DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION Quarterly Meeting at Clowne

ON a rather cold but fine October 10th, the Association's autumn quarterly meeting at Clowne was very well attended with almost 60 present from over 20 towers and visitors from as far away as Birmingham and Leicester.

During the afternoon ringing took place at Balborough and Clowne—both 6-bell towers—after which the Rector of Clowne (the Rev. W. S. Willcox) conducted a shortened form of Evensong. In his opening remarks as chairman of the business meeting, which followed an excellent tea, the Rector told the company he felt rather like the bridegroom who, with one hand on his wife's shoulder, rose to make a speech at his reception with the words: 'Ladies and gentlemen, this has been forced upon me...' He thanked the Association for the grant towards repairs to Clowne belfry.

The financial position showed an excess of expenditure over income of £34, which was almost entirely due to the unusually large number of unpaid subscriptions. The treasurer warned members that there was very little margin for error and so urged them once again to remember their voluntary donations when paying subscriptions.

In contrast the Bell Repair Fund was in a healthy position with a balance of £230 and only 2 out of 73 P.C.C.s having failed to pay their affiliation fees for 1964. Following the committee's recommendation Mr. J. Moreton was elected an architectural adviser to the Bell Repair Consultants as obviously the services of a qualified architect, who is also a ringer, will be a great help in that direction. Reporting on the work of the consultants, Mr. G. Halls, the secretary, said they were advising Charlesworth (a one-bell tower) on the installation of a light ring of six.

Following the election of Messrs. R. Smart (Sandiacre), W. Barwell (Sawley) and H. Money (Clowne) the proposed new Association badge—in the form of a bell and headstock—was accepted. The collection for the Bell Repair Fund amounted to £2 15s. and advance notice was given that next year's annual dinner was to be at the Odeon, Chesterfield, on February 20th. Further ringing was enjoyed at Creswell (8) as well as Clowne. Next meeting (Chesterfield District): Old Whittington (6), Nov. 14th. M.P.P.

Wilton, Salisbury, Ringers' Outing

An 8 a.m. start was made by Wilton ringers for their outing into Somerset on October 10th. By coffee time they were at Pilton, but there was ringing on this pleasant six before indulging arrangements having been made by our efficient organiser, Raymond Haynes.

Deeper into Somerset, to ring at Dinder, before lunch at Wells and then through the Chew Lake Valley to Burrington. As we arrived at Bath we heard the Abbey bells in full ten and hope to see the peal published. The evening towers were Kcevil and Steeple Ashton.

Our sincere thanks to incumbents and those who met us. J. A.

LIVERPOOL UNIVERSITY SOCIETY IN OXFORD

THE Society's annual tour, held between September 19th and 24th, was based on Oxford. A regretted absentee was the Master as the tour proved to be as successful as its two predecessors. On Friday evening we were welcomed at the practice at Old Marston.

The tour began on Saturday morning, with a touch of Cambridge at Cumnor (6), followed by a rather better one of London. In Appleton's incredibly small tower for the ring of ten, we rang some quite acceptable Plain Bob Royal and Grandsire Caters. At the next tower, Abingdon, we wished our band was at full strength to do justice to this fine ring of ten; we only managed Grandsire and Stedman Caters.

The Rev. and Mrs. Dixon kindly entertained us to lunch at the Vicarage, a gesture very much appreciated. In the afternoon we rang Spliced Cambridge and London at Milton, but a good rhythm defied us at Harwell. During our hour at Wantage, we decided that the bells went better to Triples than Major; some good Stedman was rung.

FULL SUNDAY

On Sunday we were privileged to join the ringers at Christ Church Cathedral to ring for morning service; afterwards members went to St. Aldate's, St. Giles' and All Saints'. In the afternoon we joined the practice at Radley, where Miss Cross made us very welcome. For Evensong we joined the band at High Wycombe on their excellent twelve.

Monday's ringing started at Wheatley, a recently rehung six. We experienced considerable difficulty here, as the clock case is in the centre of the circle and interferes with a rope-sight. At Great Milton we were met by Mr. Allen, who congratulated us on taking such a good band into the countryside. Although it must be admitted that a course of Bristol and a half course of Yorkshire went well on these excellent bells, we felt that we did not deserve such high praise. Little Milton followed and consternation was caused at 'The Lamb' by an order for twenty-eight rounds of sandwiches. Due to a tremendous piece of foresight on someone's part the order had been placed before we started ringing and so all was ready by the time we finished. After lunch we visited Brightwell Baldwin, Ewelme, Benson and Dorchester Abbey.

SHAKESPEARE AND BELLS

The cultural needs of the party were satisfied on Tuesday by a visit to the Royal Shakespeare Theatre, Stratford, to see Henry IV, Part 2. Our route allowed time for ringing eights at Woodstock and Chipping Norton and the six at Whichford. Lunch was taken at Brilles, and we were met at the church to be told that the tenor clapper had broken the previous Sunday. A great disappointment; but due to the hard work of the tower captain the other damage had been repaired and we were able to ring the front five. Thence to Stratford, where we had been fortunate enough to be given permission to ring on the excellent ten.

Wednesday began with two fives, Stanton St. John and Beckley. The eight at Thame were to our liking, but were not quite what we expected from such an imposing exterior. After lunch, another cack-handed eight, this time at Long Crendon. Although courses of Yorkshire and Bristol came round; we did not ring as well as we would have liked to have done. Wotton Underwood bells were a pleasant find, right out in the country. With our morale restored we went on to Piddington, but found the tenor badly cracked in the crown and the third slightly so. The day ended at Brill.

CONCLUDED WITH A PEAL

Three enjoyable rings on Thursday morning finished the tour. At Eynsham we were impressed by the striking competition certificates on the wall of the belfry. We hope our performance was up to standard. St. Mary's, Witney, bells are very fine and it was a great pity that we were now reduced in numbers again. However, a course of Yorkshire was rung, and we were a little late at North Leigh. In the afternoon we rang a peal of Plain Bob Major at Kirtlington.

We include in our thanks everyone who met us at the towers and added that little bit more interest to a very successful week. R. J. S.

SPOTS BEFORE THE EYES

MRS. HOOKWAY'S sitting room looked a very pleasant place in which to spend the afternoon: the lounge suite was comfortable, and there was an electric fire to warm our toes on a nippy autumn day; more important to us, the window looked right across to the tower of St. Giles-in-the-Wood Church about 100 yards away, and a short trial peal showed us that we could hear every blow loud and clear, so long as that youth with the new Honda didn't spend the whole afternoon riding it up and down the village street. So Mr. Drake and I got out our notebooks and ruled them neatly, sharpened our pencils and our cars, and settled down to our job.

There are only two of us judging this Torridge Vale Guild festival, because Mr. Jack Harris hasn't been able to make it, and I feel the weight of my responsibility lying rather heavily on my novice shoulders, for my notebook only records one previous experience of judging a competition, and then I was one of four. What's more, I'm here this afternoon in place of no less a man than the late Tommy Darch, and I only hope that his spirit will aid me: his instruction certainly will.

Mr. Drake, I'm glad to see, has a fat notebook well stored with judging records, and I find that he is one of the North Tawton band, who gave ringers all over England such a thrill with their superb striking in the Christmas broadcast in 1950. We have nine teams to judge, five from the Guild itself, and four for the open class; I've already seen some of the Down St. Mary and West Down ringers, and High Bickington are here under the redoubtable Herbert Pidler—me judging him; that's a bit daunting.

A tinkle of the treble—here we go, eyes down and wait for the pitch. There it comes, and we start marking, a dot for the first round, another for the second, each one a quarter-fault, and then as the tenor gets under a full fault every round for no fewer than fourteen: this is a pretty rough rise, and by the time the bells are up there are already 26 faults marked. They settle into reasonable rounds, but when the changes begin they are losing marks all the time, with three or four bad rounds after almost every change, and once a real jiffil (very rare in call change ringing) with two bells clashing for a couple of rounds. Here's the lower beginning now, unsteady all the way; we total up and strike the average, and find the score 92½. Not very bright, that one, but everybody has to learn somehow.

Tinkle again, wait for it, and we're off again, starting with several full marks for a rather ragged pitch. However, this one is better than the last once the bells are double-tonguing, and although the top ringing is a trifle stiff at 32 a minute the changes are very clean and a very fair lower gets them down with a score of 57½. Mr. Drake opens a bottle of brown ale for each of us, and then our pencils are at it again.

This is the best pitch so far, but the rise loses marks when the treble man lets out too little rope and his handstroke blow comes in under the tenor's backstroke for several rounds. Still, it's the best rise to date for all that, and we hope for some really good ringing. In this we're disappointed; although these chaps know what they're doing, they give themselves too little time to settle down: no sooner are they up than they're called into 'thirds' and into the changes, and as a result all the top ringing is choppy than it might have been. They regain a little ground with a very good lower on which they only lose six marks by my reckoning, and make their total 86½.

Peal number four goes off very well, though the 3 and 4 get over for a few blows in the rise. Once up, the treble gets penalised until he gets his bell clear of the tenor, and the top ringing is fair, though these people seem to have difficulty in settling down after each change, even when the change itself has been made cleanly. Some marks are going down all the way along, but it's still the best ringing yet and even when the lower had been marred by the treble's getting under for three blows near the end, and one more mark lost with a 'chitter' after the rest had stopped, their score is no more than 47.

One more peal before tea, and it's the best of the five. This lot pitch the bells as clean as a whistle, and the rise is only marred by a couple of rounds with the treble just under the tenor. Their rounds and opening changes are rung at a pitch a trifle too low—lower, anyway, than this band can be certain of striking them. But later they stiffen up and the striking improves, and we give them 40½.

Mrs. Hookway meanwhile has been busy, and as soon as we've checked that tally she comes in with a two-tiered trolley completely covered with food. Three kinds of sandwiches, splits and cream, buttered splits, and four plates of assorted cakes—there's enough here for a couple of six-bell bands, let alone two judges, and all of it as delicious as a Devon housewife can make it. Mr. Drake and I make what impression we can on this spread, and by the time we're sitting back hoping that after it we can keep awake for another four peals, the treble rings her warning and the first of the four it about to start.

As soon as they pitch the first round, we know that these ringers are experts. The bells go up swift and clean, and there's no feeling about for the pitch of the bells, going up a little bit too high and then coming down to the right pace, as most bands do: these chaps just put the bells straight up into the right slot and off they go, a shade over 34 rounds a minute and the changes so crisp and clean that they might have been cut with a razor blade. By the time the top ringing is finished, this band's row of dots is only just over half-way across my page, and even the most critical judging can find occasion for only eleven more in a lovely, smooth, slow lower, the bells singing their way down in glorious harmony with the tap-notes running in and out through the hum, swift and light like elves' dancing. This is call change ringing at its very best, a pleasure to judge, sweet to the ear and light on the pencil.

By contrast the next peal is a disastrous one; it loses more on the rise alone than the last one's total of 15½, and this treble man makes the same mistakes as an earlier one of going into changes before the rounds had settled down. Commenting on this peal, Mr. Drake and I afterwards remark on two facts: first, that even with 103 faults peals like this get away lightly, for although they may incur two quarter-faults every round the four unmarked bells in that round are often striking unevenly enough to be marked in a peal as good as the previous one: second, that whereas one of the most important bells in a rise is the 2nd, which has the task of setting the interval for the rest to follow, in changes a very great deal of this responsibility seems to develop upon the bell in 5th's place; in this peal the striking was noticeably sloppy in 5th's, and as a result the rhythm suffered severely. I myself have noticed this in method ringing—that bad striking on the back can destroy the striking quite as badly as unsteadiness at lead.

The last two peals are both very good; No. 8 has an excellent rise and an even better lower: the top-ringing is good too, but here again marks might have been saved if the rounds had been allowed to settle before the changes were begun. Nineteen faults here, though, and the second best of the day. No. 9 has an even better rise; by my marking it was the best of the lot—a nice clean pitch, 'smacked in tight': the treble's handstroke coming in after the tenor to perfection on about the third round, and all the bells double-tonguing within seven or eight, and then the real delight of a good rise, with the bells swiftly 'spreading out.' at Tom Darch used to say, 'like a flock of birds.' In contrast to

GUILDFORD CATHEDRAL'S RING OF TEN ORDERED

AN order has been placed with Messrs. Mears and Stainbank for a ring of 10 bells for Guildford Cathedral. The Bishop (Dr. George Reindorp) has asked for the bells to be installed for dedication on May 17th, 1965, the fourth anniversary of the consecration of the Cathedral. At the same time it is hoped to dedicate the Chapter House, the South Garth and the new organ case.

The announcement has come as a pleasurable surprise to the Guildford Diocesan Guild. It is made possible by a thank-offering gift of £5,000 by Brigadier and Mrs. Derek Schreiber, of Bellasis, Dorking, for their daughter Susie's miraculous escape in a motor car accident last September. Other donors have recently contributed four bells and there are two other memorial bells in the Cathedral—the Alfred H. Pulling and Margaret Cleeve bells.

In addition each of the four districts of the Guildford Guild is striving to provide a bell. This was at the behest of Bishop Reindorp who two years ago asked the Guild to accept responsibility for providing the complete ring. This they considered was beyond their compass and their activities were accordingly limited to the present targets. Between them the four Districts have contributed £750.

The happy announcement of being in a position to place an order was made personally by the Bishop to the Master of the Guild (Mr. D. A. R. May) and also to his immediate predecessor, Mr. C. W. Denyer. Discussions had previously taken place with Messrs. Mears and Stainbank by the architect, Sir Edward Maufe, as to the weight of the bells. It has finally been decided to have a 304 cwt. tenor, which is in accordance with the wishes of the Guild.

When the bells are installed it is hoped to move the Guild library to the Cathedral. This is to be named after Mr. A. C. Hazelden, the founder and first librarian.

'BERKSHIRE BELLS' COMPLETED AFTER 25 YEARS

WITH the publication this month of the 18th part of 'The Church Bells of Berkshire,' Mr. Frederick Sharpe completes a 25 years' task. This was not intentional. The original idea in 1939 was to complete the work in four parts. Even after the war the publishers, the Berkshire Archaeological Society, could only manage to produce one small part a year. It is a pity as Berkshire is an interesting county with many examples of the work of the great mediæval foundry at Wokingham and the later Reading foundry—to say nothing of such treasures as the inscribed 13th at Enborne, Sonning, Cholsey and Challow. Also the great achievements of the White family at Appleton.

The final part is of particular importance as it deals with the bells of Windsor Castle. Of the seven illustrations relating to the Castle's bells the most interesting are those concerning the Russian bell in the Round Tower, which was brought from Sebastopol, as a war trophy in 1855. It weighs 17 cwt. 1 qr. 21 lb. and is tolled at the funeral and deaths of British sovereigns.

This bell, which was cast in Moscow, circa 1750, has moulded canons and is richly ornamented with figures of the Madonna and Child and symbols the Holy Ghost. The original clapper is retained and is curiously positioned out of centre.

Most of the rings described—the volume deals with the 'W's' of Berkshire—have treasures to delight the antiquary. Wokingham (All Saints) still retains two originals from Samuel Knight's foundry at Wokingham 1703-1704, while at Little Wittenham there are two by Henry Knight I of Reading 1620, another by Ellis and Henry Knight III 1676 and the tenor by Joseph Carter 1607. Older still is the third at Winkfield (1591 by J. Carter), but a small bell in St. Peter's, Woolhampton, was cast at the Wokingham foundry circa 1360.

Many of the pictures in this well-illustrated volume are by the author. The price of the part is 2s 6d., post free but copies are only reserved for those who have previous parts.

Scene: Southwell Minster, Ringing Chamber. Date—Time: 24 October, 1964. Saturday evening, 6.45 p.m. Cast: 8 ringers, approaching half-way stage peal of Stedman Triples.

Enter from corner behind ringers of 3 and 4, one verger complete with overcoat, looks round, listens with critical ear, takes note of ringers, five minutes later disappears.

Noises heard from room above: clock stops.

Few moments later, verger re-appears, stands looking round for a short time. Removes overcoat, collects a chair and sits down, again listens to ringing espys 'Ringing World,' stands up, collects 'Ringing World,' sits down again, and proceeds to read.

Pages turn at regular intervals, glances at watch.

50 minutes later, puts down 'Ringing World' stands up, replaces chair, puts on overcoat, disappears.

Further noises from above, clock starts.

Anxious faces, what next! No further sign of verger, assume gone home, 'miserable fellow, did not even say good night.'

Same place 8.30 p.m. peal complete. Moral—Always take 'The Ringing World,' leave it lying round, the verger may like to read it when putting the clock back.

EXTENT MAJOR RINGER MARRIED

ON Saturday, October 3rd, the wedding took place of Mr. John M. Jelley and Miss Monica Moore at St. Mark's Church, Wood Green, London. Monica is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Moore, of West Beech Road, Wood Green, and John the only son of Mrs. F. M. Jelley, of Wigston, Leicester, and the late Mr. Ernest Jelley.

The bride's father gave her away and her bridal gown was of white embossed satin cut in the princess style with a train and headdress trimmed with guipure lace. She had a full-length veil and carried orchids, freesia and cyclamen. Monica was attended by her sister Margaret as bridesmaid. The best man was Mr. Peter J. Staniforth, of Leicester.

A large congregation gathered at the church in beautiful autumn sunshine to witness the ceremony which was conducted by the Rev. Fr. Suter. In the congregation were many of Monica's friends and relations: some had travelled great distances to be present. John was ably supported by a large Leicester contingent who travelled down with him on the Saturday morning—a group of them joined with some of Monica's friends and rang a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at 'All Hallows', Tottenham.

After the ceremony the reception was held at the Alexandra Palace and then they travelled to St. Pancras (where a good 'send off' was given) to board a train for an unknown destination. Actually, celebrations started early for John as his car was beautifully and most appropriately decorated by office colleagues on the Thursday prior to the wedding but he was a little more successful in concealing the identity of the hotel where they were to spend their honeymoon.

If the 'send off' was good the welcome home was even better for they were greeted by a very cleverly decorated house said to have been the work of an Austin owner and his name also suggests that he is a member of the B.M.C. group. Captions adorned windows, directions to tradesmen were displayed on large cards and old boots and streamers completed the decoration.

John and Monica are now residing in Coshy, Leics, and the loss to Christ Church, Southgate, band, where Monica was captain, will be the gain of Leicester Cathedral, where she will join her husband. May we offer them our sincere congratulations and many years of 'spliced' happiness.

REDEDICATION OF MELBOURNE CATHEDRAL BELLS

ON October 4th a large congregation, including many visiting ringers, was present when the Dean of Melbourne, the Very Rev. T. W. Thomas, rededicated the bells of St. Paul's Cathedral. After an absence of a year, during which they were in England being re-tuned and refitted they have now been re-hung in a new steel frame and are ringing once more.

The occasion of the rededication was given wide publicity by the press, radio and TV and this attracted Peter Swan (Bristol), Ron Johnson (Manchester) and Robin Turner (Durham and Newcastle), who turned up to try the 'new' bells. In addition there were 17 ringers from Sydney, one each from Adelaide, Bendigo and Canberra and 7 from Ballarat, making a total of 59 including those from the two Melbourne towers. During the afternoon it was proved that the bells were capable of ringing everything from rounds of Superlative and Lincolnshire Surprise Major.

The rededication of the bells marked the first completed work in the extensive restoration of the Cathedral now in progress, and the opening of the second phase of the restoration appeal.

JOINT MEETING AT HILLINGDON

THE joint meeting of the Ladies' Guild, the Oxford Guild and the Middlesex Association at Hillingdon on October 17th attracted about 70 ringers and friends. This year's highlight was a talk by Mr. Frank C. Price on the recent trip to Washington. He illustrated his most interesting talk with many first class colour transparencies, and, through the courtesy of Douglas Hughes and the help of Bill Coles, a tape recording of some of these fine bells was heard. It was remarkable to hear the spontaneous cheers and applause from the large crowd around the Cathedral when the bells came into rounds.

The ringers' service was conducted by the Vicar, Rev. F. C. Tyler, and the choir and organist led the singing. Mrs. Sexton and Mrs. Goodfellow and their noble assistants prepared and served a sumptuous tea and supper and thoroughly deserved the compliments accorded to them.

The ringing practice at Hillingdon and Iver had its ups and downs but amongst some of the good striking was an excellent course of London Royal.

Some old friends were absent and among the apologies received were those from Mrs. T. J. Lock, Mrs. Savory, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Collins and Mr. and Mrs. S. Honor, two honorary members who have not missed a 'Hillingdon Joint' since the war. So here's to next time.

Oh, yes, the time-honoured annual cricket match during the evening (not under M.C.C. rules!) was again won by the Oxford Guild and 'the cup' was handed to David Hilling.

MIDDLESEX ASSOCIATION MEET IN THE CITY OF LONDON

The North and East district visited the Metropolis on October 10th and ringing took place at two City churches.

In the afternoon the pleasant six at St. Vedast, one of two churches in England bearing this dedication to a French bishop, attracted quite a few ringers. Evening ringing was at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate.

A short business meeting was held in the ringing chamber of the latter tower at which confirmation of the provisional election of the following as non-resident life members was made: Russell S. Morris, A. James Poyner, and Herrick B. Bowley, of Leicester; Robert B. Smith, Marple, and Dan S. Pont, of Woodhouse Eaves.

The incumbents and Mrs. E. E. Davis were thanked for their help and co-operation.

EXPLORING SOMERSET WITH RAVING RINGERS

THE EIGHTH annual tour of the Society of Raving Ringers was held in Somerset. Some 14 Ravers assembled on July 25th at Sherborne where one of the Hertfordshire ringers, who wishes to remain anonymous, lost his trousers while ringing the tenor for a wedding. Meanwhile in a quiet lay-by near Aylesbury four other Ravers were cursing a mini-bus, fully loaded with camping equipment, which had broken down.

The camp was at Staple Fitzpaine five miles south of Taunton. Service ringing was at St. Mary's, Taunton, on Sunday. In a lay-by near Burford was the ill-fated mini-bus and whilst the bulk of the Ravers had rung in two towers, Chris Clarke had 'rung' in two new A.A. boxes. It was not until 5.40 p.m.—the main party spending the day at Wells, Wookey and Cheddar Gorge—that the stranded four having transferred equipment to a grocers' van, joined the rest outside Chewton Mendip Church. Ringing here ended with a short touch of Bristol and most agreed that the bells were everything they are said to be. Tents were unloaded on the camp site and the four latecomers left for Taunton for a meal of chicken and chips and a noggin of ale.

EXCITEMENT

Ringling on Monday was towards and on Exmoor and it was not without elements of excitement. For example, at Bishop's Lydeard the wooden frame was thought to wander about the tower whilst ringing was taking place (and Yorkshire too!) and at Luxborough whilst rigging spliced Grandsire and Stedman Doubles a carpet sweeper became entangled in Ted Venn's rope and after sailing up in the air finally clobbered Ken Darvill on the back of the neck. After an excellent six at Carhampton came an hour on the glorious ten at Minehead, ringing ending with Stedman Caters and a half course of Cambridge Royal. The evening ringing was at Dunster (rather tricky) and Monksilver.

The difficult six at Pitminster were first on Tuesday's programme. The belfry at Nynhead was in a disgusting state. The trapdoor to the bell chamber had been left open so birds had invaded the belfry. A ladder had been placed across the headstocks of the fifth and tenor and prevented them from being rung. When the debris had been removed from the belfry, the bells were raised in peal and after several courses of original Minor quickly lowered in Somerset style. A comment heard afterwards was 'Ah! t'were a good peal, Ted.'

Before lunch a course of Bristol was rung at Wellington, and afterwards the Devon border was crossed to ring at Uffculme, thought by some to be up to Chewton Mendip standard, ringing including Erin Triples and Yorkshire. Following a picnic tea came Howard Oglesby's 'Golden Egg'—Rockwell Green was his 1,000th tower. On this very good six ringing was mostly Surprise Minor. West Buckland and Churchstanton completed the day's programme.

'RASCALLY RINGERS'

There were fears of a 'washout' when the rain came down on Wednesday, but we reached West Monkton where the fifth manages to slip wheel frequently. The village stocks are in the churchyard and here we placed our 'rascally ringers'—Ted Venn, Howard Oglesby and Chris Clarke. Removing their shoes we were able to tickle their feet! The majestic eight at Bridgwater followed.

The well-loved method of Hitcham Delight Minor was rung at Berrow at the request of the South Bucks contingent. At Burnham-on-Sea the annual dip of the Society (or baths as the case may be) had to be cancelled because the tide had gone out. Instead at pass-ball Jim

THE RAVERS OUTSIDE CREWKERNE PARISH CHURCH:

Linnell's team beat Chris Clark's 'Clobbers.' Evening ringing was at Burnham and North Petherton.

Dorset was visited on Thursday after Chard's awkward bells and lunch. Thorncombe was at one time the heaviest ring in the county but thanks to local enthusiasm the bells have been augmented to eight. They go extremely well, but unfortunately are odd struck. The official tour photograph was taken by Nigel Maggs at Crewkerne—a fine eight.

After tea came Hinton St. George, Kingstone and Ilminster. At Kingstone the ropes come down in the middle of the church and here Rev. B. J. Davies gave us an address.

MET ROVERS

Friday was rather a slack day with only six towers. At Street we discovered that the Roving Ringers had been there previously and Glastonbury we saw several of them leaving St. Benedict's. In this tower we held our first striking contest. Jim Linnell acted as judge and we put three teams into ring. Six members of the 'premier Guild,' all residents of Oxfordshire, won easily, with Hertfordshire second and Berks and Bucks (combined) third. St. Cuthbert's, Wells, were found rather heavy going. Our final tower that day was Ashcott and as we arrived the bells were being rung by the local band to Grandsire Doubles.

Saturday was the busiest day of the tour with nine towers visited. At Fivehead Howard Oglesby attempted to call spliced Hitcham, Oxford and Kent and some 20 minutes later successfully brought it into rounds. A miscall was suspected and argument arose as to whether to ring it for the Bath and Wells Association or the Society.

Lunch was at Ilminster and later in the day came another striking competition at Ash-in-Martock with Ted Venn as judge. The test was a course of Kent Minor. Herts just pipped the premier county (Oxfordshire) with Berks and Bucks third. As the Oxfordshire contingent came second and not first bribery was immediately suspected.

FINEST SIX

At Long Sutton we were informed that a local ringer had died recently and that the bells were half-muffled. The incumbent, the Rev. C. J. B. Marshall, and Mr. Paul Field met us and they took part in the ringing which included St. Clement's Minor. We were extremely impressed with the bells and some of us rated them as one of the finest sixes.

On arrival at camp, we immediately changed and went to a ringers' social at Staple Fitzpaine Village Hall in aid of a ringers' outing. The Ravers truly helped the party to go with a swing and social events included handbell ringing and dancing.

Snores from Bob Reeves' ten proved to be a useful alarm clock and enabled seven of us to get up at 7 a.m. on Sunday to ring for 8 a.m. Communion at Staple Fitzpaine. A missing key restricted the ringing to 10 minutes on this delightful five. Morning service ringing was on the eight octave at Wilton and in the afternoon at Norton-sub-Hamdon and Montacute. The final tower of the tour was Yeovil Parish Church (a glorious ten). Here ringing was mainly restricted to Grandsire and Stedman Caters, although Little Bob Royal was rung. Over dinner at Taunton we discussed next year's tour and reunion. August Bank Holiday came round all too soon and so ended another Ravers' tour.

We thank all incumbents and tower captains and from our own ranks Chris Clarke, Howard Oglesby, Frances Proctor and all who helped in the organisation. Next year we hope to visit Lancashire and West Yorkshire.—M.W.C.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Kings Norton-by-Gaulby, Leics.

Dear Sir.—The publication of the peal of Cambridge Surprise Major at this church on October 3rd, and the 'note' in Belfry Gossip, recalls personal memories of this Church and its bells before my 'emigration' from Leicester over 30 years ago. I well remember ringing a peal of Grandsire Triples on November 2nd, 1929, arranged by the late Ernest Morris, who also invited me to conduct the peal, but after only the first few leads I let Ernest know that I should have quite enough to do to ring the 7th without also conducting. He therefore took over the calling and we rang Parker's 12-part in 3 hrs. 16 mins. The band was Ronald Russell 1, Ernest Morris (cond.) 2, J. Geoffrey Geary 3, Josiah Morris 4, William H. Clarke 5, Ernest H. Bagworth 6, A. Norman Geary tenor. At about that time the Sherwood Youths rang a peal of Grandsire Triples, conducted by the late Albert Coppock, on these bells, but I cannot remember whether their peal was before ours in 1929 or after.

I am quite sure that it was solely due to the work of the Geary brothers from Billesdon in repairing wheels, etc., that the bells were then ringable. The Sherwood Youths peal was rung in commemoration of a visit Squire William Doubleday Crofts and his band had made for a peal there a long time before (I think the first on the bells).

My recollection is also of the bells being hung with the three trebles in a separate frame from the back five, and hung at least 10 or 12 feet above them.

The local legend too was that these bells were originally a ten, and it was found that they were too much for the tower, so the two trebles were taken out and used as two of the six bells at the adjoining village of Gaulby (which incidentally have not been rung for the past 50 years, and I believe was one of the few towers in the county that Ernest Morris did not ring a peal at. Church Langton (8) was another).

The peal band of October 3rd last are to be congratulated on ringing their peal of Cambridge Major on these bells, and although it was not claimed to be the first of Major on them I believe it was so.

One more point. Staunton Harold bells (8) were about the same weight and age I believe, but compared with Norton-by-Gaulby's, Staunton Harold's were quite poor in tone. Does anyone know if Staunton Harold bells are still there and ringable?—Yours, etc.,

Wimbledon. NORMAN S. BAGWORTH.

A Farce?

Dear Sir.—It now appears certain that the Methods Committee have no objection to a Major method being given the same name as a Minor method if it is specifically stated that the one is not the extension of the other. This seems a ridiculous state of affairs.

I therefore state categorically that Burslem Delight Minor has no legal extension, and presume that 'To Be Named' Delight Major may now appear in official records as 'Burslem Delight Major.' Whether the law on extension is right is another matter. My argument throughout this wrangle has been directed at the rules, not at the Committee's interpretation of them.—Yours faithfully,

Retford. H. POYNER.

Spur Stays

Dear Sir.—Readers may be interested to note that All Saints', Wandsworth, bells have the spur stays and vertical slides described in Mr. Dalton's letter on page 728, and these bells were rehung as recently as 1922. We (at Wandsworth) find them just as satisfactory as ordinary stays and sliders.—Yours sincerely,

MICHAEL J. UPHILL.

Putney. London.

Quarrington Surprise Major

Dear Sir.—The method published in your issue of October 23rd is No. 3857 in the H and M Collection, whereas the footnote to the peal refers to No. 3858. Could we be sure which method was rung?—Yours faithfully, Harrow. JOHN R. MAYNE.

OBITUARY

WILLIAM HENRY CLARKE

On Sunday, October 18th, William Henry Clarke, veteran of St. John-the-Divine, Leicester, passed very peacefully to his rest aged 86 years.

Mr. Clarke, an active ringer under the leadership of the late William Willson at St. John's for many years, succeeded Mr. Willson as Master and Steeplekeeper in 1936.

The bells received the same care and attention with Mr. Clarke as his predecessor. They received the weekly attention as is necessary with plain bearings. Those who have rung there will appreciate this.

A joiner by trade, much of his work is to be seen in the ringing chamber.

Although handing over the position of Master and Steeplekeeper to the writer in 1946, he still attended regularly for both Sunday and practice ringing until undergoing an operation a few years ago. This, together with advancing age, made it impossible for him to climb the steps to the ringing chamber. However, he still came to listen to the bells, thus remaining faithful to the last.

He died as he lived: 'everyone's friend.'

The funeral service prior to cremation took place at St. John-the-Divine on Thursday, October 22nd.

In the evening a half-muffled quarter peal was rung to his memory. S. H.

MR. CHARLES DALE

Mr. Charles Dale, Ringing Master of St. Alphege Parish Church, Solihull, died in hospital on October 27th after a short illness, at the age of 72.

His devotion to his Church and service for others was mentioned in a tribute to him by Mr. Edgar C. Shepherd published in 'The Ringing World' after his 70th birthday.

Charles Dale was a boy chorister at the Parish Church, Coleshill, Warwickshire. At a quarterly meeting of the St. Martin's Guild held at Coleshill earlier this year when the ringers were sitting in the choir stalls during the service, Mr. Dale said to the writer sitting with him 'Do you know, I was sitting in this very seat as a choirboy over sixty years ago.'

Later Mr. Dale became a bellringer and to this calling he had been a constant and loyal servant. He was elected Ringing Master at Solihull Parish Church in 1957 and remained in that office until his death. A great friend to all his ringers, he always maintained their loyalty and respect. In addition to his regular attendance for service ringing and practices he gave many hours to teaching learners. Patient and kindly to everyone, and never a bad word spoken of others. His Christian way of life was an example and inspiration to many.

Many of the improvements in the ringing chamber in recent years have been due to his energies, and these will be a lasting memorial to one who will be truthfully missed. Of him it can be greatly said—'He was a gentleman.' T.J.W.

MR. S. A. PAICE

The death on October 11th of Mr. Sidney Alfred Paice, at the age of 78, has left a gap in the band of Horsham Parish Church bellringers which will be sadly noticed.

He had been ringing at Horsham for over sixty years. For very many years he was secretary of the Horsham Society and was treasurer at the time of his death. He was a faithful Sunday service ringer, a regular attendant at practices and taught scores of learners to handle a bell. Although a capable ringer, he had not rung many peals, those he did being mainly at Horsham.

At his funeral service at Horsham Parish Church the Vicar spoke of his life-long connection with the Church. The bells were rung half-muffled for the service by his ringing friends. They were L. Stilwell (Worthing), Denis Mitchell (East Grinstead), E. Fosbury and Harold Wood (Billingshurst), W. Beeson (Cranleigh), G. Francis and M. Turner (Warnham), L. Bourne, C. Denyer, T. Fox, E. Rapley and D. Smith (Horsham). An attempt was made the following day to ring a half-muffled peal, but this, unfortunately, came to grief, but an excellent quarter peal was rung.

MR. J. W. UNWIN*AN APPRECIATION

Jack Unwin, who passed away on Oct. 7th in his 81st year, was truly a great churchman. It is said that no one can replace his devotion; he had held nearly every lay position, at St. Stephen's Church, Hackington, Canterbury. He instigated the revival of the band of ringers in February, 1961, at that church.

His connection with ringing in the Canterbury District began in May, 1921, when he became a member. Since then he became an integral part of the ringing fraternity: a member and then captain of the Cathedral band.

Many members paid homage to him at his funeral at St. Stephen's on October 12th. The Ven. A. Sargent, Archdeacon of Canterbury, read the lesson, the Rt. Rev. Bishop Rose gave the blessing, and the Rector (Rev. R. C. Desch) gave the address.

Both the Cathedral and St. Stephen's bands rang half-muffled quarter peals in the evening.

MR. H. T. WILSON

The Essex Association lost one of its oldest life members with the passing of Mr. Henry T. Wilson, on October 13th, in his 89th year.

Tom Wilson learned to ring at Quex Park around 1890 and came to Essex at the turn of the century. A shop fitter, he lived at Walthamstow for a time and then moved to Southend, where for many years he was with St. Mary's, Prittlewell, under the leadership of the late William Judd.

He came to Brentwood during the last war and was a member of the local band until disabled in a cycle accident eight years ago.

A competent ringer and striker on all numbers of bells and an able conductor, he kept no record of his peals but they ranged from Doubles to Maximus.

The funeral was at St. Paul's, Bentley Common, on October 20th when he was buried with his wife, who died about 10 years ago.

A half-muffled quarter peal of Stedman Triples was rung to his memory at Brentwood in the evening by Miss J. F. Woods (first of Stedman 1, J. H. Stich 2, H. Turner (cond.) 3, E. W. Furbank 4, A. E. Pryke 5, E. T. Stich 6, B. C. Hines 7, H. Flanders 8).

'OVERTONES' NEW EDITOR

Mr. James R. Lawson, carillonneur of the Riverside Church, New York, has been succeeded as editor of 'Overtones', the official publication of the American Guild of Handbell Ringers, by Mr. Raymond K. Hollinger, 20, South Prospect Street, Hagerstown, Maryland, U.S.A.

The current issue of 'Overtones' is a tenth anniversary special, the Guild of American Handbell Ringers being formed in 1954 with Mrs. Margaret Homer Shurcliff as its president. There is a memoir to Mrs. Shurcliff, who as Margaret Nichols, was elected a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths in 1902 and was the first lady to ring a peal of Stedman Triples 'in hand.'

VISIT TO BRITISH COLUMBIA

Mr. W. H. Lloyd, well known in the Hereford Diocesan Guild, has just returned from Vancouver Island, where with his wife, he visited their daughter and son-in-law (Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Laing). It was no surprise, therefore, that the family party found themselves at Christ Church Cathedral, Victoria, B.C. on the first Sunday morning of the visit! Ruby Laing (herself well known as a ringer before her marriage) introduced her father, whereupon Mr. Izard, the Master Ringer, at once 'offered a rope' to the delight of two small grandsons! Memorable occasion, and one of the highlights of a wonderful trip!

WRAXALL, SOMERSET.—On Oct. 4th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: H. W. Knight 1, M. Clark 2, S. R. Cole 3, P. J. Gardner 4, J. Evered 5, F. Sandy 6, R. Cole (cond.) 7, N. Bull 8. For Harvest Festival.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Canterbury District

The annual meeting of the Canterbury District was held on October 17th, at St. Dunstan's, Canterbury. Over 80 members attended including visitors from other districts. Three towers were open on the day—the Cathedral, St. Alphege's, and St. Dunstan's.

The service was held at St. Dunstan's and Canon A. L. Lawler officiated, the choir being supplemented by ringers: the organist was Trevor Pinnock. Tea was provided in the Parish Hall.

Mr. J. A. Russell was chairman for the business meeting. The secretary read his report, noting that membership was down by 11 to 269, compared with last October's figures, the average attendance over six meetings was 52. Christ Church College students were helping to keep the local bands up to strength.

The balance sheet shows a slight decline, but, comparing the figures of last October, the collection of Fred Mitchell Memorial Fund outweighs the difference. With the expenses of £5 17s. 7d. a balance is left of £46 2s. 11d.

All officers were nominated, with the exception of the Ringing Master. Mr. F. C. W. Knight was put forward and elected and Mr. D. A. Chapman was proposed Assistant District Secretary, with responsibility for all meetings in the absence of the Secretary.

The returning Ringing Master in his report stated that 18 peals were rung. He hoped the striking competition in 1965 would improve the standard of ringing and handling the bells. Seventeen new members were elected, 9 from Chartham.

Mr. John Willis brought to the notice of members the need of regular Sunday service ringing. He sounded the meeting regarding the possibility of support for a course on ringing, to be held in the county. After much discussion it was felt that the most opportune time would be just after Easter.

The church collection for the day was donated to the Organ Fund of St. Stephen's, in memory of Mr. J. W. Unwin.

In closing the meeting the chairman thanked the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury, the Rector of St. Alphege's and Canon Lawler respectively for the use of the bells, and the ladies for providing the tea. T.C.P.

DUBLIN UNIVERSITY GUILD

Seven members of the Dublin University Guild—the Misses A. Sadler, Mr. Bernard-Smith and S. Dukes, and Messrs. A. Kere-Hodge, A. Pike, P. Vesey and M. Davis—took part in a ringing tour of North Wales on October 24th, at the invitation of the University of Wales Society, several of whose members joined us.

The towers visited were Portmadoc, Bangor, Llandegai, Llandudno, Abergel and Beaumaris, and methods rung included Plain Bob and Kent Minor and Major, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and several Minor and Doubles methods. We were accompanied throughout the tour by a non-ringer named Alexander, a skewbald rabbit, who seemed to enjoy himself as much as we did! Thanks are expressed to the incumbents of the churches visited, especially to the Welsh ringers for the arrangements, and to Mrs. Bernard-Smith for the generous way in which she supplied the transport.

60 Years in One Tower

MR. H. J. GRAVETT

On October 11th Burgess Hill ringers rang a quarter peal to mark the completion of 60 years' service to the tower by Mr. Henry J. (Harry) Gravett, elder brother of the late Arthur Gravett, of St. Peter's, Brighton.

Harry's membership of the Sussex County Association dates back to 1905. Of his 24 peals, 13 have been rung at Burgess Hill. He stood in an attempt to ring 8,000 Bob Major which broke down at 7,000 changes.

During these 60 years he has been a devoted member of the band, helping learners and setting a good example in punctuality. We were all proud to take part in this small tribute to a much-loved and respected member. K. C. K.

THE ROCHESTER WEEK-END

CHIEFLY of note in the Rochester outing to Bath and the West, arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Short, was the warmly companionable atmosphere of the hard-working group from Hertfordshire, and Ron Short and his two friends. They strengthened the band and added to the good company.

The list of towers on Saturday was formidable:

Bradford-on-Avon, Holy Trinity (8), 30 cwt. (little Saxon church nearby not to be missed); Westbury-on-Severn (8), 35 cwt. (lunch at the Cedar Hotel, Warminster Road); Frome, St. John-the-Baptist (8), 27 cwt. (George Massey was here discovered by some old friends); Mells, St. Andrew (8), 26 cwt. (broken guides in the clock chamber are apparently necessary to reach the clock mechanism! A local ringer arrived in time to brush aside our concern as groundless. Apparently it was!); Chewton Mendip, St. Mary Magdalene (8), 24 cwt.

Break here for tea. Secretaries, attention! Mrs. Baber, Barrow Farm, Chewton Mendip, Somerset, is the wife of a keen ringer, has been brought up in the tradition and — miraculously — likes housing and catering for ringing parties. Hats off to Mrs. Baber and family.

On the wheel again for: Blagdon (8), 19 cwt. and Chew Magna (8), 28 cwt. This was the last ring of the day and we thankfully turned into the Angel Hotel, Bath, where we were looked after a great deal better than we have been at some more star-spangled hotels.

We mixed with Twerton-on-Avon's keen young band in ringing for the Parish Communion on Sunday. After breakfast at The Angel, we rang at Bath Abbey (10), 34 cwt. (Dr. Dobbie found some friends from her Birmingham ringing days joining in her Sunday Matins touch).

In the afternoon to Batheaston (6), 18 cwt. and after tea quickly glossed over at Malmesbury to our final tower, Newbury St. Nicholas (10), 16 cwt., where we rang for evening service.

Our only disappointment was that Audrey Short, who with her husband arranged our outing, was in hospital. It was a wonderful weekend, Audrey, and your arrangements were just perfect. We hope you smelt our best wishes for recovery with the flowers which have reached you by now. You can look on the weekend, with an average tenor weight of 24 cwt., as a huge heavyweight success. Thank you, L. G. G.

Sleaford and Grantham District Outing

Five towers in Cambridgeshire—Tydd St. Giles (6), Newton (6), Levington (6), Wisbech St. Mary (6) and Elam (6)—were visited by Sleaford and Grantham ringers on Sept. 6th. Methods rung were Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Little Bob, Kent and Oxford T.B., Cambridge Surprise, St. Clement's, Norwich Surprise and Single Court. A good standard of ringing was maintained. Thanks are accorded to Mr. Edgar Cole, the organiser, incumbents and those who met the party. E.A.C.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Frome Branch

A bitterly cold day with occasional heavy showers did not deter numerous members and friends from attending the autumn branch meeting at Douling. Some 55 people were present at the service conducted by the Branch Chairman, the Rev. A. G. Durston.

At the meeting members stood in silence in remembrance of Mr. Charles Harvey, of Compton Dando, who recently passed away. Two new members from Wanstrow were elected along with 11 non-resident life members.

Mr. G. Massey in proposing the vote of thanks, made special reference to Messrs. Arthur Kingston and Jack Metcalfe for making the local arrangements under very difficult conditions.

Ringing on handbells and in the tower then continued until 8.30 p.m.

Branch annual meeting, Shepton Mallet, January 9th, subject to consent.

Chew Branch

The bells were kept going in a variety of methods when the Chew Branch held their quarterly meeting at Winford on October 10th. The Rector (the Rev. W. J. Penny) gave an interesting address at the service and afterwards joined the company, of about 30, for tea at the village hall.

At the short business meeting the Secretary reminded those present that only nine towers had so far paid their subscriptions this year, and asked that those outstanding would contact him without delay, as it was necessary to complete totals before the annual meeting.

Mr. G. Masters, of Winford, was elected a member.

November meeting, Easton - in - Gordano; annual, Stanton Drew, with Chew Magna after tea.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Monmouth Branch at Usk

The Monmouth Branch meeting, held at Usk on October 10th, proved to be a most enjoyable and memorable occasion. All the Usk ringers were early in the tower to welcome warmly some 50 visitors.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. R. L. Davies, Mrs. York was at the organ and Mr. Reuben Clench read the lesson. A bountiful tea, prepared by ringers' wives, was afterwards waiting at the Usk Memorial Hall. The Rev. Ivor Richards expressed the sincere thanks of the visitors to the Usk ringers, and also to Mrs. York.

New members were elected from Blaenavon, Newport and Usk. The Master, Mr. Jack James, reported progress from Monmouth where a new band was being formed. Mr. David Pike reported progress from Caerleon where many learners were being taught. Mr. Trevor Roderick spoke of the renovation work done to the Usk ringing chamber by the Usk ringers themselves. He considered that they had saved the church many hundreds of pounds and that a contractor could not have done a better job.

The Vicar proudly confirmed and said the parishioners were very proud of the efforts of the ringers.

Good wishes were expressed to the Rev. Ronald Lucas on his ordination and warm birthday wishes were given to the genial Usk tower captain, Mr. Lionel Jones. Mr. Jack James thanked the Vicar for his welcome to the Branch and for so ably conducting the business.

LAMBETH, LONDON.—At St. Mary's Church, on Sept. 26th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: Miss M. E. Powell 1, G. Clarke 2, Miss B. J. Leigh 3, R. E. Clarke (cond.) 4, P. R. Clarke 5, L. C. Way 6, C. M. ## THE ST. MARTIN'S GUILD

A quarterly meeting of the Guild was held at Shirley on October 17th when the Guild's form of service was conducted by the Vicar in the Parish Church of St. James-the-Great.

At the commencement of the meeting, the Master (Mr. R. C. Ingram) referred to several notable events which had occurred since the last meeting. On August 9th, the Rector of Birmingham (Canon Bryan S. W. Green) unveiled the memorial tablet to the late Albert Walker in St. Martin's belfry. In addition to the members of the Sunday band, Albert's son and daughter were present, and the presence of Mr. and Mrs. John Chilcott and Mr. John S. Mason, who had journeyed from London specially for the occasion, was appreciated.

For Mr. Frank E. Haynes this Sunday was memorable as it was his last day as a member of the St. Martin's Sunday band before leaving for Cambridge. Frank was the recipient of a bookcase from his ringing friends of the 'Bull Ring' tower in appreciation of his 35 years' service in St. Martin's belfry.

Tower elections of the following life members were duly ratified: Mrs. Diana M. Frost (London), Michael Maughan (Newcastle-on-Tyne), Martin L. J. Jordan (Tewin, Herts), Robert E. Hardy (Elstree, Herts), E. J. Gower (Cambridge).

It was formally proposed and agreed that the Henry Johnson Commemoration dinner be held on March 6th, provided that suitable accommodation can be found, at a reasonable price.

A suggestion that a striking competition should be held among the towers within the diocese will receive further consideration at the next meeting. The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Vicar, for conducting the service and for the use of the bells.

Next meeting (annual) St. Martin's Hall, January 2nd.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Capt. Marybelle Nissly is the first lady member of the American Forces to ring a peal and maybe the first member of the Forces. This took place at Huntingdon on October 22nd. It was Marybelle's first attempt; she was ringing the treble to Plain Bob Minor. Although, states the conductor, suffering from a heavy cold, she rang very well, and afterwards received the congratulations of the band. The peal at Weedon Beck (see page 639) was rung on Friday, September 4th.

The peal at Andover on September 26th was Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Randle's 300th together.

The peal of Stedman Cinques at Oxford on October 3rd was 5,115 changes not 5,152 as published.

This year the Kent County Association propose to hold their Easter Monday meeting at Canterbury.

The peal rung at Painswick, Glos, of Stedman Cinques (page 333) was for the Painswick Youths and not the College Youths as published. The error is regretted.

From Mr. Ralph Edwards we hear that Mr. Jim Woolford was not the first to 'turn in' Liverpool Cathedral tenor. Obviously it was the one and only 'Tenor King'—Mr. A. Patrick Cannon. He rang it to three leads of Treble Bob Royal.

Some 50 ringers attended the autumn festival of the Penzance Branch of the Truro Diocesan Guild at Crowan on October 10th with evening ringing also at Camborne, Gwinear and Wendron. The Vicar (Rev. J. E. Beckerlegge) conducted the service.

Mr. Frederick Sharpe is troubled with whooping cough. He was unable, in consequence, to attend the dinner last Saturday of the Ancient Society of College Youths, the first he had missed for 31 years. His friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. E. Barnett writes: I am sure Mr. Walker was perfectly correct in describing the bells at Merton College as 'the oldest complete ring by one founder in existence.' A complete ring is an octave, anything less is incomplete.

Mr. Arthur V. Pearson, of Wombourn, Staffs, who is a member of the Claverley band, is in Czechoslovakia, having been sent by his Midland firm of engineers on prestige work, of some importance to the foreign trade of this country. He anticipates being in Czechoslovakia until February with a three week break at Christmas. He sends his best wishes to all ringing friends.

The peal of Grandsire Triples rung at Shifnal on October 3rd (page 720) was for the Stafford Archdeaconry Society, not the Shropshire Association.

The incomprehensible Irish! Dublin University Guild took with them during their tour a rabbit named Alexander who seemed to enjoy himself as much as they did!

Church Lench bells, Worcestershire, installed between 1868-1870, have not been rehung since that date. The peal on October 18th was the first on the bells since 1912.

South Wales College Youths rang the first peal of Stedman Triples on the augmented bells at Newton Nottage, Glamorgan, on Oct. 23rd as a compliment to Mr. Jack Phillips on completing his year as Master of the Society.

In the recent peal of Doubles at Bradford, Yorkshire, there were two first-pealers. The 14-year-old ringer of the tenor, Philip Wood, had only been ringing for 11 months. He is the first member of the recently revived local team to ring a peal.

Mr. Michael King, of Wentworth Vicarage, Rotherham, writes that his 15,000 thesis on school ringers will not be available for the Central Council Library until March, 1965. He would be grateful for any extra information and thanks all who have assisted in the project.

Fl./Sgt. John Sankey, who is a member of flight crew, arrived back at Lyneham from Singapore on Sunday, September 20th. After a few hours' sleep he took his place in the tower to ring a peal for the 24th anniversary of the Battle of Britain. It was a delighted but very tired man who stood the treble after the peal to his first peal of Doubles.

the previous band, who pushed the bells along at about 34 or 35 a minute, this lot get them up high and stay there; Mr. Drake and I agree that it will take good men to strike them at that pitch, a bare 32, but these are good men, and they ring a good peal for 31½ faults.

There's time for a peal before service, so with our notebooks firmly in our pockets and our lips (so far as the results are concerned) sealed Mr. Drake and I make our way to the church and sample the very pretty six for ourselves. And then, the service over, and the cup, shield and certificates ready on the table, we announce our verdict. 'First, peal number 6,' calls Mr. Drake, and Mr. Poole, the secretary, replies, 'West Down.' Nobody's surprised to find that No. 8 is Down St. Mary, and the rest follow: 3rd, Swymbridge; 4th, High Bickington; 5th, and winners of the shield for the Guild towers, Torrington—Tommy will be pleased about that. 6th, Tawstock; 7th, Littleham—good for them, for their bells were silent till two years ago; 8th, Monkleigh, and 9th, Dolton.

Nobody seems to want to assassinate us, so we can't have done too badly; we've got spots before the eyes—heaven knows, we've made getting on for 2,000 of them in our books this afternoon—and I find my ears literally aching with listening so carefully for four hours; but what better could you listen to, and how better can you learn what makes or mars good striking than by listening to Devon men making it, and sometimes marring it, and setting down those rows of dots?

J. G. M. S.

The farewell quarter peal to George M. Pickwell by the St. James', Silsoe, ringers, came to grief in the morning of October 25th. Unbeknown to George, who had then left for Leicester, a quarter was scored in the evening.

TAYSOM TRAVELLERS IN DEVON

ON October 23rd the 'Travellers' assembled for their annual week-end in Devon. The party consisted of Rita and Bill Lampard, Diane and Ken Weeks, Elizabeth Webb, Derek Smith, Brian Metcalf (Warmley), Barbara Dench (Corston), David Burl, David Barnett Terry Milsom, Jean and Alan Lee (Twerton) and Henry Taysom (Frampton Cotterell), who, as usual, drove the mini-bus. Lustleigh, the headquarters, was reached at a late hour after driving through heavy rain.

The weather, however, proved to be very good and on Saturday morning we were pleased to have Aubrey Bennett, Margaret and Roy Bould (Tavistock) with us for the day.

Drewsteignton, the first tower, had a rather heavy six (tenor 17 cwt.) rung from the ground floor. The long ropes made handling a trifle difficult and the tenor must have been rung by a giant judging by the height of the sally. On to Chertiton Bishop, where we were met by the Rev. G. Lewis, who said prayers before we sampled the six bells. This ring was rehung locally and are really worth ringing.

Teddburn St. Mary stands some way from the village. The bells are very good but the second casts wheel frequently and needs strong handling. At Whitstone both the Rector (the Rev. B. Brown) and tower captain (Mr. R. V. Netherway) met us and after prayers we had a good pull on the 12 cwt. six. Although this is now a call change tower, a peal of Grandsire was rung here in 1890 by a local band.

Rewe (6 bells) was first on the list after lunch. The bells are a very pleasant ground-floor ring restored by Gillett and Johnston. We were sorry to hear that these and Stoke Cannon's 6 (our next tower) were not often rung. On to Pinhoe, where we really enjoyed the lovely six.

The first octave of the day was the ground-floor ring at Exminster (tenor 18 cwt.). The Rev. D. J. Taylor welcomed us and informed us that the ropes were not in good condition, but they lasted our ring. After tea we had one more tower, that of Chudleigh, a lovely 13 cwt. octave that taps along at a merry speed. The day had been an extremely pleasant one and ended with a good meal kindly arranged by Mr. Bennett: afterwards we had the pleasure of playing Roy's handbells to both tute and method ringing.

Methods rung during the day: Grandsire, Plain Bob, Stedman and 4-spiced Doubles, Plain Bob, Double Oxford, Kent, Oxford Treble Bob, Cambridge, Beverley and London Minor, Grandsire, Plain Bob and Stedman Triples, Bob and Grandsire Major and call changes. On Sunday morning we had the pleasure of ringing at Lustleigh: since our last visit the bells have had new bearings and clappers and are very good except that the second still tends to drop. On our way home we were pleased to join the ringers at Bishops Hull for evening ringing.

Our week-end over for another year: 300 miles covered, good bells, good company, and our thanks must go to Mr. and Mrs. Palmer and Miss Gay for looking after us so well, to Mr. Bennett for his arrangements and to Henry Taysom, who drove the mini-bus through some very difficult country roads.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

About 40 ringers assembled for ringing at the Chertsey District meeting held at Weybridge on October 24th. One or two scored their first of Double Norwich and others of Kent Major. The Rector conducted the service and gave the Guild a warm welcome. A magnificent tea was provided by Mrs. Luxford and helpers.

The Guild Master (Mr. D. A. R. May) presided at the business meeting when a silent tribute was paid to the memory of Miss Nora Shorter. All were delighted to see the Grand Old Man of the District—Mr. W. Shepherd. The committee is to arrange a striking competition and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Godfrey of Addington were elected non-resident members.

INTROVERT OR EXTROVERT?

Man of thought or man of action—which is the true ringer?

BASICALLY the man of thought is an introvert; the man of action an extrovert. The introvert is the perennial student. He is quiet and sensitive. He keeps his emotions to himself and examines his conduct and motives. He is the backroom boy who thinks up the plans and ideas that the man of action puts into practical use. He is enthusiastic but does not demonstrate except in sympathetic company. As a ringer he thinks first and rings afterwards. He also thinks all the time he is ringing.

The extrovert man of action, in the extreme manifestation of his kind, is the thick-skinned, back-slapping, what-ho type. His mental vision sees pictures in clear cut black and white. He makes quick decisions. As a ringer he can best be described as energetic, losing more peals than he rings. He possesses all the ruses of the belfryman, his methods of tower grabbing, etc., are questionable, though he always manages to keep on good terms with those who find him out.

Arriving at a meeting he will park his car with a screech of brakes right across the entrance to the church, and hearing a single bell being pulled off will sprint the 50 yards to the tower into which he rushes with a more than audible greeting to all and sundry, and is on the tenor box before the Ringing Master can stop him.

The foregoing is, of course, exaggerated, but any ringer of experience will recognise the type.

By contrast the man of thought will turn his car before backing into a proper parking place, he will quietly walk around the church before entering the tower, noting all points of interest, and will stand in the ringing chamber observing all that goes on, unobtrusively he will correct erring beginners, and by the time he is asked to take hold will know which bells, if any, are odd struck, and will react accordingly.

Again he is a recognisable type. Almost all games and sports are great revealers of character, none more so than the art of bellringing. And the revelation is not confined to the tower. The bar of a pub can be equally enlightening.

The man of action will talk in a loud voice of his conquests. In a less exaggerated version of his kind he will be akin to the dedicated self-made man who will use people to suit his own ends, taking a perverse delight in the criticism which his actions incur. His passion for the 'big-time' is such that he rarely descends from the lofty heights and the vast reservoir of experience accumulated in reaching the 'top' remains comparatively untapped. He will have few real friends, will be the object of awe, perhaps of admiration, but seldom one of respect.

For the most part the man of thought listens. When asked a question he will answer but his reply is apt to be tentative because he realises that he has incomplete knowledge of the subject. Above all he is modest about his ringing, knowing its difficulties and uncertainties. He is as ready to take a rope in an advanced method as to assist the beginner through his first peal. In consequence he will enjoy a high degree of popularity, and will be universally respected.

Both man of thought and man of action derive enormous benefit from their ringing. The former gets some much needed exercise and is able to apply his questing mind to a set of problems totally different from those encountered at his work. He enjoys his triumphs, and one studied and planned for will make his day.

The latter, by the free use of his abundant energy, shakes the frustration out of himself, thus counteracting the baneful effects of his 'civilised' life. If ringing were not his hobby he would probably play tennis and squash or hit golf balls as hard as possible.

It takes all sorts to make up the ringing community. Every single one of us is a mixture of these two types but very few are 50-50. Those who are will be the dullest of us and perhaps the least successful—and that goes for our non-ringing lives as well.

327th Anniversary Dinner, Ancient Society College Youths

CONCERN OVER STANDARD — TIGHTENING RULES OF MEMBERSHIP — NO DOUBT ABOUT COLLEGE YOUTHS' PEALS BEING TRUE, SAYS MR. FRANK HAYNES — MASTER'S GOOD WORK IN LONDON TOWERS

THE West of England and Wales were strongly represented at the 327th anniversary dinner of the Ancient Society of College Youths held at the Bridge House Restaurant, London Bridge, on October 31st, partly because of the close association of the Master (Mr. J. Phillips) with that area. The Master is equally popular in London and he received a great ovation when he entered, accompanied by his officers. Mr. R. B. Meadows (senior steward) and Mr. J. D. Rock (junior steward). Other officers this year are Messrs. J. E. Chilcott (secretary), C. G. J. Watts (hon. treasurer) and E. G. Fenn and J. F. Smallwood (trustees).

During the evening the Master took wine with his officers and Past Masters and with those with 60 years' membership — Messrs. George E. Symonds (1898), Ernest G. Fenn (1899) and James W. Chapman (1902) — and also with 50 or more years' William J. Rawlings (1914).

As is customary, the Master proposed the toast of 'The Church.' He commented that last week in 'The Ringing World' a friend of his wrote that if he talked in his Devonshire dialect no one would understand him. He asked his friend to remember that there were others than Devonians in the room.

It was a pleasure to see such a splendid gathering and it went to show that the College Youths were prospering, at least in numbers. The College Youths in the past had maintained a high standard of ringing and wherever they went they were held in the highest esteem. He trusted they would keep up that reputation in the future.

They owed their very being to the Church and without it the art of bellringing would be non-existent. The Church was still fulfilling her work which she had carried on for centuries, and without her teaching they would be in a sorry plight to-day. The Church's services, whether in a cathedral or the smallest parish church, were carried on with reverence and dignity.

ST. PAUL'S RINGING

'We do in London try to maintain a high standard of ringing wherever we may be but especially at St. Paul's Cathedral. We ring twice on a Sunday, and maybe I say when the scroof gets to work woe betide the man who makes a mistake or a slight hesitation. If looks could kill he would drop dead.'

'Our art may be a mystery to the outsiders and maybe it's a mystery to some of us (laughter). I have spoken to some clergy and tried to explain it. They say "Yes" and "No" and then walk away without the slightest idea. We have to remember the purpose for which bells are hung in our churches and our first duty is to see that they are rung properly for the service of the Church.'

The Master paused and then to the expectant faces in front of him said: 'Gentlemen, I sweat.' Such delightful candour given in rich Devon brogue caused the greatest laugh heard at a College Youth dinner for many a year.

Introducing the Archdeacon, the Master said he would like him to know how much they appreciated the support and co-operation of the clergy. In the City of London they were grateful to them for allowing them to ring peals and hold practices. There were two who lived almost within the tower and when they went away when peals were rung it was not because they did not like bells, but because they did not like answering the telephone when the complaints come during the ringing.

NEW ZEALAND CONVENTION

The Archdeacon of London's reply to the toast was rich in story and anecdote. He said the Master had emphasised the right relationship between the Church and its representatives, the clergy and the ringers. 'You have great advantages over the ordinary members of the congregation,' he said. 'When you have finished ringing you can sit upstairs.'

THE MASTER
MR. J. PHILLIPS

'I have had associations with ringers before I came to England' (the Archdeacon was in New Zealand) for many years. In New Zealand we have members of the Ancient Society of College Youths. A few years ago Mr. Nelson Sloan came here and made contact with ringers all over the country through 'The Ringing World.' Wherever he went he was made most welcome.

'I hope the Church always stands fast by its ringers, as week by week people are not only called to worship, but in our cities and villages men and women are reminded of the eternal verities.'

Mr. Frank E. Haynes, in proposing the toast of 'The Society,' said three were three or four reasons why he was proposing that toast with more enthusiasm than was usual for some toasts. One was that most of them were followers of the cult of Bacchus without indulging excessively. Another was that it was an all-male gathering and he could remember occasions when members of the Society had reduced those of the opposite sex to tears by describing the incapacities of their ringing.

Another was to follow the advice of the preacher in Ecclesiastes: 'The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be; and that which is done is that which shall be done.' That could be applied to St. Paul's, where they had the ultimate of bellringing—Stedman Cinques rung perfectly and confidently. The College Youths set a high standard and endeavoured to set a high standard of membership. He believed the question of membership and new members had been recently under revision and an effort was being made to keep up the old standard and make sure that the name of College Youths should maintain its reputation in the Exercise. Wherever one went the majority of people, if they heard College Youths, expected something from them and a particularly high standard in the matter of peal ringing.

STANDARD OF PEALS

'I don't wish to raise any controversial question,' said Mr. Haynes, 'but we have heard questions raised as to the number of peals people have rung. I myself have rung approximately 700 but in that 700 there are one or two in which there is a bit of a doubt. I am not sure that Queens did not come up twice, but there are 20 to 25 for the Society, and of those I have no doubt. If all those peals had been rung for the College

Youths no one could dare write to "The Ringing World."

Mr. Rodney Meadows, the senior steward, deputised for the secretary, Mr. John Chilcott in reply. He said the College Youths was a large Society and the London part was only a small portion. That night they had an attendance of 189; it had been larger but they thought that the lowering was due to a change in the date.

APOLOGIES

Mr. Meadows announced the following apologies: Messrs. F. Sharpe (first in 31 years, due to whooping cough), D. G. Clift, Hervey Bagot (Canberra, Australia), P. I. Chapman, E. T. Floyd Ewin, Henry Hodgetts, F. W. Perrens, J. Rea, G. Nelson Sloan (Christchurch, New Zealand), Rev. J. F. D. Trimmingham, A. Tyler, A. York Bramble, R. J. Bowden, Harry Miles, F. D. Mack, B. J. Wyld and C. T. Clarke.

The company stood while the list of those who had died since the last dinner was read: E. Maurice Atkins (1911) James Butler (1924), Frank E. Corfield (1954), Leonard Fidler (1930), Joseph S. Hawkins (1901), William Hoggett (1901), Albert A. Hughes (1903), Harry C. Jones (1945), William Linter (1932), Alan R. Macdonald (1910), Sidney James Orchard, Frederick W. Rogers (1928), Charles Sharples (1925), Henry Stalham (1920) and Cuthbert White. Mr. Meadows said Albert Hughes was very much in their thoughts that evening.

New members during the year totalled 54. There had been 25 peals rung as follows: Stedman Cinques 7, Stedman Caters 1, Stedman Triples 4, Grandsire Cinques 1, Grandsire Triples 1, Yorkshire Surprise Maximus 1, Cambridge Surprise Royal 1, London Surprise Royal (No. 3 Version) 1, Surprise Major 6, Surprise Minor 2.

Continuing, Mr. Meadows said their country meeting was held this year at Cardiff and they had a magnificent welcome mainly due to the affection with which the Master was held.

MEMBERSHIP ELECTIONS

One of the items at their business meetings was the consideration of new rules. This was brought to a draft form and was subject to the test of opposition. He thought they could be confident that what would emerge would be a great improvement. The biggest change would be in the election of new members. There was no change in the qualification, but they did intend in the future to look closely into the nomination. There was to be a four-week gap between nomination and election. Belfry elections were out. The country meeting was to be held at Exeter on May 29th, and the dinner held on the first Saturday in November.

Concluding, Mr. Meadows said: 'I can assure you that John Chilcott is not flagging because he did not present the report. He was just keeping himself in form for a long haul. No one works harder for the Society than he.'

A course of Stedman Cinques was then successfully rung by P. A. F. Chalk 1-2, W. T. Cook 3-4, S. Kimber 5-6, M. Chilcott 7-8, John Chilcott (cond.) 9-10, Michael Moreton 11-12.

Proposing 'The Visitors and Kindred Ringing Societies,' Mr. J. A. Waugh gave a special welcome to Mr. W. C. Winterton, who is Master of the Drapers' Company, which was second in order of precedence among the City Companies. It was over 600 years old and had given London over 100 Mayors and Lord Mayors. Mr. Watts said he was one of the very few who could claim to have had his head smacked by one of the principal guests. Mr. Winterton's father was headmaster of Bancroft School.

The Rev. E. Rogers, Vicar of St. Giles, Cripplegate, replied, and said his father was a boy at Bancroft School. For the Kindred Societies, Mr. D. Beresford, Master of the Cumberlands, replied. He said it had often been said how much relationship between his Society and the College Youths had improved and this was as it should be, but it did not mean any diminution of the rivalry, and this was also as it should be. Problems did arise, as when the daughter of a Cumberland asked permission to marry a College Youth. The father, in his wisdom, gave his consent provided that the children were brought up in the Cumberland faith (laughter).

MASTER'S GOOD WORK

The ringers of London owed a great deal to the College Youths' Master, who had done much to improve relations between the Societies in the sharing of towers. It could be postulated that compared with territorial associations, national societies had no place but it was quite obvious that national societies were playing a great part in providing gatherings where they could meet and promote the friendly spirit that existed.

The evening concluded with the toast of 'The Fragrant Memory of the Masters of 300, 200 and 100 Years Ago,' which was submitted by the Master. In 1664 the Master was Thomas Brookes, said Mr. Phillips. He joined the Society in 1657 but nothing seems to be known about him. No record was preserved of the Master of 1764.

Mr. George A. Muskett was elected Master in 1864 and was one of the most prominent College Youths of the second half of the 19th century. It was said that his real name was not Muskett, but he took this name when he was ringing as he was a respectable business man in the city. This was a time when bellringing was not regarded as a fitting pursuit for a gentleman. He joined the Society in 1856 and became Master at the age of 27. Later he was secretary for many years and then a trustee. He was an honorary member of St. Paul's Cathedral band and took part in the first peal on the bells at the Cathedral. He rang about 65 peals for the Society, the first being Grandsire Triples at South Hackney in 1856. He rang at Cornhill in the long peal of Stedman Cinques and in the first peal in Ireland at Waterford in 1872. Mr. George Symonds knew George Muskett in 1896. He died in 1907.

Fraternising and handbell ringing concluded the evening.

UP AND COMING YOUNGSTERS—No. 18

PHILLIP CROSSTHWAITE
The Lancashire Association

The Lancashire Association with its wealth of ringers of all ages provides the next number for this series.

Phillip Crossthwaite, who was born at Preston on April 18th, 1949, is now in the Sixth Form at Preston Grammar School and is studying mathematics, physics and chemistry for 'A' level after having obtained his G.C.E. in eight subjects at 'O' level.

At the early age of 11, under the watchful eye of his father, Mr. Cyril Crossthwaite, Phillip started his ringing at Preston Parish Church, where a very high standard of ringing is maintained and Sunday service ringing is regular. It is not surprising, therefore, that he soon became a member of the Sunday service band.

Progress was made by Phillip at a good pace and he scored his first peal less than two years later at the age of 13, when on November 28th, 1962, at the Church of All Saints, High Walton, he rang the second to Bob Major, which was conducted by his father.

This was the start of a very exciting and noteworthy collection of peals, which totals 59 to date, and includes Spiced Surprise Major in four methods (all the work), 7, 8, 9, 11, 14 and 17 methods. Also peals of London, Bristol, Ealing, Wembley, Southgate and Cornwall Surprise Major, Grandsire and Stedman Caters, Cambridge and Yorkshire Surprise Royal. Phillip has just started to take an interest in conducting and has so far conducted a number of quarter peals.

For most ringers peal ringing has its amusing moments and for Phillip this is no exception. During a peal of Minor rung near Great Yarmouth a well-known Irish ringer almost caused the loss of the peal, when in the fourth extent his trousers became noticeably insecure, and he had to spend the rest of the peal trying to keep them in place to save the lady ringers undue embarrassment.

This brilliant young ringer is not unconscious of the fact that a great deal of his success is due to the help he has received from his father and mother, his sister Mary and the many friends who have invited him to take part in peals.

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION
Cary Branch

Ringers from many parts of the Diocese and visitors from Enfield, Kent, Newbury, Portsmouth and Trowbridge came to ring on the anti-clockwise ring of six, at Charlton Mackrell on October 24th, for the autumn quarterly meeting.

The service was conducted by the Rector (Rev. T. W. Rhys, an associate member) assisted by the Branch Chairman (Rev. G. S. Robinson). Mrs. Buckland was at the organ, the Master of the Association (Rev. H. F. Warren) was welcomed by the Chairman at the business meeting and new members from Castle Cary, Charlton Mackrell and Ditchet were elected.

A donation from the widow of Mr. S. J. Pound (a member of the Association for many years) and also his 'Ringers' Handbook' had been presented to the Branch. It was decided to set up a Branch Bell Fund with the donation and place the book in Templecombe tower for the use of the ringers there.

Ringing ranged from Rounds to Plain Bob, Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain and Double Court Bob Minor, Kent and Oxford Treble Bob Minor, and Cambridge and London Surprise Minor.

A SUFFOLK SILVER WEDDING

The bells of Euston could not be rung in October, 1939, when Winifred Baker and Henry Ivings married there, but amendments were made on October 31st, when they celebrated their silver wedding.

Ringers from N.W. Suffolk, Central Suffolk, Norfolk and Deddington, Oxfordshire, combined to ring out their congratulations for two hours in a variety of Doubles methods.

The ringers were later entertained at the Ivings' residence; handbell tunes were rung by Mr. and Mrs. Ivings, their son John and the best man (Mr. William Ivings, of Deddington). Some method ringing was also enjoyed.

A peal was rung at Finborough, Suffolk, on Friday evening, in which Mrs. Ivings joined.

All their ringing friends wish them well: and hope they will have an equally good ring on their golden wedding anniversary. G. R.

Dear Sir,—I wish to give notice of an attempt to ring 17,459 Grandsire Caters at St. Mark's Church, Worsley, Lancashire, on Saturday, November 21st, starting at 8 p.m. The composition is by Mr. A. M. Tyler and is given below.—Yours sincerely,

Shincliffe Bells

Dear Sir,—On September 4th (page 592) you published an appeal for the augmentation of the three bells of Shincliffe to form a ring of five. Since the three bells were made ringable Shincliffe have formed a company strong enough to ring call changes at a nearby eight-bell tower which has no resident band.

Last winter they started visiting other towers for change ringing practice and some of them took to it readily. At his sixth practice 15-year-old Francis Martin was invited to have a try at a quarter peal. Due to summer holidays it was not until October 18th when the attempt was arranged at Lanchester. After a trial plain course and a false start he rang the treble quite creditably to a quarter of Plain Bob Doubles. It later turned out that it was only his eighth trial on more than three bells, and his last change ringing on five bells had been three months earlier.

As he has rung regularly at Shincliffe for two years, many ringers will have rung quarters with fewer hours of ringing, but I would be interested to hear of any comparable feat in the gaining of pure ropesight.—Yours faithfully,

H. B. THOMPSON.

Lanchester.

All Saints' Doubles

Dear Sir,—As I read 'The Ringing World' I notice that the All Saints' Doubles method is being rung in various parts of the country in peals and quarter peals nearly every week. This is a very easy method for beginners and the request for free copies (as advertised under 'Publications' each week) has been great and encouraging. I would very much appreciate comment on this method, for or against, through 'The Ringing World'.—Yours truly,

WILLIAM H. CAVILL.

19, High Street, Ashcott,
Near Bridgwater, Som.

Unexpected Support

Dear Sir,—I draw your attention to the first issue of 'Practical Electronics' (No. 1, Vol. 1, November, 1964), where, on page 201, there is a small section headed 'Slow Toil, Please.'

The author of this column, John Vallence, although an 'electronic type,' appears to support our old-fashioned (?) method of calling folk to worship.—Yours faithfully,

Hale, Cheshire.

A. TWYMAN.

Duke of Edinburgh's Award

Dear Sir,—Earlier this year you published an inquiry from me about the number of boys and girls who had chosen ringing as their pursuit for the Duke of Edinburgh's Award. I am very grateful to those who replied: the letters showed that at least 32 were working for or had passed one or other of the three standards.

One instructor commented that he felt the standard set was too high and that it placed at a disadvantage people in an area where ringing was not of a very advanced standard. He felt that the syllabus was far harder than most others open to boys (he is engaged in cadet training) and that it ought to concentrate more on setting out a course of activities to be followed. This, he considered, would be more in line with the objects of the Award.

I should be glad to know whether other instructors or candidates share this view, and if so to receive any suggestions for amendment. The various stages were drawn up in 1958 by myself in consultation with Mr. W. G. Wilson, the first being based on that set for the Girl Guides' Badge; they were required rather hurriedly and I am sure that it would be a good idea to have some fresh thoughts on the matter.—Yours faithfully,

E. A. BARNETT.

Hon. Secretary, C.C.

Complete Rings of Old Bells

Dear Sir,—Mr. Philip Walker's and later Mr. D. G. Little's reference to complete rings by one founder was of interest to me also, and a complete ring of eight must be a great rarity, but hanging in a small parish church near my home are three bells identified as the work of Robert Norton, who was practising as a bellfounder in Exeter around 1390–1430.

Incidentally, these bells were saved from being replaced by a gramophone at a consistory court by a member of the Central Council Towers and Belfries Committee who happened to know of them.

They have now been rehung, retuned and are arranged to be safely swing-chimed. They are of good tone, sound and complete with canons; the largest is 6 cwt. 2 qr. —Yours faithfully,

W. A. OSBORN.

Galhampton, Som.

'Very much Alive'

Dear Sir,—My husband and I read with interest the letter in last week's 'Ringing World' headed 'A Go-Ahead District' from C. Pound. While feeling very flattered by the nice things said about our help in advancing the ringing when we lived in the Alton and Petersfield district, we were at the same time shocked to read that we are both dead.

On the contrary, we are very much alive, and although owing to health reasons I am not an active ringer now, my husband is, and is a Ringing Master of the Salisbury Branch.

We have followed with great interest and pleasure the continued progress of the Alton and Petersfield District and wish them every success in the future.—Yours faithfully,

JOAN M. JONES.

Salisbury, Wilts.

Dear Sir,—I was pleased to read the few words of encouragement from Mr. Charles Pound for the Alton and Petersfield District of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild. (Page 728 'A Go-Ahead District'.)

I feel sure, although certainly their names have not appeared in 'The Ringing World' recently, that Mr. and Mrs. Reg Jones have only moved to another district and have not moved on to higher service as Charles' letter would seem to infer.

Perhaps Reg can reassure his many friends that he and his wife are still alive and kicking! —Yours sincerely, DAVID M. HUGHES.

Liss, Hants.

P.S.—I would suggest the removal of the comma and the three words 'but they were' from the sixth line of the fifth paragraph. This would suit Mr. Pound's letter admirably.

Unbreakable Stays

Dear Sir,—Mr. Dalton, in his letter, remarks that in the old times stays were not something to be broken. This is quite literally true.

Where I was brought up in the 1890's in S.E. Cornwall, all the rings were or recently had been Pennington Fours. They had no stays and you were brought up the hard way. If you let your bell go over, you had to go up and pass the rope by the light of a tallow candle and pay 6d.

Bells were rung from the bottom and returned there at the end of each 'peal,' and woe betide the offender who let his bell speak after the captain had stamped his foot to finish. I believe it is still the best way to learn. You do learn rope control, which stands you in good stead later if you take up change ringing.

Stays came in when the then modern methods of Mears and Stainbank and John Taylor began to replace the old fours with sixes. And those ringers who rang on them found that there were advantages in being able to set your bell. We called in the local carpenter and he fitted our wheels with stays. As they projected only a few inches they couldn't break without carrying away the wheel. The sole object was, and should be, to enable you to set the bells. As we had all learned to control our bell all the way up and down there was never a question of a bump; and the whole outfit lasted until Mears and Stainbank augmented the ring to six in 1914.

Since World War I I've never been able to take part in a good rise and fall. There is so much to teach and it's so hard to maintain interest that in many towers there just isn't time. How delightful, therefore, to hear a band of experts during the Central Council meeting raise a ring of eight perfectly before going for their peal.

But I still think of old Tom Stephens at my old tower: 'Now then, let's have a little moosic,' and down would come his foot. A round of complete silence and then 1, 2, 3, 4. —Yours sincerely,

C. F. JERRAM.

Helston, Cornwall.

SAWBRIDGEWORTH EIGHT

Wednesday, November 18th, 8 p.m., has been fixed for the rededication service of Sawbridgeworth bells by the Bishop of Bedford. These bells, which have been ringing for almost 100 years, have been quarter-turned and retuned. The tenor (25 cwt. and cast by J. Bryant of Hertford in 1795) was found to be cracked and was recast with one cwt. of added metal. The full eight have been set up with new fittings, cast iron headstocks, wheels and ropes—these latter from John Nicoll.

John Taylor and Co., of Loughborough, were commissioned to carry out the restoration.

The tower's own ringing band undertook the job of clearing sawdust, 18–24 inches deep, from the pits. This had probably lain there since the bells were last given a major overhaul in 1871. The timbers and frame were treated against the destructive beetle and the frame showed itself still to be in very good condition. The soundproofing was replaced with fibreglass wadding, but this has not proved altogether successful. Further soundproofing is necessary.

An open afternoon and evening will be held on Saturday, November 21st. There will also be a service followed by tea and a meeting of Bishop's Stortford and District Association. Sawbridgeworth still faces a debt in connection both with the bells and with the restoration of the ringing chamber, and any goodwill offerings by visiting ringers will be most warmly appreciated. Donations, however small, should be sent to Mr. C. J. Searle, Barclays Bank, Sawbridgeworth, Herts.

WANDSWORTH, LONDON.—At Holy Trinity Church, West Hill, on Oct. 11th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: Jean Egerton 1, Margaret Godfrey 2, A. R. Millidge 3, E. Godfrey 4, R. J. Cooles (50th quarter) 5, L. C. Way 6, M. J. Uphill (cond.) 7, R. G. Twyman 8. For Matins.

DURHAM AND NEWCASTLE A.G.M.

A RED-LETTER day in the life of any ringing secretary is when the number of people who turn up for tea coincides with the number of names received beforehand. The annual meeting of the Durham and Newcastle Diocesan Association held in Newcastle on 10 October 3rd was one of those rare occasions.

In one other aspect the day was less noteworthy for the general standard of the ringing was not as high as it was on the previous visit to Newcastle in 1962. Ringing in the evening would probably have benefited if an eight-bell alternative tower had been available near the Cathedral. St. John's, back in the programme for the afternoon, were not available in the evening and Gateshead, a traditionally hospitable tower, has suffered the misfortune of having its seventh bell badly cracked by a departing clapper. Jesmond obligingly tried to fill the breach but was probably a bit too far away for some ringers at the end of the day. In the afternoon St. Stephen's, which like St. John's has completed tower repairs since 1962, was open and Fenham completed the list.

The service in the Cathedral was conducted by the Provost, the Very Rev. C. C. Wolters, assisted by the Rev. R. W. Goundry and the organist was Mr. J. L. Keen. The Provost spoke of the development of bells as instruments for calling people to prayer and reminded those who rang the bells that the message applied to them as well. The Association's handbells sounded very well as they were rung after Psalm 150.

The business meeting was held in the Cathedral Library and the attendance was just over fifty. The President, Mr. E. P. Rock, took the chair and welcomed members and visitors from Yorkshire and the local universities. He made pleas for the proper maintenance of bells and a sustained effort in recruitment.

SUBSCRIPTION INCREASE

Reports were presented on the year's work and these were adopted. The Treasurer's statement showed that the financial position had declined and, while there was no cause for alarm, the Committee felt that the time had come to take action to raise the subscription from 4s. to 5s. from September 1st, 1965. The secretary said that the acknowledgments that he received after informing the members who were given Life Membership showed that the award had given much pleasure to the recipients. Unfortunately, one of them, Mr. F. Sheraton, had died during the year and a remarkable membership spanning over 70 years had been brought to a close. Tanfield bells had been restored and the cricket match had been revived in spite of torrential rain earlier on that day. On the debit side there had been the accident to Gateshead's seventh. The Association's handbells had been renovated and a new box for them had been provided by Mr. N. I. Wright and insurance cover had been obtained against loss and damage. It was intended that the bells should be available on loan with suitable safeguards and a charge to defray the insurance premiums.

Instruction collectively and individually was the dominant theme in the Ringing Master's report. Collectively there had been another successful one-day course at Lumley Castle, where the numbers attending and the range of classes had reached new high levels. Individually assistance had been given to the towers of Newburn and Tanfield. Other items included contact with the two theological colleges at Durham and some advice on bells and sound control. He was pleased to note that his pleas at Winton had not fallen on deaf ears and a fund had been launched to restore the bells. The general standard of ringing at meetings had been quite good.

39 PEALS

The peal report recorded 39 peals (5 on handbells). 69 ringers had taken part with Messrs. A. R. Patterson and F. Ross the leaders with 19 each. The leading conductors were Messrs. J. A. Ainsworth 6, and E. N. Harrison and A. R. Patterson 5 each. There had been 5 first peals and Mr. M. Maughan had scored his first as conductor, 19 Minor methods in hand set a new record and Double Norwich rung silent at Darlington was another noteworthy peal. The meeting expressed its appreciation of Miss M. E. Murcott's very fine effort in bringing the peal record up to date by typing well over 400 reports in the new style that had been introduced to replace the elaborate hand-written records of the earlier peal books.

The officers were re-elected en bloc and the list for 1964-65 is therefore: President, E. P. Rock; secretary, D. A. Bayles; treasurer, E. N. Harrison; ringing master, K. Arthur; editorial secretary, Miss M. E. Murcott; auditor, F. Ainsley; trustees, T. Cooke and N. I. Wright.

District officers were confirmed as follows: Northern, chairman G. S. Deas, secretary Miss I. Thomson; Southern, chairman F. W. Cooke, secretary Miss J. Warwick; Eastern, chairman R. Bell, secretary W. F. Sheraton; Western, chairman W. Tyson, secretary H. P. Thompson.

Meetings arranged for 1965 were: Social, Chester-le-Street, January 2nd; Ringing Course, Lumley Castle, March 20th; Half-yearly, Gosforth, May 29th; Annual, Darlington, September 25th.

Thirteen new members were elected, four coming from Jesmond, and three from West Hartlepool and one each from Benfieldside, Chester-le-Street, Consett, Darlington, Fenham and Tanfield.

The Committee decided to grant five guineas from the Bell Restoration Fund to Winton and to do the same for Shincliffe if the proposals there go ahead. D.A.B.

TORRE, TORQUAY, RINGERS' OUTING

Thanks to excellent arrangements made by their captain, Mr. K. E. Fursdon, the Torre ringers had an enjoyable outing into East Devon on October 31st, when they were accompanied by friends from Babbacombe, Buckfastleigh and Topsham.

Ringing took place at Sowton (an eight rather difficult to handle), Whimpe, Talaton, Feniton, Buckerill and Awilcombe. A sumptuous tea was provided at Honiton, which was followed by rigging at St. Paul's Church, Honiton.

OUTINGS

ST. JAMES', TAUNTON

For their annual outing into North Devon and Somerset, St. James', Taunton, numbered 27 ringers, there being two absentees. Seventeen were between the ages of 10 and 15; of the 12 ladies, eight were under 15. There were three complete families and with the exception of the curate and his wife, all were being taught by the captain (Mr. R. Beale) and all were members of St. James' Church.

Concerning the outing, J. H. M. writes:

The band rang at Dulverton, Exford, Timberscombe, Luccombe and Selworthy. With names like these one can almost see the well-worn towers set in old-world churchyards. The sad thing is that one can almost smell the faint mustiness, too, for often the voice of the bells is unusual in these days. . . . Ringers have died and no one will train the youngsters. But the lure and affection for the bells was unmistakable: the locals said 'Luvly to yer um again. . . . they baint rung much now,' and the visitors came to tell us of towers in Wales and London and to ring Grandsire or so with us.

TO WOOTTON BASSETT ONCE AGAIN

Every October Ottery St. Mary ringers visit Wootton Bassett, Wilts, to meet again that 'Old Otteregian,' Louis A. Wilson. Although he left Ottery during the 1890's, Louis still regards Ottery as his own tower and his records have been kept up to date in the tower record books.

Despite his 88 years he rings regularly, although he was knocked down by a car a few weeks ago. His strong character and will power gave him strength to partake in the ringing connected with the recent Wootton Bassett broadcast.

On the outward journey there was ringing at Shepton Mallet and Bradford-on-Avon and at Devizes and Castle Cary on the return. Arriving at Wootton Bassett, there was the familiar figure with his stick waiting to greet us warmly, together with the tower captain (Mr. E. Brooks) and the Vicar. Following ringing, which included a touch with our old friend, we were entertained to tea—a really good spread—by him.

Our sincere thanks to those who met us and made us so welcome at each tower visited, and to our Vicar (the Rev. D. Rufus Price) for obtaining the various towers.

OBITUARY

MR. W. T. HOLDING

With regret we record the death in hospital on October 11th, after a short illness, of Mr. William T. Holding, of Crewe, Cheshire.

After having been a member of the band at Christ Church for 60 years it was with reluctance that he retired from active ringing in January, 1960. He served for 30 years as treasurer of the Crewe Branch of the Chester Diocesan Guild, and although he had only rung 18 peals he took a keen interest in the activities of those to whom this aspect of our art appealed.

In his attendance for service ringing he provided an example of which the Exercise in general, and the Chester Diocesan Guild in particular, may well be proud. Throughout his 60 years of ringing he was never late or absent from service ringing on Sunday mornings and evenings.

His service to the Church extended beyond the field of ringing, for he taught for many years in the Sunday School and had held offices of sidesman, parochial church councillor and churchwarden. It was a mark of the esteem in which he was held when so many of his friends from ringing and other circles were present at his funeral, which was conducted by the chairman of the Crewe Branch, the Rev. W. S. Pears.

His genial presence will be sadly missed, particularly at the Branch annual meeting at which he always undertook the duty of proposing the vote of thanks. We are privileged to have known a Christian gentleman; we thank God for the example of his life, and pray that his soul may rest in peace. W. K.

MR. CHARLES DALE

Many friends from numerous voluntary organisations with which he had been connected attended the funeral service for Mr. Charles Dale, Ringing Master at St. Alphege's Church, Solihull, on October 30th. The Rector (Canon Harry Hartley) conducted the service and in a tribute spoke of Mr. Dale's unbounding energies and his high qualities as a churchman and citizen. As the cortege left the church for the interment at Robin Hood Cemetery a course of Grandsire Triples 'in hand' was rung by V. W. Rigg, G. E. Fearn, R. C. Ingram (Master, St. Martin's Guild) and C. W. Bragg. On Sunday evening the bells of the Parish Church were rung half-muffled to the memory of a beloved Master. T. J. W.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD Marlborough Branch

The October meeting of the Marlborough Branch was held at Collingbourne Kingston on October 24th, when the attendance was considerably lower than at recent meetings. In addition to the home tower, six others were represented and, under the direction of the Rev. R. Keeley (Ringing Master), good use was made of the bells. The Guild Service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. G. F. Kidd) with Mr. Colin Ward playing the organ. Tea was taken in the Village Hall, the company being the guests of the Collingbourne ringers, the meal being organised by Mrs. R. Ward and Mrs. A. J. Walker.

At the meeting Mr. George Newman (chairman) paid a tribute to Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, of Marlborough St. Mary's, who are leaving the district for Berkshire. Mr. Brown has served as assistant secretary for the past year and his help has been invaluable during the indisposition of Mr. T. A. Palmer. Both he and Mrs. Brown have been a tower of strength in Marlborough ringing circles, and best wishes from their many friends go with them to their new home.

Mr. Newman also mentioned the loss sustained by the departure of Mr. Alan Keen, of Aldbourne, who had gained a place in the Manchester School of Music. Congratulations and best wishes to Alan also, and to the Ringing Master on scoring his 150th peal, were voiced by the chairman.

Friends will be surprised to see that Mrs. Hairs, who in her younger days was a polished exponent of handbell ringing, is again in the news by ringing in a peal of Stedman Caters. It is 20 years since she last rang Stedman Caters to a peal 'in hand,' and while she makes no secret that she has passed 70 years of age, we are creditably informed that it was a good performance.

Dr. Peter E. North, a ringer at Rotherham Parish Church, is leaving to take up an appointment at Scunthorpe Hospital.

University of London Society of Change Ringers claim to have 15 members on the Central Council.

If O. A. M. will send his name and address to the Editor his letter will be considered for publication.

Mr. Charles A. Pound asks us to make a correction to his letter 'A Go-Ahead District' (page 728). Mr. and Mrs. Reg Jones are still alive and live in the Salisbury district. The phrase should read: 'They are dead keen ringers.'

The G.O.M. of Cheadle, Cheshire, is Mr. A. Frost, who rang in the quarter peal for his 80th birthday. He is still very active, ringing twice on Sundays and practice nights, and also travels around to Guild meetings. He has completed well over half a century of ringing.

In honour of the Queen Mother's visit, a quarter peal was rung on October 27th at Pembroke, which is believed to be the first on the bells. It is certainly the first on the bells by the Sunday service ringers as there was no change ringing in the tower before the present band was formed about four years ago.

To help pay for the restoration of Brisley Parish Church tower, Norfolk, four of the 17th century bells have been sold to John Taylor and Co. The bell which is being kept is dated 1621 and bears the name of Alice Brand, the woman bell founder. The restoration will cost about £3,300, towards which the Historic Churches Preservation Trust are making a grant of £1,500.

BELFRY GOSSIP

An unfortunate accident took place at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, arising from the bolt of the tenor clapper breaking and in falling hitting the crosspiece of the 'H' section of the 11th bell, which was broken. Only the 'Gabriel 8' will be ringable for some time but visitors are still welcome on Monday evenings and Sundays. Messrs. Taylor have the matter in hand.

Congratulations to Mr. James Bennett on ringing his 1,300th peal. His friends rejoice to see him peal ringing again after his recent infirmity.

Mrs. Camidge, a member of the Ampthill band, and her husband have returned to England after 3½ years in Northern Rhodesia. A welcoming quarter was rung on October 28th.

Mr. Ian V. J. Smith informs us that there were two inaccuracies in the peal at Keswick footnotes (page 717). It was Miss Katharine Guy's 25th peal and not Mr. Colin Cook's, and the first peal of Grandsire for these two ringers.

The band who rang the peal at Ringwood on October 28th wish to associate with it Mr. G. 'Ted' Turner. Shortly before the peal he suffered an accident. The ringers thank Mrs. G. Marshallsay for taking his place at less than 24 hours' notice.

The handbell tune ringing introduced into the B.B.C. Midland Regional Home Service programme "Today" on November 5th, was by the former Leigh Sinton Handbell Ringers, Wores. They were using a diatonic ring of 12 bells in D21. The narrative was by Mr. Frank R. Barnett and all the team are members of Worcestershire Association.

Friends of Mr. Leonard Rodmell will be pleased to note that he took part in a quarter peal recently, after being supposedly retired from active participation in ringing, due to ill-health, some two years ago!! We've a sneaking feeling he still gets up at Patrington occasionally, too—you can't keep a good man down! And we were very pleased to have him with us.—R.D.

THE VALIDITY OF PEALS

THE Professor, who is an extremely busy man, takes a bit of nailing down these days; however, I managed to catch him in his cell last week and thereby succeeded in sorting out one or two things which had been troubling me.

I referred to the recent peal 'controversy' and sought his opinion upon the validity of a peal.

'I never look through the peal columns,' he said, 'without wondering by how many the actual number of changes rung differs from those stated at the head of the peal.'

I was shocked.

'Surely,' I protested, 'you are not suggesting that peals which ringers know to be false are published week after week in "The Ringing World."'

'You make the mistake that most ringers make of accepting the number of rows as equivalent to the number of changes. After all, it can be argued that if a single mistake occurs in which two bells clash and are not heard distinctly then at least one particular change has not taken place and the 5,040, say, becomes at once a 5,039! By standards such as these most peals which are published are automatically eliminated as few peals are guiltless of an odd misblow, and so the acceptance of a peal is based upon two factors, (a) tradition and (b) conscience. These two factors, unfortunately, vary from Society to Society, district to district, tower to tower and, in the case of (b) from person to person.'

'The final choice,' I pointed out, 'is quite often that of the conductors.'

'Yes, and with this peculiar species, standards are vastly different. I can recall a peal of Double Norwich on handbells, when the ringing was almost perfect until the last "single" which brought the bells into the plain course and where the two bells making the "single" went the wrong way. The conductor quickly spotted this and in a few violent changes had the bells back in their proper coursing order after which episode the venture was brought to a victorious conclusion. But the conductor rejected the peal almost as vociferously as a few minutes previously he had saved it. "Two bells were crossed for at least half a lead," was his verdict.'

'That seems rather drastic.'

'Perhaps: at any rate I know many conductors who would have included it in their totals with an unruffled conscience.'

'I know of a conductor,' I offered, not to be outdone, 'who called a peal of Spliced Surprise and who discovered afterwards as he was writing out the composition for the benefit of his Society's peal secretary that he had inadvertently substituted a lead of one method for that of another in the composition, which had a similar name and the same lead-ends. I understand he spent several anxious hours and forfeited much sleep in proving the composition. Fortunately it turned out to be true!'

We spent quite a time reciting similar incidents uneasily aware that we were quoting the exceptions to the general rule.

'In the peal on handbells you mentioned earlier,' I said, 'you stated that two bells were crossed. What are your opinions on this subject?'

'Well, of course if two bells are crossed in a peal on any number of bells below eight there must be a repetition of changes, although, as I have already inferred, there could be the correct number of rows. With eight or more, even though it is possible in certain cases that there may not have been a repetition of rows, the changes have not been produced according to the laws of change-ringing and therefore the touch is false. Now I know that some conductors have self-made rules (or traditional ones) such as: so long as the bells are changed back before the treble leads again, or before the two bells go down to the front, or before the next bob is called, or before the course-end is reached, then the ringing can be allowed to continue. The length of time between the two bells being crossed and put right again is proportional to the sensitivity of the conscience of the conductor, or the tradition of the locality. It shouldn't of course, depend upon either seeing that a "swap" of two changes is just as bad as a "swap" of two courses—both are false!'

'What are you trying to do—make more space in "The Ringing World"?''

'No, just state the truth. I think that most of the peals which appear are of a reasonable standard although I do know of certain ones that have been brought round with the injunction, "This should be all"!'

'I hope you have never rung in such a one!'

'No, I have no patience with a ringer who takes part in a peal and then complains afterwards either that it was badly struck or that he knew it was "on the fiddle." The answer is, literally, in his own hands—he should set his bell and say why he has done so.'

'I can't imagine such a ringer becoming popular.'

'About as popular as one who complains afterwards in "The Ringing World,"' remarked the Professor dryly, 'But peal ringing can easily degenerate into a selfish hobby in pursuit of which, therefore, we must at least endeavour to continually keep our standards high.'

With which noble thought and divided infinitive, echoing in my mind. I left him.

Worcestershire and Districts Association's Annual Dinner

THE 27th annual dinner of the Worcestershire and Districts Association was held on October 24th at the Co-operative Hall in Worcester. The attendance was a little disappointing this year, being down to 85, which is a big drop from the 200 of a few years ago or last year's 130.

In the chair was the Association's president, the Dean of Worcester (the Very Rev. R. L. P. Milburn) supported by the Master, Mr. W. B. Cartwright, and clerical vice-president, the Rt. Rev. C. E. Stuart (Assistant Bishop of Worcester).

Following the loyal toast, the chairman called on the principal speaker of the evening, Mr. F. W. Perrens, hon. librarian of the Central Council. Mr. Perrens first of all conveyed to his hosts the fraternal greetings of his own Guild, the Coventry Diocesan Guild, and said how happy he and his wife were to have the opportunity of visiting Worcestershire once again and meet some of his old friends and, he hoped, make some new ones.

He then recalled his early ringing days in the towers around the Worcestershire-Staffordshire border. There were some first-class Surprise bands in this area and his only hope of standing in a peal was if the band met one short, so that he would always turn up just in case! Mr. Perrens said that these ringers set a very high standard which the younger ringers of to-day must try to maintain.

Turning to the activities of the Central Council, Mr. Perrens said that they were not only concerned with peal ringers, as some people thought. One of the most active committees was the Sunday Service Ringing and Education Committee. The Council's publication, 'The Beginners' Handbook,' was a best seller.

The latest publication was a recruiting leaflet and Mr. Perrens produced a copy and said that he had brought a supply with him and hoped that anyone interested would obtain one. A tower should aim to have twice as many ringers as bells, and this leaflet, exhibited in the right place, had already brought in many recruits.

Mr. Perrens once again thanked the Association for their kind invitation and hospitality and then proposed the toast 'The Worcestershire and Kindred Associations.'

The response to the toast was made by Mr. John C. Eisel, Ringing Master of the Northern Branch, who thanked Mr. Perrens for his kind remarks towards the Association.

The toast of 'The Chairman' was proposed by Mr. W. B. Cartwright, who said how pleased the members were that the Dean was able to be with them that evening. The Dean was not just a figurehead but was very interested in the Association and its affairs.

In reply, the Dean thanked Mr. Cartwright for the kind things he had said. He then asked if the members knew why they were called campanologists and traced the derivation of the word for them. Turning to present day events, he said that he was glad that there were so many young people now learning the art. So long as this continued then there was little chance of the human element in bell-ringing being replaced by an electronic one. It was a good thing that the Exercise, through the Central Council, had been taking positive steps such as the recruiting leaflet.

Following the speeches the company was entertained by professional artistes. Robert Lunn and Edna mystified the company with some dazzling illusions, and amusement was provided by Bernie Landy 'miming his own business.'

BELFRY MAINTENANCE

MR. FIDLER'S reference to the above in his recent letter, in which he expresses surprise at the little interest so many ringers take in bell maintenance, prompts me to submit these notes. Perhaps others may have useful ideas to contribute and so stimulate interest further.

Where bells are used a lot, raised and lowered two or three times a week and have a fair weight, rope maintenance is a regular task. Ropes need to be moved an inch or two, frequently, to avoid excessive wear at the garter hole, and eventually the few feet of rope which bend sharply over the pulleys, to and fro, become limp and need cutting out. When this is done it is a good idea to insert a short length of nylon or terylene (two or three feet) to cover the area normally worn by the effect of the garter hole. As nylon fibres are very smooth, it is advantageous to brush on some codylax at the splice.

Whilst long splices are better where a rope goes over a pulley, they take up more rope than a short splice. If a short splice is smoothly tapered it will run smoothly over pulleys. To taper a short splice, do three threadings on all three strands in both directions, then cut off one-third of each strand; do one more complete threading, then cut off half of the remaining strands and do final threadings.

If the rope is very tight it is sometimes difficult to thread the strands and I have made myself a special 'spike' for this purpose. The end opposite the point is hollow and when using it I push it almost through the rope, then insert the strand to be threaded into the hollow rear end and pull the spike through from the pointed end. The strand is thus easily threaded through the tightest of ropes. Spikes can be made to suit any size of rope, and for threading complete tail ends. First obtain a length of seamless metal tube of suitable length. Saw a 'V' out of one end so that the end is somewhat like a clothes peg. Now close the two parts of this 'V' in a vice or by other means and have the point brazed or soldered together and filed up smooth. The end will now be a flattened point somewhat like a longish bird's beak. This is now a light and useful tool in rope maintenance.

PIGEON MENACE

Another problem faced by many steeplekeepers is the presence of pigeons or other birds. In a large town pigeons are often a real nuisance. Some local authorities have pigeon traps installed on public buildings. Some traps consist of a small box with a strong wire grill hinged at the top of two opposite ends of the box. The grill can swing inwards but not outwards. Thus once inside the bird cannot usually escape. Corn is used for bait. A large trap about six feet by six feet by three feet high made of laths and wire netting is, I believe, used by people who may need to trap various species of birds. Birds can fly in downwards through an opening but a thin strip of wood, sloping at 45 degrees, prevents their escape. The disposal of trapped birds is a problem. Ringed ones can be returned to the owners from whom they have strayed, but wild ones present humane and legal difficulties.

If copper mesh and galvanised iron wire grids are installed, the pigeons often transfer their affection from the tower to the warmer parts of the fabric and by their filth disfigure the fabric. Feeding by misguided people encourages more pigeons. A constant battle must be waged by destroying nests and eggs to prevent breeding.

I have known pigeons to be driven away from their favourite roosting places by having an old fishing net draped over the area and tacked to the wall at the bottom. Here again, it should not be possible for pigeons to be injured by the net for humane and legal reasons. The principle is the same as cotton over lettuce seeds to deter birds. It is very effective. A few pigeons can be tolerated but if they number several score obviously something has to be done.

Other problems face the steeplekeeper and I hope shortly to write about that of sound

N. CHADDOCK.

Unflagging Zeal made Mr. J. W. Cotton the 27th to Ring 1,000 Peals

ON Tuesday, October 6th, as already reported, Joe Cotton, the well-known and well-loved Midland ringer, and secretary of the Midland Counties Guild since its formation in 1946, achieved his 1,000th peal, of Overseale Surprise Major, at his home tower, Overseale, Derbyshire, where 44 years earlier he had rung his first peal.

Mr. Cotton began his ringing career when the new war memorial octave was placed in Overseale tower in 1919, and learning to handle a bell at nearby Netherseale, the new team made rapid progress, and the first peal, December 20th, 1920, only a year later, was by the local band, being Grandsire Doubles with cover bells, all except the conductor, William Clayfield, having learned to ring since the new bells were planned.

At this time Joe lived at Gresley, and would cycle several hilly miles twice each Sunday to join the team. Three years later he rang his first peal of Triples 'inside,' under the conductorship of Maurice Swinfield (thus providing a link with the famous 'Wednesday Band,' ringing six peals with the veteran James George). In 1927 he conducted his first peal, at Netherseale (Grandsire Doubles), and in 1932 Overseale was again the scene of his first of Triples as conductor.

Joe was by no means a young man when his more prolific and ambitious ringing career came to fruition, and those who know and have rung in his company acknowledge with admiration that his unflagging zeal to arrange peals of an advanced standard in an area not easily accessible from the main ringing centres of the present day has brought the personal success it richly deserved, and has given great encouragement to many a young ringer wishing to improve, with consequent lasting benefits to the cause of ringing in the Burton-Trent district.

His work as District secretary of the old Midland County Association and above all his enthusiastic work as hon. secretary of the new Guild, and its Central Council representative from its inception, having attended every Central Council meeting, have augmented the benefits of his actual ringing to all concerned, and it is unthinkable to imagine the M.C.G. without Joe, though the Guild hopes to look forward thankfully to his warm personality at the helm for many years to come.

OTHER CHURCH DUTIES

He has not allowed his ringing to crowd out other Church duties, for he was for several years vergier and clerk to Overseale Church, then became a parochial church councillor and sidesman, and treasurer of the Church Hall funds. He has been secretary of the Overseale tower from 1923 to the present day, and organised many enjoyable outings for the tower and friends before the last war. He has a wife, son and two daughters who are able to ring, and the tower could raise a 'Cotton' band if necessary!

The list of 1,000 peals contains an interesting selection, including the rare achievement of the 'Alphabet' to Surprise Royal and, almost, the letter 'U' being unfortunately missing, the same to Surprise Major. Though not a prolific conductor, he has a respectable total of 57, and more than half of these are in the realm of Triples, which is found so inscrutable by so many of our present-day conductors born and bred on even-bell methods! The peals were rung in 110 towers, and the totals in some in the M.C.G. area, where he has 'circled' some towers several times, are notably high, particularly 286 at the Bell Foundry Campanile, a total exceeded by very few, 86 at Overseale, 71 at Netherseale, 70 at

MR. JOSEPH W. COTTON.

Measham and 35 at Whitwick. He has rung 11 peals in 10 Irish towers, and had a pull at all the towers in Northern Ireland, and nearly all in the Republic. His most distant outing was long ago in 1931, when he joined the memorable Menin Gate Tour. Other noteworthy peals were: Three peals of London Surprise Major in three counties in one day; four-in-a-day at the Foundry; and the privilege of ringing in the late Ernest Morris' 2,000th peal, Morriston Surprise Royal, at Loughborough. Three false performances were also completed in addition to the 1,000 peals.

All will join in congratulating Joe on his determined and faithful achievements, and wish him many a happy peal to come; his straightforward sincerity and warmth of personality continue to bring pleasure to all who have the privilege to know him and ring in his company.

LONDON UNIVERSITY AND THE FUTURE

Miss Elizabeth Farrow has edited and produced for the University of London Society of Change Ringers an attractive annual report and a list of members.

The president (Mr. David Martin), in his report covering 1958-64, writes: 'For me the biggest surprise of my five and a half years of office is that at the end of it London University is still constituted pretty much as it was at the beginning. It is a great tribute to English conservatism, but I doubt whether it will hang on much longer, especially as we are now in the post-Robbins era. Indeed, we now know that Northampton C.A.T. is to become a separate university next year and a split up into two or more universities in London in the near future seems to me to be inevitable. This will obviously pose problems for this Society and I will gladly leave these to my successor.'

King's Norton-by-Gaulby Peal

Dear Sir,—I, too, would like to congratulate the band on ringing Cambridge Major at the above church, as they were a rough lot in 1926. As my friend Norman Bagworth comments (page 744), the Sherwood Youths rang a peal there on Saturday, December 4th, 1926. 5,040 Stedman Triples, in three hours and five minutes. The band stood as follows: Fred Blood 1, Albert Coppock 2, Ernest Morris 3, Walter Whitehead 4, William Clarke 5, Frederick Salter 6, Frederick Bailey 7, Perceval Bruce 8. Conducted by Albert Coppock. The footnote: Specially arranged and rung to commemorate the 150th anniversary year of the first peal on these bells by the Sherwood Youths on May 28th, 1776. Only one other peal has been rung on these eight bells, viz., June 4th, 1816, by the Leicester Scholars.

Of the Stedman band of 1926 only three remain—W. Whitehead, F. Bailey and myself.—Yours, etc.,

FREDERICK A. SALTER.

St. Peter's, Nottingham.

Dear Sir,—Without wishing to appear ultra-critical, I would like to correct a small detail in Mr. Norman Bagworth's letter. On November 7th, 1956, a peal of Braunstone Surprise Major was rung in 3 hours 23 minutes in which the writer was privileged to have been included.

The band was: B. G. Warwick 1, W. Thornley 2, E. Morris 3, J. A. Acres 4, B. S. Chapman 5, S. J. Haines 6, E. J. Jelley 7, J. M. Jelley 8. Unfortunately the two Ernests are no longer with us, namely, E. Morris and E. J. Jelley.

I apologise in advance if this letter gives the impression of belittling the peal of October 3rd and the band who obviously had to work for this one. Believe me, any peal scored on these gloriously-toned bells is earned, they are not 'kids' stuff.—Yours, etc.,

S. J. HAINES.

Wigston Magna, Leics.

Peal at Geddington

Dear Sir,—I was interested to read the account of the peal at Geddington (page 752) rung by members of the Southwell Diocesan Guild. Knowing these bells extremely well, I venture to query the time taken—2 hours and 27 minutes.

The bells are rung from the ground floor and there are no sally guides. They are a very fine ring of five and sound at their best when rung at a steady pace. Peals on them in the past have taken about 2 hours and 50 minutes.

There has been no regular service band at Geddington for a number of years, and the last time I rang there the bells (which were last rehung about 1905) went quite well, but not all that well for a good peal to be achieved in the time reported.—Yours truly,

B. F. MORRIS.

Ashbourne, Derbys.

Memorial to Albert Walker

Dear Sir,—Reading through 'The Ringing World' of November 6th, I notice that the memorial tablet to the late Albert Walker has now been unveiled.

I am sure it would be very interesting to other old ringing friends of Albert's, as well as to myself, if the wording on the tablet could be published as I doubt if many of us will ever see this memorial.

May I also ask what amount of money was donated; also, have all the donors received their receipts?—Yours sincerely,

HECTOR G. BIRD.

A Go-ahead District

Dear Sir,—Having read Mr. Pound's letter in your recent issue, one is tempted to consider what has prompted him to eulogise the activities of the Alton and Petersfield District to such a degree.

Whilst it is good to see commendation of certain members mentioned in his letter, it is perhaps of moderate interest only to ringers nationally, and one cannot help but feel that if Mr. Pound is going to bring the activities of his District to the attention of ringers everywhere, he should at least present a more balanced view.

There is no doubt that Mr. Bassett's name is widely respected, and all of us who have rung with him are indeed appreciative of his efforts, particularly in encouraging young ringers and guiding them through peals, etc. It is unfortunate on the other hand that Mr. Pound makes no mention of the fact that for a considerable time there has been no regular band in his own tower at Hawkley, and that in fact the bells are generally rung by visiting bands for peals and quarter peals.

Again, whilst it is greatly to the credit of the Liss ringers that they have struggled valiantly against village opposition—opposition encouraged considerably by an incumbent who has in the past told me exactly what he thinks of his ringers and their bells—it is a pity that Mr. Pound does not present the other side of the picture in mentioning the case of East Meon. Here we have another local tower but which rarely, if ever, receives assistance from neighbouring ringers who, having been helped themselves through rounds and Grandsire Doubles, are now more concerned with Surprise ringing and peals than with helping others through the initial stages. At East Meon there is an enthusiastic but small young band. The bells are a heavy octave, becoming increasingly difficult to handle, but to hear ringers from some of the towers mentioned in Mr. Pound's letter remark that it is a waste of their time to go to East Meon, since the band is going to pieces there, making one wonder if these same ringers are as concerned in making their District as go-ahead as Mr. Pound would have us believe.

I agree entirely with all that Mr. Pound says, and endorse his commendation of the ringers mentioned, but in fairness I think it should also be mentioned that the District is not without its 'I'm all right Jack' attitude in certain quarters, with a regrettable tendency to leave a sinking ship.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN E. CLARK.

Haslemere, Surrey.

An Apology

Dear Sir,—I very much regret that I said hurtful and perhaps incorrect remarks to Mr. Ian M. Holland at Dronfield practice on Tuesday, November 3rd, and wish sincerely to apologise re the same and thank Mr. I. M. Holland for his great calmness and advice. Hoping this will prevent any misunderstanding.—Yours very sincerely,

AMBURN C. WILSON.

Dronfield, Woodhouse, Sheffield.

ARCHDEACONRY OF HALIFAX GUILD

A well-attended meeting of the Archdeaconry of Staffordshire Guild, held at Armitage Bridge Parish Church on November 7th, was representative of all age groups. Mr. P. Birkett presided. Mr. E. Hudson thanked the local ringers and their helpers for the excellent tea provided. He in turn was congratulated on gaining his 400th tower. The meeting appointed Messrs. P. Birkett and D. Smith as delegates to help form the proposed Joint Council of Yorkshire Societies of Ringers.

Ringings included St. Oswald, Woodbine and the more well-known Minor methods. W. M.

Worcester Cathedral Bells

Dear Sir.—With reference to the recent correspondence on the bells of Worcester Cathedral, I have in the last few days unearthed some data on the old and new rings of 12 hung in the Cathedral tower. This data was given to me some 15 years ago by the late C. A. Binyon, O.B.E., who introduced me to the art of bell-ringing.

On page 665 of R.W., Mr. Slater tells us in his interesting letter on Worcester Cathedral bells that, after the sale of what remained of the original ring of 8 bells, nothing else of interest happened until 1868. However, the data below quotes the casting dates of the 6th and 9th of the old ring of 12 as being 1864. So if one assumes that this information is correct, perhaps the initial response to the appeal launched by the Rev. Cattle in 1864 proved sufficient to start the recasting work—or was it as a security for the founder? Perhaps we shall never know the answer to this one.

The details of the old and new rings, together with data on the semi-tone and bourdon bells, I have shown below, since a comparison of the two rings with their very different designs may be of some interest to readers.

MOLLAND'S BIG DAY

MOLLAND is one of those delightful, sequestered little Devon villages which time seems to have passed by. The church is famous for one of the most perfectly-preserved early-18th century interiors of the country, with its box pews, 3-decker pulpit with a huge sounding-board topped by a gilded angel, its balustered gallery under the tower, clear glass and plastered ceilings. The tower contains one of the most interesting rings of bells in the county, too; the old five had a mid-15th century Bristol tenor, a very fine bell of about 13 cwt.; a 3rd by Thomas Gefries, also of Bristol, early 16th-century; a 2nd whose inscription was made with a squeeze from a monumental brass reading 'Here lies Master John Cooke' backwards, dated 1595 and cast, so the Wardens' Accounts show, by one William Proshew in North Molton; a 4th by Wroth of Wellington, dated 1709 and reproducing a pre-Reformation inscription (probably at the behest of the Courtenays, whose arms it bears, the Roman Catholic Lords of the Manor), and a treble by Mears and Stainbank, all hung in a fine oak frame by Frank White, of Appleton.

But even if time has passed by Molland in its fold of the Exmoor foothills, life has certainly not. The pub has quite an extensive zoo which anyone may walk round for nothing; and the village has a liveliness and energy which many towns might envy.

For the past year or so this life and energy has been focused on the bells, and all came to a triumphant climax on October 30th, when the Bishop of Exeter came to dedicate the new treble and to rededicate the whole restored ring.

It has cost Molland about £2,000 to have the foundation-timbers of the frame replaced by steel girders, the bells rehung in iron headstocks, the old 3rd (cracked by a rusted crown-staple) recast, and a new treble added. As there was not room for six on one level, nor headroom for one bell above the frame, the 4th has been hung in an iron and steel frame below the rest and she speaks out surprisingly well from that position.

The people of Molland (there are only about 250 of them) made a wonderful day of it. The church was crammed to the doors when the Bishop rededicated the ring and the Knowstone ringers chimed them round; there was a huge marquee in the old school playground, with stalls and sideshows and skittles; a wonderful team of ladies served hundreds of splendid teas in the Church Hall, and Devon's newest six rang throughout the afternoon and evening to the admiration of ringers from near and far. By the end of the day the people hoped that they would have got the last £200—all they needed for the work. The rest they had raised since September of last year.

Some knowledgeable people are in the habit of talking about 'our dying rural communities'. They will find that for generations to come the bells of Molland will be testifying to the fact that in 1964 this community was very much alive. J.G.M.S.

SOLIHULL'S NEW RINGING MASTER

On November 11th a meeting of the Solihull Church ringers was held, at which the Rector of Solihull (Canon Harry Hartley) was present. Owing to the lamented death of Mr. Charles Dale it was necessary to appoint a new Ringing Master. Mr. Thomas J. Warner was unanimously chosen to fill this office—Mr. George E. Fearn was appointed Deputy Ringing Master. Mr. Vincent W. Rigg was re-elected secretary (an office performed by Vincent for the past 19 years) and Mr. Richard Cann was re-elected towerkeeper.

The oldest member of the band, Mr. William Leeson, has now completed 64 years as a ringer at Solihull.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Lewisham District

The annual meeting of the Lewisham District was held at the Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Farningham, on October 24th, and attracted some 50 members and friends.

Mr. David Manger was in charge of ringing in the afternoon and under his guidance courses and touches of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Bob Minor and Cambridge and Norwich Surprise were rung. The Vicar of Farningham, the Rev. D. Campbell, conducted the service, and Mr. Edwin Barnett read the lesson.

After a splendid tea, tables were cleared and the company rearranged themselves for the business meeting, chaired by Mr. E. A. Barnett. The secretary's report showed a small decrease in membership compared with 1963, and some 50 members less than the 1962 total. It was particularly disturbing to note that the number of junior members had fallen from 33 in 1962 to 12. A total of 26 peals rung in the District was reported, including 37 Spliced Surprise Minor and Stedman Caters at Cudham. Kemsing and Cots-wold Surprise Major were rung for the first time. The number of quarter peals increased from 41 to 49.

Miss Mary Andrews was unanimously re-elected District secretary, and Miss Freda Cannon and Mrs. Olive Barnett were returned as the District's representatives. Mr. Tony Lewis and Mr. Paul Smith were nominated for the office of Ringing Master; and on a show of hands Mr. Lewis obtained a comfortable majority and was duly elected. Mr. John Faircloth was elected 'Ringing World' representative. The meeting closed with the usual votes of thanks.

Ringing was then resumed with the new Ringing Master ensuring that all tastes were catered for, and a discerning passer-by would have recognised Plain Bob, St. Clement's, Single Oxford, Cambridge, London and a final touch of Spliced. J. D. F.

A Glorious Christmas Gift

Here, without doubt, is the perfect present for every true bell enthusiast. E. C. Shepherd, a well-known contributor to these pages, has at last written a book ranging over the whole field of bell-ringing. Quite apart from his expert knowledge this is no ordinary book. It is, in fact, a book which has added a further dimension to reading — the dimension of sound. Each book contains a high fidelity recording of peals from both famous cathedrals and humbler towers, including the famous first peal of Stedman

Caters rung at Washington Cathedral. In 108 knowledgeably-written pages (including eight full-page illustrations) Mr. Shepherd covers the origins and evolution of bell-ringing, and also deals with hand-bell ringing and the art of the carillonneur. Here is a book no bell-lover can afford to miss. The cost is 25/- (plus 1/- postage and packing). Please send cheque or p.o. with your order to

725 MILES PER TOWER or Canadian Campanologists' Convention

CANADA is a very long way from Texas, where everything is supposed to be 'The Biggest,' but nevertheless distances between cities in this country tend to be great. It was, therefore, with no small amount of apprehension that four ringers from Calgary set out on a tower grab to Vancouver, some 700 miles to the west across the Rockies. The date was Friday, October 9th, 1964, the time 7 p.m., and the transportation a 1958 Ford station wagon. Fortunately, three out of the four held driver's licences and were able to take turns at the wheel. Thus we were able to keep moving throughout the night, with only periodic stops for gas (sorry, petrol) and coffee.

Vancouver was reached about 10 a.m. next day, much to everyone's relief, and we made tracks for the beautiful home of Jeff White, where we were greeted with an abundant supply of yet more coffee, and allotted to our various accommodation for the stay. Wasting no time, we were ringing at the Cathedral of the Holy Rosary soon after 2 p.m. These bells are somewhat of a mixture, some being French in origin. However, considering that they are hung on plain bearings, they go exceedingly well, and are a credit to those responsible for their maintenance.

They did prove to be rather a handful for two of our number from Calgary, who are used to our own light eight, especially as this was the first opportunity that either had had to ring outside their home tower. Methods rung here included Grandsire Triples, Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Oxford Bob Triples (for some reason known only to the Vancouver band) and of course rounds. Supper on Saturday was taken at the Barkworth residence, and since this was Thanksgiving Week-end, this naturally consisted of roast turkey, and most acceptable it was too.

MISSION CITY

Sunday dawned fine, much to the surprise of the contingent from the Prairies, all of whom firmly believe that it rains far more frequently in Vancouver than it does in England. By 10.30 a.m. we were once more at work on the bells of the Holy Rosary, ringing them for half an hour before the 11 a.m. Mass. Following this we set course for Mission City to try our hand on the ring of 10 which is to be found there, at Westminster Abbey. This is a monastery set on the top of a hill in the Fraser Valley, and commanding a most glorious view. From the ringing chamber window the Fraser Valley can be seen stretching away to the north-east, with the river of the same name winding its way to the sea. On either side of the valley are the Rocky Mountains, crowned in the south by the snow-capped peak of Mount Baker in the States. The bells that hang in this tower are an equally fine ten, which are probably the only bells which are rung to changes every day. The monks have their own band, which is under the able leadership of Father Dunstan, and they ring every day before Mass.

We were met on arrival by Father Dunstan and conducted on a tour of the building, and it was during this that we realised that we were in the presence of an exceptionally talented man, for most of the art work to be found there is of his hand. It does not matter if he is painting a picture, designing and casting concrete blocks for a ceiling, making pottery figures to decorate a fireplace, or conducting a touch of Grandsire Triples, Father Dunstan is in his element. We had the privilege of ringing here an hour and a half, and this time the ringing also included Grandsire Triples but this was not to be, as the writer found that an absence of 2½ years from the method is sufficient to make one forget the difference between 'Quick' and 'Slow.'

Sunday was brought round by a get-together at the home of Jeff White, where we sat and talked ringing, listened to tape recordings of the bells of Christ Church, Calgary, and St.

Wulfram's, Grantham, and enjoyed some more excellent turkey until the early hours.

A start was made on the long road home at 9 a.m. on Monday, and we finally made it by 11 p.m., all somewhat tired and exhausted, but having enjoyed every minute of our stay in Vancouver.

It now only remains to thank publicly our hosts, the Vancouver ringers in general, and in particular Jeff and Jean White, Mary and Delia Barkworth, and family, and Ron and Edith Hyatt who provided the accommodation, and to remind them that there is a dozen of beer to be provided by whichever tower, Vancouver or Calgary, which does not score the first peak. We in Calgary are going to enjoy drinking it.

J. M. SIMPSON.

THE SOUND OF BELLS

A comprehensive study of bellringing unique in character has been published by Record Books, Limited. This book, entitled 'The Sound of Bells,' written by Edgar C. Shepherd, incorporates a completely new dimension in sound as well as vision—by linking the book to a record which in this case demonstrates different rings of bells, some from famous cathedrals, as well as an indication of the art of the carillonneur, and of tune ringing on handbells. The book is in four parts and covers the history of bells and bellringing, the growth of change ringing, eye witness accounts of notable occasions and a description of some well-known ringing towers.

The author, Mr. Shepherd, is the former Master of St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham and convener of the Literature and Press Committee of the Central Council. He is a man well versed in the art of bellringing, having had over 50 years' experience. At present he represents the Salisbury Diocesan Guild on the Diocesan Advisory Committee on Faculties and the Care of Churches.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION Eastern Branch

Mr. P. Kindred had prepared a splendid tea for the meeting of the Eastern Branch at Pakefield in September and the service was conducted by Canon D. N. G. Bringlee (Rector).

At the meeting Mr. H. W. Barrett paid a tribute to Mr. Neville Brown, of Ashby St. Mary, who had died since the last meeting. Miss D. Toone (Gorleston) was elected a ringing member, and belfry elections of Mr. T. F. Metcalfe (Flookburgh) and Mr. N. M. Newby (Kirkby-in-Furness) were ratified. Evening quarterly meetings were proposed and started with Ditchingham on October 31st.

Next quarterly meeting, Lowestoft, December 5th. N. P. J. C.

Northern Branch

Members and friends of the Northern Branch in numbers visited Reepham on October 24th. After the service, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. G. H. Hurst), the Buttery seemed to expand its walls at tea-time as over 40 tried to sit down (30 booked). It was, nevertheless, enjoyed.

Two new members—Alan R. Buxton and David House—were elected. Mr. W. R. West reported that four bells were being obtained from St. Margaret's, Norwich, to increase the ring at Holt to six. Difficulty was being experienced in moving these bells as it would necessitate splitting the organ.

The president said he had a pleasant and instructive week-end at Grantley Hall: it was hoped a similar one could be held in Norfolk in the not too distant future.

Ethersett had been offered the annual general meeting in January if Wymondham Abbey was not available. C. B.

ROCHESTER DISTRICT TOUR

OCTOBER is usually an ideal month for ringing outings and it was no exception this year on the first week-end in October, which was the time chosen by the Rochester District, K.C.A., for their coach tour to Somerset and the Bristol area. Leaving Sittingbourne at 6.30, our stopping place for the Friday night in Reading was reached in three hours.

The first tower of the week-end was Hungerford, and the other tower of the morning was the beautifully-toned 17 cwt. six at St. Mary's, Marlborough. A good lunch was enjoyed in the Pump Room in Bath.

We had heard so much about the majesty of Chewton Mendip that some were almost prepared for an anti-climax—but be soon found out for ourselves that everything we had heard was true—our only regret was that we didn't have longer to enjoy the bells.

Gough's cave in the Cheddar gorge was inspected and all were duly impressed, although the gorge itself was to most people, more outstanding. After a ring at Cheddar, we moved on to Congresbury where we were privileged to ring from the brand new belfry floor, which must be a great improvement on the old ground floor ringing chamber. The 35 cwt. eight proved rather too heavy for some, but all agreed that the tone is excellent. Clevedon, the last tower of the day, has light and easy going bells. A touch of Stedman here provided the best ringing of the day. Afterwards a short service was conducted by the Vicar.

The night was spent at Bristol. After breakfast (very rushed by some), everyone was collected on time to ring at Emmanuel, Clifton prior to a service of Holy Communion, held especially for us by the Rev. Rees. A long and picturesque drive through the Cotswolds brought us to Cirencester for lunch. Faringdon, (8, 17 cwt.) was the first tower of the afternoon and the scene of the only ladies' touch of the tour. A run through the Vale of White Horse brought us to the last official tower, Harewell, where the church was most beautifully decorated for Harvest Festival. Cambridge was the best touch here, but in seemingly no time we were being summoned back to the coach again. Tea was partaken by the river at Henley-on-Thames, where afterwards some of us were privileged to ring for Evensong with the local band.

We thank sincerely all incumbents for the use of their bells and local ringers who met us: to Wally Smith who drove so efficiently and above all to Laurie Mitchell, whose meticulous organisation ensured that the tour was an outstanding success. D.M.

FIRST 720 ON KENT FOUR

For years visitors to St. Bartholomew's Church, Waltham, near Canterbury, have concluded that there are only two bells as two very decrepit ropes hang down on the ground floor of the little oblong central tower.

Stahlschmidt's 'Church Bells of Kent' gives four bells, and an unlocked trapdoor enabled the writer to confirm this. Later in the year the bells were inspected and although the third's wheel was broken they were rung up singly and proved better than expected.

On St. Bartholomew's Day (August 24th) the bells were rung in peal for the first time for 30 years, and in October a 720 was rung there in 23 minutes by A. Davies 1, M. Ostler 2, C. Beeching 3, D. Cawley 4. It is hoped that when proper ropes can be purchased regular ringing can be arranged.

All the bells are by Joseph Hatch. The No. 3 bell, however, bears his father's mark and is dated 1602. The weights are approximately 4½ cwt., 5½ cwt., 6 cwt. and 8 cwt. in about A.

The following four-bell towers in Kent are now ringable: Alkham (6½ cwt.), East Langdon (7 cwt.), Newnham (7½ cwt.), Plumstead (7 cwt. 1 qr. 18 lb. in A) and Waltham (8 cwt. in A). There is a possibility that the four at Fordwich are also ringable, but the Vicar isn't! The four steel bells of Bicknor could be rung (with chiming ropes—tenor 2½ cwt.). Recently news has come that the four at Ickham (7½ cwt.) are to be rehung and the No. 3 recast. D.C.L.

A SUSSEX VILLAGE RAISING MONEY FOR ITS BELLS

THE Sussex village of Billingshurst is faced with a big task in raising funds to restore its bells. Pictured here is a scene on the village green where a parish councillor, Mr. J. H. Leaman, makes his donation. Watching is the Vicar, the Rev. R. Evan Hopkins (who will be recalled for his fund-raising activities on behalf of Bow bells), Messrs. Geoffrey Rex, George Francis, Leslie Weller and David Smith. (Photo by Ronald G. Oulds.)

The present bells at Billingshurst date back to 1812, when the six bells were recast by Mears and Stainbank. In 1897 two trebles were added. Trouble started last summer when the sixth disintegrated during practice and two months later the seventh, again on a practice night. While the crash was alarming, it was fortunate that no one was injured. Signs of trouble are patent in two other bells, one of which is cracked, and it is a 'must' that these four bells should be recast, the estimate being £500.

This is the subject of the immediate appeal. A gift day was held, the Vicar sitting beside the papier mâché replica bell on the village green. The replica was skilfully made by pupils of the Weald Secondary School, and Mr. Leslie Weller, who is hon secretary of the fund, and the other ringers pictured above gave performances of handbell ringing during the day.

The Vicar has raised about £105 and the ringers £70. The next effort is a Christmas market.

Mr. Weller is, however, apprehensive about the other two of the 1812 six. Messrs. John Taylor's representative recently inspected the bells and confirmed Mr. Weller's opinion that the whole six should be recast. This will mean raising about £1,200 if Billingshurst is to have a ring of eight in perfect tone to call the village to worship from the picturesque shingled spire.

Billingshurst is a popular tower among Sussex ringers and Mr. Weller feels that those who have an affection for the village will come to their aid by sending gifts to him at Flagstones, Andrew's Hill, Billingshurst.

NORTH STAFFS ASSOCIATION

Joint Meeting With Crewe Branch

A very successful joint meeting between the North Staffs Association and Crewe Branch of the Chester Guild was held at Newcastle (Staffs) on November 7th, being the first of its kind.

About 60 ringers sat down to tea in the Parish Hall, where speeches of welcome were made by the retiring chairman of the North Staffs Association, Mr. G. W. Biddulph, and acceptance by Mr. W. Kerr, of the Chester Guild.

Tea was very ably prepared by a band of pretty 17-year-olds who ring at Newcastle and nearby Woistanton, and who were too shy to take a bow when thanked for their efforts by Mr. D. R. Whalley.

In the course of the afternoon a committee meeting was held by North Staffs members at which Mr. C. S. Ryles was appointed chairman of the Association. The retiring chairman, Mr. Biddulph, was thanked for all the hard work he had put in during his term of office by Mr. R. S. Anderson.

After tea more members arrived and ringing was continued until 9 p.m. with more or less the whole range from rounds to standard and Surprise methods.

A PETERBOROUGH WEDDING

Peterborough ringers were delighted to add their merry sound to the festivities on September 12th, when Wendy Hollowell, a ringer at St. Mary's Church, was married to Raymond H. Daw, the secretary of the Peterborough Branch of the Peterborough Guild. The wedding took place at St. Mary's Church and was solemnised by the Vicar, the Rev. J. H. Butcher. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. J. C. Hollowell, and was attended by Miss Valerie Daw, the bridegroom's sister. Mr. Brian Harris was best man.

The bride, wearing a full-length white brocade dress with an elbow-length veil and carrying a bouquet of orange roses and lilies of the valley, looked very beautiful.

The reception was held at the New Inn, Peterborough, the couple leaving for a honeymoon at Woolacombe.

After the ceremony the bells of St. Mary's were rung and two peals were rung in neighbouring towers during the following week to mark the occasion.

On return from their honeymoon the couple entertained ringers from the Peterborough area at the Prince of Wales Hotel, Castor. After ringing on Castor bells the assembled company did justice to the fare provided and joined once more in wishing Wendy and Ray 'all the best.'

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The St. Albans District held their October meeting at South Mimms, which is in Middlesex until next year. Ringing on the rather tricky six, which are rung from the vestry, covered the standard methods.

Evensong, with full choir and organ, was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. E. P. Clare. Tea, which was attended by the Vicar and Mrs. Clare, was prepared by the local lady ringers under the direction of Mrs. Fost. Miss Julia Fellows proposed all the necessary votes of thanks.

Evening ringing ranging from shaky rounds to well-nigh perfect Bristol took place at Monken Hadley, a tower that Hertfordshire will lose under the Greater London scheme.

OBITUARY

worker. He rang the four standard methods very competently, but we always thought that he enjoyed Stedman Triples more than any other experience. This was clearly the result of his association, more than 50 years ago, with some of the great Birmingham exponents of the method, Bernard Wittchell, Fred Clayton and others, whose influence was felt on the Coleshill and Erdington side of Warwickshire.

When Charles was elected Ringing Master at Solihull Church he was manifestly overcome by what he sincerely held to be a great honour and privilege. His facing up to his responsibilities and his brisk response to the calls of the time showed once again that the Church had here a true Christian servant, and we all realised that we had a tower leader with vision, wisdom and a quiet persistence that invariably carried his point. He succeeded in establishing ringing at three services each Sunday, and in addition to his attendance in the belfry at each of these periods, it was his custom to attend the 8 a.m. Communion and the 6.30 Evensong.

These things have left their mark upon the belfry at Solihull, but what we treasure in our recollections of Charles are his unfailing good nature, his cheerfulness and something indefinable about him that made us feel that he was perpetually grateful to be able to enjoy so many things. Indeed, it was only gradually that we learned how this trait in his character had found expression in the many good and charitable works in which he was so quietly but intimately involved.

Most of all perhaps we shall treasure memories of those little social gatherings when Charles loved to sit back and listen to ringing gossip and tales of old times; and it was then that he would tell us of his days at Coleshill, of the brilliant but irascible Fred Clayton and of many of the goings-on that never appear in ringing papers.

Here was a man who loved deeply and was deeply loved, and his work will not have been in vain. E. C. S.

HASLEMERE, SURREY.—1,260 Grandsire Triples: E. G. Vention 1, F. Bowden (cond.) 2, Mrs. E. Weatherley 3, I. Weatherley 4, Mrs. K. E. E. Bowden 5, Mrs. M. Toms 6, H. Gauntlett 7, R. G. Burford 8.

MR. G. E. SYMONDS LOOKS BACK

STILL secretary of St. Mary-le-Tower Society, Ipswich, of which he has held the position for 43 years, Mr. G. E. Symonds has been delving into the past after 78 years a ringer, and member of the College Youths for nearly 67 years. His 'novelties,' as he calls them, are:

Called 40 of his first peals on tower and handbells.

Called peals of all numbers up to and including 5,184 in the following Major methods: Plain Bob, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob, Oxford Treble Bob.

Called all the odd numbers of Stedman Cinquses from 5,001 to 5,021, also peals of Triples and Caters on tower bells.

In 1926 called Forward Maximus, Duffield Maximus and short course of Bob Maximus, calling 448 bobs and six singles in the three peals.

Called peals on tower bells and handbells from Major to Maximus in the following methods: Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob, Oxford Treble Bob, the last being the first Oxford Maximus for 112 years (on handbells), also Grandsire Triples, Caters and Cinquses. Plain Bob on 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 bells, probably a record.

Called all numbers of Treble Bob Hunt Maximus from 5,040 to 5,280.

Called Treble Bob Maximus in 5, 6, 7 and 8 courses.

Called peals in 15 different Maximus methods in which Mr. C. J. Sedgley and himself rang 15 peals of Superlative Surprise Maximus, presumably a record.

WAKEFIELD CATHEDRAL WEDDING

Mr. Geoffrey Townend and Miss Margaret Brighton, two prominent members of the Wakefield Cathedral Society of Ringers, were married in the Cathedral on Saturday, October 24th.

The ceremony was conducted by the Provost of Wakefield (the Very Rev. P. N. Pare) and as the happy couple left the Cathedral the 12 bells were rung by the rest of the company. A quarter peal of Grandsire Caters was rung on the following day with the very best wishes from all their ringing friends in Wakefield and district.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

The quarterly meeting of the Luton District, held at Leighton Buzzard on October 24th, attracted a very good attendance.

The bells (10) were raised at 3 p.m. and in great variety was enjoyed until 4.30, when about 40 people sat down to an excellent tea, provided by the local ladies.

The district chairman, Rev. R. O. Osborne, presided over the short business meeting, which was followed by a showing of the instructive and enjoyable film 'Ringers Wanted!'

This film, which shows how the problem of recruiting ringers was tackled at Vancouver Cathedral, proved so popular that it was found necessary to have a 'second house.' Hearty thanks were expressed to Mr. T. C. Clapp for his work in obtaining the film and operating the projectors. Afterwards, further ringing from rounds to Cambridge Surprise was enjoyed until 8.30.

Miss V. Willard very kindly acted as ringing master, and visitors were present from places as far apart as London and Lincolnshire. A.E.R.

SUFFOLK GUILD

When the Central District visited Wickham Skeith and Thornham Magna for their quarterly meeting on October 31st members were interested to note the many records of peals rung in these famous towers over 50 years ago. The Rev. F. A. W. Cornish welcomed us at a short service at St. Andrew's Church, Wickham Skeith, and an excellent tea prepared by members of the Women's Fellowship Guild was served in the Village Hall. The chairman, Mr. H. Leather, presided at the business meeting. Mr. R. Lester, Ringing Master, reported on the success of the recent striking competition held at Buxhall, and Mr. A. Beckwith, the Guild hon. secretary, explained the effect of resolutions passed at the last general meeting of the Guild. Ringing continued in a good variety of Minor methods at Thornham Magna until 9 p.m. R. E. L.

THE LADIES' GUILD

Central District

Members of the Central District visited Croydon Parish Church for the quarterly meeting on October 30th. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m. and continued until 4.30 p.m., when the Vicar (Canon W. Warren Hunt) conducted the service.

After the excellent free tea, provided by Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Collins, the vice-president, Mrs. Lock, thanked the Vicar, the organist, Mrs. Collins and her helpers. The men present then left and showed that they were domestically well trained by kindly washing up.

At the meeting the Misses Joyce Barton and Ruby Myllys were elected members and it was decided to hold the next quarterly meeting on May 29th at either Reading or Stoke Poges. Members and visitors then returned to the belfry and ringing continued to 8.30 p.m. in methods ranging from rounds to Cambridge Royal and Stedman Cinquses.

Next meeting: District annual general meeting at Wood Green on January 30th.

HUTTON RINGERS' OUTING

Hutton ringers with friends from neighbouring towers selected Kent for their annual outing this year, the Thames being crossed by the Dartford—Purfleet tunnel. Ringing started at Faversham with call changes and Bob Major. A look round Canterbury and a picnic lunch followed. The lovely tone of Wickhambreaux bells pleased all. Treble Bob methods were rung on the heavy six at Herne, and a fish tea was enjoyed at the Bay Cafe, Herne Bay. Our final tower contained the six at Whitstable.

R. G. J.

MISTLEY, ESSEX.—On October 26th, 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: K. Brand (first quarter) 1, Gillian Brown 2, Rita Peck 3, Walter Ayre 4, A. E. Honeywood, 5, U. Wildney (cond.) 6. Birthday compliment for ringers of 1 and 2.

MR. CLAUDE RUSH DELVES INTO 'CHURCH BELLS'

Vol. XI, Advent, 1880 - Advent, 1881

ST. LUKE'S, FARNWORTH, WIDNES, LANCs.

1st May, 1881.—Ringing with bells fully muffled as a token of respect to the late Mr. J. Parr, veteran ringer and conductor, who died 29th April in his 80th year. Tenor 12½ cwt.

OXFORD UNIVERSITY SOCIETY OF CHANGE-RINGERS

7th June, 1881.—720 Grandshire Minor on Seage's Gong Apparatus at New College in 29 minutes. Tenor about 15 cwt.

LAVENHAM, SUFFOLK

21st June, 1881.—The 69th anniversary of augmentation of this ring from 6 to 8. Seventy ringers dined in a marquee at the Cock Inn. 'Church Bells' adds, 'We congratulate the Lavenham Church people for keeping their tower and bells in thoroughly good order.'

MONK'S ELEIGH, NEAR LAVENHAM, SUFFOLK

20th June, 1881.—The gudgeons of the 18 cwt. tenor of the ring of 6 broke during ringing, the bell falling wedged between the timbers. 'This bell is well known to Suffolk people and to strangers as being a very fine-tuned bell which, considering her being only 18 cwt., is nearly equal to Lavenham.'

JASPER W. SNOWDON'S BOOKS

On 2nd July, 1881 he wrote, 'Ropesight' should be in the hands of every beginner; 'Standard Methods' in the possession of every ringer; Part I of the 'Treatise on Treble Bob' in the hands of everyone who aspires to prove or compose a peal and is not already thoroughly qualified to do so; and Part II is absolutely necessary to every Treble Bob composer or conductor who wishes to test the originality of any composition.

CHESTER CATHEDRAL AND COMPOSITIONS

25th June, 1881.—The Chester Cathedral Society of Change-ringers met, by arrangement, Rev. C. D. P. Davies from the parish church, Whitchurch, and rang 2,520 Grandshire Triples in 1 hour 45 minutes. Tenor 33 cwt. in C. 'This is the first occasion upon which a minister of the church has taken part in change-ringing on the Cathedral bells and it is hoped that many more will follow his example.'

Charles A. W. Troyte attacks Mr. Freeman Ball, of Chester, about the composition rung at Chester Cathedral. 'I should be inclined to call it a more or less ingenious adaptation of my old friend 'Holt's Ten-part.' I do not think it fair to call this sort of thing a composition. A man might as well call himself the composer of a piece of music because he had written out Handel's 'Messiah' beginning at the second part and ending up at the end of the first part.'

Mr. Ball refuted this and called Mr. Troyte's manner 'anything but courteous' . . . and he must have been very angry when he wrote his letter. 'He said that his composition was the result of about 8 years' study. 'Surely we have at the present day as clever composers and ringers as ever in the days of Holt; as, for instance, we have Lockwood of Leeds, Johnson of Birmingham, Haley of London, Snowdon, Hubbard, Softinstall and others too numerous to mention, and I trust that when my friend takes up his mighty and wieldy pen to strike he will do so with courtesy.'

Jasper W. Snowdon wrote that he did not think Mr. Troyte 'could have mentioned such a glaring instance of reproduction in a more courteous manner . . . the very same variation had already appeared in print, in 'The Clavis' nearly a hundred years ago. . . .

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD OF CHURCH BELLRINGERS

First annual meeting, Reading, 20th July, 1881. Dinner 2s. 6d., Tea 6d., reduced railway fares. 'The most successful gathering of ringers that has ever taken place in the Diocese of Oxford: dinner in the Foresters' Hall, when about 150 ringers, including over 20 clergy, were present.'

HEDON, NEAR HULL

9th July, 1881.—Rev. H. L. Clarke, Vicar, reports that £700 has been spent on restoring the church. The 6 bells 'one of the best rings in the East Riding of Yorkshire,' need to be rehung and the chimes to be repaired. This will cost between £60 and £70 and he asks for financial assistance for this.

SOUTH LINCOLNSHIRE CHANGE-RINGERS ASSOCIATION

2nd July, 1881.—Meeting at Long Sutton. 'In the evening some of the company went to Sutton St. Nicholas, and rang Grandshire Doubles—tenor 5 cwt. 'the lightest ring of 5 in the county.'

MOTTRAM-IN-LONGDENDALE, CHESHIRE

2nd July, 1881.—The monument over the grave in the churchyard was unveiled about 3 o'clock. A large number of ringers and others met in the Market Place and walked in procession round the village to the church for a short service at which Rt. Rev. Bishop Kelly, Archdeacon of Macclesfield, gave the address. The collection came to £6 and this, with the money in hand, covered the cost of the monument—about £40. Then the assembly gathered round the monument. Jasper Snowdon addressed those present, alluded to William Harrison both as a practical ringer and a composer, and then unveiled the monument. Tea in the National School.

BRADNINCH, DEVON

25th June, 1881.—6 bells reopened after re-hanging and refitting by Hooper and Stokes, of Woodbury. Eight six-scores of Grandshire Doubles were rung by ringers from St. Sidwell's, Exeter. . . . 'The Parish Round-ringers also rang their peals of ups and downs.'

REDENHALL, NORFOLK BELL-FOUNDRY

A local newspaper 'The Diss Express,' reports that, during July, 1881, they visited this foundry, run by Moore, Holmes and Mackenzie, and saw a ring of 3 bells cast for Westmeston, Sussex, for chiming only. The old 3 bells had been found to be cracked and of inferior casting and design. New metal had been added and some of the old had to be purified before re-use. 'As the bells are only to be used for chiming, they are provided with ordinary clappers and not with the ingenious clapper patented by the firm, which has been so successfully applied at Weybread (Suffolk), Blofield (Norfolk), Southwold (Suffolk) and Tunstead (Norfolk) and the great tenor bell at the University Church, Cambridge.'

EDDYSTONE LIGHTHOUSE

23rd July, 1881.—The new Eddystone Lighthouse is to be provided with two big bells and Trinity House has commissioned Messrs. Gillett and Bland to cast them. Their dimensions are—height from shoulder to tip 3 ft. 8 ins.; total height from tip to upper surface of the mushroom suspender 4 ft. 6 ins.; diameter at shoulder, 2 ft. 10 ins.; diameter at lip 5 ft. 1½ ins. 'In the foundry at Croydon on 12th July, 1881, a large number of visitors witnessed one of the bells, already cast, undergoing the process of bright turning of the upper part. Presently it will be turned bright along a portion of the lower part for the sake of ornamentation. When this has been done, the bell will be up-ended and tuned to a perfect note . . . each bell weighing about 42 cwt. answering to the note of C.'

ST. CLEMENT DANES', LONDON

14th July, 1881.—The parochial ringers of the church had a meeting with friends of the parish. Mr. Ex-Churchwarden Worpell invited them to supper and though he could not attend himself several gentlemen of the parish did so. Mr. Bankes, one of the ringers, with his 3 talented daughters, entertained the company with a selection of handbell music on their fine ring of 40 bells. . . .

ALMONDSBURY, GLOS.

2nd July, 1881.—St. Stephen's, Bristol, ringers had their annual meeting at Almondsbury where the 8 bells had just been rehung, and the cracked 6th recast by Llewellyn and James, Bristol. The 6th weighs 14 cwt. and the tenor 25 cwt.

GREAT BROMLEY, ESSEX

3rd July, 1881.—The bells lately augmented to 6. Tenor 18 cwt. in F.

ST. JOHN'S, FORD END, ESSEX

14th July, 1881.—Bells recently augmented from 3 to 5 by adding 2 tenors: opened by band of the Essex Association. Tenor 5 cwt. Bells all by Warners.

ST. MARY-LE-BOW, CHEAPSIDE

30th July, 1881.—Announcement that two trebles have been ordered of Mears and Stainbank. 12th Nov., 1881.—The two trebles added, making 12. Weight 8 cwt. 21 lbs. and 8 cwt. 2 qr. 16 lbs.

ST. MARTIN'S, SALISBURY

30th July, 1881.—Six bells lately rehung by Messrs. Jerram and Blackburn, of Spalding. The tone now comes out more clear and distinct. One bell was cast 1582 and three in the following century at Salisbury.

ST. NICHOLAS, NEAR CARDIFF

5th August, 1881.—Cardiff ringers opened the bells which have just been rehung and two trebles added by Llewellyn and James, Bristol.

ST. MICHAEL'S, CORNHILL, LONDON

7th May, 1881.—Twelve College Youths attempted 10,000 Stedman Cinques but, owing to a slight accident to the tenor ringer, they only rang for about 3 hours. Another attempt to be made in the autumn or winter, 'when the weather is more suited for a long peal.'

ST. MICHAEL'S, HUGHENDEN, BUCKS.

27th August, 1881.—An important advance has lately been made in connection with the works of improvement at this church in memory of the late Earl of Beaconsfield, two new bells having been added, making 8. The new bells formed part of the original intention of the promoters of the memorial, but when contributions were invited, Mr. Robert Warner of John Warner and Sons offered to carry out the portion of the design at his own cost. The 2 bells have arrived and are now being placed in position. They weigh about 12 cwt. Each is inscribed, 'In Memory of Earl Beaconsfield. Presented by Robert Warner, Esq., Bell-founder to Her Majesty Queen Victoria.'

Two of the former 6 bells are very ancient dating, as is supposed, from the reign of Edward III, two more were cast in 1663 and the other two 1875.

BELL LITERATURE

In 'Church Bells' of 3rd September, 1881, and 4 subsequent issues of the same volume (XI), (not concluded at the end of the volume and therefore I have not a complete list), Rev. H. T. Ellacombe gives a list of books on bells. There are 115 foreign books named, and this list is, apparently, complete. Then 53 English are named. This, unfortunately, is where the list ends in this volume. Presumably it is continued in Vol. XII, but I have not that to refer to.

The earliest English book I see is 'Orders of the Company of Ringers in Cheapside,' MS CXIX in All Souls' Library, Oxon, dated 1603.

The earliest foreign book shown is 'Rhodiginus (Lud. Coel.) Lectionum Antiquarum Libri fol. Venet. 1416.'

In No. 147 of the list, the founding of bells is minutely described and the author is supposed to have written about the year 1200.

No. 74: Montferrand (A.R.) Description de la Grande Cloche de Moscou, folio, Paris, 1840. 'Showing the mode by which the bell was removed from the pit in which it was cast in 1773 and placed on the stone pedestal on which it now (1826) rests in Moscow.'

ST. PETER'S, JARROW-ON-TYNE, DURHAM

30th August, 1881.—A new ring of 6 by Warner opened. Tenor 8 cwt. in B flat.

Later, a correspondent, G. J. Clarkson, asks if the church belongs to the Church of England 'as in that case other Church of England companies in the district would like to know why they were not invited.'

ALL SAINTS', NAFFERTON, YORKS.

24th September, 1881.—Up to 30 years ago this church had 3 bells and about that time the tenor cracked. A recent gift of £100 has enabled a new tenor to be provided, the others quarter-turned and work done to the frame and flooring. The tenor is about 15 cwt. and its note F sharp.

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH GUILD'S STRIKING COMPETITION

The Guild's fourth Striking Competition was held on October 31st at St. Michael's, Southampton. Seven teams took part, viz.: Fareham (Triples), Liss, Winchester Cathedral, Eling, Warnford and Ringwood (all Doubles), and Fordingbridge (call changes on six).

Mr. Tom Francis was the judge and Mr. John Hartless acted as belfry marshal. Mr. Francis, unfortunately, had to leave before tea but before he left he congratulated the ringers on some very excellent ringing and handed his findings to Canon Felstead, Master of the Guild.

Ringwood were successful in winning the Alliston Cup at first attempt and Liss, the holders, were runners up. The cup was presented by Mr. A. W. Alliston, the donor, to Mr. W. E. Cheater, who was congratulated on the very fine performance of his young team.

Mr. Roger Savory, hon. general secretary, said that he was not surprised at the Ringwood ringers winning the competition, for only on the previous Wednesday he had heard best part of an excellent peal of Grandsire Triples at Ringwood which was conducted by one of the junior members of the team. He felt that they all would wish to add their congratulations to Mr. Cheater, not only upon his team's success that day, but also upon the excellent general progress being made at Ringwood.

Votes of thanks were passed to the Striking Competition Committee, the ladies for arranging the tea, and to Canon K. W. H. Felstead, for all his work and for the use of the bells.

J. FRANK SMALLWOOD,

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE

The quotation given in the footnote to the peal at St. George's Colegate, Norwich, rung on Guy Fawkes Night of 'the happy deliverance . . . from the most traitorous and bloody-intended massacre by gunpowder' is taken from the heading to the 'Form of Prayer with Thanksgiving' formerly appointed to be said annually on November 5th, but now no longer to be found in the Prayer Book. The quaint spelling 'traiterous' appeared in the old Prayer Book, writes David Cubitt.

The well-known Rotherham ringer, Mr. Stuart Armeson, has now 'circled the tower' to peals.

Ringling in a quarter peal at Oakham, Rutland, on November 1st, was sprightly Mr. T. G. Briggs, who is now 86.

Mr. J. L. Millhouse informs us that Quar-rington Surprise Major is H. & M. No. 3857 and not as previously reported.

At a recent meeting of the St. Martin's, Birmingham, ringers, Mr. J. Alan Ainsworth was unanimously elected conductor of the Sunday band, in succession to Mr. Frank Haynes.

Melbourne ringers have from the beams of the old St. Paul's Cathedral frame made some very fine bookends, shaped like a bell and have sold them to swell the coffers of the Restoration Appeal.

Ex-Sgt. C. Willmington, of the Metropolitan Police, is the new president of the National Guild of Police Ringers, taking office in the New Year. His address is 79, Wallwood Road, Leytonstone.

From this week's Australian mail we learn that a number of ringers from Adelaide and Sydney are planning to join colleagues at St. Paul's, Melbourne, on November 21st in an attempt to christen the refurbished bells there with a peal of Grandsire Caters.

Mr. J. Fondo, writing from P.O. Box 4, Kilifi, Kenya, says that he and his ringers recently had the pleasure of John and Blanche Hunt's company, on their way home to England from Mauritius. Any instruction or even a temporary visit from an experienced ringer would be more than welcome.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The many friends of Mr. W. B. Kynaston, of Swindon, will regret to hear that he has had to enter the Savernake Hospital, Marlborough, for an internal operation. He is making a good recovery but it will be some weeks before he is able to take his place again in the tower.

Two Sydney Australian ringers, the Misses Wendy Nichols and Audrey Peters, are going to Canada on January 2nd and plan to make Vancouver their headquarters.

The peal at Castle Eaton, Wilts, on page 736 was rung for the Gloucester and Bristol Association and not the Salisbury Diocesan Guild, as printed.

To commemorate the opening of Christ Church, Canterbury, on Oct. 28th, the College Bellringing Society rang both before and after the thanksgiving service in the Cathedral.

Sandra M. Pitman, age 12, conducted her first at Canford Magna, Dorset, on November 1st. Congratulations. Few girls have started earlier.

Expressing his apologies, Mr. R. W. Pipe informs us that the ringer of the tenor at Netherton, Worcs, on October 16th was J. Alan Ainsworth and not Clifford A. Barron, as published.

An interesting Hawkhurst and district peal was at Sandhurst on October 31st which was the first since the rededication of the bells by the Archbishop of Canterbury. Mr. L. W. Jarvis last conducted a peal in 1936 and this was Mr. Herbert Pope's first peal since 1939.

Mr. George Waterman, vice-president of the Essex Association, participated in a peal at Harwich for his 79th birthday. He is remarkably fit and it is the hope of those who rang that they will assemble again next year to ring for his 80th.

The in memoriam peal to Mr. Leonard P. Fidler, former captain St. Mary's, Hitchin, rung at Loughborough Borough, was in his favourite method, Double Norwich C.B. Major. It was under Mr. Fidler's captaincy that the conductor learned to ring and many excellent quarters in Double Norwich were rung at Hitchin.

HERTS RINGING CAR RALLY

The car owning fraternity of the St. Albans District are for the second year running indebted to Amy Coburn and John Cull for organising a superb car rally. Nomansland, the traditional starting place of such ventures, was bitterly cold on the afternoon of October 24th when 14 cars with 36 occupants assembled to try their skill.

We followed the advice of Horace Greeley though we had no compass until our journey's end. Those who knew their history were at an advantage: who was president in 1935, of the Hertford County Association they meant, but we didn't know that; who opened the M1 and when (it wasn't Marples and it was longer ago than you might think); when did Stedman write 'Tintinnalogia' (we didn't really need to know this but it helped to tell us which houses we were looking for at Flamstead). There used to be plenty of water at Friars Wash but now they must stay black (vague connection with Blackfriars Bridge) for Luton has pumped away our water.

We had to be good at spelling to find the sign-post errors. Mr. Bunn was not the baker but the cucumber grower. The worst clue of all, which only the winner answered (I think) said 'The piper plays the tune, but "you" may be in the band. How many?' Most people put '3' as we were on a three bell tower. There were twelve yews in the churchyard. Errgh! A chicken farm was most unappropriately called Shangri-la.

A good tea was provided by the Axe and Compasses at Edlesborough despite the fact that they thought that we were coming on Sunday. After tea John gave his comments and read out the results in reverse order—very tantalising. Fourth, Reg. Darvill; third, John Ewer; second, Jonathan Chamberlain, and first Geoff Dodds. Three mystery towers were visited to round off the day for the more energetic and some very good ringing at all levels up to, but not quite including, Spliced Surprise was enjoyed. The towers were Edlesborough, Eaton Bray and Totternhoe; many thanks to those who met us.

Finally a very big 'thank you' must be put on record to the organisers, who this year included Peter Coles, but most especially to John and Amy for their hard work in advance of the day.

FILLING THE GAP IN RINGING LITERATURE

THERE is a shortage of books on bells and the history and art of bellringing. True, the county series continue to expand through the labours of Mr. Frederick Sharpe and Mr. Randal Clouston, but these works are more confined to the bells, their inscriptions, weight and date, and do not cover the extensive field embraced by the words, 'The Exercise.' The late Ernest Morris made a useful contribution towards this end with his works, but they are out of print, and also such works as those by J. A. Trollope, particularly 'The College Youths.'

The gap has now been filled by Edgar C. Shepherd, one of the most versatile ringer-writers in the Exercise, in 'The Sound of Bells' (25s. net, Record Books Ltd.). The book makes a dual appeal—to the 40,000 ringers who might be regarded as within the fold, and secondly to the non-ringers who derive pleasure in bellringing and like to read about and hear bells. The unique feature of this book is that included with it is a double-sided microgroove record giving the music of some of the famous towers.

Among the public at large there is extreme vagueness about a bell and change ringing and only this week our attention was called to an expert in the field of vibrations who did not realise that a bell mounted on a wheel revolved 360 degrees. In non-technical language a bell is explained and a clear exposition given of the skill of the founder from the monks and itinerant bell-founders to the two great firms—Messrs. John Taylor and Co. and Messrs. Mears and Stainbank—who uphold the prestige of the craft today.

While Mr. Shepherd devotes a chapter to the principles of change ringing, the book does not extend over the border to become a text book, although the author has to his credit noted treatises on Grandsire Caters and Double Norwich. Indeed, it is just sufficient to give an indication of Plain Hunt and the ever-expanding number of changes as the number of bells employed increases. A more interesting side is, however, developed by tracing the historical progress of change ringing from Stow's reference in his Survey of London. And this growth has a fascination to all followers of the art. There was 'Tintinnalogia' the first text book, a joint effort by Richard Duckworth and Fabian Stedman in 1660, which gave to the world 'Grandsire,' described as 'the best and most ingenious peal that was ever composed,' a phrase surely treasured by the Rabbits' Guild in this era of 'Spliced Surprise' ringing!

Ten years later Stedman published 'Campanologia' which showed a remarkable advance—including the introduction of the Stedman principle which has no hunt bell. It was not until 1715 that the first peal was rung, a method we now call Plain Bob Triples, composed by John Garthorn, but then given the name of Grandsire Bob Triples. The story of the Norwich Scholars' achievement is told on a tablet in the ringing chamber of St. Peter Mancroft: 'The most incomparable peal' and of the performance 'not one bell misplac'd or out of course.'

Expansion was rapid. Grandsire Triples came in 1718, at Norwich, but Grandsire Caters had been rung a year before at St. Bride's, Fleet Street, with the first peal of Major the following year. The latter was by the Union Scholars, and was called 'Union Bob.' The figures, Mr. Shepherd points out, show the peal to have been Oxford Treble Bob. It was not until 1725 that the College Youths scored their first peal—Grandsire Cinques at St. Bride's. With Annable as a leader, the College Youths produced the first peals of Bob Major, Bob Royal and Bob Maximus. From Norwich in 1740 came the first peal of Stedman Triples, born amid intensive rivalry between the St. Michael's, Coslany, band and those of St. Peter Mancroft. Fisticuffs took place during the time of ringing and, says 'The Norwich Daily Press' of that day, the offenders were 'sent home to their shame with bloody noses.'

Naturally, with his extensive knowledge of Birmingham ringing, the author brings into the picture the achievements at St. Martin's and the great contributions of Isaac Lates and Thomas Thurstans, whose famous four-part of Stedman Triples was first conducted by Henry Johnson. It was not until 40 years later that Sir Arthur Heywood gave the complete exposition of Stedman Triples.

How ringers will revel in reading the story of achievement, the long lengths and the rivalry, the genius of Washbrook, the domination for nearly 40 years of William Pye, of G. N. Price who rang Exeter Cathedral tenor single-handed to a peal of Stedman Caters, and being introduced to those who contributed so much to method construction, like the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, W. H. Thompson, Henry Hattersley, John Carter, the Rev. E. Bankes James, Gabriel Lindoff and George Baker.

The contribution of the Central Council founded by Sir Arthur Heywood receives recognition and also the part played by the ringers' own journal founded by the late Mr. J. S. Goldsmith and now the property of the Council. But after tabulating the wealth of record performances spread over more than two centuries the author sagely observes: 'The future of the Exercise and the survival of change ringing will rest, not on the great ringing performances of today, but on the enthusiasm of the missionaries and the skill and devotion of the instructors.' ## Strong Lecture Team at Grantley Hall Course GRANTLEY HALL courses continue to meet the needs of a number of ringers and the list of those present at the 1964 course, the fifth to be held at Grantley, is some indication of the increasing popularity of the course. Those present were: Messrs. J. M. Chaddock (Rotherham), C. J. Groome (Huntingdon), J. K. Herdson (Harrogate), E. Hotine (Grimsby), C. P. Moxom and N. F. Moxom (Barnsley), T. Turbott (Skelmanthorpe), G. A. Town (Halifax), C. Finlay (Bradford), B. Greasley, J. Greasley and J. D. Ree (Derby), G. T. Jones (Wakefield), A. C. Bantén (Tadcaster), I. G. Campbell, K. Goldthorpe and D. Johnson (Kirk Ella), A. R. Douglas (Rotherham), C. M. Mouley (Harrogate), P. Mohew and D. Sanderson (Herts) and E. Hudson (Ripon), Mesdames E. Chaddock and T. Hollis (Rotherham), S. Crossley (Wath-on-Dearne), N. J. Nissly (Pennsylvania), E. Peace and S. Peace (Kirkburton), L. M. Riley (Northowram), S. E. Thompson (Huntington) and N. Golden (Norwich).

Miss Nissly is a captain in the U.S.A. Air Force and is making excellent progress in and deriving much delight from our traditional English art.

The course began on Friday evening with Fred Sharpe giving his well-known lecture on 'Bells—History, Casting and Tuning.' With his travelling display of handbells, tuning forks, slides and photographs Fred is the complete and ever welcome lecturer.

Students were offered choices of talks on Saturday morning. For the first session the choice lay between 'Stedman, a study of the method,' by Norman Chaddock, the capable and versatile leader of the course, and 'A study of some methods worth ringing' by Nolan Golden, who was paying his first visit to Grantley. This lecture inspired the writer of this account to attempt to summarise his main points in the verses below. After the coffee break Norman continued his theme with a talk on conducting Stedman Triples whilst Fred Sharpe gave excellent advice on the maintenance of bells and their fittings.

In the afternoon some of the party rang new methods successfully on the six at Kirkby Malzeard whilst others attempted touches of Stedman Triples at Sharow with unison conducting. The ringing at Sharow was rounded off with a good course of Cambridge Major.

After tea all were delighted by Norman Chaddock's lively and well illustrated talk on his experiences during the Washington tour. Dinner over, an hour was spent ringing on the ten bells at Ripon Cathedral, when all were given an opportunity of sampling this fine ring. Handbell ringing and discussion of ringing topics, grave and gay, continued until a late hour. Students on a parallel course on photography displayed considerable interest in and made pictorial records of our activities.

A short service which included some good handbell ringing on the heavier of Fred Sharpe's collection of handbells was held in the entrance hall after breakfast on Sunday. Again a choice of lectures was forthcoming: 'Tune Ringing' by Fred Sharpe or 'Conducting' by Norman Chaddock, and later an all too brief talk by Nolan on composing methods and peals. During the afternoon the versatile Nolan delighted us with excerpts from his private anthology of 'The Bell in Prose and Verse.'

In the final discussion before tea thanks were expressed to all who had made the course so happy and successful and, with admirable foresight, plans for the next course were discussed.

If you enjoy good food, good weather, good company and good scenery, join us at Grantley Hall next time.

THE MERITS OF METHODS

Nolan in praising Double Court.

It gives delightful music when

It's rung on six or eight or ten,

And Nolan is the proper person

To eulogise the Norwich version.

Original should interest all

But it is somewhat hard to call.

Stedman's appeal will never die,

We all know where its merits lie.

A principle to this akin

And well worth ringing is Erin.

Yorkshire six-bell ringers skilful

In choosing methods are most wilful.

Dover Delight should meet their needs

When rung with closed or open leads.

Untuneful cadences arise

In Major methods called Surprise.

We northern ringers much prefer

To ring melodious Yorkshire.

DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION Chesterfield District

On a rather cold and blustery day the monthly meeting of the Chesterfield District was held at Old Whittington on November 14th. Ringing during the afternoon took place on the very light ring of six (tenor 5 cwt.) in a wide variety of methods before the company of 35 members and friends adjourned for tea.

After an excellent meal, prepared by the wives and friends of the local company, a short business meeting was held with the Rector (the Rev. J. K. Robinson) in the chair. He told the company about an architect he knew, who thought that church towers and clocks were both unnecessary and obsolete in this day and age. This opinion, he averred, was all too common judging from the design of modern churches. He urged the company to see that all our rings of bells would long be kept in action.

Nine new members were elected from Dronfield, viz.: E. Walker, M. Allen, Mrs. B. Kidd, A. Kidd, A. Bethel, Mrs. D. Cunningham, V. Cunningham, F. Haslam and Miss K. Cooper. As next year's Association dinner—to be held at Chesterfield on February 20th—is to be attended by the Bishop, the Archdeacon of Chesterfield and Mr. F. Sharpe (guest speaker) members were urged to do all they could to make it a resounding success.

The votes of thanks were proposed by Mr. L. Goodall (Dronfield) and further ringing was enjoyed in the evening after a short break for Compline.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION Biggleswade District

The November meeting of the Biggleswade District was held at Stotfold on November 14th, ringing being under the direction of the Ringing Master, Mr. D. R. Saunderson.

After a short service conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. W. H. Bullock) at which Mr. P. Rogers played the organ, the 17 ringers present adjourned to the local school for tea. At the business meeting a new member from Campton was elected and it was decided to hold the annual District meeting at Biggleswade on January 9th.

With the arrival of more ringers during the evening many methods were rung including rounds for learners and the special method, Evening Star Delight. The bells were finally rung down just before 9 p.m. after a fairly successful meeting.

Next meeting: Northill, December 12th.

A. R. A.

BARNESLEY DISTRICT SOCIETY

The Society held its monthly meeting at Felkirk on November 14th, 14 towers being represented. One new member, Mr. Barrie Dove (Leeds), was elected and he offered the vote of thanks. A warm welcome was given by the Vicar (the Rev. B. Webster), who is interested in Felkirk Church and its history.

Next meeting (nominations received): Hemsworth, near Pontefract, December 12th.

NATIONAL POLICE GUILD IN LONDON

The annual general meeting of the National Police Guild took place in London on September 26th. Ringing started at St. Giles-in-the-Fields at 11.15 a.m. and continued until it was time for members and friends to adjourn to the Euston Tavern, where an excellent luncheon was enjoyed by 52 members and their guests.

Before lunch, Mr. T. Butler, the president, called attention to the passing of ex-Sgt. E. C. Turner, of Leicester, and ex-P.C. Burley Walshaw, of Manchester. The company observed a short silence as a mark of respect.

There were 31 members present at the meeting which followed. Ex-Sgt. C. Willmington (Metropolitan) was elected president to succeed ex-Insp. T. Butler (Liverpool) in the New Year. Mr. Willmington thanked the members and paid a tribute to the retiring president. In his reply Mr. Butler said that he hoped to close his term as president with a successful peal attempt. The committee was re-elected en bloc with Mr. Butler replacing Mr. Willmington, ex-P.C. Knight replacing ex-P.C. Woods (who did not wish to stand) and Insp. J. Pryor filling the place made vacant by the death of ex-Sgt. Turner. Twenty-one new members were elected and this was commented on by the president as being a good omen for the future. These new members brought the strength of the Guild up to a very healthy level.

It was reported that a life member, ex-P.C. Joe Wilson (Manchester) has just celebrated his golden wedding, and the meeting asked the secretary to convey the congratulations of the Guild to him and his wife. The meeting decided that next year's venue be at Hereford on Saturday, September 25th.

Ringing took place during the afternoon and early evening at the following towers: St. Clement Danes; St. Andrew's, Holborn; St. Vedast, Foster Lane; St. Giles, Cripplegate; St. Lawrence Jewry; St. Mary-le-Bow; and St. Michael's, Cornhill. Thanks were accorded to Mr. Jack Phillips, as without his help this extensive programme could not have been carried out. The day was completed by a 'get-together' after ringing at the Euston Tavern, when light refreshments were provided in addition to the more stimulating matter which was consumed.

This was one of the most enjoyable meetings in recent years, and to all who helped to make it a success we send our thanks. R. H.

REDEDICATION AT PLUCKLEY

The recently restored ring of six bells (tenor 16 cwt.) of St. Nicholas', Pluckley, near Ashford, Kent, were rededicated by the Right Rev. Dr. Alfred Rose (retired Bishop of Dover) on November 12th in the presence of a large congregation. The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. J. L. Pittcock, assisted by the Rev. P. T. Robbins (District Representative to the Association and Vicar of Charing), and the address was given by the Bishop.

Ringing for the service was by local ringers, who have been learning under the direction of their captain, Mr. G. Homewood, and Mr. A. Waddington of Egerton. Afterwards ringers from the congregation had the opportunity of sampling the restored bells, and found that the 'go' is now excellent but the second bell sounds muffled.

Records show that there were 'five bells and a sacring bell in the steeple' in 1553, and the tower has one of the oldest six bell rings in the district, but it has always had the reputation of being difficult. There has never been a peal on the bells (which makes them almost unique for ringable towers in Kent), and only one quarter peal has been known.

The charming little village of Pluckley, with its beautiful 14th century church atop a ridge where the winding road follows an ancient Saxon track, is well off the beaten track. Now that the bells have been rehung on ball-bearings in a new frame, the tower strengthened and a new floor put in, it is hoped they will become better known, not only to the villagers (who have worked hard to raise most of the £3,500 necessary to pay for the restoration), but to ringers throughout Kent.

Scholars Entertain at Stafford Archdeaconry Dinner

MEMBERS reserved the date of Saturday, November 7th last, for the Society's annual dinner held at Cannock. Ringing was available during the afternoon at Bushbury, Shareshill and Cannock, prior to over 100 members and friends sitting down to an excellent meal. The chairman and president of the Society, the Ven. Basil Stratton, proposed the loyal toast. Mrs. L. Reid, M.B.E., a well-known public figure of Willenhall, then proposed the toast of 'The Church and State,' stressing that the two could never be divided. The reply was given by the Rev. T. Villiers, of Shifnal, in which he said the Church to-day was far from dead, as too many people seemed to think, but it needed re-forming as a united Church, in which bellringers could play an important part.

As an interlude the Penn handbell ringers gave a demonstration of 'Caters,' 'lapped.' Our chief guest, and a past president, the Bishop of Shrewsbury, proposed the toast of 'The Society,' saying that he felt that this active ringing society could be held as an example to other less enthusiastic ringing areas. Mr. G. Askew, of Brewwood, suitably replied.

Mrs. B. G. Key said it gave her great pleasure to propose the toast of 'The Visitors,' among whom they had Mr. and Mrs. F. Bennett (Claverley), Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Tranter and Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Staniforth (Leicester Cathedral). The Rev. V. J. Crane, curate of Penn, who replied, said he was learning how important the work of ringers was.

The evening's entertainment then proceeded with a most enjoyable recital of music given by the St. Lawrence's Junior School, Gnosall, team of handbell ringers, led by Mrs. B. G. Key. As well as handbells, items were arranged to include glockenspiels, a Victorian bell-toy, and recorders.

Later Mr. P. J. Staniforth showed his most interesting and educational colour film taken during his recent visit to Washington Cathedral.

The thanks of the Society go to all who helped in any way to make this such an enjoyable evening, especially to Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Key for all their arrangements.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD

Elloe Deaneries Branch

The last meeting this year was held at Bicker on November 7th. During the afternoon the bells were in constant use, methods rung being from Grandsire Triples up to Cambridge Major.

The service included an interesting address by the Vicar concerning the true message of the bells and the duty of the ringers as Christian workers. In it he mentioned the use of the 13th century sanctus bell hung in the tower.

The excellent tea was attended by 20 members. At the business meeting seven new members were elected. The secretary (Mr. K. R. Davey) gave a report on the recent joint meeting with the Ely Guild at Tydd St. Mary, which was well supported. It is hoped to hold further meetings in the New Year.

Further ringing followed on handbells and on the 8½ cwt. eight in the tower, where methods included Spliced Grandsire and Stedman Triples, Erin Triples and a course of Superlative Surprise Major.

Branch annual general meeting, January 16th (provisional). D. J. J.

St. Lawrence, Gnosall, Junior Bellringers all keyed up for a great occasion. They performed on handbells, glockenspiels and other instruments at the Stafford Archdeaconry dinner. Trained by Mrs. E. M. Keys, they are now well-known throughout the Midlands, having appeared on television six times, and at various other functions such as garden parties, music festivals, concerts, church services and charity performances. Their ages range from 9 to 11 years and several of them are learning to ring tower bells.

THE LADIES' GUILD

The South Wales District held a most successful meeting at St. Mellons on October 31st. During the afternoon the bells were enjoyed by some 40 ringers and touches were rung by the ladies. The choral service was taken by the Vicar, the Rev. Gower Rees. Miss Gillian Addis, chorister and ringer at St. Mellons, read the lesson, and Miss Scales was the organist.

A bountiful tea was waiting in the Church Hall, given by Mr. Addis and prepared by Miss Dilys Hulbert and her helpers.

Mr. Iolo Davies, Cowbridge, expressed the thanks of the company to Mr. Addis and to the ladies. Mrs. C. Coles, vice-president, thanked the Vicar and Miss Christine Glastonbury thanked Miss Scales and the choristers.

New members elected were Miss Catherine Jenkins (Chepstow) and Miss Susan Lowe (Cardiff).

Next meeting: Newton Nottage, Porthcawl, January 30th (provisional). J. S. K.

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH

The Portsmouth District have a warm friend in the Rev. G. R. Paterson, Vicar of Swanmore. When the District held its quarterly meeting in his church on October 24th, he said they would be welcome at any time at Swanmore because they did so like to hear the bells rung. An excellent tea followed the service.

At the business meeting the following members were elected: Rev. M. Swindlehurst and F. E. Gerken (Havant), H. V. Jones (Swanmore), Miss J. Clair, C. Watts, R. Pullen, P. Lewis (Titchfield), Mr. W. Riddle (Manchester) compounding.

Next quarterly, April 24th, Alverstoke or Havant; practice meeting, Bishop's Waltham, November 28th (if convenient). L. D. D.

SHEFFIELD AND DISTRICT

The November meeting of the Sheffield and District Society was held jointly with the Southwell Guild, at Workshop Priory. The meeting was well attended and about forty ringers sat down to tea. Prior to a short business meeting, a course of Grandsire Caters 'in hand' was rung. A discussion took place on the possible integration of ringing societies in Yorkshire.

Methods rung during the day ranged from Plain Bob Minor, to Spliced Surprise Major in five minutes. Next meeting, Ecclesfield, December 5th. J. N. D. C.

Early Peals at King's Norton

Dear Sir,—Further to Mr. Bagworth's letter, I have records of the following peals at King's Norton-by-Gaulby, rung before 1881:

May 28th, 1776, 5,040 Grandsire Triples rung by the Nottingham Society in 3 hours 52 minutes.

September 3rd, 1781, 5,040 Grandsire Caters rung by the Leicester Scholars in 3 hours 9 minutes.

June, 1816, 5,040 Grandsire Triples rung by the Leicester Scholars in 3 hours 20 minutes.

The Nottingham Society is undoubtedly the same as the Society of Sherwood Youths, as also, no doubt, the Junior Nottingham Society, who sometimes called themselves the Hopeful Youths.

The record of the Grandsire Caters peal was found by the late Ernest Morris in one of the old Leicester papers, but the Leicester Scholars' books contain no reference to it. There is also a legend that the King's Norton treble went to St. Margaret's, Leicester, but this is almost certainly not correct.

At the other King's Norton, in Worcestershire, I have records of the following peals rung before 1881 by the Birmingham ringers:

December 7th, 1811, 5,040 Grandsire Triples by the St. Martin's Youths in 3 hours 3 minutes.

August 11th, 1839, 5,040 Grandsire Triples by the St. Martin's Youths in 2 hours 58 minutes.

October 24th, 1852, 5,040 Grandsire Triples by the St. Philip's Society in 2 hours 57 minutes.

November 28th, 1852, 5,088 Kent Treble Bob Major by the St. Philip's Society and St. Martin's Youths in 3 hours 9 minutes.—Yours sincerely,

FRANK T. BLAGROVE.

Disguised Attack?

Dear Sir,—One cannot help thinking that D.G.C.'s article 'Introvert or Extrovert', is a biased account of what should be an impartial rationale.

Men of action, he says, are impulsive, thick-skinned, inconsiderate, loud-mouthed, frustrated, what-oh types whose passion for the big time causes them to use people to suit their own ends. On the other hand he gives a glowing account of the men of thought (who park their cars correctly), the observers, the unobtrusive correctors who realise their knowledge on the subject is incomplete and are modest about their ringing.

This classification, it is submitted, is erroneous. To describe even the extreme introvert and extrovert ringer as such is nonsensical. There is a subtle difference between saying that a particular inconsiderate (etc.) tenor-bell ringer is an extrovert and saying the man of action, the extrovert ringer, is an inconsiderate (etc.) tenor-bell ringer. Similarly, a man of thought might be an introvert, but not all men of thought are introverts.

D.G.C. concludes that every single one of us is a mixture of the two types but few of us are 50-50 which, in effect, is saying we are all very nearly one or the other. Most psychologists accept this latter idea. We are fundamentally either extrovert or introvert.

A fortiori, the only conclusion to be drawn from the article is that there are basically two types of ringers: extrovert men of action, as portrayed therein, who are seldom respected, and introvert men of thought, as portrayed therein, who will be universally respected. It is suggested that this is no more than a disguised attack on the talented and perhaps over-enthusiastic, tower-grabbing, tenor-bell ringer from the viewpoint of the subdued introspectionist.—Yours faithfully,

MICHAEL R. MEADOWS.

Wentworth, Yorks.

YATTON, SOMERSET.—On Nov. 3rd, 1,260 Plain Bob Triples: H. A. Price 1, M. T. Hebden 2, M. G. Dodson 3, P. Gifford-England 4, G. H. Pullin 5, R. W. Rice 6, W. S. Rice (cond.) 7, W. E. Day 8. First of Bob Triples for 4 and 8.

Sir Winston Churchill's Birthday

Dear Sir,—November 30th is the 90th birthday of the great war leader, Sir Winston Churchill. Last Thursday a letter appeared in 'The Times' requesting that where possible bells are rung in towns and villages to honour this almost unique event. The following day the 'Yorkshire Post' in an article commended the suggestion to all concerned.

I feel ringers should be acquainted with this, who have not already heard of it, as I think the idea is a good one and shows that the Church takes an interest in the affairs of State.

We are also hoping in our own tower to ring on the evening of Monday week.—Yours sincerely,

PAUL BIRKETT.

Elland, Yorks.

Note.—We have also received a letter from Mr. King, of Wentworth, York, commending the same suggestion. It was mentioned at the Central Council meeting at Truro that Sir Winston should be honoured by the ringing of peals following his retirement from Parliament.

Christianity and Bellringing

Dear Sir,—With reference to the leading article and the letter of A. Betsworth in 'The Ringing World' of October 23rd, 1964, I would like to ask: How many ringers regard ringing as a form of worship? Surely the majority of ringers regard campanology as a hobby, just like philately or ornithology.

Granted it is a tradition for a church to have a tower in which there are bells but why follow the masses? Why not build churches without towers and build separate places for bells to be hung? In my opinion Sunday service ringing is a tradition and people do it out of sheer habit, therefore it is not in any way connected with the Church and the worship of God.

I myself am a very keen ringer who travels around quite a lot, and from what I've seen and heard you couldn't call campanology a Christian movement. People are always falling out with each other and often refrain from turning up to ring for several weeks on end. Many go into seclusion for as long as six months. You couldn't really associate this behaviour with Christianity, where one must love his neighbour.

From this stems my final question: Does one necessarily have to be a Christian to be a campanologist? I very much doubt it. — Yours sincerely,

O. A. M.,
Atheist.

No Farce!

Dear Sir,—We must thank Mr. Poyner for at last admitting that the method rung as Burslem Delight Major is not an extension of Burslem Delight Minor. Perhaps he will now agree to the Council's request and change the name of the Major method.

There is no regular Minor method called Salisbury Surprise. Therefore the title Salisbury Surprise Major could have been used for any method. The same applies to Hatfield Surprise Major and Luton Surprise Royal. Salisbury, Hatfield and Luton Surprise Minor do not have Plain Bob lead ends. Therefore the Methods Committee had no need to comment on the silly footnote to the peal of Salisbury. The Decision of the Council relating to method extension applies only to methods with Plain Bob lead ends.

If Mr. Poyner finds something wrong with the report on extension why did he not make an attempt to get an alteration to it when he was a member of the Council? He could easily have done his, every time that the Methods Committee presented its annual report, since nearly every year the question of extension is brought up.—Yours sincerely,

FRANK T. BLAGROVE.

A PEAL WEEK IN KENT

(For Identities see page 565)

THIS peal week in Kent took place at the end of July and as the result of an advertisement in 'The Ringing World' the party assembled at Kensing Youth Hostel for their second tour. The first ring was for Sunday service at Ightham, where some demonstrated how much their ringing had improved during the past year, and others how they hadn't. Seal was visited for evening ringing.

The 'fastest thing on two legs' exhibited how he thought bad-going tenors ought to be rung in a peal of seven Minor methods at Seal on Monday morning, in which he called most of the bobs! Our illegal youth hostellers did not arrive in time for the promised peals at Westerham. However, to satisfy the desires of the tower grabber, a quick ring was arranged at Limsfield before the advertised time of arrival at Crookham Hill Y.H. Due to flies, the handbell peal planned for the evening was postponed.

Cambridge Major was attempted at Edenbridge on Tuesday, but after an hour and a half surprisingly good ringing, the tenor rope broke. Cowden bells proved uninspiring in the afternoon. 'Does anyone want to carry on?' 'No.' A long leisurely ride was enjoyed through newly afforested areas to Goudhurst Y.H. The fanatics attempted their usual handbell peal, but with the usual success.

At Brenchley, the Edenbridge Cambridge band assembled and rang an 'educational' peal on Wednesday. 'Well, it was a hot day, an' someone was burning grass outside an'...' The afternoon band set off for Shipbourne leaving the dipsomaniacs at Brenchley, still feeding the juke box. Both the tower bell attempt and the fanatics' handbell attempt were lost. During the night the phantom walker discovered that he could fly directly on to the bunk below.—'Happy landing.'

A good peal of Yorkshire Major was rung and enjoyed at Wrotham on the Thursday. Giles Thompson ringing the tenor 'like he was born under it.' A peal was attempted at Mereworth but, due to lack of strength, inspiration and the conductor thinking he had miscalculated, the attempt was lost. A quick ring was arranged at Watlington en route for Doddington. The mammoth cycle ride tested allegiance even to breaking point. The attempt to find an inn was again lacking in success, so the party had to content themselves reading Huxley and drinking orange juice in the common room.—'O, brave young world!'

Success came to an attempt for 14 Minor methods at East Sutton on the Friday—the younger and more agile-minded representatives of the band ringing this. At Leeds Trevor Cross was a welcome addition: however the attempt for Bob Royal finished just under half way, the seventh dodging home at a middle, and the back bells doing likewise! A carnival evening was spent, it being the last gathering of the party before setting off for home.

Thanks go to our leader, Mister Thompson, for again arranging a not so lucrative peal tour but an enjoyable ringing holiday. It is rumoured that the next tour will head south from Stratford. 'SNOW WHITE.'

OUTING

BARTON AND SILSOE HALF DAY

Barton and Silsoe ringers with friends had a very enjoyable half-day in Leicestershire, on Sept. 26th. Towers visited were Woodhouse Eaves, Copst Oak, Whitwick, Oaks in Charnwood, Markfield and Anstey.

Highlights of the day were ringing after a wedding on the lovely mellow bells at Whitwick: the sumptuous tea prepared for us at Markfield, and the surprisingly good ringing there after such a feast: and due to a mistake we had a considerable wait outside.

Our thanks are specially given to George Pickwell, who made all of the arrangements from his new home in Leicestershire, and to Peter, who arranged transport. K. F.

MR. CLAUDE RUSH DELVES INTO 'CHURCH BELLS'

Vol. XI, Advent, 1880 - Advent, 1881

ST. EDWARD'S, ROMFORD, ESSEX
3rd September, 1881.—5,040 Grandsire Triples 3 hrs. 14 migs. Tenor 17 cwt.—'the first peal since the present church was built.'

ST. MICHAEL COSLANY, NORWICH
By public subscription two small bells were hung in this steeple, making a peal of 8, on 5th February, 1725.

On 1st April, 1727, 10,082 changes of the 'Quarter Peal of Oxford Treble Bob, all eight, or the Union Bob' were rung in 6 hours 28 minutes.

BRAUGHING, HERTS.

10th May, 1881.—The 102nd Annual Ringing Festival held to celebrate the 12,240 Bob Major rung on 10th May, 1779, in 7 hours 34 minutes. L. Proctor, Esq., of Bennington brought over his admirable team of ringers who rang Stedman, Double Norwich, London, Cambridge, Superlative, Kent and Grandsire. 'The local ringers are progressing fairly well with Bob Major.' (One sees very little reference to London and Cambridge in this volume—Treble Bob, Grandsire and Stedman were more the order of the day.—C.R.)

SOUTH CHURCH, BISHOP AUCKLAND, DURHAM

Old ring of 5 augmented to 8 by addition of new tenor (11½ cwt.) and two trebles, to be opened 28 Sept. 1881. Bells by Warners. Mr. Mallaby, of Masham, put in a new frame and 'tuned and quartered' the old bells.

PROGRESS OF SCIENTIFIC RINGING IN CORNWALL

A band of 12 ringers are working assiduously at this delightful though difficult art. On 8 Sept. 1881 they rang a quarter peal (1,260 changes) of Grandsire Triples in 50 minutes at Penzance—the only town in Cornwall which has advanced thus far... Although Cornwall has several fair rings of 8 in more-or-less bad order for scientific ringing, there is no ring of 10 on which those more advanced can practise. St. Andrew's, of Plymouth, has a grand ring of 10 which should have two trebles added to make 12 and then it would indeed be the ring par excellence of the 3 Western Counties. The steeple of Calstock is the only one in Cornwall adorned with a board recording a peal of Grandsire Minor rung some 15 years ago.'

PRESIDENT GARFIELD—ST. PAUL'S CATHEDRAL, ETC., MUFFLED RINGING

26 Sept. 1881.—St. Paul's, by Ancient Society of College Youths, in memory of the late President Garfield. 'The open space in front of St. Paul's and the approaches thereto were thronged with a sympathetic crowd, who listened with mournful interest to the sound of the heavy muffled ringing of the 12 bells (tenor 62 cwt.) which reverberated through the air, and produced a feeling of deep sadness upon the vast assemblage.'

The same day, at Chester Cathedral there was 'a deeply muffled peal (both sides), then the curfew (muffled) was rung for 10 minutes after which they were unmuffled one side, then rung 40 minutes.'

At Huntsham, Devon, they rang half-muffled and the changes were in whole-pulls.

At St. Peter's, Liverpool, they rang 5,093 Grandsire Caters, 3½ hours. Tenor 25 cwt., for President Garfield, the bells being open apparently.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL RINGING ASSOCIATION

12 Sept. 1881.—Meeting at Chippenham. 'The ringers would recommend the churchwardens, when they have new ropes, to procure the best make, and not allow their ringers to cut any part below the sallies off, or tie a knot in the end of the rope to hold by.'

MARGATE, KENT

28 Sept. 1881.—District meeting of Kent County Association, 80 to 90 being present.

'Little was done at St. John's, Margate, as the bells were not in order,' but the towers of Quex Park (tenor 15 cwt.) and Minster (tenor 24 cwt.) were visited.

BLAXHALL, SUFFOLK

28 Sept. 1881.—The 5 bells were reopened after overhaul—entirely rehung with new stocks, wheels and fittings complete by Day and Son, Eye. The frame thoroughly restored and strengthened with new oak—the fourth bell recast and the others turned. Twenty to thirty dined at the Ship Inn, Rev. N. Bates, M.A., Rector, in the chair. He provided a supper in the evening. Ringing throughout the day.

NORTHMOOR, OXON

2 Oct. 1881.—720 Kent T.B. Minor, the 5th and tenor having been rehung by Mr. White, of Besselsleigh.

ST. NICHOLAS', ABINGDON, BERKS

5 Oct. 1881.—720 Kent T.B. Minor—where all the bells have been turned and rehung by Mr. White. Tenor 7 cwt.

NORWICH, NORFOLK

26 Sept. 1881.—Norwich Diocesan Association meeting. Fair attendance. 'Would have been greater had it not been known that St. Peter's bells, the great attraction for ringers, were doomed to silence owing to the work of restoration which is still going on outside the tower. The bells of 7 of the city churches were kept well at work, especially St. Giles' which are now again being used after a silence of several years.' About a hundred ringers dined at 'The Lamb.'

SONNING, BERKS

15 Oct. 1881.—8 bells lately rehung by Mears: Tenor 22 cwt.

Change-ringing replacing 'ups and down and rounds and rounds.' 'We hope soon to see these Churchyard Bobs consigned to Mother Earth.'

LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION, MEETING AT BOLTON

29 Oct. 1881.—Rev. B. Winfield, B.A. (Manchester), said there was a proverb which ran 'A house-going parson makes a church-going people.' He would be inclined to change it and say 'A belfry-going parson makes a church-going ringer.'

A Glorious Christmas Gift

Here, without doubt, is the perfect present for every true bell enthusiast. E. C. Shepherd, a well-known contributor to these pages, has at last written a book ranging over the whole field of bell-ringing. Quite apart from his expert knowledge this is no ordinary book. It is, in fact, a book which has added a further dimension to reading—the dimension of sound. Each book contains a high fidelity recording of peals from both famous cathedrals and humbler towers, including the famous first peal of Stedman

Caters rung at Washington Cathedral. In 108 knowledgeably-written pages (including eight full-page illustrations) Mr. Shepherd covers the origins and evolution of bell-ringing, and also deals with hand-bell ringing and the art of the carillonneur. Here is a book no bell-lover can afford to miss. The cost is 25/- (plus 1/- postage and packing). ## OBITUARY

MR. HERBERT C. EDWARDS
AN APPRECIATION

With the untimely death on November 10th, in Northampton General Hospital, of Mr. Herbert C. Edwards, the tower of St. Giles', Stony Stratford, has lost a captain and friend of the highest order.

'Bert,' as he was known to one and all, started his ringing in 1908 at the nearby church of Calverton. He rang in many peals, some of them being landmarks in the history of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, of which he had been a member for 50 years.

His working life was spent as a body maker at the London North Western Railway Company's Wolverton works. He excelled in wood carving, especially oak. A peal board he carved is in St. Giles' tower and is a fitting memorial to him. Another pastime was his allotment where he spent many happy hours growing his beloved chrysanthemums: his plot is now in gay profusion with the heads of the blooms seemingly dropped in sorry.

We at St. Giles will miss for a long time his smiling face and happy disposition. We shall always remember him, as indeed will all North Bucks members and many in other branches of the Oxford Diocesan Guild.
M.G.H.

MR. CLAYTON E. PARNELL

The Norwich Diocesan has lost one of its oldest members by the death, on November 2nd, of Mr Clayton E. Parnell, in his 90th year.

A native of Beccles, he rang there under the tuition of Mr. Geo. E. Symonds, who was also residing there at the beginning of the century, and he rarely missed ringing for services, or a practice, until he left the town about 1928 for a short stay at Fakenham.

After two years he returned to the Eastern District, residing at Gorleston, and was a regular attender both there and at Great Yarmouth before the war, until failing health stopped him climbing the stairs. A quiet, unassuming character, he was always willing to assist in training learners. He rang 35 peals for the Association.
E.R.G.

MR. H. W. (HARRY) SHARP

The Ely Diocesan Association has lost its oldest member, by the death, at the age of 90 years, of Harry Sharp of Wilburton, Cambs. His death occurred on November 15th at the home of his daughter at Cottenham.

He was probably the last surviving foundation member of the Ely Association, and rang fifteen peals for it. Last July he took part in a quarter peal attempt on his 90th birthday. Until the death of his wife, and his removal from Wilburton, he was a regular member of the local band.

His funeral took place at St. Peter's Church, Wilburton, on November 17th. The Ely Diocesan Association was represented by Mr. C. W. Cook and his fellow ringers from Wilburton, who rang the bells he had loved as the cortege left the church. A peal of Rutland Surprise Major was rung at Burwell on November 18th, by members of the Association to his memory.
C.W.C.

MR. HARRY WYRE

Mr. Harry Wyre, of Cradley, Worcestershire, who died at his home on November 4th at the age of 72, had been a regular ringer at Cradley for 54 years, and was held in high esteem by the members of St. Peter's band of change ringers.

A man of varied interests, he was closely associated with the Sunday School in earlier days, he had a long association with the Boy Scout movement and received a distinction from Lord Baden-Powell for his services. For very many years he served in the Special Constabulary, rising to the rank of inspector.

The funeral service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. H. L. Davies. As the cortege left for the burial in the family grave the bells were rung by the members of the local band, assisted by members of the Worcestershire Association and Dudley Guild of Change Ringers.
H.J.S.

CANON CLEMENT LEEPER

With regret, we announce the death of Canon Clement Leeper, Chancellor of Southwell Minster, which took place at Nottingham General Hospital, on Nov. 12th. He was 82 years of age.

An honorary vice-president of the Southwell Diocesan Guild, he was tremendously keen on ringing, although he was never a change ringer. Since his retirement in 1952, he had been a regular Sunday service ringer at the Minster, and it was mainly due to his articles in the press that Southwell Minster had its ring of 12 in 1961.

A tireless worker for youth, Canon Leeper ran two youth clubs and two football teams and delighted in bringing his club members up the tower on practice nights, as a consequence of his recruiting efforts, Southwell had one of the youngest call change bands in the county.

It was fitting that at his funeral on Nov. 14th there were 70 young people under the age of 18 at the service, and six of the ringers came from his youth clubs. A half-muffled quarter peal was rung in the evening, and one of his young people rang the tenor to his first quarter peal. We shall all miss him: he was truly a Christian gentleman.
J.R.P.

MR. L. J. WILLIAMS

With regret, we announce the death of Mr. Laurence J. Williams, aged 73, who had completed 50 years' service ringing at Church Kirk, Lancashire. He died at his home on November 18th after a long illness.

The funeral service took place at Church Kirk last Saturday.

ANOTHER BORDER INCIDENT

What would, in diplomatic circles, be described as a threat to world peace occurred on October 17th, when a strong raiding force from the Bedford area penetrated several miles into the south-east corner of Northamptonshire. The invaders are reported to have been led by Stephen of Houghton (no doubt looking for naother conquest!) and supported by De Jongh (pronounced Dee-Jon) of Bristol, Alf of Luton and practically the whole of Maaikden!

The success of the entire enterprise was largely due to the fifth column work of Arthur of Rushden who joined up with the main attacking force at the village of Tichmarsh. The invaders set up temporary headquarters at the parish church, where, after securing the doors to prevent interruption, they pulled furiously on the bell ropes and rang some 5,000 variations on a theme by Ivin.

After this performance the hostile band made a determined attack on the peaceful town of Raunds, where again the church seemed to be their main objective. Here, Arthur left the party, in favour of an evening at a square table! The arrival of Robert of Bedford, however, restored the force to its original strength, and the bells soon announced that the spirits of the band were good.

The number of variations rung however, were much fewer than at Tichmarsh, though William of Raunds had the unique experience, as he thought, of seeing eight bells struck to a course of London Major by seven ringers and seven ropes!

The explanation was that Stephen, considering the 'draught' a little too long, had ascended the tower to a point a few feet below the bells, where, ringing with the bare rope, he kept in place, though the other seven ringers, two floors below, were neither audible nor visible! This performance brought forth loud cheering.

Satisfied with their day's work, the invaders withdrew to the neighbourhood of Bedford as rapidly as they had come, no doubt to plan further depredations, but where will the next attack fall? Peace lovers, look to your independent deterrents!

PROVIDING BELLS FOR A WEDDING

THOSE who record bells will find the experiment of Mr. R. G. West, a radio and television engineer of North Lopham, of interest. According to 'The Diss Express' he was asked to reproduce bells ringing for a wedding at Wortham Church, Suffolk.

He obtained a record of the eight bells at Thatcham, Berks. After playing the record through on to a tape recorder he realised his problems were only just beginning. 'I had to get the record on the tape leaving off the start and finish to make it synchronise.'

To overcome this difficulty he rigged up twin turn-tables with intermediate switching and a mirrored lens on a tripod through which he could see the grooves on the record. To make two touches of 12½ minutes' duration, with a short break in the middle and a three-minute toll at the end, Mr. West had to play the record through several times, carefully taking it off at a point before the end and restarting it in exactly the same spot a few grooves in from the beginning. The recording took Mr. West five hours to perfect and, he admits, 'several times I nearly gave up in disgust.'

But Mr. West's first 'disc' was immediately voted a 'hit' and now he receives 'bookings' at other churches without bells. 'If the bells are needed for a church service I supply them free, but if they are for a wedding I make a charge to cover my costs,' he said.

TAUNTON SOCIAL

Over 100 ringers with their wives and, in some cases, children, came to the Taunton Deanery Social, held in the Parish Hall, Wellington, on November 14th. It was a new venture, planned originally as a 'get-together' over a glass of beer and some bread and cheese. But suggestions had flowed in to the Committee, so that the Ringing Master, Mr. N. Maggs, after welcoming the company, started us off with a quiz—3 a-side—Taunton v. Wellington. It must be said that general ringing knowledge was rather poor, and Mr. Maggs had his work cut out to get results. In the end Wellington won by one point.

We were greatly indebted to Mr. W. Coles who organised the showing of slides and the recording of part of the peal rung in the Cathedral at Washington, U.S.A. Mr. Coles gave the commentary, and the Rev. D. F. Morey, Vicar of St. Mary's, Taunton, the Branch Chairman, worked the projector. The slides were lovely, and the spontaneous enthusiasm of the listening crowd when the bells came at last into rounds made us gasp.

Mr. Frank Mack, of Exmouth, brought his ring of six bells, complete with frame, wheels and ropes. The bells were old horse bells, the rest he had made himself, even to the tiny sallies. At home he rings them over the examination pit in his garage, the ringers sitting on the edge. We tried to ring them sitting on chairs—I say 'tried' because even a well-known ringer like Mr. H. V. Young was told 'That is the way not to ring them.' It is said that a visiting band, good ringers too, took two hours to get a touch of 120 Grandsire Doubles. The ring was fascinating, and very much admired.

The Association's Master, the Rev. H. F. Warren, came down from his Exmoor rectory, and the Rev. C. Marshall was welcomed from Long Sutton. Mr. A. H. Reed, the branch secretary, spoke of ringing in the deanery half a century ago, with some interesting details from old records, and thanked everyone who had worked to make the evening a success.

Refreshments, bread and cheese, mince-pies and apples, were organised by the Wellington ringers, and the Sampford Arundel band ran a small but well patronised bar. E. M. W.

MORE BELFRY GOSSIP

The first peal has been rung at Morval, Cornwall.

The peal at Poynton, Cheshire, on November 14th, was the first by the Sunday service band since the bells were cast in 1887.

Five Cumberlands from Essex and another five from Lincoln joined forces to enjoy a peal of London Surprise Royal at Bedford, on Sunday, November 15th.

We note the progress of Kenilworth Sunday service band who put on a quarter peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor for Sunday Evening, on November 15th.

Wallasey, Cheshire, is proud of 14-year-old Allison Smith, who, apart from a first with her first 720, has another as the first-ever by a lady member of the tower to ring a quarter.

Whitchurch, near Tavistock, Devon, recently reported their first-ever quarter. Their second is to hand this week. Enthusiastic leadership soon produces results.

In the peal at Esher, rung for the Middlesex Association and reported on page 787, the ringer of the second was Miss Joan Spreadbury and not John Spreadbury, as printed. Sorry Joan!

Repairs have started on the bells of St. Mary's, Wroxham, Norfolk. They are to be quarter turned and rehung on ball bearings. It is hoped that the work will be finished by Christmas.

The Peterborough Guild, in their plans for the Central Council's meeting at Northampton next Whitsun, hope to encourage car drivers not to tag along behind the coaches by putting out an alternative programme.

Mr. Bill Stote, of Coventry, had car trouble when he attempted to go to Sapcote for a seven Minor methods attempt on November 2nd. Fortunately Mr. B. L. Burrows was an efficient deputy and the peal was scored.

Few ringers can claim to have rung and conducted their first peal—but David Fenton of Bramley, Leeds, did this in 1955. Now nine years later he has rung his second—before taking up an appointment in Geneva.

The band who rang the peal at Swinderby would like to thank Mrs. Drury for so kindly entertaining the band to supper, both on November 3rd, when they repaired four stays (all Hastings type), and following the peal a week later.

From Hobart, Tasmania, Mr. Gordon Robertson writes, telling of the warm invitation he and his wife have received from Mr. F. E. Collins, to join the band at Croydon Parish Church. They hope to be back in this country in the New Year.

A very good friend of Lincoln ringers is Canon V. I. Dalby, R.I., of St. Giles', Lincoln, and there was genuine regret at the news of his departure to St. Helen's, Boultham. A farewell peal of London Surprise Major was conducted by Mr. J. L. Millhouse.

The quarter peal at Okeford Fitzpaine, on November 14th, was a birthday compliment to H.R.H. The Prince of Wales, and to the conductor (Mr. W. C. Shute). It was preceded by the annual committee meeting of the North Dorset Branch, S.D.G.R., at which the Rev. R. N. and Mrs. Longridge kindly entertained the members to tea.

New Parish for Lincoln Ringer

The appointment is announced of the Rev. P. M. Freeman, M.A., Vicar of Messingham with East Butterwick, Scunthorpe, Lincs, to be Vicar of Goxhill, Barrow-on-Humber, Lincs. Mr. Freeman is the younger son of the late Mr. J. A. Freeman, Master of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, and Mrs. Freeman, and brother of Mr. John Freeman, the vice-president of the Central Council and honorary secretary of Lincoln Diocesan Guild. He is a practising ringer. All Saints', Goxhill, has a ring of six bells, the same as Messingham.

Failure Redeemed

Mr. Donald Clift, who lost a peal of Stedman Caters at Carbis Bay in August, returned there specially on November 14th, and was rewarded with a good peal. He has called two peals of Stedman Caters in Cornwall within 13 months, the other being at Truro Cathedral in October of last year. Previously only two similar peals had been rung in the county, one conducted by the late J. S. Goldsmith on the occasion of the Central Council's visit to Plymouth, in 1932, and the other by the late Frank Bennett, in 1938. Both these peals were at Truro.

Waltham Abbey

Recent visitors to Waltham Abbey will have noticed the effect of the £40,000 restoration of the church. The final phase of this work was a rededication service, attended by Princess Margaret, when the Abbey bells were put to good use, with ringing on the 12 by the local band, both before and after the service. A peal of Stedman Caters was rung during the afternoon, after which the band was pleased to meet the composer of the peal, Mr. Charles W. Roberts.

The End of the Season

The last of the half-day excursions arranged by Mr. A. L. Bennett, for Devon Guild members, took place on November 11th, the party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Bould, Messrs. A. L. Bennett, K. E. Fursdon, H. F. Myers and R. A. Southwood. The first tower was Buckfast Abbey, where two of the Community joined in the ringing. After a sumptuous tea at the Coffee House, Buckfastleigh, two six-bell towers—Ilstington and Lustleigh—were visited. Ringing was in the four standard methods. Thanks were subsequently accorded to the organiser.

Jack A Napes

To complete their collection of Doubles methods, Mr. G. Dodd and Mr. R. Jones require the figures of Jack A Napes or Jack on Both Sides Doubles. 'These names,' writes Mr. Dodd, of 7, The White City, Woolton Hill, nr. Newbury, 'frequently crop up by critics of method naming, but none of our informants has any information about them.'

Sussex U.G. Welcome The Queen

Members of the Sussex University Guild of Change Ringers rang the bells of St. Peter's Church, Brighton, to welcome H.M. the Queen as she passed by on the occasion of her visit to open the new library at the University on November 13th.

A Generous Gift

The Editor and the Editorial Committee desire to thank Messrs. John Taylor & Co. and Messrs. Mears & Stainbank for generously placing the space occupied by their respective half-page advertisements at the disposal of the paper and at the same time continuing their payments to 'The Ringing World.'

This substantial increase in reading space is much appreciated. 'The Ringing World' Committee have expressed to the Editor a wish that Belfry Gossip should be extended to fill the whole page. To meet this request will necessitate many more contributions from representatives and readers. If all play their part, this page of items of interest about ringers, ringing and bells can be the most attractive feature of the journal.

Festival in Rhodesia

Writing from Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia. Mr. F. T. Blagrove informs us that the first week in November is observed as a Festival week at Salisbury Cathedral, and the bells were rung every day from 5 to 5.30 p.m. Ringing was on the front six, except for November 5th, when rounds were rung on ten. This day, apart from being Guy Fawkes Day and Referendum Day, was the anniversary of the dedication of the bells. The week finished with the half-yearly meeting of the Mashonaland Diocesan Guild on the Sunday, when the first touch of Major was rung on the bells, first call changes on the ten and the first eight-bell quarter peal in Central Africa.

First of Minor in Seven Methods?

At Bramford, near Ipswich, where the tenor is to be recast and there is a talk of an augmentation to eight by the addition of two trebles, Mr. George E. Symonds informs us that a peal board in the ringing chamber records that on January 1st, 1817, a peal in seven methods (Grandsire Bob, Oxford Treble, New Treble, Double Bob, London Court, New London, and Cambridge Surprise) was rung. New Treble, explains Mr. Symonds, is Kent T.B., and he asks: 'Could any of our historians who dabble in the past say when the first peal of Minor was rung in seven methods?'

Three Start Peals

Three young members of St. Mary's, Southampton, band have rung their first peals within a fortnight. On Oct. 31st at Soberton, Karen Faithfull (12) and Colin J. Butler (14) scored their first, and now at North Stoneham on November 13th, Joy Butler (12) has joined them. The father of Joy and Colin, Mr. Maurice J. Butler, rang in both peals. Friday, the 13th, was certainly not an unlucky day for Joy.

Grandfather's Peal

Mr. John B. F. Clark, of Harrogate, is anxious for information concerning his grandfather, Mr. Thomas Clark, of Sharow, Ripon. He understands that his grandfather rang in a peal at Ripon Cathedral on August 25th, 1886, which started at 5 a.m. The peal was to mark the millenary of Ripon Cathedral. Is there any documentary evidence of the peal?

Visitors Help Turramurra

Advantage was taken at Turramurra, New South Wales, of two visitors (Miss Suzette Wright and Mr. Tom Goodyer) to score a quarter peal on October 16th. The band needs outside stiffening for quarters as it is difficult to get younger ringers to progress beyond Plain Bob Doubles.

The Ringing Family

At a recent Old Whittington practice night with only ten members (reports 'The Belfry News') there were in the tower:
Two fathers and daughters,
Two brothers and sisters,
One husband and wife,
One father and son,
One pair of brothers,
One pair of 'in laws,'
'Nepotism?' queries 'Tombstone.'

faithful conductor and instructor in the village tower is often playing a bigger part towards posterity than he imagines in change ringing.

Another interesting chapter is headed 'The Eye Witness.' This is a collection of dramatic stories of our art, stories that will be read and reread, like Washbrook conducting London Surprise at Merton College and ending with 'The greatest of all,' the account of the ringing of the extent of Major by the conductor, Robert B. Smith. This is a story that will live all the time change ringing remains and succeeding generations of ringers will digest it with youthful enthusiasm.

We have previously mentioned the record that accompanies this book. Its value is greatly enhanced by the background to the ringing—supplied by the author—and his comments on the standard and style achieved. The selection is wide: there are the famous Bow Bells (the old and the new 12); Stedman Triples from Westminster Abbey, Lavenham and Portsea; a bright light eight ringing Bob Major at St. Mary's, Hampton; a sample of tens with Lichfield Cathedral and Washington Cathedral (the bells were only opened last Ascension Day) and the 12's at St. Paul's, London, St. Mary Redcliffe, Bristol, and St. Philip's Cathedral, Birmingham. But the immaculate striking in the 'cartwheel' ringing at Friezland will hold all Minor ringers spellbound. It reached a great height and is rarely heard in other parts of the country. The record also gives a sample of handbell ringing by the American Guild of Handbell ringers (perhaps one day we shall have a record of Mr. Frederick Sharpe's Launton ringers) and also of carillon playing at Loughborough by Mr. W. E. Jordan.

We feel that Mr. Shepherd has given to the Exercise a book that will be treasured and regarded as a 'masterpiece' in many ringing households. It is beautifully illustrated and a splendid example of modern typographical art.

MASHONALAND DIOCESAN GUILD

The half-yearly meeting of the Mashonaland Diocesan Guild of Bell Ringers was held in Salisbury, Rhodesia, on November 8th, from 10.30 a.m. until 8 p.m. To open the meeting ringers attended Matins in the Cathedral and lent strength to the singing. Rounds and call changes were rung afterwards until it was time to move over to the Ambassador Hotel, which provided an excellent 5-course lunch for only 12s. 6d. per head. Fines collected over the last few months from ringers who have failed to stand their bells easily covered the tips!

Unfortunately the bells had to be silent from 2.30 because of a Shona Evensong. This cut short the beginners' practice, so handbells were rung instead, including 2 courses of Grandsire Caters, until the business meeting at 3 p.m. 17 members were present at the meeting, but unluckily illness prevented anyone coming from Que Que, the other tower in Province. At the meeting plans for the future were discussed, including the formation of a Provincial instead of a Diocesan Guild, and the perennial question of finding new recruits.

Frank and Monica Blagrove were officially welcomed, and at a tower meeting, held immediately after the Guild one, Frank was welcomed again by being elected tower captain. This is in place of Colin Stevenson who will be away for 4 months over the Christmas long vac. and felt that he could not usefully continue.

After some welcome tea, change ringing was resumed: the difference made by the arrival of two experienced ringers including one experienced conductor is shown by the number of the ringing firsts on the bells during the day. These included call changes on 10 and the first touch of Bob Major, neither of which is easy to hear because the hum in the tower makes it difficult to hear the lighter bells from some parts of the belfry. A course of Double Court was rung and some Bob Triples and finally, after a short break and one false start, a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung for Evensong: it was the first quarter on eight bells in the tower, and the first quarter on 8 for three of the local ringers. This rounded off a hard but satisfying day's work.

SHOWING THE ROPES TO "MUM"

By EVELYN MASON

MY newest child was in the pram, the world's most beautiful babe (so claims every mother). She lay shadow boxing with her dear little dimpled arms and hands. A million miles from mind was any thought that one day those limbs might be my tutor! And a billion miles off was the idea that they would want to initiate me into a craft as strange as the one represented by the little noticed background sound of church bells regularly wafted bur way on Sundays.

That was nigh twenty years ago. Now, the infant who 'boxed' to bells is 18 and a manipulator of the very instruments she heard from the pram. I replied to her sudden fireside suggestion that I, her not-so-young 'mum,' should try to ring, and we set out to where our parish church rose like a black iceberg from the pitch black sea of night. My apprehension equalled that prefacing a visit to the dentist and was deepened by the ominous and eerie quiet of our situation.

The belfry switch produced an instant oasis of light as welcome as a beacon in the nocturnal gloom. The bell ropes were draped away to the walls like strip curtaining—with one exception. A solitary length (depending from the 'seventh,' I was told) awaited me. All at once my uneasiness touched off a nightmare. The ringing room was an execution chamber, deadly silent and grim! A noose dangled ready for my throat, and my own child in befitting black (her workaday clothes) stood behind it all set to be my hangman. Every ghost and demon that ever was laughed hollowly around me. 'Look at her, trying to ring! The silly "old" woman! Watch her go up with the rope! She'll strangle herself!'

The mood of the incubus changed. I was back in childhood, tugging hard and slanting-wise on the multi-coloured 'sally' of a swing-boat rope at the annual fun fair in my home town.

The 'gas' of imagining began to wear off. I came 'round' to hear my baby-turned-coach rap. 'Mum, this is serious! If you don't act properly you may get this rope about your neck, and perhaps not accidentally, either!'

Instructed. I grasped the end of the cordage with both hands (right atop of left), leaving a protruding tail-piece of a few inches which, I understood, was all that separated me from the loss of this 'halter' thing! There followed a grip of the sally (a lovely blue), and a long, strong, straight draw ending in an undignified bending of the knees (I thought).

But my first thrill came with the lift of the backstroke (I was starting to cotton-on to terms!). Oh! that exhilarating and exercising pull on the torso! Here was something more flattening than a power-net foundation! I was sampling a new slimmer—the corsetry of campanology for melting the middle-aged midriff! I felt tall and shapely as never quite before. Something in me responded with peculiar delight and satisfaction to the persuasive unseen bell above. 'Come on! Up! Up!' it seemed to lure. My arms reached to it with gladness and willingness. It was like a wooing. And I wanted to go with it!

I could see it was a potent courtship advisable in limited doses at first. The ardour and effort of giving myself to a bell for the first time left me hot, trembly, a little limp, excited, but also bewildered. Then (mind you), in this state of spent energy, my daughter-mentor rebuked her mater-pupil for too strenuously paving court to the new bell love!

By now, the floor was sprinkled with black, crawling, lilliputian bodies. My opening rounds of bell-fire had shot down the hibernating occupants of the upper regions—the last, drowsy flies of summer. Our Gulliver-feet squashed them out of their pathetically slow struggle to escape.

Rather oddly, I found myself withdrawing from the belfry backwards, with a shaky feeling of reverence-cum-peaceful elation, as if I was retiring from some holy-of holies where I had met and given obeisance to a gentle yet powerful deity of metal, hid from view, but very present.

I brinked on falling in love with a new being before whom I must only stand in worship, whom I must address with hands, arms and mind, and who answers this necessarily silent honour with a voice of tintinnabulation which for ages has drawn, fascinated, soothed, cheered, and held many disciples from many places and many callings. And the latter-day 'missionary' of a once baby-in-a-pram could win another convert, even her mother.

ONE RINGER'S SUNDAY

THERE was beginning to be a certain awareness. Something had been going on for a long time. Something awful. I tried very hard to sort it out. Was I a tortured soul in hell? Had it been an ignorant dream that at worst hell was the everlasting grave?

Oh! the agony of it. I thought I could see something. No, whatever it was it came right up to me and through. I could hear something! Someone was saying, 'You must only stay a few minutes.' Ah, now I knew. I was coming round after an operation. A major operation following torturous weeks of complications and mental exhaustion.

My mother had died, swiftly followed by the death of my brother without even a farewell. Our 'strapping' twelve-year-old son had fallen victim to a rare and swift acting germ which called for drastic surgery and then a long, long wait to see if the miracle of everybody's prayers had saved him from being crippled.

And then my slim, little, well cared for body, which had climbed any belfry stairs and pulled any bell I happened to fancy, had become desperately afflicted with all sorts of trouble and that when the final blow came I had travelled so far along the road that I was prepared to leave it, putting my family into God's keeping, knowing I would never have to suffer pain again.

'Please, God, take that terrible weight off my hand.' And then I saw the face of my dear husband and his hand on mine. The next instant it had gone. The agony was getting worse and I began wondering if anything really had been done for me. What looked like an angel was leaning over me and then I felt a merciful jab and the pain was bearable.

I tried to sort out what seemed to be a heavenly view from my window. Hill after hill climbing to the sky and fine elegant spires pointing to the heavens. Or was I having hallucinations? And then I heard them. The bells. A gorgeous, melodious rumbling in the hills, and there was no mistaking that. It was an ordinary Sunday morning and the bells were ringing somewhere. It was all over and I was going to get better.

There was a tap on the door and a sister of mercy came in with the most exquisite bouquet of flowers I have ever seen, tied with a massive bow of pink ribbon. I whispered, 'It is not my birthday.' 'No,' she said, 'but you have a daughter who is 24 years old today and it will be her way of saying "Thank you, mother."'

During the next few weeks I had plenty of time in my solitude to think, and I wondered if this experience had been for just that. I was a static Christian, not a progressive one. So many of us can easily find a good excuse for walking out of the church service after ringing: for not holding out a helping hand to those in need, when the truth is in both cases we prefer to do something else. Many of us answer the cries of the hungry of this world with crumbs and then spend 'real' money on unnecessary

THE LADIES' GUILD

The Kent Branch practice meeting, held at Tunstall on November 14th, was attended by 13 ladies, who were ably supported by some of the Rochester District male ringers, making approximately 30 in all. A short service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. P. V. M. Allen) and after tea Mrs. Mitchell held a brief meeting during which she told members of her visit to Macclesfield for the Guild A.G.M. and explained the change in the subscription rates whereby £2 2s. will now entitle a member to life membership. An appeal was also made for new members.

Apologies for absence were received from Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Dobbie and Miss Colegate. The ringing during the afternoon and evening ranged from rounds to Stedman Triples and Cambridge Surprise Minor.

things which give us pleasure, but alas, no spiritual happiness. How many of us, subconsciously perhaps, keep our lives cosily separated from the world of sick, suffering and lonely. We enjoy and admire the good souls among us, but we do not take a lesson from them or exude any goodness ourselves.

I thought of the example of those men who have devoted their lives to ease the suffering of women: of their fellow companions on call day and night to make sure of the safe delivery of 'difficult children,' some of them knowing they will never have a son or child of their own, yet harbouring no bitterness.

Sisters of mercy, who after acquiring high qualifications dedicate their lives to the sick regardless of their belief or disbelief, and who spend half their lifetime in the cold dimness of the night in a lonely vigil over the sick and helpless. And when they have a minute to spare, day or night, they slip into the Holy Room and pray for their patients.

Yes, when I see these examples around me I realise that my efforts to be a real Christian have been practically non-existent. I wonder if I have been given a second chance.

SOUTHWARK DIOCESAN RINGERS' FESTIVAL

DURING the past year the bells of Southwark Cathedral have been rung Sunday by Sunday by different bands from the churches within the Diocese. On November 22nd a Diocesan Ringers' Festival was held at the Cathedral. The bells were available from 3 to 5 p.m., and the continually crowded belfry must have given great pleasure to the organisers. At 5 p.m. about 100 ringers attended Evensong. The music was beautifully led by a choir from a church in the Diocese. The lessons were read and the intercessions conducted by diocesan ringers—Messrs. J. Euston, A. Winn and the Rev. A. Clayton. The Provost of Southwark preached a fine sermon.

After the service tea was provided in the Chapter House. In a speech after tea Mr. J. Euston told how this festival had brought to fruition the hopes of many years. Not only his own hopes, but also the hopes of some now dead. He reminded all of the importance of their art. 'Our bells reach many people who can never be reached by a sermon in church,' he said.

The whole occasion was most memorable and enjoyable. It must surely have prompted many minds to think that there should be a Southwark Diocesan Guild of Ringers. Perhaps then we might get a solution to the conflicting territorial claims in the Diocese of Southwark.

The grateful thanks of all go to Mr. Aubrey Winn, Master of Southwark Cathedral, to the Succentor and the Provost for arranging such an enjoyable occasion. We look forward to next year's festival, which is to include the rededication of the Cathedral bells after re-hanging.

Chertsey District

The nomination meeting of the Chertsey District at Chobham on November 21st was very well supported, more than 70 ringers turning up. Of these 36 notified for tea, but 62 came along! All were fed. Ringing, under the direction of Mr. F. E. Hawthorne, ranged from rounds, through Spliced Triples to Cambridge. The Rev. O. R. Acworth conducted the service, and Mr. Hugh Privett was at the organ.

Mr. A. D. Leach and Mr. R. Caporn indicated that they would not be seeking reelection. Nominations were: District Master, Mr. F. E. Hawthorne; assistant, Mr. C. D. J. Webb; District secretary, Mr. R. Collins; auditor, Mr. D. G. Blows. Mr. Collins reminded the meeting that nominations may still be sent in by post.

Mr. J. F. M. Maybrey asked if the Guild Master would reconsider his decision not to stand next year in view of the fact that the Cathedral bells were to be installed. Mr. May said he could now be prepared to stand, as a number of people had asked him to do so. This was very well received by the meeting.

The Vicar, in welcoming the Guild, said he hoped before they came again Chobham would have a more musical ring to offer. There was some dismay at the prospect of the Cathedral library being housed in the ringing chamber.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD STRIKING COMPETITION

MEMBERS of the Oxford Diocesan Guild might have misunderstood me if I had headed this note 'The Oxford Guild learns to strike.' But all this summer the many Branches of this large Guild, embracing the counties of Oxfordshire, Berkshire and Buckinghamshire, have held Branch competitions on various rings of six bells. On October 24th the winning bands from eight of the Branches held semi-finals and finals to decide the destination of three beautifully illuminated certificates, designed and delineated by Mr. E. Gosling, of Maidenhead.

Bands from Warborough, East Ilsley, East Hagbourne and Adderbury competed at Cowley in the afternoon, with Mr. R. F. B. Speed as the adjudicator. At the same time teams from Hughenden, Hurst, Quainton and Eynsham were at Sunningwell, where the judge was Mr. W. G. Wilson.

With the results of the semi-finals still unknown all the teams, and other members, went on to Radley for an excellent tea, organised by Miss Cross and her helpers. To ensure a full attendance, it was not until after tea that the judges were allowed to announce, with their comments, the names of the two teams from each semi-final to take part in the final, held in Radley tower after tea. The four chosen were East Hagbourne, East Ilsley, Eynsham and Hughenden, who proceeded to demonstrate in no uncertain manner why they had got through so far. Messrs. Speed and Wilson combined to judge the final and were agreed on the excellence of all four teams.

After comments and congratulations on the ringing by Mr. Wilson for the judges, the result was declared as follows: 1 Hughenden, who rang Plain Bob Minor and had 17 faults; 2 East Ilsley, Grandsire Doubles, 21 faults; 3 Eynsham, Grandsire Doubles, 43 faults; and 4 East Hagbourne, Grandsire Doubles, 48 faults. Certificates were presented by the Guild Master, the Rev. C. E. Wigg, to the first three. Mr. F. Sharpe, Deputy Master, thanked all concerned in making the event such a success. Rumour has it that next year will be the turn of the eight bell bands: they will have to be very good indeed to surpass the standard set by the four finalists at Radley.

RINGERS' SUNDAY AT HIGHCLERE

FOR the third year in succession, Ringers' Sunday was observed by the Highclere team of ringers on November 22nd. Ringing preceded the 8.30 Communion service, and there was also a full team present for 11 a.m. Matins.

The ringing of a peal in the afternoon is also in the annual programme. A good peal of Grandsire Triples was scored in 2 hours 50 minutes, the band including visitors from Thatcham, Bucklebury and Overton and the local company.

Several visiting ringers attended the special ringers' service in the evening. These included Canon F. A. Sanders and his wife, who joined in the ringing for service. Later Canon Sanders preached a much appreciated sermon. Handbells were introduced by six ringing choir members, who accompanied on handbells the singing of the hymn, 'Abide with me.' Two ringers—Mr. G. Dodd and Mrs. Green—read the lessons and ringers acted as sidesman for the collection.

In the ringing that followed the service, a demonstration touch of Grandsire Doubles was rung for the benefit of members of the congregation. Proceedings concluded with light refreshments at the Rectory: once again it was a Bellringers' Sunday to be remembered.

St. John of Jerusalem will be a Ringing Tower

PICTURED above is the Church of St. John-of-Jerusalem, South Hackney, and its bells. It has been without a band of ringers since pre-war days—the last war left the spire unsafe, but even when a new copper spire replaced the old stone one and the bells were rehung ringers were not forthcoming.

At the beginning of September Mr. J. E. Eyre started instructing some young people and, within a month a band was well under way and the tower, once well known for peal ringing, was again sounding out each Sunday for services and on Tuesday evenings for practice.

Saturday, November 21st, was the 116th anniversary of the opening peal rung on the bells in 1848. To mark the occasion the young ringers made a tour of six local towers.

Starting at St. Matthew's, Upper Clapton, where one of the ringers met us and gave advice to the young members, ringing followed at St. John-at-Hackney, St. Matthew's, Bethnal Green, St. Mary's, Bow, Christ Church, Isle of Dogs, and All Saints', Poplar.

Ringers went well at each tower and the only difficulty experienced was finding enough boxes for the smaller ringers to stand on!

New recruits are still coming at a steady pace and Mr. Eyre, the Ringing Master, hopes it will not be too long before some new names are to be seen in the peal columns.

A Glorious Christmas Gift

Here, without doubt, is the perfect present for every true bell enthusiast. E. C. Shepherd, a well-known contributor to these pages, has at last written a book ranging over the whole field of bell-ringing. Quite apart from his expert knowledge this is no ordinary book. It is, in fact, a book which has added a further dimension to reading — the dimension of sound. Each book contains a high fidelity recording of peals from both famous cathedrals and humbler towers, including the famous first peal of Stedman

Caters rung at Washington Cathedral. In 108 knowledgeably-written pages (including eight full-page illustrations) Mr. Shepherd covers the origins and evolution of bell-ringing, and also deals with hand-bell ringing and the art of the carillonneur. Here is a book no bell-lover can afford to miss. The cost is 25/- (plus 1/- postage and packing). Please send cheque or p.o. with your order to Record Books Limited Dept 1 200 Gray's Inn Rd London WC1

Is 108 Stedman Triples Impossible?

Dear Sir,—It was a great pleasure to meet Mr. George E. Symonds again at the College Youths' dinner, and to read your column about him in 'The Ringing World' of November 20th.

In 1917, 'The Ringing World' published a series of touches of Stedman Triples provided by Mr. Symonds, for all numbers of changes from 100 to 206 inclusive except for 108, against which was printed 'Stumbling block.' On September 28th, 1917, a letter appeared from Mr. H. W. Frigate, once of Ashford, Kent, in which he said that for reasons which he gave a touch of this length was impossible.

This has never been challenged and so is presumably correct, but perhaps some of the present-day mathematicians in the Exercise, of whom there are infinitely more than in Mr. Frigate's time, might like to look into the matter and, if they confirm his findings, say why such a length is unobtainable.—Yours sincerely,

E. A. BARNETT.

Crayford, Kent.

First Peal at Sandhurst

Dear Sir,—With reference to the item in 'Belfry Gossip' in your issue of November 20th about the recent peal at Sandhurst, Kent, by the Hawkhurst Guild, I wish to state that it was not the first on the rededicated bells. I conducted a peal for the Sussex Association there on August 10th, 1963, the method being Plain Bob Minor.—Yours faithfully,

ALAN R. BALDOCK.

Eastbourne.

Maintenance Tips

Dear Sir,—With regard to Norman Chadcock's article about belfry maintenance, I hope it will be of interest to readers to know what I have done at Bolsover.

In most belfries it is necessary for some of the ropes to pass through chutes, at an angle, in order to form a good circle in the ringing chamber. I came to the conclusion that these chutes serve no useful purpose as the rope still passes over sharp corners, and if the sally enters the chute this can cause difficulty. I removed the chutes and fitted a roller where the rope passes through the ceiling and where it enters the small pulley box. This has saved a lot of wear on the ropes and made them easier to handle.

I have recently read of two cases where clappers have fallen out of bells. I suspect one of the reasons for the lack of maintenance on clappers is because they are difficult to put back after removal for inspection. I have recently experimented with an idea to make this easier and it has proved most successful.

I removed the split pin above the nut which is screwed on that part of the clapper which protrudes through the headstock. I then sawed down from the end of the thread, in two places, at right angles to the split pin hole. Saw just past the hole then saw the other way to remove these two pieces. This leaves a piece of solid metal in the centre with a hole in it. Do not remove too much metal or the split pin will not serve its purpose afterwards.

When removing the clapper a piece of strong thin wire is passed through the hole, the nut is removed and passed on to the wire and the clapper is lowered from above. When replacing the clapper the nut is put on the wire, the end of which is passed through the headstock and bell. It is then fixed to the clapper which is pulled back into position from above.

All the person in the uncomfortable position under the bell has to do is guide the screwed end into the headstock.—Yours sincerely,

DENNIS COOPER.

Chesterfield.

Peals at York Minster

Dear Sir,—Now that a peal has been rung at York Minster applications are being received for further attempts. May I clarify the position?

In the past permission for a peal was only granted for very important occasions. There was an attempt on the middle eight for the coronation of H.M. the Queen when in fact a half peal was rung. In more recent years the late Dean actually curtailed normal ringing a little.

The Chapter gave permission for the recent peal as a fitting welcome for the new Dean, who has been most appreciative of the work of this Society.

The Dean and Chapter are willing to allow very occasional peals in the future when events of sufficient importance justify an attempt.

Any application, whether made direct to the Dean or through this Society, should state the reason for the peal and the name of the conductor if other than the writer.—Yours sincerely,

M. E. WILKINSON (Miss),
Hon. Secretary,
York Minster Society.

Central Council's Collection of Minor

Dear Sir,—I would like to bring to the attention of Minor ringers an error which appears in extents 307-311 inclusive by C. K. Lewis on page 122 of the C.C.C. of Minor Methods. The method preceding the single at that lead head 23645 is a 6ths place method and appears to be wrong. If a 6ths place method is rung then the lead head would be 32654 and of course the part end would not be 34256 as printed.

I was also wondering if any other errors in the collection have been brought to light and if they have ever been published in 'The Ringing World'.—Yours sincerely,

GERALD PENNEY.

St. Albans, Herts.

College Youths' Elections

Dear Sir,—Your excellent account of the Ancient Society of College Youths' dinner could not, of course, include everything that was said. Since my speech contained some remarks about the revised rules covering election of new members to the Society, perhaps you will allow me to make it clear, as I did at the dinner, that in deciding the suitability of candidates we shall rely more than ever on the written recommendations sent by our reliable and respected members in the provinces. The change is that, between nomination and election, four weeks will elapse, for consideration. Neither from London nor from elsewhere will applications go through, as it were, 'on the nod'.—Yours faithfully,

R. B. MEADOWS.

The Peal at Geddington

Dear Sir,—With reference to the peal at Geddington (pages 776 and 752), surely any experienced change ringer should know that the difference in time taken to ring a peal on a very long draught could be anything up to 30 minutes according to the methods rung. (Place making or dodging.)

We always choose the method to fit the bells, and someone always says it was a very fair tap.

We have never been chased out of town, and we have never been afraid to drop in the local after the success or failure. Finally, we have never been afraid to ask for the use of the bells at a later date.—Yours sincerely,

M. W. HARRISON.

Holme Pierrepont, Notts.

Worcester Cathedral Bells

Dear Sir,—Further to the letter on the subject from Mr. R. R. Savory on page 776, I think it extremely unlikely that the 6th and 9th were cast in 1864.

At a chapter meeting on June 29th, 1864, Cattley made an application to remove the old bells from the tower. This application was refused and he was ordered to supply details of his proposed scheme and the reports and certificates of two independent architects that the tower was of sufficient strength to carry the bells. Cattley did not produce the necessary documentation until the chapter meeting of November 23rd, 1864, when the scheme was formally approved. He had, however, to arrange for a bell to be rung for services. All the seven bells were removed from the tower in January, 1865.

Early in 1864 the Restoration Committee decided to include the tower in their programme and work was started about October or November, 1864, and extensive building operations continued until 1868, during which time the top 30 feet of the tower was taken down and rebuilt.

Denison's amended specification for a ring of 10, tenor 38 cwt. in D, is dated August 18th, 1865, but it was not until November 20th, 1867, that Cattley applied to the chapter to modify the scheme to 12 bells. The specification (by Denison) for the 12, 50 cwt. in D flat, is signed by Cattley and John Taylor and is dated January 8th, 1869.

This was the ring that was subsequently erected. From this it is obvious that if the 6th and 9th were cast in 1864 they would be the 5th and 8th for a ring of 10, and that if they were incorporated in the twelve then the 6th would be a semitone sharp.

If these two bells had been cast in 1864, Taylors had very little time to cast them; the tower was in an unfit state to hang them; and the local newspapers (which give very accurate details on the progress of the scheme) would have made some mention and if they did not then Cattley would certainly have written a very long letter to them about it. Additionally, Cattley wrote to 'The Worcester Herald' in May, 1869, saying that he had visited Loughborough and seen the tenor which, he said, was the first of the ringing bells to be cast.

Mr. Savory's letter, and other previous correspondence, suggests that some of the old eight were recast, but this was not the case. The 1869 twelve were completely new, there was no recasting or augmentation and none of the inscriptions from the old bells were repeated on the new ones. Also the Bourdon bell was not recast in 1928, but returned from B flat to A.

The weights of the old semitone bells are as follows: Flat 4th, 9 cwt. 2 qr. 4 lb., 1869; flat 6th, 11 cwt. 1 qr. 6 lb., 1875; flat 8th, 18 cwt. 0 qr. 14 lb., 1875.—Yours sincerely,

JOHN C. SLATER.

Worcester Cathedral.

Rings of Four in Kent

Dear Sir.—The article by D.C.L. on rings of four in Kent makes interesting reading, and I am delighted to learn that Waltham bells are in better condition than they appeared to me at a cursory glance a few weeks ago; let us hope that regular ringing becomes possible there.

The list of ringable fours given omits that at St. James', Isle of Grain. These bells are in good ringing order, the tenor being between 6 and 7 cwt., and they are hung in a wooden frame with pits for two additional bells. The four at Plumstead are mentioned as being ringable, but to the best of my knowledge this ring was restored fairly recently by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank and hung dead for chiming only.—Yours sincerely,

PETER N. BOND.

Gillingham.

LETTERS—Continued

King's Norton-by-Gaulby

Dear Sir.—I would like to thank Messrs. Haines, Bagworth and Salter for offering their congratulations to the band who recently rang a peal at the above mentioned tower.

It is interesting to note that eight peals have been rung on these bells, namely: Grandsire Triples in 1776 (the first on the bells); Grandsire Triples in 1816; Stedman Triples in 1926; Grandsire Triples in 1929; Grandsire Doubles (on back six, two on tenor) by local band, about 1931; Plain Bob Major (first Major on the bells), about 1934; Braunstone Surprise Major (first Surprise on the bells), 1956; Cambridge Major, 1964.

Nichols' 'Church Bells of Leicestershire' tells us that Wm. Fortrey, Esq., gave a peal of 10 bells when he completely rebuilt the church in 1760, but finding the weight dangerous he reduced them to eight. He also gave a ring of six to Gaulby in 1741 (tenor recast 1740); a treble to Houghton-on-the-Hill (which is in a sadly decayed and unsafe frame); two new trebles to St. Margaret's, Leicester, recasting the trebles to the existing eight and rehanging them in a new oak frame in 1738.

From the above dates, Mr. Bagworth's assumption that the trebles from Norton went to Gaulby is ruled out.

Another point, the late Ernest Morris did ring a peal at Gaulby, over 40 years ago when he turned the tenor in to Bob Minor (the only peal on the bells). Incidentally, these bells are in a 'ringing' state, but are definitely not allowed to be rung due to the insecurity of four very tall and slender pinnacles on the top of the tower.

Getting back to King's Norton, the dates and founders of the bells are as follows: Treble, 2nd, 3rd and 5th. Thomas Eayre, 1760; 6th, Thomas Eayre, 1761; 7th and tenor, Joseph Eayre, 1764; and the 4th is one of the previous ring dated 1641.

The frame is in a 'reasonable' state and the bells hang in two tiers—five on the bottom and the three trebles on the top.

Of the eight, six swing in the same direction (including 6, 7, 8 in a row) and treble and 4th in the other direction.

If any ringer or ringers should be in the vicinity of King's Norton (7 miles S.E. of Leicester), it would be a journey well rewarded to see the church in one of the most picturesque settings in the county.

Mr. Bagworth will be pleased to hear that Staunton Harold bells are still in the tower, but are not allowed to be rung because of the hall being acquired by the Cheshire Homes and some dribble about the frame being unsafe.—Yours faithfully,

R. KINGSLEY MASON.

Knighton, Leicester.

SUNBURY-ON-THAMES, MIDD.—On Nov. 8th, 1,440 Kent Treble Bob Minor: Miss B. Dale 1, D. Brock 2, M. B. Tyers 3, A. M. Johnson 4, A. G. Tyers 5, D. Struckett (cond.) 6. Rung half-muffled for Evensong, and prior to a choral rendering of Brahms' 'German Requiem'.

WINTERTON-ON-SEA, NORFOLK.—On Nov. 7th, 1,320 Plain Bob Doubles: M. Seunke 1, Miss D. Toon (first quarter) 2, T. Brock 3, S. High (first as cond.) 4, J. B. Pickup 5.

LEEDS VISIT NORTH-EAST COAST

FOR their autumn outing on October 10th, Leeds Parish Church ringers were able to have a three years old ban on visitors lifted at rethkirk, near Thirsk, where the 8 cwt. tenor could pass for 18 cwt.

The ban had arisen because a broken rope or ropes, left after a meeting held there, had given rise to the report that 'visiting ringers did damage'.

The Rector had warned us that one of his bells 'gave a cracked sound,' but we were scarcely prepared for the sound or rather the lack of sound of Sedgfield tenor. 'There is more ringing in a dustbin lid—but the 'beat' of a ring or five with an inaudible tenor is quite interesting.

The remaining six towers visited contained excellent octaves from Whitechapel, Croydon and Loughborough.

Difficulty in finding St Ignatius', Bishopwearmouth, which is situated in a poorer quarter of Sunderland, and having located it a still further delay in finding the key, reduced ringing time both here and on the sister ring at St. Michael's, the mother church of Sunderland.

There is, alas, no ringing at the former church—a lovely building and equally lovely bells—the sight of a motor coach outside and the sound of the bells attracted a swarm ofurchins hoping to see the bride.

At St. Aidan's, West Hartlepool, the musical Taylor eight are now ringing again after some months' silence. And what a snare for the unwary was the extra deep set of the seventh.

At St. Hilda's, South Shields, Charlie Lea's light eight tapped round to Original, and perhaps the best ringing of the day was our Little Bob at Houghton-le-Spring. These bells are literally a delight in both respects—sound and 'go.' A 'special' eight, they were on exhibition in their frame at the Croydon Bell Foundry in 1928.

At Shildon, our last tower, considerable local interest had been created by our visit—the youth club turned up in strength to see how it was done. Welcome refreshments were provided, and an invitation to come again was pressed upon us. These bells have been rung very rarely in recent years but efforts are now being made to form a band. A board records a peal of Grandsire Triples sixty years ago, conducted by the veteran John H. Lenton, who, now nearing his four score years, is still actively ringing at Pontefract.

If anyone should be singled out for thanks for the undoubted success of this outing it should be the coach driver. R. H. D.

LONDON UNIVERSITY AND THE FUTURE

The author of the problems confronting London University Society, mentioned on page 775, was Mr. David Martin's predecessor as president, Mr. Philip Gray. 'I am the legatee of the problems,' continues Mr. Martin. 'He and his predecessor, Dennis Layton, were founders of the Society 19 years ago. As their first pupil, perhaps I might add that the present standing the Society enjoys is due largely to early foresight and continuous devotion.' The problem is the creation of the Northampton C.A.T., as a separate university next year and a split up into two or more universities in London in the near future.

OBITUARY

MR. FRED BLACKLIDGE

Members of the Preston Branch of the Lancashire Association were shocked to learn at their meeting at Tarleton on November 14th, of the sudden death that morning of Mr. Fred Blacklidge.

Fred had been a member of the Association for more than 40 years, and although not a prolific peal ringer (his total was 44), he was justly proud of being the last surviving member of the Sunday service band of St. James', Brindle, which rang a peal of London Surprise Minor (the first for the Association) in 1931.

In recent years Brindle has unfortunately lacked a regular band, but Fred, along with others, had lately been teaching some learners, and was hoping to get the bells ringing regularly once more. He was a man of quiet disposition, a capable ringer, who was as happy when standing behind a learner as when taking part himself. He will be greatly missed by the Preston Branch.

The funeral took place at St. John's, Whittle-le-Woods, on November 19th, and the bells were rung half-muffled by Branch members both before and after the interment.

A quarter peal of Plain Bob Minor was rung at Brindle, and a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at Chorley St. Laurence's.

MRS. JOAN PANNELL

Mrs. Joan Pannell, wife of Mr. Ernest Pannell, a ringer at St. Cuthbert's, Darlington, passed away on November 23rd.

She was born in Hartford, Huntingdonshire, and learnt to ring in that area before moving to Darlington in 1951.

Ill-health prevented her from taking part in the ringing at Darlington, much as she would have liked to. She bore her illness bravely, assisted by the loving care which her husband and family bestowed upon her.

She was taken to hospital a few weeks ago, suffering greatly, and there she ended her days. The widower shares his bereavement with a son and daughter. May she rest in peace. F. H.

'BEGORRA! SURE IT'S INDEED TO GOODNESS'

University of Wales Abroad

THIS year the University of Wales Society was very ambitious and held its tour in Southern Ireland at the beginning of October.

The main party disembarked at Rosslare at 7 a.m. on the Wednesday morning and knocked up a local hotel for breakfast after having deposited their luggage in a building in the harbour car park. The 'advance party' and the cars arrived at 9 a.m. and we set off for Wexford.

We had been told that the bells of the R.C. Church of the Immaculate Conception were 'out of action' but all that is required are 3 ropes and they are a very good 10. We had only one spare rope and so were only able to ring the back eight.

Two more joined us at Waterford bringing our numbers up to 14. The ringing here started well but was brought to a sudden stop when someone standing in the gallery in the ringing chamber grabbed a moving rope and caused the bell to set! Luckily no harm was done.

After a quick lunch we went out to Kilkenny to St. Canice's Cathedral where we found a light airy ringing chamber and the bells in a 'box' on top of the very squat tower. Due to tiredness we couldn't strike these bells well, but we managed to pull ourselves together for the light six at Doneraile and Stedman and Cambridge went well.

We found a good Chinese restaurant in Cork in the evening which provided a table for 14 and good food and wine. We returned there on the Thursday evening as well.

NONE KISSED BLARNEY STONE

Most of the party slept late on Thursday morning and as the bells at Rosscarbery are out of action we had time to visit Blarney Castle. None of us kissed the Blarney Stone! We had an enjoyable ring on the good 6 at Bandan and then we went back to St. Finbarre's Cathedral, Cork, for a peal attempt. After about an hour and a half of Plain Bob Major a rope slipped wheel and jammed. That evening we rang some sensible methods and some 'party games' on the handbells.

The next morning we set off for Limerick. At St. Mary's Cathedral we found an anticlockwise eight which went very well to Cambridge. We moved on to Mount St. Alphonse, where we found an excellent ten. The priest who met us here had been in Carmarthen for some years and greeted us with the Welsh 'Croeso.' Back to Dublin for the night, where we nearly lost our Welsh nationalist in a demonstration by Irish nationalists in O'Connell Street.

Our first tower on the Saturday was Blessington where a considerable amount of effort was required to ring the bells. The Vicar and local ringers here are keen to have the bells restored.

REAL IRISH BOG

The road to Arklow took us via Glendalough and the seven churches, a very beautiful place. The party in the Opel stopped to take a walk and landed up to their ankles in bog. Arklow bells are a very good eight which we did not do justice to even with a course of Duffield.

The bells at Bray are excellent and we enjoyed our ringing there. Then we went on to Drogheda for an evening's ringing with Mr. Fred Dukes and his band. This is a very good opportunity to send our thanks to Mr. Dukes for all he did to make the tour the success it undoubtedly was. Thank you, Mr. Dukes, come and see us in Wales some day!

The Sunday saw us ringing for services in Dublin. We were allowed to ring the bells of St. Patrick's Cathedral before Matins and so after ringing the 12 to rounds, a good quarter peal of Plain Bob Triples was rung on the middle eight. We rang for a short time at the R.C. Church of St. John's Lane and in the afternoon at Christ Church Cathedral.

We had been invited to meet the President of the University of Dublin Society of Change Ringers, Professor Vokes, at his home. Here we were treated to a marvellous tea and were able to chat to the U.D. ringers.

Now there was only one tower left in Southern Ireland which we hadn't visited. St. George's, Dublin. Half of the party rang here for Evensong: the other half (in the Opel) couldn't find the church.

And so to Dun Loaghaire, a calm crossing to Holyhead and after a nightmare of a journey for those of us going to Aberystwyth we were back home ready for another term to begin.

IN AND AROUND SALISBURY PLAIN

WHILE the manœuvring Army played soldiers outside and the last of the season's holidaymakers passed unheeding through a Dorset town, four ringers could have been found in the bar of a quayside inn quaffing pleasantly potent cider and discussing tours past and future.

The plans conceived here reached fruition on October 31st—after some difficulties owing to an unprecedented amount of movement among the clerical profession, leading in one instance to a refusal from a tower in Sussex—bringing together in the south-west corner of Wiltshire ringers from that county, Middlesex and Dorset.

At the appointed time the band's four cars gathered below the four bells of Donhead St. Andrew, which were soon sounding out over the splendid autumn gold of the countryside. These bells were rehung in 1953 and the tenor is by Wasborough Hale of Bristol, better known perhaps as a manufacturer of steam engines.

From four to six, and after a brisk trot around the village by two members of the party, access was gained to Hindon St. John, the bells of which gave some interesting ringing. The next tower was Barford St. Martin, containing a 14 cwt. six, rung from the centre of the church.

Lunch was taken by the plutocracy—being branch officers of the Salisbury Guild—in civilised luxury in Salisbury, while one section took to the fields and the other apparently to Old Sarum.

Spliced Minor in the porch at Winterslow and then a ring under the brooding eaves of East Fytherley, one of two eights on the tour and where with the aid of Southampton a young band is being taught. A mile or two away at Lockerley—vintage Taylor's—some youngsters helped us out.

The well-known picnic spot of the Pepperbox was the venue for tea, and although this tower is without bells—one of the party was seen to be scaling it, doubtless in an attempt to confirm this—it was duly circled! Sustained by this tea, the 22 cwt. tenor of Downton posed few problems and Plain Bob Major was rung in spite of spectators weaving in and out of the ropes halfway through the touch. The tour was concluded with two more sixes—Coombe Bissett and Broadchalke, the latter being particularly enjoyed and the source of some amusement when it was found that there was nothing for one of the youngest tower grabbers (age nine) in the Exercise to stand on. Down went a gallant gentleman and the young lady, supported on his back, gained another tower.

Minimus, Stedman and Cambridge also featured in the repertoire and having completed an almost full if rather elongated circle the band dispersed homewards.

HANDBELL CAROLLING

Some Tips by T. Ogden

ABOUT this time of the year I am frequently asked by young ringing friends as to how to go about playing carols around their parishes at Christmastime, and as this may be of interest to a great many readers, here are a few practical hints and tips.

A minimum of 12 handbells is needed, preferably with a tenor size 15 C, but a set with tenor 18 G or 19 F would do just as well. There are many carols and hymn tunes that can be played with a set of 12 notes, but if a few more bells are available, together with one or two shops or flats, the range of tunes can be considerably increased. With two bells to each ringer, six to eight ringers, and two or three others (who need not be actual ringers) are needed, the latter to hold the music for the ringers when playing out of doors. Paste or glue your music sheets on card or hardboard, and cover it with transparent polythene to protect it from the weather.

If your journey takes you over unlighted country roads, two or three paraffin pressure lamps will be handy, and—most important—tie each ringer's bells at the ends of a 4 ft. or so length of stout string and loop this over their shoulders, their bells can then be released for a few minutes if needed without any fear of them being damaged by dropping on the ground. Handbells are very expensive to replace, and your set could be put out of action for many weeks by just one bell being dropped on a concrete road or path—Safety First!

Take a collecting box with you, the name of the organisation for which you are collecting should be on it, and you will find that if this box is presented by a pretty young lady with a pleasant smile it is surprising how much more goes in it!

All your regular churchgoers will appreciate you calling on them, but also call on others, and do not forget the old gentleman who was perhaps a ringer many years until his age kept him from the belfry, or the old lady who may have sung in your church choir many years ago, and who still loves good music, as well as those people better off than most of us.

Especially if playing outdoors, strike your bells loud and clearly, nothing sounds better on a clear, frosty evening, and you will be pleasantly surprised at the enjoyment you, and your audiences, will experience. Everyone will be glad for you to call, and many will surprise you with the welcome and warm hospitality they will extend to you. I know, I have experienced it myself!

With every good wish for Christmas and the New Year to ringing friends everywhere.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Newark District

The two most outstanding features of the meeting of the Newark District, held at Winthorpe on November 21st, were the good attendance and the obvious pleasure of the Rev. Dilwyn Davies at our visit.

A touch of Bob Minor by an all-ladies' band preceded the service, and afterwards both the Vicar and the organist joined us for tea in the Village Hall.

The Vicar also presided over the business meeting, and opened it by asking everyone to stand in silence to the memory of Canon Leeper, of Southwell, an honorary vice-president of the Guild, who had recently died at the age of 82.

Mr. A. E. Chilton proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and the organist, and to the local ringers for their arrangements.

Visitors were welcomed from the Bingham District and from Lincolnshire, and although at times it was difficult to pack everyone into the very small belfry the ringing was much enjoyed.

MR. CLAUDE RUSH DELVES INTO 'CHURCH BELLS'

Vol. XI, Advent, 1880 - Advent, 1881

TOTTENHAM PARISH CHURCH, MIDDXX

All Saints' Day, 1881.—The rich and beautiful ring of 6 bells has been improved by the addition of two trebles, provided by a few friends as a mark of esteem for their Vicar—opened on All Saints' Day, 1881. New bells weigh 6 and 6½ cwt. and are by Warners, who also repaired the old gear. Tenor 19 cwt. in E.

NORTH CHINA—HANDBELLS

SS. Simon and Jude's Day, 1881.—Anniversary of consecration of Dr. Scott, Bishop of North China. About 400 circulars sent to various well-known ringers in England asking for funds to purchase and send out to Bishop Scott a complete set of handbells with case and all books and music thought requisite at a price not exceeding £25. The Chinese have bells but are ignorant in the art of raising and ringing a bell and are entirely unacquainted with change-ringing. The proposed handbells will primarily be used for the purpose of calling the people together to hear the preaching of the Gospel, as in other missions a cornet or a drum has been used with good results.

Besides this, however, it is believed that, from the interest the Chinese show in their own bells and from their mathematical acuteness, they will soon master changes and become, before long, formidable rivals of English change-ringers. . . . No subscription to exceed 5s. The Committee will gladly receive subscriptions from ladies interested in handbell ringing. A subscription list showed that, within a few weeks, (i.e. by the end of Nov., 1881) nearly £8 had already been received.

SS. PETER AND PAUL, SWANSCOMBE, KENT

24th September, 1881.—Opening of bells after rehanging. Had been out of order for considerable time but through the kindness and liberality of Mr. J. B. White and brothers, they were rehung and new ropes added.

ST. MARY'S, CHELMSFORD, ESSEX

3rd November, 1881.—Opening of these 8 bells—tenor 22 cwt. in E flat, recently rehung by Warners.

NORTH WINGFIELD PARISH CHURCH, DERBYS.

5th November, 1881.—While bells were being raised for practice, gudgeon of 4th broke and let bell down into framework, breaking the wheel and doing other damage. Only repaired in 1878 when new fourth was cast and all rehung.

DEATH OF JOHN FRIEND

15th October, 1881, at Hythe, Kent, aged 77. A College Youth. 'On his occasional visits to London a select band always met the "talented countryman" as he was termed, having performed on every ring of 10 or 12 bells in London.' He rang in peals of 10,304 at Ashford and 13,440 at Hythe, etc.

GLINTON, NORTHANTS

11th November, 1881.—On the 80th anniversary of the opening of the 6 bells, tenor 16½ cwt., a gathering of ringers took place. A 720 of Oxford T.B. was attempted but 'jumbled out in the last 12 changes.' A knife-and-fork tea was provided at the Blue Bell Inn. Ringing went on all day from 9 a.m. and the evening was spent in listening to Mr. J. T. Hollis playing tunes and tapping of change-ringing on handbells—224 Kent—in capital style.

ST. MARY'S, HORNSEY, MIDDXX

13th November, 1881.—720 Grandsire Minor in 28 minutes. Tenor 17½ cwt. 'supposed to be the first ever performed on the bells of this church.'

ST. NICHOLAS, GREAT YARMOUTH, NORFOLK

15th November, 1881.—5,040 Holt's Ten-part Grandsire Triples. 3 hours 25 minutes. Tenor 30½ cwt. by 8 members of the Yarmouth Company and members of the Norwich Diocesan Association. 'This is the first peal of the company and the first in Yarmouth for 27 years and by a Yarmouth company for 35 years.'

ACKWORTH PARISH CHURCH, YORKS.

18 Dec., 1880. The six bells, silent for 20 years immediately prior to 1880, reopened after overhaul. Jasper W. Snowden in charge. Tenor 14 cwt. cast by Warners and all rehung by T. Mallaby of Masham, at the cost of Catherine Alice Peel, of Ackworth Park.

STOCKTON-ON-TEES, DURHAM

Since the reorganisation of the Society of Ringers in connection with the parish church as a branch of the Durham Diocesan Association, the progress of the beautiful art of change-ringing has been so steady and satisfactory that this company are in a position to rank themselves for proficiency with any 6-bell company in the Northern Counties, having on Christmas Eve, 1880, completed the hundredth peal, 90 of which have been rung entirely by their own members. . . . The capacious and well-built tower of the church is well adapted for 8 or 10 bells which, in the hands of the present company of ringers, would soon receive ample justice. (They have a 21 cwt. tenor to ring of 10 today.—C.R.).

ST. JOHN THE EVANGELIST, RANMOOR, SHEFFIELD

Christmas Day, 1880: 8 bells opened—tenor 14 cwt. James Barwell, Birmingham, founder, hangers and fitters, James Shaw and Sons, Bradford. Bells presented by William Smith, Esq.

DRAYTON, BERKS.

27 Dec. 1880.—8 College Youths rang 5,120 Kent T.B. Major in 3 hrs. 6 mins. Tenor 9½ cwt. rung by Rev. E. Robinson. 'This is the finest peal in this method ever called by an incumbent on his own bells.'

FIRING THE BELLS

15 Jan. 1881.—An aged gentleman writes from a Cathedral town complaining of the hideous firing of the bells on New Year's Eve. We have always disapproved of such a practice: there is neither music nor science in it and it must be an intolerable nuisance to the neighbours. Our advice to our aged correspondent is to complain to the Dean and Chapter, who ought not to allow such a practice. Should that fail, to apply to the Lord Chancellor for an injunction.

In a later issue, 'We are very sorry to hear that the bells of Ripon Cathedral were fired on the eve of the New Year—twelve blows to mark the midnight hour. That would not be so bad as the continuous hideous firing complained of by an aged gentleman in another Cathedral town. We think the midnight hour is much better marked by twelve slow and sober knells with the tenor only.'

LONDON.—At St. Clement Danes', on Nov. 8th. 1,277 Grandsire Caters: J. Ketteringham 1, Miss R. Rich 2, Mrs. W. Oatway 3, C. A. Hughes 4, P. Fleckney 5, A. M. Stacey 6, M. Hatchet 7, A. Fulwell 8, W. ## BELFRY GOSSIP

The sympathy of ringing friends will be extended to Mr. E. Sherwood, captain of Ash, Surrey, ringers. He has been discharged from hospital, but is still not fit.

Miss Winifred Keys was unsuccessful in her attempt to call a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at Lower Beeding, Sussex, last Saturday. We are informed that the band was not strong enough for the occasion.

The many friends of Ernest G. Pearce will be sorry to learn he is ill in Felix Ward, East Suffolk Hospital, Angelsea Road, Ipswich. The writer is sure Ernie would feel better for a letter or two from a few old friends.

The handbell peal at County Hall, S.E., on November 16th was made possible by the kindness of Mr. Douglas Hughes, who provided a set of bells at very short notice, when it was discovered that none of the band had remembered these would be required!

Cadet Gordon Dickens, of M.V. Bendigo, stood in an unsuccessful attempt for a peal of Stedman Triples at the City Hall, Ballarat. The failure was partially redeemed by a successful quarter of Cambridge Surprise Major, in which he rang his first of Major.

An air mail letter, as we were going to press, informs us that the first peal on the rehung bells of St. Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne, was rung by ringers from Melbourne, Adelaide and Sydney on November 21st. It was 5,201 Grandsire Caters, conducted by Tom Goodyer, and participating in the peal was Robin Turner, who recently arrived in Australia.

Inadvertently, in our review of Edgar C. Shepherd's book, 'The Sound of Bells,' we gave credit to G. N. Price ringing Exeter Cathedral tenor to a peal single handed. This was one of the great performances of William Pye during the nearly 40 years in which, to use the author's words, 'he dominated the Exercise.' Those who pointed out the error are thanked.

Author on T.V.

Mr. Edgar Shepherd, author of 'The Sound of Bells,' appeared on Granada Television show 'Scene at Six-Thirty,' on November 18th. Before he was interviewed a touch on handbells was rung by E. A. Barnett, T. Lock, A. D. Barker and E. C. Shepherd. Questioned about ringers having 'bats in the belfry' Edgar denied that ringers were slightly mad about bells. 'It's probably as big a disease as golf,' he added. 'Once you've caught the liking for it I don't think you ever get rid of it again.' We hear from the publishers that their advertisements 'are pulling well.' Edgar deserves it—it's a good book.

"Provincial Honours"

By ringing at Irton, Cumberland, on November 13th, Mr. Ronald H. Dove, of Leeds, has now rung on every ringable ring in the Province of York, which comprises 13 dioceses and covers the six northern counties, in addition to Nottinghamshire and Cheshire. We feel certain that no one will challenge this provincial honour for Mr. Dove. It must be unique.

At the "Woolpack"

There was a happy gathering at 'The Woolpack,' Beckington, Somerset, on November 21st, following a peal of Stedman Triples on the bells of St. George's Church. The occasion of the peal was to honour the silver wedding of the tower captain (Mr. L. Alan Fear) and his wife. The hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Fear was very much appreciated.

Golden Bells at March

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Leeden, of March, recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, and local ringers honoured the occasion with a quarter peal on Sunday, November 22nd. Aged 76, 'Bill' rang at St. Wendreda's Church for about 30 years until ill-health forced him to retire. He rang a peal with March ringers a few years ago—the first by a local team since 1819—and has taken part in a great many Sunday quarters over the past 14 years. He was able to hear the bells at his home a mile away.

To Mr. Chris Wallater

It is learned with regret that Mr. Chris Wallater, of St. Giles', Willenhall, who is one of the oldest ringers if not the oldest in the Archdeaconry of Stafford, has been unwell for some weeks. His many friends in the ringing world, in particular, his fellow ringers at St. Giles', wish him a speedy return to good health. Mr. Wallater will be 82 on Christmas Day.

North Wales to Devon

Ringers from Wrexham were invited to Dolgellau on November 21st to ring a quarter peal of Stedman Triples, and to join the local ringers at a dinner arranged to bid farewell to their captain, Mr. E. W. K. Walton, who will shortly be leaving Dolgellau to take up duties at the Royal Naval Training College at Dartmouth.

Corrections

'R.D.B.' informs us that the length of the peal of St. Clement's C.B. Major at Sutterton (page 709) on October 3rd, was 5,008, and not 5,088 as printed.

With apologies Mr. J. M. Donald Betjeman writes regarding the peal of Grandsire Triples rung at Walsden, Yorkshire, on November 8th, that the composer was John Millett and the conductor Derek Butterworth.

Long Length Lost

The attempt for the long length of Grandsire Caters at Worsley, on November 21st, lasted only 30-35 minutes, when the clapper of the 8th bell came out. On examination, the crown staple was found to be broken. Mr. Tudor Edwards reports: 'This was not obvious beforehand as everything had been checked and we would not have found this in a month of Sundays. We shall be trying again, probably next May.' The whole Exercise will commiserate with Mr. Tudor Edwards and his band.

Benefactor Wanted

Mr. John A. Hilton, of 19, Lonewood Way, Hadlow, Tonbridge, informs us that 'it is no longer possible to ring the bells of St. Mary's, Hadlow, owing to their bad condition. The headstock of the 4th has split, and the bellfounders have advised us that it is no longer possible to ring them. The estimated cost of the repairs is £591; unfortunately the Parochial Church Council cannot find this sum, owing to other heavy commitments. Meanwhile, if there is a generous benefactor . . .'

Showing the Ropes to Mum

The writer of the front page article has an 18-year-old daughter who is the vice-captain of All Saints', Chilvers Coton, Nuneaton. The article is the outcome of a challenge—to at least 'try'—to ring a bell. Mrs. Evelyn Mason writes: 'I am in middle life, but I was moved to accept her dare. Although I do not know if I shall be able to go on from there, the mere act of trying seemed to open up a new world of endeavour and interest . . . and also prompted the enclosed reactionary write-up.' We are sure the Editor was not alone in enjoying the graphic picture of her experiences that Mrs. Mason has presented to our readers.

Police Honour President

Honour, in the appropriate ringers' fashion by a peal, was paid at Farnworth, Lancashire, on November 21st, to Ex-Insp. T. R. Butler, who relinquishes the presidency of the National Guild of Police Ringers at the end of the year, after three years in office. Thurstans' five-part of Grandsire Triples was selected by the conductor, Ex-P.S. Peter Crook. Now in his 80th year and despite 'gammy' legs, he made an excellent job of this multi-bob and single composition, which is thought to have more calls than any other peal of Grandsire Triples.

American Appreciation

Dr. Harry O. Whipple, of Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory, New Mexico, and his wife attended the annual meeting of the Railwaymen's Guild at Cambridge. He visited three towers, including a run out to Trumpington, and joined the Guild at dinner. In a letter to the Master, Mr. W. Frank Stenson, acknowledging copies of 'The Ringing World,' Dr. Whipple writes: 'One of our fondest memories of England will be that Saturday in Cambridge with the Railwaymen's Guild. I was interested to have the material of Lincoln Cathedral. Did you know that Margery and I had been there, in fact attended a mid-week service of Holy Communion in the Ringers' Chapel? You will be pleased to know that I have entered a subscription for "The Ringing World."'

Sow Littered as Peal Started

As the peal of Yorkshire started at Edenham, Lincolnshire, on November 16th, Mr. Cyril R. Burrell's favourite sow decided to have a litter of piglets. Of course, the peal had a more complimentary purpose, being an occasion for three other members of the band. For Wendy Daw it was a 21st birthday compliment, to George W. Massey, the 22nd anniversary of his joining the R.A.F. and it was on the eve of Shirley Harris' birthday.

Rivalry at Epsom

Practically all the publicity at Epsom regarding ringing has been captured by Christ Church, Epsom Common. And now St. Martin's, Epsom, has again appeared. The quarter peal we publish this week is the first by a local band for at least 15 years.

Five Firsts at Chiddingly

Chiddingly, Sussex, has again entered the picture as a peal ringing tower. Except for the conductor (Alan R. Baldock), all the band were ringing their first peal. The last time any members of the local band took part in a peal was in 1920. The ringers included the Vicar (the Rev. Gerard Summergood), and the peal was being rung in honour of the birth of a son to him and his wife.

"One Ringer's Sunday"

In the Editor's long experience of newspaper work, few articles he has handled have made such a deep impression and painted such a picture of stark reality as the contribution of 'E.D.K.' Some readers might question what the article has to do with bells and ringing. The writer was until recently an outstanding personality in the Exercise, an accomplished peal ringer, whose name frequently appeared in our columns, and an officer of the Ladies' Guild. Many old friends we are sure will, on reading this, send her their love and sympathy and wish her a complete recovery.

Salisbury, S.R.

Last week we had much to say about Salisbury Cathedral, Southern Rhodesia. From the Church Information Office we are told that on December 20th this silver-grey granite cathedral will be opened for worship in its complete form with a celebration of the Holy Eucharist by the Bishop of Mashonaland. A feature of the cathedral, apart from its ten bells, is the font, a pool large enough for immersion through which water continually flows. The first cathedral was a wattle and daub building put up in 1891. A brick church came two years later, and the chancel of the present structure was completed in 1914.

Kent is her Family

Miss Shelagh R. Collins, Master of the Peterborough Guild, by taking part in a peal of Kent T.B. Royal at her home tower, Kettering, on November 21st, has completed the Kent family from Minor to Maximus. The Guild and her friends in the U.A. will congratulate her.

Cheshire Bells for Canada

A tape-recording of Hyde, Cheshire, bells has been sent to Port Arthur, Ontario, Canada. It is to be broadcast from a tower at Christmas. The tape, made by members of the Sunday service band, includes some Stedman Triples.

Marlborough Branch

Encouraging reports were presented at the annual meeting of the Marlborough Branch on November 21st at Marlborough. Mr. T. A. Palmer, secretary, said good progress had been made. Ten monthly meetings were held and a successful outing to the Chichester area.

The Ringing Master (the Rev. R. Keeley) reported that two peals and 16 quarters had been scored. Sunday service ringing had been revived at Ogbourne St. George, and three successful outings had been arranged, mainly to give younger members practice in other towers.

Mr. Keeley said he hoped in the coming year to increase these meetings, encourage better striking, persuade younger members to take up conducting and if the necessary financial support could be found to send younger members on a course of instruction.

Miss Jennifer Green, of East Kennett, was presented with a proficiency certificate.

Officers elected were: Mr. G. Newman, chairman; Mr. T. A. Palmer, secretary; the Rev. R. Keeley, Ringing Master; Captain J. D. Mansfield-Robinson, Braheh representative and assistant secretary; Mr. D. Lee, vice-chairman. Thirteen new members were elected. The business meeting followed tea in the Church Hall, which was prepared by the ladies of St. Mary's belfry. The service in St. Mary's Church was conducted by Canon F. Browne, a lesson being read and a short address given by Mr. Keeley. Ringing was resumed after the meeting until 8 p.m.

Ashford District

About 30 people were present for the service and tea at High Halden, with its 13th century all-wooden tower, when the Ashford District met there on November 21st.

The service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. A. R. Gore-Brown), who gave an address. Mrs. Knight was at the organ, and the choir gave their services. Tea was enjoyed in the Village Hall, where the cost was largely borne by Mr. J. Burden, captain of the local ringers, and the catering done by Mrs. Burden.

Mr. J. Willis was chairman for the business meeting. Members stood in silence for a moment out of respect for Mr. Walter Everett, captain of the St. Mary's, Ashford, band for over 60 years and District Master for 30 years, who had died that morning. Seven new members were elected to the Association. It was decided to look up particular methods for future meetings, and Little Bob was agreed for the next one.

Mr. Bernard Marks reported that the bells of Brabourne had now gone to the foundry, and that £700 was raised by the church Son et Lumiere Festival in aid of the Bell Restoration Fund—a magnificent effort for such a small village. Mr. Marks also expressed the thanks of the visitors to the Rector, the organist, the choir and Mr. and Mrs. J. Burden.

Afterwards ringing continued on the six bells (tenor 13 cwt) until 9 o'clock, under the direction of the Ringing Master, Mr. Alan Berry. C. T. H.

The Dean of Guildford (Bishop G. Clarkson) was the guest of honour at the annual dinner of the Guildford Diocesan Guild last Saturday, when a company of 120 spent a very enjoyable evening. On behalf of the Guild, the Master (Mr. Douglas May) presented the Dean with a copy of 'The Sound of Bells,' Guildford Cathedral bells are to be a facsimile of Washington Cathedral's, which are recorded on the record which accompanies the book. A report of the proceedings will appear in our next issue.

RINGERS AND RINGING IN THE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY

By CYRIL W. HANCOCK

HAVING noticed in 'The Ringing World' recently that the Annual Dinner of the Society of Rambling Ringers would take place on December 5th, it occurred to the writer that some inquiry into the activities of their predecessors of exactly 230 years ago might be interesting and rewarding. I refer, of course, to the Rambling Club of Ringers who flourished in London, 1733-35.

Some account of this club is given in the late Ernest Morris's 'History and Art of Change Ringing' but as this book has been out of print for some years, these notes may be of interest. There is still preserved a manuscript account of the activities of the club, compiled by William Laughton, one of the members, and, by courtesy of the City of London Guildhall Library, I have perused this. It is a slim volume about 9 inches by 6 and the handwriting somewhat crabbed, being probably done with a quill pen, and entitled 'Remarks on a Rambling Club of Ringers and their performances giving an account of all their meetings from first to last, wherein may be seen the famous exploits which have been done in the art of ringing by that worthy body of men.'

The flyleaf bears the inscription of James Wakefield, of Romford, Essex, having apparently come into his possession on October 28th, 1799. There is what Laughton describes as a 'Diddication' to Mr. George Carbery, another member of the Club, stating that a Company made an agreement to 'ring at all the peals of 3-4-5 and 6 in the City of London, likewise to ring upon eight bells and divert ourselves with a peal if our fancies should lean that way.' The Club was founded with seven members at the 'Bell' in Angel Alley, Little Moorfields, in 1733 and grew to 42 at the time of its dissolution on March 8th, 1735. All their names are given including three 'odd' members, one of whom is described as 'Gunsmith in Ordinary to the Company.' One wonders what his function could have been! It would have been interesting to have known the trade or profession of each member, but unfortunately this is not given.

There were fifty meetings in all, each of which is described by Laughton in what one can only call doggerel verse, a sample of which is as follows:

'St. Olave Hart Street next comes in
Two 700s we there did ring
One College Single, the other Plain
Bob, if so please, that is the name.'

In spite of his execrable versifying, William Laughton was obviously quite an intelligent man, as in some of the accounts he gives a description of the church they were visiting and its monuments. Not all the meetings were for ringing—some were merely social occasions and, as will be seen later, a good time was had by all. It is not possible in a short article to include all the meetings, so reference will only be made to those of more than usual interest.

At St. Peter le Poer, Broad Street (demolished 1896), the ringers were 'by a saucy sexton vex't'—a lady who is described in terms which I regretfully decided would not escape the Editor's blue pencil. However, they 'brought her haughty stomach down' by seeking the churchwarden and getting the keys from him. Actually, ringing was not confined to the City and excursions were made into what were then outlying villages.

On one visit to St. John at Hackney, they found that the bells went very badly and ropes continually slipped wheel but they did not reckon it a waste of time, as there was no church near town in such a delightful setting of gardens, orchards and cornfields. This reads strangely today but it is a fact that many wealthy City merchants had houses in this district.

Very different was a journey to St. Mary, Rotherhithe (6), when the band took boat and returned in the same way. At this date there were hundreds of Thames watermen plying for hire with their wherries from the various stairs. Here 700 of Plain Bob were rung and eighteen score of Treble Bob, after which the company refreshed themselves at Milk Alley, Wapping, with bacon and beans and leg of mutton with 'colly flower.' Then, according to custom, they drank a dram and smoked a pipe and each man told a tale or sang a song. It must have been a convivial scene.

On another occasion they rambled to Walthamstow across Hackney Marshes by footpaths through fields of rye, wheat, peas, beans and oats, the rye in places growing higher than their heads. There must now be many hundreds of acres of wonderfully fertile soil lying under bricks and mortar. A few fields away from St. Mary's, Walthamstow, was a gentleman's country seat, about which Laughton waxed almost lyrical in describing the orchard of apples, cherries, pears and plums, with 'apricocks' growing against the wall. The ringing here consisted of two 700s of Plain Bob.

Another rural expedition was to Mitcham where their venue was the 'Stag's Head.' Dinner consisted of beef, bacon, cabbage, etc. and each man had a half quartern of brandy to his stout, after which 700 Cambridge was rung. They must have had strong heads in those days, as after ringing there was a return visit to the 'Stag's Head' before finally setting off for home. We are told that on reaching Streatham two members of the party were so fatigued that they lay all night at the 'Five Bells'—one suspects that they were the worse for wear after so much solid and liquid refreshment. The remainder trudged on through Brixton, though two were fortunate enough to get a lift in a gentleman's coach—an early form of hitch-hiking!

Christ Church, Spitalfields, a fine church by Nicholas Hawksmoor, was a favourite tower, as no less than six visits were paid. Here, says Laughton, we were among the Frenchmen, a reference to the Spitalfields weavers, many of whom were of Huguenot origin. On Christmas Eve, 1734, the band rang 700 Cambridge on the back six, the first they claimed since the bells were hung in the steeple.

They were again at Christ Church on December 27th, 1734, when 720 Morning Exercise was the method and the chronicler aptly remarks 'There's nothing like ringing of a peal, to prepare a stomach for a meal.'

On St. Dunstan, Stepney, his comment is: 'The bells were charming, smooth and nice, not "ruff" and hard like Spitalfields.' At Holy Trinity, Minories, which had three bells, they rang 'fourteen dozen of sixes and raised and lowered without a stand.' We are told that here the ropes were so small that they cut the ringers' hands, and as there were no sallies they had to be marked with chalk in order to know where to catch.

All Hallows, Tottenham, bells received favourable comment, the tenor being 'as good a bell as e'er was made' and cast by Philip Whiteman in 1696. Regrettably, we are told that whilst six went to ring, five others went to a 'boozing ken' where thirteen quarterns of gin were consumed. Here they met two charming girls 'but their mothers kept a watchful eye. That none should slip out bye and bye,' which was very wise of them, as in view of Laughton's further candid verse, the ringers' intentions were scarcely honourable. It would appear that hand-

Guildford Cathedral Bells a Facsimile of Washington's

The ten bells ordered for Guildford Cathedral are to be a facsimile of those installed at Washington Cathedral this year. This was announced at the annual dinner of the Guildford Diocesan Guild, held at Newlands Corner Hotel on November 28th.

The principal guest was the Dean of Guildford (Bishop George Clarkson) who was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Braithwaite. In order that the Dean might hear the bells of his Cathedral, the Master (Mr. D. A. R. May), who presided, presented him with a copy of Edgar C. Shepherd's book, 'The Sound of Bells.' The bells of Washington Cathedral are included on the record that goes with the book. The Master was accompanied by his wife and with them sat the Immediate Past Master (Mr. C. W. Denyer) and Mrs. Denyer, Mr. F. E. Collins, who acted at toastmaster, and Mrs. Collins, who acted Harold Pitstow, who was one of the ten ringers who crossed the Atlantic to ring at Washington Cathedral. A company of 120 was present.

The Dean proposed the toast of 'The Church and the Ringing Exercise,' and said that since their last dinner they had received an extremely nice gift so that they had been able to give the order for the bells. They had received a guarantee from Messrs. Mears and Stainbank that they would be able to ring the bells on May 17th, and he hoped Guild members would ring them, because it would be disastrous if they had the bells and no ringers.

Later he would discuss with their Master the arrangements for the bells to be rung on that occasion. The Dean said he understood that with their bells the people of Guildford would hear the same sounds as those made by bells rung in Washington Cathedral. 'I am not too pleased,' said the Dean, 'about marching side by side with America in all things. I have no doubt that Mr. Wilson will put things right when he goes over next week.'

RINGERS RAISE £1,500

'The final gift was one of great munificence for mercies given to Brig. Schriber and his family. It means that we can get the bells quicker. You have raised £1,500 towards the making of the peal, and for that we cannot express our gratitude too highly. But what is as important as the gift of money is the way the ringers of the diocese have been behind the idea of the ring of bells and been very active in working for them.'

'In the modern way people think about the Church, they say the bells are a luxury and why waste money on a thing like them? I am quite certain if it had not been for the enthusiasm of the ringers we should never have had a ring in the Cathedral. Support has come from all over the diocese, and I have never been in a position before to say to the ringers: "I am grateful to you for your enthusiasm and support behind this which has been so successful." So we shall ring with great joy, and we hope the Diocesan Guild will carry on until we can train a band of our own and that will take a long time.'

CATHEDRAL FINANCES

About the Cathedral itself, Dr. Clarkson said they would like to know the present position. Speaking in round figures they had spent £900,000 on the building, which was at one time guaranteed to cost not more than £250,000. They had done it in 30 years, but for a lot of that time, because of the war and the housing problem afterwards, they did nothing. Of that £900,000, they had borrowed, sometimes with interest, £26,000; some by mortgage with the Church Commissioners £30,000; and with a bank overdraft of £20,000. In May, 1963, they asked for £300,000 to be raised in five years; now 18 months after they were asking for £160,000. They had moved fairly quickly.

They were now slowing down because of the winter and also funds. They were hoping to find someone to build the great north garth. Next May they hoped to dedicate the Chapter House and the south-west porch. They would also dedicate the organ case which would make it look more handsome—it was given by the same person who gave the organ. The Chapter House had also been given by one person.

'We are on the move; we are optimistic and we are getting on quite nicely. We have some wills which have been made in our favour, but thank God we don't wish for deaths so soon as we did a few years ago.'

The Dean said his sister and himself remembered the village where they were born. They lived opposite the ancient church that had three crazy, cracked, toneless bells. Finally, they were replaced by eight splendid bells, some of the best that had ever come from Taylors of Loughborough. They all felt, with the new bells, that they were in a new church and many more people were gathered into the congregation and came to worship God.

PRESTIGE AND CONFIDENCE FROM BELLS

'I am sure our experience is the experience of others that where the equipment of the tower is good and the bells are manned by a proper team, it gives the church some sort of prestige and gives the people some sort of confidence. To all you ringers the Church is tremendously grateful that you are willing to submit yourselves to ringing regularly on Sundays and practices,' he said. Ringing was a physical exercise that made men look strong and girls look slimmer, but above all that it was a splendid service to God.

Mr. F. G. Sherwood, of Ash (Guild auditor), in reply, said it was a great pleasure for them to welcome the Dean and Mrs. Braithwaite to their dinner for the first time. He hoped they would meet them both much more frequently once the Cathedral bells were installed. Their title, 'Guildford Diocesan Guild of Church Bellringers,' was a constant reminder that they were an integral part of the Church and were bound by its teachings. Without the Church their art would be completely non-existent.

Their Guild was formed about the same time as the diocese, and it would be fair comment to say that although it had had its ups and downs, it had never really looked back. This had been due to the skill and enthusiasm of the founder members and officers over the years. It was also due, in no small measure, to the encouragement and support the ringers received from the clergy, and this was reinforced by a Bishop who actively supported his ringers and enjoyed bells.

With regard to the Cathedral bells, he understood they were very similar to the ten that had recently been opened at Washington. 'The Ringing World' had been full of praise for them, so they were hoping that in addition to being the heaviest ring in the diocese they would be one of the finest tens in the country. As a general rule courses and touches on ten bells took rather longer than on six or eight. They, therefore, hoped that there would be sufficient time to ring for services.

A GOOD STANDARD

Mr. Sherwood suggested that they should ring for a Sunday afternoon service, since it might be some time before they had a resident band at the Cathedral, and this would enable ringers to get back to their own towers for Evensong. 'We will endeavour to set a good standard of ringing, but this can only be accomplished by regular practice preferably with some peals thrown in. At the same time we must not prevent the younger and less experienced ringers from having a pull since it is only by encouraging the young that the Guild can continue to progress.'

The Guild secretary, Mr. S. Russell, proposed the concluding toast, 'To the Memory of John S. Goldsmith and Other Officers and Members of the Guild.'

Besides the book presentation to the Dean a bouquet was presented to Mrs. Braithwaite by Mrs. Jill May.

Mr. F. E. Collins proposed a vote of thanks to the Master and his committee for arranging the dinner. A touch of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by Major E. Brage 1—2, K. Williamson 3—4, T. Page 5—6, W. H. Viggers 7—8. The evening concluded with dancing.

FIRST PEAL ON REHUNG BELLS AT MELBOURNE

After being away for more than a year, the returned and rehung bells at St. Paul's Cathedral, Melbourne, Victoria, were rededicated on October 4th. At the invitation of the captain of the St. Paul's Society, Graeme Hayes, two parties of ringers from inter-state converged on Melbourne on November 21st and together with some of the local band re-christened the bells with a peal of 5,201 Grandsire Caters.

Two ringers came down from Sydney—Enid Roberts and Tom Goodyer (who conducted the peal)—and four came across from Adelaide—Brian Cox, Ron Russ, David Bleby and Bill Pitcher. The other four in the band were Ken Minchinton, Robin Turner (an English ringer recently arrived in Australia), Harold McDonald and Hervey Bagot (who has moved to Melbourne from Canberra). The bells went very well indeed and sounded well with masses of good Caters music being introduced in each part. The following two points are of interest: it was Harold McDonald's first touch of Grandsire Caters and David Bleby had never seen more than eight ropes in a tower before he stood in the peal.

The following day the visitors and some of the Melbourne ringers, joined by Gordon Dickens, a visiting seafaring ringer off the M.V. 'Bendigo,' drove up to Ballarat (it was on the way home for the Adelaide party anyway). A peal of Stedman Triples was attempted at the City Hall, but fortune was not with us and it came to grief. This failure was partially redeemed by the success of a quarter of Cambridge Surprise Major (conducted by Tom Goodyer), rung after the breakdown of the Stedman.

The visitors would like to thank their hosts in Melbourne and Ballarat for a very enjoyable week-end, and in particular Graeme and Beverley Heyes and Warne and Wilma Wilson for the hospitality they extended us in their homes.

W. P. B.

RINGERS AND RINGING IN THE 18th CENTURY

bell ringing was also indulged in, as they met at the 'George,' Houndsditch, were several courses of Caters and one of Triples were rung but the method is not stated.

A second visit was paid to St. John at Hackney, where the bells were found to be in much better order and 700 Cambridge was rung in memory of Queen Elizabeth's accession and Queen Mary's death. After dining at the 'Rising Sun,' the ringers set off at 10 at night, with two links before them to give them light. A halt was made at Spitalfields for further refreshment but they got into an argument with the French landlord and his wife about the reckoning. Two shillings a pint for brandy and 3d. a pot for beer was considered excessive and after some squabbling they paid what they thought proper and continued on their way.

At St. Bartholomew the Less, another three-bell tower, they rang seventeen dozen and a half of sixes and adjourned to the 'Cock and Crown.' This was a famous house for birds (the feathered variety), the landlord being a noted breeder and cages hung everywhere over the heads of the customers. The cruel practice of keeping wild birds in cages was very prevalent at this time.

The bells of St. Lawrence by Guildhall earned high praise—'For no better bells can be found, were you to search all England round'—700 College Single were rung on the back six. Then to another merry evening at Angel Alley till 1 a.m. for 'to break up before that time is scorned.' Some of the Ramblers were certainly married and one wonders what their wives' reactions were to this behaviour.

Conditions in the belfry of St. Giles', Cripplegate, were evidently somewhat primitive, as the band had to ring by the light of candles stuck to the wall with daubs of clay. Laughton makes the very sensible suggestion that every steeple should have a branch of candles hung in the middle, to advance higher or lower with a counterweight.

On Shrove Tuesday, 1735, the Club rang their last 'peal' of 700 Union Bob at Christ Church, Spitalfields. They had evidently incurred some criticism from other ringers during their existence, for frequent reference is made in Laughton's journal to 'snarling critics,' chiefly one gainer for introducing variety of methods and ringing at different towers each time.

Their fiftieth and final meeting took place at the 'Bell in Angel Alley, where it all began. William Laughton was the host on this occasion and records that he gave for supper 'roasted shoulder of veal and two plum puddings.' The veal weighed 18½ pounds and was stuffed with the common sort of stuffing. We may safely assume that this nostalgic event followed the usual jovial pattern.

In addition to the methods already mentioned, the following were rung at various times: Grandsire, Old Doubles, New Doubles, 'Simonus Doubles, Cambridge Delight, Court Bob and Oxford Treble Bob. The only full peals rung were three of 5,040 Plain Bob Major at St. Mary Magdalen's, Bermondsey, St. Andrew's, Holborn, and St. Giles', Camberwell, respectively.

Among the City churches visited, several have ceased to exist, viz: St. Benet Fink (6) demolished for the building of the new Royal Exchange, St. Mary Axe (6) date of demolition unknown, All Hallows, Staining (6) demolished 1870 except the tower, and Holy Trinity, Minorities (3) closed 1899 and destroyed by enemy action in 1941.

No doubt the members of the Rambling Club are open to criticism by present day standards for their preoccupation with food and drink and their general behaviour, but I do not think we should judge them too harshly. They were enthusiasts and there was a spirit of comradeship amongst them, much as exists today.

A Glorious Christmas Gift

Here, without doubt, is the perfect present for every true bell enthusiast. E. C. Shepherd, a well-known contributor to these pages, has at last written a book ranging over the whole field of bell-ringing. Quite apart from his expert knowledge this is no ordinary book. It is, in fact, a book which has added a further dimension to reading — the dimension of sound. Each book contains a high fidelity recording of peals from both famous cathedrals and humbler towers, including the famous first peal of Stedman

Caters rung at Washington Cathedral. In 108 knowledgeably-written pages (including eight full-page illustrations) Mr. Shepherd covers the origins and evolution of bell-ringing, and also deals with hand-bell ringing and the art of the carillonneur. Here is a book no bell-lover can afford to miss. The cost is 25/- (plus 1/- postage and packing). Please send cheque or p.o. with your order to

Challenge of Atheist

Dear Sir,—It was with regret that I received my copy of 'The Ringing World' of November 27th, and read the letter on page 800 headed 'Christianity and Bellringing,' and signed Sincerely, O. A. M., atheist.

I should like to ask this sincere atheist to be sincere and to have the courage to admit who he is, instead of signing the letter in this anonymous fashion.

For centuries bells have been part of the worship of the Catholic Church and have proclaimed to all who hear them that the sacred hour or moment has arrived and is calling them to the common worship of Almighty God. It is obvious therefore that those who ring them are performing to the best of their skill an act of worship acceptable to Almighty God, much the same as that given by choir and servers.

Sunday service ringing is a tradition, a Christian tradition, and an act of worship. I'm quite sure that those who ring the bells of my own parish church Sunday by Sunday are sincere Christians ringing the consecrated bells to the glory of Almighty God, the maker and creator of all men.

With regard to the second half of this letter. Has O. A. M. considered the possibility that these people whom he claims are for ever falling out might be fellow atheists? I'm surprised that he is even able to come to a conclusion about this, he appears to be travelling around such a lot.

No Christian claims to be perfect, but just human. Jesus Christ Himself was alone perfect. Perfect God and perfect man; every Christian strives to follow the example of his Saviour and to love his neighbour as himself. Christ came not to call the righteous but sinners to repentance.

You may not need to be a Christian to ring bells, but you do need to believe in God to worship Him in ringing bells consecrated to His glory.—Yours in the faith of Jesus Christ,

MALCOLM FERRIER.

Lewisham, S.E.

Christianity and Ringing

Dear Sir,—O. A. M. answered his own question: 'Does one have to be a Christian to be a campanologist,' for he says he is a keen ringer and signs himself 'Atheist.' But he is in error in thinking that because people fall out with each other—to use his own words—they cannot then be involved in a Christian movement. Alas, the history of Christianity itself disproves it, from St. Paul right through the centuries to our present unhappy divisions.

It is no wonder, therefore, that activities connected with the Church should be prone to similar strife, bickering and disagreement amongst their members. The work of Christ is carried forward by imperfect instruments, but we are all He has.

Regarding ringing and worship, if I may quote from a letter I wrote to you on this subject more than 25 years ago: 'True worship has God as the central figure, and organ, choir and ringing are meant but to prepare our minds thither. However sincerely we, as ringers, strive to live up to the pattern of Christ, our thoughts while we are ringing are centred on the method and the striking, the co-ordination of mind and muscle in an agreeable pursuit.'

In this sense, ringing is not worship in itself, but those of us who profess and call ourselves Christians ought to strive to be better people, and therefore to be better bricklayers, chemists, labourers—and ringers.

Finally, and with all charity, I hope O. A. M. knows plenty of rich atheists willing to 'build separate places for bells to be hung,' so that he will not have to rely on bells which have been dedicated to the glory of God.—Yours faithfully,

Porthkerry, Glam.

Read with Horror

Dear Sir,—I read Atheist's letter in your issue of November 27th with horror, and if I thought that his statement that 'ringing is not in any way connected with the Church and the worship of God' to be true I would give up church bell ringing tomorrow.

I may not have his talent or experience, but have no hesitation in saying that 99 per cent of my ringing colleagues are good, practising Christians, who are proud of their calling.

We have recently had a ring of six bells installed and dedicated in our church here, and a young band of ringers have been recruited from members of the church; heaven forbid that they should be indoctrinated with Atheist's view—if he wants to ring for the local bingo session let him do so.

Church bells and church bell ringing is a particularly British tradition—is there any other country in the world like it? No, sir, we are proud of our country, its churches and its bells, and I hope that churches to be built in the future will be in traditional style and materials, with provision made for bell towers.

In conclusion, I am proud to be a member of that large and happy fraternity who ring for the Church and to the glory of God. Further, I am not ashamed to sign my name.—Yours faithfully,

DONALD A. FRANKS.

Radlett, Herts.

Would prefer 'Rabbits'

Dear Sir,—Your 'Sincere Atheist' seems to jump to the conclusion that most ringers are like himself, out for amusement only. Figures would be more convincing and might surprise him.

Of course church bell ringers regard their art as a hobby (dictionary gives 'a favourite pursuit or subject'), otherwise they would not devote sufficient time to it to become proficient. This does not preclude their regarding it as a form of worship.

I believe there are only very few ringers who do not belong to one of the affiliated Guilds, none of these can honestly deny the purpose of his membership.

Bells did not get into church towers by 'tradition,' but by the generosity and devotion of our forebears, who felt it their duty to dip into their pockets to ensure that worthy praise was given to God, for a long time ahead.

O. A. M. suggests building secular towers for 'campanologists.' Very well, where are the funds? True, there are a few secular rings (10 in Dove against 5,438 church rings), but there doesn't seem to be any glut of new building of more.

As to the criticising those who through human weakness fall out (devout and thinking people are the most likely to disagree), your correspondent is careful to cite only instances where the miscreants eventually returned. Perhaps O. A. M. would read the parable of the 'Prodigal Son,' and draw an appropriate conclusion. I know something of the heartsearchings brought about by clashes of personalities, having, for some years, been the secretary of the band of one of our great cathedrals. (This letter is not to be construed as having any connection with that office, which I relinquished more than a year ago.) All I am trying to emphasise is that it takes conviction to retrace once's steps away from any community.

There is quite a plain answer to your correspondent's last paragraph. Simply 'No,' but of what use are campanologists who are without purpose? I would rather work with a bunch of inept but faithful 'rabbits' than with the most skilled of campanologists who care nothing for the God whose cymbals they presume to clash.—Yours faithfully,

W. O. HAYTHORNE.

Thornhill, Southampton.

P.S.—There was once a tower called Babel, was there ever a peal rung there?—W. O. H.

Bells for a Wedding

Dear Sir,—In respect of the article on page 802, if people want bells for their wedding, let them get married where there are bells and pay the ringers.

If they merely want a wedding on the cheap, why not have a standard gramophone record of the whole outfit and save the fees of the parson, clerk, organist, choir, heating and lighting and flowers, and bells!

Why pick on synthetic bells only?—Yours etc., 'PURIST.'

Peal at Geddington

Dear Sir,—With reference to B. F. Morris' letter (page 776) it has occurred to me that either a printing error has resulted in the reporting of the peal, or that the above mentioned has no right to question the word of such a worthy conductor. I have had the good fortune to ring with the conductor and I am sure his high standard has not deteriorated in such a short time, and that any ring of five would not prove too much for Maurice W. Harrison and his worthy band.—Yours faithfully,

Sturry, Kent.

P. A. HARRISON.

Corrections to Touches

Dear Sir,—I would like to make a few corrections to the touches submitted by Mr. G. E. Symonds on page 781:

- The second quarter peal of Bob Major has 1,280 changes.
- The first touch of Stedman Caters has 87 changes.
- The second touch of Stedman Caters has 213 changes.
- The second course of the 287 Grandsire Caters should read 42563879 — 2S, 3.
- The first course of the 377 Grandsire Caters should read 63254 — 1, 4S; and the third course (24563) — 9 in 3.

In making these corrections may I appeal to all those who send copy to 'The Ringing World' to read through and check everything before posting. One is becoming tired of reading almost every week that 'Mr. X. rang the third in such and such a peal and not Mr. Y., as published.' Just as irritating are the minor errors, such as a wrong tenor weight. Most of these errors are of no great importance, but they are unnecessary, are very annoying to those concerned, and make for inaccurate records.—Yours faithfully,

Isleworth, Middlesex, C. H. ROGERS.

SUFFOLK GUILD

A most enjoyable meeting of the South-East District was held at Ashbocking on November 28th. The delightful ring of six was rung to a wide range of methods during the afternoon. Probably the most encouraging aspect to the 45 present was the large proportion of youngsters of school age ringing methods up to Cambridge Surprise. Evensong was conducted by the Rector (Rev. H. W. Johnson), and the singing was accompanied on the organ by Miss Anne Beecroft. A bountiful tea prepared by the local ladies followed.

At the business meeting nine new ringing members were elected: five Ashbocking, four Bramford, and three being reinstated after a lapse of several years. Five new ringers from Holbrook were elected as probationers. It was agreed that the meetings for 1965 should be held as follows: March 13th, Henley (A.G.M.); June 12th, Blaxhall and Tunstall; September 11th, Coddham; December 11th, Holbrook and Stutton.

The District Ringing Master (Mr. Howard Egglestone), replying to a remark that there had not been many practice meetings recently, said he felt that the learners in the District were now being well catered for in their own towers and that methods were being rung which were the extent of their capabilities.

The Guild Ringing Master (Mr. George W. Pipe) mentioned the importance of ringing on Christmas morning and said he hoped that members would make a supreme effort to man as many towers as possible at this time.

After votes of thanks, ringing was enjoyed at Otley until 9 p.m.

RINGERS' SUNDAY IN SUSSEX

Nov. 15th was a red letter day for members of the Northern Division of the Sussex Association, with special ringers' services.

At Withyham there was an hour's ringing before Matins, and this was shortened by the Rector (the Rev. P. L. Scott) to allow Mr. E. A. Barnett to give an interesting and instructive address on the origin of bells and the birth of progress of change ringing. During the talk demonstrations were given on handbells, and afterwards the congregation were invited to visit the belfry and see ringing in progress.

Danehill held its annual ringers' service (the fourth) in the evening. The bells were rung from 5.30 to 6.30 p.m., and the service conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. I. Paton Hunter). Mr. E. A. Barnett and Mr. R. Johnson read the lessons. During the service a course of Stedman Caters was rung by Mrs. F. I. Hairs, E. A. Barnett, F. I. Hairs, W. Dobbie, Mrs. W. Dobbie, followed by the singing of the ringers' hymn. In his address, the Vicar welcomed the ringers, and then came a course of Grandsire Caters rung by a resident band of Sussex (Mrs. F. I. Hairs, E. Rapley, L. Weller, G. Francis, F. I. Hairs).

An enjoyable hour followed in the Village Hall. Refreshments were served and Mr. A. Butcher, the local captain, was congratulated on another successful occasion. Fifteen Sussex towers were represented; also present were ringers from Kent, Yorkshire, Surrey and the East Grinstead Guild.

MR. FRANK ATKINSON RETIRES

Mr. F. Atkinson, who was 82 last August, has been a ringer for 60 years—36 of them at York Minster. However, he has decided to retire from ringing and also to give up his duties as a Minster steward.

To mark his retirement it was decided to make him a small presentation and during a short ceremony on Advent Sunday morning he was presented with a purse of money as a token of the esteem in which he was held by his fellow ringers and the Dean and Chapter.

The presentation was made by Canon R. Cant, Canon-in-Residence, who said how much the Dean and Chapter appreciated Mr. Atkinson's services to the Minster. Tributes were also paid to him by the Rev. J. A. McMullen, chaplain of the Minster Society, and by Mr. H. Walker.

Frank started his ringing at Wragby (a six bell tower), and became a member of the Yorkshire Association in 1906. He has not been a great peal ringer but he has recorded all his 720's and quarter peals in beautiful copper plate handwriting.

On the afternoon after the presentation he rang his first quarter peal of Grandsire Caters. H. W.

NEWTON NOTTAGE, GLAMORGAN.—On Nov. 5th, 1,260 Doubles (Plain Bob and Grandsire): M. Thomas 1, M. Larcher 2, D. Everett 3, T. M. Roderick (cond.) 4, Rev. D. E. Ford 5, P. Fenton (first quarter) 6. First 1 and 5.

Wratten's Wringers' Wreunion Weekend

IT HARDLY seemed five months ago that, following a successful peal week around Cheltenham, Wratten Wringers had arranged to meet in Bristol on the last week-end in November for a reunion.

A full programme was prepared, and straight to business on Friday evening with a peal of Derby S.M. at the Cathedral, enabling Mick Hobbs to realise his ambition (by 19 days), in completing the Surprise Major alphabet before his 21st birthday. Also pleasing was the fact that Pete Bridle's name is back in the peal columns for the first time since his accident.

The party had arranged to meet in the 'Mauretania', and the organiser was a little concerned to learn that four members of the party did not have their cars with them, leaving a rather desperate transport situation—fears which later proved to be unfounded.

A hectic day was promised for Saturday with four peals arranged. Another first for the Association was scored by ringing Southgate on the good-toned but rather noisy eight at Almondsbury, whilst at the same time the other eight people rang Lincolnshire at Olveston. Into Bristol for a hasty Chinese meal before the party split again. Ten went to St. Stephen's where a fast peal of Yorkshire Royal was rung, at great expense to the energy of the tenor ringer, who needed several cups of tea to revive him. Eight more were fortunate enough to be standing in a peal at St. Philip's—a rare Bristol eight—where a first class peal of Rutland was scored, with 'Drugged Dick' dreaming his way through, following a bout of tonsillitis.

W.W.s (and I don't mean Wilfred!!) success continued in the evening when they soundly beat the Bristol City skittles team by 30 pins. The City say it was because they had too many members of the Ladies' Guild in their team (at least that's their excuse!)

went to Bedminster where they found that a previous visiting party had broken the rope of the treble, so just to prove they were not to be outdone they broke the rope of the 3rd during a touch of Doubles.

The highlight of the week-end was a peal attempt on the 35 cwt. ring of eight at Congresbury. The Leicester train was due to arrive in Bristol at 1.12; however, at 1.45 there was still no sign of Mr. Kingsley Norton—could it be that he had developed an attack of 'cold feet', following the news that the so-called 'Squire' of Long Ashton had announced that he would be waiting at Congresbury ready to carry him from the tower. Anyway he eventually arrived and after a quick dash the peal was started late and finished just 7 minutes before Evensong. As promised, Ralph was outside the tower, waiting to compliment Kingsley on a 'creditable performance.' Several members of the party expressed regrets at not having taken advantage of Chris Kippin's offer to run a book on the outcome of the peal. Also listening to the last hour were the rest of the party who had scored a somewhat quicker (though apparently no less energetic) peal of Rutland at Barrow-Gurney. The remark was passed 'You lot will get the credit, but we had the "benders".'

An exhausted but smugly satisfied party of Wringers grabbed some quick liquid refreshment before departing to their various destinations with remarks of 'See you at Cheltenham next year, if not before.' The week-end was particularly pleasing to the organiser, in that it was 100 per cent. successful, bearing in mind the 100 per cent failure week-end last Whitsun.

Sincere thanks are accorded to the five Bristol ringing families who so kindly contributed to the enjoyment of the week-end by accommodating the party at their homes.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION Western Branch

A goodly company presented themselves at Gaywood on November 21st for the last meeting of the year. The service was conducted by the Rector, Rev. G. R. Phizackerley, and the lesson was read by Mr. J. Coston (a Gaywood ringer), with the chairman, Rev. G. Galley, at the organ. An exceptionally good (and free) tea was served at the Church Rooms.

At the meeting a welcome was extended to two new members from 'foreign' parts—Rev. M. C. C. Melville and David Cawley. Two interim evening practice meetings were arranged, details of which will be published later.

Among those present was Mr. E. Barker, of Shouldham, who was also present at the dedication of these bells, well over fifty years ago, and Mr. W. B. Duncan, of Yarmouth, who rang in the tower in the early days.

The lovely sounding and good going six were fully employed during the afternoon and evening. All present enjoyed the day and were impressed by the welcome extended by the Rector and his ringers. We felt inspired by the general 'aliveness' of the church in Gaywood.

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Two of the Branches of the Guild have amalgamated—the N.W. and N. Devon Branches. This took place at Clawton on November 14th, when the annual meeting of the N.W. Branch was held, with the Vicar and Branch chairman (the Rev. J. G. M. Scott) in the chair. The new title is the N. and N.W. Branch.

All the present officers were re-elected, but from the N. Devon Branch Miss B. M. Boyle, of Combe Martin, becomes assistant secretary, and the Vicar of Westleigh joint chairman. Six new members of the Guild were elected—five from Shebbear College and one from Westleigh.

The secretary read a satisfactory report, which included 26 quarters and three peals (two Double Norwich C.B. Major) rung for the Guild. The treasurer's report was also satisfactory. A tribute was paid to the memory of Mr. E. M. Atkins, former general secretary of the Guild.

Next year's meetings: Holsworthy, July 24th; annual, Westleigh, November 13th.

The service was conducted by the chairman, and the ladies who supplied the tea were thanked by him.

MR. S. GEOFFREY WATERS' 100 PEALS

OBITUARY

MR. L. J. WILLIAMS

The funeral service for Mr. Laurence J. Williams, head ringer for over 50 years at Church Kirk, Lancashire, took place in the church he served so faithfully on Saturday, November 21st. His death on the previous Wednesday came suddenly although he had not been well for the past two years. Many ringing friends of the Lancashire Association were present. Half-muffled touches of Stedman and Double Norwich and the 'whole pull and stand' were rung in a dignified manner which was fitting for the occasion.

It was just before the first world war that Laurence came to live in Church Kirk, having learned to ring at Willephall. Almost at once he had to join the Army, so his ringing career began in earnest after the war. In March, 1919, he rang his first peal, the second peal on the old six bells at Church Kirk. The next peal on the bells was his first as conductor, and he conducted all of the subsequent eight peals on the bells before they became unringable in 1923. Whilst the bells were out of action, 'Laurie' was busy training a band at Rishton, at the same time pressing for the restoration of Church Kirk bells. In November, 1926, the new ring of eight was dedicated, and Laurie made sure that they were used well. His enthusiasm for peal ringing did not exceed that for Sunday service ringing, and it was his efforts which inspired the local band until they were ringing Cambridge Surprise Major for service in 1931.

Laurence was the first to acknowledge that his progressive enthusiasm gave rise to many a lively argument. He had little sympathy with those whose outlook was 'dormant,' and on several occasions he noted in the record books that the Church Kirk Society was 'evidently not loved by the (Blackburn) Branch.' However, with such a character in its midst, the Branch could not remain dormant for long, and Laurence not only became president and bell adviser of the Blackburn Branch, but also a committee member, vice-president, and Central Council representative of the Lancashire Association. He was a member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, and helped to initiate the 'Gratefully Acknowledged' column in 'The Ringing World.'

Even in later years, he was still keen, and only ten years ago he started afresh to train a young band at Church Kirk. With only one other experienced local ringer, and a little help from neighbouring towers, he successfully achieved his objective.

He was the most punctual and regular attender in the band, even though for two years he had to walk two miles every Sunday to get to the church—a fine record for anyone at the age of 70. Unfortunately, his health failed about two years ago, and his greatest pleasure then was to be visited by his ringing friends, and to recall the amusing incidents in his life. The death of Laurence J. Williams, at the age of 73, is a great loss to the Exercise, but he will be remembered for many years to come. J. P.

SS. PHILIP &amp; JACOB'S, BRISTOL

After nearly two years of silence ringing restarted in this tower in October. Origin of the trouble was the snapping of the wires holding the clock weights, which crashed through the ringing chamber floor. This in itself could have been put right in a short time, but an examination of the tower revealed that the stairs were unsafe and whole sections had to be replaced. The work was completed in time for the bells to be rung for harvest festival.

Mr. Edwin J. Brown has retired as Ringing Master and steeplekeeper, a post he has held with much devotion for 38 years. Only two of the original St. Philip's band are still active, and the bells are kept going from the Bristol Cathedral Sunday afternoon band. Grateful thanks are due to St. Ambrose's for the loan of ropes.

BIG DEMAND FOR RECORD BOOK

Record Books Ltd., the publishers of Edgar C. Shepherd's book 'The Sound of Bells,' are extremely pleased at the demand for the book from 'Ringing World' readers. Orders are being dealt with in strict rotation and as expeditiously as possible. Those who have had to wait for their copy are assured of delivery in due course.

A new clapper has been fitted to the tenor at Painswick.

Ali points out that the peal rung at Seal (pages 565 and 800) was in actual fact rung at Seal Chart.

So successful was the East Berks and South Bucks dinner at Windsor on November 28th that the date of next year's function is already in members' diaries. All being well it will be held on Saturday, November 27th.

With much pleasure we welcome David Clark of Whatton, Notts, back to the quarter peal columns after his recent illness and we look forward to his early return to the peal columns.

Help from ringers of the Bridgwater Parish Church made it possible for ringing to take place at Durligh, Somerset, on Nov. 22nd when the Bishop of Taunton conducted a service of thanksgiving and rededication following extensive restoration of the church.

The ringers of the peal at Raunds, Northamptonshire, on November 28th, would like to associate the name of John R. Mayne with this peal. He is not the first, and will probably not be the last, to arrange for more ringers for a peal attempt than there are bells.

From Southend we hear that a dog will probably be in the peal totals for 1964, for she has already heard 24 peals complete this year. We look forward to hearing more about her if she hears another!

Liverpool Cathedral Peal Attempt

The peal attempt for Grandsire Cinques at Liverpool Cathedral on Saturday, November 29th, failed after four hours' ringing due to one of the ringers having to give up. The ages of the band in this attempt extended from 17 to 70. This, our correspondent states, was the third attempt. The two previous attempts at the Cathedral came to grief, he believes, through a miscall and broken clapper respectively.

Conducted First Peal

The paragraph in Belfry Gossip concerning Mr. D. Fenton conducting his first peal at Bramley, Leeds, has brought forth an interesting coincidence. Mr. J. S. Eastwood of Walsall, Staffs, learned to ring at this tower under the late Mr. G. W. T. Holgate, and writes: 'I also rang and called my first peal (Kent) at this tower in February, 1927, this being the first peal on the eight bells installed in 1924 and am now the sole survivor of the band at the time of the installation.'

Another Youngster Launched

Shortly before her 12th birthday, Frances Dodds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Dodds, of St. Albans, rang her first quarter to Grandsire Caters, at St. Clement Danes', London, on November 29th. Comments father: 'Young Frances is now launched on the "slippery slope".' Few young ladies have started their quarters in such a distinguished company. Happy birthday, Frances!

Aubrey's Birthday

The band who met at Buckfast Abbey on November 28th to attempt a peal of Grandsire Doubles in order to complete the circuit in the method on the bells were doomed to disappointment as the bells had to be called around at half way owing to indisposition of one of the band. Those who rang, however, were entertained to a birthday tea by Mr. A. L. Bennett afterwards, a very pleasant evening being spent.

Oddfellows' Peal

That great and enthusiastic Oddfellow, Mr. Frank Stenson, of Crewe, will read with interest the honour conferred on Bro. Eric Roughley of Davenport, Stockport, during his year as Provincial Grand Master of the St. Helens District. Fellow Oddfellows rang a peal to mark the occasion at Chelford, Cheshire. Participating were two Past Provincial Grand Masters and also a Past Grand.

Relief

Fear, the scare of the bare passage.
The tall hard walls and the empty
Echoingly hollow stair
Leading down from the boom
Of the bells above.
The shadowless passage harsh
In the glare of the staring light,
And the swinging weights
Here, there; there, here.
The fear throbbing from the walls
And swelling out the narrow passage.
Then the opening door,
The warm brightness, the joy of it.
Recognition.

'WIMBLEDON.'

Churchill Surprise

The ringing room at Westerham is on the ground floor open to the church. Members of the Kent County Association were therefore somewhat overwhelmed on arriving to ring in a new Surprise method for Sir Winston Churchill's birthday to see powerful television lights set up. The peal was started in the full glare of the lights and some five courses had been rung before the lights and other equipment were finally removed and the ringers were allowed to complete the peal under more normal conditions. An excellent peal was rung and we understand some readers may have seen shots of the ringing on ITV before the peal was completed.

Sir Winston's country home is at Chartwell in the parish of Westerham and the ringers of Kent were anxious to pay a worthy tribute by ringing a new method. Mr. John Mayne had kindly looked out a suitable method and had confirmed that the name Churchill had not been previously used. Thanks are due to the new Vicar, Canon A. Chapman, and the local ringers for their enthusiastic co-operation.

Ringers' Wedding at Bridport

Unfortunately, and contrary to several reports in the local press, a quarter peal of Stedman Triples, attempted at St. Mary's, Bridport, on October 31st, was not successful. The occasion was the wedding of Miss Valerie Hallett to Mr. Michael Stone, of Bridgwater, and the attempt was made by ringing friends from Bridgwater and Ebbw Vale. Bridport ringers rang immediately before and after the wedding service. After a honeymoon in Scotland, the couple were welcomed to their new home near Bridgwater by a quarter peal of St. Clement's Minor on the bell of their 'home' tower at Wembdon.

Will Ring at Christmas

We have received a cheery card from Mr. W. B. Kynaston of Rodbourne Cheney, Swindon, stating that he is now out of hospital and going on very well. While it is a case of no tower bell ringing yet, he hopes to do a bit before Christmas.

For Records Committee

Another fine achievement has come from Yorkshire. Mr. Wilfrid F. Moreton conducted at Holy Trinity Church, Kingston-upon-Hull, a peal of Spliced Surprise Royal in thirty-six methods, the most methods to be rung to a peal of Royal. Congratulations.

From Rounds to Stedman

Meeting short for their peal attempt of Stedman Triples at Dorchester Abbey, on Nov. 28th, Douglas Exon was summoned from his baker's rounds to ring the Tenor. He had only time, so he puts it, 'for half a fruit loaf,' before starting the peal. While all precede their peals by rounds, Doug Exon's experience might be without precedent. At any rate the peal was a success and Doug was duly thanked.

Earliest Hastings Stay

Mr. Michael King, of Wentworth, writes concerning the peal of Minimus on the four bells at Stockton-on-the-Forest that the bells were equipped with the Hastings stay in 1896 by Taylor's. Are there any other rings with such a fitting fitted earlier than 1896?

The Alexandra Ring

The peal of Stedman Caters rung at the former Imperial Institute on November 14th was only the fifth peal on the Alexandra ring of bells which were installed in 1895 to be rung on Royal and State occasions. The last peal, also Stedman Caters, was rung by members of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths on April 23rd, 1924, to mark the opening of the British Empire Exhibition.

The bells are now rung on eight dates each year and, for several years past, bands for these occasions have been arranged by Mr. William J. Rawlings. It was appropriate, therefore, that the recent peal enabled Bill to complete his first century and congratulations were extended accordingly.

100 Peals on Crawley Bells

On November 14th, Mr. Alf Bull of Horley, Surrey, rang his 100th peal on Crawley bells and Mr. W. Beeson, of Cranleigh, his 50th. (See page 807.) The first of the 100 was Worcester T.B. on Oct. 3rd, 1920, and Messrs. Bull and Beeson are the sole survivors. The time taken for both peals was the same — 3 hrs. 5 mins. After the peal a splendid tea was provided by Mrs. Jennings. Photographs were produced by George and there were many reminiscences. To the peal not a few footnotes could have been added as 'In memoriam Oliver Sippetts and other members of the 1920 band.' Also for 'E. G. Talbot, the friend we miss so much,' writes John Euston. Over half of Mr. Bull's 100 peals were in Surprise methods and were mainly under the conductorship of Mr. Sippetts.

A Prittlewell 21st

A popular member of the Prittlewell tower is Miss Janet Rowe and her 21st birthday on November 23rd was marked by a peal on the 22nd. On her birthday at the Prittlewell tower practice she was presented with a present on behalf of the band by the Master, Mr. Bernard Sadler. Afterwards everybody went round to her home where plenty of good eats and drinks were available—a truly happy birthday. Janet is now going to live in London. Prittlewell ringers wish her well and hope she will find a happy tower to receive her.

The Arcscott Family Does It Again

Congratulations to the Arcscott family, who are scattered about the Bath and Wells area. There was another family reunion on Nov. 14th at All Saints' Church, Merriott, Somerset, when a peal of Minor was rung. This is the second peal in recent years.

Christmas Issue

Our Christmas issue with a special message from Canon C. Carew Cox, former Master of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild will appear next week. Our popular feature, Christmas Greetings, will also be included and we have already received messages from overseas. We are hoping that the following issue will be on sale before Christmas Day. This will be printed on the Monday. Because of the time lag over Christmas mails, will secretaries wanting Notices inserted in the issue of December 25th please forward as soon as possible. If uncertain of arrangements use the word 'provisional.' It is not too early to send these Notices for New Year's meetings in at once. Finally, Notices may be phoned Guildford 5311.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

The Guildford District's nomination meeting on December 5th at Womersley and Bramley attracted representatives from nine towers. A nomination was received for each office. Mr. W. Savill, of Stoke, was proposed as Ringing Master, but made the request that Mr. L. Hunter, who was absent owing to illness, should be urged to reconsider his decision not to stand again for this office. The new hon. secretary and treasurer is Mr. J. H. Payton, who is now tower captain at Chidfold.

OBITUARY

MR. GORDON LEE

On October 18th, the Billesdon ringers received the tragic news of the death of Mr. Gordon Lee at the comparatively early age of 38. Although he had not been well for a few weeks, his death came as a great shock.

Gordon was a very reliable, regular service ringer and his presence will be greatly missed.

The bells were rung half-muffled in his memory on the following Thursday evening after the funeral. J.J.P.

MIDLAND COUNTIES FIRST DINNER IN LIVING MEMORY

THE first dinner of the Midland Counties Guild in the memory of any living member was held at the Midland Hotel, Burton-upon-Trent, on November 18th, and over 70 members and friends from the counties of Stafford, Derby, Leicester, Warwick and Salop attended. It is hoped to make the event an annual fixture.

Unfortunately neither the president, Mr. Ben Worthington, of Pontiland, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, nor the Vice-President, Rev. W. V. G. Griffiths, Vicar of Burton, could attend and Mrs. Griffiths, the wife of the latter, presided.

The toast of 'The Church and State' was proposed by Mr. D. J. Leach, of St. Paul's, Burton-upon-Trent, who said there was a close and deep association between the Church and the State—a closeness which was apparent in everyday life. The campanologist derived great satisfaction from bell ringing and because of its close association with the Church, the spiritual aspect gave full meaning to any labour demanded of bell ringers.

In what is termed a material world we have knowledge of what is meant by the welfare state and the practical facilities obtained. Old Age Pensions, medical attention and other government legislation in which care was given to the children were examples but the full effects of these benefits could not be measured in their entirety unless people had the moral support of the Church.

Nothing was perfect, he said, and in these days where one reads of violence and other matters which contravened man-made laws, there could only be expected improvement in both worldly affairs and the domestic issue providing advantage was taken of the spiritual and moral uplift which could be gained from the Christian Church.

The Rev. T. Villiers replied and said that the Church was not dead despite what people said but there was a restlessness which was a healthy sign of an active Church. He emphasised that this restlessness must be directed into the right channels so that people could be brought to realise fully the importance of God.

He instructed the bell ringers to carry on ringing, for as people heard the bells ring out they knew there stood a house of God as a continual reminder that God was among his people. He said if they worked together—and he was sure they would—they would provide a country where both body and soul were cared for.

The toast of 'The Midland Counties Guild' was proposed by Mrs. T. Pryce, the wife of the auditor to the Guild and long standing member of St. Modwen's, Burton. Mrs. Pryce pointed out that this was the first time members and friends of the Guild had gathered together for a dinner and she hoped it would not be the last. She pointed out that the Guild needed the full support of all its members and also welcomed new ones. It was most important for the bell ringers to show their loyalty and let people know there was a Church there, and it was alive.

Replying to the toast Mr. G. Roobotham, a member of both Sudbury Parish Church and St. Paul's, Burton, said the old Midland Counties Association was formed about 1875 by the present president's grandfather, Mr. W. H. Worthington. After quite a long life, that association was dissolved and the present one formed and from what information he could obtain this was indeed the very first annual dinner of either Guild or Association. He was very pleased to see so many people present and thanked the bell ringers, widows and/or widowers (Saturday afternoon and evening or perhaps two evenings per week) for faithfully supporting their partners. He also thanked the honorary members and many other friends of the Guild for attending on this occasion.

After dinner entertainment was provided and included some excellent handbell ringing by Kingsbury ringers, led by Mr. G. H. Lane. R.A.B.

Watford District Awakes

A very well attended meeting was held at Rickmansworth on November 28th. This was very heartening as it followed a general meeting the previous month to discuss the future of the District. It appears, however, that the District is far from dead but has just been asleep.

The awakening was enjoyed by all who attended. Ringing ranged from rounds to Cambridge Royal and Spiced Surprise Major. At the meeting it was decided to hold a practice meeting at Bushey on January 9th and a full meeting at Elstree and Aldenham on May 1st. Evensong was attended after the meeting and ringing followed up to 8 p.m.

During the evening we had an influx of members from the Western and St. Albans Districts who were feeling the effects of a football match in the afternoon. This influx led to an impromptu darts tournament in the nearby hostelry, but the writer is unable to report the result as he left after the defeat of the home District. G. W. S.

CHRISTMAS PEACE AND GOODWILL

IN a variety of ways, by Christmas cards and through the medium of 'The Ringing World,' most ringers will be exchanging greetings at this time. It is nice to be remembered; and that fellowship with one another, however far apart we may be, is something to be treasured and extended. That is why God sent His Son to be born into human life. 'That they all may be one.' Jesus Christ was born to be the centre of the human race, that all life should draw its inspiration from Him and all people be drawn together in Him. There lies the main truth which Christmas ought to bring home to everyone.

But in this twentieth century, widely as Christianity has penetrated through the world, how very far yet we seem to be from achieving unity amongst ourselves, among States and races! Events point to the unwelcome fact where peoples are granted independence, and the more they seek to be self-governing the less are they ready to become more peaceful, or brotherly, or willing to advance in the understanding of one another.

So, year by year, how urgently we need to be taken back to first principles; to the origin of the Christmas we profess to celebrate; to the nature of the God we profess to worship. For that alone will give the real character and the sincerity to our greetings.

While we may, naturally, be primarily concerned with the keeping of Christmas in our homes our gatherings together, thinking too of absent members, ought to result in the deepening of family ties, of the family feeling; the more so if we share, as a family, in the worship of the Church on Christmas Day. It should be impossible to conceive of any wrangling, or exhibition of selfish temper; indeed anything that breaks the fellowship at such a time. And if not then, neither at any other time. For the essence of Christmas—as Christian people are expected to have learnt it—is something to be implemented, carried into action, in all succeeding days and years. Which means the conscious unceasing cultivation of all things that are honest, true, pure and lovely in our own and other people's lives. There is no other way by which animosities can be buried, disagreements resolved and peaceful situations brought into being. There is no other name but that of Jesus Christ, given under heaven, whereby man—i.e., the world of men—can be reconciled and saved. So St. Peter, by his complete faith in the Incarnation and his intimate knowledge of its consequences, could say to the impotent man at the Beautiful Gate of the Temple, 'Silver and gold have I none, but such as I have give I thee: In the Name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk.' And, as it came to pass, was not that like new birth for that man?

Well then, what other aim ought we to have as we give our Christmas greetings: as we call people by the bells to the worship of the Son of God, than just this? To spread the knowledge of the Prince of Peace, to prove the fact of His birth and its outcome, not only in our immediate circle; but by our faith, prayers and example to create a new outlook for all who make for tension and strife, as also for all who are suffering under conditions of helplessness, ignorance, sorrow and fear?

One must emphasise that if our Lord demands anything from His servants, from ringers, or associations of ringers, it is nothing less than that self-restraint which characterised His childhood and subsequent Ministry; nothing less than submission of will which did nothing to lower His dignity, but enhanced the value of His example and teaching every moment.

'Such as I have give I thee!' Can one imagine a more significant greeting than that? Something I have to give which no money in the world can buy. That particular control, or influence, by which, somewhere, somehow, I can make all the difference between bitterness and happiness, between greed and contentment, between despair and hope, between impotence and active service, between strife and peace, between animosity and goodwill. From whence then is this which, as a Christian, I have to give; which can change the outlook for anyone today and tomorrow? And the Christian answer down the centuries is the Christmas revelation, ever new and wonderful as ever. 'Unto you is born this day . . . a Saviour which is Christ the Lord.' 'God so loved the world that He GAVE.'

Among all the worldly distractions of Christmas festivities nothing could be more profitable than to contemplate and grasp anew the Truth as it was in the beginning; to think back to the centre where all spiritual energy is generated—for radiation to all sorts and conditions of men: where the Love which is God flows out in fullest measure as the source of peace and goodwill everywhere. It will follow, therefore, that when, say, controversies arise they can be conducted without acrimony; where something regrettable is spoken, or written, in the heat of the moment an apology can quickly result; when any breach occurs it is never unhealable. Christmas Day can, and should, make that very sure, not only today but for all time 'until the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the waters cover the sea.'

With all that in mind our heartiest wishes go out to all our readers for a truly happy Christmas and a New Year full of spiritual health and bright promise.

'THE RINGING WORLD'

YOUR committee seldom trespass on the limited space of 'The Ringing World,' for at all times your Editor finds himself with more copy than can be compressed into the pages of a normal issue. At intervals it is necessary to reduce the accumulation of peals and news by a 'twenty-four page' paper, but the number of such issues are restricted by economic conditions. These, however, are normal administrative problems, and the purpose of now claiming your attention goes rather deeper—the economics of carrying on the paper without or with as little loss as possible. At all times these days in our ordinary everyday activities, we are beset with increasing costs; be it in business or at home and 'The Ringing World' is no exception to this inflationary spiral.

The Printing Trade Wages Agreement of 1962 provided for increases of wages in January, 1964, and January, 1965, the latter coupled with the granting of a third week's holiday and a large Cost of Living bonus. Our printers advised your committee that printing costs for 1964 would not be raised but they now inform us that unfortunately the further extra costs to be met from January 1st, 1965, cannot be absorbed by themselves and a proportion of these additional expenses must be passed on to their customers.

This addition to our outlay is not the only one with which we are faced, as the Government has already announced that postage rates must go up, but as yet no indication has been forthcoming as to the size of this increase, although it is also anticipated in January next. Further, it is quite within the bounds of probability that there may be an increase in the cost of paper.

One of the axioms of prudent business economics is to anticipate possible losses but not profits and it is along these lines your committee have considered the position now presented. In the light of known and possible contingencies they have reluctantly come to the conclusion that the price of 'The Ringing World' must be raised by one penny to ninepence per copy, with proportionate adjustments for postal subscribers. The new charges will operate from the first issue in January, 1965, and particulars of the rates for postal copies are set out on page 851.

Whether or not the additional charge will cover the extra outgoings depends on the new postage rates, but the position will again be reviewed before the meeting of the Central Council at Northampton, when the opportunity will be taken to make any further announcements required on the basis of figures then available.

'The Ringing World' is a specialised publication with a limited circulation and your committee once more stress that the scale of an extra 1,000 copies per week would go far to resolving many financial problems. Readers themselves could do much to publicise the advantage of taking 'The Ringing World' and if only one in five secured a new regular subscriber our 'thousand' could be achieved.

The committee thank all our regulars for their support and again appeal to those who 'look over' to get their own copy. Ringers generally must realise what a serious blow the Exercise would suffer if 'The Ringing World' was to go out and after all the weekly cost is very modest.

For your support in the past you have been thanked, for the present we now thank you, and for the future we hope to thank you,

R. S. A.

AN INTERESTING FOUR AT LINCOLN

St. Mary-le-Wigford Church, Lincoln, has four bells over 300 years old and here on November 29th a quarter peal of Plain Bob Minimus was rung by S. D. Etccll 1 D. M. A. Noble 2, J. Clarke 3, A. W. Froggatt (cond.) 4.

As far as can be ascertained, writes A. W. Froggatt, there have been no previous peals or quarters on the bells. The treble and second were cast by George Oldfield in 1636 and 3 and 4 by Henry Oldfield in 1616. They are the front four of a six, but again there seems to have been no more than four bells at the church.

They were rehung, tuned and quarter turned by John Taylor and Co. in 1932. The old wooden frame is still in the tower some eight feet above the present level. The tower is Saxon and is approximately 1,000 years old.

The weights of the bells are given as treble 4 cwt. 26 lb.; second, 4 cwt. 2 qr. 14 lb.; third, 5 cwt. 2 qr. 26 lb.; tenor, 6 cwt. 1 qr. 17 lb. (note A).

OXFORD UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

Oxford University Society held its annual meeting on December 1st when the following new officers were elected:—Master: B. H. Wakefield (Pembroke); secretaries, Miss H. F. Pardoe (St. Anne's) and R. M. Heyworth (University); treasurer, P. A. Brand (Magdalen); steeplekeepers, T. J. Burchell (New College) and A. P. Foster (St. John's).

The proposed amendment to rule 10 (b) did not gain a two-third majority and was therefore defeated. The result is that people not matriculated at the University cannot become full members of the Society, in that they cannot ring peals for it. Many people felt that to open membership to those at affiliated Colleges would be to destroy the Society as a University Society.

FREEDOM CONFERRED ON ABERGAVENNY VETERAN

The Honorary Freedom of the Borough of Abergavenny, Monmouthshire, was conferred upon Mr. William Horsington on December 3rd.

Mr. Horsington has been a ringer at St. Mary's, Abergavenny, since 1898 and soon afterwards became a member of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association. He is now one of the oldest members of that Association. His association with the Abergavenny Town Council dates since 1913, when he was elected a councillor, for several years he was an alderman and three times Mayor of the Borough. Though he no longer serves on the Council he is still in business as a builder at the age of 83.

Members of St. Mary's band were amongst those who witnessed the ceremony in the Town Hall. Well deserved tributes were paid by the Mayor, the Town Clerk and the President of the local branch of the Builders' Association. Tribute was also paid on behalf of the ringers by the Rev. I. J. Richards, Rural Dean of Raglan and Treasurer of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association.

He referred to Mr. Horsington's long service to the belfry at St. Mary's, Abergavenny, and how he had maintained his close connection with the Church despite the many claims of responsible public life.

In his younger days he and his brother and their friends formed a handbell band and provided much pleasure with tune ringing at concerts in villages surrounding Abergavenny. Later his son was a member of the handbell band and is also a ringer at St. Mary's. Some may remember their broadcast in 'Country Magazine' several years ago. Recently he was proud to ring on the bells of St. Mary's with his son and granddaughter. We congratulate him on his long and loyal service to his church and tower.

SOUTHAMPTON UNIVERSITY GUILD

On November 28th, members of the Southampton University Guild of Change Ringers were joined by several past members and visitors in a day of ringing at various churches in and around Southampton. After a service at North Stoneham Church, conducted by the Rev. John Pibworth, they made their way to the 'Mayflower Room,' Royal Pier, Southampton, where the fourth annual dinner was held.

After an excellent meal, the Master of Ceremonies, Mr. A. J. Luxford, proposed the loyal toast. The Guild secretary, Miss R. J. Kemp, welcomed Canon K. W. H. Felstead and the Rev. John Pibworth, and expressed the Guild's thanks for their help and co-operation during the past year. She then proposed the toast of 'The Church.'

In reply Canon Felstead, Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, spoke of the link between the church and those who rang the bells and emphasised the Christian duties of ringers.

Mr. P. J. Joyce proposed the toast of 'The Visitors,' and said how pleased he was to see so many people at the dinner. Those present included representatives from Sussex University, from London, Manchester and Nottingham, as well as past members of the Guild and local ringers.

Mr. M. J. Thomas replied to the toast and said that local ringers were grateful for the support of the S.U.G.C.R. in Sunday service ringing in Southampton. He then proposed the toast of 'The Guild.'

The Master of the Guild, Mr. M. D. Trigg, gave his report of the Guild's activities during the past year, including the summer tour in Cornwall during the first week of July.

COLLEGE OF CAMPANOLOGY REVIEW OF 1964

In the six years following the College foundation (1956) the introduction of week-end residential courses in ringing (one of the main objectives of the College) had been successfully accomplished—largely through co-operation with local education authorities. And it was becoming clear that the interest in, and successful running of, these courses was such as could be maintained by local ringing organisations, with such co-operation. In these circumstances the College has retained its practical interest in the week-end course as far as giving advice and help to local ringing organisations in planning their own courses.

This has given the College more freedom to concentrate on its other objectives. These include, on the practical side, advising and helping with one-day courses for instructors, and with the initiation of serial courses (ten to twelve weeks) for beginners, with tests in bell control and elementary change-ringing. The literary side continues the compilation of 'Parts' of the 'Ringers' Manual of Reference,' the long-term programme of which includes some nine such parts.

SCHOOLS OF RINGING

Of those affiliated to the College it is a pleasure to report, particularly, upon the St. Uny, Lelant (Cornwall) school: where its senior tutor, who is also the College President, has maintained a steady output of trained beginners, including three qualified tutors, in recent months. The Administrative Committee thanks all Tutors and congratulates all active affiliated schools on their good work in the Exercise.

WORLD-WIDE REPRESENTATION

Recent requests from Australia for copies of Part I of the College Manual have resulted in the provisional appointment of a representative of the College at Ballarat (Captain of St. Peter's), Victoria. The College now has representative officers in Ireland, Scotland, Wales, most counties in England, and overseas in Africa, United States of America and Australia. It is probable that in the New Year the College will be represented in the Cathedral Society at Christchurch, New Zealand. The College is gratified by the widespread appreciation of, and thanks for, the advice and tuition given in the Manual. This more than makes worthwhile our (entirely voluntary) efforts. During the year there appeared in 'The Ringing World' a feature article commending Part I of the Manual. And a significant recent order is for six further copies of this work on 'Bell Handling and Control,' for the County Library (Norwich) of the Norfolk Education Committee.

OFFICERS AND GOVERNORS

These being triennial appointments are (with one sad exception as below) the same as for the previous year, and as listed in the 'Ringers' Diary' at the end of the list of Ringing Associations, etc. We are pleased to record that our Vice-President and senior Chaplain, Canon Gilbert Thurlow, is currently the President of the Central Council. The sad exception referred to above is that of our severe loss in December last by the tragic death of the brilliant young Registrar of the College, David Jones, B.A. The College Administrative Committee is sympathetically grateful to Mrs. Edna Jones, his mother, for having stepped into the breach. The Committee regrets the forthcoming loss of service as Press and Public Relations Officer, by Dr. R. G. T. Bennett, M.Sc., who is shortly going back to New Zealand. His work and interest during the past five years on behalf of the College are greatly appreciated.

THE MORNING A TOWER FELL DOWN

By T. A. Bevis

*'There are some farmers in Fulbourn town,
They have lately sold bells what was not their own;
They have sold the bells, likewise the church,
And cheat the poor of twice as much,
And O! you Fulbourn farmers O!'*

AT FIVE o'clock on the morning of Trinity Sunday, 1766, the small town of Fulbourn, Cambs., was prematurely awakened by a vibrative rumble, not unlike an earthquake of minor proportions, and songbirds which for the previous half-hour had united their usual musical welcome in increasing crescendo to a bright new day abruptly ended that dawn chorus, darting away at all points of the compass.

Sleepy residents in the vicinity of All Saints' Church, confused at the creaking of overhead timbers, became aware of dust which seemed to infiltrate through every nook and cranny of their dwellings. Excited voices outside inspired those who continued to sit in bed to hurl dull stupor to one side: white faces pressed against leaded windows and a score of eyes beheld the ruins of a once-lovely church, gaunt and strangely unsymmetrical in the strengthening daylight.

all for the poor,
They have robbed them of half and something more:
Such dirty tricks will go hard on their sides,
For the d—I will have them and singe their hides.
And O! you Fulbourn farmers O!'*

On the Saturday before this unexpected incident occurred Fulbourn proudly possessed two churches—but now, only one—St. Vigor's—remained.

It transpired the steeple of All Saints' had, over many years, progressively weakened, with the result that the old bells to which the inhabitants were so attached were unceremoniously deposited on the floor of the nave. One or two bells, like the church, were badly broken. Nevertheless, the poor parishioners, fearful that the bells would be illegally removed, frequently mounted guard watching over them in the evenings, armed with cudgels, blunderbusses and pitchforks.

But fears subsided: their devoted interest temporarily waned; the watchers withdrew to the comfort of their homes and the warmth of the local inns, preferable by far to the cold and comfortless shell of a fallen-down church. Thus in the dead of the night, the churchwardens approached two of the bells, hoisted them on to a waggon conveniently placed in Monk's Barn, nearby, and transferred them to the Cambridge wagon en route to St. Neots, arriving there before morning light, when they were delivered into the hands of Edward Arnold, the Priory founder. The warden farmers, who are said to have given the proceeds of the 'illegal' sale towards repairs at St. Vigor's Church, managed to avoid the angry accusations and remonstrations of the aggrieved parishioners of All Saints'.

*'Before the bells they could be sold,
They were forced to swear, as we've been told:*

*They foreswore themselves—then they cried
For this my boys, we will be tried*

And O! you Fulbourn farmers O!

The ruin of All Saints' Church eventually brought about an Act of Parliament: this passed on May 22nd, 1775 for the purpose of uniting the parish of All Saints with that of St. Vigor. The Act enabled the Vicar and warden to sell the bells and materials, the proceeds to be used in the repair of the latter-named edifice. As already stated two bells had already been 'removed': the other three with two existing bells at St. Vigor's were recast at St. Neots, and the complete ring of six was hung in the tower of Fulbourn's remaining church—rededicated to St. Vigor and All Saints—on May 9th, 1776.

Subscriptions amounted to £141. The bells cost £262 2s. 3d., the frame on which they are suspended £45, six new ropes £1 15s., in all a total outlay of £308 17s. 3d.

The bells were inscribed:

1. BY AN ACT OF PARLIAMENT OBTAINED IN 1775
2. THE RUINS OF ALL SAINTS CHURCH WERE TAKEN DOWN
3. AND THE PARISHES UNITED, EDWARD ARNOLD FECIT ME 1776
4. AND THESE SIX BELLS CAST BY SUBSCRIPTION IN 1776
5. EDWD. ARNOLD OF ST NEOTS CAST THIS PEAL OF SIX BELLS ANNO DOMINI 1776
6. EDWARD ARNOLD OF ST NEOTS FECIT 1776
I TO THE CHURCH THE LIVING CALL AND TO THE GRAVE DO SUMMON ALL

*'There is old Twigg, and young Twigg—
the whining dissenter,
Says one to the other, this night we will venture:*

*And says little Gibble-Gabble, I long for
to go,*

But first I will call on my neighbour Swingtoe,

And O! you Fulbourn farmers O!

Exactly a year had passed between the instigation of the Act of Parliament and the casting of the new bells, the Act itself being conducted through both Houses of Parliament by Mr. Edward Hancock, the Rector's warden, and Sir John Cotton, the latter attending to the matter in its various stages in the House of Commons. The passing of the Act inspired a Fulbourn resident, William Rolfe, to write a ballad which is reproduced in this article.

The inhabitants of Fulbourn displayed unusual enthusiasm at having a brand new ring of six bells, which having arrived in the vicinity of the town were hauled by villagers a furlong or more before horses could be hitched to the waggon. On arrival at the tower a Mr. Edmund Andrews Salisbury sat astride the tenor bell when it was drawn up to its permanent place in the belfry. By a strange coincidence his was the first death for which this bell was tolled.

A 'peal' was rung on the bells on December 7th, 1789, the author of which was Charles Dawson. It comprised 720 changes and was called with 154 hobs and two 'ingles'.

crew*

*Broke into the church as other thieves do,
For to steal the bells and sell them all.*

*May the d—I take such churchwardens all,
And O! you Fulbourn farmers O!*

Footnote.—The tower of St. Vigor and All Saints' now contains a ring of eight bells, tenor 12 cwt.

Non-Association Peals

Dear Sir.—The non-Association peal at Trumpington, Cambridgeshire, which appears on page 822, prompts me to write regarding such peals generally.

I have considered for a very long time that ringers who participate in non-Association peals act in a most irresponsible manner in not recording their performances for the Guild or Association in which they are rung.

If the Yorkshiremen in this particular peal could not afford the Ely Diocesan Association's life membership fee why not ring it in their own county? Could not College Youth and non-geographical societies record their performances as rung by that Society for the Association or Society in whose area the peal is rung.

Whilst on the subject of peals, I consider the time is long overdue for all Guilds and Associations to levy a peal booking fee, similar to the present practice of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers. Central Council representatives were told at Truro this year that 'The Ringing World' is again facing financial trouble and further increases in charges were to be expected. Surely the time has come when all peal ringers must take a responsible attitude towards their publication and not expect those not so interested in peal ringing to subsidise their indulgence.—Yours faithfully,
N. MALLETT, Heavitree, Exeter.

Directions to Churches

Dear Sir.—Could I please make a request to Guild and Association secretaries who put notices of ringing meetings in 'The Ringing World'? It would be very helpful to people who do not know the area where the church is, to be given the name of the road it is in. 'Dove's Guide,' for example, only gives road names of inner London towers and a road map usually shows five or six churches in the area with no indication of the name.—Yours faithfully,
JULIE S. ARMSTRONG, Hammersmith.

Leeds Ringers' Outing

Dear Sir.—I would like to make a comment on the second paragraph on page 817 of 'The Ringing World' in the article reporting the outing of the Leeds Parish Church ringers.

The so called ban at Felixkirk was not because 'visiting ringers did damage,' but because 'change ringers did damage.' Quite a difference when one considers that it was a non-change ringer who passed the comment, and so convinced the Vicar.

As regards the visit to Shildon: here again I regret to say that the bells have not been rung due to the attitude of the Vicar towards bells and ringing, and not as result of any apathy by local or surrounding ringers. In fact, had it not been that a short while ago Mr. T. Cooke, of Darlington, repaired broken stays, properly threaded the ropes, and did a few more odd jobs in the tower, I fear the Leeds ringers would have been unable to ring the bells.

However, I was pleased to know that R.H.D. and his band of visiting ringers were well received all around. I can assure him that hospitality is not usually lacking in these parts.—Yours faithfully,
F. HODGSON, Darlington.

Sandhurst First Peal after Rededication

Dear Sir.—With reference to the letter from Mr. Alan R. Baldock, of Eastbourne, in your issue of December 4th, the bells of St. Nicholas', Sandhurst, were rededicated by the Archbishop of Canterbury on Tuesday, September 15th, 1964.

Mr. Baldock's peal: August 10th, 1963.

Our peal: October 31st, 1964.

The item in Belfry Gossip is, therefore, correct.—Yours faithfully,
H. J. POPE, Tower Captain, Sandhurst.

To the Glory of God

Dear Sir.—Mr. O.A.M.'s first remarks about ringers (I note he says the majority) regarding campanology as a hobby are, of course, in a sense true. On the other hand, he does not advance any further reasons for people ringing bells presumably because he has never found—unlike the majority of ringers whom I have the privilege of knowing—that the chief delight of ringing church bells is ringing them to the glory of God. If one regards ringing in this way, in addition to deriving pleasure from the physical act of ringing, how else can it be regarded except as an act of worship? When I resided in Kent, one of the great joys was to go into a belfry and to commence ringing with a prayer, often said by one of the ringers. The example was set by Canterbury Cathedral where the prayer is read before the bells are rung for Sunday service. Merely a hobby? For the majority of ringers, sir, surely far more.

With this in mind, it is surely wrong to discourage the building of church towers (anyway there are quite enough being built without them in this present day). I am sure that the majority of ringers would sooner see a church built with a tower and ring of bells than a second Quex Park rising. The only virtue with such towers as Quex is that they do give one the opportunity to practise without upsetting the neighbours. And the purpose of practice? To better one's own standards of ringing to the glory of God. Surely ringing is a tradition: and it's the only time when most ringers can ring for service, otherwise no doubt there would be a tradition of ringing on other days. And because one is calling God's people to church, and praising God, and enjoying doing so at the same time, surely, sir, it is a good tradition and not merely sheer habit, no, certainly not habit, God forbid! We are not compelled by force of habit to ring those bells which were hung there to the glory of God before we were born, but we are urged by our duty to our God and Redeemer to sound our bells to the glory of Him who never forced anybody to do anything, and whom we owe far more than we can give or understand.

The subject of ringers' 'bickering' or 'defaulting' is nothing new, but I venture to suggest, sir, that the 'bickering in the belfry' is confined to fewer of our 40,000 odd ringers than one may imagine. And I have known few cases where the argument has not been quickly made up. Ringing is a brotherhood, and in most towers it is kept so. I feel our atheist brother is correct in making such general statement as he does. It is indeed too true that ringers do sometimes 'abscond' from their towers, but again I feel that O.A.M. makes too general a statement to support an argument.

'Does one have to be a Christian to be a campanologist?' No, sir, one does not. But, as we are reminded in one of our collects, 'It is not the beginning of a task, but the finishing of the same IN THY NAME, O LORD, which yieldeth the true glory.' The glory is God's alone and we and the bells are instruments of it. It is only in one's own heart that the final decisions can be made. But I venture to say that to be a good Christian is far more important than being a good ringer, for the witness of a faithful Christian life is greater than the loudest noise which is made here on earth to the glory of God, the sound of the bells. God grant that when we ring, we may ring first and foremost to His glory. If we do so, then, sir, we will find every other joy thrown in.—Yours sincerely,
Hunstanton, Norfolk. DAVID CAWLEY.

Obituary Column Answer

Dear Sir.—Re the letter from 'O.A.M.' (atheist) in your paper on November 27th. I suggest that 'O.A.M.' reads the Obituary Notices in 'The Ringing World.' He will find there that ringing and Christianity do go together.

As regards 'falling out' among ringers, this is a common human failing! May we be preserved from a band of 'yes' men. Even Christ's disciples had differences of opinion.—Yours faithfully,
Crewe, JOHN E. HOLLOWAY.

Carols on Handbells

Dear Sir.—While I agree with your correspondent that 12 bells minimum are preferable for tune ringing, I hope this should not deter those who have an octave. For the first three years I have interested members of a Boys' Brigade Company in tune ringing on an octave of bells. Quite a number of hymn tunes and carols have their melody contained within a diatonic octave, and by a simple substitution of octave notes where this does not upset the sense of melody several more can be adapted.

For those who don't quite know how to set about tune ringing, I number the bells one to eight, one becoming the highest note as in change ringing. Tonic sol-fa timing is adopted, each bar in quadruple time being sub-divided by a short vertical line. A colon, a full-stop and a comma correspond to minims, crochets, quavers and semi-quavers of staff rotation. For triple time the bar is sub-divided first in three parts by colons, then each of the three in half by a full stop and further (if required) by the comma. The correct spacing of 'notes' is also important, as this gives a useful guide to 'quick' and 'slow' notes.

With regard to harmony playing, we find that until some considerable practice has been done in playing the melody only, there is no point in trying harmony, as the bells must be struck with absolute accuracy so that the notes in harmony sound absolutely simultaneously. The only way to do this is to watch the other ringers out of the corner of one's eye, so that the bells move and strike together.

I have not tried to adapt this system to more than eight bells, as that is all we have available at the moment. I feel, however, that for larger numbers of bells the use of the tonic sol-fa names would be preferable to using numbers since double figures (such as 10, 11 and 12) could be confusing when written in quick succession. Semitones on smaller numbers of bells could be added and referred to by an encircled number.

Those who are musicians in other fields will, of course, not require it, but there may be some who have an 'ear for music' but have no knowledge of written music systems and would therefore be glad of some simple information.—Yours sincerely,
A. W. FROGGATT, Lincoln.

Dear Sir.—Reading your item re handbell carolling with interest. I think I can go one better, as we have always rung four bells each, which I think you can control better than two, and the simplest way I think to learn is by ringing Queen's and Whittingtons which gives you plenty of confidence leading up to tune playing.

We had the honour of being the first handbell ringers in the county to broadcast handbells away back in 1924, four bells each and four in number which was a perfect transmission from 5 IT New Street, which was then the Birmingham Studio.

Four bells are rung by striking the top two outwards and the bottom two downwards and this calls for regular practice together. We spent one night a week all the year round, change ringing and tune playing: we were ready for anything, and believe me, we got plenty of engagements. My advice to young handbell ringers is to get going with four bells each, which makes tune playing more compact and worth listening to.—Yours truly,
R. H. MANSELL, Handsworth, Birmingham.

King's Norton Tenor

Dear Sir.—During the recent correspondence concerning King's Norton bells, nobody has mentioned that the tenor has a rather unique slider mechanism.

Apparently the bells were originally never fitted with stays and sliders. When these were fitted only the tenor presented a problem because there was no room for a slider; in fact the clapper flight has a slot in the floor boards to allow it to swing. The problem was overcome by making a wooden channel with a sliding block of wood running in it.—Yours faithfully,
J. J. PAWLEY.

The Toast this Christmas is "The Old 'Uns"

MR. JOHN EUSTON, that great worker on behalf of veteran bellringers, sends us this photograph of the veteran bellringers at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, as a reminder to the Exercise of how much they owed to those who during the first 25 years of this century paved the way for a better life for us all. Most of those portrayed have given over 50 years' service, often to a local church, and with others have been responsible for passing on the art to the next generation. And this Christmas let us all have a toast to 'The Old 'uns' and trust that as many as possible will be present next June to enjoy the good tea Mrs. Davis and her helpers provide.

TOURING TAUNTON AREA

On November 28th, a score of ringers from the Axbridge, Bridgwater and Chew branches of the Bath and Wells Association spent an enjoyable afternoon and evening in the Taunton area. Ringing at Hillfarrance, Nynehead and Langford Budville preceded a very welcome tea at Hillcommon.

Further touches on the good little five at Heathfield and on the melodious six at Bradford-on-Tone were followed in true Somerset style by a social gathering at 'the local.'

The great improvements, including redecoration of the belfry, at Nynehead (although the young lady rising the second still received a shower of twigs), was noted and also the call-change cards of Grandsire at Hillfarrance entitled 'The bells of Hillfarrance Changes'—Methods Committee please note!

'Thank yous' are extended to the respective incumbents and those who met us at the towers.

G.R.M.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

There was a better attendance when the Bingham District held its meeting at Whatton on November 14th than on the previous occasion, and all members and visitors enjoyed it. Bingham was proposed for the annual District meeting on January 9th. The vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. Harrison, who specially mentioned the Rector and the ladies responsible for the good tea.

Next meeting: Holme Pierrepont, December 12th.

WORCESTER AND DISTRICTS

The annual meeting of the Western Branch, held at Wychbold on December 5th, attracted an attendance of about 60 ringers. During the afternoon, the six bells at St. Mary-de-Wyche were rung in rounds for the beginners and in methods up to London Surprise. A pleasing feature was the large attendance of younger members and if their enthusiasm is encouraged, there should be no worries for the future of the Exercise in the area.

Evensong was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. J. R. Hunter-Bailey, and members of the Association robed to form a choir. The Vicar in his welcome told of the pleasure he found listening to Wychbold bells on the rare occasions on which they were rung. At the present time, the bells are silent on Sundays through lack of ringers, and he hoped that our visit might stimulate some interest in the village.

Tea at the 'Bowling Green' was immediately followed by the meeting. The officers were re-elected including the Master, Mr. J. Clements, and the secretary, Mr. A. Jopp, both of whom were thanked for their work. The dates and places of the meetings for 1956 were arranged. New members were elected from Upton Snodsbury, where Mr. S. T. Holt is training a young band to ring on an 18 cwt. six with a very long draught of rope and a reputation for difficult handling, from All Saints', Worcester, and from St. Swithun's, Worcester, which now has its first members for about 50 years.

MR. W. J. COPE

Mr. Walter James Cope, who died in St. Andrew's, Hospital, Norwich, on December 1st, at the age of 80, was for 60 years a ringer at Lichfield Cathedral.

His 72nd birthday was marked by a dinner in his honour and a presentation by the Dean of Lichfield as a tribute to his services to bellringing at the Cathedral and Alrewas.

Although a regular service ringer and one who rarely missed a practice, it was not until he was well over 60 that he rang anything other than Grandsire. After being associated with teaching Peter, Dennis and Joan Beresford, the opportunity came to ring more advanced methods. He rang in a peal of Double Norwich Major in honour of his 70th birthday, and went on to ring a peal of Cambridge Major and also to practise and ring a variety of the more advanced Doubles, Minor and Major methods. He rang in the first peal on Lichfield Cathedral bells after they were recast in 1947, and took part in ringing for all royal events, covering the reigns from the time of Queen Victoria to the birth of the present Prince of Wales.

At the age of 69, and on the death of his wife, he moved from Lichfield to Alrewas, where he set about teaching a band.

During the last few years of his life when he lived with his eldest daughter at Fakenham, Norfolk, illness prevented him from doing any active ringing. Almost to the end he read 'The Ringing World' with keen interest.

He was buried at Fakenham on Dec. 5th.

REDEDICATION

SKEFFINGTON, LEICS

The bells of St. Thomas à Becket, Skeffington, Leics, were rededicated, after rehanging, by the Bishop of Leicester, the Rt. Rev. R. R. Williams, during the Harvest Festival service on Oct. 25th. The cost of rehanging was met by Major R. B. Collie M.F.H., in memory of his wife Jennifer, who was tragically killed in the hunting field.

A local band is now being formed under the guidance of Messrs. Norman and Geoff Geary, of Billesdon.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Rochester District

Some 70 ringers attended the annual meeting of the Rochester District held at Rochester Cathedral recently. Many took advantage of ringing on the Cathedral's bells before Evening, at which the Dean welcomed the Association.

Following tea at the Crown Hotel, the Rev. Peter N. Bond presided at the business meeting. Tribute was paid by Mr. L. Mitchell, District secretary, in his report, to Mr. Albert Dunk and Mr. George Eastman, of Sittingbourne, whose deaths were recorded with regret.

Officers elected were: Mr. Mitchell, secretary; Mr. Len Crouch, Frindsbury, Ringing Master; and Messrs. T. Barton and F. J. Cheal, District representatives to K.C.A. Mr. Christopher Osenton, the retiring Ringing Master, was thanked for his services, and also the Dean. Ringing followed until 9 p.m.

By-Meeting at Frindsbury

The by-meeting was held at the new Ringing Master's home tower, Frindsbury, in wintry weather. Despite this some 30 faithful members had an enjoyable meeting. A warm welcome came from the Vicar (Rev. T. G. S. Prentice), who conducted the church service, and an excellent tea was kindly given by local ringers. The votes of thanks were proposed by Mr. L. Mitchell, and ringing continued to a late hour.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Chew Branch was held at Stanton Drew on December 5th. Ringing in a variety of methods preceded the service, which was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. W. D. Russell. About 40 members and friends were served with an excellent tea by the local company at the Church Hall, after which the Vicar took the chair for the business meeting.

The secretary, in his report, made a plea for outstanding subscriptions to be paid before December 31st in order to complete his records.

A total of 12 new members were elected; Kingston Seymour 2, Portbury 2, Easton in Gordano 1, Backwell 1, Stanton Drew 1 and Wrington 5. Subject to permission, meetings were arranged as follows: Quarterly (April 11th), Backwell; practice meetings: January, Tickenham; February, Yatton; March, Pablow. The striking competition for 1965 will be held during May at Dundry, and the sub-committee was empowered to appoint the judge. A suggestion that the test piece should include a fall was favourably received, but it was pointed out that the extra time involved would tend to make the proceedings rather drawn out. In the circumstances, it was decided that the idea was not at present practicable.

A suggestion that the service touch at quarterly meetings should be rung by a band to be chosen by the Ringing Master was supported on all sides, and will take effect forthwith.

Officers elected for 1965: Chairman and Ringing Master: Mr. H. W. Knight; vice-chairmen: Messrs. C. Bishop and L. Derrick; secretary, Mr. D. G. Yeo; reporter: Mr. J. Brain.

Following the usual votes of thanks, ringing took place both at Stanton Drew (5) and Chew Magna (8). J. B.

SHEFFIELD AND DISTRICT

The December meeting of the Society was held at Ecclesfield on Dec. 5th. About 20 members braved the weather for the afternoon ringing, and methods from Plain Bob Minor to Cambridge Major were rung. Twenty-five members sat down to an excellent tea, and the business meeting followed, with Mr. J. J. L. Gilbert in the chair. Votes of thanks were passed to the local company for the excellent arrangements made.

After tea ringing continued until about 9 o'clock, when a good standard of ringing was maintained.

BELFRY GOSSIP

With the ringing of a peal at Pluckley on December 5th there have now been peals rung on all ringable rings in Kent.

By ringing a peal of Kent T.B. Major at Finedon on November 28th, Murray A. Coleman, of Rothwell, completed the Kent 'family' from Minor to Maximus.

The quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles at Henlow, Beds, was arranged as a farewell to W. O. F. Mitchell, who has been a great help to Henlow tower whilst stationed in the neighbourhood. He is now posted to Norfolk.

We are asked to state that the composition used in the peal at Elveden, on page 821, was by T. B. Worsley. It was also the 50th peal together of G. E. Thoday and Alan M. Barber.

With deep regret we record the passing, on December 5th, of Mr. Harry Broughton, who since 1903 had been associated with ringing in Leicester. A memoir will appear in our next issue.

Apologies are offered to two 'unknown' visitors to Romford, Essex, tower on Sunday, December 6th, who were unable to gain access to the ringing chamber as a quarter peal was in progress.

The peal attempted at Holme Pierrepont, Nottingham, for Sir Winston Churchill's birthday had to stop at the end of the fourth 720 because of a technical fault with the second bell. Thanks to the prompt service of Messrs. Taylors, of Loughborough, ringing was resumed at the week-end.

Kessingland, Suffolk, has lost a popular Rector by the departure of the Rev. T. Drury. During the eight years of his incumbency, many improvements have been made to St. Edmund's Church, the most interesting from a ringer's point of view being the rehanging, recasting of the tenor and augmentation of bells from five to six in 1960-61.

Sir Winston's Birthday

This week we publish a page of peals rung to honour the 90th birthday of Sir Winston Churchill. There are also hosts of quarter peals both in last week's and this week's issue, all testifying to the esteem and affection with which this great war leader and statesman is held.

Two new methods have been added to the list of Surprise methods in his honour. Mr. John R. Mayne conducted the first peal of Chartwell Surprise Major at Harrow Weald and Mr. Philip A. Corby the first of Churchill Surprise Major at Westerham. We hope that other Surprise bands will keep these methods evergreen before the ringing public.

His Old Constituency

In honour of Sir Winston's S. Churchill's 90th birthday, three quarter peals were rung in the towers of the new London borough of Redbridge, part of which was Sir Winston's old constituency of Wanstead and Woodford. Two quarters of Bob Minor were rung at Wanstead by local ringers whilst at Barking-side a quarter of Stedman Triples was scored. At Woodford, where the local band rang a short touch at 7 a.m., they unfortunately lost a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples in the evening.

Youth's Tribute

Of the many quarter peals rung in honour of the 90th birthday of Sir Winston Churchill, that at Accrington calls for special comment as the conductor, R. Helliwell, is only 11 years of age. Mr. Roger Leigh writes that he rang the 11½ cwt. tenor very well, but needed a little assistance with the conducting. The quarter was a tribute of youth as three others were 15 and only two of the band middle aged.

Mr. Peter Laflin's 75th

A happy family party was held at 25, Hallam Street, Stockport, the home of Mr. Peter Laflin, on December 5th, for his 75th birthday. After tea, the birthday cake, surmounted by a small golden swinging bell and bearing seven candles, one for each grandchild, was cut to the singing of 'Happy Birthday' and the toast was 'Many Happy Returns.'

Handbells were rung to rounds and call changes by two of Peter's grandchildren, William (aged 7) 1-2, Elizabeth (aged 9) 3-4, daughter Frances 5-6, and Peter himself 7-8. Son and son-in-law also joined in the ringing. A.H.

Brightness at Rotherham

Rotherham is being floodlit and illuminated on a bigger scale than usual this year. The tower of the parish church and spire are illuminated by a concealed floodlights on the roof, a total of about 20,000 watts being used. The illumination of the town centre for the Christmas period is centred on the Parish Church. The switch-on of the new installation was marked by a quarter of Stedman Caters.

The Bride Must Wait

The brother of an Oxford University ringer has postponed his wedding, writes a University correspondent, so that he can ring in a peal attempt, but his fiancée refuses to postpone it a second time so as to allow him to attend the University's Easter tour.

82 and Still Going Strong

On November 28th friends of that grand old ringer from Merseyside, Mr. Lester Gray, of Wallasey, were able to join him in ringing a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at St. Mary's, Liscard, to celebrate his 82nd birthday. This peal was rather later than originally intended as a peal of Grandsire Cinques at St. Nicholas', Pier Head, Liverpool, on his actual birthday was unfortunately lost after three hours ringing. On both occasions Lester belied his years and rang as well as any of the band. Unfortunately, the second peal could not be attempted at St. Nicholas', but those who rang on both occasions wished him all the best and expressed the hope that there would be many more Lester birthday peals. Lester was presented with a pipe to mark the occasion, and the large number who joined in the festivities after both peals showed the high regard with which he is held.

Rope Breaks in Wedding Peal

With only 104 changes to go, a peal of Stedman Triples was lost at Milton-next-Gravesend, on December 5th, through the treble rope breaking. It was for the wedding that day of two local ringers—Miss E. K. (Beth) Goddard and Mr. David Cole. Despite the mishap, the ringers wish Beth and David health and happiness. The band was F. J. Cullum 1, C. Ossingden 2, E. J. Beer 3, S. Sandford 4, S. Rayfield 5, H. E. Audsley 6, G. J. Butcher (cond.) 7, J. Eden (conductor) 8.

To Be Ordained Next Sunday

A well known Surrey ringer, Mr. J. Tomsett, of Cheyne Hill, Surbiton, is to be ordained a deacon at Southwark Cathedral next Sunday. He took the Bishop of Southwark's three year ordination course for business men, studying in the evenings. He is to be a curate at Surbiton. Many friends, we are sure, will remember him in their prayers.

Bingham District Happenings

A certain young boy attempted a peal On a very rough five which were hard to wheel. He pulled and he tugged as the blisters grew fatter. The conductor looked grim and started to natter.

The boy on the fourth said, 'I'm feeling quite sore.'

'You'll have to stick it, my lad, there's not many more.'

Sixteen minutes to go and then a good feed, A pint of old ale, that's all you need.'

The poor lad's hands began to bleed. He said he felt like a chopped up weed.

He was nearly on his knees as though getting down to pray

When his prayers were answered in a most peculiar way.

A sudden noise like thunder, and a subdued voice was heard to say,

'I've lost my ruddy clapper, but I haven't broke the stay.'

Sevenoaks Improvements

The Parochial Church Council at Sevenoaks have budgeted for the rehang of the bells in a new iron frame and the recasting of the 6th during 1965. The go of the bells has deteriorated considerably in recent years, but the ringers felt that in spite of this they wanted to play their part in the general celebrations in the parish to mark the Rector's 25th anniversary in the ministry and ten years in the parish by ringing a peal. The Rev. E. M. T. McLellan has always shown exceptional kindness and encouragement to the ringers, who could have provided from the local band sufficient numbers to ring a peal but were glad to have the assistance of Mr. R. W. Hinde to ring the 7th. A good peal was rung.

Feet on the Ladder

Cranbrook ringers are proud of their progress. The touch of 168 Grandsire Triples rung for Matins on November 29th is believed to be the first ever recorded by a local band. Another progress step was 720 Plain Bob Minor rung on December 1st, as a tribute to Sir Winston Churchill, following his 90th birthday. Soon we hope to record the local quarter. Good luck!

'Musical Uproar'

A reader culls the following from 'The Autocar,' Nov. 27th, Disconnected Jotting, by the Scribe. 'It lends interest to journeys, and is not too distracting to enjoy odd names, activities and loads on commercial vehicles. A particularly noisy truckload in Wandsworth had a musical uproar. It was laden with fragments of broken bells, church type.'

Geographical Mix-up

A correspondent from Hampshire writes: Re peal of Bob Major rung on Nov. 14th at Mickleton (page 821), Mickleton is not in Warwickshire. It is in Gloucestershire, although in the Diocese of Coventry—and to complete the confusion, the tower is affiliated to the Worcestershire and Districts Association.

Local Ladies' Peal on Men's Bells

The first peal by a local band on the bells of Whatton-in-the-Vale, Notts, took place on Nov. 30th and congratulations are due to the three ladies (two first pealers) on ringing a peal on what are generally regarded as men's bells. Best wishes are extended to Miss C. Ward on her birthday, a day she shares with that most illustrious gentleman, Sir Winston Churchill.

A Continental Tower Snatch

Stephen Etcell, of Sincil Bank Secondary School, Lincoln, who started to learn ringing last May, heard bells ringing at Zell-am-See, Austria, while on holiday last August. He went to investigate and found four bells hung one above another and rung by four men on the ground floor to rounds and plain hunting. He joined them in rounds and hunting and in lowering the bells. The bells were rung in English style, but the ropes had no sallies and several coils had to be held in the hand while ringing. The only way of reaching the bells was by an external ladder fixed to the wall.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Stow-on-the-Wold Branch

The Rev. L. W. Potter, presiding at the annual general meeting of the Stow-on-the-Wold Branch held at Stow-on-the-Wold on Dec. 4th, complimented the branch on having a successful year. Paying tribute to the secretary's report he was pleased to note that there was an increase in membership and that the meetings had been well attended. He was also pleased that the requests for ringing on special occasions had been carried out and that every effort had been made to visit towers where no regular ringing took place.

The branch's proposal to the Association that the form of service held at meetings throughout the Diocese should be revised was confirmed and that the Association general secretary be advised of the form of services that took place in the Branch giving full particulars of prayers and hymns that were used.

To give full publicity of Branch meetings the Rural Dean said that he would insert in the Deanery Magazine notification of forthcoming meetings. It was also decided that clergy who wanted their bells rung for special occasions were to contact the Branch secretary.

Elections: Rev. L. W. Potter, R.D. chairman; Mr. L. C. Dowdeswell secretary and treasurer for the fourth time; Mr. A. W. Wright, of Bourton-on-the-Water, Branch ringing master; Mr. L. Joyne, of Longborough, his deputy. Mr. John Hickox, of Moreton-in-the-Marsh, was appointed to represent the Branch on the Association Management Committee.

A short service was conducted in the afternoon by the Rector, the Rev. I. C. Heron, who in his address spoke of the services that the bellringers were giving to the church. He stressed that bellringing was not a hobby and that the ringing of church bells should be regarded as praise to God and not as an enjoyment for the ringers themselves.

After tea further ringing took place when some excellent 'touches' of Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung. For the first time two eight bell towers were available and the meeting concluded with a visit to ring the bells of St. David's, Moreton-in-Marsh. At this tower 'touches' of Bob Major and Grandsire and Stedman Triples were rung. D.

LECKHAMPTON'S RINGING CURATE NOW A VICAR

The Rev. John Homfray, for the last seven years curate of St. Peter's, Leckhampton, was inducted to the living of Staverton and Bod-dington, Gloucestershire, on December 3rd. Mr. Homfray, who is the Secretary of the Cheltenham branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Guild, has been very active training young ringers during his stay at Leckhampton and there is now a strong young band ringing regularly for Sunday services.

On November 28th, the ringers met at the church to present to Mr. Homfray an oak chiming clock as a token of their appreciation of his services to the tower. After the presentation was over an attempt was made to ring a peal of Grandsire Triples but whether the ringers were affected by their mixed emotions on Mr. Homfray's preferment or by the fact that at the last minute Mr. Brian Read, who was to have attempted his first peal, had broken his toe and had to stand down is not known but neither a peal nor even a quarter peal which was subsequently attempted would 'go'. The ringers taking part were: D. A. Newcombe, W. A. Farmer, A. J. Newman, A. C. Newman, T. N. Stephens, H. Read, A. Pendlebury and Rev. John Homfray.

Though bitterly disappointed the ringers were determined not to allow the occasion to pass unmarked and on the evening of Mr. Homfray's induction, there being no bells at Staverton, they rang a quarter peal at Leckhampton starting at the same time as the induction service. 1,260 Grandsire Triples was rung in 41 minutes by A. P. Soence 1, T. N. Stephens 2, A. C. Newman 3, H. Read (cond.) 4, W. H. Woodyatt 5, W. A. Farmer 6, A. Pendlebury 7, A. H. Harrison 8.

CAMPANALOGIA — 1702

By R. ROGER SAVORY

'BELL-RINGER 1700 A.D.' — This must surely have been a somewhat onerous title to bear in public in those days, for there were undoubtedly many slurs cast upon the Exercise during that period (some probably not without foundation). To take up the Art must therefore, for many a man, have needed considerable persuasion. This latter fact is evidenced by the preamble contained in a Campanalogia of that day, for the authors of this intriguing little book spend considerable time and effort in attempting to persuade their uninitiated readers that the many objections voiced against ringing were but ill-founded.

It is my good fortune to possess an original (though not complete) copy of this Campanalogia of 1702, written by J.D. and C.M., and probably printed in Cambridge. Should any reader be able to supply more comprehensive information about this book, I would be very pleased to hear from him.

Several of my ringing friends who have seen this Campanalogia have derived a great deal of amusement from the preamble, beside expressing wonder at some of the very 'unorthodox' methods described, such as Jumping Doubles (none of your simple one step at a time changes of position as used today, but leaping from lead to 3rds to 5ths to 3rds and back to lead in 4 blows!).

However, of far more general appeal I feel would be a few extracts from the worthy authors' persuasive preamble which, in their valiant defence of the Exercise, conjures up much of the life of 250 years ago.

I feel sure that many of the 'Objections' which the authors quote as being representative of public opinion of that day may be heard, if in somewhat modified terms, even today. Perhaps some of the authors' counters might be of use today also! But let the words of 1702 speak for themselves.

NONE MORE DIVERTING

'Amongst Diversions and Recreations practiced by, and delightful to, the Inhabitants of this Island, none is more diverting, ingenious, harmless and healthful than the Art of Ringing . . . used and practiced with Discretion. And although it be esteemed by the Generality of People to be a mean and mechanical Exercise yet, were it to be duly weighed and considered by a Judicious and Impartial Person, it would be found to be very artful, and not to be attained to its highest Perfection but by an ingenious and thoughtful Undertaker.(!)

It is convenient and requisite by way of Preamble to say somewhat in Opposition to what is offered and laid down by a company of brainless and unthinking Persons (who nevertheless think their Judgements to be universal) . . . and make out what they so irrationally and partially have spoke and uttered in Disgrace and Disparagement of the Ingenious Art, which has so worthily deserved the Praise and good word of all People.'

'And first, 'tis objected against as mean and mechanical because 'tis followed by Persons whose course of Lives (as reported) has been infamous; and also by Persons whose Subsistence is gained by painful and hard labour; and therefore not fit for one that has been genteely and handsomely brought up and educated.

To this we Answer, That there is no Exercise or Diversion whatsoever, followed or used by the Nobility or Gentry, but is used and followed by the Common Sort of People, and with whom they at some time never scruple or think it beneath their Dignity to make them their Fellows and Glass or Pot Companions.

The same Objection may be made against a Person of Quality whose delight is in playing on the Violin or any other Common Instrument of Musick; because many poor and silly Fellows get a Livelihood by going from Door to Door and House to House playing their unpleasing and tuneless Musick, and bear the name of Scrapers or Fiddlers.

But as Musick is made more genteel and harmonious by Consorts composed of the most Skilful of Musicians, so is the Art of Ringing made the like by a skilful number of Persons incorporated into a Society, sober and subject to Rules consistent and coherent with Civility and Genteel Behaviour. Several very eminent Masters of Musick have followed and diverted themselves much in Ringing . . . an Exercise and Diversion by them much esteemed to be very harmonious, and not in the least inferior to the Melody of the Most Musical of Instruments.

Another Objection made against the Practice of this Art is, That it withdraws and alienates Men's minds from the Business by which they obtain and procure Subsistence for themselves and Families, making them Drunkards, neglective of their Occupations and Trades, and consequently bring utter Ruin and Impoverishment on themselves and all that depend upon them.

In Answer to this we say, That there is no Exercise or Diversion whatsoever but will bring and reduce a Man to Necessity and Penury, unless used with Discretion, Prudence and Moderation. Nay, though he has an Estate to support his Extravagancy and Profuseness for a time, yet in the end it concludes with such Estate spent, Imprisonment to himself and want for his whole Family, as appears by daily Examples! Whereas, on the contrary, it never was known that any Person ever brought himself to Penury by following this Exercise, but if at any time a Ringer has failed and come to want, it will be found, upon a strict and exact Examination of the matter, that his undoing was occasioned by his following Gaming, Horse-racing, Cock-fighting or some such mischief.

And now to shew that no Inconveniences arise or happen to the Business and Employments of Men who exercise and recreate themselves in this Ingenious Art (especially such Men that are incorporated into a Society and subject themselves to the sober and civil Rules and Orders thereof). For the time usually set out and appointed for the Practice and Exercise of this Artful Diversion is in an Evening, when all sorts of People leave off from their Business and Occupations, and disperse themselves some to one place, some to another, to recreate themselves with some Diversion or Sport, thereby to sweeten the Cares and Fatigue of a multiplicity of troublesome (and sometimes unprofitable) Business or Work. Therefore it may as well be thought that those leisure hours Men spent in the Enjoyment of the Bottle and their Friends should be (at least) as hurtful as the leisure Hours spent in this Exercise.

A third Objection made against Ringing is, That it is too laborious and painful to yield or afford any Pleasure or Diversion. Further, that Ringing occasions so great Heats and Sweatings that a Man subjects himself to catch great Colds, whereby he endangers his Life, and further, begets more damage to his Purse for Recovery of his Health than he receives Pleasure and

BRISTOL CITY'S ANNUAL

The annual general meeting of the City Branch always takes place on the first Saturday in December, sometimes at Redcliffe and sometimes at St. Stephen's. This year it was at St. Stephen's and we were able to absorb the beauty of this lovely church now nearing its quicentenary and much enhanced in the last few years by cleaning and reconstruction of the altar and organ in a most fitting and tasteful modern style. St. Stephen's is a 'must' to see for anyone visiting Bristol.

The fluent readings of the minutes of the last annual and quarterly meetings by John Hunt passed without much comment. A spate of reports from the officers revealed that the Master thinks that the standard of ringing in Bristol is higher than anywhere else in the south-west (points south and west, please note!); that the ringing activities of the Bristol Branch have bucked up a bit lately; that the attendance at Saturday afternoon meetings is abysmal and that at other general meetings nearly as bad; that the attendance and enthusiasm at the special Monday evening practices recently started are most satisfactory; that the membership of the Branch has risen this year (just) for the first time for a few years and that the entire administration of the Branch costs the princely sum of about £3 for a whole year. The chairman put forward the interesting theory that all a general meeting should do is elect its officers and then leave them alone to organise things how they please, though he did add that if the officers made a hash of it or, worse still, were just indolent they should have to answer for their sins to a full meeting.

Despite these heresies, and to his own surprise, the chairman was re-elected without opposition. So too was the new Master, though in his absence but with his connivance. Pat Bird had asked to stand down after two years' excellent work. The secretary and the Management Committee representative are much too good to lose and were re-sentenced.

Anticipating their election, the officers had met the previous Wednesday after 'Z-Cars' and produced a suggested programme for 1965, which they hoped that they or their successors would effect. Having been elected, they were therefore able to say that they would: (1) arrange one or two instruction courses at towers where ringing was really struggling; (2) continue to have learners' practices at St. John-on-the-Wall from 6.30-7.45, followed by Surprise Royal practices at Christ Church from 8.9 on the second and fourth Mondays of every month; (3) hold a 12-bell practice at Redcliffe every other month on a Thursday; (4) hold a striking competition sometime in the summer; (5) have two business meetings for discussion of activities sometime between now and the next A.G.M.; (6) have two Corporate Communion during the year; and (7) not have any more general Branch ringing meetings on Saturdays or any other day. Other ways of visiting the various towers in the Branch would be sought. To this programme Albert Tyler offered to add a short course on 'What is a method and how to ring it' for learners sometime in February or March. This was most gratefully accepted as were several other practical and helpful suggestions. So watch out for the secretary's handbills if you live in or around Bristol: they will give all the details.

Following this we had a somewhat turgid discussion about the Association's new set of rules now in some sort of draft form. Matters of principle and points of order were raised and the only motion put and carried was that we should pass on to the next business. That we did.

This was A.O.B. and it was mercifully short. It was suggested that the meeting should be reported in 'The Ringing World' and that the chairman had so much to say that he ought to write it. Hence this. More important than this was that Dick Bowden expressed the thanks of us all for those who had laboured to put on this meeting and to feed us so satisfactorily.

Officers: Chairman, Philip Gray; Master, Jim Taylor; secretary, John Hunt, 38, Gordon Avenue, Bristol 5; Management Committee representative, Leslie Pearce.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF CHATHAM COUPLE

THIS Christmas Mr. and Mrs. Charles Norris, of 39, Dale Street, Chatham, are celebrating their golden wedding. Mr. Norris is one of the 'colourful' ringers of the past with a wonderful record of service, 61 years being spent at St. Mary's, Chatham, and 42 years at Rochester Cathedral.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Norris were born in the services, their respective fathers serving in the Royal Marines — Charles at Chatham in September, 1889, and his wife at Lewes in November, 1891. Mr. Norris was educated at the R.M. School, Chatham, St. Mary's School, Chatham, and finally at St. Mark's, Gillingham. He was apprenticed as a boiler-maker to an engineering firm at Strood, Kent, and completed his time in 1910.

Mr. Norris went into the belfry at St. Mary's, Chatham, from the choir in 1903. He remembers seeing the bells from John Warner's hoisted into the tower—a ring of eight, 25 cwt. in E flat. Chatham had a 'stone' band until 1906, when the late F. A. Holden joined the Royal Marines and took the band in hand. He was a very good tutor and they were joined by another ringer.

The band picked up Grandsire Triples and Bob Major, and Mr. Holden called the first peal by a local in March, 1910—Holt's Original with six first pealers. Many good men joined the services about 1911, including Jim Bennett, George Gilbert, of the Royal Engineers, and two men of the Essex Regiment, Cpl. H. H. Bonney, who was killed on the Somme, and Fred Souter, with whom he rang a peal of Grandsire Caters at Rochester Cathedral after the war.

In November, 1914, Mr. Norris enlisted in the Royal Artillery and was trained as an A.A. gunner. That Christmas he was married. He was in France from January 1st, 1916, until March, 1919. After demobilisation, he returned to his trade as a boiler-maker and in 1935 went to the Naval Yard at Chatham. At Rochester Cathedral he has served under six deans and three archdeacons, and at Chatham under eleven rectors. He is a great believer in Sunday service ringing and has rung about 185 peals. His two sons both do a bit of ringing at times. 'I have no regrets in my 76th year,' says Charles, 'a good wife, two good sons and four grandchildren.'

THE SOCIETY OF RAMBLING RINGERS

The 1964 tour found the Society in the Peak district and the Yorkshire dales. Ringing and striking were very much up to and, more often than not, above the par expected, in keeping with the weather which, apart from one or two days in the middle week, was excellent. Derby Cathedral was the first tower of the tour and Northallerton the last, having visited between-times: Sheffield, Bradford, Keighley, Ripon, Middlesbrough and West Hartlepoons. The company was not great in number at any one time, but sufficiently large enough to ensure a reasonable variety of methods on all numbers of bells. Methods ranged from Grandsire to 10 Spliced Surprise Major and Cambridge and Yorkshire Royal. Friction among the party there was, but it was far outweighed by the high degree of conviviality and camaraderie that the Society enjoys. All in all the tour was successful.

The reunion was held on December 5th in Derby, and the ringing was plentiful and the standard high. After an excellent meal, the annual meeting commenced and the following officers were elected: President, D. A. Frith; Ringing Master, M. A. Lindsey; Deputy Ringing Masters, D. Mottershead and K. Fleming (recently back from sailing the high seas); secretary and treasurer, W. A. Lacey; peal secretary, M. Vernon.

The 1965 tour will be once more in the West Country—but the starting date has been advanced to Saturday, July 3rd, from August, although the duration still remains three weeks. Apologies from absent friends were acknowledged and past officers were thanked for their hard work in keeping the Society ticking.

Satisfaction of Mind by diverting himself with Practice of the Art.

To Answer this we declare. That we never have known or heard (though we have made it our business to enquire of the oldest of Ringers) that ever any Person received the least damage to his Health by Ringing (unless rash and inconsiderate Persons have been careless of themselves). But on the contrary 'tis well known by experience to be very healthful Exercise, moderately and with Discretion practised and used. For, by moderate Sweatings, all ill Humours and corrupt Moistures are dispelled from the Body.

As to its being supposed laborious and painful, 'tis no such thing. For 'tis perfectly done by Flight, else how could a Man be able to stand for an Hour or two (or more, as has been done) and be, as this Exercise requires, all the time in continual motion. But this Flight is to be obtained only by practice and by observing Ancient Practitioners.

The more ingenious, innocent and recreative any Diversion is, the more it ought, according to Reason, to be followed esteemed and loved by those Persons who, for the sake of their Health or with intent to drive away melancholy Thoughts and sooth the worldly Cares and Crosses they often meet with, spend their vacant and leisure Hours in the practice of some Sport, Art or Diversion. None whereof can be more suitable than the Practice and Use of this Art.

Although 'Ringer 1964' does not have to bear the burden of the 'Objections' of 1700, probably he has acquired others to take their place, such as Noise Nuisance which, in the days of 'Cockfighting or some such mischief,' apparently did not rate too highly on the list. Perhaps the public of 1700 did not dare tangle with the practitioners of such a 'mean and mechanical Exercise'!

DEREK JONES WRITES ON NORTHERN IRELAND

FIFTEEN ringers and a fellow traveller climbed the steps of St. Nicholas' Church at Liverpool Pier Head on the evening of July 31st, with the 'Ulster Prince' berthed nearby, shortly to sail to Belfast and adventure around the towers of the Northern Counties of the Emerald Isle. The car had already been loaded on to the 'Ulster Spinner,' and two further ringers had found their separate ways to Ulster. The opening ringing on the fine 13 bells was encouraging, and further encouragement came when Jack Brown worked miracles in finding nearly everybody sleeping accommodation on the crowded ship.

After a rush to disembark the car and secure breakfast, and the puzzle, to be repeated several times, of fathoming the way through the one-way maze of Belfast City, we located St. Donard's, where the proceedings opened with a curious concoction which was afterwards understood to be Grandsire Minor. The old stagers of the party, with one of the youngest members on the treble ringing his first peal in Ireland, then warmed (literally, due to a tiny ringing room) to a brisk peal of Bob Minor upon the tuneful light six.

After a hurried lunch and the spectacle of an 'Orange' procession (with life bands, banners and bright uniforms) the fine light ten of St. Mark's, Dundela, were soon pealing to Grandsire Caters: this proved the first disappointment, for a miscall came with only two courses to go after some excellent ringing. Not yet finished with bells, we repaired to Holywood on the southern shores of Belfast Lough, and after finding a fish and chip shop, which proved a rarity in Ireland, we met John Dunwoody who introduced us to a series of touches on his pleasant newly rehung octave. It was a great pleasure to meet the veteran Walter Pratt. Most of the party were staying at guest houses in the area, and a well earned rest after a strenuous day was now most welcome.

The weather remained drizzly for most of Sunday, but we collected a Minibus, our main transport, augmented by another car kindly supplied by David Vincent, with his friendly canine companion. After assisting the ringers of St. Thomas' for morning service, we crossed the steep hills heading north to Antrim and to Ballymena. An hour was spent upon the grand eight, several local ringers turning out to welcome the party, and one car-load nearly missed the tower altogether, encountering another typical Irish Institution, a mile-long funeral procession! The fishing experts now repaired to the vast expanse of Lough Neagh and were rewarded by the first—and last—fishing success of the tour: six perch! At last, after many colourful miles, dappled sunlight breaking through to light vistas of far patchwork quilt horizons where County Down sweeps up to the blue peaks of the Mourne Mountains, we all found our way south again to Newcastle, where Slieve Donard, 2,796-foot monarch of the range, 'sweeps down to the sea.' Two nights were to be spent in nice quarters in this lively seaside resort.

TELEVIEWED!

Monday brought a big surprise: on arrival at the rural church of Ballylesson, a friendly lad informed us that our ringing was to be televised! The cameraman took numerous shots, and all hopes of completing a peal were shaken, but a quarter was rung on the very good six: that evening it was a thrill to see our efforts on the 'silver screen': it looked very expert, and the ringing sounded much better than we thought it would.

On arrival at the beautiful Church of St. Malachi, Hillsborough, we found a peal already under way: misdirected prayer soon put an end to that, and the rest had a pull on these magnificent Rudhall bells before leaving the pealers to get on with it. Derek Jones took the view that they did not need him to conduct every peal, and as he had rung one there some years before, and the TV show was a 'must' for once in a lifetime, he left the rest to 'fire out' three hours later. David meanwhile had the primus on the go on the lawn behind, and a good cup of tea soothed many sorrows. The inquest was still continuing at midnight at a kerbside brew-up outside the Donard Hotel in Newcastle.

Tuesday was a day of big distances, and we hastened into County Armagh, and on the heavy bells of Lurgan, in their steeple at one end of the busy shopping centre, we rang a good determined peal of Lincolnshire, breaking our bad run of failures: by the time the rest, who had been exploring the Silent Valley in the Mourne Mountains, had had a pull, the local force of law and order, whose H.Q. was just beneath the tower, were not a little disquieted. We were not arrested however, for disturbing the peace. We had another grand ride across the mountains to Rostrevor, and found the six very good, but the second rope was very difficult to keep on the wheel, so the six who had stayed to attempt a peal of Doubles contented themselves with a quarter. We completed customs formalities in the interesting town of Newry, with many fine steeples, and set off across billowing drumlin hills, a brilliant patchwork of colour in the golden sunset, to the border, crossing into Monaghan town for a well-earned supper. On westwards into County Fermanagh and wilder, lonelier country in the dusk, not seeing a soul for miles on end. Midnight saw us at Enniskillen, with ten miles still to go on the south shore of Lough Erne to the delightful guest houses which were to be our abode for the night. There was a great welcome despite the late hour.

A SATISFYING PEAL

A never-to-be-forgotten vista met our gaze the next morning: a great sheet of shining water stretching mile upon mile away to distant blue hills and studded with myriads of wooded islands: below our window a bright garden dipping away to the wooded shore in a meadow of unbelievable green never seen outside of Ireland. It was a morning free from ringing, and the fact that it was a typical 'soft' morning did not deter the explorer, for Irish rain does not seem so cold and wet as its English November counterpart. A good dinner put us into form for St. Macartan's Cathedral, Enniskillen, where, after an abortive start, and stern words from the 'gaffer,' a good peal of Cambridge Royal clicked into a beat almost from the start: the fine ten, though loud within the ringing room, certainly have a tale to tell, and it was a very satisfying experience to ring them. Handbell tunes, apple-pie beds and other frolics contributed to a convivial evening in this haven in the wilds.

The glories of County Donegal awaited the tourists on a day free from ringing, for there are no rings of bells in this north-west corner of Ireland. Instead, rocky coasts, golden beaches, wild mountains, and scattered crofting townships, where the land is so bleak and the soil so thin that a living seems impossible, awaited exploration. The little fishing harbours of Kill Banns and Burtonport were visited, and some too, tea at Sweeney's Hotel, Dungloe (some misgivings here with a name like that). Two stalwarts ascended the misty heights of Slieve League, where a mountain has been cut in two by the encroaches of the Atlantic rollers, and the cliffs plunge sheer almost 2,000 feet to the silvery beach below: they braved the dizzy 'One Man's Path' to attain the summit, and avowed that it was the 'High spot'—literally—of their holiday. Most of the party followed some miles of indescribably bad road across desolate wastes beneath the quartzite cone of 2,466 feet high Mount Errigal, looking down into the dark Poisoned Glen with its abandoned church tower. The long roads at last led to civilisation in the shape of the historic city of Londonderry.

IN LONDONDERRY

Friday was a busy ringing day, and we were welcomed to St. Columba's Cathedral by the Dean (the Very Rev. L. R. Lawrenson), and he inserted an account of our visit in the local evening paper. While the mysteries of the clanging hammers were being unravelled so that the 32 cwt. tenor could be raised, a touch was rung on the very tuneful middle eight (9th as tenor) after some confusion over which semitones to be used. A very enjoyable peal of Bob Royal was rung without incident and produced a wealth of music from these grand bells from the Croydon Foundry. Only just time for a cup of tea before dashing to Coleraine, where we found a lovely eight which were a joy to ring, at St. Patrick's pinnacled tower.

One of the younger members was the only one of the party not to have achieved a peal in Ireland during the week, so Bob Major was chosen to enable him to ring the treble. The peal was not without incident: after a false start, in which a very experienced ringer made fifth's and up, we set off again at a much brisker pace, and duly brought it round. David's usual map-reader having had a difference of opinion with the canine listener-to-peals, Raymond was detailed to guide the veteran o Cushendall, our last stopping place, where the Glens of Antrim reach the north-east coast. The minibus had gone on ahead, and the gaffer's party had a scramble in the dusk over the weird hexagonal columns of the famous Giant's Causeway, before taking a wrong turn in Ballycastle and getting completely lost, eventually attaining Cushendall at midnight by way of a desperate road over the great plateau.

FEAST AT CARRICKFERGUS

We arrived the next day at Carrickfergus, in a deluge. There were three surprises here: first, the gatehouse tower, the unique edifice which houses the bells, transferred from the now unsafe old tower of the church; second, a truly delightful little 'musical box' of an octave, where touches up to Spliced Surprise were enjoyed; and last, but not least, a feast laid on in the schoolroom by Mrs. Young and her fellow ringers, where we actually got all the party under one roof at one time, after temporarily losing Jack.

Sorry to leave Carrickfergus: time was now running out fast, and after a further battle with Belfast's one-way streets to deposit the two youngest at St. Thomas' to assist the locals with a wedding ring, we sped round the Lough to the busy seaside town of Bangor, where the final successful peal of the tour, Yorkshire Surprise, was rung in a red sandstone tower. All too soon farewells were being said at Donegal quay to those who had to make for home aboard the 'Ulster Prince,' leaving the lucky few to linger on for further happy days in 'Ireland of the Welcomes,' revisiting Lough Erne, and then on to Connemara and Killarney before a final ring at Christ Church Cathedral, Dublin, kindly arranged by Billy Lynch a week later, not to mention a tour of the Wicklow Mountains generously provided by Charlie Reede.

All fourteen ringing towers in the counties of Ulster had welcomed us, thanks to the good offices of Fred Dukes and John Dunwoody. We thank all the clergy and ringers we met with a special 'Thank you' to Carrickfergus.

A Code for Outings

Dear Sir,—Due to changing circumstances, such as the increase in car ownership and longer holidays amongst the ringing fraternity, there has been, over the recent years, a substantial increase in the number of day ringing outings and ringing holidays. These no doubt have been still further increased by the publication at the beginning of the year in 'The Ringing World' of a 'Tower Grabbers' List, most likely to be repeated in the new year as the first appeared to show a fairly widespread interest in the pastime.

First, let me say that I am not against visiting other towers in an organised party; in fact I can see nothing but good coming from it, provided that the visiting ringers and in particular the organiser of the party behave in a manner that is above reproach and befits visitors, similar to the good manners that we would show in visiting someone else's home. Therefore I think a standard procedure or code could be formulated to assist in particular those organising their first outings so that bad feeling may never be generated in the towers visited and as a result no tower closed to all visiting parties.

May I suggest the following procedure in the hope that more experienced organisers may improve on it where it is lacking:—

(1). The organiser should draw up a provisional programme of the towers he wishes to visit allowing a minimum of half an hour and a maximum of one hour at each tower with sufficient travelling time between towers. Extra travelling time should be given in areas of known dense traffic and for parking some distance from the church, possibly in large towns. Ringing would naturally be limited to between 8 a.m. and 9 p.m.

(2). The organiser should then write to the incumbent or tower secretary of the churches to be visited requesting permission to ring on a certain date, the bells of the named church (to cover the eventuality of the incumbent having more than one church), stating the exact time at which he and his party would like to arrive and also when they would finish ringing. Give his name and address clearly (not just an illegible signature) in the letter and a phone number where it may be possible to contact him in an emergency that requires the visit to be cancelled. Enclose a stamped addressed envelope or card for the reply (I prefer the latter, for the person replying does not even have to find paper to reply on—it has been known for them to reply on the back of the request—and in any case it is slightly cheaper). This letter should be sent not earlier than 3 months, and not later than a fortnight before the proposed visit.

2(a). If the request letter has been sent more than 4 weeks before the visit then a reminder card should be sent a few days before the visit.

(3). On the day, start and finish ringing at the tower not more than five minutes from the time requested. If met, the organiser should make himself known to the 'local' and thank him at the conclusion. The member of the party in charge at the tower should try to persuade any local ringers present to join with them in at least one ring. If not met then disengage any clock hammers and note which bells are up and those that are down. At the finish leave the bells as they were found, re-engage clock hammers, and turn off all lights. Make a note to write and thank them for the use of the bells. The first and last touches including ringing up and down should be performed with a competent band as well struck initial and final ringing leaves a good impression. Reasonably well struck ringing should be maintained throughout the visit for it is better to ring good rounds than bad Surprise, particularly on difficult bells.

I feel that it is only in exceptional circumstances that an arranged visit should be cancelled, or the times altered and that never should a tower just be missed out. In the case of a visit to ring a peal, then the length of ringing should be clearly stated in the initial request, otherwise most of the above applies.

Ultimately I would like to see a Central Council committee set up with terms of reference to include:—

(a) The setting up of a register of all people who wish to organise ringing outings. ringers would have to apply to be on this register, agree to the rules of the committee and perhaps pay a small returnable deposit, which may be kept if the person is 'struck off' the register.

(b) Publication of a standard procedure.

(c) Hear any complaints from towers visited by parties of ringers

(d) To censure ringers that repeatedly transgress the procedure—this could be simply the publication of their names in 'The Ringing World'.

(e) To look into the possibility of collecting sixpence per ringer per tower visited (not to include visits to join local ringers on practice nights or for service ringing). The money, which might amount to £500 a year, to be used to buy ropes and assist in repairs at many 'poor' towers, in liaison with the Towers and Belfries Committee.

If this committee were set up I believe that the ringing Exercise would gain in strength, due to the increase of outings, and as a result the improvement of the standard of ringing not only of the visiting ringers but also of the visited, without the friction or misunderstandings that are at present occasionally generated.

Esher, JOHN F. M. MAYBREY.

Cambridge University Guild's Fine Performance

Dear Sir,—With Mr. J. E. Camp, of the Oxford University Society, I jointly 'umpired' the silent peal of Stedman Cinques rung at High Wycombe on December 5th by members of the Cambridge University Guild.

I am pleased to confirm that the peal was rung strictly 'silent and non-conducted,' that the calls were observed with no trace of hesitation and that the method was rung accurately and with conviction throughout.

Former 'silent' peals of Stedman Cinques have been the infrequent performances of long-established twelve bell bands. The twelve who rang at Wycombe were not of such a company but, since this was not evinced in their ringing, they are the more to be congratulated on a very good performance.—Yours faithfully,

Hawley, JOHN CHILCOTT.

Oxborough, Norfolk

Dear Sir,—I was interested to read Rev. Peter Bond's letter about my article concerning Waltham bells. He will be interested to know that they do go quite well and when I get back to Kent I shall hope to have the pleasure of welcoming him there. I am glad that the Isle of Grain bells are ringable.

Presumably they were erected c. 1902, when the tower was built by Edward VII. Stahlshmidt only mentions one bell here. With regard to the four at Plumstead, I was informed about four years ago by a well known authority on Kent bells, Mr. N. J. Davies, that they were rehung by Mears and Stainbank in 1957 and were ringable.

May I use your columns to make a query? At a recent practice at King's Lynn there was much discussion about the bells of St. John the Evangelist, Oxborough, Norfolk. Although these are not mentioned by Mr. Dove in 'Post-war Losses of Ringing Peals' in the 'Guide,' they were lost in 1948 when the tower and spire, 150 feet high, collapsed. There is rumour that, although ringing had not been permitted for many years owing to the precarious state of the tower, they were in fact rung very shortly before the calamity, and there has been much speculation on this point. Can any ringer remember ringing at Oxborough at any time, and what are his memories of the bells? They were a six, tenor about 94 cwt., and with the clock bell were sold after the tragedy, for funds to repair the chancels, as the nave of this glorious church had been destroyed.—Yours sincerely,

Hunstanton, DAVID L. CAWLEY.

CHRISTMAS DAY BROADCAST

There will be a variety of ringing provided by the Christmas Day broadcast at 9.15 a.m. introduced by John Snagge.

Greetings start with Grandsire Triples from Lyme Regis, followed by the eight at Wigston Magna, Leicester. The six at Drumbo, Co. Down, will be ringing Doubles, to be followed by Double Norwich C.B. Major from Alloo, Clackmannan. Triples will be heard from St. Andrew's, Hordchurch, Essex, and Caters from Llandaff Cathedral. Lincoln Cathedral has been again selected after its disappointing experience in being cut off recently. They will be ringing Stedman Cinques as they approach the turning course. As usual the recording ends with the bells of the Church of the Nativity, Bethlehem.

Ringling 'Mainly Secular'

Dear Sir,—As expected, howls of protest have followed O.A.M.'s letter in the 'R.W.' of November 27th.

Of course, in a local tower where the standard of ringing is low, and a sense of duty ('What can I do for the Church?') rather than interest in the art motivates the ringers, most of the band will be churchgoers. If they were not, they would never have taken up ringing. However, in the higher echelons of the Exercise, there are not many whose main object is to serve the Church. A large number, indeed, feel a duty to ring on Sundays as a 'payment' for being allowed to use the bells at other times. This is hardly the spirit indicated by the replies to O.A.M.'s letter. No one can deny that excellent ringers exist who are devoted to the Church, but they are few and far between.

As for dissension in the Exercise, there is probably no more or less than in any society from a political party to the local bar-billiards league. Nevertheless, there is more backbiting and off-stage manœuvring than one would expect from people who are, we are told, '99 per cent good, practising Christians.' How often do we hear that X refuses to ring with Y: while Z, a pleasant chap but a negligible ringer, is regarded as a lesser being by his more proficient brethren? The 'R.W.' itself contains letters hardly notable for their Christian charity.

Personally, I make no criticism of these facts: everyone has his own views. Most ringers know that ringing is primarily a secular occupation. Why the outcry when this is stated publicly?—Yours faithfully,

Amersham, Bucks. JOHN CAMP.

MR. HARRY BROUGHTON

The Leicester Cathedral band deeply regret the passing of Mr. Harry Broughton, in hospital after an operation, on December 5th, in his 77th year. He was better known among the older members of the Exercise as a staunch and reliable peal ringer during the period between the two wars. He first learned to ring at St. Mary-de-Castro Church, Leicester, in about the year 1903, and when the bells became unringable some 10 years later, he joined the St. Martin's band.

On the outbreak of war in 1914 he joined the Army, serving mainly in the Middle East. Returning to England at the end of the war, he continued his ringing at St. Martin's and was soon elected secretary of the St. Martin's Society, which involved him in a prolific amount of correspondence, arranging peals or outings almost every week. In fact, he soon organised a system of 'fixture cards' for the year which enabled every member of the band to know what dates and places were positively booked well in advance.

In 1939 he immediately offered his services again to the Army, being appointed an instructor to the Home Guard. During the hot summer of 1940, while training his recruits, he collapsed and remained deeply unconscious in hospital for many weeks. His recovery seemed hopeless, but seemingly by a miracle he slowly made headway.

In 1945 he again became a regular Sunday service ringer, but only stood in peals at rare intervals until his last peal in March, 1959. This was Stedman Triples at Gilmorton, rung as a first anniversary tribute to the memory of Mrs. Phyllis Poole. Harry asked to take part in this, but made the unusual request that it should be published as his final peal, as indeed it was.

His peal total includes 218 for the old Midland Counties Association and 13 for the Leicester Diocesan Guild, many more being rung for other Associations, of which we have no record.

The funeral service on December 9th was at Leicester Cathedral in the presence of a large congregation, when Canon Pratt made moving references to Harry's loyalty and devotion during over 60 years of employment with one firm, and over 50 years as a ringer at the Cathedral. As the service ended a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on handbells by Herrick B. Bowley, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Stanforth and John M. Jelley. S. B.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Approximately 35 ringers attended the joint meeting at Hucknall on November 28th between the Mansfield District S.D.G. and the Society of Sherwood Youths.

Following tea, a short business meeting was held by the Mansfield District at which the following new members were elected: N. Wiser and Misses D. Haywood and S. Robinson (Hucknall), also G. Knighton (Greasley). The Misses Pat and Diane Titterton, the 10-year-old twins from Greasley, were elected N.R. life members following their departure to Matlock, Derby. The Rev. D. H. Williams conducted a shortened Evensong. Ringing continued until 8.15 p.m. under the direction of the deputy Ringing Master, Mr. F. Adcock.

Next meetings, Sherwood Youths: Annual, Nottingham St. Mary's, Jan. 23rd, Mansfield District: Annual, Mansfield, Jan. 30th.

THE HISTORY OF HATHERSAGE BELLS

By R. E. RASTALL (Tower Captain)

AT a special meeting of Hathersage, Derbyshire, parish, in 1898 it was agreed that the estimate of Messrs. Shaw, Sons & Co. (Bradford) for putting the bells of St. Michael's, Hathersage, in a thorough condition at a cost of £6 be accepted. Further that a special subscription list be opened for procuring the necessary funds by means of a house-to-house collection and by other appeals. No details of the work carried out are available.

There is no record of any further major expenditure until 1958, when a local firm was employed to lift the bells, adjust the bearings, fit new gudgeons to one headstock, repair the wheels, remove any faulty timber and replace it by steel joists. This action permitted the bells to continue in service and they are still safe to ring. But the deterioration of the framework, bearings, gudgeons, clappers, etc., obviously increases, and some of the bells call for real manual effort to operate.

It is realised that little more can be done with the installation as at present and on behalf of the Church Council the specialist bell firms were invited to examine and report. Both reports are now to hand and they agree in their recommendations on the following lines: 'The oak frame should be replaced with a modern one, consisting of iron casting and steel girders. The bells be dismantled and sent to the bell foundry for cleaning and the fitting of new headstocks, gudgeons and ball-bearings. New wheels to be provided. The bells have cast-in staples which, being of iron, rust and are the usual cause of bells becoming cracked. These should be removed and independent staples fitted. The bells should be turned to bring a fresh surface into contact with the clappers and be retuned. New wrought-iron clappers should also be provided.'

The result of the recommendations would be an entirely new and modern installation to accommodate the existing six bells. The estimated cost is practically the same from both firms. In addition a new floor for the bell-chamber would be required and a certain amount of other work by builders and clock makers. The total cost would be about £1,700 and both firms would place our order on their waiting list for 1965.

All this information has been passed on to the Standing Finance Committee to discuss ways and means but unfortunately there are various other major items of expenditure already on their books. As a consequence if we are to do all that needs to be done in the church, it seems likely that we may have to find about £3,000 in three years. However, I have every hope that some positive action will be taken before the year and in the meantime we are continuing to ring the bells for Sunday morning services, and most Fridays for practice.

SIDBURY, DEVON.—On Nov. 19th, 1368 of Grandsire Triples: C. G. Woodley (aged 82, Past Chairman) 1. C. J. Turner (Past Ringing Master) 2. K. T. Clarke (Committee) 3. F. Sage 4. E. W. Rowe 5. W. W. Webb (Hon. Sec. and Treas.) 6. C. C. Turner (cond., Ringing Master) 7. J. Sage (Chairman) 8. In memoriam E. Maurice Atkins (Gen. Sec. Guild of Devonshire Ringers). Rung by past and present officers and members of the East Devon Branch.

NORTH STAFFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

The annual general meeting of the North Staffordshire Association was held on December 5th at the Church of St. Peter ad Vincula, Stoke-on-Trent. Despite the inclemency of the weather, a fair proportion of ringers arrived to ring the pleasant sounding and 'easy going' eight. The service was conducted by the Rector (Preb. F. A. R. Chapman).

During the business meeting, Mr. C. S. Ryles, the new chairman, thanked the tower captain (Mr. J. G. Burton) for welcoming the Association on behalf of the Rector, and proposed a vote of thanks to the ladies who prepared an excellent free tea, and to Mr. Burton's team of ringers who had enabled the meeting to be so successful. The president, the Archdeacon of Stoke-on-Trent (Ven. G. Youell), in welcoming Mr. Ryles, paid tribute to the great amount of work put in by the retiring chairman, Mr. G. W. Biddulph, during his term of office.

The hon. secretary, Mr. G. Beech had left the district, and it had not been possible to hold a further Committee meeting to appoint a successor. Until the Committee meets, Mr. David Midgeley had agreed to act as secretary.

A minute of silence was then observed in memory of the previous president of the Association, Ven. P. Hartill, Archdeacon Emeritus, who had died earlier in the week. The bells which had been half-muffled for the occasion were then rung for the remainder of the evening under the capable supervision of the Ringing Master (Mr. W. H. Pickett).

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD
West Dorset Branch

The Mayor and Mayoress of Bridport (Councillor and Mrs. V. S. C. Keech) attended the Guild service, when the West Dorset Branch held its annual meeting at Bridport on November 28th. The Rector (the Rev. J. P. Hinton) officiated, and a warm welcome was given to the Master of the Guild (the Rev. R. W. Longridge).

Following tea, prepared by local ringers and lady helpers in the Church House and enjoyed by 45 members, the Mayor welcomed the ringers to Bridport at the business meeting. He mentioned that he had been a ringer since youth and a member of the local tower. The chairman (Mr. C. W. Powell), in reply, said he thought it was the first time the Branch had been welcomed by a Mayor at its annual meeting. The Mayoress was presented with a bouquet by Miss A. Quirk.

The secretary's report showed that steady progress had been made in change ringing and three peals and ten quarter peals had been rung. Much benefit had been gained through monthly practices and membership stood at 126.

The following officers were elected: Chairman, Mr. C. W. H. Powell; vice-chairman, Rev. G. V. Syer; honorary secretary, Mr. J. Davis; Ringing Masters, Messrs. H. W. D. Bishop, G. S. Morris, H. G. Keeley.

Next meeting: Bradpole, Saturday, February 27th. Practice meetings: Loders, January 13th; Symondsburys, February 10th; Bridport, March 10th. All subject to permission.

ST. NEOTS FOUNDRY—By T. A. BEVIS

JOSEPH EAYRE, who has been described as a 'first-rate founder of dish bells,' is well and truly recorded in historical data of the Huntingdonshire town of St. Neots. This man-of-metal whose father was a clock-maker at Kettingham proved to be a considerable benefactor to St. Neots. He cast bells in a building known as 'The Priory'—not unlike a bell in design—said to have been the most prominent structure in the town.

The founder, in addition to casting bells, manufactured fire engines and also erected a pump for the use of the community of the parish in which he plied his trade. He is generally rated as having been a good bell-founder, but others were inclined to differ in that respect. Eayre's ring of six at St. Michael's Church, Stamford, inspired the following comment: '... indeed the din of St. Michael's bells is so intolerable to those who live in their vicinity that they will readily believe that there is no devil in his senses but will get away as fast as he can as soon as their clamour begins.'

Eayre cast approximately 40 bells for Huntingdonshire and several of his products are still to be heard in neighbouring counties. After his death in 1772 the St. Neots foundry was jointly managed by EDWARD ARNOLD and THOMAS OSBORN, the latter having been engaged as Eayre's foreman. However, the partnership between Arnold and Osborn was short-lived, the latter departing for his native town, Downham Market, Norfolk, where he established his own prosperous foundry business.

It would appear that Edward Arnold understood very little about the casting of bells, and he engaged a capable foreman, Islip Edmonds, who was employed at a London foundry in the early 1760's. The 'back six' of St. Mary's Church, Ely, are recognised by bellringers as a notable Arnold ring. Indeed, the musical vibrations from this old ring are very good, but it is fairly certain that Islip Edmonds can be credited with their melody, despite Arnold's name which is inscribed on the metal. Arnold later set up a foundry in Leicester but he continued at St. Neots long enough to introduce ROBERT TAYLOR, a man who had his part to play in the establishing of the world-famous bell-foundry at Loughborough.

The St. Neots premises was removed from 'The Priory' to Cambridge Street shortly after Taylor had entered into wedlock with a Miss Fowler, whose father ran a brewery adjoining the site of the original foundry. It seems that Mr. Fowler, who desired to expand his business, had calculatively eyed his young neighbour's property, and as it happened the resultant marriage betwixt beer and bells indeed proved to be a tactful and beneficial move!

Thomas Osborn was undoubtedly a first-rate founder. His premises at Downham Market were situated in the vicinity of the parish church, and some residents still remember the old walls of the foundry which have been incorporated into other buildings.

Osborn, a joiner's son, cast Godmanchester's musical octave (1794). He is represented on a grand scale in West Norfolk and North Cambs. Many of Osborn's bells were cast for Fenland churches: they were usually conveyed from Downham to their destinations by barge via the man-made network of rivers and drains which abound in those parts. Downham bells can be heard at Terrington St. John, Emneth, Hilgay and Walsoken sweetly echoing over and beyond that land of magic. The Norfolk founder cast the musical ring of six at March, Cambs, each bell of which is inscribed THOMAS OSBORN, DOWNHAM, NOR-

FOLK, FECIT 1802; his name also appears on six bells at Marham, Norfolk, of the same year and sharing identical inscriptions.

According to one authority Osborn died on December 6th, 1800, while another historian writes that the founder expired in 1806. Should the former date be correct, then March and Marham bells and other bells bearing Osborn's name after 1800 are in reality the work of his grandson WILLIAM DOBSON—a partner—who apparently cast bells for a time in his grandfather's name. Dobson upheld Osborn's reputation for high-class work, continuing in business until 1832 when owing to financial difficulties he disposed of the Downham foundry to Mears of Whitechapel.

After this transaction Dobson lived at London and was employed in lawyer's office. He was made a brother of the Charterhouse, and there in 1842 he died and was buried. His wife rests in Downham Market churchyard.

Dobson cast a fine ring of 10 bells for the Church of SS. Peter and Paul, Wisbech, Cambs, but his finest solitary example was surely that of the 29½ cwt. tenor bell at St. Neots—incidentally his last—which although recast in recent years continues to acclaim in sonorous tones the good merits of its original maker, and appropriately so, for it rings near the site of the parent foundry which had such a far-reaching effect in modern-day bell-founding.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD

The last meeting of the year of the Loughborough District was held at Hugglescote on December 12th and, although only seven towers of the District were represented, good use was made of this beautiful octave in many methods.

Evensong was conducted by the Vicar, and included two hymns sung unaccompanied and a forthright and inspiring address. An abundance of good fare awaited the company at the Church School, and at the meeting it was announced that Mr. G. D. Hadfield (an old member of the local band and now incapacitated from active ringing) desired to act as host and bear the cost of the tea. The offer was gratefully accepted.

Mr. A. E. Rowley thanked the Vicar for allowing the use of the bells and for taking the service.

The chairman (Mr. H. O. Over) extended a warm welcome to visitors who came from St. Paul's, Burton-on-Trent, Tamworth, Coleshill and Eckington (Lincs), and then intimated that having held this office for three years, he wished to vacate the position. He asked members to consider a successor for election at the annual meeting in January at Loughborough.

Mr. J. Harris, of Hathern, thanked the chairman for his work and suggested that in recognition he should be transferred to the Guild's list of honorary life members. It was agreed that his name and that of Mr. C. Harrison, of Loughborough, should be submitted to the next General Committee meeting for this purpose.

SUFFOLK GUILD

About 25 ringers attended a quarterly meeting of the N.E. District held at Saxmundham and Benhall on November 21st, among them the Ringing Master and Gen. Secretary of the Guild. Mr. C. Doolan, of Beccles, was elected an hon. member, Mr. Pickup, of Lowestoft, a ringing member; Mrs. Willgress, of Honingham, an hon. life member.

Next meeting: February 20th, 1965, at Beccles.

LATE NEWS

We regret to learn that Mrs. Melville, the mother of Mrs. C. H. Kippin, of Cove, is in St. Peter's Hospital, Chertsey, suffering from a fractured femur.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

An uninformed itinerant ringer in Barnet on November 21st might well have kept clear of the St. Albans District meeting at the Church of St. John the Baptist, thinking that a first class peal band was performing. Of course, not all the ringing was in this class but even the inexperienced people seemed inspired to do their utmost. Was it the grand tone of the heavy eight, the thought of the shoppers outside or the example of the experts ringing a stately and perfectly struck course of London? All combined to make this one of the most successful meetings in recent months. It was a pity no tea could be provided to follow Evensong, taken by the Rector.

A short business meeting was held in the tower, at which Mr. John Mayne took the chair. It was decided, with regret, that the words 'No name no tea' would have to be inserted in future meeting advertisements as the South Mimms ringers reported that at the October meeting the number of eaters had been twice the number of names and everybody had gone short accordingly.

The finishing touch to the evening was put by a touch of spliced called by the Ringing Master, Mr. Gerald Penney.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Four Randalls took part in a quarter at Warwick—a father, mother and two sons.

The Remembrance Day quarter peal at Eltham was conducted by Mr. G. Clarke and not P. Clarke as printed.

Mr. Gerald Hemming informs us that the peal of Spliced Surprise rung at Hanbury, Worcs, on November 29th was for Sir Winston S. Churchill's 90th birthday.

The Kent County Association hope to organise a one-day ringing school on May 1st. Although arrangements have not been made it will probably be held at Leeds, near Maidstone.

Making his debut as conductor, by calling seven Surprise methods of Minor at Chilcompton, Adrian P. Beck is assisting his father, R. G. Beck, in the initial stages of the latter's fifth century. It was, incidentally, his 405th peal.

Will Miss R. J. Kemp, formerly of Dereham, Norfolk, please send her address to the Editor as her copy of 'The Ringing World' has been returned to this office after going to Hemel Hempstead.

We commiserate with the Bristol band who had to call 'paid' to the peal of Yorkshire Royal at St. James', Bristol, on Dec. 12th after ½ hour's ringing. The clapper of Jim Taylor's bell crashed—and then we were nine!

Two noted ringing parsons have been elected Proctors in Convocation—Canon K. W. H. Felstead, of Southampton, for the Winchester Diocese, and Prebendary J. H. B. Andrews, Vicar of Chittlehampton and Master of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers for the Diocese of Exeter.

At the next quarterly meeting of the Staffordshire Archdeaconry Society to be held at St. Peter's Church, Wolverhampton, on January 16th, the service will take the form of a commemoration to the late Herbert Knight, when a plaque will be dedicated to his memory.

Oxford Honours College Youths' Master

Oxford University Society have marked the election of Mr. Rodney B. Meadows as Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths by ringing a congratulatory peal to him at Kirtlington. While Cambridge University can claim to have produced worthy Masters of the Ancient Society, we believe that Mr. Meadows is the first Master from the University in the past fifty years. About 18 years ago Mr. Meadows was most assiduous in advancing the art of change ringing at the University. This issue contains Cambridge University's contribution of distinction—a peal of Stedman Cinques rung silent and non-conducted. Something for Oxford to think about!

Hilary's 21st

To enable Oxford University Society to honour the 21st birthday of Miss Hilary Pardoe by a peal at Hinton Waldrist, one member of the band had to be unceremoniously removed from his bed. Nevertheless, the peal was successful. Later that day as the band were wishing her farewell at Oxford station, it was generally agreed that she ought to be 21 more often.

Bell Work in Kent

Apart from the big job on the bells at Sevenoaks, mentioned in our last issue, Kent is helping to keep our bell foundries busy. Ashford bells are to be rehung. The bells of Merham are at the foundry and in their absence the tower is being restored. The work is not expected to be completed until 1966. Brabourne's are being rehung and two new trebles added, and it is also hoped to hang two new trebles at East Malling. Because of the state of the tower, Queenborough bells cannot be rehung. A big restoration scheme is in hand to remedy defects in the tower and towards the cost the K.C.A. have promised a grant of £25.

The Gate Crashers

Unwelcome visitors to any meeting are the band that attempt a peal and lose it and then inflict themselves on the nearest meeting after tea, writes a Sussex correspondent. Having monopolised the tower for a practice in the method of which they are not proficient enough to ring a peal, they then retire (without thanks and never a thought to help the less advanced ringer!).

Bellfounders Thanked

The prompt action of Messrs. Mears and Stainbank enabled the peal of Caters at Newbury to be rung on December 5th. Five minutes before the end of the Monday practice the headstock bolt of the 9th clapper broke, and late on Friday the bell was still clapperless. The bolt arrived in time and a good peal was scored. Peal attempts at Newbury are now restricted to two a year.

A Copy for Mrs. Kennedy

Mr. Albert J. Hughes, of Bangor, Wales, sent his copy of 'The Ringing World' containing memorial ringing to the late President Kennedy to his nephew in California. After the copy had been perused by his immediate friends, it was sent by the nephew to Mrs. Kennedy, from whom he had an acknowledgment and a letter of thanks.

Marple's Young Peal Ringers

Marple, Cheshire, has a reputation for producing accomplished peal ringers. Mr. William H. Dowse, who is now 21, is the fourth Marple ringer to reach the total of 200 peals in the last five years, the others being Bernard F. L. Groves (now at Maidstone), Frank Osbaldiston and Robert B. Smith. Mr. Dowse has rung in one long peal—10,000 Double Norwich Court Bob Major—which he rang at the age of 14.

Convener Lectures

Mr. R. B. Anderson, convener of 'The Ringing World' Committee, gave a talk on bells and bellringing on December 10th to a men's organisation at Alsager. With the assistance of two colleagues, a demonstration of change ringing was given on handbells. Another popular inclusion was the playing of the record, 'The Sound of Bells,' published with Edgar Shepherd's book. The talk was enthusiastically received by a company of 45.

The 1965 Diary

William Viggers and Maurice Hodgson have introduced a number of improvements to this year's diary, which is again in popular demand with an order list of 1,100 before a copy was received from the bindery. The first peals and record lengths section is now attractively tabulated. Method blank pages have been taken out and more method diagrams introduced. An innovation of Mr. Viggers is blank method cards with the path of the treble marked out (2s. 6d. a dozen). These can be transferred from diary to diary without re-writing. Four new Triples methods are introduced on the cover.

Memorial to Mr. F. M. Mitchell

The Kent County Association hope shortly to place an order for a suitable memorial to the late Mr. F. M. Mitchell, who for more than 50 years was captain at Milton-next-Gravesend. It will be a tablet in bronze, and will be erected in the church he served so faithfully. Mr. Mitchell held key positions in K.C.A. for many years from 1928, first as secretary-treasurer and later as treasurer. He was also a Past Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths, and died in 1960.

Following Washington

'I was very pleased to hear that Guildford is to follow the Washington design,' writes Mr. John Seager, of Sheffield, 'as the bells there impressed me when I visited them. The radial frame was simple and rigid, with no tendency to twist the tower. There was enough weight to sound well, and the "go" was so good that any competent ringer could handle them without undue effort.'

Electric Clock as Memorial

For 60 years the late Mr. Joseph Gilson was a regular service ringer at St. Mary's, Melton Mowbray. On December 8th an electric wall clock for the belfry, the gift of his family, was dedicated by the Vicar, Canon C. M. S. Clarke, who paid a tribute to his faithful service to the church and belfry. Mr. H. Clayton, tower captain, also spoke of his devoted service and thanked the family for their gift.

'Arran Chief'

The Earl of Arran devoted the main part of his feature article in the London 'Evening News' on Dec. 16th to 'The Ringing World'. We feel that the many ringers living in the Home Counties have enjoyed his pawky humour. As a compliment one of our enthusiastic bellringer-gardeners has decided to order 'Arran Chief' instead of 'Majestic' for his main potato crop next year!

The Presents List

The Earl thanks 'The Ringing World' for solving his Christmas present problem and makes these suggestions: 'What more acceptable gift than "The Church Bells of Guernsey, Alderney and Sark," 8s. 6d. from Mr. F. Sharpe? Or "Ropesight" (the case for capital punishment?). Or a Bell-ringer's Car Badge ("where the hell do you think you're going? Ooops... sorry, old man, didn't know you were one of us. Ding-dong!"). Or "Grand-sire" (surely the book for Grand-dad?).'

Four W's

Those four Ws—'Wratten Wringers' Wreath Week-end' in Bristol came in, and rightly so, for what the Earl termed 'Raw Facts'. 'A quiet occasion?' he asks. 'Not on your nelly. One group went to Westminster where they found that a previous party had broken the rope of the treble. So not to be outdone they broke the rope of the third during a touch of Doubles. The day before (a hectic day) another group were at St. Philip's where a first class peal of Rutland was scored with "Drugged Dick" dreaming his way through. No wonder that several members of another party "expressed regrets at not having taken advantage of Chris Kippin's offer to run a book on the outcome of the peal".'

Tea Obsession

What surprises his lordship is what he described as bell-ringers' obsession for tea as displayed in the meeting announcements. He commends his neighbour, Mr. Baker, of King's Langley, for his forthrightness 'No names, no tea' and adds: 'Quite right, Mr. B. You can't have nameless people coming and noshing-up at your expense. After all, they might be a rival gang!'

The article concludes: 'Happy ringing, chums! . . . and don't get dragged up to Heaven.'

A Warwick Anniversary

The fifth anniversary of the recasting and rehanging of the bells of St. Nicholas', Warwick, was commemorated by a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major on December 5th in which four of the local band participated. On the following evening the regular band made their contribution by a quarter of Bob Major. In this four of the Randall family participated—father, mother and two sons.

From Surrey to Wiltshire

Surrey-Kent ringers had a successful trip into Wiltshire on December 5th to ring the bells of St. Andrew's, Chippenham, for the 230th anniversary of the bells. A good peal of Yorkshire Surprise was rung: special congratulations to Miss Jean L. Lavender, on her 50th peal.
