ADJUSTMENTS

There are periods when life has to be adjusted to a new set of circumstances. Such a condition confronts us today with prevailing inflation and loss of purchasing power of the £ sterling. Many are able to meet the new situation with an adjustment in their pay packets; others whose income is static find themselves at a disadvantage. This loss of purchasing power of the shilling or halfcrown has repercussions in every walk of life. The Guild subscription, if it is not adjusted, will mean a lowering of the standard of service to members. Recently four Guilds or Associations-Southwell, Bath and Wells, Middlesex and Salisbury—have increased their subscriptions to enable members to enjoy a range of service on lines similar to those prevailing before the war. Other Guilds will have to adopt the same procedure unless they elect to eat rapidly into their reserves.

We would appeal to Guild committees, in considering their finances, not to limit their service to members in ratio to the decreased purchasing power of the subscription. A cheeseparing policy will not attract members; Guilds must offer as comprehensive a service as possible. In the forefront should be the oft-repeated urge from the Central Council that all who ring church bells shall be united in one body and fellowship. The programme of meetings and visits must be continued if the Exercise is to make progress, and there should be a printed report available for each member. Southwell Guild estimated that the cost of printing their report worked out at 2s. per copy, and at the Middlesex Association the cost of printing a peal was estimated at 4s. 6d. Knowing the charges to-day brought about by the changed circumstances, such figures cause no surprise. Costs in printing can only be effectively reduced by increased numbers, and that is why we welcome, and are anxious to procure, new readers for 'The Ringing World.' Printed Guild reports are of great value; some are really comprehensive documents, giving full particulars of practice nights, touches for conductors, peals rung and membership records. As is right and proper, just pride in continuous membership is frequently recorded in our pages. This long and faithful service to the Church is stimulated by the Guilds or Associations, who in their turn propagate that fellowship which is a remarkable thing about ringing.

No tower should be unable to adjust its finances to meet the new subscription rate. The secret is belfry organisation. Many towers work on the principle of a weekly subscription of twopence or threepence, which meets all Guild subscriptions and incidental expenditure. Others employ such means as steepleage for raising funds. One Association at least collects a steepleage fee from all members and visitors at meetings. Many ringers, we know, do not like imposing a steepleage charge on visitors, feeling that the injunction in the Epistle for last Sunday, 'Use hospitality one to another without grudging,' should be the guiding principle in their fellowship within the Exercise. On the other hand visitors themselves would willingly pay for their enjoyment, as in other walks of life. For the good of the Exercise it is essential that our Guilds should be in strong positions financially, and if the greater part of the revenue comes from the practising members then is developed that sturdy independence, a characteristic of the present age. Cap-in-hand begging to meet the new costs should be discouraged.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Last Sunday, Mr. J. W. Wilkins, to celebrate his 84th birthday, travelled eight miles to take part in a quarter-peal of Bob Major at Beaconsfield for morning service, and in the evening he went to Hughenden and conducted a quarter-peal of Grandsire Triples, which he composed in 1881.

Oxford Guild's Doubles specialists have now rung 19. A new record for the Guild.

It is never too late to start. Mr. Ernest H. Brooks, now in his 73rd year, has rung his first peal at Gosberton, Lines.

A bequest of £250 has been left by Mr. W. J. Baker, a well-known Devonshire farmer, for increasing the fine six at Exminster by two trebles.

Mr. George Williams thanks his many friends for letters and telegrams on reaching his 90th birthday. He hopes to reply to all in due burthday. He hopes to reply to all in due course.

Life members and non-members of the Middlesex Association will in future be charged 1s. for their reports. There will be no charge for reports to honorary members.

Regarding the peal of Stedman Caters at St. Peter's, Brighton on April 25th, this was the first peal of Stedman by A. Patrick Cannon, but not the first peal of Stedman Caters by Anthony M. Humphreys.

Happy birthday to Mr. W. R. Melville! His 75th was celebrated at Highelere, Hants, by ringing his first peal of Oxford Treble Bob Major with five others to the calling of his son-in-law, Mr. Charles H. Kippin.

Another birthday recorded is fifteen-year-old Joan Beresford, who called and rang her first peal on her natal day at Mavesyn Kidware, Staffs. Well done, Joan! Her twin brothers, who rang the treble and tenor, had then not reached their 13th birthday (May 12th). Are they the youngest trio in one family to ring a peal at first attempt?

GOSSIP

At the annual meeting of the Hertford County Association last April at St. Albans, Mr. G. W. Cartmel was presented by the members with a silver watch, in recognition and appreciation of his services as assistant and general secretary for 56 years. The presentation was made by Mr. J. C. Mitchell, a very old friend. The watch was suitably engraved. Mr. Cartmel is one of the few remaining original members of the Association, which was formed on October 29th, 1884. In the comparatively short compass of eight

In the comparatively short compass of eight months, Mr. Sidney O'C. Holloway, of Smethwick, has completed peals of Cambridge from Minor to Maximus. They were rung at Evesham (Royal), St. Chad's, Birmingham (Major), Padelig. (Mayimus), Creat Para (Minor). Redcliffe (Maximus), Great Barr (Minor).

Hillingdon ringers had a successful tour of Surrey last Saturday, visiting Reigate, Dorking and Guildford. The Editor was able to apologise to them for the slip in the Middlesex Association report. It was the Harlington band that had joined the Guild and whose ring of six bells have been augmented to eight.

Encouraged by the success of their initial effort, the Bournemouth ringers' rally for 1948 has been fixed for April 24th, a time of the year when Bournemouth is usually at its best. An added attraction being planned by Mr. Arthur V. Davis is a coach tour of neighbouring towers.

Before H. W. Milford, of Plymouth, sailed for Simonstown, South Africa, on May 1st, he rang in a farewell quarter-peal of Stedman Triples at St. Andrew's, Plymouth, on April 27th. The band was H. W. Milford (first of Stedman) 1, G. H. Myers 2, S. O'Shaughnessv 3, A. Mitchelmore 4, A. W. Myers 5, H. F. Myers 6, T. G. Myers (conductor) 7, D. F. Wheeler 8.

CENTRAL COUNCIL AT EXETER

A Battered but Busy City

BY A. W. SEARLE (Chairman of Exeter District, Guild of Devon-shire Ringers; Member of Central Council 1903-1927).

THE boldness of the Devonshire Guild Committee in inviting the Central Council to hold its Whitsun conference this year at Exeter and the confidence of the C.O. Executive in accepting it have every prospect of being justified. There were some qualms among the Guild Committee about adequacy of accommodation because bombings dadquacy of accommodation because bombings by German aircraft had taken heavy toll of halls, hotels and cafes, or because requisitioning for public emergency purposes had absorbed so much of what was left undamaged. However, through co-operation by ecclesiastical and civic authorities, difficulties have been overcome, and local arrangements entrusted to Preb. E. V. Cox (Guild president), Mr. F. C. Smale (Guild secretary), Mr. E. W. Biffen (Ringing Master for the district), Mr. T. Laver (Guild treasurer) and an anonymous coadjutor are now completed.

Exeter itself needs no adulation. It is the gateway to the South-West and for strategic and geographical reasons must have been always of outstanding importance. There is a tradition that it has greater antiquity than London, but Exeter can be content with evidence of Celétic, Roman, Saxon and Norman occupation. It always has been a local capital; it is the capital of Devon to-day, and a separate Parliamentary constituency; it is also a county borough, and has regular Assizes and Sessions. The line of Reeves, Provosts and Mayors can be traced for 1,020 years. History shows that the city has endured many sieges, more, probably, than any other comparable place; it has received several marks of royal approval for its loyalty, and Queen Elizabeth conferred the motto, Semper Fidelis, 'Ever Faithful.'

ANCIENT WALLS.

Exeter must have had earthworks around it in very early times; the Romans are supposed to have erected Romans are supposed to have erected walls, but there is no doubt that the Saxons and Normans completely encircled the old city. There is to this day Athelstan's tower betwixt Northernhay and Rougemont public grounds in the heart of the city, and the shell of the Norman castle on Rougemont crest. Nothing remains of the Castle itself beyond the gateway: the buildings now within the of the Castle rtself beyond the gate-way; the buildings now within the Castle yard are used for Devon County Council, Assize and Quarter Sessions and other purposes. There are considerable portions of the walls still in position on Northernhay, along Bartholomew Street, Westgate and on Southernhay; some bastions and on Southernhay; some bastions also remain.

AIR RAID DAMAGE

The present century brought along a policy of conservation of the city's a policy of conservation of the city's remaining antiquities, which were considerable, but air aids during the war years 1939-45 caused great havoc. There were 19 of consequence, resulting in 265 fatalities, 788 other casualties, destruction of 1,400 to 1,500 houses, 400 other buildings and nine churches or chapels; damage to between 16,000 and 17,000 houses, 800 other buildings and 22 churches or chapels. chapels.

More than half the heart of the shopping centre of the city was wrecked and great gaps were torn in districts composed mainly of working class dwellings. No other place

A WELCOME

In the name of all the members of In the name of all the members of the Guild of Devonshire Ringers, I am writing to bid you welcome to our county. Your official visits to the South-West must necessarily be rare and therefore this one is all the more appre-ciated. Although you are coming pri-marily to transact much important busi-ness, we hope that you will be able to build into the programment of the find time to enjoy yourselves, even with-out Devonshire cream! Personally, I am looking forward to tea time on Whit Tuesday when I shall hope to meet several old friends and make some new ones.—Yours sincerely,

suffered more severely in proportion to size, and delegates may be surprised by the extent of the devastation that will confront them. Tons of high exp'osive bombs were dropped, but the most terrifying things were incendiary oil bombs. Thousands of these fell in the early hours of May 4th, 1942, and fires, fanned by a strong wind, swept through the city.

a strong wind, swept through the city.

So it came about that Exeter lost several fine premises with ornamental timber fronts four centuries old, a Norman house, some notable Elizabethan or earlier buildings in stone, its general post office (one of the best equipped in the provinces), its modern arcade of shops, blocks of Georgian houses that had central figure of which represents Henry VIII. no rivals in the south-west region, and a mediæval treasure known as the hall of the College of Vicars Choral, which had irreplaceable panelling and furnishings.

But it still has the Cathedral of SS. Peter and Mary, portions of which date from the 12th century which date from the 12th century with unique towers belonging to the Norman period, though the main portions of the existing building are in the Decorated style, or early 14th century. Special features are the vaulting (the longest unbroken length in England), the choir screen carrying the organ, minstrels' gallery, bishop's throne 50ft. high and beautifully carved, and a 14th century astronomical clock.

The choir aisle on the south side

The choir aisle on the south side received a direct hit during the war received a direct hit during the war and great damage was done by the explosion and blast. A good deal has been repaired, but much remains to be done. The Bishop's Palace almost adjoining the choir was also damaged; it is almost entirely 19th century; the charming grounds are open to the public; the Bishop lives elsewhere.

THE GUILDHALL. Then there is the Guildhall where, by permission of the Mayor (Alderman W. O. Wills), the conference will be held on Whit Tuesday. The Guildhall is in the High Street and cannot be missed, for its portico con-structed in 1594 is carried on granite solution of the city to correspond with it. The hall itself dates from 1330; it was completely restored in 1888. The armorial bearings on the sides are those of mayors, incorporated trades and city benefactors.

The Mayor's Parlour over the portico has a fine collection of portraits of civic worthies and there is a remarkable treasure in civic regalia (Continued on next page) and plate. Other places of interest are the Albert Memorial Museum and Art Gallery in Queen Street, St. Nicholas' Priory in the Mint (the Priory and an earlier foundation have been traced back to the time of King Ethelred; been traced back to the time of king Etherreu; the Mint is a survival of the period when money was coined in the city), the Tuckers' and Weavers' Hall in Fore Street; St. Mary Steps Church with an antique clock having figures' Church with an antique clock naving figures that strike the hours or quarters and are popularly known as Matthew the Miller and his two sons, but the central figure :epresents Henry VIII.; and Mol's Coffee House in the Cathedral yard, dating from 1596. Parliament Street is facetiously dubbed the narrowest in evictence but it is merely an elley way to existence, but it is merely an alley way to afford side entrances to business premises front-ing the High Street; there is no roadway. The city had a remarkably fine series of subterranean passages, but only a small portion can now be viewed, usually by special arrange-GREAT LOSS.

There are rings in the south tower of the Cathedral (12), St. David's, St. Thomas', St. Edmund's and Heavitree (8) and St. Petrock's (6). Neither St. Edmund's nor St. Petrock's can be used at present; the others are in good order. There is a fine set of six awaiting in-stallation at St. Mark's; these bells formerly hung in St. John's tower, Fore Street, and were given to St. Mark's when St. John's was dismantled.

The north tower of the Cathedral contains Great Peter, on which the clock hours are struck. It was reputed to be six tons, but is actually four tons. There was talk of using it as the tenor of the ring in the couth tower when the latter was restored, but instead the old tenor (Grandison ') was recast and increased in weight from about 60 to 72 cwt.

A great campanological loss was caused by the destruction of St. Sidwell's Church during the destruction of St. Sidweil's Church during the war. A high explosive bomb struck the tower and then fell on the church. Nearly the whole of the latter was destroyed. The tower was badly shaken, but the bells remained in position. Examination revealed very dangerous conditions, and the structure was blown down by explosives. The bells—10 with tenor of 24 cwt.—fell with it; some were retrieved in sound condition. Some were proken. in sound condition; some were broken. Re-hanging will take place in due course by Messrs. Taylor, but several years must elepse before rebuilding of church and tower can be effected. St. Sidwell's was for many years the hub of change ringing in Devon with the brothers Shepherd—Ferris, Edwin, Alfred and Frank—as foremost exponents. All have now passed on; Edwin, the last survivor, died a year or so ago.

CALL CHANGE RINGERS.

CALL CHANGE RINGERS.

There are only two other tens in Devonone at Cullompton and the other at St. Andrew's, Plymouth. Charles, Plymouth, another ten, was dost during enemy blitzes. There are many good eights in various parts of the county. It should be understood that round and call change ringers are very strong in Devon and that the raising and falling of the pells in peal and accurate stricting are of prime bells in peal and accurate striking are of prime bells in peal and accurate striking are of prime importance. Scientific bands who have toured the county know that methods with the tenor turned in are not appreciated by round and call change men and are a drawback rather than a help towards the progress of the Guild, which comprises about 50 towers. But if there is good ringing, with the tenor beating the big drum, they can be interested and sometimes tempted to embark on Grandsire and Stadmar.

Midland Counties Guild

FIRST ANNUAL MEETING AT BURTON.

Burton-on-Trent, famed throughout the country for producing that stimulating and refreshing beverage 'beer,' was also noted by the Exercise during the latter part of the last century for its famous band of ringers at the Church of St. Paul.

The Rev. J. H. Fish, Messrs. J. Jagger, J. Austin, J. Griffen, A. Wakley and W. Wakley, to mention only a few, were indeed the pioneers of Surprise ringing. On November 20th, 1880, the first 'silent' peal of Stedman Triples was rung in memoriam to the Rev. J. H. Fish, Vicar of St. Paul's.

Following upon the first world war this fower was again to the fore when Mr. J. H. Swinfield, Ringing Master, organised that equally famous 'Wednesday' band, which rang so many peals of Stedman Triples, conducted by Mr. M. Swinfield, who in a remarkably long period of successes conducted over 230 different compositions of Stedman Triples. tions of Stedman Triples.

This church, so enriched in ringing history This church, so enriched in ringing history, was chosen as the tower for the first annual meeting of the above Guild, which took place on May 10th, when upwards of 70 ringers and friends assembled from Melton Mowbray, Somerby, Derby, Stoke-on-Trent, Norton-in-the-Moors, Cheadle, Lullington, Hoar Cross, Ashby, Repton, Ticknall, Netherseale, Overseale, Measham, Winshill and the two Burton towers.

A short service was conducted by the Rev. Father Davis, followed by tea in St. Mar-garet's Schoolroom, which was kindly provided by the local company.

At the business meeting, Mr. B. G. Key, chairman, welcomed the members to St. Paul's in the absence of the Vicar, the Rev. W. Willis-Price. One non-resident dife, three ringing and ten honorary members were elected members of the Guild.

After the presentation of the balance sheet by the treasurer, Mr. J. H. Brittan, the secre-tary, Mr. J. W. Cotton, presented his review of the first year's activities covering the ten meetings held with an average attendance of 33 and the 16 peals rung.

Officers elected were: President, Mr. W. W. Worthington; chairman, Mr. W. H. Gurson; treasurer, Mr. J. H. Brittan; secretary, Mr. J. W. Cotton; committee, Mr. E. W. Beadsmoore, Mr. B. G. Key, Mr. W. J. Leach and Mr. Syd Jones. The committee were empowered to revise the Guild rules, and the second Saturday in May was chosen as the date for the 1948 annual meeting.

HERTFORD COUNTY ASSOCIATION

JUNIORS' FIRST SOCIAL.

First annual social of the junior section of the Western District of the Hertford Association was a popular event on April 26th at Hemel Hempstead. Ringers numbering over 100 came from a wide area and found Donald Cartwright (Tring) a sprightly M.C. Other members of his committee were Olive M. Martin and Pamela A. Martin (Berkhamsted), Terence G. Morton and Betty Upton (Apsley) and Derek Latchford (Hemel Hempstead).

Ringing naturally found a place in the programme. Apart from touches of Bob Major and Bob Minor, Grandsire Doubles was rung amusingly by Messrs. W. Ayre, T. J. Southam, A. V. Good, W. C. Hughes, Miss Rona Minal and Miss Brenda Fells.

The general secretary of the Association entered fully into the festivities, contributing not only a couple of songs, but gave a congratulatory speech commending the keenness and enthusiasm of the juniors.

PREB. COX RETIRING.

Preb. E. V. Cox, president of the Devoushire Guild, has resigned the living of Tedburn St. Mary, where he and Mrs. Cox have had eight strenuous years. He had hoped to have been Rector when the six bells, unrung for about 70 years, were rehung, but although the required funds are in hand, the restoration work remains in abeyance.

Preb. Cox has been in the ministry 43 years and decided to relinquish parochial responsibilities, but will continue activities in connection with diocesan organisations. He and Mrs. Cox will take up residence in July at West Hill, Ottery St. Mary, where, unfortunately, the bells are also awaiting restoration before they can be rung.

BRANCH MEETING AT TOTNES.

A quarterly meeting of the Mid-Devon Branch was held at Totnes on April 26th. Ringing took place throughout the afternoon, and this was followed by a service in church which was conducted by Preb. J. Heywood Waddington (Vicar), who heartily welcomed the visitors the visitors.

After tea at Warwick's Cafe, the business meeting followed, presided over by the Rev. W. R. D. Mills (chairman). It was reported that the order for the Walker Memorial Tablet that the order for the Walker Memorial Tablet had been placed, and that delivery would be in 810 weeks' time. One associate member from West Teignmouth was elected. The next quarterly meeting will be at Ipplepen on July 26th, subject to necessary permission, and a joint meeting with the South-West Branch will take place at Buckfast Abbey on June 21st. Votes of thanks were accorded to the Vicar and to Mr. Cooper (Newton Abbot), the organist. Ringing included Grandsire Doubles for the younger members, Grandsire and Stedman Triples, and Kent Treble Bob Major.

HAWKHURST AND DISTRICT GUILD

Apart from the fact that some regular attenders were unavoidably absent, quite a good meeting was held at Sedlescombe on April 19th.

Owing to lack of facilities, ringers were asked to make their own tea arrangements. A break of one hour was allowed for this, after which the husiness meeting was held in the tower. It was decided that the next meeting should be a joint meeting at Rye with the Sussex County Association, to be held on May

OBITUARY

MR. CHARLES H. BELTON.

In the passing of Mr. Charles H. Belton at the age of 84, the Hinckley District of the Leicester Guild has lost one of its oldest and most respected members. As captain of the local hand, Mr. Belton leaves behind him an example of devout and most regular service in the Barwell helfry for over 56 years. His unthe Barwell belfry for over 56 years. His unfailing cheerful and generous disposition will be sadly missed by all who knew him. He was the eldest member of a family of three genera-

Tom was a member of a young and enthusiastic band at Dagenham, Essex, and although only 16 already had peals of Grandsire Doubles, Triples and Bob Major to his credit. Keenly interested in composition and proof, he would undoubtedly have made his mark and been a credit to the Exercise of which he was so fond. A regular attendant at the South-West District meetings of the Essex Association, his smiling face, unfailing cheerfulness and his youthful high spirits will be sorely missed by all who knew him.

FREDERICK WOOLWAY.

For many years the keen captain of the ringers of St. Peter's, Ightham, Kent, Mr. Frederick Woolway died suddenly in the Sevenoaks and Holmesdale Hospital on April 14th, aged 56. He leaves a widow and daughter. The funeral took place in St. Peter's Churchyard on April 19th, the bells being rung half-muffled before and after the service and also a quarter-peal on the following morning.

R.G.R. writes: His willingness at any time to lend a hand brought him many friends, and the quiet but effective way in which he kept his band going will be long remembered at Ightham and also in the Maidstone district.

at Ightham and also in the Maidstone district. He will also be remembered for the pressure he brought to bear upon the Church authorities, soon after he assumed the captaincy, when the tenor bell was going badly. Previously the tenor, having cracked, was welded and again she cracked. The church authorities suggested that the firm who welded the tenor should rectify her, but Mr. Woolway stood firm for a recast. After one ringer had alluded to the 'frying pan tenor' in the columns of 'The Ringing World,' more pressure was added by local ringers and, happy to relate, the tenor was recast. LETTERS

'FOUR SCORE YEARS AND TEN'

Dear Sir, — Your interesting article on 'Grandison' has revived many memories of those who took part in the peal of Grandsire and Stedman Caters in 1902 and 1903. As a young ringer in those days and one who has been a regular subscriber to 'The Ringing World' over a very long period, I looked upon some of those ringers as 'herces' in the same some of those ringers as 'heroes' in the same way as the younger generation to-day visualise their 'soccer,' cricket and picture favourites. Memories of the 'Old Reverend,' the gigantic Canon Coleridge the burly W. W. Gifford, the 'dapper' A. W. Brighton, the exploits of the brothers Pye and particularly the prodigious feats of strength of 'Bill,' the travels of 'Ike' Shade and last, but not least, George Williams, crowd upon the writer, and even after 45 years their names stand out like beacon lights on a dark night. How could it be otherwise when crowd upon the writer, and even after 45 years their names stand out like beacon lights on a dark night. How could it be otherwise when one reflects that at least four of them have created ringing history by having over a thousand peals each to their credit.

I was but a lad in those days. They were grown men and how, alas, I hoped to follow in their footsteps. My profession, however, never gave me the time to devote to the Exercise and those early aspirations never reached fruition. A modest 504 of Grandsire Triples on handbells was the extent of my achievements, but I had the satisfaction of ringing it with the first lady ever to ring a peal.

Of all those who took part in those Exeter peals only three are now with us. Strange to say, within a very short space of time I have had the pleasure of seeing the two senior of them. Canon Coleridge at 89 I 'spotted' getting into a train at Reading Station. He looked well and his great frame stood out con-getting into a train at Reading Station. He looked well and his great frame stood out conspicuously. A year his senior, I had the opportunity of spending the day with my uncle, George Williams, on the occasion of his 90th birthday. It was a memorable occasion and one I shall always cherish.

It was astonishing to walk with him in the afternoon around the new housing estates at Eastleigh and listen to many of his well-reasoned ideas of things in general of the present day. He was delighted that many of the younger generation should have remembered him on his birthday, and congratulatory telegrams came from as far as Eastbourne and Folkestone. Many local towers also sent greet-Folkestone. Many local towers also sent greetings, and among these were Portsea, Wickham, Winchester, etc. There were many letters conveying greetings from ringers and friends all over the country. There were some wonderful messages of affection for the 'Old Master,' who messages of anection for the 'Old Master,' who to-day is so hale and hearty and still plays such an important part in the administration of ringing as Master of the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild.—Yours faithfully, VICTOR P. A. G. SCARDIFIELD.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER

Dear Sir,—One often reads in 'The Ringing World' of sons and daughters following in father's footsteps, but the Whitstable peal published in 'The Ringing World' dated May 9th is noteworthy for the fact that Miss Brenda Philpott's enthusiasm for bellringing proved strong enough to capture her father's interest with the result that father and daughter have scored their first peal together. daughter have scored uncon-Congratulations to them both.

SUBSCRIPTION INCREASED.

Salisbury Diocesan Guild at their annual meeting on May 10th decided to increase the annual membership subscription from 1s. 6d. to 2s. 6d. and the subscription for non-resident life ringing members from 2s. 6d. to 5s.

The meeting was held at the Assembly Rooms, Salisbury, the Earl of Shaftesbury (president) being in the chair. In reviewing the work of the Guild, the President urged the importance of training young ringers and introducing them to the Guild. 'Bellringing as it is practised in this country,' he said, 'must never be allowed to die out, and we must be careful to bring in the young and train them to follow in our footsteps.'

The financial report, which showed a credit halance of £121 &s. 3d., was presented by the hon, secretary (the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards).

The following officers were elected: Vicepresidents, the Dean of Salisbury (the Very Rev. H. C. Robins) and Canon A. L. Helps, Vicar of Puddletown; Master, the Rev. C. C. Cox, Vicar of Lyme Regis; hon, secretary, the Rev. F. Ll. Edwards; assistant hon, secretary, Mr. W. C. West, of Melksham; committee, Canon R. E. P. Gorringe, Messrs. E. Coward, J. I. Davis, E. T. P. Field and P. Harding, Messrs, C. J. Pretty, of Holt, G. H. Archer, of Melksham, G. Norton, of Salisbury, and J. Sandel, of Amesbury, were elected life members.

The meeting was followed by the Guild service in the Cathedral, at which the Bishop of Salisbury (Dr. Geoffrey Lunt) preached.
In his address, Dr. Lunt thanked the Guild for their services to the Church and said: 'I want you, as you go to your bellringing Sunday by Sunday, and on the weekdays too, to realise that you are going about God's work and that you are acting as His mouthpiece and mes-

The offertory for the Sarum St. Thomas' Bells Restoration Fund amounted to £5 2s. 9d. At the conclusion of the service a course of Grandsice Triples was rung on handbells by four members from Lyme Regis.

Thirty members and friends attended the meeting of the Dorchester Branch at Buckland Newton on April 26th. The ringing, under the direction of Mr. F. Precey (branch ringing master), consisted of Grandsire and Stedman Doubles, Plain Bob and periods of instruction for some keen young members of the local band.

the local band.

The Guild's service was conducted by the Rector (the Rev. F. FitzPatrick), who gave an interesting address, and Canon A. Wilkinson Markby, chairman of the branch, read the lesson. Cups of tea were provided by a band of ladies, headed by Mrs. FitzPatrick.

Business transacted was a decision to hold the summer meeting of the branch at Martinstown, where a new ring of six bells is expected to be ready for dedication in June, and the election of two new associate members.

ANNUAL DINNER SUGGESTED.

At the monthly meeting of the Selby and District Society at Eastrington on April 19th, about 20 members were present. A short service in church with an address by the Vicar (the Rev. D. Wilkinson) was followed by an excellent tea in the Church Hall.

Business included the election of three new ringing members. A suggestion regarding the possibility of holding an annual dinner was referred to the extraordinary general meeting of members to be held shortly. The secretary is to try and arrange combined mid-week practices at closely situated towers. Members were reminded that the next meeting is due to be held at Tadcaster in May and also that the new peal of six bells at Carlton will be dedicated on May 10th at 3 p.m.

During the afternoon the fine ring of six was rung to various methods, including Woodbine, Violet, Oxford Bob, Double Oxford, St. Clements.
