NAMES THAT CARRY HISTORY.

What's in a name? Sometimes there is a great deal. Although Shakespeare added: 'That which we call a rose by any other name would smell as sweet,' there are some names in ringing which would not sound half so sweet to the ringer's ear were they to be changed. Bell ringing, it has often been said, has a language of its own, and it is quite true that it employs common words in quite a special and unusual way. Where these terms have come down to us through centuries it would be almost sacrilege to change them. They may be quaint, like Grandsire, or curious, like Treble Bob, but no one, we imagine, would now dream of altering them. In the same way, there are ringing societies which have continued through many generations; that have filled a conspicuous place in ringing history. Their titles are a heritage from the past and their members to-day are only custodians. It will therefore strike the majority of ringers as strange that anyone should even call these names into question.

It takes all sorts of people to make a world, and there are some who, in the sacred name of progress and modernisation, would tear down everything that our predecessors built up, merely for the sake of change. We do not desire to attach importance to the letter of a correspondent, which appears in another column, because, to begin with, we are sure he is one of a very small minority, even if he is not the only one, who would like to see the titles of some of our old societies brought 'up-to-date.' It is not for that reason that we refer to it here. Mr. Amos shows a very confused idea — we might even go further and say complete ignorance—of the origin and status of the societies he particularly singles out, but we refer to the subject because it gives opportunity to remind ringers, and particularly young ringers, that in these titles history is writ large. To those who have studied ringing history there is a world of meaning in the titles of the Ancient Society of College Youths, the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths, and even of the St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham. The two former have come down to us unchanged from the early days of ringing, the last named perpetuates a connection which for nearly two hundred years has centred round the church that is still the core of the organisation which a few years ago was expanded to take in ringers in the diocese of Birmingham. To students of the past and to the majority of lovers of the present, a change would be unthinkable. The College Youths and the Cumberlands retain their ancient organisation and the former much of the ritual that has marked their proceedings for centuries. 'St. Martin's' implies a whole volume of ringing history to those who know. Among the many diocesan and territorial societies that have grown up in the last half century or so, there are not the same traditions to be maintained, but the Exercise would lose one of its most precious possessions if, for the sake of mere modernisation, the identity of these old societies were lost in new-fangled names. Even if our correspondent's arguments had any real foundation—which they have not, they are only misapprehensions—there would still be no reason why these names, which link us with the past—even with the foundations of our art—should be cast aside just because they do not fit to-day's circumstances. There are many parallels which we could quote, but the preservation of these old names needs no justification.

FOR BEGINNERS.

WRITING OUT METHODS.

Many beginners, we are afraid, do not do as much pencil and paper work out of the belfry as they ought to do if they want to master the first stages of change ringing. This is a mistake. You cannot do too much study at home, and a careful examination of changes expressed in figures is of immense assistance when it comes to practical application in the tower. An instructor may be as lucid as you will in his explanations, but all he tells you by word of mouth you have to try and imagine in your brain, unless you can write it down. To do this or that when you begin change ringing on verbal instructions alone is not as simple as following directions given by word of mouth when you seek to walk the countryside from village to village. This is not always an easy thing, unless you have been plainly directed, but to attempt to find your way through a maze of 'paths' in a method, with little more than split seconds in which to make up your mind which step to take next, is to be asked to perform a very difficult task, unless you have investigated your 'route' on a 'map' beforehand.

For this reason every beginner should be made to study a method before he is allowed to take a bell in it in the tower. His instructor should insist upon a pencil and paper lesson first. We have known beginners attempt to ring changes week after week with nothing to go upon but the perfunctory explanations given them in the tower on practice night. They have struggled valiantly but vainly, and have failed to 'see daylight.' We are convinced that the secret of the failure has been lack of study outside the tower.

A beginner may need some help in his first attempts on paper, just as he may need assistance when he comes to the practical application, but he will understand the subject best if he makes an effort unaided to build up the method he wants to ring. Here is a way in which he may set about it.

Let him first begin with changes on three bells. If he writes out the figures 1.2.3 and is told that he may only change adjoining bells, he will realise that, when he starts, his first change must be either 2.1.3 or 1.3.2, and, again, he will at once see, or else he will immediately find out, that whichever pair (the front or the back) he first changes, he cannot change them next time, or he will be back where he started. Therefore, the next step demands that the opposite pair shall be changed, and if he started with 2.1.3, he must next have 2.3.1. If he began with 1.3.2 he must next have 3.1.2, and so on, until, after six changes, he returns again to 1.2.3.

The basis of 'changes' is to change each time as many pairs of adjoining bells as possible. When you have only three bells, there is only one pair that can be changed at a time. If you have four bells, there are two pairs which can be changed the first time, but if you change two pairs of adjoining bells the next time, you will return to your starting point. Therefore, when writing out changes on four bells, they have to be formed by changing two pairs and one pair alternately. You can see this in the following figures:—

2 1 4 3
2 4 1 3
4 2 3 1
4 3 2 1

If you continue to follow that plan, the eighth change will take you back to rounds, 1.2.3.4.

But there are 24 possible changes on four bells. How are we to get the rest? At every eighth change, instead of moving the middle pair, one or other of the other pairs is moved, and the two remaining bells, as it were, stand still. If we continue the figures above, we shall have after 4.3.2.1 the following:—

1 3 2 4

Then, instead of changing 3.2, which would bring us back to rounds, we change 2.4, and leave 1.3 as they are, thus:—

1 3 4 2

And from that point you can continue to change the bells first with two pairs and then with one pair, until at the eighth change again you change the back pair only. Pursue this course and the bells come round at the extent of the changes, that is 24.

You can write out this 'course' if you like, but also try your hand at some of the other ways of arranging them. For instance, if at the fourth change, instead of the eighth, you change either the front or the back pair and allow the other two to 'lie still,' as it is technically termed, then, by repeating this at every eighth change succeeding, you can still get 24 true changes. Moreover, it need not be the fourth or the eighth change for the first of these 'shunting' operations. It can just as well be done at the second or the sixth. As long as the succeeding places are eight changes apart, rounds will turn up satisfactorily at the 24th change.

Now, try the experiment, will you, on paper, and see in how many ways you can get the 24 changes? It may prove the foundation of quite a lot of knowledge.

NORTH NOTTS ASSOCIATION.*THE LATE SECRETARY.

The November meeting of the North Notts Association was held at Worksop, when a large number of ringers attended. When the business meeting opened, the members stood in silence for a minute as a mark of respect to the late secretary, Mr. R. W. Stockdale, who met his death in a motor accident.

The Chairman, the Rev. R. F. Wilkinson, of Ordsall, referred to Mr. Stockdale's good work for the association.

It was decided that the assistant secretary, Mr. C. R. Smith, should take up full secretarial duties until the annual meeting.

The following new members were elected: J. W. Raithley, Newark; F. Vernon, Balderton; R. Harvey, T. Vessey, Miss K. Vessey and Miss D. Vessey, Barnby.

Mr. Baker, Gainsborough, in proposing a vote of thanks to the Rector for the use of the bells and Mr. A. Johnson for making the arrangements for tea, said that he felt he must thank the chairman for his interesting address at Nottingham on the previous Saturday.

Ringling took place during the afternoon and evening.

The loss of their secretary is very much felt by all the members of the association. His genial nature and enthusiasm had made a wide circle of friends among ringers. He had great natural ability, which enabled him to do things thoroughly and well. He was a capable ringer and conductor, and was always anxious to encourage any band of learners. He would travel miles to draw another tower into the association. His peal record was as follows: Minor 16, Bob Major 3, Little Bob Major 1, Treble Bob Major 1, Kent Treble Bob Major 1, Bob Royal 1, total 23 (conducted 18), in 8 towers.

BELLS THAT NEED OVERHAULING.
SUSSEX ASSOCIATION AT FELPHAM.

A meeting of the Western Division of the Sussex County Association was held at Felpham on Saturday, November 16th. There was a fair attendance considering what an 'out of the way' place Felpham is and the 'go' of the bells, which are sadly in need of overhauling and guides for the ropes. Ringling ranged from rounds to Cambridge Surprise Minor.

A short service was held, at which an address was given by the Rev. D. Manners.

Tea was provided by the parishioners, and the business meeting was presided over by the Vicar, who gave the members a welcome.

One new member was elected, viz., Mr. W. G. Bull, of Bognor Regis. Mr. F. C. Merritt proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar and all those who had helped to make the meeting a success.

HAVE WE ALL DONE OUR BIT?

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—May I be allowed, through the medium of your valuable paper, to make an appeal? We are nearing the end of a momentous year in the history of our great Empire, and ringing has taken its share in that history in no small measure. It is usual for us to begin to overhaul our doings at this time of year, both in our occupations and our arts or sports, etc., and check up our faults and see what remedies we can apply in readiness for the coming year, and when the New Year arrives we make all sorts of good resolutions. Sometimes these materialise, but more often they are forgotten or broken. So much for the frailness of human nature. May I suggest we do something original, not wait for the New Year, but start right now with our overhauls and remedies in the great art of bellringing? Let us examine ourselves and ask ourselves, 'Have I done my bit?' and I venture to say our conscience will answer, 'No.' The great leaders will probably find some flaw in their duties in the various high offices which they hold, the ringer who has almost reached the top of the ladder, may pause, and ask himself, 'Have I helped my more humble brother one step up this ladder or gone to any trouble to help the nearby struggling band?' The learner and more humble ringer can ask himself, 'Have I done my bit in attending practice, Sunday service ringing and home study?'

The captain and conductor can ask themselves, 'Have I done my job well; have I given the keen and studious ringer a chance to call a touch or to ring his first peal or the first in the new method he is keen on?' And I venture to say we shall discover some shortcomings. Well, presuming we find that, why not start now to try and do better? To quote the words of a great ringing master, 'Be ready' for 1936; bury the hatchet of 1935 and make up our minds never to dig it up; foster the spirit of brotherhood and friendship and let the year 1936 be unique in the annals of bellringing.

BELFRY GOSSIP.

Mr. James George was 82 on Wednesday last, and he will receive the congratulations of his hosts of friends upon the greatest achievement of his life. He has never been 82 before!

But you wouldn't believe it, after the way in which he rang the 9th at St. Magnus' Church, London Bridge, in a 'birthday' peal on Saturday. He rang it as if he had been 22 all his life.

Joking apart, however, his performance shows how wonderfully preserved, mentally and physically, he is for his great age, and everyone will wish him still many years of health to enjoy the art of which he is so fond, and of which he is still so able an exponent.

Ladies and gentlemen, the toast is: 'Many happy returns of the day to Mr. James George!'

Fifty years ago, on November 16th, Jasper Whitfield Snowden died aged 41. He was not only the founder of the Yorkshire Association, but his work for the art of ringing has laid the foundation of the knowledge of thousands of ringers who have succeeded him. He was buried in Ilkley Churchyard, and in the church a stained glass window is the memorial of the ringers of England.

Shalford Church bells, Surrey, will shortly be removed to Loughborough for recasting and augmenting to a ring of eight bells by John Taylor and Co. The six are to be turned into an octave with a lighter tenor.

Last week, for the first time, a peal of Major was rung in a method on the Bristol plan, in which the treble has a double dodging hunt—a course of Bristol stretched out half as long again.

But why 'Eryti' for a title? It may be good Greek, or Welsh, or Arabic, for all we know, or is it one of the Rev. E. B. James' little jokes? We hope he will enlighten us.

Mr. Pat Cannon, who rang the tenor to a peal at Yalding, Kent, on Saturday, has now rung the four heaviest six-bell tenors in Kent to a peal.

The first peal on the bells was rung at Ashbrittle, Somerset, on Saturday. This tower is in the extreme west of the county, eight miles from any railway station. Three of the local band took part and rang their first peal.

After 18 years' leadership of Hilperton tower, Wilts, Mr. W. J. Mees has resigned through ill-health. He has been a ringer for 61 years, and last Saturday a peal was rung in his honour.

A 'silent' peal of Stedman Triples was rung at Hagley, Worcestershire, last Saturday. There were some good old 'war horses' in the band, but the performance, all the same, is one upon which they may well be congratulated.

The bells of St. John's Church, Croydon, are being broadcast next Sunday morning, December 1st, for the 9.30 a.m. service (on the National long wavelength only). This is a regular broadcast from Croydon on the first Sunday in each month.

The death of Mr. R. Bevan, an old member of the Royal Society of Cumberland Youths, has occurred this week. The burial will take place at Highgate Cemetery on Tuesday, December 3rd, at 2 p.m. following upon the service to be held at St. Martin's Church, Gospel Oak.

THE WILLIAM PYE MEMORIAL.

A WHITSUNTIDE OPENING?

The fund for the William Pye Memorial is mounting up and has now topped the first £100.

It would be an excellent arrangement if the memorial bells could be opened and the tablet dedicated on the Saturday before next Whitsun, for, with the Central Council meeting in London on the following Tuesday, representative ringers from all parts of the country would have a better opportunity of attending the ceremony.

If, however, the scheme is to be completed thus early, there is much to be done in the meantime, and subscribers must send their donations promptly. Approximately another £150 is needed, and it is hoped that those who intend to contribute will do so at an early date.

The hon. treasurer of the fund is Mr. W. H. Hollier, 29, Duke Street, Chiswick, W.4.

THE RINGERS' DIRECTORY.

USEFUL WORK OF REFERENCE.

This useful publication is now in the printer's hands and will soon be available to ringers. The forthcoming edition is enlarged to some 160 pages, and contains, in addition to the 1,600 names and addresses of ringers, a mass of information concerning ringing organisations and church bells. It is a book which will prove indispensable to members of the Exercise.

Although it is now too late to add names and addresses to the personal directory, there is still time for others, who wish to secure a copy, to do so. The price is only one shilling, and this should be sent without delay to Mr. Edgar Guise, hon. secretary of the Bristol United Ringing Guilds, which is responsible for the publication. His address and further details about the directory will be found in our notice columns.

This handy work of reference should receive widespread support if only as an encouragement to the enterprise of the B.U.R.G., but it ought to be in the hands of every ringer on its merits. More subscribers are needed if it is not to be published at a loss.

A BAND OF RECORD BREAKERS.

HELMINGHAM RINGERS' FINE ACHIEVEMENT.

The brilliant company who ring at Helmingham, Suffolk, recently scored a peal of Dunwich Surprise Major.

them should be mentioned the late Mr. Ernest E. Lanham, who died in July, 1934, and whose death created a great loss in the company.

It is the thirtieth in which they have rung a peal at their own tower. For an eight-bell performance this must be a record for any company or tower.

This photograph is of the Helmingham ringers who have shared in the honour of this achievement, and with

SEFTON BELL FRAME.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—We see it is reported in your issue of November 22nd that Mr. W. E. Caroe, in his speech at the College Youths' dinner, stated that the last time he was at Sefton Church, Lancs, he found a wrought-iron and steel frame.

As the bellhangers who carried out the rehangng of this peal in 1933, we beg to point out that Mr. Caroe must be under some misapprehension as to the material of which the frame is constructed. We provided a cast-iron framework, which material, apparently, Mr. Caroe approves of in the construction of a bell frame.

IRON IN BELL FRAMES.

Dear Sir,—Some 18 months ago I went round Bunbury (Cheshire) Church with a London architect, who was interested in antiquarian matters, and had come to see some stone coffin lids placed in that church.

In the chancel is the tomb of Sir Hugh Calveley (period Edward III.) surrounded by some ancient wrought iron railings, which were, if I remember rightly, unpainted. I remarked how well preserved they were, and my companion said the reason was because 'wrought iron resisted corrosion much better than cast iron.'

As Mr. W. D. Caroe, speaking at the College Youths' dinner, took another view, I should like to hear what any metallurgical expert in the Exercise has to say about iron as it applies to bell frames.

OLD BELLS IN SUSSEX.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Congratulations to the Twineham band on ringing their first peal. I see that in your Belfry Gossip you say, 'It is interesting to note that the fourth bell in this tower is one of the oldest in the county. It is dated 1522.' That statement is hardly accurate, as there are between 60 or 70 bells older than 1522. The oldest was cast about 1250. There is at Beeding Church a peal of eight of which the 7th and 8th were cast about 1340.

WAR-TIME RINGER'S DEATH.

Mr. J. H. Wilson, who rang at Crosthwaite Church, Keswick, during the war, when members of the regular band were at the Front, died last week, and on Sunday, for the evening service, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples was rung with the bells half-muffled: J. Lowden (first quarter-peal) 1, J. W. Brownrigg 2, F. Grisedale 3, A. Dawson 4, T. Wilson 5, F. Barnes 6, T. Hogarth (conductor) 7, H. Just 8.

APPLETON'S VETERAN RINGER BEREAVED.

DEATH OF MRS. GEORGE HOLIFIELD, SEN.

The sympathy of ringers will go out to the veteran Appleton ringer, Mr. George Holifield, sen., in the bereavement he has sustained by the death of his wife. Mrs. Holifield passed away on Monday at the age of 70 years.

Mrs. Holifield was known to many ringers who had visited the old Berkshire village, and, as the wife and mother of ringers, had a special interest in all that happened in the famous belfry, where many ringing records have been made. In most of them her husband shared.

The funeral took place at Appleton yesterday afternoon.

DEATH OF MR. E. E. RICHARDS, GREENWICH.

A FORMER MASTER OF ST. JAMES' SOCIETY.

The death took place on November 18th at St. Alfege Hospital, Greenwich, of Mr. Edward Edmund Richards, at the age of 71 years, after a brief illness.

He was the son of the late Rev. John Richards, of Winton, Northumberland, and took up change ringing at St. Mary's, Woolwich, in 1885. A member of the Ancient Society of College Youths and the St. James' Society (London), he served as Master of the latter several years ago. For the past nine years he was in charge of the tower and bells of the Parish Church of St. Alfege, Greenwich, where, alas! half-pull ringing has ceased to be.

Mr. Richards had rung 93 peals in the Grandsire, Stedman, Plain and Treble Bob methods, and had called Holt's Original upon a few occasions. It is also upon record that he composed a three-part peal of Grandsire Triples, which was rung once only, conducted by the late Mr. F. Cullum, sen., at Frith, Kent.

LADIES IN THE BELFRY.

MR. HAROLD WORBOYS BRINGS A HORNETS' NEST ABOUT HIS HEAD.

The letter written by Mr. Harold Worboys, of Barking, which appeared in our last issue, in the course of which he appealed to the ladies to 'leave men to do just one thing in harmony together in this world' has brought a veritable nest of hornets about his head. There are some spirited replies from the ladies themselves in the letters we print below:—

'ELIZA HAS COME TO STAY.'

To the Editor.

Dear Sir,—Having read two or three times your correspondent's letter re ladies in the belfry, I must confess I cannot understand his object in 'revealing his remarks to all College Youths.' What is the connection between the two, and what does he expect the College Youths to do in the matter?

What he reveals to the ladies is most enlightening. There is nothing wonderful in the brotherliness (?) of six to twelve men which disappears immediately a lady comes into the belfry, especially as we are told 'it is not the ladies' fault.'

The belfry is part of the church and not a social club, exclusively for men. If Mr. Worboys desires the company of men, I would refer him to the C.E.M.S. or one of the many other organisations where men get together.

I fail to see what good such a letter can do. While such a spirit of selfishness exists there can be no harmony whether ladies are present or not.

Anyway, Mr. Wa(o)rboys is barking up the wrong tree. Eliza has come to stay, and neither he nor the College Youths can prevent her.

The report of the Ladies' Guild just published fully justifies our existence, and we mean to go forward. Therefore, brethren, let us dwell together in unity.

Wherever there is a ladies' meeting in progress, in the Northern District at any rate (and I feel sure the same applies in other districts), gentlemen ringers will always find a welcome, and our sisterly regard for one another will not suffer by their presence. We have had several joint meetings and always found them helpful and enjoyable, and hope we may have many more.

I. B. THOMPSON,

Joint Hon. Sec., Northern District, Ladies' Guild.

A REPLY TO THE 'HE-MEN.'

Dear Sir,—While sympathising with the point of view of your ringer correspondent from Essex on the subject of 'Ladies in the belfry,' I think it would be uncharitable to leave him in ignorance of the other side of the question.

Can the team spirit—which he appears to advocate—not exist in a mixed band of ringers equally as strongly as it does in other walks of life where men and women co-operate with each other? For instance—serving on committees, dramatic societies, sports clubs, etc.

Why single out bellringing as an art to be reserved exclusively for men? Is it fair to the weaker sex to say, 'Thank you for doing our work during the war. We know you became fascinated with the art in the process, but kindly retire into the background now and graciously act as stop-gaps?' Surely a ringer holds the position because of efficiency and not gender.

With reference to the remark implying that a woman in the belfry is a refined form of torture to thorough-going he-men bellringers, if it were not for a personal dislike of rudeness, I might retort that there are members of the male species little more than a 'pain in the neck' to their fellow-workers both male and female.

Nevertheless, joking apart, I know of nothing more likely to produce a sense of pleasure in one another's company than the ability to bring a well-struck touch to a successful conclusion. I trust that your correspondent may be converted to a more tolerant attitude towards genuine churchworkers.

WHY NOT A MEN'S GUILD?

Dear Sir,—No doubt others shared my amusement on reading Harold Worboys' letter in 'The Ringing World.'

Does Mr. Worboys stop to think how often women are, directly or indirectly, the donors of the bells on which he rings? Has he ever realised that many of his own sex have women to thank for introducing them to the belfry and teaching them to ring?

If Mr. Worboys is so averse to women's presence in the belfry, why has he not followed their example and formed a 'Men's Guild'? Perhaps the trouble is that their abilities make him feel uncomfortable?

Sorry, Mr. Worboys, but it would be as funny for us to ask the men to stay away, and just as rightful. If you want to be alone, why not take up a man's pastime such as Rugby or Association football?

Women don't intrude on these because they recognise them as men's pastimes.

In concluding, I must state that I have the gentlemen ringers at Mr. Worboys' local church to thank for many invitations to be present at their meetings during a stay in that district.

TAKEN AS A CHALLENGE.

Dear Sir,—Being a lady bellringer and reader of 'The Ringing World,' I take Mr. Worboys' column as a challenge.

In analysing it I take the first line, about realising that men wish to be together. We do realise it, but why should it be a belfry? And why should it appear wonderful for six, eight, etc., men to get together?

I think it would be more wonderful still if five men got together in a six-bell tower and could not ring Doubles until a lady came along to make up the number and make ringing possible, which happens to be the case in the tower where I ring. I might add that the men there are still brotherly one towards the other, do things in harmony and are quite satisfied.

I should like to put forward a suggestion to Mr. Harold Worboys, that if he would like to be with his own sex to do things in 'harmony in this world' without a lady making him feel as if things go wrong, why not join the Boy Scouts, or, if it's the exercise he needs, a good men's club where football is indulged in.

The belfry, from my point of view, is a place where ringers meet with one aim, to ring as 'the call to prayer,' and not to satisfy a mere whim of doing just one thing together as brothers.

Brotherliness is a natural faculty and needs no seeking.

'A LADY OF THE BELFRY.'

'A SPOT OF BOTHER.'

Dear Sir,—Mr. Worboys' (very apt name) letter is calculated to cause a spot of bother and serves no other purpose. If the ladies treat it with the contempt it deserves, they, at least, will be upholding that harmony that can be obtained only by pure unselfishness.

NO CAUSE OF FRICTION.

Dear Sir,—I would flatly contradict Mr. Worboys' assertion that wherever ladies permanently step into the belfry trouble follows. Were this the case, it certainly would not reflect credit on the men or the boys of that band. I have in mind St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, where ladies have formed part of the band since the Great War, and I have never heard they caused the slightest friction.

When I have rung there for service they have taken ropes that otherwise would have been idle. It often is my privilege to ring with the St. Mary-le-Tower band at Ipswich, and I am quite certain there is not a single member of that talented band that would wish their lady member, Miss Tillett, to resign so that they could be alone. And to say there is less brotherliness or that the belfry is less comfortable is all nonsense. One goes there to ring, not to spin yarns.

I have rung in other towers where ladies form part of the band, and have never heard of a case where friction arose through it. More often one meets shorthanded without them.

'COLLEGE YOUTHS FOR YOUTHS ONLY.'

Dear Sir,—I hope some day to be a member of that great society, the College Youths, and think it should be 'youths' only. However, to bar ladies from the belfry, 'No, a thousand times no.' Surely Mr. Worboys does not want to stop lady ringers altogether, and, as for feeling uncomfortable when a lady steps in, it should be just the opposite. In my humble opinion, a lot of—may I call it trash?—is cut out. No, Mr. Worboys, we cannot do without the ladies. Are you shy? I am.

IN VERSE.

Mr. Worboys' letter was discussed last Saturday by some of the Bright Young People when they met at Bray. It has caused one of them to lapse into verse:—

We are the Bright Young People,
Happy girls and boys;
When we go up into the steeple
There's no room for 'crusty' people.
We don't want your Harold Worboys,
He must realise
A 'touch' of 'rounds' or 'spliced Surprise,'
A 'fall in peal' to one's eyes,
All go to strengthen friendship ties,
Of Bright Young Girls and Boys.

ERYRI.

FIRST PEAL IN METHOD ON UNUSUAL PLAN.

The first peal of a method with the strange looking name of Eryri was rung last week at Bushey. It is a kind of expansion of Bristol Surprise by substituting a double dodging hunt by the treble for a Treble Bob hunt. The result is a course 336 changes long.

We print the figures of a lead below, but we are not sure that this is the first time the method has been published, although there is little doubt that the performance at Bushey is the first peal in a method on these lines. We believe the method itself was published in 'The Bell News' many years ago by another composer.

TITLES.

MR. AMOS WANTS TO CHANGE OLD NAMES.

To the Editor.

Sir,—During recent years there have been a number of change ringing guilds whose titles, having been thought to be rather out of date, have been changed to something more fitting with modern times. I have often wondered as the years roll by why this action has not been applied to the Ancient Society of College Youths, whose present title seems to me ridiculous, and is thought to be curious by people outside ringing when asking what the society consists of, and being given the answer that it is made up of ringers of all ages, in all parts of the country, and that its headquarters are in London. They ask, as I do, why use the word 'College' when not 5 per cent. of its members have ever been to a college, and why 'Youths' when it consists of men of all ages, some of them over 80 years of age? Similarly they ask of the Cumberland Youths, why 'Youths' and why 'Cumberland' if the society has no connection with Cumberland?

The 'St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham' is another whose title seems obsolete and ridiculous. Why 'St. Martin's' Guild if St. Martin's is not the Cathedral Church? Would not 'The Birmingham Diocesan Guild' sound much better? Five years ago it was suggested splitting the Midland Counties Association up into diocesan guilds. Who, then, would have suggested naming the Leicester Diocese 'The St. Margaret's Guild for the Diocese of Leicester,' or the Derby Diocese 'The St. Andrew's Guild for the Diocese of Derby'? Why, then, 'St. Martin's Guild for the Diocese of Birmingham'?

Northampton.

P. AMOS.

Believing that Mr. Amos would like to know the feeling of the College Youths about his suggestion that the title of the Ancient Society should be changed, we showed his letter to one of its members and this was the part of the comment which came within the permitted scope of cold print:—

'There are many things in ringing besides the title of the Ancient Society of College Youths which have seemed ridiculous to Mr. Percy Amos, and many other things in it thought to be curious by people outside the Exercise. How they like to poke fun at us over our "Grandsires" and "Bob Majors," as they love to style them!

'But why should Mr. Amos think the title of the College Youths so ridiculous? Presumably he has read the history of it—or hasn't he? And, after all, is it so much of a misnomer as he wants to think it—is it any more a misnomer, for instance, than his own name? He is not one of the prophets—the real prophets, I mean—but no one says his name is ridiculous.

'Let us, however, just look at this title of "Ancient Society of College Youths." Seeing that the society is almost three hundred years old, you cannot get away from the fact that it is "ancient," can you? And most of the members to-day are youths; some are youths in years, some are youths in spirit, and still entitled, I think, to call themselves by that description. But what about that word College? That is where, I think, Mr. Amos has slipped up rather badly. I do not imagine that those who gave the society its name had any intention of limiting the membership to college students or graduates. No, Mr. Amos has got hold of the wrong end of the stick. The society derived its name from the College of the Holy Ghost and Hospital of God's House, founded by Dick Whittington in 1424. This College was situated upon the east side of College Hill, in the city of London, and adjoining it was the Church of St. Martin, where the College Youths first practised. This church was swept away in the Great Fire. There is no College now on College Hill, but the thoroughfare retains its name, and so have the College Youths, with as much justification as the city authorities retain the name of the street.

'But even if all this did not justify the retention of the old name of the society, it would still be an act of great presumption, if not impertinence, on the part of Mr. Amos to suggest that such a famous old title should be discarded.

'And the same may be said of his criticism of other societies. Mr. Amos should read their history. The Cumberland Youths were never associated with the county of that name. The title of "Cumberland" was conferred on the society as an act of favour by the Duke of Cumberland.

'As to St. Martin's Guild, the members can be left to deal with Mr. Amos. If they do, the men of Birmingham can be trusted not to put too fine a point upon their language. St. Martin's has been the centre of ringing in Birmingham for nearly 200 years, and the real trouble, if any, which Mr. Amos should seek to put right is not to change the title of the Guild, but to get the ecclesiastical authorities to change the Cathedral. It should be St. Martin's and not St. Philip's.

'What a wonderful world we should have, if Mr. Amos had his way!'

BIRTHDAY.

On Saturday, November 23rd, at St. Anthony-in-Meneage, Cornwall, 720 Bob Minor was rung as a birthday compliment to Mr. P. R. C. Williams, the secretary for the Truro District of the Truro Diocesan Guild: E. Sanders 1, W. H. Southeast 2, G. W. Taysom 3, Miss E. J. C. Angwin 4, C. E. Lanxon 5, F. E. Collins (conductor) 6.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION.*NORTHERN DIVISION'S ACTIVITIES.

The annual meeting of the Northern Division of the Essex Association took place at Bocking on Saturday week, when, despite the inclement weather, 61 ringers and friends attended, including Mr. E. P. Duffield, Master of the Association, and Mr. L. J. Clark (general secretary), the following 22 towers being represented: Earls Colne, Greenstead Green, Braintree, Bocking, Dunmow, Great Bardfield, Rayne, Sible Hedingham, Colchester, Wickham St. Paul's, Brentwood, Maldon (All Saints'), Chelmsford, Springfield, Kelvedon, Witham, Great Tey, Pebmarsh, Colne Engaine, Halstead, Ford End and Sawbridgeworth. The ringers attended service, at which the address was given by the Dean (the Very Rev. E. Rogers, O.B.E.), and a collection on behalf of the Bell Restoration Fund amounted to 16s. 9d.

Tea was partaken of at the Workmen's Hall, kindly loaned for the occasion by Mr. Courtauld. The arrangements for this had been made by local ladies. Dean Rogers presided.

At the business meeting which followed Mr. F. Ridgwell (district secretary) read his report on the activities in the district during the past year. Five meetings had, he said, been held, viz., at Finchingfield, Kelvedon, Pebmarsh, Greenstead Green and that at Bocking, there having been an average attendance of 43. Thirty-five peals had been rung in the division, and four honorary members, seven ringing members and three probationers had been elected. Mr. Ridgwell thanked all for their attendance at the meetings, which helped to make the gatherings so successful, and he especially thanked the correspondent of each company for the assistance rendered by collecting subscriptions and forwarding them.

Mr. Duffield spoke of the pleasure it gave him to visit the Northern Division. He did not know of any division where there was more unity and activity; it was, indeed, a really live division. They were fortunate in having two centres like Earls Colne and Braintree, where high standard methods were rung and there was excellent striking. He referred to the indisposition of Mr. Keeble, of Feering, and suggested that greetings be sent to him from that meeting, a suggestion which was unanimously agreed to.

The election of officers followed. Mr. A. A. Saunders (Greenstead Green) was re-elected District Master and Mr. F. Ridgwell (Earls Colne) district secretary, and both returned thanks.

Three new ringing members were elected. It was agreed that the next meeting be held at Coggeshall about January 25th next.

On the proposition of the District Master, thanks were passed to the Dean for the use of the bells and his excellent address.—Mr. Duffield moved a hearty vote of thanks to the ladies for having prepared so enjoyable a tea, and Mr. L. W. Wiffen expressed thanks to the Master and general secretary for their attendance.—The Dean, responding, said he would convey to Mr. Courtauld the thanks of the meeting for the use of the hall.

The following methods were rung on the bells during the afternoon and evening: Bob Minor, Stedman Triples, Bob Major, Kent Treble Bob and Double Norwich Major, Superlative, Cambridge, Belgrave, Bristol and London Surprise.

SURREY ASSOCIATION.*NORTH-WESTERN DISTRICT AT BENHILTON.

The last meeting of the year of the Southern District was held at All Saints', Benhilton, on Saturday, and proved one of the most enjoyable that the district has held. About 45 members and friends attended during the afternoon and evening from Banstead, Reddington, Benhilton, Chelsea, Croydon, Epsom, Ewell, Kingston, Leatherhead, Merton, Mitcham, Shoreham-on-Sea and Uckfield.

Ringings commenced soon after 3 o'clock and a good variety of methods was practised throughout the afternoon. A short service was conducted by the Rev. C. Willis, curate at All Saints', Benhilton (who is himself a ringer). He gave a very interesting address, and it was a pity that those people who complain about bellringing were not there to hear it.

Mr. Poole, the organist (another local ringer), presided at the organ, and the assistance of the choirboys made the service all the more enjoyable.

Tea was served at the Rendezvous Cafe, 36 sitting down to a very enjoyable meal.

The business meeting followed, the Rev. C. Willis being voted to the chair. The District Master expressed his desire to resign from office at the end of the year.

The secretary notified the members that the next meeting is the annual district meeting, to be held at Mitcham on Saturday, January 25th.

The meeting closed with a very hearty vote of thanks to all at Benhilton who contributed to making the gathering such a success.

The tower was again open for ringing, and the bells were kept going in methods to suit all tastes until about 9.15 p.m., when ringing closed with a finely struck touch of Spliced Surprise Major and the eight bells lowered in peal.

BRAY TENOR UNCONQUERED.

Although there was plenty of water about, it did not prevent any of the forty smiling faces from meeting at Bray for the 'usual monthly practice' of the East Berks and South Bucks Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild.

There were several who wished to 'conquer' the tenor, but, whatever they think, the bell is still there. Rounds (plenty of them), Grandairs and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob, Spliced Kent and Oxford, Cambridge and Loudon Surprise were all rung. A 'tit-bit' from Amersham was tried, Spliced Cambridge, Norwich and London, but it came to grief in the last lead.

Thanks are due to David B. Hart for his arrangements, although it is hoped that he gets a few more bells for the next meeting.

A SUNDAY IN NORTHANTS.

A very pleasant, though very wet, afternoon was spent on Sunday, November 17th, by a band of the N.U.T.S., visiting four towers near Northampton. The party, which included Mr. A. P. Cannon, of London, were shepherded by Mr. P. Amos, whose excellent arrangements satisfied everyone. A start was made at Cogenhoo (six, tenor 8½ cwt.), and on an exceptionally good-going peal 720 Bob Minor was rung by S. Corby (first touch of Minor) 1, P. Amos 2, F. C. Tysoe 3, D. Cockings 4, P. Jones (first 720 of Minor) 5, A. P. Cannon (conductor) 6. Tea was very kindly provided by Mr. S. Corby at his house, and a move made to Whiston. On this grand-toned peal of five (tenor 17 cwt.) several 120's of Doubles were rung. The bells go very well, considering the 70ft. of rope and no guides!

Ecton was the next tower on the list, but owing to a head-wind and driving rain the party arrived too late for a 720, and contented themselves with 120's of Bob Minor. The tenor weighs 18½ cwt., and the bells are of medium tone. In the tower is an old wall painting of ringers, recently mentioned in 'The Ringing World'. The last tower on the list was Mears Ashby (tenor 1½ cwt.). The six bells have a medium draught, go well and are of excellent tone. After the service touches of Doubles were rung. The rain had now ceased, thank goodness, and it is presumed everyone had a safe journey home, tired but happy.

ARMISTICE RINGING.

A half-muffled quarter-peal of Grandairs Doubles at St. Helens, Lancs, with four covering bells: W. Lynn 1, P. Case 2, W. Johnson 3, H. Grundy 4, C. Blackburn (conductor) 5, S. Burrows 6, W. Parr 7, J. Hurst 8, J. Scott 10.

On Monday, November 11th, at Wroxham, with the bells half-muffled, 720 London Surprise Minor: S. Nun 1, E. A. Stevenson 2, V. M. Ormerod 3, A. F. Boyce 4, H. C. Read 5, G. Bailey (conductor) 6.

On Armistice Day, at St. Edmund's Church, Warkton, with half-muffled clappers, 720 Grandairs Doubles: R. W. Lawrence 1, H. T. Eastbrook 2, Miss D. J. Moir 3, L. G. Toseland 4, A. S. Toseland (first 720 as conductor) 5.

On Monday, November 11th, at Coalbrookdale, Shropshire, a half-muffled quarter-peal of Grandairs Triples, from Parker's Twelve-part: E. D. Poole 1, W. Saunders (conductor) 2, G. F. D. Pratt 3, W. Lago 4, G. L. Hewitt 5, J. Hanley 6, B. L. Jones 7, A. Garbett 8.

On Sunday, November 10th, for Armistice service at Cadoxton, 1,272 Kent Treble Bob Minor: B. Williams 1, J. E. Bloxham (first quarter-peal of Kent as conductor) 2, D. Rees 3, E. Phillips 4, A. Devonald 5, G. I. Lewis 6. Rung with the bells half-muffled.

SUNDAY SERVICE TOUCHES.

SOUTHAMPTON, HANTS.—At St. Mary's Church, on Sunday, November 24th, for the special jubilee service of the Southampton Football Club, a quarter-peal of Grandairs Caters (1,296 changes): J. W. Faithfull 1, H. Smith 2, W. Squires 3, R. Curtis 4, T. W. Thirkell 5, F. Mursell 6, R. Brown 7, H. Reeves 8, N. Curtis (first touch as conductor on ten bells) 9, Raymond Curtis 10.

BURNHAM, BUCKS.—On Sunday, November 24th, for evensong, a quarter-peal of Bob Triples in 47 mins.: B. O'Neill (age 14) 1, J. E. Taylor (age 14) 2, W. A. Cyster (age 15) 3, G. Gilbert 4, J. D. Taylor (age 15) (first attempt as conductor) 5, G. W. Limmer 6, G. H. Limmer 7, C. A. Burgess (age 17) 8. J. D. Taylor is the fourth member of this young band to conduct a quarter-peal of Triples.

ANSTEY, LEICESTERSHIRE.—On Sunday, October 6th, for harvest festival evensong, a quarter-peal of Stedman Triples in 45 mins.: Miss I. Simpson 1, Mrs. A. Disney 2, R. S. W. Smith 3, E. H. Hutton 4, A. Disney 5, W. Bottrill (conductor) 6, I. J. Wade 7, Miss E. H. Cufflin (first quarter-peal) 8. First quarter-peal in the method by all except ringers of 5 and 6. Mr. R. F. Elkington kindly stood out for the visiting conductor at short notice.
