ROVING RINGERS' REUNION

THE Roving Ringers' annual reunion was held this year in Bath, during the first weekend in February. Members converged from different parts of England, in brilliant spring sunshine, which was so different from the previous snow-bound reunion in Worcester. The first tower of the weekend was St. Michael's, Bath, with a pleasant eight situated in the middle of a busy road junction. The bells were soon going well to a course of Cambridge but ringing deteriorated, however, with Stedman. Grandsire, Plain Bob and Double Norwich. A spot of trouble occurred as our Ringing Master left the tower. A policeman was waiting by his car, which had been parked over some white lettering on the road! However, he managed to talk himself out of that one!

After lunch, we managed with some difficulty to find our way out of Bath, to Twerton (a light, ground floor eight). Here we rang a good course of London. We found ringing conditions very cramped at Corston but they enabled members to take full advantage of the sunshine. The lightness of the bells and lack of space probably accounted for the ringing not being of a very high standard. The day's ringing concluded on the enjoyable eight at St. Mary's, Bathwick.

The Society then returned to Pratt's Hotel, the headquarters for the weekend, and there was the usual scramble for bathrooms. Fifty-five members, including one of our honorary members, Mr. F. E. Collins, of Croydon, sat down to an excellent dinner. A short business meeting was afterwards conducted in the lounge by the chairman, George Evenden.

Fred Ellis, from Wheathampstead, was elected Ringing Master for the following year; Don Cobb became the new secretary and treasurer; Adrienne Gibson was elected hon. recorder. It was decided to hold next year's tour in Dorset, Wilts and Somerset, the beginning and ending points to be decided by the secretary.

The usual showing of slides and photographs of the previous year's tour followed. The evening continued with a general get together which went on well into the night.

Ringing on Sunday morning commenced on the anti-clockwise ten at Bath Abbey. Full justice was not done to these bells by the Society.

After a leisurely lunch, the Society went to Wells, where the heavy ten at the Cathedral were enjoyed by all. The final tower of the reunion was St. Cuthbert's, Wells (another fine eight). A course of London here lent a fitting end to a most enjoyable reunion.

Our thanks to incumbents for the use of their bells and to Roger Fry for his help in the arrangements. J. H. A. G.

THE BELLS OF ST. MARY'S, SOUTHAMPTON

By K. S. B. CROFT

JUST 50 years ago the bells of St. Mary's, the mother church of Southampton, were installed to complete a tower and spire scheme which had formed part of the original plan of a new church—the fifth—on an ancient site of Christian worship on the west bank of the River Itchen. The church authorities, with good reason, are intending to celebrate this anniversary in a fitting manner. On Sunday, April 26th, both Matins and Evensong will have the theme of bells to the fore; in the morning a plaque recording a lifetime of service to St. Mary's and its bells by Mr. John W. Faithfull will be dedicated, when the preacher will be Canon K. W. H. Felstead, Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild; in the evening a ringers' pew will be placed in the church and dedicated, the preacher on this occasion being Canon A. G. G. Thurlow, president of the Central Council.

The bells, an outright gift by a parishioner, Mary Ann Wingrove, in memory of her husband, were originally an octave, remaining so until 1933, when two trebles were added through the Barron Bell Trust. Their arrival in Southampton in 1914 was virtually a civic occasion, for there was a pageant of the bells. Each one was taken on a horse-drawn trolley from the Docks Railway Station to the church along a two-mile route through the centre of the town, and each trolley was decorated in appropriate colours to represent the major festivals of the Church. The treble, for example, symbolised the Feast of the Nativity, and typified infancy, selected schoolchildren dressed in white and carrying flowers riding on the trolley with the bell. Aged parishioners rode with the seventh, which represented the Trinity, the colour motif being green, and they were not deterred from enjoying their rôle, according to a contemporary account, by the tenor behind them accompanied by an allegorical figure of Father Time, complete with scythe! These bells were cast by Taylor's, the tenor weighing 22 cwt. 1 qr. 7 lb. in E flat.

The bells were set up on a raised platform near the chancel steps for the dedication, a most impressive ceremony at the close of Evensong one Sunday. Hardly had they been hung in the tower, however, than the Great War broke out. It was during the grim days of war that these bells were to provide the inspiration which has made them famous through the song 'The Bells of St. Mary's' yet, strangely enough, the facts are probably not as well-enough known to the Exercise as they should be. Douglas Furber and the Australian composer A. Emmett Adams heard St. Mary's bells sounding across the River Itchen one wartime night, and the former, who wrote the lyric, has told the story of his meeting with the Australian: 'Because we both loved the same things, we got together to write songs, and then we heard the bells of St. Mary's, the mother church of Southampton, in sight and sound of the sea—a lovely ring of bells.' He has spoken of how 'The Bells of St. Mary's' was eventually accepted by the publishers, and of how it ran into tens of thousands of copies. Introduced into the United States in 1917, it was immediately adopted by the New York State Maritime College as their college song.

Rather over 50 peals have been rung here, beginning with a half-muffled one of Stedman Triples in 1916 for the fallen. This was conducted by George Williams, who frequently rang at St. Mary's. The belfry, indeed, houses the George Williams Memorial Library of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild. The first peal of Major was Double Norwich, taking part in which were John W. Faithfull, later to be captain of the ringers for more than 30 years, and D. Cecil Williams, the present organist, who has held office for a similar length of time. In 1931 Cecil Williams conducted a peal to celebrate his appointment as organist and master of the music. The first peal of Surprise in Southampton was rung here in 1922, and in the following year 5,024 Bob Major with a most exceptional footnote: 'The ringers of Treble and 2nd each lost an arm in the Great War—J. W. Faithfull the left, and G. Pullinger the right.' Both these gentlemen have maintained a life-long interest in ringing, Mr. Pullinger being, of course, sometime Master of the Guild. Mrs. G. W. Fletcher, as Miss Edith K. Parker, was the first lady to take part in a peal on these bells, ringing the fourth to Superlative in 1923. Following the increase to ten, Grandsire Caters was scored by the local band at the first attempt in 1934, and the first of Royal—Cambridge—the next year.

St. Mary's was burnt out during the great air raid on Southampton in 1940: so extensive was the damage to the bells that Taylor's could do no more than advise a complete recasting. The work was put in hand after the war and the bells rehung in 1948 as a mark of the intention of the authorities to restore the church. Charles H. Kippin conducted the first peal on the recast ring—Kent Treble Bob Royal, the same method as the last on the old bells, the 1939 peal mentioned above. The remaining peal of historical note was one of Grandsire Caters in 1956 to mark the dedication of the completely rebuilt fabric, the sixth church of St. Mary on the same site of Christian worship since mediæval times.

Both the church in its age-long history and the bells in their comparatively short life have experienced triumph and disaster. Yet both have symbolised the resilience of the Christian faith and both are outward-looking: the bells sending forth their sound to inspire all those who will listen, and St. Mary's itself vigorously working to forge links far and wide, in which task the bells have their part.

CENTRAL COUNCIL AGENDA

The second session of the 25th Council (67th annual meeting) will be held on Whitsun Tuesday, May 19th, 1964, in the Town Hall, Boscawen Street, Truro, at 10 o'clock.

New Leading Association For Peals

For very many years the Leicester Diocesan Guild has headed the list of Guilds and Associations for the ringing of peals.

In 1963 they lost their leadership to the Lancashire Association. The leading positions are (1962 in parentheses):
Lancashire Association 218 (140);
Leicester Guild 197 (205); Oxford Guild 175 (178); Yorkshire Association 163 (137); Kent Association 147 (170);
Lincoln Guild 126 (135); Chester Guild 122 (155); Gloucester and Bristol 117 (81); Hertfordshire Association 103 (64).

ELY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

THE annual meeting of the Ely Diocesan Association was held this year in the Ely District, where much of the landscape was Fenland. Weather conditions were typical of those experienced this Easter.

Ringing commenced at 10 a.m. from two points—Swaffingham Prior and March. Towers open during the day were Burwell, Chippenham, Isleham, Wicken, Soham, Doddington, Chatteris, Sutton, Haddenham, Willingham, Stretham, Ely, Littleport and Cottenham.

The service was held in St. Andrew's Church, Soham, and was conducted by the Vicar (Canon Haliday Smith). He gave a cordial welcome to over 150 people present. Tea was served in the Church Hall by a willing band of helpers.

Before the business meeting the general secretary (Mr. H. S. Peacock) welcomed all present, especially the visitors from other Guilds and Associations. These included members from Lincoln, Suffolk, Hertfordshire, Middlesex, Bedfordshire, Coventry and Leicester.

Mr. W. W. Cousins was elected to the chair for the business meeting. The officers, who were re-elected, are: General secretary and treasurer, Mr. H. S. Peacock; peal secretary, Mr. B. D. Threlfall; auditor, Mr. T. R. Dennis.

ENTHRONEMENT DAY RINGING

The report wished the president, the Lord Bishop, a happy retirement, and extended a welcome to his successor, the Rt. Rev. E. J. K. Roberts, who is expected to be enthroned in May. The committee express the wish that all towers in the Diocese will ring on that day or shortly afterwards. The new Bishop is a bellringer.

Bell restoration went steadily on. Brampton's ring of six, completed 18 months ago, had not yet been dedicated, the reason being the installation of a new clock. Much hard work in raising money had taken place at Great Gidding. The front four had been repaired and were ringing, but the tenor needed attention. Fordham bells went to the foundry last July, the third and tenor to be recast and the other four retuned. They are to be rehung in an iron frame and new fittings. Kimbolton bells (5) are to be removed to the foundry and rehung in an iron frame.

100 PEOPLE RANG IN PEALS

The peal secretary's report stated that 48 peals were rung during the year, viz: Caters 2, Major 21, Triples 2, Minor 16 and Doubles 7. Of notable peals that which would give pleasure to most people was that at Barkway for Mr. T. Reginald Dennis' 80th birthday. A total of 100 people took part in the peals and conducting was shared by 18 people. The leading conductor was Mr. G. E. Thoday.

It was decided to visit the Cambridge area next Easter Monday. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded the Ely District secretary, (Mr. R. J. Palmer) for the able way he made all the arrangements assisted by many willing helpers.

THE FOURTH OF MARCH, 1964

THE Appleton Fourth of March celebration is the one ringing occasion which is never missed by those who have been before. Every year creates a new record for attendance: this year bringing some 110 ringers and friends to the dinner, which fell on the 7th.

The customary 5,039 Grandsire Caters by the late George Hollifield was rung in the morning, and to those who sat umpiring in the 'Plough', the peal seemed up to standard. Lunch, kindly provided for the band by Frank White and his long-suffering sister, was the prelude to the afternoon's relaxations, and by 6.30 the festive mood was apparent.

As usual, the meal in the Village Hall was just what was needed, and the speeches just what was expected. 'Expected' in the sense that Appleton thrives on tradition: those who spoke were all old friends of Appleton and knew how to keep that tradition going. Mr. William Hibbert, proposing 'The Church', paid tribute to the Oxford Diocesan Guild, coupling with it the name of the Master, Canon C. Elliot Wigg. In reply, Canon Wigg recalled the war years at Appleton, and the maintenance of the old traditions during that time. He and his wife had taken part in a quarter peal 'in hand' on one March 4th when the exigencies of defence prevented the church bells from being heard.

The toast of 'The Appleton Society' was proposed by Mr. Fred Sharpe, known to all as one who has the interests of Appleton deeply at heart. He traversed the history of the Whites, the Hollifields, and all those who had helped to make Appleton a famous name in ringing circles. Mr. Sharpe dropped a minor thunderbolt on the gathering by announcing that Mr. Frank White had been entrusted with the rehanging of New College bells. Frank, in his response, recalled the death of his uncle, Mr. C. G. White, and a short silence was observed in memory of 'Uncle John'.

The Rector, the Rev. Dr. A. Tindall-Hart, welcomed the visitors, and Mr. F. J. Nelson, on behalf of the Oxford University Society, spoke of the debt owed by that Society to Appleton.

Songs and handbell ringing, in the Appleton manner, brought the day nearer its end. It was pleasing to see that the places in the handbell team left by the deaths of two greatly missed members of the White family were filled by 'Uncle John's' grandson and one of Frank's nephews, both of whom performed as to the manner born, as indeed they were.

If any reader has not yet visited Appleton on March 4th, I suggest he writes now for next year's tickets. Those who have been are booked up for many years in advance.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

It was unfortunate that the Mansfield District meeting, held at Kirkby-in-Ashfield, on March 21st, was so poorly attended. This thriving little five-bell tower can boast 17 young Guild ringing members, thanks to the interest and guidance of their captain, Miss Thelma Staples, and her assistants.

The Rev. D. A. G. Brinn conducted a short and most fitting service, which was followed by tea in the Church Hall kindly prepared by the local ladies. The following Kirkby ringers were elected Guild members: Messrs. I. Pitman and T. G. Webb, the Misses E. A. Hill, S. Tannert, L. M. Bagguley and B. E. Diggle.

Next meeting—Edwinstowe, May 23rd—District Cup Contest.

Tenterden Revisited for Kent A.G.M. after 59 Years

GREY skies and chilly winds did not deter an enthusiastic attendance at the annual general meeting of the Kent County Association at Tenterden on Easter Monday. Indeed, applications from ten members for luncheon tickets had to be returned after the closing date as no accommodation was left. Young people were present in large numbers, but there were two veterans who had also been present at the A.G.M. at Tenterden in 1905—F. S. Macey, who attended his first A.G.M. that day 59 years ago, and Edwing Barnett, who in years of membership, having joined in 1896, is second only to Edward S. Ruck, sole surviving member who on May 18th will have been a member for 84 years.

Ringling took place in the morning at various towers in the district, including St. Mildred's Parish Church, Tenterden, where at noon a grand Easter service of praise was conducted by the Vicar, Canon H. Willis. The singing was led by some members of the Tenterden choir, supported by robed clergy, the Revs. P. T. Robbins, S. Evans and P. N. Bond. The Mayor of Tenterden, Alderman Colonel E. F. Foreman, occupied the Mayor's pew, accompanied by Mrs. Foreman. At the suggestion of the Vicar, the offertory of over £12 was donated to a special appeal the Mayor is conducting to raise in 1964 the sum of £400 for the Church of England Children's Society.

THOSE PASSED ON REMEMBERED

The service opened with the Easter hymn 'Ye choirs of new Jerusalem.' Mr. John Willis, of Folkestone, vice-president of the Association and chairman, read the lesson, being the gospel for the day—the walk to Emmaus. After the singing of the hymn 'The strife is o'er' the Vicar read the names of those who had died since the last A.G.M. These were: Messrs. E. H. Lewis, B. Aldridge, J. J. Batchelor, J. Beach, F. A. Fairbeard, F. Gorrington, E. Hannington, S. H. Hardy, S. Honour, H. Huntley, J. E. Lyddiard, W. Mayturn, T. Saunders, S. A. White, A. F. Wellington; honorary, Mrs. J. Willis, A. R. Cooper and Lt.-Gen. A. L. Foster; non-resident, J. W. Cornford, A. E. Edwards, A. C. Hazelden and H. Stalham. This was followed by the general thanksgiving and the Association prayer.

The Vicar, in his address, welcomed the visitors and spoke favourably of the size of the congregation, the heartiness of the singing and his pleasure at seeing so many young people. He reminded the congregation of their duty to attend public worship since all needed the presence of each other to provide the inspiration that such a service as that could give.

Luncheon was served at the Homewood School by local voluntary helpers, most ably organised by Miss Violet Relf, her brother and other local ringers. After the loyal toast Mr. John Willis gave a hearty welcome to the Mayor and Mrs. Foreman, the Vicar and Mrs. Willis, Mr. W. Tickner, the churchwarden, and Mr. Longman, the organist.

In his reply, the Mayor spoke enthusiastically of his family connections with Kentish ringers, having lived most of his life in the county and being a Kentish man. He had been uplifted by the service in the parish church and he and his wife had greatly enjoyed their contact with the ringers that day and he hoped they would have a successful meeting. He said their Vicar, who had arrived in the parish towards the end of the work on the bells, had been greatly surprised at the speed at which the money for the restoration had been raised. This surely indicated the great love the ordinary Englishman had for the bells of his parish church.

1,182 RESIDENT MEMBERS

After the departure of the guests the members and their friends adjourned to the school hall for the business meeting. The secretary, Mr. P. A. Corby, reported apologies for absence of the editor of 'The Ringing World' and from Mr. B. F. L. Groves, who was taking part in the attempt at Birmingham for a record length of Cambridge Maximus.

Mr. Corby moved the adoption of the printed annual report, which showed 1,182 resident members and 80 honorary. This was seconded by Mr. Terry Barton and approved. The secretary referred to more recent developments in connection with certain items. The committee had considered the proposed F. M. Mitchell Memorial and, on behalf of the committee Mr. P. A. Corby moved and Mr. F. S. Macey seconded and it was agreed that the Association should proceed with the provision of an investment of £50 for bell ropes for Milton-next-Gravesend Church to be commemorated by a stone, wooden or bell metal tablet in the church, subject to the necessary faculty, on which the wording at present proposed (subject to confirmation by the Faculty Commission) was 'In Memory of Frederick M. Mitchell, Captain of this tower, 1910-1960: General Secretary, Kent County Association of Change Ringers, 1928-47; Treasurer, 1928-1956; Master, Ancient Society of College Youths, 1932. This tablet has been erected by members and friends of the Kent County Association of Change Ringers: who have also endowed the maintenance of the bell ropes of this Church.'

RESTORATION WORK

The secretary advised the meeting that the committee had that morning considered the present position of restoration work in various towers as follows: Pluckley, Tenterden (where the secretary had been in touch with Mr. R. Clouston, of the Central Council for the Care of Churches, regarding the unsatisfactory 'go' of the bells even after the recent re-hanging), Queenborough, East Malling (where the Towers and Belfries Committee of the Central Council had given a report and it was hoped a new iron frame for eight bells would be provided, the six rehung and possibly at some time two trebles added), Smeth (where the anticipated augmentation would not now take place), Ash-by-Wrotham, Merham, Lamberhurst, Cuxton, Sevenoaks, Upchurch, Frindsbury, Birling, Ashford and Eastling.

The accounts were presented by Mr. B. W. May, the treasurer, who proposed formal adoption. This was seconded by Mr. A. Dunk and agreed, after Mr. A. S. Richards, auditor, had expressed appreciation of the care and skill with which Mr. May kept the Association's accounts. The balance sheet showed assets of £1,250.

Mr. I. H. Oram, the peal secretary, formally moved the adoption of his report as printed. This was seconded by Mr. E. A. Barnett, who expressed the thanks of the meeting to Mr. Oram for his sterling work, particularly in sorting out the confusion in the numbering of the Association peals in earlier years.

During 1963, 146 peals were rung for the Association, 24 less than the previous year. Mr. Ian H. Oram was leading conductor (27) and 28 members rang their first peal. Notable performances were peals by the local bands of Lympne, Tonbridge and Wittersham, and two peals of Glasgow Surprise Major by two separate bands.

The president and vice-presidents were re-elected and also the following officers: Honorary secretary, Mr. P. A. Corby; peal secretary, Mr. I. H. Oram; honorary treasurer,

Mr. B. W. May; honorary auditor, Mr. A. S. Richards.

RALLY INSTEAD OF DINNER

Mr. T. A. Cross, the Maidstone District secretary, reported it had been impossible to arrange a suitable place for the annual dinner in his District within the usual price range, and the total cost per head might well be in the region of 25s. On a show of hands only 34 expressed a hope to be present in spite of the cost. This was felt to be insufficient support and, after some discussion, Rev. P. T. Robbins proposed and Mr. T. A. Cross seconded and it was agreed, that instead of the dinner a ringers' rally should be organised for the whole Association in the Maidstone District in the summer, when evenings were light. This would comprise ringling at various towers, a service, tea, but no business.

Mr. P. A. Corby proposed and Mr. S. Rayfield seconded the adoption of the revised rules as set out in a memorandum dated December, 1962, which had been circulated to all towers. The committee had accepted the substance of a resolution from the Rochester District, which had the effect of dropping the proposed affiliation fee for towers. The resident members' subscriptions would, for the time being at any rate, remain at the present rates.

After a lengthy discussion the revised rules were adopted.

INACCURATE ARTICLE CHALLENGED

The secretary reported that he had written to 'Hopleaf,' a correspondent in a most interesting monthly magazine, 'Kent Life,' in connection with a very inaccurate article which had appeared in the January issue giving the impression that ringling was a dying art. Mr. Richard Hough, of Folkestone had written an excellent letter in the February issue correcting the misleading impression given by the article. 'Hopleaf' had written a most charming letter to the secretary regretfully declining an invitation to be present at that day's meeting and promising to make amends in some future article for what he could now see was ignorance about ringling, particularly now he had seen a Kent County Association report.

The chairman presented suitable gifts which he had provided to Mr. Crawford Hillis, Ashford District secretary, and Miss Violet Relf, of Tenterden, in appreciation of the splendid work they had done in making the arrangements for the meeting, which, with its near-record attendance of over 200, had been most successful.

Mr. Corby expressed the thanks of the meeting to all who had made it possible; the Vicar, the Mayor, the organist, the churchwarden, the caterers and all others concerned, not least the other clergy who had made bells available. He went on to express the thanks of the members to their chairman, whom they held in great affection and esteem. Mr. Willis replied and expressed his thanks for the great kindness of members to him at all times, but particularly at the time of the death of his dear wife.

SOMERSET REMEMBERS

Ringers from several Somerset towers met at Ilminster on April 1st to ring a quarter of Bob Major as an 80th birthday compliment to Mr. Harry Shire. Mr. Shire, who is still ringling at Tewin, in Hertfordshire, was brought up in the West Country and Ilminster was his home tower many years ago. Although the quarter was found to be false, due to a fault in copying, the ringers send Mr. Shire their very best wishes for 'Many Happy Returns of the Day.'

Letters to the Editor

Floral Names

Dear Sir.—The recent peal of Doubles at Tanglely recalls the controversy in the 1920's over the use of 'floral' names—subsequently altered—for various Minor methods. The then Editor of 'The Ringing World' commented that when the band had exhausted the possibilities of floriculture they might turn their attention to horticulture, when we could expect to see peals in such methods as Onion Delight and Beetroot Surprise. I commend the idea to Mr. Dodd and his friends—the names wouldn't sound any sillier than some of those they used.—Yours faithfully,

E. A. BARNETT.

Crayford, Kent.

A Good Idea

Dear Sir.—Are my wife and I the only ones to think that the Washington venture is a good idea and to feel satisfied with the band that Mr. John Chilcott has invited?—Yours faithfully, Southampton.

K. S. B. CROFT.

Views not Representative

Dear Sir.—Like many other readers of 'The Ringing World,' I was shocked at the most distasteful letter on page 220 from Mr. F. I. Hairs who, I notice, is a member of the Editorial Committee of 'The Ringing World.'

We shall support what worthy fund we like and not allow Mr. Hairs to dictate how we dispose of our money.

In any case the major expense will be borne by Washington and it is a privilege that we are able to make some financial contribution and an honour that English ringers should be invited to ring for the dedication, thus making the occasion important to us as well as to Americans. It is certainly an important one for both English bellfounders, since both carillon and ringing peal will be heard.

Surely the ringing of bells is to the glory of God and not to the ringers or church people, be they American or English.

To our American cousins I say—take no notice of Mr. Hairs, his warped view is not representative of English ringers.

I wish the selected ringers well. May they prove worthy representatives of ringers in this country and their ringing give pleasure to the American people.—Yours truly,

J. R. LITTLE (Miss).

Derby.

Silent Towers

Dear Sir.—First may I say what an excellent leading article appeared in the issue of April 3rd under 'Break That Silence.' I am certain that tremendous good is done by ringing the bells in a silent tower on occasion.

Quarterly and practice meetings will usually touch each tower in turn if all are treated alike, the fives and sixes with the eights and over, and in an attempt to ring in silent towers a little more frequently my own District decided to try and get all ringable bells rung for the Christmas Festival last year; this was fully accomplished by the nearest band to the particular silent tower making itself responsible for ringing as near Christmas Day as possible.

Also, I would like to support the remarks of Mr. Frank Knight re Grandsire or Plain Bob for learners. It seems to be most general, in the South at any rate, to begin with Grandsire, but I think this came about through bands of ringers with no outside help having to take advantage of the method having two bells plain hunting, and this can make a very real difference in a country tower. Apart from this, Plain Bob is obviously the gateway to many methods on all numbers of bells and, once mastered, Grandsire would follow with or without other methods as and when required.—Yours sincerely,

CHARLES E. BASSETT.

Warrash, Hants.

A Scottish Viewpoint

Dear Sir.—There are two things about which I have been meaning to write for some time. They have no connection yet I include them in the same letter because writing twice is quite unnecessary when only once will suffice.

My first comment I make with my tongue in my cheek because it invites immediate hostile reaction from many quarters. I wish to express my disapproval of the way in which you have been publishing the odd letter proudly acclaiming the achievement of some Sunday band in ringing regularly for a long, unbroken period. I cannot, I must confess, claim to be a member of such a band, yet this is no case of 'sour grapes'; a band that has rung for every service over a period of several years is to be highly commended. My objection is in the way that some bands are now advertising their achievement and are, themselves, seeking the commendation. I know that we are told 'Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works' . . . but the purpose for this is so that they may . . . worship your Father which is in Heaven.'

I am, myself, very impressed by the length of regular service given by some of the bands, but the way in which we are notified of their records does tend to 'take the gilt off the ginger-bread.' As an illustration, I picked a recent 'Ringing World' at random and found the following words in one such letter: ' . . . we have almost completed an unbroken run of ringing for a thousand services in a little under ten years . . .'; this is indeed a record of which they feel justly proud. I would suggest, however, that perhaps it might have been preferable had a short statement appeared in 'Belfry Gossip' cloaked in anonymity.

Completely apart from this, the old business of method-naming has cropped again and I noticed in a letter from Derek P. Jones two weeks ago a suggestion to use Irish or Scottish names. The idea is such a good one that I am surprised that nobody else has thought seriously of tapping the vast supply of excellent names that Scotland has to offer. A few small places that I can recall off-hand provide an example and it doesn't take an intensive study of a Scottish atlas to compose an almost unending list. Auchterarder and Invergowrie, Stirlingshire and Perthshire, Incture (pronounced 'Inchture'), Blairgowrie and St. Fillans are all names with a delightful lilt to them that sound as good as, if not better than, some of the names under dispute. I respectfully suggest to anyone who is looking for a title for their latest performance to direct their search north of the border, where they should surely find a satisfactory solution. — Yours faithfully, Dundee.

P. T. DALE.

Converts Impossible

Dear Sir.—Although my ringing experience, I suspect, doesn't quite compare with most of the previous contributors, I feel I would like to add my opinion to those already expressed. (I can almost hear the cries—'Not another one. Why doesn't someone stop it?')

My home tower has plain rope ends and it was on these that I learnt to ring. I'll admit I like them as they're easy to adjust when they've 'gone up' or 'come down,' and also the dangerous practice of standing on numerous boxes or forms is done away with!

I do, however, prefer to ring peals, of which I have rung one or two on ropes having Yorkshire tail ends, for they are indeed 'kind to your hands.'

In defence of the Barnsley and District Society ringers I should like to say that those who have argued their point did it because in their experience, they have found Yorkshire tail ends better for their own personal requirements and standards, for the same reason those who prefer plain ends have argued their point. One side will never convert the other no matter how much is said on the subject. —Yours faithfully,

A BARNSELY AND DISTRICT MEMBER.

Saints' Name Peals

Mr. P. Amos writes that St. George is Winchendon plain leads with half-leads of Original called as bobs, and Old Doubles calls for singles. Call B. S. B. Pl. three times and you get 2nd observation.

You can get 4ths observation if you start off Original without calling bob, as the bob is called three blows from the end of the 120. To get 120 of 4ths observation you call Pl., B. S. B. three times instead of B. S. B. Pl. as for 2nd observation. There are only the two observations; 3rd and 5th do not give a 120.

The principle was first rung by Mr. Alan Pink's band some years ago to St. Simon's plain leads which they named St. Matthew, and to St. Martin's which they named St. Mark. I discovered it went to St. Nicholas, and so named that St. Silvester, which we rang to a peal on St. Silvester's Day (December 31st, 1961) at Weston Favell.

Mr. G. F. Roome wrote it up to Winchendon, and named it St. George—being fully aware that no peal to that title had previously been rung. Mr. Blagrove is therefore as wrong in his description of St. George's Doubles as he is of St. David's.

St. David's Doubles is Reverse Canterbury plain leads with New Antelope single called as a bob, and that is what we rang at Scaldwell, Northants, on St. David's Day, 1962. It was previously rung by a Notts band, who passed it on to me; they chose the name—St. David's! Since then I have got out a St. Patrick, which is St. Osmund with Old bob calls. St. Osmund, on the principle of St. George's, I have named St. Anthony. St. Bede, which I passed on to Mr. Kirk's band (which was included in their Loughborough peal), is All Saints' plain leads with London extremes called as bobs.

These same extremes are used (as Mr. Blagrove rightly states) to get St. Blaise: the first peal of St. Blaise the Peterborough Guild also rang—at Blakesley for, if my memory serves me right, the festival of St. Blaise, 1960, about which the late Mr. Ernest Morris penned an interesting history of St. Blaise, who is patron saint of woolcombers.

We have also rung the first peals of St. Guthlac, at St. Guthlac's Church, Passenham, which is New Antelope single plain leads with Old bob calls. The first of St. Perpetua, which is New Antelope single with London extremes, rung at Isham for the festival of St. Perpetua, in 1963. The first of St. Polycarp, which is New Antelope single with Grandsire extremes (also known as Chace Bobs in Monk's 1766 Campanologia Improved), at Whiston, on St. Polycarp's Day, 1964. The first of St. Crispin, which is Winchendon with New Antelope single called for bobs, at Pytchley for St. Crispin's Day, 1962. The first of St. Jude's, which is St. Simon's with New Antelope single called as bobs, for SS. Simon and Jude's festival, 1962, at Boughton. The first of St. Mary, for the festival of the Purification, 1962, at St. Mary's Church, Orlingbury. The first of St. Philip, which is New Antelope single, with a plain lead of Reverse Canterbury for a bob, on the feast of SS. Philip and James, 1963, at Grafton Underwood. The first of St. Laurence (spelt u, not w) for the feast of St. Laurence, 1962, at Courtenhall, and this is St. Martin's plain leads with New Antelope single for bobs.

Then there is New Antelope single with a lead of Plain Bob as a bob which we named St. Matthias, and which Mr. Kirk's band rang at Loughborough. There is also New Antelope single with a lead of Shipway's Place as a bob, which we named St. James. Shipway's Place with a lead of All Saints for a bob is St. Denys. Shipway's Place with Grandsire extremes is St. Barnabas. Shipway's Place with Old bob calls is St. Boniface. All these Messrs. Graham C. Paul, Roger W. Smith, Alan A. Paul and George F. Roome, besides myself, had a hand in discovering, naming and ringing. To most of those with New Antelope single for plain leads, there is no 2nds observation.

It should be no trouble to ring a peal of 42 Saint named; or another novelty is a peal of SS. Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

A PLYMOUTH WEDDING

The wedding took place at Plympton St. Maurice on Easter Monday of Mr. David F. Farnham and Miss Lillian Ann Crabb, and was solemnised by the Rev. Sholto-Douglas, a former Rector, who had made the journey from Winchester, and he was assisted by the Rector, the Rev. Mr. Newing.

The bridegroom is captain of Plympton St. Maurice ringers, and also a chorister and server. The bride is a ringer, the best man, Mr. Kenneth Farnham, the bridegroom's brother, is a ringer, the chief bridesmaid, Miss Janet Patterson, and one of the ushers, Mr. Peter Crabb, are also ringers.

There is a fine band of young ringers at Plympton St. Maurice, and ringers from Plympton St. Mary and Emmanuel, Plymouth, joined them in ringing on this truly ringers' wedding.

Members of the S.W. Branch of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers extend to Mr. and Mrs. David Farnham their very best wishes for their future happiness.

R.A.F. GRATITUDE

On Palm Sunday a pleasing ceremony took place in Sopley Parish Church, Hants, during morning service, in which the church bells played a small part in addition to the usual ringing before and after service.

A Royal Air Force ensign was presented to the church to mark the 'long association between Sopley R.A.F. and the ancient church of St. Michael and All Angels, Sopley.' This was an act of gratitude to the church and its Vicar, Canon C. D. Kirkham, for services rendered and still being rendered, to R.A.F. personnel, including men and women from the Commonwealth and U.S.A., who have served, and are serving at the Sopley Station, which was established in 1941.

After the opening hymn the bells were rung as the ensign bearer and his escort moved down the aisle to the chancel where the Vicar dedicated the standard and placed it upon the altar. The Chaplain-in-Chief of the Royal Air Force, the Ven. F. W. Cocks, preached the sermon at the service, which was largely attended.

At a small reception at the R.A.F. mess after the service the officers expressed their great appreciation of the ringing to the Sopley captain, Mr. J. W. Freeman.

ANOTHER LONDON RING?

The Queen is one of the first on a list of contributors towards the cost of restoring the bells of St Botolph-without-Aldgate, London, which have been silent for many years since some of the fittings collapsed. A faculty has been granted to a restoration scheme submitted by the Whitechapel Foundry, which will enable the bells to be rung either manually or electrically. The entire project will cost £3,700.

MANCHESTER UNIVERSITY GUILD

Nineteen members were present at the 17th annual general meeting of the Manchester University Guild which was held on March 10th in the University Union.

In his report the retiring Master, Mr. E. F. P. Bryant, first expressed the sorrow of the Guild at the death of their former President, Mr. Derek Ogden.

He went on to say that during the year the Guild had rung six peals and had been on several enjoyable outings. While welcoming the new members he pointed out that many of the older members would be leaving at the end of this session and appealed to life members to continue their support during the following year.

The officers for next session were elected as follows: President, Mr. B. A. Tomlinson; Ringing Master, Mr. D. J. Baker, 19, St. Roman's Crescent, Woodford Green, Essex; Secretary, Miss M. Broune, 11, Denver Road, Topsham, Devon; Treasurer, Miss S. Tipler; Steeplekeeper, Mr. P. H. D. Jones; Hon. Auditor, Mr. N. Bennett.

SOUTHAMPTON UNIVERSITY GUILD

A successful and energetic year was reviewed by the Master, Mr. Malcolm M. Powell, at the annual general meeting of the Southampton University Guild held at Chamberlain Hall on March 14th. The meeting was preceded by ringing and a service at North Stoneham Church.

Among activities the Master mentioned was the successful summer tour in seven counties, but mainly Essex and Cambridgeshire, during which 200 miles was travelled on bicycles. Another tour was that in Wiltshire and Somerset. Tower grabs had taken place in Basingstoke, Marlborough (with Reading University Guild), Sussex, and recently around Andover. Another success was the annual dinner at the Dolphin Hotel, Romsey, which was attended by representatives from Reading and Bristol Universities. Five peals and several quarters were rung and the Master hoped that the tradition of Sunday service ringing would be maintained in Southampton and district.

The secretary and treasurer, Mr. J. H. Taylor, also presented his report. The following officers were then elected: Master, Mr. M. D. Trigg; Vice-Master, Miss P. A. Drew; secretary/treasurer, Mrs. R. J. Kemp, 5, Winn Road, Southampton; committee member, Mr. J. M. Goodchild.

The forthcoming summer tour in Cornwall was discussed and it was suggested that the annual dinner be held in the Portsmouth area. Proceedings closed with the newly-elected Master thanking the retiring officers and the Rev. J. Ribworth for his co-operation by allowing the Guild the use of North Stoneham bells for their weekly practice.

The Rt. Rev. Gordon
Savage, who has been translated from Buckingham to Southwell, preached his farewell sermon in the county of Buckinghamshire at Slough Parish Church on April 5th. Before the service
Slough ringers rang a quarter of Oxford Treble Bob Major and afterwards, with the help of three visitors, a quarter of Southwell Surprise Royal. The Bishop was president of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild and was held in great esteem by all who knew him.

Miss Frances Procter, of Amersham, recently visited America and was able to ring at Washington Cathedral.

There should have been a heading '50
Years Ago' above the report of the restoration and dedication of York Minster bells that appeared on page 221. This omission is regretted.

After the peal at Farnworth and Kearsley Parish Church, Lancashire, members of the Masonic fraternity were entertained by Bro.
Peter Crook (sen.) in the traditional style.

By ringing the tenor to the peal of Stedman Cinques at Newport, Mon, Dr. Tudor Edwards has now 'circled' this tower. With one exception all have been 12-bell peals and he joins the conductor, Mr. Donald G. Clift, as the first ringer to complete the circle here.

By calling Carter's Odd-Bob One-Part peal of Stedman Triples at Stoke Poges on March 18th at the age of 18 years 11 months, Hadley Hunter, of Cambridge University, is believed to be the youngest person to have called this composition. Can anybody challenge this?

Dr. Geoffrey Smerdon recently gave an address to the Liskeard/Looe Rotary Club on 'Bellringing' using a demonstration bell. Unfortunately, writes our correspondent, he did not carry on with ringing after his student days.

Miss Anita Hewson, of Bramcote, Nottingham, has received an appreciative acknowledgment from Mrs. Kennedy for 'The Ringing World' she sent giving details of the ringing in memory of the late President. The message states: 'Deeply appreciative of your sympathy and grateful for your thoughtfulness.'

BELFRY GOSSIP

At the meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch at Teignmouth on April 5th it was announced that Mr. E. M. Atkins was retiring from the general secretaryship of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers. Mr. D. J. Roberts, of Torquay, has been nominated for the position.

Mr. Cyril S. Jarrett on April 3rd 'circled'
Frindsbury tower, Kent, for the fourth time.

The peal of London Surprise Royal rung at St. Peter's, Brighton, on April 4th was
Mr. W. Arthur Riddington's 300th peal.

The quarter peal rung at Southminster on March 4th (page 229) was for the 21st birthday of Mrs. E. (Liz) Sandwell.

So as to allow more time for ringing, two District annual meetings of the Irish Association decided to leave all business to the committee, augmented by one other member from each tower.

Hard luck for 12-year-old Michael Roberts, of Shepshed, Leicestershire. A peal attempt, his first as conductor, broke down just before half-way on April 2nd at Groby! Also ringing was his friend, 12-year-old Stephen Hall.

The Irish Association has now 663 members of whom 364 are non-resident life members.
Ten years ago, states the 'Irish Bell News,' the total membership was 479 with 366 resident members. The doubling of the non-resident members is attributed to the 1958 Central Council meeting in Dublin.

The band which rang a peal at East Dereham on April 1st were very sorry indeed that Mr. Nolan Golden had to withdraw at the last minute through ill-health and send him their fraternal greetings and best wishes for a complete recovery. To show that they were thinking of him they rang one of his compositions.

We are informed that the verses headed 'An Ulster Fantasy' (page 223) were written by Mr.
John Blackwood and read by him at a farewell party given for him by his Boyne Hill colleagues when he left Maidenhead to take up an appointment at Wareham, Dorset, last October. We apologise to Mr. Blackwood and also to Miss Hortin for associating her name with the verses.

BELLS AT A MUSIC FESTIVAL

READERS will recall that last year the organisers of the Twickenham and Richmond Music Festival included for the first time sections on handbells, for tunes and for change ringing. Evidently an instance of their astute Chairman, Dr. D. J. Neal Smith, introducing novelties gradually, because this year he persuaded his committee not only to repeat the handbell items, but also to include a section for tower bell ringing. I imagine this must be the first time change ringing on tower bells has been an item in a music festival, but predict it will not be the last.

This year the handbell contests were held on March 5th, at 'The London Apprentice,' at Isleworth. This was appropriate because of the long connection of this public house with London ringers and their handbells. It had the drawback, however, that the performances were not given in the presence of the vocalists and other instrumentalists attending the Festival. Nevertheless about 70-80 people did attend.

The rules provided for competitors to ring not less than 250 changes in any standard method, two in hand. Entrants had, therefore, to be beyond the stage reached by so many of us of just being able to get through a plain course of Grandsire Triples or Plain Bob Major. What could not have been expected, however, was that one of the bands would choose to ring 288 changes of Spliced Surprise Major (London, Cambridge, Superlative and Bristol). It is impossible to do this unless the striking and rhythm are almost perfect, so the adjudicator had no real difficulty in awarding the chairman's challenge shield and an honours certificate to John Mayne's team for a wonderful performance. No judge ever gives marks of 100%—I awarded 95%, but readily admit that the few faults found would have been unnoticeable in any less perfect performance.

Mr. Goodfellow's team from St. John's, Islington, were second, with 252 changes of Grandsire Triples, an excellent performance, marred only by one bad patch. Mr. Rogers' band from Isleworth was remarkable because it was 75% a family affair and they chose 252 Stedman Triples—not everyone's choice for easy performance. They came third, but it was a close thing. Fourth were the Christ Church, Epsom Common, Guild, who rang 272 Plain Bob Major.

The team tune ringing which followed had three entries and so different were they in character that they could well have formed separate classes. The Ealing band, led by Mr. Fulwell, who is tower captain at St. Mary's, Ealing, gave an impressive performance and the dexterity shown by 11 performers with some 50 bells was evidence of much practice together. Last year they were the only competitors in this class, but this year they were just as clear winners of the Festival challenge shield. The Whittington handbell ringers, 10 performers, each with two bells, were excellent and deserved sympathy in meeting the Ealing band and therefore only gaining second place. Epsom were third, but their choice of simple well-known tunes for their 12 bells was very well advised and gave enjoyment to the audience.

This year's novelty, the tower bell competition, attracted five teams to Isleworth tower on March 14th, and added interest was given to this by the attendance of the B.B.C. As already reported briefly, short extracts from the ringing and remarks by Dr. Neal Smith, by myself as adjudicator, and by the conductor of the winning band, Mr. F. W. Goodfellow, were included in the Home Service on the following Monday. The teams, with methods rung and faults found were: 25 Stedman Triples, by Hillingdon, 25 faults; and by Isleworth, 29 faults; and Chelsea, 20 faults; Heston, 252 Grandsire Triples, 31 faults; and Epsom, 252 Plain Bob Triples, 49 faults. The closeness of marks of the first four teams will be noted, Isleworth being placed second and Chelsea third, only by taking into account the type of touch called.

Ringing competitions are a new venture in this part of the country as well as new in a music festival. If they lead, as I think they must, to an improvement in striking and the encouragement of friendly rivalry to that end, then they seem to be well worth while. The rules of the Festival require that no adjudicator should serve for more than two consecutive years so, while thanking the teams for their forbearance, I can now leave to another the invidious job of commenting publicly on the performances of my friends.

TECHNICAL LITERATURE

By ANDREW S. HUDSON

IT was very encouraging to read Mr. Hodgson's letter in 'the Ringing World.' The problem of publication of definitive works dealing with the various theoretical aspects of change ringing is of course financial. It is impossible to make large collections readily available unless a realistic price is charged to ensure recovery of capital expenditure, and it is not easy to estimate in advance the demand for such publications. If collections are published privately, then recovery of expenditure must usually be made fairly soon after the book becomes available, and therefore one cannot keep the price low in the hope of breaking even over a period of years, but nevertheless one can guarantee to cover cost if a price is charged similar to those which one would expect to pay for books on any other subject. Why should the ringing public expect to get its textbooks for three or four shillings? If we want works which are complete, properly printed and bound, we should expect to pay the order of 15s. to £1. and then there would be some encouragement to the Central Council to go ahead and provide some respectable publications.

When there is a demand for information by the Exercise, the Central Council should take all reasonable steps to satisfy it: this is one of the reasons why we elect a Council, and the appropriate committee have a responsibility to us to see that these things are done, and done in a reasonable length of time. Little wonder that one has to take things into one's own hands when year after year goes by and very little happens. When a publication does emerge, it frequently doesn't contain what we want, on account of some personal whim of the people responsible, and we are little better off.

I have learnt several lessons from the recent Collection of Right Place Surprise Methods. On the one hand, my colleagues and I now appreciate the difficulties involved in producing an accurate work, free from mistakes, together with the simple hard work and time required. On the other hand, we now have a much better appreciation of the feelings and attitude of the Exercise as a whole towards such a collection. Over the last few months we have received the opinions of about a hundred people, of which over half have been through the post. It appears that such steps as we have taken are almost universally welcomed, and also that the Exercise is prepared to pay for the information it requires. Indeed, I can find only three letters out of over 50 which do not approve of our efforts, so there is every encouragement to carry on with similar ventures.

Finally, a few words on the subject of further collections of methods. It is no trouble to produce definitive lists of methods by computer means, but in many cases it is impracticable to publish them. In the case of the Right Place methods, we

MATTERS FOR INVESTIGATION

Dear Sir,—I trust that you will allow me space to say a word or two about two motions which I hope to put forward at the forthcoming Central Council meeting at Truro. I do this in the hope that members may have the chance to consider the issues beforehand and so use the limited time for debate to the best advantage. It is not an attempt to by-pass the Central Council.

I believe that the main aims of change ringing may be summarised as:

- (a) To produce as much variation as possible at each stroke.
- (b) To avoid repetition until all the possibilities have been exhausted.

It is possible to develop the Plain Bob method on the basis of the two main aims, explaining the various limitations that are imposed from practical considerations and to obtain uniformity throughout the Exercise. This I have endeavoured to do in our ringing courses at Lumley Castle and this year with the co-operation of kind friends I set this out in the form of a booklet.

In the ordinary course of a method it is not necessary for a bell to lie more than two consecutive blows in the same position and it is not necessary for more than one bell to do this between successive rows with an odd number of bells, or for more than two to do this on an even number of bells. This permits of a wide variety of methods where these limits are not exceeded.

CAMBRIDGE SURPRISE

There would be quite a logical case for stipulating that these limits should not be exceeded in methods which are to be classed as 'regular.' However, one of the methods that would become irregular would be Cambridge Surprise. This is a method which is widely rung and is part of the standard repertoire and there is, therefore, a good case for extending the limits so that Cambridge and a number of other methods shall remain regular. This is the background of my motion: 'That the Central Council shall no longer recognise as regular any even-bell method which has four places made between successive rows on more than one occasion in a half-lead.'

Criticism will doubtless be raised on the scores that (a) the acceptance of this motion would restrict the freedom of ringers and (b) a few methods already rung will become irregular.

On point (a) it may be observed that most, if not all, of the Central Council conditions restrict freedom. For example, the requirement of Plain Bob lead-ends causes rejection of about 59 out of every 60 notations for Right Place Surprise Major methods. If this motion is adopted there will still be 9,106 Right Place Surprise Major methods available and to these must be added all those with places made wrong. This considerable number is achieved within the limitations imposed by Surprise.

This is a voluntary limitation accepted by many ringers which leaves almost untapped a vast reservoir of Treble Bob and Delight methods, largely because of the mistaken prestige value of the word 'Surprise.' It may be noted that ringers have generally shown a preference for those methods without double changes in that in Hudson and McClenahan's collection as published 186 without double changes were named against only 60 containing double changes, although the total number available in the latter category is much greater.

On point (b) it may be recalled that methods which were being rung, such as Woodbine, were excluded when Plain Bob lead-ends were required. This has not stopped them from being rung and, indeed, the Central Council cannot and should not attempt to dictate to ringers what they should or should not ring. The Council can and should exercise complete control over its own records. Peals already recorded in methods which would cease to be regular should be allowed to stand but no future performances would be recognised.

SYSTEMATIC NOMENCLATURE

I believe that we have reached the stage where a systematic nomenclature is overdue and

I noticed a recent letter from Mr. Shuttleworth expressing a similar view. This accounts for the second motion: 'That the Central Council should investigate and report on the possibilities of systematic nomenclature for methods.'

A prerequisite for such an investigation would seem to be a list of all the possibilities to be considered and, therefore, Messrs. Hudson and McClenahan have done an extremely useful job in one section of the field. With the restriction on double changes that they have adopted, and which I propose should be made an official requirement, the collection is kept within reasonable bounds. This is a great advantage to set off against any disadvantages. I hope that other people will cover other fields in a similar way in due course.

I have merely called for an investigation and not sought to specify how this should be carried out. There seem to be two main possibilities (a) to use an existing committee, such as 'Methods' or (b) to set up a special committee. This would seem to be a good case for the latter and it might well be the finding of a suitable convener with power to enlist assistants would be the most effective way of doing the job.—Yours faithfully,

DENIS A. BAYLES.

PUTNEY WEEK-END, 1964

An assortment of ringers converged on King's Lynn on Friday, April 3rd, in three cars and a minibus to start another Putney week-end tour. The prospects were not very good when we set out from King's Lynn, our base, on the Saturday morning, and at Terrington St. Clement, the first tower, there was a small gale blowing. After an enjoyable ring here we went on to Long Sutton (a fine eight), being held up by a ship at Sutton Bridge.

The tower at Tydd St. Giles (6) stands some 40 feet away from the church, having been moved because of a subsidence. The pleasant six of Wisbech St. Mary's preceded dinner. Downham Market's 8 proved to be a pleasant ring. On to Watlington (6), another ground-floor ring, and then to the much awaited six at St. Mary the Virgin's, Wiggenshall, reputed to be unringable. We got them up and indeed there were some rounds in between bells dropping but the final verdict was unringable for changes. St. Mary Magdalen's, by contrast, were a very good six recast in 1952. Finally a visit to Waywood (another 6) brought us back to King's Lynn. During the evening we enjoyed a friendly practice and some good ringing on the melodious ten of St. Margaret's Parish Church.

Leaving King's Lynn homeward bound we called at Swaffham, where we rang the fine eight from the gallery. After a most enjoyable lunch at Bury St. Edmunds those who could still move made their way to the Cathedral, where some good ringing was had on the 30 cwt. ten. On then to Burwell (another good eight) before having tea in Cambridge, the last tower contained the fine new eight at Trumpington.

Our thanks to all who made us welcome and allowed us to ring. C. F. M.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Before ringing could commence on the pleasant but heavy six at Blunham, when the Biggleswade District met there on April 11th, all the ropes had to be taken up considerably. Despite this delay and the rather poor attendance the bells were put to good use during the afternoon, with Mr. B. Sims as Ringing Master.

Eighteen ringers then adjourned to the Village Hall, where they enjoyed an excellent tea prepared by the local ladies. The Vicar took the chair at the short business meeting which followed, when a collection was made towards the cost of the printing block for the new certificates of membership. Several visitors in the evening widened the variety of methods rung. A. R. A.

FIRST 12-BELL PEAL FOR TRURO GUILD

The Truro Diocesan Guild was founded in 1897, but it was not until August, 1907, that the first peal was rung for the Guild and that was in Devonshire at Emmanuel, Plymouth, by a band of life members, conducted by the late Harry Myers. This band wanted to forestall the late Rev. F. E. Robinson's touring party which visited Cornwall in the same year and rang the first peal in the county for the Guild at Kenwyn in the October. This was a peal of Superlative, conducted by the late George Williams.

The diocese of Truro covers the whole of the county of Cornwall with three parishes in Devonshire—Werrington (8), North Petherwin (6) and St. Giles-in-the-Heath (5), but few peals for the Guild have been rung outside the diocese. On the other hand, Devon Guild members have more often crossed the border and rung a peal for their Guild in Cornwall. In 1913 the late William Pye visited Cornwall and rang five peals but he credited these to the Devon Guild, which may well have been his answer to the fact that he was only allowed to ring for three-quarters of an hour at Truro Cathedral. He then had to wait 25 years for a peal at Truro when he conducted one of Cambridge Royal in 1938, but on his way down he had already rung the first peal of Cambridge Royal for the Guild at Yeovil, no doubt allowing for any mishap at Truro.

For a long time resident members of the Guild have cherished the idea of ringing a 12-bell peal, and the possibility seemed nearer some five years ago when it became known that there was a scheme for a tower and a ring of 12 at Newquay. At the moment this seems as far away as ever.

Two years ago permission was given for an attempt at Buckfast Abbey and as the date drew nearer it was decided to attempt Grand-sire Cinques and a band was got together. One or two who were invited were very modest and considered they had not had enough 12-bell practice, but some life members very kindly helped and the peal was rung with surprising ease. The Truro Guild is grateful to Devonshire for providing the opportunity. Special thanks are due to Mr. Aubrey Bennett, who made contact with the Abbey authorities, and he was there with Father Paulinus to give a welcome and to see that all was in order. It was certainly a privilege and joy to all who took part to set up yet another milestone for the Truro Guild on such a glorious ring of bells.

UNIVERSITY OF BRISTOL SOCIETY ATTEMPT

The attempt at a long length of Grandsire Caters at Loughborough on April 11th was very short lived. The ringing stopped after 1 hour 27 minutes when one of the band became indisposed. Since there was no reserve to hand at that time it was decided not to restart the attempt.

Mr. Patrick J. Bird writes: 'We are extremely grateful to J. Taylor and Co. for the use of the bells, and to Maurice Hughes, Peter Bennett, David Marshall and Arthur Wright, who kindly acted as umpires.'

Technical Literature—Continued from page 1, originally hoped to publish all the ones with more than one double change per half-lead, but when we found that there are at least 25,000 of them in addition to the ones which we did in fact publish it was quite out of the question to publish them all. There must be many more wrong place methods than there are right, so one could not hope to sell a list of all of them at an economical price.

One solution to this problem would not be too difficult to put into practice. A limited number of tabulations of both the above classes of method (including falseness) could be made and sold at cost to the various Association libraries. The lists would then be available to anyone who wanted to inspect them and there would be no financial risk to the compilers. We would merely need to know which Associations would be prepared to pay something like £1 for a copy. I do not propose to do anything about this at the moment, but if there is sufficient favourable comment and interest then we can certainly go ahead.

BATH & WELLS A.G.M. : GREATER INTEREST IN RINGING

THE 74th annual meeting of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association took place at Minchew on Easter Monday. Ringers from all parts of the Diocese gathered in the Parish Church for the service conducted by the Master of the Association, the Rev. H. F. Warren. The lesson was read by Mr. Christopher Hopkins, a ringer and student at Wells Theological College.

After lunch, taken at the Dorrien Restaurant, the meeting took place in the Parish Hall. This was opened with prayer and the Master asked members to stand in memory of the following who had passed away during the year—Preb. C. S. L. Alford, Mrs. E. Knight, Messrs. F. C. Andrews, F. Bond, W. Dunkerton, H. Griffin, R. Higgins, D. Loxton, T. Mogg, S. Pyne, C. Webb and A. J. Whitehead. Apologies for absence were received from the president, Miss N. G. Williams, the Rev. F. Bennett, Messrs. P. Field and D. Yeo. Visitors were welcomed from Gloucester, Middlesex and Hampshire.

In presenting his report the Master said that, because of the bad weather and clashing of meeting dates, he had only been able to visit six Branches during the year. He had seen enough, however, to know that the Association was going forward steadily.

He told the meeting that he had been privileged to address the Diocesan Conference on the work of the Association. His remarks had created a great deal of interest and had resulted in numerous inquiries both in ringing and in the care of bells. He was most grateful to the Lord Bishop for giving him this opportunity.

The Master referred to the volume of work now being undertaken by the Diocesan Adviser on the Care of Bells, Mr. H. J. Sanger. He felt that the time was coming when the Association would have to expand this service. Inquiries were also being received concerning the noisiness of bells. Mr. Warren said that although our instinctive reaction was to say that the bells had been ringing in that way for 300 years they must realise that much can be done to overcome the problem and ringers should be the first to come forward with constructive ideas.

191 TOWERS AFFILIATED

The secretary, Mr. G. Salmon, reported a performing membership of 1,692, a drop of 39 on the previous year. This was disappointing but, on the brighter side, he was pleased to note that 191 towers were now affiliated through their Parochial Church Councils.

Mr. Salmon referred to the departure from Somerset of Mr. P. C. Wright, the peal secretary. He recalled that Mr. Wright had had a most exacting period in office and had written up all the peals rung for the Association prior to 1902. This work had involved considerable research, mostly undertaken by Mr. Sanger, and he was sure that the Association were most grateful to these two officers for giving them such an interesting insight to its early history.

Instruction under the affiliation scheme was continuing and beginning to show the results of many hours patiently spent, some hands having reached the quarter peal stage. In discussing striking, the secretary said that he had noticed a falling off in the standard of service touches, particularly at Branch meetings. He felt that this touch should be of the highest possible standard and that, as it should be an example to young ringers, the Ringing Master should nominate a band that he knew would ring really well. It should certainly not be treated too lightly.

FINANCES ENCOURAGING

In presenting the balance sheet the treasurer, Mr. E. Naylor, reported an increase of £8 on the General Fund. This was due mainly to a large number of non-resident life members being elected in 1963, but he warned the meeting that this would probably be offset by the cost of printing the annual report. A badge piercing tool had been purchased for £27 10s. and £15 18s. had been paid to 'The Ringing World' as half of the peal booking fees received during the year.

Affiliation fees transferred to the Bell Fund totalled £130. Grants from this fund amounted to £75 and were made to six towers, the following having benefited: Watchet £42, Cossington £15 15s., Nailsea £10 10s., Frome £3 3s., Weston Zoyland £2 2s. and Worle £2 2s.

The balance on the General Fund was £229 and that on the Bell Fund £225. The approximate value of investments was £315.

Mr. H. J. Sanger, the Diocesan Adviser on the Care of Bells, told the meeting that he had visited 19 towers in 1963. He gave a comprehensive report on his year's work and also reported the progress of restoration work carried out in towers that he had helped previously. Mr. Sanger was very pleased to say that he had been consulted by one architect in connection with the Quinquennial Surveys at several towers. It seemed that few architects were conversant with the mechanics of bells and the recognition of the Association's services in this respect was an important step forward. Obviously many towers and belfries had been overlooked by these surveys in the past and in developing this theme Mr. Sanger dwelt at length on general maintenance in the belfry.

91 PEALS

The peal secretary, Mr. P. C. Wright, spoke of the 91 peals rung for the Association during the year. Of these, 30 were rung by visiting hands but he was delighted to be able to say that resident bands had recorded 10 methods rung for the Association for the first time. The leading peal ringers were Mr. E. Skipsey with 13 and Mr. D. J. Hunt and Mr. V. G. Roberts with 12 each. Mr. Hunt, who had conducted six of his peals, was also the leading conductor.

Mr. Wright asked members to be a little more discerning in their footnotes to peals. 'It was one thing for a village band to honour a local resident but quite another for a typical peal band to ring for something none of them knew anything about or troubled about afterwards. Trivial and badly judged reasons can only make a mockery of the whole thing and can easily bring peal ringing into disrepute.'

In closing his remarks Mr. Wright said how sorry he was to leave Somerset and thanked all concerned for the wonderful years he had spent there.

On the proposition of Mr. S. G. Coles, seconded by Mr. W. A. J. Knight, the reports were adopted en bloc.

The meeting then passed to the election of officers and the following were re-elected for the ensuing year: Master, The Rev. H. F. Warren; secretary, Mr. G. Salmon; treasurer, Mr. E. Naylor; Diocesan Adviser on the Care of Bells, Mr. H. J. Sanger; auditor, Mr. D. E. Lee. Mr. G. W. Massey, Parbury Bungalow, Vallis Road, Frome, was elected as peal secretary.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP FOR MR. KNIGHT

The Master expressed his great pleasure in announcing the election of Mr. H. W. Knight, of Wington, as an honorary life member. Mr. Knight had been chairman and Ringing Master of the Chew Branch for many years and still served the Association in those capacities.

The Dunster Branch asked if the subscription of members who had reached retiring age and who had completed 25 years' membership of the Association could be waived. After discussion, in which members remarked on these senior ringers' likely reaction and the possible effect on the balance sheet, it was decided that this was a problem that could be tactfully solved by the local band.

Mr. Sanger, as convener of the Central Council Broadcasting Committee, was asked why the B.B.C. had apparently dropped from the 'Radio Times' almost all references to bells being rung for services. In replying, Mr. Sanger spoke of a change of policy by the B.B.C. in that they were concentrating more on religious discussions than on actual services. Also, many of the services that were being broadcast were relayed to the West from other regions.

SILENT TOWERS

Mr. Brain commented on the number of towers that were silent on Sundays. He appreciated the work that the Association was doing in this field but wondered if the seeking out of these towers could be undertaken at Branch level. He considered that meetings could be held at towers that were not affiliated and also that periodical visits could be made by hands to ring for Sunday services. His remarks were generally endorsed by members and the Master asked all Branch secretaries to take note.

Mr. S. G. Coles proposed, and Mr. D. Burt seconded, that the general secretary be given an honorarium of £15. Mr. E. Chivers proposed that the Central Council representatives be given a grant of £20. This was seconded by Mr. G. Jeannes and both propositions were carried.

In conclusion, Mr. Coles thanked the Rev. F. Bennett for allowing the Association the use of his bells and church, the organist, the Master for the able way in which he had conducted the meeting, Mr. W. Middleton who had made all the local arrangements, and finally the incumbents and tower correspondents who had made so many rings of bells available.

BELLS COMMEMORATE END OF A RAILWAY LINE

On April 4th the last passenger train left Melton Constable to run along the 10-mile line to Sheringham. The closure of this single-line branch has marked the end of Melton as a passenger station. Once the hub of the Midland and Great Northern Railway, with lines radiating in four directions and trains running to Yarmouth, Norwich, Derby, Leicester and Birmingham, Melton has become during the last ten years a vast 'ghost' station and the closure of the Sheringham line has ended its last passenger service.

This sad event was commemorated by a quarter peal rung in the waiting room on the last day of the service. The melodious sounds of Bob Doubles drew the attention of the local British Railways area supervisor during the last 120. After breathing down the necks of 3-4 and 5-6 for the last five minutes of the quarter he told the band that he had been attracted by the rhythmic pattern of the ringing and congratulated them on a fine effort. Two of the ringers had scored their first quarter peal (in a unique place, one would imagine!).

After ringing, the band boarded the last passenger train ever to leave Melton Constable, which pulled out to the popping of flash-bulbs, the banging of detonators and the sounds of Bob Doubles.

50 YEARS AGO

'THE RINGING WORLD,' APRIL 17th, 1914

Four Surprise Peals in a Day.—When, some years ago, the St. Stephen's, Westminster, Society rang three Surprise peals in a day, it was thought that the last word had been said in what could be done in regard to the number of 5,000's that could be rung in one day. But that idea proved a fiction, and last Easter a Kentish hand rang four 5,000's of Minor in a day. It has been left, however, for a band of the Middlesex Association to score the first four peals in one day upon a ring of eight, and they did it in as complete a manner possible by ringing them in four different methods. (And four different towers.)

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

At the quarterly meeting of the Tonbridge District at Edenbridge on April 4th an effort to help struggling bands was arranged in that more experienced ringers would attend these local practices to give instruction and stimulate interest. The Rev. Stanley Evans, of Bredgar, conducted the service, at which the choir rendered an Easter anthem. Tea was given by the Edenbridge band, headed by Mr. E. C. Leigh. Plenty of opportunity for learners and beginners was a feature of the ringing.

STARTING THE BEGINNER—GRANDSIRE OR PLAIN BOB?

Dear Sir,—Mr. Frank Knight's letter about Grandsire v. Plain Bob raises a question which is something of an old chestnut, but it is one which deserves consideration and discussion. I must admit to being one of those who has frequently referred to Grandsire as a 'dead-end' method, and I firmly believe it to be so; the method has its points, especially musically (Grandsire Caters is generally accepted as producing some of the finest bell music there is) but its value as a method for introducing beginners to change ringing is infinitesimal.

Grandsire's 'backwards' dodging, at back stroke and hand stroke instead of at hand and back, is very confusing until it is fully understood; and once understood, the more normal system of dodging, as found in the vast majority of the more advanced methods, becomes extremely difficult to grasp. Grandsire Doubles can lead on to Triples, then possibly to Stedman and one or two other odd-bell methods, but otherwise it leads nowhere.

Contrast this with the system advocated in 'Ropesight'—surely one of the greatest text books on change ringing in its elementary stages ever written. (The system, incidentally, which the late Mr. E. H. Lewis used in training his pre-war band at Brasted.) It begins with plain hunting on three bells, then on four; on to Bob Minimus; then to plain hunting on five and Bob Doubles; finally on to plain hunting on six and Bob Minor. Once Bob Minor has been grasped, the way is open to go on to Kent and Oxford and more advanced Treble Bob methods, then on to Surplice methods.

Advancing to the higher numbers involves learning the more complicated ropesight involved, but the principle remains the same. Mrs. Lewis's Brasted band advanced very rapidly by this system, 720's in a wide variety of methods being rung regularly both on Sundays and practice nights; most of us eventually learned Grandsire, and later other purely odd-bell methods—though not in our own tower, as the method was never rung there—but not until we had had a sound grounding in a really progressive method of training.

I am well aware that many towers have one or two older ringers who can only ring the tenor as a covering bell (and wonderful service to their towers is rendered by these same older ringers) in addition to younger ringers anxious to progress. If Bob Doubles and Triples are rung instead of Grandsire, these younger ringers will then be in a position, when the time comes, to progress to Minor and Major methods, by the simple process of replacing the 'four blows behind' by dodging in 5-6 and 7-8 respectively.

It is a matter of regret that 'Ropesight' appears to be out of print at present as, in my humble opinion, the system which Snowden advocates is by far the most satisfactory and progressive system of training more young ringers for our towers.—Yours sincerely,

PETER N. BOND (Rev.)

Gillingham, Kent.

Mr. Harry King, of North Weald, Essex, also writes advocating starting with Bob Doubles. He writes that many years ago he told Mr. George Dent, of Potters Bar, of his difficulty in teaching change ringing by Grandsire Doubles. Mr. Dent said: 'Why not try Plain Bob? They will learn that quicker and in no time go on to Minor. If you teach Grandsire Doubles you have nowhere to go very easily from there.' Mr. King adds that he took the advice and in no time his learners were ringing Bob Minor.

Dear Sir,—Grandsire or Plain Bob for the beginner? That is a question that is often asked and I think that it stems in part from ringing text books which deal with these methods in separate chapters and so tend to obscure the close relationship that exists between Grandsire and Plain Bob. My answer is Grandsire and Plain Bob in the way that I describe below.

After teaching beginners to ring Plain Bob Minor 'inside,' for Grandsire Triples I simply tell them to use the same rules modified to accommodate another bell plain hunting after the treble. This delays the making of the internal place and the consequent dodging for one blow and so everything has to be pushed up one place higher. It must, of course, be pointed out that this postponement of dodging from the backstroke lead of the treble until the handstroke after the treble's lead means that the first dodge will occur immediately on starting in Grandsire. It also means that the cutting in is at handstroke on up dodges in Grandsire as against backstroke in Plain Bob and so on. The rules and their modifications are outlined below:

	Plain Bob Minor		Grandsire Triples
	2nd's	becomes	3rd's
Course	↓		↓
	3.4 down	becomes	4.5 down
Method	↓		↓
	5.6 down	becomes	6.7 down, etc
Passing the Treble
Treble takes one from the lead	2nd's	becomes	3rd's
Pass treble in 2.3 up	3.4 up	becomes	4.5 up
Pass treble in 3.4 up	5.6 up	becomes	6.7 up, etc.

This is no mere theoretical relationship. It works in practice and I have had several ringers who have rung their first course of Grandsire Triples after this explanation without any prolonged study of the method—some had not even seen it. I see no reason why Grandsire Doubles should not be rung in a similar fashion by modifying the rules for Plain Bob Minimus.

I may add that this treatment may be applied to several Minor methods to give Triples methods with two hunts. St. Clement's and Oxford Bob are quite simple examples and, as plain courses of these may be rung with only five inside ringers, these are often useful for obtaining some variations when resources are limited.

Perhaps one day these thoughts and others may crystallise into a ringing text book which does not devote separate chapters to individual methods. I made a modest start recently for our latest ringing course at Lumley Castle and I hope to extend this. In the meanwhile I hope that Mr. Knight will continue his policy of initiating his recruits on Plain Bob and I hope that he will try out these suggestions to enable them to take in Grandsire as well.—Yours sincerely,

DENIS A. BAYLES.

Ipswich Bell Foundry

Dear Sir,—Concerning my article dealing with Alfred Bowell and Ipswich Bell Foundry, one error occurred in which it was stated six bells at Maldon were tuned by Mr. F. Bowell. It should have read: The complete eight were tuned by this gentleman.—Yours, etc.,

March.

T. A. BEVIS.

Grandsire not Dead-end

Dear Sir,—In reply to Mr. F. C. W. Knight's letter (page 220), may I, as a comparative beginner, voice my opinion?

My first experience of change ringing, other than plain hunting, was a plain course of Grandsire Doubles 'inside.' Having learned how to plain hunt, I could clearly understand what two of the other bells were doing. This made it much easier for me to see which bell to dodge with, for by eliminating the hunt bells there were only two others left.

When, however, I came to ring a plain course of Bob Doubles, I only knew what one other bell was doing, namely, the treble. This left me with three bells to choose from when I had to dodge, and may I say that in those early stages one more bell to watch makes more difference than some ringers would imagine.

Personally I do not agree with the people who consider Grandsire to be a dead-end method; for me, it has helped a lot to know how to ring it for, although it may not have as much use in learning other methods as has Plain Bob, for me the fact that I learned it quickly encouraged me to go on and learn other methods. If it had been Plain Bob first I might have been easily discouraged through taking longer to learn how to ring it.

May I stress that this is only a personal opinion. I quite agree that other ringers would not have found Grandsire easier, for the same reason as I have given.—Yours faithfully, ANNE M. SMITH.

Felpham, Bognor Regis.

Tenor Ringing

Dear Sir,—I have long admired the style and ability of Mr. Harry Mann, having rung with him many times. Other men I can quote are: Fred Hodgson (Liversedge), Edward Earnshaw (Meltham), Noel Moxon (Cawthorne), Alfred Bennett and Joe Burgess (Friezland), Andrew Hoyle (Shelley), Arnold Rothery (Longwood) and many more.

All these men make music when they are ringing, without the necessity of moving their hands, or bobbing up and down like yo-yo's.

Ringling bells at the fastest speed possible, with the tenor halfway down, just creates a noisy tintinnabulation instead of music.

On many ringing trips to towers where closed lead ringing is unknown, the usual remark passed by the local people is 'We have never heard so much music come from these bells before.' How many of the other letter writers have heard this remark made of their ringing? Very few, I expect.—Yours faithfully,

ARTHUR FARRAND.

Bell Ropes on Loan

Dear Sir.—I wonder if the writer whose bell ropes have failed to come home has asked for their return? So many people nowadays lend a thing and because it is not returned begin to think of all the difficult methods of recapture—such as going to the police or writing to the 'agony' column for advice or seeking legal advice. There is no evidence in his letter to suggest that he has even so much as written to the borrower or seen him personally about the ropes and my advice is, if he has not done this already—do it now!

If he has in fact done this but without success, then I suggest that he goes along to the place where his ropes are and simply retakes them for himself. Of course, he must be careful to get his own ropes and no one else's. Furthermore, he must not do any damage on the premises—no 'writing on the wall' or sabotage and the like, otherwise his entry on to the premises would be unlawful and he might be faced with an action for trespass.

If all this fails and the borrower still refuses to give up the ropes, then I suggest the writer sees a solicitor who will probably advise an action in either conversion or debt. Both the actions cover this situation where there has been a wrongful detention of another person's chattel. Whatever debt lies so does conversion but the results of the two actions are different. If the writer seeks merely the return of the ropes and not damages he must sue in debt alone, whereas if he sues in conversion a conversion and debt, the borrower would have the option to return the ropes or pay damages. Also if the value of the goods is decreasing, as would be the case with bell ropes which deteriorate with use, the writer would get damages, in debt, to the value of the goods as at the date of the trial, compared with conversion where damages would be assessed as at the date of the actual conversion, and in some cases the difference between the two can be quite substantial.

Let me say, however, I feel sure the writer's problem can be settled quite amicably without having to resort to legal remedies. Indeed, if the borrower has a conscience and reads the 'Ringing World,' then I feel sure the bell ropes will come home 'wagging their tail ends' behind them.—Yours faithfully,

MICHAEL R. MEADOWS.

Wentworth, Yorks.

Highclere's Sunday Ringing

Dear Sir.—At the annual vestry meeting of St. Michael's Church, Highclere, the Rector asked how many churches in the country had bells rung for the early Communion service as well as matins and evensong.

He congratulated the team on keeping this up throughout the year as well as additional ringing on the first Sunday in the month for family service, making this four services rung for on this day.

Are there any other churches that ring for three services each Sunday? If so the Highclere band would like to know of them.—Yours sincerely,

G. K. DODD.

Woolton Hill, near Newbury.

The Brotherhood of Ringers

Dear Sir.—Mr. Uphill on page 236 writes from Isleworth, Middlesex. Possibly he composed his letter on a bus passing through Isleworth, but I have it on good authority that he lives in Putney, and he certainly has no connection with the Isleworth band.

As for the content of his letter I only ask him to practise what he preaches. For words expressed by him in my hearing recently showed anything but a feeling for 'the brotherhood of ringers.'—Yours sincerely,

C. H. ROGERS.

Isleworth, Middx.

Methods H and M

Incidence of Falseness

Dear Sir.—We should like to apologise for the delay in publishing Volume II of the Collection of Right Place Surprise Major methods, dealing with the Incidence of Falseness. The delay has been due to a number of setbacks, in particular the fact that the computer has been out of order for some time. However, a limited edition has been made and is available now at 12/6 per copy (post free), but for those who have already paid, no further remittance will be necessary.

Maurice Hodgson's approach has been used throughout the treatment of falseness, and the work includes the following sections:

- (1) Falseness of the methods in Volume I, together with lead incidence.
- (2) A complete table of Maurice Hodgson Ratios, each one identified with its falseness group and lead incidence.
- (3) A detailed analysis and tables for the falseness of spliced methods.

Section 2 makes it possible to find the falseness of any Surprise or Treble Bob method, right or wrong place, together with its lead incidence, in little more than the time it takes to write down the first half lead, and Section 3 makes the same thing possible for any number of any type of Treble Bob or Surprise methods spliced.—Yours sincerely,

A. S. HUDSON, J. W. McCLENAHAN.
Christ's College, Cambridge.

College Youths and Washington

Dear Sir.—Whilst I have no doubt that the ten ringers chosen to visit Washington will form quite an adequate band and that they will leave this country with the very best wishes from the whole of the Exercise, I am also not convinced they form a truly representative band of English ringers because, as previous correspondents have indicated, there are certain obvious omissions. Harry Parkes must feel the most honoured of the band by reason of the special request from Washington Cathedral.

May I express the hope that all the ringing during the trip will be regarded or represented as having been done by the bellringers from Great Britain, as distinct from having been done by members of any particular Society, because it would be well to remember that the appeal for money was directed to every ringer in this country and it resulted in a general response.—Yours faithfully, T. J. LOCK.

North Mimms.

Mr. Amos Corrects!

Dear Sir.—I cannot let the letter of Mr. David Walklate (page 236) pass unchallenged.

St. Simon's with a New Antelope single is not Doveridge but St. Jude; St. Martin's with a New Antelope single is not Elton but St. Laurence; St. Nicholas with a New Antelope single is not Winster but St. Mary.

Chelmont should read St. Crispin; Heath should read St. Cecelia; Shirland should read St. Austell; Pleasley should read St. James.

All these and others besides have been rung by members of the Leicester Diocesan Guild as well as the Peterborough Guild and we do not intend altering them.—Yours sincerely, Northampton.

P. AMOS.

NOTE.—The Editor takes exception to being classed as a 'toffee nosed bureaucrat,' and confines the writer's observations to corrections in view of accuracy.—Fd.

First to Ring for Royal Birth

Dear Sir.—We were interested to read the letter of Mr. Hughes, of Welford-on-Avon. Had the Vicar been at home, Mapledurham bells would have been ringing in as little as three minutes from the announcement as five boys were together in the house next to the vicarage. Unfortunately it was an hour before the Vicar returned to find the boys waiting outside his door. The bells were rung at once.—Yours faithfully, MAPLEDURHAM RINGERS.

Reading, Berks.

MORE BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. E. Ward, of Sandon, Herts. has found a new rope in a cupboard, date 1898. Is this the oldest rope in existence?

Opportunity will be taken at the meeting of the Devonshire Guild at Bampton Speke on May 9th to rededicate the bells, which were recently rehung.

The first peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major for the Southern District of the Surrey Association was rung at Redhill on April 4th.

Mr. P. I. Chapman is giving up the Mastership of the Peterborough Guild next month, after six years' service.

Mr. Joe E. Roast announces that he has withdrawn the peal of Fobbing Surprise Major rung at Fobbing on January 18th, 1964, as the composition is false. He sends his apologies to the band concerned.

May we remind 'a Beverley Minster ringer' and others who write under noms-de-plume, that we cannot entertain their letters, especially when they contain a personal criticism, without the name and address of the sender (not necessarily for publication).

Mr. E. Hotine writes expressing thanks to Mr. Robert E. Lester for arranging a most successful and enjoyable outing on Easter Monday. Morning ringing, the better, was at Watlington. Terrington St. Clement and Long Sutton. Afterwards came Gedney, Whaplode, the four Deepings and Croyland.

In honour of Mr. George W. Pipe, of Ipswich, being selected in the band to ring for the dedication of the Gloria in Excelsis Cathedral, Washington, the East Anglian News took shots of ringing at St. Mary-le-Tower Church. These will appear on the B.B.C. television programme at 6.10 p.m. on Thursday, April 30th.

Scene outside Holy Trinity, West Hill, Wandsworth, on April 4th, at midday. A gathering of about 30 complaining people. Reason? First peal on the bells since the Coronation peal in 1953. Fortunately there were no bricks through the windows, and everybody got out alive. A pleasant surprise?

Cuckfield, Sussex, ringers were very heartened to receive the news that a quarter peal had been rung at Kent School, Connecticut, U.S.A. The conductor was David Kirkpatrick, the son of Dr. John Kirkpatrick, who visited the Cuckfield tower last summer and also four years previously. Change ringing was originally introduced to Kent School by Isaac Attwaer, who learned to ring at Cuckfield.

Yet another School Society has rung a peal, with one of Plain Bob Minor by the Ashton-under-Lyne Grammar School Society. The peal was conducted by Sixth Former Frederick Shalleross, who rang in the extent of Major at Loughborough last year, and included in the band was a member of the staff, Mr. J. P. Partington, who is ringing secretary of the Lancashire Association. It was Margaret Humphrey's first attempt for a peal and she rang a tricky bell very well.

Sixteen-year-old Miss Julie A. V. Caligari, of St. Margaret's, Wellington, Herefordshire, has good reason for remembering her Easter holidays. On March 31st she rang the treble at her first attempt to Bob Minor, scoring her first peal. Two days later she attempted Bob Minor 'inside' but was not successful. From April 3rd to 5th she attended the course at Hereford Training College, and on April 9th she scored her first peal of Bob Minor 'inside.' Julie's enthusiasm, which is shared by the remaining young band at St. Margaret's, is making her one of the 'up and coming youngsters' of the Hereford Diocesan Guild.

In honour of Mr. Bernard F. L. Groves' 21st birthday a quarter peal of Stedman Caters was rung at Maidstone on April 16th. Following the quarter and the arrival of more local ringers, Mr. L. Mannerling (captain) paid a very warm tribute to Bernard, for the valuable service he had given to local ringing during the past four years. He congratulated him on his 21st and, with great pleasure, presented him with a wrist watch, from the All Saints' band and a few of his peal ringing friends. Bernard, taken by surprise, thanked the company, very much for their wishes and he accepted the gift with great pleasure.

Derby Offer Better Terms to Non-residents

FOR the second year running there was a record attendance of over 80 when the 18th annual meeting of the Derby Diocesan Association was held in Derby on April 4th. Prior to the annual service in St. Peter's, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. A. Shaw), ringing took place at St. Peter's, St. Alkmund's and the Cathedral in addition to Ripley and Horsley, which were visited by a coach party from the Chesterfield District.

After an excellent tea in the Church Hall, the business meeting commenced with the Association's president, the Provost of Derby (the Very Rev. R. A. Beddoes) in the chair. In his opening remarks he congratulated the Association on another year of progress and also made special mention of the large number of young people present, which augured well for the future.

Only one apology for absence was received—from Mr. A. Laughton, who was attending a ringing course at Hereford. A record membership of almost 400—379 ringing and 17 honorary members—was reported by the general secretary, Mr. B. P. Morris, who was also pleased to state that Sunday service ringing now took place at most of the churches in the Diocese which possess bells in ringing order. Losses through death included the following members: Messrs. L. G. Palmer (Staveley), N. Hotchin (Darley Dale) and J. F. George (Ilkeston). Amongst the national figures tributes were also paid to Messrs. E. H. Lewis and D. Ogden.

PEAL RINGING HEALTHY

The report of the peal secretary (Mr. D. R. Carlisle) showed the total of 61 peals rung during 1963 to be quite a healthy one, particularly as this total had not been augmented by any peal-touring hands. Ian Holland, of Dronfield, was the leading peal ringer with a total of 22 peals and was also the leading conductor jointly with Brian Woodruffe, who received special congratulations for participating in the extent of Major.

New records for the Association included the first of London Royal and the 16-Spliced Surprise Major, in addition to which a large number of 10-bell peals had been scored and the total of seven peals of Triples was the highest in any one year for the Association. Fifteen members had scored their first peal, with the conducting having been shared by 19, with one first as conductor.

In presenting the balance sheet the general treasurer, Mr. J. C. Woolley, was pleased to report that the previous year's loss of £16 had been converted into a profit of £1. However, he warned members that whereas expenses had increased by over £10, ringing subscriptions, which were the only guaranteed source of income, had only increased by just over £3. Although this deficit had been adequately covered by the voluntary donations, which had exceeded £7, Mr. Woolley urged members to keep supporting this new rule with regard to subscriptions as he could not envisage any substantial reduction in expenses.

A balance of over £200 was reported by the treasurer of the Bell Repair Fund (Mr. J. B. Stennitt), who was also pleased to report that the number of Parochial Church Councils contributing to the Fund had increased from 58 to 72 during 1963. Technical help and advice had been given to Ashover, Etwall, Long Eaton, Stanton-in-the-Peak, Ripley, Denby, St. Alkmund's (Derby), Hathersage and Bakewell, grants having been made so far to Boleover (£20), St. Alkmund's (£4) and Long Eaton (£1).

NON-RESIDENT MEMBERS' REDUCED SUBSCRIPTIONS

After the various reports and balance sheet had been adopted, with thanks to all concerned, the peal secretary (Mr. Carlisle) put forward his proposition to reduce the subscriptions of non-resident life members. The cost, he explained, of printing peals in the annual report was approximately one shilling for each name and that was the peal fee of the Association. Then each year a non-resident member rings a peal for the Association, there is an additional expense, as his name, address and peal total are published also.

This further cost, however, is on average adequately covered by a life subscription of 2/6, and as a result they were being subsidised by visiting peal ringers, a fact which he deplored. Agreeing with Mr. Carlisle, the Provost said he thought it would be a step in the right direction, as he felt sure the Exercise existed far more on courtesy and encouragement than on subscriptions. On being put to the vote the motion was carried by a substantial majority.

After some discussion a grant of £5 made to the Washington National Cathedral Appeal by the committee was approved. Judith Allan, Robert Reid and Alan Scape (Duffield) were elected new members and a collection for the Bell Repair Fund realised £4 3s.

Officers re-elected en bloc were: President, the Very Rev. R. A. Beddoes (Provost of Derby); secretary, Mr. B. P. Morris, Gable End, 14, Greenway, Ashbourne; treasurer, Mr. J. C. Woolley; peal secretary, Mr. D. R. Carlisle; secretary Bell Repair Fund, Mr. G. A. Halls; treasurer, Mr. J. B. Stennitt. Votes of thanks concluded the meeting.

Next quarterly meeting: July 4th, Fairfield (subject to permission). M. P. P.

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

The Lord Abbot of Buckfast was invited to become an honorary member of the Mid-Devon Branch at a well-attended quarterly meeting at Teignmouth on April 4th.

Mrs. D. E. Hood, chairman, voiced the thanks of the meeting to the Vicar (the Rev. D. E. Hood) for conducting the service, and the ladies who provided a bountiful tea for a company of 45. Mr. E. M. Atkins, general secretary, was welcomed after his long illness and it was stated that he was retiring from office and that Mr. D. J. Roberts, branch secretary, had been nominated. Ringing was supervised by Mr. W. Simmonds.

Next meeting: July 25th, Teign Valley, with Christow as headquarters (subject to permission). Autumn meeting: Buckfast Abbey, September 19th, with a service in the Abbey if possible.

OUTING

TWERTON-ON-AVON

Joined by friends from Corston, Batheaston and Keynsham, Twerton ringers had a day's outing in Wiltshire on March 7th, ringing at nine towers.

There was a lesson from the first tower—Sutton Veny—where it was found that three bells were up and the other three down. 'Be sure and check each bell' should be the first motto when entering a belfry. The five bells at Norton Bavant, a ground-floor ring, are seldom rung, but the frame and fittings are in good order.

At Heytesbury we were met by the tower captain. The bells are a lovely ring (tenor 20 cwt.). Boyton's is a marvellous church, in excellent condition, and its history was told by the Rector. The bells, a lovely little five, are rung from the church porch. They go well, but are chilly to ring, especially with the wind in the north. The tower captain and Rector met us at Codford St. Peter—pleasant bells.

A hearse had to be moved from the ringing chamber at Wylve before the five bells could be rung. Credit is due to the 13-year-olds who ring these bells.

From here some of the party preferred a long tea break while the others visited Stonehenge. After tea Shrewton was visited, where six bells tapped along at a merry pace, and finally Chitterne, where the five bells were restored by Mears and Stainbank in 1962, and one would have to go a long way to find better.

It is sad to think that not many of these bells are rung on a Sunday, but the idea of inviting the incumbent along to join in the prayers worked well, and from those we met they seemed thrilled to have been asked.

A. F. L.

SIMON LANGTON SCHOOL

The newly-formed band at the Simon Langton School, Canterbury, had its first outing on March 21st, when nine towers in the Romney Marsh area were scheduled for a ring. At New Romney, Doubles with 7 6 8 behind were rung for an otherwise bell-less wedding. The glorious eight at Lydd were much admired but the ropes at Appledore were like steel hawsers and did not improve the ringing. The highlight of the day was the heavy eight at Tenterden, and special thanks are accorded to Miss Relf and the local company. David Cawley and Karen Desch are thanked for organising the outing.

THE LADIES' GUILD

Eastern District

A paid-up membership of 42, with an average attendance of 16 at each of the three meetings, was reported at the annual general meeting of the Eastern District, held at Liss, on April 11th. The officers were re-elected but there were two committee changes.

In the evening ringing continued at Palgrave and ranged from rounds to Stedman and Yorkshire.

Next meeting, Kirby-le-Soken, June 27th (provisional).

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD A.G.M.

THE attendance at the 18th annual general meeting of the Southwell Diocesan Guild held at the Minster, Southwell, on April 4th, was again up to the high standard set last year, there being over 110 ringers and friends at the business meeting, nearly all of whom were residential members of the Guild.

During the afternoon and evening the 12 bells were put to good use, the Ringing Masters being hard pressed catering for such a large gathering. This and the fact that the majority of ringers were ringing on 12 bells for the first time probably accounted for the rather low standard of ringing.

Sung Evensong, led by the choir of St. Saviour's, Arkwright Street, Nottingham, was well attended, the lessons being read by Canon R. Leeper and the Provost, the Very Rev. H. C. L. Heywood, both vice-presidents of the Guild.

The business meeting, following a most enjoyable tea prepared and served by members and friends of the Newark District, was presided over by the Guild chairman, Mr. F. W. Midwinter.

LOSSES BY DEATH

A minute's silence was observed for ten members who had passed away during the past year, namely, Messrs. J. Baker (Rampton), D. A. Piercy (Ordsall), L. Bramble (Oxton), G. Simpson (Cotgrave), C. H. Chapman (Newark), Canon R. F. Wilkinson (West Bridgford), W. W. Dobb (Selston), the Rev. R. Lyne (South Anston), A. Hill (Shireoaks) and F. Pickard (Southwell).

The annual report having been in circulation for a fortnight, it was resolved to take all the reports as read, and these were confirmed without comment.

The Peal Committee reported that 67 peals had been rung during the year, an increase of 23, this being the best year for peals since 1958, when 74 were rung. Conductors numbered 19, a decrease of one, H. Poyner leading the list with 12, from F. G. Hooper 11 and W. L. Exton 10. There were three first peals as conductor, namely, C. R. Daft, H. K. Harrison and E. Jenkinson.

FIRST PEALERS—UNIQUE

First pealers numbered 28, the highest in the Guild's history, which together with the 15 last year and 16 the year before, should augur well for the future of the Guild. The list of first pealers included one father and daughter (T. Harrison and Miss J. Harrison), two fathers and sons (J. Dawson and G. A. Dawson, C. H. Pritchett and D. H. Pritchett) and two cousins (C. A. Parsons and D. D. Parsons). This occurrence in one year in ringing circles for one Guild is probably unique.

First peals on the bells have been scored at Gedling and Worksop (first since recasting) and the peal of Cambridge Minor at Nuthall was the first peal by all the band, who deserve to be heartily congratulated.

Five first performances for the Guild were recorded, namely, Lincolnshire, New Durham, Wembley, Zelah Surprise and Burslem Delight Major.

Ninety-five quarter peals were rung during the year and reported in 'The Ringing World,' the great majority of them were rung for Sunday service, Holme-Pierrepont heading the list with 25.

MEMBERSHIP 460

The honorary general secretary (Mr. W. L. Exton) in his report once again welcomed new towers and ringers, but, despite these, membership was down by eight to 460, this being counteracted to some extent by a reduction of three in the number of towers at which there are no members of the Guild from 28 to 25.

No restorations or augmentations had taken place during the year but a report by the local representative on the Towers and Belfry Committee of the Central Council had been supplied to the respective Vicars of two of the towers, All Saints', Coddington, and St. John the Baptist, Beeston, all members and vice-presidents being reminded that the Guild would on request examine their bells, frames and fittings, and supply a report on their conditions.

The five District secretaries' annual reports contained details of Sunday service ringing throughout their Districts. From these it would appear that over 35 per cent. of the towers rang out on Sundays for at least one service. While this was certainly an improvement, there was still a long way to go before all the bells in the towers were fully manned Sunday by Sunday.

The honorary treasurer's report and accounts revealed a small profit of £1 13s. 5d. on the year's working. The Bell Repair Fund stood at £106 13s. 3d., an increase of £7 8s. 10d., a donation of £20 having been made towards the cost of the rehanging of East Bridgford bells. The collection for the Bell Repair Fund taken at the meeting realised £3 11s. 8d.

All the retiring officers were thanked for their services and re-elected to serve for a further year.

AMENDMENT TO RULES

Two proposed amendments to the rules were then considered. The first, proposed by Mr. H. Poyner and seconded by the Rev. M. C. C. Melville, was to amend the word 'bell' to read 'ringer' in Rule 13. The proposal in effect was to reduce the peal fee payable by handbell ringers from 6d. per bell to 6d. per ringer. This was carried by 35 votes to 20.

The second concerned the place of the annual meeting, and the proposal to amend 'in the Districts in rotation with Southwell Minster every alternate year. The time and place to be fixed at the annual meeting' to read 'at Southwell Minster or at a place to be chosen at the previous annual meeting,' submitted by Mr. J. D. Clarke and seconded by Mr. J. W. Raithby, was defeated by a majority of 46 to 19.

Arising from the defeat of the above proposition, the place for the annual meeting in 1965 was chosen as East Retford, by a majority of 36 to 33, from Bingham.

Under the heading 'any other business,' Mr. J. W. Raithby submitted a proposition that the Crawford Cup Contest be discontinued. Mrs. C. W. Reed and Mr. J. D. Clarke speaking in favour. This was opposed by Mr. F. Bradley and Mr. H. T. Rooke, and the proposition was defeated, there being only 10 votes in favour of the motion.

The proposed new rules for the Crawford Cup competition, as amended by the committee, were read to the meeting and agreed with one small amendment. These rules will come into use from January 1st, 1965.

A comprehensive vote of thanks to the Provost for the use of the bells, and the ladies for an excellent tea, was moved by Mr. J. D. Clarke and carried unanimously. W. L. E.

SHEFFIELD AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

The April meeting of the Sheffield and District Society was held at Thrybergh and Wath. Ringing began at 2.30 p.m. at Thrybergh, and a good standard in a wide range of Minor methods was maintained. At 3.30 p.m. members moved to Wath, where ringing continued until tea at 5.30 p.m. During the meeting Mr. F. Brunt proposed that the good wishes of the meeting go with Mr. N. Chaddock on his visit to Washington. This was seconded and passed with applause. J. C.

BARNESLEY DISTRICT SOCIETY

Nineteen towers were represented at the Society's meeting at Sprothorough, near Doncaster, on April 12th. The Vicar, who presided at the business meeting, mentioned the association of the parish with Douglas Bader, the legless pilot, and how the parishioners had built their own church hall. Miss Christine Saville, of Cawthorne, said goodbye to the Society. She thanked them for the enjoyable times she had had with the members and had a special word of appreciation for Mr. Noel F. Moxon, who taught her to ring.

Next meeting: May 9th, outing to North-West Yorkshire (five towers).

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Frome Branch

Norton St. Philip, halfway between Frome and Bath, was the venue for the first quarterly meeting for 1964 of the Frome Branch on April 11th. An excellent touch of Stedman Doubles was rung for the service conducted by the Rector of Norton.

An excellent tea was enjoyed by 48 members and friends. The business meeting, under the chairmanship of the Rev. A. G. Durston, first stood in silence in respect of Mr. Jack Hillard, of Mells, who passed away on Good Friday, having been a member of the Association since 1908.

The chairman gave a special welcome to the general secretary, Mr. Gwilym Salmon. The meeting noted with some concern that there were no new names put forward for membership. The secretary, Mr. E. Chivers, complimented Mr. G. W. Massey, of Frome, on his being elected peal secretary for the Association.

Mr. D. Robertson proposed that some form of recognition of membership be made available for display in towers affiliated to the Association. After a discussion it was agreed to approach the general committee for their views. A vote was then taken to decide the location of next year's annual general meeting, on Easter Monday, in the Frome Branch. The majority chose Midsomer Norton, subject to catering facilities.

The vote of thanks, proposed by Mr. F. Savage, included Mr. R. Phelps for local arrangements.

Ringling on handbells and in the tower, which included London Surprise Minor, followed.

D. T. H. R.

HEREFORD RINGING COURSE

The second week-end course in bell ringing was held at the Training College, Hereford, from April 3rd to 5th and was a success.

The comfortable and spacious accommodation was ideally suited for the purpose, and the excellence of the food fostered the happy spirit which prevailed.

The students, some of whom had attended the first course, received a warm welcome from the director of the course, Mr. W. F. Moreton. Assisting him were Messrs. F. Sharpe, C. F. Wratten and F. T. Blagrove, and the main subjects dealt with were Spliced Minor and Spliced Doubles. For the first time on a course, Mr. F. Sharpe lectured and held practical sessions in tune ringing, an innovation which proved very popular.

Six towers were used for the practical sessions, and students who desired to do so were able to ring at All Saints' and the Cathedral, Hereford.

Sunday afternoon arrived all too soon with many of the students looking forward to the third course to be held in 1965.

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Fifty-three members attended a special meeting of the Hereford Diocesan Guild at Clun on April 11th.

A service in St. George's Church was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. R. G. Benson), who welcomed the Guild to Clun and spoke of the great loss the Clun District, and also the Guild, had sustained by the death of Mr. E. H. Meredith, of Clunbury, on February 5th. He had been District Ringing Master since 1946, and secretary and treasurer since 1961.

At the meeting which followed, other tributes were paid to the work the late Ringing Master had performed in the District.

The purpose of the meeting was to elect new District officers, and Mr. J. Croxton, of Clunbury, although not at present resident in the District, volunteered to accept office as secretary and treasurer, and as there were no nominations for Ringing Master he agreed to do what he could until he returned to reside in Clunbury, when he would be able to combine the duties.

Ringling continued until 8.30 p.m.

St. Peter's Church, Machynlleth, Monts, had two of its ringers, Mr. Harold Duckett and Miss Barbara Holt, married recently. Another ringer, Miss Pamela Holt, was chief bridesmaid to her sister. After their honeymoon in Italy they were handed a gift from their fellow ringers by Mr. Charles Davies, foreman and ringer at this tower for nearly 55 years.

Those who took part in the ringing on this happy occasion were Messrs. C. Davies, H. L. Fearn, D. J. Fearn, Aled Evans, Wyn Jones, Rev. R. H. Williams, R. Williams, T. Blayney, Jennifer Jones, Margaret Bonner, Maureen Arnold and Sylvia Holt.

A DEVON OUTING

A small number of members of the Devon Guild held a half-day excursion on April 15th when, despite the inclement weather, an enjoyable time was spent. Those taking part were Miss R. J. Marks, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Bould, the Rev. W. P. Dowling, Messrs. A. L. Bennett, K. E. Fursdon, W. H. Marks and H. F. Myers.

Ringling started on two good ground-floor rings—Diptford and South Brent. Rattery bells proved to be a ground-floor five with long draught in good going order. A pleasant 40 minutes was spent at Dean Prior, the last tower. After an excellent tea in a Buckfastleigh cafe the evening was spent in musical and social intercourse, the visitors expressing their appreciation to Mr. A. Bennett for the excellent arrangements made.

N.W. SUFFOLK RINGERS

The N.W. Suffolk Ringers met on April 11th at St. Mary's Church, Rougham, visitors from Terrington, Wisbech, Ipswich, Finchingfield, Stratford St. Mary and Henley joining them in ringing a great variety of methods. These included Plain Bob, Grandsire, Little Bob, Double Court, Kent, Oxford, Cambridge, Hull, Ipswich, London and Stedman.

The service was fully choral and the Rev. G. E. Jarrold gave an interesting address on the meaning of the word 'Campanology.' He and the choir joined the ringers for tea in the school, which was served by Mrs. Nice and Mrs. Rose.

At a short meeting one new member was proposed and two evening meetings suggested—May 9th at Exning and June 13th at Mildenhall. The quarterly meeting will be held in July at Horringer, with a picnic tea. Thanks were accorded the Rector and choir.

THE INTRUDER

Sons have I none, but daughters two.
The twain are junior ringers.
Thus meets my eyes and fingers.

When tidying up (if time allows)
I tip-toe through its pages (Which mental act of 'trespass' my Non-craftsman soul enrages!).

Alone in your strange world of print,
Of bells silenced on paper,
I am bewildered, awed, afraid,
Through this 'intruding' caper.

'Royals' I see, at 'Majors' stare (Value nor meaning feeling);
Pick 'Minors' up, or put down 'bobs'
Like someone bent on stealing.

My mind trips over 'leads' and things,
Frenziedly 'pulls' and 'touches.'
It 'hunts' for this and 'dodges' that
As though in demon clutches.

'Peals' of melodic laughter mock
My stealthy lay-exploring,
With 'changes' and 'surprises' crammed,
Could such a 'world' be boring?

Muffled or loud, its vibrant tongue
Belongs a 'race' of people
Who to themselves dwell in the heights
That are each parish steeple.

Sadly the language of the chimes
Defeats my brain's slow powers;
It is the 'shorthand' of the ropes,
The 'purl, plain' of the towers.

I 'Alice' in 'Belfryland,'
Less rabbit-hole approaches.
Atop a spiral rise the realm
My curious gaze encroaches!

Still, ignoramus though I am,
I catch, if distantly,
The radiated lure and charm
Of campanology.

So weekly now, your temptress voice,
In lines and columns singing,
Calls me to swap my mundane mop
For the Enchanted Isle of Ringing!

EVERLYN MASON (Mrs.)

Chilvers Coton,
Nuneaton, Warwickshire.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Chertsey District

A fine April afternoon brought more than 50 ringers to Old Woking for the Chertsey District meeting on April 11th. Ringing on the pleasant eight ranged from rounds to Cambridge under the direction of Mr. A. D. Leach, Assistant Ringing Master.

The Guild Office was conducted by the curate, the Rev. J. Pantin.

Following an excellent tea served by the local ringers, the curate took the chair for a brief business meeting. The District secretary announced that the Cathedral Bell Fund was was over £100.

Further ringing from rounds to Yorkshire concluded the day's programme.

OXFORD DISTRICT

Ringers from St. Nicholas', Marston, and St. Andrew's, Headington, were joined by friends from Oxford and Radley for an outing to Northampton and district on April 11th.

At Lower Weedon some of the party had their first experience of ringing on eight. At Cogenhoe Mr. Moore, although blind, joined in ringing Kent. The steel ladder at Brafield resulted in some ladies not ringing. Other towers visited were Nether Heyford, Dallington, Boughton, Moulton and Little Houghton.

Believed to be the first quarter on the bells was that rung on Easter Day at Christ Church, Calgary, Canada. This was made possible by the visit of William E. Court, of Liverpool, who is spending a year as a professor at the University of Saskatchewan. As Saskatoon is some 400 miles from Calgary, writes J. M. Simpson, this is probably a record distance travelled for a quarter peal of Grand-sire Doubles.

Chertsey District ringers were happy to have Dave Munday with them once more at Old Woking.

Four members of the Fuller family took part in a farewell peal at Eastbourne. They are going to live at Poole, Dorset.

A new record in handbell ringing was created at Swindon on April 11th with 64 Treble Bob methods. It was conducted by Anthony R.
Peake.

Miss Jennifer Bunyan, former secretary of the Watford District, has been gazetted into the W.R.A.C. and is now posted to a signal squadron at Salisbury. Her friends wish her every happiness in her new career.

A striking competition is to be held in conjunction with the Mid-Sussex Arts Festival at St. John's Church, Burgess Hill, next Saturday at 2.30 p.m. Mr. A. P. Cannon will be the judge.

St. George's Day (April 23rd) was the 40th anniversary of the last peal rung at the Imperial Institute, London (Stedman Caters), writes Mr. Walter Ayre. Of the band, the only survivors are Mr. Arthur E. Sharman, of Dunstable, and himself.

Chobham ringers were honoured to receive a visit from Bishop Yashiro, Presiding Bishop of the Japanese Church, during ringing for Evensong on April 12th. He thanked them for ringing a quarter peal to welcome him to the parish in the morning.

Mr. Edward Barnett, who recently contributed his reminiscences of listening to much of the then longest peal of Double Norwich, 15,072 at Erith in April, 1899, took part in a commemorative peal on the 65th anniversary. His own first peal was rung the following month.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Truro Diocesan Guild scored their first 12-bell peal on April 11th with a peal of Grandsire Cinques at Buckfast Abbey, there being no rings of 12 in Cornwall. Six of the band, all of whom were ringing their first on 12, are resident members of the Guild, and of the remainder two lived and rang in Cornwall before returning 'up country.' To ring this peal, at the first attempt, the 12 travelled between them nearly 1,900 miles.

The ringer of the third in the peal at Macclesfield on February 29th (see page 226) was Robert J. Warrilow, and not as submitted.

Mr. Norman Smith writes regarding his composition of 5,184 Spliced Surprise Major (page 248) that the bob in the first course should be a Wrong and not a Before.

Mr. M. J. Uphill wishes to announce that he still lives in Putney, London, and not Isleworth, Middlesex (see page 236, 'Ringing World'). He has no idea how this mistake was made.

Miss Gillian Neal Smith will receive the congratulations of many friends on her qualifying as a doctor from the Medical School at Charing Cross Hospital. Her marriage to Mr. Robin
Leale will take place at St. Matthias' Church, Richmond, Surrey, on May 30th at 2 p.m. and friends will be welcome at the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur I. N. Rance took part in their silver wedding anniversary peal at Sandhurst, Berks, on April 13th. The peal for their wedding at Binfield was conducted by Mr.
Tony Price, and it was his son, Frank C., who conducted the 25th anniversary peal.

Ever since the ladies of the West Dorset Branch of the Salisbury Guild rang a quarter peal in June, 1962, the present secretary of the Wimborne Branch has been itching to 'have a go' too. Due to the scarcity of the fairer sex in the area difficulty has been experienced in gathering a band. At last, and very appropriately, the quarter was rung at Canford Magna on the day after Lady
Day, in the presence of the two Ringing Masters.

BON VOYAGE

TOMORROW (Saturday) at 11 a.m. a Pan American Jet Clipper will leave London Airport taking ten men on one of the most exciting of all ringing experiences—to Washington to ring for the consecration on Ascension Day of the Gloria in Excelsis tower in America's national cathedral.

Their presence and journey is the outcome of an inspiration of the Dean of Washington, the Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre. The opportunity of making a contribution towards the cost of the journey was gladly accepted by many people. Donations came from as far afield as Calgary (Alberta) and Saigon in Vietnam.

The ten bells, the product of one of our two British foundries—the other is represented in the carillon—have a tenor of 32 cwt. They are to be rung according to the English style of change ringing by a band of proved exponents of our art all honoured and respected by the Exercise at large.

They are not only ringers; in their ranks are some of the ablest instructors in our land—men of recognised ability at week-end courses. The band also contains the man who has rung more peals than any living man in Mr. Geo. E. Fearn, of Birmingham, whose total now exceeds 1,900. Above all, they are men from prominent but different English Cathedral buildings like St. Paul's, Westminster Abbey and Lincoln, known to thousands of American tourists. Their presence is a contribution of the old to the new. To the 'New World' they are presenting an essentially English art in its highest form.

Letters have appeared in our columns deploring the choice—and some of these have been written by people well known in ringing circles. Boldly we say the selection has been well made; we cannot see a weak link. The Editor purposely wears neither the tie (figuratively speaking) of the Ancient Society of College Youths nor the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths. He is not the least perturbed because one Society should have a preponderance of members. It is the calibre of the men as ringers and instructors and their ability to represent all that is best in English ringing that counts. They are representative of the best we can offer.

This does not mean that other bands equally good in men and women could not be found. The Exercise is particularly rich in talent today, and while we venerate and respect those who have gone before and have given by their writings and knowledge a sound foundation for the development of our craft, the contribution of our age is making this a glorious era in the history of change ringing.

Today there are more practising ringers than ever before and the achievements in advanced method ringing would simply stagger our forbears. And these achievements are not by isolated bands.

Again the art of bell-founding and hanging has reached a stage undreamed of by bygone founders. Some might lament that the modern bell-founder has robbed the Exercise of the elements that gave ringers of the past an added spice to their ringing. This is far outweighed by opening the opportunity to ring to hundreds of our girls today; so much so that women are to be found in the front rank of Surprise bands. They would like America to know that ten women could be found to let Washington bells sound out in their full majesty.

To the ten we wish them 'Bon Voyage' and every blessing upon their endeavours to introduce the art of change ringing to a wider circle of American people. This contact for even a very short period should lead to permanent friendships and the widening of an art that we hold very precious. Of good service ringing it can truly be said 'Gloria in Excelsis.'

OXFORD GUILD AND INSURANCE

THROUGH the initiative of their Hon. Librarian, Mr. H. L. Roper, the Oxford Diocesan Guild have circularised all tower captains on the importance of insurance of bell ringers. We give their circular, as it might be a guide to other Guilds and Associations

*****

The Officers and the General Committee of the Guild wish to draw the attention of all ringers to the facilities offered by the Ecclesiastical Insurance Office Limited for the insurance of ringers against the risk of accident.

This is done by the Parochial Church Council taking out with the Ecclesiastical Insurance Office a Group Personal Accident Insurance which covers the Parochial Clergy and paid and unpaid Church workers as well as the ringers who are covered against the risk of accident while ringing or attending to the bells in any church or bell tower or while travelling to or from a church or bell tower to practise or take part in bell ringing anywhere in the United Kingdom.

The annual premium for ringers is 2/- each, but double benefits are available for double premiums. It is important that a premium should be paid for every ringer or learner in the tower, and the Ecclesiastical Insurance Office should be notified each year of the number in the tower and the premium adjusted accordingly. It is not sufficient to pay six premiums because you have only six bells; if, in fact, you have ten regular ringers you should pay for ten; if the following year you have 12 you should tell the Insurance Office so and pay for 12.

The age limits are 16 years to 70 years. A ringer over the age of 70 cannot be insured under this policy. Children between the age of 12 and 16 can only be insured at the normal rate of premium but with limited benefit and the Ecclesiastical Insurance Office should be told each year how many of the ringers come into this category. Children under the age of 12 years cannot be insured under this policy but other possibilities are being explored.

The Officers and the General Committee of the Guild feel that you, as Tower Captain, have some responsibility in this matter so will you please. AS SOON AS POSSIBLE AND WITHOUT PUTTING THE MATTER OFF, see the Parochial Church Council Secretary or Treasurer, or the Incumbent, or all of them, and find out

(a) whether or not they have a Group Personal Accident Policy and, if so, that the full number of ringers is insured and that any children between the ages of 12 and 16 have been mentioned.

(b) if there is no such policy, persuade them to write to the Ecclesiastical Insurance Office without delay and to take one out.

The address is: The General Manager, Ecclesiastical Insurance Office Ltd., Aldwych House, Aldwych, Strand, London, W.C.2.

CENTRAL COUNCIL OF CHURCH BELL RINGERS

Truro Arrangements TUESDAY, MAY 19th

7.15 a.m.—Celebration of Holy Communion in Truro Cathedral. The Celebrant will be the Dean of Truro, the Very Rev. H. M. Lloyd.

9.45 a.m.—Meeting of Council in Town Hall. Make own arrangements for mid-day meal. There are plenty of places within easy reach of the town centre, where lunches or light snacks may be obtained.

2 p.m.—Afternoon session of Council in Town Hall.

4.30 p.m.—Reception by the Truro Diocesan Guild of Ringers in the City Council Chamber (directly opposite the Town Hall in the Municipal Buildings). Members of the Central Council and their friends will be introduced to the Mayor and Mayoress of Truro and the Lord Bishop of Truro. A tea of traditional Cornish fare will be served. Admission will be by ticket only. Please make application for your tickets (limited to two per member) direct to the Secretary of the Council, address as below, by not later than May 8th.

There will be an informal evening at the Headquarters Hotel, The Red Lion, Boscawen Street, Truro. The Elizabethan Room of the Hotel will be reserved for members and friends.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD

From Boston, Lincs. comes a record of long and faithful service. Mr. W. E. Clarke has just retired from the office of secretary and treasurer of the Eastern Branch of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, a post he has held for 30 years. During this time he has only missed one meeting. But the Branch is not losing the valued services of Mr. Clarke. At the annual meeting he was elected president and also Guild representative.

Mr. P. J. Kelner, of Fishtoft, is the new hon. secretary and treasurer, and Mr. P. Reynolds, of Swineshead, Branch Ringing Master.

THE LADIES' GUILD

The Devon Branch held its annual meeting at St. Michael and All Angels' Church, Clyst Honiton, on April 18th. The ringing, which was interrupted by a wedding in the afternoon, was under the supervision of Mrs. G. E. Retter, and mainly consisted of Grandsire Doubles and Triples and Stedman Triples.

A short service was held in church conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. H. V. Christie). After tea in the Church Hall, the vice-president (Mrs. D. R. Bould) voiced the thanks of the visitors to the Vicar, to Miss Christie for acting as organist, and to Mrs. Retter and the ladies for the excellent tea.

At the subsequent business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Bould, the secretary and treasurer's report were both adopted, the former recording three meetings during the past year.

The officials were re-elected as follows: Vice-president, Mrs. D. R. Bould; secretary and treasurer, Miss Y. C. Porter; branch committee members, Mesdames D. R. Hood and G. E. Retter and Misses C. Dodridge and M. Russell; general committee, the Misses V. Goss and P. Stephens. An assistant secretary is to be appointed.

Further ringing afterwards included a visit to Clyst St. George.

Next meetings: Dartmouth, July; either Sidbury or Ottery St. Mary, October.

WORCESTERSHIRE & DISTRICTS ASSOCIATION

THIS year's annual general meeting of the Worcestershire and Districts Association attracted a large number of people to Worcester on Easter Monday.

The events of the day commenced with a service in the morning at All Saints', conducted by the Association's chaplain, the Rev. H. L. Davies, Vicar of Cradley. During the service courses of Bob Major and Grandsire Triples were rung on handbells by M. J. Fellows 1-2, R. G. Morris 3-4, D. Beacham 5-6, and M. D. Fellows 7-8.

The business meeting was held in College Hall and the president of the Association, the Very Rev. R. L. P. Milburn, Dean of Worcester, was in the chair. Having dealt with the minutes, the secretary reported that three members had died since the last meeting, namely, Ezra Homer, of Rowley Regis; Frank Hill and William Bullock, of Malvern Link.

The president extended a warm welcome to all, especially the younger members. He also said how gratifying it was to hear that Kidderminster bells were now being rung regularly.

All the officers were re-elected, among these being the Master, Mr. W. B. Cartwright; chaplain, the Rev. H. L. Davies; general secretary and treasurer, Mr. D. Beacham.

Worcester was again chosen for the annual meeting next year on Easter Monday.

An attractive ringing programme had been arranged after lunch and everyone made for Stoulton to ring at the Parish Church and on Mr. Jopp's light ring of six. Church Road, Stoulton, soon became like the finishing point for a motor rally, there were so many cars! The next attraction was Pershore Abbey, with ringers queuing half-way up the tower waiting their turn to enter the unique 'bird-cage' ringing chamber.

Perhaps Upton Snodsbury and Crowle are an attraction only if you have not rung there before! At any rate each has its own idiosyncracies; the sallies of the ground-floor ring at Upton Snodsbury never come down in the same place twice, whilst Crowle bells are sometimes described as having a tenor in 'Z blunt'!

Other bells available were St. John's and All Saints', Worcester, and, after tea, a record crowd filled to overflowing the spacious Cathedral ringing chamber. Here ringing ranged from rounds to Cambridge Maximus. D. B.

A SPOOF NAILED IN TIME

An important omission from a peal report sent from Liverpool unexpectedly revealed an attempt to get a spoof peal published.

There was no name and address of the sender—not uncommon despite requests—and also the name of the tower was missing. The Editor then examined the Lancashire Association report to see if a clue was possible from the names of the supposed band. Only two were recognised as ringers and a letter was accordingly sent to Mr. Joseph Ridyard, whose name was given as the ringer of the treble.

Mr. Ridyard replies: 'I wish to state that wasn't a peal. To me it is the act of a maniac or lunatic. My name is down for the treble. On that date I was never in Liverpool for I was not away from home all day.'

Some of the names I don't know, and I am sure the secretary of the Lancashire Association couldn't find them in his books. They are the name of the Merseyside group known as the Beatles, bar the conductor, who is a well known Liverpool ringer.

I intend to find out who the fool was who sent it up to you. Yesterday was the annual general meeting of the Lancashire Association. As I couldn't attend I asked a colleague of mine to show it to the president with full details and to press it on the meeting as we cannot tolerate such nonsense. Furthermore, whoever the culprit is I would like an apology for you and myself for the insult we have put up with. As I am in Liverpool next Sunday I hope to take the letter with me and find out the object of it.'

CLERICAL RINGERS' GUILD IN SUNNY DEVON

FOR once Devonshire lived up to its reputation of sunshine when the Clerical Ringers' Guild spent its ringing week there after Low Sunday. Members combined the serious business of ringing with the pleasure of a few days off from their parochial duties and the fine weather and pleasant wooded hills of the country round Exeter made this tour one of the most enjoyable in the history of the Guild. The party occupied a very comfortable hotel just off the Exeter By-pass and the bells available were truly splendid. There can be few places in England where the organiser of a localised week, such as the Clerical Ringers have, could find such a wealth of bells within a small radius. As well as the bells in Exeter itself, there were those on the three day trips. These took in the country to the south as far as Teignmouth, to the south-east as far as Exmouth and to the north as far as Tiverton. The sea was blue, the hills and fields fresh green or red with good Devon soil and from time to time glimpses of Dartmoor reminded us of the majesty of the high hills.

'GOOD IN PARTS'

It must be confessed at once, however, that the quality of the parsons' ringing matched neither the scenery nor the bells! Part of the reason for this was the absence of two of our most capable performers, Canons Thurlow and Felstead. Among Surprise methods only Cambridge, Yorkshire and London were rung, the latter after much travail. There was much Grandsire and even the Stedman Triples which seemed to be demanded by several of the majestic rings we visited came round only uncertainly. We felt that perhaps these bells did not know this particular tune. En route for Exeter we met at Seaton and played safe with Grandsire and Plain Bob. At Sidbury our honoured president called a musical touch of Stedman, which sounded well on these good bells. The first full day also went well. We were in the heart of the call-change country and however hard we tried to keep up our standard of striking we were several times conscious of falling below the prowess of the local band as evidenced by the wealth of certificates round the belfry. At Teignmouth there was more presidential Stedman as well as Double Norwich and Yorkshire, while the excellent eight at Kingsteigton were lowered in good style by the 'second team.'

DISASTER

The second day started with disaster. At our first tower, Broad Clyst, Cambridge failed and so did Stedman. We broke a stay and left, covered with confusion, arguing who was responsible—the lady beginner who was on the rope or the cleric who was supposed to be helping her. So, on to Silverton and Tiverton. Here we admired the church, known so well to our worthy secretary. We admired, too, the noble bells but again failed to ring them as well as we would have wished. London failed and so did Stedman, so we settled for Grandsire. Our pride humbled, we went back to Buckleigh for lunch with a tower-grab at the local six thrown in. Here, Undershaft, which had been the subject of much discussion and instruction in the coach, was duly rung. It was claimed that this was a 'first' for the Guild. Then back, through the model village of Newton St. Cyres, to Exeter Cathedral. We were given tea as guests of Prebendary Andrews in the Cloister Room and then joined in Evensong in the Lady Chapel. Our president's own hymn was sung with gusto accompanied by N. F. D. Coleridge on the small portable organ. The small number of non-ringers in the congregation may have wondered what it was all about! If so, then they may have been enlightened when the 'brazen tongues' of which the hymn spoke were heard from the great south tower. Five stalwarts rang up Grandison and even the ninth was manned by a team of three with the result that the rope promptly broke. This was passed off with such kindness by the local ringers that our hearts warmed to our work. Rounds included R. N. Longridge and his two sons (minor and minimus) and were well rung. This followed clerical Grandsire Caters and Cinques with the help of local talent including two very capable young ladies. We heard afterwards that this effort won favourable comment, and our morale improved.

SUCCESS

So to our third day and the traditional peal attempt. As if to make up for her frowns on the previous day Dame Fortune smiled on us and a peal of Bob Major was brought round in good style at St. Thomas', Exeter, in 2 hours 50 minutes. This was due in no small part to the capable conducting of M. C. C. Melville. As this was the first peal scored on a tour for the Guild for 14 years there was considerable jubilation—the more so because the band knew that Canon Cox dearly wanted it to succeed. During the morning non-pealers had enjoyed ringing at nearby towers. After lunch the re-united party set off by coach to Exmouth, ringing at Clyst St. George and Lympstone, returning through Woodbury and Heavitree. Here, perhaps because of the magnificent bells, the ringing improved and some excellent London was rung with the aid of Norman Mallett, who had been kindness itself on this tour.

ANNUAL MEETING

At the annual meeting of the Guild most of the business was as usual. We had shown a small loss on the year but at this rate our reserves will keep us going until 1980! Canon Cox was re-elected president on the condition that we would not ask him to do too much ringing. Prebendary Andrews was once again made secretary and treasurer and congratulated on his calm efficiency. Canon B. F. Sheppard and R. D. St. J. Smith were again elected vice-presidents and the committee was completed with Canon K. W. H. Felstead and I. J. Richards. And that, so we thought, was that. But no—we were presented with a request made through M. C. C. Melville from the Rabbits' Guild that one of our members be nominated for election as chaplain to that body. We found, however, that not one member on the tour was qualified as a Rabbit and so the matter was left on the table.

PERSONAL

It was good to have Canon Cox with us and able to ring in some of the towers although he had recently been ill. It was a pleasure, too, to see R. D. St. J. Smith in such good ringing form and to have Canon Sheppard with us again. The keenness of Longridge minor and minimus was a tonic and their ability should ensure a good ringing future for them. There were a few diverting incidents. The first night our ringing at St. Petrock, Exeter, coincided with a practice at the nearby Cathedral. The light six seemed just not to be in tune with the top six of the 12 and the result was cacophony. 'Dignity and impudence' was an appropriate comment.

Our coach driver was splendid. Each tour seems to provide a vehicle more sumptuous and immense than the last. This year our 41-seater almost scraped both hedges in the narrow Devonshire lanes. Mercifully we met little traffic in them. Once we came face to face with a lorry and its driver backed with complete abandon about 300 yards at a speed of 30 miles per hour. Such is Devonshire driving.

THANKS AND FAREWELL

We record our thanks to the incumbents of the many towers we enjoyed. It seemed that many of them were, like us, on holiday, but we were met and welcomed in almost all the towers. On one occasion, which shall be nameless, it was a charming lady ringer who showed us the ropes: at others were met by local call-change experts and we tried our hand at their craft led by one of our West Country parsons.

So to the end of a very enjoyable week. Our homeward-bound towers were better manned than usual. The diminutive belfry at Sowton contrasted with the space of Clyst Honiton. We wound up at Ottery St. Mary, admired this magnificent church and rang the secretary's course of Cambridge Major. Rounds for such of the second team as remained were followed by Stedman and lower. Then we parted, each to our different parishes, with many happy memories of this part of the West Country and its bells. F. A. S.

ST. MARTIN'S GUILD

A VERY enjoyable quarterly meeting of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham was held at Solihull. The Guild's form of service, held in the chancel of the beautiful Church of St. Alphege, was conducted by the Rector, Canon H. Hartley, and was attended by more than 60 ringers. During the afternoon and evening the well-kent ringing room was filled with ringers and good use was made of the excellent ring of ten bells.

Mr. Charles Dale, Master of the Solihull Parish Church ringers, had arranged tea in the new and imposing Church Hall. The Master of the Guild, Mr. Richard C. Ingram, who presided at the meeting, expressed thanks on behalf of the members to everyone at Solihull who had assisted in making such excellent arrangements.

Mr. Stephen W. Barton, of Quinton, Mr. Martin Burston and the Misses P. Foster, E. Jennings and D. Cattell, all of Perry Barr, were elected resident members. The tower elections, as life members, of the following ringers were duly ratified: Miss Elizabeth Timmins (Wolverhampton), Messrs. Geoffrey Paul (Lincoln), George E. Thoday (Cambridge), John W. Coleman (Cobham) and Leslie Boumphrey (Workington).

Next meeting: Coleshill, July 4th (subject to consent).

Letters to the Editor

Good Luck and Bon Voyage to Washington Team

Dear Sir,—In the past few weeks there have been several letters in 'The Ringing World' criticising the Washington venture and the selection of a band to go to America. I was appalled and shocked to read these letters which, in my opinion, ought never to have been written!

The ten ringers go to America for two obvious reasons:

(1) To ring at the dedication service of Washington Cathedral.

(2) To encourage, teach and advise the learners at the Cathedral.

Let us be thankful that such a venture is to take place at all. John Chilcott had the great honour of inviting ringers to go—he has done it well and has picked a team not only capable of extremely good ringing but a team which will be able to teach and help the learners of Washington Cathedral.

May these ten men go to Washington and ring to the true glory of God, and may they return with a wonderful experience behind them. Good luck and 'Bon Voyage.'—Yours faithfully, ANDREW KING.

Wentworth, Yorks.

Washington, a Good Idea?—Yes

(K. S. B. Croft)

Dear Sir,—No, you are not, by far, the only couple to think that the Washington Venture is a good idea. 'My Girlie' and I were so satisfied with the idea and the excellent choice of the band that we sent along a donation to help them on their way.

I like to claim friendship with three of them, 'Wilf' Moreton, George Fearn and Harry Parkes. Best wishes—and to all the band. Best wishes, also, to you, St. Mary's, Southampton, for your 50th anniversary on April 26th. Small world, isn't it, that we should have been at Southampton in May, 1940, at our Manchester Unity Odd Fellows' annual movable conference. 'OAD BAT-ER.'

Crewe.

An Offer

Dear Sir,—Reading in 'The Ringing World' that an 'intensive training programme is being prepared' for the Washington ringers. I was rather disturbed to hear the same week from a former Guild Master and his wife at present working near Washington that their offer of regular help at the Cathedral was refused. They were not invited to ring but were offered a £10 recording of the bells!

Our selected band of ringers has the great privilege of ringing at the dedication service, and in this they have my wholehearted support as representatives from the homeland of bellringing, but I believe that—apart from the publicity value—a 'crash' training course, given by even the most experienced ringers, is of less value than regular instruction, continuing over a period of months. — Yours faithfully, ALAN J. FROST.

Cambridge Royal

Dear Sir,—Although Mr. Bayles wants to keep Cambridge a regular method, his motion in fact makes Cambridge Royal and Maximus irregular, as both have 'four places made between successive rows on more than one occasion in a half-lead.'—Yours sincerely, Wakefield. WILFRID F. MORETON.

Great Adventure II Agreement

Dear Sir,—Arrangements are now being made for Adventure II to take place during September/October, 1965. A provisional programme to last about four weeks has been agreed upon, and news from Australia is that towers are being circulated inviting constructive comments and suggestions to be submitted to the organisers. Messrs. Pitcher and Roper have taken over since George W. Pipe's return and are giving the visit a great deal of thought and are prepared to do a lot of planning on our behalf.

The progress of work on the bells of Melbourne Cathedral, now at the Loughborough Foundry, is very satisfying and there should be no need to rush the work of rehanging for the tourists' visit.

A few ringers in this country have made inquiries as to the date of the tour in Australia—it seems that some are thinking of emigrating and hoping that a certain coincidence will occur.—Yours faithfully,

T. J. LOCK.

The Leeds Broadcast—An Apology

Dear Sir,—I must apologise to listeners who were unfortunate enough to hear Leeds bells prior to the broadcast Festival Service on April 19th, televised by A.B.C. Television.

We were asked to have the bells ringing from 10.55 until the customary signal to stop would be given, shortly after 11 o'clock.

In order to put up as good a performance as possible, we confined ourselves to call changes on ten bells and these were particularly well struck and the bells brought into rounds immediately before the signal came, when everybody set his or her bell.

I was horrified therefore to discover that instead of this very good ringing being heard, and it was unquestionably the best we have done on the ten or so broadcasts of Leeds bells, a recording of some very indifferent Grandsire Triples on the light eight earlier in the day had been used, although it was mercifully short.

I have not yet found out who was responsible for the departure from the arrangements but we will make sure this does not happen again.—Yours truly,

R. H. DOVE.

Leeds.

Duplicated Doubles Names

Dear Sir,—We read with interest Mr. Amos' correspondence regarding Doubles variations. As members of one band referred to in the article, we would like to point out that St. David's Doubles which we rang to a quarter peal for St. David's Day, 1962, was not in fact named by us, as he stated, but by a Derby band who rang it to a handbell peal in 1961. We also note his persistent use of the term 'New Antelope single.' Perhaps Mr. Amos would care to note that according to Central Council publications this is exactly the same as an Antelope single.

It is evident that these variations coincide with those published in 'The Ringing World,' April 10th, 1964, by David Walklate. Clearly this would not have arisen had Mr. Amos and his friends not allowed such a length of time to elapse before publishing them in 'The Ringing World.'—Yours sincerely,

JOHN A. HARRISON.

Tangley Peal

Dear Sir,—I am sorry Mr. E. A. Barnett should echo some remark made in the 1920's by the then editor of 'The Ringing World' in his reference to the Tangley peal. I cannot truthfully say I find ringing Bluebell Doubles any sillier than ringing a method called Grandsire Doubles.

The names of the method/variations at Tangley were not the important part of that peal, but that two schoolboys with less than two years' ringing learned the nine method, variations and spent a Sunday afternoon ringing them and, I may say, very well indeed. It may also be the ringers of silly named doubles to-day who will be the ringers of silly named Surprise methods of to-morrow.

P. MURDUCK.

We don't regret asking for them

Dear Sir,—I feel that Mr. P. T. Dale, of Dundee, overlooked one or two points when he complained about certain letters dealing with service ringing records.

The first item to appear was a paragraph in 'Belfry Gossip.' I then wrote to congratulate the band concerned and suggested the publication of a list of bands with similar records. You, Mr. Editor, inserted a note after my letter which read: 'These records deserve publicity. Any others?' The letters which followed were undoubtedly written as a result of that note. In other words, they were written because 'The Ringing World' asked for them. Therefore, whatever Mr. Dale may think about the letter which I wrote, he is being grossly unfair when he criticises the others.—Yours sincerely,

H. W. COX.

Saxilby, Lincoln.

Doubles Names

Dear Sir,—I was most interested to read David K. Walklate's letter ('Ringing World,' April 10th). In his letter he gives the compositions of 13 Doubles variations including some which, he says, have not been published before. I have these variations in my collection under other names. I would be obliged if Mr. Walklate (or some other ringer) would let me know who named these variations and when or where they were rung. The variations are Doveridge, Elton, Winsten, Chelmerston, Heath, Shirland, Pleasley, Church Greasley, Ault Hucknall, Pentrich, Brailsford, Foremark and Longford. Ault Hucknall is called Dove also—is this the Derbyshire river or dale?

I would be interested in discovering the compositions of Reading (Collection of Doubles and Minor Methods, 1939?), Newbury, Woking, Barton and Thistle. Thistle may be: P.C. of Shinwavs Pl.; All Saints' P.L. used as a bob; single unknown. Barton may be a variation of St. Simon or St. Martin.—Yours sincerely, ROY H. JONES.

Marston, Oxford.

Burghill's Annual Dinner

Senior members of St. Mary-the-Virgin's Church choir and belfry, together with their wives, friends and churchwardens, went by coach to the Unicorn Hotel, Weobley, for their annual dinner—an excellent meal.

The Vicar, the Rev. R. J. Coombs, in thanking the choir and bellringers for their loyalty during the past year, said the dinner was an assurance that their voluntary services to the church were not—as so often happens—being taken for granted. 'The sound of church bells ringing was one of the joys of the countryside,' he said.

Nurtured on Grandsire, but...

Dear Sir.—As one who was brought up on Grandsire Doubles, I should like to air my views on this subject in response to Mr. Knight's invitation. While I shall always be indebted to my tutor for an introduction to the art, it was not until I learned Plain Bob that the right concept of change ringing began to dawn.

Let me draw a comparison at Doubles level. The suitability of any method for teaching beginners lies in its simplicity of construction, and how easy the 'blue line' looks to the learner. The method should be to him the easiest means of learning how to combine hunting, dodging and place making, but all the time he must be able to see what he is doing, and recognise his place.

While the learner should find the plain hunting in either method easy, I think Plain Bob has the edge. It is somehow 'cleaner.' When the learner makes places, surely it is easier to see how to make seconds rather than thirds. In a plain course of Plain Bob he will also learn how to make long places. The dodges are unencumbered, clearly one step up or down, but in Grandsire the all-important dodges are cluttered up with making fifths on the turn round in 4-5. The learner frequently muffs his dodge, being worried about making the place. Only when he has mastered singles will he learn how to make long places. It is then a big step to Triples, but a comparatively easy one from Plain Bob Doubles to Minor and so on. As the learner climbs through the Plain Bob family he finds the same simple fourths place bob, and the greater number of bells, the less he is affected. Yet in Grandsire he finds himself having to cope with the effect of calls in practically every position.

The popularity of Grandsire as a method undoubtedly lies in its great variety of touches and the fine music it produces on higher numbers. Unfortunately in many towers its popularity seems to be the yardstick by which its suitability for teaching to beginners is measured. It may be argued that Grandsire is better where a number of learners is involved, because it has two hunt bells and needs fewer 'inside' ringers. It seems to me that anyone holding such a view has never taught his learners to plain hunt first, but lets the method take care of this straight away. The poor learner is plunged from rounds straight into Grandsire and learns first to plain hunt on treble or two, but half the time he cannot see what he is doing because another learner has lost his place trying to master the dodge and turn round in 4-5 all at once. They are cutting each other's throats and take a long time to appreciate the importance of good striking. Yet Grandsire continues to be taught. No, like Mr. Knight, it is Plain Bob for me.

Another point concerns the means by which the Exercise gets to know of restorations, augmentations, etc. Those who try to keep their 'Dove' up to date have to rely to a large extent on scratching through 'The Ringing World' picking up details from reports kindly sent in by other ringers. Information is sometimes incomplete and I feel there are some jobs we never get to hear about at all through lack of reporting. Could not the foundries provide periodical lists in 'The Ringing World,' giving brief details of work they have completed?—Yours sincerely,

RONALD K. RUSS.

Surprise Booklet Questions at Middlesex A.G.M.

THE annual meeting of the Middlesex Association was held at Sunbury-on-Thames on April 11th, on one of the warmest days of the year. Hampton bells were open for ringing as well as Sunbury and there were good attendances at both towers. The Association's service was at the latter church, and was taken by the incumbent, the Rev. Mr. Saville. About 70 members and friends sat down to a very good tea, at which the high spot was the excellent trifle.

Tea over, the business meeting commenced with the president, the Rev. G. C. Taylor, in the chair. The first item was a vote of thanks by the president to Mr. Saville, who was unfortunately unable to stay for the meeting.

The Master, Mr. J. R. Mayne, made his report and began by welcoming Mr. Harold Rogers, of the London County Association. He expressed his pleasure at the steady progress shown by the Middlesex, particularly in the South and West District, but he indicated that there was room for yet more progress. He also pointed out that one of the ringers' duties was to ensure that the incumbent understood about ringing and its ramifications, and that it was more than a parochial issue.

Following the adoption of the accounts, the secretary, Mr. T. J. Lock, read his report, first apologising for the fact that the annual reports were not yet to hand owing to matters outside his control. Mr. Lock also referred to the advancement of ringing in the Association, mentioning particularly the newly-installed six at Harefield, and the continued progress at St. Andrew's, Uxbridge, and Feltham. Seventy-two peals had been rung for the Association during the year and 121 quarter peals.

MET IN A TEA SHOP

Mr. F. W. Goodfellow gave the report of the Dinner Sub-Committee on the Triennial Dinner held on October 4th last year. This had been fully reported in 'The Ringing World,' and the committee's only comment was to draw attention to the comparatively small number of resident members who attended. The committee had held six meetings at six different places, including one at a Lyons' tea shop, which nearly didn't happen as he went to the Lyons at Liverpool Street Station instead of the one at King's Cross!

All the retiring officers were re-elected, and seven new members of the Association were proposed and accepted. The members then had great pleasure in agreeing that Mr. C. E. Lankester, of Willesden, and Mr. R. Sanders, of Westminster, should be elected honorary life members. Mr. Lankester joined the Association in 1914, and Mr. Sanders has been a member for an even longer period. Both of them have done a lot for the art of church bell ringing.

Mr. Goodfellow advised the meeting that the Central Committee had decided to send the sum of £2 2s. to Mr. Hughes towards the cost of the Washington trip, together with the Association's best wishes for the success of the venture. This decision was approved by the meeting.

A query was raised concerning the publication of a booklet containing a complete list of all Surprise Major methods which have been rung. The questioner was advised that this had been brought up at last year's Central Council meeting, and it had been put in the hands of the Methods Committee. Although both Mr. Mayne and Mr. Blagrove were on this committee, and were anxious to proceed with the booklet, they had been unable to get things moving. A suggestion was made that the matter should be transferred to the Records Committee. The discussion on this subject was closed with Mr. W. H. Coles' definition of a committee: 'A body of persons who individually can do nothing, but collectively can meet and decide that nothing can be done.'

The usual votes of thanks were passed to the captains of both towers, to Mrs. T. J. Lock for playing the organ, and to the ladies who prepared such an enjoyable tea. R. F.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Over 40 ringers and friends were the guests to tea of the local band at the ancient Cinque Port of Hythe on April 18th, when a meeting of the Ashford District was held.

There is much of the old world left in its steep winding ways, its old Vicarage and Manor House side by side, its Venetian canal and its glorious Norman church like a small cathedral, where the chancel, which has stood for 700 years, rises like the great altar at Canterbury.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. E. A. Newman. Miss Anne Barber, of Folkestone, was the organist.

Tea was enjoyed at The Green Parrot. The chairman, Mr. T. Willis, opened the business part of the meeting by welcoming the Rev. and Mrs. P. T. Robbins and their ringers of Charing on their transfer from Maidstone to the Ashford District. Twelve new members were elected to the Association.

Miss Maisie Vantom, of Lydd, thanked the hon. District secretary in a few well-chosen words for presenting the meeting with a new leather-bound visitors' book, which he had made himself.

Mr. Alan Berry, the Ringing Master, conveyed the thanks of the visitors to the Vicar and organist for their kindness, the Hythe ringers for their hospitality, and to Mr. W. Bidnell for making all the arrangements.

Ringing on the fine eight (tenor 19 cwt.) continued until 9 o'clock, but seldom did justice to the bells. C. T. H.

OBITUARY*MR. LLEWELLYN ALLUM

The death took place at the East Suffolk Hospital, on April 17th, of Llewellyn Allum, late of Stonham Aspal, at the early age of 27.

'Chummy,' as he was locally known, began to ring in his early teens, and soon joined the then Framsdon band. Very quick to learn, he was soon ringing Spliced Surprise and London. Although he had only rang 20 peals they were of a good standard.

As a last respect a peal of Yorkshire (his favourite method) was rung upon the bells where he learnt his change ringing. All who took part were members of that band. To his young widow we offer our deepest sympathy: they had been married only 18 months.

Two of the nine bells which were hung under a canopy at The Lea, Wittersham, Kent, the home of Mr. Laurence H. F. Irving, have been stolen. The bells, cast by Mears and Stainbank in 1869, were used by Sir Henry Irving when he took over the management of the Lyceum Theatre, London, in 1878. Mr. Laurence Irving is a grandson of the famous actor.

Congratulations to Mr. Malcolm Phipps on becoming a licentiate member of the Royal Institute of Chemistry.

Mr. John Robinson writes correcting the date of the peal at Old Glossop (page 279) to March 24th and not April 4th.

Mr. Douglas Hughes informs us that the trip programme from Washington has arrived and looks formidable, with activities from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. on most days.

After the peal at Kelvedon, Essex, on April 18th, the band was hospitably entertained to tea by Mr. J. Papworth and Mr. and Mrs. J. Elliott, and this was followed by handbell ringing—all very enjoyable.

The shedding by the Rabbits' Guild of its cloak of anonymity is taken as a sign of its established prestige. The belfry visitors' book of Bath Abbey is the richer for the signature of the Master, and his office.

David J. Salter and David P. Sturge are the first members of the Radley College Society to ring a tower bell peal. David Collins, secretary of the Society, would have been in this attempt on March 30th but had to play for College Evensong.

Mr. B. E. Matthews, of London, writes: 'The band who called at Warminster on April 19th would like, through your columns, to express their thanks to the local band who generously forsook a quarter peal attempt to allow the visitors to ring.'

'The Belfry News': 'We have heard of another case recently where a Vicar opposes sound control because he knows that the bottled-up sound vibrations may damage the tower. It is difficult to convince people who have a confidence bred of complete ignorance of this subject that they are wrong.'

BELFRY GOSSIP

A peal of Minor at Thruxton, Hampshire, on April 11th, ran into unexpected difficulties. A man entered the ground-floor ringing chamber with a certain amount of alcoholic loquaciousness, and it was 15 minutes before he was persuaded to leave. Fortunately the band kept cool and survived the interruption.

St. Dunstan's, Canterbury, Sunday service record is ringing twice every Sunday since 1945, as well as for special services during the week.

A peal of Doubles in seven methods at Handsworth, conducted by Mr. Bernard D. Sims, contained five first peals and a first as conductor. A good start!

Mr. Raymond Hart, who organised the peal at Church Lawford on April 14th, to the regret of his colleagues could not participate owing to an injured foot. John Webb is thanked for standing in at short notice.

The new R.C. Church of Our Lady and St. Joseph, Balls Pond Road, Dalston, Islington, which was consecrated on April 12th by Archbishop Heenan, has a ring of eight bells (tenor 4½ cwt. in E), from Mears and Stainbank. The bells are hung dead.

The quarter peal rung at Somerby on March 19th was to the memory of Mr. D. R. Moore, father of Mrs. Harrison, and not as printed on page 275. The Rev. A. W. Harrison, Vicar of Somerby, is still alive and well. Our apologies to all concerned.

Mr. G. Burge, captain of ringers at St. Mary's, Bridgwater, informs us that in connection with the royal birth his band were in the tower within 10 or 15 minutes of the B.B.C. announcement and rang out the good news. Local newspaper reporters were also present.

We are pleased to learn that Mr. J. David Clarke, of Whatton, Nottingham, is shortly returning home from the Nottingham General Hospital after a serious illness. He will be recuperating at home but some time must elapse before he is ringing again. Best of luck, David.

PUBLICATIONS & THE CENTRAL COUNCIL

MR. STUART HODGSON'S letter, criticising the Central Council for not publishing technical literature, has been followed by a thoughtful contribution by Mr. Andrew S. Hudson. May I first of all assure Mr. Hudson of my pleasure in sharing with him the honour of this front page in that issue (April 24th), and also that, while we may differ on details, we have clearly each the same cause at heart. In my letter ('R.W.' March 6th) I wrote that it was little use bemoaning the fact that the Council or anyone else had not yet produced what another correspondent called a 'mythical long promised' collection. Any collection or publication about change ringing would only be published when one of us gave up sufficient time to produce it and found the cash (or a backer) to publish.

In view of the approach of the annual meeting of the Central Council it might be appropriate to consider the Council's powers and duties and how they relate to this demand for technical publications. We must all the time, however, bear in mind that the Council is not a corporate body like a local government authority, or even like a limited company, with a salaried staff to carry out its orders and the finance to see that those orders are implemented.

Among its original aims (1890) and relevant to this article are that the Council shall use its best endeavours to guard the rights and generally promote the welfare of the Exercise, both in its scientific aspect and as a branch of Church work. It shall also encourage and assist the development of the Art in its scientific, mathematical and historical branches. The Council today is still in this position—it can try to promote the welfare, etc., and can encourage and assist the development, etc. Note that there is nothing mandatory about this—our predecessors realised that there could not be, above all because the power of the purse was lacking.

The members of the Council, and its officers, are volunteers and all the work done for the Council is voluntary. Apart from the secretarial expenses incurred in arranging the annual meetings, hardly any of the expenses of its members on the work of its committees are met and all the actual labour is completely free. In spite of the reference in the Handbook to 74 delegates attending the first meeting, the members are not delegates in the sense that union delegates attend meetings and vote on the instructions of their unions. They are representatives elected by the constituent associations and, while normally they reflect the views of those associations, there are many occasions when they do not, with the result, sometimes, that their association does not elect them. But this does not happen often.

Now let us consider the vital question of finance. First the matter of cost of publication, remembering that ringing textbooks cannot be printed as cheaply as novels. Because of the considered policy of publishing the Beginners' Handbook as cheaply as possible it is now in its third edition of 5,000 copies. This last edition cost £169—about eightpence a copy. Allowing for postage, packing, advertising, etc., and the six copies for five shillings concession, the Council does not lose money on it. And it achieves its main object—a wide circulation. If this work had been dealt with on commercial standards there would have been publishers' costs, distributors' costs, retailers' costs, profits to all of these, initial payment to author and continuing royalties. At, say, two shillings and sixpence or more a copy sales would have been so much lower that the opportunity of a low reprint charge would never have occurred. It is quite possible that it would never have been printed at all—certainly not in its present form. It was the proof of demand supplied by a certain 'Notes for Beginners' which led to the issue of the printed booklet. And I am well aware that the circulation for the 'Notes' of some 3,500 copies in six hand produced editions was only because it was sold for the cost of the paper used.

Your critics may reply that they have only suggested that charges should be increased to commercial levels, and that this need not cause costs to rise similarly. But that is to ignore human nature. You can only use voluntary labour if you use it to cut costs so that you can produce cheaply for the benefit of all. The moment you raise charges to commercial levels and start to make 'profits,' the labourer will decide that he is worthy of his hire. There's also the tax man!

Now let us see what money is available to the Council under the present arrangements. It would not be right to use 1963 figures: they have not yet been presented to the Council. But the 1962 figures, published last Whitsun, are sufficiently recent for our purpose. The publications account showed a profit for 1962 of £58. This was obtained by carrying out the Council's policy of publishing at low prices to obtain a wide circulation. Enthusiasts may well say that ringers could buy at the full commercial price. I sincerely hope this will prove true when my own venture is published—both for my publishers' sake and my own. But I suspect we shall rely largely on copies being bought for public libraries! The large majority of ringers are not enthusiasts for textbooks and they are used to having their hobby almost for nothing. Perhaps this is subconsciously because it is a kind of return for all their voluntary ringing as part of their church work. Whatever the reason I know no peal ringer who pays for his three hours ringing at the rate he would for the same time at tennis, or ten-pin bowling—or bingo! We know well the reaction of association members to proposals for increasing subscriptions—usually only about the price of a packet of cigarettes per annum.

The profit of £58 was made on a total sale of 3,542 items—almost half of them copies of the Beginners' Handbook; the other half was divided among 22 other publications—no fortunes to be made there. It would be rash to prophesy that a doubling of the selling price would not at least halve the sales. With that result the profit would be no more and the aims of the Council, mentioned earlier, would not have been achieved.

The Council's general fund showed an excess of income over expenditure for 1962 of £54. But this took account of the £58 profit on publications. So the ordinary income, primarily from affiliation fees, barely covers necessary expenses. Perhaps this general fund should also be put on a commercial basis by asking the constituent associations for higher fees. But if you do this you cannot expect still to have the Council's work done for nothing, so your final position will be the same. And the associations will have less to spend on buying books, or teaching, or will have to raise subscriptions and round the circle we shall go!

There is the Clement Glenn bequest, now amounting almost to £900. The annual interest on this is about £25, which at commercial rates the capital might suffice for a quite limited edition of one 200 page text book and that would be that. This leaves 'The Ringing World' account, which shows an annual profit which may or may not continue to meet rising costs of production. It shows also a capital which in 1962 brought in the useful sum of £265 in interest to help towards the annual profit. As a member of the committee, I can well imagine the views of its convener

COVENTRY DIOCESAN GUILD

Invitation to Central Council

THE Coventry Diocesan Guild held its annual general meeting at St. Nicholas' Church, Warwick, on April 18th. Ringing before the service was in a variety of methods, all tastes being catered for. The service was taken by the Vicar, the Rev. Graham Smallwood, who is a vice-president of the Guild and also a ringer. In a short address he assured the members present that the Guild would always be welcome at St. Nicholas'.

Tea was followed by the business meeting with the president, Mr. F. W. Perrens, taking the chair. Opening the meeting, he gave a hearty welcome to all present, and in particular to the visitors. After dealing with the usual items, reports were given by the various officers.

MORE AND MORE YOUNG PEOPLE

The secretary said that the Guild was doing the job it set itself to achieve, that is, to keep as many of the bells ringing on Sundays for services. This he felt was being done very successfully as only bells that were unringable were silent, and even some of these were being chimed. Looking around the room, it was obvious that more and more young people were coming into the Guild, and this assured continuity, as these young people would be taking their place among the peal ringers, and peal ringing would help to keep them.

The treasurer's report created quite a useful discussion on the Guild finances, and how they should be used.

The Ringing Master commented on the ringing at meetings, saying that rounds for learners was very much worth while, as it taught them how to listen to their bell and improve their striking. He also commented on the low attendances at some District meetings, particularly because some of the towers were not too easy to get to. This was borne out by the Branch secretaries.

It was confirmed that the Guild acquire a typewriter and duplicator to enable the annual report and other duplicating work to be produced at little cost. It was also confirmed that the Guild renew its invitation to the Central Council to visit the Guild for its meeting in 1965.

It was confirmed that the annual subscription be raised to 3s. 6d. for seniors and 2s. 6d. for those under 18. This would make Guild finances more realistic and would enable officers of the Guild to claim expenses to which they were entitled, as it was obvious that many of them did not make claims out of consideration for the Guild.

A NEW PRESIDENT

As the president had intimated that he would not be seeking re-election, he nominated Mr. A. Beamish for that office. Mr. Beamish was duly elected. Before vacating the chair Mr. Perrens said how much he had enjoyed serving the Guild as their president and assured the meeting that he would always be pleased to help in the future in any way he could.

Mr. Beamish, on taking the chair, said he very much appreciated the honour the Guild had paid him, but he took it as an honour for the tower he represented. He realised that in following such a capable man as Frank Perrens, who had served the Guild in many offices, he had quite a difficult task before him, but assured members that he would do his utmost to uphold the example set by his predecessor.

All other officers were re-elected with the exception of the Warwick Branch secretary, who was not seeking office again. A successor will be nominated at the next Branch meeting, to be confirmed at the next quarterly meeting.

The meeting concluded with thanks to the Vicar and those who had arranged the tea. A social evening arranged by the young members of St. Nicholas' band was much enjoyed. Those not able to do the twist were left to enjoy more ringing on the good eight.

J. L. G. H.

if it was proposed to use either capital or interest for the risky business of publishing books at commercial prices.

What does all this amount to? Mr. Hodgson says 'There are signs of an increasing determination by ringers interested in technical aspects that their requirements shall be met. If those in control of the Central Council will not satisfy the demand they ought to announce their refusal at the Whitsun meeting in order that other sources of supply can be investigated without delay.' Brave words. But it needs no decision by the Council to enable Mr. Hodgson or any other of those determined experts to write and publish commercially, at their own risk, any book they wish, provided it does not infringe the law. Mr. Hodgson's own treatise on false course heads, which he substantially subsidised to enable publication, is being handled by the Council's voluntary labour system. It has only 12 pages and the charge at non-commercial rates is two shillings. Interesting as it is, sales in 1962 amounted to 34 copies.

Mr. Hudson says that 'When there is a demand for information by the Exercise, the Central Council should take all reasonable steps to satisfy it.' The word 'reasonable' can only mean in the context of the Council's voluntary workers and limited finance: that is just what the Council does when it is satisfied that the demand is sufficient to encourage its members to give of their leisure time and spare cash to produce suitable manuscripts. I can only underline Mr. Hudson's own words—'One has to take things into one's own hands.' Of course one does and always has, and those hands must dip into one's own pockets. More so if you are not prepared to accept Council publications which in his words 'omit what we want on account of some personal whim of the people responsible.'

May I conclude by saying that the Exercise should be—I believe most of it is—deeply grateful for all the work done all the year, freely in both senses, by so many members of the Central Council, some for many years. While realising that a 'Snowdon' family does not appear in every generation, I am sure the Exercise will be equally grateful to any of your correspondents who produce desirable text books to fill the gaps. Whether they will show that gratitude by paying commercial prices is a matter of doubt. It will depend on their valuation, not that of the author. But the enthusiasts for publication should be aware that the previous experience of several eminent ringers has not been too encouraging.

W. G. WILSON.

Burslem Delight

Dear Sir, — The Methods Committee are unanimous in their decision that Burslem Delight does not extend and request the conductor of the peal rung on November 23rd, 1963, to furnish a name for the method rung. —Yours faithfully,

C. KENNETH LEWIS,
Convener, Methods Committee.

OBITUARY

MR. JOSEPH MARSH

Local captain and a ringer at Claverley, Salop. for over 50 years Mr. Joseph Marsh, died on April 21st. A memoir will appear in our next issue.

MR. H. R. FRENCH

As briefly reported recently, the death of Mr. H. R. French, of Sturry, near Canterbury, came as a great shock to his friends. Proud of the fact that he was born a 'true Cockney,' his father being in the City of London Police, he spent his early youth at Smarden and was apprenticed to a local builder, and later moved to Ospringe. He served in the Royal Engineers during the first world war, and after hostilities moved to Sturry to join Mr. Ernest Slingsby, who at that time was captain of the local ringers. He soon took up ringing and eventually became captain, retaining that office until recently. In 1934 he joined the Cathedral company and at the time of his death was vice-captain. He was a keen peal ringer in the early days, but the demands of his business, which he took over in 1935, curtailed his activities. For a number of years he represented the Canterbury District of the Kent County Association.

As a builder he maintained a very high standard of workmanship, and gained the complete confidence of his many customers. This, together with the high regard with which he was held by all ringers who knew him, was vividly shown by the large attendance at the funeral service held in Sturry Church. This was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. R. R. Lunnon, assisted by the Rev. T. G. Williams (former Vicar) and the Rev. S. M. Evans. In a short address the Vicar paid a wonderful tribute to 'Dick' in his work as a former verger, latterly as a churchwarden, and in his relationships with all the village people. As the cortege passed between the ringers on its way to Barham Crematorium a course of Grandsire Triples was rung on the back eight of his own handbells.

He will be sadly missed by all who knew him, and many expressions of sympathy have been received by his family. To the writer it is the break of over 30 years of wonderful friendship.

B. J. L.

MR. SIDNEY HOUGH

The Chester Diocesan Guild has lost one of its oldest and most honoured members by the death on April 10th of Mr. Sidney Hough, aged 85 years. He had been a member of the Guild for at least 68 years (his name appears in the Quinquennial Report for 1896) and all of this time he was a ringer at Knutsford. He rang his first peal at Norbury on October 23rd, 1909, and his last peal was one for his own golden wedding on December 27th, 1952, rung by members of his own family with him as conductor. His peal total of 22 was by modern standards insignificant, but his contribution to peal ringing had been in the encouragement of others and he had travelled miles to take part in attempts, and many ringers who are better known to the Exercise owe much to his help in the early stages of their ringing careers. The writer is proud that Sidney Hough took part in his first attempt for a peal (which failed) and later conducted his first peal.

He was always active in Guild and Branch affairs and his attendance at Branch meetings was extremely regular until age prevented him from travelling, but in the last year he had attended one or two meetings and was obviously delighted with the progress of the young ringers he met. He was chairman of the Stockport Branch in 1933 and 1934 when he took over from the Rev. A. T. Beeston, with whom he had a great friendship, and he continued to keep in contact with Mrs. Beeston up to the time of his death. When his period in office was over he continued to offer the Branch his guidance and his advice was always sound and much of the Branch's strength may be attributed to his and his contemporaries' work.

AN APOLOGY TO BIDDENDEN

A. E. Davies (age 16), of Chatham, Canterbury, has written to Mr. H. G. Payne, tower captain at All Saints', Biddenden, expressing his 'sincerest apologies for my very stupid comment in your visitors' book about your tenor bell. I'm afraid it was one of those things which was written humorously without thought.

'So that the article "Uncalled For" should have no reflection on the band of St. Dunstan's Church, Canterbury, or for that matter any of the other churches in the city, I should like to make it quite clear that I am not an attached member of the tower, but, being a member of St. Dunstan's Church, the band and their captain very kindly allowed me to join them in their ringing.'

THE LANCASHIRE ASSOCIATION

Mr. F. Dunkerley Retires

THE 1964 annual meeting of the Lancashire Association, held at Leyland on April 25th, marked the retirement from office of Mr. F. Dunkerley, who had been general secretary since 1951, following the death of Mr. W. H. Shuker.

The president, the Rev. R. D. St. J. Smith, paid a very warm tribute to his services and, as a gesture of thanks from the members, presented Mr. Dunkerley with a silver cigarette box. A bouquet of flowers was also given to Miss Grimme, who had given such sterling service to him.

Mr. Dunkerley, in his reply, thanked the members and asked them to support the new secretary.

The only nominee for the vacancy was Mr. F. Reynolds, of 38, Windsor Avenue, Whitefield, Manchester, who was declared elected. There was a ballot for the vacancy on the Central Council caused by the death of Mr. Derek Ogden, and Mr. J. P. Partington (Rochdale) was elected. Mr. Cyril Cross-thwaite was the only nominee for the office of vice-president. Miss Mary Walshaw's appointment as custodian of the Derek Ogden Memorial Library at Manchester Cathedral was confirmed.

LAPSED MEMBERS WHO REJOIN

The committee's printed report, which was received, called attention to the resolution from the Blackburn Branch: 'That the committee be asked to consider a request that members whose subscriptions had lapsed, but who had since rejoined the Association, should be credited in the peal totals with peals they had rung when they were previously members.' After discussion it was carried that the resolution should go before the annual general meeting with the addition of the following words: 'if they request the same and furnish details.' The committee agreed that if the resolution was adopted by the annual general meeting an asterisk should be placed by the name of any member in the annual report who had rejoined. This was adopted at the half-yearly meeting.

Mr. Frank Reynolds reported to the committee that the bookcase for the Association's library had been completed at a cost of £20 for timber, although its value was estimated at £100. The library was to be named 'The Derek Ogden Memorial Library.'

LOSSES BY DEATH

These were.—Life ringing members: Henry Moss (Bolton), William T. Clark (Broughton), J. Miller (Leyland), Mrs. H. M. Windle (Hoghton), H. Entwistle (Burnley), H. Reynolds (Manchester). Ringing members: W. E. Loxham (Penwortham), R. Longden, D. Ogden and B. Walshaw (Manchester), A. Parker (Poolstock) and F. Bentley (Burnley).

The Association membership was: Honorary life 65 (new 2), non-resident 784 (new 43), ringing members 940 (new 101).

The ringing secretary (Mr. J. P. Partington) reported that 218 peals were rung for the Association in 1963, which was a record and 78 more than last year. They consisted of: Maximus 9, Cinques 4, Royal 13, Caters 8, Major 118, Triples 9, Minor 46, Doubles 11. There were 20 'firsts' for the Association: 203 resident members took part and 47 rang their first peal. Fifty-one shared in conducting, the leaders being Neil Bennett 22, John Ashcroft 19, Frederick Shallcross 18. Three resident members took part in the extent of Major at Loughborough. The outstanding peal for the Association was 18-

MR. F. DUNKERLEY,
General Secretary since 1951.

Spiced Surprise Maximus at Manchester Town Hall conducted by Derek Ogden. This was the greatest number of methods ever rung to a peal on 12 bells.

The president regretfully gave notice that having left the county he would have to resign next year. He also moved a vote of thanks to the Vicar, the ladies, organist, Mr. L. Walmsley and local ringers, and this was warmly supported.

Earlier in the day a large congregation heard the president give an interesting sermon at the service in St. Andrew's Church. A potato pie tea followed, and in spite of the number who had not sent in names, the locals rose to the occasion and catered excellently.

PROGRESS IN NEW ZEALAND

GREAT progress has been made in regard to ringing at Christchurch Cathedral. The membership is the highest ever and the result is that Grandsire Caters (plain courses) are being rung fairly regularly and soon a 'touch' will be attempted. Other methods rung are Stedman Doubles and Triples and a start has been made with Cambridge Surprise Minor.

At Easter we were very pleased to welcome Mr. John Gardner, of Balcombe, Sussex, England. Ringers of his ability, also Mr. John Gunner (late of Winchester) are a great help to the Society. On practice nights, with learners included, we have had as many as 15 present.

I am delighted to report that the ring of five bells at St. Paul's Church, Papenui, is active again, after being silent for some years. The Vestry at St. Paul's are behind this, the result being that recruits have been trained at the Cathedral by our members. Under the guidance of Ray Idle a start has been made at Papenui with practice on Thursday nights and Sunday evening ringing.

These are the bells that the ringers practised on for the opening of the Cathedral bells in 1881.

G. NELSON SLOANE.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

West Dorset Branch

The quarterly meeting of the West Dorset Branch was held at Symondsbury on April 18th, representatives from nine towers and two visitors being present.

The Guild service was conducted by the Rev. R. J. Edmondson, Vicar of Melplash, and the lesson was read by the Rev. K. G. C. Rowcroft. Mr. B. Elsworth was the organist.

An excellent tea, to which 30 sat down, was prepared and served by the local ringers and their wives, and all were made welcome by this hospitality.

At the business meeting members paid tribute to the memory of Messrs. E. Case and Elie Hawker. Five new ringing members were elected. Final arrangements were made by members for attending the Guild Festival at Marlborough, by coach.

Methods rung during the afternoon and evening were Grandsire and Stedman, Cambridge, London and Bob Minor.

Next quarterly meeting: Askerswell, June 13th; and practice meetings: Thorncombe June 10th, and Hawkchurch, July 8th. J. D.

Marlborough Branch

Aldbourne, where for over 200 years bells of all descriptions were cast by the former Wiltshire founders, Cor and Wells family, was visited by the Marlborough Branch for their meeting on April 25th. With the Rev. Roger Keeley (Ringing Master) in charge, a variety of touches was rung. It was a good meeting with many visitors. The Guild secretary (Mr. W. C. West) and his assistant (Mr. F. Slatford) were present and the Branch secretary was welcomed back after being laid aside with a severe attack of lumbago.

After the Guild service, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. C. C. Perry), came a splendid tea in the Memorial Hall generously provided by Mr. and Mrs. Keen. Helping with the arrangements were Mrs. P. Newman, Mrs. G. Newman and Miss E. Palmer. The vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. G. Newman (chairman) and the evening's ringing concluded with an excellent touch of Stedman Triples rung by a touring band from Thatcham, Berks.

CHESTER CATHEDRAL BELLS SILENT

Unless an unexpected gift is forthcoming, Chester Cathedral bells are likely to be silent for some time.

The Bishop of Chester (the Rt. Rev. Gerald Ellison), in his diocesan leaflet, states that an architect has reported that the bell frame is badly related to the tower structure, and movement in it could seriously affect the stability of the tower.

'The bells must be silent,' he says. 'First aid steps could be taken for £500. This would enable the bells to be rung for short periods. For £9,000 to £10,000 the troubles could be completely cured.'

'Is there anyone who would like to provide for the restoration?' appeals the Bishop. He points out that the Dean and Chapter were faced with heavy responsibilities for cleaning the inside of the Cathedral, and putting the Cathedral in order must be given priority.

'It looks as if there will be a long wait before the bells are heard again in Chester. This is a great sadness to those of us who love the sound of the bells and who feel much sympathy with Dorothy Sayers, who remarks that in this noisy world the sound of the bells is the one loud noise made solely to the glory of God.'

Letters to the Editor

Xingu Surprise Minor

Dear Sir.—The performance at Countesthorpe on March 9th does not conform with the C.C.'s conditions for peals of Minor, and cannot therefore be classed as a peal. I am sure that the ringers concerned are aware of this fact, and it was therefore wrong of them to mislead you into publishing details in the peal columns of 'The Ringing World' of April 24th. If it was necessary to publicise this feat at all, a heading such as 'Other Performances' should have been requested.

Minor methods such as Xingu are worthless since they are incapable of producing true extents in the conventional manner. This essential requirement cannot be evaded by using singles to produce 1,440's.—Yours sincerely,
GEORGE W. MASSEY.
Frome, Somerset.

Dear Sir.—With regard to the peal Xingu Surprise Minor rung at Countesthorpe on March 9th, I would like to point out that this peal does not comply with the Central Council's requirements for peals of Minor. The reason for this is that, as Mr. Jelley already knows perfectly well, it is impossible to obtain a true 720 in the method, and therefore the 1,440's employed could not consist of true and complete round 720's.

I am sorry to have to raise this matter, but, if my memory serves me correctly, a peal of Saturn Treble Bob Doubles was disallowed for this very reason.—Yours faithfully, ROGER D. BAILEY.

Holbeach, Spalding.

Mr. William Pye

Dear Sir.—The writer of the article concerning the first 12-bell peal for the Truro Guild on page 266 does the memory of the late Mr. William Pye a very grave injustice in suggesting he credited the five peals he rang in Cornwall in 1913 to the Devon Guild, instead of the Truro Guild, because he was only allowed three-quarters of an hour's ringing at the Cathedral instead of a peal.

Mr. Pye was not only a great ringer, he was also a great man, and quite above anything mean or petty such as is suggested.—Yours sincerely,
E. BARNETT.
170, Kings Close, Crayford.

Disappointed by Record

Dear Sir.—A few weeks ago my son and I were looking through the miscellaneous records at a well-known store. To our surprise we came across a bell-ringing record (H.M.V. CLP 1441). We hadn't the time to hear it played but knowing that bell-ringing records are rather hard to come by we bought it. But what a shock we had when we played it for the first time!

On the first side there was Plain Bob and Grandsire Doubles. The striking was terrible and I fail to see how this came to be recorded. On the second side there was Cambridge Surprise Major; this was a little better but I should not think it was up to recording standard.

I myself am by no means an expert ringer, indeed I am limited to Bob Minor and covering. But even I can tell bad striking when I hear it. If anyone doubts me and would like to hear the record I am in all day and would be more than pleased to oblige.—Yours sincerely,
M. BROWN.

Behind Washington Criticism?

Dear Sir.—There has been much correspondence and criticism of the selection of the Washington band.

The final one from Tom Lock adds something. He speaks of 'obvious omissions.' May I ask what obvious omissions?

Perhaps the general secretary of the Middlesex Association or the Master of the Cumberlands or a representative of the Ladies' Guild? Why end here? Why not the general secretary and Master of every Association? Why not a representative of every band who contributed?

Now let us face facts. The selection of a band of everybody's choice is impossible.

No matter who had selected the band, criticism was bound to come. One has only to glance down the peal columns each week and look at the number of Societies to realise the difficulties. I have been assured in certain circles that the fact that nine of the band are Cumberland Youths is purely a coincidence, and a sane look at the names will show that they are as good a band as possible.

The universal appeal has been pointed out. As a matter of fact it would be interesting to find out how many of the people who have complained have actually contributed to the fund.

Let us therefore have a little reason in the matter.

Certain people have selected certain ringers. If anybody has any complaint against any certain ringer or ringers, let them out with it openly.

Otherwise, let us have a little less of the sour grapes and pious platitudes and resign ourselves to the fact that everybody suitable could not possibly go and that in view of the difficulties a good job of selection has been done.—Yours sincerely,

WILLIAM A. THEOBALD.

Place Notation for Doubles

Dear Sir, — Could correspondents give Doubles methods in place notation? This would avoid the rather clumsy Winchendon plain leads with half-leads of Original called as bobs and Old Doubles calls for singles' type of notation, which may be all very well for Mr. Amos and Mr. Walkgate, but is rather disheartening for the less expert.

Two difficulties would be prevented entirely by place notation. The first is that it is not always made plain whether a whole lead of one method is being used as the bob of another, or if the plain lead method is being modified near the lead end.

Secondly, the method or call referred to may not be known to the reader. For instance, I cannot find any mention of a Grandsire extreme or odd bob in the 'Collection of Doubles Methods.'

Place notation is bound to be a little complex when the bob lead is very different from the plain lead, but it does have the advantage of conveying the information concisely, accurately and unambiguously.

It might also take up less column space and, in the long run, lead to fewer arguments in your columns.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN DAVID.

Peal on Woodhouse Machine

Dear Sir,—On Sunday, April 19th, a peal was rung on the Woodhouse Ringing Machine. The peal was P. G. K. Davies' composition of 5,120 Spliced Surprise Major in four methods — 1,120 Rutland, 1,280 Cambridge and Lincolnshire and 1,440 Yorkshire with 69 changes of method and all the work of each method for every bell. The peal was rung in 2 hours and 47 minutes.

This is the first peal to be rung on this machine since it was completely rebuilt by Mr. Gordon Thwaites, and we are pleased to report that the machine behaved faultlessly throughout.

I set the methods and put in the bobs whilst Gordon Thwaites attended to the diagram mechanism. A complete diagram of the paths of the treble and seventh was made, and this measures about 12 feet in length!—Yours faithfully,

C. CROSSTHWAITE.

Preston, Lancs.

'Wizard Show, Truro'

Dear Sir,—May I congratulate the members of the Truro Diocesan Guild who broke the Cinques barrier for the Guild. I know of no Cornishman who will not echo my sentiments when I say 'Wizard show, chaps, wish I'd been there'

Of course, we could all draw up bands which we think should have rung this peal. We did not, and therefore to this band goes all honour for having done that which we have neglected.—Yours sincerely,

CORNISHMAN-IN-EXILE

Dagenham.

Sundays at Twerton

Dear Sir,—May I first be allowed to congratulate the Highclere ringers on their Sunday service ringing and to tell them that the band at Twerton-on-Avon have rung for three services every Sunday since 1958.

Also, since starting off several youngsters at the beginning of 1963, we have added ringing for Sunday School and after Evensong to make it five times on a Sunday. It may be added that people around the church love to hear the bells and up to now have not found it too much.

It is interesting to note that the Sunday time-table of at least four of the band, who are also choirboys, ring six times and sing four times (which includes a visit to a neighbouring parish). I am not sure whether meal times exist but their keenness does not seem to wear off and I hope it won't. — Yours truly,

ALAN F. LEE.

Twerton, Bath.

Not from St. Dunstan's

Dear Sir,—It is a pity that Mr. Payne, of Biddenden, did not add the name of the 'gentleman' in his letter regarding the comments written in the visitors' book, that the tenor was 'lousy and flat.'

I have known all the members at St. Dunstan's for years. I am quite positive that not one of them would even think of making such an entry in any visitors' book, let alone do it, no matter what state the bells were in. I am equally positive that the 'gentleman' in question is not a member of St. Dunstan's and, whoever he is, he should at least have the decency to apologise to both the Biddenden and St. Dunstan's ringers.—Yours faithfully,

Canterbury

B. J. LUCK.

BRISTOL RINGING FESTIVAL

May 30th, 1964

As you can see from looking in 'Dove,' the city of Bristol and the immediate neighbourhood are wonderfully well endowed with rings of bells. It is therefore a natural place to hold a big Ringing Festival, for it provides all the facilities for a lot of ringers to do a lot of ringing in one day and to come together and meet each other. This year there will be 26 towers open and between them they will provide something for everybody; for the 12-bell ringers there are the fine bells of St. Mary Redcliffe; for the eight-bell specialists our Cathedral and the heavy eight at Long Ashton, as well as light eights like those of St. Ambrose or Knowle; for those who wish to pit their skills against heavy sixes there will be Westbury and Portbury as well as Filton and Clapton-in-Gordano for those who prefer their sixes lighter.

At any time of year Bristol is a beautiful city, but at the end of May it and the surrounding country are at their very best and provide much to delight and interest the eyes of the visitors, whether they be ringer or a non-ringing member of his family. For those whose particular interest is seeing unusual bells, there will be opportunities during the day to visit the central tower of the Cathedral to see the mediæval bells and frame recently described by Mr. Randal Clouston in 'The Ringing World,' and also Great George, the great bell of Bristol University.

On such occasions as this ringers also wish to get together and meet one another outside the tower. We have therefore arranged that all those who wish can lunch together at a modest cost at a hotel conveniently situated for the towers which will be open immediately after lunch and also for car-parking—no small problem in Bristol on a Saturday. There will also be a social gathering in the new Senior Common Room of the University in the evening, to which all are invited and for which there will be no admission charge.

It is appropriate that when ringers meet together like this they should also worship together and give thanks for the great gifts they enjoy. We shall have our own service at noon in the Cathedral, in which there will be a special ringers' choir.

Festivals were previously held in Bristol in 1961 and 1962 and were very well attended. We do hope, though, that ringers will not find themselves at the same tower simultaneously, as happened once or twice before, and we have tried to arrange things to prevent this.

You will not find the day's programme published in detail in 'The Ringing World' because it is so large that it will take up too much space together with all the necessary instructions for finding the towers. You can get the programme by writing to Mr. D. J. Hunt, 58, Gordon Avenue, Bristol 5. He also has lunch tickets for sale (7s. 6d.). Organising a festival like this does cost us a little, so we hope you will not mind a small surcharge being put on the lunch tickets to cover organising expenses; perhaps if you want to come but do not wish to have lunch with us, you could let us have a little contribution to help towards these expenses. Thank you.

We hope to see you in Bristol on May 30th.
P. G.

CHELSEA RINGERS' TOUR

Ringers from St. Luke's, Chelsea, together with other ringers who have in the past been associated with St. Luke's, took part in a well organised tour of North Yorkshire and Westmorland during the week April 11th to 18th. Headquarters were at Bedale, Yorks, and excursions were made daily by road to visit and ring at about 30 churches, which included Kendal, Bowness-on-Windermere, Ambleside, Sedburgh, Beverley Minster, Beverley St. Mary's, Walkington, Leeds, St. Chads, Headingley St. Michael's, St. Peter's, Bramley, Armley, Northallerton, Guisborough, Whitby, Pickering, Saltburn-by-Sea, Skelton-in-Cleveland, Middlesbrough, Thornaby-on-Tees, Howden, Selby, Sherburn-in-Elmet, Tadcaster and Middleham.

No peals were attempted but an excellent quarter peal of Stedman was rung on the beautiful eight at Howden. A very warm welcome awaited the party at every tower visited and ringing was enjoyed on some very good bells.

Those taking part in the tour were Miss K. Branson (Edinburgh), Miss V. Dupré (Chelsea), Miss M. Powell (Chelsea), Squire Croft (Ealing), J. H. Lott (Chelsea), Ian Lloyd (Pershore), Aubrey Lloyd (Charlbury), W. H. Pickett (Stoke), A. J. Stimson (Melton Mowbray), J. F. Smallwood (Darley Dale) and A. F. Udall (Chelsea).

Sincere thanks to those who made it possible for us to ring, and to Veronica and John for their efficient organisation. JAFUS.

MISS JEAN BARNETT'S '21st'

As April 28th fell on a Tuesday, it was decided to hold the first part of Miss Jean Barnett's '21st' celebrations on the previous week-end, when friends and relations gathered at Crayford, where they were entertained by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Barnett (mother doing a specially good job with the buffet!). The second part consisted of a peal of Bob Royal at Plymouth, in which Jean took part, and a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at Withyham, in which her father, grandfather and godfather took part (both peals being rung on the 28th). After the Withyham peal the band were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Hairs at Groombridge, and the opportunity was taken of wishing Jean 'Many Happy Returns,' this being done by telephone to Exeter.

SUFFOLK GUILD

The Central District held a quarterly meeting at Worlingworth on April 25th, which attracted ringers from as far afield as Hertfordshire, Cambridge, Norfolk and Ipswich. The Rector, the Rev. W. H. Donnan, welcomed the ringers at the service and gave an interesting account of the history of the eight bells and their connection with the people and village life over the past 300 years.

Before sitting down to tea at the Rectory Mr. L. E. Last thanked the Rector and Mrs. Donnan for their warm welcome and hospitality and congratulated all concerned on the very effective restoration work recently carried out at the church. At the business meeting the chair was taken by Miss Alice Lester and it was agreed that the meeting had proved a successful ringing and social occasion.
L. E. L.

THE LADIES' GUILD

South Wales District

Several young Caldicot ringers were able to ring their first courses and touches of Stedman Triples when the South Wales Branch held an enjoyable meeting on April 18th. The visit was regarded as a special occasion by the Vicar (the Rev. Roy Hallett), who arranged for solemn Evensong.

Tea was served in the church school by Mrs. Sowerby and Mrs. Wheeler. These ladies were thanked by Mr. Jack James. Mrs. Coles thanked Mr. Hallett for his warm welcome and Miss Dilys Hulbert thanked the organist, Mr. H. Harris.

Two new members were elected the Misses Nona Davies and Sally Behenna, of Cardiff.

Next meeting: St. Mellons, October 31st.
J. K.

STAFFORD ARCHDEACONRY SOCIETY

Seven Sunday service bands competed for the second striking competition held by the Society at St. Mary's Church, Bushbury, near Wolverhampton on April 11th. The test was 120 changes of either Plain Bob Doubles or Minor.

The results were: 1 Little Aston 'A' (7½ faults), 2 Lichfield Cathedral (10½), 3 Great Barr (21), 4 Aldridge (26½), 5 Penn (31), 6 Cannock (50½), 7 Little Aston 'B' (52). Great Barr should be congratulated on coming third as they had never entered a band before and some were learners, also Little Aston on not only winning but on entering two six-bell bands.

Thanks are accorded to the Vicar for his co-operation, the local ringers for light refreshments, and to Messrs. Gordon Halls (Derby), Dennis R. Carlisle (Sandiacre) and Gordon Lane (Kingsbury) the judges.
C. M. S.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

The quarterly meeting of the Chew Branch was held at Long Ashton (8) on April 18th, when the Association service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. I. F. Westmacott). Tea in the Church Hall was followed by the business meeting under the chairmanship of Mr. H. W. Knight. Eight new members were elected, seven from Yatton and one from Portishead.

Subject to permission, the following towers were chosen for meetings: Wraxall (quarterly) and Nailsea (June). The May meeting will be replaced by the Striking Competition at Nempnett Thrubwell, with Mr. A. M. Tyler, of Bristol, as judge. The test piece will be 120 Doubles or Minor, rung by a tower's Sunday service band.

An offer from Portishead to hold the annual Corporate Communion at their tower was accepted with thanks by the meeting.

Tribute was paid to the memory of Mrs. E. Knight, who had died since the last meeting, and Mr. H. W. Knight was congratulated on his election at the annual general meeting as an honorary life member of the Association.

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

Mr. R. Gorton, of 152, Deane Road, Bolton, completed on May 2nd 61 years as a ringer, of which the first 60 were at The Saviour's Church. For the last 12 months he has been a freelance. His father was for 67 years a ringer at The Saviour's Church. This is, indeed, a family record to be proud of.

The band who rang in the 150th peal on the bells of St. John's, Cardiff, on April 23rd, included five of the Sunday service band.

The peal at Seavington on April 23rd was rung by the St. James', Taunton, band, with the exception of Mr. Tom Hill, of Ilminster, to whom grateful thanks are accorded.

A naval correspondent who will be in Mombasa in June and hopes on six days' leave to visit Nairobi inquires as to the possibilities of a ring on the six bells at Kilifi.

Is it the custom for young ladies having the misfortune to break a stay in a strange tower to purloin the same as a souvenir? This happened recently when the Wotton Branch of the Gloucester and Bristol Association visited Malmesbury, Wilts.

Commander Davies, the son of the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies, the well known authority on ringing, visited Aldbourne tower during the meeting of the Marlborough District of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild on April 25th. The Commander resides at Aldbourne.

Yorkshire has wrested from Lancashire the honour of most methods rung to a peal of Royal. On April 25th at Wakefield Cathedral a peal of 28 spliced methods was rung, conducted by Wilfrid F. Moreton. A fine achievement!

A peal attempt at Old Alresford to mark the opening of a Diocesan Retreat House and training centre was terminated because the local tower captain was required to disconnect a hosepipe in a garden near the church. A half peal was, however, rung.

On the day after a peal Mr. Michael E. Brown was in Mr. Mick Vernon's shop at Stoney Stanton when he heard Mick ask a customer, who lived near the church, if the bells annoyed her. She replied that they lulled her baby to sleep and wished they rang every night!

BELFRY GOSSIP

The band who rang the peal at St. Stephen's, St. Albans, on April 18th wish to associate it with Miss Christine Rimmer. No girl could wish for a more graceful compliment as the method was St. Albans Delight.

The peal of Kent T.B. Major at Clanfield, Oxon, on April 25th, was the first in the method on the bells since 1921.

Miss Claire Dillamore informs us that to the best of her knowledge the gentleman who rang on her left in the peal at Downham, Essex, on March 29th (see page 281) was Peter J. Came, and not as printed. Will the conductor accept this correction?

Congratulations to 14-year-old Ronnie Loxley, of Eckington, Worcs, on his first attempt for a peal. He rang the treble faultlessly to Bob Minor at his home tower. A 19½ cwt. six of magnificent tone, Eckington bells are locally regarded as being 'men's bells.'

The Rev. L. Reading, who is leaving Shrub End, Colchester, to a national position in the Church of England, was recently responsible in getting the three bells at Shrub End augmented to six. A farewell peal was rung on the bells on April 23rd. 'We in N.E. Essex wish him good luck in the name of the Lord,' writes F. H. L.

The band who rang the peal of Stedman Caters at Nottingham St. Mary's wish to thank Mr. Walter Nicolls for volunteering to ring the tenor at short notice when the band met short for Royal. This was the 19th time Walter had rung the 35 cwt. bell to a peal and at the age of 69 his latest performance was first class; fully deserving of the congratulations of the band.

The last meeting of the Kent County Association at Tenterden was not 59 years ago as erroneously stated in our report. Mr. H. E. Audsley recalls a meeting there in 1932 or 1933. Lunch at the time cost 2s. 6d. and included a bottle of beer. Mr. Audsley and the late Harry Hoverd were in charge of the distribution of beer and when they had finished there was none left for themselves! This sad state of affairs has not been forgotten.

WINCHESTER & PORTSMOUTH DIOCESAN GUILD

Portsmouth Guild

Canon Gilbert Thurlow, president of the Central Council, received a warm welcome when he attended the Portsmouth District meeting at St. Peter's, Titchfield, on April 25th and was invited to take the chair at the business meeting.

New members elected were:—Ringing: J. Stanning (Swanmore), D. Pountney, R. Smith, the Misses L. Wyatt, S. Sales and E. Ahearn (all Titchfield), S. Raperport and D. Evershed (Alverstoke). Associate: the Rev. N. A. L. Miller, Vicar of Titchfield, Compounding: F. J. Nelson (Manchester), D. T. Darby (Leicester) and A. N. Stubbs (Birmingham).

Votes of thanks were accorded the Rev. G. Hewitson, Vicar of Salisbury, for conducting the service, and the ladies of the parish for the fine tea served at the Vicarage.

Next meeting: July 25th.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

STRIKING CONTEST

Banstead was the venue of this year's striking competition organised by the Northern District. There were five entries, all of them Sunday service bands, and the competition was judged by Mr. C. H. Kippin. The test was a touch of 224 Grandsire Triples.

After tea, which had been prepared by local ladies, the judge gave his report and the results. Beddington had the honour of gaining the least number of faults, followed by St. John's, Croydon, Wimbledon, Epsom Common and Redhill.

A short business meeting and the usual votes of thanks preceded general ringing.

Next quarterly District meeting: West Hill, Wandsworth, and Wimbledon on July 11th.

HALIFAX ASSOCIATION

When the Association met at Silkstone on April 18th the Meltham band gave a demonstration of contest striking on this delightful six. Tea was at Cawthorne Church Hall, provided at a ridiculously low price by the ladies of Cawthorne ringers.

Before the business meeting the Vicar (the Rev. R. T. Ellam) gave a warm welcome to the 'ancient and picturesque village of Cawthorne'. Three new members were elected—Miss Susan Greenwood, Mr. M. Farrall (Meltham) and Mr. Hedley Burton (Slaughton). Miss Christine Savile, who is moving to Kent, was made a life honorary member. Ringing continued in a great variety of methods—regular and irregular.

Next meeting and prize contest: July 18th.

MASONIC PEAL THAT MAKES HISTORY

History was made on April 25th at Tarleton Church, near Preston, Lancs, when a peal of Stedman Triples was rung by Past Masters. This was the first ever by Past Masters. Thanks are due to the Rector of Tarleton (the Rev. W. Riley) for his kindness, and it was fitting that the peal should be rung in honour of the newly-consecrated Tarleton Lodge. It is hoped to ring a peal of Stedman Caters in the near future. It is interesting to record that five of the Past Masters who took part in the peal are P.Z.s of the Royal Arch.

Cambridge University Guild

At the annual general meeting, held on April 29th, the following were elected officers for the year 1964-5: President, W. J. Ridgman; senior treasurer, B. D. Threlfall; auditor, H. E. Bishop; Master, S. C. Walters (Pembroke); secretary, K. J. Darvill (St. Catherine's); librarian, K. J. Trippon (Selwyn); steeple-keeper, J. A. Harrison (Sidney Sussex).

WELCOME TO TRURO

THE modern age has brought many advantages to our people, and one which is enjoyed is the ambition to travel to other parts of the country, to see and explore the beauties of our land, to make friendships and, for ringers, to hear and ring church bells.

The Central Council of Church Bell Ringers has become accustomed to this ever-changing scene for its annual conference, and if it were not for the trend of the age we would not have been given the opportunity to welcome the Council to Truro.

The Truro Diocesan Guild of Ringers was formed in 1897 and soon became affiliated to the Central Council. The first member of our Guild to attend a Council meeting was Mr. W. H. Southeard, who joined the first resident company of ringers in Truro Cathedral, and is still an active ringer and a vice-president of our Guild.

For many years the Truro Guild has cherished the idea that one day the Central Council would honour it with its presence at a Council meeting to be held in the City of Truro, and it is to the City of Truro and the diocese that we welcome you this Whitsuntide.

Truro is a pleasant little city almost in the centre of Cornwall, set amid green, sloping hills, steeply running down to a valley, clustered with buildings, streets and shops, with a steady flow of cars and vehicles passing through from one side of the town to the other. Away to the south can be seen the River Fal, winding its way along from the city centre downstream through thickly-wooded slopes towards the port of Falmouth. The call of the seagull can be heard and the small pleasure steamer taking its daily crowd of sightseers on the river is a familiar sight. In the centre of the city, as if reaching up to heaven, rise the tall spires of the Cathedral. Built of granite and Portland stone, the Cathedral stands, casting long shadows across the dwarfed streets and shops, which appear to crowd beneath its shelter. From the north west spire can be heard the tones of a ring of ten bells that reflects great credit upon the founders who cast it in 1910. On a Sunday the sound of the Cathedral bells mingles with a melodious ring of eight at Kenwyn, and in the distance may be heard the bells of St. Kea.

It is from this city that the Diocesan Guild has spread out to meet the needs of the diocese. Today the Guild covers the greater part of Cornwall, under the patronage of the Lord Bishop and the leadership of a president, Ringing Master and the general secretary.

The president, Mr. A. Carveth, is fortunate to have a wife who rings. His pleasant, enthusiastic personality has won the hearts of the Cornish ringers. He is Master of the Cathedral company of ringers and has been president of the Guild for ten years. In his home tower of Kenwyn he has built up a good band of change-ringers and himself has a good list of peals to his credit. He has guided the Guild through many difficulties with dignity, and he provides a vital link between the youth and the older members of our Guild.

The Diocesan Ringing Master, Mr. D. Burnett, began his ringing career in the small 6-bell spire of St. Ewe. His early years were spent ringing call-changes, and he later progressed to change-ringing. He has been a regular of the Cathedral band since 1949. For the past ten years he has been Master of the Guild and a representative on the Central Council, and for eight years a branch secretary.

The general secretary is the youthful-looking Vicar of Kenwyn, Rev. A. J. Vincent. He learnt to ring at Camborne Parish Church and after ordination was privileged to return to Camborne as the assistant curate, and later became Vicar of Kenwyn, a large parish in the City of Truro. He is a popular figure at Guild meetings and has a vital part to play in the important leadership of the Guild.

The Truro Guild is divided into six branches, each with a secretary, and has a total membership of approximately 900 ringers, some of whom are round ringers, some call-change ringers, and a proportion are method ringers. The greatest task of the Guild is to unite all the ringers in the diocese into one fellowship to proclaim the one true, living God.

So to the city and diocese of Truro we welcome you. To our picturesque towns; to our fishing villages; to our seaside resorts, especially Carbis Bay; to the land of the white pyramids of the clay industry; and to our villages, some of which are untouched since the time of the Reformation—we welcome you to ring in our towers, to enjoy our fellowship, to enjoy the sea air and green countryside.

We have looked forward to your visit; we hope that you will take away pleasant memories of Truro and also have the ambition to come again. On behalf of the Truro Guild, welcome.

DOUGLAS BURNETT.

WASHINGTON A GREAT TRIUMPH

Three Peals in America

THE Washington party arrived home at 7 a.m. on Monday extremely tired but very happy. Their visit had been a great triumph.

The big day was Ascension Day. At 12 noon the tower, Gloria in Excelsis, was consecrated, and in the afternoon there was a second ceremony for the dedication of the bells. Afterwards the bells were heard in all their glory as a quarter peal of Stedman Caters was rung.

Washington has been won over to change ringing. There were tears in many eyes among the crowd, as they listened to the bells.

AMAZING ENTHUSIASM IN PRESS AND RADIO

The excellent publicity drew a large crowd to sit in the grounds to listen to the peal of Stedman Caters on Saturday. The peal was successfully brought round in 3 hours and 24 minutes, and as the bells went into rounds the crowd clapped their hands and cheered. The enthusiasm was amazing.

It was good ringing throughout, although the temperature reached 90 degrees. A recording of the ringing was taken and this will be played at Truro by Mr. Douglas Hughes to enable members of the Central Council to form their own opinion.

Sunday was spent at Groton School, and on the ten bells at the school a peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal was rung. This was also a good peal.

When the band were in Washington on the first Sunday the bells were rung for a short period. The bells were silenced for the intensive training periods. There was amazing keenness among the young people. The principal lecturers were Mr. Norman Chaddock and Mr. Wilfrid F. Moreton, but all the band worked hard during the training periods. It was a week of late nights. The hospitality extended to the visitors was most generous.

While in America handbell ringing is almost entirely confined to tune ringing, the English visit has created an interest in change ringing in hand. So much so that the set Mr. Douglas Hughes had with him was left with the girls of Washington High School.

PRESENTATIONS

Messrs. Charles and Douglas Hughes were presented to Mr. Robert F. Kennedy, Chief Justice Earl Warren and the British Ambassador. As a souvenir of the visit Messrs. Mears and Stainbank presented three miniature silver bells to Dean the Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre. Mr. Robert F. Kennedy and the Chief Justice. On one side was panelled the arms of the Cathedral and on the other the arms of the Whitechapel Foundry.

The Dean presented to each member of the visiting band a beautifully bound, signed copy of the history of the building of Washington Cathedral.

While in America a handbell peal was also rung, bringing to total to three peals and one quarter.

When the aeroplane touched down at 7 a.m. on Monday there was quite a number of ringers and relatives there to greet them. Among them were Mr. J. E. Chilcott's wife and parents Mr. W. H. Coles (who has rung at Groton School), Mrs. Jill Staniforth and daughter and Mr. George Pipe's wife and children.

'The Ringing World' will be publishing a special article on the tour, with pictures, written by Mr. George Pipe. Those who participated regard it as the most outstanding week in the history of change ringing.

BRISTOL UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

Bristol University Society held its annual meeting on April 28th, when the following elections for the season 1964-65 were made: Master, C. M. Foster; secretary, D. B. Williams, Victoria Rooms, Bristol 8; hon. treasurer, Miss P. Bligh-Cheesman; tower secretary, B. M. Baverstock.

OUR HOSTS AT TRURO

Mr. Douglas Burnett, Ringing Master of the Guild.

Mr. Alan Carveth,
President of the Truro Diocesan Guild.

Rev. A. J. Vincent,
General Secretary of the Guild.

RAILWAYMEN'S GUILD

CREWE was the venue for the eighth annual meeting of the Railwaymen's Guild held on April 25th, with Kettell's Restaurant as headquarters. For those who arrived on Friday evening there was ringing at Christ Church. Every region was represented and the attendance was up to the average. It was nice to see Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Pitman amongst those present.

The business meeting was held in the morning with the Master, Mr. Charles Bassett, in the chair. A silence was observed in memory of Mr. A. Hill, of Workson, and a tribute was paid to him by Mr. S. Foskett. Apologies from 28 members and also best wishes from Mr. Norris (Rochester) and Mr. S. Robinson were received.

A short report from the hon. secretary deplored the lack of publicity of actual ringing within the Guild. Subscriptions and bank balance had increased and Mr. F. Stenson thanked the auditors.

Three nominations were received for the office of Master. A ballot resulted in a tie between Messrs. F. Stenson and A. Bassett and, with the casting vote of the chairman, Mr. Stenson was elected. Mr. J. A. Hoare was re-elected hon. secretary and treasurer. The regional Masters remain in office until the new regional territories are sorted out.

London was selected for the 1965 annual general meeting on May 15th. The September autumn meeting will be at Swansea. Eight new members were elected. Mr. F. Hodgson proposed the vote of thanks.

The company left by a private coach for The Beehive, Macclesfield, for lunch. Guests included Mrs. H. L. Horne, secretary local branch Ladies' Guild; Mr. J. Worth, Christ Church, and Mr. H. Longson, St. Michael's. The Ven. T. Clarke (Archdeacon) accorded the company a great welcome to Macclesfield. Mr. F. Stenson replied.

The coach took the Guild around Macclesfield with ringing on the light eight at St. Peter's, Cinques and Treble Bob at St. Michael's, and finally the five at Christ Church. Tea at The Beehive was very welcome. After evening ringing at Christ Church, Crewe, a very successful meeting, voted by some as one of the best, concluded.

BELLS OF ST. MARY'S JUBILEE

SUNDAY, April 26th, was truly a memorable day in the life of St. Mary's, Southampton, when special services marked the jubilee of the bells. The Rector, the Rev. Roy Chamberlain, who conducted the services, took as the theme bells and the ringing of bells. Two of the foremost clerical ringers preached—Canon K. W. H. Felstead, Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild, at Matins, and Canon Gilbert Thurlow, president of the Central Council, at Evensong.

There were some noteworthy dedications during the day. The first was a plaque recording a name which will always be remembered in connection with Southampton ringing. It reads:

'This tablet records the service of John Walter Faithfull, chorister, bellringer, church councillor, for over 30 years captain of the belfry. Erected by his fellow ringers.'

Other dedications were a pew given by the ringers and friends, and also a tapestry depicting the bells of St. Mary's given by the Mayor of Southampton, Ald. Ronald Pugh, and the Mayoress, Cdr. Mrs. Elinor Pugh.

Before and after each service the bells were rung, the standard of ringing being very good. It ranged from rounds to Cambridge and Yorkshire Royal. This was possible not only by the loyal support of ringers from the Southampton District but also those from Bournemouth, Christchurch, Fordingbridge, Farnborough, Bristol, Eastbourne, Winchester, Lichfield and London.

Mr. T. R. Faithfull, on behalf of the Rector and ringers of St. Mary's, thanked Canons Felstead and Thurlow and all ringing friends for their wonderful support which resulted in a really memorable day in the history of St. Mary's Church.

BATH AND WELLS DIOCESAN

Holding their first meeting at Corton Denham for 15 years on April 25th, the Cary Branch had the pleasure of electing eight new members from Cucklington and their Rector, Rev. R. G. Harewood, as an associate member. South Dorset was chosen as the venue for the Branch's outing in September.

The Rev. S. Risdon-Brown was thanked for conducting the service, also Mr. F. P. Hill, the organist, and Mrs. Longney, who provided tea. Evening ringing was at South Cadbury.

WITH ANGELA IN CORNWALL

AT mid-day on Saturday, April 4th, three carloads of ringers from Brighton and Cheltenham descended on Mr. Frank Mack's garage in Exmouth. The Grainger tour of 1964 had started. Difficulty was experienced in handling the lightest ring of six in the world but eventually we managed some rough rounds and two scarcely recognised Plain Bob.

Our hotel in Helston was reached in the early evening and here we were joined by the Bedford contingent and Dr. Tony Bennett, who is living in Cornwall. Sunday morning saw the entire party at All Saints', Helston, for early Communion, followed by breakfast and ringing for Matins at St. Keverne. The rest of Sunday was spent enjoying the sunshine at Coverack before attending Evensong at Landedwack.

On Monday morning the residents of Carbis Bay heard some rough ringing on the ten bells but this improved at Towednack and Zennor. Sennen provided the highspot of the day. On arrival we were greeted by the Rector and taken on a tour of the church. He told us of the six-day-old wreck on the rocks at Land's End, which we subsequently saw, and of the quarrel among the local fishermen over the mullet catch. Ringing at Penzance and Madron rounded off the day.

All partook of a trip round St. Michael's Mount the following day. Our boat was driven by a local fisherman, who told stories of smuggling, whales and wrecks associated with the bay, and gave us information about the tides and currents. In taking the boat over the causeway running from the shore to the Mount, we found our experience with boathooks from last year's tour on the Llan-gollen Canal useful. The first tower of the day was Gulval, where the churchyard looked really beautiful in the bright sunshine. Some good ringing ensued during the day including a call change peal at Camborne. Two quarter peals of Grandsire Triples were scored by different hands during the afternoon, one at Tuckingmill, the other at Crowan. In the evening everybody relaxed at a party given by Dr. Bennett.

After ringing at Helston on Wednesday morning a band of six was despatched to Sennen to ring for a wedding in accordance with a request from the Rector. The rest travelled toward The Lizard, ringing at Cury, Mullion, St. Antony-in-Meneage and Manaccan. They were later joined by the Sennen band. A cordial welcome was received at the practice at Redruth. That night we moved our base to Truro.

We rang in seven towers on Thursday and it was a relief to visit only three on Friday. A visit to Verran produced interest in and speculation about the origin of the unique round houses. Ringing on the sixes at Golen and St. Ewe followed before the party split up to find rest or entertainment.

The final day of touring took us to seven towers to the north east of Truro, Crantock Rural, Newlyn East and St. Erme being towers to remember. The local at Newlyn East called a long peal of call changes which were enjoyed by those ringing but taxed the patience of those waiting to ring.

Sunday morning; and most of us were up for a non-existent 7 o'clock Communion at Truro Cathedral. After this disappointment we returned to the hotel to pack before returning to the Cathedral to ring. During Eucharist at the Cathedral one of the three organists in the party was allowed to play a chord at the start of the anthem. Those who did not stay for the Cathedral service made their way to Kenwyn to ring and attend Matins. After the services, a brief meeting to say farewell before we went our various ways.

Throughout the week a reasonably high standard of striking was maintained and methods included Yorkshire, Cambridge and an ill-fated attempt at Cornwall Surprise.

We would like to thank Angela Grainger, of Brighton, and John Norris, of Hurstpierpoint, for their hard work in organising the tour.

D. P. T.

CORNISH BELLS

O merry ring the Christmas bells across the Western land,
From Launceston town to Michael's Mount,
from Bude to Sennen Sand,
The joyous echo sweeps along far spaces by the sea.
And Church bells answer Church bells with their 'Gloria Domine!'
O Cornish bells, ring far, ring free,
Ring—'Gloria tibi Domine!'

High o'er the ridge of Bodmin moor grey Rowtor keepeth guard.
His age-worn crown of granite crag by wind and storm is scarred.
But here as once in Bethlehem the Christmas stars shine bright,
And moorland men are wending far to Church on Christmas night.
O Bodmin bells, etc.

O hark the bells of Liskeard how they call the bells of Looe.
St. Winnow and Lansallos, Lqstwithiel and Duloe,
Till all the upland pulses with the Glorious Hymn of Joy,
As Talland calls to Lanreath and Lanteglos answer Fowey.
O Liskeard bells, etc.

O'er Mordred's town, by Michael's rock, the bells of Roche out-tell
Their silver call to Wenna's fane beyond the Holy Well:
O! Columb's hill! O! Deny's heights, the glad-some chorus sing.
Till all Luxulyan's rock-piled dells with clashing echoes ring.
O Roche Church bells, etc.

Ring glad some bells, ring pealing bells from Falmouth harbour wide,
To where St. Mary's Minster stands above the Truro tide.
Ring Christmas bells of Roseland in our maddest, merriest glee.
From Probas to Penkevil, from Lamorran to the sea.
O Kenwyn bells, etc.

As by the mystic star of all the Magian kings were led,
So homing boats on Christmas Eve by lights of Lizard Head;
And fisher lads safe home at last from peril on the sea,
Give incense of brave hearts to greet their Lord's Epiphany.
O Keverne bells, etc.

Round dark Tintagel's castled crag, round Gurnard's Titan keep,
The long Atlantic rollers boom their organ-music deep.
And Buryan bells o'er land and sea the Christmas message bear
To where the dreaming Scillies sleep in moon-enchanted air.
O Buryan bells, etc.

O Magic moon! O mystic Stars!
O music of the night!
Your 'Gloria in Excelsis' sing,
O Praise Him in the Height!
'On earth be Peace, Good-will to men!'
it is the Angels' song—
Ring Cornish bells, ring one and all.

Ring Cornish bells o'er land and sea,
Ring 'Gloria tibi Domine!'

Letters to the Editor

Standard Notation wanted

Dear Sir,—The method given as Rothley Surprise Major (page 278) is incorrect. The 2nds place method with the given place notation produces the lead end 1573 . . . not 1352, and has previously been rung in spliced as Guernsey. It was renamed Llanfihangelrhychdeith in a peal (page 48).

Since the False course heads (not ends) given are correct (see H. and M. Collection, Vol. II. Method No. 1,796) presumably the lead end place was printed or submitted incorrectly, since 8ths p.l.e. is 1352, as printed.

May I redefine the distinction between lead- and course-ends and heads? The end of a lead or course has the treble leading at the hand-stroke of its whole pull, the head has it leading at backstroke. Thus (e.g.) 12345678 is the zero-th lead head of Plain Bob, 13254768 is the first lead-end and 13527486 is the first lead-head.

Could copy submitted incorrectly be corrected by the Editor before printing, to avoid the confusion now existing? And could we have a uniform standard style of place-notation? (Again editorially supervised if necessary.) I suggest that places be printed in full (no first or last places 'understood'), changes where no bell makes a place be denoted by X, and adjacent places be separated by a full stop. An example of this type of layout is Spalding Surprise Major (page 299).

The economics of leaving places to be 'understood' are negligible, the 'understood' place has to be restored before use, and an X seems to me clearer than the alternative dash. Compare the clarity of Spalding with the untidiness (and inconsistency) of Hounslow in the adjacent column.

Could I also plead for a standard notation of lead-heads? The numerical system adopted in our Surprise Major collection has the advantage of easing the task of working out successive lead-heads, even in spliced methods. For example, a method like Cambridge having a lead-head denoted by the lead-head number 2 has its 2nd lead-head 4, its 3rd 6, 4th (8) = 1, and so on. (See Maurice Hodgson, 'A Symbolic Treatment of False Course Heads,' page 4, where he discusses the meaning and use of Hn, where n is our lead-head number). I have here called rounds the zero-th lead-head: this seems preferable to calling it the first, as he does.

The alternatives are two: The lead-head letter system, which is extremely compact, but does not have the ease of interpretation and prediction of the number system; or the present haphazard method of quoting the lead-head bells in full or in part, which is clear and easy to interpret, but takes much space and is not suited to easy prediction of the next lead-head.

Is it asking too much of our Editor to ensure a consistent editorial style? Most periodicals have it (for instance, the journal of the Institute of Physics has a multi-page booklet 'Notes for Authors,' which even goes into details of spelling and punctuation).

If it is objected that editing may lead to misinterpretation of submitted copy, then I would counter that if the Editor can misinterpret the copy, then so can the reader, and so nothing is lost, while something is gained—clarity and consistency.

As a further illustration, compare Hounslow, as printed on page 299, with my suggested method.

(a) 36—56.4.58—58.36.14—14.5—14—3.
2nds place L.E. 157 38264 4ths place
boh.

(b) 36 x 56.14.58 x 58.36.14 x 14.58 x
14 x 38. 12 2 boh 14.

In the half-page width columns on the peal pages (even if not here), (b) has the advantage of taking a line fewer. Which is preferable? Anarchy or consistency? (Even if not on my terms, but on some.)—Yours faithfully,

JOHN W. McCLENAHAN.

Christ's College, Cambridge.

Note.—For 18 years the Editor has been trying to get a consistent form of arranging a peal with the number of a bell after the name, and not before, and footnotes in the following sequence, *, †, ‡, § (recognised by printers) and there are still members of the Central Council who refuse. He hesitates to rearrange place notation.—Ed.

Carillon goes to Belgium

Dear Sir,—Those who like to keep their 'Dove' up to date should delete the entry relating to the carillon in the Odeon Cinema, Marble Arch, London.

On the recent closure of this cinema the magnificent four-manual Hill, Norman and Beard concert organ was sold to a church at St. Austell, Cornwall. (I fear little room will be left for the congregation.) The carillon has been sold to Belgium—for £5,000!

Although the carillon had been disconnected for years, following complaints from patrons in the front stalls, it was played manually during a final B.B.C. recording of the organ, due to go out on the Third Programme at a future date.—Yours faithfully,

A. St. J. BOYACK.

Westcliff-on-Sea, Essex.

The Leeds Broadcast—an Apology

Dear Sir,—It is considered an apology is due from the A.B.C. Television Authority rather than from Mr. Dove. We at York have had a similar experience.

On Easter Monday, 1962, A.B.C. Television broadcast the morning service from the Minster and we rang a titum course of Grandire Cinques prior to the service. What was broadcast, however, was a recording of rounds on the front eight.

The recording was made without our co-operation or knowledge and was made when rounds were being rung for the benefit of learners. At that time, also, the 9th was unringable, being loose on its headstock, and was awaiting the attention of the bellhangers, so that was why the middle octave was not being rung.

The facts were reported to the Dean and Chapter and we were advised that what had been done could not be undone, but we were forewarned for the future!

Our relations with the B.B.C., however, have been excellent. A few months ago a service was broadcast and several weeks before the event I was contacted and told it would be necessary to record the bells. My advice was sought as to the best time to take the recording and also the best place to place the microphone. The result was that on the Sunday prior to the broadcast the recording van arrived at the Minster at 9 a.m. and I was able to stay with the operator while the rest of the band rang a good course of Grandire Cinques. Everyone was satisfied.

Perhaps the Central Council Broadcasting Committee will take note of the ways of the A.B.C. Television Authority.—Yours sincerely, HAROLD WALKER.

President.

York Minster Society.

Australian Hospitality Commended

Dear Sir,—I would deem it a great privilege to be allowed a little space in your columns to try and express thanks to the ringing circle here 'down under.'

It is now two months since this ship called at the first port in Australia; from then on I have been received by the ringers in each respective port with hospitality that knows no bounds, both in the belfry and in Australian homes. This letter can do little to repay the debt I owe them but I feel I must pen a few words and assure people in 'The Ringing Isle' that both ringing and ringers are very much alive here. We in the U.K. can learn something from the ringers in Australia. At times they express regret at the sparseness of towers here but their insatiable enthusiasm for ringing will carry them a long way and makes up many times over for the lack of towers. At times like this I think that we are spoilt in Britain.

Finally, may I ask any merchant seaman reading this who has not sailed out here yet to mend the error of his ways, for a great and spontaneous welcome awaits him.

Thank you all in Australia for making this the most enjoyable and memorable voyage of my career at sea.—Yours sincerely, K. FLEMING.

M.V. 'Port Brisbane.

Two Points

Dear Sir,—I should like to draw the attention of the Exercise to two matters.

Firstly, in the Doubles collection in that excellent publication, 'Ringers' Notebook and Diary' for 1964, the dividing line between the leads has been drawn at the lead-end. This no doubt is due to last year's academic discussion on lead-heads and lead-ends in 'The Ringing World.' May I suggest that it would be of more use to the Doubles ringer if the dividing line was drawn below the lead-head, which most non-academic ringers refer to as the 'lead-end.'

The second matter is the motion which Mr. D. A. Bayles proposes to put to the Central Council this year. To propose a motion and then exclude certain methods (e.g., Cambridge) from it is quite illogical, better not to introduce the motion at all. One also fears that a motion applied in the first instance to even-bell methods may eventually be applied to odd-bell methods may eventually be applied many popular methods.

No doubt other ringers have their own views on the above matters, and I may be criticised for what I have said. I shall, however, be quite content if this letter succeeds in drawing attention to the two points discussed above.—Yours faithfully, COLIN A. LEWIS.

Glasbury-on-Wye.

An Apology

Dear Sir,—I hasten to apologise to my friend, Mr. Maurice Hodgson, for his renaming as Stuart on your front page of May 8th. Whether this was due to the article being written late at night, or to my calligraphy, or merely to a hitch in the production line, I have no idea, but I am glad that he is so well known in the Exercise that there can have been no doubt as to his identity.—Yours,

W. G. WILSON.

THE MASTER MARRIES THE SECRETARY

Mr. Alan John Frost, of Kettering, Master of the University of London Society, and Miss Diana Mary Lawless, of Corby, the secretary to the Society, photographed after their wedding at St. John the Baptist Church, Corby, on March 28th. A representative band of ringers assembled to ring before and after the service, which was fully choral and was followed by Communion. The bridegroom could not resist having a ring while waiting for the bride.

Diana wore a dress of patterned white brocade and carried a spray of tangerine rosebuds and white heather. She was attended by three bridesmaids—Bridget Lawless (her cousin), Idena Frost (sister of the bridegroom) and Enid Town (a college friend who is also a ringer). Their dresses were of tangerine coloured brocade, and they carried carnations and heather. The best man was Roger France, who, like the bridegroom, is an architect.

The top tier of the wedding cake was decorated to resemble a church tower complete with bells. The honeymoon was spent in Italy.

CHESHIRE RING TO BE RECAST

Due to the dangerous condition of the tower, ringing at Bowdon Parish Church, Cheshire, was suspended early in 1963.

Inspection revealed that the eight pinnacles, each weighing approximately 3½ tons, would have to be demolished and the turret wall rebuilt.

The present ring of eight bells (tenor 14 cwt. 1 qr. 25 lb. in F sharp) is to be recast with a tenor of 18 cwt. in E and hung in a new frame, approximately 25 feet below the existing one. The church gallery is to be modified to form a new ringing chamber.

Originally the tower held six bells, cast by A. B. Rudhall, in 1714, which in 1923 were recast and two trebles added. The first recorded peal was rung in 1936 and to date the total stands at 57.

It is hoped to dedicate the new ring towards the end of this year. A. J. B.

RINGING COURSE AT LUMLEY CASTLE

'Praise him upon the loud cymbals: praise him upon the high-sounding cymbals.' (Psalm cl, 5)
'Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding.' (Proverbs iv, 7)

SUCH may be the thoughts behind all our schemes of organised courses in ringing, but variation in approach to these aspects will be found in particular cases. Thus development and innovation were the features of the third annual one-day course arranged by the Durham and Newcastle Association on March 21st.

Once again, we enjoyed the facilities of Lumley Castle, Chester-le-Street, a privilege accorded us by the Vice-Master of University College, Durham University, and the response of intending students was enough to tax even the resources of this resplendent hall of residence. Over 90 names were registered for the various classes and with the continuing yearly increase in numbers one can contemplate invoking the spirit of Sir Ralph de Lumley, the founder of the castle, to make some extensions.

The curriculum was developed on previous courses by catering for four different grades of study—Elementary Stage I (Class A) for the round and call change ringer wishing to take first steps into change ringing; Elementary Stage II (Class B) for the 'plain hunter' progressing to method ringing; Intermediate (Class C) for the elementary method ringer seeking to extend his repertoire by considering the two stages (i) Plain Bob to Kent T.B. Minor, (ii) Kent T.B. to Cambridge Surprise Minor; and the Advanced (Class D) for the more experienced ringer. Innovation was introduced by adeptly 'tailoring' the time-table so that each class was afforded two full sessions of practical belfry instruction, and in this respect we were fortunate in having five local towers available. In addition, no lectures were projected for the Advanced grade and, instead, the main feature was a discussion group where ringing topics of particular interest were considered and reported upon, while further time was devoted to advanced ringing practice in the tower.

Beginning with general assembly at 10.30 a.m., the full course was addressed by the Ringing Master, who welcomed all students and supplied general orders for the day. Class A was conducted by Mr. E. P. Rock and Class B by Mr. F. Hodgson, and these classes alternated throughout the day between the Pillared Hall at the castle and the belfries at Lanchester and Chester-le-Street parish churches. The syllabuses here covered respectively the study of tower bells, their fittings and action, to principles of striking and the elements of change ringing; and explanation of terms 'hunting', 'place making' and 'dodging' with their application to the structure of Plain Bob, the rules for ringing Plain Bob Minor and their practical aspect in belfry work.

Class C was organised in two streams 'X' (Plain Bob to Kent T.B.) and 'Y' (Kent T.B. to Cambridge Surprise), but to commence with a joint session was held, when Mr. D. A. Bayles lectured on 'Method Construction and its Practical Applications', in which the Plain

Bob system for producing changes was developed and the structural relationship of other 'regular' methods demonstrated. A text of the talk was available in booklet form and at a charge of 6d. copies were readily bought up. The streams then divided and Class X had a lecture from Mr. K. Arthur, who provided a detailed analysis of the Treble Bob principle with particular reference to the Kent variation. Simple rules and hints in ringing the method were demonstrated. Two practical sessions then followed at Houghton-le-Spring belfry when exercises in the Treble Bob principle were performed. Meanwhile, the Y class, which was alternating with the X class between lecture room and Houghton-le-Spring, completed a practical session ringing methods considered at the morning lecture as stepping stones to Cambridge Surprise. A further talk from Mr. Bayles on 'Progress to Cambridge Surprise' followed and the Treble Bob system with its variations 'in phase' and 'out of phase' were examined.

A welcome addition to the panel of tutors this year was Mr. W. J. Davidson, who undertook the unenviable task of launching the newly-introduced discussion group for the Advanced grade. With him gathered in the Junior Common Room were 16 expectant ringers and a wide range of subjects was dealt with in an informal atmosphere. The training of recruits and instructors, publicity, Association organisation were among the matters discussed at length and the opinion was expressed that the group met a real need and could be repeated to advantage. Then after an afternoon assisting with practical work in the A and B grades, this class concluded the course with ringing practice at the Sunderland belfries of 'St. Ignatius' and Bishopwearmouth, which included the ringing of a quarter peal of Bob Major, elsewhere reported.

Following dinner in the Great Hall when we had the Rector of Chester-le-Street and Mrs. A. Spurr as our guests, the usual forum was held where the proceedings of the day are open to criticism. Among suggestions for future courses was one for a talk on belfry maintenance for towerkeepers and this was duly noted by the organisers. On a proposal of Mr. E. P. Rock a vote of thanks was passed to the Ringing Master for his work in promoting his third successful project and the gathering then adjourned to the Pillared Hall to conclude the event with a social get-together and general discourse on those things that only ringers understand. K. A.

LORD FISHER AT DORSET MEETING

Lord Fisher of Lambeth, who lives at Trent, Dorset, in retirement, honoured the joint meeting there on May 2nd of the Ilchester Branch (Bath and Wells Association) and the North Dorset Branch (Salisbury Diocesan Guild) by his presence. Over 50 attended the service conducted by the Rector (the Rev. T. F. Taylor) and tea. Lord Fisher did at one time learn to handle a bell but he would not be persuaded to come to the tower.

Numbers increased in the evening and methods rung included Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob, Double Court, Double Oxford, Kent, Cambridge and London.

OBITUARY

MR. JOSEPH MARSH

Mr. Joseph Marsh, of Claverley, Salop, died suddenly on April 21st. He had had trouble with his heart a few weeks earlier and had been advised by his doctor to take a period of rest, which necessitated him giving up his ringing.

His death came as a shock to the residents of Claverley, and especially his fellow ringers. Joe Marsh, who was the local captain, had been a ringer at All Saints' Church for just over 50 years. He was a devoted 'Sunday service ringer' and it was only on rare occasions that he was absent from duty. He was equally regular on practice nights. Joe loved his bells at Claverley and it was on a few special occasions only that he could be persuaded to ring at other towers. He had rung a few peals, mostly at Claverley.

In addition to his ringing activities Joe Marsh was a very keen chorister and his good tenor voice will be much missed. He was also a member of the Parochial Church Council for many years. Claverley Church has indeed lost one of its stalwarts. F. C. A. B.

AN APPRECIATION

Mr. Philip Mehew writes: It was with sorrow that I read of the death of Joe Marsh, of Claverley. One of my most treasured ringing experiences was that of ringing in a peal at Claverley on November 30th last year in commemoration of 50 years' service by Joe Marsh and Ernie Drew in their belfry.

It was of this village that a ringer once said 'in other place one exists, but in Claverley you really LIVE!' The beauty of this place goes far deeper than the material, the warmth of its fellowship lies everywhere, and welcomes one in belfry, choir, 'Top,' 'Middle' or 'Bottom.' Joe Marsh had a great deal to do with this welcome, and I would like to offer my sympathy to Mrs. Marsh and all of my many friends at Claverley, for Joe's passing is our loss.

PHILIP MEHEW.

MR. F. WATTS

Burmarsh, Kent, ringers suffered a tragic blow in the sudden death of their captain. Mr. Frank Watts, on April 24th, at the early age of 57. Not only had he been a member of Burmarsh band for about 35 years, but was also organist and churchwarden for the last few years.

Frank had rung several quarter peals and was always present for service ringing. Only in recent years, with Frank's leadership and determination, had Burmarsh ringers made progress in change ringing, and a few weeks before he died they rang their first course of Cambridge Minor.

To his memory a half-muffled quarter peal was rung on April 29th, with the help of friends from Lympe. Later Mrs. Watts, Brian and Yvonne paid a visit to the belfry to express their thanks. A. T. R.

SIR GILBERT ACLAND-TROYTE

Lieut.-Col. Sir Gilbert Acland-Troyte, C.M.G., D.S.O., who died recently, aged 87, was Member of Parliament for Tiverton from 1924 to 1945. He was the third son of Col. C. A. W. Troyte, one of the founders of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers and the author of a formerly well known text book on ringing.

ARCHDEACONRY OF HALIFAX

A programme of ringing, which included Cambridge, Kent, Oxford, London and Double Norwich, made the Guild's meeting at Mytholmroyd on May 2nd most enjoyable. Local ringers provided a sumptuous tea, the Vicar (the Rev. W. H. Barnes) conducted a Ringers' Evensong and the presence of friends from Lancashire among the many visitors gave us great pleasure. W. M.

WAREHAM, DORSET.—On April 25th, 1,260 Reverse Canterbury Pleasure Bob Triples: Joanna J. Wigg (first of Triples) 1, Judith A. Robertson 2, L. H. Pink 3, G. W. Elmes 4, J. W. Blackwood 5, H. I. Pitman 6, R. G. W. Robertson (cond.) 7, R. W. Young 8 First of Triples in the method by all. Rung for the Feast of St. Mark.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Some 63 members were present at the annual general meeting of the Bedfordshire Association, held in the crypt of St. Mary's Church, Woburn, on May 2nd.

During the day ringing took place at Amptill, Flitwick, Westoning, Aspley Guise, Husborne Crawley and Eversholt. Despite the rather damp weather, there was a good crowd at every tower and the ringing was generally of a good standard. Our thanks are extended to the incumbents who met us and allowed us to ring on their bells.

The Vicar of Woburn, who had taken the service, at which the captain of Woburn ringers read the lesson, welcomed the Association, and particularly to the spacious but 'empty' crypt, where all present enjoyed tea, prepared by the local ladies. After tea the young Woburn handbell ringers under their conductor, Mr. K. Spavins, ably entertained the company.

The president, Mr. A. E. Rushton, who presided, thanked the Vicar and ringers of Woburn, and the ladies who prepared the tea. It was pointed out by the treasurer (Mr. A. S. Smith) that the statement of accounts showed no deficit only because an annual report was not published last year.

The officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Mr. A. E. Rushton; secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. S. Smith; peal secretary, Mr. P. Mehew; auditor, Mr. C. E. Jeffries; Central Council representatives, Messrs. J. H. Edwards and A. E. Rushton; trustees, Messrs. H. D. Harris and A. J. Smith; librarian, Mrs. S. J. Ivin.

It was decided to hold the 1964 A.G.M. at Bromham on May 1st, with ringing at various towers in the district. The meeting rejected the idea of holding a summer festival, but there were indications that if a dinner was held in November it would be well supported.

After the meeting ringing up to London was continued on the eight bells. A. R. A.

LONG BUCKBY, NORTHANTS.—On April 27th, 1,260 Plain Bob Doubles: E. A. Gautrey 1, R. C. Kennell (first 'inside') 2, J. H. Williams 3, N. Craddock 4, J. E. Goddard (cond.) 5.

A word of gratitude is expressed by those who rang the peal of Plain Bob Royal at St. Andrew's, Plymouth, on April 28th, to William A. Theobald for standing in at the last moment and making the peal possible.

The band send their best wishes to Thomas
G. Myers and E. Maurice Atkins, two Guild officers, and wish them both a speedy recovery and a quick return to the ringing chamber.

Peals at Sherborne Abbey are always occasions to be remembered. Mr. Derek Jones conducted a youthful band through a very good peal there on March 30th.

Colin Wright, of Walthamstow, who started ringing at 13 after his holidays last year and is already ringing Stedman Caters, recently stood in a peal of Bob Major at short notice and rang this, his first peal attempt, without a single trip.

In connection with the peal of Grandsire Doubles at Chetwynd, Salop (see page 301), it was the first peal at first attempt for L.
Evans, S. Illidge and Jack Smith, and the first of Grandsire and of Doubles for Philip R. Johnson.

The band who rang the peal at Timsbury would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Cottle for providing tea afterwards — this and the teas for the previous lost attempts have been most kind. Mr. Cottle is tower captain and he rang the tenor to his first peal.

Considerable interest in campanology is being evinced by Rotary in the South. Mr. A.
York-Bramble has accepted his fourth invitation to lecture to clubs in this area, this time to the Cosham (Hants) club. Previous talks he has given to the Southampton, Portsmouth and Fareham clubs.

Cottingham (Yorkshire) ringers were rather taken aback during ringing for Evensong on May 3rd. Since Matins two pigeons had built a nest in the eye-level window alcove of the ringing chamber and the female bird started to lay eggs during the evening ringing. It has not been possible to ascertain the foundry marks on the eggs yet, however, but whether cast at Loughborough or Whitechapel it is hoped that the 'youngsters' will be interested enough to take up ringing at a later stage!

BELFRY GOSSIP

When the new Vicar in a Yorkshire parish suggested to the old bell ringer nearing 80 that it was time he retired, the old chap cheerfully replied: 'Lookee here, sir. I was born and bred in this place and in me time I've seen five Vicars of the parish dead, and I would like to make it half-a-dozen before I give up myself.'

No more applications for peal attempts at Lichfield Cathedral can be considered until mid-1965.

At the 13th attempt, spread over a period of two years, M. J. Bangham, of Kingston-upon-Thames, has rung his first quarter of Stedman.

The band who rang a quarter peal of Stedman at Blandford on St. George's Day would also like to associate the quarter with the Ancient Order of Foresters Friendly Society (Wimborne, Wareham and Bournemouth Courts) as a quarter peal attempt before a centenary service at Wimborne Minster on the previous Sunday was unsuccessful.

Mr. Cecil W. Pipe writes that the ringing arranged in Cornwall on Sunday, Monday, Wednesday and Thursday during Whit week, excluding the two coach tours, allows a fairly good tour of the county and deserves support.
At least four ringers of his family will present themselves at the towers mentioned.

Mr. George Hawkins, of Luton, and Donald Clift, of Cardiff, attended school together, and learned to ring at Usk while still at school.
Up to 1935 they rang many peals together, now, after an interval of 29 years, they have rung another, a peal of Stedman Caters at Luton.

The quarter peal of Cambridge Surprise
Minor rung at Somerton on April 28th ran into difficulties owing to part of the tenor rope breaking and unplaiting and flying around, and also the sally breaking apart after the conductor set the bells. At the end all had a good laugh. The ringer of the treble said, 'There's one thing, old Garge got more hair now than when he started!' To this the ringer of the fifth added: Ah! and I got more fluff, too.'

'The Ringing World' has received a very generous gift of back numbers dating from 1919 to 1959. While some are brown with the passing of years, the majority are clean and serviceable. We propose to offer these to readers who want to complete their files. The charge will be 8d. per copy post free.

MANCHESTER UNIVERSITY GUILD

The fourth annual dinner of Manchester University Guild was held on March 14th in the New Millgate Hotel, Manchester. Fifty-one members and visitors attended.

After an excellent meal, the toast of the Queen was proposed by the Guild's president, Mr. Brian A. Tomlinson. This was followed by a minute's silence in remembrance of the former president, Mr. Derek Ogden, who died so suddenly last year.

The toast of 'The Church' was proposed by Mr. John C. Baldwin, and ably replied to by Mr. Gordon Benfield. Miss Jean Allen then proposed the toast of 'The Visitors,' and Mr. Roger Shea, of Liverpool University Society, replied.

The toast of 'The Guild' was proposed by Miss Gillian Webb, of Durham University Society, and replied to by the Master, Mr. Edward F. P. Bryant.

In his speech, Mr. Bryant first expressed the Guild's sorrow at the loss of Mr. Derek Ogden. He then gave a brief resumé of the Guild's activities during the year, and concluded by once more appealing to life members to continue their support to the Guild in the coming year.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

The eight bells of Carshalton and the ten of Beddington were available for the annual general meeting of the Surrey Association and a well attended service was held in St. Mary the Virgin's Church, Beddington. A company of 69 attended tea in the Village Hall.

The meeting commenced with the reading of the minutes, followed by comments on the accounts by the treasurer, Mr. G. Marriner received in person a cheque drawn on the Belfry Repair Fund as a contribution towards the cost of repairs at Leatherhead.

There being only one nominee for each of the posts on the General Committee, the officers were elected en bloc. The Master, Mr. A. P. Cannon, thanked Mr. R. A. Parsons, the retiring general secretary, in his absence (caused by business commitments) for his work during the past years and welcomed Mr. W. Parrott as his successor.

An application to transfer some towers from the Northern to the Southern District of the Association caused a lively discussion. A motion that the towers of Ashted, Epsom, Epsom Common and Ranmore Common should be transferred was carried with a reasonable majority.

The meeting was closed by the Master thanking the Vicar, the organist, the ladies for providing the tea, and the officers, and the day ended with further ringing at Beddington until 9 p.m. A. G. C.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD Newark District

A new band has recently been formed at All Saints', Barnby-in-the-Willows, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Mayer, and all were present at the very successful meeting held there on May 2nd.

The District contest for the Crawford Cup took place in the afternoon, and out of three entries Newark were placed first with 104 faults, closely followed by Sutton A with 119 faults.

Over 40 people enjoyed an excellent tea served in the Church Hall by the local ringers and their mothers, and at the business meeting visitors from the Bingham District and the Lincoln Guild were welcomed. B. N. R.

LONDON TOWERS REVISITED

By RONALD H. DOVE

OF course, I have visited London since, but my outing on April 11th with ringers from St. Mary's, Putney, my son Barrie, and Paul Field, who had specially come up from Somerset, took me back 36 years.

Those were the days before the covered buses, and in fine weather it was a pleasant ride by a 68 'General,' for a modest shilling or less, leisurely to cruise over hill and dale by a tortuous route from South Croydon to Chalk Farm. For variety there was opportunity to alight at the top of one long, steep hill and walk alongside the bus, which could be rejoined once it had reached the foot in safety.

While enjoying such a scenic trip on a summer's evening I saw nestling in a quiet backwater just off the busy Walworth Road the Georgian tower of St. Peter's, Walworth, whose slender and graceful tower contains, unbelievably, a ring of eight of perhaps three tons weight.

Of the evening service I remember little beyond a very meagre congregation and that before it started the Rector rang some 'quick-fire' rounds and Queens, interspersed with seasonable hymn tunes. With youthful enthusiasm I extorted permission to attempt a peal, but was told I would have to provide my own ropes and ringers. Before I had progressed with my plans, Jim Davis, the originator of the 'Davis silencers,' who lived nearby, told me that he had fitted the bells for chiming and to 'de-clock' them would cause him a lot of work. I abandoned the idea.

Some months ago I revisited the church, and the Rector, Fr. Hinds, willingly allowed me to see the bells and to arrange for a brief trial ring. The bells are a complete ring by Mears, dated 1824—one year later than nearby Waterloo Road. Numbers 1, 2, 4 and 6 are carried above 8, 3, 5 and 7 in a timber frame, which must be seen to be believed for it defies description.

A number of peals have been rung here, and boards record a 5,088 Kent in 1894, conducted by J. E. Davis, and an earlier one of Grandsire Triples in 1840. The bells had not been rung for a very long time. I have been told the last was for peace in 1919, but I am open to correction.

On April 11th our first call was at St. Barnabas', Pimlico, another supposedly 'unringable' tower, where the insecurely fastened 'Davis silencers' failed to placate the 'anti-bells' living in the neighbourhood. To those who protested, the Vicar, the Rev. John Fox, replied in the 'Evening News': 'People are happy enough to hear the strum, strum, strum and the Yeah, Yeah, Yeah, but they complain when they hear the bells of heaven.'

Then came Walworth, where it was quite an achievement to obtain rounds, and seldom has so much hard work been put in for so brief a ring. Next came Rotherhithe, where the bells hang diagonally in the tower. We followed a touring band from St. Albans at St. Vedast's, thence to Bethnal Green and back once more into dockland. The ten at All Saints', Poplar, require ringing, and I suspect the eight at Cubitt Town went easier than now when the ladies rang their first peal there 50 years ago.

In Kent we found the six at Sidcup a pleasure to handle, and the light five at Foots Cray have a second that won't clapper-up right and gives a double blow in consequence. The most tuneful bells of the day were the 40-year-old Croydon eight at Eltham. Beckingham's light ten induced the day's best ringing, including a touch of Stedman Caters in which the conductor lost his bearings and wondered why the tenor man would not dodge in 6-7 as told! Of these bells, personally I liked them and disagree with the critic who once told me that they were a good eight spoiled.

The day, or rather the night, was rounded off at Addington, where the six are a pleasing combination of new and old. Perhaps it was the previous week's disturbance at Clacton which led an anonymous caller to raise the alarm so that the Putney Dormobile arrived at East Croydon Station simultaneously with the police, who appeared to be looking for someone to run in. I felt I ought not to loiter about too much for, when I come to think of it, I had caused quite a disturbance of the peace in one way or another that day; and what with forgetting to put the clock chimes back at Pimlico, to say nothing of attempting to ring at Walworth, I probably deserve locking-up anyway.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD FESTIVAL

FOR ringers in the Salisbury Diocese all road led to Marlborough, on May 9th, where the annual festival of the Diocesan Guild was held. They came from almost every corner of this large diocese, which comprises the whole of Dorset, and all of Wiltshire except a small area around Swindon.

Most of the towers in the local Branch were open, and full use was made of the privilege during the morning, early afternoon and evening. The ancient borough wore quite a festive, air with flags flying from church towers and public buildings, posters welcoming the Guild to Marlborough, and in the background was the added bustle and excitement of a pending Parliamentary by-election.

The annual general meeting was held in the Town Hall, with the Master of the Guild (the Rev. Richard Longridge) presiding. Supporting him were the Mayor of Marlborough (Councillor J. M. Seamer), Mr. W. C. West (general secretary) and Mr. F. Slafford (assistant secretary). Apologies for absence were received from many old friends, including the president, Canon C. C. Cox. It was unanimously agreed to send Canon Cox a message of affection and good wishes. The Mayor, in his welcome, confessed to being a non-ringer, but said that after spending many years abroad, one of the things which delighted him on returning home was the sound of church bells. Of English customs, he thought, anyone in foreign lands missed this the most. A warm welcome was also extended by the chairman of the local Branch (Mr. G. Newman).

In his report for 1963, the honorary secretary announced the resignation of three Branch secretaries, one committee member and one Branch chairman. Miss Y. L. Eloie, of the Salisbury Branch, was in office for 14 years, and is now living at Guildford. Both Mr. J. I. P. Davis, of Wimborne, and Mr. J. T. Barrett, of West Dorset, had been reluctantly compelled to give up owing to other commitments, and Canon H. V. White had relinquished the chairmanship of the Calne Branch after 40 years in office. Mr. R. H. True had resigned as a committee member. A sincere vote of thanks was passed to all and the following were elected in their stead: Mrs. Judith Robertson, Wimborne; Mr. A. Trimby, Salisbury; Mr. J. Davis, West Dorset; and Mr. Barry, Calne. The Master was unanimously re-elected, as was Mr. W. C. West as honorary secretary and treasurer, with Mr. F. Slafford as his assistant.

The financial statement was quite healthy, with a slightly increased balance in hand.

RINGING, A CHARACTER BUILDER

Capt. J. D. Mansfield-Robinson called attention to the great contribution bellringers could make in enrolling youth in their bands. Bellringing was a team effort of the very first order, he said, and as such was a wonderful builder of character. Capt. Mansfield-Robinson represents both Wilts and Dorset on the governing body of the National Association of Youth Clubs, and was one of those associated with the Outward Bound scheme and the Duke of Edinburgh's Award Scheme. This latter includes campanology as one of its proficiency aims. His appeal was backed by the Rev. Roger Keeley, who is the Marlborough representatives on the Northern Area of the Wilts Association of Youth Clubs.

It was agreed that if possible the next annual festival should be held at Sherborne on May 8th. A short discussion on the possibility of allowing Branch secretaries to retain a larger proportion of the subscriptions for running expenses concluded a most useful meeting.

The Mayor and Mayoress were among the large congregation in St. Mary's Church for the Guild service. Canon F. B. R. Browne (Rector) officiated, and the lesson was read by the Master. During the service a plain course of Grandsire Caters was rung on handbells by H. G. Keeley 1-2, C. W. Powell 3-4, G. S. Morriss 5-6, E. C. Sheppard 7-8, Rev. R. Keeley 9-10. The choir gave an impressive rendering of the Easter carol 'Good Christian men rejoice and sing,' with Mr. J. W. Pomfret as organist. The address was given by the Rector.

A bountiful high tea was partaken of in the Church Hall by a company of 160: the Mayor was entertained at the top table by the Master, supported by Capt. J. D. Mansfield-Robinson (Branch representative), Rev. R. Keeley (Branch Ringing Master), Mr. G. Newman (Branch chairman) and Mr. T. A. Palmer (Branch secretary). The meal was arranged and served by Mrs. Browne and a willing team of lady helpers, who were sincerely thanked for their services.

In the ringing afterwards the octave at St. Peter's was in great demand, and as the writer wended his 14 miles homeward, most of the towers en route were adding their contribution to what had been a really great and enjoyable day. W. A. E.

THE SCOTTISH ASSOCIATION

The 32nd annual general meeting of the Scottish Association was held in Edinburgh on May 9th, when there were ringers present from Birmingham, Lancashire and Newcastle, as well as local or semi-permanent residents in Scotland.

Ringling began at 11.30 a.m. at St. James' and later the three other ringable towers in the city were also available. A short service, conducted by the Rev. John Paterson, was held in St. Cuthbert's Memorial Chapel, followed by tea and the business meeting, when 12 new members were elected. Mr. Harry Sargent, of Glasgow, did not wish to stand again as Ringing Master and was thanked for all the work he had done to date for the Association. Mr. Magnus Peterson, of Edinburgh, was elected in his place, the other officials continuing in office for another year.

It is hoped to hold meetings during the coming year at Dundee in the autumn, Alloa in the spring, and Glasgow and Paisley in April.

ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN COMPETITION

Praise was accorded by Mr. Frederick Sharpe, the adjudicator, at the variety of methods rung at the annual competition at Llandeilo (6). A rope slipping wheel caused one test to be rerung and a broken rope interfered with one team's ringing.

Mr. Sharpe's adjudication was given after an excellent tea, provided by the ladies of Llandeilo, who were thanked by the Master (Major R. Pateman). He said there was little to choose between the teams, and no extra marks were given for more intricate methods. Results: Llanelly 'A' (average age 17), Grandsire, 11 faults; Cardigan, Stedman, 12; Llanbadarn Fawr, Grandsire, 14. Other competitors were Pembroke, Llanelly 'B' and Tenby.

The evening concluded with a recital by Mr. Sharpe and his Launton handbell ringers, who were enthusiastically received.

REDEDICATION

Witham-on-the-Hill, Lincs

To mark the rededication of the bells of Witham-on-the-Hill, Lincs, a quarter peal of Surprise Minor (Norwich and Cambridge) was rung on May 9th by W. R. Marsh 1, A. E. Scott 2, F. W. French 3, C. Wade (cond.) 4, C. L. Blanchard 5, H. E. Burrell 6.

The rededication was performed by the Bishop of Grantham. Tea was afterwards provided by the ladies of the Parochial Church Council, and a good company of ringers enjoyed an evening of ringing.

The work was undertaken in 1962 by Messrs. John Taylor and Co and included the recasting of the treble, second, fifth and tenor (13 cwt, 3 qr. 24 lb.). The service was deferred until full payment had been made for the contract.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Rochester District

Some 45 members and friends attended the Rochester District meeting at Bobbing on April 25th, when methods up to London Surprise Minor were rung under the superintendence of Mr. C. Osenton, Ringing Master. The Vicar (the Rev. G. E. Jessup) conducted the service, and the District secretary, Mr. L. Mitchell, was a last-minute organist. The churchwardens and Mr. and Mrs. B. W. May provided tea.

Outstanding business at the meeting was a proposal by Mr. A. J. Dunk to hold a District dinner at Sittingbourne on September 25th, as the Kent County Association was unable to hold one at Maidstone. Support was promised by most members present. Mr. Dunk was appointed chairman of the dinner committee and within a few hours of the meeting finishing he had made the necessary arrangements—cost 12s. per head.

Mr. George Kenwood was welcomed back after his long illness and members were sorry to learn that Mrs. F. A. Mitchell was ill with influenza. After a comprehensive vote of thanks, proposed by Mr. Dunk, ringing was continued until 9 p.m.

Lewisham District

Christ Church, Erith, proved a popular tower for the Lewisham District's quarterly meeting on April 25th, which was attended by about 70 members and friends. Ringing was under the leadership of Mr. David Manger, District Ringing Master, and the service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. K. H. Jocelyn). An excellent tea in the Church Hall was followed by a business meeting.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

Six teams entered for the N.E. District's striking contest held at Mistley on May 9th. Each team rang practice rounds for two minutes and then rang 240 Minor.

The service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. A. J. Morley), and Mr. Robert Heazel (the Association Master) read the lesson. After tea Miss Hilda Snowden, for the judges, gave her assessment of the afternoon's ringing. She said she had been one of the judges of a previous competition at Mistley two years ago, and the striking had improved considerably since then. The treble was odd-struck and a lot of points had been lost from failure to give open leads. The order of the teams was as follows: Kirby 'A' team 149 faults, Thorington 228, Kirby 'B' 243, Harwich 252, Ardleigh 304. Colchester St. Leonard's disqualified owing to a pile-up.

The winning Kirby team had to ring with one substitute. All teams rang Bob Minor except Thorington, who rang Treble Bob. The two winning teams each contained three ladies.

The District Master, Mr. Frank Lufkin, thanked the judges, Miss Snowden, Mr. Walter Arnold and Mr. Peter Wood, all from the Northern District, and the M.C. Mr. Robert Leavett, of Tollesbury.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

Lamerton bells, near Tavistock, which were rehung last year, were much enjoyed at the spring meeting of the S.W. Branch on May 9th: Rounds, call changes, Grandsire, Stedman, Plain Bob and Kent were rung. The Vicar (the Rev. Mr. Stenhouse), assisted by Prebendary Andrews, president of the Guild, conducted the service.

The chairman said he knew he was expressing the feelings of all present in saying how much they regretted the fact that their hon. secretary and Ringing Master, Mr. I. G. Myers, was unable to be present, and that on the previous day he had returned to hospital. Everyone wished him a very early and complete recovery. Duties of hon. secretary and Ringing Master were undertaken by the chairman. New members elected were Messrs. Harry Del-Quick and G. Hill (Lamerton), Mrs. J. Southwood (Plympton) and the Rev. G. Ruming.

Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar, the organist, Miss Hayman, Messrs. Cundy, Barrabal and Solely and the other local ringers, and Mrs. Stenhouse, Mrs. Barrabal and helpers for an excellent tea. H. H. T.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION

THE annual meeting of the Gloucester and Bristol Association was held in the Church Room at Stroud on April 25th and was very well attended, there being about 160 members present from most parts of the Association area.

The Rev. F. F. Rigby, Master, opened with prayer, using the Collect for the Fourth Sunday after Easter. Apologies were presented on behalf of a number of members unavoidably absent.

The reports showed a lower number of members (787—131 juniors, 656 seniors) but an increase in the finances, and that 117 peals had been rung during 1963 for the Association with no less than 43 first peals in various methods, including the record multi-Minor peals on tower- and handbells.

All of the officers were re-elected for another term of office and thanked for their services. Mr. J. Whiting, of Gloucester, was made an adviser in place of Mr. R. Dowdeswell, who did not seek re-election, for the Gloucester and Cheltenham areas: Mr. E. F. Hancock and Mr. R. E. G. Luton will continue for Bristol and Swindon.

Mrs. E. Hobbs, Mrs. E. Sutton, Canon Lister, Mr. H. Cuff and Mr. L. Hewitt were made honorary life members for their services to their towers and the Association. The next annual meeting is to be at Berkeley on April 24th, 1965, by invitation of the Wotton Branch.

NO CHANGE IN REPORTS

After considerable discussion, a proposal to print the peal section of future reports in tabular form was defeated, and the officials were instructed to make no drastic changes to the style of the report.

At tea in the Premier Rooms the Bishop of Gloucester was welcomed by the Master, who thanked him for sparing the time to come and preach at the service.

In his reply Dr. Guy said that he knew a little about ringing, being just about able to control a bell, and he asked the officers a number of questions about change ringing, as he had come from a part where only call changes were rung. The Bishop was also very surprised to learn that there were rings of bells in places other than churches. At the service he said how very pleased he was to be one of the presidents, and took for his text, 'O God, make them perfect in every good thing to do Thy will.'

During the service Messrs. G. Land, B. Bladon and T. Peake rang a plain course of Oxford Treble Bob on handbells between the lesson and Magnificat. A collection amounting to £10 8s 3d. was given to the church to be used mainly for material to keep birds out of the tower. Most towers in the Stroud Branch were open during the day, and good use was made of the bells; a wedding at Stonehouse caused some delay in starting there.

Visitors present at the meeting came from Harrow, Middlesex, Prittwell, Essex, and Sandbach, Cheshire.

Peals at Bassaleg, Mon.

Dear Sir.—In connection with the footnote to the peal rung at Bassaleg on April 10th, I would point out that the first peal on these bells, one of Plain Bob Minor, was rung on March 18th, 1933, conducted by the late George Popnell.—Yours faithfully,

DONALD G. CLIFT.

Whitchurch, Cardiff.

Note. — Mr. M. J. Pryor also sends his apologies, the error being due to incorrect information.—Ed.

17th CENTURY BELL FOR WINCHESTER CATHEDRAL

The bells of St. Lawrence's, Winchester, four cast by Anthony Bond in 1621 and one by Ellis and Henry Knight in 1674, have parted company for ever. Only No. 3 remains in the home tower to be chimed in lonely state.

For many years the tower has been declared unsafe for ringing and Ellacombe chiming apparatus was used; even this had to be discontinued. The parish very generously decided to dispose of four of the bells, where they could once more be of service to the Church. Treble, second and tenor were found a home at Upper Clatford, and will be hung with two other 'resident' bells.

It was discovered that the fourth could be tuned to make a flat sixth for the Cathedral. The St. Lawrence's P.C.C. were very happy to present this bell to the Dean and Chapter so that at least one of the old five could ring out again in the city. The bell now lies in the south transept of the Cathedral, awaiting the day when funds sufficient for retuning and hanging are raised. An anonymous benefactor has already paid the cost of its removal.

When the project is completed, the Cathedral will have a true 'light eight' with 14 cwt. tenor, which will be known as the 'St. Lawrence Eight' in remembrance of the grand little ring, which contributed to its completion, and in acknowledgment of the generosity of the parish that supplied the bell.

The task of raising the funds falls mainly on the Cathedral ringers, who will explore every means of expediting the day when they can say 'Take hold for... on the light eight.' Donations large or small will be gratefully acknowledged and should be sent to the captain, Dennis B. Brown, 3, Moss Road, Winnall, Winchester.

Our picture, through the courtesy of 'The Hampshire Chronicle,' shows Mr. Frank C. W. Knight inspecting the fourth bell.

Mr. Sweet writes correcting the report of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers on page 119. His home tower is St. Peter's, Tidenham, Glos. and not Chenstow, as stated, although he is a member of the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Association as well as the Gloucester and Bristol Association.

BIRMINGHAM UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

A comprehensive survey of many Kent towers was accomplished by Birmingham University Society of Change Ringers during their Easter tour, which was based on Westwell, near Ashford. The party included Chris Nokes (Ringing Master), Geoff Davies (post-graduate member), P. W. Gay, N. C. Perrins, C. J. Brown, A. J. Jobson, A. D. Macfadyen, Ann E. Fellows, Rosemary A. Tailby (who made all the arrangements) and Ruth Gay.

Many of the touches were spoilt by ringing too fast and this was particularly noticeable at Margate. Improvement was noted on Friday in the Folkestone/Hythe area. Sunday ringing was at Wye and Petham, and in the afternoon a quarter of Surprise Minor (Cambridge and Surfleet) was rung at Hothfield by Rosemary A. Tailby 1. C. S. Nokes 2. A. J. Jobson 3. C. J. Brown 4. P. W. Gay 5. G. Davies (cond.) 6. In the evening ringing was at Great Chart.

On Monday, after a visit to the Isle of Sheppey, there was an interview with a 'Kent Messenger' representative. His first question was: 'Are you doing this for money?' Then, 'Are there any ladies with you?' to which a reply was 'I don't know, but you needn't quote me on that.'

At Leeds the tomb of James Barham, of the famous peal of April 6th-7th, 1761, was visited and a touch of Bob Major was rung to commemorate the 203rd anniversary of the peal, which fell on the date of the visit. Grandsire Caters was rung with the help of Mr. G. Cantrill.

The first snag of the tour occurred on the last day at Chart Sutton, where we were informed a stay had been broken the previous evening and the rope was round the wheel. A 'grab' at Boughton Monchelsea, with Vicar's permission, was a good substitute.

Thanks are accorded to ringers who met us and Rosemary Tailby, the tour organiser, and her helpers: the results were much enjoyed by all who went.

A CONQUEST AT BREDON HILL

Birlingham, lying at the foot of Bredon Hill in a bed of the River Avon, is what would usually be described as a sleepy village. On April 25th, however, rural peace was shattered when the first peal was rung on the bells of St. James' Parish Church. The tower here is constructed with a pigeon loft complete with nesting holes and alighting window sills beneath the bell chamber. A further unique feature is the village stocks, which stand in the ringers' gallery. Of the ring of five originally cast by Bagley in 1685, two were recast in 1692 and 1748. Since being rehung by Barwell, c. 1880, the bells have had no attention.

Rarely rung, the bells were ungreased when the band arrived. A visit to the local shop was unsuccessful in the purchase of oil, but a bottle of liquid paraffin and a half-pound of 'Cookeen' cooking fat mixed to a suitable consistency was forced into the plain bearings, and found to have good lubricant properties.

The bells were raised and, after a few rounds, the tenor ceased to strike. A further visit to the tower showed the clapper lying in the bottom of the raised bell with one of its securing bolts missing. A search revealed a substitute and when this had been installed the peal was restarted. All went well until a startling suddenly made an entrance and spent three extents doing circuits and bumps among the ringers and ropes before finding its way out. The bells finally came round after 2 hours and 43 minutes. Thus the last of the unpealed towers round Bredon Hill has been conquered.

Technical Articles

Dear Sir.—The suggestions made by Maurice Hodgson (page 236) are excellent. Your readers may be interested to know upon what lines we are working in Manchester.

Firstly, all published Surprise Major methods which do not appear in Hodgson and McClenahan's Collection have had their falseness (together with incidence) extracted, using the Manchester University Atlas computer. The work is almost complete and it is hoped that the results will be published in the not too distant future.

As already indicated (page 157) we have a programme to determine all possible Surprise Major methods actually running. Unfortunately I do not foresee the completion of this work as I shall not have the use of 'Atlas' after June. However, I would be pleased to pass on the programme to anyone who might be able to obtain sufficient time on another machine. So far, we have obtained 18,715 notations producing Plain Bob lead-ends (thus giving nearly twice this number of methods) all beginning  $x\ 34\ x\ 14\ x\ \dots$

The output indicates the number of notations tested for Plain Bob lead-ends (261,314), which Plain Bob lead-end is produced (of H. and M.) and whether or not the bells in 8th place are in Plain Bob coursing order or its reverse. Although this represents only about 20 minutes' computing, the printing of results is a somewhat lengthy process. I cannot foresee the Central Council financing this sort of project as £500 is a reasonable estimate of the computer time used to get this far, had it been bought commercially!

It has been obvious for some time that a large gap exists in the technical literature between simple descriptions of methods and formal treatment of falseness, extension, etc. Philip Jones and I are collaborating in the preparation of a booklet of the size of the Central Council beginners' handbook, which is aimed to bridge this gap. I hope that it will not be too long before we can publish.

An interesting point emerges when the question of Plain Bob lead heads (p.b.l.h.s.) is considered. Denis Bayles (page 266) implies the arbitrariness of this ruling, but it should be pointed out that they are unique. Any group of l.h.s. has the property that it is cyclic, i.e., if one member is produced then in turn all other members will also appear, except in the case of Royal where 3 lead courses are possible (simply because it is the only group containing a composite, that is, not prime, number of members). For example, if from rounds we obtained 13456782, as the second lead head, then 14567823, 15678234, etc., would be produced as successive ones. The unique feature of p.b.l.h.s. is that no matter whether 2nds pl. or 8ths pl. is made at the treble lead, we still get a p.b.l.h. Thus the row 15372846 (the first lead end of Yorkshire) gives 15738264 or 13527486 depending upon the place made while the treble is leading. These are both p.b.l.h.s. This feature does not occur for any other group of lead heads (I'm sure David Marshall will supply a proof of this if it is desired), and it alone justifies the condition imposed for regular methods. Denis Bayles' figure of 59 out of 60 is not borne out by H. and M.'s collection, nor by the figures quoted above. A figure of 9 in 10 seems to be a nearer estimate of the rejection of notations caused by this condition.

The article on 'In and Out of Course' by F. Aitch (page 174) was a useful one. There is an easy way of determining whether any row is in or out of course given by A. C.

Aitken in 'Determinants and Matrices' (Oliver and Boyd, 9th ed., 1962, pages 31 et seq.). This involves writing down the row in question immediately below rounds (or any other row known to be in course). Corresponding digits in the two rows are joined by lines and the number of intersections of these lines is counted. An even number of intersections indicates an in-course row, and conversely, e.g.:

N.B.—The intersections must be of two lines, not more.

There are seven intersections, so 24163857 is out of course.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN C. BALDWIN.

Manchester.

Had the Judges a Different Standard?

Dear Sir,—Since I moved from Derbyshire to the East Riding of Yorkshire I have always looked eagerly through 'The Ringing World' for any news of old friends and I was most interested in the account of the striking competition organised by the Stafford Archdeaconry Society at Bushbury, especially when I noticed the names of the judges.

From my recollections of many general meetings of the Derbyshire Association I should think the organisers of the striking competition were well advised to appoint three judges as I could not imagine my old friends Dennis Carlisle and Gordon Halls reaching a unanimous verdict without reference to a third opinion.

On a more serious point, however, I was intrigued by the very low number of penalties incurred by the winning teams and in view of the widening interest in striking competitions I have wondered if it is possible to obtain information about the comparative methods of determining faults in striking.

I fully realise that the test piece at Bushbury was limited to 120 changes, but to incur only 7½ faults the striking of the winning band must have been well nigh perfect unless the ringing was judged on standards different from those set by judges in certain other competitions.

Although one would normally expect the striking to improve in longer lengths I cannot recollect Harold Chant and Jim Thorley ever giving results as low as 22½ faults (pro-rata) for contests of 360 changes in the Sheffield District, and it was always considered that the ringing of Warsop band, under Herbert Rooke, was of near maximum standard.

If, as I hope, the ringing of the Little Aston and Lichfield Cathedral bands was as good as indicated then the results are most encouraging and I hasten to assure all concerned that my only point in writing this letter is to promote interest in comparisons of the methods employed by the judges of striking competitions.—Yours faithfully,

A. B. COOPER.

Kirk Ella, Hull.

Washington Hospitality

Dear Sir.—Although a full report of the Washington visit will be submitted shortly by George Pipe, I would like to take this early opportunity of recording the party's appreciation of the magnificent hospitality extended in Washington by the Cathedral authorities and those private individuals who acted as hostes and hostesses, guides, etc.

Also to thank all those who, by supporting the fund organised by Douglas Hughes, helped to make the trip financially possible, and those many ringers in this country who sent messages of greeting and goodwill prior to our departure.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN CHILCOTT.

Hawley, Surrey.

Cornish Bells

Dear Sir.—I see in your issue of May 15th you give the words of the carol 'Cornish Bells' with 'author unknown.' I expect you will get a number of letters giving the name of the author. But in case not and as I am rather older than most ringers, I write to say the author was Bishop C. W. Stubbs, fourth Bishop of Truro, who confirmed me. It was set to music by T. Tertius Noble, who was, I believe, his son-in-law. It had its vogue when I was boy, but I imagine is seldom heard now. Incidentally, I should very much like to obtain a copy of the words and music and should be very grateful if any of your readers could tell me how to get this.—Yours faithfully,

EVAN M. THOMAS (Rev.)

Menheniot Vicarage,

Liskeard, Cornwall.

Surprise Major Collection

Dear Sir. — I think Mr. Wilson's article dealing with ringing literature and the Central Council does Maurice Hodgson an injustice.

At last year's annual meeting of the Middlesex Association, in order to get printed the collection of Surprise Major methods which had been rung, I proposed that the Association should undertake this work. Maurice Hodgson was then prepared to contribute half or even more of the cost so that the work could go forward on this basis. I hope he will forgive me for mentioning it!

You, sir, were present and on your advice the project was left to the Central Council. Although the Council were agreeable, a whole year has elapsed and we are still waiting for the collection. Does this not justify Maurice Hodgson's remarks?—Yours sincerely

FREDERICK W. GOODFELLOW.

Middlesex Association Treasurer.

Note.—We understand that an estimate of cost is being obtained.—Ed.

London at Westhoughton

Dear Sir,—On looking through 'The Ringing World' for January 31st, 1964, I notice that a peal at Westhoughton of London is claimed as first on the bells. This is not so as the first peal of London was rung on December 4th, 1937, for the College Youths' tercentenary. The band was as follows: T. B. Worsley 1, Lester Gray 2, George R. Newton 3, Arnold Brunton 4, Laurence J. Williams 5, Wilfred Halliwell 6, Benjamin A. Knights 7, Percival H. Cave 8. Conductor, T. B. Worsley. — Yours sincerely,

L. J. WILLIAMS.

IRISH ASSOCIATION

The Executive Council of the Irish Association at its annual meeting at Dublin on April 25th, with Mr. A. F. Bogan (president) in the chair, welcomed as new Council members Mrs. J. Jeffery, P. Hanley, E. Gabriel and R. Henly. Messrs. J. Cole and V. C. Patterson were elected life members in recognition of past services.

It was decided not to increase the non-resident life membership subscription, which remains at 5s. Agreement was reached in regard to the rule for life membership, which will in future be awarded to those who render exceptional service to the Exercise; the honour cannot be bought as heretofore.

All accounts showed better balances due to increased activity in membership and reading of the 'Irish Bell News.' A record circulation of 246 copies was achieved.

Reference was made to the newly-formed Society of Change Ringers in Dublin University and it was decided that members should be treated as follows for affiliation: Students not normally resident within the jurisdiction of the Association, non-resident life members; those 'within,' resident members.

The Murphy Cup contest was run off on the bells of Christ Church Cathedral and won by St. Mary's Cathedral, Limerick (31 faults) followed by St. Donard's, Belfast (62 faults) and St. George's, Dublin (93 faults).

Elections: President, Mr. A. F. Bogan; general secretary, Mr. Fred E. Dukes, Meadow Cottage, Julianstown, Co. Meath; Master and badge secretary, Mr. John T. Dunwoodv; auditor, Mr. W. E. Bovenizer; librarian, Mr. T. Wilson.

May 8th was selected at the date for the 1965 meeting in Dublin.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION Northern Branch

Tributes were paid by the president, Mr. F. N. Golden, at the meeting of the Northern Branch at Wroxham to two members who had served with distinction and had died recently. They were Mr. W. Love, for some years secretary of the Association, and Mr. W. C. Medlar, whose membership exceeded 50 years. The meeting stood in silence as a token of respect.

Elected members were the Misses W. A. Cook, D. I. Grout, S. A. E. Partridge and K. Sewell (Buxton), Mr. D. Bird (Wroxham) and as an honorary member Mr. A. S. Goddard (Wroxham). The belfry elections of Miss J. Buss and Mr. M. Cubitt were ratified.

The Vicar (the Rev. E. A. Hubbard) was thanked for conducting the service, and also local ringers and wives for an excellent tea.

Mr. F. C. Goodman and the Branch Committee were thanked for arranging the striking competition, also Mr. P. Cattermole for getting Bale bells to ring and teaching the art to boys at Gresham School.

Historic Hoxne Hears its Ancient Bells

THE churchwarden who had been chiming one of the bells for services came to seek advice as the bell would no longer ring. The rope had broken and become wedged between pulleys. The request was then made for all the bells to ring for Easter services. Five secondhand ropes, kindly loaned from Diss, were fitted and then from the lovely 15th century church tower came 'Ding dong bell—ding dong bell,' followed quickly by two deeper notes and Hoxne people, climbing Little Hill for the early morning celebration, were hearing for the first time for many years the somewhat plaintive melody of the ring of five bells heralding the glad tidings of this Easter Sunday morning.

Some 250 years ago the original 'tenor' bell (weighing approximately 18 cwt.) became cracked, and was taken out of its pit in the bell frame and sold to provide funds for seating and church repairs, leaving a ring of five bells in a minor key to bewail the loss.

The use of the word 'tenor' to denote the heaviest and deepest toned bell is probably derived from the development of part singing in the 14th century when the 'tenor' (or bass) would 'hold' or sing the melody, and the alto and treble would improvise a harmony in thirds and sixths above the notated line.

But to return to the Hoxne bells—number five now the heaviest is also the oldest, being cast and placed in the tower by Richard Baxter, of Norwich, in 1420. When the first notes of Baxter's bell floated down the hill, earlier and more primitive buildings occupied the sites of the ancient houses now clustered around the picturesque village green. The fourth is also a pre-Reformation bell, cast in the same Norwich foundry 40 years later, in 1460, by the famous Brasyer family, and it may be interesting to recall some of the chief events of those intervening forty years.

HEADLESS BODY BROUGHT HOME

Following the great victory at Agincourt, where Hoxne men instead of throwing darts at bulls' eyes in local inns, may well have been shooting arrows from their long bows, Henry V in 1420 married Catherine of France and established a claim to the French throne. However, by the time that the 1460 bell had been placed in the Hoxne tower, Joan of Arc had been burnt at the stake, and nothing except Calais was left of the English dominions in France. William de la Pole, of Wingfield Castle, the great Duke of Suffolk, who was blamed for the disaster, had been ignominiously beheaded in the Straits of Dover, whilst fleeing for his life, and his headless body had been brought back to the castle in the dead of night. Hoxne bells may well have tolled for this sad event.

The arms of the de la Poles can be seen on the font in Hoxne Church and this family probably contributed towards the building of the tower. In 1460 the Duke of York claimed the throne of England and the bloodbath of the 'Wars of the Roses,' to last for twenty-five years, had begun.

The third bell, recast in 1711 by a local founder, John Goldsmith, of Redgrave, who also cast three bells for the adjoining parish of Great Oakley, was probably originally another Brasyer bell from Norwich which had served as the village 'Angelus' in pre-Reformation days.

The second bell, dated 1655, also came from the Norwich foundry, but the treble bell, Darbie. There is a suggestion that one of dated 1676, was cast in Ipswich by John these last two bells was bought from Thorpe Abbots, on the Norfolk side of the River Waveney.

A TENOR FUND

And what of the future? The conversion of the bells into a ring of six on a major scale by adding a small treble bell would also involve drastic retuning of the other bells with the consequent grave danger of impairing their excellent tone.

Why was the original tenor destroyed in 1750 instead of being recast? The Enclosure Acts of this period had brought increasing prosperity to the rural areas and the countryside was taking on its familiar pattern of hedges, fields and scattered farms. In spite of this affluence the bell was sold and not recast. Who was the incumbent and who the churchwardens? Modern mechanisation of the land is rapidly destroying this agricultural landscape in the cause of greater efficiency and prosperity which may enable our generation to supply a new tenor bell comparable in weight and tone to its original predecessor.

The fourth bell bears a request in lovely lettering in Latin, to 'pray for the soul of Richard Smith.' For over five hundred years this bell has done its duty, a period that has far exceeded the life-span of Richard Smith's friends or the memory of his place in the local community. Could any man wish for more?

A new tenor bell fund already exists and just needs topping up by someone seeking a similar sweet-sounding memorial. Hoxne would then possess one of the finest rings of six bells in Suffolk and, with ringers to ring them, could 'Still upon the hallowed day

Convoke the swains to praise and pray.'

A. N. OTHER COUNTRYMAN.

MID-SUSSEX STRIKING CONTEST

In connection with the Mid-Sussex Arts Festival at Burgess Hill on April 25th, a striking competition proved to be a well worth while venture. Mr. A. P. Cannon was the adjudicator.

St. Peter's, Brighton, band were declared the best 8-bell entry (210 Grandsire Triples) and also the overall winners. The Church of the Good Shepherd, Brighton, ringers won the 6-bell 240 Grandsire Doubles.

Other overall placings were: 3 Hurstpierpoint, 4 Cuckfield, 5 Southover, 6 Aldrington, 7 Ditchling, 8 Twineham. Encouraged by the success of this initial venture, the Arts Festival organisers hope to include ringing in future competitions.

After the competition about 75 ringers attended a social evening arranged by the Burgess Hill band, at which Mr. Cannon announced the results and gave a constructive report on the ringing.

ISLEWORTH, MIDDLESEX

Two 41-seater coaches were required for the Isleworth outing into Oxfordshire, a major parish activity. Small parties from Cambridge University and Lewisham also attended. Ringing varied from call changes and Grand-sire Triples to London, Bristol and an attempt at Spliced Surprise Major.

Memories include meeting Mr. Allen, now 87, who had been tower captain at Great Milton for 63 years; three sittings for lunch at Witney, and the fine octave in the Parish Church; the final course of Yorkshire at Burford, the finest sound of the day. It was a day of good scenery, good bells and good company, and thanks must be given to the secretary, Miss June Creak, for her excellent organisation, and Harold Rogers, the Ringing Master.

WIMBLEDON'S WEEK-END

Wimbledon ringers, for their week-end on April 17th, assembled at Blandford Forum. Saturday was a full day starting with the six at Okeford Fitzpaine. Contact was made with an Essex party at Wincanton. At Evercreech, the Stedman and Grandsire were not quite up to B.B.C. standard, but Cambridge Royal was well rung. The Essex party was again met at Ditchat and justice was done to a fine ring of bells with a course of London. Dorchester was tried at Dorchester; it did not go well, but there was a fine touch of Double Norwich and a first class drop at the end.

Sunday morning saw an early start at Blandford, with service ringing at 8.45. Following lunch in Ringwood, a course of Superlative provided satisfying work for the two tenor men. For the Scout and Guide service at Romsey Abbey, Bristol was rung, followed by the Surrey competition piece of Grandsire Triples. The light 10 at North Stoneham defeated us—apologies for making a bad job of the bells. Service ringing at New Alresford included Rutland. Our thanks to Vicars and all who met us. N. B.

OUTINGS*BROMHAM, BEDS

On April 11th the ringers of Bromham, with friends from several other Bedfordshire towers, enjoyed a day's outing in Kent. On this lovely April day everyone was in high spirits at the prospect of seeing some of the beauties of this enchanting county—Garden of England!

We witnessed a little drama, too, at Dartford, which was the first tower. The bells had just been raised when suddenly the whole scene seemed to be transformed, and one felt that this must be a performance of one of those religious plays which are so popular nowadays—there was the circle of expectant watchers, with awe and wonder expressed on every face, as one of the younger members of the party soared heavenwards, giving a very fair representation of the Ascension! We handed over the cost of a new stay, and, with profound apologies, stole meekly away.

The next stop was at Milton-next-Gravesend, where we quite enjoyed ourselves, though in a more restrained manner. Lunch was taken at Rochester, after which we enjoyed a pull on the fine ring of ten at the Cathedral.

Some good ringing on the light eight at Gillingham was followed by a pleasant run through attractive country to Boxley, where we found the fine ring of six a real delight.

Tea at Maidstone put us all in good shape for a visit to the interesting village of Farningham, with its even more interesting church and splendid ring of six bells.

The excellent octave at St. Mary's, Lewisham, made a very suitable end to the day's ringing, and a brief stop for refreshment concluded a most enjoyable trip.

The thanks of all are accorded to Frank W. Rivett and his helpers, for their work of organisation, and to the incumbents and local ringers who made us so welcome.

473 MILES TO GRAB FIVE TOWERS

A party of Irish ringers left Dublin on April 18th and travelled 473.6 miles that day to grab five towers. They were the Misses A. Sadler, M. Bernard-Smith, S. Dukes, D. Graham, Messrs. C. Reede, A. Vere-Hodge, A. Pike and F. E. Dukes.

Limerick was reached following the beautiful run around the shores of Lough Derg, and ringing at St. Mary's Cathedral included Grandsire and Plain Bob Triples and Kent Treble Bob Minor. At Mount St. Alphonsus (one of the finest tens in the world) David Benson left a sick bed to bid the party welcome, and Charlie Reede took charge of the ringing.

While a search was being made for the key at Doneraile, a picnic lunch took place. The ringing here was Grandsire Doubles and Kent Minor. A cross-country run through marvellous unspoilt country with the Magillicuddy Reeks in the distance, brought the party to Bandon. A precarious climb up iron ladders led to the ringing room. Grandsire was the only method rung. Finally came St. Finebarre's Cathedral, Cork, where a quarter peal had to be deferred because of a funeral service. The three conductors took turns in calling. Supper at Cahir consisted of two trout and three chops per person at a reasonable charge. English ringers note the address—Cahir House Hotel. One car reached home at 1.5 a.m. and the other at 12.25. Thanks are expressed to the many who co-operated in this memorable and enjoyable tour.

WADENHOE, NORTHANTS.—On April 11th, 1,320 Minor (Kent T.B., Little Bob, Plain Bob): Mary J. Bloxam 1, Joyce M. Clipstone 2, M. A. Coleman 3, Jean Marlow 4, I. W. Hall 5, A. D. Sansom (cond.) 6.

WEST BRIDGFORD, NOTTS.—On April 12th, 1,260 Plain Bob Doubles: Penny Miller (first quarter) 1, W. L. Radcliffe 2, Juliet Stamper 3, J. Miller 4, P. K. Else (cond.) 5, G. Butler 6. For Evensong and an appreciation to Mr. R. W. Winstanley, for over 34 years tower captain, who has left the district.

Anne Barber and Rachel Sinden are two of the four Folkestone schoolgirls who, together with two young ladies from Lympe, scored their first peal in an all-ladies' peal of Doubles at Cheriton on April 25th, reported in our last issue. Their first attempt for Minor, at Little Chart, two days before, failed, but Anne and Rachel scored again with a peal of Minor at Newington on April 27th. The conductor of the latter peal informs us that they both rang very well and have their minds on ringing their first 100 peals together!

The peal at Old Glossop (see page 279) was rung on March 14th. Second check.

Errata: Peal of Rothley Surprise Major (page 298). The lead-end should be 18 and not 12 (i.e., an eighth's place method).

The quarter peal at Wentworth on May 1st, to mark the jubilee of the Diocese of Sheffield, was the first quarter peal by the Wentworth band without one of the two 'Micks' taking part in it!

Sending a contribution from his outing to 'The Ringing World,' a Bedfordshire correspondent states that this is a little less than usual as the party had already 'forked out' for a broken stay.

The young band who rang a peal of Minor at Wheatley on May 2nd desire to thank Mr. Sheldon for the tea awaiting them after ringing. Their comment: 'One of the best teas we have ever seen!'

The meeting of the Bedfordshire Association at Caddington next Saturday is the first ever to have been held there. When the six bells were rededicated last January they had not been rung for 133 years. Catering difficulties mean—no names, no tea.

Ringling for Ascension Day Evensong at St. John's, Cardiff, was undertaken by a band of ladies; six were from St. John's, two from Llandaff and one from Sully. With Mary Pryor conducting, several touches of Grandsire Triples were successfully brought round. The male members of St. John's have been assured there will be no redundancy!

BELFRY GOSSIP

Knutsford Royal May Day Festival dates back to 1864 and during the whole of the century the Rudhall six in the Parish Church have heralded in the festival. On two occasions the ringers had been requested to start at 6 a.m. instead of 9 a.m. as the proud parents of the May Queens-elect wished their daughters to be awakened by the sound of the bells! The late Mr. Hough rang for the festival for 60 years, and his son, Sidney, continues the tradition. Knutsford May Day is an open day for ringers. Long may it continue!

The peal at Wymondham, Norfolk, on April 19th, was the 400th by Mr. H. Tooke, secretary of the local company.

Ringling has been suspended at High Wycombe Parish Church until four loose pinnacles have been repaired. It is feared that they might be dislodged with ringing.

To raise £2,000 to meet the cost of rehanging their bells, Isleham, near Ely, ringers held on May 16th a Tramps' Bar-B-Q in the Vicarage grounds. Ringling took place between 7 and 8 p.m.

A conductor's practice was held at St. Michael's, St. Albans, on April 25th. Most people arrived so late that ringling was only possible during the second hour. Touches of Major and Triples were called by several people for the first time.

Through a slip of the pen, Mr. W. A. Theobald in his letter on page 308 stated that the Washington band was of nine Cumberlands. It should have been College Youths. The Editor thanks the many readers who have called his attention to the error.

The peal of Bob Major at St. Michael's, Basingstoke, on May 2nd, was originally planned as a tower captains' peal but at the last moment substitutes had to be found to ring the treble and No. 6, Jack Weaver kindly standing in at a minute's notice. The tower captains taking part were from Overton, Aldermaston, Chieveley, St. Michael's (Basingstoke), Andover and Highclere. A further attempt with all eight is planned for later in the year.

OBITUARY

MR. WALTER H. FREEMAN

With deep regret, the Ely Diocesan Association records the death at Wisbech, on April 30th, after a short illness, of Mr. Walter H. Freeman, aged 81. He was a brother of the late Mr. J. A. Freeman, of Lincoln Cathedral, and uncle of Mr. John Freeman, vice-president of the Central Council, and of the Rev. Michael Freeman, of Messingham, Lincs. A grandson, Mr. Paul Freeman, lives in London.

Born at Market Deeping, Lincs, he learned to ring there, with the late Mr. Horace Day, when he was about 15 years old. After his marriage he lived at Snikhv, near Boston, and for the last 30 years at Wisbech, where for several years he was captain of the tower.

Although Walter was not a peal ringer—he rang only 11 during his many ringing years—he was never happier than in a belfry and usually rang the tenor. His work as a master builder caused him to travel extensively but no matter where he was he sought out a tower on a Sunday and attended every possible practice in the area. When at Wisbech he was regular and reliable for Sunday service ringing and practices. His ringing was always conscientiously performed and was truly his pride and joy. Mr. and Mrs. Freeman celebrated their diamond wedding on February 23rd this year. B. W.

SOUTH WALES NOMADS RENAMED 'THE NOMADS'

The sixth annual tour, which started on March 31st, was centred on Exeter with headquarters at 'The Endeavour' Guest House, Alphington. At Alphington's fine old church the first evening, the party met Mr. F. Mack who accompanied them many times during the week. The next morning they sampled Mr. Mack's 'lightest six in the world' and after a little practice three leads of Grand-sire were mastered. That evening they joined a helpful crowd of locals at St. Mark's, Exeter, and Stedman was rung.

The major day of the week was Thursday and through the good services of Mr. Audrey Bennett, the tower organiser, Buckfast Abbey was visited. Major and Caters were rung on these deep-toned, sonorous bells and a sight never to be forgotten was the swinging of the great bell 'Hosanna.' An important 'first' for many of the party was the 'Devon Cream Tea' which followed and proved in schoolboy parlance 'a smashing success.' Friday was another full day. A quarter lost at Tedburn St. Mary included some of the best striking on tour; four other towers were visited before ending at St. David's, Exeter.

Another quarter was lost at Harpford on Saturday and, alas, we did not do justice to the finest octave of the tour—Ottery St. Mary. Concluding the tour we bade farewell to the 'South Wales Nomads'—for nationality reasons they are to be known in future as 'The Nomads.' Grateful thanks to Mr. D. Roberts and Mr. A. Bennett for success of sixth tour.

The tourists: Rev. D. Sansom (Stoke Bishop), G. Marchant (Dursley), D. Thomas (Ponteg. Mon), E. Thomas, P. Evans, G. Thomas, E. Ricketts (Cowbridge Grammar School), R. Walters, B. Neal (Marshfield), C. Bird (Tetbury), C. K. Cook (Cholsey).

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD Dorchester Branch

Silver wedding anniversary congratulations were offered to Mr. and Mrs. H. House by members of the Dorchester Branch at their meeting at Fordington St. George, Dorchester, on April 25th. The occasion had also been honoured by Fordington ringers earlier in the week by a quarter peal.

The Vicar (Canon E. B. Brooks) conducted the service, and the Branch chairman (Rev. C. E. C. Brinkworth) read the lesson. Ringers and ladies of the church served tea to a company of 33 in the Moule Institute. Before the business meeting a silent tribute was observed for Mr. H. W. Stevens (Wool) and Mr. K. Loving (Frampton).

Next quarterly meeting, Wool, July 14th. Practice meetings: Cattistock, May 16th; Hilton, May 30th; St. Peter's Dorchester, June 13th (subject to confirmation).

DECISIONS AND OPINIONS AT TRURO

NO one who made the long journey into Cornwall to attend the 67th annual meeting of the Central Council, and the first in the county, will regret it. The visit was a glorious experience; a beautiful county, many good rings of bells, and warm friendship to be found everywhere. Moreover, it was a county of ringers who would gladden the heart of any Sunday service chairman. According to the Lord Bishop, only 14 out of the 160 towers are silent on a Sunday—seven because the bells were unsafe and five through lack of ringers. The majority of these may be call-change ringers but they are fulfilling the office of ringers in the Church.

In the last few years there has been a change of attitude towards call-change ringers. On Tuesday the hand of fellowship was extended by the president to two representatives of the Devon Association (a call-change body) and there were favourable references to the call-change ringers' art. Instead of Cinques and Maximus on 12 bells in broadcasting why not try call-changes, was a suggestion made during a debate on broadcasting, particularly of the bells on Christmas Day. Most 12-bell ringing is too fast for good recording as the trebles are indistinguishable when mixed with heavier bells. That was more or less the official opinion in making a plea that 12-bell ringing should be slower. It started a big wail. The Council was reminded of the glories of St. Paul's ringing at the President Kennedy memorial service and the superb ringing broadcast from St. Martin's, Birmingham. We think 12-bell bands will heed the advice of Mr. Harold Pitstow and ring slower for such occasions when recordings and live broadcasts are made. English ringing would not be representative without 12-bell ringing—our pride in every corner except in the matter of broadcasting.

The recent visit to Washington was the principal 'buzz.' Eight who were present at Washington attended Truro and regaled hearers with their experiences. Included in the report of the Overseas Committee was a talk by George Pipe on the trip. There was also the presentation of gifts from Washington. High hopes are entertained that from the enthusiastic reception accorded to change-ringing, which was listened to by thousands, there will emerge something lasting and permanent. A special Washington number is to be produced by 'The Ringing World.'

'The Ringing World' occupied a prominent place on the agenda. A new convener of the committee was appointed. To the regret of his colleagues and the Council, Mr. J. F. Smallwood retired from office on account of advancing years and for health reasons. Since the Chester meeting of 1952 he has directed the affairs of the committee with a shrewdness and knowledge of printing which has added to the appeal of the journal. The last balance sheet he presented showed 'The Ringing World' investments at £6,500 and cash at bankers and in hand of £3,135. He wanted to see £10,000 behind 'The Ringing World' before he let go the reins of office, and it has practically been fulfilled. To him the Council proposes to confer its highest honour of life membership, and this will take place at Northampton in 1965.

Although there is this substantial reserve behind the paper, rising costs are a cause of apprehension. Despite economies, production costs increased by £589 last year while revenue only increased by £111. The profit of 1963 was realised by investment income of £276 and donations of £477. To bridge this gap, two methods were announced. Postal subscribers are to be asked to pay another 2s. per annum, and this will come into operation with renewals due on July 1st. At present the postal subscriber pays just 4d. for a year's copies! The other increase is in respect of small advertisements, by introducing a common charge of 4s. for 30 words. Providing revenue from donations—mainly quarter peals—is maintained, it should be possible to produce more 24-page issues.

We have been passing through a silly phase, particularly in one quarter, in regard to the naming of new methods. In no outspoken language was there a condemnation of these foolish efforts. 'Ob,' said Mr. Wilfrid Moreton, 'is "Bo" backwards, and this is like saying "Bo" to the Council and ringing generally.' There were three changes and a fourth is under consideration. Mr. Denis Bayles was mainly attacking these and others in his motion for systematic nomenclature. A great step forward was an acceptance that once a method was named, even in a spliced peal, that name should be permanent. But no alteration of past names or reducing naming to numbers can be tolerated, otherwise chaos will ensue. It would, however, be helpful in the naming of new methods if there can be an association with the parent. In H. and M.'s computer list it will be found that there is a host of methods with only one pair of places different from Cambridge. Why could they not be called after colleges?

The message of Truro was that the Exercise was in a healthy state. Peal ringing in 1963, at 2,961, was 137 more than in the previous year, and this year peals are even more prolific. A slight abridgement in the way they are set in type is planned. Most areas are able to impart an improvement in Sunday service ringing and the quality of ringing seems even higher. But 1963 will live in bell history by the ringing of the extent of Major; and the spontaneous applause that greeted Mr. R. B. Smith, the conductor of 'the Everest' of ringing, at Truro, revealed what all present felt of that wonderful achievement. From Truro also came wonderful fellowship, and among the memories are Cornish pasties and saffron cakes, a happy touch at the reception after the Council meeting.

BISHOP TELLS CENTRAL COUNCIL OF TRURO DIOCESE SUNDAY SERVICE RECORD

A RADIANT Cornwall welcomed the Central Council to Truro this Whitsun. The opening of the second session of the 25th Council (67th annual meeting) had all the tradition and dignity which accompanies visits to different parts of the country. The meeting took place in Truro Town Hall on Whit Tuesday and was attended by the Mayor and Mayoress (Councillor Eric A. Brown and Mrs. Brown), the Lord Bishop of Truro (Dr. J. M. Key) and the president and other officers of the Truro Guild.

The Mayor, in his welcome to members to the ancient city of Truro, said it was the first time the Central Council had visited Truro, and he hoped it would not be the last. The history of the Council was extremely interesting and its formation followed a dinner given on Easter Tuesday (April 8th), 1890, by Sir Arthur Heywood, and the first meeting was held the following Easter Tuesday and was attended by 76 delegates representing 33 Societies. Sir Arthur was president of the Council until his death in 1916. The nearest meeting the Council had held to Truro was at Plymouth in 1932, when several members visited Truro and a peal was conducted on the Cathedral bells by Mr. J. S. Goldsmith, the Editor of 'The Ringing World.'

The Truro Diocesan Guild was founded in 1897, but was not represented on the Council until 1908, when Mr. W. H. Southeard was elected the first representative. The Central Council had had six presidents and six secretaries.

Giving an indication of ringing, the Mayor said there were 5,345 rings of bells in the British Isles and only 60 in the rest of the world. Recently a team of English bellringers had visited America to ring for the dedication of the tower and bells of Washington Cathedral.

The Lord Bishop, who in his own words 'seconded the Mayor's welcome' said it was four years since he came to the diocese and he was getting more and more fond of his adopted county. He welcomed them on behalf of the diocese, and also on account of the position he held in the Guild, but he had to admit he was very much a learner in the art and skill of a bell ringer.

SUNDAY RINGING IN TRURO DIOCESE

One of the duties of a Bishop was to visit his diocese and that could be done in a technical way in making comprehensive inquiries of what was going on in the parishes. He made an inquiry about bellringers in the diocese two years ago. They had about 200 parishes in the diocese and 160 had rings of bells. Of those bells only 14 were not rung on a Sunday, seven because the bells were not fit to ring and five because there were no ringers.

He then inquired if the ringers attended church after ringing and was told that only in one church did they not attend. Another incumbent replied that they attended, except the Methodists who rang and then went to chapel. This showed that the ringers did their part not only in ringing but in worship and this, he believed, was true throughout the country. The Bishop said he also discovered that there were at least 250 learning to ring, which, he thought, was very encouraging.

Concluding, his lordship said he had only mastered one bell—the tenor—in the village where he was brought up. He, however, knew something of the art and delight of the bells; they were then somewhat suspicious of anything 'scientific.'

Another welcome came from Mr. Alan Carveth, Master and president of the Truro Guild, who said the Guild were delighted to make arrangements for their visit and he hoped they would take away with them pleasant memories of their city and county.

The president (Canon Gilbert Thurlow), in returning thanks for the welcome, congratulated the Mayor on the way he had done his 'prep' and, to the Bishop, said his diocese had given an example to the Exercise in having only 14 towers that were not rung each Sunday and 250 learners. Their children would look forward to ringing for the Coronation of a King of England for, whatever their Welsh representatives might say, before he was Prince of Wales he was Duke of Cornwall.

The President commented that the absence of some of their senior members in Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Fletcher and Mr. A. A. Hughes seemed to mark a turning point in the history of the Council. He was sure they very much regretted their absence.

PRESENTATIONS

The following new members were presented to the President: Messrs. T. Darch and H. Pidler (Devon Association), J. F. M. Maybrey (Guildford Guild), P. Morgan (Hereford Guild), J. P. Partington (Lancashire Association), W. L. Weller (Sussex Association), A. J. Davidson and G. Locke (Truro Guild).

MR. A. A. HUGHES HONOURED

Mr. F. W. Perrins proposed on behalf of the Standing Committee that Mr. A. A. Hughes be elected a life member of the Council. He said that few words of his were needed for the condition of such membership stated: 'life members shall consist in the opinion of the Council of those by reason of their services in the art of ringing merited the conferring of life membership.' When this came into being, it was decided that life membership should only be conferred on those who had rendered special services. Mr. Hughes had been a member of the Council since 1915 and together with Mrs. Fletcher had, he believed, been a member of the Council for nine years longer than any other member. He had given 49 years of faithful service; he had been a very active member and had acted as the auditor for many years. When 'The Ringing World' was taken over by the Council after the death of its originator, Mr. Goldsmith, many difficulties had to be overcome and one of the biggest was in the matter of finance. Here Mr. Hughes came to the rescue in guaranteeing in the case of loss. In those days 'The Ringing World' was not in the position it was today; it was due to his kindness and generosity that 'The Ringing World' was able to continue without any break.

Seconding Mr. J. Frank Smallwood said he heard from Mr. Hughes a few weeks ago stating that he was feeling excellent in himself but his mobility was impaired in his legs; nevertheless he was gradually improving and they hoped he would live long to enjoy the privilege of life membership.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

HONORARY MEMBERS

The Hon. Secretary reported that there were now six vacancies for honorary members. The Standing Committee recommended that the retiring members (Mrs. R. F. B. Speed and G. W. Pipe) be re-elected and that Mr. F. A. White, of Appleton, be elected. They also recommended that Mr. John Betjeman be approached for honorary membership next year and the remaining vacancies be left.

LOSSES BY DEATH

The Council stood while the following members were remembered: Mr. E. H. Lewis, Mr. A. C. Hazelden, Canon R. F. Wilkinson, Messrs. W. Rose, H. Stalham, T. H. Taffender and Derek Ogden.

The President paid a tribute to Mr. E. H. Lewis, recalling how he was held in great affection of all members. At Brasted he restored the bells and taught many people to ring. He recalled his open days once a year and his work for the Kent County Association. For a time he lived at Frodsham, Cheshire, where he did much for the Chester Diocesan Guild in encouraging method ringing. He also lived at Tring and in Scotland.

Mr. Lewis, he said, was Master of the College Youths in its tercentenary year (1937). He represented Cambridge University Guild on the Council from 1906-1936, was an hon.

MR. R. S. ANDERSON
the new Convener of 'The Ringing World' Committee.

member 1936-1951 and from 1951-1963 a life member. When President he was a wonderful example of what a chairman should be. He was a distinguished member of the Towers and Belfries Committee, a donor of many valuable books to the Council's library and would always be remembered for his work on the mechanics of bells.

'I remember him,' concluded the President, 'as a most kind and patient leader and nothing seemed to ruffle him. I was so grateful that he was present at Yarmouth.'

Mr. D. A. R. May in a tribute to Mr. A. C. Hazelden said everyone knew how meticulous he was in his work for the Central Council. He would like to mention his work at St. Nicolas, Guildford. Mr. Hazelden had trained many ringers who had gone to many parts of the world and they were all most grateful to him. They remembered the way he had established the library of the Guildford Guild.

The tribute to Mr. Wm. Rose, of the Peterborough Guild, was paid by Mr. Norman Chaddock. He was a good striker and would not tolerate anything slapdash, he said.

Mr. A. V. Sheppard spoke of the lovable qualities of Harry Stalham and Mr. Edgar Shepherd recalled his recollections of Canon Wilkinson when he was at Mansfield, 40 years ago. He was a very capable ringer who did a lot for the advancement of ringing in Nottingham.

A member of the Central Council for 62 years, the late Mr. T. H. Taffender, received a tribute from Mr. Harold Rogers. Mr. Taffender, he said, was a senior past master of the Ancient Society of College Youths which he joined in 1893, and a member of St. Paul's Cathedral band for over 60 years. He joined the London County Association in 1895 and served for 65 years as an officer and as Master for 50 years. He would be best known for the encouragement and help he gave to young ringers all over the county.

Mr. C. Crossthwaite recalled the sudden and untimely death at the age of 30 of Mr. Derek Ogden, who was only elected a member of the Council last year. He was not well known to Council members but in Lancashire he was extremely well known and admired by everybody. He had a quiet, efficient manner and even people who did not know him personally appreciated his achievements. He was President of the Manchester University Guild and secretary of the Manchester District of the Lancashire Association.

MINUTES OF THE LAST MEETING

The minutes of the last meeting, which were published in 'the Ringing World' of March 20th and had been circulated to members, were adopted on the proposition of the secretary, seconded by Mr. F. I. Hairs.

THE HON. SECRETARY'S REPORT

Probably the most outstanding event during 1963 was the service of thanksgiving for the life and work of Mr. Edwin H. Lewis at St. Michael's, Cornhill, on November 2nd. The church was almost full and those able to attend were privileged to take part in a most impressive service, conducted by Canon Felstead, and heard an outstanding address by our president. Mr. Frederick Sharpe read the lesson and representative bands rang before, and on handbells during, the service. It should perhaps now be placed on record that at the time of Mr. Lewis's retirement from the presidency in 1957 I approached the then Archbishop of Canterbury, at the suggestion of Mr. R. G. Blackman, of the Sussex Association, to ask if he would consider recommending Mr. Lewis for inclusion in an Honours List. Although His Grace could not see his way to do this a most courteous reply was received from him.

Reference is made elsewhere in the reports to the death of Mr. A. C. Hazelden. A telegram of congratulation was sent on behalf of the Council to Mr. and Mrs. Hazelden on the occasion of their diamond wedding anniversary in September.

The Council's good wishes were also sent to Que Que, Southern Rhodesia, where a ring of four hung for ringing was dedicated on October 18th.

A copy of 'The Ringing World,' in which were reported a number of peals and quarter peals in memory of President Kennedy, was sent to the American Ambassador and an acknowledgment said that it had been forwarded to Washington.

Numerous inquiries were received from the public. Among them, 'Woman' magazine wished to include a reference to ringing in a leaflet on hobbies; the Dean of Lincoln asked for information on bell-recording on behalf of an American inquirer, who later sent a letter of thanks, adding that he played it for his wife every Sunday!; several students who had chosen bells for special study sought information; two free-lance journalists asked various questions; and a suggested handbell-ringing syllabus for the Duke of Edinburgh's Award was provided at the request of Benenden School.

Once again I record my thanks to Mr. W. G. Wilson and Miss Groves for typing and duplicating these papers and to Association secretaries who send me copies of their reports. I am sorry that lack of time prevents me from acknowledging these individually.

E. A. BARNETT, Hon Secretary.

This was moved by the secretary and seconded by Mr. W. E. Critchley and carried.

TRUSTEES OF THE JOHN CARTER RINGING MACHINE

The machine was run on five days during the year and seen by 34 visitors. Touches of Stedman Triples, Stedman Cinques, Plain Bob Major, London Surprise Major and Bristol Surprise Major were rung. The new trustee, Mr. F. E. Haynes, was introduced to the machine in March and on September 7th he umpired the first peal on the machine, which was conducted by Mr. John Chilcott and consisted of 5,019 of Stedman Cinques, composed by John Carter (C.C.C. No. 15).

The machine continues to run well but it is hoped to replace the two recording pens shortly.

Standard Notation

Dear Sir,—It is unfortunate that Mr. C. A. Lewis disapproves of the position of the dividing lines in the Doubles methods in the Diary. In treble-dominated odd-bell methods, the division is governed by the presence or absence of a bell in the hunt. Thus in the Doubles methods on the front endpaper, the lead is symmetrical about a line drawn between the hand and backstrokes of the treble's lead. If there is a bell in the hunt, as in Grandsire, the lead is symmetrical about a line drawn between the whole pull leads of the treble and the bell in the hunt; in such methods, the backstroke of the treble's lead is correctly called the lead end, whereas in most methods it is the lead head.

The anomalous location of the lines in diagrams that were made for early editions of the Diary and are still in use was due to thoughtless copying of the obsolete style of Snowdon's Standard Methods. Now that the Diary contains about as many diagrams as can be included without increasing the number of pages and hence the price, the old blocks are gradually being replaced by what I regard as improved versions.

Mr. McClenahan's remarks about place notation are relevant in this connection. I had always understood that only internal places were noted in expressing a Surprise method, and followed this convention in Surprise Major and Royal diagrams in the Diary. I am now convinced that the slightly greater brevity is not a sufficient justification for omitting external places in the case of Surprise methods, when by including them the notation becomes applicable to non-Surprise methods and even to non-treble-dominated methods. I think, however, that the typography proposed by Mr. McClenahan could be improved: it results in an unbroken sequence of places which, in the example he gives, has been grouped by the compositor in a confusing manner. I suggest that places within a section should be punctuated by full-stops, but that a dash (preferably an en rule) should separate the cross-section places from the others. The bob places could be given in parentheses after the plain lead places, followed by the lead head number: the Hudson and McClenahan false course head information could be appended if desired. Guildford S. Major would then be written: x.58.x-14-58.x.58-36-x.14.x-38-14.36.x-58, 18 (14). LH6.

Regarding the lead heads of the plain course, there seems to be no good reason for calling the second one the first. But since there is no doubt which is being referred to when identifying a method, it can simply be referred to as 'the lead head.' Readers who do not possess either of the publications using lead head numbers can obtain them by writing out the lead heads of Plain Bob Major and numbering them 0-6: rounds is 0, 13527486 is 1, and so on.

MAURICE HODGSON.

Error in Association Report

Dear Sir,—I should be grateful for space in which to correct a mistake in the annual report of the Yorkshire Association of Change Ringers for 1963, which has recently been published.

On page 31, in the paragraph of the Committee's Report devoted to the 1963 Snowdon Dinner held in Leeds on October 12th, Mr. Gordon Benfield and Mr. R. J. Lumley are thanked for the work they did in preparation for the dinner. In actual fact it was Mr. Fred Munday, of Bradford Cathedral, and not Mr. Lumley who shared with Mr. Benfield (and Mr. W. Barton, too, incidentally) all the preliminary arrangements for the event. Mr. Munday's was indeed the lion's share.

I alone am responsible for the error and would like to apologise to Mr. Munday for attributing his much appreciated labours to someone else, to the members generally for misreading them, and to Mr. Lumley for taking his name in vain. A correction will be made

Place Notation and 'Lead Ends'

Dear Sir,—I would like to refer to two letters on page 324 of the issue of 'The Ringing World' of May 15th, 1964, on these matters.

A 'one-line' simple, inclusive version of place-notation for the half-lead was devised long ago, but its use depends upon correct recognition of what is meant by the terms 'lead-head' and 'lead-end,' and of the proper distinction between them, a distinction still discounted, apparently, by one or two who should know better!

Unfortunately, Mr. McClenahan's definition of these terms is not generic, and to that extent may be misleading; that is to say, if a definition of 'lead-head' and 'lead-end' is to apply to all hunt-controlled methods. His distinction is limited to single-hunt controlled methods—a part only of what was made clear half a century ago by that eminent ringer and writer, the late Rev. C. D. P. Davies, in his pamphlet entitled 'Lead Ends.'

Briefly, a comprehensive distinction would run something like this: The terms 'lead-head' and 'lead-end' refer to particular change-rows: whereas in place notation the symbols refer to what happens between the change-rows, and, in the case of the rows under consideration, between the end-row of any one 'lead' and the head-row of the ensuing 'lead.' It is, in fact, the nature or form of the permutation between those two rows; and for convenience in theoretic discussion we have long since called this permutation the 'Link.' (Obviously, as well as a normal link there can be 'Bob' links and 'Single' links.)

But now comes the vital point. In hunt-controlled methods the link can occur in one of two positions, in the change-rows, according as to whether the method is single hunt-controlled or twin hunt-controlled. Simple examples are found in Plain Bob, for the former, and Grandsire, for the latter. Put another way, we may say that the 'rule-off' or dividing line between the 'leads' (or 'divisions') of these two classes of method, differs in its position between the rows by just one row-interval. As to exactly where this dividing line or link comes, we cannot do better than refer to dicta of the Central Council on this matter.

In their 'Rules and Decisions,' 1904 edition, page 22, paras: (a) and (b) we read: 'In methods with one hunt (treble) (the division) is between the first and second blows of the whole pull of the hunt, before or behind.' And again, 'In methods with two hunts (treble and bell in the hunt) (the division is) midway between the whole pull of the first hunt and the whole pull of the second hunt, before or behind.' (The phrase 'before or behind' is added to cover 'Reverse' methods.) Further authority is to be found in the Council's 'Handbook,' 1956 edition page 24, where the dictum of 'Rules and Decisions' is repeated.

This may be summed up in simple language as follows: Rounds row, normally at the back-stroke blow of the treble's leading, comes at the head of a 'lead' in single-hunt controlled methods; but at the end of a lead in twin-hunt controlled methods. Therefore the 'rule off' line must come above rounds-row in all single-hunt methods, but below rounds-row in all but twin-hunt methods.

These C.C. definitions and their consequences do not appear to be universally known or recognised, as Mr. Colin A. Lewis's letter (advising what would be confusion as to the position of the 'rule-off' line) appears to indicate. A little care devoted to their consideration will lead to a clear conclusion.

That the principles of method structure, as accepted to-day, are dependent upon them, is yet another point.—Yours very truly,

A. YORK-BRAMBLE.
Hon. Principal, C. of C.

in the next annual report, but that is a long time to wait. Hence, sir, with your kind indulgence, this letter.—Yours sincerely,

C. O. ELLISON,
President, Yorks Assn.

Leeds.

OBITUARY

MR. J. S. HAWKINS

A member of the Ancient Society of College Youths, the London County Association and Oxford Diocesan Guild for over 60 years, Mr. Joseph Stephen Hawkins, passed away peacefully in his chair on December 31st, at St. Clement Danes' Estate, of which he had been superintendent for nine years.

Joe started his ringing at Marlow, Bucks. and was afterwards associated with Boyne Hill, Maidenhead, Berks, St. Clement Danes', Strand, and St. Andrew's, Holborn.

He was a Past Master of the College Youths, and they were represented at his funeral by a Past Master, the London County Association by its Master and other members, the Oxford Diocesan Guild by its treasurer, the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths by its Master, the Ladies' Guild by its treasurer and also a representative from Boyne Hill tower. A. D. B.

AN APPRECIATION

'Joe' departed from us quietly on December 31st last, just as he wished, active to the last, amongst the small community with whom he had lived for some years. He had been reluctant to join in any ringing for some years because he could not trust his hands to grip a rope, but he maintained a keen interest all the time. He valued his many friends, especially in Gloucester and district and was always pleased to see anyone who called to see him; he appreciated, therefore, Mr. W. R. Winterton's visit on Christmas Eve. Many of us remember the 'welcome to St. Clements' Passage near the 'Olde Curiosity Shop' by Joe and Mrs. Hawkins during the '20's and '30's. Last year we mentioned at the Veterans' Reunion how Joe had formed the St. Andrew's, Holborn, band in 1923 and had maintained the best Sunday service band in London on that wonderful ring until 1945. He was a Jovial College Youth and was Master during 1928 and again in 1932. At the dinners for those years we read of a record attendance of 262 for 1928 and 200 for 1932; also that 32 new members were elected during 1928 and 39 during 1939 'from all parts of the country.' We know how popular Joe was and on his slender means he achieved much.

Joe had rung many peals and his name is on belfry boards in many towers. His last was the 'perfect' peal of Stedman Triples at Finchley, conducted by Albert W. Coles, and most appropriately we can thank the Cumberlands for ringing a silent peal of Stedman Triples to his memory at Milton-next-Gravesend.

His name is written in the records for good work done and will never be forgotten. J. E.

MR. CECIL E. CARR

The death took place at his home at Broughton Astley, Leics, of Mr. Cecil E. Carr on March 22nd. He had been suffering from a heart complaint for the past 18 months and had consequently done very little ringing in that time. Cecil had been a ringer at Broughton Astley for many years. He had taken part in 100 peals (50 for the L.D.G. and 51 for the old M.C.A.). The peal he was most proud of was the first ever for Hinckley District band (Cambridge Surprise Major, rung at Earl Shilton on April 2nd, 1949). Cecil ringing the third. He joined the old M.C.A. in 1924 and was a member till the formation of the L.D.G. in 1946, of which he was a member till his death.

The funeral took place at St. Mary's. The L.D.G. were represented by their president (Mr. F. K. Measures) and other ringing friends. As the final part of the funeral service was taking place in the cemetery a quarter peal of 1,260 Grandsire Doubles was commenced, being brought round successfully 45 minutes later. The ringers were: Mrs. M. E. Brown 1, A. Ballard (cond.) 2, M. E. Brown 3, N. Price 4, W. Johnson 5, W. R. Drury 6.

THE UNIVERSITY OF LONDON SOCIETY

The 20th annual general meeting of the University of London Society was held on May 9th.

Ringling commenced on the somewhat doubtful eight at Dalston and continued at Cubitt Town in the Isle of Dogs. After lunch, Rotherhithe, St. George's, Borough Road, and the Society's home tower, St. Olave's, Hart Street, were visited. The service at St. Olave's was conducted by the Rev. M. Dean, and was followed by an excellent tea in the Parish Hall. The chair at the meeting was taken by the president, Mr. Philip Gray.

In his report, the retiring Master, Mr. Alan Frost, reminded the meeting of the role of a University Society. This was to renew the ties with past members, to encourage new members and to form an integrated society. Sunday evening service ringing had continued to be well attended, perhaps spurred on by the thought of coffee and handbells after the service. Quite a number of quarter peals had been rung at St. Vedast's and at St. Clement Danes'. Other ringing activities had been two highly successful tours in the Slough and North Kent areas. Another well-attended function had been the annual dinner.

The Master noted that the 150th peal had been rung during the year, including several long lengths and a ladies' peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major. In addition, two members, J. C. Eisel and B. J. Woodruffe, took part in the extent of Plain Bob Major at Loughborough. In conclusion, he thanked the Rev. M. Dean and Canon Mortlock for the continued use of the bells of St. Olave's and St. Vedast's.

The secretary, Mrs. Diana Frost, said that the social activities had increased, the tours being supported by more new undergraduates than ever before. Membership now stood at 184, which included 16 new members elected last year. She thanked the Society for a wedding present.

Before the election of the officers for the next year, the president informed the Society that he wished to stand down from the office as he felt that after five years a change was desirable. In a short account of his term of office, he said that no less than 15 members of the Society were on the Central Council, and he felt that this showed that past members were continuing to lead the Exercise.

The following officers were elected: President, Mr. D. Martin; vice-presidents, Messrs. D. Layton, A. Thirst and P. M. J. Gray; Ringing Master, Mr. R. O. Humphries (Imperial); hon. secretary, Miss Y. Edwards (Bedford); hon. treasurer, Mr. R. W. Powell (Imperial); auditor, Mr. P. Layton; committee, Mr. A. J. Frost, Mr. A. G. Tyers and Miss B. G. Dale.

The wife of the Rector of St. Olave's, Mrs. Dean, was elected an honorary life member for her services to the Society.

THE EAST RIDING RINGERS

This year the East Riding Ringers chose the Yorkshire dales for their Whit Monday outing—so ensuring both magnificent bells and countryside. En route the splendid eight at Tadcaster were sampled with a variety of methods—although the Surprise ringers met with their first misfortune when Superlative broke down a lead from home. Then on to Birstwith, in Nidderdale, for a picnic lunch and an hour on the very tuneful Warner eight. Here the bells seemed to prefer the odd-bell methods. At Addingham (6), in Wharfedale, key difficulty was experienced but the belfry door was eventually released to reveal Yorkshire tail ends, so giving some of the younger ringers their first chance to try them. All the more interesting after the recent controversy in 'The Ringing World'.

The Yorkshire tail-ends were especially appreciated on the glorious eight at Skipton, although time here was reduced due to traffic hold-ups. After retracing our path through the rain, Ilkley was reached for a restaurant tea. The bells of Jasper Snowdon's home tower were then rung to many methods; and here some Surprise did actually come round!!

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

On May 2nd the North and East District of the Middlesex Association held a joint meeting with the Watford District of the Hertford County Association at St. Mary's, Finchley. This was the first time a meeting had been held at this tower for several years.

Although the meeting was very well supported, unfortunately the representation from the Watford District was very small. In the absence of the Vicar the service was conducted by the Curate, the Rev. A. Bacon, who gave a very enlightening address. Tea was served in one of the spacious new halls.

The District chairman passed a vote of thanks to the Vicar, Curate and lady organist, also the ladies who prepared tea and especially to the Parochial Church Council who so generously provided a very good tea, and last, but by no means least, to Mr. L. Tubbs, captain of the local ringers, without whose help and assistance the meeting would not have been the success it proved to be.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD Hinckley District Striking Competition

The Hinckley District striking contest was held at Higham-on-the-Hill on April 25th. Six Sunday service bands from the District entered. The test piece was a minimum of five minutes and a maximum of ten minutes, starting with approximately two minutes' trial. The first team to ring was Higham, who rang Grandsire Doubles with 52½ faults; followed by Earl Shilton, Grandsire Doubles, 19½ faults; Mancetter, Doubles on the back five, 53½ faults; Stoney-Stanton, Plain Bob Minor, 63½ faults; Thurlaston, Grandsire Doubles, 143½ faults; Sapcote, Spliced Surprise six methods, 31½ faults. Earl Shilton, being the winners, were presented with the District Shield by Mr. J. Garner-Hayward (Warwick), who judged the contest with Mr. H. Summers (Allesley) and Mr. H. M. Windsor (Wolvey). M. E. B.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS East Devon Branch

The annual meeting was held at Ottery St. Mary on May 9th, approximately 40 ringers attending the service, tea and meeting. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Price and at the meeting the chair was taken by Mr. Sage. The following officers were elected: Mr. Sage, chairman; Mr. Webb, secretary and treasurer. The Ringing Master is Mr. C. Turner; general committee, Messrs. Davies, Clarke and Hodge. It is regretted that Buckereil have withdrawn from the Guild. Monthly practices will resume in the autumn. More ringing followed the meeting. Among methods rung were Stedman Triples, Oxford Bob Triples, Bob Major, Cambridge, etc. W. W.

BIRMINGHAM UNIVERSITY

The annual general meeting of the Society was held in the Union Building on May 12th. The retiring chairman, Mr. C. J. Brown, said in his report that since a large proportion of the members were now completing their first year, and because of the unqualified success of the Easter tour, the Society was now in a position from which it would flourish. The secretary, treasurer and Ringing Master confirmed this view in their respective reports. During the proceedings the following officers were elected: Chairman, Miss R. A. Tailby; secretary, Mr. A. J. Jobson; treasurer, Mr. M. H. Hodgkinson; Ringing Master, Mr. A. D. Macfadyen. After the meeting several members attended King's Norton ringing practice. A. J. J.

'CORNISH BELLS'

Sir,—'Cornish Bells' (see page 323) was written somewhere about 1899 by the then Bishop of Truro. I've mislaid my copy so I cannot give the exact date. He sent it round, I think, to all parishes at Christmas time. Your copy is not quoted quite correctly but it is only a matter of a few spelling mistakes. But ringers coming to Cornwall should not put too much faith in it, for the Bishop allowed the necessity for a rhyme to take precedence over the actual presence of bells. And there are none or only one in some of the places mentioned. C. F. JERRAM (Lt.-Col.).

Helston, Cornwall.

BELFY GOSSIP

Probably the best ringing at Truro was the peal of Cambridge Royal rung on the Cathedral bells. A second start was necessary because one of the ropes gave the impression it would not last out. Some splicing made things safe. Commented one listener: 'The best ringing I have heard in Truro for years.'

We learn that Miss Marie R. Cross is holidaying in America.

Mr. Frank T. Blagrove has accepted a teaching appointment in Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia. He will be leaving this country in August.

Congratulations to Mr. Sydney M. Bailey, of High Wycombe, who is ringing master of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild, on ringing his 100th peal—at Slough, on May 1st.

On Whit-Monday, May 18th, 1880, the Kent County Association was formed at Canterbury. Mr. Ted Ruck, who will be 97 this June, is the only surviving member.

Included in a film on Cambridge University life to be shown on French television, probably on May 28th, is a sequence of ringing at the University Church. Holiday-makers, take note!

Mr. Michael Fairey, the conductor of the peal of 13 Surprise Minor Methods at Little Aston, Staffs, on May 9th, completed 20 years in the local choir on May 5th. The Little Aston choir and ringers tender to him their warmest congratulations on the anniversary.

A ringer giving a talk on bells in the remote village of Himbleton, Worcs, was confronted with an unusual question. He was asked whether he knew Dormston tower and if the local rumour that one of the bells was made of leather was true.

Feckenham, Worcs, band have just recorded their first quarter—a wedding anniversary compliment to the conductor and Mrs. E. Styler, who both took part. They remembered on this anniversary Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jopp, of Stoulton Campanile, Worcs, who were married on the same day and have been closely connected with the tower since the recommencement of ringing in 1960.

Before the officers' peal for the Sussex County Association started at Southover, Sussex.

on May 9th to mark the 700th anniversary of the Battle of Lewes, the Mayoress, who has recently taken up ringing, joined in some rounds. The peal was rung at the special request of the Mayor and Corporation and the rounds inaugurated the festivities of Lewes' Gala Week.

Back in our peal columns after an absence of ten years is the well-known Leicestershire ringer, Mr. Edward R. Whitehead. The last time he rang a peal of Superlative was 20 years ago.

Two new conveners were announced at the Central Council meeting. Mr. Tom Lock takes the place of the late Mr. A. C. Hazelden, and Mr. Robert Anderson succeeds Mr. F. Smallpiece.

On his way to Truro, Mr. Frank Smallwood and Mr. R. B. Anderson were able to call on Mr. Joe Dyke at Chilcompton. Joe was one of the members of 'the Ringing World' committee that was formed at Chester in 1952. Some of his shrewd observations were later passed on to 'the editor.'

The editor fulfilled at Truro a request from Miss J. Armstrong, of Morpeth, to tell Mr. Harry Miles that she was unable to ring the curfew in the Watch Tower because a peal attempt was in progress. When the Central Council met at Newcastle, Mr. Miles was invited to ring the curfew by Miss Armstrong and did so most nobly.

Peter Caine writes: 'The poem "Cornish Bells" (p. 323) is somewhat reminiscent of "The Tower of Bottraux." The latter is from the pen of Robert Stephen Hawker, the 19th century Vicar of Morwenstow in North Cornwall. Perhaps he was responsible for the former poem too.'

Sixteen-year-old Bob Cooles distinguished himself at Kingston-upon-Thames on Whit Monday. Learning Cambridge Surprise Royal at thirty minutes' notice, he rang a quarter peal at his first attempt at the method, and his first quarter of Royal ever. The occasion was a farewell to Margaret Lewis, Kingston's secretary, who has left for Farnborough, Hants.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

At the invitation of the local band, the St. Albans District held their April meeting at Hatfield, where ringing ranged from rounds to Surprise Royal. The Rector (the Rev. J. W. Stow) conducted Evensong. In his sermon he spoke of bells as the 'voice of the community,' rejoicing or mourning events about which the parish felt strongly.

A good tea was provided by the locals and the Rector took the chair at the meeting. The meeting particularly appreciated Mrs. Coburn's imaginative report of the Coventry outing. The best wishes of those present were sent to Christine Rimmer for a speedy recovery when it was heard that she had been involved in a car crash. Katherine Maylott was elected a new member. After the vote of thanks Geoff Dodds gave his second talk on conducting.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

Marlborough Branch

The Marlborough Branch of the Salisbury Diocesan Guild met at Ramsbury on May 16th for their monthly practice. This was only a week after the annual Guild Festival at Marlborough and it says much for the enthusiasm of the members that such a good attendance resulted. The ringers were present from Chisledon, Aldbourne, Marlborough (St. Peter's), Everleigh, Marlborough (St. Mary's), Collingbourne Ducis and Axford, and included a number of youthful members.

Visitors were also welcomed from Swindon and Bristol. Under the direction of the Ringing Master (the Rev. Roger Keeley), ringing commenced at 2.45 p.m. and continued in rounds and changes until 4.15 p.m., when tea was taken in the Church Room.

The chairman (Mr. G. Newman) presided at the short business meeting which followed and he made a strong plea to all to support the Ringing Master by helping learners when they were noticed to be in difficulties.

Tentative suggestions were made as to the venue for the annual Branch outing in September. South Dorset being mentioned as a possibility. It was agreed to hold the June meeting at Great Bedwyn and St. Katherine's (Savernake Forest) subject to permission being granted.

On the motion of the chairman a hearty vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. Smythe and her helpers for the splendid tea enjoyed, and to the Vicar (the Rev. Dr. Philp) for the use of the bells. A warm welcome was extended to the visitors.

The Guild service was held at 6 p.m., the Vicar officiating, with Mr. W. Lowe at the organ, and ringing was afterwards resumed until 7.30 p.m. Methods rung varied from Grandsire and Stedman to Kent and Cambridge. W. A. E.

SHEFFIELD AND DISTRICT

The May meeting of the Sheffield and District Society was held at Dore on May 2nd. Ringing began at 3 p.m. and touches in a variety of methods from Plain Bob Minor to Double Norwich Major were rung.

The business meeting was held before tea, and business was conducted by the assistant secretary, Mr. D. Armstrong. An excellent tea was served in the Church Hall.

After tea a good standard of ringing was maintained until 9 p.m. Ten towers were represented and methods rung in the evening included London and Bristol Surprise Major.

Festival at Gulval

Over 100 ringers of the Penzance Branch attended the Spring Festival at Gulval on May 9th.

The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. D. F. Pett) and the lesson was read by Mr. W. Wood.

A delicious tea was provided by the ladies of Gulval. At the meeting which followed, those present stood in memory of Mrs. Nicholls, a member of the Landewednack band. M. C.

THE PROBLEM OF PEALS

THE older one gets the more reluctant is one to face up to change. This week we are introducing what many would regard as a momentous change. Since 'The Ringing World' was founded in 1911 peals have always been set in a traditional style—some unkind persons have referred to them as the design of a monumental mason. In the past, any suggestion of change has been strenuously opposed. For many years the Editor has been hoping against hope that the resources of the paper would equal the enthusiasm of the peal ringers.

Definite signs of the difficulty were apparent last year when 2,961 peals were rung. This was an increase of 138 or, translated into space, the equivalent of 12 pages. At the same time there were complaints about the general reduction of reading matter, the severe curtailment of reports and the lack of technical matters. The spark was exploded by Mr. Denis Bayles, who in two articles explored the general position and made suggestions that would enable peals to be set in a smaller compass.

Advocates of such action have not been lacking. Not only have they pointed out the proportion of the paper occupied by peals, to the detriment of general reading, but have not hesitated to criticise the scant return forthcoming from peal ringers in response to the decision at Bournemouth and reiterated at subsequent meetings. Three or four Associations have been most generous and have organised peal 'fees' but most have left the matter to individuals.

Mr. Frank Hilliar, of Okeford-Fitzpaine, Dorset, this week writes: 'In "The Ringing World," May 15th, 1964, there were 66 quarter peals published and took up one page and a few in odd corners of other pages. There were 62 peals published and they took up 4½ pages. The peals brought in a cash value of £2 6s. 6d. and the quarter peals £6 11s. 9d. This is what happens in every issue "more or less." I think the space allowed should be reversed. What do other ringers think?'

We are repeatedly told that peal ringers 'are the backbone of the Exercise and "The Ringing World".' This is probably true. From our postal subscribers' mailing lists we have evidence that there is hardly a fairly regular peal ringer who is not a subscriber and that the percentage of peal ringers who take the journal is probably three times as high as those who confine their special ringing to quarter peals.

At Truro, 'The Ringing World' Committee spent a considerable amount of time discussing the space position. The conclusion reached was that no economy in space on peals was effective unless at least an extra peal a column could be printed. In future the town and dedication of church are to be printed in one line, peals of a Guild or Association grouped under one heading, footnotes severely curtailed, tenor weights to be placed so as to avoid an extra line, and subsidiary lines under the title of Association, such as 'Northern District,' to be abolished. In some cases, particularly Minor on handbells, a separate line for conductor will be avoided by the contraction (Cond.) after the name.

Consideration was also given to quarter peals. Attention was drawn to the fact that some people thought so little of their performance that they waited up to five months before sending it in for publication; others sent four or more every second month. These long-delayed announcements invariably were not accompanied by donations. The Editor reported that those who valued their performance mostly sent either a donation or an order for extra copies. A suggestion that this should govern publication was not acceded to, but authority was given the Editor to disregard such quarter peals which either through date or other reasons he thought it inadvisable not to publish. In five days this week we have received 95 quarter peals. Last week in a page-and-a-half we had about 75!

The Editor is really indignant of the hoax regarding the 'peal' reported from Great Milton, camouflaged by the introduction of the names of Messrs. W. Birmingham, Frederick Scott and J. Keith Ward (see page 345). Most of the letters received deplore this example of pawky humour, but not so a reader from Farnborough, Hants. He writes:—

'Congratulations to "the Rolling Stones" on ringing a peal at Great Milton, Oxfordshire, on Friday, April 24th (William Wyman, Charles Watts, Brian Jones, Mick Jagger, Keith Richards). Was this to celebrate the release of their first long-playing record? Also may I congratulate Chuck Berry. It's nice to see a composer of pop songs (R. and B.) change to composing peals. As he is an American, I feel that this may be due to the efforts of those who recently went to Washington. Congratulations, Chuck! Would I be sticking my neck out if I said the peal was a hoax?'

This has to stop. If it continues it will wreck the Exercise and the keeping of records. An alternative might have to be introduced of a peal being countersigned by the peal secretary of a Guild or Association, or a duly accredited person. It is obvious that the perpetrator of the hoax was 'one of us,' who is now out of touch with the delights of his children's children. Let us hope that teaching is not his future profession!

'THE RINGING WORLD' HAS NEW CHIEF

COUNCIL TO HONOUR MR. SMALLWOOD — POSTAL SUBSCRIBERS TO PAY MORE — SPACE SAVING ON PEALS

The 'Ringing World' Report

Despite the difficulties caused by rising costs, your journal has continued to appear regularly throughout the year.

Events of national and international importance have made heavy demands upon available space in the peal columns, which could have been easily dealt with had it been possible to have more 24-page issues, but as strict economy had to be exercised, it was necessary to cut them down to the barest minimum.

Examination of the accounts will show that we are not quite paying our way, but contributions from well-wishers towards the costs of production have helped to produce a balance on the right side.

Your Committee desires to express sincere thanks to Mr. T. W. White, the Editor, for his loyal and painstaking efforts; to the Woodbridge Press, Ltd., to all literary and financial contributors, especially the Oxford Diocesan Guild and the Bath and Wells Association, to Mr. H. L. Roper for compiling the index, to Mr. Jeater for supervising the accounts; to all regular readers; and to all who have in any way helped us with our work.

May we make a strong appeal to all postal subscribers to renew their subscriptions promptly and so save the work and expense of sending out reminder cards.

PROFIT £368

The accounts of 'The Ringing World', which had been edited by Messrs. Caldwell and Braham, were circulated with the report.

The Profit and Loss Account on the debit side showed printing and blocks £5,472 17s. (£5,297); editorial office expenses £981 14s. 2d. (£915); postal subscribers (dispatch of copies, addressing and wrappers) £1,717 9s. 3d. (£1,577); Accounts Department £301 3s. 11d. (£303); miscellaneous £79 0s. 6d. (£23); audit and accountancy £36 15s. (£37); interest receivable Schedule 'D' £107 17s. 6d. (£105). Total expenditure £8,646 17s. 4d. Profit for the year £368 19s. 1d. (£747).

On the credit side income was Rolls House Publishing Company £2,723 16s. 5d. (£2,772); postal subscriptions £4,347 11s. 5d. (£4,204); donations £477 2s. (£449); advertisements £515 3s. 10d. (£536); notices and peal reports £623 4s. 5d. (£639); sundry receipts £42 10s. 6d. (£39); interest received £276 7s. 10d. (£265). Total £9,015 16s. 5d. (£8,904).

The balance sheet showed investments at cost £6,500 (£5,800); cash at bankers £3,131 13s. 10d. (£2,666); cash in hand £2 1s. 3d.

Mr. J. F. Smallwood (convener), presenting the report, said they would be pleased to know that there was a considerable increase in peal and quarter peal ringing. To them it was a very good sign, but to those responsible for the publication it was a headache; because of the pressure caused on space a lot of other material they would like to appear could not always be published. Mr. Dennis Bayles made some very constructive suggestions as to the style peals should be presented; it had been given consideration and they were hoping to effect some slight modification on the style of these reports so as to save space. They must get the peals condensed but at the same time preserve the traditional style. He thanked Mr. Bayles for his suggestions.

They would see from the report that they only broke even through donations; had it not been for them they would have been in the red. It was obvious to everybody that they would have to make a little further effort to increase income. Two years ago there was an increase in postal charges which the committee thought at that time they would carry. They were now going to ask postal subscribers to pay 2s. a year more from their next order; half-yearly and quarterly would be increased in proportion. They were also making slight additional charges on small notices, with a minimum of 4s. for 30 words instead of 3s. 6d.

RELEASED FROM DUTIES

Concluding, Mr. Smallwood said: 'This will be my last appearance as convener as I feel that increasing years and not very good health prevent me from doing the work as efficiently as it should be done. The committee have agreed to relieve me of my duties and Mr. Anderson will take on from now. I move the adoption of the report.'

Seconding, Mr. Anderson said he felt very humble in taking office following such an acknowledged person as Mr. Smallwood. 'I can assure you that I will do my best but it will not be anything near to that done by Mr. Smallwood.'

Continuing, Mr. Anderson said he would like to introduce to the Council a person whose name was known to thousands of ringers—he referred to Mr. J. E. Jeater, who had looked after the accounts of 'The Ringing World' for very many years. He had not done the work for the financial recompense. There was never a mistake and he would like to thank him most sincerely for all he had done for this Council (applause).

Mr. Jeater said he was delighted when Mr. Smallwood and Mr. Anderson called upon him and gave him an invitation to be present at that meeting and for the opportunity of meeting so many people he had known only in name. 'I like doing the accounts of "The Ringing World" but I am afraid I shall not be able to do it very much longer as I, like Mr. Smallwood, find years are going on.'

PRODUCTION COSTS UP 6%

Mr. Anderson said production costs were up by six per cent. and income by one per cent. There was one other matter on which the committee were taking an opinion. In his last budget proposals the Chancellor said he was going to make provision for taxation of surplus of mutual trading concerns. In future they would be taxed not at 7s. 9d. in the £ but 10s. 9d. That would seriously reduce anything they should be able to put back.

The hon. secretary said on behalf of the Standing Committee he put forward the name of Mr. Smallwood for his election as a life member of the Council next year (applause).

Mr. V. Bottomley said the additional 3s. in the £ profit tax which Mr. Anderson referred to was only payable on profits of £2,000 a year.

Mr. W. E. Critchley said he was a little uneasy about the increase in charges for advertisements. He thought it was almost 37 per cent. He wondered if the committee would reconsider it.

The Editor replied that it was necessary to obtain additional income. The proposal was a uniform charge of 4s. for 30 words for all types of notices. At the present time the charge for meetings was 3s. 6d. for 30 words. They would pay 4s. minimum (an increase of 14 per cent.) and there would still be a reduction of half-price for second and following advertisements. For other notices the charge would be 4s. for 30 words instead of 3s. 6d. present. Many of these advertisements did not exceed 30 words. The charges for advertisements were low compared with other publications and it was a common experience to receive 5s. or more for a notice. Practically all newspapers had revised their small advertisement charges.

Mr. John R. Mayne expressed the hope that members of the Council would do their best to increase the number of postal subscribers.

Mr. R. B. Morris (Shropshire Association) said he had worked out that it would cost another 13s. a year for notices from his Association. It was a sum he would gladly meet.

The report and accounts were then adopted.

General Fund of Council

The General Fund of the Council showed an excess of income over expenditure of £35 17s. 1d. Income was £140 4s. 2d., made up of £82 10s. affiliation fees and £57 14s. 2d. profit on publications. Expenditure was £106 6s. 1d., the chief item being stationery and printing £38 4s. 1d., postage and telephone £11 15s. 6d., hon. secretary's expenses £10, E. H. Lewis memorial service £8 7s. The Publication Account showed sales at £296 7s. 1d., and stock at the end of year £657 8s. 3d. In the Clement Glenn Bequest, investments at cost were £762 18s. 4d. and cash at bank £136 10s. 6d.

The balance sheet of the Central Council showed assets at £12,334 18s. 2d., made up of library £10, office and library equipment £8 15s. 11d., stock of publications £657 8s. 3d., debtors and payments in advance £942 2s. 7d., investments at cost £7,262 18s. 4d. (market value £7,345 14s. 4d.), cash at bank and in hand £3,133 15s. 1d. On the other side, sundry creditors was £629 4s. 8d., amounts received in advance £1,825 2s., Clement Glenn Fund £899 8s. 10d., capital accounts £8,981 2s. 8d. ('Ringing World' £8,247 11s. 9d.).

Presenting the accounts the hon. secretary and treasurer said the accounts had been audited by Messrs. H. Pittow and A. A. Hughes. Although they made a profit of some £35 on the income and expenditure account, it was only due to the selling power of the Council's publications which made a profit of £57 14s. During the year there had been an unusual amount of stationery and printing done and that was the main reason for the extra expenditure. On the publication account they had a most successful year financially and Mr. and Mrs. Speed could hardly have had a spare moment throughout the year. On the Clement Glenn Bequest the usual £23 had been added as interest on investments. Following the desire of the Council last year, the expenditure incurred by the Sunday Service and Education Committee could be charged to that account. He moved the adoption of the account.

Mr. C. K. Lewis seconded.

Canon K. W. H. Felstead said from the sales of publications it would seem that Plain Major methods would be out of print in 18 months' time and also one or two other publications. Who gave orders for reprinting?

Mr. F. W. Perrens (librarian): 'We do keep that in mind and we have already arranged for that to be attended to.'

Mr. V. Bottomley raised questions on the form of auditor's certificate and also that the title 'consolidated balance sheet' be introduced.

Mr. E. A. Barnett promised to bear these points in mind and the accounts were adopted.

ALTERATION OF RULE

The Hon. Secretary proposed to amend Rule 9 (Meetings of the Council) by substituting the words 'at a previous meeting' for 'at the previous meeting' in lines 2 and 3. Mr. Barnett explained that at the present time they could only arrange their meetings one year ahead at Whitsuntide. This would enable more than one meeting ahead to be arranged.

Mr. F. I. Hairs seconded and the amendment was agreed to.

THE ATTENDANCE

The hon. secretary presented details of the attendance as follows:

	Present	Absent
26 Associations fully represented	61	—
26 Associations partly represented	61	31
8 Associations not represented	—	10
Life members	4	4
Honorary members	14	5
Total	140	50

There were seven vacancies.

The hon. secretary said the attendance was very similar to that of recent years.

BROADCASTING PROBLEMS OVER 12 BELL-RINGING

SLOWER RINGING NECESSARY

REPORT OF BROADCASTING AND TELEVISION COMMITTEE

THE main function of the committee, common to all regions this year, was the arrangement of the Christmas broadcast of bells. A tower from each region was recommended and accepted by the B.B.C. and the resultant programme was of a very fair standard. It was unfortunate that Lincoln Cathedral was omitted, due to an extension of the News to cover the 'Lakonia' disaster. The B.B.C. did, however, send an apology to those responsible at Lincoln. Mr. Pitstow was able to visit Broadcasting House to hear a run through of the programme, and discuss it with the producer. The main criticism was the speed of ringing at Swindon and Lincoln, in both cases the ringing was much too fast for successful broadcasting and we should impress on all ringers who broadcast or record for this purpose the need for good open ringing so that all the bells can be clearly heard. Although the engineers take every care in the placing of microphones, their efforts are nullified if the ringers fail to play their part toward success.

A pleasing feature of the broadcast this year was the increase in time allowed each tower. Our suggestion that an extra tower be included, from East Anglia, was considered by the producer but it was felt this would complicate matters from a regional point of view and the extra time was divided between the towers.

The change of time of the opening of the Light Programme brought a number of letters regretting the omission of the bells on Sunday mornings and we were able to put a notice in 'The Ringing World' pointing out that the bells had never been omitted but merely put on at an earlier time. In fact (as always) to open the programme. One or two suggestions were made by correspondents regarding this broadcast and the committee are considering them.

REGIONS REPORTS

Northern Ireland.—Relations with the B.B.C. continue to be very good. Various towers were heard on television and sound during the year and the standard continued to be good.

Radio Eireann.—St. George's, Dublin, almost had a monopoly on radio. They broadcast three times and on each occasion the time allowed was three to four minutes. However, St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, had a 'fair do' on Christmas Eve when they were given three-and-a-half minutes on the air and a special mention. The bells of Christ Church Cathedral as usual went on the air on New Year's Day. In the programme 'Today' Mr. John Irwin did great credit to the Exercise.

Scottish Region.—Discussions have taken place regarding the various rings available for broadcasting in the region and an up-to-date list is being prepared for the B.B.C.

Northern Region.—Activities have been confined to the Christmas broadcast arrangements.

London Region.—Here our activities have been chiefly confined to work for the Light Programme. It is hoped that an alternative group of recordings will be included in the Sunday morning broadcasts by the time this report is presented. Two successful visits to Broadcasting House have taken place.

During the year the Ancient Society of College Youths made a new recording of Bow Bells at the request of the B.B.C.

West and Wales.—Compared with last year 1963 was a very quiet one. Some five rings were heard prior to Sunday services and Rogate, Hants, were broadcast in the General Overseas Service. All except one were given advance notice in 'The Radio Times'. We could wish for a wider use of bells for these broadcasts but so far as the West is concerned a proportion of services broadcast are taken from the Midland Region, in which cases no mention is made in 'The Radio Times' of the inclusion of bells. On television the ringers of Frome Parish Church were briefly seen and heard.

Midland Region.—There were two instances where ringers were expected to ring before broadcast and television services without prior notice. The unfairness to the ringers of expecting them to ring without being prepared was pointed out to the B.B.C. organisers, who promised to rectify the omission in future.

MR. H. PITSTOW
Invited to edit Christmas Day bells.

East Anglia.—Apart from a Sunday service broadcast from Aldeburgh, nothing of interest has occurred.

G. E. FEARN, H. N. PITSTOW.

A. G. G. THURLOW, R. S. WILSON.

Mr. H. Sanger moved the adoption of the report and said it recently came to his notice that they did not get as much on bells broadcast because people did not write about it. He asked people to write and reveal their interest. This applied particularly to ringing before Sunday services. Very often he turned on his radio to services from churches where he knew there were good bells and there were no bells. He felt their parsons could help in such matters if they approached them. Bells before the service were part of the service and it was up to local ringers to see that they were included. If not people should write to the B.B.C. who were an understanding authority.

Mr. D. Bayles seconded.

Mr. John Freeman said they would know from the report that the broadcast from Lincoln did not come over the air. He thought there was a tendency to ring too slow when broadcasting. If the microphone was not in the correct position it would give a wrong effect. Many ringers would agree that 12 bell ringing did not lend itself to good broadcasting as 10 bells did. With 12 bells the intervals were smaller and very often the acoustics were not so good. They felt if 12 bells were used they should be rung slowly. They did think a couple of years ago not to recommend 12 bells. Any 12 bell ringing must be slow.

Mr. A. V. Davis (Winchester and Portsmouth Guild) wondered how much of the broadcasting they heard was 'live' ringing. Correspondence had taken place in 'The Ringing World' as to what could happen when a recording was used or misused. Recently in a broadcast from a southern town a recording was used and someone commented to him: 'I suppose you chaps had a lay-in.' He expected many of them heard the memorial service for President Kennedy and would not forget the magnificent ringing at St. Paul's Cathedral. The bells were not rung too fast but the answer was in the broadcast and not the use of a recording. He suggested they should press for the bells to be rung before a broadcast service, but they should be 'live' and not recorded.

Mr. Walter Ayre spoke as the recorder of some of the broadcast ringing for Christmas which was recorded three weeks previously. The ringing they did was good and he defied anyone to say otherwise, but it was not good when it came off the tape. Something had been done to the tape.

Mr. F. E. Dukes said a disappointing thing about the 8.25 Sunday broadcast was that they did not know whose bells were being rung. Perhaps the committee would make some effort with the B.B.C. to obtain this information.

Mr. Harold Pitstow said as he was the only ringer who heard the recordings of the Christmas broadcast perhaps he might answer one or two of the points raised. He was invited by the B.B.C. to go and hear and edit the recordings—to take out the best section of each record. That did not materialise because some of the records did not get to London in time. London got recordings by taking them over land wires from the Northern Region. When everything was ready they set them going and John Snagg was in the studio and made his remarks from the tape on to a big disc.

Lincoln had been criticised as to the speed of the broadcast. As 12 bell ringing, he agreed that it was not fast, but as it was coming over the amplifiers it was extremely difficult to pick out the little bells when mixed up with the big bells. This might be due to the microphone being fixed badly. It was cut out because of the 'Lakonia' disaster.

Continuing Mr. Pitstow said they were continually pressing the B.B.C. to do this or other, but they were very much in their hands. They got an officer interested in bells and then found he had been pushed elsewhere and they had to start educating another person. They had a very good friend there and he did his best to push bells.

Mr. Cecil Pipe (Suffolk Guild) said he would be extremely sorry if through the advice of Mr. Sanger they were never to hear any 12 bells broadcast.

Mr. John Mayne (Middlesex County Association) said it seemed unreasonable to expect a light 22 cwt. tenor to be rung at the same speed as St. Paul's with a tenor of 62 cwt. The finest piece of ringing he had heard on 12 bells was not from St. Paul's but from St. Martin's, Birmingham.

The Rev. J. G. M. Scott (Guild of Devonshire Ringers) deplored the tendency on the part of the B.B.C. to use records for the bells before services. Some years ago they broadcast from Gidleigh where his father was rector. It was a ring of five and the bells ceased three-quarters of a minute before the start of the broadcast. The noise of people going to church and their conversations were heard. His father received hundreds of letters of appreciation. In regard to 12 bell ringing those in the West Country would enjoy St. Paul's or Birmingham better if they rang call changes!

Canon K. W. H. Felstead said he was very surprised to see from the report that nothing of interest had occurred in East Anglia.

Mr. G. Dodds (Hertford County Association) Am I right in thinking that the reason for so many records was due to the poor standard of ringing of 'live' broadcasts?

Mr. Denis Bayles (Durham and Newcastle): The chief reason recordings are made on Christmas Day is that a minimum number of technical people should be employed that day.

Mr. Norman Chaddock (Sheffield and District Society): May I appeal at towers where bells are recorded to ring their bells at the same time?

The report was adopted.

TOWERS AND BELFRIES COMMITTEE'S BUSY YEAR

During 1963 the work of the Towers and Belfries Committee increased considerably. Advice on bell and tower restoration was given in 85 churches, an increase of 17 over 1962, and four more than the previous outstanding peak year, 1961. It appears that the second cycle of bell restoration work, mentioned in our last year's report, has commenced.

The 85 churches in which advice was sought in 1963 may be analysed geographically thus: Berkshire 6, Breconshire 1, Buckinghamshire 3, Caernarvonshire 1, Cambridgeshire 1, Cheshire 1, Cornwall 2, Devonshire 11, Gloucestershire 2, Herefordshire 2, Kent 1, Lincolnshire 1, Leicestershire 1, Merionethshire 1, Northamptonshire 10, Northumberland 1, Nottinghamshire 2, Oxfordshire 5, Rutland 2, Somerset 20, Shropshire 1, Surrey 2, Sussex 1, Yorkshire 2, Australia 2, United States of America 3. Total 85.

The locations of the towers seeking advice varied considerably from those of the previous year. Of the total of 85 reports, 16 were dealt with by correspondence; the remainder were visited by members of the committee. In addition, the convener has given 14 lectures to diocesan, architectural and professional organisations, and Mr. Threlfall has done considerable research in bellhanging and clapping.

In contrast to last year, when no advice was given on augmentation, ten parishes sought advice on this during 1963. The number of towers seeking advice on recasting increased this year to nine. Forty-three churches sought advice on rehanging, or were advised by members of our committee to rehang their bells completely. Last year the number seeking advice on repair and maintenance reached a peak figure of 37; this year the number has increased to 45, a welcome indication that more parochial authorities are concerning themselves with this important work. The number of towers where extensive damage has been done to masonry or where there are structural defects in them increased to 18. Advice on sound control and modification was given in 21 churches. Somerset again headed the list of inquiries, with Devonshire second; an indication that the West Country is doing excellent work in maintaining and improving its bells and gear.

PROCEDURE OVER BELL RESTORATION

The Truro Diocesan Guild's motion on the best method of approach to diocesan chancellors in regard to advice on bell restoration was the subject of much correspondence between members of the committee, and the convener wishes to thank Mr. Threlfall for attending to the majority of this while he was absent in America. The committee was almost unanimous in its decision that it would be unwise to contact diocesan chancellors in this matter, and recommends that the best way of ensuring advice on bell restoration is given by competent persons is to urge all Associations and Guilds to bring the matter to the notice of their members. The committee wishes to emphasise that chancellors usually seek the advice of Diocesan Advisory Committees, and that these committees have close liaison with the Council for the Care of Churches in the same way that Ringing Guilds are associated with our Central Council. Also, that through its Towers and Belfries Committee, our Central Council and Council for the Care of Churches have had joint meetings in recent years and that the two Councils agreed a common policy in regard to bell restoration.

A summary of the decisions of the two Councils is printed in our Council's handbook, and has been circulated to all Diocesan Advisory Committees.

Last year our committee had occasion to draw attention to one instance in which bells and gear had been dismantled without either the Chancellor of the Diocese, the Archdeacon or an architect being consulted, and without a faculty application being made. Members are urged to emphasise the necessity of obtaining a faculty for bell restoration work; or, alternatively, an Archdeacon's certificate if the work is of a minor character. This year a difficulty of another nature arose when the repairs to the masonry of a tower were not mentioned in a faculty application. We wish to stress the point made last year that when restoration work is necessary to both towers and bells it is of vital importance that the two should be done together.

A COMPREHENSIVE BOOK

Our committee met early this year to discuss the question of revising the handbook on bell restoration and of producing a more comprehensive book. Before we can proceed in detail we wish to learn how much money is available for printing this work so that we may plan accordingly. A sum of approximately £500 is needed to produce 2,000 copies of the book we have in mind and we seek the authority of the Council in this matter.

As in previous years this report is compiled from statistics sent to the convener by individual members.

We cannot conclude our report without acknowledging our sincere appreciation of and gratitude for the tremendous amount of work done for this committee for so many years by the late Edwin H. Lewis, and to pay tribute to his life and work. His knowledge of bellhanging and the problems of tower oscillation were outstanding. He was a leading authority in all matters concerning bell restoration and freely placed his knowledge at the disposal of all. We regret the passing of so great a man and feel keenly the loss of such a wonderful colleague.

THE DISCUSSION

Mr. Frederick Sharpe, in moving the adoption of the report, pointed out that it was compiled from statistics sent in from individual members of the committee. In regard to future policy, last year they were charged with the desirability of producing a more comprehensive book on the preservation of church bells. It was felt that it should be something that should be on every architect's bookshelf. They had gone into the matter and they would like authority to plan ahead and print 2,000 copies that would cost not more than £500. They sought the authority of the Council.

The Rev. J. G. M. Scott seconded.

The hon. secretary said the Standing Committee recommended that authority be given to the committee to expend up to £500 as mentioned in the report.

Mr. P. A. Corby congratulated the Towers and Belfries Committee on their report and on the splendid work they were doing. In his area, instead of a church having a 'bodged-up' six it was an augmentation into eight as the result of the report of a member of the committee. The local people had been very grateful for the help given and they had adopted every word of it. He would like to express appreciation of the article in 'The Ringing World' of August 16th as the result of Mr. Brian Austin's communications with the R.I.B.A. He had done some valuable work there which he hoped would be of benefit.

Mr. Brian Warwick asked the name of the church in Leicestershire that had received assistance. He was a member of the Diocesan Advisory Committee and he had not heard of any church needing assistance.

Mr. Sharpe said he believed it was a tower which sought assistance on sound control. He had not the details with him but would write.

Mr. Harold Rogers wondered in regard to the new book the committee were producing if they had not been too conservative in price. He would like to see it a worthwhile production with many illustrations. One aspect he would like to see in the book was sound control inside and outside the tower. For that purpose there should be an illustration of a sound lantern for towers. They had seen some good examples. There was an excellent one at Carbis Bay as well as at Isleworth. In both these towers one could stand underneath when the bells were ringing and carry on a normal conversation.

In reply, Mr. Sharpe said they had allowed £300 for printing, £100 for binding and £100 on illustrations—in brief round figures.

Dr. D. N. Layton (University of London) said he would like to emphasise the word 'control.' They did not want to annoy their neighbours during practices but on Sunday they wanted the maximum amount of noise. He hoped that arrangements would be made for the draft of the book to be seen.

Mr. Sharpe: That is what we had in mind. Obviously we cannot circulate it among all members. The committee will meet and decide who will write the different sections. On the question of sound control some 30 years ago he brought out a device of a clapper board with a small bell attached. The small bell rang as the rope was pulled and the tink could be heard 50 yards away. They had police permission to use it during the war.

Mr. Geoffrey Dodds (Herts County Association) asked if there had been any response to Mr. Austin's article respecting bells in new churches.

Mr. Sharpe: Yes. Mr. Austin's article has been published by several diocesan magazines. Others have accepted it and considered printing it. The response was very good indeed.

The report was then adopted.

STANDING COMMITTEE

The hon. secretary said that the Standing Committee at its meeting considered the agenda in detail and made a number of recommendations. Mr. Douglas Hughes was co-opted under rule 12 (2) which would enable the trustees of the Carter machine to be represented. He moved the adoption of the report and Mr. F. I. Hairs seconded. The report was adopted.

The corporate communion in the Cathedral on Tuesday morning was largely attended. The president (Canon Gilbert Thurlow) was the celebrant, assisted by the Dean (the Very Rev. H. M. Lloyd), the Cathedral treasurer (Canon J. A. Simcock) and the general secretary of Truro Guild (the Rev. A. J. Vincent), who is Vicar of Kenyan. The Bishop (Dr. J. M. Key) was also present.

RINGING COURSES STEADILY INCREASING

VARIED WORK OF SUNDAY SERVICE RINGING AND EDUCATION COMMITTEE

1.—COURSES

With the increased interest in the residential and the one-day course, it has been thought opportune to append to this report a summary of the courses already held. Though the attached summary gives much useful information and will be useful to the organisers of future courses, there may be omissions and we extend our apologies if such is the case.

Apart from courses partly or wholly organised by members of this Committee, advice has been given to several other Guilds who have undertaken week-end or one-day courses. Inquiries of this kind are welcomed. The one-day course has much to commend it, being within the resources of most ringing associations and involving neither student nor organisers in any great expense.

2.—THEOLOGICAL COLLEGES

A comprehensive survey of contacts established so far was made last year (covering approximately half the Colleges). This year efforts have been made to establish contacts in Colleges where hitherto little progress had been possible.

New contacts attempted or made during 1963 were:

Lincoln.—A lecture and demonstrations were given in September by some Lincoln Cathedral ringers followed by visits to the tower. Mr. John Freeman, who made the arrangements, hopes to make this an annual event.

Llandaff.—Mr. M. J. Pryor gave a talk to students in October, 1963, followed by a tower visit and the loan of handbells to the College. He is arranging for a repeat every other year.

Southwark.—(Business man's ordination course).—Mr. W. G. Wilson gave a talk in June and was well received. Bound books accepted with gratitude.

St. Aidan's, Birkenhead.—Mr. J. W. Clarke, who gave a talk two years ago, has further arrangements in hand.

Wells.—Has been sent a set of bound books and Mr. G. Salmon hopes for a lecture soon.

Worcester.—Lecture and demonstrations given by Mr. David Beacham in November were much appreciated and he hopes to arrange further lectures.

Ely.—In the hands of Mr. J. W. Pickett, who has made contact with the Principal with a view to a lecture early in 1964.

Westcott House, Cambridge.—In the hands of Mr. Brian Threlfall, who is still negotiating for a lecture.

London College of Divinity.—In the hands of Mr. W. G. Wilson.

Oak Hill.—Mr. T. J. Lock reports that students had little time for organised consideration on campanology and was, therefore, leaving it whilst these circumstances obtained.

Edinburgh.—Mr. R. S. Wilson reports that there had been important staff changes at the College and that he was waiting until things settled down. One student was receiving instruction in ringing.

Ripon Hall, Wycliffe Hall, Cuddesdon, Oxford.—In the hands of Miss R. Cross.

Mirfield.—In the hands of Mr. W. F. Moreton.

Experience has shown that direct approach to the Principal by some person who can indicate activity in church work in addition to ringing brings results. An annual lecture is the first aim. Principals tend to prefer their students not to take on time-consuming activities additional to their course.

Twelve sets of bound C.C. books have been presented to various college libraries to date and another twelve books obtained through Mr. Viggers for future use.

MR. NORMAN CHADDOCK.
Committee Chairman, who was principal instructor during Washington visit.

3.—MISCELLANEOUS ACTIVITIES

Recruiting Leaflet.—In conjunction with Mr. E. A. Barnett, the Rev. G. Thurlow and the Editor of 'The Ringing World,' 1,000 copies of an illustrated recruiting leaflet suitable for posting on church notice boards have been printed and are available through the librarian.

Filmstrips.—There is a demand for instructional filmstrips and the ground is being prepared for the production of a general interest film strip, possibly with a section or a second strip devoted to change ringing. These could be useful for recruiting and elementary instruction.

Belfry Prayers.—Requests for copies of these continue to be received and duplicated copies are almost exhausted. It is now suggested that the Council print a selection of these in suitable form and distribute them through the librarian.

Bell Ringing in Schools.—The Convener has had correspondence with, and a visit from, Mr. Michael King, who, as part of his course at St. John's College, York, is doing a thesis on 'Bell Ringing in Schools To-day.' It is hoped that a copy of his thesis will eventually be published in 'The Ringing World' or made available to the Council.

Teachers already make a large contribution to ringing activity and much recruitment is done in schools. The time may soon be appropriate for more organised links between Training Colleges and existing ringing organisations and the Council.

Talks and Lectures.—In addition to several talks given by other members of the committee, Mr. Sharpe gave 23 lectures on bells in various parts of the country. He also made a fortnight's lecture tour in America, where he was very well received. His efforts there are likely to prove very rewarding.

SUMMARY OF RESIDENTIAL COURSES

A course was held in Essex in 1953, and there was a gap until 1959, since when there has been a steadily rising number of courses, viz.: Somerset, Gloucester, Oxford, Buckinghamshire, Hereford and Suffolk (one each), Peterborough Guild (three), Yorkshire (Grantley Hall) (four). The Oxford Guild, the Durham and Newcastle Guild and the Derby Guild have also run one-day courses. Courses are planned in the near future at Hereford, Grantley Hall (near Ripon) and in Surrey.

Some courses have been elementary, some advanced, some specialised, some general. Some have provided alternative lectures, e.g., those at Grantley Hall provide parallel elementary and advanced courses with choice of two lectures throughout the course. There has also been a spare tutor to give individual or group instruction where appropriate.

Most courses have had practical demonstrations or sessions in nearby towers. Good use has been made of aids such as handbells, tape recorder, slides, film strips, illustrations, charts and diagrams. Central Council publications have often been on sale and use has been made of the Central Council Library. Lecture periods have varied from three-quarters of an hour to one and a half hours including activity and discussion.

Topics covered have been diverse, including: Towers, bells, history, casting and tuning, how rung and maintenance; initial instruction, bell control, elementary change-ringing, methods of teaching; rhythm and striking; change-ringing on handbells, tune ringing; method study, method structure, composition and proof; conducting; spliced ringing; place notation; service ringing; tower organisation; The Guild.

Over 30 different lecturers have shared in the lectures and though certain ones figure prominently, it has been the policy, where members of this Committee have been concerned, to introduce new lecturers and so extend interest in this phase of ringing.

Fees have varied from a few shillings for a day course to about £3 for tuition and board over a full week-end. Some courses have had both day and resident students. Full details of all courses to date, including lecturers and topics, are available on application to the Convener of this Committee.

GIFT TO WASHINGTON

Mr. Norman Chaddock, in moving the adoption of the report, mentioned that a gift of books had been made to Washington. He was very pleased to hear that of the recruiting leaflet 700 had been sold. The report contained a reference to belfry prayers and a decision was made that a card be printed and made available through the librarian.

In regard to training at Washington, a good deal of thought was given to it before they went.

Mr. F. Lufkin, in seconding, said in regard to theological colleges it was to the local people they looked to carry on the work.

Mr. Philip Gray suggested that the list of courses published in the report was incomplete. They had had two in Gloucester and one in Bristol which were not mentioned.

Mr. Chaddock said these were included in the details of courses already held. This report was available for those interested.

Mr. D. Bayles said the people who visited Worcester College should know that in his parish they had a new curate who acquired some initial instruction in ringing. Since he had been with them he had taken up ringing and was progressing very well.

The report was adopted.

WIDESPREAD INTEREST IN BELLS AND RINGING

LITERATURE AND PRESS COMMITTEE REPORT

The usual ringing publications have come to our notice again this year: 'Overtones' is published by the American Guild of English Handbell Ringers. This delightful journal appears quarterly and contains photographs of handbell choirs, music for handbell ringers and news of various handbell functions in America. The principal event covered was the eighth National Convention of the A.G.E.H.R. at Detroit in June, at which Mr. Frederick Sharpe was the guest of honour.

The publication of the Irish Association 'The Irish Bell News' completed its fourth volume with a record circulation. Its circulation extends to the four corners of the earth and is predominantly an Irish ringing paper which finds an interest outside the Emerald Isle.

The much improved 'Ringing Towers,' the journal of the Australian and New Zealand Association, continues to thrive. It now regularly includes a Conductor's Corner, as well as 'Quarter's Ringing,' 'Belfry Gossip,' and 'Other Tower Items.'

A new publication, 'The Belfry News,' appeared and it is the journal of the Derbyshire ringers. It comes out monthly and is the first publication to appear in foolscap form. Although dealing mainly with news of Derbyshire interest, it contains also material which is suitable for a wider field, such as hints on the care of bells, change ringing and other technical matters.

The quarterly magazine of the Maidstone District of the Kent County Association, 'The Belfry,' has been erratic in its circulation and we trust this is of a temporary nature. It has become more technical than previously when it consisted mainly of news items about various towers.

Ranald Clouston's Part II of the 'Church Bells of Aberdeenshire' made its appearance during the year. This is very valuable and takes its rightful place amongst the works of the other bell historians who have given of their time to record much factual information on the bells of our churches.

Trade journals this year contained very few references to our art; only three came to our notice. The I.C.T. House Magazine published two articles, the first was by W. D. N. Foote, of the Computer Division, Putney, called 'Campanologists Pull Together' which deals with an outing by the ringing employees of I.C.T. The second article was by Jean Sanderson, former librarian, I.C.T. Engineering Division, Stevenage, called 'Ring out ye Bells' which is technical and instructive. 'Bells That Never Ring,' by A. G. Matthews, was an article in the Foundry Trade Journal. It dealt with casualties to bells of historical interest, such as the Great Bells of Russia, our own Big Ben, and the Liberty Bell.

Fictional periodicals seemed to have nothing to say about bells, except 'Today' which published a very amusing and yet to-the-point story entitled 'The Belles of St. Jude's.' This story enlarged upon the effect of an unsuitably dressed lady ringer and how the younger male ringers reacted.

NEWSPAPER ARTICLES

The newspapers continue to provide a spate of references and articles dealing with the art, some amusing and others serious. The 'Yorkshire Post' in its column 'This World of Ours' presented a humorous experience of a traveller in a train nearly being driven 'batty' by four bell ringers practising change ringing with their clenched fists and thumbs up. The new 53 bell carillon for Washington Cathedral was covered by the 'Leicester Mercury' and both the carillon and the ring of bells received mention in the various Irish and American papers. We are surprised that so little has come to hand about these bells.

Lancastrian, in the 'Lancashire Evening Telegraph,' devoted his column on October 21st to campanologists meeting in Accrington for a competition which really turned out to be an informative interview with Roger Leigh, head ringer at Accrington. The (Accrington) 'Observer' also mentioned the competition and its interview with Mr. Leigh and published a photograph of Cyril Crossthwaite demonstrating the bell-ringing machine. This machine was invented by Mr. Woodhouse, of Sedburgh, who constructed the prototype. The recast and augmented ring of bells at Laphroth received mention in 'The News' (Solihull).

Whilst there was nothing spectacular about these reports, we find that they are more accurate than has generally been the case over the years.

The work of Mr. A. York-Bramble received mention in the 'Portsmouth Evening News' on no less than three occasions, the first of which was a description by a beginner of his initiation to ringing in an article called 'The Bell Had a Hollow Ring of Terror,' whilst the second mentions Mr. York-Bramble's talk to the Portsmouth Rotary Club.

The Press seems to have taken the view that we have cried 'Wolf, Wolf' too many times, for very little coverage was given to the extent of Plain Bob Major rung at Loughborough. The 'Guardian Journal' of Nottingham alone seems to have given a straightforward account of the event.

On the lighter side, the 'Yorkshire Post' presented a rather delightful article called 'Simon Said "Thumbs Up"', and on the serious side a complaint was raised in the 'East Anglian News' about ringing at St. Nicholas', Harwich. The Vicar, in reply, attributed the noise to learners. It behoves us all to consider our neighbours and where an annoyance from ringing is likely to occur, to see that the clappers are clipped or muffled.

Personalities continue to receive notice in the papers. Mr. Bradley, of the Folkestone band, looked back on 50 years of ringing in the 'Sleaford Standard.'

UNIVERSITY EXPERIMENTS

A more serious note was struck in the 'Cambridge News,' which gave an account of experiments being carried out in the Engineering Department of Cambridge University. The experiments with a 98 lb. bell control the movement of the clapper against the side of the bell and it is hoped that the results will enable the design of the bell, its clapper and suspension to be rationalised. 'If the tests are successful, the mechanics of the bell's motion,' the 'News' says, 'which up to now are sketchy—will become clear and the awkwardness of ringing bells will disappear.'

Our attention was drawn to a good illustrated article on the Ringing Society in Shebbear College, Beaworthy, North Devon, which appeared in the 'Times' Education Supplement in December, 1962. As we did not see this article we are unable to comment on it but merely record its appearance. Still on the Educational side, Miss Brigid Gray, who is not a ringer, wrote a very intelligent article called 'Campanology or the Art of Bell Ringing' in the 'Drogheda,' which is the magazine of Drogheda Grammar School. Although Brigid is not a ringer, she was able to pump her eight fellow boarders in the school (who regularly ring for services at St. Peter's, Drogheda) for information about ringing. It seems that they are good learners at that school!

The Irish papers were more attentive than previously about bell matters. The (Dublin) 'Evening Herald' published an historical article by Tom Tobin called 'The Bells of St. Mary's Are Hidden For Ever.' The note centres around one of the legends about the bells of St. Mary's Cathedral, Limerick. The bells of Buckfast Abbey were featured in the 'Cork Examiner' London Letter column, which was written on the occasion of the golden jubilee of these bells. A sub-leader in the 'Irish Times' headed 'Wild Bells' was relative to the pealing at odd hours of the bell at the Church of Pellegrino, Italy. The writer went on to praise bells and concludes: 'Their spontaneous outbursts might be a good corrective to the booming utterances and tinkling sententiousness of politicians in East and West alike.' Altogether, it was a most heartening discourse. About half a page was devoted to the tower and clock chime of bells in Cannock's Store, Limerick, in the 'Irish Independent.'

'Will You Learn the Ropes?' was the title of a column in the 'Evening Press.' It made special reference to Billy Lynch's 61 years of ringing in Ireland.

Further ahead, 'The Victoria Daily Times' had an interesting article on Christ Church Cathedral, B.C., and its bells. Special mention was made of the Izard family's interest in and work for ringing in that far-away post.

PARISH MAGAZINES

Parish magazines seem to contain the usual amount of interesting references to bells and bell ringing. 'Home Words,' the inset which accompanies many parish monthlies, frequently has letters about the bells of this and that parish church, which make interesting reading. Occasionally one finds a note on the art in other sections, such as the 'Young People's Page,' which wrote about 'Looking at Towers and Spires.' The cover of the 'Yarmouth Parish Life' was a photograph of the bell-ringers ringing the bells of St. Nicholas' Church. The same issue devoted a section to the visit of the Central Council to Great Yarmouth at Whitsuntide. Lambourn bells were featured in 'The Country Churchman' and the front cover showed one of Lambourn's bells in the 'set' position. In the pit beside the set bell and holding on to a wheel stay was a man who does not appear to be on the young side. We wonder if it is wise for ringers to allow themselves to be photographed under such dangerous conditions: we draw attention to this point and recommend that all ringing societies should deprecate any encouragement by photographers to ringers to be photographed under hazardous circumstances. In 'Parson and Parish' Mr. Edgar Shephard wrote an article on 'Belfry Praise,' which was given three pages. The article dealt with the brief history of ringing up to the formation of the Central Council and its work. It was intended as an informative article for clergy.

The parish magazine of All Saints', Belfast, published a useful paragraph by Mr. B. Austin, who deplored the lack of provision of towers in new churches. The bells of Christ Church, Brav, were referred to in a leading article in the 'Church of Ireland Gazette' on the occasion of the centenary of the church. Trowbridge parish magazine, 'The Bridge,' devoted one and a half pages to Mr. Gilbert Hardinge and the bells. Apparently the 'Wiltshire Times' made mention of Mr. Hardinge, who took part in a special meal to mark the 80th anniversary of the Salisbury Guild. He had been a ringer for 55 years. An interesting reference in the article is to the only Salvation Army bell in a church tower in the country. The second bell at Trowbridge was provided by the local Salvation Army group. The new tower and recast bells of Carrickfergus were featured in the St. Nicholas' magazine.

We seem to be getting only a small quantity of all the bell information which is published and we should be glad to receive copies of all references to bells, bellringers and ringing which appear in the various publications throughout the world.

We are not unmindful of the material sent to us, and to our suppliers we say 'Thank you.'

(Signed) EDGAR C. SHEPHERD, Convener,
45 Manor Gardens,
Warminster, Wilts.
FRED E. DUKES

Mr. E. C. Shepherd moved the report be adopted and Mr. F. E. Dukes seconded.

The President called attention to the statement published in the Press concerning the Rector of Loughton, Essex, who called attention to the new housing estate being built near his church and those responsible for the design to make the houses soundproof. The church had been there before the houses and he would not silence the bells. He also asked for trees to be retained as they deadened sound. In the 'Times' appeared a charming photograph of the ten men ringing at Washington.

2.962 PEALS RUNG IN 1963

Peals Analysis Committee's Report

THE peal totals for 1963 show a large increase over those for 1962, with an outburst of both tower and handbell peals. The grand total including the belated two peals from 1962, is 2,962; with 2,720 on tower bells and 242 'in hand.' The handbell peals are up by 60, mainly from the Gloucester and Bristol, Hertford C., Leicester G. and the Middlesex C.

The controversial peal at Penn is not included, neither is one rung at Gorseinon, for the Swansea and Brecon G. rung with two leading bells—a great pity, for there were five first pealers in it.

The peal rung at Oakham—Rutland Surprise Major—to proclaim Rutland's independence—was originally credited by W. A. to the Leicester G., but for political reasons it is now included in the Unattached List.

For the first time for years the Leicester G. do not top the table, for the Lancashire A. is the leader this year with 218 peals.

The table shows the first eight positions:

	Tower	Hand	Total
Lancashire A.	216	2	218
Leicester D.G.	142	56	196
Oxford D.G.	171	4	175
Yorkshire A.	157	6	163
Kent C.	145	2	147
Lincoln G.	123	3	126
Chester G.	109	13	122
Glouc & Bristol	90	27	117

These eight rang 42.8 per cent. of the total peals.

The Analysis breaks down as follows:

	Tower Bells		Handbells
	1963	1962	1963	1962

OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCES

Ancient Society of College Youths.—Silent and non-conducted peal of Stedman Cinques. Australia and New Zealand A.—Adelaide Cathedral, first peal on bells and three 'firsts.' Melbourne: Cambridge Major (first of Surprise outside British Isles), four 'firsts' of Surprise.

Chester G.—11,552 Superlative; 11,520 Rutland; 13,320 Plain Bob Royal (HB); 21,600 Spliced T.B. Minor in 60 methods.

East Grinstead and District.—Grandsire Triples—four 'firsts' and first as conductor.

Gloucester and Bristol.—143, 122, 111, 105, 100 Minor methods on tower bells; 52, 50, 48, etc., Minor methods on handbells. A 15-year-old girl's first peal in six Minor methods.

Hereford D.—54 and 45 methods of Doubles.

Hertford C.—30 and 16 Spl. S. Major; 10, 8 and 5 Spliced Surprise on handbells; with other Surprise Major 'in hand.'

Lancashire A.—18 Spliced Surprise Maximus; 12 and 6 Surprise Royal.

Leicester D.—New Durham Maximus 'in hand.' Two Spliced S. Royal 'in hand.' with three other Surprise Royal 'in hand'; nine other peals in Surprise methods 'in hand'; 10,440 Cambridge Royal 'in hand'; last of all, though it should have been the very first, the great achievement of the extent of Plain Bob Major, to whom everyone would wish to offer their congratulations and desire us to record the same in our report.

Middlesex C.—12 and 9 methods Spliced Surprise Major on tower bells; 9, 8, 6, 5 and 4 methods Spliced Surprise Major 'in hand'; Cambridge Royal where one person rang 1/2 on tower bells.

Southwell D.—Nuthall.—Cambridge Minor (all first pealers).

Sussex C.—Lower Beeding.—One method of Doubles (all first pealers at first attempt).

University of London.—15,840 Miner in one method—on handbells.; 10,560 Pudsey S. Major.

Worcester and Dists.—Four 'firsts' and first as conductor of Doubles in three methods.

Yorkshire A.—Spliced Surprise Royal in 18, 14, 12 and 5 methods.

It would be of interest if the conductors of peals using St. Nicholas and Southrepps in peals of Minor could give some indication of what these really are.

We often wonder what was really rung, e.g., one peal in two Minor methods showed five extents. Do we rule this out or does the conductor think we are thought readers?

Again we ask those who send up the peals for publication to be accurate in their accounts!! (Vide page 100, 'Ringing World,' February 7th, 1964.)

Methods in which ten or more peals were rung are as follows:

Maximus.—Cambridge 28, Yorkshire 11. Cinques.—Stedman 30. Royal.—Cambridge 49, Yorkshire 34, London 15, Plain Bob 38.

Caters.—Grandsire 46, Stedman 43.

Major.—Spliced Surprise 8 16. Spliced Surprise 6 12, Spliced Surprise 4 19, Aldenham 10, Bristol 54, Cambridge 108, Lincolnshire 55, London 105, Pudsey 19, Rutland 44, Superlative 35, Yorkshire 137, Kent T.B. 25, Oxford T.B. 10, Double Norwich 52, Plain Bob 245.

Triples.—Grandsire 96, Stedman 68, Plain Bob 28.

Minor.—Over 21 methods 34, 14—20 methods 21, 8—13 methods 59, seven methods 170, six methods 15, five methods 34, four methods 49, three methods 56, two methods 39, one method 368.

Doubles.—Fourteen methods 49, 8—13 methods 31, seven methods 18, four methods 12, three methods 19, two methods 15, one method 115.

MR. R. B. SMITH HONOURED

Mr. W. Ayre, in moving the adoption of the report, said they had with them the conductor of the 40,000 peal of Major. It would be nice if he would stand up.

Mr. R. B. Smith stood up and received the warm applause of the assembly.

Mr. Ayre called attention to another member of that band also present. Mr. John Jelly stood up and was accorded a round of applause.

Continuing, Mr. Ayre said no words of his could express what they felt about that peal. 'We all know what it would be like, We congratulate them.'

Canon Felstead seconded.

The report was adopted.

PRESENTATION TO MR. SHARPE

When the Council resumed after the lunch interval, the president made an interesting presentation. For many years, he said, the Council, and indeed the Exercise, had in a variety of ways had helpful assistance and advice of particular value from Frederick Sharpe. He had been their president for six years and it was felt that his termination of office should not go unmarked. On behalf of his friends he presented Mr. Sharpe with a signature book.

Mr. Sharpe: It is very nice of you to think of me and I hope many of you will come along and put your names in it.

PEALS COLLECTION REPORT

The compilation of the second book of compositions in the popular Major methods is progressing, though much more slowly than anticipated. Very few contributions have been submitted and we would appreciate further examples of worthwhile material.

(Signed)

W. CRITCHLEY (Convener),

G. E. FEIRN.

A. J. PITMAN.

R. F. B. SPEED.

The adoption was moved by Mr. Critchley and seconded by Mr. Feirn. and carried.

VOTES OF THANKS

Mr. R. S. Anderson moved a vote of thanks to the president for presiding (applause).

The president proposed a comprehensive vote of thanks to all who had contributed to the success of the meeting. They were, he said, extremely grateful to the Truro Guild for the tremendous amount of work they had done, particularly Alan Carveth (president), D. Burnett (Ringing Master) and the Rev. A. J. Vincent (secretary), the incumbents for the use of the bells, and steeplekeepers and all concerned in any way with the maintenance of bells and also all those who gave them such a warm welcome, including those on the way to Truro. They were also grateful to the Mayor and Mayoress for coming along to welcome them. They were very grateful to the Bishop of Truro for his welcome and to the Dean for the lovely service in the Cathedral and the use of the Cathedral bells. Lastly the president thanked the Truro Diocesan Guild for the reception that was to follow.

(Signed)

F. T. BLAGROVE (Convener),
57, St. Andrew's Crescent, Windsor, Berks.

J. R. MAYNE.
E. K. FLETCHER,
L. K. MARSHALL.

Moving the adoption of the report, Mr. F. T. Blagrove made a number of corrections, substituting Purbeck for Moira, Oxley for Ob and Guernsey for Llanfihangel-Rhydeithon. There would also be an additional name to come for Burslem Delight Major. In the progressive lengths would be added on April 15th 11,552 Superlative Surprise Major, Chester Diocesan Guild.

As to the submission of compositions the Leicester Diocesan Guild had 'coughed up.' There were a number of Associations who did not send in the compositions of new methods rung, in fact the only Associations that did so were Kent, Leicester and generally the Middlesex.

Mr. John Mayne seconded the adoption. Canon Felstead asked if all these methods were published.

Mr. Blagrove replied that the methods were always published in 'The Ringing World.' It was a question of compositions. They were sometimes not published and they were not always sent in. The Middlesex did not always send in their compositions. He paid a tribute to the work done by Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. Marshall.

Mr. Mayne said it was difficult with a large number of peals being rung always to send in. Because these compositions were not always published a lot of information had been lost to posterity. Another thing was the truth of the compositions. Nobody could be expected to prove all these things, but he thought some provision should be made for all these compositions going on record.

Mr. C. Crosswaite (Lancashire Association) asked whether Burslem Delight Major should not be left out now and published later, when it was renamed.

LARGE INCREASE IN SALES Report of the Librarian

The very large increase in the sales of publications during the past four years is still maintained. The demand for the 'Beginners' Handbook' has been even greater than in any of the last three years and the total number of publications sold is greater than in any year except, for 1959, which was the first year the 'Beginners' Handbook' was for sale, when over 5,000 of them were sold.

Our present stock of 'Village Bells' will soon be exhausted, and as the 'Beginners' Handbook' covers the essentials of its contents, as well as giving much additional useful information for the beginner, Mr. Speed joins me in recommending that we do not reprint it.

Our thanks are due to Mr. J. A. Acres for the official checking sheet for the 40,320 Plain Bob Major rung at Loughborough, to Mr. R. W. M. Clouston for a copy of 'The Church and other Bells of Aberdeenshire—Part III,' and to Mr. F. E. Dukes for copies of 'Irish Bell News.'

Once again I must pay a well-earned tribute to Mr. and Mrs. R. F. B. Speed for dealing so efficiently with the sales section of the Library, a work which must take up a large amount of time and for which, I am sure, we are all extremely grateful.

FRANK W. PERRENS,
Hon. Librarian.

Mr. F. W. Perrens, in moving the adoption, said it had been a very successful year for the sales department and they were very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Speed for the tremendous amount of work they had done in that direction.

Mr. F. Sharpe seconded and the report was adopted.

The secretary said the Standing Committee recommended that 'Village Bells' be not reprinted and at the meeting Mr. G. W. Pipe presented a number of books from Washington Cathedral to the Council.

Mr. R. A. Anderson moved that the thanks of the Council be sent to the Washington authorities for their gift. This and the Standing Committee's recommendation were carried.

The Hon. Secretary: I think the correct procedure is to include it now and amend it if and when the conductor submits another name.

Mr. Blagrove then moved that November 23, 5,120 Burslem Delight Major be entered and to be renamed Delight Major.

Mr. W. E. Critchley seconded and this was agreed to. The report was then adopted.

MR. T. J. LOCK CONVENER BIOGRAPHIES COMMITTEE

The Report

THE work of the Biographies Committee has been overshadowed this year by the sad death on October 24th of Albert Charles Hazelden, who had served this committee since 1939 and had been its convener for the last 21 years. Mr. Hazelden was the mainstay of our work and was an acknowledged authority on the earlier records and members of this Council. His service to his Church, together with his work for this committee and for the Guildford Guild library had been his principal occupations since his retirement in 1944, and this Council owes him a debt of gratitude for this unstinting work on its behalf. The committee is carrying on with its work with Mr. T. J. Lock as the new convener.

The following is a list of members and past members whose deaths have been reported since the last meeting of the Council:

W. Rose—Peterborough Diocesan Guild 1945-1956. Died March 31st, 1963. (Attended 12 meetings.)

Canon R. F. Wilkinson—North Notts Association 1929-1937. Died April 10th, 1963. (One meeting.)

E. H. Lewis—Cambridge University Guild 1908-1936. Hon. member 1936-1951. Life member 1951-1963. Died September 4th, 1963. (38 meetings.)

A. C. Hazelden—Guildford Diocesan Guild 1930-1963. Died October 24th, 1963 (23 meetings.)

H. Stalham—Sussex County Association 1954-1962. Died November 29th, 1963. (Eight meetings.)

Mr. Lock has continued his researches through old volumes of 'Crockford' and 'The Church Times' for details regarding early clerical members of the Council and we acknowledge valuable assistance from other persons too numerous to mention individually in this report.

One of the jobs undertaken since the death of Mr. Hazelden has been the listing of present and recent members of the Council for whom we do not hold a record sheet or for whom we do not hold a photograph. This list will be available at Truro.

Mr. William Parrott, of Epsom—a representative of the Surrey Association—has expressed a wish to help us with our work and we would ask the Council to elect him to the Biographies Committee.

Finally, again referring to the late Mr. Hazelden, he left all of the committee's records in really first-class order with his own biography sheet quite complete with photograph attached all ready for writing up—he had even requested his wife to add the date of his death. If this fine example set by our late convener were followed by all other members of the Council our task would be much lightened. Would that everyone was so meticulous.

(Signed)

W. H. VIGGERS (Acting Convener).

T. J. LOCK.

J. WILLIS.

Moving the adoption of the report, Mr. W. H. Viggers (acting convener) said he was sorry the names of Mr. Ogden and Mr. Taffender had not been included in the report. Details of biographies should now be sent to Mr. Lock, and not to Guildford.

Mr. John Willis (Kent County Association) seconded.

The Hon. Secretary: The Standing Committee recommend that Mr. William Parrott be added to the committee and the omissions be included in the report.

Mr. Viggers: Yes, we will do that.

The report was adopted.

WINSTON CHURCHILL

Before the meeting closed Mr. C. K. Lewis called attention that when the present Parliament ceased, the greatest Englishman of all times would retire. It might be worthwhile to consider what action should be taken by way of individual efforts. He also hoped that they would bear that in mind when the names of new methods were considered.

NAMING OF PEALS DECISION

Report of Methods Committee

THE committee's work has been concerned with the preparation of the Collection of Surprise Major, Royal and Maximus methods rung in peals up to December 31st, 1963. Discussion has taken place as to the material to be included and the format and the collection is in course of preparation.

The committee asks the Council for confirmation of the following Decisions published in 'The Ringing World':

That the names of the methods rung in the peal of Spliced Surprise Major at Ashover on July 13th, 1963, should obtain for all future peals in them.

Consequently the peals by the Leicester Diocesan Guild of Moira Surprise Major on August 25th, 1963, should be renamed Purbeck Surprise Major and that of Ob Surprise Major on September 16th, 1963, should be renamed Oxney Surprise Major.

The committee wishes to draw attention to this Decision and to remind conductors that when a method is rung for the first time in a multi-method peal the name then given obtains for all future performances in, or including, the method.

The committee acknowledges that under the present Decisions of the Council the Leicester Diocesan Guild has the traditional right to name the methods but would draw attention to the precedent set in 1939, when the Suffolk Guild waived its right to retain the name Framden Surprise for a method which had been rung previously in a spliced peal as Loughborough Surprise by the Leicester Diocesan Guild. The committee trusts that to avoid confusion the Leicester Diocesan Guild will now waive its right.

The committee does not wish to interfere with the traditional right of a band to name a methods, within the Decisions of the Council, though it may consider the name ill-chosen. Neither does it wish to suggest that Elford Surprise should revert to its former name.

(Signed)

(Signed) F. T. BLAGROVE, C. K. LEWIS, J. R. MAYNE.

The adoption was moved by Mr. C. K. Lewis, who said they would like to add to the report the Decision regarding Burslem Delight. 'We are unanimous that it is not a true extension.' He had a letter from Mr. Poyner indicating that he is not willing to give it a new name until logical proof of the extension is forthcoming. Mr. Lewis suggested that they should meet Mr. Poyner and try and get him to give the peal a new name. They must refer the peal back to the Southwell Diocesan Guild and ask them to deal with the matter.

Mr. F. T. Blagrove formally seconded the adoption.

Mr. Brian Warwick (Leicester Diocesan Guild) said he rose with some trepidation. To Moira and Ob Surprise Major mentioned in paragraph (1) should be added a further peal, Llanfihangel-Rhydeithon Surprise Major rung in December. As he hoped he was a dutiful member of the Council, he was quite prepared to accept the committee's suggestion. He would also like them to take action on Smith Bob Major rung at Loughborough.

Mr. W. F. Moreton (Yorkshire Association) thought the Council was being held to ridicule by some of the names given to new methods. He also thought it was wrong to rename them when the method was first rung in a peal of spliced. It made it most difficult for everybody. He thought it was time they stopped people ringing methods with such names as Ob, which was Bo backwards.

Mr. John R. Mayne said the sole reason for the committee acting was to clarify the situation. With that in mind, the committee decided they would not make the Decisions retrospective beyond the present cases. They would like to thank Mr. Warwick for his action. If the Council was thinking of changing all names of methods rung, it would upset everything that had happened before.

Mr. W. Parrott (Surrey Association) asked whether the Council was not running away from their responsibilities in referring Burslem Delight to the Southwell Diocesan Guild. If this was referred to the Surrey Association there would not be the local knowledge to decide. They elected a Methods Committee to tell them what was right; he thought it was wrong to refer it back to the Association. 'It was like saying: 'I can ring Plain Bob and call it Grandshire and you can't stop me.'

Mr. John R. Mayne commented that it was a fact that Burslem Delight did not conform. He did not think there was anything they could do but to refer it to the Southwell Diocesan Guild and ask them to bring pressure to bear on the conductor. They expected this to be done, as the Guild had agreed to accept the Decisions of the Council. This report was one of the finest documents produced by the Council.

Mr. R. B. Morris asked if these peals would be counted in the analysis.

Mr. W. Ayre: Of course. There is no question that a peal was rung.

Mr. C. K. Lewis: It is not the custom of the Council to dictate to a Guild or Association but to refer it back to them so that they can set their own household in order.

Mr. Brian Warwick: To make everything correctly in order, can we have an assurance from the Methods Committee that they would include Llanfihangel-Rhydeithon Surprise in paragraph (a)?

Mr. C. K. Lewis: Yes.

The report was then carried nem con.

INSURANCE OF RINGERS

Under the heading of other business, Mr. A. D. Barker (Oxford Diocesan Guild) submitted a motion: 'That this Council urges all ringing associations to press for proper insurance of all ringers, preferably under a group accident policy.'

Mr. Barker said this was something that had come to light recently when one of their ringers in the Oxford Guild met with a serious accident, and they took up the question of insurance of ringers. This poor chap was insured. He went to a church to do a job and broke a bone in his foot. When they saw him ten weeks later he was hobbling about but had not received any money under insurance. They found out that it was a group insurance policy and they did not normally pay benefit until the case was finished.

For 2s. a year a person could be covered for accidents in his own or any other belfry or when travelling from one belfry to another. With the Ecclesiastical Insurance Office any ringer could be insured between the ages of 16 and 70. The benefit was £5 a week for temporary disablement, £500 for total disablement and £500 in the event of death. They did not have to give the individual names of ringers, it was done by a group insurance.

Mr. Walter Ayre seconded and the motion was carried.

NEXT MEETING

The hon. secretary said they had two invitations, both carried forward from last year, for the next meeting. The Peterborough Diocesan Guild had invited the Council to Northampton in 1955 or 1956. The Coventry Diocesan Guild had written that they would consider it a great honour if on this particular occasion the Council accepted their invitation as the Lord Mayor had intimated that he would be willing to entertain the Council.

Miss Shelagh R. Collins, Master of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild, said she had pleasure on behalf of the Guild in inviting them to Northampton, where there was ample accommodation. Their secretary was associated with a brewery.

Mrs. Beamish, speaking in support of the Coventry Guild's invitation, said they had many interesting and historic places in Warwickshire and many nice rings of bells. Their only regret was that there was no ring of bells in Coventry Cathedral, but they hoped that would be remedied in a few years' time.

Asked where the headquarters would be, Mr. Frank Perren said it would probably be at Leamington.

The hon. secretary said it was 30 years since they visited Coventry Guild and they were at Northampton last in 1920.

A majority of ten votes was secured for Peterborough Guild's invitation.

(C.C. A.G.M. to be concluded)

PRESENTATION TO MR. LESLIE MORRIS

26 Years Secretary of the Yorkshire Association

The resignation of Mr. Leslie Morris as general secretary of the Yorkshire Association, which had been pending since January last, took effect at the annual meeting of the Association, held at Doncaster on May 9th.

The President, the Ven. C. O. Ellison, recalled that Mr. Morris had held this office since 1938, a period of more than 26 years and had not missed a single meeting. He had also represented the Association on the Central Council from 1938 until 1962 and attended every meeting during that period. His minutes of proceedings were a model. The Association would always be in Mr. Morris' debt for his prolonged and devoted work on its behalf, but after such a length of service they felt obliged to respect his wish to have more time for his other commitments. They received his resignation with the utmost regret and with deep gratitude for his services.

The President added that the Association could not allow Mr. Morris to lay down his office without taking with him some tangible expression of its thanks and appreciation. A subscription list opened for this purpose had received widespread support throughout the county and he asked him to accept a gold pen and pencil as a token of the Association's thanks and affection and as a memento of his long services.

Mr. Morris said the presentation came as a complete surprise. He thanked the president, officers and members for their most beautiful gift, which he would always treasure although not feeling worthy of it. The success of a vast territorial Association such as the Yorkshire depended upon team work, not only of elected officers, but the general members. He hoped that the same loyalty and support as he had enjoyed would be accorded to his successor. In the election of Mr. W. F. Moreton, he felt sure the Association had made a very wise choice.

Mr. V. Bottomley was unanimously re-elected hon. treasurer for the next triennial period.

In presenting the 88th annual report the president pointed out that while 71 new resident members had joined the Association during the year, it was a matter for regret that through death or lapsing of former members, this figure was more or less offset. Among those who had passed away were Ben Birkett (Arksey), George W. Steel (Rothwell), Henry Clayton (Tadcaster), Herbert Rowley (Horbury), Ralph Umpleby (Idle), Arnold Hill (Worksop), George Robinson (Leeds) and Jackson Ewbank, of Birstwith, a former member of the general committee.

The Snowdon dinner held in Leeds had been supported by 130 members and friends, including Canon Gilbert Thurlow, president of the Central Council. The success of the dinner reflected very great credit on Mr. F. A. Munday who bore the burden of the preparations which alone made the evening possible.

The hon. treasurer's statement of accounts revealed that the Association has more than maintained its financial position during the year. That this is so is largely due to the energy and enthusiasm of the hon. treasurer himself. During the year two meetings have been held between the general committee and representatives of the local ringing societies operating in the county, the object being to see if there is not some way in which ringing activities could not be co-ordinated to the benefit of ringers and ringing in Yorkshire. The result of the meetings was to set up a representative working party whose conclusions have still to be considered both by the Association and the other societies.

The peal secretary's report showed that 167 peals had been rung during the year, being 161 tower-bell peals and six handbell peals. The calling of the peals was shared by 49 conductors, and the list included 19 members who had rung their first peal, two their first handbell peal, and three who had conducted a peal for the first time. The total represented an increase of 30 over the previous year. Several peals were rung by local companies, being Spliced Surprise Royal in five methods at Bradford, Grandsire Caters at Rotherham, Doubles in nine methods and 21 methods at Wentworth, and Plain Bob Major at Calverley. Two members had passed their first centuries of peals for the Association, being B. Gillian Schofield, of Bradford, and Dr. R. E. Price, of Sheffield.

The report and balance sheet were adopted on the motion of Mrs. J. Bottomley, seconded by Mr. C. Maxfield.

A motion to introduce a peal booking fee was submitted in the following terms: 'That a charge of one shilling per ringer be made as a peal booking fee. The necessary amount should be forwarded to the peal secretary with the peal report.' Moved by Mr. W. E. Critchley, seconded by Mr. W. F. Moreton.

Mr. W. Barton moved and Mr. F. Hodgson seconded an amendment that the amount be sixpence per ringer. On being put to the vote, the amendment received 13 votes, and the original motion 31 votes, which was declared carried. It was also agreed that it should operate from June 1st, 1964.

Mr. H. Walker reported that arrangements were going ahead in connection with the Snowdon dinner to be held in York on October 10th. The new Dean of York had promised to attend.

The following new members were elected: Miss W. E. Hewings and Mr. Hepworth (Pontefract), Miss Valerie Johnson and Mr. Anthony Dew (Acomb), Mr. Graham Blackburn (Goole), Miss L. Leigh (Bentley), Mr. D. Buck (Wetherby), Miss Susan Raper, Miss Janet Sowter and Mr. Alan Marshall (Thorne) and, as an out-county member, Mr. L. J. Keen (Willesden).

Previous to the meeting Archdeacon Ellison conducted the service in the parish church and an excellent tea was served. Doncaster, Arksey, Sproborough and Barnby Don towers were available. In the votes of thanks Mr. W. E. Critchley, Mr. F. A. Staveley and the ladies were specially mentioned. Mr. Critchley replied.

OBITUARY

MR. JOHN E. ROOTES

Jack Rootes died suddenly at his home, at Bushey, on May 10th. His death came as a great shock to his many friends, for he was apparently making a good recovery after a recent operation.

Born at Goudhurst in 1890, Jack came to this district in the mid 1920's. He rang at Stanmore and Bushey Heath before coming to St. James, Bushey, where he had been a ringer for over 30 years and tower master since 1953. This position he filled with outstanding success. To the end he showed little sign of his age, and might well have been taken for a much younger man.

He kept no record of his peals; he had probably rung several hundred. Most of these were on the treble, which he would ring to peal after peal with hardly ever a misblow. Capable of ringing round the back end, he rang Cambridge, Superlative and Yorkshire, but steadily declined to learn any other Surprise methods. What he enjoyed about ringing was clearly the company of his fellows rather than any personal achievement. On handbells he rang the tenors to peals of Bob Major, Grandsire and Stedman Triples.

Jack was very well liked by all who knew him; he always had a cheerful word for everyone, and nobody ever saw him the least bit out of temper. People have remarked to me that Bushey always seemed a very happy belfry; Jack had said so himself, seemingly unaware that this was largely due to his own influence. His passing is a grievous loss to the tower and district. C. W. W.

The bells of Whitwell-on-the-Hill, North Yorkshire (6, 124 cwt.) have been recently restored to a ringable condition by members of the St. John's College Bellringers' Society and were rung on Ascension Day in connection with the induction of the new Vicar at Crambe (an unringable three). The bells are not safe for quarter or peal attempts because of a somewhat insecure framework but are all right if rung in short touches, say, by touring teams.

GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

Six tower teams and three scratch teams, made up from other ringers present, took part in the Farnham District striking competition held at Ash on May 23rd. Mr. W. Parker was the adjudicator, assisted by Mr. Douglas May, Master of the Guild. Farnborough were again first, followed by Aldershot.

Great Milton Peal a Spoof

Dear Sir,—I see that once again some feeble-minded person has seen fit to submit a 'hoax' peal for publication, namely that at Gt. Milton on April 24th, supposedly rung by the Rolling Stones and three well-known ringers from South Buckinghamshire.

I realise that it is too much to expect that you, sir, should be familiar with the names of the members of all the 'pop' groups in the country, but nevertheless one would have thought that it would have been apparent to anyone with a knowledge of ringing matters that this peal was a little suspicious, five of the names being unknown, and there being no asterisks for first peals, etc.

What is more important, however, is that a member of the Exercise should consider it amusing to waste time, money and space in the 'R.W.' to perpetrate such adolescent inanity. This is by no means the first time that such peals have been published. Might I suggest that all possible steps be taken to find the author of this latest foolishness, and the results printed?

It was also satisfying to see that the peal at Pershore on May 2nd was published as non-association, the reason being apparent in the footnote. Doubtless others will complain about this, but at least it obviates such remarks as occasionally appear in 'Belfry Gossip' about one Association having gained a record from another when the participants in both records were virtually identical.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN CAMP.

Jesus College, Oxford.

Note.—We had already asked Oxford Guild officials to investigate when reader Camp's letter arrived. Although the Editor has been reading peals for publication for 18 years, he is still unfamiliar with the names of all who ring. He can give no guarantee to spot a spoof. Readers will respect his frailty in this respect by not attempting.—Ed.

LETTERS

A Disclaimer

Dear Sir.—We, the undersigned, wish to inform all those concerned that we did not participate in any 'peal' at Great Milton, Oxfordshire, on Friday, April 24th, 1964, and, as for the other people mentioned in the report, viz. Messrs. W. Wyman, C. Watts, B. Jones, M. Jagger and K. Richards, we have never heard of them!—Yours faithfully,

Signed by: W. BIRMINGHAM.
F. R. SCOTT, J. KEITH WARD.

Essex Secretary's Appreciation

Dear Sir.—I would very much appreciate it if you could find space to insert this short letter of thanks to all those members of the Essex Association who so generously contributed to my presentation on Whit Monday—I refer in particular to those members who were unable to be present at the meeting.

With the cheque I hope to purchase a cocktail cabinet and hope that members will come to see it and, perchance, try it some time!

Once again my sincere thanks.—

FRANK V. GANT.

Hornchurch, Essex.

Burslem Delight Minor

Dear Sir,—I am willing to call Burslem Delight Major by another name if logical proof of the incorrectness of the extension is forthcoming. Until that time the name stands.

This proof will not be found in the 'Report on Extension,' a document which by arbitrary rules attempts to control the most poorly-understood branch of our art. The Report commands as little respect to-day as it ever did, for this reason—it says how but not why.—
Yours faithfully, H. POYNER.

Retford.

Faults and Striking Competitions

Dear Sir,—The Surrey Association has held a striking competition for about eight years, and when the report is submitted to 'The Ringing World' for publication, the number of faults has been intentionally omitted for the sole reason that has caused Mr. Cooper (page 340) trouble—namely, that the judges are thought to have different standards of marking. The Association felt that just the position of the bands is sufficient for readers.

Our judge, Mr. C. H. Kippin, gives marks which vary from about 100 faults to the winning team, and well over 300 to the last team. The set piece is 224 Grandsire Triples and only once have I known a band to get less than 100 faults, and that was due to an excellent ring of bells. If these faults had been published alongside another competition which awards 22½ faults for 360 changes, then it might be felt that the ringing in Surrey was the worst in the country.

Whilst I am not condemning the judges on the results they give, I think that they all have their own methods of marking, and that the number of faults awarded can only be of interest to the local association.

If number of faults awarded to each band is omitted from reports it will prevent ambiguity, and definitely save space in 'The Ringing World.'—Yours faithfully,

DAVID J. HERSCHELL.

Epsom Common, Surrey.

Miss M. E. Chilton informs us that the peal at North Muskham on May 1st (page 333) was not her 50th peal.

West Country hospitality was fully demonstrated following the recent peal at Twerton. The band were entertained afterwards to a magnificent tea by members of the Bowden family and also had the pleasure of meeting the youngest member of the family. All concerned would like to thank them for their wonderful hospitality.

FRANK I. HAIRS,

J. FRANK SMALLWOOD,

W. G. WILSON.

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

Winchester College Society had hard luck in their peal attempt at Owslebury on May 24th. The rope of the fifth broke shortly after the beginning of the last extent. It would have been the first peal of C. W. Daws, the 16-year-old conductor. The following were making their first attempt: R. A. Friedlander (16), R. Dyckhoff (16), R. H. Yondale (17), M. D. Roaf (17). Keeping a fatherly eye on them from the tenor was Mr. J. E. Spice.

The peal at Carbis Bay on May 21st was to mark the 25th anniversary of the ordination to the priesthood of the Rev. A. S. Roberts, who rang the tenor, and to Ann Mallett on her second birthday.

Tony Tyers, who arranged the successful peal of Royal at Feltham on May 23rd, was prevented from ringing by illness. There were six firsts of Royal in it.

Congratulations to the ladies of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association on ringing their first peal. This took place at Dinder on May 23rd.

For 70 years Mr. Tom Barker has rung the tenor at Holy Trinity Church, Hawley, Camberley, and his 80th birthday on Whit Sunday was marked by special ringing in the evening and after the service the band drank Tom's health.

The band who recently rang the peal of Bristol at Twerton Parish Church were extremely sorry to learn that Mr. W. H. Ware, the local tower keeper, who was to have met them, had been involved in a road accident the previous day. They join his other ringing friends in wishing him a speedy recovery.

A well-known ringer from Brierley Hill, Staffs, will probably be very envious of the 10 people who rang the peal of Surprise Royal at Christ Church, Bristol, on May 25th. Had it been known that he would be on an outing with the Stourbridge ringers on May 9th then permission would have been sought to ring at Christ Church instead of the Cathedral.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Because of the length of 'The Ringing World' committee meeting, the editor was locked out of his hotel at Truro and the down floor was in darkness. To the rescue came Dr. Derek Sibson and later a member of the hotel staff. The editor's escort, Mr. Norman Harding and Mr. Wilfrid Wilson, were not called upon to perform unusual feats to secure an entry.

We learn that Mr. Tom Myers, of Plymouth, who is in hospital, is making excellent progress.

The peal at Frome on May 16th was a birthday compliment to Mrs. Hazel Stirland, who husband rang the fifth.

Miss Joan Hills, of 1, Oval Gardens, Grays, Essex, would like to hear of anyone who rang a quarter peal with her during 1954 to enable her records to be completed. They were mostly rung in London.

The band who rang the peal at All Cannings on May 16th desire to thank Mr. and Mrs. Maslen, of Church House, for their very kind hospitality, which came as a complete surprise on leaving the church.

A long length peal of 9.120 Oxford Treble Bob Major was rung at Heptonstall on May 23rd for the Yorkshire Association, in 5 hrs. 12 mins. It was conducted by Leonard Goodall, and Edward Jenkins was on the 18cw. tenor.

When Mr. Robert Parry, secretary of the Aylesbeare Deanery Branch, was married on April 25th, eight of the nine towers in the branch contributed a ringer to a congratulatory peal at Clyst Honiton. His wedding to Miss Joyce Sampson was at his own church, Lymptstone, where the ringers rang before and after the service.

The quarter peal rung at the memorial service for Nancy Viscountess Astor at St. Andrew's, Plymouth, on May 19th, is only the second half-muffled quarter on the bells and they have both been rung as tribute to Americans. After the second world war Lady Astor and her husband did much in the rebuilding of Plymouth and the ringers taking part were proud to add their tribute.

Peterborough Diocesan Guild now Led by a Lady

HISTORIC ELECTION

The annual general meeting of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild was held on May 9th at Northampton. The large number of towers open for ringing during the day attracted numerous visitors and members from all eleven branches of the Guild.

The Guild Office was said by the president, Canon G. F. Turner, at the Church of St. Peter, Northampton, and the famous Norman nave was very nearly filled by the large congregation. Canon Boyd, Vicar of Pitsford, and himself a ringer, preached the sermon. The preacher said that he always judged a parish, particularly a village, by whether or not it had a keen team of ringers, and he found that if it had, then more often than not there was a live organisation and a spirit of community in the place. He said that it was important that the bells be heard as often as possible in any parish and that if, through them, only one person was brought to think of the things of God it was well worth while.

Tea was served in All Saints' Church Room by the ladies of St. Edmund's parish and was followed by the business meeting. Members stood to the memory of several old members who had passed away during the year and the president recalled that all had contributed in no small way to the cause of ringing in the diocese.

The annual report and accounts were presented and adopted.

The Master took the chair for the election of the president. Mr. Chapman said that the Guild was indeed fortunate to have the deep interest of Canon Turner and said that much of his work was of a nature that never brought it before the general membership. The Canon was re-elected to the office with acclamation and resumed the chair.

Mr. P. I. Chapman had notified the committee in February that he wished to retire after six years as Master of the Guild. There had been only one nomination for the office and that had later been withdrawn. When called upon to address the meeting, Mr. Chapman said that he had appreciated the honour of serving and had tried to serve the Guild in the way he thought best, in the absence of any set code for such an office.

In the absence of nominations, rules did not permit the election of a new Master, so it was decided to appoint someone pro tem. Three names were put forward and the ballot showed that Miss S. R. Collins had the greatest support. It is thought that this is the first time a lady has been made Master of a Diocesan Guild.

The general secretary, Mr. E. Billings, and the auditor, Mr. G. F. Roome, were re-elected.

The meeting was asked to confirm the committee's recommendation of grants of £40 each to Finedon, where the eight bells are to be rehung, and Pitsford, where a new treble is to be added. Both were approved.

It was decided to hold the Summer Festival this year at Flore, where the six bells have just been rehung after a long silence. The Guild dinner is again to be held at the Town Hall, Northampton, in October.

Oundle was chosen for the 1965 annual general meeting, it being reported that catering facilities had improved and no difficulties would now be experienced in that respect.

PROPOSED RULE CHANGES

A proposal to increase the subscription from 2s. 6d. to 5s. and issue a free report to all members, submitted by the Guildsborough Branch, was defeated, and the committee's recommendation of an increase to 3s. was agreed. The charge for reports will be reviewed by the committee annually as before.

The committee recommended that the rule be altered to allow the payment of 'the expenses, whole or part, of the Central Council representatives if authorised by the Guild Committee.' This was instead of travelling expenses only, and was passed unanimously.

A proposal to raise the maximum grant from the Bell Restoration Fund from £40 to £75 was also passed unanimously.

A vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. E. Garrett and seconded by Mr. A. R. Elliott, to all who had contributed to the success of the occasion.

the first lady to be Master of the Peterborough Diocesan Guild. She was taught to handle at bell at St. Nicolas', Guildford, by the late Mr. A. C. Hazelden, rung her first quarter the following year and first peal on Coronation Day at Keele. She has rung 133 peals (conducted five) in 86 towers and 71 quarter peals (21).

Apart from the Peterborough Guild, Miss Collins is a member of University of London Society, the Universities Association, the Cumberlands and 14 Diocesan Guilds. She was secretary of the Kettering Branch for three years and has been a member of the Central Council since 1963. Another office she holds is tower secretary of Kettering Parish Church.

Miss Collins took a B.Sc. degree, and a post graduate certificate in education at Leeds. She is on the staff of Kettering Technical College, her subject being mathematics.

PETERBOROUGH GUILD—Continued.

Mr. P. I. Chapman said that, as his 'swan song,' he would like to raise again something he had mentioned during his first term of office. It concerned the Cathedral bells. He wished to repeat that it reflected badly upon the Diocese and the Guild that its Cathedral bells could not be rung. The Dean of Peterborough had confirmed that they could not be rung as now hung, and that no one would wish to dispute. They therefore had to consider the alternatives. They were the erection of a new bell tower in the Precincts or the use of the central tower. These problems were overcome in past centuries and there was no reason to suppose that it could not be done to-day. If the ringers of a smaller diocese such as Guildford could be responsible for providing bells for their new Cathedral, surely a Guild the size of theirs could do something for their own Cathedral.

SOUTHWELL GUILD

Just over 40 ringers and friends attended the meeting of the Bingham District at Colston Bassett on April 11th. Owing to a misunderstanding there was no service for the first time since the District was formed. May 23rd was fixed for the District round of the Crawford Cup contest at Granby. The annual dinner and social was fixed for December at Whetton, and a dance during September will be held at Radcliffe. More ringers attended in the evening, 12 District towers being represented.

R. B.

Which Bristol conductor, helped by one from Farnborough, lost six peals out of six at Whitsun?

THE FRENCH INVADERS

When a member of a French television film team, engaged in making a film of University life in Cambridge, heard the bells of Great St. Mary's ringing on a Sunday, it gave him an idea for a film. Thus a few days later, at the early hour of 11 a.m., when the Master of the University Guild was still eating his breakfast in his dressing gown, one of the Frenchmen called. Being an engineer, the Master's knowledge of the French tongue is small and, unfortunately, his foreign visitor spoke hardly a word of English! However, finally, the Frenchman was able to make understood what it was the film team wanted. So it was arranged that the filming take place the following day, May 13th, and a 12-bell band was hastily gathered from the University.

The ringing included Stedman Cinques and Plain and Little Bob Maximus. During this time a small group stood in the rope-circle filming the ringers—some found it distracting to have a film camera within a few feet of their faces whilst ringing! Shots were also taken of the bells themselves being rung, and the tenor being lowered. Ian Smith, who fortunately speaks French fluently, was in a brief interview. Anyone who has tried to explain ringing to a non-ringer in English will know it is not easy, and they will appreciate that it is no easier in a foreign language. If any holiday makers saw the film, due to be shown on French television probably on May 28th, we would be interested in knowing how it comes out (if at all!).

SPELT WITH TWO 'E's'

'YOU'VE got a bit of beetle here, I see.'

'Not death-watch beetle,' said the Vicar, turning the shade of his collar.

The death-watch beetle has destroyed more bell frames than any other agency, and is busy chewing its way through a great many while you are reading this, so it might be a help to steeple-keepers to know something about it. It's a small brown beetle, straight-sided (not oval like a ladybird), between  $\frac{1}{4}$  in. and  $\frac{3}{8}$  in. long. It generally only emerges in the spring, when it may be seen crawling sluggishly about on the floors of many churches and other old buildings. Unlike the furniture beetle, its grubs can eat away not just the outer surface of timber but solid stuff over a foot thick, and that is why it's such a menace in a bell frame. The holes which the emerging beetle makes are much larger than 'woodworm' holes: they will admit the head of a match, and the 'frass' which comes out of them is brown and about the size of caster sugar, not fine dust. By this you may know the death-watch beetle.

In the last few years several interesting things have been discovered about this nasty little insect. First, and most important, it doesn't live on timber. Its food is fungus, to get which it chews timber, and it follows that although once it has got busy it may attack sound wood it never starts in sound wood. So, if your timber is kept free from rot it'll be free from the beetle. Second, the grub lives deep in the timber where ordinary methods of applying insecticides cannot reach it, and the emerging beetle only chews its way out; it doesn't eat its way out, so that an insecticide which poisons its digestive system will not kill it. Spraying the timber with D.D.T. will not kill the emerging beetles but some other insecticides will, and these are the ones to use.

Thirdly, although the adult beetle has wings it doesn't normally use them, and it is doubtful whether it can fly upwards at all. How, then, does it get into a church tower?

My own belief is that the villain is the jackdaw. Death-watch beetles don't specialise in ecclesiastical timber; you can find their holes in hedgerow sticks, especially dead hawthorn, and there's nothing that a house-proud jackdaw likes better than a nice twisty hawthorn stick, which can be woven so immovably into the wire-netting of the windows. So it would be wise for steeple-keepers to make sure that as well as keeping jackdaws out of the belfry they keep them from nesting even outside the netting.

I had confirmation of this theory the other day at a 3-bell tower, where the frame was still largely sound after some 500 years. There was furniture beetle and a little rot, and in the windows there were no louveres but great old shutters of 2in. oak with  $1\frac{1}{2}$  in. holes bored in them. No building sites for jackdaws here, and no death-watch beetle.

Jackdaws seem to be on the increase; they should not be welcomed as recruits to our belfries. J. G. M. S.

A PRESENT FROM TRURO

(To be sung—if it has to be sung—to the tune of 'The Farmer's Boy'.)

When first the Cornish ringers heard the Council was to come,
Bold Alan Carveth summoned them, and things began to hum:
They planned to give a welcome such as never was before,
The day we came to Truro town in Nineteen Sixty-Four.

'Now when they went to the Potteries, at Stoke-on-Trent, they say,
'Each member of the Council got a handsome dish or tray:
'Now what about a Cornish gift they'll treasure evermore,
'The day they come, etc.'

Then up and answered Doug Burnett, a Cornishman all through,
'We'll show these foreigners,' he said 'what Cornish lads can do,
'Let's give them each a pasty brave, they could not wish for more,
'The day they come, etc.'

Now when the Council day came round, they served the pasties up,

With splits and cream in many a plate, and tea in many a cup;
And the foreigners were fair amazed when they the pasties saw,
The day they came, etc.

The President he looked at his, a learned Norfolk priest:
He thought its lancet windows were twelfth century at least,
But he found they were Victorian, which made him very sore,
The day he came, etc.

Pat Cannon then took his in hand, a ringer strong and tough;
He tried to turn it in to Kent, but found it went too rough:
He struggled on for half a course, then dropped it on the floor,
The day he came, etc.

George Pipe he took a bite at his, and said 'In very truth,
'I'd take one o'er to Washington, if t'were a College Youth,*
A sentiment which some disgruntled gentry did deplore,
The day they came, etc.

Ken Arthurs then and Denis Bayles, they took theirs all to bits,
And four internal places found, which gave them forty fits:
They hollered out 'Irregular!' and headed for the door,
The day they came, etc.

But all the other foreigners, from towers far and near,
They tasted of this wondrous food, and raised a pious cheer;
They ate with relish every bit, and then called out for more,
The day they came to Truro town in Nineteen Sixty-Four.

J. G. M. S.

*The perpetrator of this ditty is fully aware that this verse is a scandalous libel: in fact it was his original intention to attribute this verse to someone else, but as the latter was not at Truro this was impossible, and George fitted the metre. It would have been a libel anyway, and the author disclaims any responsibility should a correspondence ensue.

COMPREHENSIVE REVIEW OF OVERSEAS RINGING

Overseas Committee's Report

IT gives your committee a great deal of pleasure in reporting that 1963 has probably been the most successful year in the history of ringing overseas. And now that Council has invited regular reports on these activities a more comprehensive coverage has been possible. Consequently it can be seen that the Art is practised, in varying degrees of achievement and enthusiasm admittedly, in something like 35 to 40 centres in seven countries throughout the world.

Our report covers vast territories with sometimes hundreds of miles between towers. These isolated bands are once again to be commended for the part they play in the Ringing Exercise at large. Where possible information not previously available or known has been summarised in respect of newer/isolated towers which it is hoped will be of further assistance to would-be travellers. We heartily welcome enquiries for more detail and likewise would be pleased to hear overseas news at any time.

AUSTRALIA

Despite various upheavals in the Australian ringing scene, an excellent year can be recorded. It would be a mistake to gauge this only from the peals and quarters that have been brought round though this is always a good indication that things are flourishing. Through the admirable publication 'Ringing Towers,' and reports in our own journal the ringing centres of Australia are now quite well known.

Perth is gaining strength all the time and some 14 ringers were present at the Bishop's enthronement in August. All eight bells are now rung and this very isolated band rang the first peal on the bells in March and scored several quarters during the year.

Adelaide with the addition of the recently renovated Town Hall octave is now quite a 'Mecca' for ringing in the country. Double Norwich, Cambridge and Stedman Triples are now well within their grasp and whereas Miss Enid Roberts by moving to N.S.W. will be greatly missed, Ronald Russ makes a valuable replacement. Adelaide was the venue of the A.N.Z.A.B. annual meeting when well over 40 ringers from four States attended. Three peals and several quarters are listed for South Australia.

Melbourne after a flourishing four of five months at the beginning of the year felt the loss of the Cathedral bells, now in England for complete restoration. The new job will be on its way again in May and awaited with some eagerness! St. Patrick's Cathedral band has kept things moving, however, in readiness for the return of the 12 and we can look to Melbourne for a strong band in the near future. Five peals, including Cambridge S., Major and Bob Royal go down in the record book.

Hobart, Maryborough and Yass continue to maintain Sunday service bands, Hobart ringing a quarter peal during the year.

Ballaarat's two towers have also picked up whilst the octave at Bendigo will soon be returned from Whitechapel where another restoration is taking place.

Finally Sydney which has done remarkably well and crowning its year with a peal of Stedman Triples 'in hand.' Five other peals (including Burwood) were scored and it is pleasing to note the variety of methods in their quarters.

Overall there were 63 quarter peals on tower bells and 15 in hand, together with 15 peals in the following methods: Plain Bob Major 4; Grandsire Triples 3; and one each of Bob Royal, Cambridge S. Major, Grandsire Caters, Stedman Triples, 3 Spliced Plain Major, 4 Minor methods and 9 x 2 Doubles methods.

NEW ZEALAND

A year of steady progress in New Zealand and ringing generally of a high standard. Both Christchurch (10) and Hamilton (8) Cathedrals are further cases where with perhaps just one more experienced ringer/conductor would make all the difference.

Ringing took place every Sunday and for several special occasions and festivals in Christchurch. Grandsire Triples, Kent Minor and Plain Bob are a regular feature here and occasionally Grandsire Caters and Stedman. Unfortunately peal attempts for Triples failed but success is sure to come this way before long. Membership stands at 20 which is indicative of enthusiasm.

Hamilton has eight in its Sunday band and call changes and Plain Bob are managed.

A band is also being taught by Christchurch ringers at Papanui (5-6 cwt.) and there is rumour that St. Peter's, Wellington (8-16 cwt.) will be renovated and placed in the new Cathedral there.

CANADA

A very good coverage of activity in this country has appeared in 'The Ringing World' over the last 12 months by Miss J. Midgley and Mr. A. J. Collins, so that a brief summary will suffice.

Victoria, B.C. (8-29½ cwt.). Membership approx. 20, ringing twice every Sunday with methods including Stedman and Kent T.B.

Vancouver, B.C. (8-16 cwt.). Membership 14, rung almost every Sunday to Grandsire, Plain Bob and call changes. We understand there is also an eight at St. James', Vancouver, which may well soon be rehung, being chimed only at present.

Mission City, B.C. (10-21 cwt.) rung regularly by the Benedictine Fathers at this most impressive Abbey. The Fathers can manage up to Grandsire Caters.

Calgary, Alta (8-14 cwt.). Another up and coming centre which together with the two rings in Quebec gives a string of towers from West to Eastern Canada. The Cathedral in Quebec (8-16½ cwt.) has a small but very struggling band but at the moment there are no ringers at St. Matthew's (8-14 cwt.).

No activity unfortunately to cater for the two very fine 10's in Montreal although your representative was able to inspect them last year.

U.S.A.

As with Canada the U.S. Mail coaches have kept us well informed with some excellent ringing articles. The latest development of course will be the important Washington dedication in May and this will be reported direct to the Central Council at Truro.

Therefore a list of towers with short notes will complete the picture for 1963.

Boston, Christ Church (8-15 cwt.). Unringable, apparently only because of sprinkler pipes being passed through the wheels and a very low ceiling.

Boston, Perkins Institute (8-22 cwt.). Only rung when visited by Groton—in perfect condition except for ropes.

Boston, Advent (8-20 cwt.). Some activity here and there is a donor who is prepared to pay for a full restoration if ringers can be found!

Hingham, Mass. (10-19½ cwt.). Unringable—tower supposedly too weak but this is debatable.

Kent School, Conn. (10-25 cwt.). A school-boy band of eight to ten in number. Call changes and Grandsire Doubles.

Chicago, Ill. (10-21½ cwt.). It is rumoured that renovation will be taking place soon.

Groton, Mass. (10-18 cwt.). Very strong and enthusiastic band here with something like 25-30 ringers—masters and boys. Stedman Doubles and Triples, Erin, Plain hunting are regular features and last year a quarter peal of Stedman Triples and four of Doubles were recorded. Groton ringers have visited Washington and hope to get over to Kent School.

The U.S.A. is almost equal in size to Australia and it can readily be seen that a keen and able ringer and conductor who was able to liaise with towers and move around could soon build up a very strong change ringing area in the States. The bells are certainly there!

AFRICA

The information gleaned from the African continent indicates a general spreading of the Art especially in towers from which nothing has been heard for some time or where no band/ringable peal was thought to exist.

REPUBLIC OF SOUTH AFRICA

Grahamstown Cath. (8-25½ cwt. by Warner 1878). Quite regular Sunday and practice ringing here by mainly University students. Unfortunately there is no instructor so ringing is a matter of trial and error, although plain hunting on seven has been reached. The nearest tower is Durban, 350 miles. Handbells from Queenstown also used, which church incidentally has the treble and tenor (26 cwt. in D) of an unfulfilled octave by Taylors' (1922).

Woodstock, C.P. (8-11 cwt. Barwell, 1901). Is the well-known South African ringing centre having had three peals and 52 quarters recorded so far. Although Grahamstown (425 miles) is the nearest tower this keen band accomplished 720's and a quarter last year, as well as celebrating the 60th anniversary of change ringing in the continent.

Durban. Two towers — Greyville (10-18½ cwt. Taylor's, 1919) and St. Paul's (8-14 cwt. Taylor's, 1920) are rung as often as possible and strong efforts are being made to man both these towers.

Good news for South Africa is the new Whitechapel ring for St. George's Cathedral, Cape Town (10-26 cwt.). The bells have already been cast and are on their way for installation.

SOUTHERN RHODESIA

Yet another little ringing community set in 'splendid isolation,' a further 850 miles from Durban. Salisbury (10-24½ cwt. by Mears and Stainbank, 1958) is the main centre and stands nearly 5,000 ft. above sea level! Ringing improving all the time and the band meets on Sundays and at practice for Grandsire and Plain Bob. We hear that handbells are taught at Riverside Anglican Mission, Bulawayo, by Rev. P. Cole, who has a set of 12.

Que Que. A 1962 ringable four with frames for two trebles, has a young band with eventual hopes of making the ring into six.

KENYA

Rounds off Africa and the light four (2½ cwt. in E. Taylors, 1961) at Kilifi are at least a start in these parts. Again provision is made for two trebles and meanwhile the bells are heard for Sunday matins and practices.

At Cuddesdon Theological College, Oxford, three overseas students were taught to ring during 1963: Rev. D. Williams, of California, Rev. C. Gregorowski, of Cape Town, Rev. D. Low, another South African, now at Copnor, Hants.

The Convener would be pleased to hear of any comments, or items of news pertaining to ringing outside Britain, and if these could be communicated to his private address (8, Lansdowne Road, Ipswich) they will be summarised and published in 'The Ringing World' at a later date.

(Signed) GEORGE W. PIPE (Convener),

8, Lansdowne Road, Ipswich, Suffolk.

A. VICTOR SHEPPARD.

Mr. G. W. Pipe moved the adoption of the report. He said the 12 for Melbourne were leaving England in the next few weeks. They had been completely renovated in an iron frame at Loughborough. The Bendigo octave had been recast at Whitechapel and were leaving in a short time and the new 10 for Cape Town were at Whitechapel and would be going shortly.

Mr. V. Sheppard, seconding, said he had heard that Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, would be receiving shortly a very competent ringer for two years—he referred to Mr. Frank Blagrove.

Mr. Frederick Sharpe said he did not propose to give a detailed account of his experiences in America as they were printed in 'The Ringing World.' He would like to thank especially the president of the American Guild of English Handbell Ringers (Dr. Robert Hieber) and Mr. James Lawson, carillonneur, of Riverside Church, New York and editor of 'Overtones': they were all hand-bell ringers and rang for church services. They sent their very best wishes to the Council. While he was in America he had the pleasure and privilege of giving lectures on elementary change ringers in groups.

He had on several occasions just over 300 teenagers all eager to learn. One lecture was planned for one hour; it lasted three hours.

THE WASHINGTON TOUR

Mr. G. W. Pipe was called upon to describe the recent visit to Washington which he called 'That was the week that was.' The outstanding thing from their point of view, he said, was the actual reception and enthusiasm they got. They expected them to turn up as beefeaters: all they had were bellringers' ties! As to Washington, it is the sort of city you ought to visit. The Cathedral is a magnificent building in the true Gothic style. I have brought with me a collection of presentation books of Washington that will enable you to see what it is like.

'The bells are a first-class ring in every way, and the belfry is something to be seen to be believed. Apart from the elevators that take you up there can you imagine a belfry with three complete lounge suites, and furniture and fittings in ecclesiastical colours—in brown, olive green and in gold. Imagine 200 people or so there and you can still drive a bus round!

'The main reason for going was first for the dedication of the bells for the American people. Imagine the situation. "We have bells, we want ringers, we get them out"! Apart from the dedication on Ascension Day, we were able to do a lot of teaching. The actual teaching was handled by Mr. Chaddock and Mr. Moreton. They did a splendid job in every respect, and the other eight of us assisted. The result of the week was that 25-30 people were taught and on Friday one of the pupils rang a 720 of Bob Minor on the treble.

'The actual dedication day was something I shall never forget: it started at 7 and services were outside with temperatures about 80 and 90 degrees and thousands of people milling around. The climax came when we rang a quarter of Stedman Caters with 200 people in the belfry at the time, the Press coming and going and cameras clicking. John Chilcott did a magnificent job, indeed the whole party behaved splendidly. We felt we were a representative band for England in the cause of change ringing.

'I want to express special and heartfelt thanks to our friend Doug Hughes. He did a lot of arranging and he has taken a recording of the peal which is going to be played at the reception and you can then judge the quality of the peal. We had a chance to ring a peal on the Saturday, perhaps not in the fittest condition as over 10,000 people were listening to it on the lawns outside. I want to pay a tribute to John Chilcott: he was Master for the week, cool and had everybody in a happy frame. Think of conducting a peal and a quarter under such circumstances!

'Finally, we were asked to spend an extra day and fly to Groton at Russell Young's invitation. Here we rang a peal of Cambridge Royal. Earlier in the week a peal of Plain Bob Major was rung in hand. We have introduced the art of change ringing and we hope it is firmly established in America.'

Mr. H. L. Roper (hon. member): When I saw the report of the Overseas Committee I felt I must congratulate Mr. Pipe. I would also like to congratulate him on his report of the Washington visit.

The hon. secretary: At the same time as we vote on the report, there is a rather mundane matter, to agree to the terms of reference of the Overseas Committee. The Standing Committee recommend these terms: "To keep in touch with and report to the Council on all activities of ringing outside the British Isles and to furnish information when thought desirable and to establish contacts with overseas visitors."

The report and recommendation were adopted.

The President called attention to a book Mr. Sharpe had written on the bells of Guernsey, Jersey, Alderney and Sark which would be on sale very shortly.

LITTLE SUPPORT FOR CONTROL OF NAMES

The Council then proceeded to consider the two motions in the names of Mr. D. A. Bayles and Mr. K. Arthur:

(a) That this Council shall no longer recognise as regular any even-bell method which has four places made between successive rows on more than one occasion in the half-lead.

(b) That this Council investigate and report on the possibilities of systematic nomenclature for methods.

Dealing with (b) first, Mr. Bayles said there had developed a habit of names being longer than the place notation. Let them be as simple as possible. Most methods rung for the first time would not be rung much in the future. He felt that Hudson and McClelland showed one way of dealing with it. He moved para. (b) and Mr. K. Arthur seconded.

Mr. W. E. Critchley (Yorkshire Association) asked Mr. Bayles to qualify, as he did not understand what was meant by the 'systematic nomenclature.'

Mr. Bayles: If a person gets the figures of a new method, how did he know it had not been rung before? Surely there must be some method of arranging them. They had a comprehensive list produced by a commuter which showed all right-placed methods. When a thing was rung they could give it the name or number relating to it in the list.

Mr. C. K. Lewis: This will only be solved when the book of the methods of Surprise Major rung is published in the near future. If you want to kill ringing it is to ring method 100 and composition 99. In five years time the Exercise would then be as dead as mutton.

Mr. K. Arthur in a speech showed how ridiculous many names were. In the 17th and 18th century they had such names as Ham Treble Bob, Blunderbuss, Whirligig and Jack of Both Sides. They have now such names as Ob and Llanfihangel-Rhydeithon and were threatened with parsnips and beetroot. If this went on in the same breath as Double Norwich Court Bob Major they would have Beatles' names. Could they imagine 'Yeah, Yeah, Yeah Surprise'?

Mr. R. B. Morris said years ago his Association rang a new method and called it Oswestry. He would not like that to be called by another name.

Mr. W. G. Wilson (London County Association) said the only thing that made the motion necessary was if Mr. Arthur's examples were taken up by Mr. Warwick. If they were not, then the motion was not necessary.

Mr. John R. Mayne: We have a great heritage and we ought to do our best to pass it on. I do not think this nomenclature system fits the bill. I think this Council should invent and select proper names. I remember years ago the Rev. John Scott said he derived great pleasure from such names as Whirligig. I would be prepared to consider a re-classification of names but if there is any doubt I think it is best to leave it alone.

The Rev. John Scott said it would be unthinkable to change names that had been in existence for centuries. Names like Oswestry rung for a special occasion should certainly be retained. His opinion was whether a peal was called Whirligig, Ob or another name, they should not try to stop them. Many of these peals were not worth ringing.

Eventually Mr. John Freeman moved that the Council proceed with the next business, which was seconded by Mr. W. E. Critchley and carried. A previous attempt at this procedure was ruled out of order by the president as the mover coupled it with a sneeze.

Mr. Bayles then submitted motion (a). He said unfortunately under this motion Cambridge would become an irregular method. It was in order on 6 and 8 bells but 10 and 12 bells would be ruled out. He would like to restrict the motion to 6 and 8 bells.

Mr. K. Arthur seconded.

Mr. W. F. Moreton said he was in sympathy with a good deal of what had been said. This motion would affect many peals which were printed in the collection.

Mr. Norman Chaddock said he was in sympathy with Mr. Bayles' idea if it was kind to what was good taste. They could indicate what was good and not lay down laws like those of years ago that provoked long discussions.

Mr. C. K. Lewis also contended that it was far better to rely on what was good taste than to legislate. Legislation led people to find ways round it.

Mr. R. S. Anderson moved an amendment that it be referred to the Methods Committee for consideration and report.

Mr. F. I. Hairs seconded.

Mr. P. A. Corby felt this was only a manoeuvre to pass it on to others. 'We had a debate some years ago like this in regard to Bob Triples.'

The amendment found 21 supporters but was heavily defeated.

After further discussion Mr. Corby moved that the question be now put and the motion was defeated.

THE RECEPTION

A reception followed in the Town Hall annexe, where, the members of the Council, their wives and lady friends were received by the Mayor and Mayoress and the Lord Bishop of the Diocese. A Cornish tea was provided, which included hot Cornish pasties—a delicacy appreciated by visitors from a distance. The generosity of the Truro Diocesan Guild and their ladies and also the Mayor and Mayoress and the Lord Bishop for receiving the company was fittingly expressed by the president.

In the evening in the Red Lion Hotel the usual social was held. An added attraction was the playing of a recording by Mr. Douglas Hughes of the Washington peal. As on many previous occasions, Canon Felstead and the Rev. John Scott were prominent in the entertainment. Topical verse appropriate to the Council meeting was given by the Rev. John Scott.

MASHONALAND DIOCESAN GUILD

At the annual meeting of the Guild held in the bell tower in Salisbury on May 6th, the Master (Mr. H. P. Raynor) reported that progress had been rather sporadic: irregular attendance by members (often unavoidable) and the departure of many of the most useful ringers had been the chief difficulties. In particular, the tower captain (Mr. F. Wilson) had been dogged by ill-health and unable to ring for nearly a year. Dr. Gibbs migrated to Australia at Christmas, and the tragic death of the enthusiastic steeplekeeper, Chris Head, had left a gap which had not been filled.

Service ringing, chiefly rounds and call changes, had been maintained by a faithful few, and run very competently by Miss Pellatt (deputy tower captain) and Mr. K. Cross (hon. secretary), the latter bearing the brunt of teaching new ringers.

The most notable event of the year had been the hanging of a ring of four bells at St. Luke's, Que Que (140 miles from Salisbury). Four members from Salisbury went there for the dedication in October. Since then Mr. Berrington, who played a major part in the establishment of ringing in Salisbury, had trained a band there, travelling 70 miles to practices. Rounds were rung regularly for Sunday service.

As Que Que is in the Diocese of Matabeleland, Mr. Raynor proposed that a provincial guild should be formed and this was agreed in principle. Mr. Raynor regretted that he had to return to full time farming and declined to stand for re-election as Master. His successor is Mr. J. R. Milford, also from Marandellas. Other officers were re-elected.

The Guild has 18 ringers made up of seven regular ringers in Salisbury, two who could be regulars, one recruit, six visitors from 50 miles away or further, two boys from Peterhouse School. The chief hope for real expansion and progress is that an enthusiastic expert from England may be persuaded to work in Salisbury for a year or so; negotiations with such a person are still in progress.

Place Notation

Dear Editor,—I was recently asked to try and explain this system of recording a method. This caused me to look more critically at the specimens appearing week by week in 'The Ringing World.' Having done so I was surprised, as I believe may be others, by the variations in the way they are set out. I thought I would write about it, not from any passion for uniformity, but on the basis that the system is designed to convey information precisely. If it does not do so, and can confuse the inexpert reader, then it fails.

May I give a few examples, all taken from recent reports:

(1). There are two symbols in use to denote a change at which no place is made, viz. a dash '—' and a cross 'x'. The former is more quickly written, the latter more nearly conveys what is going on. May we have one or the other, but not both? I favour 'x'.

(2). There would seem to be confusion in denoting what happens at the end of the lead. Different methods are reported in which 'l.h.' and 'l.e.' are used for exactly the same meaning. Surely only one can be correct. I would have thought that 'l.e.' should have it.

(3). In my paragraph (2) I have used 'l.e.' and 'l.h.' but often in 'the R.W.' one sees 'L.E.' and 'L.H.' Typography is your privilege, sir, but would you consider sticking to one or the other? I am a firm believer in lower case always unless there is an overwhelming case for a capital.

(4). I am sorry to say that you have occasionally accompanied abbreviation with an apostrophe indicating the plural, e.g. 'F.C.E.s.' If there are two false ends, is the 's' really essential? From the appearance of two sets of figures it would be clear that there were indeed two—and again, may it be 'f.c.e.'?

(5). Included in the information given sometimes is—i.e. (or L.E.) 1426, sometimes 'l.e. 2nds place', and sometimes '4ths place bob.' As I see it the first two pieces of information are repetitious; if the information '1426' or '1573' is given then there is no need to specify that 2nds place or any other is to be made when the treble is leading. So far as bobs are concerned could the convention not be accepted that, unless specified otherwise, 4ths place is understood?

I am sorry to appear pedantic, but as I said earlier, if we are to use this convenient shorthand, let it be precise and as brief as is consistent with clarity. It may be that the standardisation is a job for the Central Council. If so I have a year to wait, but would you not, sir, in the meantime give a clear lead to your contributors, and instruction to your compositors.—Yours sincerely,

DAVID GULLICK.

Stevenage.

Note.—Will the convener of the appropriate committee please make a statement to clarify the position.—Ed.

Method Name

Dear Sir.—The peal of Surprise Major rung at Godmanchester on April 25th, which appears in your issue of May 15th (page 331), is wrongly named. In accordance with the advice of the Methods Committee, published in the issue of January 17th, 1964, page 36, and ratified by the Central Council at Truro, the name for this method is Westray, which is the name given when it was first rung in a peal of spliced at Ashover, Derbyshire, on July 13th, 1963.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN R. MAYNE.

Harrow.

In and Out of Course

Dear Sir.—I have discovered a method of determining whether or not a row is in or out of course. It may have appeared in print before, but it is so simple that it is worth reneating.

The method is this: In the row in question, for each bell count the number of bells below it which in rounds would be above. The total number of 'above' bells 'below' is the same as the number of single changes necessary to reach rounds. An example: 2 4 1 6 3 8 5 7.

Two has no bells below it, 4 has one, but this is below it in rounds, so it is not counted. One has two bells below it that are above it in rounds, total so far two. Six has no 'above' bells below, but 3 has 4 and 6 below it, total so far four. Tenor can never have any 'above' bells and can always be ignored. Five has 8 and 6 below, total so far six; 7 has 8 below, grand total seven. Seven single changes are necessary to produce 2 4 1 6 3 8 5 7 from rounds. The row is out, of course.

I believe that this method is more convenient than any other, it can be done mentally.—Yours faithfully, JOHN DAVID.

Guernsey.

Surprise Major Collection

Dear Sir.—My article on 'Publications and the Central Council' was written because of correspondence, over various names, in 'The Ringing World.' It took no account of matters which were not public knowledge or known to me. If, therefore, any injustice was done, as Mr. Goodfellow thinks, to Mr. Maurice Hodgson it was clearly not intended.

All authors are impatient for publication—most of them wait many years, often in vain. In this case time has been spent on the consideration of publication by the Middlesex Association and if this had come about the Exercise would have congratulated its members. Then more time has passed while that Association passed the matter on to the Central Council. Of course a whole year has elapsed and more time will also pass. No committee of the Council can spend the Council's money (our money) without authority and that authority should not be given without an estimate of cost and an indication of need. The lower the demand the greater the proportionate cost.

Then there are the mechanical considerations. The Middlesex Association will doubtless be as pleased to persuade the Central Council to undertake the tasks of stocking, advertising, selling, packing, posting, accounting, etc., as Mr. Hodgson would have been if the Middlesex Association had undertaken all this. I am sure that if Mr. and Mrs. Sneed could or would, put a price on their Herculean labours in disposing in 1963 of, inter alia, two thousand copies of the Beginners' Handbook, it would far outweigh the cost of publication. If it is suggested that the number of copies would be nearer 20 or 200 a year than 2,000, then it may be that the question whether the demand is great enough to justify using the Council's limited resources of money and labour will need even more careful consideration.

As I have tried to say before, any ringer who is prepared not only to find the cash but also the labour can publish what he wishes. But if he wants someone else to pay (even part), to stand the financial risk, and to undertake all the work and incidental expenditure, then he will need to be both persuasive and patient.

WILFRID G. WILSON.

Judging Striking Contests

Dear Sir.—I too, share the amazement of Mr. Cooper in that Mr. Carlisle and myself were able to agree on the result of the Archdeaconry of Staffs striking contest held at Bushbury. Despite the fact that the probability of three judges agreeing exactly on the placings of the seven teams is less than one in 125,000,000,000, we did just that. The main point of Mr. Cooper's letter, however, related to the small number of faults which were awarded to the winning team.

I believe there are two basic rules which must be obeyed when judging a contest and although they are obvious they are often not emphasised enough:

Rule 1.—Each row must be noted and marked individually, and all rows must be marked to the same standard.

Rule 2.—The standard of marking must be maintained constant for all the teams competing. This is not easy because there is a natural tendency to mark good teams severely and poor teams leniently—simply because the time available to assess and mark each change is very limited.

However, this pitfall is not so serious in its result as the tendency gradually to alter one's standard of marking as the competition progresses, either because one becomes more practised or as concentration wavers. If there is more than one judge, it is inevitable that even if they are using the same system of marking, they will differ in what constitutes a fault or part of a fault. Any tendency to try and make the marks agree more closely as the contest proceeds must be firmly resisted and, although this means that marks awarded by each judge to individual teams will differ, the marks should be comparative and the judges should agree on the order of merit. This is what happened at Bushbury, where, although one of the judges differed by a factor of two in his markings from the other two judges, we were unanimous in the order of merit.

I believe that the most important aspect of judging is to place all the teams (I repeat all the teams) and not just the winners, in the correct order of performance. Thus where there is more than one judge notice should be taken of each judge's placings of the teams in preference to his marking. Of course, when it comes to announcing the result and the number of faults have to be quoted, an average from all the judges must be taken. However, a straight average is not good enough; a 'weighted average' which illuminates the effects of different standards of assessment must be used.

You will probably have gathered from what I have written that the actual system of marking is of secondary importance to that of maintaining consistency, and this is so. For the record, all the judges at Bushbury used the same system of marking which had as a basis a maximum of one fault per row. Slight imperfections and slips constituted a  $\frac{1}{2}$  or  $\frac{1}{4}$  fault, whereas a definite clash constituted a full fault. I know other persons use other systems where multiple faults are possible in each row. This probably accounts for the fact that the excellent striking contest bands, such as Warson, have on occasion scored a large number of faults with well nigh perfect ringing, whereas on other occasions with a different judge and a poorer performance they have scored far fewer faults.

As striking contests are becoming more and more popular it is imperative that more ringers be prepared to do the judging. I hope that no one will be deterred from trying on the grounds that they do not know how to assess faults and are afraid of marking too few.—Yours sincerely,

Derby

ST. MARY'S BASILICA, SYDNEY

Featured in the May issue of 'Ringing Towers' is an article on the famous Roman Catholic Cathedral of St. Mary's Basilica, Sydney. Graphically the writer gives this impressive introduction:

'It is very pleasant to stroll across Sydney's Hyde Park, enjoying the relative quiet, looking at the trees, dodging the spray from the fountain if the breeze is stirring and all the time seeing the massive shape of St. Mary's Basilica looming larger. One then nips across the road and round the great buttresses with the enjoyable anticipation of some interesting ringing on good bells. The only cloud on the horizon is the thought of ascending the 111 stone stairs of somewhat uneven height, but having spiralled successfully upwards and stepped out on to the slanting catwalk that leads to the central tower and the bells, one's breath can be agreeably recovered gazing at the beauty of a large part of the harbour spread out below. Everything is on a large scale and seems to have been there since Governor Phillips' time.'

There have been two rings of bells at St. Mary's; the first eight, with a tenor nearly 30 cwt., was first rung on New Year's Day, 1844, and destroyed by fire in 1865. The present bells, from the Whitechapel Foundry, were presented in 1882. They are a ring of eight, with a tenor weighing 25½ cwt.

Laurie Curran captains the present band and other ringers include Tom Goodyer, the tower's extremely able conductor, his wife Margaret, John Cummins, John Sneehey, Ted and Neil Fowell, Wendy Nichols, Audrey Peters, Willie Watson, Enid Roberts, Graeme Langshaw, Frank Cormack and Jenny Rees.

This is a good number of 'Ringing Towers,' with Edgar Shepherd writing 'Daobling in Doubles, very useful for young bands, and an editorial on call changes. George W. Pipe writes of Melbourne bells at Loughborough and Philip Gray on 'The Begunner. There is also a correction to the list of first 100 Australian peals. A peal of Grandsire Doubles that appeared in 'The Ringing World' as having been rung at Holy Trinity, Hobart, on September 9th, 1944, is withdrawn. The peal of Grandsire Triples at St. Peter's Cathedral, Adelaide, on February 20th, 1963, conducted by Enid Roberts, becomes the 100th peal rung in Australia.

50 YEARS AGO

R.W., April 24th, 1914.

BELLS' TRIUMPHAL ENTRY.—Arrangements are being made for a triumphal entry into Southampton on May Day of the new ring of eight bells for St. Mary's, the mother church of the borough. The bells have been given by Miss Wingrove, and at half-past five in the morning of May Day will be taken from the Dock Station and placed on eight cars, for a triumphal march through the town. At the boundary of the parish they will be met by the clergy and choir, who, with special hymns of thanksgiving, will lead them to the church. Each car will carry, in addition to the bell, four parishioners, to represent the 'seven ages of man.' The bells have been cast by Messrs. Taylor and Co., at the Loughborough Foundry.

Winners of the Ipplepen Deanery ringing festival at Upton (Torquay) were the following members of Upton Parish Church: Messrs. N. J. Roberts (holding the Searley Shield, captain), W. Hancock, B. E. Bartlett, W. G. Brewer, A. R. G. Wotton and H. M. Hill. The test was the usual peal, 'Sixty-on-Thirds' (call changes), rung in not longer than 20 minutes and not less than 15, including rise and lower. Six teams competed and Upton beat their near rivals, King's Kerswell, by 5½ points. Each of these teams has now won the shield six times.

GUILD OF DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

The May meeting of the Exeter Branch was held at Bramford Speke, with Mr. F. Wreford in the chair. A lively discussion ensued concerning instruction and it was suggested that each tower in the District should be visited in turn by members from other towers to give instruction to those not so far advanced. Newton St. Cyres was chosen for the next meeting.

A service was taken by the Vicar, Canon Lucas, who gave an interesting talk about the local bells, which had recently been overhauled. Bramford ringers supplied tea.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH

History was made by the Monmouth Branch when they visited for the first time the tiny church of Llangattock-Vibon-Avel, which is hidden amongst the trees and two fields away from the road.

The lively young Vicar, the Rev. D. G. Cooling, was early at the church to welcome the visitors. The six bells were rung to a variety of methods varying from rounds to Surprise.

The service was conducted by the Vicar, and the organist was Mrs. Millar. Mr. David Pike thanked the wives of the Llangattock ringers, who had so kindly prepared tea at the Hendre Hall.

Three new members were elected from Llangattock-Vibon-Avel, the first ever from that tower to join the Association. New members were also elected from Rumney and Machen.

Mr. Jack James, Master, thanked the Vicar for his warm welcome and interest in the Branch.

Next meeting: Bassaleg on July 11th.

SUFFOLK GUILD

About 30 people attended a very successful quarterly meeting of the N.E. District held at Dennington and Laxfield on May 23rd. The bells were rung continuously to methods ranging from Plain Bob Minor, Stedman, Double Norwich, Kent Treble Bob and a touch of Woodbine.

Ian Margetts, of Beccles, was elected a junior member, and Mr. I. Raphael, of Lowestoft, an unattached ringing member.

Next meeting: Adelburgh, August 15th.

OBITUARY

MR. FREDERICK SHERATON

'And though men be so strong that they come to four score years: yet is their strength then but labour and sorrow.' Frederick Sheraton belied these words of the psalmist as he retained his faculties to a remarkable degree and was active until he died suddenly on his way to a cricket match on May 22nd.

Born in Chester-le-Street on September 3rd, 1879, he spent all but eight or nine years of his life in the town. He was a founder member of the golf club and of the first operatic society, a special constable and a member of the Fire Brigade. In this last he became vice-captain and a clock was presented to him to record his long service to the Brigade. But, above all, he had a life-long interest in bells.

Fred joined his older brother, William, in the belfry at Chester-le-Street and it was William who conducted his first peal in 1897 for Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee. This is recorded on a peal board in the ringing chamber at Chester-le-Street and this board as well as the others is surmounted by some of Fred's carving. Some of his carving is also to be found in the church itself. He rang faithfully at Chester-le-Street, except for the years when he was living at Humshaugh and until he found difficulty in climbing the stairs during the last few months. He had held office as captain and secretary at various times. He joined the Durham and Newcastle Association in 1892 and was for many years vice-president of the Western District, and last year he was among those honoured with life membership under the new rule. He rang 38 peals.

He was one of the deputation formed by the local ringers to obtain donations for the two trebles to complete the octave which were added in 1908. Shortly afterwards Sir Lindsay Wood undertook the rehanging of the eight in the present frame. Many ringers can testify to the excellence of that job in 1911. A joiner by trade, most of his working life was spent in the employ of Sir Lindsay and Sir Arthur Wood in Chester-le-Street.

Fred's wife predeceased him by six years and they just failed to reach their golden wedding. He leaves a daughter (Mrs. Brown) to whom and her family we express sympathy.

APPRECIATION

I knew Fred only from about 1947 but we became close friends. There are several examples of joinery in this house where a young amateur benefited from the advice of a skilled professional.

I arranged peals for his 70th, 75th and 80th birthdays and I planned another one in this series for September, 1964. Last year the visit of Tom Lock's touring band produced a peal by coincidence on his 84th birthday and he enjoyed listening to some of this and chatting over tea to some of the other ringers.

He died suddenly after a life that had been almost entirely free from illness and in which he hardly knew what aches and pains were. He was thankful for his own good health but not unmindful of those less fortunate and he did much visiting of recent years.

At his own request he was cremated privately and his fellow ringers respected his wish. They sent a wreath and on the evening of the funeral eight of the local band rang a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples with the bells half-muffled.

William and Frederick Sheraton's service covers the period of change ringing in Chester-le-Street, the original six being installed in 1883. They helped to build up a tradition of regular ringing from which we benefit today and they have left us a high standard of service for which we give thanks.

A HUNDREDTH BIRTHDAY

Many ringers of the other generation who have visited the Sittingbourne area will remember Mrs. Mary A. Dobbie, who celebrated her 100th birthday on May 26th. Wife of the late Walter Dobbie (a ringer) and mother of four ringing sons, Stanley B., Clarence H. and the late Ernest J. and Alexander Dobbie, she has entertained many ringers at her home.

In honour of the event a quarter peal of 1,296 Cambridge Minor was rung at the Church of Holy Trinity, Milton Regis, where she was churchwarden for many years, by: George A. Taylor 1, Doris G. Dobbie (granddaughter) 2, Sheila M. Dobbie (granddaughter-in-law) 3, Clarence H. Dobbie (son) 4, Stanley B. Dobbie (son) 5, Walter H. Dobbie (grandson, cond.) 6.

Mrs. Dobbie, still hale and hearty, listened for part of the time to the ringing from the churchyard.

Among Mrs. Dobbie's visitors during the day were representatives of the church, the local council and the St. John Ambulance Brigade (Sittingbourne Division), which she helped to establish 40 years ago and served for many years as lady superintendent, retiring at 90 years of age. In 1929 she was made a Serving Sister of the Venerable Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem.

Mansfield District

The Mansfield District eliminating contest for the Crawford Cup took place at Edwinstowe on May 23rd, following tea and a short business meeting in the Church Hall.

The bells, a rather light ring, with a fairly long draught, contrasted 'strikingly with the heavy going six at Mansfield Woodhouse, used during the afternoon. There were only two entrants and with several new faces in their team Warsop won easily, ringing 360 Norwich Surprise, with 26 faults. The second team, Greasley, incurred 66 faults. The judges were Messrs. D. Cooper and H. Poyner.

Ringling continued until 8 p.m., when Compline, conducted by the Rev. W. Pickles, rounded off a very pleasant day.

CHILTERN CAPERS

The first-ever Barton-le-Cley, Beds. ringers' outing began well on the fine six bells at Amersham, and continued somewhat tardily on the eight at 'Our Man at St. Mark's,' Denham.

Members were delighted to be joined by two locals in a course of Kent at Chalfont St. Peter. (Why no reply to four letters from Chalfont St. Giles?) The majestic eight at Beaconsfield followed, then a hurriedly arranged strictly bread-and-jam-and-cakes only tea in a town surprisingly lacking in catering facilities. While still at full strength a plain course of Cambridge was achieved on the resonant six at Penn.

At Great Kimble, to everyone's consternation, the fifth remained stolidly stationary—no time to find out why. The final tower, Aston Clinton, was the best of the day. Fittingly, here was rung the best touch of the day, Double Court.

Well done, hon sec, Bob Ashby. Grateful thanks to incumbents and 'people with the keys.' G. M. P.

ASHBOCKING AND HENLEY, SUFFOLK

An enjoyable half-day was spent on May 9th as an outing for the young recruits at Ashbocking and Henley. Ringers from the Ipswich area made up the party and several methods as well as plenty of Plain Bob were rung.

The four towers visited were Grundisburgh, Saxmundham, Southwold and Blythburgh.

Judging by the lusty singing on the homeward journey, a good time was had by all.

A. T. B.

DEVON GUILD

Special guest at a half-day outing of the Devon Guild on May 13th was Mr. A. W. Coles, of London. An hour and a half was spent at Buckfast Abbey, where the ringing finished with a well struck 378 of Grandsire Triples. After a tea at a local cafe ringing was enjoyed at Holne and Bickington. Before departing thanks were accorded to Mr. A. L. Benne for making the arrangements.

OUTINGS*BIGGLESWADE DISTRICT

Kent in apple-blossom time! What a sight awaited the Biggleswade ringers when they visited that fertile and beautiful county on May 9th. Amid all this beauty we still found time for a little bell-ringing, and the excellent ring of eight at St. Nicholas, Sevenoaks, were put to good use. Next came Tonbridge, where lunch was taken before ringing at SS. Peter and Paul, another splendid eight.

Approaching Brenchley, the roads became less crowded as the scenery became more attractive, and the charm and peacefulness of Brenchley will not soon be forgotten (incidentally, we had the best ringing of the day here). At Goudhurst we found out what the words 'odd-struck' really mean! Nevertheless, an interesting hour was spent on this heavy eight, which made us appreciate the very adequate tea which followed.

The bells at the lovely and interesting church of St. Michael, Marden (8), were well rung which was just as well, as ringing at the last tower, West Malling, came to an abrupt end through the breaking of a rope.

Altogether, a quite memorable day, and everyone will join me in thanking Mr. L. H. Bywaters for his excellent organisation.

A. E. R.

KING'S LYNN

Delays arising from the heavy traffic on Whit Monday caused the ringers of St. Margaret's, King's Lynn, and St. Faith's, Gayford, to miss Woburn and St. Peter's, Bedford.

Nevertheless, there was some enjoyable ringing at Clifton, Bedfordshire, Old Warden, Husborne Crawley, Olney and Eaton Socon. Lunch was enjoyed in the grounds of Woburn Abbey, and on the homeward journey through the Fens a final stop for refreshments at March was appreciated.

STRATTON, CORNWALL

Stratton ringers had their usual Whit Monday outing and visited South Devon. Visitors from Kent and Oxford were included. At Newton St. Cyres they were met by ringers from Plymouth and Exeter and good ringing ensued. A stay had to be repaired at Exminster before ringing and another Kent ringer, Carole Sone, joined the party at Dawlish. Lunch was at Teignmouth and was followed by scoring Double Norwich and Siedman at St. Michael's Church.

Cambridge Minor was attempted at Bishops-teignton and Double Court brought round The evening ringing was at Chudleigh and Chagford. A stop at Okehampton for refreshment brought a day of good bells, grand scenery and excellent company to an end.

E. J. L.

BADSWORTH, YORKS.

A small party of ringers from Hemingbrough, Yorks, succeeded, after oiling and repairing three ropes, to get the four bells at Badsworth, near Pontefract, ringing again on May 23rd. The bells were rehung in an iron frame in 1916 and were last rung in 1945 for the end of the second world war. The tenor is 13 cwt. 24 lb. in E. The bells sound well and don't ring too badly.

G. F. J.

AXBRIDGE BRANCH

An early start, at 6.45 a.m., was made by nearly 70 members and friends of the Axbridge Branch of the Bath and Wells Association on May 9th for their outing to Devon. The first tower was Buckfast Abbey, where the bells enjoyed for an hour. After lunch at Paignton, the two coaches parted company—one visiting Paignton and Upton and the other Tor and Babbacombe, where the other coach rejoined. Before tea those who had the energy explored Babbacombe and Oddicombe Bays. For evening ringing one coach went to Pinhoe and the other to Broadclyst. They met for a pleasant half-hour before the journey home. All who helped are thanked.

Miss Marie R. Cross informs us that she was not on holiday in U.S.A. as stated in this column. She had been given a sabbatical month by the local Education Authority to study American Primary Education and new trends in it. We are gratified to learn that it was not all work as she is listed with Miss Hilary Muirhead, the Rev. M. Melville and Mr. John Seager by Mr. George Pipe as having rung Washington Cathedral bells during the time of the visit of the English ringers.

The ringer of the seventh in the peal at Southover, Lewes (p. 361), was Ian V. J. Smith and not as printed.

When St. Aldate's, Oxford, had their first outing for several years on May 30th, the organiser, Mr. Edward Venn, lost a 'pint sinking contest' to a lady!

Mr. Frank Hilliar is thanked by the conductor of the peal at Oketford Fitzpaine, Dorset, for standing down to enable the Rev. R. N. Longridge to ring his first peal.

Mr. Wilfred Williams asks us to state that in regard to the peal of Surprise Royal at Truro published in our last issue there was not a second start. The bells were rung for rope adjustment only with rounds. Only one splice was required before 'Go' was called.

For the benefit of visitors Mr. Charlie Sangwin, of Stratton, arranged a half-day tour of North Devon on May 23rd. Towers visited were Great Torrington, Barnstaple, Bideford and Appledore, where Mr. G. J. Ladd was able to ring with the blind vicar of Westleigh, late of Kent and Northam.

Mr. W. E. Court and family will be home in England shortly from Canada. Writing from Vancouver he states he motored 1,450 miles to get there. In ringing at Holy Rosary, Vancouver, and Westminster Abbey, Mission City, he has completed his longest ever tower snatch. His regret is that time prevents him visiting Victoria Cathedral on Vancouver Island. The journey from Saskatchewan across the Rocky Mountains and Coastal Range is an experience not to be missed,' he concludes.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Frank Price stayed a second week in America after Washington. Part of the time was spent at Peterborough, New Hampshire, where he has relatives and his photograph appears on the front page of 'The Peterborough Transcript' playing the console of the electric bells. He gave two lectures on bells and ringing at Groton and while there a quarter of Stedman Doubles was rung.

The peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major at Stoney Stanton on May 22nd was the first ever to be rung by a Hinckley District band.

Ringling this year at St. Mary's Basilica, Sydney, includes quarters of Double Norwich Court Bob Major, Stedman Triples and Cambridge Surprise Major.

With the peal of Bristol at Sherborne, which is, incidentally, only the second in the method on the bells, Barrie Hendry completed his 100th peal of Major on tower bells; the peal at Mells was his first peal of Lincolnshire as conductor.

A Dutch organisation, which is interested in forming and training a blind group of handbell ringers, would like to contact a similar group in Great Britain. Write: 'Bartemeus,' Christelijk Instituut voor Blinden en Slechtzienden, Utrechtseweg, 84, Zeist Holland, (Mr. B. C. Mante, Jr., Publicity Department.)

When the Society of Raving Ringers had an outing in North Bucks after leaving the last tower, Hanslope, one of the younger members was bet a pint he couldn't stand on his head. Of course he couldn't, but the rather older and portly gentleman who laid the bet was on his head within seconds to everybody's amusement. Shades of Father William!

The 90th birthday of Mr. J. B. Hallifax, of Fleet, Lincs, who is a founder member of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild, was celebrated by special ringing at Fleet Church on May 25th. Mr. Hallifax himself conducted a touch, in which the combined ages of the band was 421 years. They were Mr. Chapman 1, C. Perkins 2, J. B. Hallifax 3, C. Brundall 4, G. R. Butler 5, H. Waltham 6.

TEN MEN WENT TO SOW

The Washington Story

May 2nd - May 10th, 1964

BY GEORGE W. PIPE

HOW those last few days of April seemed to drag as the exciting prospect of our trip to Washington drew tantalisingly near! And yet, it seemed, all at once we were standing in London Airport on that memorable Saturday morning, May 2nd. Wives, children, parents and friends, cases, cabin bags, tickets and passports, cameras, handbells and magazines—and we in the midst of it all.

It was good to see Mrs. Pitstow, Marjorie Hill, Jill Staniforth, Eileen Chilcott, Sheila and Mrs. Price and their families, looking as thrilled as we were, and then Bill Coles' and Douglas Hughes' firm handshakes and a friendly push towards the terminal gateway to make sure we were 'getting to the plane on time!'

We finally taxied off at 11.30 a.m. to the waves of the girls from the balcony. Up and up into the clouds and beyond in what was to be our flying home for the next eight or nine hours. Peter felt a wee bit nervous but soon cheered up when he broke his no-smoking habit, and it wasn't long before we all relaxed and started to chat and take in our surroundings. In fact, so charming were the hostesses that George Fearn immediately recalled some new methods they might try in Birmingham—38-24-36 perhaps! The flight was great fun, and with the northern and southern accents all around us we soon felt as if we were in the U.S.A.

Cruising at 35,000 feet over the Atlantic, we settled down to a good lunch of 'Beef' man, and in no time seemed to be following the ice-bound coast of Labrador. Frank Price was given the chance of spending two hours 'up-front,' so, armed with our cameras, off we went. Curiously enough, ten minutes later the plane seemed to develop a tail wobble—perhaps a cross wind?

Bell Ties create interest

Customs were cleared at New York—the officials seemed much more interested in our bell ties than baggage, and after a chat to Harold Pitstow were quite happy to let us all through! Washington came into view at 4 p.m.—very soon we had our hosts and hostesses. But if we thought we would lightly skip down the gangway and walk across the tarmac—oh no! A voice cracked over the intercom: 'Passengers will remain seated please while the mobil-lounge approaches the aircraft. This, ladies and gentlemen, is the latest carncarp in passenger transportation.' Fancy! Sure enough, a huge monster approached us that was literally a moving hotel lounge, enabling us to step right off the aircraft, straight into the airport buildings.

Whisked into the ultra-modern Dulles airport we were soon spotted by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Dirksen and Rick, Mr. and Mrs. Tufts and then Mrs. Rockwood Foster. What a wonderful hostess in every way Margot Foster proved to be, and the success of the ensuing week was due in no small measure to her organisation and the delightful glimpses she gave us of life in Washington. And what a team of helpers she had built round her!

After driving out to our various homes for the week, we were then guests of the Dean, the Very Rev. Francis B. Sayre, and Mrs. Sayre at a dinner party, together with our individual hosts. This was a most happy evening spent informally on the Deanery terraces and garden.

The Cathedral

Our first Sunday in Washington was a memorable one indeed. Apart from the warm sunshine filtering through the tree-lined streets and showing off the massed azaleas, dogwoods and cottonwoods—reds, pinks, greens and whites of a hundred shades—we were able to have a good look at the Cathedral as we made our various ways for 11 o'clock Sung Eucharist. And what a truly magnificent sight it is! Out of the trees and gardens, on a natural hill some two or three hundred feet above the Potomac Valley and soaring in white stone to 301 feet stands what must be one of the very finest ecclesiastical achievements of all time.

The 'Gloria in Excelsis' Tower, Washington Cathedral, from the S.W. (The belfry windows and gallery are immediately under the upper louvres.)

The architect, Philip H. Frohman, freely admits that Lincoln, Canterbury, Worcester, Wells and Gloucester gave birth to the vision and inspiration of this place—dedicated to SS. Peter and Paul, and quite literally for the ten of us it took our breath away.

Criticism of a Gothic style church in the 20th century has been silenced by Dean Sayre's crisp answer, 'Our cathedral must stand, not for 30 or 300 years but for 3,000 years, a symbol of Christianity and a tribute to the building perfection of the 14th century.' The ancient glory has been planted fresh and bold in the New World, and we might well say that God is praised in Washington by the fairest tower in Christendom.

Our seats in the south transept, looking towards the already famous Last Judgment rose window, enabled us to take a full part in the service and celebration. The Dean preached from John xvi. 23, and it was soon quite plain why this man, a grandson of Woodrow Wilson, has become known not only as such a notable theologian and orator but a friend of all mankind.

The First Ring

It seemed that a few hundred other people too were eagerly awaiting the opening touch, to take place immediately after the service. And so, accompanied by, it was estimated, nearly two hundred (and the belfry held them quite easily), we made our way by the two elevators up to the ringing room. Lifts do occasionally get stuck you know, but by detailing off the equivalent weight of five Staniforths and two Chilcotts, everybody made it as far as we know! It was hard to keep our enthusiasm and awe within bounds, because not only in 'things Cathedral' no detail appeared to have been overlooked. And the belfry itself was no exception—surely the most remarkable that had ever been seen. It is nearly 50 feet across, the ropes and mats in purple stand in a perfect circle on a raised rostrum, and the general décor is in cream and grey. Beyond the 48 spacious windows the view was really something. With the lift and staircase doors in one corner, this leaves the remaining three for furniture, and the belfry was in the process of being fitted out with wall-to-wall carpets and abundant leather upholstered chairs. With the polished wood tables and bookcase there was an almost living-room atmosphere. My photograph unfortunately doesn't do it justice. We were to live with this for three or four hours a day for the next week, so we got quite used to it, but as one visitor from Connecticut was heard to say, 'Man, that's some belfry—and I don't see no bats eether!'

Applause follows Touch

The first touch was a somewhat nerve-racking experience, but John Chilcott took everything quietly and organised us with a minimum of fuss. The three course of Stedman Caters went like clockwork, and the applause at the end was tremendous; the first time any of us remember being clapped after tower bells!

A good lunch followed, given by Mrs. Norman Erb and Miss Alice Shurcliff, daughter of the famous handbell ringer, Mrs. Shurcliff, of Boston. These ladies had a downstairs room for their handbells, and some rousing numbers were rendered. Norman, himself an accomplished tune ringer in the English style, bit off a little more than he could chew by accepting a handful of bells for 'Crossing the Minch.' However a vigorous prod from one Francesca Curzon soon put him in tune!

Our first teaching period of two hours with tied bells took place in the afternoon, and it was very gratifying to see the response to the appeal for ringers and their enthusiasm. It was mainly handling and bell control, handbell tuition and some elementary theory.

The evening dinner party as guests of Edwin and Todd Dale was a huge success; good food and wine, plenty of laughs, handbell ringing and tunes with some of our new friends, 'plain hunting' by movement (it almost finished up like a barn dance). Then the talented Frank Price at the piano, after two nice pieces nonchalantly playing a course of L. Bob Maximus!

At School Monday morning

Our first school talk and demonstration came on Monday morning first thing at the Potomac School, Norman doing the job admirably. So well, in fact, that he (with Wilf assisting) became our principal lecturer for the week. These talks, generally one, sometimes two a day, followed a similar format, though of course the approach varied with the age groups. These were mostly ten to sixteen-year-olds. It rather amused us that every little demonstration was applauded, especially when their own classmates were called on! Our three schoolmasters were shown round just to keep them in trim and to see if they were getting fair treatment back in England.

We were guests of honour at the National Music Week luncheon at International Inn, which included the appearance of the Metropolitan Opera House star Risë Stevens. A splendid lunch, followed by the usual speeches, and then our first glimpse of Nancy Poore Tufts in action and her Potomac handbell ringers, in traditional costume. Both this and our own change ringing were well received, and people murmured about 'this new art form—gee!'

The second practice session, three hours, enabled us to formulate a plan for teaching for the remainder of the week. We were divided into four groups, headed by the two Yorkshiremen, and covered handling and bell control, rounds and elementary call changes, handbells and theory. These groups were quite flexible and in general worked extremely well. All we needed was time! The progress was most encouraging, bearing in mind that we only had a mere week, so we decided to follow this pattern.

The dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest May in their sumptuous home on 52nd Terrace that evening will long be remembered. Everyone in gay mood, immensely keen it seemed on the Cathedral, its carillon and bells, chatting about times spent in England and Europe. John Freeman, beaming face behind horn-rimmed glasses as a group of attractive ladies plagued him with questions, and then roars of laughter as G.E.F. quite quietly turned to someone and said, 'I reckon they're making a mockery of ringing—bringing us to a slum like this!!'

Tuesday, T.V. and Tufts

On Tuesday we had to be at school at 8.30 a.m. sharp, handbells and all, and there we were able to welcome Doug. Hughes, who had flown in the previous afternoon. Douglas' preliminary arrangements and his very generous attitude towards our trip are much appreciated, and we were glad that his business commitments had allowed him a few days off.

The gym of the National Cathedral Girls' School was packed, and another lecture and handbell demonstration given. So appreciative were the audience, staff and girls alike, that before we left someone anonymously donated a set of twelve handbells for use at the school. Potomac, under their music master John Langstaff, have their own set, two or three octaves in fact, so we can expect some healthy public school bell and belle competition before the Fall!

We were warned of the 'Radio and Telly Hounds' when we arrived, and although the week seemed plagued at times with reporters and cameras, it always had its amusing side. There was the case when we had just lowered the Cathedral bells after practice, a photographer had somehow found the lift in the south transept and made his way to the belfry, insisting on a moving shot. We did our best to explain that we could only stand by the ropes, but, as he held up his box of tricks, 'Say, you guys, let's have a bit of ACTION!'

But appear on T.V. we had to, no escaping it. The sincerity of the announcers churning out the ads. was really touching, but in spite of that Wayne Drksen and Norman, with us backing up with some Bob Royal, made a good feature of it and got the message over to the public.

At Great Falls

Our visit to the Smithsonian Institute would need a supplement in itself, so vast is this galaxy of museums, galleries and exhibitions. Nevertheless, we managed an interesting cross-section and enjoyed a good lunch. Although the programme said 'Free' for a couple of hours afterwards, the chance of a visit out to Great Falls, a series of rapids and waterfalls on the Potomac, was too good to miss, especially in such perfect weather. Seeing Wilfrid, Peter and Harry reclining in the deep luxury of a Buick Electra 225 as we cruised up the Potomac Highway—well these just didn't look like ringers at all!

The three-hour belfry session was beginning to get results, and already some of the better hands were ringing rounds on four, five and six, tied clappers, of course. Margot had persuaded her husband Adam—a good friend to us all that week—to learn, and with him Adam, jun. Although these were fairly long teaching spells, they went very quickly because there were always questions, activity, theory, movement from one group to another at the half-way mark, and if one managed to get a breather, the sights from the belfry windows on all sides were so photogenic there was never a dull moment. Then with our own little kitchen in one corner of the belfry and Margot's tea and cookies, teaching in Washington was never a chore.

Late afternoon Bill Hughes flew into Dulles Airport from London, the twelfth and last of the English party and, as several of us hadn't had the pleasure of meeting him before, it was an especially pleasant occasion.

The evening dinner was something of a classic and had been eagerly awaited by us all! Mr. and Mrs. William O. Tufts had invited us and several other folk besides to their home in a most exquisite setting in Riverside Road, several miles from the city centre, and on the water's edge of the river. Nancy is an astonishingly vigorous lady, and we had a great time. Cocktails on the lawns amongst the azaleas and silver birches, lively conversation, regaling with choice food from a groaning table and fruit punch from the cutest little oriental bowl you ever did see (must have been 2ft. 6in. across).

The tables cleared and out came the handbells—six octaves and more, and we make no hesitation in saying the American tune-ringing on the scale we saw it that evening is a most stirring experience. Handel's Largo from Rinaldo, and then accompanied by the viola l'amour, several glees and folk songs. The more enthusiastic we became so did they, until after a subtle change of mood by Nancy Poore Tufts, her husband Bill, managing quite adroitly until then, was heard to blurt out, 'Say, Nance, I just dunno where I'm s'posed to be!'

Some good songs by baritone Frank Abel ('The Keeper' and Purcell's 'Passing By'), and then our turn to round off the evening, which we did with a Bob course of Stedman Cinques.

The White House

The weather so far had been perfect and was to remain so for the whole week, so that traditional meeting topic was rarely discussed as we teamed up each morning, 'on parade' at 8 a.m. usually! Everyone had looked forward to our hour or so at The White House, and we weren't disappointed. The more we saw of Washington the more we liked it. Despite its highly individualistic layout and character, its trees and parks, government buildings and Embassies, one could see glimpses of London, Canberra, Paris and Edinburgh at their very best.

Our time at the President's House was all too short, but enough to show us some of its treasures and the good taste and personal restoration under the care of Jacqueline Kennedy.

Then a real glimpse of London as we crossed Pennsylvania Ave. into Lafayette Sq. to visit St. John's, a delightful church in the transitional style of Colonial Georgian and Greek Revivalism. This is the 'Church of the Presidents,' since every President from James Madison onwards has attended occasional services here, and many, of whom Roosevelt was one, have been regular worshippers. Its 1822 bell was cast by Paul Revere, from a cannon used in the 1812 war and weighs about 9 cwt., the subject of much pride to Helen Griffith, who gave us such a nice hour or so's guide to St. John's.

Wednesday's lecture and demonstration, although in a perfect setting in one of the State Rooms in the British Embassy worried Norman a little on hearing that his pupils were only six years old instead of the usual 10-16, but the job was done admirably, much to the delight of the children, their governesses and the Embassy staff. And then the look of wonderment later turning to impish mirth when they heard the story of Sir Walter Raleigh and the "Muddy Puddle" in Smeeld English! The dark eyed Caroline Kenney was in the group who looked so angelic, all sitting cross legged on the floor on the deep carpets, and when they heard that Harold came from Westminster he couldn't resist the cries of 'Oon!' and forthwith gave them a little talk on the Abbey. 'Now you have all heard of the Queen, haven't you?' 'Oon, yes,' said one boldly, 'an' she's the same age as my mummy!'

The Cathedral Belfry—in the process of being carpeted!

Into The Capitol

Back into the cars again and this time on Government business, lunch, and a tour of the Capitol. The approach to these buildings is really impressive, everything in shining white marble and stone against a backdrop of trees and gardens. There were people everywhere, and the large car park looked packed like sardines. A burly officer halted our car—there wasn't the slightest chance of getting in; an important debate or something. 'I'm sorry, not to be outdone replied: 'But, officer, these gentlemen are ENGLISH bellringers, here to dedicate Washington Cathedral bells.' 'Ma'am, he replied, 'I appreciate that but those guys in there are makin' the law.' 'Yes, officer, but these men are on the Central Council—imagine that.' 'Ah, well, I guess you'd better nip in that spot there and say nothin'.' 'Thanks,' said our hostess, 'you're a pal!'

A good lunch inside the buildings and then on to their own underground into the Capitol proper. We had glimpses of the Senate and House of Representatives in debate and a most interesting hour's tour. Standing under the great Rotunda and gazing at the 300 ft. Brumidi frieze depicting events in American history and seeing life-sized statues of its Presidents, it seemed hard to grasp that so much has been achieved by this country in the mere 175 years since George Washington's time.

We split up for tea held on the lawns of the houses of Mr. and Mrs. Hadsel and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Wentworth, and then to crown the day a three-hour teaching session from 7.30 to 10.30 p.m. We felt as if we were in the last three hours of the 40,320, but at least we could have a cigarette and a sit down beforehand!

Ascension Day Dedication

Things seemed to come to a climax on Thursday and this glorious occasion will long be remembered by many thousands of people. From sunrise the Cathedral and gardens were massed with people bedecked in an infinite variety of colours, smiling and enthusiastic. All services were to be held on the steps, in the Pilgrim's Way, and in the sunken gardens below the South Transept and something like 400 ft. below the pinnacles of the Gloria in Excelsis tower. The 7 a.m. Festival Service of Holy Communion, with the dew still on the grass and all the freshness of an early summer morning, was something that made our hearts rejoice at belonging to the Christian Church. Rev. Malcolm Melville joined us and quite near to us, we discovered afterwards, and receiving the Sacrament, the Roman Catholic Bishop-elect of the Diocese.

Later on at 10.15 came a Festival Service of Morning Prayer and just before this, on a balcony high outside the Transept, we heard Wayne Dirksen, in charge of the dedication arrangements, introduce Bill and Doug Hughes to the assembled throng and welcome the English ringers.

During the morning the first handbell peal in the U.S.A. was rung at the home of Mrs. John D. Phillipsborn. Helen Phillipsborn was a most charming host and 3516 Lowell Street, N.W., was 'open house' for many of us during the week. Here are the details.

Washington D.C., United States of America. On Thursday, May 7th, 1964, in 2 hours and 11 mins., at the residence of Mrs. Helen Phillipsborn, 3516 Lowell St., N.W.16

A Peal of 5056 Plain Bob Major

Tenor size 15 in C.

Peter J Staniforth 1-2 John Freeman 5-6
Frank C. Price 3-4 Wilfrid F. Moreton 7-8

Composed by Thomas Chapman.

Conducted by Frank C. Price.

First handbell peal in the U.S.A. Rung as a compliment to the hosts and hostesses of the band in Washington.

Some of the party at 'Great Falls'—Mrs. Margot Foster, the principal hostess, is second from the left.

We congratulated our colleagues on this, actually the second peal ever rung in the States, the first being Grandsire Triples on tower bells at Christ Church, Philadelphia, in 1850, conducted by Henry Haley.

Then came the dedication of the Gloria in Excelsis tower and a notable utterance by Mr. Earl Warren, the Chief Justice of the United States.

By 2 p.m. the temperature was touching 90 degrees and yet still the people came, and by Evensong time at 4 p.m. the British Ambassador, Lord Harlech, arrived. We were introduced to him and some of us were able to meet Robert F. Kenney, the Attorney General. And what a delight to meet some old British ringers! Jack Brothwell's brother Jim (86) and George Williams (84), from Barry, South Wales, who used to ring with John W. Jones and still takes 'The Ringing World'.

The actual dedication of the bells took place at 5 p.m. immediately following Evensong, after Rick Dirksen, Douglas Hughes and the Dean had participated in presenting a bell-roped to the Bishop, the Rt. Rev. William F. Creighton, D.D. We were escorted to the tower for a quarter peal of Stedman Caters and although Rick endeavoured to keep sight-seers and photographers to a minimum at least 200 were present in the belfry during the ringing.

It was a mixture of an ordeal and yet extreme delight that it made a lump come into our throats at the sight of the crowd. John Chilcott had a big job to do in conducting but as we had come to expect of him, he did it splendidly. The applause at the end was deafening and the Lincoln John quite thought it meant an initiation into the Top Ten!

Did somebody say 'A glass of Bass?' Well, it was there afterwards, in a private house near the Cathedral. Nothing had been forgotten by Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey M. Wilson who were with it!

The remainder of Thursday gave us time to relax a bit, although we didn't feel like missing the Kibbey Memorial Carillon. This comprises 54 bells, each carrying an inscription from the Psalms, the bass bell weighing 24,000 lbs. in the key of E flat. These were cast by John Taylor and Co. and we felt it was very appropriate that both our founders were thus represented and offering the best of their skills to the New World.

The day was rounded off (officially) by the floodlighting of the Gloria in Excelsis tower and a festival concert including the singing of the 'Gloria' from Bach's B Minor Mass.

A late party at the Deanery and an even later one at 'Helen's place' and that was us for another day.

George Washington's Home

Possibly the nicest trip of the week was out to Mt. Vernon, the plantation home and estate of George Washington, on Friday. We spent the whole morning there including lunch 'in the most pleasant estate in United America, on high ground, in a dry and healthy climate, 300 miles by water from the sea and on one of the finest rivers in the world.' Thus the first President wrote to a friend in England, 150 years ago.

And a lovely spot it is too, carefully planned, lying in the folds of the hills above the Potomac, a part of Fairfax County in the State of Virginia, and originally 8,000 acres in extent. Everything has been preserved where possible, the Colonial-style mansion, its furniture, the lawns, terraces and gardens are there for all to see.

There were two schools on the agenda for the afternoon so we split up. Wilf took some of us to 'Friends' School whilst Norman and Co. visited John Eaton School. Both lectures and handbell demonstrations went off well, with something like 500 pupils present.

Call changes on the ten, some elementary hunting and polishing up handling styles were the main features of the three-hour practice session and this was rounded off by three leads of Treble Ten with Frank ringing 2-3.

At a Cabaret!

Our evening hosts for dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fearey, personal friends of the late John Foster Dulles. Another warm evening, exquisite food and drink, tunes and Grandsire Caters on the patio and nicely informal. But while our ten associates were thus loafing, Frank and I had an appointment—'Mauri's Hideaway.'

Picture the scene. A cabaret-restaurant in the Soho of Washington—a big ham of an interviewer and 'personality' Steve Allison by name, whose speciality was finding people with unusual or controversial interests and then pulling them to pieces to the delight or otherwise of the audience.

We were warned about this fellow but were particularly asked if we would participate both for the fun of it and the publicity value it could give to the bells at the Cathedral. So it fell to the two youngest to go and do battle. As Dean Sayre politely said afterwards: 'What a jerk that man is!' But it all went off well and quite truthfully we enjoyed the experience of playing 'Steve' at his own game.

Saturday the last day in Washington and how that week had gone! The final three-hour practice session from nine until noon achieved something which we'd hoped for but weren't quite sure if we would have the time. Rick Dirksen rang the treble to a 720

Plain Bob Minor and jolly well he did it too. Several of the other boys had their first taste of Bob Minor too and the morning was rounded off by ringing what everyone felt they could manage under guidance. It also enabled John Segar, from Smeard, to join Marie Cross, Mary Muirhead and Malcolm Melville in having a ring as they had done when the chance had arisen during the week. We really worked hard that morning but now rewarding it all was.

On behalf of us all and the Central Council, Norman Chaddock presented copies of the 'Ringers' Handbook' and a bound set of books as given to theological Colleges to form a nucleus of their library. From Rotherham Parish Church a finely bound red leather, embossed, 'Vig-gers' book for quarter peals and visitors' names. He had also sent previously full sets of the now well known 'Weekend Course' literature of film strips, etc. Ricks' 720 enabled him to join the Yorkshire Association and thus a happy liaison has been formed.

One thing was in all our minds and that was if only someone were able to stay on, or move into Washington, for say six or 12 months to consolidate this week's activities. But one never knows—it happened in Canada (Vancouver), South Africa, and Australia. If keenness is any criterion these boys will certainly keep the Art alive in the States.

The Peal

The first peal on the bells and of Royal in America.

Although we probably didn't care to admit it there was a certain 'tenseness' in the air as the time for the peal attempt drew near. And even the most succulent barbecued chickens, served up for lunch on the lawns of one of the British Embassy officials, didn't quite dispel it.

We knew deep down that 3½ hours could bring public criticism. Only once before had a peal been heard on tower bells in the States and that was in 1850 at Philadelphia. It had to be of a high standard and what's more we had only this one chance. But somehow the sight of G.E.F. drinking 'Coke' thinking it was 'Ansell's' and Harold tearing at a leg of chicken made us feel better. Nothing like a good lunch and then off to the Cathedral and jackets off, complete with the Hughes' tape recorder, the Dirksens and the Fosters, the last to wish us good luck, and a mere 92 degrees temperature for good measure, we pulled off.

The music was lovely, everyone doing their very best and then at the turning course that little bit of extra effort to ensure that last 16 handstroke courses would be as good as we could make them. The record is:

Washington D.C., United States of America, On Saturday, May 9th, 1964, in 3 hours and 25 mins., at the National Episcopal Cathedral of SS. Peter and Paul

A Peal of 5067 Stedman Caters

Tenor 32 cwt. 4 lbs. in D.

Peter J. Staniforth Treble Norman Chaddock 6
John Chilcott 2 George W. Pipe 7
Harold N. Pitstow 3 Frank C. Price 8
John Freeman 4 Wilfrid F. Moreton 9
George E. Fearn 5 Harry Parkes Tenor

Composed by David E. Parsons.

Conducted by John Chilcott.

The first peal on the bells and the first ten-bell peal in America. Rung for the dedication of the Gloria in Excelsis tower, the carillon and the bells of the Cathedral.

John did a great job and he and the two Harry's, the youngsters of the party, earned our congratulations. It was estimated that during the ringing of the peal about 10,000 people thronged the Cathedral Close and gardens. Doug's followers on the Transept roof alternately clapped and cried and their enthusiasm was simply staggering.

But that wasn't all—Oh, no! High tea, buffet style, was all arranged in the 'Overcroft'—a large room in the apex of the South Transept. About 300 people were there, in the midst of them tables laden with food, surrounded by two of the biggest tubs of strawberries ever seen! Good to see those smiling faces again and Dean and Mrs. Sayre in the middle of them. Margot vowed it was the greatest and really everyone seemed overjoyed at the success of the peal.

Presentations

Time was running all too short and we had a plane to catch but first a very pleasant duty to perform. John Chilcott presented to Margot Foster (the hostess with the mostest), on behalf of all of us, a suitably inscribed book, and then another to the Dean of the Cathedral, which he said would grace the belfry's new library. To all of us came a presentation book of photographs of the Cathedral, autographed by the Cathedral staff and handed to us, one by one, by Dean Sayre.

So to the handshakes and the 'au revoirs' and on to what was to be a bonus really—an extra day in America to be spent at Groton School. We were to fly out from the National Airport at 8 p.m. for Boston, 500 odd miles away. There were so many 'thank you's' due. To Margot and Adam Foster, Dean and Mrs. Sayre, the Dirksens and the Tufts, all our respective hosts and hostesses who made us so very welcome and made their homes completely open for our week. The fine group of boys, 25 to 30 of them, who had come along to learn the Art and whom we had the pleasure of teaching during our stay. Then the people who gave us luncheon and dinner parties, the school principals, and last but not least that wonderful group of ladies who provided automobiles (with a capital A!) Mesdames Briggs, Larrabee, McLelland, Kling, Cassidy, the inimitable Jackie Pendleton and the lovely Barbara Pittman. Where we wanted to go we just had to 'say the word'.

Washington D.C. looked a picture from the air and we sank back into those aircraft seats very tired, very happy, and with a 101 feelings and thoughts going through our minds.

The Peal at Groton

Boston was reached some bit after 10 p.m.—nobody quite remembers when! Two of the masters of Groton School met us and drove us the 40 miles out to the school. We were mighty tired but not too much to enjoy the beer and cheese supper laid on in the headmaster's study. Dr. and Mrs. Crocker were thrilled that we had arranged to spend a day with them through an invitation by Russell Young.

Some of us managed the 8 a.m. Holy Communion celebrated by Rev. Charles Sheerin and the quarter of a mile walk to the chapel across the lawns in the morning sun was well worth the effort.

Breakfast was taken with the headmaster and his wife and one or two of the senior boys who were ringers. 'How are you finding our American food, Mr. Parkes?' said the Doctor to Harry. 'Oh, it's fine,' said he, 'but darned hard to recognise sometimes!'

Nason Hamblin, their captain, welcomed us to the belfry for service ringing of Stedman and Grand sire Triples and Caters, organised by Frank Price, the boys taking part. There was time for a short bit of tuition and then a good half course of Cambridge Royal to finish.

Full strength at matins and coinciding with Parents' Day too, the chapel was full.

Much to our dismay though, that great personality Russell Young, master and tutor of the ringers was ill in bed. We knew how disappointed he would be not being able to get up and have a ring with us. We could do no more than send our good wishes to him for a speedy recovery and trust that our ringing would meet with his approval.

A Good Peal

At the insistence of the Headmaster, Russell, the ringers and masters, we were to ring a full peal in the afternoon before flying back to London. John therefore asked Frank as a tribute to his work with the Groton boys to call the peal and Cambridge Royal was decided on.

They are a bonny ten, 18 cwt. in F, the middle bells a wee bit indistinct (this is going to be rectified) and 'go' like tops. A good peal was scored much to everyone's satisfaction and completed the trio for the week.

Another quick snack and it was 'Goodbye, Groton.' The plane wouldn't wait they said and Boston was 40 miles away.

Our thanks were expressed to all the staff and boys of this fine school and John made another presentation of a book on English Cathedrals to the school. This had been an all too brief, but very enjoyable stopover and we were glad to hear of plans for another Groton trip to England before long.

'Would you all fasten your safety belts please,' said the hostess, 'and observe the no smoking signal.' Was it really nine days since we had crossed the Atlantic?

London Airport at 7 a.m., our wives and families to greet us and we were home, thus ending the greatest of all ringing adventures.

A BISHOP'S BELL INSPIRED VERSES

By the Rev. A. S. Roberts

IT was a happy thought to publish the carol 'The Cornish Bells' in 'The Ringing World' just prior to the visit of the Central Council to Cornwall, and we should be grateful to Mrs. P. J. Stanforth for bringing it to light. The verses have been rightly attributed to the late Rt. Rev. C. W. Stubbs, fourth Bishop of Truro, by various correspondents. The carol, with others from time to time, was first published in the New York 'Outlook,' and all were set to music by the Bishop's son-in-law, the late Dr. T. Tertius Noble, organist of York Minster. Twelve carols with music appeared in a publication called The Truro Carol Book in 1911.

Until the appointment a few years ago of the present Dean (the Very Rev. H. M. Lloyd) the Bishop of Truro had also filled the office of Dean. It was during Bishop Stubbs' reign that the two western towers and spires were built and the ring of ten bells installed. He carried out the great dedication service on June 21st, 1910. It is evident that bells appealed to him—as the bell carol alone signifies, but there are other verses written by the Bishop which I came across some years ago. These may be of special interest to those who so recently visited Truro, as well as to others.

The first little poem is headed 'Truro Cathedral. From the Terrace at Lis Escop.' This Lis Escop was, until about ten years ago, the Bishop's Palace, but it is now a part of the Cathedral School. It is adjoining Kenwyn Churchyard, from which an almost similar view can be had. Many will remember the lovely view through the archway of trees of the Cathedral with the River Fal beyond from Kenwyn Church. These lines make reference to the late Archbishop Benson, first Bishop of Truro, who laid the foundation stone of the Cathedral in 1880. They run:—

Oh look! the Minster towers are red with gold,
With sunset gold, a shaft sped from afar
Through cleft in purple hills; above, one star,
The first of night, gleams o'er the waters cold,
Where Truro River seeks the sea; enrolled
In darkening mists the great church stands; a bar
Of light engilds its spire's high cross, and far
The evening bell calls to the guarded fold.
And here he stood, the man who dreamt this dream,
And fired the heart of Cornwall with his thought
Three decades since. Today his dream is fact.
Father in God! I, too, redream thy dream,
But God in mercy grant the mercy sought
That all thy dream I yet may see crowned fact.

A note by Bishop Stubbs with the verses says they were 'Written during a period of convalescence in 1910. Dedicated to the people of Cornwall.' It was in 1910 that King

George V was crowned, and for that occasion the new bells were rung, their lovely tones rising to the Terrace at Lis Escop, and the Bishop wrote these lines:—

CORONATION BELLS

Nursery Rhyme

The King and the Queen in a carriage of gold
Ride forth to be crowned in the Abbey so old;
Clash merrily, bells, with your ding-dong!
Archbishops and Bishops all kneel in a row.
The Lords and the Ladies make homage full low:

Hurrah for the King with his Crown on!
The trumpets they sound and the people do shout,
Oh that is the way that the thing comes about:
Clash merrily, bells, with your ding-dong.

While you and I, baby, cry 'God bless the King'!
May God bless the King with his crown on!

There are some other fascinating little verses with an evident pun in the first verse. This time the inspiration is not from the new spires of the Cathedral but 'from the old grey tower' of Kenwyn Church just over the fence which divides it from Lis Escop.

TO I. B. V.

Aged 6 years

Is a bird singing,
Is a bell ringing,
Isobel Bessie?

Bird singeth gaily,
Bell ringeth daily,
Joy to thee Bessie.

Yes, in a leafy bower,

Joy from the far land.

Yes, from the old grey tower,

Joy from the star land.

Bird and bell, Bessie.

Angels guard o'er thee.

Happy and holy,

True, sweet and lowly,

Pray God to make thee,

Isobel Bessie.

It is not only in verse that reference has been made to bells as heard from the Terrace of Lis Escop, for in the Life of Bishop Frere, C. S. Phillips, in a chapter on 'August at Lis Escop,' says: 'As a "holiday home" the house could hardly have been better. Its situation on the hillside lifted it well above the City of Truro, and its garden was a beautiful place, though Frere himself had none of the gardening enthusiasm of his predecessor, Bishop C. W. Stubbs, and of his successor, Bishop Hunkin, who have done so much to make it what it is. From one corner of the terrace there is an exquisite view of the Cathedral, and on Sundays and practice nights the sonorous tones of its magnificent old bells could be heard rising from below.' These bells, not so old at 54 years, were heard at their best during the recent visit of the Council, and are now to be assured an active future for, thanks to the Dean and Chapter, it is expected that they will be rehung in readiness for Christmas.

O Cornish bells, ring far, ring free,
Ring 'Gloria tibi Domine!'

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Master's Encouraging Review

THE experiment suggested at the last A.G.M., of holding the annual meeting away from Brighton, proved very successful when the 79th A.G.M. of the Sussex County Association was held at East Grinstead on May 9th. It was the largest attendance for many years.

Ringling had been arranged by the Northern Division in towers around East Grinstead for those ringers travelling from other Divisions. A wedding, however, necessitated the service being delayed until 5 p.m. This was conducted by the Rev. H. C. F. Copsey (Vicar), who, in his welcome, said he was pleased to see such a wonderful turn-out which included many young ringers. The local band was praised for the efforts so far to raise the necessary money to augment the ring of eight to ten bells.

Approximately 140 sat down to tea in the Church Hall arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Hicks, and the business meeting followed, with the Master (Mr. A. V. Johnson) in the chair. He thanked Mr. Copsey for taking the service and extended a welcome to the Revs. M. R. Newman (Warnham), P. L. Scott (Withyham) and I. Paton-Hunter (Danehill). Also welcomed were two vice-presidents—Messrs. S. E. Armstrong and L. Stilwell, and ringing friends from the East Grinstead and District Guild and the Kent and Surrey Associations.

The meeting stood in silence for those members who had passed away during 1963—Messrs. E. Truster, H. Statham and F. Weller.

After the minutes of the 78th A.G.M. had been signed, the Master's report was presented. This recorded marked progress in all parts of the county. The standard of ringing at meetings had, in his opinion, steadily improved and attendance had been generally good. Ringing for Sunday service had been fairly well maintained and the bells in the county were generally good. Improvements had been carried out at several places, notably the new 'eight' at St. Clement's, Hastings. The resignation of Mr. R. G. Blackman from the office of honorary treasurer for health reasons was regretted. On the proposition of Mr. Swift, seconded by Mr. G. Francis, the report was accepted.

In the treasurer's absence the balance sheet was accepted subject to audit.

The peal secretary (Mr. P. Romney), in his report, recorded 64 peals rung during 1963, one less than the previous year. Nineteen ringers were congratulated on ringing their first peal.

One resident member and three non-resident were elected.

ELECTIONS

The president (the Bishop of Chichester) and the vice-presidents were re-elected en bloc, and also the Master, the general secretary (Mr. R. W. R. Percy), the peal secretary and the honorary auditors (Messrs. A. Bond and W. A. Riddington). The new honorary treasurer, Mr. A. Hunnisett, was unable to attend meetings and it was decided to elect Mr. W. Leslie Neller in his place, the Master undertaking to write to Mr. Hunnisett to explain the position and have the books forwarded to the auditors.

A letter had been received from one of the trustees, Mr. C. B. Tomkins, who wished to resign owing to his retirement from business. Mr. F. I. Hairs was elected in his place. The honorary general secretary was asked to send a suitable letter of thanks for his many years of service to the Association.

SUBSCRIPTION

A proposition had been received from the Northern Division as follows: "That in Rule III, Section 3, the sentence referring to subscriptions be altered to read, "Ringing Members shall subscribe 5s. annually or 2s. 6d. annually if under the age of 18 years."

Mr. Peter Romney put forward the General Committee's recommendation that the present rule remains for a further year so that the Association can review the financial result.

The present proposition would then come up again for discussion at the 1965 A.G.M. This was carried.

The committee had agreed that the affiliation fee would be abolished as soon as circumstances permitted.

The Southern Division submitted the following proposals:

(a) 'That the grant of £5 towards bell restoration be increased to a maximum of £25, any grant must be approved by the General Committee.—It was decided to leave this over to the 1965 A.G.M.

(b) 'That a committee be set up to revise the "Form of Service" used at Association meetings.—It was decided to form a committee comprising one representative from each Division (to be elected at their next quarterly meetings) and two clergy. The committee would appoint its own convener.

(c) 'That the Association extend an invitation to the Central Council of Church Bell Ringers to meet at Brighton in 1966.

It was decided that in view of the C.C. visit to Eastbourne in 1951 the invitation was premature at the moment.

DINNER PLANNED

Mr. Bernard Matthews (Western Division) suggested that the 80th anniversary of the Association in 1965 should be commemorated by holding a dinner. A committee, under Mr. Matthews, formed by the Western Division, would look into the matter with a view to holding the same in Brighton. If it was found that the arrangements could be completed in time, their findings would be sent to each Division before their next quarterly meetings.

Mrs. S. Knight (Burgess Hill) said that the honour of life membership had in the past only been conferred on members when they were too old to enjoy same. She proposed that the Master (Mr. R. V. Johnson) and the honorary general secretary (Mr. R. W. R. Percy) be made life members, in view of the service they had given and were giving to the Association. This was seconded by Mr. Brown and carried.

RUISLIP CAPTAIN RETIRING

Mr. Tom Collins, captain of the ringers at St. Martin's, Ruislip, for the past 10 years, is retiring from that office shortly, but will continue as a member of the band. Now 76 years of age, Mr. Collins can look back on 60 years' service as a ringer at St. Martin's. When Tom joined his uncle, the late Mr. Bill Collins, was captain and another uncle, the late Mr. Harry Collins, was a member of the band.

Apart from ringing, Mr. Collins and his cousin, the late Mr. Billy Bunce (also a ringer), were winders of the church clock. They started this job in 1922, and did it together until 1954, when Mr. Bunce died. Since then Mr. Collins has done the work with the help of Mr. Bill Bunce junior. A retired farmer, Mr. Collins and his wife celebrated their golden wedding last year. They live at 165, Linden Avenue, Ruislip.

Ruislip bell's go back 500 years. The six were recast by Thomas Mears for £146 in 1801, and in 1888 were recast and augmented to eight by John Warner. After the 1914-18 war the bells were rehung, the fourth, fifth and tenor being recast and the others quarter turned by Mears and Stainbank.

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION

Chew Branch Striking Competition

Following the success of the trial competition held by the Branch last year, it was decided to make this an annual event. The rules remained unaltered (a test piece of 120 Doubles or Minor—preceded by not more than two minutes' unmarked rounds). Bands who habitually united for Sunday service ringing could enter a combined team.

Mr. Albert Tyler, of Bristol, acted as judge at Nempnett Thurbwell on May 23rd. Over 50 ringers adjourned to Butcombe Parish Hall for tea at the conclusion of the ringing after which Mr. Tyler gave his comments and placed the teams as follows: 1 Nailsea and Backwell, 47 faults; 2 Winford and Chew Magna, 52 faults; 3 Portbury, 54 faults; 4 Portishead, 56 faults; 5 Yatton, 57 faults; 6 Wraxall, 62 faults; 7 Wrington, 64 faults.

New Rate for Postal Subscribers

In accordance with the announcement made at the Central Council meeting at Truro a new rate will operate for postal subscribers renewing their subscriptions or enrolling as new members as from July 3rd. The increase is equivalent to 2s. per annum, and the new rates will be: 3 months 10s.; 6 months 19s.; 12 months £1 17s. Substantial reductions are allowed for subsequent copies.

STAFFORD ARCHDEACONRY SOCIETY

Thanks to the excellent organisation of the local company, a newly formed and progressive company captained by Mr. Remi Hodister, the society had a most successful meeting at St. Leonard's, Bilston, on June 9th.

The ringing room was full all the time the eight bells were available, and the society's form of Evensong was conducted by the Vicar, prior to the excellent tea provided by the willing lady helpers.

The meal over, the secretary asked that any alterations or other copy for the next annual report should be submitted as soon as possible, and also requested that all members should please co-operate with the treasurer more this year, by getting subscriptions paid up as soon as possible. Mr. J. H. Allen gave notice that he was proposing to alter rule 7, by the deletion of the word 'annual.' The following new members were elected: President, Rev. M. S. Hart (Wednesbury). J. Sheldon (All Saints', West Bromwich). J. Smith (Codsall), Miss D. J. Hargreaves and D. J. Large (Great Barr).

The meeting closed with general thanks to all who had contributed to this enjoyable visit to Bilston. C. M. S.

Ringers' Sunday at Shipbourne

The newly-formed band at Shipbourne, Kent, held a Ringers' Sunday on May 31st. Besides the local ringers, others were present from Tonbridge, Hadlow and Croydon. The congregation at Evensong were rung into church by the ringing of handbells, and at the end of the service the handbells were again rung in place of the organ. A display of books was on show, including material kindly supplied by Mears and Stainbank. The congregation were invited into the belfry afterwards, when the art of change ringing was explained to them.

NORTH WALES ASSOCIATION

Favoured with glorious weather, upwards of 80 members, friends and visiting ringers were present at Barmouth for the annual meeting of the North Wales Association on May 30th.

For most of the member it meant a long but delightful journey through magnificent scenery via Bala and Dolgelly, where several good touches were rung on the recently restored ring of eight.

Then on to Barmouth for lunch and further ringing, followed by a service in church, conducted by the president (Chancellor Dr. Alun Thomas). The address was given by the Rev. Trevor Evans, who welcomed the members and said it was many years since a meeting was last held at Barmouth.

Tea was served in the Church Hall, and followed by the subsequent business meeting, presided over by the president and supported by the Ringing Master and secretary. Towers represented were Mold, Hone, Buckley, Flint, Wrexham, Machynlleth, Rhyl, Llangollen, Dolgelly, Portmadoc, Barmouth and Chester, with visitors from Liverpool, Wolstanton and Dudley.

The president opened the meeting by thanking the Rev. Trevor Evans for a very inspiring address at the service. He based his opening remarks on the word 'Rejoice'. Taking each letter individually he said R stood for ringing being recreative and refreshing, E for the earnestness and ebullience of ringers, J for joy in fellowship, O for order and organisation, and pride in the association, I for intelligence required and sharpness of mind and body, C for character forming, and E for exercise and education.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Chancellor Dr. Alun Thomas; Ringing Master, Mr. F. R. Evans; honorary secretary and treasurer, Mr. W. Cathrall. District secretaries: Wrexham, Dr. E. V. Woodcock; Bangor and Rhyl, Mr. J. S. Allenby; District instructors, Mr. F. R. Evans and Mr. J. S. Allenby; honorary auditor, Mr. W. H. Lewis; Central Council representative, Dr. E. V. Woodcock.

It was decided to hold the next half-yearly meeting at Abergele on September 5th, and the annual meeting in 1965 at Wrexham on the Saturday after Whitsun.

Twenty new members were elected, which included sixteen from Dolgelly.

A vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. A. Bailey to the ladies for providing an excellent tea, and Mr. Harris Barmouth for the arrangements. Mr. D. H. B. Millward thanked the president.

REACTION AFTER WASHINGTON VISIT

Mr. Harold A. Pittow has received the following letter from Mr. Rick Dirksen, who is in charge of the Washington tower.

'The interest in change ringing which has come about since you left is amazing. A number of women are forming change ringing groups (handbell) and the boys and men who ring here at the Cathedral have made remarkable strides forward. My job has suddenly become much more demanding, but likewise much easier. At least they know what I am talking about now.'

HEREFORD DIOCESAN GUILD

A quarterly meeting of Hereford District at Wellington on May 23rd, was attended by ringers from Wellington, Bridstow, Fownhope, Burghill, Bodenham, Holmer, the Cathedral, All Saints' (Hereford) and St. Nicholas' (Hereford).

An hour's ringing at St. Margaret's Church was followed by a service conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. W. Price-Johns. Tea in the Memorial Hall was followed by a short business meeting which was presided over by the Vicar.

Four new members from Peterchurch and one from the Cathedral were enrolled.

Meetings for the next quarter: Eaton Bishop, Lugwardine and Clodock; annual bellringing contest October 10th.

ROBIN AND GILLIAN MARRIED

TWO of the most ardent peal ringers in the Exercise, Mr. Robin G. Leale, of Surbiton, and Dr. Gillian Ann Neal Smith, of Twickenham, were married at St. Matthias' Church, Richmond, on May 30th. It was a happy combination of bells and music. In the morning a peal of Cambridge Surprise Major was rung at the Church of All Hallows, Twickenham which is the bride's and her father's regular tower.

The bride is the senior chorister at St. Matthias' Church, where her father, Dr. D. J. Neal Smith, is organist and the 35-strong choir sang during the signing of the register Sir Hubert Parry's anthem, 'I was glad'.

The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. D. Landreth) and the Rev. G. W.

Groves, godfather of the bride. Dr. Arthur Pritchard was organist. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a long dress of oyster slipper satin with a lace coat and train, and carried a bouquet of cream roses. Her sister, Miss Susan Neal Smith, and the Misses Lesley Wilcock and Caroline Bennett (cousins) were the bridesmaids, and Mr. W. Deason was best man.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 93, Cole Park Road, Twickenham. Among the ringers present were Miss John Rock, Michael Moreton, A. P. Cannon, Wilfred Williams, Fred Scott and Keith Ward.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

When the Northern Branch held an interim meeting at Wiveton on May 23rd, a warm welcome was extended by the Rector, the Rev. A. M. Gamble, who said it was just five years since the meeting scheduled there had had to be cancelled at short notice owing to the dangerous state of the roof. This he was pleased to say had been put in order.

About 50 members and friends sat down to an enjoyable tea, which had been provided by Mr. W. R. West and Mrs. Mabel Francis Gidney. The band were pleased to meet the churchwardens Miss Helen Barclay and Miss J. M. Gosselin.

Great interest has been taken in ringing by boys from the Gresham School, thanks to Mr. P. Cattermole, during his brief stay at the school, and who is now back at university. Handbells were rung both by professionals and the boys, and from rounds to London on the six tower bells.

Bale bells were sampled by a few. Astonishment was on all faces when the ringer of the third left the floor for a matter of six feet when the stay broke. On examination of the bells there was evidence of the amount of work that had been put in by these lads to get the bells ringable. Less towers would be silent if the enthusiasm of these boys was widespread.

The president, Mr. F. N. Golden, proposed the vote of thanks.

THE LADIES' GUILD

It was cloudy, windless and hot when the Ladies' Guild met at Elstree on May 30th. We were quite glad of the light weight of the six, even though ringing did not begin promptly. The Rector, the Rev. L. Wood, conducted the service—his survey of the history of the church was most interesting, for the present building gives little sign of the antiquity of its predecessors.

After an excellent tea Mrs. K. Lock acted as secretary in Miss Spreadbury's absence for the business meeting. The next 'fifth Sat' being at the end of August, most people felt that it would be better to cancel ours, and possibly to combine with a territorial association which would be faced with the same problem of many members on holiday. There was no doubt where we would be welcome for the October meeting: the Vicar, the hall and the bells have been booked already at St. John the Baptist, Croydon, for the 31st. It is delightful to feel that someone is so keen to have us come. A fortnight before is the joint Middlesex, Oxford and Ladies' Guild meeting at Hillingdon.

New members elected were: The Misses B. Goodspeed, C. Folkes, F. Dodds (all of St. Albans) and D. Robotham (Finchley), with one associate non-ringing member, Mrs. Leach (Ruislip). A discussion on optional two guinea life memberships took place; the subject will be raised again. After many thanks to the Rector and Mr. Hyde, the members went to South Mymms for more ringing.

Inconsistencies

Dear Sir.—May I, as a comparative newcomer to ringing, be allowed to make a few comments on the subject of lead ends/lead heads. To me the terms as used in recent correspondence seem to be bristling with inconsistencies.

Mr. McClenahan, Mr. Hodgson and Mr. Baldwin all refer to the treble handstroke lead row as the 'lead end' and the treble backstroke lead row as the 'lead head' (pages 324, 356 and 340 respectively), but it is evident from Mr. C. A. Lewis' letter (page 324) and from common usage as observed in my own short experience, not to mention volumes of past literature, that the backstroke row is generally known as the 'lead end.' The situation becomes even more complex when Mr. A. York-Bramble goes on to elaborate on twin-hunt methods. May I ask what happens when we have a method with two treble bob hunts, such as Surfleet Surprise Caters? Does the lead end then come when the treble dodges with the other hunt bell?

The inconsistency is made worse because several C.C. publications refer to the backstroke row as the 'lead end,' among them 'An Elementary Handbook for Beginners in the Art of Change Ringing' (see the text on Bob Minimus page 5) published as late as 1962. Snowdon can hardly be blamed for this!

However, there does seem to be some well founded justification for sticking to the term 'lead end,' apart from its obvious long standing.

Ringing always commences and finishes with rounds, and changes commence at the command 'Go next (handstroke).' Thus (practically speaking) if the lead commences at handstroke it must end at backstroke. This is also consistent with the bells being pulled off at handstroke and set, at the termination of ringing, after the backstroke pull (referred to as 'set at handstroke,' being thus ready to be pulled off again at handstroke). This impression receives support from the punctuation given to ringing by open lead ringing. One would surely expect the interval to come at the lead end.

The usage 'lead end' is also in line with the terms 'course end' and 'part end' which should also be changed to 'course head' and 'part head' if 'lead head' is to be adopted.

One wonders why the term 'lead end' should be applied to the handstroke row since no practical use seems to be made of this row, and therefore there is no necessity for it to be named any more than other rows in the lead. There seems to be no reason why the backstroke row should not be referred to as both 'the lead end' and 'the lead head' being the row to which one lead progresses and the row from which the succeeding lead starts, and whichever term is used this is the sense in which it is to be understood, and which, I believe, is the way all ringers understand it.

To bring another hunt bell into the argument is surely unnecessary. Such a bell is in the hunt only until such time as a call is made and in this respect does not differ in character from the bell which returns to its own place again at the end of each lead in the thirty-six Doubles methods with a three lead plain course, in Section III of Collection of Doubles Methods. Grandsire, Antelope, etc., could well have been included in Section IIIb being merely special cases of methods with a three lead plain course.

I am bound to agree with Mr. C. A. Lewis, in his request for the dividing line to be drawn below the backstroke row, since whether 'lead end' or 'lead head,' it is the most important row and by this alone deserves to be underlined. I find the 'improved' method harder to read. In fact, referring to the 'Doubles Methods' collection, the setting out of the New Grandsire and New Antelope series is not clear, and cannot be so by the system adopted unless two complete leads are given since the first 'lead' (as given) contains only nine rows when one would expect ten. This would not be so bad if some explanation were given, such as is given in Mr. A. York-Bramble's letter.

Speaking again as one who has taken up bellringing in middle age, these inconsistencies do not make things any easier for the beginner. Could we not have a move toward greater consistency and therefore toward greater simplicity? In doing so, let it be remembered that to change time-honoured terms and methods more often than not leads to greater complication rather than simplicity.—Yours faithfully,

LATE STARTER

P.S.—Mr. McClenahan introduces a further inconsistency in wanting to call rounds the zero-th lead head. Rounds is at the head of the first lead and should therefore be the first lead head.—L. S.

Congratulations, Truro

Dear Sir.—I was one of the members who complained at the Central Council last year and asked for more ringing arrangements for those who stay on with their families for the week.

May I through the columns of 'The Ringing World' congratulate the Truro Diocesan Guild on the ringing arrangements in the Truro district.

Many members and families made this their holiday and ringing was available or easily obtainable up to Friday. Thanks are due to those who made the arrangements and to the clergy who even at short notice made their bells available. Good show.—Yours, etc.,

Eastbourne.

R. W. R. PERCY.

Peal Renamed

Dear Sir.—Following the Central Council meeting's adoption of the Records Committee's report I give notice that the method named Godmanchester will now be known by its original name, i.e., Westray Surprise Major. All those concerned, please note.—Yours faithfully, Cambridge.

G. E. THODAY.

In and Out of Course

Dear Sir.—May I suggest this, as an easier method of determining whether rows are in course or out of course than the one illustrated by John C. Baldwin (page 340).

To ascertain whether any row is positive or negative, we add the number of times a lower number succeeds a higher number in any row.

1 is less than 4.	2.	= 2
3 is less than 6.	4.	= 2
5 is less than 8.	6.	= 2
7 is less than 8.		= 1

Total 7

Seven is an odd number and the row is therefore out of course.

This can be done mentally with little effort. The theory is explained in an article on Determinants (Enc Britt, 1910).—Yours faithfully, Basingstoke.

MICHAEL S. HOLBROOK.

Nomenclature to boost Conductors' Ego

Dear Sir.—After the Central Council meeting at Truro I was discussing with my wife (not a ringer) the motion put by Mr. Bayles concerning nomenclature and classification of methods and she said, 'Why not name them after the "inventors" of the methods?' I pointed out that all the really good basic methods had been 'invented' years ago and that these new ones were mainly variations which it was only a matter of 'peeling' before naming them.

She then made the (I thought) bright suggestion that methods be named after the conductor of the peal concerned, with the addition of a number where necessary (where a conductor 'bags' more than one).

Since the main objections raised at the C.C. meeting were: (a) to nomenclature by numbers and/or symbols only, and (b) to ridiculous names, this idea seems to have certain advantages as follows:

(1) There would be no chance of running out of method names. You would possibly get 'Fred Smith 6 Surprise Major,' 'Fred Smith 14 Surprise Major' and 'Fred Smith 6 Surprise Royal,' but to those persons interested in ringing them they would clearly be different methods.

(2) You'd have a job finding ringers called Ob or Xerxes names, which bring the present system to ridicule. (Noms de plume would not be permitted.) Thus all new method names would be of normal length and easily pronounceable.

(3) It might boost the ego of those conductors who like ringing new methods and they would possibly vie with one another for the highest number after their name.

(4) With or without 'official' sanction there is, as far as I can see, nothing to prevent someone who thinks well of the idea starting to use it as from now.

The only difficulty would be where two conductors called Bill Smith both adopted this scheme, but no doubt a way round this could be found. (Consider the number of years that no one confused John Freeman with John A. Freeman.) Anyway, I am putting the idea forward for consideration—it could possibly be elaborated a little to also indicate the type of method—and should the committees of the Central Council who are concerned with this sort of thing consider it worth adopting, it could possibly be made 'official' next year.—Yours, etc.,

W. H. VIGGERS.

Aldershot.

Winchester's 'New' Bell

Dear Sir.—In the picture on page 339 the wooden objects projecting upwards from the headstock are not, as might at first be thought, some fiendish double stay, but the remains of the wheel. The stay is that curious 'spur' shaped attachment at the other end of the headstock and it was designed to engage with the iron strip projecting upwards from the frame member level with the waist of the bell. I have not seen this type anywhere else: can anyone say whose design it is, and whether there are still samples of it in use?

With regard to the ringers' fund for tuning, etc., I was a little premature in asking for donations to be sent to Denn's Brown.

Our appeal, for which approximately £40 is the target, has been placed in the hands of our secretary/treasurer, Herbert Stocks, whose address is 5, Nelson Road, Winchester.—Yours faithfully,

W. O. HAYTHORNE.

RINGING TOUR IN SIX COUNTIES

A party of eight ringers from East Grinstead and District gathered in Tunbridge Wells on May 15th for their annual Whitsun tour. With Brian Jeffries and John Warner acting as drivers we set forth in glorious weather for Banbury (The Mount Hotel, Oxford Road), which was to be our home for the next three days. Alan, Christine and Keith with his box of handbells, were picked up en route and Banbury not reached until 12.10 a.m. We were very grateful to the hotel proprietor who so thoughtfully provided tea and biscuits at this late hour.

On Saturday we set forth at 9 a.m. for Swafield (Oxon), a 13 cwt. six ringing by Gillett and Johnston in 1933. Here we were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Koome and friends from the Northampton area, together with Colin Cook. After a good lower in peal, we moved on to Brailes (Warwickshire), the second heaviest six in the country, with a tenor weighing 29 cwt. These bells were rung by Taylors in 1958.

Our next tower at Great Tew was in a charming old-world village nestling in the heart of the Oxfordshire countryside. En route to Deddington the minibus ran out of petrol in the middle of nowhere, which caused a certain amount of alarm and despondency but help in the way of a gallon of petrol was obtained from a neighbouring farm and also from a passing motorist. An excellent lunch was obtained at Deddington before ringing on this very pleasant eight. Tracks were then made for Adderbury (Oxon), where an hour was spent. From here to Bloxham to the church of Our Lady of Bloxham. The Vicar here told the author that on occasions he gets a thousand people in his congregation.

Tea was taken at Banbury (with cakes!), before going to St. Mary's Church to ring on the ten. The last call of the day was at the Home Farm Campanile, Balscote. There are 14 bells here, all rung on bicycle wheels and the ringing chamber is in the owner's wash-house.

Leaving Banbury at 9.31 a.m. on Whit Sunday we made record time to Stratford-on-Avon (22 miles in 30 minutes), where we rang for morning service on the lovely ten and also attended service. A picnic lunch prepared by the ladies of the band was had on the banks of the Avon. After lunch handbells were rung and they were a real joy to listen to. On now to Wellesbourne-Hastings (Warwickshire), to the church of St. Peter and then to St. Nicholas (Warwick), where we rang various methods on the lovely eight. The ten at St. Mary's (Warwick), were rung for evening service and the author was privileged to see and hear a four-manual organ built by Hope, Jones and Morgan, of Birkenhead, and reconditioned by Comptons. It is unfortunately in need of repair one again. Tea supper was had in a restaurant at Warwick before returning to Banbury via Avon Dassett and Farnborough.

Banbury was left at 9.5 a.m. Monday en route for Maids Moreton, Bucks (a lovely six hung by Taylors). A very good lower in peal completed the ringing before going to Wicken (Northants). Apart from the six bells Shenley (Bucks) has a magnificent two-manual organ built by A. P. Mander which the author was privileged to play. The Rector kindly invited us to coffee, but unfortunately we were unable to accept due to time. Lunch was taken at Loughton. Now on to Linslade, home of the great train robbers of everlasting fame. A mishap en route due to navigation landed us at Old Linslade instead of Linslade. We discovered when we finally arrived at Linslade, a mile or so further down the road, that the old church we had gone to had only one bell. On again to Leighton Buzzard (Beds), to ring on the beautiful Taylor cast ten. We arrived late at Cheddington (Bucks) and were only able to ring two methods. Here we met up with a party from South Mymms (Herts) who were on a day tour. On again to Tring (Herts), to ring on the eight and to Berkhamsted for tea, which unfortunately delayed our arrival at Bushey Heath (Herts) by one hour. However, the local ringer was got from his house by John and very kindly let us ring for  $\frac{1}{2}$  hour. After this the homeward run. Handbells were rung by Hilary, David, Keith and Colin in the minibus.

THE 'EVEREST' BAND REASSEMBLE

The band who rang 40,320 Plain Bob Major at Loughborough Bell Foundry, July 27th-28th, 1963, taken outside Birmingham Cathedral. Left to right, standing: John C. Eisel (5), John Robinson (6), Brian Harris (7), Robert B. Smith (conductor, tenor), John A. Acres (umpire). Kneeling: Brian J. Woodruffe (treble), John M. Jelley (2), Neil Bennett (3), Frederick Shallcross (4).

Methods rung throughout the tour ranged from Grandsire Doubles, Stedman Doubles to Superlative, Double Norwich Major, Double Norwich Caters, Bristol Major and Kent Royal.

Grateful thanks to all incumbents and the originators of this tour. G. T. F.-H.

DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Chesterfield District's Striking Competition

The Chesterfield District second striking competition, held at Clay Cross on May 9th, was once again a success.

Six teams entered this year but as the ringers from one of these—North Wingfield—had never before attended a meeting in such numbers, the competition was worthwhile from that point of view alone!

After an excellent tea in the nearby school rooms, the judges (Messrs. D. R. Carlisle and D. Friend) gave some very helpful advice and criticism on the standard of ringing. The results were as follows: 1st, Old Whittington (Oxford T.B. 244 pts.); 2nd, Dronfield (Oxford 237); 3rd, Bolsover (Plain Bob, 220); 4th, Staveley (call-changes, 200); 5th, North Wingfield (Plain Bob and Grandsire Doubles, 196) and 6th, Clowne (Plain Hunt, 102).

The tower captain at Clay Cross, Mr. J. Price, presented the District Shield to Mr. S. Lawrence, captain of the winning team, and warmly congratulated them on a fine performance. As this year's contest was a knock-out heat for the Association's final, Old Whittington, Dronfield and possibly Bolsover will go forward to compete for the Horsley Cup.

Next meeting: June 13th, Creswell.

OBITUARY

MR. B. GREATOREX

With regret we record the death of Mr. Benjamin Greatorex, a ringer at Wirksworth for over 60 years. Mr. Greatorex died at his home on May 9th, and is survived by a widow, a married son and small grandson.

He was a staunch supporter of the Old Midland Counties Association and regularly attended its annual meetings at Derby, Nottingham, Leicester and Burton-on-Trent. There is no record of the number of peals rung, but most of these were for the M.C.A. In 1946 the Derby and District Association (now the Derby Diocesan Association) was formed from the old Midland Counties Association and Ben Greatorex was a founder member and supported it until his health prevented him from attending meetings. In 1961 he was elected an honorary life member. His last peal was one of Kent Treble Bob Major rung at Wirksworth on April 6th, 1957, which was also the last peal on the bells. Much to Ben's disgust peal ringing has been banned at Wirksworth—a situation that exists at a number of Derbyshire towers.

Ben Greatorex had not been able to ring for several years, and since then Wirksworth band has gradually deteriorated. It was only a short time ago that the general secretary heard of his death, and consequently the Association was not represented at the funeral. However, permission was obtained for a quarter peal which was rung on June 1st with the bells half-muffled. It was 1,260 Stedman Triples, rung by B. P. Morris 1, J. F. Smallwood (cond.) 2, F. R. Lowe 3, P. Taylor 4, G. Clift 5, H. Taylor 6, R. H. Bullen 7, G. Paulson 8.

Ben Greatorex maintained his interest in ringing right up to the last, and was always delighted to see any of his ringing friends and to talk of the days when he rang peals with M. Swinfield, J. George and J. Paget. He looked forward to 'The Ringing World' every week. Another old friend who was unable to get to Wirksworth for the quarter peal but wished to be associated was Mr. Fred Adams, of Staveley, a vice-president of the Association. B. P. M.

MR. P. H. STAFFORD

Captain at Caerleon, Newport, Monmouthshire, for many years previous to his death, on May 16th, Mr. Percival H. Stafford leaves behind a long record of faithful service. He was 77 years of age and was present in the tower on the Sunday before his death.

He was taught to ring at Caerleon just over 60 years ago and was a regular and punctual ringer.

His name was only seen a few times in the peal columns, these being in the 1920's. He liked Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and also call changes. The bells at Caerleon were rung half-muffled to call changes during the evening after the funeral. D. P.

MR. F. W. ROGERS

With deep regret we record the sudden death of Mr. Frederick W. Rogers, of Cosham, Portsmouth, on June 9th, while on a visit to Mr. A. York-Bramble at Southsea.

Mr. Rogers' services to the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild were outstanding. For 25 years he was general secretary of the Guild, retiring in 1955. At the annual meeting in 1936 at Ryde he was presented with a model bell, suitably inscribed, mounted on a small frame, a pen and pencil set, and also a cheque. He was elected Master of the Guild and this post he held until two years ago, when he retired and was succeeded by Canon K. W. H. Felstead. In his prime he was one of the finest heavy bell ringers in the country.

To his memory the bells of Portsmouth Cathedral were rung half-muffled to Grandsire Caters on Saturday afternoon. The funeral service, followed by cremation, took place on Monday.

MR. LEONARD FIDLER

The death occurred on June 12th, at the age of 77 years, of Mr. Leonard Fidler, of Hitchin, Herts. Although he had been unable to ring for about eight years his interest in the local band continued and, whenever his health permitted, he was present at the annual tower meetings. Some weeks ago Mr. Fidler had a fall and fractured his hip; an unfortunate accident from which he never fully recovered.

Len Fidler was elected a member of the band at Hitchin in 1908 and rang his first peal the following year. In the years between the wars he helped to build a local band which was one of the foremost in Hertfordshire. The records show a steady flow of quarter peals rung for Sunday services, both in the standard methods and several Surprise methods. In most of these Len rang on the 'heavy end' and conducted many of the performances.

His peal total for the Hertford County Association was 27, and his great love of Double Norwich is reflected in the fact that no less than 11 of these were in this method.

In 1947 his services to ringing were honoured in his election as president of the Hertford County Association. The writer's acquaintance with Len Fidler did not begin until the twilight of his career, but even then his regard for Sunday service ringing and his earnest desire for a high standard of striking were still evident. His service to St. Mary's had been long and faithful; as a ringer for 56 years and as captain since 1947. To his family we extend our sympathy in their sad loss.

A. R. A.

HENLOW, BEDS.—On May 1st, 1,260 Plain Bob Minor: P. Thompson 1, S. J. Philbrick 2, F. Mitchell 3, G. Mayes 4, M. Major 5, L. H. Bywaters (cond.) 6. Rung half-muffled for A. S. Hall, churchwarden, interred this day.

KNUTSFORD'S ROYAL MAY DAY

The recent death of Sydney Hough, sen., and the peal rung at Knutsford on May 2nd to celebrate the centenary of the May Day Festival brings back some happy memories.

Nowadays, owing to traffic problems, the celebration is held on the first Saturday in May, formerly it was held on the first of May. My introduction to the May Day ringing was on May 1st, 1920, also it was the first time, but not the last. I sampled the hospitality of the Houghs—theirs was open house and what with young Sid and Norman dashing in and out like scalded cats, selling programmes and coming back for more, at the same time snatching samples of the good fare laid out for the visitors and the many visitors who did pop in. Mrs. Hough had her hands full.

On this day of days the kids of Knutsford had the time of their lives, for the May Queen it was a proud moment and the girl chosen had something to be proud of as with her retinue she was the centre-piece around which everything revolved. The children were dressed to represent every known character in nursery rhymes and other mythical beings, whilst the two men who bore the sedan chair developed a whale of a thirst. Added to these were the gaily decorated tradesmen's vehicles whose proud horses seemed to sense the gaiety of the occasion. The crowning of the May Queen and the dancing around the maypole took place on the Green witnessed by hundreds of visitors even in those days.

A feature of Knutsford for this particular Festival was the sanding of the streets, sand being sprinkled on the ground and formed into innumerable patterns and woe betide anyone who trampled on the designs before the day was out.

The ringing continued throughout the day and the appreciation of the Festival Committee in those days was shown in a practical manner by seeing that the ringers had some cash to obtain the refreshment necessary to drink their health.

After the formal Festival there was all the fun of the fair to enjoy so everyone stayed as long as possible, the journey home was not thought of then. Eventually the time of departure arrived and though tired we set off for home. By the time Moberly was reached I had a puncture but no repair outfit, anyhow more by good luck than management, a penny stump I had on me served as a temporary repair and although I had to use the pump several times, I did manage to get home, very tired but like many other ringers, quite happy at the pleasure I had had ringing—was it worth that weary ride home? Yes, of course it was?

JOHN P. FIDLER

LONDON UNIVERSITY SOCIETY

Whit week-end was spent by eight members and friends of London University Society touring North Hampshire.

The party arrived at Overton on Friday night to join in the local practice and a snatch at Laverstoke. A spice of adventure was provided on Saturday by attempting the almost unringable bells at Hurstbourne Priors (6) and Nether Wallop (5), where a loose frame had cracked the tower. There was also the tall shaky tower at Andover (8). However, some good bells were included.

Compensations were forthcoming on Sunday with early ringing at 7.30 at Overton, New and Old Alresford and, in the afternoon, the splendid 12 at Winchester Cathedral. In the evening we joined the boys of Winchester College at the college chapel.

To mark the 50th anniversary of the ordination as priest of the Rev. Powell Miller, former Rector of St. Olave's, a quarter of Cambridge Major was rung at Highclere. Among other towers visited were Kingsclere (8), All Saints', Basingstoke (9), where Bob Caters was rung, and the musical eight at St. Michael's, Basingstoke—for Erin and Double Norwich. Thanks are accorded Diana Frost for organising a very successful tour and to incumbents and local ringers.

CORSTON, SOMERSET

The excellence of the bells made up for the deficiencies of the weather when All Saints' Corston, ringers and friends visited the New Forest area for their annual outing.

The fine-toned eight at Romsey Abbey were much enjoyed. Despite the heavy Bournemouth traffic, Lyndhurst was reached on time. The tower appeared to be somewhat mobile, but a good course of Cambridge was brought round.

After a picnic lunch, good use was made of the light six at Brockenhurst, where ringing included a ladies' touch of Stedman. Tea was taken at Lymington, after which an hour was spent in the tower, where perhaps the most enjoyable ringing of the day took place. The last tower was Cranborne, Dorset, the route thereto passing mile after mile of rhododendrons in full flower. These bells were also put to good use.

Thanks are extended to all incumbents and to those who met us.

TOTTENHOE, BEDS

The Vale of Evesham, the Cotswolds and the Malvern Hills were included in the itinerary of Totternhoe ringers during their outing on May 30th. Coffee at Evesham preceded ringing on the sixes at Cropthorne and Elmley Castle. Thirst was quenched after this by 'village-brewed' cider.

Lunch was taken at Worcester and the afternoon's ringing was at Malvern Link and Pershore Abbey. The climb to the 'bird cage' at the Abbey was negotiated and some successful Major rung on the majestic eight. Tea followed and Eckington and Ebrington visited to conclude the day's ringing. Thunderstorms accompanied us to Banbury, but did not dampen our spirits for the stop at Brackley.

Mr. R. J. Smith is thanked for organising another successful day, and also incumbents and ringers who met us.

OUTINGS*RAVING RINGERS IN NORTH BUCKS

An extensive repertoire of methods was indulged in by the Society of Raving Ringers during their day's outing in North Bucks. There was Cambridge and Kent at Mursley (6) and Bristol, Yorkshire and Stedman at Bletchley where Mr. Marks welcomed the party. Milton Keynes bells were hard going, but after dinner the six at North Crawley were a compensation.

At Chicheley Norwich Surprise was rung on a hard-going six and Bristol and Stedman at Newport Pagnell. Following the tea break came Clifton Reynes but two cars nearly didn't make it—one ran out of petrol and the other went to the wrong tower. Lathbury (5) sallies were found to be a yard too low. The day finished with Double Norwich at Hanslope.

ST. ALDATE'S, OXFORD

Several learners not used to ringing on strange bells and friends from other towers were included in the outing of St. Aldate's, Oxford, on May 30th, which was the first attempted for several years.

The 17 cwt six at West Hanney were found to be easy to handle but rather loud inside the tower. Next came the light six at Brightwalton followed by a picnic tea, with tea brewed without a teapot—a brown, warm and almost tasteless liquid. After a lesson by the branch secretary on 'how to replace the rear window of a mini-bus after some idiot had pushed it out' the journey was resumed to Bedwyn Magna. Despite some finding this 28 cwt. six rather a handful, several methods were managed with some of the local ringers. Ringing concluded at Mildenhall.

Thanks go to Edward Venn, the organiser, and Bob Benstead, the capable driver.

P. J. H.

ST. MARY'S ROUGHAM, SUFFOLK

A start at 6 a.m. was made by St. Mary's Rougham, ringers and friends (numbering 42) for their outing to Coventry on May 23rd. En route ringing took place at Elston (John Bunyan's birthplace) and Dunchurch (tenor 19 cwt.) where Plain Bob Minor, Oxford T.B., Kent T.B. and Ipswich Surprise were rung.

After lunch at Coventry the film 'On the fall and rise of the new Cathedral' was seen at the Cathedral. Ringers of the party then visited the light eight at Allesley and joined the rest who had been sightseeing in Coventry before continuing the journey to Warwick for a welcome tea. At the well-known tower of St. Nicholas', Warwick, the best touch of the day was rung—Kent T.B. Major. A call at Whitnash on the homeward journey produced some good touches of Plain Bob. St. Clement's, Cambridge and Oxford Bob.

A very tired party reached Rougham at 12.15 p.m. to be met by the Rector, the Rev. G. E. Jarrold. His wife, who with some of the choir accompanied the party, proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. L. Wright (the organiser). The ringers are very grateful to Mr. F. W. Perrens, who arranged the towers, film show and meals and even pilots for the coach!

50 YEARS AGO

'R.W.' May 1st, 1914.—

BY GEORGE!—The patron saint of England, whose festival falls on April 23rd, has many namesakes among the ringing fraternity, and on more than one occasion Georges have celebrated the day by ringing a peal. On Thursday of last week eight of them again marked the festival by scoring a 5,088 Kent Treble Bob. Not only was the peal rung, composed and conducted by Georges, but to make the record complete it was rung at the Church of St. George, Camberwell.

FRANK I. HAIRS,

W. G. WILSON.

EDITOR: T. W. WHITE.

On Monday the Editor received a phone call from Mr. J. L. Garner-Hayward, hon. secretary of the Coventry Diocesan Guild, who we regret to state, is in King's College Hospital, London. Last Thursday he underwent an operation, which is regarded as successful. Those who attended Coventry Cathedral Rally last year will recall that he was forced to hobble around with the aid of a stick. At that time he must have been in considerable pain although he tried to hide it as much as possible.

Miss Christine A. Major, former Rainham ringer, won prizes for anatomy and physiology at the Elizabeth Garrett Hospital, St. Pancras, London, where she is training for a nurse. Congratulations, Christine!

The following tribute has been paid by a lady to the Washington ten: 'Everyone missed all the ringers. I don't know when in all my life I have met such a fine and splendid group of men.' 'Perhaps the selection wasn't so bad after all,' writes our correspondent.

Mr. William S. Deason should be associated with the peal rung at All Hallows', Twickenham, in honour of the marriage of Mr. Robin G. Leale and Miss Gillian A. Neal Smith. Mr. Deason stood down, the band having met one short for Royal.

The golden wedding of a former Rainham ringer, Mr. Robert Belsey, was honoured by a quarter peal on the bells on June 2nd. He and his wife now live at Ditton, Maidstone, and before that at Headcorn. Unfortunately, owing to losing a leg, Mr. Belsey cannot now ring, but he sat in a car and listened to the bells he and his family rung for many years in the past.

When the late Arthur Craven produced the figures for a new Surprise method over 40 years ago he gave them to the band at Pudsey and suggested they might call it Pudsey Surprise. Two of the ringers in the peal of Pudsey at Pudsey on June 6th were members of the band when the method was first rung there—William Barton and John Ambler. It was not thought in those days that it would become a standard method.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The Editor thanks the many correspondents for their advice in the way peals should be presented. Most of the defects mentioned were patent to him in the first issue. He is flattered to think that the alteration he is making this week coincides with the improvements many of our readers have suggested.

Mr. B. S. Neale, of the South Wales Nomads, writes to tell his friends that there is a final e to his name.

More girls than boys rang their first peal in Sussex during 1963. Is this a general pointer?

The name of Mr. F. W. Perrens should be included in the list of life members attending the Central Council meeting at Truro. See page 354.

The number of changes in the peal of Yorkshire Major at St. Denys, Cornwall (see page 381), was 5,024 and not 5,056 as printed.

Our correspondent asks us to correct the footnote of the peal of Belgrave Surprise rung at Caythorpe on May 2nd (page 384). It should read: First peal in the method by all the band except the ringer of sixth.

Mr. B. L. Burrows informs us of his slip-up in sending in a report of a peal at Croft (page 364). The date was May 1st and not April 3rd, and the time 2 hours 28 minutes and not 2 hours 38 minutes.

The peal at Silsoe, Beds, on May 18th should receive an honourable mention. It was one of Minor, seven methods, and was the first peal for the conductor (Mr. R. Law) and three others, and first in seven methods for the remainder of the band.

Mr. E. R. Warner, of Woking, received the congratulations of his fellow ringers at Holy Trinity, Guildford, on the 40th anniversary of his wedding on June 7th, and Mrs. Warner came into the belfry after the quarter peal in honour of the day to thank the ringers for their congratulations. Mr. Warner has been ringing for 48 years and he has subscribed to 'The Ringing World' constantly throughout this period. He showed his appreciation of the journal by sending a cheque.

SWANSEA & BRECON DIOCESAN GUILD

Ringing Competition

Neath ringers were the lucky ones to win the Guild's shield in this year's ringing competition, held at St. Thomas' Church, Neath, on May 23rd.

The seven bands entered were: Cadoxton, Neath, Glasbury, St. Mary's (Brecon), Newton Nottage, Sketty No. 1 and No. 2. The competitive spirit throughout was very keen, and the striking and rising and falling had much improved from previous years. The adjudicator, Mr. Gwyn Thomas, in his summing up, stated that he had thought it necessary to add credit points. The results were (out of a possible 240 points): 1 Neath, 220 points; 2 Cadoxton, 216 points; 3 Glasbury, 203 points.

The Rector gave a warm welcome, and added that one thing the competition had done was to create greater interest among his young church bellringers, and induce them to ring regularly for Sunday services. He was more than pleased that they had won the shield.

The Master, Mr. Malcolm Johns, thanked the Rector and those responsible for the excellent tea. J. A. H.

A YORKSHIRE OUTING

Accompanied by wives and friends, ringers from Horbury, Ossett and Rothwell, had their second annual outing on May 23rd in delightful countryside and perfect weather, matched by Irvin's arrangements, but not, unfortunately, by the ringing.

Perhaps our best touches came after tea, on the majestic eight at Bridlington, where at least we rang some passable Stedman, although it must be admitted that we had not a band to do full justice to so glorious a ring.

The day had begun inauspiciously, with some unsteady ringing at Goole. There, as elsewhere, our learners, unaccustomed to the long draught in the belfry, had difficulty in handling; yet the more proficient had their troubles, too, for both Kent and Stedman refused to go.

Fortified by a first-rate lunch in Hull, we moved on to the fine octave at Hedon—beautiful bells, which will run, so that we suffered by ringing them too slowly. Stedman failed again, and our best here was a course of Double Norwich.

Our third calling-place was Patrington, where the soaring spire, rightly renowned, was the subject of our wonder; while the intriguing mode of access to the belfry excited not a little speculation in the way of ingenious suggestions as to the best manner of negotiating the catwalk and gave rise to dark rumours concerning the dwarfs of Holderness. The ringing here was undistinguished, save that Stedman eventually came round.

Grateful thanks are offered to all who met us and to the respective incumbents. R. B.

THE PROFESSOR EXPLAINS

HAVING discovered on examining the Professor's list of so-called 'Common Fallacies' that there was one with which I violently disagreed, I repaired myself thither in order to do battle.

I handed him the list with the offending passage 'A musical ear is not necessary in order to become a first-class striker' heavily underlined in red ink. In order to support my argument I had copied on a piece of paper the definition of 'Rhythm' from the Oxford Concise Dictionary, thus: '(Mus.) systematic grouping of notes according to duration; structure resulting from this;'. This document I stuck under his nose.

'Surely,' I began with my immaculate logic, 'seeing that good striking depends upon the accurate placing of one's bell in a rhythmic pattern, any person possessing a sense of rhythm has no need for what is usually termed a "musical ear"?''

He read through the definition carefully.

'The most significant feature of this,' he observed, 'is the abbreviated heading in parenthesis, because, in spite of much evidence to the contrary, bellringing is still a musical activity.'

'Maybe, but though I grant that a musical sense is perhaps a useful ingredient, I contend that it is by no means indispensable to good striking.'

'The first thing a learner has to master,' answered the Professor, 'once he has overcome the initial difficulties of bell-handling, is to recognise the sound of his own bell as it emerges from the welter of sounds above his head. If he is on the treble or the tenor he has maximum opportunity to recognise the "pitch" of it, especially in rounds, but once changes begin he is beset with problems. He has, in addition to his method-ringing and bell-handling difficulties, to accustom himself to the time lag between pulling and striking, and if he is tone deaf—and it is surprising how many people suffer from this defect in varying degrees—this time lag is the only means of fixing the position of his own bell into the rhythmic pattern, seeing that he cannot recognise the sound of it.'

'Such people, of course, cannot really make first-rate leaders. Being aware that the pattern (i.e., the rhythm) is uneven but being unable to recognise by sound the principal offenders, they cannot instigate the necessary corrections and are driven to the time-worn phrase "Listen to 'em".'

I felt the ground slipping from beneath my feet.

'There must be many first-class strikers who are tone deaf,' I persisted.

'Are there? Offhand I cannot recall any. I should be most interested to discover how many there are and would be delighted to be proved wrong. All the best strikers I know are at least musical enough to be able to sing in tune and quite a few have distinct musical ability—like yourself! although it doesn't necessarily follow that distinct musical ability automatically produces a first-rate striker.'

And having neatly removed with one hand what he had given with the other, he went on: 'You see, the difficulty with "unmusical" ringers is that in order to attain a standard of striking as high as their fellows they have to be well above average intelligence (for unmusicality is not a defect of intellect) in order to overcome their great handicap.'

'You make it sound,' I complained, 'as though it is not worth while an unmusical person taking up bellringing!'

'I'm sorry if I have given that impression,' he said, 'especially when I think of Henry.'

'And who is or was Henry?'

'He was a friend of mine who took part in many of the peals I stood in some years ago. He was highly intelligent but tone deaf. It was painful being next to him in church when he was joining in the hymns, but in the tower he was a very keen ringer and learnt to strike reasonably well. He needed gentle reminders at intervals, such as "Keep a little wider off the tenor at hand," or "Keep a little closer to the third at backstroke," whereupon he would give a little nod and make the necessary adjustment. I think he struck by visual memory alone plus, perhaps, the natural instinctive rhythmic muscular sense that most ringers possess.'

The time to depart came all too quickly, but as I was about to depart I asked the Professor his opinion of the team that went to America.

'I have no quarrel with it. Selection was difficult but I think an excellent choice was made.'

'Mind you,' he remarked with a mischievous twinkle in his eye, 'I think there was a very serious deficiency.'

'Oh, and what is that?'

'Well, don't you think that in order to illustrate the full variety and vigour of British bellringing a team of Minor ringers, ringing irregular methods, close-leads on Yorkshire ends should have been sent?'

I was relieved; I thought he was going to say that a lady should have been included.

Perhaps, however, he was right. What do you think?

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

Presentation to Retiring Secretary

THE annual meeting of the Essex Association was held on Whit Monday at Chelmsford. The service, before the business meeting, was conducted by the Provost (the Very Rev. G. E. Gordon), with an address given by the Assistant Bishop of the Diocese (the Rt. Rev. T. G. Stuart-Smith). He took for his text the words, 'Guard Thy Steps,' reminding those present that the familiarity of entering the church often tends to take away the reverence which should be felt in the House of God.

The annual meeting immediately followed the service and was held in the Chapter House, with the Master (Mr. R. C. Heazel) in the chair. During the meeting the Master presented Mr. F. V. Gant, retiring after 11 years as secretary, with a silver salver and a cheque for his services to the Association. The business of the meeting was a little out of the usual run. The important item was a change in the rules which created a separate post of treasurer to the Association to take effect immediately.

Two proposals of a controversial nature came up. The Northern District proposed that the name of the Association should be changed to the Chelmsford Diocesan Guild. The object of this was to prevent the loss of affiliated towers due to the change in county boundaries. Mr. R. Tomlin proposed that the Master and District Master should not hold office for more than five consecutive years. He stressed that this was not meant as a criticism of the present officers, but an effort to keep the Association from stagnating.

Both the propositions were defeated by a large majority.

One change and one addition was made to the officers—Mr. P. W. Saltmarsh becoming general secretary and Mr. P. J. Eves elected to the new post of general treasurer.

The business closed at 1.25 and the members went to lunch, once again provided by the members and friends of the S.E. district.

In the afternoon and evening the usual towers were open. P. W. S.

OBITUARY

MR. W. H. HAYWARD

The death took place at Cirencester Memorial Hospital on June 3rd of Mr. Wilfred H. Hayward, aged 68. He started ringing at Witcombe at the age of ten. He was badly injured in the Battle of the Somme in World War I where he lost part of his left leg.

He came to Cirencester soon after the war and rang with us for about 48 years, during which time he held for many years the offices of vice-captain and steeple keeper. He rang 39 peals on from five to 12 bells and was a good heavy bell ringer.

The funeral service was held at Cirencester Parish Church and was followed by cremation at Cheltenham. The Rev. I. H. Hearn, a very old friend, officiated at the service which was attended by the ringers, who sent a wreath in the shape of a bell. The ashes were afterwards interred at Witcombe.

In the evening a half-muffled quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was rung: R. Wakefield 1, the Rev. I. H. Hearn 2, H. L. Cooke 3, E. H. Jefferies 4, F. J. Lewis, jun., (cond.) 5, P. Law 6, W. A. Godwin 7, P. Morgan 8. Miss Heather Leeds also rang in a touch to add her respect.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to Mrs. Hayward and the other members of the family and we shall all miss him very much.

UP AND COMING YOUNGSTERS—No. 16

MICHAEL R. BLORE.

The Derby Diocesan Association.

Michael R. Blore has, during his teenage years, built up a first class ringing record which does great credit to those who have taught and helped him, especially Mr. G. Halls, a well known Derby ringer, with whom he has rung most of his peals and whose help he greatly appreciates.

Michael was born on April 13th, 1943, at Melbourne, Derbyshire, and three years later, after his father had met with a fatal accident, the family moved to Derby.

After his school days at the Sturgess School, Derby, he went to the Derby and District College of Technology, where he took a five year course of mechanical engineering (City and Guilds). He is now a trade apprentice at the Rolls Royce Aero Engine Factory at Derby.

At the age of 14 Michael started to learn to ring at the Cathedral Church of All Saints, his tutor being the Ringing Master, Mr. H. Taylor. A very high standard of ringing is enjoyed at the Cathedral and the ten bells are rung morning and evening, almost every Sunday. He made rapid progress, scoring his first peal a year later. This was on January 3rd, 1958, at Brailsford, when he rang the treble to a peal of Plain Bob Doubles, conducted by Mr. D. Walklate.

Determined to further his skill in the art, Michael began to study the field of conducting and his first success came fifteen months after he rang his first peal. It was on April 8th, 1959, at St. Werburgh's, Spondon, where he conducted a peal of Minor in four methods (Cambridge, Kent, Oxford and Plain Bob).

Since that time he has built up a fine and first class record, with a total of 71 peals, including Yorkshire and Cambridge Royal, Derby, Glasgow and Bristol Surprise Major. Of this noteworthy record Michael has conducted 11, including two each of Bristol and Yorkshire Surprise and Grandsire Triples.

Like many youngsters he is keen on ringing heavy bells and success in this direction came when at the age of 17 he rang Grantham tenor (32 cwt.) to a peal of Yorkshire Royal, and in the same year he rang Oakham tenor (24 cwt.) to a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major, which he conducted. His proudest moment was when he finished ringing Nottingham St. Mary's tenor (36 cwt.) to a peal of Cambridge Surprise Royal in 1962.

New Rate for Postal Subscribers

In accordance with the announcement made at the Central Council meeting at Truro a new rate will operate for postal subscribers renewing their subscriptions or enrolling as new members as from July 3rd. The increase is equivalent to 2s. per annum, and the new rates will be: 3 months 10s.; 6 months 19s.; 12 months £1 17s. Substantial reductions are allowed for subsequent copies.

In the eyes of Michael Blore the late Ernest Morris, with whom he had the pleasure of ringing, ranks high among great ringers, and he considers that to be congratulated on one's ringing by such as E. M. is praise indeed.

Michael's experiences as a ringer have not been without amusing incidents, one of which happened at Oakham when a member, renowned in the Derby Association for his home-made potent wine, invited the band to his home after a peal. Michael, who took no heed to friendly warnings, was completely knocked out and knew nothing more until he woke up the next morning to find himself at the home of another ringing friend.

Michael, who has held the office of secretary and chairman for the Derby District of the Derby Diocesan Association, has other interests besides ringing. One in particular is playing the guitar in a rhythm group which has been for an audition at the TV studios in Birmingham, and he has played at a number of ballrooms in the Midlands. It is hoped that this musical activity will not spoil for him the chance of extending a first class ringing record. Good luck, Michael, and may the great and wonderful art of change ringing keep you alive in the Exercise.

NORVING.

A PRAYER BEFORE A PEAL

Prior to the peal on the bells of Washington Cathedral, the Dean (the Very Rev. F. B. Sayre) said the following prayer:

O God our heavenly Father who art the author of our labour and our life, we thank Thee that Thou hast given us the freedom to praise Thee and serve Thee here on earth and to know one another in the grace of that service.

Bless us this day our heavenly Father that as we praise Thee with these bells Thy light and the wonder of Thy glory may peal forth from this tower to reach the hearts of all who hear them.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

Shelford, with 36½ faults, were the worthy winners in the Bingham District round of the Crawford Cup contest held on May 23rd at Granby. They were followed by Whaddon (85½ faults), Radcliffe-on-Trent (115), Holme Pierrepont did not finish the test piece.

It was a very enjoyable meeting, with 40 ringers present, and ringing at Granby and Barkston in the evening. Mr. Harrison thanked the judges (Messrs. A. Mould and D. Marshall), and Mr. Exton, the Vicar.

Next meeting: Colgrave, July 4th (joint with Nottingham District).

COLLEGE YOUTHS IN SOUTH WALES

'It rains in Wales
In buckets and pails,
And when it stops raining it hails.'

THIS version of a well-known Welsh song probably does less than justice to the climate of the Principality, but certainly it seemed to your correspondent, when he attended the meeting of the Ancient Society of College Youths at Cardiff on June 6th, that there was some justification in the above lines. It was, to say the least of it, wet, when the party from London arrived at Newport, Mon., and so we were very glad and grateful that we were met at the station by Don Cliff and Jack Pryor, who took us by car to St. Woolos' Cathedral.

Here we found a fine ring of 12 bells, with a tenor of 21 cwt. We had been told beforehand that these bells form one of the best 12's there are for their weight, and they certainly came up to their reputation. The first touch, Stedman Cinques, was rung by ten London members, with Tudor Edwards and David Llewelyn ably providing 'local colour.'

It wasn't raining quite so hard when we left Newport and made our way to Cardiff, some by coach and others by car. We had an informal lunch at the Tennis Court Hotel, where there were about 40 present, including members from London, Gloucester, Bristol, Liverpool and Chesterfield. This last was represented by Mr. Sam Scattergood, who, we are told, left there at the unheard-of hour of 5.30 a.m. in order to get to Cardiff on time! The London party's efforts at getting to Paddington by 8 a.m. quite pale into insignificance beside this. Among the local ringers present were the Master of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association, Mr. J. James, and the treasurer, Rev. I. J. Richards of Llanarth.

At the end of the lunch, Mr. James, in a brief speech, welcomed the College Youths on behalf of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association. He apologised for the weather, but hoped that we were having a good time in spite of it. In his reply, the Master of the Ancient Society of College Youths, Mr. John Phillips, said that we had had a very good time up till now, and hoped that we would have an even better time in the afternoon.

The party then moved across the road to St. John's Church. Here we were met by Mr. F. Hannington and Mr. T. Yeomans, and the ten bells, a mixed ring in the old style, were rung to Stedman and Grandsire Caters and Cambridge Royal.

Later we went by coach to Llandaff Cathedral. This beautiful church in a picturesque setting was badly damaged by enemy action in the war, but has now been completely restored. The dominant feature of the interior is the sculpture, 'Christ in Majesty,' by Epstein. The bells, originally cast in 1879, have also been restored, and are now a very fine ring of ten. The opening touch (Stedman Caters) was among the best ringing of the day. We were met here by Nicholas Simon, who is the Bishop of Llandaff's son.

EIGHT NEW MEMBERS

The rain had more or less stopped when we left, and went back to the Tennis Court Hotel for the business meeting. There were about 40 present at this meeting. Eight new members were made, including Messrs. N. Simon and R. G. Havard of Llandaff, Mr. T. Yeomans, the Ringing Master of St. John's, Cardiff, and Mr. R. Addis, also of Cardiff, and Mr. J. Owen, of Pentre. The Master, Mr. Phillips, made mention of the recent deaths of Mr. Seymour R. Barker, who had been a lifelong member of the St. John's, Cardiff, band, and had rung 85 peals on the tenor there, and of Mr. R. E. Coles, a past Master of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association, who had done as much as anyone for ringing in that area.

In thanking the Llandaff and Monmouth Association, the Master especially mentioned Mr. M. J. Pryor for making such excellent arrangements, and the clergy of the three towers used.

'To me,' he said, 'this day is one of the highlights in my ringing career. When I left Cardiff many years ago for England it was beyond my wildest dreams that I would return one day as Master of the College Youths. I should also like to thank the band who rang a peal at Caerphilly in honour of my mastership. Usually it's a case of "out of sight, out of mind," but on this occasion I was out of sight but not out of mind.'

Replying, Mr. Pryor said: 'On behalf of the Llandaff and Monmouth Association may I say how pleased we are to have you all with us today. It is particularly appropriate that the Society of College Youths should come here when you, Mr. Phillips, are Master. On looking through our peal records, I find a peal rung at Marshfield, on May 7th, 1927, of Grandsire Triples, in which Jack Phillips rang the treble to his first peal. He was Master of our Association in 1931, and during the time he was living here, between 1927 to 1939, he rang 111 peals with the Association.'

'In our Association we have a number of up and coming ringers, and it is possible that one of them may occupy the chair one day. We are quite an exporting association—our members are to be found in Liverpool, London and many other places.'

The business meeting was followed by a 'social hour,' but all too soon it was time to leave our old and new friends, and to make our various ways home. The College Youths have a long history of outings to various places, dating back to the earliest years of the society, but this was surely as good an outing as has ever been held, and I am sure we all say most sincerely, 'Thank you, Cardiff, for a most enjoyable day.'

LONG LENGTH ATTEMPT

Dear Sir,—I wish to give notice of an attempt to ring 23,072 Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Llanfeigan, Breconshire, on Saturday, July 11th, 1964, commencing at 7.30 a.m. The composition, by C. Kenneth Lewis, is as follows:

23,072 D.N.C.B. MAJOR
23456	1	3	4	6
34625	S	3	S	—
46325		3	—	—
56423		—	—	—
36524	3	—	—	—
63425	3	3	—	—
24365	S	3	—	—*

Repeat ten times, calling single at * instead of a bob in the 1st and 7th parts. The final part to be called:

42365	1	3	4	6
23546	S	3	S	—
52346		3	2	—
23456	S	—	—	—

—Yours faithfully,

BRIAN J. WOODRUFFE.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Ashford District

About thirty people were present for the service and tea at the meeting of the Ashford District at Stone-in-Oxney on May 30th.

The service was conducted by the Rector, Lt.-Col. the Rev. P. J. Bouverie-Brine, who welcomed the visitors, and the address was given by the Rev. T. A. Rockley, Tait Missioner to the Diocese. Mrs. Butchers was at the organ, with the choir in attendance.

Afterwards tea was enjoyed at 'The Crown,' and was arranged by Mr. A. Daw, captain of the local ringers. At the short business meeting Mr. Alan Berry, the Ringing Master, voiced the thanks of the visitors to those who had accorded such a splendid welcome for such a tiny village.

The present church, with its marvellous view across Romney Marsh, has stood on its island for 500 years. But the site has probably been sacred since the second century, as a Roman altar to Mithras, god of the legions, was unearthed from the chancel floor. This huge carved stone now stands on the floor of the tower, and is certain to outlast the old frame of the bells some 100 feet above it.

C. T. H.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

North Dorset Branch

At a quarterly meeting at Bourton on June 13th, some 30 ringers were present, including visitors from Bradford-on-Avon, Trowbridge, Wellington, Wells and North Cadbury. Standard methods were rung on the good-going six during the afternoon and evening, and also at Silton (5).

A course of Plain Bob Minor was rung on handbells during the Guild office by T. Bleathman 1—2, R. N. Longridge 3—4, P. Cracknell 5—6, and the lesson read by G. Spencer.

In the absence of the chairman, the business meeting was presided over by Mr. W. C. Shute. One new member was elected—Miss Cynthia Haynes, of Sherborne. Among other items discussed was a proposal to hold a striking competition at the Blandford Ringing Festival. Arrangements were also discussed for the Branch outing on September 5th to East Devon.

Next quarterly meeting: September 12th. Thornford (subject to consent), and Yctminster also available.

West Dorset Branch

Amid the quiet and peaceful scenery of West Dorset with its winding lanes and on an afternoon free from rain, the branch held its summer meeting at Askerswell, on June 13th. Eight towers were represented and two visitors were welcome.

The Guild service was conducted by the Vicar (Rev. O. L. Willmott) who, in his address, spoke to us as churchmen helping the church as ringers, wardens and choir, all taking their respective parts in the service.

A high tea was provided by the local ringers and much appreciated.

At the business meeting, presided over by the chairman (Mr. W. C. Powell), Mr. Dennis Bishop (Ringing Master) congratulated four members on ringing their first peal at Bradpole. Steady progress is being made in change ringing and this was proved later in the evening, when three junior members took part in a course of Kent Treble Bob.

Next quarterly meeting, Thorncombe, September 12th: practice meetings: Corscombe, August 12th; Powerstock, September 9th; Whitechurch, October 14th. All subject to permission. J. D.

YORKSHIRE ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Eastern District of the Yorkshire Association was held, together with the Beverley and District Society, at Howden on June 13th and was attended by 54 ringers and friends representing 19 towers. The service was conducted by the Rev. P. H. Peppin in the unavoidable absence of the Vicar. An excellent tea was provided by Mrs. Harris and lady helpers. The business meeting was presided over by the vice-president Mr. H. Walker, Pocklington, was selected as the next place of meeting on September 19th. The Misses M. Hildred, of Huntington, and J. Campbell, of Kirk Ella, were elected members.

Mr. J. Potts was elected Ringing Master, and Messrs. D. S. Johnson, J. J. Taylor and C. Groom to the committee, all for three years. Mr. N. W. Castle was appointed to act as assistant secretary for 12 months.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Young Ringers Encouraged

Eleven young girls are learning to ring the six bells at Wallington. Five of these were keen enough to come to an evening practice meeting held there on June 6th by the Hertford County Association. Each had at least two good tries at ringing in rounds, and for some this was their first time on unsilenced bells.

For the more experienced ringers methods were fitted in up to a course of London. We were glad to welcome visitors from Croydon (Surrey) and Ashford (Kent). J. S.

Letters to the Editor

Ten Men went to Sow

Dear Sir.—What an excellent article by George W. Pipe! One can almost live through this wonderful experience, the more so when one is able to recall many of the places of interest described.

Doubtless the whole team will have had an experience, the memory of which will be with them for the rest of their lives. And what a topic for ringers' meetings and conversations. Congratulations.—Yours faithfully,

J. R. COTTERILL, J.P.

Great Barr, Birmingham.

Note.—We thank other readers for their appreciative references.—T. W.

First Handbell Peals in America

Dear Sir, — I noticed in 'The Ringing World' of June 12th that four of the ringers who recently visited the U.S.A. rang a peal of Plain Bob Major on handbells at Washington, D.C., and claimed that they had rung the 'first handbell peal in U.S.A.'

This claim, of course, is incorrect as the first handbell peal in U.S.A. was three methods of Doubles rung at 217, Highland Avenue, Tarrytown, N.Y., on May 10th, 1950, conducted by me. The peal was rung to commemorate the centenary of the first peal rung in the U.S.A., namely Grandsire Triples at Philadelphia, Pa. on June 9th, 1850.

We also rang another handbell peal of Doubles six days later at the same address which was, at the time, the home of the late Bernard H. Swinson. Both these peals were published in 'The Ringing World' at the time and are recorded in the annual report of the Durham and Newcastle Association for 1949-50. Incidentally the three ringers who took part rang eight peals of Doubles at Caracas, Venezuela, in 1948-49, thus ringing peals on both the North and South American continents. These peals were also published in 'The Ringing World' at the time and are recorded in the relevant reports of the Durham and Newcastle Association.

I shall be obliged if you will give publicity to this matter so that the incorrect claim can be withdrawn.—Yours sincerely,

ROLAND PARK.

Darlington.

Note.—We also thank Mr. Kenneth Arthur for similar information. He adds that the recent peal may well be the first of Major in U.S.A.—Ed.

A Protest from Lavenham

Dear Sir.—May I, through 'The Ringing World,' register a protest against companies who, on their annual outings, inflict on local inhabitants the most shocking noises — I dare not call it ringing.

I have been ringing for over 40 years and realise that learners should be given every encouragement, but surely a strange tower is not the place to let them practise and make such a horrible din?

The late Arthur Symonds taught me and a great many others, and we were not allowed to ring, even in our own tower, until we could really control a bell.

The last two Saturdays have been the worst in my experience and I hope this letter will be taken in good faith by the leaders of the companies.—Yours sincerely,

F. TURNER.

Lavenham.

Broadcasting and Ringing

Dear Sir.—Having recently been privileged to broadcast on B.B.C. Home Service on the subject of bells and ringing, I was particularly interested in the report of the Central Council's Committee on broadcasting presented at Truro. Mr. Sanger is right to suggest that ringers and those interested in listening to bells should write to the B.B.C. I would add, whether they like how any broadcast of bells or ringing is treated, it does not matter. The important thing to those responsible is to know just how many people listen or are interested in particular programmes.

I would hazard a guess that in a year the B.B.C. may receive about a dozen letters regarding ringing, but they do receive hundreds of letters regarding other musical subjects. The different producers have a definite job to do, the chief aim being to interest and entertain the general public. Minorities and special subjects appear to get consideration in proportion to any interest shown, and requests or criticism they may receive.

Personalities we know have a degree of sway. I was rather concerned to see in print in the 'R.W.' that sometimes officers or producers leave or change their jobs, and that means that someone has to start all over again to educate his successor. This was not very nicely put; if I were in the B.B.C. I may like to be introduced to something, or advised on what a minority may have to offer, a proper approach and attitude of mind is always necessary.

Regarding the inclusion of ringing when a church service is broadcast, I understand that a certain number of minutes are allocated to the complete service, and the incumbent can more or less decide how these minutes (or seconds) are used. I have always thought that we ringers should try to publish in 'Ringing World' a notice of an intended or possible item on bells being heard; in my case recently the date and time were not known in time for publication, although I could have got confirmation from 'The Radio Times' if I had looked!

Just in case any listener had the idea that my talk was about me instead of bells, I would explain that I was fulfilling a request to 'look back' over my years of ringing and sneak of the attractions of our art, and differing rings of bells. My claim that the bells of Chewton Mendip, in Somerset, are somehow superior to any other ring of eight of their approximate weight has not been disputed, so I assume that this has now become generally accepted.—Yours etc.,

W. H. COLES.

Hillingdon, Middx.

Identity of Bells wanted

Dear Sir,—On Sunday, June 14th, the topic of the programme 'About Religion' on I.T.V., was 'Bow Bells.'

St. Thomas' ringers waited eagerly to hear the new 12 being rung, but the only bells heard, at the beginning and end of the programme, were a slow and what seemed to be a heavy octave.

Could any ringers who saw the programme identify them?

I think I would be correct in saying that those broadcast were not Bow bells, and that we have been deceived!—Yours etc.,

J. HEDGCOCK.

St. Helens, Lancs.

First Ladies' Peal for Bath and Wells

Dear Sir.—Regarding the peal of Grandsire Doubles recently rung at Dinder, and stated to be the first peal by all ladies for the Bath and Wells Association, whilst not disputing this claim, I would remind readers that a peal of Grandsire Triples was rung by all ladies at Portishead as long ago as 1915. Presumably, this peal was credited to the Ladies' Guild; although on the commemorating peal-board it is headed 'Bath and Wells Association' and the Ladies Guild is mentioned in smaller letters below.

All the ringers taking part in this peal were, in fact, members of the Portishead tower and I wonder whether this feat has ever been emulated outside of Portishead? These ladies repeated their performance three years later, again at Portishead, when a similar peal was rung. On this occasion all were local ladies, except the tenor ringer, who was Miss E. K. Parker (now Mrs. Fletcher).—Yours truly,

A. J. GOULD.
(Tower Sec.)

Portishead.

An East Anglia Broadcast

Dear Sir,—On reading the Central Council's Broadcasting Committee's report, I noticed that in East Anglia's region 'nothing of interest has occurred' in the last year.

However, while on a cycling tour of the area, around Norwich and Great Yarmouth, members of Manchester University Guild appeared on the B.B.C.'s East Anglia Regional News. A pre-recorded film showed us cycling up to St. Edmund's, Kessingland, entering the tower and actually ringing. Here the B.B.C. made a slight error. As we were ringing on the screen, a recording of Grandsire Doubles could be heard. Unfortunately Plain Bob Minor was actually being rung! The film was followed by a live interview with our tour organiser, John Baldwin, and our secretary, Miss Jean Allen. The whole item took about five minutes of viewing time at 6.15 p.m. I personally would consider this 'interesting', but then I am biased—I was on it.—Yours sincerely, DAVID J. BAKER.

Victoria Park,
Manchester.

Grandsire Triples (page 397)

Dear Sir.—In the two interesting touches of Grandsire Triples by Brian D. Price, I respectfully submit the footnote should read:

'For practice touches, bobs for singles giving two parts (336 changes) or call bob for single every other part giving four parts (672 changes).—Yours sincerely,

T. J. WARNER.

Solihull.

In and Out of Course

Dear Sir.—Further to Mr. J. C. Baldwin's diagram (page 340), it has always been apparent to me that if the number of places away from home of each bell is totalled and is a multiple of four then the bells are in course, otherwise not. The diagram seems to confirm this. Am I right?—Yours, etc.,

W. O. HAYTHORNE.

STOWMARKET'S APPEAL

Dear Ringing Friends,—I do not see how it is possible, save through the courtesy of your own eagerly scanned periodical, to reach the many ringers I have met—in early days as a ringer, and, later on, as a ringing cleric. Our fraternity, which sheds its nappy fellow-snip over tower and tea at its meetings, turning in the 'sweet old bells which gladden the afternoon, has that quantity about it which encourages me to hope that I might win your interest. Is this only a sentimental dream? Oh yes, there is another hope, that I might win your support! You may have guessed that already! My old Rector used to say that the right epitaph for any clergyman was this: 'And the beggar died: (Read it how you will!)

Now I am begging for bells, so perhaps you will read on—our bells at Stowmarket, eight of them, the tenor cast next after the famous Lavenham bell (which fact will indicate their beauty) but which are threatened with silence unless completely overhauled.

Keen spirits, led by our captain, Mr. O. G. Barnard, and ladies of the parish, have raised £500 in the last three or four years in a parish heavily committed financially. I have offered to sit by the south porch of our church on July 2nd, for the day, receiving donations from all who will give.

What I wonder is this. Will the Jacks and the Georges, the Franks and the Freds, the Bills and the Charles, and many another who I have known in that wide stretching circle, and the bands with whom I have enjoyed a ring, will they send something to me for the fund? This way, I believe, no other equally deserving cause would suffer. If they would send this weekend to: THE VICAR, THE PARISH CHURCH, STOWMARKET, SUFFOLK, then the postman on his rounds would drop off the letters at the porch and. I hope, Anglia T.V. might think it worth a newflash to be there when he leaves them.—Yours in the fraternity,

A. ARTHUR MUXLOW.

The Vicarage, Stowmarket.

OUTING

HURST, BERKS

For their annual outing, Hurst ringers chose East Anglia. Leaving Hurst at 7.30 a.m., Thaxted was reached at 10.30 and after inspecting this noted church touches were rung on the fine ring of eight.

After passing through some lovely villages of North Essex we arrived at Sudbury, where after lunch we rang the heavy eight at All Saints' Church. Then came the famous ringing village of Lavenham, where in that magnificent tower we enjoyed an hour's ringing on the glorious eight, ringing methods up to Treble Bob Major assisted by Mr. Maurice Symonds. Long Melford, another fine church and a pleasant ring of eight, and Clare, with its heavy ring rung from the ground floor, were also visited. A last call for refreshment at Baldock and Hurst was reached at 12.30 a.m. after a total journey of 220 miles.

YOUNG CHIDDINGFOLD IN THE WEST COUNTRY

This is the happy party of eight keen young ringers from Chiddingfold, Surrey, who had a week's ringing in Cornwall and Devon with their headquarters at Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stacey's home at Stratton. In all the band rang at 47 churches during the week, transport being by two cars.

On the way home ringing took place in three different counties, Clist Honiton being selected for Devon, Ilchester for Somerset and Bourton for Dorset.

The average age of the band was 17½ years. They would like through 'The Ringing World' to let their hosts, Mr. and Mrs.

Stacey, and Penny know how much they enjoyed their holiday. They thank them most sincerely and also all the local ringers and incumbents who made them welcome.

ALAN PINK'S WHITSUN TOUR

On Friday, May 15th, at 10 p.m., Alan was joined by Christine and Dennis Bowen, Jennifer Sceeney, Chris Clarke, Ted Venn, Jim Linnell and Giles Shedden at their headquarters for the week-end, The Check House, Seaton, Devon. The only incident on the journey down was the hitting of a pheasant, which ran in front of Chris's car and which a passing motorist picked up. During the meal we decided that we would try to ring a different Surprise method at eight-bell towers. This meant diaries were brought out, in some cases, and methods had to be learned.

On Saturday the first tower was Beer (5), where we met the last member of our party, Janet Woodman. The bells were originally hung at Braywood Church, Berks, which has now been demolished but where most of our party had rung. The bells were very noisy and the ropes were very long, but they went very well and well-struck Doubles was rung. The next port of call was Sudbury (8), where a local ringer joined us in ringing up and in a touch of Kent Treble Bob. The first Surprise method rung was Cambridge. At the next tower, East Budleigh (8), we were joined by a local ringer when he heard us ringing. The front two were very light set at hand stroke and caught the unwary at first. Besides the plain methods rung Yorkshire was rung.

The first tower after lunch was Woodbury (8), where a local ringer joined us in ringing. These bells were heavy and the tenor was not always pulled off at the right time. The Surprise method rung was Superlative.

At Ottery St. Mary (8) the only method well struck was Bristol. The church itself was very much admired and we had an audience, as there were many visitors looking round.

After tea, on the way to the next tower, Honiton (6), Giles' navigator showed them more of the countryside than was planned and therefore they arrived a quarter of an hour after Chris' car. There was no light in this tower but luckily it was not very dark. We were joined at both the Honiton towers by a ringer from Ottery. The eight at Honiton were a complete contrast to the heavy six, and the first touch of Double Norwich was rung. Surprise method was Lincolnshire. This was our last tower of the day, so we returned to headquarters for our dinner and then a walk round Seaton.

A 6 a.m. DIP

At six o'clock on Sunday morning two of our party were creeping out of the Check House and down to the beach. Jennifer had said the night before that she had her swimsuit with her and was going swimming. The others wanted a witness to go so someone kindly volunteered to get up at that early hour. According to the witness she only stayed in five minutes.

The first stop Sunday morning was Taunton (12), where we joined in the service ringing. Grandsire Cinques was rung but Stedman Caters did not go so well. Janet was unable to be with us on the Sunday.

The next three towers were arranged at short notice by Mr. Langley. They were West Monkton (6), Thurloxton (5) and Creech (6). We joined the local ringers in Lyme Regis for service ringing and were very pleased that we were able to ring with Canon C. Carew Cox. We rang Yorkshire and Superlative. Then back to Seaton for dinner, where we joined the other guests for the first time.

Monday morning we collected our bags and left the headquarters for the last time. At Seaton (8) we were again joined by Janet and, for the day, Harry Keeley and also a local ringer from Beer. The first method rung was Ashted and then Bristol. At the next tower Colyton (6) we noticed a large object in the corner when we walked in, which on closer inspection was seen to be an old chiming apparatus. After ringing we turned the handle of the machine and rounds were struck. The local ringer said that it was a few hundred years old and was not used nowadays. At Axminster, we were joined by Mrs. Powell. These bells were of very good tone and we rang London and Bristol.

The first tower after lunch was Kilminster, where half the party had to wait as the tenor ringer stood on the trap door. Some Spiced Minor was rung and also London and York Surprise.

The next tower, Chard (8), was our last tower of the week-end. When we were not ringing we sat outside on chairs and sunbathed. A touch of Plain Bob called by one of the ladies failed to come round when she called too many 'Before's'. Otherwise all the other touches came round. The Surprise method rung was Southall. After an excellent tea we all returned from whence we came.

We would all like to thank Alan for organising this tour and also to thank the incumbents who allowed us to ring their bells and also to all the local ringers who met us and made us feel so welcome. J. S.

A STRIKING DAY IN BERKSHIRE

To quote Mr. W. Viggers: 'What more could a man want than to sit in peaceful surroundings on a fine day in May and listen to church bells ringing for his benefit!'

As joint adjudicator with Major E. J. Bragg, Mr. Viggers' opening comment at the Sonning Deanery Branch striking competition typified the friendly air of this annual event. Both judges, who travelled from Aldershot, were impressed by the improvement in striking ability made each year and shown by the decrease in fault finding.

The competition, held at Hurst on May 9th, was different from past contests by the more relaxed attitude of the teams and any tension, if present at all, was certainly not apparent among the teams waiting their turn to ring.

Ringling on the back six of Hurst's eight (tenor 14½ cwt.) was a precedent which had less effect than was perhaps anticipated—perhaps more credit to the teams who found the long draught and a certain springiness in the ropes a greater challenge in the production of good striking.

Hurst were complimented on their excellent ringing and declared winners with 11 faults—faults which the judges thought perhaps would never come as this team started off with perfect rounds and changes. Easthamstead were awarded second place with 22 faults and Sandhurst third (30 faults). S. G. S.

Saxilby, Lincs. ringers would like to apologise to the ringer who called on Sunday evening, June 14th. For the benefit of any others who may think of calling on Sundays they wish to point out that Evensong is not held in the Parish Church on the second Sunday in each month.

LANCASHIRE'S OUTING TO DERBYSHIRE

Once again the second Saturday in May found the Rochdale and Bolton Branches holding their joint annual outing. The day dawned bright and sunny, and continued so for the rest of the day. The 41-seater coach was filled to capacity, everybody was at the respective 'picking-up' points on time and so we sped out of industrial Lancashire, had a look at part of the beautiful Cheshire countryside (the driver took a wrong turning), and arrived at our first Derbyshire tower of Youlgrave exactly on time. The glorious old eight (26 cwt.) were soon sounding forth to various methods ranging from Plain Bob to four Spliced Surprise.

The next tower should have been Matlock, but unfortunately we had been informed the previous evening that we could not ring there. However, thanks to 'The Ringing World' we had managed to arrange a substitute. Perhaps you have sometimes wondered why the telephone number of 'Jafus' appeared each week in the 'R.W.'? The reason is so that he can be quickly contacted and persuaded to obtain permission (so readily granted by the Rector and tower captain) to allow Darley Dale bells to be rung at extremely short notice. It should also be mentioned that the Rector of Darley Dale also happens to be president of the Lancashire Association! Various methods were rung on the delightful eight (even Stedman came round!) and the 2,000-year-old yew tree (was it really planted by 'J.f.s.'?) was admired by all.

A chicken lunch was followed by ringing on the grand eight at Ashover, the light six at Clay Cross (where we interrupted a striking competition) and the 16 cwt. eight at North Wingfield.

Tea at Chesterfield was followed by an hour's ringing on the fine ring of 10. Mr. Sam Scattergood made us very welcome and Grandsire and Stedman Caters, three leads of Oxford T.B. Royal and half a course of Cambridge Surprise Royal were all brought round successfully. The ringing closed with the firing of the 10 bells in honour of the birthday of Mrs. E. M. Silcock, a member of the local band who had worked extremely hard to restore the ringing room to its former condition, following the fire in the church a short time ago.

And so, with an uneventful (to some) journey home, ended a perfect day. Our thanks are extended to incumbents and local ringers for making us so welcome, and to the organiser-in-chief, Mr. Geoffrey Cheetham.

J. P. P.

WILLINGDON, SUSSEX

The beauties of Kent on a lovely sunny afternoon were seen by Willingdon ringers on May 30th, when their fourth annual outing was held. With them were the Vicar and ringing friends from Eastbourne, Bexhill, Warbleton and Westham.

At the first call, Hawkhurst, some of the young ringers had their first experience of heavy bells. Mr. G. Russell met us at Lamberhurst, where the ring of six was recently rehung, and the ancient church completely renovated. Our ringers found the bells more to their liking, apart from the newness of the ropes, as they are accustomed to six bell ringing.

Horsmonden took some finding, but Mr. R. T. Lambert was waiting for us and Stedman and Double Norwich were rung. We renewed acquaintance with Mr. T. E. Sone at Brenchley through the unexpected failure of a peal attempt at Maidstone. With his help a course of Cambridge Surprise Major was scored.

With the sun sinking we made our way to Tunbridge Wells, where an excellent dinner was served at the Castle Hotel. The Vicar (the Rev. W. Greenfield) thanked those responsible for the arrangements, and Willingdon was reached at 10.30 p.m.

R. W. R. P.

CHRIST CHURCH, ERITH

Warm sunshine, wonderful scenery and delightful churches, with bells to match, were features contributing to another successful outing of the ringers of Christ Church, Erith.

On May 30th at 8 a.m. a convoy of six cars, carrying ringers, families and friends, set off through the lovely Kent and Sussex countryside to the attractive sandstone church at Turner's Hill, where we spent 45 minutes of indifferent striking on the handy eight (tenor 13½ cwt.).

Next came Slaughtam's easy-going eight (11½ cwt.), which are very tuneful. Here the striking improved somewhat and a fair course of Double Norwich was rung. Pulborough bells proved to be very similar to those at Turner's Hill, good tone, easy to handle and worthy of better ringing than we produced.

After a good lunch at Arundel, we visited St. Nicholas' Church for an hour. Another 13½ cwt. tenor, bells clear and good, but again the ringing left much to be desired. Full justice was, however, done to Petworth bells, a grand ring with 18 cwt. tenor. Tea on the lawn at Amberley was very welcome and, well refreshed, we made our way to Horsham. Here is a grand ring of bells (tenor 25 cwt.), all easy to handle, and after settling down the last 20 minutes produced the best ringing of the day. And then home, with memories of a wonderful, satisfying day, well organised by tower captain Mr. A. G. Hill.

50 YEARS AGO

'R.W.' May 8th, 1914.—

LONDON RINGERS TO MEET AT CRICKET.—The friendly rivalry which exists between those two ancient London Societies, the College Youths and the Cumberlands, is to be extended from the heltry to the cricket field. The former have challenged the Cumberlands to a match, and, naturally, the challenge has been accepted. This game will, we are sure, excite much interest, and, as it is to be followed by a social, there will doubtless be a big gathering of London ringers in the evening.

Cowbridge Sunday service band, which includes four boarders from the local Grammar School, have established a new record for the Llandaff and Monmouth Diocesan Guild with 46 Doubles methods/variations. In the peal was Chris Ricketts, just turned 13, who with three peals to his credit must be the youngest peal ringer in South Wales. The peal was to the memory of Mr. R. E. Coles, former Master of the Guild, who died on June 1st, 1963.

Five members of the local band participated in the peal of Lincolnshire Surprise Major at St. John-the-Divine, Leics, on June 10th. Mr. R. Kingsley Mason, the conductor, is one of them.

Withycombe Raleigh, Devon, ringers will miss Miss Valerie Taylor, who for the past three years has been a student at Rolle Teachers' Training College, Exmouth. She is shortly leaving for her first appointment at Newton Ferrers.

Capel belfry was left open in connection with the Guildford Guild Summer Festival. Mrs. Penfold, of 6, Greenside, Capel, informs us that a cap was left behind. She is prepared to forward it to the owner if he notifies her.

A cosmopolitan band met one short for a peal of Stedman Cinques at Reading, but the services of the local tenor man were pressed into use, and a very pleasing peal was rung. Incidentally, it was the tenor man's first peal on 12 bells and John Napper's first of Stedman Cinques.

In regard to the peal at Painswick, published this week, it was intended that it should be an attempt at Stedman Cinques. Unfortunately one of the band failed to appear and Mr. Walter Judge, from Oxford, kindly offered to stand down. A good peal of Cambridge Royal was rung.

Hampshire ringers who travelled over 70 miles to attend the Bristol Ringing Festival, write enthusiastically of their memories. They also hit the headlines on page one of a local paper. They only wish that other cities would follow Bristol's example.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Colin A. Lewis, present Master of the University of Wales Society, has accepted the post of assistant lecturer in geography at University College, Dublin. The U.W.S. wish him all the best of luck. Watch out, Dublin!!

With his past associations with the University, Canon K. W. H. Felstead will note the 100th peal rung for the University of Bristol Society on June 6th.

A story of unlucky 13 comes from Bridgewater, where the local branch lost a peal of Grandsire Triples after 2½ hours when the tenor clapper broke. The date was June 13th.

Inadvertently Twerton was substituted for Tiverton in a belfry gossip column that appeared in our issue of June 6th. Mr. Tudor P. Edwards asks for a correction.

The peal by the Bristol Cathedral School Guild at the Cathedral on June 12th was rung by one master, three pupils and four old boys.

Miss Hilary N. Kippin received a vote of thanks from the band who rang a peal at St. Michael's, Basingstoke, for filling a last minute gap that necessitated cancelling a previous engagement.

Going for the first peal on the bells at Tickenham, Somerset, on May 23rd, the performance had to be curtailed after six extents because a resident complained of the length of ringing.

Wendy Griffin, from West Hill, Wandsworth, should be associated with the quarter at Southwark Cathedral on June 7th. She kindly stood out after the band had met one short for Caters.

We thought we were reading the 'Irish Bell News' when we came across the following paragraph in 'Ringing Towers.' 'Who was the Sydney ringer who recently rang up a number of people late at night so that she could find out the telephone number of the house she was staying at?' The reason for this was so that she could ask a friend to put out the key in order to avoid drawing attention to her late homecoming.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Biggleswade District

Despite the threat of thunderstorms there was a good attendance at the meeting of the Biggleswade District at St. Swithin's, Sandy, on June 13th, when Mr. D. Saunderson was ringing master. Ringing continued throughout the afternoon on the 12 cwt. six and the methods rung included Hereward Bob.

Mr. P. Rogers played the organ at a short service, conducted by the Rector, the Rev. D. B. Warren. At the business meeting, which followed tea, 22 ringers were present. The president, Mr. A. E. Rushton, took the chair and three new members were elected. The venues for the next three meetings were chosen, and a request was made to members to pay their subscriptions as quickly as possible. The meeting closed with a vote of thanks to the Rector and those who had prepared tea.

Ringing during the evening ranged from rounds to London and Norwich; the standard of striking was generally better than usual.

Next meeting: July 11th, Henlow.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION

Tradition was broken at Caston on May 30th, when the Western Branch held its business meeting in the churchyard owing to the summery weather. The chair was taken by Rev. G. Galley, and after the minutes of the last meeting were read some discussion took place about the desirability of holding a monthly practice meeting. It was decided to do so and the first of these meetings will be held at Necton on June 17th and the second at Fakenham on July 15th.

The service, which preceded the business meeting, was conducted by Canon King.

The chairman expressed thanks to Mrs. Hall who entertained us to tea and all the ladies who helped. Evening ringing was at Griston (5) as well as Caston. J. C.

Total 89 (33).

Doubles.—Grandsire 2, Plain Bob 4, 2-9 methods 8, Total 14 (3); Grand total 250 (conducted 66).

Only One Survivor After 50 Years

Fifty years ago the Central Council visited Winchester and on the Whit Monday a peal of Stedman Caters was rung on the Cathedral bells by the following band:

Harry Argyle treble, Rev. A. T. Beeston 2, J. Armiger Trollope 3, William Bibby 4, Frank Hoppod 5, Rev. H. Law James (composer and conductor) 6, William W. Gifford 7, Charles H. Russell 8, Harry Chapman 9, George Noice tenor. There was a single at every course end.

The tenor ringer is believed to be the only survivor. There were 60 members present representing 28 societies.

RIGHT-PLACE SURPRISE MAJOR METHODS INCIDENCE OF FALSENESS

Reviewed by Maurice Hodgson

IN a sense, the collection of Right-Place Surprise Major Methods, published by A. S. Hudson and J. W. McClenahan in October, 1963, and quickly sold out, was complete in itself. However, it left to the user all the labour of working out the falseness of the methods.

This task is not unduly onerous for a single method, but a decision to ring a new method usually involves selecting the best from several differing so slightly that when one has been chosen the rest will be discarded. One factor governing the suitability of a method is the quality of peal compositions that can be produced for it which, in turn, depends on its false course heads and their incidence. Foreknowledge of the amount of falseness would enable unsatisfactory methods to be rejected early in the search. Moreover, when falseness has been derived by one person or by one procedure, an independent verification is a comfort, especially when performed by an untiring computer.

There is a school of thought which deprecates publication of the false course heads of methods on the grounds that false peals may be rung if the information is misused. This objection hardly applies when complete data is quoted, but to do this for more than 5,000 methods in a book of practicable size and price presents a formidable problem since some of the methods have more than 40 items of falseness. It is greatly to the credit of Hudson and McClenahan, joined in this project by H. E. Bishop, that they have condensed the essential data on each method into one line of typing which can be readily expanded into the full list of falseness by means of simple tables.

If this were all they had done, they would still have produced a worthwhile companion to the Collection. But the work goes further than was necessary to fulfil its main purpose and includes, in effect, a ready reckoner for obtaining the falseness of any Major method on the treble-bob principle. Another section, contributed by Mr. Hadley Hunter, extends the system to spliced methods, and is presumably the first published exposition of inter-method falseness in the Surprise Major field.

The authors have used throughout the algebraic treatment introduced by the present writer. Of the various extant half-lead systems of proof, this treatment is best suited to computation and to a concise notation. When performed without external aids, the procedure entails three manipulations of rows—two transpositions and a substitution-type permutation. The Table of Ratios eliminates the second transposition and the permutation, thereby reducing the manipulations and the risk of errors by two-thirds.

Two obstacles are encountered when attempting to abbreviate the data on falseness by quoting only one course head. The difficulties arise in those groups of false course heads which contain more than one set, where it is consequently necessary to indicate the relationship between the incidence parameters of the different sets. This can be done by providing tables of modifiers, but since any course head in a group may be the first to be derived, as many as eight lists of modifiers would be necessary in some groups to enable the full list of falseness to be correctly transcribed. In addition, the values of the modifiers depend on whether the falseness is due to like or unlike rows, which doubles the number required.

The authors have overcome the first difficulty by arranging that the typical false course heads quoted in the Main Table of method falseness and in the Table of Ratios are always members of the same set in a group; modifiers based on the remaining sets are then unnecessary.

They have overcome the second difficulty by a subtle adjustment of the basic falseness formulae. Thus, they use parameters  $x$  and  $y$  which are related to  $m$  and  $n$  in that  $y=m$  for like rows, but  $y=-m$  for unlike rows, with  $x=n$  in both cases. By this alteration, masterly in its simplicity, the values of the modifiers are not affected by the nature of the rows, and a second version is not required.

There is little to complain about in the volume, although it seems incongruous that a mathematically-based treatment should perpetuate the archaic term 'in-course' instead of using the natural and descriptive term 'even.' Also, a little more explanation of 'modulo 7' would have helped potential users who are unaware that adding a positive number to negative one involves subtraction. The main defect is that the printing leaves something to be desired: incidence parameters are occasionally indecipherable, though they can be restored if needed by using the Table of Ratios. In view of these misprints, an explicit indication of clean proof scale would have been psychologically better than a blank opposite a method number, which raises an uneasy suspicion that the computer or the duplicator might have forgotten to deal with that method.

The trivial shortcomings do not detract from the value of the book, which is a welcome contribution to the technical literature of the art. (Price 12s. 6d. post free, from A. S. Hudson, Clare College, Cambridge.)

A.N.Z.A.B. COUNCIL MEETING IN HOBART

THE third, and best yet, Council Meeting of the Australian and New Zealand Association was held in Hobart, Tasmania, on the Queen's birthday weekend, June 13th-15th. It was preceded by some peal ringing the previous week when a band of four Sydney ringers, three Adelaide ringers and one from Melbourne, met in Hobart on Sunday, June 7th. On that afternoon a peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major on the delightful Taylor eight at St. David's Cathedral, came to a halt after 4,820 changes because of a miscalculation in timing resulting in over-running an Evensong in the church below. The consequent disappointment was largely banished the next afternoon by the success of a 5,200 of Plain Bob Major, conducted by Tom Goodyer, on the 118-year-old eight at Holy Trinity and the promise of another chance to go for the Double Norwich again the following Monday. On that occasion there were no interruptions and Tom called his second peal of the week.

On the holiday weekend, June 13th-15th, a large gathering of inter-State visitors descended on Hobart from the skies till by the middle of Saturday afternoon the Tasmanians had on their hands 28 visiting ringers, together with wives and families. Eighteen came from Melbourne, representing St. Paul's Cathedral and City Hall and St. Peter's, Ballarat; six from Sydney representing St. Mary's Basilica and St. Jude's, Randwick; and four from Adelaide, representing St. Peter's Cathedral and St. Andrew's, Walkerville. The influx ought to have reached its peak five hours earlier but fog at the Melbourne airport and engine trouble delayed the arrival of the contingent from Victoria.

A NEW PRESIDENT

Fifty-five persons sat down to an enjoyable dinner on the Saturday evening at 'Carolside', an old house in the suburbs, and these festivities preceded the actual Council meeting. Tom Goodyer did not stand for re-election to the presidency and Enid Roberts was elected the third president of A.N.Z.A.B. with acclamation. The other officers were re-elected for another year—Graeme Heyes as secretary, with Anne Cowling as his assistant; Ken Minchinton as treasurer; Bill Pitcher as peal secretary and editor of 'Ringing Towers'. The treasurer's report revealed a considerable accumulation of funds and with no foreseeable heavy expenditure it was decided to reduce subscriptions by half. Bill Pitcher reported that 'Ringing Towers' had made a slight profit and the circulation had risen to 186 copies per issue. He paid a tribute to the help he had received from David Bleby and other co-opted assistants.

Other matters raised included consideration of designs submitted for a badge, deciding on Melbourne for the 1965 Council meeting and discussing the possibility of New Zealand for the 1966 meeting. A discussion about Great Adventure II took place and Bill Pitcher reported on a revised proposed itinerary which is to be passed on immediately to Tom Lock for comment.

EXTENDING REPERTOIRES

The whole weekend showed again what a beneficial 'shot in the arm' these gatherings are to Australian ringing. Apart from forming new friendships and renewing old ones and talking as only bellringers can, everyone made progress, ringing new methods and generally extending their repertoire. The learners received advice and encouragement from the more experienced ringers who in their turn stood to the ropes to try something new. For them one of the satisfactions of the meeting was that apart from ringing in bob courses of London Minor and Cambridge Major, at least ten ringers took part in the six or seven courses of Superlative Surprise Major that were rung, five of them ringing the method for the first time.

We were reminded that the Exercise is not without its dangers when at St. David's Cathedral a stay was broken and Ethel Lloyd, a Ballarat ringer, was carried into the air and sustained a chipped elbow bone as well as being badly shaken when she fell to the floor. Apart from this unfortunate accident it was a highly enjoyable weekend and wound up on the Monday with the success of the peal of Double Norwich at St. David's and the adjournment to the Waterworks Reserve for what seems to be becoming the traditional barbecue, where in an attractive woodland setting with the sound of handbells coming from the scrub the Hobart ringers reminded us once again, as had been evident throughout, that they were the best possible hosts, untiring in their attention to their guests and providing almost unlimited time on the bells as well as very good weather. To them the Association owes a great debt of thanks. W. B. P.

BATH & WELLS ASSOCIATION

Frome Branch

Over 30 ringers met at Farnborough on Sunday, June 7th, for the annual Corporate Communion service of the Frome Branch. Ringing started at 7.15 a.m. and continued until the service, at 8 a.m., the Rector of Farnborough, the Rev. D. E. F. Marshall, being the celebrant. After the service an excellent breakfast in the Vicarage was enjoyed by all, their appreciation to the hostess and her helpers being expressed in the normal way, after Mr. G. W. Massey had proposed a vote of thanks to all concerned, for making it such a successful morning. Ringing then continued until approximately 10 a.m.

New Rate for Postal Subscribers

In accordance with the announcement made at the Central Council meeting at Truro a new rate will operate for postal subscribers renewing their subscriptions or enrolling as new members as from July 3rd. The increase is equivalent to 2s. per annum, and the new rates will be: 3 months 10s.; 6 months 19s.; 12 months £1 17s. Substantial reductions are allowed for subsequent copies.

HILLINGDON CELEBRATIONS

The culmination of 4½ years' work in the raising of £11,000 in the parish of St. John the Baptist, Hillingdon, Middlesex, was celebrated, approximately enough, on St. John the Baptist Day, June 24th. This sum covered the cost of refacing the stonework on the tower, and the building of new vestries on the north side of the chancel. The dedication and hallowing of the work was performed by the Bishop of Kensington, the Right Rev. R. C. O. Goodchild, at a service of thanksgiving in the evening, attended by a large congregation including the Mayor and Uxbridge Borough Council.

During his address, the Bishop referred to the sorrow they all felt at the absence of the Vicar, Rev. F. C. Tyler, who had sponsored this great parochial achievement but was unable to be present to witness the dedication. Mr. Tyler has been in hospital for some weeks following an eye operation for a detached retina. He returned home, hoping to be present at the service, but was forced to re-enter hospital two days beforehand.

The bells, of course, played their part in this momentous day for the parish. Preceding the service, 1,259 Grandsire Caters was rung in good style by T. G. Bannister 1, Mrs. A. R. Turley 2, F. W. Goodfellow (conductor) 3, A. R. G. Twinn 4, A. M. Stacey 5, M. Hatchett 6, M. W. Seymour 7, M. J. Palmer 8, F. C. Price 9, W. H. Coles 10.

The new St. George's flag, given to celebrate the reaching of an aggregate total between them of 80 years' service as ringers in St. John's tower by Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Goodfellow, was flown for the first time on this day.

A Great Handbell Achievement

Last week we announced that a new record in Spliced Surprise handbell ringing was established at the residence of the conductor, Mr. John R. Mayne, at Headstone Lane, Harrow. The peal consisted of 18 methods, and in it there were 134 changes of method.

This great achievement beats the previous record of 16 Spliced Surprise Major methods, conducted by Mr. Harold Cashmore, which has stood since October 25th, 1952. Mr. Christopher W. Woolley was in both peals, the latter was his 100th peal of Surprise on handbells.

50 YEARS' SERVICE IN ONE TOWER

To the list of those who have given a half-century's service in one tower must be added the name of Mr. Raymond Addison, of 21, Russell Street, Stockton, Yorks, who this year celebrates 50 years as a ringer at St. Paul's Church, Thornaby.

In honour of the event, Mr. Addison took part in a peal of Grandsire Triples at St. Paul's Church on June 13th. The band included two of his pupils—David Dawson, who rang his first peal, and Margaret Wilkinson, who was ringing her first in the method. They both rang faultlessly. There had been two previous attempts to score it.

A strong family connection exists with St. Paul's Church. His father was associated with the Sunday School for 50 years as pupil, teacher and superintendent. His brothers, older than Raymond, were bell-ringers and it was as a boy of 13 he desired to emulate them and became fascinated in ringing.

He still rings regularly on Sunday mornings at Stockton Parish Church, and in the afternoons at Thornaby. Much of his time is occupied in training youngsters. For more than 10 years he was vice-president of the Cleveland and North Yorkshire Association. He is also a member of the Yorkshire Association.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY

Although the attendance was below average the bells of All Saints', Edmonton, were put to good use in standard and Surprise methods at the North and East District meeting on June 13th.

Preb. S. G. W. Knight conducted the Association's form of service and extended a warm welcome to his church. Mr. Ernest Grove accompanied at the organ and Miss Sheila Moore, an up and coming member of the local band, read the lesson. Tea followed in the Charles Lamb Institute and Miss Newcombe and her helpers, as usual, provided an excellent repast.

At the subsequent business meeting reference was made to the passing of the Bishop of Willesden. The Rt. Rev. George Ernest Ingle, a vice-president of the Association, whose funeral had taken place that day, the members standing in silence for a few moments.

Confirmation of the provisional election of the following as non-resident life members, prior to participating in peals, was made:—Philip J. Rothera (Chelmsford), Dennis Ellisdon (Ilford), Gillian Syms (Letchworth), Robert Harris (Bognor Regis), Jean Lavender (Thorn-ton Heath) and Ann P. Robinson (Elstree). Mr. T. G. Fox, formerly of Stepney and now living at Horsham, was also elected a life member, whilst Miss Louise Gallini, of the St. Augustine's, Kilburn band, was elected as a ringing member.

Under the guidance of Mr. Charles Ward a new band has been formed at Barnet, and it is gratifying to learn that the bells are now ringing regularly for Sunday services. Eight members of the band were now up to change ringing standard and were elected as ringing members, viz. Mrs. M. L. Paternoster, and Messrs. R. Derry, R. Adcock, K. Record, S. Taylor, M. Bullett, E. J. Paternoster and J. R. Paternoster.

Before closing the proceedings the chairman expressed the thanks of the meeting to the Vicar and all who had contributed to the success of the gathering. E. H. K.

IN YORKSHIRE WITH FRANK C. PRICE

ON Saturday, June 6th, at Doncaster, I joined Tom and Kath Lock (North Mimms), David Forder (North Stoneham), Cyril and Frances Low (Hampton), Bert Gogle (Norwich), Tom and Margaret Chapman and baby Chris (Bishopstoke), Dick Price (Sheffield), Ruth Foreman (Hendon), Dennis Knox (High Wycombe), Frank and Sheila Price and baby Fiona (Crowthorne) for the start of Frank's annual week — this year to be in Yorkshire. Our transport included the 32-year-old Chapman Rolls, which was a constant source of interest, though on one occasion stopping its 2½ tons gave some of us an anxious moment.

Eric Critchley met us at St. George's and when we had climbed the many steps of the huge tower we found that the method for the first peal attempt of the tour had been changed to Bristol. That didn't worry Dennis, who, after those not pealing had sampled the 30 cwt. ring of eight called his own composition to a good peal. On to Wakefield in the evening to H.Q. at the Strafford Arms Hotel in time for dinner and a handbell evening.

On Sunday we were privileged to ring Treble 12 and Stedman Cinques for morning service at St. Peter's, Leeds (42 cwt.) and to ring at Sheffield Cathedral (12—40 cwt.) for Evensong. This latter tower is for ever associated with Charles Hattersley and that well-known figure at Central Council meetings, the late Sid Palmer. Between this service ringing, Dick Price took us on a tour of the beauty spots in the Pennines on the borders of the West Riding with Cheshire and Derbyshire, with lunch at the 13th century inn at Strynes. A few spare minutes allowed us to ring on the pleasant light eight at Dore, where Mr. J. E. Lewis Cockey was once churchwarden. Handbells in the evening ranged from 720 of Plain Bob Minor, with singles only, to attempts at Cambridge Royal and we were glad to be joined by Wilf Moreton.

A MISCHANCE

A good start was made on Monday, in lovely weather, and excellent ringing for two hours of Yorkshire Major on the fine eight (22 cwt.) at Howden. By one of those mischances which take the certainty out of peal ringing the conductor had then to call Stand, so what might well have been the first struck peal of the week was not. While the remainder of the party had gone on to Selby, Kath had prepared a picnic lunch for the peal band. We all met at Selby in the afternoon for a pull on the ten (25½ cwt.) at this glorious Norman and early English Abbey. A fair course of London Royal No. 3 was followed, with apparently more difficulty, by Stedman Caters. Ossett (10—27 cwt.) was reached in time for the evening practice, which the local band had kindly given up to us. This time an almost perfect course of London Royal made a local ringer wish he had his tape recorder. Cambridge Royal, Stedman Caters and Little Bob Royal concluded this very pleasant hour, after which at H.Q. Dick showed his coloured films of last year's Devon tour and of his own boating holiday on the Broad.

At Tadcaster (8—20 cwt.) on Tuesday morning, four-spliced went well after the conductor had been persuaded to start again and not to call changes of method when the treble was at the back. It may have been just as easy for him, but it caught most of us unawares. The programme then said afternoon free in York, which was true for some. But five of us returned to H.Q. to ring Bob Royal in hand. After an hour a clapper fell out, so now some of us have suffered this both on tower- and handbells. Later on, however, we felt better, when Wilf Moreton called a good peal of Stedman Cinques at Wakefield Cathedral (35 cwt.), after which we were all ready for a drink and a meal.

ROPE TROUBLE

Wednesday brought mixed fortune. Two towers in the morning—some good five-spliced at Birstall (8—22 cwt.), in spite of the Yorkshire tail ends; and among other methods at All Souls', Haley Hill, Halifax (8—25 cwt.) was Oswald Major, its parentage being Kent and Cambridge. In the afternoon it was my turn to call Grandsire Cinques on the 28 cwt. 12 at St. John's, Halifax. After splicing one rope, we rang as far as the third lead when another broke. That spliced we reached the fourth lead and still another rope came down.

Having no faith in the remainder we reluctantly abandoned the attempt for what had promised to be a good peal. The early finish allowed time for a tower grab at East Ardsley (8), but in the second touch here yet another rope broke. Five of us evened up the score a little at H.Q. in the evening with a peal of Plain Bob Royal on the handbells, on which the late J. A. Trollope had rung many of his peals.

If you ever get a chance to ring at Sprotborough on the new eight (8 cwt.) don't miss it. For their weight and note they are perfect and at this, our first tower on Thursday, Frank made double-handed tower bell ringing look easy by ringing 7—8 to a course of London. Look out for a peal of Major there one day by four fingers only! A pull at Conisbrough (8) preceded lunch in Rotherham and an extra tower (Whiston—8). We spent a pleasant hour drinking tea at Dick's home at Thryburgh where the sight of the week was Bert Gogle and Tom Lock industriously weeding the garden.

In the evening we were joined at Rotherham by Norman and John Chaddock for a peal of London Royal. When the tenor would not clapper up, we thought that Wednesday's jinx had followed us, but Norman removed the clapper counter-balance and all was well. The peal, conducted by Tom Chapman on this fine ten (34 cwt.) was a little like the curate's egg—some if it was excellent. Those not in the peal tried the six at Thryburgh before returning to Wakefield and enjoying Mrs. Moreton's hospitality.

HOMAGE TO SNOWDONS

Dennis had to leave on Friday to get back in time to ring a few more changes on the High Wycombe outing, but the rest of us enjoyed the finest weather of the week. In the morning we rang at Ilkley (8—18 cwt.), which was the tower of the Snowdon family, where the father of Jasper and William and the grandfather of Miss Margaret, was Vicar. The stained glass window, with bell motif, subscribed for by the ringers of England to the memory of Jasper, was much admired. Although he died at the age of 41, he yet had had time to establish the Snowdon series of text books. Until the evening peal we were free and spent pleasant hours at Bolton Abbey in the heart of lovely country. Fred Mundav met us at Bradford Cathedral (10—25 cwt.) and Cambridge Royal, called by David, brought our peal total for the week to five.

That evening our thanks were expressed tangibly to Frank for arranging the tour and to Dick for his help with local knowledge and influence, and to all the incumbents and local ringers for their help and, by me on, believe it or not, my first ringing tour, to all the 'old stagers' for their company, including especially baby Chris and baby Fiona.

WILFRID G. WILSON.

Ladies With 500 Peals

This week we record the fact that Miss Joan Beresford, of Dartford, the honorary treasurer of the Ladies' Guild, has rung her 500th peal. This took place at Holy Trinity Church, Guildford, and was a peal of four Spliced Surprise Major methods. The peal was rung for the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, and was conducted by Miss Beresford's brother, Dennis, who is Master of the Society.

Miss Beresford is the sixth lady to hold this honour. The others are:

Mrs. Amy Thomas, of Hinton-on-the-Green, Worcestershire, the widow of Mr. Jack Thomas;

The late Mrs. Phyllis Poole, the widow of Inspector Harold Poole, of Leicester;

Mrs. Marcia Marshallsay, of Bourne-mouth;

Miss Muriel Reay, of Birmingham;

Mrs. Claudia Critchley, wife of Mr. G. W. Critchley, of Knebworth, Herts.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF MR. AND MRS. L. A. TIDY

LIMPSFIELD Chart, Surrey, had something really to celebrate on June 20th. Relatives and friends came from all parts, with greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Len Tidy on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

The day began with Holy Communion, celebrated by the Rev. Philip Haynes. The first changes of a quarter peal began as the couple left the church to be photographed at the same rose-hung porch as 50 years ago. In the band was one representative of the ringers of St. Peter's, Limpsfield, and another from nearby Westerham—only two of the dozens who have learnt their ringing from Mr. Len Tidy over the years.

Late afternoon was the time for everyone to gather in St. Andrew's Hall. There tables were spread for an appropriate feast, and in the midst of all were Mr. and Mrs. Tidy senior, and the anniversary cake. A toast was drunk to their continued health, proposed by Mr. Wilfred Tidy on behalf of the immediate family and numerous nephews and nieces. Mr. Jack Weller expressed thanks and good wishes on behalf of the guests. Mr. Len Tidy could find words for only part of what he had to say. In the ringing which followed, six of the Tidy family took a rope: three generations of ringers, an age range of 16 to 82. The day was rounded off with another quarter peal.

Fifty years ago St. Andrew's Church was a comparatively young church. Already Len Tidy was amongst the very keen ringers, and has been tower captain since 1913. The couple, who were married at St. Andrew's in 1914, are still very much with us, in the hearts of the generations that have come to ring at The Chart since then.

R. W. S.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE, YORK

Members of the College Society visited Stillington, a three bell tower, with a 5½ cwt. tenor, on June 3rd and spent a half-hour ringing rounds and call changes. Mr. J. Hutchinson took the members to his home to inspect his scale model of a ring of six bells. These and handbells were rung. Later an hour was spent on the light eight at Easingwold, ringing rounds, Doubles and call changes. Refreshments with the president of the Society and handbell ringing concluded the outing.

The Everest Band

Ringling in South Africa

Dear Sir,—In these days, when we move so rapidly from one excitement to another, it is good to be reminded of great events, whether of long past or of recent date. All of us, therefore, will surely welcome the photograph of the band that rang the 40,320 at Loughborough. There cannot be anything but sincere admiration for this band of young men, who tackled this stupendous task in a spirit that was both cavalier and determined, enduring a physical and mental ordeal that demanded great courage and steadfastness.

I may not be alone in wishing that a more worthy reproduction of the portrait of the band had been made available to commemorate this historic feat. The paper on which our journal is printed is obviously capable of better reproduction, and much, therefore, must depend on the quality of the original photograph. Whatever the difficulties, however, I feel that it would be well worth while to take trouble to perpetuate in first-class style something that will be treasured both by the members of this gallant band of adventurers and by future generations of change ringers.—Yours faithfully,

EDGAR C. SHEPHERD.

Warminster, Wilts.

Note.—The original print and negative was very indistinct and was exceedingly poor material for the block makers to work on. We hope if the band ever reassemble a photograph worthy of the occasion will be taken. A photograph of this band should go down to posterity—be republished and retained in the archives of the Central Council.—Ed.

Making Visitors welcome

Dear Sir.—In regard to the annual outing of the Bolsover ringers to the Peterborough district on June 6th. I should like to express my own appreciation of the very warm welcome at each of the towers visited during the day.

One often reads of difficulties about finding keys to towers and although the party arrived early at Tichmarsh, it was refreshing to find the elderly incumbent already on the look-out, and he and his wife were obviously pleased to hear the bells. It was a most pleasant surprise for the whole party to be invited into the small Rectory cottage for cups of tea and biscuits.

At Warmington two of the local ringers were present and at Woodston the Curate-in-charge (formerly of Howden) and two young ringers showed very great interest in the visitors.

At the last tower, Castor, the visit coincided with the local practice (unusual to see so many people prepared to meet on a Saturday evening) and I was most impressed by the new wooden floor (the work of the local ringers) and the excellent condition of the bells and ringing room. Here again the incumbent visited the tower and several of the local ringers joined in some excellent ringing. As the coach left Castor it was most gratifying to be told by an old gentleman that it was the best change ringing he had heard in his life!

In conclusion, I would like to thank my friends from Bolsover and district for a very enjoyable day amongst excellent bells and pleasant company.—Yours faithfully,

A B COOPER.

Kirkella, Hull.

Peal withdrawn

Dear Sir.—I have to perform the very regrettable duty of withdrawing, on the conductor's behalf, a peal of Plain Bob Major rung at Biggleswade on August 17th, 1963, owing to falseness in the composition which I overlooked when checking it before it was rung.

May I also express heartfelt regrets to the rest of the band.—Yours faithfully, STEPHEN IVIN.

Bedford.

Dear Sir.—'You want the bells—I got 'em' is one of my husband's pet clichés, but for once I am 'one up' on him. I am at present enjoying the delights of three months' holiday in sunny South Africa and after experiencing the thrills of a visit to the Kruger Game Reserve, a trip of nearly 3,000 miles to the Eastern Cape Province with its wonderful mountain, lake and coastal scenery (between times staying with a friend between Pretoria and Johannesburg). I am now spending a fortnight in Durban.

As there are two churches with bells here, Pat wrote urging me to try and have a pull, so although I haven't rung in England for several years I felt I shouldn't miss this unique opportunity. I contacted Mr. Cyril Chambers (who came out here from Worcestershire in 1939) and found that Colin Stevenson, from Harlington, who is now studying at Salisbury University, S. Rhodesia, was also in Durban on holiday and had been making enquiries about ringing. Unfortunately there is no regular ringing now at either church, on account of the usual shortage of enthusiasts, but Mr. Chambers rustled together four other 'locals' and we were able to ring some Plain courses of Bob Minor on the back seven of St. Mary's, Greyville (a fine ring of 10 by J. Taylor, tenor 18 cwt. 25 lb.), before service on Sunday evening, June 7th. Then the same band (with one addition) met together the next evening and enjoyed some Grand sire Triples and Bob Minor. This was the first time any Triples had been possible for five or six years, but Mr. Chambers is now hoping to arrange a practice for us one evening at the Cathedral Church of St. Paul (8), which unfortunately cannot muster enough ringers for Sunday service ringing. I believe the last time these bells were rung was on New Year's Eve.

I should like to express my appreciation to Mr. Chambers and his co-ringers for making it possible for me to ring in Durban. In addition he and his wife also kindly called for my friend and I and took us with Colin Stevenson for a scenic drive outside the city and entertained us to tea. It is wonderful that this camaraderie among ringers is apparent all over the globe. Our visit even gained a short notice in the Durban Daily News!!

On June 21st I am hoping to start on an eight-day tour to the Kariba Dam and Victoria Falls and as I shall have two days in Salisbury S. Rhodesia, Colin is kindly arranging for me to sample the bells of the Cathedral (10) there. So if I'm lucky, before I return to England in July, I shall be 'three un' on Pat.

Best wishes to all ringing friends at home.

SYLVIA C. CANNON (Mrs.).

Irene, Transvaal.

An East Anglian Broadcast

Dear Sir.—I must apologise to David Baker and members of Manchester University Guild who did not receive mention for their ringing at Kessingland, in the Central Council's Broadcasting Committee's report. Of course their broadcast was of great interest and it well deserved mention. I am the contact for this area for C.C.B.C., and unfortunately did not see the broadcast, nor did anybody happen to mention it to me.

As usual, I inquired of both B.B.C. and I.T.V., about any broadcasts of ringing, etc., but I do not think they could be blamed for not mentioning it, as it would be very difficult for them to keep tapes on every news item. Perhaps anybody who shares in, or sees or hears, anything of this kind in this area in future would kindly advise me—and the same might well apply in the other areas. I always have a special interest in Kessingland ringing, as it was partly because of a very long meeting of their Parochial Church Council with me, that they spent their money on rehanging and augmenting their fine bells, instead of a ghastly electronic imitation!—Yours sincerely, GILBERT THURLOW.

Norwich.

'Spike' Stays

Dear Sir.—Your Winchester correspondent asks (June 19th) about stays in the form of metal 'spurs' or 'spikes' such as were fitted at St. Laurence's Church. I cannot say who originated this type of stay, but it does seem to have been quite common a hundred or more years ago.

At Mappowder, in Dorset, the tenor (13 cwt. in G) of the 'unringable' ring of five has such a stay, while the other four bells have never been fitted with stays at all! The bells are all 18th century and were rehung in their present frame when the church was restored in the 19th century. (They are wildly out of tune but otherwise appear to be serviceable.)

Two out of the ring of three bells at Wroxall, in Warwickshire, are fitted with these stays. The frame here is 17th century but the stays are probably 19th century replacements. A single bell (by one of the Rudhalls) hung for ringing on the roof of Berrington Hall, Herefordshire, also has a 'spike' stay.

If someone could devise some way in which this type of stay could 'give' when necessary, without being pulled out of the headstock by its screws, I feel that it would be a far simpler and neater alternative both to the cumbersome traditional system of stays and sliders and to the Hastings-type stay—on light bells, at any rate.—Yours faithfully,

CHRISTOPHER DALTON.

Leigh, Surrey.

Dear Sir.—In connection with Mr. W. O. Haythorne's letter (page 416), there is a complete ring of bells fitted with this type of stay at All Saints', Carshalton, Surrey. The bells are a Mears 'six', tenor 12 cwt. in G, cast in 1704, with two trebles added in 1840, since when the bells and frame have had no major attention.

The bells were condemned as practically unsafe and unringable about 50 years ago, but have been rung off and on ever since, and last year the Beddington band rang several quarters of Surprise Major on them. The bells were still ringable up to a month ago, when one of the tenor's gudgeons snapped. It is hoped an appeal for a new frame and fittings may be launched in the near future.—Yours faithfully,

R. J. TALBOT.

Beddington, Surrey.

The Cornish Pasty

Dear Sir.—The Rev. John Scott's odd ode of the Cornish Pasty is most apt as I, too, after having made its acquaintance at Truro, had cause to meditate on the characteristics of this creation. Surely it is the Cornishman's secret weapon, a subtle invention to overcome an unsuspecting enemy! What English (foreign) invader could stomach a fight after partaking of such local produce?

Of course, many of the 'occupied' regions of the British Isles have produced similar devilish devices. The Scots have that fierce-some beastie the haggis, which can strike instant terror into any Sassenach's heart, while the Welsh have the 'rarebit' which is no less potent. And apart from 'blarney' the Irish have their 'poteen' and their stew, which have revelled many a foreign onslaught.

I now retire to a safe distance into my slit trench to withstand the bombardment!

Joking (and pasty!) aside, however, I would like to add my congratulations to the Truro Diocesan Guild on their arrangements for the recent C.C. meeting and to thank them for the warm welcome to the delegates.—Yours sincerely, K. ARTHUR.

Newcastle upon Tyne.

All Ladies' Peal

Dear Sir.—I send my apologies. The footnote to the peal rung at Dinder, Somerset (page 368), is incorrect. There was one peal rung before for the Bath and Wells Association by an all ladies' band, this was in January, 1915, at Portishead.—Yours, etc.,

MARJORIE LEGG.

Extraction of False Course Heads and Their Application

BY JOHN R. KETTERINGHAM

On a number of occasions I have been asked to explain how a composition is proved and this article is the result. The draft has been submitted to a number of people so that the article should be intelligible to all classes of ringer; it may, therefore seem very elementary to some people. I should like to acknowledge the many suggestions made.

We have first to find the False Lead Heads against the first lead of the Plain Course. Write out the first lead of the method (in this case Yorkshire) marking in the position of the treble and if in course (positive) or out of course (negative). Signs are changed when a set of places is made but not if a double set is made as in Cambridge.

Now take the two rows with treble in same place and having same sign and transpose the first row (a) in same way as the relationship of the 2nd row (b) is to rounds. The false lead head is in heavy type.

etc

etc.

Having now found the False Lead Heads against the first lead of the Plain Course, the False Lead Heads for the remaining six leads must be produced and then next to transpose False Lead Heads to False Course Heads. I have set out the complete

CAMBRIDGE AT CRICKET

On June 11th a cricket match was played between the Cambridge University Guild and the Trumpington Elders (a team of local ringers) at the Selwyn ground. Brown and Smith opened confidently for the Elders against Cooke and the guile of Threlfall who, carefully calculating the trajectory, bowled Smith with a high full toss. Hayes then got rid of Brown (caught to the surprise of all, by Rogers), Gpison, whose bucolic swipe missed completely, and Pearson. Thoday, captaining the side, came out, immaculate in his white flannels, surveyed the field and was bowled first ball. The position was restored by Murfet and Lucas who attacked the unorthodox bowling with shots all round the field. A collapse occurred in the final overs and the innings closed at 90 for 8 wickets.

For the Guild, the Master and Miss Slow, in her first game of cricket, opened cautiously against Brown's slow lobbs and Thoday's fast bowling, but the Master was soon out, blaming his eyesight. By the fifth over, Miss Slow had scored two and had lost four partners, all for ducks, the secretary losing the ball in the clouds, and Hudson forgetting to move his bat. Cooke looked dangerous until Lucas bowled him with a professional looking break-back.

Miss Dillamore then joined Miss Slow and so appealed to the gentlemanly instincts of Murfet and Thoday that they bowled as tamely as possible. The ladies stayed in as Thoday bowled faster and faster. The stalemate was halted in the 17th over by Miss Slow's retirement to a party, but, after a bright knock by Hayes, it took Bishop's bodyline full tosses to cause Miss Dillamore's retirement, a most ungentelemanly piece of play according to the spectators. Nutton and Rogers had a vociferous partnership until Rogers, exhausted after running three, was bowled by Lucas. Threlfall came in past his wife fielding at mid-on, and left at once without damaging his newly oiled bat by contact with the ball. The Guild were all out for 49 and lost by 41, although even this is uncertain because of the non-appearance of the scorer. Both sides were grateful to the impartial umpiring of Messrs. Dennis and Ridgman and hope to hold a return fixture next year.

Scores: Trumpington Elders 90 for 8 (G. Lucas 41, D. F. Murfet 20, G. Pearson 10, H. F. Brown 9).

Cambridge University Guild 49 (R. W. H. Hayes 12, J. B. Cooke 10, Miss C. Dillamore 9 ret., Miss H. F. Slow 7 ret.).

HORNCHURCH

A rather ambitious programme was attempted by Hornchurch this year in a visit to the Isle of Wight. The visit had a dual purpose—to see Tom East and, of course, to ring on the island. Tom is now a resident there—a district of ringing scarcity but oddly enough some good bells.

We left Waterloo on the 7.50 a.m. train and those who decry the Southern and Dr. Beeching please note that we were ringing in Ryde by 10.30 a.m. Brading, Newport, Catisbrooke and Godshill followed in succession.

Good meals, near perfect timekeeping, giving us ample time for refreshment, and a cheap coach, together with a fine day and some good scenery, gave us a wonderful time. The island makes a good day's outing, preferably early in the year; Tom will be overjoyed to fit you in.

Thanks Tom, good luck, we wished you well traditionally at both ends of the pier, on the train and finally at Waterloo. F. V. G.

TONBRIDGE, KENT

On June 6th Tonbridge ringers, together with friends from Edenbridge, visited towers in the lovely byways of Sussex. Unfortunately, due to a dull rainy day the countryside could not be seen at its best.

Mayfield was the first tower where the difficult six called for all our resources to ring them reasonably well. After visiting Heathfield we came into Kipling country to the very interesting church of St. Bartholomew, Burwash, where an hour was spent ringing various methods which made us appreciate the enjoyable salad tea which followed.

We then made our way to Salehurst for some good ringing on the fine eight and also on the lovely eight at Wadhurst, which was our last tower.

A vote of thanks must be recorded to the incumbents, the local ringers who met us, and to Mr. L. T. Pope for his excellent organisation. A. A. L.

OUTINGS*ST. PETER'S SOCIETY, BRIGHTON

Choosing June 13th for the outing may well have caused the rain to fall, but the organiser could not be blamed for that. Apart from the weather, everything went well. This year we were pleased to have a fair sprinkling of Sussex University ringers among our 41 passengers, two of whom were seen to deposit a coffin-shaped box into the coach boot. Refreshments? Most unlikely.

So off to a prompt start, reaching Dartford where we rang Cambridge and other methods. Prior to entering the tunnel into Essex, a coach pulled abreast of ours, containing fellow ringers from Balcombe, also on an outing to Essex. Shouted greetings were exchanged at this coincidence. We made for Brentwood to ring the eight there, prior to an excellent lunch at 'Les Cuisiniers.' At Chelmsford Cathedral, two of our party were seen to deposit the aforementioned box, still heavily loaded, into the churchyard, where a passer-by respectfully raised his hat.

Ringling the 12 bells was a new experience for many as we have no 12 in Sussex. Commencing with rounds, we progressed to Grand-sire and Stedman Cinques, three leads of K. T. B. Maximus, finishing with a well-struck course of Stedman on the back eight! On descending to the churchyard, rumour had it that a car was seen to have been driven away with the embarrassing box. In any case, it was the last we saw of it and certainly was not on board from then on. A hasty check revealed no missing members of our party.

At Waltham Abbey, another 12 (tenor 38.3.21) the pattern of ringing was similar to Chelmsford, but it was here that one of our lightweight lady ringers gracefully lowered the tenor, albeit we were ringing rounds at the time. Refreshed by tea at Warren Patisseries, our homeward journey was broken at Stepney for a ring on the ten at St. Dunstan's. The final ring was at St. Mary's, Lewisham. Being

H.M. the Queen's official birthday, it was appropriate that many flags were flying from the towers we visited. To the Honours List we would like to add the names of those who kindly gave permission for us to ring, those who gave up their time to greet us, and to our organiser who so ably did the arranging.

A. W. B.

PORTISHEAD AND WRAXALL

Fine, warm Saturdays have been scarce this summer, but we were favoured with one in mid-June and a full coach-load of ringers and friends made the very best use of it. Ringing commenced at Chewton Mendip, generally accepted as having one of the finest 8's in Britain. It would be sacrilege to ring these bells badly, but we left the church without any feeling of guilt. Our visit to Mere was not our first, a fact which speaks for itself. The visitors' book reminded us that we had last called there during our outing of 1956: once again, we greatly enjoyed the experience.

We ate our sandwiches at Shaftesbury before proceeding through some typically lovely Dorset country to Wimborne St. Giles. The bells are a very good-going eight, but a little noisy from the ringing chamber. Well, it was soon after lunch on a very warm afternoon and, frankly, the ringing here was not as good as it should have been. We arrived at Dorchester 'bang on time' for high tea at the 'Wessex,' then followed some very enjoyable ringing at St. Peter's Church, in the company of Mr. R. H. Duke. The evening ringing at Crewkerne went like clockwork, the final touch of Stedman being a fitting 'top of the bill' to the day's proceedings.

Handbells, refreshments at Glastonbury and some lusty singing kept us all alive on the way home. We were privileged to have the company of the Rev. R. O. Fry, now a Portishead ringer, and, because of him, the ringing was of a higher standard than hitherto.

The 81st birthday of Mr. Arthur Tomlinson, of Blackburn Cathedral, who is a life vice-president of the Lancashire Association, was honoured by a peal at Farnworth-with-Kearsley on June 21st. The peal had one of those unpronounceable names, Vyrnwy Surprise Major, criticised so strongly at Truro. It is really a variation of Superlative. By the way, I am told that Arthur Tomlinson has rung more peals for the Lancashire Association than any other member, the last report giving his total as 670. He has had three spells on the Central Council, the first starting in 1930.

The peal rung at Norton, Yorks, on June 6th was also for the Beverley and District Society.

Miss Susan Chaddock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Chaddock, of Rotherham, has obtained an Honours (Upper 2) Degree in Zoology at Nottingham University.

Holiday-makers are reminded that Ottery St. Mary practice night is on Mondays. A holiday welcome awaits them, and also at the Sunday ringing.

As a peal of Spliced Plain and Little Bob Major rung at Sutterton, Lincs, for the Vicar's birthday unfortunately proved to be false, it is hoped that the peal of Yorkshire at Pinchbeck will prove an acceptable substitute.

The Peterborough Guild is grateful to Mr. Peter Newstead and the Yarmouth ringers and to the Norwich Diocesan Guild for permitting the Peterborough Guild to achieve its first peal of Stedman Cinques; also to Messrs. J. L. Millhouse and G. B. Parker, from Lincoln, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Ivin, from Bedford, for taking part.

It is many years since a peal was rung at Llangollen, and that rung on June 20th was a compliment to Chancellor Dr. Alun Thomas, Vicar of Llangollen and president of the North Wales Association, on completing 40 years in the ministry. Thanks are due to Mr. Bailey and members of the local band for providing an excellent tea, which Dr. Alun Thomas attended. Great credit is due to Miss Carter, who although feeling unwell after an hour's ringing carried on until the end.

BELFRY GOSSIP

In connection with the Rev. A. S. Roberts' entertaining front page article (issue June 19th), a correspondent points out that the coronation of George V was in 1911 and not 1910. The year 1911 was marked by four important things (he adds): The coming of 'The Ringing World,' a brilliant summer, the coronation and the winning of the cricket championship by Warwickshire!

The Suffolk Guild have new officers. Mr. G. W. Pipe is now Ringing Master and Mr. Andrew T. Beckwith, 76, Digby Road, Ipswich, general secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Norman Chaddock has already been booked for five talks on his Washington visit. He gave the first, which included tape recordings of Dean Sayres' farewell remarks and prayer prior to the peal, to Rotherham Rotary Club on June 17th.

Mr. Crawford T. Hillis, honorary secretary of Ashford District, Kent County Association, visited Mr. Ted Ruck, the sole surviving founder member of the Association in hospital on his 97th birthday. Mr. Ruck still enjoys good health for his age.

Mr. R. A. Welton writes that the outing of St. Paul's, Burton, in Yorkshire on June 6th was the most enjoyable one day outing he had participated in. He congratulates Mr. George Rowbotham on the splendid organisation, which included the choice of towers and restaurants.

Mrs. A. P. Cannon, who writes about her experiences in South Africa in this week's issue, has had the pleasure of ringing at both St. Paul's and St. Mary's, Durban, and at Salisbury Cathedral, Southern Rhodesia, where she met Mr. Colin Stevenson, late of Harlington, Middlesex. She is due home on July 17th.

In view of his distinguished services to the Guild, Mr. R. L. Roper, of Adderbury, was elected an honorary life vice-president of the Oxford Diocesan Guild last Saturday. Mr. Roper has resigned the office of honorary librarian as he is leaving the Oxford Diocese to live in Yorkshire near his daughter and son-in-law in Wakefield. A true librarian, Mr. Roper claims to have read every copy of 'The Bell News' and 'The Ringing World.'

THE LADIES' GUILD

Western District

A very warm welcome awaited the Western District at Banwell for their quarterly meeting on June 13th. Local ringers were present to introduce them to these fine bells. The Vicar, the Rev. J. Bromwich, conducted the service and gave a most stimulating address. The organist was there to accompany the singing, the ladies of the parish had prepared a really sumptuous tea, but the attendance was rather disappointing.

At the short business meeting the secretary pointed out an alteration in the circulated programme—the next quarterly meeting will be at Compton Martin on September 12th, while the December meeting will be at Beckington. The secretary also drew attention to the evening practices to be held at Portbury on July 17th and Kewstoke on August 17th.

It was agreed that Mrs. Parfrey, Mrs. de Jong, Mrs. Bennet and Miss Johnson should represent the Western District at the annual meeting at Macclesfield.

As it would appear that a very warm welcome awaits the Ladies' Guild at Compton Martin, it is to be hoped that all members will make a real effort to be present.

COMMEMORATING A CENTENARY

MR. Frederick Sharpe's book on 'The Church Bells of Guernsey, Alderney and Sark' was intended to mark the centenary of the first book on English church bells, by W. C. Lukis, published in 1857. He had visited these Channel Islands twice, in 1952 and 1956, and on the second occasion made notes on the bells in 18 churches and took rubbings and photographs of most of them. His election as president of the Central Council in 1957, which extended over a period of six years, left him no spare time, and it was not until 1963 that he could complete the manuscript.

Two of our noted antiquarians—the Rev. W. C. Lukis and Dr. Amherst D. Tyssen—had made surveys of Guernsey bells. Mr. Lukis left behind details of 29 bells in Guernsey, and Dr. Tyssen, after a visit in 1907, left notes and rubbings of the bells in ten ancient parish churches. Of the 29 mentioned by Lukis, 45 per cent. have perished, and of 30 described by Tyssen, Mr. Sharpe records that 27 per cent. have been melted down. There are 62 bells in the 18 churches in Guernsey, and these come under the following classification: Rings of eight, six and four bells, one each; four rings of three bells; a chime of 11 bells; four chimies of three bells; one of two bells, and seven single bells. Chronologically, the classification is mediæval, 2; 17th century, 5; 18th century, 8; 19th century, 19; modern, 18; of uncertain age, 10.

The history of the Channel Islands is reflected in the bells. The oldest bell is in the Church of St. Philip, Torveval, and is dated 1432 and is thought to be of French origin for two reasons. Gothic characters used in the inscription were not in use at that time by English founders, and by the French word 'lan' introduced into the inscription. The other mediæval bell is the treble of three bells at St. Pierre-du-Bois. This was cast in the mediæval Exeter foundry, and the book is enriched by a chapter written by the Rev. John G. M. Scott on this foundry. The bell, states Mr. Scott, belongs to the first group of coin-bearing bells and was probably cast by Robert Russell between 1486 and 1504. There were also three Exeter bells in the Church of St. Michael, Vale. These bells were, however, recast by John Warner and Sons in 1891, making a ring of six with a tenor of 7½ cwt. A tablet in the church records the original inscriptions.

To the peal-ringing fraternity Vale is not an 'unconquered' tower. A peal in seven Minor methods was rung here in 1959 by Messrs. A. P. Cannon, W. S. Deason, Robin G. Leale, Philip Mehew, E. J. Munday and John D. Rock. The same band had a second success on the island of Alderney by ringing a peal of Cambridge Surprise Minor. Alderney was originally a Mears ring of six of 1849. They were removed during the German occupation, the intention being to turn them into munitions. Happily, peace came; for a time the bells were hung in the churchyard and were struck for service. John Taylor and Co. recast the bells in 1953 to commemorate the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, and they were rehung in the central tower.

French bells are plentiful on Guernsey. Seven were cast between 1680–85 by Paul Bowidon, whom Tyssen considers learned the art of bell-founding from a French founder. The conclusion is that he carried on his business in the island, but it is significant that 60 years before there was a J. Bowidon and Le Jeune Bowidon casting bells in Normandy. However, the genuine French products are the 12 bells cast by Brocards of Lorraine in 1736, but the view of Tyssen was that the actual casting was done in Guernsey by a member of the firm. The Brocards had many noted bells to their credit: the bourdon of Poitiers Cathedral, the town bell of Rennes and at Bayeux Cathedral. A clockmaker, Nicholas Blondel, cast the bell for St. Sampson's in 1759, and it is similar in style, moulding and inscriptions to the Brocard bells.

The only ring of eight is in St. Peter's Church, St. Peter's Port, and these were cast by the Brocards. The tenor was of a ton and the treble as light as 2 cwt. 3 qr. Dr. Tyssen, in his notes, comments that the trebles were cast far too thin and light for swinging bells and were more suitable for chimies and carillons. The bell rope circle is anti-clockwise and there is an Ellacombe chiming apparatus. A new ring of eight was recast by Cornille-Havard, of Villedieu, France, in 1913. They have ornamental canons of the French type and the inscription bands are filled with ornamental borders.

Messrs. Mears and Stainbank are represented by a chime of 11 bells at the R.C. Church of St. Joseph, by three bells at St. Mary's, Castel, and as far back as 1778 they recast the three bells at St. Andrew's Church. There are also 11 from the Cripplegate foundry of Messrs. J. Warner and Sons.

The value of this book is enhanced by the extensive introduction occupying some 12 pages, in which the author summarises the history of bell-founding and the development into change-ringing. It is purposely included to add to the appeal of the book to the non-ringing fraternity, and we cannot recall having read better-made material for a lecture than Mr. Sharpe here provides. We feel certain that many of our readers will find it most useful.

This book is very well illustrated with 23 plates and 14 scale drawings, and is obtainable from the author, Frederick Sharpe, 'Derwen,' Launton, Bicester, Oxon; price 8s. 6d.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD FESTIVAL

MR. ROPER ELECTED A VICE-PRESIDENT—HIGHER STANDARD IN BELFRIES DEMANDED
'LEADERS SHOULD BE CHURCHMEN FIRST AND FOREMOST'

ALTHOUGH New College and Magdalene bells were not available because of bell-hanging and Merton had a special function where only a picked band rung, there was a substantial list of towers available for the Oxford Diocesan Guild Festival on June 27th and the same large happy throng of ringers to take advantage of the facilities afforded.

As in recent years proceedings started with a Corporate Communion service in St. Aldate's Church, at which the Master (Canon C. Elliot Wigg) was the celebrant. The service in the Cathedral was also conducted by the Master with the Deputy Master (Mr. F. Sharpe) reading the lesson. The choir of ringers, with the Guild's banner held aloft, made an impressive procession and the singing was full-throated, the team spirit of ringers being well manifested.

Canon E. W. Perkins, chairman of the East Berks Branch and Rector of Slough, was the preacher. As the father of a daughter who rang he denied emphatically that he commented on her ringing that she rang harder and faster than anyone else in the tower! 'I know it is a principle of your craft that you can never be a good bell-ringer unless you have learned to ring with other people and learned the discipline of serving with other people.'

The loss of happiness through disobedience was one of the oldest things in their religion. The Bible began with an extraordinarily entrancing story of great truth and insight. The story of Eden was that there was one thing required in life—that they should be obedient to the will of God. Then came the great temptation—the temptation that had beset man throughout history—the voice of the serpent. 'Don't believe it. Why should you trust Him? Be independent. Live in your own right and be free.'

ROSY APPLES OF TODAY

They were told by legend that it was a rosy apple that Eve offered Adam. Never before in human history has a section of mankind been surrounded by so many rosy apples as today. Man had become antagonistic and for the time being it was difficult to make His voice audible to mankind.

They were told that man was driven out of the garden of his happiness and at the entrance there was an angel with a flaming sword. The New Testament told something different—that standing at the gate was a Saviour, a conqueror of sin and death and there true happiness would be found in the performance and freedom in God's service.

Somebody said: 'Love God and do as you please.' If you do love God, doing as you please will always be in performing God's service.

THE MEETING

The meeting was held in the Chapter House with the Master in the chair. Presenting the printed reports the Master said they seemed to be the best ever in the way they were set out. He would like to thank Mr. Philip Walker for a beautifully produced report.

The Master in his report said young people today were accustomed to high standards of comfort and efficiency, both at home and in school life. In bell ringing, which was undertaken on a purely voluntary basis, there must therefore be a standard which they expect as a matter of course in their other activities. For example, ringing chambers should be comfortable, clean and properly heated in winter. The type of draughty, cold and dingy room, which they sometimes encountered should never be tolerated.

The tower foreman should be able to rely on the incumbent and P.C.C. to see the ringers were properly housed. Everything then depends upon the leadership of the tower foreman and senior members of the band, which must be imaginative and progressive. Young people easily become bored if the ringing instructor was too stereotyped. 'Gimmicks' designed to stimulate interest should not be despised. Progress charts, proficiency badges, 'pen-friendships' kept up between towers sharing the same name and dedication in different parts of the country, handbell sessions including tune ringing at carol services, frequent quarter peal attempts, the observance of an annual ringers' Sunday and many other ideas which the ingenuity of the leader could suggest should be faithfully attempted.

MR. H. L. ROPER, the new vice-president, who had been librarian of the Guild since 1956.

Suggestions also contained in the Master's report were training certificates to tower leaders who had undergone a course of instruction in leadership and an inter-branch striking competition.

1,500 MILES ON GUILD'S WORK

The Deputy Master wrote that he had inspected and reported on the condition of bells and gear in 14 towers and in several instances on the structure and stability of towers. He had also inspected completed work where Guild restoration grants had been made. He had given nine lectures on bells and ringing, in addition to talks on bells to non-ringers and P.C.C.'s. The work had involved travelling just over 1,500 miles of which 576 were for attending branch meetings.

In his experience the interest and activities of the Guild were well maintained. They were certain to have some 'black spots' where little or no Sunday service ringing took place, but it was surprising how a few keen churchmen could alter such situations. The important point was to ensure that newly-appointed leaders were churchmen first and foremost. 'We have lost recently a number of that stalwart type, the ringer-chorister. May I appeal to the younger members to fill the ranks of these faithful servants of our Guild and Church?'

MEMBERSHIP STANDARDS

The hon. general secretary reported a decline of membership which now stood at 1,888 (ringing 1,797, life 31, honorary 62) compared with 1,934 (ringing 1,836, life 37, honorary 61). This might be due to the fact that all branches were now only returning the lists of paid-up members. Certificates issued in 1963 totalled 181 and this should result in membership allowing for normal loss. The question had been raised as to whether the Guild should set an 'unofficial' standard before accepting members. No one wished to see the return of the old rule of 120 changes on the treble, which led to the exclusion of regular churchmen who did no change ringing. In addition the Guild had admitted 48 non-resident members and they had lost by death 12 members.

The University, College and School ringing societies continued to gain strength. Both Culham College and Wallingford Grammar School had rung peals and other schools had quarter peals to their credit. Due to the encouragement of the Principal, a number of students at Cuddesdon Theological College were learning to ring. Rippon Hall had several students who could ring or were learning to ring.

The report of the hon. general treasurer stated that the general funds of the Guild amounted to £1,836 4s. 3d. of which £1,584 15s. 4d. was in the Restoration Fund.

The hon. librarian (Mr. H. L. Roper) reported that 175 peals had been published as having been rung for the Guild in 1963, a number exceeded only by the Lancashire Association and Leicester Diocesan Guild. He proposed to move outside the Diocese and could not, therefore, accept a further term of office. He and Mrs. Roper would like to thank all the members for the warm welcome they always received at the meetings.

ELECTIONS OF OFFICERS

There was only one change in the officers—Mr. H. L. Roper retiring from the post of hon. librarian. Canon C. E. Wigg was elected Master and Mr. F. Sharpe, Deputy Master. Thanking members for re-electing him hon. treasurer, Mr. A. D. Barker said that next year he would have held the job for 30 years and he would like by then to see the total assets of the Guild at £2,000. Miss M. R. Cross continues as hon. secretary.

The new hon. librarian is the Rev. E. Wood, chairman of the Reading Branch, who lives at Mapledurham Vicarage, Reading. There were a number of tributes to Mr. Roper's work. Miss Cross mentioned that Mr. Roper had brought the Guild records up-to-date. Mr. W. Birmingham spoke of the hours he had spent on research and his proposal that Mr. Roper be elected a vice-president was carried with acclamation.

Acknowledging the compliment, Mr. Roper said he had enjoyed the job immensely. He had access to all the books in the library. He was going to boast—he had read from every page of 'The Bell News,' first dated 1881 to the last page of 'The Ringing World' last Friday. There was a great deal of valuable stuff in those old volumes and sometime, when he had time, he was going to make an index.

Mrs. A. D. Barker, A. Diserens, Miss D. Fletcher, E. E. Pearson, P. Walker and F. A. White were elected to the General Committee. Mr. P. Walker, report editor; Ernest Francis and Son, Reading, hon. auditors.

GRANTS

A grant of £50 was given to Coleshill, Berks, where five bells are being augmented to six. A similar grant was made to Northmoor, where there was a complete rehanging in a new frame. It was ascertained that work was likely at Sutton Courtney, Drayton and Birtton.

The meeting confirmed the election of 172 new members. Miss Cross said that was not the complete list; others had been elected by branches.

Upon the proposal of Mr. Kinch, seconded by Mr. Hall, it was decided that the subscription remain at 3s. 6d. as at present.

An inter-branch striking competition was approved. Mr. B. C. Castle said the committee had met on three occasions and it would be held on October 24th, probably at Radley. Before that date branches would hold their competitions to select their strongest bands.

The meeting confirmed a grant of £10 to Mr. W. Parker who incurred serious injury whilst doing maintenance work in Finchampstead tower.

The Deputy Master said Mr. Parker had put his foot in the wheel of an adjoining bell when it descended. He was thrown across the belfry and sustained a nasty injury. The Guild were morally bound to stand by him.

Mr. Barker said he wrote to the Ecclesiastical Insurance office and Mr. Parker had received £5 a week for 17 weeks. He was not yet back at work.

It was decided 'to keep an eye' on the case.

SAFFRON WALDEN'S GREAT RINGING DAY

The meeting approved of an honorarium of £10 10s. being made to the Deputy Master towards the expenses incurred by him while carrying out bell inspections in the Oxford Diocese.

Supporting a grant of £5 5s. being made towards the expenses of the American tour. Mr. Roper said those who went to Washington really did something for ringing. They created a great deal of enthusiasm and they all knew what the Americans could do when they got enthusiastic. This Washington visit might be the beginning of change ringing in America.

LADY CHORISTERS

The Deputy Master said in respect of the service this year they had applications from several lady choristers to robe and join the choir for the Cathedral service. He saw the Dean who said that as far as he was concerned personally he would not object. He could not give permission as it had to go before the Chapter. The Dean had promised a ruling in ample time for next year's service.

The vote of thanks was proposed by the Deputy Master and included the Dean and Chapter and College authorities at Christ Church, the steward and domestic staff, Mr. Philip Walker who had done the lion share of the ringing arrangements, the choir and people from Winslow who paid for the choir-boys, and Mr. H. Langrish, the organist for the service.

The Master called attention to Mr. Fredk Sharpe's book on the bells of Guernsey, Alderney and Sark, which was being published that day for 8s. 6d.

THE LUNCHEON

The luncheon was held in the hall of Christ Church and attended by a company of 150. The Master presided and among the guests were the Archdeacon of Oxford (the Ven. C. Witton-Davies), the Rev. M. Melville (Master of the Southwell Diocesan Guild) and Mr. Wilfrid G. Wilson (Master of the London County Association).

The toast of 'Church and State' was proposed by Mr. H. L. Roper, who described the speech as his swan song to the Guild. He said that but for the Church there would be no bells, and they were inclined to take it for granted that it was the Church's bells which they rang for their own pleasure and enjoyment. But this privilege of ringing carried with it certain responsibilities—ringing regularly on Sundays and in training young ringers, and they all knew even with the best of hands what happened if youngsters were not being trained. Another responsibility they should be prepared to shoulder was the provision of bells for the future. Ringers often remarked that the responsibility was on the Parochial Church Council. It was up to ringers, he contended, to see that there was a belfry fund in every tower with a little put away each year against emergencies.

The Archdeacon replied.

Miss Cross in proposing 'the Visitors' thanked Canon Perkins for his inspired sermon, she welcomed Mr. Wilson as Master of the London County Association (he is also vice-president of the Oxford Diocesan Guild), and the Rev. M. Melville.

Mr. Melville in his reply mentioned his meeting unexpectedly in Massachusetts with Miss Cross, and how they both happened to jump off the same train. In proposing the health of 'the Guild,' Mr. Melville said he did not think any Guild was better served by its officers and stalwarts. That morning it was a delight to see Mr. Walter Judge steering a couple of 12-year-old youngsters through a course of Grandsire Cinques.

The Master replied.

The company then dispersed for ringing and Mr. F. Sharpe took a party up Christ Church tower to see 'Big Tom.'

SUBSCRIPTION FORMS

Were distributed to all Postal Subscribers last week in the hope that they would use them to introduce new readers now that another quarter has started. If you cannot find a new subscriber buy one for the tower. Reduced rates for second and subsequent members (see page 468). We are still waiting for a number of renewals.

IN perfect weather the 341st anniversary of Great Ringing Day was held at Saffron Walden on June 27th, the 50th anniversary of the opening of the bells after being augmented from eight to 12 in June, 1914.

Mr. R. C. Heazel, Master of the Essex Association, was the first visitor to arrive and was soon followed by a party of 30, organised by Mr. Charles Willmington, from the South-West Essex Division.

The usual service was held at noon, conducted by Canon R. Chute, who was deputising for the Vicar. The theme of his sermon was 'Teamwork.' After a good touch of Stedman Cinques lunch was served in the Parish Room, 49 sitting down.

The bells were kept going all the afternoon in methods on eight, 10 and 12 bells till 5 p.m. when tea was taken. After tea ringing continued until 7.30 p.m., all agreeing it had been a good ringing day. The ringers would like to thank the Church Ladies' Committee who arranged the lunch and tea.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

Southern District

The quarterly meeting of the Southern District was held at Nutfield on June 20th. Ringing commenced promptly at 3 p.m. and continued until 4.30 p.m. when tea was taken at the Crown Inn. Due to a misunderstanding, no service was held and members returned to the Belfry for the business meeting only. 21 signed the visitors' book, a small number for this usually well-attended meeting. Ringing was somewhat restricted and the meeting closed at 7.30 p.m.

The meeting at Godstone on July 18th has been cancelled as the Kent County Ass. are unable to join us on that day.

LAVENHAM'S RINGING DAY

On June 20th ringers from various towers from Essex, Suffolk, Norfolk, Cheshire and Derbyshire attended the annual ringing anniversary, keeping the bells going from 2.30 to 8.30 p.m. Methods rung were Plain Bob, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich Major. Grandsire and Stedman Triples. M. T. S.

Letters to the Editor

When visiting—Points to remember

Dear Sir.—I was sorry to read of the complaint from Lavenham of the bad ringing by visiting bands on their outings. Whatever the cause of this particular complaint I think the attention of tower captains and outing organisers should be drawn to the necessity (I put it no less) of their choosing towers for their outing programme where the ringing of the bells is well within the capabilities of their band.

It is a fact that only too often this requirement is either overlooked or disregarded. I would not for one moment discourage the desire to ring in fresh towers. To explore fresh fields is an excellent way to improve one's ringing but if such visits result in bad performances no one gains.

The weight of probably all rings of bells in this country can be found in 'Wove's' so this need not be a problem in planning an outing. Information about 'go' and length of rope can usually be obtained from Association officials, who I have found, very often can help with useful suggestions for a manageable programme.

I have been arranging tower outings since the early 20's and the number of times I have been refused a tower is so small that for practical purposes it could be said to be nil. This generous hospitality extended to my party has always been respected and appreciated and this is the point of my writing this letter.

Let us always remember we are guests in other towns. The local inhabitants within earshot are our audience and we have no right to inflict bad ringing on them. So many ringers forget this audience once they are in the ringing chamber in their eagerness to see if they can manage this, that or the other method, which sometimes means invoking the age-old but still regrettable device of putting all the beginners in one touch to get them out of the way. It is a pity that this vast audience outside the tower is not remembered on all ringing occasions.

The bells should always be raised in some sort of order to avoid unmusical clashing even if in the last resort this means raising them singly.

I consider it a good plan, too, to ensure that the first and last touch at each tower visited is well struck: the former will ease the unexpectedness of hearing the bells at unusual times and the latter will do much to leave behind a good impression of the visitors (others may then be welcome). Some people will say that the public don't appreciate what is rung. This is arguable but suffice to say at the moment that rhythmic striking is less jarring to the unappreciative listener than 'rough stuff'. And, unless the ringing is reasonable, the same can be said of 'tenor behind' methods as opposed to 'tenor in'.

All this might sound a bit restrictive but it isn't. Anyone who has been on our outings knows that and the reason, I think, is that the good ringing we seek to achieve on this basis enables us to hear the bells to their best advantage and also avoids ruffled tempers either inside or outside the tower. — Yours sincerely,

P.S.—If some of your ringers have enjoyed ringing Lavenham bells on outings as I have, don't forget the recent appeal for help there.—Ivor Heath. FRED. GOODFELLOW.

School handbell ringer at TV Studios

Dear Sir.—It was a red-letter day for the handbell ringers of St. Lawrence's Junior School, Gnosall, when Barney Bamford, of the B.B.C., paid a visit to the school to record items by the handbell ringers, with Glockenspiels and a Melodica.

As a result of this visit they were invited to the B.B.C. Television studio at Birmingham, where tele recordings were made for the programme 'Six-Ten,' and further items for use in future programmes.

It certainly was a great privilege and pleasure to spend the afternoon in the studio, and the children (aged nine to 11 years) will long remember, and talk of cameras, lights, microphones, etc., to their less lucky and envious friends.

The staff and technicians of the B.B.C. were kindness itself to the children, and even when it was discovered that by an oversight there was no piano in the studio there was no panic, and a new mini-piano was hired and in the studio within 20 minutes, and everyone was well satisfied with the results of the afternoon 'on the set'.

By the time this letter appears in 'The Ringing World' the recorded items for 'Six-Ten' may already have been seen on television, but others will appear in due course.—Yours, etc.,

Gnosall, Stafford. E. M. KEY (Mrs.).

Spliced Surprise Major on Handbells

Dear Sir.—I am sure the Exercise will congratulate the talented handbell band at Harrow on ringing a peal of Spliced Surprise Major on handbells in 18 methods.

Also to congratulate Chris Woolley on being the first to ring 100 Surprise peals on handbells.—Yours etc.,

Braintree, Essex. EDWIN JENNINGS.

P.S.—Many will desire to re-iterate the congratulations expressed by Mr. Jennings.—Ed.

In and Out of Course

Dear Sir.—Unfortunately Mr. W. O. Haythorne's method of determining in and out of course changes (page 432) is incorrect. Consider 1432—this row is out of course, yet on summing the number of places away from home of each bell, we have the number 4. Also consider 2431—this is in course, yet on summing we have 6—certainly not a multiple of four.

I would be surprised to see a method easier than that of John David (page 396).—Yours sincerely,

St. Albans, Herts. K. J. DARVILL.

'Spur' stays in Kent

Dear Sir.—Mr. Haythorne's letter (p. 416), is of considerable interest, as there are several examples in Kent.

At St. Lawrence, Godmersham, a ring of five tenor 14 cwt. approx. cast by Christopher Hodson in the late 17th century, the bells apparently retain their original fittings, including spur staves identical with those on the Winchester bell. Unfortunately, these bells are in a very bad condition, and half-buried in bird debris. They are 'clocked.'

The beautiful church of St. Mary, Westwell, has a ring of four tenor 12 cwt. with a similar arrangement. Unfortunately the No. 3 is cracked, and the remainder unringable, but well looked after.

There is a single stay of this sort on the No. 2 of the unringable six. (Tenor 9½ cwt.) at Eastling: here the tenor is cracked, but, as at Westwell, the remainder are swing-chimed. Here there is a very interesting set of 18th century ringers' rules.

In Canterbury there are two churches with this sort of stay—but with a difference: the stay is vertical, about one foot long, and engages with a horizontal slider half-way down the frame. These are the churches of St. Paul (3: 7 cwt.), of which the tenor was recast by S. B. Goslin in 1902, when the arrangement may have been made; and St. Martin, which were refitted about 1920. Here however the arrangement is in iron throughout. These bells (3: 7 cwt.), have some pretensions to being ringable.

Mr. S. B. Goslin also cast the treble, 2, and 3 of St. Alphege, Canterbury (6: 74 cwt.) in 1893-4, but there are no traces of this arrangement there. The bells were rebung later, but in the original frame. His remaining bell in Canterbury, the treble at St. Margaret's (1902), along with its two companions (Tenor 6 cwt.), is stayless.

There is another arrangement—a full stay, but a half slider—in use on some of the rough five (12 cwt.) at Newchurch, Kent.

If Mr. Haythorne feels a 'double-stay' is 'fiendish' he is right: there is one on the tenor at Bridge, Kent. (3: 10 cwt.)—Yours faithfully,

DAVID L. CAWLEY.

Whitstable, Kent.

Old Peals at Margate

Dear Sir.—In the ringing chamber of St. John's Church, Margate, a peal board records that on Thurs. Jan. 29th, 1824, 5040 Grandsire Triples was rung by members of the Quex Institution in 2 hrs. 58 mins. The composition contained 194 hobs and 46 singles and was conducted by William Shipway. The composer's name is not mentioned. A second board records a further peal of Grandsire Triples rung on Sat. Dec. 12th, 1885, conducted by L. Willshire. This contained 98 hobs and 2 singles and again the composer's name is not mentioned. In the former the conductor rang the 6th and in the latter the 2nd. I am wondering if any of your readers can identify and provide me with the figures of these compositions from the information given.—Yours faithfully,

FRANK C. W. KNIGHT.

Ramsgate.

MIDLAND COUNTIES GUILD

Hon. Secretary Approaching His
1,000th PEAL

BURTON, apart from beer, is famed in the Exercise for its pioneer band of Surprise ringers at the latter part of the last century and following World War I for its equally famous Wednesday band, who rang under that talented conductor Mr. M. Swinfield over 230 different compositions of Stedman Triples.

It was at the Church of St. Modwen, Burton, that the Midland Counties Guild held its 18th annual meeting, the Rev. W. V. G. Griffiths, vice-president, being in the chair in the absence of Mr. B. Worthington (president) who sent an apology from his home in Northumberland.

The hon. secretary, Mr. J. W. Cotton, in his annual report said 11 new members had been elected, bringing the total membership to 12 ringing and 16 honorary members. There were many non-resident members. It had been a record year for peals, 41 having been successfully rung, though only 16 resident ringers took part. The leading peal ringers were Messrs. J. W. Cotton 40 (total for Guild 465, grant total nearly 1,000 which notable milestone he would shortly pass), John K. Smith 29, Richard J. Clifton 25, Derek P. Jones 20. Leading conductors were Messrs. D. P. Jones 16, Roland Beniston 11.

Surprise methods rung by the Guild for the first time were Quodgley Major and Royal, Feering, Hitchin, Dorchester, Whitwick, Zurich, Vancouver and Amsterdam Major. For these achievements thanks were expressed to the many non-resident members who made up the bands. Mr. Cotton also submitted a report on the 1963 Central Council meeting at Great Yarmouth.

Mr. J. H. Brittain, hon. treasurer, reported that the Guild's finances were in a healthy state, the balance in the general fund standing at £137, with £18 in the belfry repair fund.

Officers elected were: President, Mr. B. Worthington; vice-president, Rev. W. V. G. Griffiths; chairman, Mr. R. A. Welton, ringing master, Mr. J. K. Smith; treasurer, Mr. J. H. Brittain; auditor, Mr. T. Pryce; secretary, Mr. J. W. Cotton; assistant secretary, Mr. J. K. Smith; committee, Messrs. G. H. Rowe, P. Marriott, G. Roobottom, D. P. Jones.

The hon. secretary proposed that the next annual meeting should be at St. Paul's, Burton, and this was agreed to. The possibility of a dinner in the autumn was discussed and the committee was instructed to explore the idea.

A comprehensive vote of thanks was moved by Mr. Cotton who specially mentioned Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brittain and Mrs. Dunn for the tea which the company enjoyed before going to St. Modwen's Church for two hours' ringing. Visitors welcomed included Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hart, with other friends, from Middlesex who had been having an outing in Leicestershire.

ANOTHER DEVON OUTING

Another of Mr. A. L. Bennett's popular outings was held on Wednesday afternoon, June 17th, when the ringing at Buckfast Abbey included a faultlessly struck extent of Plain Bob Minor rung under the conductorship of Mr. D. Roy Bould. After tea at a local cafe, the next call was at Staverton where the fine-tuned but heavy going ring was sampled. The other tower visited was Dartington, where the party were joined by a few of the locals. Grandsire and Stedman Doubles and call changes were rung here prior to a service, and thanks were again expressed to Mr. A. L. Bennett for the arrangements made.

35426	35426	35426	23456	23456	23456	23456

It will be seen that the tenors are parted in this composition for the first four leads in each part. The bells in seconds and thirds are the same in each part so look for a F.C.H. having 23 at home. There is only one—2354768 7 v 1; 2 v 3; 3 v 2; 5 v 4; 4 v 5; 1 v 7. Transposing the first row in each part by this F.C.H. gives row 'A.' Next look for F.C.H. which will bring 78 together. As the 7th is in 3rds in N.C.H. table so third must be in sevenths in F.C.H. table. The F.C.H.

are 2456738 7 v 1; 1 v 7; 1 v 4; 3 v 2; 2 v 3; 2 v 6; 6745238 6 v 1; 6 v 4; 5 v 5; 4 v 6; 1 v 6; 7 v 7. Transposing gives row 'B' from the first and row 'C' from the second.

Set out below is the table of falseness for the first four leads in each part. I have not set out the falseness for the remainder of the peal with the tenors together as this is a simple transposition by 24365. These four F.C.H.—24365, 2354768, 6745238 2456738—are the only ones of the 15 which are important.

	2	3	4	5	6	7	1
A	273456	273456	273456	273456	—	—	—
B	24365	24365	—	—	24365	—	24365
C	—	—	—	65432	65432	—	—
A	273645	273645	273645	273645	—	—	—
B	26354	26354	—	—	26354	—	26354
C	—	—	—	54632	54632	—	—
A	273564	273564	273564	273564	—	—	—
B	25346	25346	—	—	25346	—	25346
C	—	—	—	46532	46532	—	—

It now remains to check each column of False Course Heads against the corresponding column of Natural Course Heads; if no repetition occurs then, of course, the peal will be true.

I hope the above is intelligible but it is a very difficult subject to explain simply. Should anyone run into difficulties I shall be pleased to help on receipt of a s.a.e.

PEAL RECORD IN COUNCIL CHAMBER

The only peal rung in Devon as a token of respect to the late President Kennedy was one of Grandsire Triples at Buckfast Abbey. The tragic death of the President took place during the term of office of Mr. C. R. Northcott as chairman of Buckfastleigh U.D.C., a close friend of Mr. A. L. Bennett. To mark the event during his term of office, a beautifully prepared record of the peal, suitably framed, has been placed in the Council Chamber.

WEDDING PEAL AT GNOSALL

The wedding took place on Saturday, June 27th, at St. Lawrence's Collegiate Church, Gnosall, between Miss Shirley Dyke and Mr. Rodney Downe. The bride is a niece of Mr. J. W. Dyke, tower keeper, and Mr. Downe is a member of the local band, having served as treasurer during the last four years. The couple left the church through a guard of honour formed by the Gnosall Wolf Cubs. A peal of Minor in seven methods was rung in honour of the event.

OBITUARY

MR. ROBERT FISHER

On the evening of June 23rd, Mr. 'Bob' Fisher passed quietly away in his chair about 15 minutes after returning from practice in his own belfry at East Meon. He was 97, and had lived in the village nearly all his life.

Mr. Fisher helped to re-hang the bells at All Saints' Church after restoration in 1890, and had been a ringer and chorister there for more than 70 years. A carpenter by trade, he started felling and sawing as a boy, with his father: he loved the church and ringing and much of his trade had been followed in making and repairing things in local churches. Recently while at a meeting at Warnford Tower he proudly showed several points of interest on the Tower door which he had made just before the turn of the century.

This aged ringer was invited, and attended the veterans gathering at St. Leonard's, Shore-ditch, a week or two ago and was very happy to have enjoyed such an occasion. Had he lived a few more days he would have been made a life member of the Guild, at the Annual meeting held at Basingstoke by the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild.

The funeral service was held on the following Saturday and the bells fully muffled were rung before and afterwards under the direction of Mr. Ronald Walker, Tower Captain. The Winchester and Portsmouth Guild was represented by Mr. C. E. Bassett, Secretary of the Alton and Petersfield District, and towers represented were Steep, Buriton, Petersfield, East Meon and Warnford.

A quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles followed the service in which Mr. J. E. Clark, a former Tower Captain at East Meon, took part.

THE REV. W. M. K. WARREN

We regret to record the death at Stourpaine, Dorset, on June 13th, of the Rev. W. M. K. Warren, the father of the Rev. H. F. Warren, of Exford, who is the Master of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association. He also was Master of the Association from 1936 to 1948.

Mr. H. J. Sanger writes:

The quarter peal rung at Evercreech on June 26th was a tribute to life and work, in the Diocese, of the Rev. W. M. K. Warren.

From 1936 to 1945 Master of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, he was a member of the 'Wednesday' band which met throughout the 1930's and, of which, several of the band were members.

During his incumbency at Binegar, the old ring of three was restored and augmented to six, in no small measure due to his great effort. His was a delightful personality: he was held in the highest esteem by all ringers and the little gatherings at the Rectory were very happy occasions which will always be remembered.

NORWICH DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION Eastern Branch

The Eastern Branch visited Happisburgh on the Norfolk coast, for a meeting on June 6th. Canon Gilbert Thurlow conducted the service and the Rev. H. R. Chisnell (Rector), played the organ and gave a very interesting address. After a splendid tea the branch chairman (Miss D. E. Lidbetter) presided over the business meeting.

The Revs. A. Glendinning and J. E. Cummins, Rector and Vicar respectively of the Raveningham group of parishes, were elected as honorary members of the Association. Miss C. James, of Lowestoft, was elected a ringing member, and the belfry election of Mr. Cleeve F. Finch was ratified.

Mr. G. Walpole stated that after a delay of over four months the faculty, enabling Norton Subcourse bells to be rehung, had been granted. Votes of thanks were accorded to the Rector and the ladies for preparing the tea.

Next meeting: Lowestoft, September 19th.

THE ORIGIN OF CHANGE RINGING

BY ERNEST WEATHERBY

In the city of Cambridge, England, a monk in the Benedictine Monastery chimed the peal of three bells in the church of St. Benet for all of the services.

During the course of his ringing duties, he found it to be very monotonous continually to chime: 1 2 3, 1 2 3, all the time. Therefore, he varied this by chiming: 1 2 3, 2 1 3, 3 2 1, 3 1 2, 1 3 2, 1 2 3—six changes—all different; and these changes became known as the SIXES before the year 1600.

In 1610, Robert Roan (the monk) extended these changes to be rung on four bells, and discovered that by one bell following the smallest bell (which he called the 'Treble') he was able to chime 24 changes (the extent of changes on four bells 1 3 2 4, 1 3 4 2, when the treble bell was 'leading').

In 1625, he extended his chiming to be rung on six bells, following the same order of one bell to follow the treble bell 1 3 and 1 3, and the other bells to make a 'dodge' together 1 3 2 5 4 6, 1 3 5 2 6 4—thereby he was able to produce 60 changes.

According to his calculations, to find the extent of the changes to be rung on three bells (which was 6 changes), the extent on four bells was 24 changes (4 x 6 equals 24); the extent on five bells was 120 changes (24 x 5 equals 120); and the extent on six bells was 720 changes (120 x 6 equals 720).

He then produced what he called a 'Bob' (which was made at the last 'lead' of the treble bell 1 3 2 5 4 6, 1 2 3 5 6 4), and by using 3 bobs he was able to produce 360 changes (or half the total); by using what he called a 'Single' (1 3 2 5 4 6 to 1 3 2 5 6 4, and then the whole repeated) he produced 720 changes—the extent of changes on six bells.

Robert Roan sent these 720 changes to the Ancient Society of College Youths in 1625.

He was followed by Fabian Stedman who first produced the Grandsire method to be rung on five bells, and with the Tenor bell on six bells. He also produced the method for five bells which is now called after his name Stedman, and which is extended to be rung on eleven bells, and with a tenor bell, on twelve bells.

These changes composed by Robert Roan and now known as change-ringing were rung at the Dedication Ceremony of the Gloria in Excelsis Tower and Bells of Washington National Cathedral on May 7th, 1964.

Mr. Armingher Trollope, when Editor of 'The Ringing World,' found that the initials R.R. were those of Robert Roan, and that Grandsire Bob is now called Plain Bob.

NOTE:—Mr. Weatherby who now lives at Alhambra, California, U.S.A., sent a copy of this to Washington National Cathedral, Kent School and Groton School. In asking for this to be published, Mr. Weatherby states very few ringers know anything about Thomas Roan of Cambridge.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION

STOW-ON-THE-WOLD BRANCH

Members of the Stow-on-the-Wold Branch decided at their meeting at Bourton-on-the-Water, on June 20th, to form a deanery band to provide ringers for 'silent' towers throughout the deanery. The suggestion came from the Rural Dean.

The Rev. I. C. Heron, Rector of Stow-on-the-Wold, stressed the need for greater efforts to provide more Sunday service ringing, especially at towers which had no regular band of ringers. He said he strongly favoured the Rural Dean's idea that ringers should tour the deanery to ring on special occasions, such as confirmations and inductions.

The chairman (the Rev. C. H. Pickthorn) supporting the Rector's view, said that the scheme would mean that towers fortunate enough to have regular Sunday ringing would have to forego a week each month to help towers where there was no ringing at all, but as far as the tower at Bourton-on-the-Water was concerned he would not object to this.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

Steps already taken to visit churches for bell-ringing were mentioned by the secretary (Mr. L. C. Dowdeswell). Ringers from Stow, Longborough and Moreton-in-Marsh met once a month and rang bells at Broadwell for morning service, he said. Efforts had also been made to ring on special occasions and some towers had been visited for harvest festivals. Two ringers from Longborough who rang the bells at Stow on Sunday mornings also went to Moreton-in-Marsh to help out at evening services.

After agreeing unanimously to form a deanery band of ringers, it was further decided to seek reports on all 'silent' towers in the Deanery by the next quarterly meeting in September.

The Rector of Stow-on-the-Wold pointed out that the form of service as laid down by the Association was outdated and that the branch should write to the general secretary suggesting that the form of service be revised. It was agreed to do this for the next meeting at Moreton-in-Marsh, the Vicar there being asked to draw up his own form of service.

A reply from Mr. Charles Rouse, the general secretary, states: 'That the question of revising the form of service will be put on the agenda at the Management Committee's meeting at Gloucester, in October.' He also states that the branch could use their own form of service as drawn up by local rectors.

A short service was held at 4.30 p.m. and was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. C. H. Pickthorn.

During the afternoon, under the direction of the Association Ringing Master, the Rev. F. F. Rigby, several 'touches' of Grandsire and Stedman Triples and Bob Major were rung. Among the 40 ringers present were visitors from St. Albans, Wallingford, Southampton, Witney and Charlbury. Local towers were represented by Bourton-on-the-Hill, Bledington, Bourton-on-the-Water, Longborough, Moreton-in-Marsh and Stow-on-the-Wold. A tribute, dated June 25th, from the Rev. F. F. Rigby, Association Ringing Master, reads: 'The "touch" of Stedman last Saturday will live in my memory.'

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD
Dorchester Branch

Owing to unforeseen circumstances it was necessary to rearrange the Branch practice scheduled to be held on May 30th at Hilton and hold it instead on May 23rd. This was by special request by the boys of Milton Abbey School who maintain the ringing at Hilton. The bells of Hilton (6) were available from 2.40 p.m. and the practice was attended by the Master of the Guild, the Rev. R. N. Longridge, the assistant secretary, Dorchester Branch, Miss B. J. Dyke, members of the Dorchester Branch, members of the North Dorset Branch and ringers from Milton Abbey School.

A shortened form of evensong was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. G. A. Thomas), after which members were entertained to refreshments in Anstey Village Hall. Ringing was then resumed until about 8 p.m.

UNIVERSITY OF SHEFFIELD GUILD

Fourteen members and friends of the University of Sheffield Guild spent the week-end of June 20th/21st visiting towers in Lincolnshire.

Saturday morning traffic queues at Newark delayed the start and cut short ringing on the fine six at Leadenham; nevertheless, the pleasant eight at Caythorpe and the six at Barkston were put to good use before lunch. Some excitement was caused by the odd sound and 90-foot draught of the five bells at Helpringham. Then on to the light eight at Bicker, where justice was not seen to be done; time was short and the striking was poor. The unique 12 at Surfleet were enjoyed by all, and 'fears' about the leaning tower were quickly dispelled. At Kirton-in-Holland free pints were at stake for anyone able to set the tenor at backstroke. Ringing in the evening took place on the three sixes at Fishtoft, Freiston and Butterwick, where methods ranged from Original to Surprise Minor.

Saturday night was spent at an hotel in Spalding. In spite of the 'night before,' everyone had climbed the 185 steps at Boston by 10.15 a.m. and enjoyed Stedman and Grandsire Caters on the fine ten. After lunch ringing at Nocton was curtailed when a rope broke, and whilst this was being repaired good use was made of a set of handbells found in the ringing chamber. Then on to Lincoln Cathedral, an excellent 12 and the highlight of the tour. A short ring on the six at Saxilby followed until it was time to move on to Gainsborough (a glorious eight). A flying visit to the six at Lea (by invitation of the Ringing Master) completed a very enjoyable week-end. Methods rung include Stedman Doubles to Cinques, Grandsire Doubles to Caters, London to Cambridge Major, Double Norwich down to rounds and call-changes.

Thanks go to incumbents for the use of the bells; to local ringers and the hard-worked drivers, particularly to the lady driver.

'ONSEC.'

OUTINGS

WARMINSTER

Our annual outing on June 20th was blessed once again with three features we have rather come to expect—good weather, an excellent picnic lunch and a very pleasant ringing tour. The first, of course, is not at human command, but the second, in the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Norris, never fails to give both satisfaction and repletion. The ringing arrangements were made by Mr. C. N. Pearson, of Haslemere, and once again he succeeded in finding for us beautiful countryside and interesting ringing towers.

Our coach carried us first to West Meon, where Doubles and Minor were rung on the pleasant six. From here we ran to Petersfield and took a meal very happily by the lake in the park. Now the resources of Mr. and Mrs. Norris were revealed in all their glory; and to cold chicken, pork pie, meat rolls, tomatoes, onions and cheese, we were able to add tea, lemonade or bottled beer, according to fancy. Fruit pies served to fill up the cracks.

On the run to Shalford we took in the vast curve around the Devil's Punchbowl, and were able to view that astonishing abyss from all angles. Shalford is on the Editor's doorstep, so to speak, and the pleasure we had from the lovely churchyard and the fine ring of eight would have been enhanced if we had happened to find 'the Press' in attendance.

At remote Dunsfold we rang Cambridge Minor and some excellent Stedman, and at Witley, where the captain and vice-captain both met us, we had some amusing neck exercises in ringing round the clock-pendulum case.

A splendid tea was provided for us at Haslemere by Mr. and Mrs. Pearson. The lonely Binsted was our last ringing tower, where Mr. Pearson joined us for a good touch of Bob Minor. And here we said farewell to him and his family with what perhaps sounded very formal thanks, but which were really heartfelt, for the kindness and generosity of our Haslemere friends surpass anything we have a right to expect.

On the heights above Stockbridge we halted by the roadside for supper, and did our best to clear up the remains. We completed in comfort the remaining run of nearly 60 miles, and reached home satisfied both physically and mentally, and very much at peace with the world.

NORTH WEALD

North Weald bellringers, having no bells of their own to ring, arranged a tour of other churches on June 6th; at 1.30 p.m. approximately 16 ringers and seven friends started out in six cars. At the first tower, Danbury, they found a fine ring of six and for about an hour livened up the village and proved that they had not lost the art. This was an interesting church, with three knights resting in niches under the walls. These effigies were carved in oak and are still in fair preservation.

The journey to Southminster was through a very rural countryside, and here good ringing was enjoyed. Tea was taken at Burnham-on-Crouch, and we were joined by Olly and Mrs. Reynolds. The bells at the Parish Church were voted to be the best of the day.

Despite tiredness, good ringing took place at Purleigh. On the homeward journey a call was made at the 'Army and Navy,' near Chelmsford. All were pleased to meet again Wendy Bowak, one of the tower's favourites. They then made their way home, tired but happy.

Ringling in a quarter peal at Woodstone. Hunts, on June 28th to mark the 50th anniversary of the bells was Mr. Charles Hoare, who rang for the dedication in 1914 and in a 25th anniversary quarter in 1939. Now 81 years of age, Mr. Hoare has been associated with this church for over 70 years.

When a recommendation of a grant for £5 5s. be made towards the expenses of the American tour came before the Oxford Diocesan Guild annual meeting, Miss Marie R. Cross, the hon. general secretary who has been to Washington recently, denied emphatically the suggestion that it was towards her expenses. The incident caused much amusement.

Mr. Ernest Weatherby, who is now living at Alhambra, California, writes that according to the records of his family a Thomas Weatherby rang in a peal of Grandsire Triples at St. Martin le Grand, London, on February 24th, 1736. He asks if there is a peal board in the belfry.

The band who rang in the peal at Southminster, Essex, express thanks to Liz Sandwell for the excellent lunch she provided afterwards.

A progressive end-of-term peal was rung by Durham University Society at Brancepeth, on June 23rd. It included three first peals and one first on eight.

The quarter peal at Aldbourne should be associated with Mr. T. Arthur Palmer, secretary of the Marlborough Branch, who is still recovering from an accident sustained at work during May.

Another Diocesan Guild has a lady Master. The Swansea and Brecon Diocesan Guild at their annual meeting elected Miss Kathleen M. Watkins, of Sketty, Swansea. In 1962 this Guild had Miss Hazel Way as Master.

The local band at Wittersham, Kent, temporarily depleted by force of circumstances, wish to acknowledge the help of Mr. Crawford T. Hillis and his band, in the ringing of the quarter peal on June 27th for the 80th birthday of Mr. Wm. C. Pankhurst, formerly organist and choirmaster at the Parish Church. Acknowledgements also to Mr. and Mrs. Pat Denne for making the arrangements and providing refreshments.

The band who rang the quarter peal at St. James', Taunton, consisted of some of the friends Mr. E. H. Langley has made while living in Somerset. They were: Treble, captain of St. Mary's, Taunton; 2, secretary of the Taunton Branch, Bath and Wells Assoc.; 3, Staplegrove ringer; 5, the general secretary of Bath and Wells Assoc.; 6, captain of Wiveliscombe; 7, Waterow; 8, captain of St. Mary's, Bridgwater. To these and other ringers in Somerset and Devon, who have helped E. H. Langley in his ringing, he would like to say a sincere thank you.

BELFRY GOSSIP

On St. John's Day, when the new ring of five was dedicated at Heather Lewis, one of the new band of recruits was interred in the churchyard. While riding a scooter he came into collision with a lorry at Istock which ended fatally. The lay-reader is captain of the band and despite this sad occurrence, hopes are entertained about the progress of the band.

From Stow-on-the-Wold: 'I would like to congratulate "The Ringing World" as an advertising medium. We had six ringers from St. Albans, four from Southampton and two from Wallingford at our meeting.'

We were able to stop the publication of a false peal of Cassisbury rung at Drughlington for the Yorkshire Association, on June 18th. Mr. Henry Fielden, the conductor, sends his apologies.

Mr. E. Hotine writes thanking Mr. Robert E. Lester for the excellent day's ringing he provided for a small band from the Ipswich district on Whit Monday when they toured mid-Norfolk.

The Coco-Cola Company has provided for the New York World Fair a carillon of 610 'bells' (tiny rods of bronze which are amplified by banks of high-fidelity speakers) housed in a 120-foot tower. If any British brewery feels similarly interested in bell music—there are Cathedrals, such as Guildford, waiting for the completion of a ring of genuine bells.

Although the well-kept church at Harkshead, Suffolk, has a good ring of five—three by Thomas Gardiner, of Sudbury and two by Miles Graye, of Colchester, they were 'unpealed,' it is believed, until June 20th. They are on plain bearings, installed with a new oak frame by Bowell in 1899, and 'go' well writes Mr. Alan H. Andrew.

The quarter peal of Minor rung at Henlow, on June 28th, was a farewell to Mr. O. S. J. Philbrick, who has been stationed at Henlow for nearly three years and has been a great help to Henlow tower. He is also congratulated on being awarded the M.B.E. in the recent Honours List. His next station will be Abingdon.

DEDICATION

HEATHER, LEICESTERSHIRE

With the dedication service on June 24th, Leicestershire had another light ring of five, with a tenor of 7½ cwt., at Heather. The existing three bells had been recast and two new ones added. The church clock has been renovated and a plaque recording the work mentions generous gifts made by Mrs. E. Watts, of Heather, before her death, Mr. W. Boobyer, of Vancouver, B.C. and the Barrow Bell Fund. Local parishioners have tried hard to complete the scheme, but between £250 and £300 is owing.

The dedication was associated with the Parochial Festival and proceedings started with Evensong at which the Rector, the Rev. J. L. Hamlet, the lay-reader, Mr. W. Atkins, took part. The lesson was read by a former curate, the Rev. R. E. Willis.

The dedication was performed by the Ven. H. Lockley, Archdeacon of Loughborough, who also preached. In his sermon he allied the bells and clock to the life and service of St. John the Baptist as the herald of things to come.

After the service the opening touch of 240 Grandfire Doubles was rung by: A. E. Rowley 1, G. Ridgeway 2, W. Goadby 3, H. O. Over 4, R. Clifton 5; and then other ringers present, including recently recruited local learners were accommodated according to ability. All expressed, over coffee and biscuits in the Rectory afterwards, approval of the 'Go' and tone of this augmentation.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The third Saturday in May found the St. Albans District at Essendon, where the small Hertfordshire spire is supported by guy ropes! Mr. Fred Bamford, the local ringer, came to welcome us and brought with him a band of young girls whom he has taught without outside help. They are all up to ringing Grandfire and most of them stood in a touch for the first time. It seems the district may have a ready made band to add to its numbers.

As there was no organised tea, it was unanimously agreed to hold only a brief business meeting in the tower. Mr. Keith Walpole handed out to those were interested a most lucid set of notes on conducting plain bob and Kent, which he had written himself. These were so clear that they genuinely could be understood by a beginner.

The notes were tried out the following week by about a dozen aspiring conductors at a conductors' practice at St. Stephen's, St. Albans.

OUTING

HIGHAM-ON-THE-HILL, LEICS.

Higham ringers held their annual outing on June 6th, when, together with friends from Burbage, Thurcaston, Earl Shilton and Sapcote, they visited the Worcester and Tewkesbury area.

The first ringing took place at Wootton-Wawen (6), followed by another six at Upton-Snodsby, where the long draught took some getting used to. After lunch at Worcester, we rang on the anti-clockwise six at St. Swithun's. Then came the most enjoyable ring of the day, the glorious 7 cwt. six at Stoughton, where we rang a very good course of Ipswich. We did not really do justice to the 12 at Tewkesbury but several members had a chance to ring on f2 for the first time. Tea was taken at Great Malvern, and then on to the last ring of the day, at Cleeve Prior (6). Higham was reached at 10.45 p.m.

Methods rung were Plain Bob, Little Bob, Cambridge and Ipswich Minor, Stedman and Grandfire Doubles, Grandfire Triples and Caters, and call changes and rounds for learners.

Many thanks to incumbents and tower correspondents for a very enjoyable day.

RADLETT'S EXAMPLE COULD WELL BE FOLLOWED

By R. W. M. Clouston

THERE must be countless Victorian church towers up and down the country which have been condemned for years as being quite unsuitable for a ring of bells that could follow the example of Radlett, Herts, and so replace the often highly unsatisfactory contents of poor-toned single bells, gramophones and tubular bells.

When Christ Church, Radlett, was first built in 1864 a 5 cwt. bell by Warner's was presented. This bell seems to have been used till about 1907, when an octave of tubular bells by Harrington, Latham and Co., of Coventry, was installed and the Warner bell removed. About 1938 a gramophone and loudspeaker system was put in to supplement the tubular bells. By 1960 the equipment to make noises resembling proper bells was in a very poor state and had not been used for some time. A question at the annual vestry meeting asked for the situation to be examined and the present ring was the ultimate result.

The tower with spire is some 90ft. in total height, and yet the bell chamber is only some 6ft. 6in. square across the walls. These are of brick with wide mortar joints, and are considerably weakened by a profusion of doorways, windows, other openings and alcoves, such that at least the lower part of the tower is much weaker than a casual inspection would suggest. The stone spire above does add some stability to the remainder, but with the lower walls a maximum of 2ft. 6in. thick, only a very light ring of bells could be contemplated.

A pre-war architect is reported to have stated that the tower was unfit for a ring of bells, and clearly this was so when one thinks in terms of a minimum tenor weight of 5-6 cwt. However, post-war progress in casting and hanging much lighter bells than hitherto has changed the situation appreciably.

Schemes were considered for a chime of eight bells and for a light ring of six (tenor  $3\frac{1}{4}$  cwt.), and the latter was selected as one of the objectives for the celebration of the centenary of the church and parish. Even with a six of this size two bells had to be in an upper tier.

With such a weak tower either the bells could be separately supported inside on a subsidiary structure, as at Acle and Dover, or by the tower walls themselves after some strengthening and the filling in of one large unnecessary opening 5ft. by 10ft. high. So to see if the latter, and cheaper, solution would be satisfactory a 3 cwt. bell was hung in a temporary frame and swung N-S and E-W.

The tower rock horizontally measured level with the upper tier of the proposed frame was found to be a mere 1/100in. with frequencies of 160 and 200 cycles per minute respectively. So it was deemed that strengthening the lower part of the tower and mounting the frame on a reinforced concrete girdle set in all four walls would be satisfactory.

The belfry windows have been bricked up to the tracery on the inside, and the majority of the sound from the bells now emerges via four openings in the base of the spire and a series of smaller holes above, thus enabling the bells to be heard at a greater distance and yet be well-balanced and not too loud in the churchyard.

With a tenor of  $3\frac{1}{4}$  cwt. the treble to six weighs only some  $1\frac{1}{2}$  cwt.,  $16\frac{1}{2}$ in. diameter; yet all the bells are easy to handle once one remembers that bells of these weights in ball-bearings require only the minimum of effort to ring. Of course, stays will get broken, especially when training a new band from scratch, and the design is such that  $1\frac{1}{2}$ in. square section ash is used on all the bells. The lengths vary somewhat but none is curved or tapered. Making a new stay only requires cutting the correct length and drilling a  $\frac{3}{8}$ in. diameter hole near one end.

Due to space considerations the frame is a metal one and the sliders are in the form of a metal L with the top end pivoted to the side frame under the main bearing. The lower end moves between two stops on the runner board and the stay engages with the horizontal part of the L which is encased in timber.

Training a local band is now under way on Wednesday evenings and, thanks to numerous helpers from surrounding towers, quite considerable progress has already been made. It is hoped to have a band ready to ring for Sunday services by the autumn on this the lightest ring in Hertfordshire.

DERBY ASSOCIATION AT BUXTON

The Association's quarterly meeting, at Buxton on July 4th, was attended by over 60 ringers representing some 20 towers. Prior to the service in St. Peter's Church, Fairfield, ringing was enjoyed at Fairfield and Burbage; in addition Swanwick, Ashover, Eyam and Tideswell were visited by coach parties from the Chesterfield and Derby Districts.

During the service the Rector, on behalf of the clergy of the diocese, thanked the ringers for their services. Tea followed in the Church Hall. At the start of the business meeting, the chairman, Mr. F. Adams (vice-president), invited the company to stand in memory of Mr. B. Greatorex, of Wirksworth, a ringer for over 60 years, who died recently.

A report from the general treasurer, Mr. J. C. Woolley (on holiday) showed that the finances were reasonable for the time of the year. He urged members to help both him and the District secretaries by paying their subscriptions as soon as possible as only just over a third had been received so far.

The report of the Bell Repair Fund consultant, Mr. G. Halls, included details of recent advice to St. Alkmund's, Derby, Brailsford, Hathersage, Bakewell and Trusley. The meeting was pleased to hear that he had been officially appointed as consultant to the Diocesan Advisory Committee on Church Bells.

A detailed report of the proceedings at Truro was then given by Mr. M. Phipps, one of the Central Council representatives, and a collection for the Bell Repair Fund realised £2 10s. Three honorary life members were elected: Mr. Isaac Smith (Fairfield), Mr. F. Stone (Duffield) and Miss Elizabeth Foulk (Duffield).

The meeting was concluded by a comprehensive vote of thanks, which included the ladies who provided such an excellent 'knife and fork' tea. Further ringing was enjoyed at Fairfield, Burbage and Darley Dale.

Next quarterly meeting: Dronfield, October 3rd. M. P. P.

UP AND COMING YOUNGSTERS—No. 17

CHARLES BARRIE DOVE,
The Yorkshire Association.

Once again the Yorkshire Association is represented in this series by one of its young members. Charles Barrie Dove was born on March 18th, 1944, at Headingley. He was educated at Chapeltown Primary School and Harehills County Secondary School, Leeds, where he obtained his G.C.E. (O levels). At present he is employed in Local Government (Education Department).

Barrie, as he is known, commenced ringing when he was eleven, at the Church of St. Matthew, Chapel Allerton, Leeds. He was the youngest ringer taking part at the dedication by the Bishop of Knaresborough of the new ring of six on St. Matthew's Day, 1955. He was taught to ring by his father, Ronald H. Dove, who is well known throughout the Exercise for his encyclopædic book on ringing towers, 'A Guide to the Church Bells of Britain'.

Barrie started Sunday service ringing at Chapel Allerton, but later moved to Leeds Parish Church, where he is now conductor. He also frequently attends St. Mary's, Hunslet, before morning ringing at Leeds, and at St. Francis', Holbeck, afterwards.

On May 16th, 1959, when he was 15, he scored his first peal by ringing the treble to Plain Bob Minor at Chapel Allerton, the conductor being Irvin Slack. A year later came his first as conductor. This was Plain Bob Doubles at Tong, Bradford.

These two first peals were the beginning of a rapidly growing collection as Barrie's total to date is 60. Of this total he has conducted 43, including Plain Bob on all numbers, both odd and even, from Doubles to Royal, and it is interesting to note that the first peal of Plain Bob Royal which he conducted included eight ringers scoring their first peal of Royal.

Ringings Leeds tenor (42½ cwt.) to a peal of Bob Royal, which he composed and conducted, is Barrie's greatest achievement to date, and he claimed to be the youngest ringer to have done so. It is not surprising to learn that one of Barrie's ambitions is to turn this heavy tenor in to a peal of Surprise Major.

An enthusiastic tower grabber, Barrie believes he is also the youngest ringer to reach a total of towers now nearing 1,400. He is frequently handicapped by his exceptional height (6ft. 5in.) when on tower grabbing expeditions. He overcomes the difficulty of low ropes by either sitting or kneeling to ring. Good hunting, Barrie, and your Dove's will guide you to all the towers you have not yet visited.

NORVING.

SUFFOLK GUILD CHANGE CHIEF OFFICERS

THE annual general meeting of the Suffolk Guild was held at Bury St. Edmunds on June 13th, attended by over 70 members and visitors, including Mr. David Vincent, from Cheshire. The ten bells of the Norman tower of the Cathedral were available during the afternoon and evening and the sixes of Rouham and Great Barton in the evening. Divine service took place in the Cathedral where we joined the lay readers' festival.

The tea and business meeting took place at the Masonic Hall. The Provost (Rev. J. Waddington) joined the company and extended a welcome to the Guild. He was suitably thanked by Mr. L. E. Last (the chairman). The reports of the officers revealed that 55 peals had been rung during 1963 including an 'Alan' peal at Lavenham. The number of districts had been reduced from six to five by having only one central district in addition to the north east, south east, south west and north west districts which, it was hoped, would improve the organisation of the Guild and improve attendance at meetings.

The accounts were most encouraging and an excess of income over expenditure of about £6 was a happy contrast to the large deficit of 1962. Steps had been taken to improve this situation and legislation was passed during the year to increase the annual subscription from 2s. 6d. to 5s. as from January 1st last. It is to be hoped that this will enable the Guild to keep pace with ever rising costs. The first-ever striking competition was held during 1963 for which Mr. Hubert Milson had very kindly presented a shield. This is to be an annual event: this year's contest will be at Buxhall, on September 26th.

At the end of January, 1964, a weekend course was held at Belstead House, Ipswich, sponsored by the East Suffolk Education Committee, which had proved most successful and it was hoped to repeat this in the future. The technical adviser had been busy again with his inspection of bells. Restoration work was carried out at Hartest during the year. Further restoration work was envisaged at St. Mary's, Bury St. Edmunds, and Stowmarket.

Mr. G. W. Pipe was elected Ringing Master in succession to Mr. L. G. Brett, who had held the office for seven years, and Mr. A. T. Beckwith was elected general secretary and treasurer in succession to Mr. J. W. Blythe, who had carried out those duties for nine years. The chairman expressed the thanks of the members to both of the retiring officers for their efforts over a long period. Messrs. Brett and Blythe both thanked the members for the support they had received and expressed the hope that the new officers would be fully supported. The vice-presidents, the technical adviser and the hon. auditor were all re-elected.

A proposal to increase the size of the committee by making the district chairmen ex-officio members and having two elected members from each district was approved, subject to ratification at the general meeting, to be held at Ipswich in September.

It was agreed to make an effort to arrange as much ringing as possible to mark the return to the Cathedral of the Cross and Arrows, which is at present touring the Diocese.

The chairman thanked the members for their attendance, Mr. L. Wright for making the arrangements for the meeting and the incumbents for the use of their bells. Mr. Blythe thanked Mr. Last for acting as chairman. J. W. B.

'RINGING THEM UP'

Current issue of 'Overtones' (American handbell ringers' magazine) states: It is reported that in a Lincolnshire village a 'ringing them up' peal once sounded from the church belfry at seven on the morning after a wedding. This was intended to wake up the bride and bridegroom following their first night together.

Query to bell ringers in Lincolnshire: Is this extraordinary campanological custom still practised? And if it is, is it appreciated by the bride and bridegroom.

DEDICATIONS

RADLETT, HERTFORDSHIRE

A new six (tenor 3 cwt, 0 qr, 16 lb. in G), cast by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, was dedicated at Evensong on June 28th by the Vicar, the Rural Dean of St. Albans (the Rev. Christopher Newton). This achieved one of the parish's aims in this its centenary year.

During the service the 'Bell' anthem, by Purcell, was sung, and after the sermon a procession, including the Vicar and assistant clergy, the churchwardens, Mr. Ernest Rowe (representing the bell founders), Mr. Paul Mauger (the architect), Mr. Cecil Evans (captain of the Aldenham ringers) and Mr. R. Clouston (Radlett), moved to the tower for the dedication. After it the tenor was swung chimed.

The opening touch was conducted by Mr. Walter Ayre, the adviser on bell matters to the St. Albans Diocesan Advisory Committee. Some 50 ringers had the opportunity to try out the bells during the evening, and the comments heard by the writer were highly complimentary to the bell founders, who have produced an easy to handle light six, with excellent musical qualities.

One unfortunate absentee due to illness was the Rev. John Blick, curate at Radlett, who has done quite a bit of change ringing over the years, and who has been invaluable in the preliminary steps in getting a local band of ringers established.

HOLYWOOD, COUNTY DOWN

The rededication of the eight bells of the Church of SS. Philip and James, Holywood, Co. Down, took place on June 27th in the presence of the Dean of Belfast (the Very Rev. C. I. Peacock), who preached the sermon. The act of dedication was performed by the Rector, Canon F. S. Barber.

Representing the Irish Association at the service were Mr. A. F. Bogan, St. Fin Barre's, Cork, president; Mr. John T. Dunwoody, Ringing Master; Mr. F. E. Dukes, Drogheda, general secretary and treasurer; Mr. G. H. Ellis, Limerick (St. Mary's Cathedral); Ringing Master, Southern District; Mr. A. S. Doak, Eastern District secretary; St. George's, Dublin; and Mrs. J. Jeffrey, St. Donard's, Belfast, assistant secretary, Northern District. Mr. Paul L. Taylor represented the bell founders, and Mr. Lewington, from Berkshire, was also present.

The ringing for the rededication was undertaken by the following: H. Brown (Holywood) 1, G. D. Brown (Holywood) 2, W. S. Patterson (St. Thomas', Belfast) 3, Mrs. J. Jeffrey 4, P. L. Taylor 5, John T. Dunwoody 6, Fred E. Dukes 7, A. Fred Bogan 8.

All present were entertained to tea by the catering guild of the parish. Canon Barber welcomed the visitors, and Mr. Bogan suitably replied.

COLLEGE OF CAMPANOLOGY

Latest successes are from Cornwall, where three young members in one of the College Affiliated School of Ringing—St. Uny's, Lelant—have reached the stage of ringing the simpler methods and of conducting Stedman Doubles. They have qualified by the prescribed tests as 'Tutor I' in ringing. They are: Miss Vicci Elnabeth Presswood, Miss Alberta Ruth Aston and Mr. Francis Malcolm Bowers. The last named has conducted a quarter peal of Stedman Doubles.

Another member of the school is one of the churchwardens, and all the pupils are making good progress under the tutorship of Mr. Harry Miles (College president) and Miss Marion Lidgey, in charge of the school.

MR. THOMAS GEORGE DARCH

Although we had heard hints of heart trouble, ringers in Devon were deeply shocked when we heard that Tommy Darch had died on July 4th, at the age of 61.

Thomas Darch was born in Yarnscombe, the son of a famous ringer and ringing judge, Albert Darch. He became a farmer, and later moved to St. Giles-in-the-Wood, where he made a name for himself in farming circles: he was an expert in sheep-shearing and for years ran that section of the Torrington Show. Not long ago he handed over the farm to his son and moved into Torrington, but he was helping on the farm the day before he died.

With his neat, stocky figure, weather-browned complexion and steady bright blue eyes, Tommy was a typical North Devon farmer, but it was his voice which was most memorable. Deep for a man of his build, rich and resonant in tone, his speech was the purest Devon dialect, but most beautifully enunciated: he was a gift to the BBC West Region, who often featured him in ringing items.

As a ringer he was a dedicated call-change ringer, and his driving force was a constant search for perfection. His ear for striking was extremely fine, and his love for bell music was such that when ringing came up to his very high standard you could see enjoyment in every line of him. But two qualities in particular made him exceptional as a judge. One was the fact that as a seeker after perfection he would always give credit to anyone who was seeking it too, even if their search had a long way to go; he was just as quick to praise a good try as he was to criticise sloppy striking; the thing that really distressed him was to hear a bell striking wide or close for round after round without correction. The other quality was an astounding memory for ringing: he could look through his notebook and convert one of the impeccably neat sets of dots into a detailed account of a peal which he had heard months or even years before, with literally hundreds of competition peals intervening, and if asked he would give out at the end of a competition not merely the marks of the teams but a careful analysis of each one's ringing. It was this ability not merely to mark ringing but to say exactly how the marks were incurred that made him the hardest-worked judge in Devon.

He was at the time of his death chairman of the Devon Association of Church Bell Ringers, an office which he had held for 12 years. When the suggestion first arose to seek affiliation with the Central Council, it was his wise and balanced words, coming from the conservative wing of the Association, which probably brought about the approval of the plan, and he was one of those elected to the Council. Hindered by hay-harvest from coming to Stoke, Cardiff or Yarmouth, he made his first appearance at Truro, and the Council gave him a great welcome. He was never by any means a fanatical opponent of method ringing, but his desire for perfect striking meant that he very seldom heard any method ringing which pleased him, and like most call change ringers he didn't like even-bell methods at all.

I once heard him in a BBC interview refer to ringing as 'a lovely brotherhood'—I only wish I could convey how he spoke that last word—and he did much in a quiet way to promote this. Quiet and modest, he never asserted himself, but he was a wonderful friend and a delightful companion.

At Torrington, where he was tower captain for many years, he built up a fine tradition of good and regular ringing, and there they will miss him sorely. In the Devon Association and the whole world of call change ringing his successor will be hard to find, for wisdom and experience. To his friends, I'm afraid, he will be quite irreplaceable.

J. G. M. S.

THE REV. W. B. CHAPMAN

By the death at Almondsbury, Yorkshire, on June 29th of the Rev. W. B. Chapman, has passed on one who, during his stay in South Worcestershire, was always a good helpful friend to ringers. He was Vicar for many years of the large combined parishes of Badsey and Wickhamford, but acting on medical advice he moved to the smaller living at Hinton-on-the-Green, where he was Rector until failing health retired him to his native Yorkshire.

He was always deeply appreciative for his bells to be regularly rung, and the writer recalls, with pleasure, his request a few months after his induction to Hinton, for honorary membership of the Association, proffering current and advance subscriptions, 'not for myself, but in thankfulness and gratitude for my ringers'.

On the evening of the funeral—July 1st—the Badsey and Hinton bands combined to ring half-muffled quarter peals at both churches as their last tribute. At Badsey 1.260 Grand-sire Triples: Mrs. A. J. Brazier 1, A. J. Brazier 2, J. D. Johnson (cond.) 3, Mrs. J. Thomas 4, R. Harris 5, C. B. Longmore 6, W. J. Newman 7, J. E. Newman 8. At Hinton, in 44 minutes, 1.260 Stedman Triples: A. J. Brazier 1, J. D. Johnson (cond.) 2, Mrs. J. Thomas 3, C. B. Longmore 4, R. Harris 5, W. J. Newman 6, J. E. Newman 7, H. Plumb 8. J. D. J.

DERBY DIOCESAN ASSOCIATION, Horsley Cup Striking Contest

The first Derby Diocesan Association competition took place on May 30th and the results were: 1, Dronfield (Kent) 250 marks; 2, Old Whittington (Oxford) 240; 3, Sandiacre (Cambridge), and Derby Cathedral (Oxford) each 231; 5, Duffield (Doubles) 229; 6, Bolsover (Bob Minor) 227; 7, Ripley (Doubles) 217; 8, Etwell (Doubles) 214; 9, St. Peter's, Derby (Oxford), failed to complete.

The cup was presented by Mr. Else, the donor, to Mr. Ian Molland, captain of the Dronfield team.

CORRECTIONS

The peal at St. Thomas', Stourbridge (page 476), was rung on Saturday, June 27th, in 2 hours 56 minutes by the local band.

The peal rung at Knebworth on May 23rd (page 437) was Cambridge Surprise, and not Yorkshire.

SUBSCRIPTION FORMS

were distributed to all Postal Subscribers recently in the hope that they would use them to introduce new readers now that another quarter has started. ## Letters to the Editor

Ashbrittle Bells ring out again

Dear Sir.—Owing to the recent dispute between Rector and parishioners at Ashbrittle, ringing has been suspended for the past twelve months. The ringers have been active by helping out in other parishes.

Following the Rector's departure from the parish, ringing recommenced on Sunday, June 20th, with a quarter peal of Grandsire Doubles by the local band.

Sunday ringing will now take place and practices will be held regularly on Fridays at 7.30 p.m. when all visitors will be made welcome.—Yours sincerely,

S. N. BRISTOW.

Ashbrittle, Som.

Bow Bells, old and new

Dear Sir.—I too saw the programme on I.T.V. on June 14th. about Bow Bells. Like Mr. J. Hedgecock and St. Thomas' ringers. I expected to hear something different from what was presented.

I consider that what I heard was a recording of the back ten of the old Bob 12, tenor 53 or so. After a couple of whole pulls I lost interest, but it could possibly have been the B.B.C. time signal although broadcast on I.T.V. My sense of pitch told me that it wasn't a C peal that I heard and I believe the new Bow 12 are in C natural and the old peal were in B.

As no one is infallible, however, I could possibly be wrong.—Yours truly,

G. J. HEMMING.

Gt. Hampton, Evesham.

Ringers' Service at Gnosall

Dear Sir.—I should like to pay tribute to those responsible for the excellent ringers' service at Gnosall. Staffs, on July 5th, and to mention the great pleasure everyone must have had at seeing and hearing the junior handbell ringers. After the service there was another fine example of handbell ringing by these youngsters who, I estimate, were not more than an average age of 12 years.

The Rev. Tony Villiers was very apt in his address when he said: 'The exercise of bell-ringing requires patience and discipline. One cannot compare an adult ringer when one sees these boys and girls: they are the very essence of enthusiasm, obedience and discipline.'

To Mrs. B. G. Key I would say thank you for your untiring efforts in teaching and training these youngsters and may you be well rewarded for your labours.—Yours faithfully,

C. F. W. E.

Secretary's apology

Dear Sir.—I wish to apologise to anyone who may have turned up at the Harby/South Scarle meeting of the Newark District of the Southwell Guild, on June 27th. It unfortunately had to be cancelled at the eleventh hour due to lack of support.—Yours faithfully,

B. N. REED (Mrs.).

Hon. Dis. Sec.

Balderton, nr. Newark.

Whitwell-on-the-Hill

Dear Sir.—Reading Mr. Harold Walker's article on the bells and tower at Whitwell-on-the-Hill, I notice that he wonders why the circular wooden staircase and platform at the top were ever put there. Nearly sixty years ago my business took me into the village weekly, and into the homes of some of the ringers of that time.

This stairway and platform were then known as the 'Parson's Lookout', from which extensive views of the countryside, north, east, south and west, were to be obtained by looking through the windows, which are about half-way up the spire, and which are glazed with clear glass. I have known some of the locals go up to this vantage point to watch fox-hunting when the hounds met in the district.

I agree with Mr. Walker that the structure prevents the bells from being hung on one level. In spite of the difficulties in the ringing chamber these bells were rung regularly for the services in the early part of the present century, during the incumbency of the late Rev. H. A. K. Hawkins. Amongst the ringers at that time were Whites, Woods, Stabler, Foden, Duffits, one of the last named being the leader.

The combined height of the tower and spire is 110 feet. The inscriptions on the bells read: Treble, Father Glory be to Thee; 2nd, Glory to the Blessed Son; 3rd, Glory to the Spirit be; 4th, Glory to the Three in One; 5th, As it was, is now, shall be: Tenor, Filling all eternity. On each bell, 'Cast by John Warner and Sons, London, 1859.' Also the Royal Arms.—Yours faithfully, Stillington, Yorks. J. B. HUTCHINSON.

Muezzin's call canned

Dear Sir.—The other day a mildly amusing piece of gossip came my way from someone who had just returned from a holiday in Tunisia. It would appear that the Christian Church, with its several rings of 'canned bells' is not the only religion to have succumbed to the modern trend of mechanisation.

At the new mosque in Monastir, as in all similar Moslem places of worship, the voice of the old muezzin can be heard monotonously chanting out his weird incantations from the top of the tall minaret. Between the phrases, however, the hiss of a needle on a record can be clearly discerned.—Yours truly,

London, W.C.

PETER DALE.

St. Martin le Grand

Dear Sir.—Mr. Weatherby (Belfry Gossip, July 10th) seems to have his family records out of order. St. Martin's le Grand is a City street which must be familiar to many thousands of office workers, for nearby stands the General Post Office. It commemorates a college of secular canons with a definite history starting in 1068. Queen Matilda brought certain rights over it to the Crown and in time it became a source of royal sinecures. By the sixteenth century, the standard of conduct in the college appears to have been unusually bad, and it was suppressed in 1542.—Yours sincerely, Tooting Graveney, S.W. A. CLAYTON.

Bringing Canada up to date

Dear Sir.—I would like to take issue with the 'Canadian' report published on page 394 in 'The Ringing World' of June 12th, since several inaccuracies seem to be evident.

Vancouver.—The reference to the rehanging of the chiming ring of eight bells in St. James' appears totally unfounded, unless one of the two foundries has been recently approached by one of the two members of the clergy of that church, who are at present in England. No one at the Church of St. James, we are informed, has ever heard of this proposition. Since at least $50,000 would be required to build a tower for the bells, quite apart from the expenses in connection with their rehanging, and the fact that there is no land available, make this possibility highly improbable. At present the bells are hung dead in a lantern at the apex of the roof over the nave—quite impossible for ringing both for access as well as structural stresses.

Montreal.—We are not clear who the 'representative' was who visited the towers there; however, from personal inspection, the ring of ten at St. Patrick's has an odd middle five bells rung by electric motors—hardly classifiable as ringable—and certainly new ropes and new wheels and stays would mostly be required. At Notre Dame, two hours were spent trying to obtain permission to view the bells after which time urgent business elsewhere prevented examination. However, we were assured that all ten bells were rung by electric motors—which rules this tower out for all time. I would say!

Quebec City.—The reference in 'Dove' to the Holy Trinity ring being unringable is totally inaccurate. Reference was made to this tower in the report, but one wonders why it does not justify a heavy type heading as have the four in Western Canada? This tower, it seems to me, has suffered injustice long enough—for not only is it the oldest ring in Canada, but is also the one closest to the 'old country' and also is only ten minutes from the quay, where every passenger liner sailing between Canada and Britain docks on her way up or down the St. Lawrence River! Ringers attending the 1962 Central Council meeting at Cardiff may recall my showing a short colour film taken in this church and tower, including the bells, which had been shot only the year before.

May I suggest that the convener, Mr. Pipe, contacts Mr. R. H. Dove, for my correspondence with the latter gentleman of some three years back, which I would hope to be still on file. Complete information on Canadian bells was contained therein, there seems to have been no changes, although Mr. Dove inaccurately reported the Quebec City tower unringable, for which I have had no explanation nor seen any correction.

Two further corrections:

Calgary, the weight of tenor is 8½ cwt. (not 14);

Quebec City—St. Matthew's, the weight of tenor is 8 cwt. (not 14).

Both facts were verified with the ringers in these two cities, and again these appear in my letters to Mr. Dove.—Yours sincerely,

A. J. M. COLLINS.

SWANSEA ELECT ANOTHER WOMAN MASTER

THE 36th annual festival of the Guild was held at St. Mary's, Swansea, on June 20th. The extremely good weather helped to make the journey to Swansea worth while. Those present represented the Central District and the Southern District, but unfortunately the newly-formed Northern District was not represented.

The Bishop arrived late for the service, being delayed in a traffic jam. The tea was provided by the St. Mary's ringers, and the arrangements were under the supervision of Mrs. Whitworth. Many more attended than was expected, but this was soon overcome, and the thanks of all present were expressed by Mr. Stan Edwards.

The service, conducted by Canon H. C. Williams, was held in Holy Trinity Chapel. The Rev. E. Hunt, who gave the address, was at the business meeting which followed, and was congratulated by the Bishop, who presided.

Among the apologies was one from Mr. D. Stokes, who tendered his resignation as treasurer through ill-health. Mr. Saunders paid tribute to the work he had done during his term of office, and added the good wishes of members for a complete recovery to good health.

PRESENTATION OF THE SHIELD

The Bishop, in presenting the shield, congratulated the winners, Neath, on their fine achievement; he also presented certificates to the Cadoxton band who came second, and the Glasbury band who came third.

At this stage of the meeting the Bishop had to leave, and the chair was taken by Canon H. C. Williams.

The hon. secretary (Mr. J. A. Hoare) said unfortunately the Northern District was in a state of despondency, and this caused uneasiness. There was no record of subscriptions being paid and meetings had not been organised as planned. It was hoped that improvement would be shown very soon. Instructors were still required, especially in the Northern District.

In the absence of the treasurer, Mr. Stan Edwards presented the accounts, which showed a small surplus on the Income and Expenditure Account. They were adopted.

The Ringing Master reported increased interest throughout the diocese, but Sunday service ringing was not as it should be. The ringing competition was a success, and they had to thank Mr. Gwyn Thomas for adjudicating. A report of the Central Council meeting at Truro this year was given by Mr. T. M. Roderick.

In the absence of Mr. G. I. Lewis, a written report from him was read. An increase of eight peals this year over last was due mainly to a number of handbell peals, including one of 10,192 changes, and several new methods rung in the Swansea area. It was hoped that more ringers would attempt peals and quarters peals, as this was a sure way to improve striking. The Peal Book had been rewritten and about 250 new pages added. To date 220 peals had been rung for the Guild.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The new Master of the Guild is Miss Kathleen M. Watkins, of Sketty, Swansea, who was proposed by Mr. J. T. Williams and seconded by Mr. S. Edwards. Miss Watkins thanked them for electing her as Master, and hoped she would be able to carry out her duties as required of her.

Mr. Colin Lewis thought that a longer period in office of being Master would be beneficial to the Guild. Mr. Edwards suggested that the office should be filled from the Central and Southern Districts alternately.

The hon. secretary, Mr. J. A. Hoare, was re-elected, and Mr. D. H. Bennett, of Talgarth, Miss Kathleen M. Watkins is the youngest Master of the Swansea and Brecon Diocesan Guild, being only 19 years of age. She has been ringing for four years and is a past vice-president of the South Wales District of the Ladies' Guild and a representative on the Central Committee of that Guild.

Kathleen is a student at Trinity College, Carmarthen; her home tower is St. Paul's, Sketty, where she is vice-captain. She has several peals, including one 'in hand,' to her credit.

was appointed to fill the vacant office of treasurer. A proposal by Mr. E. Morris to re-elect Mr. Stan Edwards as the auditor was carried, and Mr. G. I. Lewis was again elected peal recorder.

A suggestion on holding an annual dinner revealed an absence of real support; the matter was dropped.

A notice of motion by Mr. S. Edwards, that the committee meetings of the Guild be held each year in the home town of the Ringing Master, was supported by Mr. A. V. Protheroe and carried.

The 1965 annual festival of the Guild will be held at Brecon Cathedral at a date to be arranged later. The ringing competition for 1965 will be held at Bronllys and the alternative tower is to be Talgarth.

The collection for the Bell Restoration Fund realised £3 17s. 6d. Mr. E. Sage was elected a ringing member, and the proceedings concluded with an omnibus vote of thanks.

Ringing throughout the day varied from rounds to Surprise Major, and continued until 8.45 p.m. J. A. H.

STAFFORD ARCHDEACONRY SOCIETY

Sale of Ring of Six Deplored

FOR the second year running, the Society Evensong was held in the choir stalls of Lichfield Cathedral, and was conducted by the president, the Ven. Basil Stratton (Archdeacon of Stafford). The Dean addressed the gathering, and emphasised that although the Society always clashed with the Cathedral Friends' annual meeting, he welcomed this, as the bells added to the atmosphere of the proceedings. The Dean included a brief history of the Cathedral in his address.

After the assembled party of over 120 had partaken of a bountiful tea, kindly provided by the ladies connected with Lichfield Cathedral ringers, the Archdeacon presided at the business meeting.

From the committee's report it appeared that the Society was nearing its greatest membership ever—nearly 300. Peal ringing is in a healthy state, with two Sunday service bands, Bilston and Gnosall, ringing their first local band peals, and Brewood and Penn also, save for the conductor. No useful professional bell restoration could be reported, but Shreshill bells were now being rung again. The deplorable loss of St. Martin's, Tipton, bells (8) was reported as six of the bells had been sold. It was stressed that ringers should keep officials informed of such propositions so that the best solution for the church concerned and the art of change ringing can be sought. This is a point ringers everywhere are advised to watch for, in these times of church demolition, rebuilding, etc. Although late, the committee were glad to report that there is now a ring of five at Sandon, near Stafford, and that the fifth bell at St. Leonard's, Bilston, has been recast, making the complete eight ringable once more.

The treasurer reported the Society's accounts to be in a healthy state, but said there was room for more co-operation from some towers in the prompt payment of subscriptions and peal fees.

It was agreed that the Saturday evening practice meetings would continue on the last Saturday of a month, in which there was not a meeting, and that at least one striking competition be held during the next twelve months. Full meetings (subject to permission) would be: September 5th, Lichfield Diocesan Festival at Stafford; October 17th, Yoxall; January 19th, St. Peter's, Wolverhampton; March 20th, Sedgley; May 8th, Great Barr; and the A.G.M. at Lichfield on June 19th, 1965.

An alteration to Rule 7 was adopted, making it necessary for peal fees to be payable to the treasurer by the following meeting.

The following officers for 1964/65 were elected: Ringing Master, Mr. Michael W. Fairey; Deputy Ringing Master, Mr. Philip G. K. Davies; hon. secretary, Mr. Clive M. Smith; 'Roiselle,' Walsall Road, Lichfield (tel. Lich 2124); honorary treasurer, Mr. John H. Allen, 8, Oriol Drive, Fordhouses, Wolverhampton; honorary auditor, Mr. H. Green; annual dinner secretary (for 1965), Mr. Charles Eyre.

The following new resident members were elected: Mrs. L. M. Griffiths, Miss E. Mould, W. Brotherton, C. Taberner, C. Taberner, sen., all St. Peter's Wolverhampton; Miss L. J. Monk, Longdon; T. Greaves, Bilston; J. D. P. Smith, Shreshill; S. White, Great Barr; S. Clamp, All Saints', West Bromwich; R. Fairbrother, E. Fairbrother, F. Beech and Mrs. J. Beech, all Stafford.

The president closed the meeting by thanking all who had made it so successful. C. M. S.

UNIVERSITY OF BRISTOL SOCIETY'S SUMMER TOUR

WE finally collected together our wits and bicycles, and found ourselves on the train to Newport. Muscles already strained and hands blistered from furniture removing the previous evening, we sank back exhausted to enjoy our last taste of mechanised transport for another ten days. The summer tour, 1964, of the U.B.S.C.R. was to be in the Wye Valley and had been extended to last ten days instead of a week.

Our first visit was to All Saints', Newport, a very pleasant eight, and from there to Caerleon. Unfortunately, having taken a wrong turn out of Newport we arrived late but were unable to overstay our time because a wedding was to be held there at two o'clock. We were told that these bells are the lightest ring of eight in that part of the country, and it became painfully obvious that the Society is not used to handling light bells when the stay on the second was broken in the rise. It was here that we made first acquaintance with the tandem, whose riders though hailing from a rival society we permitted to join our ranks for the duration.

A horrible truth was then revealed to the secretary. Her lack of knowledge of Welsh place names had led her to confuse Llantrisant, Glam. with Llantrisant, Mon. The former, where we were scheduled to ring, was 40 miles away. The latter, which was just up the valley, possessed two bells. Even the most ardent tower-grabber was deterred by this: a hasty phone call sorted the matter out and we were able, thankfully, to struggle on to Chepstow Youth Hostel. We discovered that the nearest pub was a mile away, but inspired by rigorous renderings of 'Tavern in the Town' on the hostel piano we were not daunted.

The next morning we cycled to Chepstow to join the local band of St. Mary's for service ringing on their lovely ten. After the service we went and looked over Chepstow Castle, and then continued on to Mathern where we ate our packed lunches on a tombstone until thirst drove us afield. Alas, we arrived ten minutes after closing time.

After ringing on the six at Mathern, where we reached our highest venture by ringing a touch of Perivale which failed to come round until called into Plain Bob, we proceeded to Caldicot. By this time we were drooping with thirst and we had to beg a glass of water before we could even bear to listen to 'Pick of the Pops.' Having met and rung with the Rev. Roy Hallett and his band of young learners, we returned to Chepstow Youth Hostel.

HEAVEN'S GATE

On Monday we managed to force our expanding luggage into our shrinking saddlebags before setting out to ring at Tidenham, a lovely six. From there we had a seven mile drag to Lydney, where we were met by an officer of the law who unbuttoned his tunic to help us out in a good course of Cambridge Major. Then a long, long climb faced us to St. Briavels. At the top of the hill we saw a sign declaring 'Heaven's Gate.' Could it be that we had come so far? We were not surprised. Giving St. Peter an airy wave we started on the downward path. The view from St. Briavels is magnificent, but we had no time to appreciate it. The bells were in bad repair and we found them tough going. A postman came to meet us as we left. Policemen, postmen... what servant of his country would greet us next? We wondered. We soon found out. When we arrived at Clearwell we learned that a funeral was about to take place. Of course, we were unable to ring, but the weather was beautiful and we sat by the village stream trying to make our icily sticks shoot the rapids.

All too soon it was time to move on to Staunton. After enjoying the six bells there we had a ten mile run back through the Forest of Dean to Mitcheldean Youth Hostel, where the food we discovered was magnificent, and we were to be there for three nights. On discovering our prodigious capacity for drinking tea the warden had to dig out her largest teapot. With what joy did we then perceive that the nearest hostelry was a mere ten yards away. It possessed a piano which led us through an exhausting repertoire of song, ending with 'The Bristol Man' to the chagrin of our friends from another place.

The bells at Mitcheldean have just been rehung and are one of the finest eights we have ever visited. After ringing there on Tuesday morning we freewheeled all the way down to Blaisdon and Westbury-on-Severn, the latter having well sounding bells although their going was hard. We then swept round the curve of the Severn to have our lunch and ring at Awre. We had another very steep hill to climb to Littledean, after which we managed to stagger our exhausted way back to the hostel.

The next morning we arrived early at Newent, giving ourselves opportunity to buy postcards, icecream and the like. To our horror we discovered that the tandem had acquired itself a loud echoing horn which blazed a trail for us miles ahead. But as the tandem was inclined to overtake every vehicle in sight at rather more than average speed we realised that a horn was more of an asset than a liability. From the lovely six at Newent we continued on to Staunton, near Tewkesbury, a lone church set outside the village almost in the yard of a large farm. Bromesborough was our next stop where we were met by the Rev. F. F. Rigby, Master of the Gloucester and Bristol Guild, who, after ringing with us and conducting us round his neat little church, kindly provided us with tea in the Church Hall.

ACCIDENTS

On the way to the last tower of the day, Aston Ingham, our first accident occurred. A bumpy verge and faulty brakes caused two people to entangle themselves and their bikes, but there was no damage apart from a few bruises and a buckled wheel. Aston Ingham bells were very light and our Master disgraced himself by breaking the first stay of his ringing career. And so back to our last night at Mitcheldean. A delicious meal was ready for us, but we were too full to make the most of it, although not many plates were left unlicked.

On Thursday morning we said good-bye to the warden and her lovely children, voting this the best hostel we had ever stayed at. The memory was to linger with us nostalgically for the rest of the tour. We had another good-bye to make: to Maria, who had to leave us much to our regret. Our first tower that morning was Longhope—it was an experience to go downstairs to ring instead of up. The Master arrived late again, but for once he had a valid excuse: he had, so it seemed, somersaulted his handlebars in a desperate attempt to avoid hitting a stationary car. We continued to Weston-under-Penyard, where the more 'musically' inclined tried to find the easiest way to ruin yet another harmonium. We then moved on to Ross and enjoyed the beautiful eight, though our standard of methods and striking was by now abysmal. The sky was an ominous yellow but so far we had been fortunate with the weather and our luck held. In our exhausted state all we could do was to stagger to a cafe, where the wax on the candles had accumulated to form malignant looking growths, before going on to ring at Goodrich. Castle spotters were able to add yet another name to their list, and we saw the River Wye for the first time (... this tour was supposed to be in the Wye Valley, wasn't it?...). After ringing on this pleasant six we found we had a hilly track to climb to Welsh Bicknor Youth Hostel, where we were intrigued to find besides the Warden and his family an assorted collection of animals, including a tame crow. To reach the nearest pub we had first to brave a field of steers and trespass over a disused railway bridge before walking a mile along the opposite side of the river, but the men at least seemed to think it was worth it for the sake of the beautiful barmaid.

DEEP IN ROOKS' NESTS

The next day Timothy discovered that he was not feeling well, so we left him behind at the hostel for the day. Our first tower was Llangarron, where we were met by the Vicar, and after this St. Weonards. Here yet another horrible truth was revealed: the secretary had again sullied her reputation by allowing only one hour in which to cycle five miles and have lunch. However, we were only too glad literally to shake the dust of St. Weonards from our feet: the stairs to the belfry were in places ankle deep in rooks' nests and we dreaded what we might arouse by walking over them. The bells too were hard going; so we pressed on hurriedly to have lunch before ringing at Skenfrith. But the Furies were hounding us today: the rope on the third slumped and Roger still had a coil in his hand. The Vicar very kindly drove him to the hospital and he appeared later, his little finger broken. For the rest of the tour he rang one-handedly. The rest of us had a lovely downhill run into Monmouth, where the rain began to pelt down just as we reached the shelter of St. Mary's Church. The bells were some of the best we had encountered though I doubt if they felt the same about us. After this most of the party were keen to get back to the hostel: some of us could not face another eight mile drag without a break so we had some coffee before returning to Welsh Bicknor.

Saturday morning dawned bright and beautiful, unlike us. The strain was telling. We struggled up the long hill to Ruardean, arriving 55 minutes late so that we had time merely to ring up, have a quick course of Grandsire Triples and down before travelling on to Linton, a lovely six. We had lunch conveniently during a rainstorm after which we enjoyed the best rise of the tour at Upton Bishop.

MUSSELS AND FRIENDSHIPS

In a depressed mood we moved on to Dymock, a heavy and not a very easy-going six. We were delighted to meet here the Tyndale-Biscoes, no longer travelling tandem-wise. They came with us as far as Much Marcle but we were unable to ring here as no-one came to let us in. We then made our way to Rushall Youth Hostel. No advantages here, we thought. Meals served on cold plates and the pub a good half-hour's walk away (or ten minute run, depending on the strength of your thirst and your legs). But the cider was draught and bread, cheese and onions were served on the house. A jar of mussels was nearly the break-up of several beautiful friendships, but peace if not order was resumed as we weaved our happy way home.

The next day, Sunday, we had an uphill journey to ring at Woolhope. We stayed to Matins, the Vicar having kindly asked us if one of us would like to read the lesson. In the afternoon we rang at Fownhope where we were welcomed and entertained by the Rev. H. G. Sell who brought his family up to the belfry with him to watch us ring. He then directed us to Kings Cople up a very steep hill which made the muscles in our calves and shoulders sing. This next tower we viewed with some apprehension as the letter of acceptance had relieved the Vicar of all responsibility for any damage caused during our visit. Wishing that we had taken out insurance policies before embarking on this horrible venture we bravely seized hold of the ropes. We soon discovered that these were so long that it was easier to ring sitting down. The ringer of the second had to stand beneath an open trapdoor through which, if you didn't mind getting your eyes full of dust, you could see the bells swinging high above. It was now turning cold and it was a long way to Rushall but in spite of our exhaustion we found no difficulty after supper in returning to our lovely pub.

On Monday we had another late start so that we unfortunately only had time for a short ring on the lovely eight at Ledbury before moving on to the lighter eight at Colwall. We then made the mistake of waiting till we got to Coddington before having lunch. We arrived to find that this village consisted of a church, two houses and a post office which sold nothing but stamps. Most of us were not prepared to cycle two miles in the blazing sun to find a public house and so we lay limply in the churchyard until, after receiving several visits which became more and more pointed, the little woman in the post office suddenly produced a bottle of lemon squash and jug of water. This could not have been more welcome, and was yet another example of the kind hospitality we received throughout the tour.

Having enjoyed the bells we rode on to Bosbury, but though we waited a good time the tower was locked and no-one came to unlock it, so we pressed on to Stretton Grandison, a pleasant light six with an unusually close rope circle. We had a smooth run back along the Roman road to the hostel. This was our last evening and we celebrated it in the traditional style.

And so the final day had arrived when we never thought it would. Our penultimate tower was over the hill at Hampton Bishop (a pleasant ring), and then the beautiful six at Hereford St. Nicholas'. We were able to hold our heads up in the end by ringing an excellent touch of London Minor followed by a good lower, and we wished we could always ring like that.

The secretary wishes to thank all incumbents and tower captains for allowing us the use of their bells and for meeting us and enduring our indifferent ringing. The kindness and warmth we received, not only in the tower but from everyone we met, cannot be forgotten. She also wishes to acknowledge the encouragement and advice she received from various members of the Society when things looked their worst. The hills were high and the cycling hard, and next year's organiser was sometimes to be heard muttering wildly to himself about minibuses and sailing boats. We certainly endured more knocks and bruises this year than ever before, and it is surprising that all the bikes survived even as well as they did. It seemed that everything worked together to make this one of our most memorable tours.

OUTINGS

NORWICH, ST. GEORGE'S, COLEGATE

The St. George's ringers made an early start for their main outing of the year into Lincolnshire on June 27th. Despite the holiday traffic and 'short cuts,' we managed to ring the first touch at Wrangle more or less on schedule. Early rising seemed to affect the ringing here, but the bells were neatly lowered in peal, as indeed they were at most of the towers visited.

On to Bennington, where there was some furtive traffic in Eccles cakes and 'pop' before ringing London, Plain Bob, Kent and a good touch of Stedman. We rang next on the six at Butterwick, a beautifully kept church, where Plain Bob, Oxford and Norwich were successfully brought round. Thoughts began to turn to the high point (in every sense) of the day, because we were due to ring at Boston before lunch.

It is impossible to do justice to St. Botolph's within the close timetable of a ringing outing, but we hoped to be able to visit the church again some day. After getting our breath, we made a careful start with rounds and call changes on the fine ring of ten, Grandsire Caters, a plain course of Stedman, Bob Major and Grandsire Triples followed, and we felt that we had not disgraced ourselves.

After a gargantuan chop suey lunch, the ringing on the 14 cwt. six at Freiston seemed to match the meal, but at Fishtoft we had some of the best ringing of the day. Teatime took us through Boston again and on to Frampton where we rang some competent Stedman Doubles and a course of London, followed by another good lower in peal. At this stage the Alvis in the party almost disappeared under the weight of a group photograph before we moved on to the only octave of the day at Kirton.

The last two towers were Wigtoft and Alkirk, the day finishing in good style with Plain Bob, Cambridge and London. Our thanks must include Peter Adcock, who organised an excellent day.

D. P. M.

MAULDEN, BEDS.

Eagerly looked forward to by the regulars, the annual outing of the Maulden ringers is always a popular event, and this year a visit was made to the Sussex area.

On this lovely day, June 20th, the natural beauty of this enchanting countryside showed up at its best. Dorking was the first stop, and here some of the party refreshed themselves with coffee whilst others were even more refreshed by another meeting with that dynamic local character, Pat Cannon!

The bells of the Parish Church were put to good use before we moved on to Henfield, whose excellent ring of eight gave everyone much pleasure.

Lunch at Worthing was followed by a visit to historic Arundel, where a solid brick wall divides the chancel from the nave, a lasting tribute to the broadmindedness of a former Duke of Norfolk, who didn't mind what religious views people held, so long as they held them on the other side of the wall! (The bells are, fortunately, in the C. of E. part of the church, and we enjoyed a ring on them.)

Further ringing took place at Pulborough, where an excellent tea was enjoyed.

Next came Petworth's quite outstanding octave, though perhaps a little odd-struck—but there should be more bells like these!

The last tower was Chiddingfold, and a very pleasant ring. As we were about to leave Chiddingfold we realised we had provided a little interest for other people too (always very pleasant!). The coach in which we travelled was the centre of attraction, and though, to us, it seemed a perfectly ordinary coach, it came in for a great deal of notice, even from people who normally travel in Rolls Royces, probably due to the fact that it was parked outside one of England's most exclusive hotels!

Altogether a most delightful day's outing, and the sincere thanks of all are accorded to incumbents, local ringers, our organiser Ron Sharp, and all who helped to make it such a success.

A peal attempt for Bob Major which, had it been successful, would have been the first on the 'Gabriel' eight, was made at St. Nicholas', Great Yarmouth, to welcome the new Vicar (Rev. Donald Holt), lately of St. Peter's, Croydon. Canon A. G. G. Thurlow joined the otherwise local band in this effort to give his successor a happy in-coming to the parish but a shift course after two and a half hours put paid to hopes of success.

We hear that Mr. Tom Myers has been recuperating at Bude, and conducted a short touch of Stedman Triples at Stratton. This was his first attempt at ringing since last October.

Sturry, Kent, ringers are proud of the quarter peal we publish this week. A year less three days ago, Mr. F. File took on the task of training a band from scratch and now they have scored their first quarter of Grandsire. A previous attempt was baulked by the clapper leaving the fourth.

With the peal at St. Peter's, Brighton, on June 27th, the conductor, Mr. John W. Euston, has fulfilled a wish of 30 years' standing to score a peal in this church. The peal was a silver wedding compliment to Mr. H. C. Weaver, who rang the fifth, and his wife.

From 'Belfry News,' the Derbyshire Bell-ringers' monthly: 'When one considers the generosity of the American people in entertaining those representatives of English bell-ringers one shudders at the narrowness and paucity of imagination of the critics who argued against making donations towards the project.'

The bells of St. Mary's, Banbury, rang out merrily on June 24th, when a peal of Stedman Caters was rung in honour of the 93rd birthday of Mr. Fredk. Selwyn, father to the Banbury tower. His ringing career started at Bromesberrow, Glos. in the 1880's and continued until he was 87 when the stairs defeated him. Mr. Selwyn came to Banbury during world war one and for about 20 years he was sexton. He still takes a keen interest in ringing matters.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Miss Brenda Cooke, who, along with her parents Mr. and Mrs. T. Cooke, rings at St. Cuthbert's, Darlington, has obtained a B.Sc. degree at Newcastle University, and Gillian, daughter of Mr. E. Pannell, who also rings at St. Cuthbert's, has obtained a B.A. at Durham. Gillian does not at present ring, but having been introduced to the mysteries of bell control may take up ringing at some future date.

Mr. David Walklate, of Derby, is going to Hong Kong for three years.

With the peal at Cosgrove, Mr. W. J. Chester achieved an ambition to ring 200 peals. It was a good steady peal, just how Bill likes his ringing.

Kirby-le-Soken are holding their fourth Ringers' Sunday on July 26th. The support of visitors would be most welcome at this special Sunday for worship and general interest in our art.

Leatherhead, Surrey, bells which have been silent since last October, when the sixth bell fell into the pit, are likely to be heard again on August Bank Holiday, when the joint meeting between the Surrey Association and Guildford Guild takes place. Most of the bells are having new headstocks.

Four Yorkshire ringers aiming for their first and only peal of Minimus (in 10 methods) were rudely interrupted just 20 minutes from the end at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Stockton-on-the-Forest, nr. York, by an extremely annoyed individual who even put his fists up! Fortunately, he was removed from the church with considerable restraint by the ringers who will now have to make a further attempt on this delightful light ground-floor ring.

Congratulations to the Yorkshire Association band, conducted by Mr. W. F. Moreton, who with a peal of Spliced Surprise Royal in 32 methods have rung most methods to a peal of Royal.

In the peal at Askerswell on June 20th (see page 472) the ringer of the second was Joseph T. Barrett, and not Barnett.
