BELLS AND CHURCHES IN AMERICA

As Washington Cathedral and American bell ringing are in the news, the Rev. Malcolm Melville sends us the following extracts from 'The Small Church,' by F. R. Webber, published in 1939. He found the book in a library at Washington, and was so impressed that he copied these extracts.

In America, for some mysterious reason, the churches are ominously silent. Just why Americans have neglected this highest and most effective form of dignified publicity is a problem that none can solve. American churches try frantically, by means of electric signs, illuminated crosses, outdoor bulletin boards and printed advertisements, to keep the Church before the people. But one set of tuneful bells, or one tower clock with its quarter chimes and resonant hour bell, is finer and more insistent publicity than all these other methods combined. It would be highly desirable were there a nationwide return to church bells, peal ringing and the use of tower clocks. Such things remind the populace throughout the day and night that a place of worship is nearby. Too often it is the town hall that sends its melodious message—of what—throughout the quiet evening air.

A Sunday morning in London is a thing never to be forgotten. Bells are ringing everywhere—not single bells, but fine rings of eight, ten and 12 bells. The band of peal ringers at the Abbey are sending forth bursts of melody, and in St. Margaret's close by the church tower is eloquent with the same music. Not far away we hear St. Mary's, Soho, and St. Martin-in-the-Fields, as we walk up Whitehall towards Trafalgar Square. Then come the rings of bells at St. Mary-le-Strand, St. Clement Danes and St. Bride's, Fleet Street. When we reach the foot of Fleet Street we hear the famous bells of Bow Church—to be born within the sound of which makes one a Cockney. The fine ring at St. Paul's is blending its voice with St. Dunstan's; St. Michael's, Cornhill; St. Helen's, Bishopsgate; St. James', Clerkenwell, and a score of others. . . . On Sundays and holy days, at marriages, at funerals, on at least one practice night in the week, and on numerous other occasions, one hears the music of the peal ringers. They put their bells through 'rounds,' playing a diatonic scale downward, over and over. Then, at the command of their leader, they break into most melodious 'changes,' weaving an intricate melody, perhaps the simple, unscientific 'Churchyard Bob' and the call-changes of the provincial village, perhaps a more difficult Stedman's or other complicated method.

* * * *

Change-ringing is almost unknown in America, except at a few places such as Kent and Groton Schools, where the fine old tradition of our forefathers has been revived. Now and then we find a place, such as St. Trinity in Detroit, or two or three churches in Baltimore, where some persistent man has taught himself to play laboriously a few 'rows' by means of a hand clavier or an Ellacombe wall-chiming device. Such things, while better than no ringing at all, are but makeshifts. The day is coming, however, when our belfries will be vocal once more, and when our parishes will demand proper 'rings' of eight, ten or 12 properly tuned and correctly hung bells. These will be hung so that they may be rung up in peal, so that peal ringing can be practised on them, and so that one may have the thrill of hearing the bells lowered in peal, one by one, with the tenor or largest bell chiming, after all the others are silent, its call to worship.

* * * *

To play eight or ten bells from a hand clavier may be well enough as an emergency measure, but it is better to hang them in frames for correct ringing. Then organise a band of men and boys and teach them scientific ringing! There are old ringers from England living in America and pining for the chance to climb the belfry stairs and 'have a bit of a pull.' Such men will be only too eager to initiate any group of men and youths into all the mysteries of bobs, dodges, working up to first place and down to eighth's, getting into the hunt, and all the other things that the ringers must know. It's more manly sport than some of the things we do in our recreational rooms.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The bells of St. Andrew's, Enfield, rang out merrily over the market place as a party of 60 assembled for the annual meeting of the N. and E. District on February 8th.

Following a service conducted by the Rev. Graham Buston, Vicar and Rural Dean, himself a ringer who is found in the ringing room on Sundays whenever circumstances permit, justice was done to a splendid tea in the adjacent Church Hall.

The Vicar was in the chair at the commencement of the business meeting but was unable to remain throughout the whole of the proceedings, when his place was taken by the District chairman, Mr. H. G. Hart.

In presenting his report the secretary stated seven District meetings had been held during the past year with an average attendance of 38, whilst joint meetings had been held with the London County Association, the S.W. District of the Essex Association and the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths. Thirty new ringing members had been elected and 25 non-resident life members. Special mention was made of the Spliced Surprise Major on handbells in four, five, six, eight and nine methods, conducted by J. R. Mayne.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Master, Mr. A. Cutler; Deputy Master, Mrs. H. G. Hart; chairman, Mr. H. G. Hart; secretary, Mr. E. H. Kilby; assistant secretary, Mr. D. T. C. Smith; auditor, Mr. J. R. Mayne. MESSRS. D. E. R. Knights, C. F. Neal and S. G. Peck were re-elected to the committee.

Messrs. C. R. Bird (Willesden), P. Dias and A. Jones (Hackney), Miss Anne Luxon and Mr. M. Gilbey (Enfield), together with the Misses Jacqueline Hedges, Gloria Simpson, Carol Francis and Pamela Mills (Edmonton) were elected as ringing members, whilst Mr. Richard Ouston (late of Edgware), Mr. H. D. Butler (a staunch member of the Harrow Weald band for many years, who was leaving the district to reside in Sussex) and Miss Susan Smith (Fareham) were elected as non-resident life members.

A suggestion from the South and West District that a joint list of the meetings of each District be circularised to all towers in the Association was readily approved as being a helpful measure to all members and ringing friends.

Before a return to the belfry Mr. H. G. Hart thanked the Vicar, Mr. Eric Pask (organist), Miss Lesley Fletcher and members of the Edmonton County School Guild of Change Ringers for providing tea, and Mr. J. R. Dugan for local arrangements. E. H. K.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD Bingham District

To a meeting at Willoughby-in-the-Wolds, a five-bell tower, on February 8th, came representatives of ten towers in the Bingham District, but by evening there were present visitors from South London, Leeds, Derby, Sheffield, Melton Mowbray and Helsinki, Finland. Such is the magnetic attraction of ringing that over 50 people come to a five-bell tower!

Proceedings took the same line as at countless ringing meetings. A welcome came from the Vicar (the Rev. A. L. Hayward), who later conducted the service with his son John playing the organ. Then came a tea at Wysall Rectory, prepared by Mrs. Exton and helpers. At the business meeting Mrs. Harrison (Whetton) and Miss Palmer (Radcliffe) were elected members and the vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. Hanson.

The next meeting (March 14th) is a joint one with the Newark District: April meeting at Colson Bassett, with Little Bob Major and Oxford Bob Triples as special methods. R. B.

YORK.—At the Architectural Institute, on Feb. 22nd, 1,320 Doubles (Grandsire and Plain Bob): G. H. Owen 1, R. Aldington 2, P. Thompson 3, G. Pluckrose 4, M. King (cond.) 5, I. Johnson 6. First in two Doubles methods for 1, 2, 3 and 6, and for St. John's College Bellringers' Society.

UP AND COMING YOUNGSTERS—No. 14

MICHAEL W. COLEMAN

The Oxford Diocesan Guild

The Oxford Diocesan Guild has for many years held a high place in the Exercise, always giving help and encouragement to its young members. It is not surprising, therefore, to find such keen and enthusiastic youngsters as Michael W. Coleman among them.

Michael was born at Adderbury West, near Banbury, on June 21st, 1944. He started school at the age of five at Adderbury C. of E. Primary School. It was there that he passed his 11-plus examination which took him to Banbury Grammar School. In 1960 he obtained his G.C.E. 'O' Level in seven subjects. A further two years' studying at the same school gained for him three 'A' Level G.C.E. passes in physics, maths and chemistry. At the present time Michael is at Birkbeck College, University of London, where he is reading for a degree in chemistry. He is also employed part-time at Thorn Electrical Industries at Enfield.

Michael started ringing in November, 1956, at the Parish Church of St. Mary-the-Virgin, Adderbury, under the watchful eye of Mr. H. L. Roper. In a very short time he became a member of the regular Sunday service band which at that time only rang call changes. The perseverance and patience of his tutor, who saw to it that he attended other towers where method ringing was practised, soon paid off dividends, for in October, 1957, he took part in his first quarter peal, ringing the second at Adderbury to Grandsire Triples.

Michael's first peal took place 18 months later, when he rang the treble to Plain Bob Major on April 27th, 1959, at the same tower. The peal was conducted by Mr. George W. Holland, of Mauds Moreton, Bucks. His interest in ringing grew and soon carried him into the field of conducting, and on November 18th, 1961, at Cropredy, Oxon, he rang his first as conductor, ringing the tenor to Plain Bob Minor. Michael now has a total of 54 peals to his credit of which he has conducted 13.

His ringing has not been without amusing incidents, one of which took place at a tower in North Wales on a Sunday afternoon. The Roving Ringers, who were touring the district at the time, had obtained permission to ring at this particular tower prior to a christening. On hearing the bells Michael dashed into the church hoping to get a ring, only to be confronted by the Vicar, who promptly asked in an ominous voice, 'Where is the baby?' He was informed later that he had been mistaken for the proud father!

The ambitions of this brilliant youngster are to become a really good conductor, to call Holt's Original and to ring a peal in over 100 doubles methods/variations.

A member of the Ancient Order of College Youths, and recently elected Ringing Master of the Society of Roving Ringers, Michael attributes his success as a ringer to the help and encouragement he has received from Mr. H. L. Roper, and more recently to the opportunities afforded to him by the Roving Ringers. Hence the fact that he has now rung in 542 different towers. A very noteworthy record. Congratulations and good luck, Michael. NORVING.

THE NORWICH ASSOCIATION

All officials were re-elected at the Eastern Branch annual meeting held at Great Yarmouth on February 8th. They are: Chairman, Miss D. E. Liddbetter; secretary, Mr. N. P. J. Cossey; Ringing Master, Mr. G. G. Walpole; Standing Committee, Mr. A. E. Crowe and Mr. M. Parker; Branch Committee, Messrs. A. W. Bird, C. Bailey, J. Forster, J. B. Gorrod and T. Brock.

The service was conducted by Canon Gilbert Thurlow, during which he dedicated a peal board. Mr. Angwin was the organist.

Fifty members and friends sat down to an excellent tea prepared by the local company. Mr. D. Long was re-elected a member of the Association and Mr. A. Cook promoted from probationer to ringing member.

Votes of thanks were accorded to Canon Thurlow, Mr. Angwin and the local company. Next meeting: Happisburgh, June 6th.

HERTS COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The February meeting of the St. Albans District was held at Sandridge, where ringing on the light six included Carter's Principle, the special method. It was found, rather to our cost, that the Central Council version in 'Doubles Methods' is the reverse of Snowdon's version in 'Standard Methods'.

The Rev. P. Handford conducted Evensong, and Mr. A. T. Hawkins, the tower captain, played the organ. Mr. Hawkins also served tea in the Village Hall, helped by local ladies. Miss Amy Coburn, our secretary, was in bed with appendicitis, and Mr. Cull, chairman at the business meeting, sent our best wishes for a speedy recovery via her husband, who had come to act for her.

Before the evening ringing, Geoff Dodds gave the first of what may be, if popular, a series of ten-minute talks on conducting. J. D. C.

THE WASHINGTON DEDICATION

As final approval has not yet been received from Washington, the names of the band selected to ring at the dedication of the Gloria in Excelsis Tower at the Cathedral on Ascension Day are being withheld from publication.

Towards the original appeal of £1,000, Mr. Douglas Hughes has received a little over £300. Donations should be sent to Mr. Douglas Hughes, c/o Westminster Bank, St. Mary Axe, E.C.3.

NORTH STAFFS ASSOCIATION

Presentation to Retiring Secretary

Mr. J. G. Burton, the retiring secretary of the North Staffordshire Association, was presented with a transistor radio, subscribed to by members of the Association, at a meeting at Bucknall on February 1st. Some 40 members were present for ringing, service and an excellent tea provided by Bucknall ringers. From the Rector (the Rev. E. K. V. Pearce) there was a warm welcome.

Mr. C. W. Biddulph, chairman of the Association, paid a tribute to the work of Mr. Burton during his six years in office as secretary. 'He has made a first-class job of everything he has done,' was his appreciation. He asked the Rector to make the presentation.

Mr. Burton, accepting the radio, gave a short, witty speech, and then seriously thanked the assembly, and especially the committee, for the help and support they had given him. Ringing then recommenced and varied from rounds to Surprise until 8 p.m. G. C. B.

Some Memories of Record Peals of Double Norwich

BY EDWIN BARNETT

I read with great interest Mr. E. C. Shepherd's article on December 27th, in which he records record peals of Double Norwich of long ago, particularly the 13,440 at Romford in 1894, and the 15,072 at Erith in 1899.

It was my intention on the 70th anniversary of the 13,440 at Romford (April 18th) to record my memories of the peal, and the circumstances which caused it to be rung so quickly after the tragic failure at Brentwood (as told to me many times by my father, who was one of the band), but I have brought this forward, while Mr. Shepherd's article is fresh in readers' minds.

I was nine years old at the time, and well remember the disappointment of my father and Charles Wilkins (who was then living with us) on their return from Brentwood, and their surprise when, on a Saturday morning a fortnight later, a telegram arrived telling them to go to Romford the following Wednesday for the peal.

Benjamin Keeble, who used to write a weekly column in the 'Bell News' under the nom-de-plume of 'Plain Speaker,' and do odd reporting jobs for the paper, got to know that a band in the Midlands intended to go for the same peal on the following Saturday week. This information he passed on to Acland Perkins at Romford the same day (a Friday). Perkins, a great friend of George Newson, went that evening to the Cumberlands' practice at St. Martin's, to inform Newson of what Keeble had told him, together with the offer of Romford tower on the following Tuesday, if the band could be got together in time. Six of them were there and the offer of the tower was gratefully accepted. All that remained was to contact the other two and they met and rang the peal in (I think) 8 hours, 16 minutes.

The Cumberlands were, naturally, very proud of their achievement and had an elaborate peal card printed, which gave not only the usual particulars of the peal but the composition and some eight or ten verses by the late Samuel Slater, of Glemsford. I am unable to remember them all, but they began as follows:—

'April the eighteenth, eighteen hundred and ninety-four

Will be remembered by us all, now and for evermore,

For on that day as now we understand
Was rung a mighty peal by the Youths of Cumberland.'

Recalling the failure at Brentwood he says later on—

'Twas rung before, within a little span,

'Tis now the longest in the method ever rung by any man.'

Later still he works in the names of the band. I can only remember what he says of the first three:—

'Benjamin Foksett rang the treble so started this great peal,

And now he has rung it great pleasure he will feel:

Edwin Barnett rang the second, and did his equal part,

For Double Norwich Court is rooted in his heart.

The next upon this list has taken many pains

In ringing and composing, his name is Henry Dains.'

George Newson, the conductor, died almost exactly a year later from what we now know as appendicitis but for which at that time there was no known cure. Albert Pittam, who rang the sixth, died in Berkshire between the wars. Charles Wilkins, who rang the fifth, was the youngest member of the band and was to take part in the 15,072 at Erith in 1899. He died at Shrewsbury in 1944.

I was, in a small way, associated with this peal. Erith, as many people know, has a ground-floor belfry and in common with other such belfries peals have been lost there through people banging on the door.

I went over during the morning with my father and we stayed until the end. On our arrival we found the then steeplekeeper, John Garard, doing 'sentry go' outside to prevent anything like this happening to them. About lunchtime, father and he went off to get something to eat (or, perhaps, drink) and left me on duty until they returned. This was about an hour and a half, and I was very hungry by the time they got back. And, at the age of 14, I would probably not have been of much use on my own if an irate inhabitant had come along!

I have often wondered how bands were ever able to ring long peals at Erith, especially in those days, as there are no windows in the tower for ventilation, it has a very low ceiling and the only illumination then was two flat flame gas burners.

This was the first occasion that I met the brothers Pye, and thus began an association with them which lasted all their lives, and provided me with the happiest of memories.

In 1959 the present steeplekeeper at Erith, Mr. F. J. Cullum, arranged another peal of Double Norwich on the 60th anniversary of the original peal, in which I was pleased to take part, one of his band, Mr. George Butcher, kindly standing down to enable me to do so.

THE SUFFOLK GUILD

A very successful meeting of the S.W. District, on February 22nd, with 21 towers represented, started the Bures week-end. The Ringing Master (Mr. L. D. Mills) had the easy task of being able to put on any method asked for from the 50 ringers in attendance: their ability ranged from call changes to London.

Worship in church was conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. Ian Dunlop), assisted by Dr. John Young, and commenced with Grandsire on handbells. The youngest ringer in attendance, 11-year-old Jeremy Dingwall, sang the solo. In his address the Vicar fully explained how all church work was worship.

At the business meeting, under the chairmanship of 'Our Sam' (Mr. S. J. Twitchett) the possibility of arranging a special type of service to be held throughout the District to help attract outsiders into the church was discussed. Members were asked to give this very careful thought and to discuss it more fully at the May meeting to be held at Clare. Miss Greta Spurgin, of Bures, was elected a member. Tea was provided by the lady members and parishioners.

One of the features was the first reunion of some of the old Bures band, who had their first ring together after nearly five years. A tape recording of the Yorkshire ringers is to be kept among the records of Bures tower. Considering the fact that some of the band had not rung any Surprise methods since they left, the recording is quite good.

For Matins on Sunday a good quarter peal of Yorkshire was rung with George and Diana Pipe in the band. It was conducted by Donald L. Mills as a birthday compliment to his mother. Ringing for Evensong by those able to stay brought to a close a very happy and memorable week-end, and as farewells were exchanged it was on everybody's mind 'When can we get together again?'

BEVERLEY AND DISTRICT SOCIETY

THE Bishop of Hull made the first presentation of the Albert Sellers Memorial Cup at the Society's annual meeting, held at Beverley on February 8th. This cup was obtained during last year to the memory of the Society's late president for annual presentation to the tower in the District judged to have mostly carried out the Society's object in the advancement of, and instruction in, the art of change ringing, both in its scientific aspect and as a branch of church work.

The first winners of the cup were the Walkington ringers and their captain, Miss Joan Gray, received the trophy on their behalf. In making the presentation the Bishop remarked on the youthfulness of the Walkington team and pointed out that they were young enough to repeat their success, particularly so when it was remembered that the cup was in memory of a ringer who was active when turned 80.

In announcing the winning tower, the Ringing Master (Mr. D. Johnson) mentioned the difficulty he had had in making a decision, as one of the two towers in the final reckoning was Kirk Ella—his own tower! As a member of the Kirk Ella team, the writer expresses sincere congratulations to the Walkington ringers and agrees wholeheartedly with the decision—on this occasion.

It was very fitting that the first holders of the cup should be a team with such a high proportion of young ringers, as no one was more delighted than Albert Sellers to see the growing influx of youngsters into the Society in recent years. He could usually be found amongst the younger members at meetings, encouraging them and making them feel at home.

The Bishop also gave the address at the service in St. Mary's Church, conducted by the Vicar (the Rev. S. Walker). He told the members that their bellringing was a part of the whole system of worship and evangelism in our Church, and referred to the days when churchgoing was the order of the day and father attended the service instead of going to the golf course. This was not so true today and there was more need than ever for the silver trumpets of Israel to sound to call people to worship.

The annual report appeared for the first time in booklet form, with notes from the towers in the area, and received a most favourable reception. Mr. Norman Castle and Miss Joan Gray were warmly congratulated on their idea for this enlarged form of report, and thanked for their hard work in putting it into execution, as the booklet is printed by them and their assistants of the Walkington Vestry (Newsletter) Press.

Fifty-three ringers attended the meeting, from 16 different towers as far apart as Scarborough and Scalby to the north, York and Huntington to the west and Ulceby (Lines) to the south. Afternoon ringing was at the ten bells at the Minster, and the town's second ring of ten at St. Mary's was rung in the evening. Seven new members were elected from Bridlington (three), Beverley Minster, Scalby, Selby and Walkington.

Mr. C. Hobson (Kirk Ella) and Mr. G. Pybus (Cottingham) were not available for re-election to the positions of Assistant Ringing Master and assistant secretary respectively, and Mr. H. Gibson (Sutton) and Miss J. Gray (Walkington) were elected to the respective vacancies. Mr. I. Booth (Cottingham) was appointed to fill a vacancy on the committee. Other officers and committee were re-elected.

Letters to the Editor

Mr. Knight now a Guild Officer

Dear Sir.—When Mr. Knight generously wrote his letter saying that the Wessex Scholars were 'disbanded' in the interests of greater unity with the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild, I would have liked to have written to you publicly to thank him. However, I respected your footnote to his letter that you were closing the correspondence on the matter. Consequently, I am very surprised to read Mr. Dodd's letter last week which brings it up again and regret that it was published, for it gives a wrong impression of what is happening now. I hope you will, therefore, kindly allow me, as Master of the Guild, to write a few more words to conclude the whole issue.

When Mr. Knight kindly ended the Wessex Scholars in the interests of the existing Guild, we took immediate steps to see that his genius for organisation was not allowed to go to waste and at the annual meeting of the Winchester District a month ago I had the pleasure of proposing him as Deputy Ringing Master of the District, the Ringing Master (Mr. Tubbs) and the secretary (Mr. Brown) wholeheartedly welcoming him to this new office. Already they are making a survey of the area and have intimated that they are ready to help struggling towers on practice night, etc. Already, Mr. Knight has taken some of his ringers to help at a special occasion in one parish. I feel sure that something might be done at Dummer if requested.

I am confident the results will be even better than they would have been by the efforts of the Wessex Scholars alone, for now Mr. Knight has the backing of the Diocesan Guild and I feel sure that all our members will do all they can to help him after his generous gesture.—Yours sincerely,

K. W. H. FELSTEAD,
Master,

Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild.

Boiling Rope-ends not New

Dear Sir.—The recent boiling of a rope-end is not the 'precedent in the art of campanology' that K. R. Dunstan seems to think. I boiled a tail-end on more than one occasion years ago, not so much to soften it as to get rid of the sticky glycerine which a ringer of those days used to put on it to get a grip. Fortunately no one in our band uses any aid of this kind to-day. Moreover, this idea of boiling a rope-end is not original with me, either, for I got the idea from a still older ringer.—Yours faithfully,

P. LAFLIN.

Stockport.

Name Changed

Dear Sir.—Would the Records Committee please note that a peal rung at Ashton-under-Lyne on May 1st, 1963, conducted by the late Derek Ogden and published in 'The Ringing World' of May 24th, 1963, as a peal of Ashton Surprise Major, has been recorded by the Lancashire Association as a peal of Clerkenwell Surprise Major.—Yours faithfully,

J. P. PARTINGTON.

Ringling Secretary, Lancashire Association.

The Lightest Ring

Sir.—Mr. F. D. Mack's little ring of bells may be nearer 200 than 100 years old as, according to 'Church Bells of Warwickshire,' Tilley and Walter, 1st edition, 1910, page 77, Robert Wells worked the Aldbourne Foundry from 1764 to 1794, being joined by his son James in 1781, who carried on the business until 1825, when it was acquired by Mears of Whitechapel.—Yours sincerely, Harborne.

W. E. BOX.

Leading Peal Ringers' List

Dear Sir.—I should be extremely grateful if you would allow me to make the following points in your columns regarding the list of leading peal ringers:—

(i) Many people do not send their names for inclusion in the list of leading peal ringers because they wrongly feel it to be a form of exhibitionism.

(ii) The list at present is, therefore, incomplete and valueless.

(iii) Either a complete list should be published or none at all. Many people keep surprisingly full records of peals which have been rung. Is it not possible to ask for a volunteer to compile a full list?

Much the same remarks could be made about the list of tower-grabbers. However, it is an open question whether this list has any use whatsoever. While the ringing of 25 peals in a year gives some indication of keenness and ability, the fact that someone has rung in 100 new towers in the same period implies, to me at least, no more than a high degree of mobility.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN CAMP.

Jesus College, Oxford.

Burslem Delight

Dear Sir.—Your inability to find space for my article on Burslem Delight places me at a great disadvantage. F. Blagrove's reply gives a very poor account of my arguments. (Those interested in this matter are requested to turn to the Miscellaneous Publications advertisement I have inserted.)

His main criticism seems to be the non-existence of the 14-14 sub-section in the Minor method. My article justifies this at some length.

I expected him to attack the sequence of pivot-bells. I wonder why there is no mention of this.

Burslem Royal has indeed the misfortune to be a three-lead course method. This does not, however, make it any less a member of the same family.

Burslem Maximus is the strict extension of the Major. If F. T. B. reads his letter again he will find that he says it is not.*

London Royal III is a red herring. Nowhere in my article did I attempt to justify the disappearance of 14.58.14 sub-section.

The crux of the matter is my contention that extension and contraction are self-conjugate. F. T. B. speaks personally in his denial of this; there is no mention of this matter in the Report.

There are many more 12-bell methods than six-bell methods, so it is likely that several 12-bell methods may be found which contract to the same six-bell method.

If, as I maintain, extension and contraction are the reverse of each other, one might therefore expect to find Minor methods which extend in more than one way.

There are such methods. I have yet to hear of any explanation of this other than the one above. For instance, here is a form of Kent Treble Bob:—

16.34—34.16—12—16—12—16
18.34—34.18.56.12.56.18—12—18—12—18
10.34—34.10.56.12.56.10.78.12.78.10—12—10
—12—10

'Burslem Delight No. 2 Version' would seem to be a suitable name for the Major and higher stages of F. T. B.'s homework.—Yours faithfully,

H. POYNER.

* This was a typographical error which was subsequently corrected.—Ed.

An American View

Dear Sir.—Quite recently an American professor, a Nobel prizewinner, came to England to spend a year as a Fellow of an Oxford college. His wife, who has a discerning eye for the contrasts between the American and British ways of life, both within University circles and at large, and possesses also the ability to write about her impressions entertainingly, has written an account of their sojourn, and this was published in this country last year by Robert Hale, Ltd., who have kindly allowed me to quote the following extract, which will be of particular interest to readers of this journal:—

'Change ringing is a uniquely English art. It combines four or more bells of different pitch—Magdalen has ten—each of which is rung in a different pattern. The rhythms overlap, blending into a rolling, tumbling melody of sound that makes the heart lift and the spirit tingle any time you hear it. But on that particular Christmas Day in the morning, as we left the college, the clangour of bells overwhelmed us and enveloped us. They beat us to earth. They tossed us heavenward. Even the cold stars seemed to shimmer in the midnight sky, and the rapture was almost impossible to bear.'

The book, 'These Ruins Are Inhabited,' by Muriel Beadle, is of quite general interest, but will be especially appreciated by members of our University Guilds.—Yours sincerely,

A. R. PARGETER.

Tiverton, Devon.

The Lady had no Difficulty

Dear Sir.—I am willing to concede that Mr. Norman Chaddock's ringing experience has taught him that rope-ends are more suitable for heavier rings of bells but, as a native of the Barnsley area, I strongly resent his statement in his letter that 'one can get by satisfactorily in closed-lead ringing with Yorkshire tail-ends.'

Every effort is made to raise the standard of ringing to as high a level as possible and there is never any question of getting by with second best.

Furthermore, I learned to ring on Yorkshire ends and, although I have small hands, I have never encountered any difficulty in holding the billy and the sally in one hand.

I suggest it is a question of mind over matter rather than physical proportions of the hand and anyone who is capable of handling a bell correctly should be able to ring comfortably on Yorkshire ends if they approach the matter with an unprejudiced attitude.—Yours sincerely,

C. M. SAVILLE (Miss).

Neville's Cross College, Durham.

Tenor Ringer of 40 Years' Preference

Dear Sir.—I do hope that Mr. N. Chaddock is only speaking for himself when he states that a heavy bell cannot be rung properly with a rope with a Yorkshire tail-end.

I have been a tenor ringer for 40 years and to me the Yorkshire tail-end is far in advance of the plain. If, as stated by Mr. Chaddock, he has to take up rope at backstroke when the bell's swing has to be severely cut down, then in my opinion the bells are being rung much too fast. I have had the great pleasure of ringing with Professor Dodger many times, and to watch him handle a bell is to see perfection. I hope that Mr. N. Chaddock will read the letter on page 124. 'Boiled' Tenor Rope-End, and there is his answer.—Yours sincerely,

HARRY MANN.

Surprise Method Collection

Dear Sir,—I feel that the front-page article on page 89, on the 'Complete Collection of Right-Place Surprise Major Methods' cannot pass unchallenged.

The restriction of not more than one double change per half-lead is imposed to keep the collection down to a reasonable size. If this is not done 30,000 notations becomes acceptable, giving almost twice this number of methods. It would be virtually impossible to make a work of this size available from an economic point of view. Certainly about a dozen such methods have been rung but these will become available when and if the promised collection of all rung Surprise Major methods appears. An implication that the collection as it stands may not be complete can have no justification.

The article also criticises the order of arrangement of the methods. One finds it hard to imagine that a ringer capable of using this collection should find this a stumbling block. Surely too, such a ringer can be trusted to ensure that the methods of more dubious quality will not be rung. We live in a more enlightened age than one in which a complete work of this type should be suppressed for fear less standards be lowered. A work of Corrigan's type is certainly worthwhile as far as it goes, but after all, the first step in producing such a collection involves knowing what possibilities are available. I would add that at the moment I have a programme in the Manchester University Atlas Computer, to determine all possibilities, right- and wrong-place, though almost certainly it will never be published because of the vastness of the work (there are approximately seven million million notations to test).

So far as technical accuracy is concerned the chances of a mistake being made by the computer as to the production of plain bob lead-ends are minimal. If such a fault were likely to occur then it would be accompanied by some more obvious one such as the complete cessation of production of the methods or completely ridiculous notations.

With regard to the inaccuracies in the naming of methods, it is almost inevitable that a volume of this size will contain a few mistakes. If the corrections are prominently published in 'The Ringing World,' no lasting harm has been done. More confusion arises from mistakes within the pages of 'The Ringing World,' e.g., Moira and Oh are mentioned on page 20; attention was drawn on page 692 (1963) to the fact that these methods have previously been rung as Purbeck and Oxney. Again, it should be pointed out that the method given as Llanfihangelrhvdeithon (page 48) has previously been rung as Guernsey (page 51—1963).

Derek Sibson must be taken to task for perpetuating the ambiguous use of the term 'lead-end.' As far as I can ascertain there is no accepted lettering of lead-ends. The lettering system normally in use applying to lead-heads cannot be used in the collection, as in most cases two methods are defined by each notation. It requires little effort to write a—f and g—m by the appropriate lead-head in the table given on page two of the introduction.

I believe that this collection will prove to be valuable to the Exercise as a work of reference, and that its importance should not be underestimated.—Yours faithfully,

JOHN C. BALDWIN.

Manchester.

Collection of Value to Exercise

Dear Sir,—Three of your contributors in 'The Ringing World' of February 21st seem to me to have been severe on Dr. Sibson. Had I been asked to review the collection recently published by our two young Cambridge friends I should have refused. I understand that at least one well-known ringer did this. And if I had been over-persuaded my review would have been not unlike the one published on February 7th.

A book reviewer has two major duties. He should draw his readers' attention to the book under study and to its author, introducing both to the public. And he should give his own honest opinion of the value of the end product. If he does not do this last, he is only a writer of a publisher's blurb—an advertising agent. If the work appeals to him, the reviewer has an easy and pleasant task. Otherwise he must refuse the job, of face the issue fairly.

Dr. Sibson seems to me to have fulfilled these obligations admirably. He tells us what is in the book, to help us decide whether we wish to beg or borrow a copy. He regrets the mistakes and shows how some of them could have been avoided. We have too often had to regret mistakes in ringing publications because the corrections never catch up with the errors. He remarks that 'undoubtedly any man who tries to keep records will require a copy.' He then gives his views about the contents and says what so many ringers have said, without contradiction, for the last generation—that the Exercise needs a suitable collection of methods already rung and a selection of suitable unringed ones.

If any different kind of review to this had been submitted, I have no doubt you would have considered it for publication. Dr. Sibson's critics were favourably impressed but I assume did not submit a review of their impressions of the book.

These days any ringer who takes the time and trouble and risks his cash on publishing is to be congratulated. I think you will agree that I speak from experience. But it is little use bemoaning the fact that the Central Council, or anyone else, has not yet produced a 'mythical long-promised' collection. Any collection or publication about change ringing will only be published when one of us gives up sufficient time to produce it and finds the cash (or a backer with faith) to publish. The first of these criteria was met before the last war in the Trollope and Turner book on the Surprise Major methods (2 vols., 1,200 pages of manuscript, containing a collection of over 600 methods, each with diagram, compositions, false course heads, incidence of false-ness, etc., and 200 pages on the theory of Surprise Major methods). The second need—the cash—could not be met, so publication was not possible.

I was glad to note that the two authors have had the pleasure of a sell-out. Whether that proves the demand, as suggested by one of your correspondents, depends on the number produced. The Exercise has a nucleus of members who will buy any publication about our art, whether or not they intend to read or use it. It is the continuing numbers sold above this that proves a demand and it will now need a second edition before we can support that statement.—Yours, etc.,

WILFRID G. WILSON.

RINGING IN AUSTRALIA

According to 'Ringing Towers,' 1963 was a record year for peal ringing in Australia. No fewer than 15 peals were rung, 11 on tower bells and four 'in hand.' This was an advance of one on the previous best year, 1953. Important milestones were first peals of Cambridge Surprise Major and of Plain Bob Royal with a resident band, as well as the first of Stedman Triples 'in hand.' Three towers received their peal baptism — St. George's, Perth. St. Paul's, Burwood, and St. Peter's, Adelaide.

Quarter peals rung were: Tower 63 (1962, 61); hand 15 (53). Brian Lawes and Jack Roper conducted their first peals, while the records included 21 asterisks indicating 'first peal.' There were 13 first quarters, and Helen Henderson, Anne Cowling, Sidney and Harold McDonald rang their first as conductor.

OBITUARYMR. WALTER CHARLES MEDLER

Mr. Walter Medler died at his home at Hevingham, Norfolk, on February 14th. He was taken ill at Buxton immediately after conducting a practice touch in which his wife took part on the evening of the 4th, and had just set his bell when he collapsed. During the next ten days he regained consciousness only for a few fleeting moments. It was the first time since he was 22 that he had had a doctor attend him in his 75 years.

The funeral service took place at Hevingham Church where, as a boy, he first gained on the five bells there his great love for ringing. Among the large congregation ringers were present from Aylsham, Buxton, Lammas, Marsham and St. Peter Mancroft and St. Giles', Norwich. As the bells are at present unringable, handbells were rung as the cortege entered and left the church, which, as Canon Marsham, a former Rector, remarked, Walter would have wished.

Elected a member of the Norwich Association on January 7th, 1907, Walter Medler had been a constant supporter for all those 57 years. Although he had rung some 200 peals he was essentially a service ringer and had given valuable service at Hevingham, Aylsham, Marsham and Buxton. He had a particular fondness for the latter tower, having conducted the first peal on the bells on April 1st, 1911.

Mr. Medler's peal ringing began at Hevingham, where on October 8th, 1910, he conducted his first peal. Ten days later he rang his first peal of Major at Marsham. He certainly enjoyed peal ringing, especially Minor, many of which he conducted. He was keenly interested, too, in handbell ringing and it was due to his support of Mr. Cyril Pooley's efforts that the writer owes his initiation to this neglected side of our art.

To Mrs. Medler we offer our deep sympathy in her great sorrow. She had been a constant companion for more than 50 years of her husband's ringing excursions and took up the art herself at the age of 60! N. G.

MR. GEORGE SCOTT

After a short illness, Mr. George Scott, of Fulbeck, Lincs. died on February 16th, aged 86 years. Since the age of 15 he had been a ringer and although he retired about seven years ago his interest in ringing still remained. His last appearance in the belfry was on November 5th, 1963, when he called a touch of Grandsire Doubles.

George was attached at one time to Leadenham tower and later he joined the Caythorpe band. It was in this tower that he rang his first peal on September 4th, 1904. In 1911 his name first appeared with the Fulbeck company. All his peals, which numbered 67 (conducted 35), were rung for the Lincoln Diocesan Guild.

The funeral took place at Fulbeck on February 19th. The bells were rang half-muffled immediately after the service by local ringers and a visitor (Mr. L. Willders, Lincoln). A half-muffled peal was rung on February 22nd by members of the Lincoln Diocesan Guild in memory of one who served his Church as a ringer so well and so faithfully for 70 years. J. W.

HON. BARBARA GIBBS, O.B.E.

The Hon. Barbara Gibbs, O.B.E., died at her home, Hunsdon Mill, Ware, on February 24th, after a long and wearying illness. She was a member of the Hertford County Association and the Ladies' Guild, and a regular Sunday service ringer at Hunsdon for many years. She had rung only one peal, and was undoubtedly better known for her work for the Red Cross and among disabled soldiers—her 'chaps' as she used to call them—as well as for her work for the Diocese of St. Albans and the Women's Institute movement. It was, however, lady ringers—Miss E. Chitty and Mrs. T. J. Lock—who had the honour of accompanying Miss Gibbs when she went to Buckingham Palace to receive the O.B.E. from the Queen. Miss Chitty writes: 'We who are left in the belfry miss her every service, as she was always there, even when she could not ring.'

The funeral, which was private, took place at Hunsdon on February 27th, and a memorial service is to be held in St. Albans Abbey.

ENGLAND'S FARTHEST EAST

By T. A. BEVIS

THE sound of Lowestoft's bells, ringing for the first time on St. Margaret's Day, June 20th, 1920, inspired the late Mr. A. E. Murton, for many years editor of the 'Lowestoft Journal,' to pen the following lines:—

St. Margaret's Bells, Old Lowestoft's Bells—

Their sweet notes rise and fall;

A message here, a summons there,

A worship call to all.

St. Margaret's Bells, Old Lowestoft's Bells—

They sound o'er land and sea;

The sailor hears, and hearing, prays

That home safe he may be.

St. Margaret's Bells, Old Lowestoft's Bells—

In sonorous melody

Their voices ring in anthem sing,

Gloria tibi Domine.

It may surprise some to learn that Lowestoft is England's farthest east. The town began to develop with the Tudor dynasty, and it is now a valuable fishing port with a four-mile sea-front—a joy to those who love walks and exhilarating sea breezes.

The town's dominant feature is the spire (50 feet high) of St. Margaret's Church rising from a 14th century tower attached to a building over 60 yards long and 20 yards wide, noted for magnificent windows and a wonderful new roof. The steeple is a welcome sight for fishermen homeward bound.

According to records the tower contained one bell for many years until the time when the present ring was installed. Of substantial proportions, this bell, inscribed 'I tell all that do me see, Newman of Norwich new cast me,' weighed over 17 cwt and was cast about 1730.

Long before that year the steeple housed five bells, four of which were apparently removed during the Commonwealth. The earliest record relating to Lowestoft Church at the Return of 1553, states 'Great Bells iij Sancts Bell.'

An account book kept by one John Tanner, gives the following, dated 1709: 'The Three Crackt Bells wch were taken down out of Lowestoft Steeple Decr. 1709 to be made into one weighd ys follows: First bell 4 cwt, 2 qrs, 27 lbs; E bell 5 cwt, 3 qrs, 18 lbs; largest bell 6 cwt, 2 qrs, 25 lbs.'

The new bell was to weigh precisely 18 cwt, but was found to be two cwt, short. Another entry states: 'The Bell at Church being split in May 1729 was new cast by Tho. Newman at Norwich Jan. 23rd, 1729 and weigh'd 17 cwt, 2 qrs, 7 lbs. NOTE: That for want of metal the Bell had but pieces of Cannons and those being cut off to hang it with Bolts ye bell now wants 25 lbs of the above weight.'

The present ring of eight bells (tenor 13 cwt, 2 qrs, 21 lbs in F sharp) was hung in July, 1920, and forms part of the memorial to those men of Lowestoft who fell in the Great War of 1914-18. A brass tablet on the north wall of the ground-floor ringing chamber records inscriptions on the bells, which were obtained by public subscription and by industrial presentation:—

Treble: Presented by J. W. Brooke Co. Ltd. Lowestoft, 1920.

Second: Dedicated to Lowestoft Fishermen Fred Spashett.

Third: The Drifter's Bell. Presented by the Lowestoft Steam Herring Drifter Co. Ltd.

ST. MARGARET'S CHURCH, LOWESTOFT.

Fourth: Given by Charlotte Sims in memory of her parents, two brothers and one sister.

Fifth: Trawlers Bell. Subscribed by the trade.

Sixth: The Gallant Dead 1914-1918.

Seventh: This bell is dedicated to the memory of Skipper Thomas Crisp, V.C., of the trawler Nelson who gave his life for his country August 15th, 1917.

Tenor: John and Sarah Breach. Given in loving memory by their sons and daughters. Dedicated by the Very Rev. the Dean of Norwich (Dean Willink) St. Margaret's Day July 20 1920 and first rung by the Norwich Bellringers Association August 5 1920. Evan Morgan, M.A., Rector, H. W. Bevan, C. W. Dance, Junior, Churchwardens.

The octave was installed at a cost of £1,600 by Messrs Taylors, of Loughborough. Mr. Thomas Sergeant was instrumental in raising the public subscription for the bells, and the ringers' screen, placed in the tower arch by his widow, is dedicated to his memory.

A large crowd attended the dedication ceremony, and present on that occasion were the combined choirs of St. Margaret's, St. Peter's and St. Andrew's, together with a company of the Diocesan Association ringers from Norwich who stood by their ropes. After the actual dedication . . . Prayers followed with a special reference to the message of the bells, and the sweet strains of a joyous peal rang out—St. Margaret's bells, the bells of Lowestoft Town heartening all who heard them for the first time.

The bells were rung to 42 changes of Grandsire Triples by Charles Borrett (conductor), Frederick Knights, Frederick R. Borrett, George H. Cross, Albert Rough, John Oldham, Frederick H. Knights and Arthur L. Coleman. At the conclusion of the service 288 changes of Kent Treble Bob Major and a touch of Bob Major were rung and the bells were lowered in peal.

A great many peals have been rung at St. Margaret's Church, 83 of which were recorded to the end of 1958 by the late Ringing Master, Mr. Albert Coleman. Other peals have materialised since that year and the total number may well exceed 100.

After the untimely death of Mr. Coleman at the beginning of 1963, Mr. Andrew E. Crowe was elected Ringing Master, and this gentleman is at present engaged training young people to ring the bells. Although finding it difficult to attract youngsters to the art, Mr. Crowe displays great hopes. One of the original band survives; he is Mr. Richard H. Coates, who regularly rings at Lowestoft. It is satisfying to the local team that the late Master's daughter — Margaret Coleman — is learning to ring, thus following the interest of her father.

Some ringers may recall that the band of the early twenties were trained by the late Mr. R. T. Woodley and a Mr. Friend, the former a member of the College Youths.

Mr. Crowe is appreciative of the help given by ringers who rang at Lowestoft in the latter part of the 1950's. They are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Chapman, who now live at Lincoln. Another ringer who gave valuable help is Mr. Harvey Meadows, who now resides at Wisbech.

Thomas Crisp, V.C., to whom the seventh bell is dedicated, was the skipper on an armed smack. While employed at its duties on August 15th, 1917, the ship was surprised by a German submarine, which fired a number of shells. The Lowestoft crew retaliated, but a German projectile pierced the bow below the waterline. Another shell was aimed at the 'Nelson', and this passed through the skipper and through the deck of the ship. With only five rounds left, Crisp, mortally wounded, ordered a message to be sent off for assistance, then told his son to throw all books overboard and abandon the sinking vessel. His crew made to lift him into the boat, but the skipper said, 'Tom, I am done for; throw me overboard.' His injuries were so terrible it was impossible to move him, so they left him on the deck of his ship, and 15 minutes later, as evening fell, the 'Nelson' went down, and with her a very gallant gentleman.

OBITUARY

MR. FRANK METHAM

After a long illness, we regret to hear of the death of Mr. Frank Metham, of St. Giles', Lincoln, who died on February 19th. When the bells were installed at St. Giles' Church in 1938, Frank, with his wife and daughter, learnt to ring with the newly formed band. He rang in the first peal in the tower in 1940. He was a regular ringer and very good helper in all things connected with ringing at St. Giles' until ill-health prevented him. Our sympathy goes to his widow and daughter. May he rest in peace. J. L. M.

The ladies of the University of London Society have something to be proud of—the ringing of a peal of Yorkshire Surprise Major on February 15th at Tottenham. We hope that at the dinner which followed due honour was given to the occasion.

Miss M. Branch, of Fern Bank, Bungay Road, Halesworth, is the new secretary of the N.E. District, Suffolk Guild.

Miss Gillian Graney (Aberystwyth) is the first lady to become Master of the University of Wales Society. Her home is at Hemel Hempstead.

Mr. Alan F. Lee, of Twerton, Bath, has shepherded four of his 13-year-old learners through their first peal. He tells us that he has three more coming along and hopes to include them in a quarter soon.

A quote from the Rev. R. S. Brown, Rector of Berkhamsted, speaking at the annual dinner of the Western District of the Hertford County Association: 'Bells are the glory of the Church of England.'

Miss Monica E. Collins has accepted a new appointment at Adelaide as a children's welfare officer. Before leaving Melbourne two unsuccessful attempts for a farewell quarter of Kent Treble Bob Minor failed. The first was lost when her rope broke ten minutes from the end. Perhaps amends will be made at Adelaide with a welcome peal or quarter.
Monica was due to start her new job on March 2nd, and the following week-end two Sydney ringers are paying a fraternal visit.

In the quarter peal of Kent Treble Bob
Minor rung at Sturminster Newton on Feb.
22nd to commemorate the 40th anniversary of the North Dorset Branch of the S.D.G.R.
the ringers of 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 were foundation members of the Branch, having formerly belonged to the Wimborne Branch, which,
up to February 24th, 1924, covered the whole of East and North Dorset. Mr. W. Shute, the conductor, also a former member of the Wimborne Branch, returned to the county in 1925 (after spending some years in Essex) and has from that time been senior Ringing Master of the North Dorset Branch.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The peal at St. Andrew's Church, South Stoke, Oxfordshire, was rung, states the footnote, 'to mark the victory of Oxford
United football team over Blackburn Rovers in the fifth round of the F.A. Cup.' The last football team to be so honoured was Aston Villa.

Mr. George E. Symonds writes to correct his peal total in the issue of February 14th. It is 456, including 36 on handbells, conducted 254.

At the dinner of the Society of Royal Cumberlands (see page 106) Mr. G. Paul, of Lincoln, who is single, was accompanied by his mother.

We are very sorry to miss from our peal columns Mr. Ron Noon, of Spalding, who for the past seven weeks has been laid up with a broken ankle.

Mr. E. V. Rodenhurst has rung 136 peals of Triples, and not 36, as given on page 142.
A creditable record of 700 peals deserves accuracy.

One enthusiast, Mr. E. J. Evans, of Bicester, not only records the towers he has visited but the number of times he has rung in each tower. His tower total of 45 will shortly be augmented by the purchase of a car.

The Misses Lynn Taylor, Peggy M. Butcher and Betty M. Butler, ringing their first peal at Danehill, Sussex, are congratulated by the conductor (Mr. Frank H. Hicks) on the way they struck their bells, which helped to make a really first-class peal.

The quarter peal rung at Milverton on February 18th was also rung to the memory of
W. G. Gigg, who died on February 18th, 1962, by friends who still cherish his memory in the Taunton Branch. It was the first quarter since the bells were rehung.

Beverley and District Ringing Society have for the first time presented their annual report in booklet form—and very attractive it is,
with a cover containing drawings of Beverley
Minster, Patrington and Bridlington towers.
The 40-page report includes reports from towers as well as a record of performances.
Thanks should go to Mr. Norman Castle and Miss Joan Gray for a fine piece of work.
