THE NAME OF SNOWDON

THE mention of the name of Snowdon straightway brings to mind that excellent series of ringing text books which still forms the vade-mecum of the average ringer.

Jasper Whitfield Snowdon, who originated the series, had a deep and extensive insight into all aspects of change-ringing, from elementary instruction to the composition and proof of complex methods. An even greater gift which he possessed was his willingness and ability to impart this knowledge to others, with a clarity of written expression which few writers achieve. Though many books on ringing preceded his, Jasper was the man who really popularised the ringing text book, and his introduction of standard diagrams was an original and progressive step.

Whilst some of his written works are designed for beginners, others form the foundation on which many modern composers build up their systems of composition and proof in advanced methods.

Jasper Snowdon, born at Ilkley in 1844, established a competent local band there and was instrumental in the augmentation of the bells from six into eight. On his initiative the Yorkshire Association was established in 1875, and he served as president from then until his untimely death in 1885.

The Exercise and the Yorkshire Association were fortunate that the good works begun by Jasper were able to be developed and completed by his brother William, who became second president for 25 years. Aided by his wife, Laura, and the Rev. C. D. P. Davies, he effected the completion and publication of Jasper's manuscripts, thus preserving these valuable works for future generations.

William Snowdon was noted for his punctual and regular attention to service ringing and to the affairs of the Yorkshire Association. He was esteemed as a perfect gentleman, holding the view that 'ringing makes all men equal.' In all that he did he was supported by his wife Laura, who, until her death in 1941, continued publication of The Snowdon Series. Their daughter, Margaret E. Snowdon, then took over the responsibility of the books.

This gracious lady is still an ardent church worker at Cartmel Priory, and during the years after 1941 she has, aided by such men as the late J. A. Trollope and Ernest C. S. Turner, seen that the books have been thoroughly revised, brought up to date, and republished.

In 1959 she handed over care of the series to a younger person, Mrs. Winifred Turner, who can be relied upon to ensure their continuity in the future. Although the books have moved with the times, they still have the hallmark of the illustrious name of Snowdon.

It is fitting that such names should be remembered, and on October 22nd this year members of the Yorkshire Association of Change Ringers and friends from many parts of the country will, on the occasion of their annual commemoration dinner, gather at Rotherham to pay tribute to Jasper Whitfield Snowdon and other past officers of the Yorkshire Association.

A BELL FOR THE MISSION FIELD

THE seed was sown in the autumn of 1959 when Father Cox, of the U.M.C.A., home on leave from his new church, St. Michael's, M'twara, Tanganyika Territory, ascended the detached tower of St. David's Cathedral one practice night to see the ringers and tell them what a fine ring of bells they had. In conversation, it transpired that his church had not a bell, and his people were summoned by a hammer being beaten on a tractor wheel!

The ringers decided that they must try and find a bell for M'twara Church. Mr. Frederick Sharpe was consulted, and through him they learnt that Mr. F. A. White, the bell-hanger at Appleton, had one for sale, cast in 1848 by William Taylor, of Oxford. The price was £45, and a deposit was paid to secure the bell.

To raise the money the ringers took on various jobs in their spare time, such as potato picking, pruning and rooting out nettles. Another gave a part of his B.B.C. fee for a broadcast, and there were also personal gifts. Then it was decided to make the appeal to a wider circle. A collecting box bearing the story of the M'twara bell was placed in the Cathedral to attract the sympathy of the many visitors. The Dean, however, had a more appealing idea—placing the box on the top of a huge old bell which stands in the nave, a reminder of the sad old days when the Cathedral bells had cracked. A coffee morning in the City Hall finally completed the task.

On September 14th St. David's ringers heard from Father Cox, expressing his thanks and saying how much he was looking forward to the early arrival of the bell, which will be going out from Central Africa House with a priest who is soon leaving for this diocese.

After countless attempts, Mrs. Pat Halls has at last scored her first peal of Stedman Triples. The credit for this achievement goes entirely to that eminent conductor, Brian Warwick, who succeeded in the difficult task of keeping her firmly on the blue line. Pat has previously rung to within four minutes of her ambition to achieve a peal of Stedman Triples. The general belief was that she would have wrecked the peal if it had taken longer than 2 hours 8 minutes to complete!

Mrs. D. Strong, of Nailsea, has been admitted to Bristol General Hospital.

A peal week-end in Suffolk consisted of peals of London in Minor, Major and Royal.

Application for a faculty for the Charles W. Blakey memorial was made early in the summer. Our latest information is that 'the matter is with the Chancellor.' It will not be possible, therefore, to hold the dedication in October as originally intended.

Schoolgirl Gillian Schofield, of Bradford, mentioned recently in connection with a peal of Spliced Surprise, has a 12-year-old brother who obviously intends to catch up his sister. He rang a peal of London Surprise Major at Cross Stone, Todmorden, with scarcely a mistake. Congratulations, Barry!

Miss Audrey Bailey, for her wedding to Mr. Ronald Short at Tewin on September 17th, had an unusual compliment in the form of a third-of-a-peal rung at Kimpton. What happened was that the band intended to ring a half peal, but a false start and restricted time only allowed for a third-of-a-peal.

One peal and two quarter peals were planned for the wedding of Mr. David H. White (secretary of the Axbridge District) and his bride and fellow ringer at Uphill tower, Miss Annette E. Lang. The peal attempt on the wedding day at Mark unfortunately came to grief after the treble rope slipped wheel. However, a quarter peal of Grandsire Triples was successfully rung. A quarter peal at Uphill was lost after the conductor had been stung by what was believed to be a wasp after about 1,000 changes.

BELFRY GOSSIP

We were pleased to note that Mr. Nolan Golden conducted the peal at Loddon on September 10th in honour of the silver wedding anniversary of his old friends Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Barrett. It was at Loddon Church that they were married, and after the peal the ringers and friends were most hospitably entertained in the Church Hall.

Leverton, near Boston, has had its first peal rung on the bells. The performance on August 6th was by a band all of whom had not rung a peal previously. Congratulations!

The extents of Broadwas Bob included in the peal of Doubles rung at Broadwas-on-Teme, Worcs, on September 12th, consisted of Norfolk Doubles with plain bob leads replaced by Reverse Canterbury plain leads.

An interesting note regarding the peal of Bristol Surprise Major at Bristol Cathedral on September 9th is that the last peal of Bristol in the city was at St. Stephen's on September 12th, 1925.

The new Vicar of Hersham, Surrey (Rev. F. H. Hargraves), showed his appreciation of the band who rang a peal in honour of his induction by entertaining them to refreshments. A much-appreciated gesture.

To welcome the Coventry Guild to Whitnash for their quarterly meeting tomorrow (Saturday) will be Mr. F. W. Hauley, who reaches his 95th milestone today. He hopes not only to participate in the ringing with other veterans but also to read the lesson at the service.

Miss Catherine M. Powell, of Stoke D'Abernon, gave another example of her accomplishments when she called her first peal of Major at Esher on September 17th. Every call was in its correct place, and her ability enabled Mr. A. P. Cannon to ring his 800th peal! Catherine is the first lady to call a peal of Major for the Guildford Guild. Mr. Cannon's peals have been rung in 616 towers with 1,259 different ringers. He has conducted 412 peals.

VETERANS STILL FORGATHER

NINETY-FIVE-YEAR-OLD Mr. F. V. Sinkin came from hospital on September 17th to attend the veterans' reunion at St. Botolph's, Bishopsgate, London. The 37 other male veterans present accorded him a hearty welcome. This year's gathering was honoured by ladies, and qualifying for the veteran distinction were present Miss Evelyn Steel, Mrs. E. M. Mitchell, Mrs. Hairs, and in the background, superintending the tea, Mrs. E. E. Davis.

For five years these gatherings have been organised by the originator, Mr. A. W. Coles. The planning of this year's function was in the capable hands of Mr. John Euston, and when the future of these gatherings was discussed there was a unanimous wish that they should be continued and that Mr. Euston should make the arrangements.

In the afternoon there was ringing at St. Lawrence Jewry, St. Clement Danes' and St. Botolph's. The bells of St. Olave's, Hart Street, were also available, but not sufficient ringers attended. A short service was conducted in St. Botolph's Church by Prebendary H. H. Treacher, who is retiring from the living after some 10½ years in office. As in previous years, he came to the tea table, and in a short speech of welcome told the gathering that it was 'his last time.' 'I know the value of these gatherings, of getting together and having a good old natter.' He congratulated Mr. Sinkin on being present, and hoped that the fellowship St. Botolph's had to offer would be continued in years to come.

The story of this year's gathering was told by Mr. Euston. First he had a word of appreciation for Mrs. Davis and her helpers for the excellent tea.

Pressed to reply, Mrs. Davis said it was a great pleasure to have them all. 'Some of us,' she added, 'feel we are veterans as much as you are.'

Mr. Euston read out a long list of apologies. Among them were Messrs. A. A. Hughes, the Leatherhead contingent, Maynard (Walthamstow), Wainwright (Southgate), Alf Poole (Hornley), Brinklow and Bert Aldridge (Bexley), Jim Bennett, Stephen Hoare, Gilbert Goodship, William Shepherd, Dr. Taylor and Canon C. Carew Cox.

DEBT TO VETERANS

Not a veteran himself, Mr. Euston had complimentary things to say to the veterans present. If one glanced through 'The Ringing Worlds' until 1930, they would read of their achievements in peals. He did not think the ringing today was better than what they achieved. (A voice: 'What about Minimus?') It was also to these veterans that they owed Sunday ringing, and it needed to be more encouraged. The reason he was so interested in these veterans' reunions was because they did all the work for the foundation of ringing today. It was not then easy travel, but meant walking miles.

The 38 veterans present that afternoon made an average age of 74. The following, who had died since the last reunion, were remembered: Bill Wenban, Bill Langdon, Bob Grimwood, Fred Mitchell, Frank Skidmore, Albert Lock, of Abingdon, and Miss Stella Davies.

A vote of thanks to Mr. Jack Euston for his work in organising the gathering was proposed by Mr. S. Howard.

SERVANTS OF THE EXERCISE - No. 40

JOHN FREEMAN

Lincoln Diocesan Guild.

Mr. John Freeman is a man held in high esteem by the Exercise and the Central Council. Quiet and thoughtful, he is never noisy in debate, but when he does speak he is listened to, with much respect. Like his father, he is solid and reliable, and his sound common sense ensures that his contributions to discussions on the Standing Committee are of the utmost value.

Born in Lincoln in 1919, he was educated at Lincoln School, and later qualified as a Public Health Inspector. He is also a member of the Institution of Municipal Engineers. He learned to ring at Lincoln Cathedral in 1934, and in just over a year conducted his first peal, Steadman Cinques, a really remarkable achievement for one so young. His services to the Lincoln Guild have been outstanding, for besides being a member of the Guild's committee, he represents that body on the Diocesan Advisory Committee, and has been Central Council representative since 1948. Such a useful man would naturally find his way to the Standing Committee, and in 1954 he was elected to both that and the Towers and Belfries Committee.

His ringing performances are outstanding, and amongst many notable achievements are the record length of 14,144 London Surprise Major, which he conducted, a peal of 5,016 Stedman Cinques in short courses throughout, called from a non-observation bell, and a 'John' peal of Cambridge Maximus, rung by College Youths, which he also conducted. Other notable peals were 'silent' Spliced Surprise Major in four methods, 'silent' Stedman Triples at Gainsborough, Spliced Surprise Major in 32 methods, Cambridge Surprise Major 'in hand,' H. Law James' seven-part peal of Stedman Triples and Erin Triples, all of which he conducted. He also took part in the first peals of Surprise Major in 16 and 22 methods, and peals of Spliced Plain Major 'in hand' in up to 50 methods. He has conducted peals on all numbers from 6 to 12, both on tower- and handbells.

His peals total up to July was 355, of which he conducted 198. Of the total, 84 peals have been on handbells, rung by the 'blue line' method. The foundation of the handbell ringing was laid in the period 1937-39, when John, his father and brother used to practise daily. John Freeman is a very likeable young man: his quiet modesty has endeared him not only to ringers in Lincolnshire but to the Exercise generally. JAFUS.

THE WEDDING AT TEWIN

The wedding of Miss Audrey Bailey, one of Hertfordshire's best-known ringers, to Mr. Ronald Short, secretary of the Bath and Wells Diocesan Association, at St. Peter's Church, Tewin, Herts, on September 17th, was a very happy occasion.

Ringing for the wedding was first by the bride's Tewin friends, followed by the Somerset contingent. A choir solely of bellringers sang for the service conducted by the Rev. Blamire-Brown, prest-in-charge, with another ringer (Mr. Garrod) as organist. The best man was Mr. H. Best and the bridesmaid Miss M. Christie.

During the signing of the register Tewin ringers rang handbells from the choir stalls, and formed an archway with handbells as the bridal party left the church. Ringing after the service was by members of the Hertfordshire County Association.

The reception was held in the School Hall, Tewin, after which the bride and bridegroom left for the Cotswolds for their honeymoon. Mr. and Mrs. Short are making their home in Bridgwater. Hertfordshire's loss is very much Somerset's gain.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

Northern District

About 45 members from 18 towers attended the meeting at the Church of St. Nicholas, Witham, on September 10th. The Vicar (Rev. R. D. Black) welcomed visitors and conducted the service. Mr. Osborn was at the organ. After the service, the Vicar conducted the ringers round the ancient church, pointing out some of the historical features.

An excellent tea was arranged by wives of the ringers and was served in the Church Hall. At the meeting, two new members were elected, both of Sible Hedingham. Wethersfield was chosen for the next meeting, and November 19th the proposed date. M. E. M.

GLOUCESTER AND BRISTOL ASSOCIATION

Week-end Ringing Course

To spend a whole week-end learning and talking about bells and ringing was a new experience for almost all of the 30 people who were at Hartpury from September 16th to 18th. On reflection one realises that although the Association has held hundreds of meetings of its members over the years, this is probably the first one where the agenda has been entirely devoted to ringing rather than to procedural details of running the Association (i.e., election of officers, place and date of next meeting, etc.).

This is a strange fact when you think about it, for surely the spreading of knowledge about bells and ringing and the teaching of ringing are also subjects with which any Association should be concerned? At any rate, all of us who were at Hartpury for the week-end learnt something we did not know before about the history of bells, method structure, ringing instruction, care and maintenance of bells, belfry organisation and conducting, and we became the more useful ringers for the knowledge. What we also realised was that there was a great deal more besides that we ought to know and do not, and that there are many others in our Association who would also like to know more, so we hope that this course will have started something and lead on to other courses of a similar or different type.

One thing is certain—that getting to know some more about ringing in such pleasant surroundings as those at Hartpury was a most enjoyable experience for us all. P. G.

Mr. Paul Cattermole, in a peal at Wychbold, introduced Wychbold Pleasure, which is Dedworth with the plain lead-ends rung as Reverse Canterbury. He states that a search of old 'Ringing Worlds' has not revealed another name for this variation.

BRIDGE THAT GAP! By B. D. PRICE

THE Central Council have dealt admirably with teaching a beginner to handle a bell, and many books have adequate expositions on method ringing, but there is a gap between the beginner ringing call-changes and 'blue line' ringing, which is not in practice bridged by a graded set of exercises for the learner. This (these) article(s) are an attempt to bridge that gap.

It is quite obvious to the ringer who travels about that there are fundamentally different approaches to change-ringing. At one extreme are ringers who learn a string of numbers, can only ring a limited repertoire of plain hunt, plain courses, etc. Many cannot strike their bell well because the ropesight on which they depend does not give sufficient notice for proper bell control in changes. There are next those who learn a coursing order, and can adjust it at calls for simple touches, but still rely on memorising numbers. It is more likely than not that a ringer in either of these categories cannot hear his own bell, or the rhythm of the changes, but rings purely by ropesight, and the finer points of striking bells of different weights are unknown. Most rely on the tenor for leading, and hence cannot ring even-bell methods.

Then there are ringers who have freed themselves largely from numbers, but rely wholly on such mnemonics as 'first, last, near, full, far.' Finally the 'blue line' ringers who ring by rhythm and a knowledge of their own position in that rhythm, with ropesight as an aid.

It cannot be doubted that the biggest single factor in arrested progress is the lack of hearing one's bell, and hence of hearing the rhythm of the changes. The two faculties of rhythm and ropesight must be united at the earliest possible stage for the beginner, and a too rapid transition from call-changes to plain hunting avoided. The beginner so often falls into a struggle for numbers, or just ropesight without rhythm, and rhythm is acquired by accident rather than by design on the part of the instructor.

The graded exercises to be explained were invented for a special need—that of training beginners in a way which would obviate a local tradition of learning by numbers, but they have proved very successful over a short period and are set down here for others to try. The cardinal point is not to move the learner's bell too far at once (plain hunting is too difficult in this respect) so that he has time to digest the important matter of rhythm, and to acquire the sheer physical skill of 'cutting in' and 'holding up' without taxing his brain at the same time. One does not give a car driver his first lesson on gear-changing in a busy street!

All the exercises are on even numbers, and no cover bell tolerated, as 'leading off the tenor' is but a special case of learning numbers. This does not, of course, rule out odd-bell ringing later. Use the 'blue line' method from the start. Emphasise rhythm and picking out one's own bell. Tackle each exercise a little before the last one is done correctly (i.e., well struck), and run quickly through them all at each practice. The sequence will be found very useful for starting a band from scratch.

Exercise 1. All place making.

2 1 4 3

2 1 4 3

1 2 3 4

1 2 3 4

Exercise 2. All dodging.

1 2 3 4

2 1 4 3

1 2 3 4

Ring these two exercises continuously. Use the traditional 'Go next time,' and 'This is all' from the start. Extend to six and eight bells, but prudently.

Exercise 3. 1-2 places. 3-4 dodge.

1 2 3 4

2 1 4 3

2 1 3 4

1 2 4 3

1 2 3 4

Not as artless as it looks, as 1 and 2 when leading have to lead by rhythm since the bells behind are different.

Exercise 4. 1-2 dodge. 3-4 places.

Extend these to six and eight bells. Ring the changes on the pairs dodging and place making.

Exercise 5. Dodging with places.

1 2 3 4

2 1 4 3

1 2 3 4

2 1 4 3

2 1 4 3

1 2 3 4

1 2 3 4

This gives practice at holding up and cutting in, at hand and at back. Ring the changes on the pairs, with plain dodging, and plain places.

Exercise 6. Places and hunting (four bells only).

1 2 3 4

2 1 4 3

2 4 1 3

4 2 3 1

4 2 3 1

2 4 1 3

2 1 4 3

1 2 3 4

1 2 3 4

The more experienced ringers on 1 and 4. Those on 2 and 3 still make places, but have to look for different bells. Add 5-6 dodging if desired.

Exercise 7. Little Bob.

1 2 3 4

2 1 4 3

2 1 3 4

1 2 4 3

1 4 2 3

4 1 3 2

4 1 2 3

1 4 3 2

1 3 4 2

3 1 2 4

3 1 4 2

1 3 2 4

1 2 3 4

This is a bigger step, but the treble ringer is just making places, and in practice it has been found that dodging gives more time for thought than plain hunting. Extend to six later.

Exercise 8. Treble Bob Hunt.

1 2 3 4

2 1 4 3

1 2 3 4

2 1 4 3

2 4 1 3

4 2 3 1

4 2 1 3

etc.

Everyone dodges with two bells alternately, and passes another. Extend to six later.

Exercise 9. Double Bob (on four only).

2 1 4 3

2 4 1 3

4 2 3 1

2 4 3 1

etc.

The treble hunts (a more experienced ringer!). The others dodge as in treble bob hunt except with the treble, when they make places.

Exercise 10. Plain Bob on four.

The gap is now bridged!

If this system were to be adopted in a thriving belfry, beginners could have ten to 15 minutes devoted to them with experienced ringers helping, and the rate of progress would be correspondingly quicker. Fundamental differences in the teaching of early change-ringing are so vital that the Central Council should set up a committee of enquiry to resolve the matter, and save in the future the tremendous waste of energy which I am sure occurs now.

PETERBOROUGH DIOCESAN GUILD

The Guild summer festival again proved to be an attraction for many ringers on September 3rd. Visitors from far and wide swelled the numbers of members to something like 120 at tea in the Parish Hall at Welford. They were given a hearty welcome at the service in church by the Rector (Rev. H. G. Withey) and also by the Guild president (Canon G. F. Turner) at tea.

The Guildsborough Branch, in which area Welford lies, went all out to provide ringing to suit everyone with an imposing array of 18 towers. In this historical part of the country is Naseby, scene of the battle between Charles I and Cromwell on June 14th, 1645, and marked in a field nearby with an obelisk. In the church was seen Cromwell's table.

Two recently-restored rings—Marston Trussell and Cottesbrooke—were 'on show,' and enthusiastic appreciation of the work done at each tower was heard many times. For their work in preparing for such an extensive day's ringing the Guildsborough Branch officers and members were thanked by Mr. E. Nobles, seconded by Mr. M. Coleman, after tea, and included in the thanks were the Rector of Welford, the organist, and the ladies who provided a tea suitable to the occasion.

A number of 'new towers' were added to the list of some of the younger members, who were out in great strength.

SURREY ASSOCIATION

Northern District

A quarterly meeting of the Northern District was held at West Hill, Wandsworth and Putney, on September 3rd. Ringing commenced at 3 p.m. at West Hill, under the direction of Mr. Norman Bagworth.

The service to the Association's form was taken at Putney by the Curate (Rev. J. Mason), who joined the company of 27 ringers at tea in the New Church Hall. This was in true Putney style, and once again those present were the guests of the Putney ringers.

The routine business meeting concluded with votes of thanks to all who had made the meeting so enjoyable, with special reference to Mr. Whelan, of Wandsworth, for arranging the ringing there, and to Mr. Tony Clayton for so ably organising the meeting at such short notice.

Ringling for two hours on the Putney bells, under the direction of Mr. F. E. Collins, concluded a happy day.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE RESTORATION RINGERS

Dear Sir,—After reading your publication about the efforts of young people renovating disused towers, I would like to inform you of the efforts of six ringers, whose average age is only 16, who have, during the past three months, restored the ring of bells at Halling, which have been silent for 28 years.

Under the able captaincy of R. G. Rye, the six members of the young band climbed the tower steps and spent a week of hard work and spare time oiling the bearings, cleaning the tower, painting the frame, replacing broken stays, and clearing 1½ cwt. of dirt from the tower's three rooms. The band restored the tower in a week so that the six bells could be rung for the Whitsun services.

Later, the 'Restoration Ringers,' as they are now known, taught a band of local inhabitants to ring, and now that the Halling band are progressing steadily, the ringers are set to move across the other side of the River Medway to the neighbouring parish of Wouldham to teach change-ringing to the Wouldham band, and it is the Restoration Ringers' wish to ring a peal soon.

It is also hoped that the towers of the Kent County Association which are not normally rung at will, in the near future, be heard regularly after a few visits of the Restoration Ringers.

The thanks for the success of the ringers' efforts are due to the incumbent of Halling and the Rev. R. Godfrey (incumbent of Wouldham), who both agreed to the idea.—Yours faithfully,

R. CRANE.

Rainham, Kent.

BRIGHTON TREBLE BOB

Dear Sir,—The reference to the late Mr. F. Dench and his producing Brighton Treble Bob, also that a peal of it was never rung, is interesting; but one of his compositions he intended for the method was rung at Bury St. Edmunds, Suffolk, on August 28th, 1911. Here in the footnote to a peal of Kent Treble Bob Major rung at Bury on September 29th, 1912:

'This peal was rung to replace a peal rung by the same band on August 28th, 1911, which was afterwards proved to be false in several places. Mr. F. Dench having published the composition in 1897 as a 5,056 of Brighton Treble Bob and not intending it for Kent.'

It was rung on handbells by F. Dewell 1-2, H. A. Turner 3-4, A. E. Moore 5-6, F. J. Levitt 7-8, and conducted by A. E. Moore, who is still living and recently celebrated his 78th birthday. He is a skilful ringer and conductor.—Yours, etc.,

E. G. HIBBINS.

Cambridge.

IMBER CHURCH INSCRIPTIONS

Dear Sir,—The late Miss Edith Olivier, Wiltshire writer and historian, who lived at The Daye House in the grounds of Wilton Park, near Salisbury, had a copy of the 17th century table of changes painted on the walls of Imber Church, as she once showed it to me. If I remember rightly, she also told me that the Wiltshire Archaeological Society had some records on the matter. I understand that her niece now lives at Wilton, and it is possible that Miss Olivier's papers have been preserved, so an inquiry there might be successful.—Yours faithfully,

EDWARD G. CAPLE.

Clevedon, Som.

P.S.—Walters does not mention the writings in his 'Church Bells of Wiltshire.'—E. G. C.

NO RIGHT TO CRITICISE

Dear Sir,—In almost all societies and fraternal organisations—sad to say, in the Christian Church itself—will be found a certain minority of folk always ready to pour contempt upon their fellow men.

The ringing fraternity is by no means an exception, judging by recent correspondence in 'The Ringing World' on peals of Minimus. It would be interesting to know how much time and patience has been given for the benefit of learners by Mr. Border and his fellow critics.

As Ringing Master of St. John-the-Divine's, Leicester, for the last 14 years, I would like to point out that we now have a first-class band of enthusiastic youngsters, loyal and regular attenders for both Sunday service and practice ringing. The lads all share in the running of the belfry, conducting, etc., which has produced a wonderful fellowship, second to none.

Whilst in no way wishing to be disrespectful to the Leicester Guild, I contend that one's duty to one's church takes priority to that of any Guild. Little help came from the Guild as a whole during the years when we were struggling for existence.

The two persons (one a local ringer) who rang the much-criticised peal of Minimus have done a great deal of spadework for our benefit by constant attendance at practice and by arranging 6-bell peals for our youngsters, although good Surprise ringers themselves. No doubt the 15-year-old (also a local ringer) derived a certain amount of pleasure from it. It was rung after Evensong.

I am a person of straight speaking, and would point out that if permission is given by me for a so-called 'stunt' to be performed in my own belfry, which in my opinion would contribute towards this fellowship, it is not within the province of Mr. Border or anyone else to shoot their darts of sarcasm at those concerned. Personally, I couldn't care less for his opinion or what he says. There is far too much of this kind of snobbery among ringers, which in some cases is the cause of depleted bands and empty belfries.

I am sure that many ringers who knew the late William Willson, for many years Ringing Master of St. John's, will agree that he would have resisted in the strongest terms any attempted interference in the affairs of his belfry.

Let us not waste any more valuable space in 'The Ringing World' on petty arguments. Let Christian spirit prevail.—Yours sincerely,

S. HARRISON.

Leicester.

ONE-MAN PEALS NEXT!

Dear Sir,—Having read the letters in recent issues on the ringing of peals of Minimus, no one has mentioned the greatest danger to our art. One man could ring a peal of Minimus on handbells, thus destroying our argument that recorded bells, etc., do not call for a team effort.

This would also give the enthusiast a chance to pile up his peal total and to stop even more people from sending their names to you with more than 25 peals at the end of the year.—Yours sincerely,

EDWIN G. BUCK.

AGAINST 'FIRING' BELLS

Dear Sir,—I would like to endorse Mr. H. Gauntlett's views concerning the 'firing' of bells, although not wishing to alter any traditional practice on royal occasions. How long has it been usual to 'fire' the bells in royal salute? Perhaps someone could trace the history of this practice for us, then we should be better able to judge whether 'firing' the bells on royal occasions is justified. I suggest it would be better to leave the firing of royal salutes to the guns!—instruments made for that very purpose.

The late Mr. Sam Hector used to refer to the bells hanging in Trowbridge tower as 'those musical instruments.' I consider that 'firing' bells produces a hideous noise: why use our 'musical instruments' for such a purpose? I am sure any wedding party would prefer some nicely-rung changes on the bells.

One other point: the late Major C. C. Hughes D'Aeth, one-time Master of the Salisbury Guild, convinced me that the practice of 'firing' the bells of St. Peter's Church, Bournemouth, was fraught with some danger to the bells and fabric of the tower. I should explain that the tower is a long and slender one in design and is surmounted by a spire as high as the tower itself. The bells are hung to swing in one direction, i.e., east and west. To 'fire' such bells is 'like giving a man a terrific punch in the belly,' was Major D'Aeth's forthright way of putting his view.—Yours faithfully,

ARTHUR V. DAVIS.

CECIL EBBERSON MEMORIAL

Dear Sir,—With reference to the notice advertising the service of dedication of the Cecil Ebberson memorial, the Norwich Diocesan Association wish to thank the many friends of the late Mr. Ebberson who have subscribed towards the cost of the memorial.

The memorial is a tablet, 12 in. x 17 in., executed in Hopton Wood stone, and is being erected in the belfry of Dersingham Parish Church. The lettering is as follows:—

In grateful memory of

COMPOSITION FOR EIGHT METHODS

Dear Sir,—May I be allowed to make a small correction to the composition on page 616? It is really a composition of Lincolnshire, and the 43265 F.C.E. should not have appeared. It was used for New Cambridge and will go to all eight methods with the F.C.E.—Yours faithfully,

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

Biggleswade District

The Biggleswade District's monthly meeting at Sandy on September 10th was not very well supported, only eight District members being present. Visitors from the Bedford District and Middlesex increased the number to 12.

The service was conducted by the Rector (Rev. T. Colls), with Mr. R. Ward at the organ. Tea was arranged at the King's Head, and this was followed by the business meeting, with Mr. B. Sims in the chair. Methods rung ranged from Plain Bob to Norwich Surprise.

PIPE'S PILGRIMS' NORTH COUNTRY TOUR

A SMALL but an enthusiastic party left Grundisburgh Green at 5.45 a.m. on Sunday, July 31st, for the North Country. After an uneventful journey, Sleaford was reached at 9.45 a.m., and after ringing for Matins the party was augmented by several old faces and some new ones.

An early light lunch was well received at Grantham, and further Pilgrims nearly completed the coach's complement. Grantham ringers very kindly arranged ringing on their fine ten the previous evening for those Pilgrims staying overnight.

Tea was taken at Kingston-upon-Hull after a very long journey. The recently-augmented 12 at Holy Trinity was the objective afterwards, and while all had their turn in ringing, which included Stedman Cinques and Cambridge Royal, those not ringing were able to enjoy the wonderful view from the church roof, from which can be seen three cathedrals. A cross country route through York brought us to Boroughbridge where, after an evening meal and an enjoyable social hour, we retired, very sleepy, to bed.

Monday morning was bright and sunny as we left for another cross country journey to Lake Windermere, which was viewed in all its glory from the coach windows. Ample justice was done to a chicken salad luncheon at Dalton-in-Furness, and at St. Mary's Parish Church, almost adjacent to the hotel, all were able to enjoy a good hour-and-a-half's ringing on a grand ten.

IN THE LAKE DISTRICT

Sightseeing was to follow, with Coniston Water the objective. A brief halt was made on the west side of this lake for the enthusiasts to take photographs before carrying on to Ambleside for tea and further ringing on the heavy eight (tenor 32 cwt.), which are a joy to the listener. It was here where many were caught without protection when a cloudburst descended. Journeying on past Rydal Water and Grasmere Lake, our night's resting place was the Rothay Hotel, Grasmere. This charming hotel is in extensive grounds in a beautiful fell-land setting, and is owned by the Rev. Mr. Dand (a former vicar of Woodbridge) and Mrs. Dand, who were known to many of the party.

We were sorry indeed to leave Grasmere on Tuesday morning, but all enjoyed the sightseeing drive through Kirkstone Pass and along one side of Ullswater. Lunch was taken at Keswick and was followed by a visit to Derwent Water before proceeding to Cockermouth for an hour's ringing on a modern, very pleasant light eight by Mears and Stainbank. It was here that we were met by Roger Whetenhall, who joined us in ringing. After tea the party proceeded to Cleator Moor to ring on a delightful 21 cwt. eight. Here the only touch of Spliced Surprise of the week was rung.

Headquarters for the night was the Abbots Court Hotel, St. Bees. After refreshments, some took a stroll to the beach, while others found their way to the town to sample the local waters. The Church of SS. Mary and Bega is within easy walking distance of the hotel, and so early ringing did not mean early rising. The party also visited the light eights at Egremont and Workington during Wednesday morning.

STEEPLE-KEEPING WORK

After lunch at Workington the coastal journey to Silloth was pursued. Whilst most of the party enjoyed an afternoon by the sea, a few valiant members, under the direction of Ron Edwards, ascended the tower in an attempt to put into order a ring of bells silent since 1928 and now declared unringable. With limited facilities, the gallant few achieved the impossible, which included almost the rehanging of the seventh. Ropes were put on and after tea the bells were raised very carefully one by one before the ringing of several methods on a most pleasant 23 cwt. eight which only needed rehanging. What a pity to find such fine bells never rung.

On to Carlisle to ring on the peculiar eight at the Cathedral, and the 14 cwt. ground floor eight at St. Stephen's, before seeking out our night's resting place—the State-owned Red Lion Hotel.

Thursday morning took us right across country to Newcastle upon Tyne. The party was privileged to see parts of the ruined remains of the historical Hadrian's Wall en route. Our first ring of the day was on the recently-augmented ten at Gosforth, where we were met by Dennis Bayles, who kindly piloted us for the rest of the day. Lunch was taken at Whitely Bay, but a heavy mist prevented us from viewing the sea.

The pleasant 17 cwt. eight at St. Paul's were put into action immediately after lunch. Although a giant pendulum swings across the ringing room, our efforts were not thwarted and the standard was fairly high. More ringing was to follow, at Tynemouth, on a fine ten in a large tower. The journey to Roker included a ferry trip across the Tyne, the coach almost filling the space reserved for vehicles.

AT ROKER

After tea at Roker we said farewell to Dennis Bayles before we found our way to the Parish Church of St. Andrew, a modern church which had the appearance of being built on prison lines, with a grey, forbidding look. The bells, a modern ten by Gillett and Johnson, are magnificent, rather loud but ideal from the ringing viewpoint. No excuses for poor striking can be offered here. The ringing included a course of Double Norwich Caters and a fine touch of Grandsire Caters to end with.

On down the coast to West Hartlepool, where we were greeted by Fred Hodgson and two of his learners. Ringing here ranged from rounds to Cambridge Royal, before we left to continue to Middlesbrough for the night. It was on the snooker table at the Star and Garter that the so-called experts proved to be not as good as they thought when coming up against two beginners who won all their small change.

On Friday morning the Church of St. Cuthbert, North Ormesby, eluded us for a while. When it was eventually found, our efforts were rewarded by some good ringing. An early lunch was taken at Darlington so that as much time as possible could be devoted to ringing on the glorious eight. Journeying back down the A1 we turned off to visit the very old church at Bedale, where the tenor is a pre-Reformation bell and does not quite reach the intended note of D natural. However, the bells are well worth a visit.

The fourth ring of the day was at Ripon Cathedral. A delightful ten here, but what a pity that the ninth shouts above the others. Satisfactory ringing was followed by a delicious tea before, like Turpin, we rode to York where, unlike Turpin, we were privileged to ring at the Minster. What a glorious sound these bells make outside, but how disappointing to the ringer, for they can be hardly heard inside the tower. Three leads of Treble Bob Maximus were followed by Stedman Cinques and Caters.

PRESENTATION

After the evening meal, Arthur and Mrs. Barker suitably conveyed the appreciation of all to Jim and Sylvia Pipe for their untiring efforts and usual efficient planning to ensure a happy, carefree week for the party. A pair of garden shears was presented to Jim and a wrought-iron plant pot holder to Sylvia. Our driver, who had sportingly entered into the spirit of things, was also presented with a cigarette lighter as a token of our appreciation.

On Saturday morning we rang at Epworth on a very pleasant ground floor eight before carrying on to Gainsborough, where a course of Gainsborough Surprise Major was brought round. At Grantham, sad farewells were made. The nucleus continued the journey back to Grundisburgh, reached at 9.30 p.m., after covering 1,100 miles in seven days.

It had been a most enjoyable holiday, and our heartiest thanks are due to our organiser for his excellent arrangements, which must have entailed endless hours of hard work.

WORCESTERSHIRE YOUNG RINGERS

Worcestershire Young Ringers from Wychbold and Stourbridge had a 10-day cycle tour embracing six counties, which started from Worcester on August 2nd. The first tower was Powick, having the heaviest six in Worcestershire.

The first full day was spent in the Avon Valley and included Berrow, having the best five in Worcestershire, Tredington, a half-timbered tower with a good five rung from round the font, and Bishop's Cleeve with bells really worthy of the fine church.

St. George's, Diddbrook, on the Thursday morning, had some unusual features. The ropes hang just inside the main entrance, with four in a straight line on one side and the tenor on the other side of the doorway. To complicate matters the 'circle' is anti-clockwise. The day was spent in the valley of the Windrush River, the Slaughters being lovely villages, with a fine ring of five at Upper Slaughter. A wonderful welcome was received from the ringers of Stow-on-the-Wold when we joined them at practice, and every member of the team tried the 30 cwt. tenor.

A good quarter of Doubles was rung at Bledington on Friday before journeying to Bourton-on-the-Water, where the lovely eight bells were rung to call-changes and Doubles. Saturday was spent in the valley of the Thames, and among the towers visited were Great Risington, Windrush, Coln St. Aldwyn and Meysey-Hampton. At Ashton Keynes we were rather disappointed at the narrow dyke which is apparently the Thames.

The lovely five at Cricklade were much enjoyed before attending morning service. In the afternoon we rang at Preston and Ampney Crucis, where 2 and 3 have exactly the same note, and for Evensong a good quarter at Ashton Keynes.

Three people were needed to get Purton tenor up the right way on Monday, and after these lovely bells Lydiard Millicent and Rodbourne Cheney seemed very light. The Vale of the White Horse was visited on Tuesday to ring at Shrivensham and Uffington. Wednesday started with a good quarter of Minor at Lechlade, and later at Leafeld the Vicar entertained the party to a sumptuous tea. Thursday was a very wet day. A good new ring was found at Enstone.

Great Pollright, having a minor six which had not been rung for several years, was the first tower on Friday. At Sutton-under-Brailey the five are rung from the church porch, and the ropes of 1 and 3 fall about 1½ inches from the walls! The last day's programme was only two towers—Henley-in-Arden and Studley, with some of the best ringing in Spliced Doubles and Minor.

Thanks are accorded to local ringers and incumbents. P.C.

STONE, STAFFS, RINGERS' OUTING

St. Michael's, Stone, outing this year was into Shropshire. Good ringing, including Stedman and Plain Bob Major, opened the ringing programme at Church Stratton. The long climb of 136 steps to the ringing chamber at Ludlow Parish Church was well rewarded, although ringing was restricted to half-an-hour owing to the nearby hospital.

After lunch the border was crossed into Wales, and at Knighton, Kent T.B. Major. Plain Bob and Grandsire were all brought round. The curate met the party and joined in the ringing at Bridgnorth, and at Newport, the last tower, local ringers had everything in readiness. A good fall in peal ended a pleasant tour. To all who contributed to the success of the outing sincere thanks are returned.

ST. COLUMB MAJOR, CORNWALL.—On Aug. 18th, 1.344 Plain Bob Major: C. A. Lewis (first on eight) 1. J. K. Foot 2. R. C. Warburton 3. R. G. Morris 4. R. E. Tallis (jun.) 5. M. C. Hughes 6. M. S. Hart 7. P. S. Bennett (cond.) 8. Rung on the Packwood ringers' tour as a birthday compliment to Miss Pamela M. Turner, non-touring secretary.

OBITUARY

JAMES GEORGE RUMSEY AN APPRECIATION

Jim Rumsey has been described in the Suffolk idiom as 'a good owd ringer.' He was indeed: safe, a good striker, could ring any bell as required; had one ambition, which was to be punctual in attendance and of use when he arrived.

Born in Holborn in 1882, he removed to Debenham as a boy of seven. One of six brothers and sisters, he and they became members of the church choir. Later on Jim joined the ringers, who at that time were under the leadership of William Grimes. With Alfred W. Grimes, William C. Rumsey (a cousin), William J. Groom and others joining about that time, a new era commenced in Debenham tower. The old saying that Debenham bells if pulled off and left to themselves would ring Bob Triples came to an end.

In 1897 Jim rang his first peal, Bob Major. This was followed in succession by peals of Treble Bob, Oxford, followed by Kent, the 'correct' order in Suffolk in those days, and Double Norwich. About the time the writer joined the tower, Superlative Surprise was being considered. After much practice, and a few peals with outside help, the first Surprise peal by the Sunday band was rung, Jim ringing the tenor. This was in 1907. The signwriter who wrote the peal board put the words 'weight 20 cwt.' directly beneath the name James G. Rumsey, which caused Jim—who had a fine sense of humour—to remark that he had no idea he weighed so much.

In 1911, some time after his marriage, he removed to Leiston, and worked for many years for Richard Garrett and Sons, agricultural engineers. Recommencing where he left off at Debenham, he was soon a member both of the choir and the ringing society, and thus became connected with the Bailey family, then going ahead smartly under the conductorship of that remarkable man, Charles F. Bailey. Service ringing, combined with a succession of peals in a good selection of Surprise methods, some of which were rung for the first time, with occasional visits to other towers in East Anglia, made up the rest of Jim's ringing career.

The Leiston men did much handbell ringing with the success which is now history, but Jim took little part in this, ringing two peals only. Later in life he took up the duties of sexton and vergor, and his devotion to this work gained him the appreciation of both clergy and congregation.

Failing health compelled him to retire and also to give up ringing, his last peal being appropriately enough rung at Debenham in 1950. In his declining years, his wife having predeceased him, he owed much to the devoted care of a sister, being often in pain and weakness.

He was interred in Leiston Cemetery on August 29th, following a service in the church, at which his two remaining sisters and a brother, with brother ringers present, listened to a moving tribute by one of the clergy. In the evening the Leiston band rang muffled bells to mark the end of a dedicated life. P.L.

MR. GEORGE GILBERT

We regret to announce that Mr. George Gilbert, of Burnham, Bucks, died early on Friday morning at the Canadian Red Cross Memorial Hospital, Taplow. He was 73.

The funeral service was held at Burnham Parish Church yesterday at 3 p.m.

MR. T. RILEY

Briefly announced in our last issue, Mr. Tom Riley died on August 30th in Haslemere Hospital after a few days' illness from coronary thrombosis. He was 59.

'Tommy' Riley had been connected with the ringing at St. Peter and St. Mary's Church, Liss, for 40 years, and at times he was the only ringer. He never reached great heights in change-ringing, but endeared himself to many by his hard work behind the scenes, especially in organising outings, special ringing and the like. For many years he was tower secretary; he was also a keen member of the Winchester and Portsmouth Guild.

Besides ringing, he served the community in other directions, such as being treasurer of the football club for 22 years, treasurer of the slate club and scorer for the cricket club. A great little man and a true friend, he will be missed by many.

At the funeral service, the church bells were rung before and after by 12 ringers representing Liss, Petersfield, Blackmoor and Hawley towers. C. E. B.

SHELLEY CUP CONTEST

The Shelley Cup contest, held on September 17th, was won by Cawthorne with 31 faults, followed by Meltham 34, Warsop 40 and Friesland 73. The test piece was 600 changes preceded by 120 changes practice. Messrs. Percy Hawthornethwaite and Herbert Holbrook were the judges, and Mr. Albert Goldthorpe marker. Mr. Noel F. Moxon received the cup on behalf of the winners, and each member of the team received a jam dish.

Thanks to the Shelley ringers were voiced by Messrs. Moxon, Harry Mann and Rooke, whose team (Warsop) were competing for the first time.

The meeting stood to remember Mr. Harry Roberts, of Kirkburton, who commenced his ringing at Shelley before going to Kirkburton. He was a judge for the Halifax Society for many years.

ST. DAVID'S DIOCESAN GUILD

An encouraging feature of the quarterly meeting of St. David's Guild, held at St. Mary's, Pembroke, was the number of young ringers present and the election of eight probationary members. The company present included ringers from Tenby, Burry Port, Carmarthen, St. David's, Llanelly, and the local band.

Following a service conducted by the Rev. T. C. Johns, the ladies of Pembroke provided a very nice tea in the Church Hall, and they were thanked by the Rev. T. J. Thomas, Vicar of Burry Port. The Rev. T. C. Johns presided at the business meeting, when it was decided to accept the invitation to hold the December meeting at Llandovery. A collection for the Bell Restoration Fund amounted to £1 11s. Mr. H. Jenkins proposed a vote of thanks to the chairman, and the proceedings closed with prayer. A very good day's ringing was then concluded in the tower.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD North Dorset Branch

The quarterly meeting of the North Dorset Branch, held at Maiden Bradley on September 10th, was attended by a larger number than usual, there being 40 present from 13 towers, including visitors from the Bath and Wells Guild. Doubles and Minor were rung on the six bells before the service.

After an excellent tea in the Village Hall, the business meeting was despatched with reasonable brevity under the acting-chairmanship of the Vicar (Rev. J. Wright), who welcomed the Branch to his parish. The business included the election of a new member from Mere, and the decision to contribute £5 to the Guild funds in addition to the ordinary subscription. This was in response to a suggestion made at the annual meeting of the Guild last May.

Ringling was later resumed at Maiden Bradley, Horningsham and Bourton.

LEICESTER DIOCESAN GUILD Views On Minimus

For the September quarterly meeting of the Leicester Diocesan Guild a 6-bell tower was chosen as the venue for the first time since the Guild was formed in 1946. It was undoubtedly a tremendous success, as over 50 members and friends sat down to tea, and the tiny village church at Twyford was completely filled for the service, which was taken by the Rev. A. W. Harrison, Vicar of Somerby.

During the afternoon, bells at Great Dalby (5) and Somerby (6) were available for ringing. At the business meeting, which was presided over by the president (Mr. P. J. Staniforth), a special welcome was given to Mr. Evander Littlewood, who has been ringing at Asfordby for over 60 years. The president presented eight certificates—five to ringers from Blaby, who are to have their five bells rehung by the end of the year. This tower now has 13 enthusiastic ringers who are learning to ring at South Wigston, Wheatstone, and other churches.

After the routine items on the agenda had been disposed of, members were reminded of the annual dinner and social, which would be held on October 29th in the Shakespeare Hotel, Braunstone, on the outskirts of Leicester. The Lord Bishop of Leicester and the Provost of Leicester Cathedral (together with their wives) were to be the guests. Tickets (price 12s. 6d.) would be available from the secretary shortly. Ringing during the afternoon would be arranged by the Leicester District committee.

Under the item 'Any Other Business,' members expressed their views on the recent peal of Minimus rung for the Guild. ('Performance, please,' one member said!) It was moved by Mr. Harrison, seconded by Mr. Rowley, that 'the Guild ask the Central Council not to recognise peals of Minimus.' This motion was eventually carried by 26 votes to 1.

The secretary then had the unpleasant task of reporting that he had received a telephone complaint from the Vicar of Copt Oak who, having granted a hand permission for a peal attempt at his church, had waited two hours for them to arrive, and had had no message saying they were not coming or apology since. Mr. Harrison agreed to contact the Vicar of Copt Oak and find out more details of who the culprits were.

Miss Betty Smith, of Ashby Folville, requested that when peal bands visited her church and altered the length of ropes they should replace them afterwards. Finally, Mr. Day gave a warm welcome back to Mr. J. Harry Cook, the popular Ringing Master of the Melton District, who is recovering from an internal operation.

Thanks were expressed to all who had made the meeting so enjoyable.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD West Dorset Branch

About 30 members and visitors attended the quarterly meeting at Broadwindsor on September 17th. The bells were raised in peal, and methods included London Surprise Minor. The service was conducted by the chairman of the Branch (Rev. J. S. Arthur), Canon C. C. Cox read the lesson and the Rev. P. Smith gave the address.

Tea was served in the Reading Room, kindly given by Broadwindsor P.C.C. At the business meeting four new members were elected—Dorothy Symonds, Patricia Keats, Vivienne Denning and Michael Dawe, all of Beaminster. Mr. F. Wreford, who was elected a non-resident member prior to a peal, was duly ratified.

Notice was given of the dedication of the new sixth bell at Powerstock. Other meetings were arranged as follows: October 14th at Netherbury, November 18th at Evershot. The annual to be at Lyme Regis on November 26th. The chairman thanked Broadwindsor for their hospitality, and Mr. Studley, Vicar's warden, very humorously replied.

OXFORD DIOCESAN GUILD Sonning Deanery Hold Striking Competition

An innovation in the form of a striking competition among the towers in the Sonning Deanery Branch took place at St. Michael's, Sandhurst, on September 17th.

Six towers entered teams of six ringers, and the object was perfect striking, whether in rounds, call-changes, or a method. Two well-known members of the Guildford Diocesan Guild—Major E. T. Bragg and the Master, Mr. C. W. Denyer—adjudicated, and were installed in a schoolroom close to the church. Mr. Harold Smith, a Branch Ringing Master, was in the tower to watch the ringing and give advice, while Mr. W. Parker marshalled the teams. In another schoolroom Mrs. Parker and her helpers provided tea from 4 till 6 p.m., which was much appreciated.

Each team decided to ring Grandsire Doubles, and some good striking was heard. As the last team vacated the tower the judges left the schoolroom, and in announcing their verdict gave a summary of the faults of each team and general comments on the ringing, which proved most helpful for future contests.

The results were: Sonning 38 faults, Hurst 44, Sandhurst 46, Easthampstead 62, Twyford 83 and Arborfield 96.

Mr. Smith thanked Major Bragg and Mr. Denyer for their services, Mr. and Mrs. Parker for all the local arrangements, and the Branch secretary for his part in organising the event.

A combined practice followed. It is hoped the contest will be an annual event. B. C. C.

THE BEGINNER

As a child I used to go out and sit on the church roof, while the men inside pulled the bell ropes. Even then I was aware that all the words my grandfather bellowed across the ringing chamber were not ringing terms; but I wasn't quite sure what they were. (They did not sound at all amiable.) Now I know.

As I stand holding the rope, arms stretched up, with sweating hands, palpitating heart, and weak legs, the terms from my childhood comes floating across to me, painfully clear, to mingle with the clashing of the bells and numbers desperately rushing through my brain: four, six, five, dodge, three, five, one, three, lead. Even as I think of these numbers I am filled with a sense of guilt, and I think quietly, lest anyone should hear—because I am breaking the law. Ringing by numbers is just not allowed. I must ring by my position.

More clashes and we 'stand.' Hands, with skin like aged yellow parchment, blister bloated, relax; legs, trembling, sink to the wooden benches and a cool stone wall supports the back and helps to calm the exploding heart.

There is silence for a while; the body regains its composure and shredded nerves gather themselves together. Then, rueful smiles break across the faces of experts—and others, and someone suggests we try again.

This time an expert falters—in despair? We grin in gladness, and in doing so lose our place again and, grin gone, blushing, pull the tell rope harder.

Place regained (with music and discord), we pull on.

Sweat-soaked, no nerves left, arms aching, overcome by tiredness and yawns, suddenly we find we have completed a course, place perfect (if a little badly struck). We brighten up and smile, ring 'simple rounds,' and stand.

On Saturday night, in some foreign village tower, a hardened ringer asks: 'And what would you like to ring?'

And startled, the timid whisper, 'I'm only a beginner.' Like a worm to a beautiful butterfly.
