A PROPOSED NEW GUILD.

The division of the Diocese of Winchester is likely to bring with it a partition of the Diocesan Guild, which has been in existence since the year 1879. The diocese at present covers Hampshire, the Isle of Wight and the Channel Islands, and a considerable part of Surrey. The Diocesan Guild has been one of the best organised and most successful in the country. Now, however, the diocese is to be divided into three, and new sees are to be created, one centred on Portsmouth and the other on Guildford, and it is in the Guildford District that the desire is strong for a separate Diocesan Guild. The Guildford District has always been one of the strongest numerically in the Guild, and at the moment has over a hundred and sixty members and seventeen affiliated towers. Guildford District, however, by no means covers the whole of the proposed new diocese. The York Town District, with a hundred members and twelve affiliated towers, has up to the present been desirous of remaining with Winchester in a joint association. There are other towers in the north-east corner of the diocese which have never taken kindly to affiliation with Winchester, and, whatever happens elsewhere, their position is not likely to be affected.

The success of a separate Guildford Diocesan Guild, therefore, depends upon a uniting of the forces in the Guildford and York Town districts, and much will depend upon the attitude of the members of the latter at their annual meeting to-morrow. Co-operation between the two branches will smooth away many of the difficulties, and a Guild which could be assured at the outset of nearly thirty towers and over 250 members has great possibilities. But the task before the organisers of the proposed new Diocesan Guild is not an easy one, as those who know the special local circumstances fully realise. We believe, however, this much may be said. Whatever may be the feelings of the members of the remaining part of the Guild, if the towers in the new Guildford diocese can find unanimity and show a desire to work together in promoting the welfare of a new association, then, however much their departure may be regretted, they will begin their new career with the goodwill and the best wishes of those from whom they part company.

The Portsmouth Area has expressed its desire to remain in unity with the Winchester diocese, under an expanded title, just as Durham and Newcastle, Bath and Wells, Gloucester and Bristol, Llandaff and Glamorgan, have respectively remained united in ringing matters. They would like to see Guildford retaining its connection with the old organisation, and the Guild Committee were to report upon the subject at the next annual meeting.

Last Saturday's decision at Guildford, however, has cut the ground from under their feet, but, despite that, it is unlikely that anything will be done to create dissension in Surrey. As we said before, if a spirit of concord is shown in Guildford and York Town Districts, the spirit of goodwill will doubtless show itself over the Hampshire border. In that case the proposed new Guild could go forward upon a career of usefulness, fully justifying its existence and taking its place among the leading associations of the country.

DEATH OF AN OLDSWINFORD RINGER.

The death took place on Friday, November 5th, of Mr. William Alfred Pugh, of 165, Hagley Road, Oldswinford, Stourbridge, following a protracted illness. He leaves a widow and a grown-up family of two daughters and a son. Mr. Pugh was the second son of the late Mr. William Pugh, a ringer of fifty years ago, and he also was one of four brothers who became campanologists, and only one of whom, Mr. Walter Pugh, of Cradley, now survives. A sister with her four brothers used to complete the party of the Pugh family of handbell ringers who were associated with St. Thomas' parish, and performed at most of the social gatherings which were held forty years ago. The late Mr. W. A. Pugh, who was 69 years old, made a study of change ringing, and had taken part in a number of peals both for the Worcestershire Association and the Dudley and District Guild, of which he was a member. For a number of years he was towerkeeper at St. Thomas' Church, Stourbridge, a position his father used to hold, since when he has been a member of the Oldswinford St. Mary's band. The deceased gentleman was an old Volunteer, having joined the former 'D' Company (Wordsley) of the 1st South Staffs Volunteer Battalion in the year 1883. Mr. Pugh was well known and respected, and a large circle of friends will hear with regret of his passing.

The funeral took place on Tuesday, November 9th, at St. Mary's Church, the Rev. H. H. Williams (Rector) conducting the last rites. The mourners were Mr. W. Pugh (son), Mr. N. Rowley (son-in-law), Mr. Walter Pugh (brother), and Mr. C. Baggott (brother-in-law). The following ringers acted as bearers: Messrs. J. Orford, A. J. Skelding, J. Goodman, Geo. Rowley, Percy Pope and A. Smith. Mr. A. J. Skelding (secretary of the Northern Branch) represented the Worcester Association, and Messrs. J. Goodman and G. Rowley the Dudley and District Guild. Amongst those present were: Messrs. Geo. H. Pagett (Stourbridge), Thomas Heathcock (Oldswinford) and C. W. Cooper (Lye).

There were a number of beautiful floral tributes, including one each from the Oldswinford band, and Stourbridge St. Thomas' band of ringers, and one from Mr. and Mrs. J. Goodman, sen. and jun., of Dudley.

In the evening the following members rang a touch of Grandsire Triples (1,344 changes) at St. Mary's Church, Oldswinford, with the bells half-muffled as a token of respect to an old ringing comrade: Sidney Yeadon 1, David Heathcock 2, John Bass 3, Robert Matthews 4, Percy Pope 5, Wm. BELFRY GOSSIP.

Messrs. J. B. Joyce and Co., Ltd., have just fixed a new chiming clock at the Parish Church, Lydeard St. Lawrence, Somerset. They have also added Cambridge chimes to the clock at Wrenbury Parish Church, Cheshire, and also reconstructed the clock and added Westminster chimes at St. Mary's Church, Finedon, Northants.

Our bell-hanging has come, apparently, to a pretty pass. The big firms are doing their work too well.

At one Lancashire tower, where Messrs. Taylor and Co. hung the bells on ball bearings, a request was made by some well-known ringers for the use of the bells for a peal. The reply was to the effect that the bells were now so delicately hung that there might be some damage done unless the ringers were accustomed to them, therefore the request was refused!

Another interesting point for the consideration of the bell founders has just been brought to the front. At a certain Hampshire tower, a local ringer was being congratulated upon the excellent new peal that had been installed, when he rather surprised the gentleman offering congratulations by saying he didn't like them as well as the old bells (a very indifferent lot).

When asked what was the matter, he replied that the bells were too 'tinny.' 'Why,' he said, 'when you stand outside the tower you can hear the tin in them!' (Collapse of the gentleman with the congratulations.)

They are still laughing in a certain northern city at the ringer who forgot to put his clock back at the beginning of October and turned up to ring an hour before time.

William Walker 'designed and called' a peal of 5,040 Bob Major Triples rung on November 22nd, 1721, at Mortlake, Surrey. The old board records that it was the third time this peal (meaning, presumably, the method) was ever rung. William Walker rang peals more than twenty years later at Richmond, and it was probably his son of the same name who took part in '5,040 Grandsire Trebbles Double' at Richmond in 1767, and '10,640 Bob Majors' at Mortlake in 1776.

The first silent peal of Stedman Triples was rung at Burton-on-Trent on November 20th, 1886. The band contained some famous names—C. H. Hattersley, J. Carter, H. Bastable, J. Griffin, S. Reeves, W. Wakley, J. Jagger, and A. Thomas.

One of the earliest 'family' peals was rung at Soham on November 20th, 1809, when eight Tebbits rang 5,208 Oxford Treble Bob Major.

The first peal of Grandsire Cinques on the present twelve at St. Peter Mancroft, Norwich, was rung on November 23rd, 1775.

On the same day in 1732, the Society of City Scholars, long since defunct, rang a peal of 6,012 Grandsire Caters at Cripplegate.

The Eastern Scholars scored a 15,120 Bob Major at West Ham, in 8 hours 40 minutes, on November 25th, 1737. At that time it was, of course, the longest peal ever rung.

For the benefit of Miss Shade, sister of the late Mr. I. G. Shade, and who was for many years housekeeper to this well-known ringer, a set of sixteen handbells is to be disposed of in a competition, among those who subscribe a shilling each. Single tickets or books of ten can be obtained from 'The Ringing World' office, and the Editor will be glad to receive the assistance of anyone who can distribute them.

THE LONDON SURPRISE RECORD.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO BE MADE.

All being well, another attempt to ring the 14,144 London Surprise Major will be made at Warnham, Sussex, on Saturday, November 27th, starting at 10.30 a.m. The band will be as on the previous occasion, when the peal was lost after seven hours' ringing.

SUPERLATIVE SURPRISE MAXIMUS.

To the Editor.

Sir,—The late Mr. W. L. Catchpole gave me the figures of Superlative Maximus, as printed by Mr. Geo. Baker, before 1912, although I cannot say the exact date, and I was always under the impression that he had produced them long before that. However, the extension is quite a natural one, and anyone attempting to extend the method to twelve could hardly get anything else. This being so, and in the face of so many different persons obtaining the same thing independently, it can scarcely be claimed by anyone as his discovery.—Yours truly,

CHAS. J. SEDGLEY.

TOWER THAT CRACKED NUTS.

The members of the Port of Bristol Authority Staff Association and their friends paid a visit to Temple Church recently, under the leadership of Canon Welchman, who gave the party an interesting description of the church, and subsequently showed them round the building. Queen Elizabeth, he said, was very interested in this church when visiting Bristol, and, after returning to London, sent the Duke of Norfolk to see whether it was true that people cracked nuts between the tower and the walls when the bells were rung. The Duke paid the visit, and saw the thing actually done.

THE DIVISION OF WINCHESTER DIOCESE

A NEW GUILDFORD DIOCESAN GUILD DECIDED UPON.

An important decision was taken on Saturday at the annual meeting of the Guildford District of the Winchester Diocesan Guild, when it was resolved to inaugurate a separate Guild of ringers for the new diocese of Guildford when it is finally formed.

Despite a dreuching afternoon, the meeting was attended by representatives of most of the affiliated towers in the district, there being nearly 70 members present. Mr. W. Harrison, an honorary member, presided, and he was supported by Rev. Canon G. F. Coleridge, Admiral T. P. Walker, Major J. H. B. Hesse, Mr. G. Pullinger (general secretary of the Guild), Mr. E. Raddon (hon. secretary of the district), and Mr. C. Hazelden (district Ringing Master).

Although coming last on the agenda, the matter provoked a long and animated discussion.

THE ALTERNATIVES.

The Chairman said they had to consider whether it was desirable to form a Guildford Diocesan Guild, when the diocese was formed, or whether they would continue with the dioceses of Winchester and Portsmouth under a new title. He did not think it was at all possible for the new diocese to be formed before next St. Swithin's Day, which was July 15th. He understood they were holding the annual meeting of the Winchester Diocesan Guild in Guildford some time before that date, so that he did not think it was at all incumbent upon them, unless they desired to do so, to take a binding vote that evening.

Mr. R. Whittington thereupon moved 'that on the creation of the Guildford diocese, a Guildford Diocesan Guild of Change Ringers be formed, to take effect at the first annual meeting after the actual creation of the diocese.—Mr. S. Radford seconded. No speeches were made by either the proposer or seconder, and Mr. J. S. Goldsmith moved as an amendment: 'That this meeting of the Guildford District of the Winchester Diocesan Guild of Change Ringers is of opinion that a division of the diocese does not make desirable at present a division of the Winchester Diocesan Guild, and recommends that it be continued as a united body under a title to be hereafter decided upon.' He said that while he agreed that ultimately a Guildford Diocesan Guild would become desirable, there was at present within the area too great a divergence of opinion on the subject, and they should wait until, by propaganda or otherwise, a greater unanimity prevailed. He pointed out that two years ago the York Town District, which would also come into the new diocese, had expressed an opinion against dividing from the Winchester Diocesan Guild, and they had also to recollect that a number of towers in the Leatherhead district were standing aloof. It would be better, he urged, to wait for a separate Guild, until they could be sure of bringing in the majority of the towers in the diocese, instead of running the risk of virtual failure by starting with a divided camp.

Mr. A. H. Pulling seconded the amendment. He said it would be a different matter if they could persuade the clergy to induce their ringers to come into the Guild, but they knew that the Surrey Association was doing good work in the county, that towers in the Leatherhead District preferred the Surrey Association to the Winchester Guild, while in the York Town District there was also a branch of the county organisation. York Town District was strongly in favour of staying with the Winchester Guild, and it was possible, if a change was forced, some of the towers would go over to the Surrey Association. He agreed with the opinion that they should wait until the new Bishop was appointed. If he wanted to have the ringers of the diocese under his own wing it would then be time to go on.

IN THE BEST INTERESTS OF RINGING.

Mr. J. J. Jones (who for many years was secretary of the Guildford District) said when the district was first formed they were told that they would be able to do nothing; and they did nothing for nearly six weeks (laughter), and then the towers came rolling in. The Guildford District had not only paid its way but had paid part of the expenses of the rest of the Guild. Since the year 1904 it had paid something like £200 to the central fund of the Guild, and if only half that sum had been spent in that district they would have 'roped in' all the six-bell towers, with a corresponding increase in the subscriptions. If they had no more now members, they would have 131 in that district alone to start the Guild with. When the Winchester Guild was started there were only 35 members. He believed a separate Guild would be in the best interest of ringing. If it was good for Church life to have a new diocese, it was good for bell ringing. If they could have a meeting once a month, they would keep their towers in better touch with the Guild and get more and better Sunday ringing. The time to start the new Guild was at the division of the diocese, so that they might catch the wave of enthusiasm which would inevitably arise.

Mr. W. Melville said when the new Bishop began to get his organisations together he would not be satisfied unless all the branches of Church work were diocesan in character. In the branch in which they were interested they had got plenty of enthusiasm as long as somebody else did the work (laughter). That branch would never be what it ought to be until everybody that was skilled in ringing put his shoulder to the wheel. He believed that if they formed a Guildford Diocesan Guild, starting with small things, in another ten years practically the whole of the towers in the Guildford Diocese would come into the Guild. If they formed the Guild they would have to find officers somewhere, and unless people were willing to do the work they would not get very far.

A COMPACT DIOCESE.

The Chairman pointed out that the proposed new diocese would be singularly fortunate in being such a compact area, and he could see no logical reason why the towers in the York Town area could object to coming into a Diocesan Guild. If it was for the best interests of ringing that a separate Guild should be formed, they could not take notice of those who would not listen to reason. There was a desire to-day on the part of incumbents to do what had long been necessary—to recognise bell ringing as an integral part of church work. How much easier it would be to band together in good fellowship in the new Guildford Diocese with its 142 parishes, compared with the present large diocese of Winchester. In a Guildford Diocesan Guild they would be brought much more closely in touch with each other.

Mr. G. Pullinger said the reason why the York Town District was not in favour of a Guild for the diocese of Guildford was that they did not think it would succeed at present. He had studied the question, and he thought the chances were all against it succeeding at present. Personally he would like to see the Guild carried on as it now was, with perhaps a reorganisation, and he suggested that in each of the dioceses a sub-committee should be formed with the object of fostering and developing the diocesan spirit among the ringers, so that when the position was favourable separate Guilds could be formed. He urged the members to approach the question cautiously and not be in too much haste.

Mr. C. Hazelden said nearly fifty years ago the Winchester Guild was formed by a little band of men who were of good spirit and had plenty of courage and faith. With these characteristics he urged the members to go forward with the formation of a Guild for the Guildford diocese. He was quite aware of the difficulties and that certain border towers might be tempted to remain outside, particularly if the threat were carried out to form a Hampshire County Association. He was aware also of the opposition in the York Town District and of the activity of the Surrey Association, and while some of the opposition might not be overcome in their lifetime, there were generations yet unborn, to whom Winchester would be but an historic fact. Their lives would centre in the diocese of Guildford.

Mr. Whittington said he loved the Winchester Guild and everything connected with it, but when the ecclesiastical authorities decided that a new diocese should be formed, he wanted to follow suit and have a new diocesan Guild. If they were on the wrong track in splitting the Guild, then those who decided on the splitting of the diocese were also on the wrong track. Everything connected with the Church was becoming more and more diocesan in character, and, although there were suggestions that county associations might be formed, county associations could not possibly be of the same standard as diocesan associations. He was prepared to admit that they would have sentiment and prejudice to deal with, but it would gradually wear out. If they did not start the new diocesan Guild now, the time would come when they would have to, and he was in favour of taking the bull by the horns. Mr. Pullinger had said it could never be a success. He would like to ask him if the Guildford District was not a success?

Mr. Pullinger: Certainly it is.

Mr. Whittington: Then why should not a Guildford Diocesan Guild be a success?

Mr. Pullinger: Because the Guildford District does not cover the diocese.

WHEN BUCKS WAS IN THE DIOCESE OF LINCOLN.

Canon Coleridge, pressed for his views as an 'outsider,' said he was reluctant to intervene, as he was not in the diocese of Winchester. The diocese of Oxford, to which he belonged, at present consisted of three counties and was bigger than the diocese of Winchester. It had 653 parishes. In 1836, Berkshire belonged to the diocese of Salisbury. In 1845, and before, Buckinghamshire belonged to the diocese of Lincoln, and if there had been diocesan ringing Guilds in those days he did not think Berkshire would have remained with the Salisbury Guild or Bucks with the Lincoln Guild when they were formed into a new diocese. He had no doubt whatever that when Guildford got its new Bishop he would want to get into touch with the associations of all kinds in the diocese, and he would like to feel he had under him a body of men like the ringers. He (the speaker) had not the slightest doubt in his own mind that it would be a very wise thing indeed to have a Guildford Diocesan Guild of Ringers co-terminus with the diocese of Guildford. They would be a compact body, and when they got things into a small compact body they expanded and went on well, but he would urge them, if he might, not to be in too great a hurry. Let them wait and see. When their new Bishop came they would see exactly how the land lay and would be able to make a very sound nucleus for a diocesan Guild.

After some further discussion, the amendment was put and defeated by a large majority, and the original resolution was carried nem. con.

Mr. Goldsmith pointed out that having taken this step the meeting could not let the matter rest where it was. Those who had opposed immediate action would loyally support the decision of the majority, and he urged them, having embarked upon the scheme, to do the job properly. Their first aim ought to be to gain the support of the York Town District, and he suggested the appointment of a small delegation to attend the annual meeting of the York Town District on the following Saturday to lay the Guildford District's views before members there.

This was agreed to and a delegation appointed. A sub-committee was also appointed, with power to add to their number, to carry on any negotiations that might be necessary and to develop a scheme for the formation of the new Guild, which is to take effect from November next.

A HEALTHY DISTRICT.

Prior to the discussion, the customary business of the branch was transacted.

The hon. secretary's report showed the district had maintained its strength and now comprised 21 honorary members, 131 full members, 10 probationers, and four compounding members. There was a balance in hand of £8 8s. 8d. Subscriptions had amounted to £19 11s., and the expenditure to £12.

The Ringing Master reported 18 peals, distributed among ten towers, rung since the last meeting. This was a lower total than in 1925, but he did not think the falling-off was greater than the average had been throughout the country. A feature of the work during the year had been the visits to outlying six-bell towers, twelve of which had been visited and help given to the local bands. This work it was hoped to continue during the coming year. The Ringing Master pointed out that it was becoming more and more customary in churches for the interval between the celebration of Holy Eucharist and the morning service on Sundays to be reduced to such an extent that ringing was not possible. Where that was the case he hoped bands would meet to ring for the Eucharist.

The reports of the Secretary and Ringing Master were adopted and the district officers re-elected en bloc, as follows: Hon. secretary, Mr. E. Raddon; Ringing Master, Mr. O. Hazelden; representatives on the Guild Central Committee, Messrs. Whittington and Jones. Thirteen new members were elected, including the whole of the band at Blackmoor.

The meeting terminated with a vote of thanks to the chairman.

In the afternoon, the Guild's form of service was conducted in Holy Trinity Church by the Rector (Rev. Canon E. C. Kirwan), and an address given by the Bishop of Guildford, who referred to opportunities which ringers had of service to God by the exercise of body, mind and soul, a combination of effort which few, if any, others were called upon to exert in the work they did in connection with the Church.

The Bishop and the Rector, through Canon Coleridge, sent their regrets at being unable to attend the subsequent tea and meeting, but they were heartily thanked for their respective parts in the service.

Owing to the fact that on that afternoon the funeral took place of the Vicar of one of the Guildford parishes, no general ringing was possible, only a half-muffled touch of Stedman Triples being rung for the service. As the ringers assembled, however, they were enabled to find kindly shelter from the rain through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. Pulling, who were warmly thanked for their courtesy and consideration. But for this many visitors would have had to spend the afternoon in the rain-drenched streets.

PORTSMOUTH DISTRICT FAVOUR A UNITED GUILD.

The annual meeting was held at Havant on Saturday last, when the attendance was somewhat spoilt by the weather. Heavy rain fell continuously throughout the afternoon, but about twenty or more members put in an appearance, and the deal of eight were kept going in various methods until the service. This was conducted by the Rector (Rev. H. N. Rodgers), and the Guild's form was used.

The members then adjourned to tea, which was kindly provided by the Rector, who was voted to the chair at the business meeting which followed. At the outset he referred to the unavoidable absence of the secretary, who had unfortunately met with an accident the previous week, and the meeting wished him a speedy recovery.

The balance sheet showed receipts £17 5s., expenditure (including instruction at Havant, Bramshott and Netley) £9 3s. 3d., leaving a balance to the Guild treasurer of £8 1s. 9d. This was adopted by the meeting, together with the secretary's report for the year. Compared with the previous year, there had been an increase of eight hon. members, 17 full members, 15 probationers and three towers in union. Messrs. E. Hedger (Havant) and C. Shepherd and J. Cassidy (St. Thomas', Portsmouth), were elected full members, and Comd. Boyd-Richardson and Mr. Dymak White, honorary members subject to their approval.

The district officers were re-elected en bloc, viz.: Chairman, Mr. R. J. Stone; secretary, Mr. F. W. Rogers; auditor, Mr. H. J. Reynolds; representatives on Central Committee, Messrs. F. A. Burnett and R. J. Stone.

On the question of the division of the diocese, the meeting endorsed the resolution adopted by the Winchester District on the previous Saturday—that the Guild continue as hitherto; and also that, if the new diocese of Guildford should wish to have its own Guild, the dioceses of Winchester and Portsmouth remain in unity for association purposes.

On the subject of Mr. J. S. Goldsmith's draft for the revision of the rules, it was thought better to refer them to the committee meeting to be held at Winchester in February, the representatives having a free hand in the matter.

It was decided to hold the pre-Lent meeting at Netley, due notice of which will appear in 'The Ringing World.'

Votes of thanks were accorded the Rector for the use of the bells and kindly providing the tea, and to the organist. To this the Rector responded, saying how much pleasure it was to him to meet them, and also that he would be pleased to entertain them when they again came to Havant.

During the day, members were present from Bramshott, Havant, Portsmouth (St. Mary's and St. Thomas'), Swanmore; also the Master (Mr. G. Williams) and Mr. R. Hasted (Farnham).

BROADCASTING.

To the Editor.

Dear Sir.—I was very pleased to see that Mr. T. Groombridge has raised the subject of broadcast ringing, which the B.B.C. has been transmitting for the last two Sunday evenings. It was, as he writes, an act of discourtesy on their part to those who have undertaken the ringing on these occasions that their efforts should be drowned by the announcer, who is reeling off the whole form of service which is to follow when the complete details are printed in their own organ. Although we read that almost superhuman efforts were required to ring the back bells at Bow, yet we were treated to about four leads of Double Norwich. The same thing happened last Sunday, when we heard about half a dozen sixes of Stedman Cinques.

I might add that I have also written the B.B.C. about this unsatisfactory state of affairs, but they take little or no notice, and simply 'hope that I may enjoy their programmes in the future.' It seems a pity that when there are 15 minutes allotted to St. Martin-in-the-Fields once a month we have to listen to chiming some changes where one bell may be struck twice or even three times in the same change and a few hymn tunes. Perhaps some satisfaction may be secured if the Central Council appointed a deputation to interview the B.B.C. on this subject.—Yours truly,

F. W. ROGERS.

Portsmouth.

Mr. J. T. Dyke, hon. secretary of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, also took the matter up with the B.B.C., who replied that if the announcements were not superimposed it would mean that less bell ringing would be possible. 'There is the option of having the announcement without the bells (and less bells) or the announcement with a faint background of bells. We feel that the spoken words should not affect the enjoyment of the bells, and that that method is preferable to the suggested alteration.'

Mr. W. Keeble writes that he thinks more good would be done if societies and associations take the matter up with the B.B.C., rather than that individual members should do so.

Members of the Middlesex County Association and London Diocesan Guild will broadcast from Bow, Cheapside, on Sunday evening, at 8 p.m. Eight bells have been asked for as being better for the general public. The method will, therefore, probably be Bristol Surprise.

SUSSEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION.

A meeting of the Central Division was held at the six-bell tower of Barcombe, on Saturday, November 6th. Ringing commenced shortly after 2.30, and at 3.45 a short service was held in church, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. H. W. Farrar, M.A.), who gave a very interesting address. The Rector of Southover (the Rev. C. R. Farnsworth, M.A.) also took part in the service and read the lesson.

At the invitation of the Rector of Barcombe, those present, numbering about 27, proceeded to the Rectory, where tea had been prepared in a most liberal manner.

The usual business meeting which followed, with the Rector presiding, supported by the Master (Mr. J. T. Rickman), was mostly of a routine nature.

The following new members were elected: A. E. Awcock, E. C. Langdrige (Turner's Hill), Charles H. Surridge (Crawley).

The election of the following non-resident members was confirmed: W. L. Goffon (Monkseaton), R. V. Johnson (Handcross), James Batters (Mersham), F. A. Mitchell (Gravesend, Kent), A. J. Hughes (Rhy), N. Wales, F. E. Collins (South Norwood), Daniel Cooper (Croydon), Chas. H. Kippin (Beddington), John F. Galyer (Carshalton), James Bennett (Herne Hill), and Miss Florrie Wyman.

The Master informed the meeting of the loss Mr. O. Sippetts had sustained, on November 6th, by the death of his father, and the hon. secretary was instructed to forward a letter of condolence. The late Mr. Sippetts had been a member of the Crawley Branch of the association until two or three years ago, when ill-health caused him to give up ringing.

On the motion of the Master, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded to the Rector for the use of the bells, the service and address in church, and the warm-hearted welcome he had extended to the meeting, coupled with an expression of appreciation of the part taken by the organist and other local friends in promoting the success of the proceedings, and this being acknowledged by the Rector the meeting terminated.

Ringing was again resumed and continued until about 7.30, the methods rung ranging from Grandsire Doubles to London and Cambridge Surprise.

The following towers were represented: Brighton (St. Peter's and St. Nicholas'), East Grinstead, Lewes (Southover), Pevensey, Seaford, Uckfield, Waldron, and the local branch.

MASONIC HONOUR FOR A NORTHUMBRIAN RINGER.

At the recent annual meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Northumberland, Bro. William Story was installed as Junior Grand Warden of the Province. This preferment was unique in that Mr. Story is the present reigning Master of his lodge, Hotspur, 1626, and it is an honour very rarely conferred until several years have elapsed after filling the chair.

Mr. Story's long services to ringing in the northern dioceses are well known.

DEATH OF A WELL-KNOWN EXETER RINGER

MR. JAMES MOSS'S LONG CONNECTION WITH RINGING.

A link with the past generation in Exeter ringing circles has been broken by the death of James Moss, which took place on November 11th at the ripe age of 78.

He commenced his ringing career at St. Thomas' in 1860, when quite a lad, and was initiated a member of the Cathedral band on June 27th, 1866, and so continued up to September last. He was elected a member of the Devon Guild in 1884, and rang his first peal at Honiton Cylst on April 14th of that year. He was also a member of St. David's and St. Sidwell's bands, and rarely failed to attend the ringing at both towers every Sunday, as well as the week-night practices. His record of peals was 71, made up of Grandsire Triples 55, Grandsire Caters 9, Stedman Triples 5, Stedman Caters 1, and Bob Major 1.

He took part in the muffled peal for the late Rev. H. T. Ellacombe in 1885, in the Victoria Jubilee peal in 1887, in the first peals of Grandsire and Stedman Caters in Exeter, was umpire for the non-conducted peal at St. David's in 1906, and rang the treble to the peal on the minor eight at the Cathedral in 1908, his last peal being at St. Thomas' in October, 1924.

Before joining the Guild, he was an ardent round ringer, and took part in many prize-ringing contests in different parts of Devon, acting as judge at a meeting at Crediton in 1892. He was a friend of the late Mr. Mallett, with whom he used to visit Alphington tower, and by whose persuasion he became a member of the Guild. Possessed of a keen ear, and stoutly built, he was generally on the heavy end, marking time with his head and eyes as he rolled along the Cathedral ninth, and a laggard making a false blow would bring from 'Jimmy' (as he was familiarly called) the ejaculation, 'Strike 'em!'

Ever ready to help a young band, of a genial disposition, and having a lively sense of humour, he was one of the most popular ringers in Exeter and district. At raising and falling the treble, he was without an equal, and has probably tolled the Cathedral Stafford bell as the passing bell more often than anyone.

By trade a bootmaker, he served his apprenticeship with the old firm of East and Son, Exeter, and stuck to his last until quite recently. He will leave a blank that can never be adequately filled.

The funeral took place on Wednesday at St. Thomas' Cemetery.

MASONIC BELL RINGERS.

A Masonic service was held in the Church of St. Cuthbert, Chester-le-Street, Co. Durham, on Sunday last, and was attended by brethren of the Earl of Durham and Cestria Lodges and visitors. The ringing before and after the service was done by Masonic brethren as follows: 676 Kent Treble Bob Major by: A. M. Hall (Hotspur) 1, G. Holmes (Whitley) 2, F. Watson (Cestria) 3, N. Ward (Earl of Durham) 4, J. E. Gofton (Monkseaton) 5, C. L. Routledge (Hotspur) 6, J. Crawford (Earl of Durham) 7, A. Deas (Northern Counties) 8. To ring the congregation out, Bro. T. Edmondson (Earl of Durham) rang the treble in more Treble Bob Major, the rest being placed as above. It is doubtful whether such has ever been done before in Freemasonry.

BARNSELY AND DISTRICT ASSOCIATION.

The monthly meeting was held at Crofton on Saturday last, members being present from Ackworth, Horbury, Sandal, Felkirk, Roy-stone, Shelley, Leeds, Wragby, Wortley, Wath, and the local company. The bells were kept going during the afternoon in various methods, and tea was served in the schoolroom, free tickets being given to those directly affected by the coal dispute.

The business meeting followed, the Vicar (the Rev. H. Brownrigg) presiding.

A letter was read from the secretary (Mr. C. D. Potter) regretting his absence through illness, and the hope was expressed that he would have a speedy recovery.

A vote of thanks was passed to the Vicar, churchwardens and the local company for use of the bells and providing tea and giving such a hearty welcome to all present.

The next meeting will be held at Sandal on Saturday, December 11th. The bells were going again soon after 6 p.m., and were kept ringing until 9 p.m., thus bringing to a close a very pleasant meeting.

WREXHAM VETERAN'S NOTABLE PERFORMANCE.

The peal of Kent Treble Bob Royal rung at Wrexham, as already recorded, on October 28th, had several interesting features. It included seven local ringers, which is the largest number of Wrexham men to take part in a peal together for very many years. The band was completed by Mr. T. R. Butler, of Ellesmere, and Messrs. Sperring and Riding, who journeyed from Chester and Crewe respectively. Special interest centres in the performance of Mr. Samuel Meadows (affectionately known to his friends as 'Old Sam'), who rang the ninth to the peal. It was his first ten-bell peal as conductor, and it says much for his sustained enthusiasm that he should undertake the task when more than seventy years of age. It is many years since the genial veteran called a peal—Kent Major at Chester.

He started his ringing career as a lad at his native village of Brandon, in Suffolk. His first peal was rung in 1885 at a five-bell tower in Suffolk. His ringing activities have since extended to London, Devon and Staffordshire, and he has rung on most of the famous peals in those areas, including St. Paul's, Cripplegate and Shoreditch in the metropolis, and the Cathedral at Exeter. Mr. Meadows is now tackling Double Norwich.

DEVONSHIRE GUILD.MID-DEVON BRANCH MEETING.

A very successful meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch was held at Torre on Saturday, November 6th. Ringers present included the president, Rev. E. S. Powell (Holbeton); the general secretary, Mr. T. Laver (Exeter); also members from Plymouth, Exeter, Buckfastleigh, Swindon, Keen, Cockington, Collaton, Brixham, Torquay, Newton Abbot and Paignton.

Ringings took place at Torre and Upton, and a service was held at Torre Church, conducted by the Rev. Porter, who gave a very impressive and interesting address. Tea was provided at Messrs. Woolley's restaurant, and 35 sat down to a splendid repast.

At the business meeting, at which Mr. F. J. Laxton presided, the place and date of the next meeting (which is to be the annual) was discussed, and Brixham was chosen for Saturday, January 22nd, 1927.

The chairman very warmly welcomed the visitors and expressed his great pleasure at having with them so many distinguished campanologists.—Mr. W. H. Marsh (Plymouth) suitably replied.

The president briefly but very warmly expressed his pleasure at seeing so many present, and held very high hopes of further development of change ringing in Mid-Devon.

The hon. secretary introduced Mr. C. R. Walker, of Newton Abbot (late of Kent), who was very heartily received, and was duly elected an honorary member.

The Chairman proposed a vote of thanks to the Vicar of Torre for the service and use of the bells, also the Vicars of Upton and St. Marychurch for the use of their bells.

The ringers then made their way once more to the respective towers, and ringing was continuing until 8 p.m. The methods were Kent Treble Bob Major, Bob Major, Stedman and Grandsire.

The members wish to thank the respective tower captains for so kindly getting everything ready for them.

RINGERS' BEREAVEMENTS.

Mr. Richard Stredwick, of Aldrington, and well known in Brighton ringing circles, has sustained a sad bereavement by the death of his wife, who passed away on October 18th, the cause of her decease being heart trouble. Mrs. Stredwick was laid to rest in Hove Cemetery, the Rector of St. Leonard's, Aldrington, officiating at the service, while among the mourners was Mr. Keith Hart, representing the St. Peter's Society, Brighton. Much sympathy will be felt for Mr. Stredwick in his heavy loss.

It is with deep regret also that we announce the death of Eleanor, wife of Mr. W. H. Barber, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, at the age of 52, after a long and painful illness borne with cheerfulness and great fortitude. The deepest sympathy of all his ringing brethren and other friends will go out to Mr. Barber in his great bereavement.

CONDUCTING.—BY GEORGE WILLIAMS.

Ringling my first peal (Grandsire Triples) in January, 1884, at the opening of our augmented ring at Soberton, I was, naturally, like many other ringers, imbued with the fascination for more. I, therefore, set to work to get a band together to practise Grandsire Triples straight away; struggling all through 1884, with occasional assistance from an old friend, the late Mr. James Hewett (of Gosport and previously of London), a member of the Royal Cumberland Youths. He was one of the celebrated band of handbell ringers who toured the Continent and America about the middle of last century, ringing the first peal in America at Philadelphia.

Many tales have I heard of these 'expeditions' from the old gentleman, which all helped to interest me more in the art. Other early stalwarts of the Guild who helped considerably during 1884 were Messrs. Whiting, Prevett, Hill and Grafham, of Fareham, and before the year closed we had rung several quarter peals.

By this time I felt a certain amount of confidence to call a peal, and the captain of our band at Soberton (Mr. G. H. Child) arranged for the attempt to be made on his birthday, the first anniversary of the opening peal, January 17th, 1885. Calling in the assistance of Messrs. Hewett, Whiting and Grafham, of Fareham, and T. Newnham, of Winchester, to make the team as strong as possible, we successfully accomplished it at the first attempt, much to the satisfaction of all, and, not least, to myself, with the result of our first year's work. The peal was Taylor's six-part, and after this little digression into history, I propose to say something about my method of mastering the composition.

At Hunslet, Leeds, on Thursday, November 4th, at St. Mary's Church, 720 of Bob Minor in 23½ mins.: W. Morrell 1, W. Strangeways (conductor) 2, A. Metcalf (first 720) 3, H. Smith 4, D. Yorke 5, R. W. Smith 6.

At Rock Ferry, Cheshire, on Thursday, November 4th, 720 Cambridge Surprise: T. Birch 1, G. R. Edwards 2, R. G. Edwards 3, J. Martin 4, F. C. Amos 5, J. Cooke (conductor) 6. First 720 of Surprise by the ringers of the 2nd and 3rd. The ringer of the 2nd is only twelve years of age, and is believed to be the youngest member to ring a 720 of Surprise for the Chester Diocesan Guild.

At St. Mary's Church, Bulwell, Notts, on October 25th, 1,260 Grandsire Doubles: R. Kennedy (first quarter-peal) 1, E. Caunt (first quarter-peal) 2, J. E. Hobbs (conductor) 3, S. Pinder 4, W. Whalley (first quarter-peal inside) 5, W. Collington (first quarter-peal) 6.

At St. Mary-the-Virgin's Church, Bonvilston, Glam., on October 17th, a quarter-peal of Grandsire Doubles (1,260 changes) in 45 mins.: W. John 1, W. James 2, W. Samuel 3, R. Coles 4, A. Haunington (conductor) 5, H. Coles 6. First quarter by ringers of treble and tenor.
