THE BIRMINGHAM HANDBELL TRADITION

THE recent attempt by the Birmingham men to recapture the Stedman Cinques record has turned, our mind once again to the contemplation of the Birmingham Stedman Tradition, and particularly to the impressive run of handbell peals that began just fifty years ago. Recollection was stimulated and encouraged by the glimpse we had at Bath of the forgathering of J. F. Smallwood, F. W. Perrens, and F. E. Haynes, for these three are the survivors of a brilliant company, one distinguished for a remarkable series of performances, some of them feats that may possibly be equalled but can scarcely ever be excelled.
For more than a century the Birmingham men were noted for their Stedman and handbell ringing. Chattell and Perks were competent performers "in hand," and so were many of the later St. Martin's Youths. In the year 1888 The Holt Society rang at Aston, which was not at that time in the city of Birmingham, a handbell peal of Stedman Cinques. It was the first half-and-half peal of Cinques to be rung, the second handbell peal of Stedman Cinques to be performed, and it was conducted by that fine old ringer and conductor Henry Bastable. One of the participants in this noteworthy peal was Thomas Russam, and he lived on to provide a link between that fine band and the equally notable company that grew up during the First Great War.

Fifty years ago this year, on June 15th, 1916, the first handbell peal of Stedman Cinques in the city of Birmingham was rung in the belfry of St. Martin's Church by F. W. Perrens, G. F. Swann, A. Walker, J. E. Groves, J. F. Smallwood and J. George. It was conducted by James E. Groves, and it was rung at the fourth meeting of the band. The referee was Thomas Russam, and thus the tradition was maintained. Tom was a sound exponent of Stedman on handbells and in the tower, and those of us who had the privilege of ringing peals with him in his latter years can testify to his abiding skill and a sureness of touch that never left him.

By the end of the Great War the Birmingham men were expert ringers of Stedman on handbells, and in the year 1922 they set their sights on an unusual and difficult target. They decided to ring a peal of Stedman on 13 bells, and seeing that they were so well versed in the anatomy of Stedman on the higher numbers, they anticipated no great difficulty in achieving their aim. For the composition of this unusual thing they went, of course, to the versatile John Carter, who produced for them a 5,055 of what he called Stedman Sextuples. It was a half-and-half composition and the opening course had 13 bobs. The turning course was a most formidable piece of work, for the getting of 7890XET to 8709TEX involved the use of twenty calls. It was the only part of the peal likely to cause anxiety. The peal was rung on June 24th, 1922 and the band sat as follows: T. Russam, A. Walker, P. O. Laflin, G. F. Swann, J. E. Groves, A. E. Norman and M. J. Morris. It was conducted by Albert Walker, and he has often related how they neared the half-way turning point with misgiving and how this long and difficult course was rung without the slightest misblow.

The handbell company was now growing in strength and competence. Percy Laflin was incomparable as a ringer and striker, the youthful Albert Norman, known affectionately as "the Pup", had much of the genius of Swinfield and Poole, and Morris J. Morris was rivalled on the back pair only perhaps by his notable namesake Josiah at Leicester. To these must be added that great lover of Stedman Cinques, Alfred Paddon Smith; and with the coming of Frank Pervin and F. E. Haynes a truly great company emerged.

For more than ten years handbell peals of Stedman Cinques came in great profusion, and at the meetings of the company it was customary to take turns in acting as umpire for the current peal attempt. Very few attempts failed. On December 15th, 1933 the climax was reached with a really brilliant performance. Agreement on a composition to be rung having been made, six men met, and with the exception of the man reserved for the tenors, each drew from a hat the number of the pair of bells he was to ring. Then, with each man on his merit as ringer and conductor, the peal was rung in complete silence. It was Albert Walker's 100th peal of Cinques on handbells, and the hospitality at 81 Baker Street afterwards was of a perfection to match the ringing that had preceded it. The performers of this fine feat were F. W. Perrens, G. F. Swann, A. E. Norman, A. Walker, F. E. Pervin, and M. J. Morris.

Other times other manners. Handbell ringing has gone from Birmingham, and a century-old tradition has given place to the founding of another great reputation and the growth of another brilliant company, one highly skilled in the practice of Surprise Maximus. But perhaps the Stedman tradition is only veiled. Birmingham is seeking the Cinques record on tower bells. It may be that in the coming years there will be a return to the old love.

Should the tenor bell and parish church clock strike together, a death will occur in the Minster precincts. (Ancient Peterborough tradition.)

For many years regret has been expressed that the bells of Peterborough Cathedral are not rung in the traditional manner. Not unnaturally. city folk were considerably annoyed when the ring of ten, which surely sounded so resonant on the still air, was reduced to the meagre number of five. Not to be outdone, however, despite ominous assertions by leading architects, a gathering of volunteer ringers had an interview with a member of the Chapter, urging restoration of the bells. This gentleman evidently expressed willingness to further the desires of those concerned, but on application to the cathedral architect the opinion was again forthcoming that ringing would very likely endanger the West Front.

However, it seems that some progress was made despite difficulties. A few years later, in 1399, it was agreed that the five bells be quarter-turned and rehung at a cost of $£ 300$. But again bad luck dogged the ringers' efforts Several people arrived at the Cathedral to ring the bells for the first time after renovation, one, Mr. A. J. Abrams, journeying 28 miles from Chatteris on his penny-farthing. He claimed to be the last person to ring the tenor to an extent of Grandsire Doubles. The wedding of a well-known couple was as good an excuse as any to ring the bells, and word had been passed round far and wide that the five would be ringing that particular afternoon. The attendant of misfortune was not far away and this memorable reopening proved too much for him. Architect and the West Front won the day. For 67 years the bells have remained inactive.

The present bells-of good casting- occupy the same positions alongside empty spaces for five more. They have never been rung to a peal. Each bell is suspended from a substantial wooden headstock, and has plain bearings. Wheels and stays are in good order. The steel frame is excellent and practically rustfree. In fact, with the exceotion that there are no ropes. one would think that the bells were rung only yesterday. To ring them would require a little grease on the bearings, otherwise everything appears to he in very reasonable condition. The ringing chamber is spacious, and leather ine-holds, despite intentions of vandals, still remain fixed to the floor.

Argument against ringing the bells seems a little less feasible when viewing the unequal weight distribution-over four tons- wholly directed to one side of the tower. This could, over the years, weaken the structure; perhaps more so than actually ringing bells which have been scientifically hung. To centralise them or, better still, install a light ring of eight, would not, I think, jeopardise the safety of the fabric. In recent years the West Front-major obstacle as far as ringing is concerned-has been very effectively secured by an elaborate tie-rod arrangement. In the past the bells may well have been too heavy for this type of architecture. but one feels that a ring with a tenor not exceeding 15 cwt. hung perhaps 12 feet lower in the tower would do no harm. The tower is solid enough and shows no tendency to slide back. as does its unfortunate twin, 60 or 70 feet away.

Sympathetic inclinations have been forthcoming from powers that he regarding the possibility of restoring the bells. but the Dean and Chapter are at present heavily committed with urgent restoration work to the fabric. Bell restoration at this stage is therefore looked upon as an expensive "luxury" item. It is hoped that the day is not too far distant when a ring of hells is heard again from the north-west tower of this very lovely building.

The "old five" have been sounded for curfew at 8 p.m. in winter and 9 p.m. in summer, and on Sundays they are "clocked" for ten minutes before each service It seems ironic, for they are capable of better things.
Footnote.-The writer desires to acknowledge the co-operation of Canon Cartwright, a Cathedral librarian, and Mr. Brook, head verger.

FARNHAM DISTRICT STRIKING COMPETITION

The striking competition of the Farnham District of the Guildford Diocesan Guild was held at Bentley on June 25th, when nine teams entered. A blustery afternoon at the start turned to rain before half the teams had "done their stuff" and the judge. Mr. Frank Darby, with his lady assistant had to complete their duties under the shelter of a good tree in the churchyard. This was goodhumouredly remarked on by Mr. Darby after an excellent tea, when he announced the results. Placings were: 1 Farnhorough 120 fauls). 2 Aldershot " $A$ " (22), 3 Bentley (23).
The District Master. Mr. Tom Page, was in command for the evening ringing, a wide variety from rounds to Surprise catering for everybody.

ESSEX ASSOCIATION

THE 87th annual general meeting of the Essex Association was held at Chelmsford on Whit Monday, Ringing commenced at the Cathedral at $10 \mathrm{a} . \mathrm{m}$. and attempts were made to cater for all who wanted a ring before the service at 11 o'clock. This was conducted by the Cathedral Precentor, the Rev. T. Pugh, and the sermon was given by the Bishop of Colchester, a vice-president of the Association.
The meeting started soon after midday with Mr. R. C. Heazel, Master of the Association, acting as chairman, supported by other officers and approximately 100 memters and friends. Proceedings were carried through expeditiously. Mr. P. J. Eves, the treasurer, presented the accounts and it was pleasing to note that an increase of $£ 1215 \mathrm{~s}$. 10d. in the General Account had brought the total realisable assets of the Association to just under $£ 400$. Grants totalling $£ 45$ had been made to Tolleshunt D'Arcy and Bentley Common out of the Bell Restoration Fund
The annual report for 1965 (which had been circulated to members) was received for discussion. Criticism of the annual report came from various members and it was pointed out to the Master that a comprehensive check had taken place as to the accuracy of the annual report by two members, and that no less than 118 mistakes had been found. The majority of these mistakes were only small, negligible items but there were some to which the chairman could offer no explanation.

GOOD YEAR FOR PEALS

The Master, in his report. congratulated alt the younger members of the Association upon ringing more peals, often of an intricate nature, but he asked that wherever they might be ringing due consideration should be given to the incumbent and local ringers.

The peals secretary. Mr. F. B. Lufkin, in his report, had recorded 106 peals rung. this heing the greatest total since 1961, when 112 were rung A pleasing feature was that the number of methods rung in a peal of spliced had risen to 11 Surprise Major methods and 105 Minor methods, both conducted by J. E. G. Roast. A peal of Stedman Cinques rung entirely by members of the South-Eastern Division at Chelmsford was successfully brought round. The leading peal ringer was James L. Towler, who scored 39, and the leading lady was Miss Lesley Ward, who rang 23. Seventeen members' rang their first peal during the year

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Since no other nominations were received, the honorary officers were all re-elected: Master, R. C. Heazel: Deputy Master, H. Turner: hon. secretary. P. W. Saltmarsh; hon. treasurer, P. J. Eves: auditors, F. Goddard and D. J Mayell : trustees. J. Crowley. I. Panton and D. A. S. Symonds.
It was mentioned that it might not be possible to hold next year's annual general meeting on Whit Monday because the Government was proposing to move the Bank Holiday to another Monday in May. The Master assured the house that the 88th annual general meeting would be held on the official public holiday.
A vote of thanks was given by Mr. Heazel to all those who had been concerned in the arrangements and who had assisted in the meeting: special mention was made of the members of the South-Eastern Division who were preparing lunch and tea.
After an excellent lunch in the Cathedral Hall ringing was resumed at towers surrounding Chelmsford until 9 p.m.

BEDFORDSHIRE ASSOCIATION

On June 11th the Biggleswade District went to Potton for the first time in many years. The attendance unfortunately was rather low, Potton ringers and our District members making the majority. The business meeting was held before tea in the church. Our thanks to the Vicar for the service and his kind permission to use the bells; and the ladies for the sumptuous tea.

KLOKKEN EN KLOKKENGIEIERS (Bells and Founders)

By VICTOR SHEPPARD

DURING a visit to the Netherlands last winter I was most hospitably received by members of the Dutch bellringing fraternity and given the rare opportunity of ringing at Amsterdam's famous Westertoer. The tower and the church Westerkerk are always spoken of separately, for the ownership of the tower passed to the Municipality during the 18 th century, and performances on the 47 bell carillon or chiming the three bells are by permission of the Mayor; they are consequently concerned with civic and state occasions, and only incidentally with the church services; Christmas was one of these occasions.
The carillon recital late on Christmas Eve was a musical experience of a high order, and Mr. Ritter's playing on this four-octave instrument brought forth nuances of expression I had never before associated with the bell. While this was going on people flocked into the great church; they came from all directions, by car, by tram. on foot and on the ubiquitous bicycle splashing through the rain; it was a dramatic sight to witness a multitude converging on the Westerkerk until the deacons shut the doors to latecomers. That great gathering sang to lift the roof. Next morning while it was yet dark I returned to the Wester', where at the invitation of Mr. Hans Waarnars 1 was to join the band. As a special treat we were allowed to climb to the upper gallery and watch Christmas Day dawn over the city.

CHRISTMAS BELLS

Returning past the bells I noted they were by $F$. Hemony ( 24 cwt . and 29 cwt .) and Claud Fremy ( 60 cwt .). Intended for swing chiming they are well tucked up in steel headstocks, indeed the tenor's bearings are halfwas down her waist ; the wooden wheels are made from solid segments and the rope channel merely a shallow groove without side cheeks; there are of course no stays. Most of the draught of 65 feet is taken up by wire rope and only the final 10 feet in the ringing chamber is of sisal rope, one inch diameter! Fourteen young people had assembled and I took the opportunity of speaking for ten minutes on change ringing before we began chiming-this was carried out in complete ignorance of the rudiments of striking-on these fine-toned bells.

Some days later if was able to visit the village of Aarle-Rixtel and tour Petit and Fritsen's foundry. $P$. and Fritsen, as they are called, claim to be the world's largest and oldest bellfounders, supplying 80 per cent. of America's needs. Petit was an itinerant French founder, in 1660 he settled in the Catnolic south of Holland, and the statue of the Virgin still presides over their largest furnace. The present foundry was erected in 1899, and in 1958 an erecting shop was added. The factory employs 75 people and full use is made of electric welding: headstocks and wheels being fabricated from M.S. plate. The large furnace mentioned above is seldom used, for few bells over 40 cwt. are made now; when it is required the wood fire is lit at 7 a.m. for $4 \mathrm{p} . \mathrm{m}$. casting: smaller furnaces are oil-fired.
One department of this factory is solely concerned with assembling automatic player mechanisms, and a few years ago after a survey of the American market part of the plant was retooled for quantity production of handbells; their output over a range of 49 sizes is impressive. Interesting differences from English handbells are the patent clappei system using a circular leather "tap" washer with a see-saw type spring; the handles of bells over $4 \frac{1}{2}$ inches diameter are reinforced with a metal under-strap; whilst the bell's profile with its machined right-angle shoulder is quite distinctive. The importance of $\mathbf{P}$. and Fritsen to the village economy over three centuries was recognised in 1960 , when the road to the foundry was named Bell Founders Street and in return the Parish Church received a chime of bells.

CASTING DIFFERENCES

Ten miles from Aarle-Rixtel is the small town of Asten. home of Messrs. Eisbouts' bell foundry. Here I found Mr Andre Lehr their designer and distinguished historian of the subject. In casting tower bells there are again differences from English practice. The core is built upon a turntable while its strickle bnard is stationary. On this core the false bell is made in loam and finished with a thin ( $t \mathrm{~mm}$.) skin of wax; the ornaments and letters, also of wax. are easily attached This foundry's marks are two scene in the style of mediaeval wood carvings de picting the miracle at Cana and the Adoration of the Magi. The cope, a prefabricated assembly of ring sections is now built over the false bell. when baked dry, cope and core are separated and the false bell brushed out. At P. and Fritsen's they provide a by pass for the liquid metal to run in at the bottom o. the mould.
Eisbouts. who do not make handbells. apply electronic tuning to an accuracy of onehundredth of a semitone. During hoth world wars it was the practice of the Germans 10 take bells for munitions and in this way Holland's churches were widely pillaged. Today the Dutch Historical Bell Commission has power to prevent the destruction of any bell made before 1860 , thus recasting old bells accurs only once or twice a year
Few towns in Holland are without their carillon in church or secular tower, and many commercial buildings. schools and hotels are enlivened with automatic chimes of nine or twelve bells, similarly any jeweller's shop of repute is glad to advertise itself with a charming melody four times an hour.
The Dutch society of ringers (N.K.V.) puhlish "Bell and Clapper" (Klok en Klepel) twice a year: it is invaluable for anyone interested in the carillon, there are articles on old founders and new installations throughout the world, notices of meetings, broadcasts and belfry gossio, too. The editor is Rinus de Jong, Dinkelstraat 2. Enschede. Holland. Membership. including all publications, costs 12s. per year.

21-Team Entry in Devon Contest

TUCKED away in the rolling countryside of the South Hams, the village of Diptford was, on June 25 th, the scene of the annual invitation six-bell festıval organised by Mr . B. E. Bartlett, secretary of the South Devon Ringers' Association. The team from Modbury was first into the church tower at 1 o'clock and a further eight teams, each ringing the prize peal- 60 on Thirds-were to ring by service time at 4 o'clock. In conducting the service, the Rector, the Rev. L. W. Ford, was assisted by the Association's president. the Vicar of Kingsteignton.
With the shortest possible interval between peals, the rest of the 21-team entry followed each other into the tower until Plymstock " $A$ " team brought the bells "down at a few minutes after 8.30. There had been no pauso for tea during the ringing. The judging was by Messrs T. G. Daw, C. J. Rice. R M. Elliott and A. Tapper. The George Middleton Shield and certificates were presented by the Rector to the six winning teams: Plymstock "A" team with no more than $9 \frac{1}{2}$ faults. West Alvington "A" (11 $1 \frac{1}{2}$ faults). Down St. Mary (12t). Stoke Gabriel (15), Bigbury (19f) and West Alvington "B" (22 ). Mr. Tapper as spokesman, remarked on the very high standard of ringing reached and the excellent co-operation shown throughout the competition in getting such a large entry "through" in such good time
The financial side of the festival means that approximately $£ 20$ will be shared between Diptford and Blackawton Churches, the latter needing funds to "waterproof" its tower.

oUTINGS

PENN, STAFFS

St. Bartholomew's ringers and friends, some 40 in number, enjoyed their annual outing on May 21 st, and for Penn ringers the route was unusual Leaving Penn at about 7.45 p.m., Hinckley was reached at approximately 9.30 a.m., when we enjoyed some fair ringing. Before leaving for Rugby there was a coffee adjournment. The fine ring of eight at St Andrew's, Rugby, was not put to good use. but the weight prevented the Penn contingent from giving of their best.
After lunch we wended our way. keeping clear of the main trunk roads, to Uppingham, where the ringing was much more satisfactory. Tea was taken at Leicester, and then we rang on the delightful ring at the Cathedral
Arriving back at Penn at about 11 p.m., it was agreed a good day had been had by all.

Our thanks to all incumbents and the ringers who met us also to Harry, our coach driver, who has now completed ten years of outings with Penn ringers. C.F W.E.

ST. PAUL'S, BURTON-ON-TRENI

A teisurely and very pleasant tour took in five of the best towers in the area of the Cotswolds. Double Norwich was rung at Charlton Kings and Bourton-on-the-Water: at Stratford-on-Avon a ladies' band was made up to ring the bells for a short time Last tower of the dav was Ledbury. where a high standard of ringing was maintained. matching the delightful weather. Mr. John Smith was responsible for the efficient organisation.

CENTRAL COUNCIL MEETINGS

Dear Sir.-I do not propose to reply point by point 10 the contributions of Messrs. Corby and Ainsworth because the time is inopportune to risk being drawn into lengthy correspondence. It may well be that either or borh have as a secondary motive the purpose of ascertaining whether the new broom has more bristles than hair

Mosl of the features had not been unobserved, and in particular the undesirable consequences of having to conduct the business meeting to an inconvenient timetable.

Obviously. the Council is unable to tell its hosts when and how they shall entertain but I do hope that in future it will be pos: sible for arrangements to permit the Council to give undivided attention to the whole of the agenda.-Yours sincerely,

VERNON BOTTOMLEY,  Secretary,

Central Council of Church Bell Ringers.

LOCAL VIEW

Dear Sir,-1 feel that some local comment is required concerning the "strict" timetable of the Central Council meeting at Bath. It does seem that an impression has arisen that insufficient time was allotted to the afternoon session of the Council and that it was umperative that the business be concluded as expediently as possible in order to enjoy the social arrangements to the full.

The timetable was agreed after careful study of the programme of recent years and, in fact, the Civic Reception was timed for a quarter of an hour later than those of 1965 and 1964 at Northampton and Truro. It was unfortunate that the meeting took place in a building that was open to the public and that the only room available for the reception was that in which the meeting rook place. Consequently the Spa Director had to insist that the room be cleared at 4 p.m. so that preparations be made. It was his suggestion that members might like to fill in the intervening period by viewing the Roman Baths. It was possible for the business to continue after the reception and the room was available for a longer evening session if required.-Yours faithfully,

GWILYM SALMON,
Secretary,
Bath and Wells Diocesan Assn,

TUTORS' HANDBOOK

Dear Sir.-The ladder to successful change ringing might be said to contain three main rungs:
(1) Handling a bell.
(2) Ringing a tell in time with several others, which involves correctness both (a) in dovetailing with the rest and (b) in leading.
(3) The basic essentials of change ringing itself.
One may say that all this is fairly obvious. In the ". Beginners' Handbook," however, whilst (1) and (3) form the main divisions, item (2) is treated as a subsidiary part of (1).

Considering its importance, would it now be more suitable to make this item a separate section, even though a smaller one? My own observations suggest that it would. Yours faithfully.

Wilmslow, Cheshire.

MANUAL FOR TUTORS

Dear Sir,-In the report of the proceedings of the recent meeting of the Central Council it is stated that "There is need for a companion to the 'Beginners' Handbook, catering for the instructor,' and that a Tutor's Handbook was called for. This was realised some ten years ago, and we would draw attention to the fact that such a book, i.e., Part 1 of the Ringers" Manual of Reference, was first published in 1957 and has run through two editions. It deals with "Bell Handling and Control in the Elements of Change Ringing" and is the first exposition of the teaching of the " mechanics " of method ringing, before ringing of the methods themselves is attempted It caters for beginner and tutor alike, and has been used successfully by tutors of this College in teaching up to the stage when method ringing can be readily performed on learning the structure of the method itself.

At the moment it is out of print, but a steady trickle of enquiries prompts our Administrative Committee to consider a third (again revised) edition. As a non-profit project these publications are a considerable financial responsibility, however, and a firm indication of demand is essential.

The development of progressive ability to ring methods of increasing difficulty is being dealt with in the projected Pait III of this Manual series-"An Introduction to Method Ringing on Tower Bells." Six other Parts are planned to follow.-Yours faithfully.
P. and P.R.O.,

Southsea.

WANTS FRONT PAGE CHANGE

Dear Sir, - The item "Christmas Card Bells" (page 232) seems an appropriate encouragement to "have a go " at the frontispiece of "The Ringing World." I am of the opinion that the time is overdue for change to something more in keeping with the bells used for change ringing.-Yours faithfully.
H. E. TAYLOR.

ISLE OF THANET WEDDING

There was a big gathering of ringers at St. Peter's-in-Isle of Thanet on June 11th for the wedding of two popular members of the Kent County Association. Mr. John D. Faircloth, former Ringing Master and "Ringing World " correspondent for the Lewisham District, and Miss Mary Taylor.

The Vicar, the Rev. T. E. Prichard, officiated. The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Major H. Taylor, wore a full-length white rose-designed brocade dress and carried a white prayer book and a spray of red rosebuds.
Mr. Gcofirey Fieiding was best man and Messrs. Ian Oram and Tony Lewis groomsmen. Among the ringers present were Kate and Andrew Macve, who had travelled from Buxton. Derbyshire, and Dave Manger and Jennifer Wright from Chelsfield. The reception at the Grand Ballroom Sun Lounge was attended by about 60 guests. In honour of the occasion a peal was rung at West Wickham. where John was a member of the local ham, where John was a membe band for a number of years.

CORNISH CORRECTIONS

When the Diocese of Truro was founded in 1877 the jurisdiction of the See comprised the whole of the county of Cornwall, the Isles of Scilly and three parishes in Devonshire, viz.: St. Giles-in-the-Heath ( 5 bells) with Virginstow (1). North Petherwyn (6) and Werrington (8). As from April ist this year North Petherwyn and Werrington have been transferred to Cornwall and that bulge of Devonshire into Cornwall has been eliminated. The line of the Rive: Tamar is the line of demarcation. Thus Cornwall gains a ring of six and a ring of eight to Devon's loss. Owners of "Dove" and peal ringers of the future please note!

Another correction to be made is that the five tubular bells at St. Peter's, Newlyn, have given place to one new bell of 2 cwt . supplied by Messrs. John Taylor and Co. Unfortunately the tiny tower will take no more, otherwise the Vicar, the Rev. H. E. Hosking, might have done better than this, for when Vicar of St. Mawgan-in-Pydar he completely restored the ring of eight there a few years ago

Yet one more correction. Dove's Directory lists St. Clether as "Unringable." On Whit Monday the peal band from St. Mary's, Launceston, less the three Central Council representatives who had departed for Bath but augmented by Mrs. Carveth, were guided by Alan Carveth to Laneast (a useful and pleasant six) and from there to St . Clether (a ring of five). Both rings come under the care of the same incumbent, who had given permission to ring them.
On arrival at St . Clether a typed note on the door to the beli-chamber was to the effect that the bells must not be rung until a new frame had been installed, but this must wait for more important undertakings to be completed. The first sight of an almost unused set of ropes was rather surprising. The key was obtained and the bell-frame inspected. Apart from birds having got partly through the wire mesh over one set of louvres, all was remarkably clean and the frame solid and apparently secure with fittings likewise. The bells were rung up singly, and then Alan remained aloft whilst they were rung in rounds. Such is always a moment of suspense, with the fear that tower and belis might momentarily collapse! As all seemed well a six-score of Grandsire was rung, and all that seemed needed was some oil. This will be taken on the next visit.

St. Clether originally possessed four bells, but the tenor was recast into two trebles to make a ring of five. The present fourth and tenor are pre-Reformation bells. The day ended with a visit to a field called Chapel Park not far from the church, where can be found the remains of an altar and the Holy Well and which is the largest well chapel in Cornwall.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Ashford District

Ahout 40 people attended the meeting at Appledore on the hot, thundery afternoon of June 11th. The service was conducted by the Vicar, the Rev. A. N. Towse, who gave a very interesting address about the history of the church. Tea was enjoyed at the Village Hall, organised by the Appledore ringers. Mr. J. Willis took the chair at the short business meeting at the conclusion of which a comprehensive vote of thanks was expressed by Mr. Phelips of New Romney.

Ringing continued until 9 p.m. but was not of a high standard in spite of the presence of the "Lurker" himself.

PIXIES AT OTTERY ST. MARY

According to legend the pixies who resided at Pixies Barlour at Ottery St. Mary, Devon, during the 15 th century, when the first bells were ordered for the Parish Church, hatched a terrible plot to get rid of those "horrid pieces of copper and tin," for the sound of bells is abhorred by pixies and such folk

A spell was cast, and the train of horsedrawn wagons bringing the bells to the church was diverted towards the high cliffs overlooking the sea at Ladram Bay. With the first wagon and its precious load about to plunge some 500 feet into the sea, the man leading the horse trod on a thistle and way heard to utter "God bless my soul and St Mary."

These words were the antidote to the spell apparently, and so at the last possible moment the bells were saved and the pixics defeated. Defeated at least for another year that is until the next Midsummer Day, when they would be able to try again to rid themselves of the sound of bells.

Each year the local inhabitants have been successful in outwitting the pixies and this year was no exception, although they iried their hardest. At 7 p.m, the bells were ringing merrily but within a few seconds hoards of screaming little folk dressed in yellow and green with funny pointed hats arrived at the church and the bells came to an abrupt stand The ringers, as if under a spell, emerged from the tower one by one and were immediately trussed up and taken away by the pixies to a cave which they had erected in the town square and where they were to be imprisoned for ever. When all hope seemed gone and the townsfolk were resigned to the fact that the bells of Ottery St. Mary would now. be silent for ever, one ringer who was being exceptionally harshly treated by one of the little folk uttered the now famous words "God hless my soul and St. Mary," and so the spell was broken for another year. The ringers escaped from the cave and hurried back to the tower and celebrated their fantastic escane by ringing a quarter peal of Stedman Trides.
Rumours heard by those "in contact" with the little folk during the weeks previous to their celebrations led them to persuade the tower captain. Charles Turner, to leave the town in order to avoid a nasty experience Normally this man would not let this sort of threat worry him, but even he could not afford to take a chance with the little folk. and it is no surprise that he left early on that very day for his annual holiday

 ASSOCIATIONThe quarterly meeting of the Chew Branch was held at Clevedon St. Andrew's (8) on June 18th. Ringing preceded the service which was conducted by the Vicar, Preb. T. P Nicholls, and afterwards the company enjoyed a splendid tea.

At the business meeting two new members were elected from Wraxall. Meetings, subject to permission, were arranged as follows: Quarterly. Nailsea (September): practice, Claptou-in-Gordano (July): joint with Frome Branch Farnborough (August).
Strong criticism was received that the An nual Report had not yet been received. It was stressed tinat members should have it before the annual meeting to give them the chance to study it beforehand. Excuses for the delay in its production came in for caustic comment

Further sharp criticism was levelled at the handling of the discussion on Rule 8 (Peal Booking Fees) at the annual meeting. Members pointed out that although the Association supported 'The Ringing World" by sending half the booking fee to the journal, this should not be a rule but subject to the decision of each annual meeting. A resolution to this effect was passed, for submission to the next A.G.M.

Two Branch members, both from Long Ashton. were singled out for special mention: Peter Brtdle. who had that day taken part in the latest record-breaking peal of Surprise Major in 70 methods, and John Gilbert, for his part in the arrangements for the C.C his part in the

At Keswick (8, 14 cwt.), the local organist demonstrated his instrument to those incerested, and methods rung here included Stedman. Cambridge and Kent, in which the local Ringing Master joined us. Th. following day some of the band rang Kt Kendal for morning service, and at Hawkshead hefors departing tor Keele.
Grateful thanks are due to the organiser Philip. C Kimber), to the drivers. cooks, local incumbents, North Staffs ringers, who swelled our numbers sufficiently to make the outing possible, and finally to all those people who met us

LECKHAMPTON. GLOS

Leckhampton. Glos. ringers made the most of a halfday outing on June 11th by a prompt start and good timekeeping.

The light six at Siddington are very noisy and after a brief visit the coach left the county, and passengers enjoyed typical Wilishire downland scenery en route to Bishops Cannings said to have the first octave in the county. The bells are impressive, although an alarming bump from the tenor is disconcerting.

Masien's Cafè. Calne. produced a most satısfactory tea. including the traditional Wiltshire cake The bells of St Mary's Church are three times the weight of our home tower, and we were content with standard methods to do iustice to these excellent bells

Feeling more at home at Malmesbury, we saught up $c$, the organiser's selected methods and rang Oxford Bob Triples and Little Bob Major The six at. North Cernev were last. and touches were suspiciously short when it became apparent that refreshment was very close at hand The final Cambridge Minor was much enjoyed by those ringing and the more tharsty listening

THE 1966 HEREFORD RINGING COURSE

IWONDER how long it takes for an annual event to become a tradition. The weekend ringing course held at Hereford at the end of April was the fourth to be held in this ancient cathedral city and, to judge from the enthusiastic comments of those who at tended it, it will certainly not be the last.

The course, held as usual at the Hereford Training College, was directed by Mr. W. F. Moreton with the able assistance of Mr. G. T. Cousins. Lecturers were Messrs. F. Sharpe. N Chaddock and C. A. Wratten, and the domestic arrangements were in the capable hands of Mr. A. T. Wingate. It is to these people that 40 ringers, from a very wide area, owe their thanks for an instructive and most enjoyable week-end. Indeed, when one considers the wide variety of age and ability in the "students." it speaks well of the teaching and organisation that everyone was asking at the end: "Will there be another course next year?"

The syllabus, ranging from the fundamentals of teaching and learning bell control through elementary change ringing on tower- and handbells. care and maintenance of bells and tune ringing to composition, was carefully planned to cater for the wide range of abilities and interests. There were also periods of practical work in the tower. In between all these sessions we did however manage to visit a local Chinese restaurant: admittedly this was due to a slight omission in the printed pro-gramme-or at least in the copy that was given to the cooks :-but it did enable us to enjoy the novel experience of having a meal in a restaurant without having to face a bill in the end.

But perhaps the outstanding feature of the week-end was the friendliness and enthusiasm that abounded. The lecturers had a sympathetic ear for all problems, a seemingly endless supply of patience and, above all. a dedication to the art that did not fail to inspire even the humblest to greater things. It is difficult to think of any other circumstances where the old, the young and-dare I say it?-the middle-ared work together in such harmony. The Hereford course is to be commended to all: long may it flourish.

BALDOCK RINGERS IN LINCOLNSHIRE

TT WAS 7.30 a.m. on June 11 th when the somewhat sleepy Baldock ringers clambered into their coach to journey to Lincoln and the surrounding district for their annual outing. Already on the coach were ringers from Kimpton, Hitchin and St. Ippolyts, as Baldock's outings have always been a District affair rather than just a tower outing.After two and a half hours' journey we stopped at Sleaford for morning coffee and then sampled the 19 cwt . eight. This groundfloor ring is somewhat unwieldy but when struck at a crisp pace go like the proverbial " tops."

The early morning mist was still lying around Lincoln Cathedral, high on its hillside, when we reached the city from the south side. We had first to ring at St. Giles' on the 18 cwt . eight, which are excellent to handle.
After lunch, ringers gathered at St. Hugh's tower. When the ringers reached the ringing chamber, after climbing a mere 126 steps, they were extremely pleased to find the bells up. Here was a fine ring of 12 , but due to the numbers of learners in the party only rounds were accomplished, but Stedman was obtained on the ten, and all enjoyed this musical ring.

Back to the coach, and now on to Newark. where the tenor of this ten brought beads of perspiration to the forehead of even Jack Dear-no easy bell this, although with the help of two local ringers Cambridge Royal was achieved. Tea followed.
Our last oort of call for the day was Caythorpe. The new incumbent informed us that a rope had broken. so we could only have seven bells Inspection revealed that the third indeed had no rope at all. but searching in the belfry brought a rove to light. which was then fitted to the bell. We now proceeded to ring this 10 cwt. eight up in peal, but. alas, the third refused to go more than halfway: still closer inspection showed that the Hastings stay was too long, and speedy removal of the offending stay permitted ringing to start. These bells are tuneful and reasonably easy going, but lack of use and disrepair may soon render them unusable.
It was a weary hut satisfied party of ringers that eventually disembarked in Baldock at an early hour on Sunday morning after a ston at Grantham. A truly excellent outing. well organised as usual hy Eddie Buck, to whom. logether with the incumbents, we extend our sincere thanks.

SALISBURY DIOCESAN GUILD

North Dorset Branch

A quarterly meeting of the North Dorset Branch was held at Shroton on June 18th. The bells were rung to a variety of methods. ranging from rounds to London Surprise Minor, before the service, conducted by the Master of the Guild, Rev. R. N. Longridge. with Mr. F Greenway (also a ringer) at the organ. The Rector. Rev. Dr. R. M. Taylor, gave a most helpful address, his theme being that we as Christians are all members one of another. Afterwards 30 members and friends, including visitors from Yeovil and Lyme Regis, sat down to a sumptuous tea, served by ladies of the church. At the business meeting eight new members were elected, including three under 17. A hearty vote of thanks was passed to those who had made the Branch so welcome. Further ringing was enjoyed both there and at Childe Okeford.

Marlborough Branch

Musical honours were accorded the Rev. R. Keeley at the monthly meeting of the Mariborough Branch at Chisledon on June 18th, when it was discovered that the day was his birthday. Roger officiated as Ringing Master for the afternoon and evening ringing.

Mr. G. Bowman (lay reader) conducted the service, with Mr. W. Drewitt as organist. A lavish Chisledon tea prepared and served by Mrs. Court, Mr. Bob Court and helpers was enjoyed.
At the business meeting, presided over by Mr. G. Newman, a hearty welcome was given to the visitors, who included Mr. Tony Peake, fresh from another record-breaking peal of 70 different Spliced Surprise Major methods accomplished that morning at Stratton St. Margaret Next three monthly meetings: Overton, Aldbourne and Burbage-with-Milton (subject to permission). Branch outing: September 24th, Lymington area of New Forest.

LAVENHAM RINGING ANNIVERSARY

On June 18th upwards of 50 ringers from Suffolk. Essex, Norfolk, Cambs, Lincs, Staffs and London attended the Lavenham ringing anniversary, the bells being kept going from 2.30 to 9 p.m., methods ranging from Plain Bob to Yorkshire Surprise. This also coincided with the Church Flower Festival, which attracted over 9,000 visitors during the weekend.

ELEGY-FOR A SOLEMN PARTING

(Sung on the departure of the Rev. Peter Bond from St. Augustine's, Gillingham)

There's a large clergyman we all very well know:

Singing Peter, oh Peter, oh Peter!
Three years he has been here, and now he must go Singing Peter, oh Peter, oh Peter!
Our hearts being broken, no tongue can express
The sorrow that fills them. Yet we must confess
The place will be quieter, nevertheless,
Without Peter, oh Peter, oh Peter.
The aylon surplice must go on its way With Peter, oh Peter, oh Peter;
The fishing-net underwear washed every day By Peter, oh Peter, oh Peter.
Of instruction on bell-ringing we are bereft.
To mend our clocks there's none so deft.

Now Gussie's slips gently back into its doze
Without Peter, oh Peter, of Peter.
A notable chapter we finally close
About Peter, oh Peter, oh Peter.
We suffer no longer that back-slapping zest:
"Believe you me! troubles no longer our rest;
But a laugh we may hear when the wind's west-nor'-west From Peter, oh Peter, oh Peter.
The Missions to Seamen are in for a shock From Peter, oh Peter, oh Peter,
Where the angel flies over Tilbury Dock
When the chaplain sets foot in a rather small boat,
We must all hold our breath: will it still stay afloat,
Or a splash and a wave and some bubbles denote That was Peter, oh Peter, oh Peter?

When at length Peter's called from this valley of woc. Crying Peter, oh Peter, oh Peter,
To his heav'nly reward we trust he will go
But we doubt not that, should he at length reach the gate,
Saint Peter himself will be forced there to wait
While our Peter explains seven times why he's lateKnowing Peter, oh Peter, oh Peter
To be sung to the tune of Tit Wiliow (from "The Mikado"). Gilbert and

SEVENTY-SEVEN AND BACK IN

HARNESS

Ringer; in East Devon will be extremely pleased to learn that the Branch vice-chairman. Mr. John Arbury (77) is back ringing again after an extremely serious operation It says much for his physical and mental ability that only two and a half months after undergoing the operation he celebrated his second visit to the tower by ringing the treble faultlessly to a quarter peal of Stedman Triples.

Brother James (75) on the tenor contributed much to this quarter by setting an excellent beat which was maintained throughout. When asked why he is able to set such a cracking pace, James attributes his fitness for most things to a regular pinch of snuff,

PEAL BAND CHANGED

It had been intended in the peal of Stedman Cinques at the Church of Our Lady and St. Nicholas. Liverpool, to ring it for the University of London Society, but one of the band was taken ill and felt he would not last the peal. Mr David Wilford, of the Liverpool University Society, stood in at an hour's notice and the band is very grateful to him for doing so

AN AMERICAN OUERY

Mr. Rick Dirksen points out that the quarter peal of 1,260 Doubles in two methods rung on Easter Day at Calgary, Alberta (page 279). was not the first quarter rung in North America in more than one method. He states that one in three methods was rung at Washington Cathedral on June 1st, 1965. He inquires if this was the first.
"Let me say I always look forward to 'The Ringing World and have no grumbles."-A Cornish reader.
Mr. Roy H. Jones informs us that the peal at Marston on January 15th was his 100 th peal for the Oxford Diocesan Guild and not his 100th.
Among interesting "plural" orders received for the new book "Method Structure in Change Ringing" are those from New Zealand and from the County Librarian. Norfolk Education Authority, for seven copies. They already have several copies of Part One of this series, "The Ringers' Manual of Reference."
Mr. F. Reed, R.A.F., Little Rissington, Glos, writes correcting the claim that the peal of London Surprise Royal at East Retford on June 4th (page 400) was the first in the method on the bells. The first was rung on method on the bells, The first was rung on August 26 th. 1950 , for the Yorkshire Association, conducted by the late James C. E. Simpson.

BELFRY GOSSIP

The ringer of the sixth in the peal of Yorkshire Surprise at Marple (page 471) was Alan F. Scholfield and not as submitted.
The peal of Double Norwich Court Bob Major at Bulwell on May 1st was 5,152 changes and not 5,040, as submitted.
Thirteen-year-old Timothy Hollis, son of the Vicar of Rotherham, rang the treble of the back eight there to his first peal on June 25th. He is the 40 th pupil of Mr. Norman Chaddock to reach this standard, almost invariablv in separate peals.
At Ruishton, Taunton, a birthday quarter peal was rung on June 22nd to Mr. R. F. peal was rung on June Arscott. His ten-year-old daughter, Sylvia, and 12 -year-old son, Adrian, both took pari while father kept a measured beat on the tenor.
We regret that details of a quarter peal of T.B. Royal at Southwark Cathedral on March 23rd had either been lost or overlooked while we were moving offices, as it was an engagement compliment to Deborah M. Hopkins and A. S. Bishop, who have both done much for the advancement of ringing in Metropolitan Surrey and S.W. London.
An interesting point about the peal at Croydon Parish Church on June 25th is that the last all-local peal was in 1953 and that it was the first peal of Grandsire Triples on the present bells, the previous one being in 1927 on the old eight. Incidentally. the local Society are proud of their title-The Ancient Society of Croydon Parish Church Belliringers (Est. 1730).

THE REV.  W. H. R. TREWHELLA'S

 JUBILEEThe Rev. W. H. R. Trewhella, who now lives in retirement at Penzance, celebrated the jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood on June 28th. Father Trewhella has bad a lifelong interest in bells and ringing and, apart froin serving his title at St. Margaret's, Barking, has spent all his ministry in Cornwall. He returned to his native county in 1918. when he went to Truro Cathedral as curate of St. Mary's Parish. After further curacies at St. Paul's, Truro, and St. Agnes. he became Vicar of Zennor and then returned to St. Paul's, Truro, as Vicar before moving to Crantock.
Father Trewhella has done much for ringing in Cornwall in his own quiet way. When curate of St . Paul's, Truro, he found a fund still in existence from the sale of a set of ten tubular bells. and persuaded the Vicar 10 install a beautiful 12 cwt. ringing bell io Taylors. Unfortunately in recent years the wheel has been dismantled because of fears for the safety of the tower.

At Zennor, Father Trewhella found three ancient bells and he at once had these restored and augmented to six. At Crantock he took over six bells of which the tenor only was hung for ringing, and had the whole restored as a usable ring. All this work is a sign that for over 30 vears the Trurn Diocesin Guild had a secietary whose interest in the bells of Cornwall never flagged and. further. Father Trewhella is one who can pride himself upon having rung on all the rings in the county capable of being rung.
In honour of the occasion a quarter peal of Bob Major was rung at Probus on June 18th.

MR. CHADDOCK'S WORK FOR YORK.

 SHIRE ASSOCIATIONMr. Chaddock, who, due to pressure of other commitments. recently gave up his vice-presidency of the Yorkshire Association, served six years in this office, nine on the General Committee and 16 on the District Committee.
Mr. Chaddock has trained 65 of his pupils from handling a rope to ringing their first 720 to qualify for membership of the Yorkshire Association. Most of these have gone on to ring a quarter pea! and 40 to ring a full peal. all these performances being conducted hy their tutor. Some of these ringers have constituted bands at four previously silent towers near Rotherham and some of them have taken part in recent outstanding achievements in Yorkshire ringing.

STOWMARKET BELLS AT THE ## FOUNDRY

Stowmarket bells were lowered last weekend and are now at John Taylor's foundry, Loughborough. In charge of the removal of the bells was Mr. Eric Fowler and he was assisted by a 19 -year-old apprentice, Stephen Key. A picture of the lowering of the 24 cwt . tenor appeared in the "East Anglian Daily Times " on June 22nd. Two of the bells are to be recast and the rest retuned and to have new clappers. Except for the pre-Reformation Sanctus bell, the tower will be silent for the best part of the year.
Stowmarket bells were last rehung in 1894 and the ringers have been wanting the bell chamber to be restored for the past 20 years. The work is estimated to cost $£ 1,600$ and nearlv all this sum has been raised by parish efforts plus a grant of $£ 250$ from the Barron Bell Trust One bell (the fourth) is 500 years old.

RETURN VISIT FROM GROTON

Two quarter peals were especially arranged for Mr. Thurston B. Clarke, Groton, Yale. and now of New York City, in England for a short visit. He was here previously in 1962 with Russell S. Young's party from Groton School.

PROGRESSIVE STEPS

Following the appointment of Mr. T. Timms as Ringing Master of the Chipping Norton Branch of the Oxford Diocesan Guild just over a year ago. regular monthly practices have been held at different towers throughout the Branch. Another innovation, starting at Burford on June 18th. is a series of quarter peal attempts with the object of giving members an opportunity to ring their first or first in the method The performance on the 18th enabled a first of Triples to be scored.

OKFORD GUIID FOUNDFR MEMBER'S BIRTHDAY

Sexton at St. Mary"s Church. Banbury. for over 20 years and a founder member of the Oxford Diocesan Guild. Mr. Frederick Selwyn. of 33, Castle Street East. Banbury, celcbrated his 95th hirthday on June 24th. Mr Selwyn was faught to ring at Bromsberrow, Glos. and was an active ringer until a few years ago.
On the eve of his birthday a quarter peal of Grandsire Caters was runs by the following members of the tower: J. M. Stretton 1. C. T. Wightman 2. Mrs. D. Bentley 3. J. E. F. Eastley 4. Mrs. M. O. ## EXCITING NEW GROUND IN RINGING

Headed "Scientific-but Attractive," Canon Gilbert Thurlow gives a comprehensive view of Wilfrid Wilson's book "Change Ringing " (Faber, 63s.) in the July issue of "The Norwich Churchman." He writes:
"Although it is a scientific textbook, it should prove attractive to the general readerto anyone who wishes to exercise his mind on a mathematical subject. Much of it is already familiar to the practised ringer, but chapters have a habit of attracting and encouraging the reader by their familiarity, and then of leading him on to exciting new ground.
"And Mr. Wilson has a happy knack of making abstruse matters seem easy. This is because he is himself thoroughly at home in all branches of the art. He has in the past written many valuable articles and books on ringing. and has proved a brilliant and popular lecturer at ringing courses-which are hecoming increasingly popular ai educational and youth centres.

Everywhere the reader is led to explore further for himself."

SALTER STREET, WARKS

Eventually there is a first peal by most local bands. To the many must be added that at St. Patrick's, Salter Street. Warks, where the first by the locals was scored on May 15 th. Miss B. E Jessop, the tower secretary, writes telling of the progress during the past tour years, when a very small band was only able to ring plain courses. Encouraged by the captain, Mr. R. H Hicken, and Dr. A. J. Collings, these recruits progressed and eventually a band was formed itas could ring touches of Grandsire.

Unfortunately Mr. Hicken and Dr Collings left the district but under a new captain. Mr. J H. Upton, the band carried on ho gaining experience through ringing in other churches. In reaching their ambition they were fortunate to have Mr. Hicken to return and ring in the neal with them. St Patrick's has now 12 regular ringers. all of whom are under 21 years of age. It is the neal ringers desire to train the others to peal status.

A HYMN FOR RINGERS AT DEDICATION

 SERVICEWords by Percy Amos. Tune, A. & M. 3S. Hallow Lord our bells to Thee.
Given to Thy service be.
Those who ring and those who hear. Ever to Thyself draw near.
Rlest. annointed by Thy hand.
Sound their tongues throughour the land.
Guard their use from acts profane,
Rendered only to Thy name.
Consecrate the hands that ring.
To the church all people bring.
Use them as the holy dove.
Tell forth Thy redeeming love.
love of Thee, their God. their Lord,
Graces send with one accord.
To the sick, bereaved and lone.
May they, Saviour be Thine own.
