VILLAGE OCCASION

THE village of Whitnash is a village no longer. The clumsy hand of progress has been laid heavily upon it, to thrust it forward ruthlessly into another age. Old roads are vanishing, new roads are appearing, enclosures are broken open and the ancient bricks of shattered walls and fallen houses are rising upon one another to build the bounds of the new footpaths and carriageways. In some measure the new is growing out of the old, and for better or worse a new landscape is swallowing up the quiet habitations of a former Warwickshire community.

And yet the old is still strong. The sturdy village church, standing firm above Norman foundations that are (so the experts say) immutable, and steadfast as they were eight hundred years ago, looks out upon the vast trunk of a magnificent elm, brought down now to noble ruin by the passing of centuries, but still living, and green with another year's virility.

The garment of the harvest festival was on the church, and the pulpit was a purple mist of Michaelmas daisies, broken here and there by the stout brilliance of the 'red-hot pokers' standing erect in all their importance. We found the bell ropes in the little vestry where the neat array of the choirboys' cassocks and collars suggested a row of these lads demurely hiding their heads. On the opposite wall a framed portrait showed the ringers and their Rector, a handful of grown-ups, seven or eight girls and a similar number of young men, and in the middle a sprightly, trim, alert gentleman of ninety-two; and it was to honour his birthday that we had come from various parts of the county. For Mr. Hauley, despite his great tale of years, was tutor to these young people. He had taught them to ring. He had taught them according to his own simple faith: that their ringing was an act of worship and part of their Christian witness, and that it should be so long as they pulled a rope; and in token of this he himself still rang with them even as he still sang in the choir.

He rang with us for a short time, and his hand was steady on the sally, his striking was even and constant, and his eye was bright with the joy of his exercise. And it was borne in on all of us that ringing with him was a great pleasure and privilege. The quarter peal of Cambridge that we struck off to honour his birthday passed all too quickly in this delightful little ringing chamber, genial with its company and melodious with these sweet bells. He had told us that he looked upon this ringing as the ringing out of the old and the ringing in of the new; but if this were so it was equally clear that the old would never be lost, for in this tower, at any rate, it was not only the inspiration but also the very fundamental of the new.

Tea in the village hall is a true village institution. There is the vast teapot, swelling with its own importance, and stoutly and inexhaustibly dispensing hospitality, and perspiring in its efforts; there are the sandwiches (two kinds, cheese rather plain and prim, tomato flaunting its scarlet invitingly from verdant leaves of lettuce); curious little rolls, small jam tarts with dabs of cream, and the large round family cakes, already cut and ready to be handed round. And behind all, the brisk busy ladies coming and going so as to obscure for the most part a background figure busy at a stove and a sink. It is clearly a labour of love, and we respond nobly, the Rector falling to manfully, ably supported by all of us and assisted in no light degree by another appetite unimpaired by the weight of ninety odd years.

So, after some quiet ceremony of speeches, spoken from the heart with simplicity and sincerity we came forth from the hall to where the fine old cottages of timber and thatch mingled with the trim houses of today, and once again we could marvel at the good fortune that was ours in being allowed to assist at this birthday.

Sunset came serene and calm this day, a vast saffron sea flooding the wide spaces of the west, and spreading a glory behind the woods and hedgerows of Rowington. Here the day was moving tranquilly to its close, still full of beauty and vigour, and casting a measure of its glory across to the eastern sky where the young morrow in due course would arise.

Mr. F. Shorter, who was a member of the Sunday service band at St. Lawrence Jewry in pre-war days, had the privilege of calling the first Sunday service quarter on these beautiful new bells on September 29th. The occasion was the annual service of the City of London Branch (Women's Section) of the British Legion. The quarter of Grand-sire Triples was rung by: M. Oaksheft 1, G. Parsons 2, A. Lewry 3, J. Cook 4, W. Wilson 5, F. Shorter 6, J. Euston 7, E. Talbot 8.

There has been a change in the officers of Reading University Society. Miss Lucy Allen is the new Master and Miss Mary Russell the new secretary.

Ringers of St. Peter's Society, Brighton, are warm in praise of the reserved rail accommodation provided on their outing to Loughborough. The experiment was a great success, writes the hon. secretary, Mr. A. W. Bond.

Rotherham belfry has now been redecorated and the handsome peal boards brought up to date, a gesture that will be appreciated by visitors on the occasion of the Snowdon Dinner on October 26th.

At the annual meeting of St. Thomas' Church, Stourbridge, bellringers on September 26th it was brought to notice by Mr. F. V. Nicholls (leader of the band) that three of its present members had been elected to Ringing Masterships during the past year. Those honoured were: Mr. F. B. Cookson (Master, Cambridge University Guild), Mr. P. W. Webb (Ringing Master, Birmingham University Society) and Mr. J. G. Pusey (Ringing Master, Winchester College Society). It must be almost unique that three ringers from one band should hold these positions simultaneously, and Mr. Nicholls felt that credit was due to the local band of ringers.

BELFRY GOSSIP

Mr. Bill Hewitt, of St. Margaret's, Westminster, returned to St. George's, Camberwell, where he first learned to ring a bell, to conduct the local band in a quarter peal on September 29th. Bill says the bells are not going so well these days as they did in the distant past, when they rang well-struck stoney. It is hoped that money will be found to improve the 'go' of the bells and that in future it will not be such hard work for the ringers. However, having broken the ice, the band hope to ring many more quarters with him.

Aldrington (Sussex) ringers heartily congratulate the Keymer band on their recent peal success.

There was a large gathering at the Canterbury District annual meeting on Saturday, when Mr. B. J. Luck was presented with a testimonial and a cheque in recognition of 21 years as District secretary.

The first peal has been rung at Corsham, Wilts, a melodious ring with one of the noisiest of ringing chambers. The band would like to associate with the peal Mr. Harry Prout, who until lately was tower captain and who took part in an earlier attempt and also the only quarter peal rung on the bells.

Although Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Chapman, now of Canterbury, were married last June, a peal in honour of the event has proved very elusive. They returned to Handsworth, Yorks, for a short visit and to recollect how peals should be rung!

The band who rang the silent peal of Stedman at Ewell, Surrey, on October 5th, are grateful to Mr. Albert J. Adams for umpiring the peal, which they claim as the first silent peal for the Surrey Association, in the certain knowledge that they will soon know if it was not so.

UNIVERSITY OF LONDON SOCIETY

Summer Tour on Norfolk Broads

THE annual summer tour of the Society was held in Norfolk from Sept. 7th to the 15th. It was decided that in view of the location of the area to be covered the Society should forsake its usual form of vehicular transport and take to the water. As a result three large motor cruisers were chartered for the week, and on Saturday, the 7th, after ringing at Bungay and Beccles, members and their friends, wives and other appendages descended upon the relative calm of Oulton Broad.

The vessels, named Braemar I, Merlin I and Merlin II., were taken over by their captains, John Armstrong, Denis Layton and Alan Thirst respectively. Whilst provisions were taken aboard, the owners of the vessels gave brief instructions to the crews upon the handling of the vessels. By 6 p.m. the fleet was under way bound for Somerleyton in line astern. This was virtually the only occasion when the vessels were all seen together in an orderly manner in daylight.

As the crews worked, ate, lived and slept on board their own particular vessel, a noticeable characteristic of the tour soon became apparent. On previous occasions the whole party has invariably been together throughout the week, but this year the party was necessarily split into three groups. It is therefore difficult for any one member of the Society to give a coherent account of the whole tour. As the writer was on board Braemar this is necessarily an account of the tour as seen by a member of the crew of one vessel.

After dinner, the first meal served aboard (a precedent of innumerable excellent meals which followed throughout the week despite cramped conditions) all crews tentatively explored the shore, establishing the position of the local hostelry in record time. Upon returning to the boats for the night, a number of complications which were to be felt for the remainder of the week became apparent. There were those present of precise habits and varying hours of retirement. The two members allocated sleeping accommodation in the saloon were introduced to the problem of persuading recalcitrant coffee addicts to leave the saloon before 1 a.m.

On Sunday morning those aboard Braemar emerged bright rather than early to find the crews of the Merlins returning from church. The party split for morning service ringing so that both Somerleyton and Haddiscoe were given the benefit of our presence.

The fleet proceeded to Reedham, where lunch was served, and ringing took place on the light five in the afternoon. On returning to the river we were treated to the spectacle of a collier of considerable proportions attempting to remove Reedham swing-bridge. It was a reassuring sight as the crews realised that even professional sailors make mistakes.

B.B.C. RECORDINGS

Mooring for the night were found at Yarmouth Yacht Station, and a meal was provided in Merlin I. On Monday morning the unlimited hot water and other facilities provided by the Yacht Station were greatly appreciated—a deceptively pleasant start to a momentous day. Aclé was reached before lunch, where we were greeted by a B.B.C. Recording Unit, clamouring for yet another interview with our worthy president. A respectable course of London was also recorded as a background to this talk.

Before lunch a high wind materialised, whereupon Braemar's rudder ceased to function in midstream. As a repair of this useful fitting was vital, an engineer was summoned from Oulton, whilst the majority of Braemar's crew were taken aboard Merlin II. for the journey to Ludham.

Two hours later those aboard Merlin II., hastening up the Thurne, came upon Merlin I. neatly transfixed by the bows of a yacht. The only consolation to the crew of the unfortunate cruiser was the news that they were the intrepid yachtsmen's third victims that afternoon. Merlin I. was also provided with forced draught ventilation for the rest of the week. Eventually both Merlins reached Ludham, where the heavy five were rung rather ineffectively until the last touch. Before leaving Ludham the crew of Merlin I. learned that bilges were meant to be pumped, a fact which no doubt added to their comfort as the week progressed.

Braemar rejoined the Merlins at Potter Heigham. Whilst awaiting pilotage under the notorious bridge our president's recorded voice

Another Active Ringer of 92

By invitation of the members of Whitnash (Warwickshire) Church tower, six leading ringers met at St. Margaret's Church, Whitnash, on October 5th, to celebrate the 92nd birthday of Mr. Frederick Hauley, who is believed to be one of Britain's oldest active ringers.

Mr. Hauley, of Hitcham Road, Leamington, has been a ringer for 76 years—first in his native Buckinghamshire, then at Leamington, and for many years at Whitnash.

He had recovered from Asian 'flu in time to be present for the quarter peal of 1,296 Cambridge Surprise Minor, rung in his honour by the following band: W. Collett (78) (Warwick) 1, H. C. Burt (Leamington) 2, E. C. Shepherd (Solihull) 3, W. J. Vann (Rugby) 4, A. H. Beamish (Chilvers Coton) (cond.) 5, T. L. Garner-Hayward (Coventry) 6.

Mr. Hauley had the pleasure of ringing in a short touch of Grandsire before the quarter peal. He still rings with the team each Sunday before taking his place in the choir. Before retiring recently he trained the present band of Whitnash girl ringers.

[Note.—Mr. F. V. Sinkins, of St. Leonard's, Streatham, who is also 92, still rings in short touches.—Ed.]

was to be heard on the Midland Home Service. The journey to Somerton across Marham Broad was accomplished by nightfall, and after dinner the majority of the crews undertook a seemingly endless walk to Winterton (and back!).

PEAL AT NORWICH

All craft were under way by 6.30 a.m. on the Tuesday so as to catch low water at Potter Heigham Bridge, after which a leisurely journey to Wroxham ensued. After a quick visit to the six at Wroxham, public transport was utilised for the journey to Norwich. Here ten members rang a peal of Stedman Caters at St. Peter Mancroft, whilst the remainder of the party further diverted the population of the city by ringing two quarter peals at St. John de Sepulchre's and St. George Colegate.

On the Wednesday the upper reaches of the Bure were explored and ringing and lunch were to be had at Coltishall. A pleasant day enticed some members to take to the water with and without sailing dinghies in Wroxham Broad. One member succeeded in capsizing Braemar's dinghy and was discouraged from further anti-social activities by being wrapped in a wet sail.

An attempt to take a cine-film of the fleet under way was sabotaged by a yacht, whose crew seemed to have a warped sense of humour. They later paid for their sins when Merlin II.'s garbage was accidentally emptied upon them.

Mooring for the night were taken on Ranworth Broad, where, after ringing and refreshment, a party was given aboard Braemar to the dismay of those destined to sleep in the saloon. As all the vessels were moored abreast, an unpleasant storm did not cause undue dismay.

The weather continued to deteriorate and on Thursday Barton Broad was reached in a rain-storm. Ringing took place at Catfield and the evening was spent at Stokesby, where Merlin II. provided hospitality for the evening.

Friday, the 13th, heralded a half gale and Yarmouth Yacht Station was reached before breakfast. Low temperatures and high winds lowered morale, and rescue work on yachts in distress was undertaken by the Merlins on Breydon Water. A tower-snatching party met with little success. Braemar lost an argument with a bridge but later her superior weight caught the dinghy a crushing blow. Ted Chapman's timely arrival at teatime (complete with wife) restored morale, and ringing was arranged at Pakefield and Lowestoft. Braemar's brige party was subsequently sabotaged, and the last night afloat was spent at anchor in Oulton Broad.

A LUXURIOUS EVENING

On Saturday morning the vessels were returned to their owners and the crews hastily departed before the full measure of damage could be ascertained. The accent was placed on ringing, and the Pulhams, Redenhall, Diss and Wymondham were visited. On Saturday evening the Society installed itself in the Beil Hotel in Norwich and spent a luxuriously lazy evening in dining room and bar.

After Sunday service ringing at St. Giles' and St. Peter Mancroft (of which the least said the better) lunch was taken at the Bell, and members began to redistribute themselves over the British Isles.

Little mention has been made of ringing so far. It is certainly true to say that it occupied a far less proportion of the time than ever before, and consequently was of a lower standard. Rarely did all crews arrive at a tower at the same time and little serious ringing was achieved.

Viewed in retrospect, several vivid impressions remain of this remarkable tour—horribly early mornings, the swabbing of decks in cold winds, unpredictably large appetites and a state of physical exhaustion by breakfast time, which late nights did little to assuage.

In conclusion the Society's thanks must be expressed to Nolan Golden, Ted Chapman and the Master—John Armstrong—without whose arrangements the tour could not have taken place.

WEDDINGS AT KNEBWORTH

The bells at Knebworth have recently been rung by members of the Hertford County Association to two peals by way of compliment to members of the Sunday service band who have been married at the Parish Church.

On August 17th the wedding of Mr. Peter Wells to Miss Maureen Moore was the occasion for a peal of Plain Bob Major, and a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major on September 14th followed the marriage earlier that day of Miss Barbara Marks to Mr. Louis Baycock, a ringer at North Mymms.

Mr. Peter Wells is towerkeeper at Knebworth and by setting up his new home in nearby Stevenage he hopes to continue in that capacity.

Mr. and Mrs. Baycock, however, have moved from the district and will reside at 36, Merton Mansions, West Wimbledon, S.W.20.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION Ashford District Has 174 Members

The annual meeting of the Ashford District took place in their home town on October 5th. The service was conducted by the Vicar (Canon N. M. Granville Sharpe). Mr. Garner was organist and Mr. J. Willis read the lesson.

Some 50 members and friends sat down to an excellent tea served by members of the Mothers' Union. At the business meeting, under the chairmanship of Mr. Willis, Mr. J. R. Cooper and Mr. C. T. Hillis were re-elected as Ringing Master and secretary respectively, and Miss Maisie Vantom and Mr. Alan Berry were elected as District representatives. Four new members joined the Association.

The secretary reported that the overall membership totalled 174, with some late subscribers still to come. Towers in union with the Association to date total 23. Service ringing appears to be at least no worse than in previous years, but he pointed out that there is still plenty of room for improvement in attendances, punctuality and striking. Sixteen peals have been rung so far this year, with five 'first pealers' and seven different conductors, including one 'first as conductor.' The report and balance sheet were adopted.

Mr. T. Cullingworth thanked the Vicar, Mr. Garner, the lady helpers who served teas and Miss Margaret Jones, secretary of the Ashford ringers, for making the necessary arrangements.

Ringing was to suit all degrees of proficiency up to Four Spliced Surprise Major. C. T. H.

Tonbridge District

The annual meeting of the Tonbridge District took place on October 5th. Ringing started at 3 p.m. in the grand old Parish Church, Tonbridge. The service was held here, conducted by the Vicar (Canon Russell White).

Tea was arranged in the Parish Hall by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dobbie, who were assisted in waiting by some of the junior ladies of this tower. As usual, many members did not notify; this is most unfair to the caterers.

The annual meeting followed. Unfortunately the Vicar could not attend so Mr. Peter Bond was elected to the chair. Mr. George Fry took over as Ringing Master, and Messrs. B. Collison and W. Dobbie were appointed District representatives. Ringing ranged from rounds, Grandsire, Stedman, Double Norwich and Spliced Surprise. A. F. W.

THE LADIES' GUILD Kent Branch

A very enjoyable meeting of the Kent Branch was held at St. Margaret's, Rainham, on September 28th.

Ringing commenced at 3.45 p.m. and was followed by a service at 4.15 p.m. conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. J. Clifford) and attended by about 25 ringers.

Tea was served at the nearby school and a short business meeting was held. The ladies then joined the gentlemen in the tower for further ringing in a variety of methods up to Cambridge Major.

Thanks are due to Miss E. M. Walker and Mr. F. Cheal for helping to make the meeting a success. S. M. D.

GUILD of DEVONSHIRE RINGERS

The autumn meeting of the S.W. Branch was held at St. Maurice's, Plympton, on October 5th and was well attended. Members came from Plymouth, St. Andrew's Emmanuel, Plymouth, Lifton, Kelly and the local band, whilst visitors included Mr. Maurice Atkins (general secretary of the Guild), Mr. Aubrey Bennett (secretary of the Mid-Devon Branch) and Mr. Shepherd, of Littlehampton, who was on holiday in the district. There was some excellent ringing during the afternoon and evening, touches of Grandsire Triples, Stedman, Bob Major and Kent Treble Bob and rounds being rung.

The service was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Mr. Clynick) and an excellent tea provided by ladies of the parish.

Mr. H. H. Thomas, the Branch chairman, who presided at the business meeting, had the sad duty of asking members to stand in sympathy and respect for the Rev. H. E. Bennett (late Rector) and Mr. Harry Tippet (St. Andrew's, Plymouth), whose funeral took place that morning.

The Right Rev. Dr. Norman H. Clarke, Bishop of Plymouth, was received as an honorary member, and Mr. R. Bowden, formerly of Bristol, was admitted as an unattached member. The chairman remarked that since Mr. Bowden came to Plymouth he had been of great help both to St. Andrew's and Emmanuel. Several matters were discussed. Mr. Fred Day, of Emmanuel, emphasised promptness at practice and Sunday ringing, and spoke of what he thought was apathy amongst too many ringers, who once they could ring Grandsire Triples reasonably well were quite satisfied. He urged young ringers to go all out to master the art of conducting. Mr. Atkins and Mr. T. G. Myers (Branch secretary) also spoke on this matter.

Mention was made of the great work being done by Mr. W. Harvey in the Lifton area, and it was agreed that if possible a by-meeting be held at Lamerton on November 23rd, when it was hoped several of Mr. Harvey's pupils would qualify for their certificates. It was unanimously agreed that, provided permission could be obtained, the annual meeting be held at St. Andrew's, Plymouth, on January 25th, by which time the church would be rededicated and in regular use for the first time since it was very severely damaged during the war.

The chairman moved the votes of thanks to the Vicar and ladies of the parish, and Mr. Ken Farnham and the ringers of St. Maurice's for their great efforts to make the gathering the success it was. H. H. T.

OUTING FARINGDON, BERKS

In perfect weather Faringdon ringers and friends visited four towers in the Tewkesbury district on September 28th. Ringing took place at Tirley, Eldersfield, Kemerton and Beckford. An excellent tea was provided at the Crown Hotel, Kemerton. The outward journey was via Burford, Northleach and Cheltenham, and the homeward journey via Stow-on-the-Wold and Burford. Thanks are expressed to all tower secretaries for their kind co-operation.

ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN GUILD

At the Guild's quarterly meeting on September 14th at St. Stephen's, members came from Tenby, Pembroke, Carmarthen, Llandilo, Burry Port and Llanelli, supported by the Llanstephan ringers. The Vicar (the Rev. J. T. Jenkins) officiated at the service, and Mr. T. D. Williams was organist; the lesson was read by the Master, Mr. Ed. J. Thomas. Sixty members sat down to a nice tea in the Church Hall.

The Vicar presided at the business meeting, at which the Master extended a very hearty welcome to the visitors, who included Mr. and Mrs. Kynaston, of Swindon, and also Mr. Morris, from Kingston-on-Thames.

A collection for the Bell Restoration Fund realised the sum of £1 15s. It was decided that the next quarterly meeting, in December, be held at Cardigan, if the bells are ringable; failing that, Llandovery will be the alternative place. The usual touch on the handbells was given by Mr. Kynaston, Mr. Gwyn Lewis, Mr. Scudamore and Mr. Gwyn Thomas. Two grants of £10 each were made to Tenby and Burry Port from the Bell Restoration Fund towards the cost of new ropes. Two new members were made.

A hearty vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. Gwyn Thomas to all who had made the meeting a success. C. H. H.

LLANDAFF AND MONMOUTH Monmouth Branch

The Monmouth Branch quarterly meeting was held at Belwelly on September 28th. An afternoon of pleasant ringing was followed by tea and the business meeting with the service and further ringing in the evening. Mr. T. M. Roderick thanked the ladies for providing tea.

Before starting the business meeting the Rev. Mansel Griffiths, Rector of Bedwelly, mentioned the untimely death of Mr. Glyn Williams, a faithful member of the Association and of the Bedwelly band. Members then stood in silence and Mr. Ryan Price followed this with a few words in tribute of an old friend and fellow ringer. The Rev. Ivor J. Richards then spoke of the wedding, on June 8th last, of the Branch Master to the Branch secretary—now Mr. and Mrs. David J. King. These remarks were followed by the Association Master, Mr. Tim Yeoman, making a presentation to them of a canteen of cutlery. Both Mr. and Mrs. King expressed their sincere thanks.

New members were elected from Ebbw Vale, Abergavenny, Chepstow and All Saints', Newport. A committee was formed to explore the possibility of a Branch dinner to be held in Newport. It was decided to hold the next meeting at Trevelin jointly with the Ladies' Guild.

NYLON BELL ROPES

Dear Sir,—In answer to the inquiry about nylon bell ropes by R. F. Baker in 'The Ringing World' of October 4th, it may be of interest that in April this year we rang a peal at the Loughborough Bell Foundry with a terylene rope on the tenor.

This was an experiment requested by the Loughborough firm of rope makers to see if terylene would be suitable for bell ropes. The rope had been attached to the bell some days before the peal and had had a weight tied to it. The handling of the rope was smooth and almost as soft as silk, but the weight had had little effect making the 'stretch' out of it. It was like the proverbial 'piece of elastic' and was just as springy at the end of the peal as it was before we started.

We came to the conclusion that terylene ropes would definitely not be suitable for church bells, especially in towers that have a long draught.

We passed this opinion to Mr. Paul Taylor and have since heard no more about the venture.

A feature of terylene is its strong 'resilience,' which is also true to a slightly lesser extent of nylon. If a thread of terylene and nylon of equal length, were suspended side by side, with an equal weight attached to each, the terylene thread would stretch much more than the nylon thread. However, when the weights are removed it will be seen that the thread of terylene will almost return to its original length, while the nylon thread still retains much of the stretch caused by the weight. The inference from this is that nylon may be better than terylene for bell ropes, but neither will ever have the 'stretch' taken out completely.

My opinion is that it would be better, if possible, to splice nylon or terylene into a hemp rope to strengthen it, especially at the places where the strain is greatest. An all-nylon or all-terylene rope is much too springy for practical use, but it may be a great advantage if used in an approximate 50-50 percentage with hemp.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN A ACRES.

Leicester.

Dear Sir,—Some time ago I had some correspondence with British Nylon Spinners, Ltd., and one of their subsidiaries, on the question of the suitability of nylon ropes for ringing.

Nylon's remarkable resistance to abrasion (it was given an estimated life of 20 years without serious deterioration) held out exciting possibilities, but unfortunately there were several snags:—

(a) The relatively high elasticity, which is an inherent property of the nylon fibre.

(b) The impracticability under present production methods of working in the sally. An alternative suggested by the firm was to splice in a length of conventional rope with sally to the main nylon rope, thus obtaining the advantage of nylon durability at the point of maximum wear.

(c) Relatively high cost. I was given an estimate of £6 2s. 6d. for a rope comprising 80ft. nylon and 15ft hemp and sally.

(d) Finally—when I tell Mr. Baker that I can hold a 6in. specimen of nylon rope in my hand like a stick of rock he will appreciate the practical handling problems involved.

I would be glad to show Mr. Baker the correspondence if he is sufficiently interested.

—Yours sincerely,

A. R. LING.

A FALSE PEAL IN C.C. COLLECTION

Dear Sir,—I have carefully checked the statement made on page 623, 'The Ringing World,' September 27th, 1957, by Mr. Ivins concerning the falseness of the arrangement of Spliced Superlative and Cambridge, CSCXCSC, published in the Central Council Collection of compositions in popular Major methods. (Footnote, page 58.) I regret that his statement is quite correct; this arrangement would be false to a composition of Superlative, the false course-ends being 32546, 46253, 32465 and 43265. As Mr. Ivins stated, the arrangement is true to Middleton's composition of Cambridge and to the abbreviations thereof which have the tenors together.

I must tender the apologies of those who constituted the Peals Collections Committee at that time to any ringers who might have taken part in false peals as a result of this unfortunate error—I myself was not on the committee at the time this collection was compiled!

W. ERIC CRITCHLEY

Convener, Peals Collections Committee.

'THE NINE TAILORS'

Dear Sir,—Mr. Cyril A. Wratten's presumption in his letter which appeared in your issue of September 27th is correct, I was not consulted by the B.B.C. on the script of the play, but was asked only to provide the bell effects required.

Incidentally, I have not been able to listen to the broadcasts except for part of one instalment, but in that I noticed that the B.B.C. used effects which we did not provide.—Yours sincerely,

H. N. PITSTOW.

Banstead, Surrey.

THE JASPER SNOWDON DINNER

Dear Sir,—As the above, to be held at Rotherham on October 26th, coincides with the annual Statutes Fair, and as Rotherham United are playing at home that day, parking in the usual car parks may be difficult. Arrangements have therefore been made for visitors to the Dinner to park their cars, free of charge, at Elmfield House, Moorgate Road, during the afternoon and evening.

This private car park is not far from the town centre, at the junction of Moorgate Road, Alma Road and Hollowgate. Entrance to the car park is made from Alma Road.

Any visitors who are staying overnight will be able to obtain as much ringing as they desire on Sunday, and a hearty welcome awaits all attending this function.—Yours, etc.,

NORMAN CHADDOCK.

MID-WEEK RINGING IN LONDON

Dear Sir,—Further to my letter which appeared in 'The Ringing World' of August 16th, I have to report that lunch-hour ringing in the City is not possible at the moment. The incumbents of St. Lawrence's, Jewry, St. Bartholomew's, Smithfield, St. Botolph-without-Bishopsgate, and St. Olave's, Hart Street, do not desire their bells rung for these services, and question their right to create such a volume of sound in the centre of so many offices.

However, the Rector of St. Dunstan-in-the-East is very interested in lunch-hour ringing, but unfortunately the stability of the tower is in doubt and has to be tested.—Yours faithfully,

H. OGLESBY.

Hitcham.

WHAT IS THE NEW BEAT?

Dear Sir,—At the risk of seeming to lag behind—what is the 'new beat'? ('The Ringing World,' page 643).

Perhaps my friend, J. L. M., will furnish us with an accurate description so that we may all 'have a bash.'

I hope it doesn't resemble a rough touch of Grandshire Triples with seven bells trying to dodge 4-5 up (or a peal of Bristol about to disappear down the jolly old drain)! — Yours faithfully,

WILFRED W. RING.

Ashford, Kent.

THE NEW BEAT

Dear Sir,—Perhaps a non-ringer's views would help. At a church where I have rung many peals there is an organist who does not know the first thing in ringing, let alone change ringing, but when he learns of a peal attempt he sits in the church throughout the peal. During a chat I had with him, he said that if the bells were rung in 16's, i.e., with the 'gap,' he could concentrate in listening, but if they were rung in 'cartwheel' fashion he could not find the interest or concentrate.

Do we get so accustomed to the 'gap' that we do not realise why we have enjoyed a peal or otherwise if there have been no 'gaps'?

Occasionally I have taken part in a peal of Major where the 'gap' is made by the bell following the tenor at handstroke. Others, very rarely in this district, 'cartwheel,' and these peals I have not enjoyed. Perhaps I am not educated to the taste.—Yours, etc.,

PETER CROOK.

BRIGHTON RINGERS AT LOUGHBOROUGH & LEICESTER

In specially reserved coaches both from Brighton to London Bridge and then from St. Pancras to Loughborough, the St. Peter's, Brighton, Society, had an excellent outing to Loughborough on September 28th. Between St. Pancras and Loughborough some spade work was done on the handbells with Stedman Triples.

After lunch at the Three Nuns, Loughborough, came the tour of the bell foundry, with Mr. Colin Harrison as guide. At the campanile a feeling of awe was apparent in many, and especially noticeable was the absence of ringers near the two trebles! Confidence was not improved by the news that the 14,000-odd changes had been rung on the bells the previous Saturday. However, some quite passable touches were accomplished as time went on.

An ample tea was served in the Three Nuns, and then away to the station, and another reserved coach took the party to Leicester. Mr. Sid Harrison escorted the visitors to the belfry of St. John-the-Divine, where these splendid ten were soon set going. Suitable refreshments were then taken to fortify the tourists for the 150-mile journey back to Brighton. Again reserved rail accommodation was available, but the mystery was how six of the ringers had psychic powers to know that the train was running five minutes late! Although heading south at 60 miles per hour, a course of Stedman Triples was accomplished on the handbells in good style.

The three changes on the Underground to Victoria resulted in half of the party being missing, but there was quite a happy reunion, and the reserved coach marked 'Brighton St. Peter's Society of Change Ringers' was a satisfying and somewhat inspiring notice to end a memorable day. Our thanks to ringing friends and the British Railways for their efficiency.

WREXHAM PARISH CHURCH — ONE OF THE SEVEN WONDERS OF WALES

*Pistyll Rhaiadr and Wrexham steeple, Snowdon Mountain without its people;
Overton yew trees, St. Winefred's wells, Llangollen Bridge and Gresford bells.*

(Old rhyme.)

THIS year, 1957, is the centenary of the Borough of Wrexham. Celebrations were arranged continuously from May to November and published in diary form in a centenary supplement of the 'Wrexham Leader.'

The Wrexham area can claim four of the seven Wonders, including the Tower of St. Giles', Wrexham's noble Parish Church, i.e., The Steeple, doubtless the largest and most handsome of the ancient parish churches of North Wales.

Two preceding churches have occupied this site. The earliest church on the present site was erected in the 13th century, or possibly earlier, and was dedicated to St. Ægidius, Ægidius being the Latinised form of both Silin (a Welsh saint) and Giles. This building was wrecked by a great storm of wind upon St. Catherine's Day in the year 1330. A new church was built in the Decorated style, probably by the Abbots of 'Valle Crucis.' This was destroyed by fire (in great part) in 1463.

Valle Crucis Abbey was founded by Cistercian monks near Llangollen towards the end of the 11th century.

Rebuilding in the Perpendicular fashion began within a few years and a temporary bell tower of timber was completed in 1480. Finally the great west tower was commenced before 1506 and completed about 1524-5. Much damage was done to the fabric previous to this by the Parliamentary troops under Brereton, but at the Restoration the church was thoroughly repaired during the period 1700-1850 and numerous additions were made to the furniture and fixtures, including the galleries.

A general restoration of the church was carried out in 1867 under the direction of Benjamin Ferry, F.S.A., who removed the galleries, opening out a fine east to west vista, and in 1902 and 1903 a restoration on a more elaborate scale was inaugurated by the exertions of Canon (afterwards Archdeacon) Fletcher; the then Vicar, and completed at a cost of over £9,000, of which the Duke of Westminster contributed £2,000.

During the first half of the 13th century the rectory of Wrexham was appropriated in its entirety to Valle Crucis Abbey, though the right of appointing vicars was retained by the Bishop of St. Asaph. At the Dissolution the rectorial properties and tithes were granted to Sir William Pickering; later they came into possession of the owners of Wynnstay, by whom a large proportion were sold to various purchasers during the last century. Since 1853 £100,000 has been expended on churches, schools and endowments for new parishes, carved out of the original Wrexham Parish, and towards this outlay as well as towards restorations of the Mother Church, the lay impropricators have contributed generously.

The modern stained glass filling the east, south-east and north-east windows was erected to commemorate the coming of age of a former Sir Watkin Williams Wynn in 1841. This gentleman was probably the grandson of a former Master of the College Youths, Watkin Williams, who joined in 1717. He was then a young man of 25 years and a person of some importance, M.P. for Denbighshire. Two years later, on the death of his cousin, he became the owner of a great estate in North Wales, and took the name of Wynn in addition to his own. He was at different times Mayor of Chester and Oswestry. He became a baronet in 1740. This gentleman must certainly have done some bellringing in Salop and North Wales.

THE TOWER OF ST. GILES'

The height of the tower is 135 feet and is ornamented with life-sized figures of 30 saints, among them St. Giles, to whom the church is dedicated.

The ring of ten bells (the only ten in North Wales) was cast by the famous foundry of Rudhall's, Gloucester. These were hung in 1726. Here are details of the transport of the first ring from Gloucester from a framed copy in the tower.

WREXHAM BELLS

Sir,—Hearing the bells on the Queen's birthday ring out their congratulations, reminded me of the following, which appeared in the 'Wrexham Recorder' for April, 1842.—Yours, Bellope.

Sir,—As I was listening to the merry peal of bells which announced to the lazy world the early opening of the New Market Hall, it occurred to me that very few who now hear from time to time their melodious sounds know anything of their history; nor am I aware that there exists among the dusty archives of the church any documents which might throw light upon the subject. Few belfries in the kingdom can boast so numerous or so melodious a peal; and though the bells of Gresford are said to be among the 'Wonders of Wales,' they cannot, in my humble opinion, compete with those of Wrexham in fullness and sweetness of tone.

I happen to possess an old memorandum of one of the churchwardens in olden times, which gives a statement of the expenses incurred in their casting and erection in the steeple, the foundry at which they were cast, the inscription on each bell (note 9th omitted, but added by Mr. Cathall), the amount raised by private contributions and by a parish rate, and last, but not least, the sums expended in copious libations of nut brown ale to propitiate the Naiades of the old Severn, during the transit of the bells from Gloucester to Shrewsbury. The particulars may prove interesting to some of your readers. I therefore send them for insertion in the 'Recorder,' with the earnest prayer, Mr. Editor, for both of us, that

When the solemn booming bell
Shall echo forth our passing knell
May our spirits take their flight
To join the blessed saints in light.

Senex.

An account of what the ten bells in St. Giles' Tower, Wrexham, cost in framing, carriage and expense of casting, etc., at Mr. A. Rudhall's Foundry, Gloucester, in 1726, amounted to £450 18s. 7d.

Underneath the inscription on each bell is cast the date.

No. 1.—Year 1727. 'Glory to God on high.' (Date checked by Sec., N.W.A.C.R., 1736).

No. 2.—Year 1726. 'And in Earth Peace.'

No. 3.—Year 1726. 'Abraham Rudhall cast all.'

No. 4.—Year 1726. 'Peace and good neighbourhood.'

No. 5.—Year 1726. 'Fear God and Honour the King.'

No. 6.—Year 1728. 'A. Rudhall.'

No. 7.—Year 1726. 'Prosperity to this Parish.'

No. 8.—Year 1726. 'Robert Ellice, Esq., John Pulford, Gent.'

No. 9.—No inscription on belfry copy.

No. 9.—Year 1726. 'Church Wardens John Price, Edward Edwards, Robert Ellis, Esq., and John Pulford, Gent.' (Particulars on 9th obtained by William Cathall, Sec., N.W.A.C.R.)

No. 10.—Year 1726. To the church the living call. To the grave summons all.'

Cast in the reign of King George the First, and old style. The little bell was of the old ring and cast in the year 1678 in the reign of King Charles the Second. The weight of the large bell is 25 cwt. The same number and weight are at Manchester College Church tower. Private subscriptions £160, the remainder paid by the parish.

Note.—The little bell is the parson's bell and is not one of the ring of 10. There are no records of the old ring, of which the little bell was one.

The tenor bell was rehung by John Taylor and Co. about 1926. The bells in this tower were tuned, quarter-turned and rehung in entirely new fittings and wrought steel frame on a new belfry floor by Messrs. Mears and Stainbank, bell founders, London, A.D. 1907. The cost, amounting to £491, was defrayed by public subscription.

In May, 1955, nine of the ten bells were removed to the Bell Foundry, Loughborough, to be fitted with new ringing fittings and other modern improvements by John Taylor and Co. The bells were tuned to the tenor and rehung in November, 1955, at a cost of over £2,000. The bells were rededicated on December 8th, 1955, by the Most Rev. the Archbishop of Wales, Dr. John Morgan.

The belfry is well appointed, a very pleasing place to ring at, the ropes falling in a very good circle. The ringing of these beautifully-toned bells not only gives pleasure to near and far, but surely reminds many of their chief purpose in calling all and sundry to worship God, and certainly ringers from all parts of the British Isles derive great pleasure in ringing these bells.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

The church has association with Yale University, U.S.A. The name of Elihu Yale is perpetuated in the title of Yale University. His tomb is in this churchyard and is visited by numerous American pilgrims each year. The inscription on his tomb is as follows:—Born in America, in Europe bred. In Africa travelled and in Asia wed, Where long he lived and thrived; in London dead.

Wrexham Parish Church—Cont.

Much good, some ill he did, so hope all's even
And that his soul, thro' mercy gone to Heaven.

You that survive and read this tale, take care
For this most certain exist to prepare, Where, blest in peace the actions of the just Smell sweet, and blossom in the silent dust.

A piece of stone has been taken from the tower and conveyed to the U.S.A. The newness of the replacement can clearly be seen on the west corner of the tower.

Elihu Yale, 1648-1721, was descended from the Yales of Plas-yn-Ial, near Bryn Eglwys, and was the son of a Pilgrim Father, hence his connection with the U.S.A. He rose to high eminence in the service of the East India Company, becoming Governor of Madras.
His declining years were spent at Plas Grono, near Wrexham.

The wonderful churchyard gates of wrought iron, the work of the brothers Davies, of Croesfiel, gatesmiths, were erected about 1720, probably at the expense of Elihu Yale.

The grandfather of Mr. P. Swindley. The Smithy, Handbridge, effected some repairs to these gates and fencing and was assisted by the late James Swindley when he was a youth. This would be about 70 years or so ago.

Bishop Hebet's name is also associated with the church, as, while staying in Wrexham, he wrote the by now famous hymn 'From Green-land's Icy Mountains'—and this was first sung in Wrexham Parish Church on Whit Sunday, 1819. Accounts of the early peals rung on these bells were published in 'The Ringing World' of March 13th, 1953.

A recent peal of London Surprise Royal, the first in Wales, was rung on Saturday, March 18th, 1957, conducted by C. K. Lewis.

The peal to commemorate the centenary of the borough was rung on September 18th—a peal of Grandsire Caters, 5,057 changes, rung in 3 hours and 36 minutes, conducted by J. W.
Griffiths, composed by E. C. Shepherd.

Wrexham became a municipal borough by Royal Charter granted by Queen Victoria on September 23rd, 1857. The Vicar of St. Giles' is the Rev. D. E. M. Jones, who, prior to this office, was Vicar of Gresford.

I would like to associate the names of Mr.
William Cathrall, secretary of the North Wales Association of Change Ringers, and Mr. Glyn Griffiths, Editor of the 'Wrexham Leader.'

A. J. HUGHES.

FIFTY YEARS AT CAYTHORPE

On September 28th, at the Church of St.
Vincent, Caythorpe, Grantham, Lincs, a tablet was unveiled with the following inscription:—

'On February 11th, 1953, in 2 hours and 53 minutes, on the anniversary of a peal of Grandsire Triples rung on February 11th, 1903, a peal of Grandsire Triples, 5,040 changes, was rung by the following: P. M. Bond treble,
C. L. Simcock 2, G. Paul 3, L. Squires 4,
H. Squires 5, J. Millhouse 6, J. Cragg 7, G.
W. King tenor. Conducted by J. Millhouse.
A. J. Ison, Rector; J. H. Kelley, C. L. Sim-cock, churchwardens.'

J. Cragg's name appears on both tablets.

A service was held in the belfry and continued in church, conducted by the Rector (the Rev. A. J. Ison). After tea, at the Red Lion, the following rang touches of Grandsire, Stedman and Erin Triples, Bob Major and Kent Treble Bob: J. Freeman (Master of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild), J. Walden (Lincoln), A.
Mackers, H. Squires, L. Squires (Hough-on-the-Hill), G. W. King, J. Cragg, C. L. Sim-cock (Caythorpe), C. L. S.

OBITUARYMR. J. H. TIPPETT

The death occurred on October 3rd of Mr.
James Henry Tippett, of Plymouth. Prior to the war he was a member of Emmanuel band of ringers and after the war went to St. Andrew's. He had rung about 20 peals in several methods.

'Harry,' as he was known to his many friends, was a Cornishman, and commenced his ringing at St. Mewan, near St. Austell, about 55 years ago, at the age of 13. As an official of the Great Western Railway, and later, British Railways, his duties took him to several places in Devon and Cornwall and he was well known for his wide knowledge and work in connection with the St. John Ambulance Brigade. He retired three years ago, but owing to indifferent health had been unable to ring for the past two years.

The funeral at St. Augustine's Church, Plymouth, on October 5th, was very largely attended. Ringers present included Messrs. H.
H. Thomas (chairman, S.W. Branch, Guild of Devonshire ringers), W. Lavers and Reg
Woods. H. H. T.

MR. SAMUEL WARD

At the beginning of the present century an enthusiastic and ambitious band of young ringers at Pudsey, determined to break away from the traditional Treble Bob of the West Riding, set out to master the intricacies of Surprise ringing, and the success which they attained in that particular field played no small part in popularising the ringing of Surprise methods in the surrounding district.

One of that band was Samuel Ward, a quiet sort of chap with a retiring disposition but with strong determination and a keen ear, two essentials for a ringer of his class, for he was a most reliable method man and an excellent striker. His main interest was Sunday service ringing: he was not a prolific peal ringer, in fact his total is a modest 48, but that includes peals of London, Bristol, Superlative, Cambridge and Pudsey Surprise Major.

Up to a few years ago he was a regular attender in the belfry, then ill-health put an end to his journeys to the tower. Now, at the age of 77, he has passed away. Thus we lose another of the 'old school,' one who, in his small way, helped to further the art of change ringing at a time when there was a tendency among ringers to be content with one or two of the simpler methods rather than a desire to launch out in something new and more interesting.

The bells of Pudsey Church were rung deeply muffled on the Sunday after Sam died, as a mark of respect to a staunch and loyal member of the local band. W. B.

MR. C. J. GARDNER

The death occurred on October 6th of Mr.
Charles J. Gardner, of Swindon, aged 85. He had recently undergone an eye operation and never really recovered.

Mr. Gardner was a native of Oxfordshire and learned to ring at Beenham, near Reading, moving to Swindon in 1895, when he joined the band of Christ Church, and remained a ringer up to the time of his death, thus giving 62 years of faithful service to this tower. He was an excellent ringer and conductor, and was never more happy than when helping beginners to master change ringing. He worked on the Great Western Railway until his retirement in 1937 and was the last survivor of the band which rang the first railwaymen's peal at Swindon, in 1898.

The first peal of Surprise Major in Wiltshire by a resident band was conducted by him, and he took part in some of the long peals of Grandsire Cinques at Painswick. A complete record of his peals is not available, but they probably number over 300 and range from Grandsire Doubles to Stedman Cinques and Kent Maximus.

Mr. Gardner was a vice-president of the Gloucester and Bristol Diocesan Association and was a very regular attendant at all meetings of the Swindon Branch. He will be greatly missed and it is very difficult to visualise Christ Church tower and the Swindon Branch without Charlie Gardner.

The funeral took place at Christ Church on October 9th, and the Gloucester and Bristol Association was represented by the Master (Mr.
W. H. Trueman) and members from Christ
Church and St. Mark's, Swindon, Blunsdon, Rodbourn Cheney and Stratton St. Margaret.
Two old friends from the Oxford Guild, Mr.
T. Dike, of Shrivensham, and Mr. V. Jones, of Faringdon, were also present. Following the service a half-muffled quarter peal was rung, and a quarter peal was also rung at St. Mark's in the evening.

CANON A. RUST

We regret to announce the death of Canon Albert Rust, a former president and the oldest member of the Bedfordshire Association, which took place on October 9th. It had been a long-standing ambition of his to live to be 90, and it is very saddening to think that he should have passed on so soon after his 90th birthday, which was on September 7th. An appreciation of Canon Rust's services to Husborne Crawley and ringing appeared in our last issue.

JOINT MEETING AT GUILDFORD

A new item in the ringing calendar was a joint meeting of the North-West District of the Surrey Association and the Guild-ford District of the Guildford Guild at Guild-ford on September 28th. During the afternoon ringing was enjoyed at St. Mary's and Holy Trinity. The service in St. Nicolas' Church was taken by the Rev. C. Wood, a clerical ringer, and the company then adjourned to St. Nicolas' Hall, where 45 ringers sat down to an excellent tea.

The Surrey District Master (Mr. G. Peters) proposed a vote of thanks to all who had contributed to such a good meeting. He stressed the Association's pleasure at being in Guild-ford as the guests of the Guildford Guild. In seconding the vote of thanks the Guildford District Master (Mr. F. A. Munday) repeated the welcome and hoped that it would be possible to arrange another joint meeting. The ringers then went to St. Nicolas' and Holy Trinity for further ringing.

OUTINGS

BUSHEY HEATH'S TOUR

The members of Bushey Heath band had another good outing on September 21st. With ringing friends from neighbouring towers and a strong contingent from Harrow-on-the-Hill they filled a large coach and, starting at 8 a.m., six eight-bell towers were visited.

There was ringing for all, including rounds for the youngest ringer in the party (aged ten). The rest rang Grandsire Triples. Bob Major and Stedman Triples and, occasionally, Kent. Stedman, for some reason, went the best and everyone agreed that it was really worth listening to.

In the morning Tring, Linslade and Long Crendon were visited, the party being received in each case by a local ringer. At Long Crendon, where the Vicar was waiting, nobody seemed put off by an anti-clockwise ring. Bushey Heath's Vicar joined us for lunch at the Churchill Arms in this very pretty village.

Haddenham was the next town and it must be admitted that a few criticisms of the bells were heard in comparison with those already rung. But the bells of Hughenden, the next town, amply made up. As a ring they may well be described as near perfect as possible. Finally, Burnham, where the party was met by George Gilbert and made welcome, being offered the freedom of the tower and the local club. Some of the members of the party were getting a bit tired, but the touch of Stedman Triples was the best of the lot.

And so home by 10.15 p.m. All thanks to the organiser, Fred.

WHATTON, NOTTS, RINGERS' OUTING

Whatton ringers, with friends from Nottingham and Grantham, were fortunate to have fine weather for their outing on September 28th. At the first tower, Folkingham (6), an almost perfect course of Cambridge was rung, but justice was not done to the fine eight at Edenham. At Greatham (6, 10 cwt.) it was thought that the bells were not quite in the diatonic scale, but the striking was quite reasonable.

After a sandwich lunch some good Minor was rung at Whissendine, but the best striking was not achieved in the small belfry at Langham. Mr. Harry Cook met the company at Asfordby, where appreciation of the best bells of the day was shown by the best striking. Methods rung during the day were Plain Bob, Grandsire, Stedman, Single and Double Court, Single and Double Oxford, Kent T.B., Cambridge and London Surprise.

An excellent meal was served at the Anne of Cleves Restaurant, Melton, after which the Whatton tune-ringers entertained the proprietor, his family and clients by ringing Heyken's Serenade, 'Santa Lucia,' and other tunes. A Grantham ringer also demonstrated his versatility by giving a solo on a post-horn, one of the restaurant curios.

Thanks are accorded to incumbents and ringers who met the party, and also David and Pam Clarke, who put in a great deal of hard work in organising the trip. B. B.

NORTHAMPTON.—At the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, on Sept. 15th, 1,260 Grandsire Triples: Miss N. G. Williams 1, R. S. Roberts 2, Mrs. G. F. Roome 3, Miss J. A. Downing 4, A. R. Jones 5, G. F. Roome 6, Miss D. M. Miller (first of Triples as cond.) 7, E. Billings 8. For evening service. Also at the Church of St. Edmund, on Sept. 29th, 1,260 Doubles (420 Grandsire, 360 Canterbury, 480 Plain Bob): Miss J. A. Downing 1, E. Billings 2, J. C. Rainbow 3, G. F. Roome (cond.) 4, A. R. Jones 5. Rung on the back five for harvest festival.
