempt for Lincolnshire Major on the light ring at Fairfield.

In case the reader should be wondering at this stage how two separate bands for Major can be found from thirteen campingologists, it shall be explained. The fact is that there were less ringers this year than usual, and our numbers were supplemented from day to day by Ian M. Holland, Geoffrey N. Goodall, Gordon A. Halls and Christopher Hughes, all local ringers.

On a suggestion from P. G. K. D. spliced Plain Bob and Cambridge Major was the order at Ripley on Wednesday morning, and this was successfully rung. Meanwhile another peal of Bob Major was achieved on handbells after meeting two short for Cambridge Maximus. The loft was chosen as the place where the attempt should take place, so that the rats might be frightened away from our 'cornflakes' and other foodstuffs.

A peal of London Major was brought round in the afternoon at Ilkeston, though it will not appear in the peal columns. The conductor called a bob one lead prematurely (i.e. at Vths) and not until the next lead head were the bells right again. This decision that the peal should not be counted was arrived at by a democratic vote by all the members of the band.

Thursday was a black day—lost were Rutland Major at Staveley and nine Surprise Minor at Etwell. These abortive attempts were due in part to over-indulgence the previous night and to the antics of our only two members who were called to the bar early in life. The culprits' names? Easy. Their antics? I dare not.

Although come Friday everyone was feeling the cumulative and enervating effects of lack of wholesome and regular meals, short sleeping hours and blistered hands, nevertheless it was our most noteworthy day, three peals being brought round—Cambridge Royal at Duffield in the morning and Yorkshire Major at Matlock and Cambridge Major at St. Luke's, Derby, in the afternoon.

This last named peal is worthy of special mention, since the slender tower has the effect on the bells of making them either 'drop' on the ringer or nearly go over, and without any warning.

Weary now Saturday morning, we cancelled the programmed peal at Greasley. More the surprise then that the peal of Yorkshire Royal at St. Mary's Nottingham, should be a fine effort, taking the mixed band that it was into consideration.

Our tour virtually ended here at St. Mary's (of 'Part ends are such sweet sorrow'), half the party returning home that same evening and the rest the following day.

Our thanks go to Mr. Roobottom in particular for his kind and generous hospitality, and two sons, for their help in all matters.

Thank you, clergy, for letting us ring your bells; thank you local ringers, who met us and saw us suited. L.G.

FINEDON BELLS REHUNG

The bells of St. Mary the Virgin, Finedon, Northants, have been rehung on ball bearings by Taylors, of Loughborough, and a special service of thanksgiving was held on August 29th. The service was conducted by the Vicar of Finedon, the Rev. J. R. Gill, and the preacher was the Rev. W. C. Knight, of Bozeat, the local branch chairman of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild.

Several ringers had travelled considerable distances to be present, and the bells were kept ringing throughout the greater part of the afternoon and evening. The ringing ranged from rounds to London, and many comments were passed on the excellence of the eight and the fine job of restoration which has been done. In fact Finedon practice night, which is Thursday, looks like becoming very popular with ringers throughout the county.

MR. WHITAKER'S SUGGESTIONS

Mr. W. G. Wilson writes:

It is perfectly true that in the early days of change ringing it was difficult to move with accuracy more than one place at a time, but I suspect the real reasons why change ringing has been based on the movement of the bells by one position at a time are that it started on two, three or four bells only and also that it is natural to move one step at a time. Try going up (or down) your tower staircase more than one step at a time.

It might well be practicable to ring in this manner, without spoiling the rhythm, on a well-hung ring of eight or ten, but difficulties would come when you met short and had to ring six. The distance moved each time would then be up to half the compass or span. Mr. Whitaker's first example seems to be a mixture of the two systems, in order to keep the whole pulls at front and back he has had to turn the hunting into a dodging hunt with a varied movement of 1, 2 or 3 positions. It would be very difficult in these circumstances to preserve the rhythm.

His second system is much more regular and logical, so long as it remains a 'skipping' hunt. If I understand him rightly, however, his plain bob lead end would be 13527486, obtained by making all the bells above second place lay still—something that has never found favour among ringers.

I know of nothing to stop a band of ringers trying either of these systems—except that they won't! Much more regular and likely variations of our normal method ringing have been introduced in the past only to remain forgotten by the Exercise. There have been double and treble dodging hunts. Erin is rung for the novelty of it and then rejected. Duffield, a theoretically perfect principle, has proved too monotonous to hold a band's interest. The Alliance methods, a logical mixture of Plain and Treble Bob, are only used because they provide additional methods for multi-method peals of Minor.

On eight bells and more there are thousands of methods available, based on the standard techniques of change ringing and providing more than adequate variety for those bands able and wishing to use them. If simple Plain Bob type methods are desired, then in addition to the Reverse, Double, Little and Gainsborough versions, the ringing can be varied by using different bells as the hunt bell or by interchanging the hand- and backstrokes. Not nearly as easy, this, as it sounds.

But Mr. Whitaker should continue his investigations and extend them to the fruitful field of composition. He will add to his knowledge of our art and, who knows, may well succeed in finding a modern equivalent of Middleton's peal of Cambridge Major, or Parker's 12-part Grandfire Triples or Thurstan's 4-part Stedman.

DALHAM BELLS RUNG AGAIN

For approximately 25 years the five bells at Dalham, Suffolk, have not been rung. An inspection by Mr. R. Clouston in February, 1963, revealed a most interesting and unusual mediæval frame, or bell cage, 13ft. 10ins. high by 16ft. square in plan, with all the bells sound and apparently in a ringable state. (Tenor 13½ cwt.)

In July some ringers from Fordham (Cambs) visited the tower and spent some time in cleaning, greasing, tightening up and fitting ropes. After another visit it was decided to take a band of ringers and, joined by Mr. Clouston, they were successful in ringing the five bells to call changes and Bob Doubles. The general opinion was that the bells go quite well and have a fine tone.

ARCHDEACONRY OF HALIFAX

A meeting of the Guild was held on September 5th at St. Matthew's Church, Northwram. Ringing commenced at 2.30 after the marriage of local parishioners, until 4.30, when the Rev. T. A. Wharton conducted Evensong. During tea, ably provided by the local ringers, we heard a recording of church bells. We were happy to welcome visitors from Todmorden, Brecon and Scotland. Ringing, including Oxford and Kent Spliced, Double Norwich, Oswald Delight and rounds by an all-ladies band, was enjoyed until nine o'clock, when the meeting closed. W. M.

WEST COUNTRY OUTING

On Saturday, August 29th, the Surprise practice band of East Somerset and West Wilts took a trip to Gloucestershire and Warwickshire. The organising genius of Mr. Norman Knee brought together a party from Warminster, Frome, North Bradley and Melksham at a very early hour, so that before 9 a.m. we were ringing at Painswick. Stedman Cinques would not go, but Yorkshire and Grandsire Caters went excellently. Greatly encouraged by this, we moved on to Salford Priors, where Cambridge, Rutland and London were competently tapped off.

The pretty village of Tanworth-in-Arden stands high on a wooded spur of the Arden country, complete with village green, a magnificent chestnut tree, a lovely church with a delightful bucolic spire and a beautifully mellow ring of eight bells. Here we were privileged to ring Stedman for a wedding, and this was followed by Cambridge and Bristol.

At Solihull we were met by Mr. J. C. Dale, the Ringing Master, and most of the local band, including that fine old veteran Mr. William Leeson, whose service to Solihull Church now runs to more than 60 years of unselfish devotion. The fine ring of ten provided Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Plain Bob Royal and a good course of Rutland.

The pleasant run of 13 miles to Warwick passed all too soon, but it was a pleasure to come again to St. Nicholas' Church to meet Mr. Garner-Hayward, Mr. Frank Perrins and Mrs. Perrins. The fine ring of eight responded kindly to our treatment, and the ringing included a course of Bristol. Teas at the Warwick Cafe were of two kinds, 'penny plain and twopence coloured,' but either kind at this pleasant little place can be recommended.

Northleach was our last call and here the ringing was rather mixed. Cambridge, Yorkshire and London gave no trouble, but Bristol was obstinate and had to be abandoned. Despite this last setback it was agreed during the merry run home that the ringing had been of a high standard throughout the day. The hospitality received was much appreciated.

'BLUEBELL LINE' COUNTRY

Following last year's outing, another party of ringers and friends from Hertfordshire, Surrey and Hampshire again visited 'Bluebell Railway Land' on August 30th. A start was made at Maresfield, where half an hour's ringing on the light ring of six before proceeding to Newick. The journey from Newick to Fletching was enlivened for two cars by a disastrous error in navigation, giving the passengers a second view of Newick Green before reaching Fletching, where we found a church perhaps unique in having a chancel wider than its nave. Here in 1264 Simon de Montfort spent the night in vigil before the Battle of Lewes. Being 700 years later, our tastes differed, and Grandsire and Stedman were the order of the day, while our clerical member decided that this would be his choice of parish in ten years' time.

Thence to Sheffield Park and the railway trip—our old friend of 1963, 'No. 27,' resplendent in S.E. and C.R. livery was one half of the motive power, while the rear of the train was brought up by ex-S.B. and S.C.R. 'Terrier' Fenchurch, recently acquired from British Railways after spending recent years around Hayling Island. After the journey, tea was enlivened by our cleric's stories about bishops, boatmen and bullocks, and by various light engine movements taking place on adjacent tracks. A pleasant half-hour was spent photographing the various locomotives and rolling stock 'on shed,' again the 'Dukedog' and 'Stepney' proved the biggest draws—the latter causing a firm supporter of the works of Sir Nigel Gresley in the party to show signs of admiration for this creation of William Stroudley's genius, while the sight of the 'Dukedog's' firebox gave rise to a feeling of awe in the heart of our ex-fireman.

Time was pressing as we travelled across to Lindfield via the windmill at Chailey and the pleasant ring of eight enhanced our touches of the standard methods and the courses of Cambridge before departing.

SHROPSHIRE FOURS

Dear Sir,—Your correspondent Mr. P. R. Johnson (page 607) is wrong in thinking that the Baschurch bells were recast in 1912. They were rehung by Taylors in plain bearings about then but they were not recast.

This is fortunate as the second bell here is noted by Walters in his survey of Shropshire bells (page 238) as quite the most interesting bell in the county. The inscription is in Flemish and can be translated as:

'Mary. In the year of our Lord MCCCC and XLVII (1447) an Van Venloe.'

The bell is beautifully ornamented with foliated patterns, and with the present fourth at Great Ness is said to have come from Valle Crucis Abbey. The inside of the soundbow is flat from the lip for some distance, and then, after a ridge, follows a more normal profile. The tone is only moderate, the main pitches being 932, 715, 552, 430, and 240 cycles per second.

As has been mentioned in your pages before, founders were often gun founders in the Middle Ages and as there was a national need to encourage the latter, foreign bells are quite rare in England. In fact one list only gives 16 examples. Jan Van Venloe also cast a bell which was at Vowchurch in Herefordshire but was recast last century. Another bell which could be by him is the single bell at Whitton, just outside Ipswich, dated 1441. The lettering on this bell is rather smaller than that at Baschurch.

Of the other Baschurch bells the treble is by an unknown founder about 1500 and the two tenors are by Thomas Clibury II. of Wellington, Salop, 1662.—Yours faithfully, Radlett, Herts. R. W. M. CLOUSTON.

Dear Sir,—P. R. Johnson's excellent article bears out my own findings very well. These and details of the 3-bell towers in the county were published in the 1962 Shropshire Association Report. One small point: there were certainly four bells hung dead at Wentnor when I saw them two years ago, so the other three must have been disposed of since that time.—Yours faithfully, Retford, Notts. H. POYNER.

During an outing ably organised by the Branch
Ringing Master, Mr. H. W.
Knight, Somerset ringers on September 5th pulled up in peal the 12 bells of Exeter Cathedral. This is an achievement rarely performed, and our correspondent, who considers that the publication of names would be an embarrassment to some, feels that he must mention that Mr. Knight 'trebled up' wonderfully in a 'not too bad an effort, although far from perfect.'

We thank R.B. for his contribution to meet the extra postage during the postal dislocation.

Would peal statisticians please note that the report of a peal rung at Helmshore for the Lancashire Association on June 6th, and appearing in the 'R.W.' of July 3rd (p. 455), is duplicated in the issue of July 10th (p. 471).

There are still a few vacancies for the Grantley Hall, Ripon, training course from 25th—27th September, and applications should be made to the Warden at the Hall (Tel Sawley 259). Ripon and two other towers will be available for practical sessions.

During the recent Lancashire peal week two peals of Seven Spliced Surprise Major were lost in the last half-hour due to a shift course. By a strange coincidence both peals were lost in exactly the same change—in the first attempt 2-3 crossing and in the second attempt 4-5 crossing.

The holiday of Mr. Jeater has meant that there has been a delay in dealing with subscription renewals and new subscriptions during the past fortnight. A notice in the 'Ringing World' announcing his holiday was not apparently observed. Will anyone who has not received his 'R.W.' please communicate with the Editor.

Mr. Aubrey L. Bennett arranged another of his half-day excursions on September 9th, when Buckfast Abbey proved to be a popular venue.
Three members of the community joined in the ringing. Pleasure was expressed at the presence of Mr. Tom Myers when he took part in ringing after tea at Broadhempston and Abboiskerswell.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The Tyneside and Birmingham Ringers' Peal Week was a far more successful event than indicated by the three peals recorded on page 622. In fact, 10 peals were rung, the additional seven appearing in this issue. It was a week of good ringing, good company and good food. The non-appearance of the remainder was due to the Editor being on holiday and those dealing with the make-up not realising they were part of the original section.

At the annual general meeting of the National Police Guild on September 26th, the first tower open is now to be St. Giles-in-the-Fields and not St. James', Clerkenwell, as shown on the circulated list. Time unaltered.

Because of circumstances beyond control, it has been necessary to postpone the quarterly meeting of the Derby Diocesan Association from October 3rd to October 10th. Details will be announced in the 'Ringing World' as soon as possible.

Owing to increased charges and also that the guest of honour, the Dean of Guildford,
(Bishop G. Clarkson), has shingles, Guildford,
Diocesan Guild decided on Saturday to postpone their annual dinner fixed for October 3rd at the Stoke Hotel, Guildford. It will be held at Newlands Corner Hotel on November 28th.

Mr. R. Batton of Sturry, Canterbury is attempting to trace the history of the bells of St. Nicholas' Church, Sturry. He would appreciate any information readers could supply concerning the 2nd bell of the ring of 5 in the tower prior to 1710, since this would either be a Joseph Hatch bell installed in 1622 with the other 4 or would be of more ancient origin.

In honour of his 81st birthday, Mr. John Willis, chairman of the Kent County Association, 'stood' the tea at the Ashford District meeting at Saltwood on September 5th. He was applauded on both counts. Among business transacted was a proposal, in conjunction with the Kent Education Committee, to hold a course on ringing. The collection at the service was for Brabourne Bells Restoration Fund. Mr. D. H. Gower, secretary of the local band, organised the tea.

SOME WISDOM AMID ABSURDITIES

By The Rev. J. G. M. SCOTT

THE disease of pontificating on matters about which they knew little was an occupational one to many Victorian clergymen, and the Rev. H. R. Haweis was no exception. We can smile often at his absurd remarks about 'rusty' bells and 'rivets' in timber frames, and at his apparently complete ignorance even of the very existence of the art of change-ringing.

But isn't it all the more remarkable that at the same time Mr. Haweis happened on some facts which were then little thought of by far more knowledgeable men, and which still need all the emphasis we can give them? And has not Mr. Fidler done Haweis an injustice and the Exercise a disservice by laughing at Mr. Haweis whether he was right or wrong?

Mr. Fidler supposes that the bells described by Haweis had no gudgeons or bearings, because the belfry was hardly ever visited. But some of us are finding nowadays that when bells have been fitted with ball-bearings which need attention only once in ten years or so, the other little jobs that used to get done when the plain bearings were oiled don't even get noticed.

'The better the ascent, the more chance there is of the belfry being visited and cared for,' says Mr. Haweis. And Mr. Fidler uses this remark as a basis for one of his little jokes; has he, with his huge experience of belfries, never noticed how true this statement is? Has he never marvelled at P.C.C.'s which expect one of their churchpeople, often out of the goodness of his heart, to look after their bells, and expect him to risk his neck and ruin his clothes every time he does it? Has he never stood at the bottom of a crooked, wormy ladder and known that it's ten to one that the bells at the top haven't been properly looked after? Three rousing cheers for Mr. Haweis, say I, and if Mr. Fidler had abated his determination to be funny at all costs I know he'd say it too.

The very idea of calling anybody a "bell stoker" is ridiculous, of course. But has Mr. Fidler never been filled with helpless rage to find a belfry which he left ten years before 'like a fine engine room in a first-class factory' looking like a corner of the municipal dump? And can't he give Haweis the credit for some wisdom in spite of all his ignorance, when he urges regular painting? It was nothing like so grave a problem in 1871; but now iron and steel frames and gear which cost thousands of pounds to install are rotting away because people still won't heed Mr. Haweis's warning.

Again, when Haweis wrote his article, there was a very strong body of opinion among architects, clergymen and others that most of the damage to masonry in towers was caused by 'vibration' from the actual sound of the bells. This idea is still not dead; people still believe that timber frames are better than wood because they 'don't carry the vibrations to the stonework like metal does.' When Haweis speaks of the Prussian guns not damaging Strasbourg Cathedral it is the sound that he is talking about: the impact and blast of bombs is quite beside the point. When he speaks of 'injury to house-property' — not 'damage': that is Mr. Fidler's word — he means the lowering of value, not structural damage; this issue, too, is not by any means dead. And he is ahead of his time when he tells us that towers are 'rocked down by the friction of coarse machinery'; although 'friction' is not quite the word we'd use today, the fact remains that many towers in his day were being rocked down by loose or badly-designed frames, and many are still undergoing the process every Sunday in 1964.

By all means let's laugh at Mr. Haweis's silly mistakes and at the way he lays down the law with so very little knowledge at his command; but do let's do him justice too; some of the lessons he taught are still taking an awful lot of learning.

MR. WILFRED WILLIAMS TAKES AN ELITE PEAL BAND TO YORKSHIRE

NEARLY 20 people's names appear in the peal reports, and on an average there were 14 of us on tour. The menu provided us with 15 peal attempts, 11 of which proved successful, and with a good selection of Yorkshire's wonderful treasury of churches and bells, not to mention other welcome commodities. A well-known film was being shown at a cinema in Bradford, and that gave us an idea for this year. It was to be 'a hard day's night' (eight times repeated).

The first night was spent at the Midland, Leicester. On the Saturday morning, being unable to ring at St. John's, Leicester, we started off with a peal of London Royal at the Loughborough Foundry. This year we had six tens on the list, and lovely ones, too. Three peals of London Royal were scored into the bargain. We had some lovely eights as well. The first was at Bottesford, Leics, where we rang Yorkshire. This church has a chancel which might well be mistaken for a mausoleum.

There were two chaplains in attendance throughout the tour. Clearly someone felt they were needed. Confidentially, they needed chaplains themselves, but this was hardly a 'retreat'.

That night we found our way to the Northgate Hotel, Bradford. Locals tried to misdirect us! One man was standing in the North Gate but didn't know where the North Gate was. I wonder if he knew where the nearest Bass house was. It was not long before we located a nice large red triangle. A good sign!

On Sunday morning those of us who went to the 8 a.m. Holy Communion at Bradford Cathedral were treated to a sermon. All of us then descended on Mr. Barton and his ringers, who kindly allowed us to ring their bells for the 10.30 service at Pudsey. Back at Bradford, we took full advantage of the week-end emptiness of the city by ringing a peal of Yorkshire Royal at the Cathedral. Our thanks are due to Gillian Schofield and her father for their hospitality on this and other occasions.

Monday mornings are Monday mornings. The writer nearly missed his breakfast. Nevertheless we made our way up to Heptonstall through the Yorkshire mist and rain and while some of us admired the church eight trusty men tapped out London for one of the best peals of the week. Here they have been spending a £30,000 legacy on modernising the interior of the church. It is a striking example of how well modern furnishings designed according to modern liturgical principles can fit into an older church. And the Rector's wife kindly treated us to coffee.

PROVOKING FATE

We can recommend the 'Queen' at Huddersfield for a good lunch. We can also recommend Marsden bells. Marsden, however, was the scene of the week's tragedy. On Monday afternoon we settled down to Pudsey Royal, and after 3½ hours we had rung some 4,920 changes, with three leads to go. Then, wham!—and the writer stared speechlessly at a pile of rope in front of him. The moral seems to be this. Never make irreverent remarks about your Yorkshire tail-end before starting for a peal. It only provokes fate!

There's plenty of rhubarb in this part of Yorkshire. Ralph told us that they sell it in France in exchange for champagne. We passed several fields of rhubarb on the way to Liversedge on Tuesday. Here we rang Lincolnshire on a pleasant old eight. The reverend back-enders nearly insisted on making the rest of the band subscribe to the Clerical Guild, ringing the peal for them. Meanwhile the rest of the party went to Thornhill (6) with Mr. Fred Hodgson.

After a good lunch at Cleckheaton, we said goodbye to Stan Mason and went on to Ossett to ring the second peal of London Royal of the tour on the grand 10 there. Three of us went on to Leeds for a meal in the company of Mrs. Ella Edwards. As if we couldn't have enough of good Taylor bells, we went to Rothwell to join the local band at practice. The bells are a beautiful eight, recast 13 years ago. Mr. Tom Strangeways and his band invited us to join in, and we rang in two courses of the most beautifully-struck Double Norwich Major that one could wish to hear.

On Wednesday morning the method at Batley was Glasgow, but this was abandoned after a course or so. Spliced proved equally difficult for some unknown reason. At a half-lead in London, Wilfred was surprised to see Peter making sevenths under him, while Ralph obliged by making 'sixths'. If you ever visit this tower, read 'The Requiem of the late Three Bells of Batley Church,' inscribed on the tower wall. Here is the last verse:

'And now our changes all are rung,
Here ends our dying song;
Our last! our final peal is done,
Farewell! Farewell! Ding Dong.'
Suitable thoughts for the end of a peal tour?

But we had not finished our tour by any means. On to Doncaster for a peal of London Major on the modern 30cwt. eight.

THE DREAM PICTURE

We stayed that night at the Beverley Arms, Beverley, where the landlord went off to bed leaving us with a bucket of beer on a 'sale or return basis.' (We did both!) Wilfred fell asleep in the lounge and, unbeknown to him, was photographed with the bucket on the table in front of him, surrounded libellously by empty glasses, with a picture of Beverley Minster above him: (the subject of his dreams?). a large chrysanthemum in his buttonhole and a giant model poodle in his arms. All had been cleared away again before he awoke.

Thursday dawned, and we were all getting teed up for the big job of the week. But first a visit to Hedon, a fine, large church with a splendid organ which Roger proceeded to put through its paces, while the band upstairs joined in Anglican chants while raising the bells in peal. A peal of Bristol was successfully rung on the fine eight here, and then we really got down to business. Beverley Minster is probably as fine a church as England possesses, and the bells are in keeping. In the South Tower hangs 'Great John,' all seven tons of him, while in the North Tower hangs the famous ring of ten with a tenor of 41½ cwt. We settled down to a good peal of Pudsey Royal, which we felt was the climax of the week. Wilfred's dreams of the night before were fulfilled.

RESIDENTS REASONABLE

We then transferred our headquarters to the Windmill Hotel, York, and on Friday morning rang another peal of Bristol at Norton, just outside Malton. The bells are loud outside, and there were some local residents outside, afterwards who felt that three hours was too much. However, they were quite reasonable and we venture to express the hope that some well-wisher will do something to reduce the volume of sound here, as has been done so well in many towers.

At Bridlington Priory, a fiasco developed similar to the one at Batley. Some of these bells are 'benders,' so perhaps 35 minutes was enough. That evening Mr. Harold Walker and some of his band welcomed us to York Minster, where we rang touches of Stedman Cinques and a half-course of Cambridge Maximus, which made a good finish to the day's ringing.

By now the weather had shown marked improvement, which made our journey all the more pleasant on Saturday morning when we went up to Robin Hood's Bay, passing on the

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE LADIES' GUILD

The Ladies' Guild made history on September 12th by ringing a peal of Stedman Cinques at Leicester Cathedral. This was the first 12-bell peal for the Guild: there was an unsuccessful attempt at Cardiff Central Council meeting in 1962 at St. Woolos' Cathedral, Newport.

The Guild president (Mrs. Olive Barnett) was represented by her daughter, Mrs. Jean Woolford. It is interesting to note that Jean's grandmother, Mrs. F. I. Hairs, rang in the first 10-bell peal by the ladies—Stedman Caters at St. Clement Danes' on January 20th, 1926. Participating in that peal was Mrs. Emma Deal, who scored the double event by ringing again on this occasion. As a grandmother her performance is particularly meritorious.

The Guild treasurer, Miss J. Beresford, who this year rang her 500th peal, conducted, and the Guild secretary, Miss D. Colgate, rang the tenor. There were three District secretaries participating—Miss Sheila Dobbie (Kent), Miss S. Chesterton (Maldstone) and Mrs. J. S. King (South Wales)—and a past president, Mrs. Jill Staniforth.

THE LADIES' GUILD

A quarterly meeting of the Western District was held at Compton Martin on September 12th. A warm and sunny day emphasised the attractive setting of this Somerset village, and the welcome afforded to the members was no less warm. Ringing in the afternoon included a ladies' touch of Stedman Doubles.

The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. R. N. Bathgate, who gave an interesting address. This was followed by an excellent tea in the Church Hall, prepared by local ladies. After the customary vote of thanks by the vice-president, Mrs. Parfrey, a short business meeting was held. Practice meetings are to be held at Yatton on October 20th, and Farmborough on November 16th, and the next quarterly meeting is at Beckington on December 12th. Miss J. Battin (Corston) and Mrs. D. Weeks (Warmley) were re-elected members.

Further ringing with the gentlemen embraced a wide variety of methods. M. de J.

way the Early Warning station at Fylingdales, which presents a strange sight in the middle of the moors.

Fylingdales Church possesses a light ring of eight: bells are noisy inside. Having dined Superlative into our brains for two-and-a-half-hours we finally succumbed to the last-but-one course, when a major trip occurred. A pity. In spite of the noise the ringing had its moments.

We drew the conclusion that it is fatal to have two Edwardses in any peal attempt. Both were in all four failures. But they redeemed themselves in the afternoon at Whitby, when the tour ended with a good peal of London Royal.

We have left till last the celebration of Wilfred's birthday. On Friday night we presented him with a travelling bag containing the famous photograph of himself, suitably signed by the band. And this seems the right point in our story to express our thanks to our organiser for what seemed to us to have been the best tour yet. Thank you, Wilfred. And thank you, too, all the clergy, ringers, hoteliers and others who gave us such a warm welcome to Yorkshire.

Sunday took us our various ways, after ringing at Tadcaster in the morning. 'A hard day's night' was over. But it will not be the last one!

REV. R. O. FRY—A RECTOR

His many friends in the Bath and Wells Diocese, where he was a former general secretary of the Diocesan Association, will congratulate the Rev. Roger O. Fry on his appointment as Rector of Portishead with Clapton-in-Gordano and curate-in-charge of Weston-in-Gordano.

Roger was ordained a deacon in 1958 and served his title at Yeovil. He was senior curate at Portishead. His institution by the Lord Bishop of Bath and Wells took place last Tuesday.

JAM JARS AND OLD IRON PAID FOR RESTORATION

The peal rung at Bishampton, Worcs. as a farewell tribute to the retiring Vicar, the Rev. Thomas Wilkinson, on September 4th, recalls how he tackled the raising of over £1,000 for the restoration of the tower and bells.

Shortly after his appointment in 1932 he launched an appeal for the money by saving old jam jars, old iron and rags. Ringers from all over the country supported his efforts. It was a proud moment for him in November, 1937, when the Bishop of Worcester performed the act of rededication of these bells, which date from 1690.

After the peal Mr. Ralph Perks and Mr. Andrew Jopp thanked the Vicar for his loyal help during the 32 years of his incumbency, and wished him and his wife every happiness for the future in their retirement at Fladbury.

A WEYMOUTH VETERAN

Mr. F. Stedman, whose 90th birthday was commemorated by a quarter peal at Wyke Regis (see page 641), was born at Dewchurch, Herefordshire, and started ringing at the age of 14. His early ringing was at Hereford and Monmouth, later moving to Swansea, where he was well known in peal-ringing circles.

He came to Weymouth in 1925 and joined the Wyke Regis tower. Since 1947 he has been tower captain. Despite his age, he is in his place every Sunday morning and evening and seldom misses a practice.

BROMLEY RINGER A BRIDE

The marriage took place on September 5th at the Church of St. Luke, Bromley Common, of Miss Rosemary M. Jenkins, a well-known ringer from the Lewisham District of the Kent County Association, and Mr. Brian D. Lanaway. Rosemary has for some years been a member of Bromley Common band, and has also been of great assistance to the band of Bromley Parish Church.

The bride wore a dress of silk brocade, with a long veil and coronet of orange blossom. She was attended by her two sisters and the bridegroom's sister, who wore pale blue, and by her niece, who was dressed in pink. Appropriately the theme of the address was the bells and their similarity to marriage.

The bells were rung before and after the ceremony by members of her own band and by friends from the Lewisham District, and the following day a quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor was rung at Bromley Parish Church to mark the occasion by F. Gates 1, Sheila Copping (cond.) 2, Maria E. Kirby 3, P. J. Spice 4, R. T. Newman 5, M. G. Foster 6.

WASHINGTON CATHEDRAL NEWS

During the summer a number of us from Washington have come into contact with several ringers, and have learned just a bit of what a close and wonderful group make up the ringing world. Mr. Wayne Dirksen, visiting England with his wife for a few days this summer, was honoured to stand in with the band at St. Michael's, Cornhill, for a few rounds, and to visit with John Chilcott and his wife for the afternoon. The Dirksens later spent an evening with George Pipe and his wife in Ipswich.

One of our boys, Howard Vickery, has been bicycling through England this summer and I am sure that he has met a number of ringers.

Four ringers travelling through the United States stopped to visit our tower. They were: Mr. E. Clarke Walters (Staffordshire), Mr. Downey (Birmingham), Mr. Eugene Bray (Suffolk) and Mr. Moredant (Oxford). Each came on a day when there was some ringing and offered many valuable comments on our ringing, for which we are most grateful.

We are now eagerly looking forward to the arrival of Mr. Fred Price, of Bournemouth, who is coming next month to instruct our band. He plans to be with us until February, and we are certain that he will prove of the greatest assistance to us.

RICHARD DIRKSEN.

WORCESTER AND DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION

Western Branch

On September 12th the Western Branch paid its first visit to Shrawley for a meeting. St. Mary's Church is a typical Worcestershire village church, its 12th century walls built of the local red sandstone. The tower contains a ring of six bells cast by members of the Rudhall family. The bells hang in plain bearings on the old wooden frame and are not an easy ring; however, some good ringing was heard including London Surprise.

About 40 ringers took their places in the 18th century box pews for the service, 10 others robing with the local choir. At this, his first experience of a ringers' meeting, the Rector told us of the pleasure he felt whenever he heard the Shrawley bells, this being his first church blessed with a ring.

Tea, followed by a meeting, was held in the Village Hall, and before the business began, Mr. R. G. Morris referred to the work of the late Bill Lewis, of St. John's, Worcester. While he was captain at St. John's all ringers were sure of a warm welcome from him. A fine ringer himself, he was always ready with a word of encouragement for a young learner. The meeting stood in silence in memory of a well-loved friend.

Several new members were elected, including the captain and members of the Shrawley team. A vote of thanks was proposed to the Branch secretary, Mr. A. Jopp (including his wife and three under secretaries) for all the work they had done for the Branch, and also to Mr. Westwood, the local captain, for organising the meeting.

Ombersley's fine-toned six were rung in the evening. P. C.

To the Four

Dear Sir,—Please permit me to offer congratulations to the four who rang Pritchard's Bob Major.

We in Bures have given very careful thought to this peal and we all regard this as the very highest achievement: it cannot in any way be compared with double-handed handbells.

Some of us witnessed Bill Simmonds ring a pair of tower bells at Coker to Stedman Triples and the conductor called the most difficult touch possible for these two but could not catch him out so what about Royal to add a bar to their deserved medals!

I wonder if Tony scowled if by any chance the seventh failed to tuck in at backstroke?—Yours sincerely,

LESLIE D. MILLS.

Bures, Suffolk.

The 1,000th Peal

Dear Sir,—It happened that on August 26th I picnicked with my family about a mile from Pilton Church. We were treated while we were there to some of the best Double Norwich I've heard in a long while, rung on an eight which are by no means 'boys' bells,' on a sweltering hot day.

It was a great pleasure to hear later that this was Pat Cannon's 1,000th peal: it was really worthy of the occasion, a milestone in the career of one who has perhaps had more fun poked at him than anyone else in the Exercise, some of it having been contributed by Yours truly.

JOHN G. M. SCOTT.

Clawton Vicarage, Holsworthy, Devon.

Rudeness—a Protest

Dear Sir,—I am very surprised to see the remark by Mr. G. B. Thompson in your issue of September 11th about Hunslet Bob Major. While he may be justified in questioning the notation, his comment on the method itself is quite uncalled for and ought not to have been made. Even if he disapproves of a Reverse Canterbury type of method, which is what Hunslet is, he could say so without being rude.—Yours sincerely,

WILFRID F. MORETON,

Hon. Gen. Sec.,
Yorkshire Association.

Quedgeley Surprise Major

Dear Sir,—The composition of Quedgeley Surprise Major on page 619 of 'The Ringing World' is the reverse of the one by Derek Ogden on page 814 (December 6th, 1963), with the shunt bob moved. It is also true to F.C.H.'s 65432 and 53624, irrespective of incidence.—Yours sincerely, NORMAN SMITH.

Burnley.

Peal at Thorncombe

Dear Sir,—None will dispute that our county boundary gets a bit twisty down in the Chard area, but if our friends down there claim Thorncombe is in Somerset many more times (first a quarter peal and now a peal) we shall have to assume they have successfully annexed it from Dorset.

If they aren't careful we shall bend the boundary a fraction more and pinch Sherborne: we've had our eye on the heaviest eight to go with Queen Camel and Wells Cathedral for a long time!—Yours sincerely,

JOHN BRAIN.

Backwell, Somerset.

More Doubles Queries Answered

Dear Sir,—The method X rung to a peal at Lowdham (page 569) is St. Helen. This method is known also as St. Ippolyts, St. Ann, St. Francis, Piddington and others too numerous to mention.

In the following peals methods have been incorrectly named:

1. Walton-le-Wolds (page 569): Shropham should be called Somerville; Mileham should be called Magdalen; St. Andrew should be called Lapley. (It is doubtful if the St. Andrew in the C.C. Collection was rung.) Norwich should be called Nuffield; Walsingham should be called Wadham.

2. South Newington (page 605): Shropham should be called Somerville; Mileham should be called Magdalen; Norwich should be called Nuffield; Walsingham should be called Wadham; Besthorpe should be called Hudibras; Costessey should be called Campion; St. Andrew should be called Lapley.

3. The Bell Foundry (pages 519 and 594): Shropham, Mileham, Norwich, Walsingham, Besthorpe and Costessey are incorrect (see above).

4. Newtown Lindford (pages 519 and 594): St. Andrew is incorrectly named (see above). I would be obliged if the conductor of the peals at Newtown and the Bell Foundry would inform me as to the 'composition' of Newington, a variation rung in these peals (Newington being another name for Rushall and Newborough as well as being the names of two other variations). Also I would be pleased to learn the 'compositions' of Zennor and Minster rung in the peal at the Bell Foundry. (I assume they are of the New Bob. Huntspell, St. Vedast group, but I have four variations bearing these names.)

The variation, Grandsire—Grandsire Bob with 5th 4th—5th—Antelope Single, called by me St. Gregory (page 597) should be called St. Anne. Other names include Lavender, Minster, St. Benedict and St. Raglan.

The majority of the following methods were rung to peals at Newtown and the Bell Foundry. Many ringers have asked what they were and it is hoped that the table below meets with their approval:

Multi-method Peals

Dear Sir,—Re G. S. G. Joyce's letter (page 560), our Sunday service band at Sapcote have rung the following:

21	Spiced Minor	22—12—62;
24	"	16—2—63;
30	"	26—3—63;
34	"	15—2—64.

All rung at Sapcote.—Yours, etc.,

MICHAEL E. BROWN.

Law of Nuisance

Dear Sir.—I was interested to read Mr. Michael R. Meadows' article on the law of nuisance as applied to church bells. However, I feel that he omits some points which should be mentioned.

Private nuisance is a Common Law tort, that is to say, a civil matter, of which the Criminal Law takes no notice. Mr. Meadows tells us who can sue whom but fails to mention what the purpose of such an action is. Normally, the plaintiff seeks an injunction to restrain the further commission of the nuisance. It may be that he also seeks damages for the harm suffered by him in the enjoyment of his property. Naturally an action for damages is unlikely to be brought by someone who has merely missed his Sunday afternoon nap, but an hotel, for instance, whose business suffered as a result of ringing might well require compensation.

Mr. Meadows further omits to tell us that not only the ringers would be liable in an action for public nuisance: the incumbent is responsible for seeing that no nuisance arises on his premises and could be sued in any action for a nuisance caused by ringing, unless a hand rang without his knowledge or permission.

'Clearly some noises will never constitute a nuisance,' says Mr. Meadows. I doubt the accuracy of this and, incidentally, of the Central Council's Legal Report, published in the C.C. Handbook, which states that there is 'no reported case in which an injunction has been granted to restrain the ringing of bells of a parish church.' Any noise is capable of interfering with people's enjoyment of their property, even Sunday service ringing. The Australian case of Haddon v. Lynch [1911] V.L.R. 230, is an example of the granting of an injunction to stop service ringing in the mornings before 9 a.m. There are also several American cases.

It may be that in England there is a difference between Church of England churches and others in the matter of ringing bells. The Book of Common Prayer orders the tolling of a bell before divine service, and it may be this gives quasi-statutory protection against actions for nuisance. Whether this rubric covers half-an-hour's ringing on eight bells is another matter, however. I can find no authority on this point.

Finally, Mr. Meadows draws no distinction between public and private nuisance. The latter is a criminal offence defined by Lord Justice Denning (as he then was) as follows:

'A public nuisance is a nuisance which is so widespread in its range, or so indiscriminate in its effects, that it would not be reasonable to expect one person to take proceedings on his own responsibility to put a stop to it, but that it should be taken on the responsibility of the community at large.'

The offence covers such diversities as brothel-keeping, obstructing the public highway, discharging oil into public rivers, etc. While 'The Ringing World' is no place for legal technicalities, it should be mentioned that the C.C. Legal Report bases its comments on public nuisance on a case which is largely discredited on this point, Solton v De Held (2 Sim. N.S. 133) (the reference in the report is wrong). This case is certainly an authority for the proposition that there is no such thing as equitable nuisance, but on the facts the Vice-Chancellor's argument is largely invalid. Ringing, he says, must annoy some people but not everybody, therefore cannot be a public nuisance. With respect, there is no requirement that the entire population of an area must be annoyed. The odours emanating from a perfume factory have been held to be a public nuisance, and there is no difference in principle between this and the noise of church bells. If a public nuisance is found to exist, anyone specially aggrieved has a separate action in tort for damages.

Despite the possibilities of legal action which exist, I must agree with the C.C. report that it is unlikely, so long as ringing is kept to a reasonable level. However, I think it does no harm for ringers to be aware that a lawsuit is by no means impossible, and that they should do everything possible to avoid annoying others.—Yours faithfully,

Amersham, Bucks.

JOHN CAMP.

LETTERS—Continued

A Memory of J. W. Washbrook

Dear Sir,—The account of the double handed tower bell peal of Bob Major at Balcombe on page 615 has revived a happy memory of J. W. Washbrook many years ago.

In 1910 the Great Western Railway advertised an excursion to Ireland leaving Paddington on Friday evening returning on Sunday morning giving 14 hours there and including optional visits of about four hours to Arklow, Wicklow and the Vale of Ovrea.

I saw in this the opportunity to achieve something I had long wanted to do, viz., to meet Mr. Washbrook, and went. When I called on him he made me very welcome, and invited me to have a ring, sending the youngest of his three gifted sons to round up two locals.

We met seven at the tower and rang a touch of Grandsire Triples, Mr. Washbrook ringing 3 and 4 after which, at my request, we rang a touch of Bob Major with him ringing 7 and 8.

I was amazed at the accuracy of his striking but I was more amazed when I realised he had been turning the 22cwt. tenor in with his left hand, which in most people is the weaker.

In these days of dear railway fares it is interesting to recall how much my trip cost—it was 17/6 return from London!—Yours sincerely,

E. BARNETT.

OUTING

WOOTTON WAWEN

There were more than the usual number of misfortunes when Wootton Wawen, Wores, and their friends had their outing into Gloucestershire and Wiltshire on August 22nd. At the first tower, Avening, Glos, a rope broke when the bells were caught in Queen's at the end, there was trouble with springy ropes at Chipping Sodbury and after lunch on the ground floor ring at Hilmarton the fourth rope parted as we were ringing-up. During the rope splicing, handbells were borrowed and the Grandsire Triples sounded very nice.

Many of our ringers were not used to the slower pace of the heavy ring at Purton, where the Vicar is a ringer. Finally at Clanchfield, Oxon, we were really past the effort of eight bell ringing. The best ringing of the day was at Wickwar in the morning. A duck supper was organised by Miss H. Arrowsmith at Chipping Norton. Those thanked included Tom, the driver, Mr. D. Baker, the organiser, and all who helped to make the day a success. J.R.

MR. JACK C. M. PAICE

It was with deep regret that I heard of the recent death of my friend Jack Paice, at the age of 67. Although he did learn to handle a rope when he was young, he was not a ringer, yet his whole life was devoted to bells.

Mr. Paice gained great distinction by being one of the very few Englishmen to obtain a diploma in carillon playing. After studying on the Continent under Meester Jef. Denyn, he was awarded the Diploma of Carillon Playing of the Belgian National Carillon School at Malines in 1933. He was employed for a number of years by Messrs. Gillett and Johnston. When the Croydon foundry closed he went to work for Messrs. Mears and Stainbank.

During his time at Croydon Mr. Paice gave the trial recital on most of the new carillons destined to be sent overseas, and spent many holidays in Holland and Belgium playing the great Continental carillons. I remember one memorable evening some years ago when both he and Mr. Clifford Ball, the Bournville carillonneur, played the new Aberdeen carillon which had been erected in the Croydon foundry.

Jack Paice always regretted the fact that there was not a large carillon in the London area. However, he managed to keep in practice and gave recitals on the Bond Street carillon, playing carols each Christmas, and for several years he gave recitals on the chime at All Hallows', Barking-by-the-Tower. There can be few chimes of bells which Jack Paice had not played at one time or another. He developed an amazing ability to play intricate, close harmonies on a very small range of bells, which he could make sound like a full carillon. As the compass of each chime often varied considerably, this frequently involved hours of work at his dulcitone arranging the music for each separate recital. One of his most recent public appearances was at the inauguration of the chime of 12 bells at the dedication of the new Holy Trinity Church, Hounslow, last year.

Over the last few years he became increasingly lame, but such was his enthusiasm that this did not deter him: he would often arrive at a tower an hour before he was due to give a recital in order to make the ascent. He possessed several octaves of bells, mounted on a frame, which he played with felt-covered sticks, and he was in great demand each Christmas giving recitals on these for various charities.

A DEVON DAY

Despite a wet morning and holiday traffic at its worst on the homeward journey, the outing on August 15th arranged by Mr. A. L. Bennett for Devon ringers and a lady visitor from Broadstairs was enjoyed. The area visited was the borders of Devon and Somerset. Towers visited were Kentisbeare, Burlescombe, Sampford Arundel, Rockwell Green, West Buckland and Wellington (where Mrs. E. S. Powell and D. T. North joined in ringing Stedman Triples and Plain Bob Major).

OBITUARY

Just a week before his death I was able to send him good wishes from his friends of the Amsterdamse Carilloncommissie, given after a recital at the Westeroren in Amsterdam. He did much to foster greater understanding between the ringing and the playing of bells, and between Britain and the Continent. Nothing was too much trouble to him; he was always ready to instruct the amateur in the art of chiming or to demonstrate and popularise his beloved instrument. His enthusiasm for the carillon was infectious. For many years we shall hear clock chimes and tunes played by automatic machines set by Jack Paice, carillonneur. G. R. H.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

The pleasant little eight at Maulden were perfectly suited to the warm, sunny afternoon of September 12th, when the Biggleswade District met there. Under the direction of Mr. R. J. Sharp, the Ringing Master, the bells were kept going throughout the afternoon to a variety of methods, the best ringing being a course of the special method, Ealing Surprise Major.

The business meeting, which followed an enjoyable tea in the Village Hall, was reduced to a minimum as the Vicar of Silsoe was awaiting our arrival there before commencing Evensong. After the short service, at which Mr. T. P. Harris, the local tower captain, played the organ, the ringers adjourned to the tower to ring on one of the lightest sixes in the county. Mr. Harris, the Ringing Master for the evening, had a hard job to satisfy the many and varied requests of the fairly large company, the highlight of a good evening's ringing being a touch of Spliced Surprise Minor. # GRANDSIRE TRIPLES: THE MAKING OF TOUCHES

We come now to the construction and calling of simple touches, and the beginner may well start his investigations by considering touches based on a definite observation bell. For convenience it will be well to take the 7th as an observation bell to begin with, although it will be clear as we go on that any bell may be made to serve in this capacity.

Consider for a start the following callings:

A	B	C
234567	234567	234567
253746	253746	253746
— 672453	275634	275634
647325	— 462375	267453
634572	436527	— 342567
653247
D	E	F
234567	234567	234567
253746	253746	— 752634
— 672453	— 672453	— 467352
— 346572	647325	436275
354267	— 536247	423567

- Each of them has an 'official' name.
A.—'Before.' Called the lead that the 7th makes thirds.
B.—'Wrong.' Called the lead after the 7th makes thirds.
C.—'Home.' Called the lead after the 7th has dodged 4-5 down.
D.—'Before and Wrong.' This is 'Before' followed by another bob.
E.—'Before and Home.'
F.—'In and Out.' The 7th is called into the Hunt for one lead only.

Some points about these callings must be noted and clearly understood. The first thing we see is that the bob 'Before' does not shorten the course, but that all the others give a short course of four leads. The reason is, of course, that the bob 'Before' does not alter the work of the observation bell, but in all the other callings the observation bell is thrown forward one lead.

The second point to note is that both C and F will produce a course end . . . 567 but that one has the front bells 342 and the other 423.

These six callings are now presented here in the form of a table of course ends, and the student should have no difficulty in comparing this form of setting out with that labelled A to F. The 7th, being at home at each course end has been omitted.

Each of these callings will of its own accord provide a touch. If the 7th is called Before continuously a touch of five courses, 350 changes, will be produced. It will not be a very interesting touch or a musical one, but it is good practice to write it out. The calling Before and Home gives a course end 53624, and if the calling is repeated the bells come round, giving a touch of 112 changes. Once again the music is not particularly impressive. All the others will repeat twice and will each give a touch of 168.

The student here should note a musical effect in D (Before and Wrong). The first lead end has the pleasant musical effect, 253746. At the course end 4, 6, and 7 come into their rounds position. It is therefore certain that the first lead end of the second course will also end in 746, and so will the first lead end of the third course. This feature makes D perhaps the most musical of all the touches that can be got by repeating the callings given above.

By the use of the table of course ends it is possible to construct touches of any length.

23456		Here is a short specimen made from this table, and the student may like to work out how many changes it contains. It will be seen that the 6th has been left undisturbed with the 7th, and so there
35426	B.W.
43526	In and Out
54326	In and Out
42356	B.W.
23456	H.

are a great number of leads (and other rows) ending in 67.

We can see, therefore, that the table given will enable us to construct touches, and even quarter peals. But working from this table alone will give us but a limited range of touches, and certainly will not allow us to explore to the full the musical properties of Grandsire Triples. To get the best out of the method we must remember that rows ending in 67, 74, and 46 will give the most satisfactory results, and if we can get these terminations at double dodging the effect will be increased and the music enriched. For variation, the inversions of these, namely, 47, 64, and 76, will provide a certain satisfaction, although generally speaking their impact on the ear is not so good as 46, 74, and 67. To these musical properties may be added the effect of 5, 6 and 7 coursing in different orders, and a great deal may be done in the way of inventing touches by keeping 5, 6, 7, together, but varying their coursing order. This we shall deal with presently.

First let us consider musical touches using rows ending in 74, 46, and 67. The best approach to this matter will be by examining some of the touches given in text books and such books as 'The Ringers' Diary.' Here, for instance, is a simple touch of 210 changes. It is a very musical one, for it keeps producing for us lead ends where 46 dodge together at calls, and it has other pleasing properties. But now observe closely what you could do with this touch, to lengthen it, to shorten it, or to vary its music.

To start with we must recognise an important fact. If in Grandsire Triples we call single, bob, bob, single at successive leads we shall reach the same lead as if we had called just a bob and nothing more. Let the student start from rounds and call a bob. He will get the lead 752634. Let him likewise start from rounds and call single, bob, bob, single, and he will still arrive at 752634, but he will have rung four leads instead of one lead. So, from any row, calling S.B.B.S. will produce the same row as calling bob, but three leads will have been added to the touch.

Now look again at our touch of 210. The second call is a bob and it produces 537246 with double dodging. Instead of this bob let us call S.B.B.S. At the first single we shall now ring 357246 (the Queen's Change), at the second call 623457, at the third call 746523, and at the next call, the second single, we get 537246. Then on we go. We have now added three leads to the touch and have introduced a splendid fresh lead, 357246.

It will now be apparent that the same thing can be done at the second bob (375246), and again at the third bob (753246), and on each occasion three leads can be added to the touch and the musical effects considerably increased. So the touch, standing as it does at 210 changes, can be made into a touch of 252 or 294 or 336, just as the conductor wishes.

Now note another possibility. The last single of the touch brings the bells into the plain course. By calling a bob immediately after the single the lead 342567 would be produced. Then by calling the 7th Home twice more we could add two courses to our touch. Or, alternatively, if time did not allow for two courses to be added, we can call another single immediately after 267453 and bring up the course end 432567. Calling the 7th Home with a single will then produce rounds, having added one course to the touch.

We must emphasise again at this point that any value gained from the reading of these notes will be largely lost unless the student gets busy with pencil and paper, writes out these touches and proves to his own satisfaction that what has been said really happens. Continual experiment in trying to make touches is the secret of mastery and the source of much pleasure and profit, and the conductor who can go to the tower with a fresh short touch to try out will give great satisfaction to himself and will at the same time provide welcome variety for the ringing band. Nothing is more dull and destructive of enthusiasm than a monotonous repetition of one or two standard touches, and it is surprising what little variety one finds among conductors of a method like Grandsire, which is equalled only perhaps by Stedman in the scope it offers for novelty.

Having thus digressed for a few moments let us return to the touch of 210 and examine the same touch in another form. Note that the calling is precisely the same as in the previous touch, but this time the bobbed leads are all ending in 267 instead of 246. The same treatment can be applied to this touch by 'singling-in' three leads at one or more of the bobs, and note that the touch again comes into the plain course at the last single. We could, therefore, add some courses at the end just as we did in the other 210. This is a very simple example of what the composer calls transposition, for the touch has started its calling a lead earlier, produces the same number of changes, but has entirely different musical effects. Theoretically the two touches are identical, but in practice their effects are different.

If the student likes to experiment further with this set of figures let him write out the touch starting with the first single at the third lead, then spacing the succeeding bobs and singles as in the touches given here. If all goes well with his pricking, the plain course will appear (246375) at the second single and rounds will follow the next lead. But he will find a touch of a vastly different musical quality from those we have demonstrated here, although theoretically the touch is absolutely the same.

Before leaving this interesting touch let us squeeze a little more juice out of it. Here is another variation of it, a much shorter one: 357246 is brought up in three leads, and from there a single four leads later brings 753246, from which, as we have already discovered, a single at 1 will put us in the plain course. The student will do well to make a note in his note book of this useful lead 753246. It is one of the landmarks of the method: not only is it likely to occur in musical touches, but when it does we know that we have a ready means of getting into rounds in three leads. In the composing of touches exploiting the termination 46 or 246 the composer can lead his composition to 753246, and then he is free to get into the plain course if he wishes.

BARNSELY DISTRICT SOCIETY

A rise and fall and 360 changes was the test for the District Cup Contest held at Hovlandswaine, near Sheffield on September 12th. Mr. Harold Chant was the judge and, Miss Sheila Chennery the marker. Shelley won the cup with a loss of 27 points, the cup being received by Trevor Turbott. There were ash trays for each member of the team. Wentworth won the rise and fall. Other competitors were Meltham, Cawthorne, Barnsley and Sandal. Three new members were elected. Next meeting: Elland, October 3rd.

ORSETT, ESSEX.—On Sunday, September 6th. 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: Miss J. Ody (first quarter) 1. Mrs. D. G. Moyell 2. Miss J. E. M. Hills 3. S. D. Holdaway 4. D. G. Mayell (cond.) 5. F. W. Blatch 6.

THE NOMADS REVISIT TADLEY

'The Nomads,' mainly recruited from Bristol, Gloucester and South Wales, for the third year in succession based their tour on Tadley where the Rector happens to be a ringer. It was really a long weekend starting on September 4th.

Improvements were noted at Padworth where in 1962 the path of the second rope was obstructed by the organ. The rope-way has now been resited and an amplifier enables the bells to be heard in the ringing room. The thunderous roar of 20 jet aircraft prevented the bells of Theale being heard and there was a retreat to the tranquillity of a Pangbourne tea shop. The ropes in the tower were springy. Afterwards at Mapledurham we joined in the practice and met the Rev. E. B. Wood, who accompanied the tour next day.

After three light rings on Saturday came the much anticipated highlight, All Saints', Basingstoke (11). With four of our best strikers absent even rounds damped our enthusiasm for these bells. At Odiham (a long-draught six), the third rope broke before we could go into changes. St Michael's Basingstoke, was really enjoyed and the day concluded with a social evening at Tadley.

A celebration of Holy Communion just next door in St. Saviour's Church failed to arouse some of the sleeper. An afternoon service at Dorchester Abbey necessitated a change of plans, but local ringers guided us to Warborough for a short ring. To our hosts at Tadley and at all towers visited we offer a very big thank you. G. M.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

The Oswy Street Memorial Cup was competed for on August 29th at Laxton. It was won by Derby Cathedral with seven faults and a penalty of 10 faults. Other competitors were Friezland, 25 faults and 20 penalty; Warsop, 44 faults and 10 penalty. The cup was presented by Mr. H. Denman to Mr. G. Halls, of Derby.

SWANSEA AND BRECON GUILD*Southern District

Thanks to the visitors from the neighbouring diocese, the meeting at Cefn Coed on September 5th was an excellent social gathering of ringers, who indulged in ringing methods ranging from Plain Bob to London Surprise.

At the service in St. John's Church the Vicar (the Rev. O. Morgan) gave a very warm welcome.

In spite of the weather being unkind, 35 ringers and friends sat down to an excellent meal provided by the local parishioners. Miss Kath Watkins, the Master, suitably thanked those concerned.

The meeting stood in silence in remembrance of the late Mrs. Stich, widow of Mr. Ernie Stich, who died 18 months ago. An experiment of Sunday afternoon ringing at St. Mary's, Swansea, is to be introduced from October 4th. The District annual meeting will be held at Sketty on December 5th. The votes of thanks included the Vicar and the organist, Mr. Leslie Evans.

Permission had been previously granted to ring at St. David's, Merthyr Tydfil. After fixing a rope to one of the bells they were rung to several methods without the tenor, which was unringable. J. A. H.

AT EXETER CATHEDRAL

A party of North Somerset ringers visited Exeter Cathedral on Saturday, September 5th, and, under the leadership of Mr. H. W. Knight, on the treble, raised the 12 in peal with G. Prescott 2, C. Bishop 3, H. A. Rice 4, R. Cole 5, W. Rice 6, J. Owen 7, P. Gardiner 8, J. Brain 9, S. Smith and C. York 10, L. Derrick and J. K. Baker 11, W. H. Kingcott, E. Lee and M. Ball tenor.

After touches of Triples, Caters and Cinques the 12 were lowered in peal single-handed.

The efforts were very favourably commented upon by local ringers present, who say this is the first time the 12 have been pulled up 'in peal'.

The afternoon was rounded off by enjoying the 10 at Cullompton to varying methods. B.

CRICKET CHALLENGE ACCEPTED

We in the Western District of the Hertford County Association normally take things pretty steady, but when our neighbours in the St. Albans District challenged us to a game of cricket, action was called for. August 29th was the date, a beautiful afternoon, and they must have been confident of beating us, since they had allowed us to find a pitch of our own choice; they also brought along two girls, who played rather better than some of the men.

St. Albans were put in to bat and were going quite well at 40-1. Steve Darvill went on to make 39, but a collapse followed and they were all out for 80, mainly due to excellent bowling and fielding by our captain, George Reading.

The Western District scored the 81 runs required for the loss of four wickets and went on to make 141 (Keith Shephard 49). M. Sherrick, the St. Albans captain, after a rather comic opening over, took 5 for 36, but it was all in vain.

We in the Western District just take these things in our stride. 'WESTERNER.'

IN RUTLAND AND AROUND

Participating in a five-day tour in and around Rutland, which started on August 15th, were Philip Gay, Roger Gay, Ruth Gay, John Queen, Dave Midgley, Ann Fellows, Andy Jobson and Max Haymann. The tour was outstanding for its sheer spirit of camaraderie and for the sustained quality of the ringing. They deprecate the phrase 'methods from Grandsire to London were rung' and prefer 'a great many Doubles and Minor methods and some Surprise.'

A peal in five Minor methods was rung at Exton and a quarter at Loughborough Campanile after being conducted round the foundry and offered for sale a 50 cwt. swinging bell! The practice at Melton Mowbray was enjoyed by the five who attended. Thanks are extended to Philip Gay for a most successfully organised and conducted tour.

The Rev. Arthur Luman, Rector of Murston, Bapchild, Kent, informs us that the 'News of the World' has presented his church with a ring of five bells. A faculty has been granted for their installation. The parish has also a 'Big Bells Fund' which has received £354.

The peal of Cambridge Surprise Major rung at 'Sutton-on-Trent' on July 24th has appeared on pages 551 and 603. Will those who keep records please note.

The first comment of Miss Sue M. Heyworth on ringing her first peal at Brightwell-cum-Sotwell was 'Look! no blisters!!' In her first quarter she acquired double figures (in blisters) on each hand.

It was an unexpected pleasure for the band who rang at Havant for the birth of a granddaughter to Mr. Morgan Marshall, the ringer of the sixth, to be so hospitably entertained to tea at the successful conclusion of the peal.

Geoffrey K. Dodd, of Woolton Hill, near Newbury, is seeing signs of progress in his area. Four peals have been rung and there were five firsts in the method in a peal of Kent T.B. Major at Aldermaston.

In the peal of Kent Treble Bob Major, at Bridlington recently, the asterisk for the first peal of Kent Major against the name of David S. Johnson should have been placed against Richard D. Gibson.

The bells of Holy Trinity Church, 'Lane End, Bucks, were taken to the Loughborough Bell Foundry in July to be retuned, and are to be rehung complete with new fittings. It is hoped that the bells will be ringing again soon after Christmas.

Who was the lady from Kent who at the meeting of the Furness and Lake District Branch at Ambleside on September 12th called Stedman? Writes our correspondent, who is a veteran: 'I have never come across a lady who could call it like her. I was much impressed by her performance. One of the chaps in the car going home said she had red hair, but I was too absorbed in the way she called the Stedman to notice!'

BELFRY GOSSIP

With the peal at Coalbrookdale on August 28th, Mr. C. W. Woolley becomes only the fourth person to ring 100 peals for the Cambridge University Guild. The others are Messrs. E. M. Atkins, A. H. E. Boughiey, and W. H. J. Hooton. This peal was also Miss Susan Jackson's 50th for the Guild.

Mr. Brian Pattison, of Bedford, hopes to be in England shortly. He is with the Cosmic Ray Laboratory at Oorgaum, Mysore State, India.

Eleven year old Ian Bell rang his first peal on the bells of All Saints', Somerby, Leicestershire, on September 12th. He is the youngest ringer in Melton District to ring a peal.

Calling attention to the duplication of the peal at Chipping Norton (pages 623 and 603). Mr. P. Gerald McIlhone states that the error was due to a misunderstanding. He apologises for any queries that may have arisen because of the mistake.

Due recognition, we hope, will be given at the annual meeting of the Oxford Diocesan Guild to Mr. J. Keyte, who has resigned the secretaryship of the Chipping Norton Branch of the Guild after 42 years. His 74th birthday and long service were honoured by a quarter peal on August 31st, at Chipping Norton.

Mr. George Seth, of Elstow, Beds, who was 76 a few weeks ago, rang in a quarter peal recently to celebrate the event. He is looking forward to his next peal, having rung one this year, and eleven in all, not commencing change-ringing before he was nearly fifty.

The band who rang in the quarter peal at Woolton, Beds, would like to send their best wishes to the Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Thorp and family, who left the parish in July and especially to John Thorp who was mainstay of Woolton ringing. A peal attempt as a farewell was unfortunately lost.

Miss J. Armstrong has been asked by Morpeth Borough Council to ring the Curfew Bell at the Watch Tower every night at 8 o'clock. She writes: 'The slight of the Curfew is still going on, the latest being on Thursday, September 10th. I am waiting for my 'Ringing World' to read all about it.'

EXTRACTS FROM 'CHURCH BELLS'—By Claude Rush

MISSENDEN, BUCKS.

April 1881.—Two new trebles with new fittings in new cage by Warners.

BROMBOROUGH, CHESHIRE

Easter Monday, 1881.—New ring of 8 by Taylors opened. Tenor 24 cwt. in E. 7,000 changes rung during the day.

TESTIMONIAL TO HENRY HUBBARD

Meeting of Yorkshire Association at Bingley 23rd April, 1881. The urgent necessity of making public recognition of the services of Mr. Hubbard to the art and science of bell-ringing, was brought up. 'He has, for many years, been quite incapacitated from work and is now a confirmed invalid, suffering from asthma and totally dependent on others for support. He is now in his 74th year.' Jasper W. Snowdon undertook to call a meeting of Hubbard's Leeds friends for help. Assistance from anyone was welcomed.

By 24th April (the next day!) the committee were able to make Mr. Hubbard an allowance of 5s. a week—the balance being put in the Post Office Savings Bank. Mr. Troyte gave £5. However, Hubbard died at Hunslet, Leeds, Sunday, 9th October, 1881. He was born in Norwich but had lived in Leeds since 1856. He was buried at Woodhouse Hill Cemetery, Hunslet, 12th October. Grandsire Caters was rung over the grave and there were muffled touches on the bells of St. Mary's Church.

By 29th October, 1881 £21 had been subscribed towards his testimonial. The committee undertook his funeral expenses and it was hoped that enough would still be in hand to erect a plain and simple headstone to his memory. He had agreed to this.

SAWBRIDGEWORTH, HERTS.

Easter Monday, 1881.—Anniversary of reopening of the bells. 'The bell-warden, Mr. Geo. Rochester, with great liberality entertained the party, about 40, at dinner.'

NOTE BY THE EDITOR:—

'A vicar asks if he has the right to forbid the use of the bells, to which we reply that a parson cannot legally order bells to be rung on any occasion without the consent of one churchwarden, but he has a veto in every case. If, as in his case, the ringers do not attend the services of the church, the more their shame and the more the parson's duty to teach them better. The custody of the key of the tower belongs to him and not the churchwardens. A few years ago a churchwarden in Somerset got himself into woeful trouble by admitting ringers to the belfry without the consent of the parson.'

ST. MARY-LE-GILL, BARNOLDSWICK, YORKS.

Sunday, 1st May, 1881.—Bells rung for first time after rehanging, having been silent for two years. Hung by Mr. Mallaby of Masham in new oak frame, bells quarter-turned, new tower floors.

ST. PAUL'S, RAMSBOTTOM, LANCs

30th April, 1881.—Dedication of new ring of 8. Owing to the tower and spire being very lightly built, the weight of the ring was limited to 42½ cwt. Tenor 36 ins. dia., 9½ cwt. in A. The cage is in 2 tiers, with the 6 heavy bells at the bottom. Size of tower inside 10 ft. sq. Ellacombe hammers fitted. 'The whole of the work had been executed by Messrs. Llewellyn and James of Bristol, bellfounders, acting under the superintendence of Messrs. Jasper and W. Snowdon, consulting mechanical engineers, of Leeds.'

BELL RINGING AS A SPORT

By WILFRID G. WILSON

ON the very day that Mr. Meadows' letter appeared ('R.W.' Sept. 4th) commenting on Bishop Frodsham's remark that 'bell ringing was a sport,' I had been scanning pages of the 'R.W.' for 1942 and realising once again how interesting those war-time issues were, in spite of the ban, and mainly because of the amazing knowledge, industry and capabilities of the late J. A. Trollope.

By one of those coincidences that seem to happen much more frequently than by coincidence, I had been particularly interested in reading correspondence on this very subject of sport. It started (Sept. 18th, 1942) with a seemingly innocuous little letter from Mr. E. W. Marsh, of Plymouth, who asked 'Does the ringing Exercise look upon their calling as a sport or work for the Church?' This of course gave a perfect lead for our late Editor, who had to produce a weekly journal with practically no ringing news. His leader on September 25th was based on this question. Mr. Trollope, as many well know, had the habit of making extremely provocative statements (some would call them outrageous, but they were the result of long experience and deep thought) in a way that would make other people think and would inspire them to write letters to the Editor, often disagreeing with him violently. One recalls the statement which was slipped, almost parenthetically, into a front page article early in the war, that 'the tenor was the only bell worth ringing to Stedman.'

Mr. Trollope wrote: 'When we study the history of the art of change ringing there cannot be the slightest doubt that it began as a purely secular sport and remained for centuries as a secular sport. Nor is there any question that it can be, and is, a first class and most fascinating sport . . . this will hardly be denied by anyone though some may shy at the use of the actual word "sport." When we turn to those men who form the body of the Exercise . . . we shall find that they look upon change ringing just in the same way that a golfer looks upon golf or a cricketer looks upon cricket . . . A peal rung at Quex Park . . . is in no wise different from a peal rung in a parish church, nor is a handbell peal rung in a tavern different in character from a peal rung on bells that have been dedicated to the service of religion. Thus the answer to half of Mr. Marsh's question is that the Exercise does and always has looked on ringing as a sport.'

'By his use of the word "or" Mr. Marsh seems to suggest that if ringing is a sport it cannot be work for the Church. It must be one or the other . . . Perhaps we can . . . put his question in another way. Which should be the dominating motive in a ringer—love of ringing as a sport, or the desire to serve the Church? Which should come first, sport or Church work?

'When we put the question like this it raises issues which most profoundly affect a man's life and character . . . there are, we feel certain, many ringers who find in the wish to serve the Church a sufficient incentive to practise the art, but of the great majority we say definitely, and with a full sense of responsibility for what we are saying, that it is natural and right that ringing as a sport should come before ringing as Church work.'

'This may seem to some a hard saying . . . However . . . that which comes first and is most in evidence is not necessarily that which in the long run is the most important. Between change ringing as a sport and change ringing as Church work there is no antagonism and the man who follows it mainly for the sake of the one can quite easily better serve the other.'

As it was meant to do, this leader brought forth mixed opinions from readers and Mr. Trollope returned to the subject in his leader for October 16th, which I consider is equally well worth quoting at length.

'The first great truth is this. The bells in our steeples are there to minister to the glory of God and the service of His Church. No use of them can be justified which does not ultimately serve these ends.'

'The second great truth is that change ringing is a sport; a first class and most fascinating sport . . . was invented as a sport, has lived through the centuries as a sport and, except as a sport, has no chance of survival. Any reader who prefers it can substitute the word "recreation" . . . but it is better to use the term which expresses the reality in the directest and starkest manner.'

'The third truth is that the furtherance of the glory of God and the service of the Church will best be served by ringers continuing to do what as a body they always have done—treating and enjoying change ringing as a sport.'

'This is not a contradiction, nor a paradox, nor the sacrificing of higher ideals to lower. It is an expression of a profound and important truth. It is one of the conditions under which God gives gifts to men, that the gift must be loved and followed for its own sake, before it can be made worthy to be used in His service. The musician . . . who would add to the beauty of divine worship, must first love music for the sake of the music and enjoy its practice for itself. Nor must he ever lose the love of music for the sake of music. What would a choir-master think of the man who came to him and said "I have no interest in music as music, but I do wish to serve the Church and am quite willing to come and sing in your choir." Yet this we are told . . . is the way the great majority of ringers look on their ringing. We do not believe it. If it ever became the general opinion, the result would be a plentiful supply of prigs and a great dearth of good ringers.'

LINCOLN GUILD'S GIFT TO CATHEDRAL APPEAL

THE dinners of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild are quinquennial functions, and the 65th anniversary dinner, held at Moor Lodge Hotel, Branston, on September 19th, was a happy function with the Master, Mr. Jack Bray, adroitly holding the reins. The happy relationship between the Guild and the Diocese was exemplified by the presentation to the Dean (the Rt. Rev. Colin Dunlop), who retires next November after 17 years in office and is president of the Guild, with a cheque for £100 from the ringers of the Diocese to the Lincoln Cathedral Appeal.

Making the presentation, the Master said they wanted to thank the Dean for all he had done for the Guild. In reply, the Dean said the gift came to him as a great surprise. The fund for the Cathedral now stood at over £216,000. Thanking the ringers, the Dean said: 'Since I have been in contact with the Cathedral bellringers there has never been anything remotely resembling a difficulty; all that has been done has been done in mutual respect and love.'

After the loyal toast, Mr. E. T. Chapman, of Spalding proposed 'The Diocese of Lincoln.' A Suffolk man, Mr. Chapman, with only five years' residence in Lincolnshire, submitted that he was not qualified to propose the toast. What impressed him was the loyalty to the Diocese and how in South Lincolnshire little country churches were raising magnificent sums towards the Cathedral Appeal.

The Bishop of Lincoln (the Rt. Rev. Kenneth Riches) in his reply spoke of the ancient custom of the ringers greeting the Bishop when he came home from afar by ringing the bells of the Minster. One could not fail to feel humiliated when they rang out their welcome; but he felt deeply grateful to the ringers.

Dr. Riches came to Lincoln from Suffolk and he maintained, with the country in danger of becoming overcrowded, that these two counties were the last two where men could live in freedom. The beauty of the countryside of Lincolnshire was the beauty of a good economy. There was a beauty of its own as they drove over the Wolds; he also loved the beauty of the Fens, where man had worked with nature to level out its resources.

ELECTRONICS

The Bishop implored the company never to have any part in that thing called broadcast bells. He went to a church in Oxford to preach and when he arrived the bells beating down made a ghastly noise. He was met by two churchwardens who told him that they had just introduced electronic bells. 'Will none of you ever give a penny for electronic bells,' he said. 'I would rather hear a church with one bell than this hated noise.'

Speaking of the Cathedral Appeal, Dr. Riches said in the first year of the appeal ending on May 7th they had raised £200,000. It was a tremendous testimony to the affection with which Lincoln Cathedral was held. On one occasion he went to a little pub in the Wolds because they wanted him to receive personally £20 for the appeal. There was a confidence throughout the diocese and the county that this greatest monument of Gothic architecture in Europe should remain.

It was important for the soul of the country that the bells should ring out. Sometimes people might not hear them but nevertheless they were there. There were times in human life when the ringing of a bell was the one thing that reminded them that life had not ended but was only just beginning.

SURVIVOR

The Master said they had only one surviving member of the foundation year, Mr. J. B. Hallifax, of Fleet, near Spalding, who was 90. At the last Guild dinner there were two members present who joined in the foundation year. Mr. Hallifax then said that that would be his last dinner. They were delighted to have him with them and they hoped to see him in five years' time if they were spared. (Applause.)

Canon Gilbert Thurlow, president of the Central Council, proposed the toast of 'The Lincoln Diocesan Guild of Church Bell former Secretary of the Guild, who succeeded the late Mr. J. A. Freeman as Master.

MR. JACK BRAY,

Ringers.' He recalled that his first ringing week was spent at Surfleet with Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Richardson, and what an enthusiast the Rev. Law James was. As a fledgling he was instructed to keep people out while the peal progressed and along came two charming gentlemen whom he kept out who happened to be churchwardens!

From their last annual report he learned that of 180 rings of bells in Lincolnshire only 13 were unringable. It would be most wonderful if the 13 silent parishes managed to desilence their bells. He congratulated Jack Millhouse on ringing 1,000 peals, also Messrs. Scott and Budd on ringing their first peal at 85 and Mr. Hallifax on still ringing.

As with the Christian Church so with ringing—one of the most important things was growth, and how delightful it was to read of the Rev. P. M. Freeman's work at the Bishop's hostel in interesting ordinands in the Exercise. They would not have the fate of the Vicar of Fitzpaine, who was cut in two, or repeat what a Vicar did on going into the belfry after a peal attempt had gone on three hours and five minutes to congratulate the band on the standard of ringing and make them lose the peal.

GLAMOUR

They were living in an age of statistics, and he did not see anything in their report about young ringers and the number of new members. It might be a good thing in the annual report to welcome new members. He preached recently at St. Mary's, Southampton, and it was heartening to see the number of glamorous teenagers who had taken up ringing and getting on splendidly. It was a thrill to find out how much young life there was in ringing. They heard so much on television about theological professors trying to make out that Christianity was dead; the thing lost sight of was what the Church was doing—it was terrific.

There was a terrific spirit of unity at the conference at Nottingham and on the Vatican Council and many things of a like nature in the local situation for which they should thank God.

In their worship they had got away from the idea that the congregation was an audience; they had now the idea that the congregation was a family united in service, and that was precisely what a Diocesan Ringing Guild should be.

'God bless the Exercise. God bless this splendid Guild with its splendid centre; God bless these people living here and inspire them,' he concluded.

The hon. secretary of the Guild, Mr. John Freeman, who is vice-president of the Central Council, responded. He said this was only the third occasion the Guild had held a dinner and on each occasion it had been graced by the president of the Central Council. The first was Mr. E. H. Lewis, with his knowledge of towers and bell restoration, coupled with a quiet ability to control meetings; secondly Mr. Frederick Sharpe, with his sense of dignity and profound knowledge of bells and bell ringing; and now a worthy successor in Canon Gilbert Thurlow, with a sense of humour that would prevent them from taking themselves too seriously.

In reply to Canon Thurlow's observations about youth, Mr. Freeman said they were fully aware of the value of youth to the diocese. They in the diocese owed a debt to youth and, generally speaking, the standard had been raised, whereas in the past it was concentrated in various centres.

Mr. J. L. Millhouse, in proposing 'The Visitors,' said they were proud to have with them the president of the Central Council, Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Hairs, Frank and Gwen Bloomfield, Miss Lemare (who travelled 70 or 80 miles for an evening practice), their friends from the Southwell Guild and ringing's best ambassadors—Mr. and Mrs. George Pipe.

Replying, Mr. Pipe said he had the great privilege of taking part in a peal of Stedman Cinques on the beautiful bells at the Cathedral. He was in Australia for seven years representing his firm, Ransomes. While there he was approached by the representative of Ruston and Hornsby to see if they could do something together for Lincoln Cathedral Appeal. Together they raised £150. Of the Washington trip, he said they sent there the best they could; they were all first-class.

During an interval a recording of Washington Cathedral bells was played, and after the speeches coloured slides of the Washington trip were shown by Mr. John Freeman, who was one of the visitors.

16 PEALS RUNG DURING TOM LOCK'S TOUR IN SOUTH-WEST

TOM LOCK'S peal tour, the 14th, returned South this year and commenced on August 29th, Somerset and Dorset being the counties chosen. Two peals were rung in the afternoon: Cambridge Major at Wincanton and Yorkshire Major at St. James', Taunton, where John Hunt registered his 300th. At the former, newcomer Margaret Bould, from Tavistock, rang her first peal of Surprise. At the latter, heavy traffic between Bristol and Taunton delayed Arthur Pearson, who arrived ten minutes after the start (Arthur H. Reed having stood in) and had to be content with listening to the peal from his car. Unfortunately, he had to return home immediately as he was off to Czechoslovakia on business three days later. The headquarters were at the George Hotel.

Sunday morning ringing took place at Staplegrave (a very pleasant six), on the outskirts of Taunton, and at St. James' and St. George's. A handbell peal of Plain Bob Major was rung in the belfry of St. James' in the afternoon. The rest enjoyed the sun in the delightful Vivary Park close to the hotel, where four, representing North and South, had a round of putting, the latter takes the 'ashes.' Members rang at St. James', St. George's and St. Mary's for Evensong.

For the next five days we had a coach at our disposal with a different driver and vehicle on all but one day. Monday dawned another beautiful sunny day and everyone seemed raring to go. Two cars were pressed into additional service and conveyed a band to Mark, where a good peal of Yorkshire Major was rung. The coach called first at Milverton for an hour's ringing and then on to Wellington, where a band was left to ring Kent Major. Brian Bladon motored down from Swindon (90-odd miles) for this peal and returned home immediately after lunch. The rest then went on to Minehead. Eventually everyone arrived in Minehead and several sampled the large sea-water swimming pool before tea. A peal of Cambridge Royal (the only ten-bell attempt of the week) was rung here in the afternoon and the rest of the party went on for an evening ring at the lovely picture postcard village of Dunster.

Tuesday began another good day for weather. A band, which included Norman Mallett (Heavitree), was left at Thorncombe to ring London Major. It was the first peal of Surprise on the bells and also the first in the method as conductor for Ian Holland, another newcomer to this tour. The rest of the party then rang at Axminster. The ringing was enjoyed on these good bells but here we suffered our only casualty of the week. At the final chime of the run down there was an almighty crash. That stalwart, Bill Rogers, from Hildenborough, was assisted, dazed and grazed, from a heap on the floor. The rope had jibbed at his weight! Some say this was justice for his remarks about a certain tenor on last year's tour! Possibly the jungle telegraph had been at work! Fortunately he suffered no serious damage. After lunch in Lyme Regis, a peal of London was rung on the musical eight. An attempt for a peal in seven Minor methods at Uplyme came to grief after an hour's good ringing. Possibly the two-mile uphill climb in the heat for four of the ringers had something to do with this. It was the first loss of the week. Brian Bladon joined us again for this attempt and stayed for the rest of the week. A third peal attempt this afternoon, at Whitchurch Canonicom, was successful. It was Superlative Major, being the first in the method for two of the ladies, Ruth Foreman and Margaret Bould.

Wednesday saw the first clouds in the sky but they were few and far between and the temperature if anything was getting hotter. At Curry Rivel, Rutland Major was lost after about two hours with a missed bob, but Pudsey Major at Drayton was successful, this being Martin Lock's first in the method. The depleted ranks then went on to Barrington for a ring on the good but rather loud six and were met by the Rev. Chris Marshall, from Long Sutton. After lunch in Langport, a band was deposited at Huish Episcopi—where do these names come from?—and successfully rang Lincolnshire Major. This was another first in the method for Margaret. The rest of the party then rang at Langport and joined the Rev. Marshall at his own church, Long Sutton, for a ring with him on his lovely six, in what could be described as a miniature cathedral. After tea in Somerton, we rang on the heavy but melodious six. On the trip back to headquarters, the driver stopped for a couple of bottles of the local brew, to keep Eddie Jeffries and Richard Price happy. The Huish band was then picked up for the return to H.Q. A handbell peal of Kent Major at the home of Mr. R. Beale, the St. James' captain, was lost in the evening after two hours' ringing.

SCRAPPED

Before setting out on Thursday morning we said goodbye to George and Doris Fearn, who were returning to the Midlands. We soon ran into a shower of thundery rain. This was the only rain of the tour and lasted less than an hour before the return to the usual azure blue skies. A band was left at Shepton Beauchamp (apparently pronounced 'Beecham') to ring London Major. Unfortunately, this was lost through a miscall after an hour and ten minutes. If successful, it would have been the first peal of Surprise on the bells.

In the meantime, the rest of the party rang on the recently installed ring of six at Ilton. Here we were welcomed by the Vicar and some of his new band of struggling learners, who were as pleased to meet us as we were them. When the Vicar arrived at this parish, he found the old ring of four lying in the churchyard and was told they were about to be sold. He suggested to the Church Council that they should be rehung and this was eventually carried out. He was then instrumental in getting two trebles added, but the cost was £150 more than if the ring had been originally augmented. These bells are well worth a visit but about £450 is still needed to defray the cost.

After lunch at Ilminster, we were joined by Frank Price, who conducted London Major in three and a half hours. This was Fred 'Lofty' Ross' 200th peal. In the meantime an attempt for Bristol Major was made at Crewkerne and the remainder enjoyed a ring on another excellent light six at Merriott, where the ringing chamber is most beautifully kept. On returning to Crewkerne for tea there was silence and we learned that the peal was lost after only three-quarters of an hour. Holy Trinity, Taunton, was visited in the evening and this was the second 'non-Dove' tower of the day. Here there is a six with a tenor of 44 cwt. in E flat. Apparently the fittings were made and the bellhanging done by the local Boy Scouts. The writer arrived as the bells were being run down but was told that they are rather difficult to handle. Ron Bullen was the first person to turn the tenor in here and there has been only one previous visiting band. Some of the party were having a meal in a local restaurant during the evening when they had the unexpected pleasure of being invited to join the manageress for speciality coffee in a private room, as the result of Philip Mehew finding a fried filter tip in his meal! How long has he been working for the Ministry of Food?!

Friday, the last full day of the tour, started with a peal of Lincolnshire on the light eight in the lovely quiet village of East Coker. The rest of the party went on to Beaminster, where a peal of Yorkshire Major was rung, being Ron Sharpe's 500th. After picking up the East Coker contingent—who were lying in the sun after a lunch of French bread, Cheddar cheese and pickled onions suitably washed down and with a game of darts thrown in (the only customers in the inn)—afternoon bands were deposited at West Coker, where Cambridge Major was successful, and Martock, where Seven Spliced Major was also successful. We agree with the Roving Ringers, that the arrangement of ropes of the chiming apparatus is a spider's masterpiece at the latter. At the former, that grand old gentleman, Len Stilwell, from Worthing, was pressed into service for his second peal of the day. Was he practising for Australia? The remainder had to be content with a picnic tea—very good, mind you, and excellent value at 3s. a head—in the coach, though no cafe being available in Martock. The West Coker contingent was then collected and a call made at Yeovil. We did not really do justice to this fine ten but with the hectic week behind us and several of the heavy men still at Martock, it was not really surprising. However, it was nice to enjoy a short ring here. After picking up the Martock contingent we finally arrived at H.Q. about 9.30 p.m.

MARG'S SPECIAL

The meeting was held in the residents' lounge of the hotel. Other residents, if there were any, had left it completely empty. Alick Cutler thanked Tom for once again organising a wonderful tour and presented him with a travelling bag with everyone's thanks. Tom thanked all for their support and was glad to have some new faces on tour and hoped they would be with us again. 'Marg's' usual poem caused many a good laugh and Dennis Knox read the part she had 'lost.' Tom thanked Arthur Reed for his very great help locally and also for the help of John Hunt, a fellow tourist just off home territory. Next year's tour was suggested as Norfolk and South Lincolnshire, to start on the usual date despite the later August Bank Holiday. As Tom would be very busy with the Australian enterprise, his family would do the organising for him.

Of the 20 tower- and two handbell attempts, one hand- and five tower bell peals were lost. This was a much better record than last year. Grateful thanks are accorded to all incumbents for permission to ring and also to all ringers who met us. We certainly had a most enjoyable tour, and no wonder when we had the pleasure of meeting such stalwarts as George Coles, George and Marjorie Cross, George Gaylard, William A. J. Knight and Herbert Young. One person it was nice to have with us for the second year was young Michael Maughan, from Newcastle. My! how he's grown from last year and his ringing ability has certainly grown with him. In quietness he makes up for his neighbour, who will now have to watch his p's and a's, as there isn't much to choose in size.

On Saturday morning, all had departed by 9.30. Some went to St. Stephen's, Bristol, for a final peal of Stedman Caters, which unfortunately came to grief. Apparently Bill Rogers hadn't had enough ringing, as he stayed on in Bristol for another week and rang in a different tower each day. The writer spent the week-end in Yeovil and grabbed Preston Plucknett for Matins on Sunday.

A Challenge

Dear Sir,—With reference to the report on page 614 (R.W. 11.9.64) of Mr. A. P. Cannon having rung his 1,000th peal, I cannot allow the claim to go unchallenged and to pass without some comment.

Quite frankly, Mr. Cannon's effrontery in claiming this milestone amazes me. If Mr. Cannon examines his conscience and is honest with himself, he must admit that many of his so called peals will not bear much investigation. Doubtless many other ringers will have similar thoughts, on reading the report.

The occasions on which peals conducted by Mr. Cannon have been rigged, or allowed to continue to their conclusion, instead of being stopped, and of which the writer has personal knowledge, are too numerous to mention here. The following incidents will however be remembered by those who took part. On a tour of Shropshire in 1954, D.N.C.B. was attempted at Church Stretton. At about half-way the ringer of the treble appeared lost. 'Come along Fred,' said Cannon, 'the treble does not dodge in Double Norwich.' This was the signal for the bells to 'fire,' which they did for several courses. Several of the band called upon Mr. Cannon to call 'Stand,' but his voice was heard to shout above the confusion, 'Keep going—I'm not slogging my guts out here for nothing.' Subsequently, rounds came up at handstroke, and the ringing continued. This so called peal was published in R.W.

There was also the well known occasion when attempting Bob Major in Wales, with the late Mr. Clement Glenn in the band, and a learner on the treble, whose bell was bobbing up and down throughout, like a yoyo. When the bells eventually came into rounds and 'Stand' was called, Mr. Glenn said, 'You don't call that a peal, do you, how many blows did the treble strike?' Quick as a flash Mr. Cannon replied, '5.040 as far as I am concerned, Mr. Glenn.' Needless to say, the peal was recorded and published.

Many other instances could be quoted, but suffice to say, Mr. Editor, that I call upon Mr. Cannon to expunge all doubtful peals from his records, amend his standards, and start again. After all, industry and mere numbers never had much in common, certainly not as far as the writer is concerned anyway.

—Yours faithfully,

K. R. HOLTOM.

Westhorpe, Byfield, Northants.

Note.—The correct procedure is for a challenge immediately on publication. Then it can properly be dealt with by the Peal Analysis Committee. Unless the composition is false if the report is accepted by the Council the peal in question stands. Whatever a personal opinion may be, a complaint 10 years after is too late for an inquest.—Ed.

Chartham

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. Frank C. W. Knight and Mr. W. Ring, I apologise for stating that the recent quarter peal at Chartham was the first for 16 years. I was, I thought, reliably informed by the secretary of the ringers that this was so.

Mr. Knight's 1,800 Minor in 1963 was in fact a peal attempt called round and was not of normal QP length. Of Mr. Ring's QP I can find no mention in past issues of 'The Ringing World.'

Mr. Knight's band consisted of one local ringer who regularly rings peals with him. The five boys who came from the surrounding area were ringing either their first or second quarter peals.—Yours sincerely,

COLIN H. COOK.

Merstham.

'Bellringing in Schools To-day'

Mr. Michael King, of Wentworth, Yorkshire, is kindly presenting (through the Sunday Service Ringing and Education Committee) the original copy of his study under the above title, to the Central Council Library. He wrote this whilst a student at St. John's College, York, and deserves to be congratulated on a first-class and informative piece of work which is beautifully arranged and illustrated and will be of great interest to anyone associated with bellringing or handbell ringing in schools.

This study has called for much research correspondence and many personal visits, and those who know Mr. King are aware that he is well qualified to make such a study, being himself well experienced in the activities of school and college ringing societies. Moreover, he himself is a keen and capable change-ringer and tune ringer.

The 15,000 word study is well illustrated by diagrams and photographs of handbells, church bells, ringers and towers, and it contains information about ringing in various primary, secondary and public schools, including change ringing on tower bells and change-ringing and tune-ringing on handbells.

For the benefit of the non-ringing college authorities, a glossary of terms is included, also a short history of bells, handbells and ringers.

As far as possible details of all British school ringing societies, their personalities, activities and methods have been included, though further information continues to arrive.

In his conclusion Mr. King estimates that, although the number of school ringing societies is not high (around 50), 1,000 towers would fall silent to-morrow if all ringers still at school or who have left school within the last two years were to cease to ring. In addition some 50 per cent. of the remaining towers at present fully manned would be in difficulties.

Mr. King intends to circulate his original study to the correspondents who, in giving him much valuable information, also requested to read his study. After circulation it will be presented to the Central Council library later this year.

Further information can be obtained from Mr. King at Wentworth Rectory, near Rotherham, Yorks.

NORMAN CHADDOCK.

Christ Church, Epsom

Dear Sir,—Owing to pressure of work and other commitments, Mr. W. Parrott has had to resign as captain of the tower at Epsom Common, Surrey. This has come as a great shock, as Mr. Parrott has done so much for the ringing at this tower, but we are pleased to say that he has not left us altogether. At a meeting of the Guild the ringers elected Mr. Richard Fentiman to take his place as captain.

Will visitors note that ringing times have been altered. Practices on Wednesdays will now be from 7.45 to 9.15 p.m. and Sunday service ringing 8.50—9.25 a.m. and 5.50—6.30 p.m.

—Yours sincerely,

ADRIENNE GIBSON

Epsom.

Worcester Cathedral Bells

Dear Sir,—'Clocks Watches and Bells' by Sir Edmund Beckett, Bart. (Sixth Edition, 1874), gives the date 1869 for the Worcester bells.

Lord Grimthorpe was formerly Edmund Beckett Denison and became Sir Edmund Beckett when he succeeded his father as the fifth baronet in 1874. He was raised to the peerage in 1886.

Your readers will find 'Lord Grimthorpe, 1816—1905' by Peter Ferriday, very interesting

—Yours faithfully,

HAROLD WALKER.

Tower Captain's Criticism

Dear Sir,—I wonder how many ordinary service ringers read Mr. W. G. Wilson's leading article with as much astonishment as I did.

There is indeed a secular side to the Exercise, and it is nowhere more apparent than in the pages of 'The Ringing World.' In this rarified atmosphere one cannot avoid the impression that the Church is an excuse for bellringing. The immense amount of space it devotes to pseudo-scientific trivia, to the lives and careers of thousand-pealers and tower-grabbers is intensely boring to the vast majority of service ringers whose main concern is to see that the bells of their parish churches ring tunelessly and regularly to the glory of God and to summon their congregations to worship.

Of far greater interest to us than Mr. A. P. Cannon's thousandth peal (presumably he rings for service somewhere, though there is no indication of it) are the tucked-away stories of great old ringers who have served their churches through their lifetimes in many parts, the peals and quarter peals in relatively simple methods by service bands to celebrate great occasions in their parish life and the historical features which show how over the centuries been an integral part of the life of the Church the arts of bellringing and bellfounding have from which they spring.

To the vast majority of ordinary service ringers—busy people old and young who can just about spare enough time for their weekly practice in addition to ringing on Sunday—there is no problem of integration. The Church is part of their lives and their bells are part of their Church. In my own parish of Stoke D'Abernon (two of the band are parochial church councilors, two are sidesmen, three are Sunday school teachers and nearly all are linked to the Church in some other service than that of the tower. Ringers do not attend every service for which they ring and there are from time to time those among the younger ringers who, passing through the days of adolescent confusion which affect us all, do not attend service for long periods; of these a reasonably enlightened Rector considers that their service to the tower preserves with them some connection with the Church at a difficult and questing time. The activities of the bellringers are integrated with the needs of the Church in the same way as the activities of the choir, the servers, the Sunday school, the Guild and the other bodies which function around and serve the wider purposes of the Church.

In my experience we are typical of the great body of ordinary ringers, who enjoy the service they have been called upon to perform, seek to increase their skill at it as far as time and opportunity permit but could not possibly regard ringing as an end in itself.

My advice to Mr. Wilson and other eminent ringers like him is to come out of their ivory towers and get a little closer to their parish lives and the lives of run-of-the-mill ringers. They will find that most of their problems in church relationships are either imaginary or created by their own peculiar view of the Exercise.

And for heaven's sake, let us have a little less space devoted to Mr. A. Pat Cannon and people like him and more to news and features really interesting to ringers.—Yours sincerely,

BERNARD ASH,

Tower Captain.

St. Mary's, Stoke D'Abernon.

MR. WILSON REPLIES

I am not sure why Mr. Ash read my article with astonishment. The fact that everything in the Stoke D'Abernon garden is lovely is a matter for congratulation, but it does not follow that there are no neglected gardens. He should share my experiences of London towers and ringers some time. He would soon find that they were not 'ivory towers,' either.

Of course there is a secular side to ringing and of course 'The Ringing World' reflects this. It is a secular paper—the official journal of the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers, which is a secular body. But that is not to say that both 'The Ringing World' and the Central Council should not be very closely associated with the Church and its work.

Perhaps people who live and work and play in small towns and villages are to be envied, but the other places still exist.

WORCESTER CATHEDRAL BELLS

Dear Sir.—In view of the number of inaccuracies that have occurred in recent letters upon the above subject I hope that the following may help to clear up some of the confusion and be of interest.

Originally the Cathedral tower contained a ring of eight by a variety of founders, the tenor being about 21 cwt. During the restoration of the building it was discovered (on May 24th, 1863) that the second had been stolen—it was never recovered. The Minor Canon, the Rev. R. Cattley, who took a great interest in clocks and bells, wrote to the local newspapers in August that year proposing that a ring of ten bells (tenor 36 cwt. in D), a clock bell of four tons in A and a large and powerful clock be provided to replace the original eight. He had contacted several influential people to form a provisional committee and he estimated the cost of the whole job at £2,000.

In October, Cattley announced that he had been in contact with the Astronomer Royal 'and Mr. E. B. Denison, Q.C., who is one of the greatest authorities in these matters and he will afford us every help.' Cattley launched his appeal for subscriptions on March 5th, 1864, and Denison came to Worcester on March 26th and gave a lecture 'On Clocks and Bells' to a capacity audience at the Guildhall. It would appear that Denison was not only responsible for the design of the bells and clock but the frame as well.

The remaining seven bells of the old eight were removed from the tower and sold to anyone interested—four of them went to Didlington, Norfolk. Nothing else of any interest occurred between this time and 1868 except that it was decided that the bells should be a ring of twelve (tenor 50 cwt. in D flat) with a flat 4th for the top note of the Westminster quarters. The Bourdon bell was to be 4½ tons in B flat.

The Bourdon bell was cast on August 28th, 1868 (it was 6ft. 4½in. in diameter, 6in. thick at soundbow), and on Christmas Eve it arrived in Worcester and was later hung in a frame in the North Transept of the Cathedral where it was tolled for service for the first time by Denison on January 17th, 1869. The tenor was cast in May, 1869, and the 13 bells were sent to Worcester on December 13th and 14th, 1869; they were taken into the tower in the first week of January, 1870, and the Bourdon followed them in February. The bells were first rung on May 25th, 1870, to test the sound insulation of the floors. The ringing chamber was still full of scaffolding which made ringing very difficult but 'the neighbourhood was crowded with people anxious to hear the peals.' The official opening took place on December 13th, 1870.

The clock, however, was not started until late 1871 and in December, 1872, a carillon machine, the gift of a local industrialist, J. W. Lea, was started. Two more bells, flat 6th and flat 8th, were added in 1875 by his son, C. W. Lea.

The cost of the bells alone was £3,041 18s. 5d., and the whole work cost nearly £6,000.

Whether Denison became a friend of Cattley before or through the Worcester clock and bells project, I do not know, but they certainly got on very well together.

Denison was born on May 12th, 1816, at Newark, and was educated at Eton and Trinity College, Cambridge. He was made Q.C. in 1854, succeeded his father as 5th baronet on May 24th, 1874, and was created Baron Grimthorpe February 17th, 1886. His legal career occupied him for only about 5 months a year, which allowed him to pursue a variety of subjects—clocks, bells, locks, watches, architecture, medicine, theology and church restoration, to mention only a few. His specialised knowledge in the law relating to civil engineering projects, i.e. railways, roads, waterworks etc., earned him a great fortune. His will was proved in 1907, at £2,111,715 gross; £2,076,567 net. His advice in connection with his hobbies was always given free and he refused to patent any of his inventions. For details of his autocratic nature see 'Lord Grimthorpe—1816—1905' by Peter Ferriday (published by John Murray).

Unfortunately, I have very little information on Rev. Cattley except that he was born on February 3rd, 1820, of a Yorkshire family. He entered Worcester College, Oxford, where he obtained his B.A. in 1848 and was ordained in 1849. He held curacies in the Diocese of York and at King's Lynn, he was made Minor Canon of Worcester in 1855, Honorary Canon in 1880. He was frequently consulted in connection with clocks and bells and also took a great interest in charitable and philanthropic works. He died at 3 p.m. on Thursday May 4th, 1903, at his home in Worcester.

I would be very much obliged if anyone who can enlarge on any of the above, or who has any recollections of ringing on the bells before being recast in 1928, would communicate with me privately.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN C. SLATER.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

The attendance was a record with visitors coming from all parts of Devon as well as Cornwall and Somerset when the Mid-Devon branch held its quarterly meeting at Buckfast Abbey. The bells were kept going with standard methods throughout the afternoon.

All the seating accommodation was occupied for the service conducted by the Rev. Father Paulinus Angold, captain of the Abbey ringers, with Father Gregory Burke as organist. An inspiring address was given by the Lord Abbot (Dom Placid Hooper).

After tea in the car park cafe, the usual business meeting followed in the Parish Hall, with Mrs. D. E. Hood in the chair. The meeting stood in silence as a token of respect to the late Mr. E. Maurice Atkins, of Teignmouth, a former general secretary, whose funeral had taken place that morning.

A welcome was extended to Mr. B. Shingler, the new Branch secretary, and to Mr. T. G. Myers, of Plymouth, who had recovered from a long illness, whilst hearty votes of thanks were accorded to the Lord Abbot of Buckfast and the Abbey ringers for all their efforts towards the meeting.

A certificate was presented to Mr. A. T. Caffey, of Babbacombe, and one new member, Mr. D. G. Redwood, of Paignton, was elected.

The Branch annual meeting will be held at Totnes with Dartington on January 9th, and a joint meeting with the South Devon Association at Babbacombe on October 17th.

Ringling took place at Buckfastleigh and Dean Prior Parish Churches in the evening.

OUTING

KIRKBY-IN-ASHFIELD, NOTTS

On September 12th a band of 12 Kirkby ringers set off early to begin their annual tour. We first headed towards Golden Valley in Derbyshire, where, despite the navigational errors experienced by one of our parties, we kept to a tight schedule, as we did throughout the day.

After a ring on the light bells at Denby we saw the Vicar at Horsley during a long varied ring. At Breadsall we were met by one of the ringers, who joined in with us, and we also found some excellent handbells, some of which were used for a quick course of Plain Bob. A wedding had just finished when we arrived at Ockbrook, but the only hitch was to start ringing, thinking the tenor was the treble. After having a picnic lunch by the road we had the best ring of the day at Sandiacre, followed by a ring at Stanton-by-Dale.

We then returned to Kirkby to ring for a wedding and set off immediately afterwards towards Leicestershire, ringing first at Woodborough, East Bridgford and, after a picnic tea, at Cropwell Bishop. Langar followed, where the very long draught produced bad striking. We had a good ring at Orston and went on to a heavy four-bell ring at Barkeston, where we were met once again by a local ringer.

The tour finished with a very short ring at Granby after an enjoyable day which had included rings of Little Bob, Kent, Spliced Doubles and Spliced Minimus methods.

GRANDSIRE TRIPLES: THE MAKING OF TOUCHES

We must now look at what can be done by varying the coursing order of 567, keeping these bells well together so that we have a ready means of returning to rounds. The plain course coursing order is 6-7-5, and the natural course end is . . . 567, and it is fairly easy to vary this coursing order (and the course end) and to return to it when we want. Let us examine some specimen plans.

G	H	J
234567	234567	234567
S 572634	S 572634	— 752634
— 465372	S 567423	765423
436257	S 435267	— 347265
423765	423756	324576

An examination of G and J will show that the calling has merely turned over two of the three back bells, so that in one case . . . 567 has become . . . 765, and in the other case . . . 567 has become . . . 576. It should be clear, therefore, that if these callings are repeated we shall return to a course end . . . 567. To repeat J would result in an immediate return to rounds. To repeat G would lead to something more extensive, for we should have a touch of six courses with the following course ends: 423765, 342567, 234765, 423567, 342765, 234567, and this makes quite a respectable touch of 336 changes. But mark this. If in the third course we called a bob instead of the single at 1, we should change back 5 and 7, and instead of 234765 we should get 234567.

234567	possibilities. By simple means we have moved from 234576 to 432576, and then, by using calling J once again we have reversed 5 and 7 and produced a course end with the back bells in the order 567. At this point we have printed 'etc.' for the student should now be able to produce rounds in one course or in two courses just as he pleases by means we have indicated earlier in this essay.

of a bob at this point. Immediately we should produce . . . 675 instead of . . . 576 and we could make our touch run in this form for a while if we wished. At any time we desired we could turn . . . 675 back to . . . 576 by calling a single with 56 on the front together, and from . . . 576 we know how to get . . . 567 without any difficulty.

To digress again for a moment. This manipulation of 567 and the turning of it into various forms is a much used device for the construction of touches, not only on paper, but extemporarily in the tower. The experienced caller of Grandsire Triples often uses the turning courses given above, and other devices for altering the coursing order of 567, sometimes composing the touch as he goes along, sometimes varying a standard touch by the introduction of a single to change over two bells, knowing quite well how to get back to . . . 567 when he wishes. Only long experience can bring facility in this art, and the only sound approach to the matter is continued experiment in making touches on paper and trying to call them in the tower.

Now that of calling H. It is a very interesting and useful one, for not only does it give the pleasant tittum position with the bells coursing in the order 5-6-7, but it

423756	423756	possibilities in its development. The calling given above produces 423756, but note that if a bob is called instead of the second single

we shall get a course end 324756, and we have thus two jumping-off points for making touches. Two methods of procedure will carry the touch further and still keep 756 in this position. The two means are shown here working from 423756, and from this it will be seen that the same callings applied to 324756 would produce either 243756 or 432756.

Now how are we to get . . . 756 converted back to . . . 567? Looking back at H and J we can see that calling H would turn our . . . 756 to . . . 675, and that a further use of the same calling would bring our . . . 675 to . . . 567. Similarly, the use of calling J would bring . . . 756 to . . . 765, and we already know how to convert 765 to 567.

There is, however, the more direct and more interesting process of reaching 234567 from . . . 756 by bringing the bells round at handstroke. To understand this thoroughly it is necessary to examine a course in which 567 are in the order . . . 657 and have a coursing order of 5-7-6.

If the course shown here is examined it will be found to exhibit a curious property. The lead running from 357264 contains the same rows as the last lead of the plain course.

342657	of Grandsire Triples, and rounds occurs at handstroke as the row before 325476. It follows, therefore, that if the lead 357264 is followed by a plain lead, rounds will inevitably occur at handstroke. This placing of 567 is sometimes called the Inverted Home or Handstroke Home position because the rows . . . 567 occur at handstroke. It is common in Caters and Cinques, where very striking musical effects can be obtained by using it. In Triples it has not the same musical value, but it has a certain attraction, and without doubt provides a useful and interesting means of bringing the bells round.

A look back at our turning courses will show that the position . . . 657 can be obtained quite easily from . . . 756, from . . . 576 or from . . . 675. Here are two specimen touches, constructed expressly to demonstrate how easily the bells may be turned from one position to another. The first touch is given complete, and the student should note that the figuring has been given right up to the course end 342657. This is to help to make clear the complete plan, but the bells come round, of course, at A, a lead before the course end.

The second touch illustrates the use of the very simple device in which a single just turns over 6 and 7 and very easily converts 756 to 657. From 234657 this second touch proceeds just as the first touch does from the same row.

The second touch illustrates the use of the very simple device in which a single just turns over 6 and 7 and very easily converts 756 to 657. From 234657 this second touch proceeds just as the first touch does from the same row.

It might perhaps be said that the key row to bringing the bells into rounds at handstroke is 357264, because if we can bring our touch to this row, either by plain, bob or single, rounds will follow at handstroke the next lead. This row is therefore worth recording in our notebook and learning by heart so that we know the sound of it and readily recognise it when we hear it. It is, of course, the Queen's Change with 4 and 6 reversed, and the fact that 357246 is so nearly 357264 should make us realise the possibilities of using the one to lead to the other.

Rounds at handstroke of this lead.
FALSE

For study purposes three specimens of turning from 357246 to 357264 are given here. In each case the principle is simply to turn over 4 and 6, in two cases by the use of a single on 46, and in the third by the use of calling J.

The first two examples are interesting and important illustrations of the fact that things are not always what they seem. The first one clearly produces rounds from 357246 in a very short time and, at a pinch, can be used for this purpose. But it will not provide a true touch, for the row before rounds, that is, the row before the treble leads, is 2135476, and this we had at the very start of the touch. This reminds us of a vital rule. If Grandsire starts in the normal way, then the bells cannot come home at handstroke at a call. The only way in which 234567 can be secured at handstroke at a call and still preserve truth is for the bells to go off from rounds into changes at backstroke. There is no reason why this should not be done, and, indeed, peals have been rung with this start. But it is not at all usual, and the consideration of its possibilities cannot be discussed here.

The second touch manages to arrive at 325476 with a call, but this time there is no falseness, for the handstroke of 325476 in this case is 324567. This little touch of 181 is a very useful and amusing one. The third one runs to only 121 changes, but is well worth keeping in mind. Note the lead 537246 and remember that by calling S.B.B.S. at this point you could add three leads, one of which is 357246.

To conclude, let us sum up a little. First, these notes have been put together, not so much to provide touches for the young conductor as to indicate how touches can be adapted or composed. Volumes could be written on this subject, but it must suffice to say that here we have given only some of the principles governing the composition of short pieces. The general idea has been to show how some interesting use may be made of the bells and how they may be returned to rounds. Three basic methods have been touched on:

1. The use of some standard callings having the 7th as observation bell.
2. The use of certain devices to turn 567 into various positions and to return them to the rounds position.
3. The use of singles to turn over a couple of bells.

There is much more for the earnest bob caller to study. There is the theory of Odd and Even rows, the principles of transposition, and many other associated matters. How far he advances in these studies will depend on his enthusiasm, but we would repeat here that the making of simple touches is not difficult and we would very sincerely urge its practice. Whether or not the results are original does not seem to us to matter very much: the joy of taking something 'home-made' into the belfry and calling it there is very great, and the study attaching to the work of producing it is productive of a larger education and a deeper insight.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD*North Dorset Branch

This year the Branch visited Askerwell, Lyme Regis, Musbury, Kilmington and Thorncombe. Sufficient time was allowed for the 31 ringers to have their pull and for touches of standard methods to be rung at each tower. Methods up to London Surprise Minor were attempted and for the most part came round, the usual menu consisting of Plain Bob, Kent, Double Court and Grandsire and Stedman Doubles at the six-bell towers, with Grandsire Triples and a course of two of Plain Bob Major at Lyme Regis. At Thorncombe the loss of the tenor clapper in the middle of the first touch of Grandsire Triples rather curtailed matters and some Minor on the front six, covered by the seventh, was no real substitute for the octave. Apart, however, from this misfortune (and better to have happened then than during Sunday ringing or a peal), the day went well, the weather was kind, a good tea was made at Axminster and so far no complaints have been received from any parishioners.

West Dorset Branch

The Branch held its quarterly meeting at Thorncombe on September 12th. Eight towers were represented with visitors from Yeovil, Cattistock, Staple Fitzpaine and St. George's, Wilton. The Guild service was conducted by the vice-chairman, the Rev. Mr. Syer, Vicar of Whitchurch Canonorum, who also presided at the meeting in the unavoidable absence of the chairman. We were pleased to see Canon Cox and to know he is still able to take a rope for a short touch. He was unable to stay for the tea and meeting.

Tea was provided and served by the local ringers and their wives in the new hall.

Meetings were arranged as follows: A.G.M. at Bridport, November 28th; practice meetings, Broadwindsor, November 11th, and Beaminster, December 9th.

DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION*Chesterfield Visit Oxfordshire

This year's District outing was to Oxfordshire on September 12th at the request of one of our older members.

Although slightly late, due to heavy traffic, at our first tower, Banbury, the 17 cwt. ten were much to our liking and when one or two had got used to the long draught we managed some Bob Major and Little Bob Royal. After an excellent lunch in Deddington we unfortunately arrived at Chipping Norton at the same time as a wedding party, but Mr. J. Newman came to the rescue by taking us on a brief tour of various places of interest in the county.

Another of our ringers, Mr. P. Attwood (Percy), had lived at Great Tew for almost 50 years and after numerous envious glances at his former olde-world cottage we spent an enjoyable hour on the splendid 22 cwt. octave. Reluctantly leaving Great Tew, we returned to Banbury for tea at the Winter Gardens before the company of some 38 members and friends started the journey home. Our grateful thanks are extended to the clergy and local captains and to our driver, Bob.

Next meeting: October 10th, Clowne (quarterly).

THE BELLS

Belfry's captain, full of bliss,
Said 'You don't know what you've missed,'
Cobwebs, woodlice, bellropes, too.
With ancient bells that you can view.
Ring in the New Year, ring out the Old.
What historical New Year have you told?
Made in the foundry, rung and set,
How many bellropes have you met?
Deep and mellow, an octave, eight,
What peal or quarter have you rung of late?
Then to the foundry once again
To smelt down to a smaller ten.

PATRICIA K. MOSS (15).

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

The autumn meeting of the Eastern District of the Yorkshire Association was held at Beverley on September 19th, when the attendance was not as large as usual although 15 towers were represented.

Tea was served in the Cross Keys Hotel, Beverley, followed by the business meeting, presided over by Mr. H. Walker, vice-president, who welcomed the general secretary of the Yorkshire Association (Mr. W. F. Moreton) and his wife. Five new members were elected: Messrs. Andrew Dickinson, Philip Hawkins and David Burnett, of Bridlington, and Mr. H. L. Roper, of Gateforth.

It was decided to hold the December meeting at Snaith and Carlton, subject to permission being obtained. A vote of thanks to the incumbents, local companies and to Mr. N. Castle for the arrangements was carried. Good use was made of St. Mary's ten bells and also the six at Wakington, afternoon and evening.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION*Western Branch

A warm day favoured the Branch quarterly meeting held at St. Mary's Church, Gressenhall (8 bells) on August 29th.

The service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. R. E. G. Dodson), who read an article, 'U.S.A. Acclaims British Bells,' by Canon Thurlow, from the 'Norwich Churchman' instead of the usual address. Tea followed in the school.

At the subsequent business meeting the chair was taken by the Diocesan Ringing Master, Mr. F. C. Goodman.

After deciding upon Gaywood for the next meeting some interesting discussion took place about ways of maintaining interest in practice meetings and of encouraging regular service ringing.

BELFRY GOSSIP

A Surrey Valuation Court at Guildford last week reduced the assessments of 16 houses at Queen's Drive, Stoughton, because of the ringing of a bell for Holy Communion on Sundays, at 8 a.m. The ringing was described by one man as 'deafening and incessant' and another complained of 'its ghastly tone.' The Vicar, the Rev. Basil W. Hazledine, said it was only a very small bell and was rung for three minutes.

The first named peal of the Ladies' Guild is contemplated by Margarets. They hope the attempt will be at Stratton St. Margaret.

Miss Penny Howells, of Claines, rang her first quarter peal of Minor at Church Lench, and in view of their reputation as to their 'go' she is to be congratulated.

We have heard many favourable comments on the broadcast in the Home Service on Sunday of Kaye Webb's talk to the bellringers of Leicester, Cathedral entitled 'Ringing the Changes.'

Mr. and Mrs. Colin Tester took part in peals with the Lincoln Diocesan Guild at Hull and Walesby. Unfortunately they were described as Lester on pages 638 and 639 when the reports were published.

When the captain of Rewe, Devon, bellringers was married he took his wife to the car, then went back to the belfry and helped to ring his own wedding bells. Nearly 30 years later, his son was married in the same church and when his father should have been in the vestry signing the register, they found him in the belfry ringing for his son's wedding!

Miss Christine L. Mason, vice-captain at Chilvers Coton, Nuneaton, writes that 'the man in charge' ('R.W.' 18-9-64), who is the new president of the Coventry Diocesan Guild, is the tower captain. Mr. A. H. Beamish. She regards him as a superb example of a true and loyal tower captain and adds: 'Although, at times, we young "imps" may mar the changes, our captain's patience and tolerance, his firmness, and method, his unchanging friendliness, bear with us and move us to trying to do better next time.'

The patron of the living of Portishead, to which the Rev. Roger O. Fry was instituted on September 22nd, is Mrs. M. N. Briggs, daughter of Preb. H. W. Jukes, Rector from 1903 to 1938. As Miss M. E. N. Jukes she rang in the first peal for the Ladies' Guild at Cubitt Town in 1912. She paid a special visit to the belfry, apart from her duty of presenting the Rector-designate to the Bishop at the service. The Rev. R. O. Fry took the opportunity of ringing with the local band and visitors before and after the service.

Seventeen items of livestock, the gifts of local farmers, and 100 other miscellaneous items were sold at an auction at Gisburn Auction Market to raise money for the recasting of Gisburn, West Yorkshire, bells.

We are surprised that Mr. Bernard Ash, as tower captain of Stoke D'Abernon, had not heard of Mr. P. A. Cannon's association with St. Martin's Church, Dorking, and his position as Ringing Master of the Surrey Association.

Organised by Pat Bird and Tudor Edwards, Bristol University Society had a successful tour of the Welsh-Borderland from August 27th-30th. The tour finished in Liverpool, where ringing took place at the Cathedral, Woolton, and St. Nicholas' towers.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. William Henry (Bill) Lewis, Ringing Master of St. John's, Worcester, since 1932, and also a member of the Cathedral Guild for 47 years, which took place on September 6th in his 79th year. A memoir will appear in our next issue.

We hope our friends in the Norwich area eventually received their 'Ringing Worlds' of September 18th. Just as the Editor was leaving for a brief holiday in Holland, a frantic message was received that a consignment of 70 copies for Norwich were lost in transit by rail. Fortunately we were able to dispatch from reserves the copies required by post that night—and the Editor also caught the night boat at Harwich.

A BRIDE FROM PUBLOW

The wedding took place at Publow, Somerset, on September 19th of Miss Marjorie M. Mogford, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Mogford, and Geoffrey A. Hemming, of Bristol. The service was conducted by Rev. A. J. Frith, of Compton Dando, and the Rev. D. V. Clatworthy, of Publow.

The reception was at The Hall, Pensford, and over 80 guests, including ringers, attended. The bells were rung before and after the service. A peal (Surfleet, Beverley, Cambridge Minor) was lost at Publow after 2 hours 55 minutes, but one at Compton Dando was successful. F.C.M.

THANKS

Miss Ida B. Thompson, of Nottingham, writes expressing her sincere thanks through 'The Ringing World' to the Ladies' Guild (Midland District), the Leicester ladies and all ringers and friends for the lovely flowers, birthday cake, cards and expressions of good wishes for her birthday, all of which combined to make a very happy day. The peal of Stedman Cinques by the Ladies' Guild in honour of Miss Thompson's 80th birthday was published on page 654.

BELL RINGING AS A SPORT

* The Exercise . . . has a sport or recreation which can supply to the limits all the interest and all the relaxation . . . which is the proper use of a recreation: it can be a mental and intellectual stimulus and, unlike any other sport, it can be brought as a gift to the service of the Church. It takes a place here . . . alongside the great activities of the human mind, music and painting, sculpture and architecture . . . Only those men who love and follow change ringing for its own sake can ever be sufficiently good ringers to make what they do really worthy of the service of the Church . . . Change ringing can be, and should be Church work, but it must first be a sport and it must not cease to be a sport.

To conclude, may I recommend the younger members of the Exercise, and those of my generation who, because of other duties, missed so much in those interesting war-time 'R.W.'s, to beg or borrow copies when they can—they are full of interesting and useful articles.

E. M. ATKINS

When Maurice Atkins left his devoted band at St. Augustine's, Kilburn, and settled in Teignmouth, the Guild of Devonshire Ringers knew that it had acquired a fine and enthusiastic ringer, but some of the younger among us had to find out from visitors just how great was his reputation, for you would never learn anything from Maurice himself of his achievements. When he came he found a church, St. Michael's, to which he gave the full allegiance of a most devout Christian; but the bells were seldom rung, there was no regular band, and the branch in which it lay was one of the Guild's weakest, with hardly one tower possessing a full band. During the fourteen years which followed, St. Michael's began regular Sunday change-ringing, followed by Babbacombe, Townstal, and Torre, while the Buckfast Abbey monks took up change-ringing and joined the Guild as well, so that now this is one of the keenest branches in Devon.

It was for his teaching and encouragement of learners that we shall best remember Maurice. He came to us with a notable record as a peal-ringer, composer and conductor, but unless someone searches the back-numbers of the 'Bell News' and 'Ringing World' we shall never know just what that record was. To him, peals were rung to celebrate some festival or event, to improve the standard of ringing, or to give experience and encouragement to learners; how many he personally had rung was not of the remotest importance to him. We do know that he learnt to ring at the age of 16 in the church of which his father was Vicar; that he became a leading member of the C.U.G. soon after his arrival at Cambridge; that he conducted, in 1909, a peal of Bob Minor with a band having the average age of 16—at that time probably a record; that after serving in the Royal Engineers during World War I he rang in the Officers' Peal of Grandsire Caters at Croydon; and that with the Guild of Devonshire Ringers he rang some 40 peals, most of which he conducted.

When E. J. Taylor died in 1956, we felt it almost impossible that any man could adequately fill his place as General Secretary; Maurice stepped in and as usual without any fuss maintained the standard as high as ever it had been until his health forced him to resign last year.

An unmistakable and striking figure with his fine head thrust purposefully forward, Maurice concealed behind a manner which at first sight seemed pessimistic a young-hearted gaiety which made him delightful company and a driving perseverance and faith which never admitted defeat. Those of us who took part in the many attempts to get the first peal of Surprise Major by a resident Devon band will remember well how after each failure Maurice would come out with his characteristic, 'Oh, I don't know . . .',—and then start arranging the next attempt. In the end we got it, but we would never have got it without him. There was nothing dramatic or showy about his ringing or conducting, but he had an uncanny knack of knowing when a 'rabbit' was going to get lost just before it happened, and if a jiffle developed his seemingly abstracted state would vanish and the directions would come fast, clear and concise. For this reason he was unsurpassed at getting people through their first peals; if it were possible to keep them right he would do it, but nothing was said above what was needed.

The combination of rich knowledge and experience, deep concern for the Exercise and unshakable loyalty to his Church must have made him a most valuable member of the Central Council, on which he served with one short break from 1921 to 1953, first for the Central Northants Association and later for the Cambridge University Guild. We tried once or twice to make him representative for the Devon Guild, but typically he insisted that younger ringers should go.

The youthful buoyancy which characterised him made it hard to take him seriously when he told us that he was over 70; but last year his health became really serious and after an operation this spring he never recovered. He leaves behind him a wife and son who with generations of ringers at Cambridge and Kilburn, and one generation of Devon ringers who perhaps needed him more than any, will remember him all their lives with gratitude and pride.

J. G. M. S.

Mr. G. S. Valentine, of Duston, Northampton, writes:—
'As one of the very few remaining old ringers who learn to ring at Isham before 1914-18 I knew E. M. A. very well. He was a good instructor to all who tried their best; and when we settled down after the war we had some very good times ringing. We could ring seven Surprise methods—then quite an achievement—and, with his assistance, regularly rang Cambridge for Sunday services.

All through the war the bells at Isham were kept ringing by the two or three men left and the young ladies taught by Maurice and believe me they could strike their bells.

I like to remember him as I last saw him at a Central Council meeting, when I was with the late G. W. Jeffs and W. Rose. We went and came home together. My happiest memories are of the ringing I had with the old ringers from London and about the country.'

Mr. W. G. Wilson writes:—

'I was deeply grieved to hear of Mr. Atkins' death. He lived at Kilburn when J. A. Trollope was teaching Ernest Turner and me to ring and was always ready to make the fourth for a handbell peal. I can see him now, sprawled in an armchair, legs outstretched, eyes closed, but all the time knowing just where the bells should be. The Exercise has lost another of its grand folk.'

MR. SHARPE PLANNING A NEW BOOK

Mr. Frederick Sharpe has started on his next book on county bells—'The Church Bells of Herefordshire.' There are some 250 towers in the county and he has already started his list and at Fawley has discovered a 14th century bell.

His four-day visit is the subject of a feature article in 'The Hereford Times' by Marjorie Craddock, headed 'Mr. Bells Comes to Hereford.' She writes: At Brampton Abbots Mr. Sharpe was delighted to find that he could get into the tower, since the bells had previously been described as "inaccessible."

'This is a word which doesn't daunt him. I was defeated by a tower in Cardiganshire for many years until a naval man living nearby cast a line across a beam, hauled up the lightest man of the party—who happened to be the Vicar—and he was able to make firm a bosun's chair for me to go up in.'

'I've been up some 2,000 towers and really that means 2,000 stories.'

'I was once defied by an owl which was nesting there—and at close quarters an owl can look pretty ferocious. In one of the Herefordshire towers this week we had to clear jackdaws' nests from the stairs before we could get up. It is often from the twigs these birds and others bring into towers that infestation of beetle first comes.' (His companion on his tour has been that well known Herefordshire ringer, George Cousins, with whom he has stayed in Ross.)

MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION AT NORTHAW

The present Church of St. Thomas of Canterbury, Northaw, is a comparatively modern building, having been rebuilt in 1882 following a disastrous fire which destroyed its predecessor. A church has, however, been in existence on this site since Norman times. Despite the fact that the tower rises to a height of 73 feet, ringing takes place from the ground floor.

The meeting of the North and East District on September 12th was scheduled to commence at 3.15 p.m. but unfortunately the bells were not raised until nearly 4.30 p.m. The attendance later improved and ringing continued until late in the evening. A picnic tea was held on the village green, Mrs. Hart and Mrs. Kilby producing a more than sufficient quantity of sandwiches and home-made cakes. Cups of tea were provided by Miss Janet Heather, of the local company.

Votes of thanks were proposed by Mr. H. G. Hart to the Rev. Max Bryant, Vicar, and to all who had contributed to the success of this rather unique meeting.

Welcome visitors included Mr. William A. Stote, of Coventry, and Mr. B. J. Ongley, of Holmes Chapel, Cheshire. E. H. K.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Through the initiative of Capt. Read, the S.W. Branch held their quarterly meeting at Galmpton, near Kingsbridge, on September 26th, with Marlborough and South Milton bells also available. Some 60 ringers were present, many from Cornwall and others on holiday. The Vicar, the Rev. F. J. Hawkings, conducted the service, Mrs. Read and helpers provided a high tea, and Mr. H. H. Thomas presided at the business meeting.

At the outset the chairman paid a tribute to the memory of Mr. Maurice Atkins, who was secretary of the Guild for 14 years, and the members stood in respectful silence. A welcome was extended to the Branch secretary and Ringing Master, Mr. T. G. Myers, and all trusted he would soon be a fit man again.

An encouraging proposition came from Mrs. Bray, of Whitchurch, near Tavistock, to affiliate the Whitchurch band, and five young members—George Mudge, John Mitchmore, Ernest Cann, Ian Sweet and Michael Roberts—were elected members. The Misses H. and R. Julius were also elected, and Guild certificates were presented to Miss P. Sims (Emmanuel, Plymouth) and Miss Ruth Cundy (Lamerton) on behalf of her father, who was unable to be present. A comprehensive vote of thanks was moved from the chair.

M.U.G. SCOTTISH TOUR

THIS year the Manchester University Guild had intended to visit Ireland but were prevented from doing so by various difficulties with car hire and accommodation.

A tour of Scotland was arranged instead, which started on August 28th, when two cars, one containing Ian Goldthorpe, Dick Plaisted, Marcia Nott and David Miles, the other containing John Pilkington, Brian A. Tomlinson and David J. Baker, set out to meet in Kendal. The first group were fortunate enough to ring at the Morecambe practice on the way. Saturday was occupied by the journey to Glasgow, but there was time to ring at two towers before crossing the border.

At Glasgow Mike Young, Jean Allen and Roger Shea joined us, but not before David Miles had taken us on a conducted tour of the city . . . by Blue Train and Underground. On Sunday morning Neil Bennett and Christine joined us at St. Mary's Cathedral for service ringing. In due course all members of the party reached Paisley for afternoon ringing, and we then proceeded northwards via the Erskine ferry and spent the night at Cruachan.

INVERARAY

After breakfast and the journey back to Inveraray, much time was spent in finding keys and various other means of access to the chambers in the tower. Ropes had to be fitted and several clappers were greased before ringing commenced. The floor of the ringing room caused some concern, being most insecure near the eighth, ninth and tenor ropes. Wooden bushes in the rope-holes of the floor above had come adrift, and this resulted in an occasional piece of concrete being brought down by a rope, but even this could not detract from the pleasure of ringing on such excellent bells. Some good courses of Bob Royal, Grandsire Caters and Stedman Triples were rung.

Knowing that the bells are only rung very infrequently, we thought it a good idea to investigate local reaction to our visit. The first victim was the waitress who served us with lunch.

Ringer: 'Do you know why the bells were ringing?'

Waitress: 'Someone comes once a year from England to ring them.'

Another ringer: 'Haven't they enough bell-ringers in Scotland, then?'

Waitress: 'Oh, but it's an English church.'

On, then, to Fort William, stopping on the way to admire the scenery, which was at its best in glorious weather. Another full hostel at Glen Nevis killed any possibility of going up 'the Ben' the following morning.

The night was spent at Loch Lochy, and the tower next day was in Inverness. We were made to feel more than welcome at Inverness, where it was learned that there might be a good possibility of training a band of ringers if only some instructor could go and stay there for long enough. The Rev. Roger Fry, who happened to be in Inverness at the time, made a welcome addition to our band, and after ringing we were entertained to an excellent tea by the Precentor of the Cathedral. The night was spent at Aviemore.

A journey through the wild Cairngorms via Tomintoul, Braemar, Devil's Elbow and Glen Shee led us to Dundee, in time to ring at the Cathedral. Here, another unexpected but welcome guest, David Manton, found us, and we proceeded to the Old Steeple, to which Peter T. Dale was attracted from an examination room by the sound of our ringing. A visit to the offices of the 'Dundee Courier,' instigated by the publicity-seekers among us, resulted in a 10-line report in the following morning's edition.

On Thursday morning the bells of Dunblane got us off to a good start, though here, and at Alloa, the rising in peal left much to be desired. Since this was the day before the opening of the Forth road bridge, a visit to Queensferry was called for before continuing to Edinburgh to join the practice at St. Mary's Cathedral. Friday was a free day, and returning from a tour of the Trossachs, handbells were rung in a car whilst crossing the Forth road bridge. (Is this a record?)

Our last day in Scotland began with ringing on the delightful five at Fettes College. After celebrating with Oriental food and various wines we proceeded to St. Cuthbert's, where Mr. Wilson and the Edinburgh ringers once more made us welcome and rang with us. We also appreciated their assistance in leading the way to Leith, our last Scottish tower and certainly not the easiest of bells to ring.

Not everyone approved of rising at 6.30 a.m. in order to ring at Newcastle for Sunday service, but those who did not rise were certainly awake at that unearthly hour. They were, however, doomed to misfortune later in the day when a mechanical fault immobilised the Goldthorpe car, while the others were ringing at St. Stephen's, Low Elswick and Newcastle Cathedral.

In conclusion, we wish to thank the organisers, who did a great job at short notice, and all the ringers and incumbents in both England and Scotland who made us so welcome. I. P. C. le-M.

PEAL AT YORK MINSTER

Congratulations to the York Minster Society of Change Ringers on ringing a peal of Plain Bob Maximus on the Minster bells on Saturday. The last time a peal was rung on these bells was on November 9th, 1892.

The band consisted of S. H. Steel 1, B. Holland 2, D. Pearson 3, M. Straniforth 4, A. Leggett 5, Margaret E. Wilkinson 6, H. Walker 7, C. Groome 8, N. Maskell 9, John Chaddock 10, C. Reeves 11, J. A. D. Woolford 12.

The time taken was 3 hrs. 49 mins. and the peal was rung to the glory of God and to welcome the new Dean.

'STRIKE 'EM! IN SUFFOLK'

Buxhall, a pleasant scattered village in the heart of the delightful Suffolk countryside, was the venue for the Suffolk Guild Annual Striking Competition on September 26th. Seventy people enjoyed the sound of the fine ring of six from various strategic positions in the environs of the lovely 14th century church.

The test piece was 240 Bob Minor but most of the bands took full advantage of the two minutes unmarked rounds which were allowed, and ringing was maintained at a steady pace, few wishing to hurry the 15 cwt. tenor.

The last band finished their touch in good time for commencement of Evensong, which was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. C. N. Kendahl).

Tea at the Village Hall was enjoyed by 80 people, and the Ringing Master (George W. Pipe) opened the proceedings by welcoming the judges and saying how delighted he was to see such a large number in attendance, representative of practically every corner of the county.

The judges (Frank Lufkin and Walter Arnold, Essex Association, and F. Charles Goodman, Norwich Association) had prepared an analysis of their marking. Frank Lufkin remarked on the high standard of ringing throughout the afternoon.

Placing: 1 South East District (Ipswich), 5 faults; 2 Central District, 7; 3 Central District, 28; 4 North West District, 49; 5 North East District, 51; 6 South East District (Offton) 80; 7 South East District (Henley) 83; 8 North West District, 98.

The Rector presented the Hubert Mitson Shield to Jim Morley, who had conducted the winning team, and congratulated them on an excellent performance.

A very good tape-recording of the teams placed 1st and 2nd was heard before ringing was resumed at Buxhall and Great Finborough.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD
Crawford Cup Contest

Held this year in the Mansfield District, the final of the Crawford Cup contest took place at Cuckney on September 26th. As East Retford was unable to enter, four of the five respective District teams competed and an afternoon of excellent ringing was appreciated by all.

Thirty-eight ringers were present at tea, after which the results were announced: 1 Shelford (360 Oxford T.B. Minor) 13 faults; 2 Warson (360 Oxford T.B. Minor) 23 faults; 3 Wolaton (360 Plain Bob Minor) 484 faults; 4 Newark (360 Plain Bob Minor) 524 faults.

The Guild chairman, Mr. F. W. Midwinter, presented the cup to Mr. F. Bradley, captain of the Shelford team, amid general applause, and congratulations were extended by Mr. H. T. Rooke, on behalf of Warsop, holders of the cup for many years.

The Mansfield District chairman, Mr. S. W. Fossey, thanked Mr. and Mrs. D. Carlisle and Mr. G. Halls, of Derby, for having judged the contest so competently, after which the tower was declared open and a pleasant evening's ringing ensued.

The Shelford team, belonging to the Birmingham District of the Guild, were as follows: Thomas Dutton 1, Susan Meredith 2, Christine Froggatt 3, Doreen Bradley 4, Frank Bradley 5, Brian Mills (cond.) 6. D. J. B.

SHEBBEAR, DEVON.—On Sept. 20th, 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: J. P. Coad 1, R. W. Turner (first of Minor 'inside') 2, J. L. Queen 3, P. J. Daniel 4, C. G. J. Head 5, R. J. Gay (cond.) 6. A compliment to Mr. J. B. Marris, on his retirement after 23 years as headmaster, and to Mrs. Marris. Also to welcome their successors, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Kinsnorth.

OBITUARY*MR. W. H. LEWIS

Worcester has lost an outstanding ringing personality by the death on September 6th of Mr. William Henry ('Bill') Lewis in his 79th year. Until his illness, a month or so previous, he was doing a full day's work as a blacksmith and turning out regularly for Sunday ringing and practice, winding the church clock and hoisting the flag.

In his younger days he was a keen athlete and sportsman and excelled in football, cricket and rowing and he held a championship cup for single sculls. It was not until he was 28 that he was taught to ring by the late William Page, at St. John's, Worcester. His first peal was Grandsire Caters, rung in 1918 at All Saints'. His peal total was about 160, the last being in his favourite method, Stedman Triples, at St. John's, and rung for his 70th birthday.

He became Ringing Master at St. John's about 1932 and remained so until his death. He was also a member of the Cathedral Guild for 47 years and rang in several peals there, including the first with the tenor turned in, and, when he was nearly 50, he rang the 50 cwt. tenor himself behind Grandsire Cinques.

Many people attended the funeral service at St. John's Church and then joined the cortege to travel the short distance to St. John's Cemetery, where the half-muffled bells could still be faintly heard as the coffin was lowered into the grave. After the committal a course of Grandsire Triples was rung 'in hand' over the grave by G. E. Evenden 1-2, R. G. Morris 3-4, D. Beacham 5-6, R. Ashmore 7-8, all members of the Cathedral Guild.

In the evening a half-muffled quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung at St. John's and the following evening a half-muffled tribute was rung on the Cathedral bells.

In his address at Evensong on the Sunday, the Vicar of St. John's, the Rev. T. M. H. Richards, paid a moving tribute to Bill Lewis, who was, as he so rightly said, 'a good man.' How we shall miss old Bill. D. B.

MR. CHARLES SHARPLES

Mr. Charles Sharples, well known in Lancashire ringing circles and beyond, passed away in the Victoria Hospital, Blackpool, on September 13th, aged 88.

Though not a particularly prolific peal ringer, during his many years he took part in some noteworthy efforts, including a handbell peal of Bob Major on board S.S. 'Barra-pool' in the South Indian Ocean on December 10th, 1934, during 'The Great Adventure,' in company with J. S. Goldsmith, R. Richardson and the Rev. E. B. James.

A great stalwart of the Lancashire Association the writer remembers him best for his willingness to assist beginners and learners. His own ringing record goes back to March 10th, 1897, when he rang his first peal of Bob Minor for the Lancashire Association at Oswaldtwistle, the place of his birth. His last at Manchester Cathedral, Kent Royal, on April 17th, 1948; between these two dates he had taken part in at least one long length and one unconduted peal and peals on the Australian Tour of 1934. For the Lancashire Association he rang 103 peals.

During the last few years Charles was unable to ring, partly because of his deafness, though during the latter part of his career he gave a great deal of help in the Blackpool and Fylde district, and so the Exercise is the poorer for his passing. J. W. P.

INDUCTION DIFFICULTIES

The Suffolk Diocese of St. Edmundsbury and Ipswich is celebrating its jubilee this year and in connection with this a booklet has been on sale giving certain facts concerning the diocese. Included are some of the memories of a former Bishop and two former Archdeacons. One of the latter, the Ven. Hugh R. Norton, formerly Archdeacon of Sudbury, writes:

'One of my frequent duties has been the induction of new Vicars and Rectors. During my time there have been 175 inductions in the Archdeaconry and I have officiated at nearly all of them. During this service the new incumbent is required to toll the church bell. There is an old superstition that a priest will remain in his parish the same number of years as the times he rings the bell. I have always listened with interest to the number of rings given: they have varied from three to 20. Once the new Rector rang the Angelus; on another occasion he failed to produce any sound from the bell at all in spite of the most vigorous pulls; and at another church the ominous silence was only broken when the Rural Dean rushed forward, seized the bell rope and rang the bell himself. . . .'

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD
Wimborne Branch

The quarterly meeting of the Branch, held on September 26th at Canford, will be remembered by most people for an unusual and amusing sermon preached by the Vicar, the Rev. P. F. Unwin. He took as his theme a set of belfry rules of Canford Church dated 1873 and was able to shed interesting light on ringing at that time.

Prior to the service, ringing took place on the six bells and methods ranged from Plain Bob to Cambridge. Visitors were welcomed at the meeting from Hambledon and Liss, and five new members were elected, who included Mr. Fuller and family, late of Sussex, who have moved to Swanage.

Next meeting: Witchampton, November 14th; annual, Wimborne, January 23rd.

North Dorset Branch

Thirty ringers and visitors attended the quarterly meeting at Thornford on September 19th. Standard methods were rung on the well-going six (10 cwt.), with rounds for learners, up to the Guild Office, when the Branch was welcomed by the Rector (the Rev. L. Chesterman). At the business meeting later three new members from Liffington were elected—Miss Janet Higgins and Mr. and Mrs. Trevelyan. A proficiency certificate was awarded to T. Bleathman, of Okeford Fitzpaine. A suggestion was made that, in order to raise the standard and scope of the Branch's ringing, the Saturday fortnightly practices should be graded, so far as possible, to the maximum ability of those present, to work up through Single, Oxford, Double Oxford, Cambridge to Beverley and London Surprise Minor. This suggestion was readily agreed to and ringers were encouraged to attend Saturday practices.

Tributes were paid to the late Mr. S. J. Pound, for a great many years a member of the Guild, and to the late Miss Ivy Fanner, who had captained the Compton Abbas ringers and whose early death had been a great loss to that parish.

The annual meeting was arranged for December 12th at Gillingham, subject to the usual consents. Ringing continued at Thornford and Yetminster.

The Rev. H. R. Haweis

Sir,—Is not Mr. Fidler a little hard on the Rev. H. R. Haweis?

The worthy gentleman was one of a series of scholarly, sincere and earnest clerics who graced the early and mid-Victorian eras, and being appalled at the apathy and squabbling of the contemporary Church set to work 'to do something about it'. He was writing, not for English bellfounders and ringers, of whom he had rather a poor opinion, but for the solid middle and upper classes of Victorian society who would normally have considered themselves contaminated had they entered a belfry and mixed with such dreadful examples of the 'lower orders' as ringers then were, in an endeavour to rouse their interest in the Church and its ornaments, and it is only to be expected that his language is florid, not technically correct.

He was very keen on the carillon rather than change-ringing and a strong advocate of Belgian rather than English bells. Perhaps his views are not so ridiculous after all when one considers a Flemony bell of Amsterdam and those of later founders of the Low Countries against its English fellow of the 17th century and later. Even to-day Francis Flemony's tuning of small bells stands unmatched.

An interesting picture of Haweis emerges from the 'Reminiscences of Lady Dorothy Nevill,' published in 1906, when the author was nearing the end of her long life (1826—1913). She appears, from her writings, as a lively, intelligent woman of great personal charm; this impression is borne out by the fact of her having been on friendly terms with most of the eminent Victorians from the Queen's 'dearest Albert' downwards. I quote:

'At one time I saw a good deal of the Rev. Mr. Haweis, at whose parties one used to meet all sorts of different kinds of people.' She goes on to tell of meeting General Booth and also describes the first public demonstration of the newly-invented phonograph. 'I remember its being a complete failure, for through something having gone wrong, no coherent sound whatever issued from the mouthpiece, much to the dismay of the exhibitor (Haweis).

'Mr. Haweis was a most amusing little man, very devoted to music. His sermons were quite unlike any others I ever heard and totally devoid of those ponderous . . . qualities which render these discourses a sad trial to many an unfortunate congregation. He would preach on all sort of unconventional subjects. One of his last sermons . . .

was on the cruelty of leaving cats untended in London houses while the owners were away and some remarks he added aroused . . . tittering in the congregation, and he exclaimed, "What I have just said may possibly be amusing, but I will tell you one thing, it certainly would not make a cat laugh."

'A great authority on musical instruments, he was especially learned about bells and knew all about the manner in which they were cast. I wished to have a bell set up at the entrance to my garden in the country, and he gave the address of an excellent bellfounder at Louvain (Severin Van Aerschodt). Mr. Haweis composed a motto to be inscribed on this bell which ran:

"Neville velis—as I swing.

Ne velis vile—so I sing.

Welcome to all, nor wish them ill,

My Lady Dorothy Nevill."

'This bell of excellent sound and tone was duly cast by the 'fondeur des cloches' whom I have mentioned and became an object of great interest in my Sussex garden.'

Lady Dorothy then relates how Haweis designed a sundial, which she never had made. She describes his plan and gives the verse he proposed putting on it:

'Look you upon my face without the sun.

I shall not mark the course that he has run,

So let the dark days unrecorded be,

But number every glowing hour like me.'

She concludes:

'Mr. Haweis never recovered from his wife's death which, I think, really broke his heart, for he did not survive that sad event very long, dying quite suddenly one Sunday. A man of very broad (some people said unorthodox views), he created something of a sensation by entertaining Renan . . . I went to a party given in his honour at the Amber House, where Mr. Haweis lived, the exterior of which, in accordance with his unconventional nature, he had caused to be painted a bright amber colour.'

I believe Haweis had a hand in the installation of the Cattistock carillon in 1862, most unfortunately destroyed by fire in 1940. Boston in 1865 and possibly others.—Yours sincerely,

W. E. BOX.

Harborne, Birmingham.

'On the Spot'

Dear Sir, In his challenge to Mr. A. P. Cannon questioning the validity of some of his 1,000 peals, Mr. Holtom has 'put on the spot' not Mr. Cannon only, but also numerous ringers who have participated in peals of which he was the conductor. It would be interesting to know whether both Mr. Holtom and the late Mr. Clement Glenn deleted the peals instanced from their own personal list. Mr. Cannon's integrity has been challenged, leaving both himself and his fellow peal-ringers in an invidious position. No doubt there are many participants in his peals who can vouch for the truth of them, but where their correctness is questionable few people would be willing to give the facts for two reasons:

(a) Participants, once a deal has been published and not repudiated, would probably have recorded it in their own list, and (b) even if they have not, they would, out of charity to Mr. Cannon, be reluctant to defame his character by exposing him as a cheat.

Perhaps we could hear Mr. Cannon's views on the two peals quoted by Mr. Holtom by the customary right to reply and leave any other 'dirty linen' in the linen basket.

As you, sir, pointed out, it is too late now for inquests—but if there were one, and Mr. Cannon were found guilty, his associates, too, would be stigmatised for aiding and abetting. This whole subject is most unpalatable and best ignored.—Yours faithfully,

W. BIRMINGHAM.

Stoke Poges, Bucks.

'Much for the Exercise'

Dear Sir,—I feel that I cannot allow the contents of Mr. K. R. Holtom's letter (page 664) to pass without comment. Whilst this gentleman is entitled to his opinions, I do feel that his method of voicing them is rather obtuse. I have had the pleasure of being acquainted with Mr. A. P. Cannon for very many years and I find it difficult to realise that such an attack has been made on one who has done so much for the Exercise. I am not in a position to comment on all Mr. Cannon's peals, but I must say in his defence that I have rung in various attempts with him which he has stopped for one reason or another, the most recent being early this year. Many ringers, including myself, have a very high opinion of Mr. Cannon as a ringer, a gentleman, a staunch member of the Exercise and, above all, a fellow being and a Christian. Never has any other ringer had so much 'Michael' extracted from him only to come up smiling every time, enjoying the joke made against him.

Mr. Holtom has opinions to which he is opposed but I am grieved to know he is so lacking in Christian charity as to air them in a public journal.

Carry on with your 'press-ups', Mr. Cannon, and I know your skin is thick enough to accept this lack of Christian charity.—Yours sincerely,

F. C. W. KNIGHT.

Ramsgate.

Outings not Pub Crawls

Dear Sir,—In reply to A. V. Davis' letter ('The Ringing World' p. 632) suggesting that we are giving the wrong impression of English bell ringing to overseas readers, I wonder whether he would consider substituting the word 'British' for 'English'; and would it be in order to consider also the feelings of our Irish friends?

I have never read an account of an outing which suggested that it had been a glorious pub crawl. Indeed I could name many ringers who would clamour to get on next year's outing if they had ever read such a thing.

So far as presenting word pictures of the English and Welsh and Scottish countryside is concerned, there are excellent periodicals printed for this precise purpose—and most of them are available overseas. It is not the function of 'The Ringing World' to act as a glorified tourist brochure.

Whilst some of the antics of the ringers might afterwards appear dull in print to persons not connected with the outing, it must be borne in mind that most accounts of outings and tours are, to a large extent, only of interest to those who take part and their immediate circle of friends. It is, for the most part, a 'local event,' and whilst we in Somerset are not at all interested in the fact that a character 200 miles away missed a bus, it will also bring smiles to the lips of many who read it who know that this particular character is prone to this hazard. We must remember that we are all locals.

Apart from the 'Washington' article, which was surely in a class of its own, the one good article that one immediately calls to mind was written in recent months by a non-ringing father who accompanied his son on an outing. He listened to most of the bells from various neighbouring pubs and his descriptive writing was a joy to read. Many ringers have praised this article and probably the only impression it would give overseas readers is that non-ringing fathers spend their days in pubs.—Yours faithfully,

M. HEYMANN.

Chilcompton, Bath.

'Changes through the Years'

Dear Sir,—Readers of your main article of September 11th, 'Changes Through the Years,' will have read the observations on ringers and worship with great interest, and the sentiments expressed by Mr. Wilson call for our utmost support.

No doubt we could all cite instances of clergy who appear to have little or no interest in the ringers and, on the other hand, know many who value the services of those who give so much time and energy in the activities of the Exercise.

As ringers, whether in cathedral or village church, we should all be a part of the worshipping community; indeed, as Christians, we must know this to be true. We are often reminded that our ringing is a service to God and that we are His servants in the performance of our art. None of us should feel that we attend a service just to pacify the Vicar or because it looks good to see the ringers in the ringers' pew, but it is incumbent upon us to join the worshipping congregation, as and when we can, to offer praise and thanksgiving for the benefits conferred upon us.

Ringers' services, specially arranged, are usually well attended and anything that can be done actively to encourage a more regular worship by the ringers should be applauded, and the outcome will do much to heal the breaches which may exist in some quarters, and be to the ultimate good of all.

There are many—not only ringers—who need just a little encouragement and leadership to remind them of their responsibilities and it will be interesting to see what ideas are offered as a means to this end.—Yours truly,

J. TOMSETT.

Hinchley Wood, Surrey.

A BISHOP AND HIS FLOCK IN CORNWALL

ON the night of August 21st four cars converged on Castle Cary, containing between them 11 ringers, many of whom were unknown to each other. When everyone had finally discovered just who everyone else was, either by introduction or deduction, most of us retired to bed, to prepare for what we knew would be a strenuous week.

After breakfast the following morning we made our separate ways to Taunton, where we made quite a good start to the week on the easy-going eight at St. James'. It was there that the organiser, Tony Bishop, finally joined us, together with Gill Simms. Meals throughout the week were left to the choice of the separate car parties, so we met again after lunch at Wiveliscombe. There we were delighted to meet Mr. M. Young, formerly of Leatherhead. Ringing was reasonable, but much better on the lovely six at Bampton. After South Molton we had our first glimpse of the sea, at Stratton, and produced some reasonable Stedman and Cambridge on the fine eight. We reached Tintagel, our base for the week, at 9.30 p.m.

BOYS AND GIRLS!

Sunday was to be a lazy day. We rang for 11 o'clock service at the Parish Church, where our ringing was at least noticed, since after church some local people were overheard saying: 'Did you know they were boys and girls ringing the bells this morning?' (Average age of party 23!) In the late afternoon we rang at St. Thomas', Launceston and for evening service at St. Mary's (8), including call changes with some local ringers.

Monday was our only rainy day, but we were still out of the hotel by 9.15 in order to ring at Perranzabuloe. It was there that we embarked on the first of the methods, Ipswich, which we had been ordered to learn by Tony. Gwennap was one of the few really difficult towers that we visited, and we were glad to leave for lunch in Falmouth, in which we were disappointed through traffic congestion. At Mawgan-in-Meneage (6) we rang Doubles until the others arrived and Alpertown Alliance. We went on to Manaccon (6). The last tower was Mullion (6), before tea, and then to Wendron, Illogan (detached tower) and Crantock Rural, where we achieved our aim of splicing Little Bob with Alpertown.

INTO DEVON

Tuesday was another day of sixes. Peter Tavy, our only tower in the morning, had another ground-floor ring. Most of the party went on to Walkhampton for lunch and then rang at the local church, where we first encountered the police. They were suspicious and obviously thought we were some form of diversion to cover the escape of 'Angel Face.' After ringing at Meavy and Shaugh Prior we crossed the new Tamar Bridge to ring the beautiful bells at Saltash, where we managed a good course of Cambridge. St. Stephens-by-Saltash produced the first good fall of the tour, which we somehow managed to repeat on the very difficult six at Callington.

Wednesday was the day we visited Land's End. We enjoyed the fine six at Uny Lelant and did the bells justice with a good fall.

Zennor (6), the first 'Z' for many of us, followed lunch, and this inspired us to produce some of the best ringing of the week in good touches of St. Clement's and Original. Sennen's turned out to be an easy and pleasant six. A mad dash for time brought us to Paul, where we certainly did not do the beautiful bells justice, and after tea in Hake rang at Phillack and Redruth, both eights.

PLEASED BABY

On Thursday morning we arrived early at Bristow, for the first of yet another day of sixes. To fill in time we rang handbells, to the delight of a baby, who flattered us by crying loudly when we stopped. The ringing on tower bells, however, cannot have pleased him so much, but we made up for this at Belstone. Here a local ringer joined us in ringing very fast and near-perfect call changes. This was followed by a touch of St. Clement's almost as good. Most of the party then spent the spare time in the afternoon bathing and walking near Belstone. We all met again in the early evening at Bow. We did not, however, enjoy Exbourne bells so much. After this, some mistake on Tony's part left us a quarter of an hour to go ten miles down Cornish lanes to Beaford. We therefore arrived late and were sorry to see an old gentleman apparently waiting for us outside the church. Tony asked:

'Are you Mr. Heard?'

'Eh?'

'Are you Mr. Heard?' (loudly).
Silence.

'ARE YOU MR. HEARD?'

'Oh no!'

(Apologies to Mr. Heard and a citizen of Beaford.) Perhaps our amusement accounted for the poor ringing. This being the last tower of the day, we were able to indulge a previously expressed wish to have a turn on the village swings before returning home.

HOWLING

The first tower on Friday was Bradworthy (6) followed by Clovelly (6). Our ringing here was not as bad as the howling of a local dog might have suggested. In fact Ipswich went better than it had done all week. At Abbotsham we found the church full of ladies and flowers—preparations for a wedding were in progress. Here the tenor was so deep-set that Michael was left hanging from the sally long after the others had pulled off. We all had a picnic lunch together in a field overlooking the Torridge estuary, to the music of Pat Cannon's peal-ringing at Appledore. At Westleigh, we managed a good course of Cambridge.

After tea in Barnstaple we rang at the Parish Church and found the bells very hard to handle, although fine in tone. The second proved to be so deep-set that 'young' Elizabeth, having inadvertently set it at backstroke, was left hanging from the tail-end. We managed a good rise here, but found ourselves exhausted after call changes and Grand-sire Triples. The last two towers were Tawstock and Atherington, the latter being Tony's 1,000th tower. This was a very suitable ending to a most enjoyable week.

During the week we also rang York, Durham and Hayes Alliance.

We would like to thank the incumbents and those ringers who met us.

V. R. and E. Z.

Another very fine handbell performance has taken place at Harrow—20 methods of Spliced Surprise Major, which is a new record. Dr. D. E. Sibson acted as umpire and checked the lead-ends throughout the peal.

The peal at Accrington on August 28th (see page 656) was rung at the Church of St. James and not as stated.

More than 3,000 ringers have rung a peal this year—an indication of the healthy state of the Exercise to-day. It cannot be said that peal ringers are just a clique.

The peal of Plain Bob Major at Dronfield, Derbyshire, was the first local peal on the eight bells. There were three peals on the old six, but, writes G. N. Goodall, they were rung over 100 years ago. A composition by Amburn Wilson, who rang the seventh, also helped to maintain the local flavour.

Mr. Jesse Davis, hon. secretary of the West Dorset Branch, writes to tell us that Thorncombe is in Dorset, near the county boundaries of Devon and Somerset. The peal rung on August 30th by the local Sunday service band was for the Salisbury Diocesan Guild. Confusion arises from the postal address being Thorncombe, Chard, Somerset.

We feel certain that all their old friends in Salop and Guildford will congratulate Mr. and Mrs. E. Weatherby on their diamond wedding anniversary on September 21st. The following day was Mr. Weatherby's 93rd birthday. They are living at an old people's home, Plumb Hall, Alhambra, California (P.O. Box 2085) and were presented with a large celebration cake which they shared with the other 40 residents.

In aid of the Bell Restoration Fund of St. Mary the Virgin Church, Brabourne, Kent, a production of 'Son et Lumiere' will be presented for a fortnight from Monday, October 19th, to Saturday, October 31st, at 7.30 p.m. Seating is limited to just over 100. Tickets: 7s. 6d. reserved, and 5s. unreserved, with reduction for parties, from the Rev. R. A. Sheekey, The Rectory, Smeeth, Ashford, Kent. (Tel. Sellingle 2126.)

BELFRY GOSSIP

Some encouraging progress has taken place at Alton, where Mr. Rex J. Corke is conductor. Four of the local band rang their first peal (Grandsire Triples) on September 20th. These included Mr. L. J. Noakes, who has been ringing regularly for over 40 years.

The next annual meeting of the Railwaymen's Guild will be held in London on May 15th.

The 'Cheshire Ringers' have just concluded a four-day tour of Ireland and scored five tower bell peals from six attempts, including a peal of Cambridge Surprise Maximus at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin.

Canon Gilbert Thurlow sincerely thanks those who made it possible for him to ring with them recently on the Isle of Wight. If going there, contact Mr. Lester Bailey, Greensmead, Church Road, Godshill, and you will receive a warm welcome.

Messrs. John Taylor & Co., are due to start work on dismantling Daventry bells and frame on November 2nd. There is to be a new metal frame, three bells recast and two new trebles added to increase the ring to ten. The local ringers are raising the cost of recasting the present treble and second bells.

The week-end course at Grantley Hall, Yorkshire, was filled to capacity and several late applicants had to be turned down. A particularly keen group gathered and the week-end activities included several new features. The demands for more and longer courses indicated students' obvious enjoyment and satisfaction. Already the next course (No. 6) has been booked for July 23rd, 1965.

Readers may have noticed the frequency with which Daventry has appeared in the peal columns this year. Twelve have been rung, and one lost due to a broken rope, and two more are to be attempted before the bellhangers start work next month. Although there are several houses very close to the tower, inconvenience to residents is minimised due to an extremely efficient system of sound control installed a few years ago to Mr. F. Sharpe's specifications.

KIMPTON CUP COMPETITION

The sixth Kimpton Cup competition was held at SS. Peter and Paul's, Kimpton, on September 26th. The competition, open to Hertfordshire towers, was rather poorly supported this year—only five entries from a possible 70 or so towers affiliated.

Two neighbouring towers were open during the afternoon—Codicote, a pleasant six, and Welwyn, a light eight, which unfortunately 'shout down' into the High Street of this Best Kept Village.

Following the competition, over 40 ringers sat down to a salad tea served by local ladies in the Village Hall. Would tea be more enjoyable if the results were announced beforehand?

After tea the Vicar of Kimpton, the Rev. K. G. Martin, welcomed the ringers once again to Kimpton and thanked them generally for their service to the Church in their various places. He hoped that the new towns would realise the value of the bells and consider making provision for them in the new churches. The Rev. Mr. Martin then asked the judges, Mr. A. P. Cannon and Mr. C. H. Kippin, for their comments and results. Mr. Kippin said the general level of ringing was good, and if Sunday service ringing was up to this standard we should not have much cause for concern. A large number of faults were caused by bad leads. A poor lead often resulted in several faults in that row. The treble ringer in several teams was too quick and did not give the larger bells enough room. Tenors were also criticised in some cases for forcing too fast a pace. Considerable amusement was caused by Mr. Kippin's imagined description of the treble ringer of one band. He pictured a fair young damsel ringing the bell and the conductor reluctant to shout at this pretty young thing as she made fault after fault. The gentleman from Baldock who was actually concerned appeared to be a little embarrassed but took it all in good part.

Mr. Cannon supported Mr. Kippin's comments and said that most of the faults were caused by the trebles.

The results were as follows: 1 North Mymms (Cambridge), 127 faults; 2 Kings Langley (Plain Bob), 147; 3 Baldock (Cambridge), 157; 4 St. Stephen's, St. Albans (Kent), 238. Kimpton (Plain Bob Doubles) were disqualified for not completing 360 changes due to a miscall.

This made the 'hat-trick' for North Mymms, Mr. G. Spencer receiving the Kimpton Cup on behalf of the band from the Rev. Martin.

The judges were each presented with an ash tray as a memento and token of appreciation. This gift prompted the query from one of the judges as to whether it was a Mears or a Taylor bell depicted on the ash tray.

In general discussion that followed, it was agreed that the date of the next competition should be September 25th, 1965, at Kimpton. The committee for the 1965 event are as follows: Messrs. B. M. Barker, E. G. Buck, J. G. Cull, P. Fells and D. C. Price.

MERTON COLLEGE, OXFORD, SEPTENCENTENARY

By PHILIP WALKER

SEVEN hundred years ago, on September 14th, 1264, Walter de Merton, afterwards Bishop of Rochester, obtained from Henry III and the Bishop and Chapter of Winchester permission to establish 20 scholars at Oxford or at some other university. In 1270 the plan was further enlarged and in 1274 a final set of statutes was drawn up whereby the College was definitely established in Oxford.

The Chapel is the largest in the University and the first to be built in a college. The choir was begun in 1290 but the tower was not completed until 1450. The tower is situated at the west end of the Chapel and had the intended nave ever been built it would have been a central tower.

The eight bells which were cast in 1680 are all by Christopher Hodgson and are the oldest complete ring by one founder in existence. Mr. F. Sharpe, in his book The Church Bells of Oxfordshire, tells us that the bells are mentioned in the Bursar's rolls as early as 1288. Anthony Wood rang at the college in the 17th century and records that the tenor bell was reputed to be the finest bell in England. The five bells were recast by Michael Darbie into a ring of eight in 1657. Unfortunately these bells were not a success and as one would expect the founder was blamed for their poor quality. However, we must remember that casting a ring of eight bells in those early days was purely an experiment.

Christopher Hodgson visited Oxford to recast Great Tom at Christ Church. Merton College authorities, taking advantage of his visit, asked him to recast the college bells. They still remain as Hodgson made them. They hang in an oak frame made by Messrs. White, of Appleton, towards the end of the 19th century.

The bells were originally rung from the ground floor of the Chapel and it is clear that this must have been extremely arduous. The ropes were obviously very long and bellhanging in those days was very primitive. Today the bells are rung from a gallery 60 feet above the floor of the Chapel. The tenor weighs approximately 26 cwt.

Ringing at the College is now confined almost entirely to ringing on special occasions such as the Queen's Accession Anniversary, etc. These special rings are undertaken by members of the Oxford Society.

Peal ringing at the College over the years has not been very prolific. The Oxford Society's records list eight peals rung on the bells. The first, Grandsire Triples, is dated October 5th, 1817, and was conducted by J. Tagg. Between December 24th, 1888, and December 28th, 1896, six peals were rung, three of Stedman, two of Grandsire, and one of London. This group of six peals was all conducted by J. W. Washbrook, who was very active as a conductor in and around Oxford at this time. On September 6th, 1945, a peal of Cambridge was rung by the following members of the Oxford Society: V. J. F. Bennett 1, W. F. Judge (cond.) 2, A. H. Reed 3, F. A. H. Wilkins 4, C. F. Andrews 5, W. Williams 6, Rev. C. E. Wigg 7, J. E. Spice 8. This is the last peal to be rung at the college to date and seems to have been the cause of trouble with the college authorities. It appears that the organiser, when he made the arrangements, omitted to make it clear that a peal on these bells would take three and a half hours to ring. We understand that a determined effort was made to stop the ringing but it was found impossible to force an entry by way of the door which had, of course, been locked. The ringers were therefore able to complete the peal without interference in 3 hours and 33 minutes.

To celebrate the actual date of the College's 700th anniversary the governing body requested the Oxford Society to ring for half an hour on Monday, September 14th, 1964. The opportunity was however taken to suggest that the occasion warranted something more than what amounted to an ordinary ring and the college authorities were asked to consider giving permission for a peal to be attempted. It was however, eventually decided that an hour's ringing was all that could be allowed. It was then regretfully decided that a quarter peal was all that could be attempted. The quarter was successful and produced some of the best ringing to be heard on these bells for a very long time. The details are as follows: At Merton College, Oxford, on Monday, September 14th, 1964, 1,260 Stedman Triples was rung by members of the Oxford Society: P. Walker 1, W. F. Judge 2, J. R. Chaundy 3, E. R. Venn 4, B. R. White 5, E. J. Smith 6, S. J. Ivin (cond.) 7, F. A. White 8. The conductor was recently a member of the College.

The ringers made their way down from the tower to find waiting for them the Warden of the college in company with the Domestic Bursar. Pleasure was expressed by them as to the quality of the performance and, remarking that it must have been thirsty work, they took us along to the Hall for liquid refreshment. This gesture was much appreciated by us all.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Non-Association Peal Protest Criticised

The first general meeting of the Yorkshire Association for many years at Birstwith was held on September 12th. For the first time at a September meeting there was ringing in the morning when the fine new eight at St. Peter's Church, Harrogate, were enjoyed as well as the six at Beckwithshaw. Birstwith bells are a known attraction and despite the unfortunate clash with two other ringing meetings in Yorkshire a fairly representative company gathered for some good ringing. Evening Prayer was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. R. C. Capel-Cure, who joined the ringers at tea in the Station Hotel.

The President of the Association, Archdeacon C. O. Ellison, presided at the business meeting. Mr. E. Hudson in proposing a vote of thanks to all those who had co-operated in holding the meeting mentioned specially the wish of the late Jackson Ewbank that a Yorkshire General Meeting be held at Birstwith. Mr. H. Walker, seconded this proposal and commented on the good lead the Vicar had given in the singing at the service.

Three new members were elected: Mr. Gordon Pearce (Huntington), Miss Katherine Wilson (Guisley) and Mr. Rick Dirksen (Washington Cathedral), who rang his first 720 on the last day of the Washington trip in May.

Mr. Roger Lumley raised the question of the peal levy, doubting whether the issues were clearly put at the Annual General Meeting in May. The President said he thought there had been no confusion and that members had had full opportunity to reject both a 6d. and a 1s. levy. He criticised very strongly the footnote to a recent Non-Association peal report 'Rung as a protest to the peal levy.' He thought this a gross misuse of bells meant to be used for the glory of God. Mr. Vernon Bottomley supported the President, stating that he thought it was the intention of the Doncaster meeting that there should be a peal levy. Mr. Lumley intimated that he would propose next May that the new rule be rescinded.

The next general meeting will be on January 16th, probably at Halifax.

Immediately after the business an interesting talk on the Washington trip by Mr. Norman Chaddock was much appreciated. Further ringing at Birstwith and Beckwithshaw and also at the six-bell tower of Kirk Deighton followed.

THE RAILWAYMEN'S GUILD

The favourable conditions prevailing for the Guild's autumn meeting at Cambridge, on September 26th, helped considerably to make the programme for the day very satisfactory, both in ringing and travelling.

The chief guest was the Mayor (Alderman P. J. Warren), who visited the tower of Great St. Mary and watched ringing in progress. In his words of welcome to Cambridge, he stated that he was very impressed with what he saw in the belfry.

The number present was a great improvement on the last meeting. All regions were represented, but the Masters of the North Eastern and the Eastern Regions were unable to attend and were among the 18 apologies received.

Ringing commenced at St. Bene'ts', and other towers visited were Great St. Mary (12), Our Lady (R.C.) Church (8), St. Mary's, Trumpington (8) and St. Andrew's (8). Weddings at two of the churches upset the schedule slightly.

At the short business meeting Mr. Sid Fosskett asked that the hon. sec. should write a letter of condolence to Mr. and Mrs. W. Hollands on the recent loss of their son-in-law.

Arrangements for the 1965 annual general meeting at London and the autumn meeting at Swansea were already in progress, and members were asked to note the dates of both. Four new members were elected.

In the vote of thanks Mr. Frank Stenson thanked the incumbents concerned for the use of the bells, and Mr. Charles Bassett for the excellent programme.

A SHROPSHIRE TRIANGULAR FRAME

The triangular frame at Cardington, Sapot, approximately 1626. All four bells are roped on the same side of the wheel, hence the straight rope 'circle.'

Dear Sir.—I may be able to add a little to Mr. Johnson's interesting article (Sept. 4th) on four-bell towers in Shropshire.

At HUGHLEY the bells hang in a timber-framed brick bell-cot. Instead of being supported from the floor by heavy oak posts (as in so many churches in the South-East) the whole weight of the bell-cot is carried on oak beams spanning between the nave walls. The bells are at present fitted with cords instead of ropes and would need considerable attention before any attempt was made to ring them.

ACTON BURNELL bells hang in a small Victorian north tower which, in spite of its size, contains a first-floor ringing room. The bells are fitted with proper ropes and are ringable although normally chimed from the ground floor by means of an apparatus.

The bells at ST. KEVIN'S, MILBOROUGH hang in a really massive 17th century oak frame but this has been damaged by beetle in places and the fittings are in very poor shape. The bells are not good in tone or tune; numbers 1, 3 and 4 are approximately a major three and the 2nd is a semitone! The tenor is G-sharp.

CARDINGTON'S triangular frame can, I think, be dated approximately by the 2nd bell (1626) which would make it nearly contemporary with the similar frame at Onibury.

It spans the tower from north to south and all four bells are roped on the same side of the wheel—hence the straight rope 'circle.'

The bells are rung from the ground floor, giving a long draught, but the ropes are good and the bells appeared to be ringable when I saw them last January. I understood then that they had not been rung for Christmas but that they had been rung on occasions in 1962-3. I doubt if the frame shakes enough to cause any harm. In view of the rarity of triangular frames your readers may be interested to see the enclosed photograph. The bells were relit and two of them recast by Barwell in 1887, two years before Acton Burnell. The note of the Rudhall tenor is G.—Yours faithfully, CHRISTOPHER DALTON. Leigh, Surrey.

Tower Master's 80th Birthday

The 80th birthday of Mr. Hadley S. Gregory, tower master of Emmanuel Church, Clifton, on October 1st, was commemorated by a peal on Emmanuel bells by a representative band of old friends. This was followed by a tea in the Church Hall, at which the Vicar (the Rev. R. M. Brettell) and Dr. T. G. Faulkner (churchwarden) were among those offering congratulations. Mrs. McDowall provided an excellent tea, including a cake adorned with 80 candles.

Mr. Gregory has been a ringer for 55 years. He was tower master at St. Andrew's, Clifton, from 1930 until the church was destroyed by enemy action in 1940. Since then he has been in charge of Emmanuel bells and is untiring in his efforts to keep both bells and ringers in order.

ANOTHER 1,000-PEALER

Mr. Joseph W. Cotton, hon. secretary of the Midland Counties Association, rang his 1,000th peal on October 6th at his own tower, Overseal. The method was Overseal Delight and it was conducted by Mr. Brian G. Warwick.

Shropshire Fours — Baschurch

Dear Sir.—A correction is necessary to my letter on the above (page 635). Though the fine Flemish bell and the third by Thomas Clibury II, 1662, remain as cast, Taylors tell me that they did recast the treble and tenor in 1909, as they were both damaged. My apologies to Mr. Johnson for only having half the story.—Yours faithfully,

R. W. M. CLOUSTON.

Radlett, Herts.

A CANNONADE OF INDIGNATION

'Not Fiddled'

Dear Sir.—Congratulations to Mr. Holtom on his most amusing, albeit rather pathetic letter.

I have never had the misfortune of ringing in a peal with Mr. Holtom but, having seen him perform at the end of a rope, the prospect of having to drag him through even a touch of Bob Major would be enough to fill me with alarm and despondency. Pat Cannon is to be congratulated on his patience and perseverance in having given Mr. Holtom the simple pleasure of a peal or two; but then A.P.C. has always been a good man with the learners and, in his usual quiet and modest fashion, would probably decry any thanks for his efforts.

I have rung in over 100 peals with Pat Cannon and I don't suppose that I shall ever forget any of them, for various reasons. However, I think I can say with virtual certainty, and in all seriousness, that he has not 'fiddled' or otherwise illegally adjusted a single one of them. They have included most of the best peals that I have rung, and all of the most enjoyable. To me, at any rate, the Exercise would be a very much poorer place without him.—Yours faithfully

ROBIN G. LEALE.

Teddington.

Another Tower Captain's Criticism

Dear Sir.—With reference to 'Tower Captain's Criticism,' it is even more astonishing that the captain of Stoke D'Abernon does not know that his District Ringing Master rings regularly at Dorking. Does he imagine that peal ringers and those who enjoy a day's ringing outing are not regular service ringers, or that they are not better ringers for the extra effort and time they devote to the Exercise?

In our District, there are a good number of 'ordinary service ringers' who find the time to attend meetings, so attempting to support both the Guild and District Masters in their efforts to improve the standard of ringing and in the encouragement of the towers where the bells are not often rung.

Mr. Ash's limited experience clearly shows lack of participation in his Guild activities. Since Mr. Wilson devoted a complete week-end in July to members of the Guildford Diocesan Guild. Those attending found the lectures very enlightening and encouraging and have no doubt that Mr. Wilson, who also teaches learners, does not live in an ivory tower; we can only assume that Mr. Ash is trying to discredit someone he has never met.—Yours sincerely,

PETER AND ANGELA SMART.

Ash, Surrey.

A Quote from Sibelius

Dear Sir.—I was both sorry and surprised to read Mr. Holtom's letter. Such criticism, whether justified or not, could scarcely come from a more incongruous source, in view of Mr. Cannon's patient and long-suffering attempts to instil the art of elementary change ringing into the infamous Mr. Holtom.

Before the situation has time to degenerate further, however, I should like to draw attention to a few well-chosen words uttered by Sibelius after he, too, on one occasion had been subjected to heavy criticism: 'No one has ever erected a statue to a critic.'—Yours faithfully,

WILLIAM S. DEASON.

Hampton, Middlesex.

Ten Years Too Late

Dear Sir.—I consider Mr. Holtom's letter to be most despicable and am amazed that it was published. What have these relics of the past to do with the 1,000th any more than the 600th, 750th or 850th peals which were claimed as such? As you stated, sir, a complaint ten years after the event is too late. Did Mr. Holtom not have the strength of his convictions a decade ago? Mr. Cannon restricts his conducting mainly to the standard methods and I often wonder whether this is the basic reason for the unkind digs made at him. From my own experience in the dozen or so peals rung with him the striking has in general been excellent, and often better than in peals rung with more revered conductors.

Surely if Mr. Holtom is not exaggerating, some of the members of each band would have objected to having their names associated with the peals? It would only have needed one person to refuse to let his name be published. If Mr. Cannon was satisfied with the performances and Mr. Holtom was not, then it is quite clear to me with whom the fault lies and it would be more prudent at this stage for him to refrain from hanging his own dirty washing on Mr. Cannon's line. He presumably took part in the peal of Plain Bob in Wales—or did he receive the report second or third hand?—which would indicate that he had a lapse of memory which he has subsequently regained.

In Surrey, where he is Master of the Surrey Association and a District Ringing Master of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, Mr. Cannon is always welcome in our midst. His help to everyone, both at meetings, practices and peal ringing, has made him very popular and I am sure the common feeling in this part of the country is, 'Congratulations, Pat!'.—Yours sincerely,

D. A. R. MAY.

Old Woking, Surrey.

Untiring Tower Captain

Dear Sir.—With reference to the critical remarks of Messrs. Holtom and Ash in their respective letters re Mr. A. P. Cannon, may I suggest they visit St. Martin's Church, Dorking, one Monday evening, where for several years now Mr. Cannon has been the untiring captain battling against difficult odds with a struggling band of young ringers. It is an exception if he does not attend a practice night and his patience and encouragement must be witnessed to be appreciated. He also finds time to carry out successfully the duties of Master of both the Surrey Association and the Leatherhead District of the Guildford Guild, rarely missing a meeting of either.

So, correspondents, instead of voicing hostile judgment, which achieves nothing, be more virtuous and refrain from commenting until such time as more meritorious remarks are forthcoming.—Yours faithfully,

A SURREY RINGER.

Torment, not Sport

Dear Sir.—Change ringing is not sport; it is a disease, at least to those performers who are mentioned in 'The Ringing World.'

As to peal totals, we heard and read the same about the Rev. F. E. Robinson and others. I have always found it easier to maintain a good band where there are a few peal-ringing members. And it is your duty to stand in a peal for them if they have given you joy in learning the methods. After standing in a peal and the conductor says 'That is all,' shut up outside the belfry.—Yours faithfully,

A FLAT.

Local Bands' Backbone

Dear Sir.—The issue of October 1st contained more than its fair share of critical 'correspondence,' but the letter from Mr. Ash is typical of the sour grapes attitude adopted by many second-rate ringers who, because they are either incompetent or unpleasantly eccentric are not invited to take part in peals arranged by people who find very great joy in the ringing of peals. They usually finish up by putting themselves on a pedestal and calling themselves 'Ordinary Sunday Service Ringers,' thereby inferring, if not actually saying, that peal ringers are not also service ringers.

It's high time this lie was nailed. Of course there are a few who let the side down, but on the whole it is my experience that people who are or who have let the side down, but the backbone of the local band, where it is a keen, competent and progressive one.

I'm not sure that I agree with Mr. Wilson in thinking that everything in the garden is lovely at Stoke D'Abernon. It seems a little too good to be true—in fact I would say that the smug attitude of the tower captain suggests the presence of a serpent!—Yours sincerely,

PATRICK J. CHAPMAN.

Ringling Master—Holy Cross, Daventry.

Peal on Unrededicated Bells

Dear Sir.—I was very surprised to hear that a peal had been rung on the as yet unrededicated bells at Skeffington in Leicestershire. I was even more surprised when I read who had rung the peal. Even though I know the conductor quite well I'm afraid it doesn't alter my view, and that of other local ringers, that this sort of thing rather goes against the grain, especially as local ringers (not including myself) who had been asked to assist in forming a band were hoping to be able to have rung the first peal on the newly rehung bells, and hadn't dreamed of approaching the Vicar for permission until after the rededication.

Secondly, we recently had a request from the local university for the use of Thurnby bells on a weekday. Permission was duly granted and when the time came three ringers arrived to ring six bells. Fortunately for them, one of our married lady ringers met them and they were able to ring three badly struck courses of Bob Minimus. If a non-ringer, i.e., the Vicar, had met them, would they have rung three bells and still crossed the tower off in 'Dove'!

I'm not against 'tower-snatching' as such, as I have indulged in it myself, but I think certain rules should be observed. Namely, that the bells should be rung for at least 30 minutes and that five-and six-bell towers should be fully manned.—Yours faithfully,

J. J. PAWLEY.

Thurnby, Leics.

Chartham

Dear Sir.—The peal at Chartham was called round as stated and I must accept the blame for this. My ringing on this occasion was very unstable as a result of a serious illness from which I had not completely recovered. Mr. Brian Woodruffe was the conductor and I presume the local ringer referred to was Mr. Dennis Chapman. Mr. Nicholas Davies was also included but I cannot remember the names of the other two. I don't know who the five boys were to whom Mr. Cook refers, but they were certainly not ringing at Chartham on this occasion.—Yours Sincerely,

F. C. W. KNIGHT.

A Washington Practice

Dear Sir,—When H.M.C. Decoy visited Baltimore recently I was fortunate in being able to ring at the Saturday morning practice at Washington Cathedral on September 12th. At the same practice was Bob Mordaunt, of Oriel College, Oxford, who was on a tour of the U.S.A. Despite having read George Pipe's article, 'Ten Men Went to Sow,' the ringing chamber was an awe inspiring sight, not only on account of vastness but also furnishings.

For the first hour and a half the bells were rung muffled and plain hunt on eight with the tenor behind was successfully attempted. A fair part of this time was devoted to learners. The bells were lowered in order to take the muffles off and then raised again afterwards, in each case it was the front six, then the back four. As the ten bells peeled out straight afterwards and settled into rounds, the wonderful tone of these bells was really appreciated. I was asked to call changes on the ten and this went very well, imagine my surprise at a round of applause for calling the changes. All too soon the time came to lower the bells again and the front six were brought down in grand style. The team got some well deserved praise and applause for this from the other ringers.

Considering the short time they've been ringing, the progress of the Cathedral team is enormous. There is a spirit of keenness and determination in the tower which I'm sure will make them into a really great team. They are eagerly looking forward to the forthcoming visit of Mr. Price, of Bournemouth, who is going over as instructor for four months.

My thanks again to the Washington team for the grand ring we had that morning, and I wish them all the best for the future.

MERVYN BRAY.

Tavistock, Devon.

James W. Washbrook

Dear Sir,—Items to 'The Ringing World' by Mr. Edwin Barnett are always of great interest and especially when they relate to ringing giants of a past age. Of his memorable visit to Arklow, Mr. Barnett mentions his amazement at the accuracy of the striking when James W. Washbrook rang the tenors to a touch of Bob Major. It is on record that Mr. Washbrook once attempted to ring these two bells to a peal in the method, which failed around the halfway mark. One wonders if our old friend, Mr. William Shepherd, was in this attempt.

Besides ringing together on tower bells, the family of Washbrook frequently rang touches on handbells. At Tunstall, Staffs, in March, 1912, a course of Grandsire Cinques was rung: Walter 1-2, Harry 3-4, James W. (jun.) 5-6, James W. (sen.) 7-8-9-10 Mark 11-12. At Silverdale, Staffs, in 1914, five ringers rang two courses of Grandsire Triples on tower bells: James E. Groves 1-2, James W. Washbrook (jun.) 3-4, James W. Washbrook (sen.) 5-6, W. P. Washbrook 7, H. Washbrook 8. Of the four talented ringing sons of Mr. Washbrook, within a short while three of them were to pay the supreme sacrifice in World War I.

The amazing feats of James W. Washbrook are legion. Such a one, told to a few friends and myself by the late Alfred W. Brighton, will be of interest. To fully appreciate the performance, I must quote Mr. Brighton's exact words. They are: 'I once saw Jim Washbrook turn the tenor in to a perfect course of London without touching the "sally." Truly an astounding feat of bell control.—Yours faithfully

JOHN G. NASH.

Muswell Hill, London.

Rougham, Suffolk, Ringers' Outing

Accompanied by their Rector and churchwardens, Rougham ringers and friends enjoyed their outing into Essex on September 19th. Towers visited were Sible Hedingham, Wethersfield, Great Bardfield, Finchingfield and Gestingthorpe. Four young ringers were in the party and rang rounds; others enjoyed Stedman, Cambridge Kent, Oxford and other methods. Mr. L. Wright was thanked by the Rector for 'the wonderful arrangements' he made for the enjoyment of both ringers and non-ringers.

LOSSES TO AUSTRALIAN RINGING*MRS. JEAN IRELAND

The early death of Jean Ireland at the age of 28 is a sad blow to the band at St. Peter's Cathedral, Adelaide, and to her many ringing friends in England.

She was born at Kingston-on-Thames, but moved to Clitheroe at an early age where she learned to ring at the church of St. Mary Magdalene. As Jean Dawson, she will be remembered for the prolific amount of ringing she did around Clitheroe, and later at Reading, where she gained a Science degree at the University. She was master of the Reading University Society 1957-8, and in 1958 married Frank Ireland. They lived for a while in Birmingham, and then for nearly two years in Burnley before coming to Australia in 1960 where Frank obtained a post at the Weapons Research Establishment, Salisbury, South Australia.

Jean joined the Adelaide Cathedral band, and despite living 16 miles from the tower, was a regular attender until increasing family commitments made it more difficult for her to come. Her fourth child was born only a few months before she was taken ill, and rushed to hospital on Good Friday, suffering from leukaemia. Every one who knew Jean could not help but marvel at the tremendous enthusiasm she had for everything she undertook, including ringing, and throughout her illness this enthusiasm never waned. Members of the Cathedral band were frequent visitors to the hospital, and Jean was very pleased that on occasions she could hear the Cathedral bells.

In July, having showed some response to treatment, she was allowed home for a few weeks, but returned to hospital late in August, and there she died on September 22nd.

Before the funeral on September 24th the Cathedral bells were rung half-muffled, every member of the band being present at the short service held in the Lady Chapel. Jean's English ringing friends were represented by Ron Russ. Four of the ringers acted as pall bearers and Rev. W. D. Devonshire, the new Bishop's Vicar, himself a ringer, paid tribute to her splendid example of service to the exercise. There was more half-muffled ringing as the cortege moved off to Centennial Park Crematorium, where the ringers were represented by their captain, Bill Pitcher.

Lincoln and Washington

Dear Sir,—I have been unfortunately misquoted in your account of the Lincoln dinner. To imply that 'the very best' were sent to Washington would be, to say the least, impertinent! What I did say was that the Lincoln Guild had, in Mr. Freeman, a splendid ambassador and that during the relatively short teaching time we had in America we did the very best we could.

Whilst on the subject, I have had one or two mild rebukes re the last paragraph of the Washington supplement which described the visit as the 'best tour ever!' This came about due to having to shorten and delete some of the latter paragraphs for available space; the implication being that it must have been 'one of the best...'. Undoubtedly the 1934 Great Adventure and other tours will be ranked with this and I therefore apologise to anyone who feels we have been a little presumptuous!!—Yours, etc.,

GEORGE W. PIPE.

Bells and Nuisance

Dear Sir,—In my letter published in 'The Ringing World' on September 25th, the word 'public' should be omitted from the third line of the third paragraph. The names of the case on public nuisance should be Soltau v. de Held. I am sorry if these errors were due to my inadvertence.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN CAMP.

Amersham, Bucks.

Jean had a fair number of peals to her credit, but no record of these is available. Her first was a notable one, Oxford Treble Bob Royal. She had only gone to listen, and the band met short. Her last peal, and the only one she rang in Australia, was Grandsire Triples at Adelaide Cathedral on February 20th, 1963. It was the first peal on the bells, conducted by Enid Roberts, a great friend of Jean's.

A half-muffled quarter of Grandsire Triples was rung to her memory at the Cathedral on September 29th, and the Exercise will extend its sympathy to Frank and the children.

May she rest in peace.

R.K.R.

MR. WILLIAM SMITH

The death occurred in hospital on September 30th, after a long illness, of Mr. William Smith, aged 74 years, for many years a ringer at St. James' Church, Turramurra, New South Wales.

A native of Leicester, where he learned to ring, Mr. Smith arrived in Australia in 1911. He served as lieutenant in the 14th Infantry Company Engineers and 53rd Battalion Infantry, 1st A.I.F. in World War I.

A builder by trade, he left many fine examples of his craftsmanship in the Turramurra district. He had been a parish councillor at St. Swithun's, Pymble, and a member of the Sydney Diocesan Synod for some years.

Well known to all ringers in Sydney, Mr. Smith was one of those responsible for the strong revival in change ringing there following World War II, and his enthusiasm served as an example to the ringers at St. James' until his illness early this year. Under his guidance Treble Bob methods were again being rung at St. James' for the first time in several years.

Mr. Smith had made two return visits to Britain in peace-time, the second in 1961, when he made many new friends in towers there, including meeting again his long-time correspondent, the late Ernest Morris.

The funeral service was held at St. James' on October 2nd, followed that evening by half-muffled touches of Plain Bob Minor. He is survived by his son, Wing Commander James Smith, R.A.A.F., and his brother, Ted. W. K.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD*MARLBOROUGH BRANCH OUTING

Nearly all the towers in the Branch were represented at the annual outing on September 26th, which was organised and directed by the Rev. Roger Keeley (Branch Ringing Master). The party of 65 was accommodated in two coaches.

The first objective was the Cathedral campanile at Chichester, which was reached at 10.30 a.m. Ringing here was much enjoyed, although the 82-step climb defeated some of the older members. A pleasant hour was later spent at Feltham, where we met Mr. and Mrs. Wake. A picnic lunch was taken at Bognor Regis in the warm sunshine. We reached Lyminster as a wedding had just ended, and the happy couple received an extra send-off with some good Wiltshire ringing for an hour. The party divided at Washington, one coach remaining, and the other proceeding to Storrington. Some good ringing took place at both towers. After a short stop for refreshments at Winchester home was reached about 11 p.m. Miss Winifred Keys is thanked for helping in the programme, and also the Ringing Master, incumbents and tower captains.

W. A. E.

80th Birthday Peal

Mr. Albert H. Lawton, for many years tower captain at Broughton, Staffs, celebrated his 80th birthday by taking part in a peal of Grandsire Triples on these bells. Although his visits to the belfry have been infrequent of late, he finished the peal as fresh as a daisy. Afterwards he entertained those taking part with refreshments. His friends wish him continued health to ring in many more anniversary peals.

BRISTOL UNIVERSITY ASSOCIATION HAVE HUNTING HORN

Tudor Edwards, who, with Pat Bird, was joint organiser of the Bristol University Society's tour of the Welsh Borderlands which started at Cound on August 27th, purchased a hunting horn. Whether it was to rally the party or to enliven tired spirits the report does not state.

Among the unusual incidents were the snapping of the clapper of the tenor halfway through the first touch at Ellesmere; at Whittington ringing Whittingtons in some Devon-style call changes; at Ruabon a local ringer was heard to say: 'I see there is a paper called "The Ringing World."'

Sunday ringing was organised by Tudor Edwards and after motoring separately we assembled near the Runcorn-Widnes bridge before proceeding to ring for and attend Matins at Halewood. We rang some Bristol on this pleasant light eight. At the next tower, Childwall, as might be expected, we rang a touch of Childwall and, after lunching in the Chinese manner, we met at Liverpool Cathedral. After the luxury of a lift to the bells, we verified that two double-decker buses could indeed be driven between the bells and the tower walls.

We had several unsuccessful attempts at Major on Woolton bells, but we managed a good touch of Stedman Triples. The tour finished on a good note with several touches of Cinques on the delightful bells of St. Nicholas', Liverpool.

We should like to thank Pat Bird and Tudor Edwards for their work in organising the tour, and also all incumbents and local ringers for allowing us to ring their bells.

C. M. and E. G. M.

DAVENTRY, NORTHANTS, HALF-DAY

Daventry ringers enjoyed a half-day outing to four Bedfordshire octaves on September 19th. The fine bells at St. Owen's, Bromham, which stands in a beautiful parkland setting, were the first attraction; the unique dedication was the source of much speculation. Here we discovered that our coach driver was a ringer and a member of the Naseby band. A run through Bedford and the country lanes beyond, with a glimpse at the airship hangars at Cardington and the Maypole, at Ickwell Green, brought us to Biggleswade, where we had tea after a pleasant session on the Gillett and Johnston eight.

Although the springy new rope on the tenor at Clifton put off some, we managed, with the help of Messrs. Mayes and Bywaters, to produce some passable ringing on the tuneful little eight. A 12-mile journey (plus diversions) through Clophill (notorious for murder and black magic), Maulden and Amptill, where we waved madly at David Hoare, who failed to recognise us, and we came to Woburn to renew acquaintance with the Mears bells and some old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Spavins and the Vicar. By not attempting anything more difficult than Cambridge we managed our best ringing of the day. At Towcester we refreshed ourselves for the last short journey home.

We would like to thank those who allowed us to ring and those who met us, yet again confirming that ringers can always depend upon a welcome in Bedfordshire. N.C.

SHROPSHIRE RINGERS IN THE LAKE DISTRICT

Included in the picture are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. F. Beech, Miss Marian Cotton, Messrs. E. V. Rodenhurst, Michael Wycherly, George Morrall, Ian Friends and Peter Morris.

NINE Shropshire ringers and friends from Staffordshire left for Ambleside on August 29th in a mini-bus driven by Dick Morris and spent a happy week in the Lake District. On Sunday there was morning and evening service ringing at Ambleside and a tour of Lake Coniston in the afternoon.

The best touch of the tour was rung at Workington on Monday (Double Norwich). Other towers visited that day were Cocker-mouth, Aspatria and Keswick. The great love of people for their bells was evident at Keswick with a ringers' corner in the graveyard directly under the bell tower. The panoramic engraving of surrounding peaks and ancient ringers' orders here were interesting.

Four eights were in Tuesday's programme—at Egremont, St. Bees, Hensingham and Cleator Moor, a fine heavy eight which turned over slowly. The Latin inscription on the wall behind each rope at Penrith (visited with Appleby on Wednesday) was a novelty.

Thursday was spent in the Lancashire part of the Lakes, with ringing at Broughton, Barrow-in-Furness (difficult to handle), Alverston and Hawkshead. On Friday Bowness, Kendall, Ambleside and Langdale were visited. Thanks are due to Marian for her organisation, and also to incumbents and local ringers.

OUTING

TWERTON-ON-AVON

More than half of the 27 ringers participating in the Twerton-on-Avon outings on September 16th were under 15, and it was perhaps appropriate that at the first tower, West Overton, near Marlborough, where Captain T. Mansfield-Robinson is head ringer, the bells are rung regularly by a band of school-children. Hungerford bells, augmented to eight in 1927 by Mears and Stainbank, were easy to handle, and the ten at Newbury really worth a visit. The inspiring thing here was the way the bells were rung by youngsters—their good beat in call changes rather showed up the seniors' Caters.

After lunch, Mr. Hibbert and his son were waiting for us at East Ilsey, the lightest eight in Berkshire. Ringing at Wantage was curtailed by a wedding. Faringdon, with its beautiful octave, hung by Taylors in 1926, has the shortest central tower we have seen. We had here a really topping pull, ending with Queen's at the bottom. Our only tower after tea was the five at Great Coxwell. The bells, which have not the best of reputations, had been specially oiled for our visit, which coincided with a farewell to the Rector (the Rev. E. Wicks). As we had two organists with us and a host of choir members, we finished here with 'The Halleluia Chorus' from 'The Messiah.' We conclude with grateful thanks to all who helped to make the outing so enjoyable.

Cowbridge Ringers at University

The Doubles peal band who have been active at Cowbridge Glam., this year attempted a final peal at Llanblethian before two of their number departed for University. Trouble with a pulley wheel limited the ringing to a quarter of Plain Bob Doubles, called from the tenor by Lew Groom—his first as conductor. Best wishes from all local ringers to Gareth Jones at St. John's College, Cambridge, and to Paul Evans at Birmingham University.

Mr. Shirley Burton is the fourth Leicester ringer to complete the century of peals of Surprise Maximus, the others being Peter J. Stanforth, Herrick B. Bowley and William J. Root. Will anyone interested in ringing a peal at Leicester Cathedral, who has rung 100 Surprise Maximus peals, please contact Herrick B. Bowley, 108, Anstey Lane, Leicester, who is endeavouring to find 12 ringers who have completed this century.

We are informed that the peal at Curry Mallett (p. 669) was rung on September 19th and not August 19th.

The peal at Harrow Weald was also rung to celebrate the birth of a son to the Vicar and Mrs. D. Bond.

Husborne Crawley, Beds. have a promising young ringer in Lunda Templeman, aged 12, who handled her bell very well in her first quarter on September 27th.

Blaby, Leicestershire, ringers are very proud of ten-year-old Steven Thompson who, reports the conductor, 'rang the treble superbly' to his first quarter on October 4th.

Miss Sian Evans, who is leaving Cardigan for Bristol to train as a physiotherapist, rang in her farewell quarter. She learned to ring after Cardigan bells were rehung in 1961 and has so far rung in nine quarter peals.

The ringers of the 9th in the peal of New Cambridge Royal at St. John-the-Divine, Leicester, on September 5th ('R.W.' page 654) was Brian S. Chapman and NOT Brian S. Cope, as submitted.

One of the oldest tower foremen in the country is Mr. Fred Foster, of Bosbury, Herefordshire. His 90th birthday was marked by a quarter peal on September 25th.

We regret to learn that Mr. Albert J. Dunk, of Stockbury, has undergone a serious operation at St. Bartholomew's Hospital, Rochester. His many friends in the Rochester District wish him a complete and speedy recovery.

Ringling the tenor to Grandsire Triples at Monken Hadley, Middlesex, on October 4th was Mr. W. Langley, whose 84th birthday was the previous day. He has rung at this tower for 40 years.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Congratulations to Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd on completing 50 years this month as a ringer. He writes: Despite all that has been written, I do not think we thought of our ringing as a sport. We did not perhaps think of it very carefully at all, except that it was a very desirable thing to do; but our being in the belfry at all was a natural consequence of our being attached to the church, having had years of choirboy work, and we just as naturally took this as part of our church observation.

Mr. R. Kingsley Mason inquires, 'Was Mr. John Jelley sweating as much as I was on the afternoon of October 3rd'?

Mr. George E. Fearn's peal week in Hampshire and Dorset was very successful with 10 peals being rung. Another peal was secured at Oxford en route.

On May 10th, 1939, the first peal was rung at Willington, Sussex and taking part was Miss Betty Rayfield, age 16 years, Eastbourne's first lady bellringer. On October 3rd, 1964, 25 years later her daughter, also aged 16 years, conducted a peal of Bob Minor in the same tower.

The members of York Minster Society wish to associate the name of Frank Atkinson with the peal of Plain Bob Maximus rung on October 3rd. Frank is now 82 and has been a Minster ringer for 36 years. He has talked of retiring from ringing but is still a regular attender.

Ringling at St. John's Church, Longton, North Staffordshire, has been disrupted by further education. Michael Colclough has gone to London University, Christopher Tunnicliffe to Birmingham and Sheila Woodward to Newcastle-upon-Tyne. They take with them the best wishes of the band and hope to ring with them in the holidays.

Mrs. S. M. Beck, of the Vicarage, Church Crookham, Aldershot, is encouraged by the response so far received in selling Christmas cards on behalf of Guildford Cathedral Bell Fund. Her subject is the photograph of the Madonna and Child at the West End of the Cathedral. She is charging 5s. per doz. for the cards, including envelopes.

ROCHESTER DISTRICT'S FIRST DINNER

Some 70 ringers and friends attended the first dinner of the Rochester District of the Kent County Association held at Holy Trinity Church Hall, Sittingbourne, on September 26th, under the genial chairmanship of Mr. George Spice.

The principal guest was Mr. John Willis, who, in proposing the toast of 'The Rochester District,' gave a detailed account of the progress of the District since its formation. Mr. L. Mitchell, District secretary, replied. Mr. S. V. Rayfield, of Queenborough, proposed 'The Church,' to which the Rev. Stanley Evans, Vicar of Bredgar, a ringer whose tower contains an unringable five bells, replied.

The dinner was well supported by the Association's officers, those present including Mr. P. A. Corby, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. May, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Cross, Mrs. F. A. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. G. Kenward, Mr. G. Naylor, Mr. and Mrs. T. Barton, Mr. and Mrs. E. Barton, Mr. C. Jarrett and Mr. C. T. Osenton (District Ringing Master).

Pianoforte solos were played by Mr. K. Evans, of Strood. Thanks for the success of the social evening are due to Mrs. B. W. May and the dinner committee of Messrs. L. Mitchell, A. J. Dunk and F. J. Cheal.

DEGENERATION IN CHURCH TOWER DESIGN

By T. A. BEVIS

Bellringers are fondly familiar with those substantial, seemingly indestructible Gothic structures from which bells have entreated and exhorted the faithful for many hundreds of years.

In the past decade concern has arisen in varying degrees over the future of church towers. Since the mid nineteen forties the desirable Gothic bloom, a consistent challenge to architects forever developing progressive upward thrusts and magnificent vaulted spans representative of poetry and prayer, undeniably symbolic of our island race and admired by men the world over . . . began to fade. In its place by small, apologetic beginnings, arose contemporary structures—airy, web-like sentinels among which may be seen conical and triangular designs, adhering to the current architectural trend.

Any future possibility of these buildings accommodating rings of bells is, to a large extent, inconceivable. Glass is substituted for louvres and loudspeakers for bells. At the press of a button the miracle of electronics sets in motion gravel-like vibrations in keeping with what many, rightly or wrongly, consider to be rootless foundations of the abstract age.

Some 12 months ago it was stated that ancient church towers cannot be expected to last for ever. History's unwritten rule remains consistently unconservative: the old must give way to the new. And, if care is not shown, the suffocation of valued traditions well ensue.

Nowadays it would seem that some lack of forethought between ecclesiastical authorities and architects is prevalent. Church architecture is again experiencing a revival. The last time a major revival occurred was five centuries ago—but it retained the practical element. Not so today.

An artist of the 20th century is not expected to paint what he outwardly sees: the resultant image is the product of psychological inspirations. There is no shape nor depth. Qualities by which good pictures are recognised are no longer visible.

Modern architecture follows much the same pattern . . . free-flowing vision aided and abetted by new and cheaper materials, unfortunately heavily backed by economical difficulties. It all harmonises with changing spiritual conceptions to suit the age in which we live. And what have we? An increasing number of church 'towers' of a style out of this world. The perforated minaret at Stevenage New Town is a classical example of an expensive yet virtually useless ornamented substitute for a bell tower.

Unwittingly or deliberately something good and worthwhile is being sacrificed. Towers are becoming mere ornaments and without bells they are purely symbolic and therefore of no practical value.

It is frequently alleged that an increasing number of architects advise against the installation of bells in modern towers. Such advice, naturally, is strongly supported by the preponderous financial problems involved. Tape-recordings are much cheaper—and convenient.

How refreshing it is when at least one architect displays concern for the future of the art of bellringing.

Brian Austen, writing in the 'Ely Diocesan Gazette,' asks: Are we in danger of forgetting bells in our contemporary church building?

He suggests that the absence of bell towers in new church building is largely due to the fear that they would involve too much expenditure. 'In some new churches the provision of a tower is therefore dismissed entirely, and the architect completes his design without it.'

In other cases a tower might be regarded at a later stage in the building of the church, but this is unsatisfactory for both architect and client, as the chances of a tower actually being built are usually remote.'

Mr. Austen writes that these fears of cost are to some extent exaggerated. He concludes: 'It is no longer necessary to build huge towers to take heavy rings of bells; light rings can be easily accommodated, in simple structures, provided there is close co-operation between architect structural engineer, bell founder and bell hanger at an early stage in the design.'

The issue is divided between cost and waste, with a fair dabbling of the psychological senses to add an unusual flavour. One feels that the writing is on the wall. The day of the Boston vision is over.

Is not the time opportune for authorities in the ringing fraternity, ecclesiastical realm and architectural circles to view what would seem to be an urgent matter in our light, at every conceivable angle? All material things are subject to the future. Church towers and bells are an integral part of English Christian heritage. It would be a pity to see bells placed on record as a communicative art of the past, and towers degenerate to mere shapes and fancies of the mind—and be finally omitted from church building in future years.

CAMBRIDGE YOUTHS AND NELSON'S DEATH

MR. T. R. Dennis, of Cambridge, forwards us the following extract copied from the records of Cambridge Youths concerning the death of Admiral Lord Nelson, October 21st, 1805.

'This Society, from the day of its institution, 1724, has continued no less anxious to give the holiest intimation to the town of Cambridge of the arrival of news respecting the signal victories accomplished by British valour than it had been occasionally foremost in deploring the loss of not only such as have been members of this Society but of the most eminent personages in this nation, such characters more especially in the military station who have universally merited the applause of their country.

'In a series of events which have benefited every Englishman, and garnished their Navy with the laurels of victory that time itself can never wither, all will readily perceive that this note is allusive to the many brilliant successes achieved by the immortal Admiral Nelson, whose life was lost on the 21st October, 1805, in the gain of a most glorious victory off Cape Trafalgar near Cadiz over the combined fleets of France and Spain, a victory most complete and, considering the alarming crisis of political affairs, the most important that ever dignified the annals of war.

'It was on the arrival of the melancholy tidings of the loss of this luminous gem from the constellation of the British Navy that this Society immediately caused the bells of Great St. Mary's tower to be invested with the trappings of sorrow and a mourning peal concluded the solemnity of that night in which every inhabitant participated. The like awful ceremony in the same tower was repeated on the 19th January following the evening of the hero's lamented funeral in St. Paul's, London, where his ashes were consigned to peaceful oblivion whilst his memory liveth to be admired and his example imitated by future generations.'

Mr. Dennis thinks that this may have been written by John Bowtell, a bookseller and benefactor of the famous Aldenbrookes Hospital, or Thomas Steers, an ingenious mathematician who is believed to have composed the extent of Bob Major. Bowtell was elected in 1773 and Steers in 1787.

'The Cambridge Youths have had a chequered existence over its 240 years of service to the public and University,' writes Mr. Dennis, 'and curiously there are no entries of Sunday service ringing or festivals of the Church. There is another entry, which is rather intriguing, in 1845, when the bells were rung all day (probably with breaks for lawful refreshment) for the opening of the railway from London to Cambridge, but in keeping with Mr. Wilson's article the bells of St. Mary's were never rung for Sunday services until somewhere about 1930, but of course chimed by various steeplekeepers in their line of succession.'

CHRISTCHURCH RINGING FESTIVAL

The assembly point for Christchurch Ringing Festival, held in beautiful weather on September 26th, was at Ringwood, and after ringing on the eight bells at the Parish Church the party travelled to Wimborne St. Giles. The beautiful church, standing at the entrance to the picturesque St. Giles' Park, the country seat of Lord Shaftesbury, boasts of a melodious ring of eight.

At Wimborne's ancient Minster Church (10 bells), the belfry was crowded with ringers who enjoyed some excellent ringing. St. Peter's, Bournemouth, bells (8) were available for an hour and a half and full use was made of them before moving to Christchurch, where the ladies of the Christchurch District of the Guild had prepared tea. All were ready for some refreshment and a little rest before ascending the Priory tower for more ringing on the 12 bells.

Another successful and enjoyable Festival was over, but not before hearty votes of thanks had been accorded to incumbents and the ladies who prepared tea. A. V. D.

THE 27th 1,000 PEALER

MR. JOSEPH W. COTTON

THIS week we are happy to publish the 1,000th peal of Mr. Joseph W. Cotton, which was rung at his home tower, Overseale, Derbyshire, on October 6th. Appropriately, the method was Overseale Surprise Major.

The peal was arranged and conducted by Mr. Brian G. Warwick, who in February, 1961, had the honour of doing a similar service for the late Ernest Morris' 2,000th peal (Morrison Surprise Royal).

Joe had picked a band of friends for the occasion. Arthur Rowley came from Ibstock to ring the treble; Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hart made the long journey from Harrow; Richard J. Clifton (Packington) is a member of the Tuesday band; Roland Beniston (Whitwick) and Derek P. Jones completed the band.

As was to be expected, a good peal was rung. At the conclusion, Joe's daughter, Joan, came into the tower and photographed the party. A lovely supper had been prepared at Joe's home by Mrs. Cotton and Joan and it was a happy gathering to have participated in the fulfilment of a lifelong ambition.

The Exercise sends its warmest congratulations to the secretary of the Midland Counties Guild on becoming the 27th ringer to ring 1,000 peals. B. G. W.

N.W. SUFFOLK BELLRINGERS AT BARROW

A very warm welcome was made to the N.W. Suffolk ringers and friends when they met for their annual meeting at Barrow on October 10th. The Rev. J. R. M. Wright (Rector) met them and with Mr. P. Rawlings said how pleased they were to hear the ringers. Evensong was taken by the Rector, with Mrs. Foulsham as organist. A wonderful tea was provided by Mrs. Rawlings, Mrs. Wright and helpers. Music followed—tunes on handbells by Mr. Rawlings and his young band.

Mr. L. Wright presided at the business meeting and the members stood in silence in remembrance of Mr. William Rickwood, a West Stow ringer, who died last month.

Officers elected were: Mr. L. Wright, chairman; Mr. A. Ballam, secretary; Mr. Richard Rose, Ringing Master; and Miss G. Reeve, Press secretary. Mrs. Ivings and Miss D. Reeve were elected representatives on the Guild Executive. The following comprise the District Committee: The chairman, secretary, Ringing Master, Mrs. Ivings, Misses G. and D. Reeve.

Quarterly meetings for 1965 were fixed as follows: Elveden, January 9th; Newmarket, April 10th; Mildenhall, July 10th; West Stow, October 9th. Evening practice meetings: Great Barton, November 14th; Ixworth, December 12th.

Mrs. Ivings thanked all concerned for the excellent arrangements made for both service and tea.

Ringing was resumed in the tower until 9 p.m., when 12 Doubles methods were enjoyed.

THE ELITE SECOND ELEVEN OF COLLEGE YOUTHS IN THE MASTER'S COUNTRY

THIS year Sangwin's Satellites dwindled to three (six was the original number), but this year could only be really counted as two, as Brian White is courting and had plenty to do besides farming and ringing.

Twenty-five years ago this year the Ancient Society of College Youths rang the first peal on the bells at Tawstock, conducted by Tom Myers, but this anniversary, alas, he was unable to be with us owing to his illness.

The original intention was to ring a peal at Bideford, but a few days before the attempt was due the Vicar stopped peal ringing, so at a moment's notice Derek Jewel got in touch with Jimmy Easterbrook, of Tawstock, who saw the Rector and obtained permission for the attempt. The old Society rang a good peal of Grandsire Triples, conducted this time by Brian White, and including this year's Master of the Society who was thrilled to think that he had rung a College Youths peal in the tower in which he learned to ring and strike, and in which his dear old mother and father lie peacefully in the churchyard.

This peal was rung with happy thoughts by the writer and one or two of the older members of 'Banker Taylor,' who also learned to ring and strike in this tower, and whose father was also a ringer and village school master and is buried at the bottom of the tower steps. Also remembered was his dear 'Old Dad' and Chris Walker, who were in the peal 25 years ago and have now been called to higher service.

Before departing we agreed to have a day's ringing on the Thursday, the party being Charlie Sangwin, Fred Wilkins, the Master, Frank White, Rodney Cann and I. These six bell towers included the famous West Down, where we rang Grandsire. Stedman and Bob Minor without disgracing ourselves, but with the knowledge that it was not so good as West Down competition ringing.

A very pretty spot was Berrynabor, and here we also rang the six bells quite well, then on to the 'Pack of Cards,' where we reminisced and waited for Derek Jewel to finish work. At Combe Martin we met Les Walters and Miss Boyle and rang a very good quarter peal of Grandsire Triples. It was a very happy day with the Master on top of his form, being in his own country, and the writer could not fault him in any way, even to the way he trebled up in the various towers.

On the Saturday, Rodney Cann rang his first peal, Grandsire, inside, and this indeed was a very good effort as Rodney is a professional soldier and does not hear a ring or handle a bell from one leave to another, and serving abroad his leaves are sometimes twelve or eighteen months apart. We were joined for this peal by Reg Hooper and Bryn Shackleton from Bristol and a very happy week-end was spent ringing on the lovely eight at Stratton, the six at Week St. Mary and the lovely church at Launcells before departing for home.

Before starting the peal at Bridgerule the local foreman at Stratton asked that John Sangwin should be congratulated on becoming a grandfather, and as the peal was successful the baby's head was well wetted and the father of the Stratton ringers toasted with great enthusiasm.

The writer hopes that when the Master makes his speech at the College Youths' dinner at the end of the month, he will revert to ordinary elocution and not to his native dialect, of which I am sure the cosmopolitan ringers that attend the dinner would fail to understand. W. H.

MINSTER PEAL BAND HONOURED AT SNOWDON DINNER

IT was a happy coincidence that so soon after the successful ringing of a peal on the Minster bells, for the first time for 72 years, York should be the host for this year's Snowdon Dinner, which was held on October 10th.

The bells at the Minster (12), Acomb (6), Escrick (8), Huntingdon (6) and the Institute of Advanced Architectural Studies (6) were put to good use during the afternoon. Many visitors attended Evensong in the Minster, where the work of the Yorkshire Association was mentioned during the prayers.

A company of 135 assembled in the Windmill Hotel under the chairmanship of the president, the Ven. C. O. Ellison, Archdeacon of Leeds, and enjoyed a satisfying meal of roast beef and Yorkshire pudding. The president apologised for the absence of the Archbishop of York; Dr. Alan Richardson, Dean of York (on account of illness); Canon T. H. Tardrew, who was at Evensong but had since been taken ill; the Rev. M. Walker (Escrick); the Rev. G. Lawn (Huntingdon); Mr. T. W. White (suffering from an attack of shingles); and Mr. Horace Morley (in York City Hospital, but making satisfactory progress). The president said he was sure all present would sympathise with the sufferers, and wish them a speedy recovery.

MINSTER RINGERS

The president thanked the Minster Society for making arrangements for the dinner and offered his congratulations to the ringers of the first peal on the Minster bells for over 70 years. He asked the company to rise and drink to the health of the Minster ringers.

The toast of 'The Church' was proposed by Mr. Wilfrid Moreton, who said his father, a clergyman, sometime Vicar of Flamborough on the Yorkshire coast, thought all ringers were mad.

'What will Church historians say of the age we now live in?' asked Mr. Moreton. Would it be an age of reunion, reorganisation, rationalisation or realism? It would not be reformation or renaissance: he hoped it would be the Age of Reunion, or so far as the Church of England was concerned, the Age of Reorganisation.

'We ringers must think of responsibility. We live on the generosity of past benefactors, and responsibility is something to be realised. The bells in most churches have been provided by past congregations, and perhaps their value is not realised. We must soon start to think of the finances of the Church.'

In the absence of Canon Tardrew, the Rev. A. J. McMullen, Sacrist and Vicar Choral of York Minster, made a suitable reply and said he would convey the best wishes of the company to the Dean and Canon Tardrew.

Proposing the toast of 'Jasper Whitfield Snowdon and Past Officers of the Yorkshire Association,' Mr. N. Chaddock said that he could think of several reasons for these annual gatherings. Firstly, to revere past officers, secondly to seek inspiration from them, and thirdly for mutual enjoyment of meeting old friends and making new ones.

Under the first heading he dealt in detail with the contribution of the Snowdon family—Jasper, one of the founders and the first president of the Yorkshire Association, his brother William who, aided by the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, completed Jasper's celebrated ringing text books and also served as president for 25 years. Mr. Chaddock also referred to the work of William's wife and daughter in keeping the Snowdon books in publication.

RINGER'S NECK SQUARE

He produced a beautiful 80-year-old silk ringer's neck square which belonged to Jasper Snowdon. Its design was based on church bells and the first line of Tennyson's poem, 'Ring out the False, Ring in the True.' This had been presented to the Yorkshire Association a few days previously by Mrs. Winifred Turner, who now has care of the Snowdon series of text books.

In a selection of past officers and the contribution to the Yorkshire Association, he mentioned Canon Marshall (president for 35 years), whose wife was present at the dinner. His motto was 'Hard work and loyalty.' The great contribution of that fine ringer and singer at York Minster, William Horner Howard, was not overlooked. He chaired all the important early Yorkshire Association meetings and was one of the first Central Council representatives. Many other well-known figures, including Clem Glenn, Sid Palmer, Percy Johnson, George Lewis and the Hattersley brothers, were mentioned.

REPORT SUPREME

Times had changed, Mr. Chaddock said, and in these days it was not easy to find people prepared to do arduous and often thankless tasks year in, year out. The Association was, however, fortunate in still having talented and hard-working officers. The reputation of Yorkshire ringers and bells stood high and its annual report contained information valued by many ringers in other areas, one of whom had that very week said: 'In this field, once again Yorkshire is supreme.'

However, though it had notable successes, the Yorkshire Association was going through difficult times, as all the members knew. Mr. Chaddock asked 'Will a study of former leaders help us?' In recalling the past, might we be inspired to devote ourselves to the even greater tasks ahead! These would call for loyalty, hard work and co-operation between all concerned.

There must be willingness to think afresh, to discard some ideas and features if need be, and to retain others. Ringers who showed interest in Association work, especially young ringers, should be encouraged and their ideas and services welcomed and considered carefully.

STEDMAN CINQUES

The apt response to this toast was a bob course of Stedman Cinques on handbells by John E. Bryant 1-2, Robert E. Moulds 3-4, J. Henry Fielden 5-6, Wilfrid F. Moreton 7-8, Geoffrey F. Bryant 9-10, J. Neville Parkin 11-12.

The Guests and Kindred Societies' was proposed by Mr. Harold Walker. The guests included the Rev. E. A. Flowerday (Vicar of Acomb and Rural Dean of York), Mrs. Flowerday, the Rev. A. J. McMullen and Mrs. McMullen. Kindred Societies represented were the Oxford Diocesan Guild, the Oxford Society, the Essex Association, the Derby Diocesan Association, the Southwell Diocesan Guild, the Lancashire Association and the Ladies' Guild.

The Rev. E. A. Flowerday replied on behalf of the guests and Mr. H. L. Roper (vice-president of the Oxford Diocesan Guild) spoke for the Kindred Societies. Mr. Roper said that on reading old copies of the 'Bell News' he thought the ringers of those far-off days were a pretty snooty lot. Reports were divided between metropolitan ringers and provincial ringers. Things were different these days and ringers mixed more freely and were more friendly. The change had been due to the work of the Associations.

Mr. Christopher Groome proposed the toast of 'The President' and said the thanks of all members were due to the president for the work he did for the Association.

Musical items during the evening included a piano recital of Chopin by the Rev. A. J. McMullen and songs by Mr. Andrew Carter, accompanied by Mrs. Carter. Mr. Carter is a Minster Songman and also a ringer.

SOUTH DEVON ASSOCIATION'S FESTIVAL

Plympton St. Maurice, an ancient borough, lying just off the main road into Plymouth, is noted as the birthplace of Sir Joshua Reynolds and having had Sir Christopher Wren as its one-time Member of Parliament. As the neighbouring Church of St. Mary was once the chapel of the old priory, so was once the 15th century Church of St. Maurice the chapel of the adjoining castle.

It was here on October 3rd that the Association met for the annual eight-bell festival with eight teams competing on the fine ring of bells (tenor 16 cwt.) After the service, conducted by the Rector, and while the captains drew for order of ringing, the three judges, Messrs. T. G. Daw, of Ipplepen, and H. G. Edwards and F. J. Stephens, both of West Alvington, made their way to their 'hide,' a summerhouse in the grounds of the nearby R.C. Convent, in the warm autumn sunshine.

Four teams—Babbacombe, Plympton St. Mary, Plymstock and Widecombe—went in before tea—an excellent half-crown's worth as usual—and Witheridge, Ashburton, Tavistock and Kings Teignton (in that order) afterwards. Witheridge had the misfortune to break a stay and this upset Ashburton who followed them, in that they almost turned the bell (the second) right over at the commencement of the peal just after they had come out of 'Queens.' However, in spite of these misfortunes, there was some excellent ringing.

A 'rush around,' just as the light was failing, procured a 'Tilly' lamp to enable the judges to mark Kings Teignton—the last of the day—which even to 'lay' ears almost required no judging. Tavistock would have been higher up the 'table' had they achieved a better rise into peal. The results were: Kings Teignton (50½ faults), Plymstock (62), Plympton St. Mary (84), Tavistock (107), Babbacombe (142), Widecombe (190), followed by Witheridge and Ashburton.

After the results had been declared, the Association's thanks were expressed to the Rector, the Rev. K. A. Newing, his ringers, under their captain, Mr. D. Farnham, and their ladies for the tea.

The Association joins with the Devonshire Guild in the deep sense of loss at the recent death of its general secretary, Maurice Atkins, whose friendship knew no ringing frontiers.

Some Wisdom amid Absurdities

Dear Sir.—When I made my comments upon the article 'Our Belfries' by the Rev. H. R. Haweis, I was tempted to omit the fact that it was written in 1871 because as the Rev. J. G. M. Scott so rightly points out there are quite a number of points which are as prevalent today as when the article was written. On second thoughts I resisted the temptation otherwise there would have been a number of fruitless searches in 'Crockford' for the Rev. H. R. Haweis; then I would have been in real trouble.

I know full well that I ran the risk of a slating when the article was published: that is an occupational hazard, but I did not reckon on a 'rocket' from the Rev. Gentleman from Devon; none but he could have fired a better one and there is a lot of truth in what he says.

No I do not think I did Mr. Haweis an injustice by writing as I did—when he said 'The notion that there is nothing to do up in the belfry after the bells are hung but to let them swing and everything else rot seems a prevalent one' I commented 'Now our friend is talking sense and strange to relate the same notion is prevalent today.' I think this also gives him credit for some wisdom when he draws attention to regular painting.

Yes, Mr. Scott, I have stood at the foot of ladders you describe and climbed them with some trepidation knowing full well what I should find at the top; also stood on, and gone through, rotten floors: then years later after the bells have been restored and good access provided found conditions a disgrace.

It always has been a puzzle to me why so many ringers have little or no interest in the maintenance of the bells they ring on. True there are some steeple-keepers who take a pride in the care of their bells and frame, consequently it is a pleasure to visit their towers. Routine maintenance is not demanding, especially after a ring has been rehung: the accumulation of years of rubbish has been cleared out and everywhere is clean. It costs a lot of money to achieve a nice clean bell-chamber so why not keep it tidy, a regular visit does not take up a lot of time and the result is well worth it.

The number of times when adverse reports have been made on maintenance are legion but how often is advice acted upon? Rarely I am afraid. So when I first read 'Our Belfries' I had the germ of an idea that ridicule might have more effect than a formal comment, but will it? In this mechanical age there is less excuse for neglect than in the days of the horse (and candles) so I can only hope that the attention Mr. Scott draws to the wisdom amid absurdities bears fruit.—Yours, JOHN P. FIDLER.

Loughborough.

Dedicate the time spent in a Peal

Dear Sir.—In these modern days when bells have become so much a part of the Church's activities, I wonder how people can write and refer to bellringing as a sport. By doing so they straightway bring the sacred dedicated down to the level of a cricket bat or a football. All men have their gifts of craftsmanship, whether it be in metal, wood or stone, and bellfounders are giving the best of their skill, bestowed upon them by God, to the many cathedrals and churches.

I've just been reading a little criticism of peal ringers who ring their numerous peals but never ring for service. If there are such people I would say to them, the next time you attempt your 5,000-odd changes, quietly stand by your bell rope and dedicate your coming three hours' effort only to the glory of God with an ever-thankful heart for your skill and ability, as many a cripple laid aside would love to have your chances and skill.

With these thoughts uppermost, far greater joy will be reaped at the end of the peal than if it is done just for personal pleasure, whether it is your first or 2,000th peal.—Yours sincerely,

A. BETSWORTH.

Liss, Hants.

Grandsire Triples

Dear Sir.—I have followed with much enjoyment and interest the articles by Mr. E. C. Shepherd on the making of touches of Grandsire Triples. They have shown me a number of interesting possibilities I had not considered in this most versatile method.

There is one point, however, which I feel Mr. Shepherd was wrong to omit in his last article in discussing the Handstroke Home position. This is the simple fact that if the bells are to come round at hand then an odd number of Singles must have been called, whereas if they are to come round at backstroke then an even number of Singles must have been called.

This, of course, happens because until a Single is called in Grandsire Triples the rows are alternately odd and even at hand- and backstroke, respectively, the sequence being reversed by each Single. This determines where rounds—an Even row—can occur.

This fact is doubtless not so important to the person trying to compose touches on paper at home, although it is a helpful piece of knowledge. But to the conductor in the tower trying to extemporise a touch, as Mr. Shepherd rightly suggests should be done, it is absolutely vital.

For example, the experienced might try the following:

234567

S 572634

567423

S 435267

423756

— 674523

— 356274

325467

— 743625

— 764532

— 257364

— 235476

Calling H of last article.
B and W keeps the Titium position.
7 In and Out at two produces Handstroke Home.

This calling makes the largest three-bells course 5-7-6, and calling 7 In and Out will keep them in this position, and one might hope that by continuing to call 7 In and Out rounds would occur eventually at handstroke.

It will not; but if the second single of 'calling H' is made a hob, a well-known and musical touch results.—Yours faithfully,

M. PETERSON.

Edinburgh.

Memories of J. W. Washbrook

Dear Sir.—My congratulations to the four who rang the double-handed tower bell peal at Balcombe. Like Mr. Barnett, I well remember visiting Arklow many times between 1904 and 1909 during which period I rang seven peals with him. In two of these he rang 3-4 to Bob Major and Stedman Triples, feats which startled the ringing world and caused doubts in the minds of many ringers regarding the truth of the peal of Major in December, 1904, the sole point being nobody could ring two bells for over three hours. In the following May the Rev. F. E. Robinson and the Rev. C. W. O. Jenkyn went over for a peal of Stedman, with Washbrook again on 3-4, and all doubts sank into oblivion when the peal was duly recorded.—Yours sincerely,

WILLIAM SHEPHERD.

Addlestone, Surrey.

Shropshire Fours

Dear Sir.—With reference to letters about rings of four in Shropshire. I would like to say that much of my information was obtained from the 1961 annual report of the Shropshire Association. However, I have had to rely on other people, although I have visited many of the fours in Salop. If my information on Wentnor is incorrect, then I beg someone's pardon, but I was told quite definitely that there is only one bell at Wentnor now.—Yours sincerely,

PHILIP R. JOHNSON.

Codsall, Staffs.

Badsworth, Yorks, Bells

Dear Sir.—In view of the two recent letters by Michael King on Yorkshire four-bell towers, I may be able to throw some light on what evidently puzzles him about the bells of Badsworth, near Pontefract.

These bells were examined in late August by John Sykes, of Pontefract, and myself. They are a minor four, their notes being A-sharp, G-sharp, F-sharp, and E, the tenor weighing. I should think, about 13 or 14 cwt. Therefore, if they were ever intended to be a diatonic ring, they would be Nos. 2 to 5 of an 8, with a tenor of about 45 cwt. in B. This seems to me very unlikely.

They are hung in frame for 6, and the two spaces are for smaller bells than those already there, but there is nothing in the records to show (1) whether there were another two, or (2) where they are now if there were.

The inscriptions and dates are interesting, although we could find no founders' name. Any marks which there were, were unrecognisable:

Treble.—1536 — Let the sweet voice of Gabriel resound through the heavens.

Second.—1675 — Gloria in excelsis Deo. I.H. H.H. W.B. Wardens.

Third.—1669 — I, sweetly tolling, men do call to task on Meate that feeds the soule.

Tenor.—1582—Glory in the highest to Jesus our God. Anno Domini 1582, the figure 2 being upside down.

The bells were recently rung by Mr. Fred Terry's band, although the wheels, etc. are not in very good shape.

It is a local legend in Pontefract that these bells, together with one from St. Botolph's, Knottingley, once belonged to All Saints', Pontefract, when All Saints' is reputed to have had 12 bells. Whether there is any truth in this, I do not know, but they certainly have no connection with the present ring at All Saints', which are Taylor's, 1863 and 1905. I would be grateful, however, if anyone could shed any light on this matter.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN WEAVER.

London, N.14.

An Appeal from Southern Rhodesia

Dear Sir.—The half-yearly meeting of the Mashonaland Diocesan Guild will be held at the Cathedral in Salisbury, Rhodesia, on Sunday, November 8th, at 3 p.m. Ringing will start after Matins (about 11.45) and will continue, with intervals, till Evensong at 8 p.m.

We have lately heard of one or two ringers who are in the area but have not heard of the activities of the Guild. We should therefore be very grateful if readers of 'The Ringing World' would write to any ringers or ex-ringers they know in Rhodesia who may still not be in touch with us and tell them the date. For anyone who cannot attend, may I point out that there is a weekly practice in Salisbury on Wednesdays from 5.30 p.m., and ringing for Evensong on Sundays from 7 to 8 p.m. Visitors of any standard are always welcome.—Yours sincerely,

J. R. MILFORD.

Master, Mashonaland Diocesan Guild.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION Biggleswade District

Unfortunately, the monthly meeting of the Biggleswade District had not been advertised and consequently there was a very poor attendance at Meppershall on October 10th. Despite the fairly long draught some good ringing was obtained on the five bells (tenor 12 cwt.), which are rung from the middle of the aisle.

After a short service, conducted by the Rector, the few ringers present adjourned to the Village Hall for an enjoyable tea. At the short business meeting which followed, one new member from Meppershall was elected.

Mr. P. Rogers was Ringing Master for the evening and, with the arrival of several more ringers, Plain Bob and Grandsire were frequently rung together with the special method, Stedman, and rounds.

Next meeting: Stotfold, November 14th.

DOVE'S SUMMER TOUR, No. 2

A very full tour embracing 115 towers from Chiddingfold, Kent, to Cirencester was organised by Mr. C. Barrie Dove during early August. Traffic chaos prevented three of the party from Yorkshire arriving at Chiddingfold in time for the peal attempt and two quarters were substituted. The Worcester party joined us here before going to Eastbourne.

Sunday was a 'day of rest before the storm' with service ringing at Dallington, Brightling and Brede and in between bathing and beach cricket. Thirteen towers in Kent were planned for Monday, the highlights being Goudhurst, Horsmonden and Tonbridge. Tuesday saw us in Romney Marsh, where the first tower was the unique campanile of Brookland. After 10 towers some of the party finished the day at the practice at All Saints', Hastings.

The coast was left on Wednesday and 13 towers on the northern border of Sussex visited, the highlights being Edenbridge and Fairwarp. Thursday was another fruitful day with 11 towers in Surrey. Ringing at Godstone and Cranleigh was a joy but the real attraction was the 10 at Haslemere and the excellent tea. On Friday we moved into Hampshire, Curdridge being the obvious choice for 'the best of the day'; although these bells vied with Brookland for being the loudest of the tour.

Bank Holiday Saturday found us hovering on the borders of Sussex and Hampshire and finally working towards Newbury. On the Sunday we rang at Thatcham and Newbury and finally rang handbells in Swindon Town Gardens, thereby obliterating (we hope) the shadow of the hoax peal there. Christ Church, Swindon, bells were regarded as probably the best of the tour.

On Monday we rang at an 'unringable' tower, Coleshill, Berks, in our tour of the Vale of the White Horse and in the evening met Mr. A. R. Peake at Stratton St. Margaret. The last day was Tuesday; the lovely six at Purton, the beautiful church at Cricklade and the 12 at Cirencester are happy memories.

Thanks are accorded to incumbents and tower captains for their co-operation, our drivers — John Weaver, John Whittall and Jeffrey Fox — and the organiser, C. Barrie Dove, who worked so hard on the project. — J.W. and D.L.

BECKENHAM, KENT, RINGERS' OUTING

The fine eight at Wrotham made a fitting start to Beckenham's outing on September 19th. After well-struck touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Cambridge, a very good course of Bristol broke down in the last lead, much to everybody's disappointment, but the fine Taylor ten at Maidstone soon restored our spirits and produced some good touches, finishing with Cambridge before lunching at a nearby restaurant.

Horsmonden Church was a little hard to find, but the bells proved to be much more difficult and the bad 'go' daunted even the most enthusiastic. However, the delightful six at Lamberhurst made up for all this and striking was good, even though some people were unused to ground-floor rings with corresponding long rope lengths. Equally enjoyable was the eight at Withyham, and here methods included Duffield, which, by tradition, is an 'outing special'.

The last two towers were the sixes at Limpsfield and Limpsfield Chart, where the Minor enthusiasts showed their skills in a variety of methods up to London.

The serious business now over, we retired to Westerham for dinner, and this proved to be a most satisfying conclusion to a thoroughly successful day. D. G. B.

TAUNTON RINGERS IN CORNWALL

FOLLOWING the success of a week-end tour last year based on Stratton, Cornwall, and enjoying the hospitality of Harry and Rene Stacey, Taunton ringers had no second choice this year. Three full days started on Friday, September 11th, with ringing on the light six at Ide followed by Moreton Hampstead with its very deep set tenor—the first few rounds being only on seven bells.

Lunch was taken at the Ring of Bells, Chagford, where the landlord's Indian temple bells were of interest. At the church we met Fred Langley, formerly of our area, but the ringing was not as we would have wished. We had to wait until after a funeral to ring at South Tawton: Holsworthy bells were a joy to ring and the 45 minutes passed all too quickly. Upon arrival at Stratton we rang in a half-muffled service touch and following dinner had a pleasant evening's ringing at Bridgerule.

FIRE

Saturday was spent with fine bells. St. Stephen-by-Launceston made an easy start, the height of Linkinhorne did not upset the handling, and although St. Ives bells were viewed with mixed feelings Cambridge and Reverse Canterbury sounded quite well. There was some good striking at St. Germans, which was visited after lunch and almost on the Devon border we were joined by the Rev. G. Reeming at Calstock. An element of excitement arose when Nigel found his car surrounded by smoke and flames. He succeeded in reversing from a patch of burnt grass. The only damage was four blackened shoes and hairs on Mr. Young's legs singed.

Over the border at Tavistock we were welcomed by Ray and Margaret Bould and some good Stedman and Double Norwich were heard. Another fine dinner at Stratton was followed by a visit to Poughill and a good course of Cambridge.

After service ringing on Sunday across the road farewells were said to our host and his family. An enjoyable potter through Devon led us to Exmouth and Frank Mack. Ninety minutes of intense concentration followed and the end product was not quite 120 of Grandsire Doubles. Most of us finished with a great respect for Frank's achievement. Service ringing at Witheycombe Raleigh rounded off a thoroughly enjoyable week-end. Thanks are due to Nigel, Harry and Rene Stacey, and all who met and joined us and allowed us to ring. — D.L.

Crantock, Cornwall, Ringers' Outing

Crantock ringers and friends held their annual outing on September 26th and were pleased to have with them Derek after his long spell in hospital.

Towers visited were Lanivet, Liskeard, Menheniot, St. Stephen-by-Saltash, Plympton St. Maurice and Plympton St. Mary. Our thanks to incumbents and tower captains and to R. A. S., who made the arrangements for us over the border. J. R.

E. M. ATKINS*AN APPRECIATION

With the passing of E. M. Atkins we have lost a ringer who for well over 50 years rendered valuable and devoted service to the Exercise. Although an excellent method ringer and a composer and conductor of exceptional ability, he was one who always held that our first duty was to the Church, and for most of his life he was the driving force behind a service band, for many years at St. Augustine's, Kilburn, and latterly at Teignmouth. Possessing almost unlimited patience and being naturally kindly and tolerant, he taught many of both sexes to ring, and no matter how many 'gave up' was always ready to welcome fresh recruits.

He will, of course, be sadly missed by the Devonshire Guild, for whom he was general secretary for several years, but probably his memory will live longest with the Cambridge University Guild, of which he was an outstanding member ever since he came up to St. Catherine's in 1909. From that time onwards he played a great part in its development and progress, especially in the years immediately preceding and succeeding the 1914-1918 war. He was Master from 1910-1912, calling his first Guild peal in February, 1911 (5,024 Plain Bob Major on handbells). For many years handbell ringing formed the major part of the Guild's activities and 'E. M.' rapidly became an expert, especially in Plain Bob, Treble Bob and Double Norwich, while in 1912 he conducted the first peal of Little Bob Royal ever rung.

After the war, in which he served with the Royal Engineers, he became a civil servant, working at the Patents Office in Holborn, and in the early 1920's paid many visits to Cambridge to help the residents through many peals. Possibly his most useful contribution has been his peal of 5,040 Plain Bob Major, known as 'Taapaataapaa,' a simple composition based on a familiar four-course block which has done duty for many a 'first peal on handbells.' From 1927 to 1953 he represented the Guild on the Central Council, having previously served a term for the Central Northern Association. Had he so desired he would have continued to hold that office, but he preferred to let someone else have a turn. In all he took part in 155 Guild peals, several of them 'landmarks' in its history, conducting 73.

Those who maintain contact with the C.U.G.C.R. after leaving the University do so mainly through the annual 'Week' and in this connection 'E. M.' certainly did his full share. Not only was he a regular participant but on three occasions he was the organiser—in 1921 and 1927, with the centre at Isham, where his father was Rector, and in 1953 at Newton Abbot. Last, but by no means least, the warm welcome and hospitality which was always to be found with him and Mrs. Atkins will not quickly be forgotten.

MISS C. E. BANKS

Miss Charlotte Emma Banks, of Gedney Dyke, Spalding, Lincs, who died on September 27th, at the age of 90 years, was the first lady to join the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, the first to ring a peal for the Guild and a member of the Ladies' Guild since 1929. In 1911, at Gedney, she rang the treble to a peal of Grandsire Doubles conducted by Mr. J. B. Hallifax, who had taught her to ring at the neighbouring tower at Fleet in 1909.

On the evening of October 8th the Gedney ringers, accompanied by Mr. Hallifax, rang touches of Grandsire Doubles, half-muffled, as a token of respect to one who throughout a very active public life had worked hard for her church and its bells. It was largely through the effort of Miss Banks that a treble was added to the bells of Gedney Church.

SALISBURY, SOUTHERN RHODESIA.—At the Cathedral, on October 4th, 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: K. Cross 1, Monica M. Blagrove 2, Frances Pellatt 3, C. Stevenson 4, J. R. Milford 5, F. T. Blagrove (cond.) 6. First of Minor 1, 3 and first of Minor in Central Africa. Rung for the Cathedral Festival, and as a welcome to Monica and F. T. Blagrove.

MR. JOSEPH A. ATKINSON

From Dublin we regretfully learn of the passing of Mr. Joseph A. Atkinson on September 20th. Mr. Atkinson was taken ill whilst travelling to England on holiday last August and, returning home, underwent an operation on September 18th. Some ringers visiting him on September 20th found him in good spirits but, alas, he died later that afternoon.

Born in the precincts at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Joe came into the belfry as a 'bare-kneed boy': throughout his life he remained a boy at heart—kind, irrepressible and generous.

He learned to ring under Gabriel Lindoff in the company of those who founded the tradition of change ringing at St. Patrick's and he maintained with vigour the standard which they had established; his striking was precise, his change ringing was exact. His forte was a heavy bell. In earlier years he had rung 11 peals, all round the back end. However, during his 50 years' ringing it was on service ringing that he placed emphasis.

Mr. Atkinson had varied interests—the British Legion, the Conservative Club (of which he was a trustee), Freemasonry (he being a past master of his Lodge and a past officer of Royal Arch). A keen swimmer, he bathed at the exclusive 'Fortyfoot', a 'men only' cove near Dublin. His untimely death caused a profound shock to his friends but his name will always be associated with change ringing at St. Patrick's, where his loss is inestimable.

The Cathedral bells were rung half-muffled for the burial service, the interment taking place at Dean's Grange. The attendance included Mr. and Miss Dukes, representing the Irish Association.

MR. W. SMITH

The bells at Long Clawson, the Leicestershire village where he was born, were rung half-muffled on October 5th by members of the Melton District, to the memory of Mr. William Smith, of Pymble, Sydney, N.S.W. His passing was recorded in our last issue.

A peal was rung at St. Michael's, Cornhill, on October 3rd by members of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths and Ancient Society of College Youths as a compliment to Mr. W. R. Winterton, former treasurer of the Cumberlands, during his year as Master of the Worshipful Company of Drapers. The Drapers Company are the patrons of the living of St. Michael's. This year is the 600th anniversary of the granting of their first Royal Charter.

Ashford (Kent) bells will be silent from the New Year until about October.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. H. S. Morley, of Selby, Yorks, is in hospital. Friends wish him a speedy recovery.

The peal of Dorchester (page 672) for the Sussex County Association on August 10th was rung at Easebourne, and not Eastbourne as was inadvertently published.

The peal of Spliced Surprise Minor rung at Little Aston on September 21st (see page 686) was the first peal of Surprise Minor for the Archdeaconry of Stafford Society and the first by the local band.

With the peal at Bradford Cathedral on October 3rd, Barry Schofield has now 'circled the tower' to peals. At St. Michael's, Ashton, on September 17th, Frederick Shallcross completed peals on all 13 bells in the tower.

Olympic Doubles has made its appearance. It was first rung at Handsworth on October 11th. The method is St. Martin's with a Plain Bob bob and an Old single (see page 530).

Ringers at Caerphilly will be interested to read that Mr. C. R. P. Broughton scored his first quarter peal on October 4th at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, when he rang with the University of Wales Society.

Of note in connection with the peal at King's Norton, the first on the bells for nine years, is that this year is the 200th anniversary of the casting of the seventh and tenor. They have not been touched by a bell hanger. R. K. M. writes, 'Even St. George's, Bristol, go well compared with these. Mr. Cannon and Squire Edwards take note!'

BELFRY GOSSIP

Five peals of Surprise Major in five different methods with five different conductors were rung by the same band on Saturday, October 10th, at the Bell Foundry Campanile, Loughborough. The total ringing time was 11 hours 59 minutes. There were variations in time from 2 hours 16 minutes for 5,088 Yorkshire to 2 hours 35 minutes for 5,088 London.

The peal rung at Potterspur, Northants, was also rung to the memory of Mr. E. M. Atkins, of Teignmouth.

St. Swithun's bells, Worcester, will not be available on the occasion of the Worcester-shire and Districts Association's annual dinner at Worcester on October 24th, because of the arranging of a special service.

On Sunday, September 27th, at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, Miss Gillian Graney, Master of the University of Wales Society, rang the treble. Ringing beside her, on the second, was Mr. R. Anthony Vere Hodge, Master of the Dublin University Guild.

The peal at Isleworth on October 7th marked the 30th anniversary of Mr. O. L. Rogers' first peal, and the 20th anniversary of Mr. C. T. Richards' first. Mr. Harold Rogers kindly stood out to enable Mr. Wilson, who was in the 1934 peal, to call this one.

'Bill' Brotherton, who rang his first peal at Shifnal, Salop, on October 3rd has accomplished much during his first year of ringing. He can also ring Double Norwich C.B. Major and Stedman Caters. The peal was also the first time for 25 years that Roger Hawksworth and Cyril Taberner had rung a peal together.

A Sunday morning quarter peal attempt at Portishead on October 4th came to an abrupt ending after a quarter of an hour by one of the band setting his bell and hastening out of the ringing chamber. He happened to be the chief of the fire brigade and had heard the siren above the sound of the bells. Mr. E. Skipsey, who was conducting, had motored 20 miles to Portishead for the purpose.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Ashford District

About 40 people were present for the service and tea at the annual general meeting of the Ashford District at their home tower of St. Mary's on October 3rd. The service was conducted by the Rev. W. G. Chesham, who gave a heartening address, and Mr. A. Butcher was the organist.

Tea was enjoyed in the Church Hall and was served by the Mothers' Union under Mrs. Wickens, and kindly given by the Ashford ringers. It was preceded and followed by recordings of the ringing at Washington Cathedral, lent by Mr. H. Parkes.

The hon. District secretary's report and balance sheet showed an improvement on last year, but still fell short of previous years, when the Ashford District led the Association. Apart from Lympe, and the young ladies who rang the peal at Cheriton, peal ringing appeared to be in the doldrums.

Mr. Alan Berry was re-elected as Ringing Master, and Mr. C. T. Hillis as hon secretary. The Rev. P. T. Robbins was elected as one of the District representatives in place of Mr. Berry. Miss Violet Relf, whose organising genius saves pounds for the Association every time they meet at Tenterden, was re-elected as the other District representative.

The chairman, Mr. J. Willis, proposed the vote of thanks, mentioning the clergy, the Mothers' Union, Messrs. H. Parkes and T. Cullingworth for the ringing recordings, and Miss Margaret Jones (secretary of the Ashford band) for making all the arrangements. C. T. H.

THE LADIES' GUILD

Devon Branch

The Devon Branch held a successful meeting at Ottery St. Mary on October 3rd, when the event was well patronised.

Ringing included touches of Grandsire Doubles and Triples, Stedman Triples and two well-struck courses of Plain Bob Major. Owing to the absence of the Vicar, no service was held, but an excellent tea was served at the Kings Arms Hotel.

Mrs. D. R. Bould, the vice-president, presided at the business meeting, and two new members (Mrs. Robertson and Miss M. Weston, of Newquay) were elected. Subject to permission, the annual meeting will be held at St. Budeaux, Plymouth, on February 27th, with a visit to Emmanuel Church, Plymouth, in the evening.

Ringing at Sidbury in the evening included a touch of Grandsire Triples by an all-ladies' band conducted by Mrs. Bould, and an unsuccessful attempt for a course of Cambridge Surprise Major.

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

A quarterly meeting of the East Devon Branch was held at Stockland (near Honiton) on October 10th, when some 40 ringers were present. A service was held in Stockland Church conducted by the Rev. R. D. Drury.

At the meeting, presided over by Mr. J. Sage (the chairman), members stood in silence in memory of Mr. E. M. Atkins, the former general secretary of the Guild.

Certificates were presented to Mrs. P. Netherway and Miss S. Netherway, of Colleigh.

The next quarterly meeting will be held at Broadhembury on February 13th, 1965. Monthly practices at Shute, Sidbury, Sidmouth, on second week in each month.

A brief report on Stockland bells was given by Mr. Sage. It was decided to ring a peal (by officers of the Branch) in memory of Mr. Atkins. A quarter peal was rung after the service.

Thanks were passed to all concerned in arrangements for the day.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Dorchester Branch

The annual quarterly meeting of the Dorset Branch was held at Wyke Regis on October 3rd and was attended by 31 members.

The Guild service was conducted by the Rector (Canon F. E. Pratt), who took as the theme for his address the word 'Thanksgiving.' The lesson was read by the Branch chairman, the Rev. C. E. C. Brinkworth. Tea was served in the Church Hall by a band of ladies of the church.

In opening the meeting, the Branch chairman congratulated Mr. F. B. Stedman, captain of the Wyke Regis ringers, who had recently celebrated his 90th birthday and was still a regular ringer on Sundays and on practice nights. He also congratulated Canon Pratt on his recent appointment as Rural Dean of Weymouth.

Branch practices were arranged as follows (subject to confirmation): Preston, October 17th; Cattistock, October 31st; Abbotsbury, November 14th; St. Peter's, Dorchester, November 28th; Fordington, December 12th; Charminster, January 2nd.

Next meeting: Annual, St. Peter's, Dorchester, January 16th. R. H. D.

OUTING

FRAMSDEN AND DISTRICT

This year's outing of the Framsdens and District ringers on October 10th was into Bedfordshire. Cardington was most disappointing as only the back six could be rung owing to a defective chiming hammer and it was impossible to see the bells to investigate. The six were, however, good practice for Elstow's six of Bunyan fame. Maulden proved most pleasing and here Willoughby E. had his long wish satisfied. The handy eight at Clifton completed the tour. To those who met them and Mr. L. Bywaters, for his helpful information the ringers return sincere thanks.

LOVING INVITATION

Sermon preached to the North Staffs Association at Uttoxeter Parish Church by the Rev. P. G. Hardy, R.D., on September 19th.

'MAY their membership in this Association tend in some measure to build up Thy Church.' Those words of the prayer we have all just used remind us all that the skills we use in the belfry are very far in intent from self-exhibitionism. Those of us who merely listen to the bells certainly never fail to admire your years of practice and patience and painstaking effort which result in such ringing as we have been privileged to enjoy this afternoon. At the same time, and I speak in all humility, we realise that not one of you gathered here for this festival would ever have continued faithful if you had not appreciated the purpose of God's calling to you, to help in some measure to build up His Church.

Accordingly, when next Sunday you begin to ring out what the prayer on your service sheet happily terms the 'loving invitation,' will you bear in mind the sort of people who will be at the listening-end. Not being a ringer, I cannot be expected to know what goes on in your minds when you assemble in the belfry whilst the congregation is assembling in the church below. But you can be sure of one thing—that they are at one with you in your work to help build up the Church, and that they are probably praying for the very people on whose ears your ringing falls. With your necessary concentration, too, on the actual ringing it would not make sense to deflect your thoughts in the belfry from the mechanics of that process. Yet, ultimately, your very purpose in that ringing is directed at the souls of other people, that you may help in some measure to build them into God's Church.

The achievement of this purpose depends partly upon the actual skill you possess in the art of ringing—there is nothing so compellingly attractive as a firm and confident peal—but also in the sort of person you are. As in any profession or industry a man's progress is determined not merely by his abilities but also by his character, his soul, so also effectiveness in the belfry is measured by the prayerfulness or otherwise of the ringing.

Therefore, pray first of all for all who are obedient to God's call to worship. It is most important to support with your prayers those who are gladly heeding your efforts. Think of the Christian already on his way to church as your bells ring out; think of the encouragement you are giving him; think of the sense of Christian fellowship you are engendering in him; think of the very real joy in worship anticipated by him through your bells. Pray, too, for those obedient to God's call to worship, but who by sickness or other hindrance are unable to get to a church service. Do remember that they will all be listening for your first pull on the ropes, listening for the prayerful joy your ringing will effect, listening probably in a nostalgic manner for the sense of prayerful fellowship which the bells will induce in their souls.

We members of the Christian Church have also to bear in mind that the Church is the only society in the world which exists for its non-members. Hence, secondly, your ringing must reach out to those who have lost the obedience they once had to God's call to worship Him. This loss of purposefulness in life is a sad spectacle which must cause distress to God and certainly does to all of us trying hard to recall such people to their sense of Christian responsibility. Think prayerfully of such a man who will be disturbed in conscience at your ringing; one man will be aroused by sheer nostalgia; another will be awakened out of the torpor of his now meaningless Sundays; all of them can be moved into renewed obedience of soul by way of your prayers for their recall as you ring for them.

Thirdly, your ringing must be understood as directed also to the pagans of this country, to those who appear unmoved by the ministrations of the Church, to those who refuse to be moved by appeals either to commonsense or reason. Their souls have somehow to be touched; your ringing is the only feature of Christian Church life they ever can notice; your responsibility to them is therefore tremendous. Hence, in all humility, my advice to you is this: in praying for such folk, select one or two people known personally to you and, as you ring, pray for them by name individually; pray that they may begin to understand that it is you and your skill being used by God to declare to them His Glory; pray that they may begin to realise that your ringing is for their benefit, that they may be drawn into the true happiness of life on earth, obedience to God's Commandments; pray that the sound of your bells may reach right into their souls to convince them of the reality of the Love of God for them.

We clergy are appreciative not merely of your skilful efforts to bring people into the fold of Christ's Church, nor of the faithfulness with which you come along Sunday by Sunday to 'send forth the loving invitation' to worship, but also of the prayerful example which you set by your diligence in the belfry. So may I conclude with this simple thought: it is not needful to recruit more ringers for our belfries, but it is highly essential to recruit more men of prayer as ringers.

ALL WERE LONG PEALERS IN JOHN WORTH'S IRISH PEAL TOUR

ONE of the most pleasing sides of ringing is the opportunity it affords of visiting fresh parts of the country. This was the case on Friday, September 25th., when ten ringers arrived in Dublin to make the most of a long week-end and to attempt six peals. All the party were long pealers but no long peals were attempted, although thoughts in that direction were occasionally voiced. This time concentration was placed on six heavy rings and peals long in time rather than changes.

Mr. Fred Dukes had us moving fast early on Saturday morning to Drogheda, 30 miles north of Dublin, where we were to attempt Bristol. Drogheda, an historic town situated on the River Boyne and between the counties of Meath and Louth, contains at St. Peter's Church (C. of I.) a ring of Taylorised Rudhall bells (tenor 22 cwt. in E flat). Three and a half hours later we and the bells were richer by a slow peal of Bristol and we were hustled out of Drogheda and the Boyne Valley and back to Dublin or Baile Atha Cliath as the road signs alternatively show.

FRED'S FULFILMENT

St. Patrick's National Cathedral was our venue for the afternoon and early evening. Founded in 1190, with a massive square 14th century tower and 18th century spire, the Cathedral dwarfs its humble surroundings and is best seen from the little park on the north side provided by the Guinness family, who also paid for the restoration of the Cathedral in the 1860's. The Irish publicity department have been at work here and we were hard pressed to clear the belfry of reporters and photographers before embarking on four hours of Cambridge Surprise Maximus. Naturally, Gabriel Lindoff provided the composition and its due completion gave Fred Dukes his first of Cambridge Maximus and the fulfilment of the Cambridge ladder.

On Sunday morning, while two of the party returned to St. Patrick's to ring a half-muffled in memoriam quarter of Grand sire, the rest of us sampled Christ Church Cathedral, a superb building architecturally, but with a heavy-going ring of ten, which we managed to turn in to London. Afterwards we visited the Augustinian Church of St. John, another ten, but this time hung anticlockwise in a rectangular belfry. We were attracted by the highly ornate interior of the church, an attraction quickly dulled by the seemingly perilous ascent to the belfry.

London Surprise Major was the music for the afternoon peal at St. George's, Dublin, and a slow steady peal was rung, enabling A. P. W. to call his first of London. Later in the evening an attempt for the first hand-bell peal of Surprise Major outside England collapsed after 35 minutes of Yorkshire: we afterwards relaxed to eight spiced and Stedman Triples.

ODD-STRUCK

Kilkenny was the first peal tower on Monday and we got off to a late start, and we were an hour late at St. Canice's Cathedral. However, we were soon in the tower with little time to spend to view the 13th century Cathedral or the round tower close to the south transept. The tower is massive and squat with stepped battlements and the bells are hung on the roof, directly above the ringing chamber. The bells are loud, most are odd-struck, the four back bells all swing the same way, and it is therefore as well that we rang Lincolnshire here. But it became very apparent throughout the peal that, whilst one's first impression of the bells was not pleasant, after a few courses to sort out the uneven striking, the earlier discomfort ceased and a peculiar sense of satisfaction was gained. A tower-grabbing band would never get the same satisfaction out of the bells as a peal band.

Leaving the city of Kilkenny, with the fine 200-foot tower of the R.C. Cathedral standing watch over the narrow winding streets and the now slumbering fortress of the castle, we turned eastwards in the direction of the Wicklow Mountains. Our destination was Arklow, 60 miles away. Fast driving was necessary and as we went across country, past the sentinel of Mount Leinster, the whole rural life of Ireland greeted us—cows, sheep, poultry, donkeys, horses... and delayed us! At Arklow a late start was inevitable and perhaps the bells did not approve of non-Washbrook compositions, especially as the method was London, because our luck was out after an hour's quick ringing. So Arklow became the first tower in Ireland to owe us a peal, but patience is always rewarded and there is always something to return for. The bells are fine and as musical a 22 cwt. as will be found anywhere: combined with this the church, a beautiful example of Gothic Revival architecture, built in 1900.

GLORIOUS ENDING

Our final peal was on Tuesday morning at Christ Church, Bray. The two older members of the party left the youngsters to do battle with Bristol, and disappeared rapidly upstream to detect the source of the prevalent odour that results from the brewing of Ireland's national drink. The youngsters rang a good steady peal in 3 hours 43 minutes. What bells! Taylor's, cast in 1880 and rehung in 1950, they have the breadth, tone and go second to none for their weight, but have perhaps as their equal for tone St. Finbarre's Cathedral, Cork. Anyway, they were a glorious end to a most enjoyable week-end.

We parted ways at Bray, the Cheshire men flying back to Manchester and the South Wales contingent returning to Rosslare for the night boat. We must thank Robert Smith for organising that week-end from the Cheshire end. Fred Dukes for the Irish end and local ringers and incumbents.

We are happy that the ringing gave us an opportunity not just to collect more peals and towers but to experience a little of the best that Ireland can offer—grand, unspoilt scenery, a unique Celtic history, a happy people, and, everywhere, warm hospitality and an enthusiastic welcome. B. J. W.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Bingham District meeting, held at Gedding on October 10th., was well attended, over 60 ringers being present during the afternoon and evening. Canon C. H. B. Watson (Vicar) gave a very inspiring address at the shortened Evensong. Tea was in the Glebe Room, where local ladies had prepared an excellent meal.

We were sorry to learn that the chairman of the Southwell Guild (Mr. W. Midwinter) was in Newark Hospital and all wished him a speedy recovery.

HESSE WEEK-END AT WRINGTON

The life and work of Major J. H. B. Hesse was remembered once again at Wrington during the week-end of October 17th-18th.

Both peal attempts were successful this year; on Friday evening Plain Bob Major was rung at Chew Magna, and on Saturday Stedman Caters was scored at Wrington. Mr. Rodney Hesse came specially to the tower on Saturday to express his appreciation and to say how much this annual event meant to the family. Similar sentiments were also expressed by Mrs. Hesse at the tea which followed, which she kindly provided.

Mr. H. Sanger, on behalf of the company, thanked Mrs. Hesse for her hospitality, and in reminding those present of the example of ringers who had served us well and had now passed on, he coupled with the name of Major Hesse those of Mrs. E. Knight and Mr. A. A. Hughes, the master founder, whose work at Wrington will always be remembered.

Those present were Mrs. Hesse, the Rev. R. O. Fry, Mr. and Mrs. J. Chilcott, Mr. and Mrs. W. Kingcott, Mr. and Mrs. F. Oakshott, Messrs. H. Bird, J. Brain, L. Derrick, E. Lee, G. Prescott, G. Pullen, H. J. Sanger and S. C. Smith. J. B.

STAFFORD ARCHDEACONRY SOCIETY

An encouraging number of over 50 ringers and friends sat down to tea during the recent meeting held at Yoxall, near Burton-on-Trent, on October 17th. Ringing had taken place previously on the six bells (tenor 13 cwt.) and this had been followed by the service conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. O. Nicholls), who made the Society most welcome to one of the few meetings ever held there.

Tea over, the honorary secretary asked that all the towers should pay any owing subscriptions to the treasurer as soon as possible. It was announced that the Ringing Master would be forming a team of volunteer ringers who would be willing to help in towers where assistance was badly needed. The appointment of Mr. D. J. Bates, 151, Red House Lane, Aldridge, Staffs (Tel. Aldridge 51333), as assistant honorary secretary, was announced.

The following new resident members were elected: N. J. C. Bowen, P. C. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. R. Twigg (Lichfield Cathedral), R. D. N. Collins (Longdon), R. J. Wright (Yoxall), R. W. Barker (Cannock), G. Peters (Haughton) and P. A. Southgate (Shenstone).

Our thanks are expressed to all at Yoxall who made us so welcome, especially to Mr. and Mrs. Wright.

Next meeting: St. Peter's, Wolverhampton, January 16th. C. M. S.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Tonbridge District

The Tonbridge District held its annual meeting on October 3rd, at Sevenoaks. Ringing began at 3 p.m. before a very interesting service conducted by Rev. E. M. T. McLellan (Rector), at which he spoke of the modern teenage problem. Tea was taken at the Parish Hall, and provided by members of the Sevenoaks band to whom we say 'thank you' for their good hospitality.

At the business meeting Mr. P. A. Corby presided. The secretary's report and interim statement of accounts was adopted and four new members were elected. The officers for the coming year elected were: Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. W. H. Dobbie; District Reps., Miss D. Colgate and Mr. S. Jenner; Ringing Master, Mr. L. Pope; R.W. Correspondent, Miss M. A. Ladd. It had previously been decided to hold four quarterly meetings with no by-meetings in 1965, the four towers were chosen by the members, i.e. January 2nd: Hadlow; April 3rd: Hawkhurst; June 26th: Seal and Seal Chart; October 2nd: Tonbridge (annual). The question of holding a dinner in the Tonbridge District next year was considered. Ringing continued until 8.30 p.m.

Peterborough Guild Dinner

THERE was only one thing lacking at the annual dinner of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild held at Northampton Town Hall on October 17th. The speeches were excellent and witty, the dinner was well chosen and well cooked, the band for dancing was in good form, but for some inexplicable reason the attendance was considerably short of the two previous dinners. Those who attended had an enjoyable evening.

Canon G. F. Turner, the president, was in the chair. He was supported by the Archdeacon of Northampton (the Ven. B. R. Marsh) and Mrs. Marsh, Mr. F. W. Perrens and Mrs. Perrens, Canon K. W. H. Felstead, Mr. P. I. Chapman (Past Master), Miss S. R. Collins (Master) and Mr. E. Billings (secretary and treasurer).

The toast of 'The Church' was proposed by Mr. P. I. Chapman, who said that it was only since the emergence of the much publicised South Bank religion and the publication of the reports of the conversations with the Methodists and with the subsequent criticisms and discussions that many, if not all of them, have really become aware that the Church of England, though always in modern times reasonably tolerant, embraces to-day a wider variety of religious conviction than ever before in its chequered history.

BETTER HEART

Changes and toleration of these changes were obviously essential factors in the modern Church—even the hitherto intransigent Church of Rome showed signs of recognising that. On the whole, we thought that the Church was in better heart than ever before—at least in their lifetime. It was at last being realised that she must keep up with events, that Christianity must be taken to the people and not merely 'made available' in the parish's ancient monument once a week on Sundays in a form almost unintelligible to modern ears!

Whatever changes there may be they will most likely have their effect upon our ancient art of bellringing, but that is comparatively unimportant. I believe, however, that the art of ringing is well worth preserving for its own sake. I also believe that it is a useful means of propaganda for the Church. As long as people complain about the nuisance of bells on Sundays it will be worth ringing for service. They are the most effective conscience-prickers the Church possesses!

The Archdeacon of Northampton said it was a pleasure to hear their pledge of loyalty to the Church as contained in the toast. The Church, like everything else, depended upon the Press and what they read in the Press was not always the whole of the story. What they read was about the newsy world and that invariably meant trouble. There was a great deal going on in the Church throughout the world which was fantastically revolutionary, such as what was taking place in the Vatican Council, but few realised how the Church of England was in 1964 a revitalised church.

I am very proud to belong to the Church of England and I do not agree with people who say she is a chronically sick old lady. The Church is growing and is set on putting its things in order. In my present job I see a great deal of this diocese and the more I see my confidence grows. This diocese is having a share in the many forward things in the future.

The Archdeacon said he had been given charge of St. Peter's Church and it had, so he understood, the earliest bells in Northampton and one of the finest, and the first peal was rung there in 1739. Unfortunately most of his life had been spent in places where there were no bells—in Australia few of the churches had bells but were dependent on recordings. Bells were very much a part of English life; they summoned the faithful to worship. As he went round the villages he found churches which had bells and needed help in training new bands; there were other villages where there were not funds to place the bells in order. In these matters the Guild could help.

THE DUEL

Mr. F. W. Perrens, librarian to the Central Council, proposed the toast of 'The Peterborough Diocesan Guild.' In doing so he brought to them the hearty greetings of one of their friendly neighbours—the Coventry Diocesan Guild—the Guild he had been most closely associated with during the 50-odd years he had been interested in ringing. Yes, they were still friendly although they won the duel for entertaining the Central Council next year. It was won when their Master told the Council that the Peterborough Guild general secretary was associated with a brewery!

They were very pleased last year to welcome their then Master, Mr. Chapman, and some of their ringers to the Coventry Rally. They had a matter of some 600 ringers and friends at the service at the Cathedral. They were very sorry that they could not arrange for them to have a ring at the Cathedral, because they knew the 14 bells were hung dead. He knew they would sympathise with them because at their own Cathedral at Peterborough they had no ringable bells. It was a pity that at the Coventry Cathedral the bells had not come up to the standard of the beauty of the Cathedral or the wonderful services they had, but it might be better in due course.

Their efficient secretary had sent them a copy of their last annual report and from that he noticed that some of the branch secretaries were disappointed that they did not get more members at their meetings. He thought they would hear the same complaint in many other Guilds.

FULL COMPLEMENT

The success of any Guild depended not on the officers but the success of individual bands, and first and foremost that success depended on having a full complement of members. What could be done about increasing the membership of those bands that were short. If each and every one could introduce a new recruit it would go a long way in meeting the deficiency. They had a wonderful example at Cosgrove—a six-bell tower with 30 members—he had never heard of anything like that before.

The Central Council recognised that it was essential they must recruit. To help in this the Council had issued a leaflet which could be hung in church porches calling attention to bells, the hours of service and practice ringing and to whom those interested should apply for information. These could also be hung in churches in the vicinity giving information of the nearest church with ringable bells.

Concluding, Mr. Perrens said he would like to congratulate the present Master, Miss Collins. As far as his recollection went there had never been a lady as Master of a Guild of this size. He wished her a very happy and successful year in her mastership.

The president, in reply, said they were always proud in their Guild that they had so many of the younger element and ladies as members. It had been said that it was an unusual thing to have a lady as Master, but in Miss Shelagh Collins they had a dedicated person; she was not only dedicated to bellringing but also to the Church and service of the Church. He wished her well. They were also fortunate in having Mr. Billings as their secretary. They knew of the excellent arrangements he made for that function, the annual meeting and the summer festival. In him the brewery company of that town had an excellent representative in the Church. In regard to the Central Council meeting in Northampton next Whitsuntide they had already made certain arrangements and he hoped it would be a big success. The details would be circulated in the near future.

PETERBOROUGH CATHEDRAL

Regarding Peterborough Cathedral, he said all his life he had been connected with the Cathedral and he remembered, as a choirboy, when the bells were rung. For many years the bell had not been rung. It was not for lack of interest by the Dean and Chapter but because of the structural condition of the Cathedral, which is undergoing continual repairs; so far they had not been able to tackle the question of the bells. 'I never let a meeting pass without mentioning this fact and I hope that we shall one day have the bells ringing as I remember them as a boy.'

In the diocese, continued the president, the Guild was in a very healthy state with between 900 and 1,000 members, and a great proportion of those members were active, doing a splendid job. As he went about the diocese on various errands it was always a joy to hear the bells ringing and he thought when they heard him coming they always put a little more pep in their ringing.

The toast of 'The Guests,' proposed by the general secretary (Mr. W. S. Billings) and acknowledged by Canon K. W. H. Felstead, of Southampton, who mentioned his predecessor as Rural Dean of Southampton was Bishop Spencer Leese, who became Bishop of Peterborough. Dancing followed.

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION

Striking Competition Final

The successful teams from four Branch competitions met in the final of the Lancashire Association's striking competition on October 10th. Our hosts were the members of the Preston Branch, and in order to save time the eight-bell and six-bell sections were rung at the same time, the former at Higher Walton, the latter at Walton-le-Dale.

In the eight-bell section the judges (Derek Butterworth, Derek Ashton and Neil Bennett) placed the three competing teams in the following order: 1 St. John's, Preston; 2 Emmanuel, Southport; 3 St. Michael's, Ashton-under-Lyne.

In the six-bell section the judges were John Booth, John Robinson and F. Reynolds, who placed the teams as follows: 1 St. James', Leyland; 2 St. Peter's, Burnley; 3 Adlington; 4 Accrington; 5 St. Michael's, Ashton-under-Lyne; 6 Coppull.

This event appears to be growing in popularity, and thanks to some good organisation a very enjoyable afternoon was spent by all. F. R.

PRESENTATION TO MR.

W. M. NEWBY

Recognition of the good work Mr. W. M. Newby did during the 27½ years he acted as Branch secretary of the Furness Branch was forthcoming at the half-yearly meeting of the Branch at Hawkshead on October 10th.

Mr. J. E. Burles, one of the Lancashire Association's representatives on the Central Council, in making a presentation of a wrist watch to Mr. Newby, which had been subscribed for by Branch members, assured him of the deep appreciation of not only their own members but of the Lancashire Association of his long and outstanding services to ringing. Mrs. Newby was presented with a bouquet by Mr. T. Bagnall. T. F. M.

A Go-ahead District

Dear Sir,—A few words of praise and encouragement are these to the go-ahead ringing members of the Alton and Petersfield district of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild.

Great efforts have been made in the last 12 years in mastering different methods and improving striking and this is very noticeable at Liss, where there is a keen loyal band of service ringers who, incidentally, won the cup in last year's striking competition.

I have been a member of the Guild for over 30 years now and I think it is true to say that we have never had it so good in this district. Many young ringers are being taught and some older members have persevered and got on to Surprise methods.

On October 17th a peal of Plain Bob Major was attempted at Liss, an all local effort. Unfortunately this was lost after just over an hour of beautiful ringing. Not to be dismayed, it was decided to try a quarter peal of Stedman Triples and, once again, the ringing was really first class, equal to many much more experienced bands I have heard; unfortunately this too was lost in the last course. I had the pleasure of recording these efforts on my tape recorder and what joy it is to play this back and hear such beautiful ringing on this grand Mears octave.

How has this been achieved? My mind goes back to the early 1930's when Charles E. Bassett did a tremendous amount to foster change ringing and he still does. After the war came along Reg Jones and his wife, both dead, but they were keen and top class ringers and started what I would call the great revival.

Among those inspired by his efforts were Mr. Rex Corke and his wife, at Alton, who have fostered a good band. Another stalwart is my old school friend Alan Betsworth, captain at Liss who, like myself is a pupil of Charles E. Bassett. He went to Liss just before the war and got a band of change ringers going and encouraged such promising youngsters as David Hughes and Brian Walton, who are now conducting and instructing others.

Keith Sansom and Ken Tipper, at Petersfield, more disciples of C.E.B. and Reg Jones, are doing great work there. An excellent band is at Warnford, the work of these great pioneers and so it continues, a district that is really flourishing and getting ahead.

I think it is quite probable we shall see a Surprise band in the Alton and Petersfield district one day, the first ever. To all I would say, keep it going.—Yours faithfully, Hawkey, Hants. CHARLES A. POUND.

Iron Spur Stays

Dear Sir,—Reverting to the correspondence on stays which started with Mr. Haythorne's letter about St. Lawrence's bells in Winchester, at St. John-the-Baptist's Church in the same city are five bells which are probably more unringable than St. Lawrence's ever were. Here the iron spur stays project sideways from the top of the headstock, to engage with intriguing vertical iron sliders (like pendulums) fitted to the frame posts below the bearings. The frame and fittings appear to date from the 17th century, the tenor (16 cwt. in F) being dated 1654.

Rev. A. Clayton's stays at Stratford Tony, attached to the wheels with rope, are paralysed at Tarrant Monkton, Dorset (3, tenor cracked), Bockleton, Worcestershire (3, tenor about 7 cwt. in A) and Tugford, Shropshire. The latter bells are an unringable, mixed 17th century five with really rustic fittings (mostly original) and still capable of being swing-chimed. In all these cases the rope or string is no doubt a repair, the stays originally being jointed, pegged or nailed to the wheels. It does seem that in the old days a stay was not something to be broken!

I wonder if anyone can beat Tarrant Crawford, Dorset, where the treble of the three has a normal stay projecting downwards from the headstock, to engage with a slider attached to the tower roof!—Yours faithfully,

Leigh, Reigate. CHRISTOPHER DALTON.

Leicester University Outing

Dear Sir,—May I be allowed to comment on the rather uncalculated for comments by Mr. J. J. Pawley (p. 695)? As the ex-Ringing Master of the 'local university society' referred to, I would like to point out the following:

(1) On the actual day of our outing, two members were prevented from attending after an accident on a field-course which caused a broken wrist to one girl, and very severe lacerations to the other. A third member, who was to have attended, was unexpectedly called for an interview with the bursar and joined us later.

(2) Nottingham University was also to have sent a band to join us, but an unfortunate examination timetable prevented this.

We, at Leicester, have had enough trouble to keep going over the last three years without having these extra misfortunes to contend with. I think I explained the situation quite clearly to the local lady who met us, and we were all grateful that she came to ring with us, albeit humble and poorly struck Bob Minimus. We did out best with the resources available—one can do more.

However, as so often happens, it appears that the story got changed on the way of passing from mouth to mouth, and I am forced to make this defence for our Society.

I hope, Mr. Pawley, that you will not take these remarks personally; but do please enquire carefully into reasons before firing your bullets at people who may be innocent of offence. Next time we have an outing, let us hope that there will be enough to ring five, six, yes even eight bells. We have done it before and it can be done again, unless the face of fortune sees fit to look the other way once more.—Yours faithfully,

ROBERT E. HARDY.

Moseley, Birmingham.

Old Rings of Bells

Dear Sir,—I read with interest Phillip Walker's article about the bells of Merton College, Oxford.

I am not quite sure what he means by the eight bells being 'the oldest complete ring by one founder in existence,' but here at Coulsdon there is a ring of five, all of which were cast in 1675—by John Hodson.

They have been rehung, quarter turned and retuned, but not recast, so they are by five years an older ring than those of Merton College.—Yours sincerely, Coulsdon, Surrey.

D. G. LITTLE.

Morpeth Watch Tower

Dear Sir,—Just what is the 'slight' of the Curfew to which Miss Armstrong refers in her letter about Morpeth Watch Tower ('Belfry Gossip')? If it means that permission to attempt peals or quarter peals has been given—attempts which extend across the time for ringing the Curfew—then surely the matter rests with those responsible for the bells in this tower, presumably the Borough Council itself! It is open to all ringers to apply for the use of the bells at a certain time, and if permission is given then they cannot be blamed for going ahead with their ringing. If Miss Armstrong has any real grounds for complaint, then this should be made to the local authorities and not to ringers generally—unless they have in fact been ringing without permission, which I would very much doubt. The whole matter seems to be one which should be settled locally by consultation with those who have charge of the tower and its bells, whether these be the clergy of the Parish Church (some distance away up the hill) or the Borough Council.—Yours sincerely,

PETER N. BOND.

Gillingham, Kent.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

THE autumn quarterly meeting of the Guild was held in the Melton Mowbray District on October 17th. During the afternoon the bells of Waltham, Eaton and Croxton Kerrial were available as well as the 10 at Melton Parish Church. The Ringers' Service was conducted by the Vicar, Canon C. M. S. Clarke, which was followed by tea in the Colles Hall, prepared by Mrs. M. Stimson (the Melton District Secretary) and other helpers.

The business meeting followed. After the President had welcomed the 80 members, visitors and friends (Melton always attracts a large number!) he thanked the Melton District officers for the arrangements made. Six certificates of membership were presented.

The election of the following 37 members was confirmed:

Canon D. A. Adams (Market Harborough), P. Humphrey (Nottingham), M. Stayley (Burton Latimer), Rev. F. W. Brown (Peckleton), Christine Mason (Chilvers Coton), L. F. Cobb (Ringwood), P. N. Tubbs (Winchester), J. Hartless (Southampton), F. L. Harris (Lymington), R. Kiopin (Farnborough), R. Haines (Salisbury), M. J. Best (Winchester), Carol Urry (Rugby), Anne Fellows (Birmingham), D. The President reminded members that the annual dinner would be held on November 14th at the Shakespeare Hotel, Braunstone, that Mr. John Freeman (Vice-President of the Central Council) would be the chief speaker.

The winter quarterly meeting would be held in the Syston District on Feb. 13th at Birstall. Mr. Peter Staniforth was to be asked to show the 50-minute film he took while on his visit to Washington at the conclusion of this meeting.

The next item proved to be the most contentious. Mr. G. W. Mason proposed and Mr. S. Harrison seconded a motion that an annual striking competition be held on a Guild basis to improve the standard of Sunday service ringing. After much discussion the motion was eventually carried by 35 votes to 19.

The committee had appointed Mr. T. C. Bolton as press secretary to record items of news for insertion in the Diocesan Leaflet.

OUTING

SOUTH EAST WALES

More than 20 ringers from Cardigan, Pembroke, Tenby and St. Florence travelled to Brecon and Monmouth for the St. David's Diocesan Guild annual outing on October 3rd.

At the first tower, Devynock, the six bells were rung to Doubles, Kent and Cambridge Minor and rounds. Everyone enjoyed ringing on the beautifully-toned ring of eight at St. Mary's, Brecon. Grandsire, Plain Bob and Stedman were rung with a well-struck touch of Stedman Triples coming to grief just before entering rounds.

An excellent lunch preceded ringing on the eight bells at Llanfeigan. This pretty little church, which has recently been restored, is a considerable distance from the village and is apparently the Mecca of many peal ringers. Unfortunately the ringing here did not do justice to the tuneful bells.

A short run took us to another eight at Llangatock, where the long draught tended to upset many of the company—the striking left much to be desired.

The wonderfully mellowed bells of St. Mary's, Abergavenny, were voted as the ring of the day. After a bad start a plain course of Grandsire Caters came round, which pleased us considerably, only two of the ringers having rung on ten before. This was followed by Original on ten, and rounds.

The party now split up, half returning home whilst the others went on to Blaenavon to ring on the delightful eight. A. F. W.

St. Katherine's Society's Week in the Lake District

ON Saturday, September 5th, nine ringers crammed into a Morris 1000 and a clapped-out Humber Hawk, and converged at ten o'clock on the Priory Church at Pamber, near Basingstoke. After three-quarters of an hour's 'struggle' and a look over the bells and frame we were finally convinced that, as far as we were concerned, the ring of four with its 50 feet of unguided rope was unringable. Ah, well, not to worry! Next came a long drive to Leamington, where the eight at All Saints' were sampled, and then to Lichfield, where, joined by Anne Horsford in her Sprite, we rang for Evensong on the glorious ten at the Cathedral. These bells were by far the best of the tour. We then pressed on to Buxton, where some managed to eat Chinese before ringing at St. Peter's, Fairfield. The length of the ropes brought Tony to his knees but we managed to strike a course of Kent fairly well. Ah, well, not to worry!

ENTRANCED

On Sunday, after a drive over the Pennines, where we first experienced the type of roads we were to meet for the rest of the week ('Stone me, it must be 1 in 3!—No, 1 in 4 at the most'), some of us managed to reach Leeds in time to ring for morning service on the fine 12 bells at the Parish Church. Some also rang for service at St. Francis of Assisi's (R.C.) before moving on towards the lakes. En route, eight of us rang at Giggleswick (the name had entranced a certain young lady ringer in the party), whilst the other two moved on to munch pork pies by the side of the road, ultimately being the first to arrive in Keswick, which was to be our home for the week. The rest arrived just in time for a short ring at Crosthwaite before the service, which we attended, hearing a sermon given by the Bishop of Pontefract. After the service, at Mr. Brownrigg's suggestion, we rang the bells again, and the more energetic admired the view from the top of the tower.

On Monday the grabbing started in earnest. Before lunch we enjoyed the new 7 cwt. eight at Hawkhead, where we were joined by Tom Metcalfe, rang Alporton Alliance (what, four lots of fourths?) at Broughton-in-Furness, and went on to ring at Millom, during which time the Humber had managed to have an argument with a Triumph owner who owned the white line down the middle of the road. We returned to Broughton for lunch, and went on to ring an almost perfect touch of Single Oxford on the light six at Kirkby Ireleth, three leads of Original Royal and a course of Cambridge Major at Dalton, and a course of Double Norwich at Barrow, where the fourth sounded to be hung in the staircase turret (we don't know where the other bells were). After tea we rang at Ulverston and at Tom Metcalfe's home tower of Flookburgh with its fine 16 cwt. six.

GOOD AND BAD

On Tuesday we went east, first to the delightful Taylor four at Lazonby, where the ropes hang in a straight line along one wall, which made Erin and Kent more interesting. This was followed by several touches on the somewhat difficult bells at Great Salkeld. At Penrith we were told a story about Mr. A. Patrick Cannon and, despite the organiser failing to recognise her, were joined by Hilary Swallow, who had come up from Tonbridge by coach overnight. We proceeded to ring Superlative and Stedman on the fine ring of eight. After lunch we rang at Appleby, and then moved on to Kirkby Stephen, where three new ropes on a 60ft. draught defeated our efforts to strike the bells. Ah, well, not to worry! Orton bells, where the second had no stay, were sampled before tea, after which we rang at Kirkby Lonsdale.

On Wednesday morning we lost a peal of Cambridge at Arlecdon, but rang a quarter of Bob Triples instead, a 'first' for seven of the participants. Ah, good! Lunch followed at Whitehaven—fine church, but no bells. At Hensingham the third bell was a bit sticky due to an extra long stay, but we managed to ring Superlative. St. Bees' belfry proved to be the 'Black Hole,' but after a light switch had been found, a touch of Bob Major came round at hand (of course it's false). Ah, well, not to worry! Then to Egremont, where, after ringing, the magnificent tea laid on for us in the Church Hall was greatly appreciated. The evening was occupied by only one tower, Cleator Moor, where some good Double Norwich and an excellent bob course of Stedman were rung.

LANCASHIRE HOT-POT

On Thursday we went south into Lancashire, visiting Silverdale in the morning, where we rang Double Oxford (what, 65's at backstroke), and Morecambe after lunch, where more rope than bell was heard. At Lancaster came a heavy eight at St. Mary's, and an indifferent ten at St. Peter's Cathedral. After tea came Hornby, Mellington and Milnthorpe, ending up on our finest six at Heversham, where Cambridge, London and Spliced Minor were rung.

The next morning, Friday, we rang quite a good peal of Grandsire Triples at Keswick and, after lunch, worked our way up to Carlisle via Cockermouth, Workington, where the tenor weighs 12½ cwt., feels like 15 cwt. and sounds like a ton, and Aspatria. After some delay following tea we rang at Carlisle Cathedral, where we seemed unable to strike the bells, although a course of Cambridge was reasonable.

On Saturday we attempted a quarter at Kendal but, owing to the speed at which we rang, mistakes were bound to occur and, of course, did. During the afternoon we rang at Bowness-on-Windermere and Crosthwaite, and after tea we joined the local Association in ringing on the fine 32 cwt. eight at Ambleside. Then to Langdale, where the delightful light six produced the best-struck Cambridge, London and Oxford of the tour. Back at Keswick our thanks were voted to the organiser, Colin, and the whole party got on the sofa to have their picture taken (Ah, good), followed by bed.

TILL NEXT YEAR?

An early start was made on Sunday for the return journey. The Sprite chose the M6-M1 route and joined in ringing at Blackburn Cathedral, eventually arriving at London Bridge at 4.45 p.m. The Morris and the Humber, having chosen the A1 route, were warmly welcomed at Bradford Cathedral for morning ringing. The Morris finally arrived at London Bridge at 5.45, but the Humber was having a rather eventful journey. It having 'given up the ghost' near Biggleswade, the occupants decided to push it off the road, and succeeded in manoeuvring it masterfully into a ditch. Ah, well, not to worry! Not long after, due to the overzealousness of a passer-by, two police squad cars, a fire engine, a breakdown vehicle and an ambulance arrived on the scene. However, a few cheerful words soon put things to rights, and, 'having got the ghost back again,' the car was restarted, arriving at London Bridge at 8.20.

MR. ALBERT J. DUNK

There were many sad hearts in the Rochester District of the Kent County Association following the sudden death of Mr. Albert J. Dunk, of Stockbury. Only the previous Saturday he had attended the Rochester District's first dinner, which he had organised. The following Wednesday evening, after ringing practice at Stockbury Church, where he was captain, he presided as chairman over the Stockbury Parish Council meeting. During the evening he was taken ill but recovered sufficiently to start his homeward journey, but collapsed on the way. On Friday he was rushed to hospital and had an emergency operation, from which he did not recover, and died on Friday, October 9th. His wife was at his bedside during his last hours.

Albert J. Dunk, aged 55 years, was well known in the Kent County ringing circles as Bert, and to many young ringers as 'Uncle Albert.' He was born at Greenwich and moved to Stockbury as a young boy. Educated at Stockbury School, he had lived in the village for nearly 50 years.

Among his many village activities, he was chairman of the Stockbury Memorial Hall. A good churchman, he had served on the Church Council and also as a sidesman and churchwarden. For seven years he represented the Rochester District on the Kent County Association and he will be missed by all who knew him.

The cremation service took place at Vintler's Park, Maidstone, on October 13th, which was conducted by the Rev. Stanley Evans. There were many ringers and friends present, and villagers from Stockbury. Much love and sympathy go out from us all to his devoted wife, Dorothy.

The bells at Stockbury, Newington and Rainham were rung half-muffled at a tribute. F.C.

OBITUARY*MR. E. M. ATKINS*AN APPRECIATION

'A Flat' writes:—

'I first met "E. M. A." on December 28th, 1911, when he rang our tenor to a peal of Minor in seven methods. Between then and 1919 we saw a good deal of him in the Leicester District as his uncle or grandfather was Vicar of St. Nicholas', Leicester, and chaplain at Wyggeston Hospital. Whenever he called at St. John's a good practice night ensued. I rang five peals with him during that period and was in several other attempts.

'One at Stoney Stanton was quite a comedy. There was "W.W." and one of his daughters, myself and brother, Maurice and three Cambridge pals. We went for Double Norwich Court Bob Major. When we had rung a plain course to a good beat, "W.W." wanted to know what was the game. W. D. James said he thought Maurice was calling it. We restarted and rang for well over an hour when someone called "Stand! I have missed a bob."

'Maurice was an enthusiast and did not mind toiling. Although I don't recall having seen him since 1919, I have followed his career. "All the better for knowing him" is my verdict.'

YATTON, SOMERSET.—On Oct. 8th, 1,260 Grand-sire Triples: Mrs. C. Porter 1. P. Gifford-England 2. G. Pullin 3. S. G. Smith 4. F. Sandy 5. E. A. Price 6. H. A. Price (cond.) 7. J. K. Baker 8. Rung half-muffled in memoriam Ray Lewis, vicar's warden.

WORTHING, SUSSEX.—On Oct. 4th, 1,260 Siedman Triples: E. Jane Sibson 1. H. Weaver 2. J. R. Wilson 3. R. P. Wood 4. Derek Sibson (cond.) 5. H. Butler 6. L. Stilwell 7. R. Cox 8. With best wishes to R. Wood, sen., on his 80th birthday.

MR. J. W. UNWIN

We regret to record the death at the age of 81 of Mr. John W. Unwin, of Canterbury, which occurred yesterday in a Canterbury hospital. Born at Chesterford, near Cambridge, he spent all his working life in the Post Office, with periods of service at Penshurst, Tenterden, Towcester and finally at Canterbury, retiring in 1946. He was awarded the Imperial Service Medal after 40 years' service. It was at Penshurst that he met his future wife, who was a daughter of the late Mr. W. E. Spice. They celebrated their golden wedding in 1959.

Mr. Unwin was a member of the Cathedral company, being elected in 1922, was made treasurer in 1944 and captain in 1946; he held both offices at the time of his death. It was in his own parish of St. Stephen's, however, that most of his work for the church was done. He was a member of the choir and church council and during his retirement spent many hours doing both manual and clerical work. He revived the ringing band there. A member of the Kent County Association for many years, he had served as a representative of the Canterbury District.

Post Office representatives, ringers and friends filled St. Stephen's Church for the choral service, which was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. R. C. Desch), the lesson being read by the Archdeacon of Canterbury (the Ven. A. Sargent) and the Blessing pronounced by Bishop Rose. Following the service quarter peals were rung at both the Cathedral and St. Stephen's.

He will be sadly missed by his ringing friends and his church. To the many messages of sympathy already received many will be added by those who knew him. B.J.L.

The peal rung at West Stow, Bury St. Edmunds, on September 5th was for the passing of Mr. F. W. Rickwood, and not as stated.

The bells of St. Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne, were rededicated on October 4th and a contingent of Sydney ringers were present. Miss M. Collins, from Adelaide, who visited Melbourne a week later writes: 'They go like tops and sounded delightful on TV the other night. The circle is now almost perfect and smaller. The ringing chamber has been painted and the whole looks very clean, fresh and spacious.'

Sheffield University Guild have rung their first quarter of Triples.

It was Pat Bird and not Tudor Edwards who purchased the hunting horn to rally members of Bristol University on tour.

The peal at Leigh, Surrey, on October 17th, is claimed to be the first on the bells for 34 years.

The place notation of Sedgley Surprise Major, No. 21, appears at the foot of page 704. We are asked to state that this was a composition by Mr. C. J. Sedgley.

Ted Rochester's ringers during their week-end in Bath and the West explored the Hot Baths, Royal Crescent and Lansdowne Road. 'Naturally, mist shrouded all the views,' adds our entertaining correspondent.

The quarter peal at Saxilby on October 10th, was rung by the bride and bridegroom, two of the bridesmaids, the best man and the bride's father. All are members of the Sunday service band.

Mrs. F. E. Collins, who came to listen to the peal attempt at Painswick of Stedman Cinques, kindly stood in when the band turned up one short. In some respects the Painswick Youths scored a lucky peal as the clapper of the tenor fell out as the bells were being lowered.

We feel that Mr. J. A. D. Woolford, who rang the 59 cwt. tenor at York Minster and conducted the peal of Bob Maximus on October 3rd, deserves to rank among the tenor kings of the country. It was a fine performance. A friend informs us that Mr. Woolford was the first to turn in Liverpool Cathedral tenor to a touch. His ringing career will be watched with interest.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The fine performance of Mr. A. Lawton in ringing in a peal at Broughton, Staffs, where he is tower captain (see page 696), was actually a double occasion. The peal also honoured the golden wedding of his friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. Fortnam, of the Rudge Farm, Ashley.

In regard to the Ancient Society of College Youths' peal at East Coker, Somerset, on October 17th, it was the first time that any of the band had rung the full extent (5,600) of Middleton's composition of Cambridge Surprise Major.

Back in ringing and back in the headlines is Mr. James Bennett, of Grundisburgh. He not only rang a quarter peal, but called it. Jim wants one more peal for 1,300 and is going to have a jolly good try to get it. We wish him luck for his good old English pluck.

The peal of Grandsire Cinques at Buckfast Abbey on October 10th is only the second 12-bell peal by residents of the Guild, the first one being at Exeter Cathedral on January 9th, 1926, which was composed and conducted by the Rev. E. S. Powell, who was at the time Vicar of Holbeton, near Plymouth. The conductor (Mr. F. E. Day) wishes the name of Mr. T. G. Myers, Captain of St. Andrew's, Plymouth, to be associated with this peal because without his help, guidance and enthusiasm, the peal would not have been attempted. It is interesting to note that the peal was composed by 'Knights' and conducted by 'Day.'

As we go to press we learn with regret of the passing of a veteran ringer, Mr. W. H. Clarke, of Leicester, who succeeded Mr. Wm. Willson as Master and steeplekeeper of St. John the Divine's Church in 1936. At 86 years, he found it impossible to climb to the ringing chamber. Another notification of death concerns Mr. Sidney Alfred Paice, who died on October 11th, aged 78. A native of Horsham, he was secretary of the Horsham Society for many years and hon. treasurer at the time of his decease. Obituary notices will appear next week.
