OUR PICTURE

St. Martin-in-the-Fields, London

THE church of St. Martin-in-the-Fields presides, as it were, at the north-east corner of Trafalgar Square, one of the greatest and most famous squares in the world, and there can be little doubt that it is world-famous both from its situation and from the many broadcast services to all parts of the globe.

There is no record of when the first church was built, but it was certainly in existence by 1222 as a church and burial ground in the parish of St. Margaret, Westminster. At that time it was literally in the fields by the village of Charing; it may have been a chapel for the monks from the Abbey of Westminster, travelling to Covent Garden, or the chapel to one of the great religious houses nearby, or possibly a chapel to the castle which traditionally stood nearby.

There are no drawings in existence of the first church and one can only speculate on its design from items listed in the churchwardens' accounts which start in 1525. There was a rood loft decorated with carved figures of "Christ, Our Lady and the twelve Prophets," for which the carver was paid £3 6s. 8d. The windows were of stained glass with figures of the Trinity and saints. There must have been a tower of some sort for there are listed in the inventory four bells, including a sanctus bell which the sexton had to ring at 5 a.m. every day. The other three bells cost less than £20 according to the accounts for 1539.

The first church must have been very small indeed, even though enlarged by three chapels dedicated to Our Lady of Pity, St. John and St. Cuthbert, for when it was pulled down in 1544 a new and larger one was built measuring 95ft. by 25ft.—about one-third the size of the present church. There is no record of celebrations at the consecration of the new church, but this is probably related to a bad outbreak of plague that year. St. Martin's had become a parish of its own during the reign of Henry VIII, but when this church was built there were still fields all around. Just behind the churchyard was the wall of Covent Garden which stretched from St. Martin's Lane to Drury Lane; there was little between the church and the River Thames, at that time the main highway of London, just a row of houses on the north side of the Strand; and on the south the great houses of the bishops and noblemen with gardens stretching down to the river's edge.

RANG FOR ARMADA

The second church is shown in Vertue's prints to have had a low square tower which contained a ring of six bells hung in 1584, of which no details are known. These were the bells rung to announce the victory over the Armada, and traditionally the bells of St. Martin's are the first to ring for a naval victory, as it is the parish church of the Lords of the Admiralty. The fact that the church was near the river led the churchwardens into trouble on one occasion when Queen Elizabeth I travelled up the river, as she often did, but the bells failed to ring out as she expected them to every time she passed and the Queen's harbinger posted a notice on the door forbidding it to open until a fine of one noble (6s. 8d.) had been paid.

By the end of the seventeenth century the population of the parish had so increased that the size of the church was again becoming inadequate in spite of several enlargements during the preceding years. An Act of Parliament was passed to permit rebuilding and the architect chosen was James Gibbs. The foundation stone was laid by the Bishop of Salisbury on March 19th, 1722, and various problems ensued during the rebuilding, not the least of which was with the foundations of the portico, as a stream ran down St. Martin's Lane. This was eventually solved by setting several hundred tombstones in mortar to form the foundations under the portico and part of the tower. It is interesting to note that similar problems with this stream were encountered with the recent building of the General Post Office next to the Vicarage. The cost of building this church was £33,611 16s. 7½d., most of which was raised by a levy included in the Act authorising rebuilding.

GEORGE I—CHURCHWARDEN

There have been strong connections between St. Martin's and the Royal Family ever since the assumption of Whitehall Palace as the official royal residence, and there are a number of records of church ornaments and hangings being given by various Sovereigns. George I contributed to the building of the present edifice, and became its first churchwarden, the only time a reigning Sovereign has held such a position in a British church. His arms are over the portico and incorporated in the ceiling, and when he resigned he presented an organ to the church. Buckingham Palace is itself within the parish of St. Martin and in more recent times Queen Mary often worshipped in the royal box, and Viscount Linley was baptised there, using the font which is the only relic of the second church in the present building.

The present magnificent tower and spire contain a ring of twelve bells by Rudhalls of Gloucester, although it was originally intended to have only eight. On November 3rd, 1724, a ring of eight was ordered from Abraham Rudhall. On December 8th, two further bells were ordered and before the work was begun the following year two more were ordered to make a ring of twelve. Subsequently, the trebles had to be recast but the work remained with Rudhall. The tenor weighs 31½ cwt. and is in the note of D. In 1923 the bells were rehung in a new frame by Mears and Stainbank.

THE ROYAL CUMBERLANDS

Record Gathering Hear Good Report for Year

NINE Presidents or Masters of Ringing Guilds or Associations came to the annual dinner of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths at Church House Restaurant, Westminster, on February 3rd to bring their good wishes to the Master (Mr. D. Beresford) and the Society. They were the Presidents of the Central Council, the Leicester Diocesan Guild and the Bedfordshire Association, the Masters of the College Youths, Suffolk Guild, London County Association, Middlesex County Association, Sussex County Association and Surrey Association. And what they heard was of good report—number and quality of peals, membership and financial status of the Society. There was no sign of slipping from the pinnacle of last year; indeed there were more ringers at the dinner than ever before.

In the forefront of endeavour was the Society's efforts to support the £20,000 restoration scheme for St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, which includes the recasting of the 12 bells. The Master re-echoed his nationwide appeal for support to augment the good response already received. He had spent a week of his holiday leading a party who scraped and painted St. Leonard's bell frame.

Two valuable suggestions were made by Mr. Beresford—a conference of London Ringing Societies with the Church authorities on the question of derelict or unringable bells or those badly in need of attention in London, and the establishment of a national trust for restorations. Between 50 and 100 restorations were needed each year. This was not being done; a disastrous situation would arise in 20 to 30 years' time, he warned.

The Master, in his welcome to the company, said their guests included nine Masters or Presidents of Guilds, Associations or the Central Council. He apologised for the absence of the Vicar of Shoreditch and Mr. W. R. Winterton, who was in Beirut.

The toast of "The Church" was submitted by Mr. E. A. Barnett, who prefaced his remarks with a quotation from a meeting notice in an old "Ringing World" which read: "Mr. E. A. Barnett will give a talk on place notation and ringing will continue in the belfry for those not interested in the talk." He was sorry the Master had not made such an arrangement that evening for those not interested in his speech, as there was a fairly heavy eight nearby with plenty of hard work.

This crack at the recent Westminster Abbey controversy was not lost on the company. When the laughter subsided Mr. Barnett drily observed: "I was referring to St. Stephen's, Rochester Row."

Mr. Barnett based his speech on two questions: What does the rest of the Church think of ringers? and What do ringers think of the Church? The former was presented in an editorial in "The Ringing World" before the day of Mr. White as editor: "The clergy, and we must include churchwardens and the P.C.C.—the clergy do not evince that interest in the ringers that the latter think is their right to expect. Of course, there are notable exceptions." The article went on: "We do not suggest that ringers' habits of churchgoing are beyond reproach but how often do the clergy visit the belfry to encourage regular attendance?"

BUTTRESSES OF THE CHURCH

Commented Mr. Barnett: "In a ringing career now in its 41st year I have known some five incumbents of my own church and with one exception—and his father happened to be a noted ringer—I am sorry to say that none of them has shown any particular interest in our doings. It is not as if their ringers had been divorced from the whole Church. If we have not been pillars of the Church it could be said we have been buttresses and supported the Church from the outside."

To the question of what ringers thought of the Church he said the answer was "Not much." If any of them went into another belfry he was sure they would receive a hearty welcome, but of how many church congregations could that be said? The Church had survived many attacks from the outside, but would it survive those attacks like those of the Trojan heroes, from within?

Coupled with the toast was the name of the Rev. Austen Williams, Vicar of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields. Last year the people of St. Martin's presented a set of handbells to the Society, and as a compliment to the Vicar the well-known Welsh hymn "Cym Rhondda" was played before he spoke. Previously Mr. Williams had described the hymn as his philosophy of life.

The Vicar recalled the scene some 12 years ago when he stood in the porch of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields and listened to the Archdeacon saying that he would ring a bell to signify that he had taken corporate possession of all the rights, dignities and appurtenances of the Royal Parish Church of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, and after that "the trumpets shall sound."

The sound of the bell announced his coming and that sound had been with him for 12 years of battling with the rights, dignities and appurtenances and they had been far more baffling than he reckoned. But the sound of the one bell he rang seemed so inadequate compared with the other bells. To him the sound of the bells at St. Martin's was a companionship. It was a companionship not just of sound but it was a companionship which meant people and despite what had been said by the proposer of the toast the bells meant a companionship with the ringers. He realised that in some senses their bellringing was a hobby and a pleasure, but it was very much more: it was their faithfulness to the Church expressed with a devoted skill which he envied. If only he could make his words sound with such precision as their bells when they rang. He thanked them for what they had done with such skill and such devotion. It was a real companionship as he lived with the bells at St. Martin's and they had marked out his life for 12 years.

The speech was followed by a selection played on handbells by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hudson and other Essex ringers, which included "Can-Can" from "Orpheus in the Underworld," "Grandfather's Clock" and "Jesu, joy of man's desiring."

EARLY EDUCATION

The toast of "The Society of Royal Cumberland Youths" was proposed by Canon Gilbert Thurlow, who claimed to be the first non-Cumberland to propose it. For the occasion he delved into his almost inexhaustible stock of stories. "The Cumberlands," he declared, "is a great Society. Ernest Morris says your name book begins in 1747 and each member signs his name showing that he is a man of education. What is education? In 1747 it was largely the four R's—the 3 R's plus the rod to drive them. This was the method Dr. Busby, the previous head of Westminster school, adopted except that his rod drove in the Classics rather than the three R's."

Obviously those educated in ringing have advantages over others. Edward Osborne, who became a Cumberland in 1824, recorded how seven men met at an inn, liked it and offered the hos £30 if they could stay to dinner every day provided they sat in different positions. Thinking that so few could not sit in many different positions mine host took them on and made himself the eighth. How long did they stay? Answer: 110 years 142 days and they could sit in 40,320 different positions.

"It is grand in these difficult days to know that the Cumberlands are flourishing as never before. There are 215 here tonight—a record. You average today about 25 new members a year, far more than you lose each year. Your bank balance has more than doubled in the last five years. It is obvious from the quality of your peals and the quantity that the standard is going up."

PAINTING SHOREDITCH FRAME

Commending the efforts of the Society towards the restoration of St. Leonard's, Shoreditch, bells, Canon Thurlow said their Master with others spent a week of his holiday in scraping the frame of Shoreditch bells and then painting it. The Master had a number of things on his mind. Perhaps the most prominent was the silent bells in that great city, and they had a rota by which they rang bells in towers hitherto silent on Sundays. Some were silent through lack of ringers, others because the congregation had not the guts to raise the money for their repair or give the bells to another church to provide an activity for others.

Concluding, the president of the Central Council said: "You have a great past. You have, we all hope, a great future. As a firm believer in your future, in that of the Exercise and in the power of our faith our bells proclaim, to survive the absurdities of today and to rebuild men and civilisation in the future, I give you the toast of 'The Royal Cumberland Youths'."

The Master, who was warmly received on rising to reply, said the health and strength of the Society was indicated by the attendance at the dinner and meetings of the Society. That day they had another record of 215 people present. They would have had a full capacity attendance but snow prevented Leslie Weller making the journey from Scotland, and Ted Martin and Ralph Edwards also could not be with them.

The innovation of their country meeting was proving a great success. This year, at Northampton, George Roome and his ringers arranged a splendid day for the Society. This year they were visiting Cambridge on April 6th and were hoping for another successful day. Pealwise they recorded exactly the same number as in 1966, a total of 26. They scored a number of notable firsts for the Society—Claybrook, Leatherhead and Londonderry, the first peal of 15 spliced with all the work and 16 and 18 methods; also the first peal of Hertford. They were very pleased to note the peals rung for the Society by non-London bands—in Kent, Sussex and Lincolnshire.

SOCIETY OF HIGH STANDING

By a coincidence the number of new members in 1967 was exactly the same as in 1966 and by a further coincidence the same as the number of peals. They were very pleased at the standard of people asking to join the Society and they hoped that the new rule of membership adopted at the annual general meeting after full discussion at meetings would make it clear that theirs was a Society of high standing and give them a sense of pride in belonging to it. He wanted to say how encouraged the older members were to have with them that evening Arthur Mason, who joined the Society 50 years ago, and also a pre-war secretary, Mr. Norman Summerhayes.

They were happy indeed that the Vicar of Shoreditch had, with great enthusiasm, launched his restoration scheme for the church, costing ultimately £20,000, including the restoration of the fine ring of 12. There would be a more appropriate time at the dedication to express their very sincere thanks to the many people who had given donations. Bearing in mind the very large sum required, they would be extremely grateful for any further donations.

LONDON BELLS

In a reference to London bells, the Master said he felt this subject should be considered in depth by the London Societies with the authorities involved. There were a score of towers where the bells were either derelict, unringable or badly in need of attention by the bellfounders. Surely with some imagination and co-operation some of these bells could be restored. There were, of course, problems in the transfer of property from one church to another, but surely, where bells had been silent for decades, the sale of bells to help another church, to be repaid over a long period, some scheme could be worked out.

This same problem existed also on a national scale. With 5,000 rings of bells in the country, it would be anticipated that with a life of 50-100 years for each installation some 50-100 major restorations would take place each year. But this was patently not so, and they were therefore heading for a disastrous situation in 25-30 years' time. Again this required imaginative thought, and one suggestion would be the establishment of a charitable trust which could guarantee a donation of about £500 to 30 or so churches a year from investment income. This would require handling nationally and require a great deal of preparatory work, but was worth a great deal of consideration.

The speech was followed by a well-struck touch of Stedman Cinques by E. A. Barnett 1-2, Joan Beresford 3-4, D. Beresford 5-6, D. E. Sibson 7-8, P. Beresford 9-10, J. A. D. Woolford 11-12.

The junior steward, Mr. J. A. D. Woolford, proposed the toast of "The Visitors." He had a special word of welcome for Mr. Arthur Mason, the oldest ringer present, who is now 76, and Mr. Harry Stracey, of Stratton, Cornwall.

Mr. P. A. Corby, the Master of the Ancient Society, replied.

Proceedings concluded with the Master expressing his thanks to Mr. D. E. Sibson for organising the function.

HIS SOLUTION

Dear Sir.—Your recent correspondence regarding ringing at Westminster Abbey has prompted me to put forward my own opinion, and offer what I think a reasonably fair solution to the problem.

As an appreciator of good ringing, I feel that it would be utterly wrong if the high standard of striking maintained when the Abbey bells are rung was relaxed too much, but at the same time I think it wrong that the "closed shop" attitude should prevail. I would suggest, therefore, that a compromise would be the answer, i.e. to have a prescribed band to ring on Sundays and on State occasions, and to have open days during the year with a competent Ringing Master in charge arranging various touches and selecting ringers to take part therein, with the best possible striking in mind.—Yours faithfully,

CHRISTOPHER H. JONES.

OBITUARY

MR. T. VAUGHAN

The death, earlier this month, of Thomas Vaughan has severed one of the last links with the early days of change ringing in Breconshire.

Mr. Vaughan learned to handle a bell at the four-bell tower at Llandefalle, where, unfortunately, the bells have been silent for many years. On moving to the parish of St. Peter's, Glasbury, he was invited to join the local band. At that time they were engaged in the mastery of Grandsire, which they later succeeded in ringing to a number of peals in their own tower. Like so many of his colleagues, Tommy Vaughan's ringing was interrupted by the first world war, although he resumed the art on his return. Although he rang a number of quarter peals of Grandsire on an "inside" bell, his peal ringing was limited to the treble or tenor, his total being eight.

In the bleak years which followed the last war, Mr. Vaughan was elected captain of the local band and quickly built up a band of young ringers. Unfortunately, as in many rural areas, most of the younger folk had to leave the area to find work, and Mr. Vaughan's band melted away. In the last few years a new band has been formed and, although ill-health prevented Tommy from ringing with them, he was always delighted to hear of their progress and, even more so, to hear the music of the bells he loved. May his soul rest in peace.

MR. ALFRED C. WRIGHT

An Appreciation.

Mr. Alfred C. Wright, who was hon. secretary of the Midland Counties Association from 1919 to 1925, died at Darley Dale, Derbyshire, on November 11th, aged 82. It was only in his last year that he had any illness. H. E. T. sends us the following appreciation:

Although not a regular member of the Darley Dale band since 1922, Alfred never failed to give a hand when requested and was always happy to attend a local ringing meeting.

He started to ring at St. Helen's, Darley Dale, in the year 1902; the same year the bells were rehung in a metal frame and a new treble and tenor added to the old six. After spending a few years in the South of England he returned to join a strong local band about 1911. He rang his first peal, Grandsire Triples, in 1912.

The years 1913-14 saw Darley Dale among the leading towers in the Association, due in no small measure to the endeavours of Alfred C. Wright. Although he preferred to ring even-bell methods he conducted several firsts in the Triples methods for the Midland Counties Association, including St. Clement's, St. Simon and Double Grandsire, all rung at Darley Dale. He rang exactly 100 peals for the Midland Counties Association; many of these were with the Bolsover and Chesterfield companies with such ringers as Arthur Knights, John Flint and Sam Thomas, and with Harold Poole and Fred Dexter in the Leicester districts. At Chesterfield Parish Church on January 12th, 1921, he rang the 7th to the first ever peal of Yorkshire Surprise Royal—composed and conducted by Sam Thomas.

CANNOT FORESEE CHANGE OF POLICY — The Dean

FOLLOW ST. PAUL'S LEAD

Dear Sir,—I have read with some interest the correspondence on Westminster Abbey. Mr. Pitstow's letter was well worth waiting for; he had obviously been to some trouble to answer the critics and his letter was well written and contained a wealth of information to ringers ignorant of the customs at Westminster Abbey.

I can back him up in what he says, as on January 19th I wrote to the Dean and received his reply, which endorses all that Mr. Pitstow has said.

My own feelings on the matter are that it is a great pity that the Dean and the Abbey ringers cannot follow the lead of the other London Cathedral, St. Paul's, where ringing on a Sunday and at the monthly Tuesday night practice is again of the highest order, and under the leadership of the Master of the College Youths relax their rules so that the bells may be available once every six weeks for a two-hour practice.—Yours, etc.,

G. K. DODD.

Woolton Hill, Newbury.

From the Dean of Westminster Abbey.

Dear Mr. Dodd,—Thank you for your letter and for the newspaper cutting, which I return. The secretary of our Abbey ringers, Mr. Pitstow, is dealing with the objections which have been raised to what some ringers regard as the Abbey's "closed shop." Meanwhile, though I regret the necessity of disappointing you, I must say that I do not foresee any change in the policy of the Dean and Chapter with regard to the ringing of the bells.

It is the uniqueness of the Abbey and the fact that at the very large number of special services on week-days the bells are constantly ringing and the necessity in this part of London that the ringing of the Abbey bells should betoken a special event which are some of the guiding principles in the Dean and Chapter's traditional policy.—Yours sincerely,

ERIC ABBOTT.

Dean of Westminster.

WHINE OF A PAMPERED CHILD

Dear Sir,—Having resisted the temptation to comment on the original letter regarding Westminster Abbey bells—it brought to mind the whine of a pampered child, having been refused what it wanted—I write now in support of the Abbey authority and ringers.

Being a self-confessed lover of many of the quickly-disappearing traditions connected with this country, together with certain of their privileges, I heartily endorse the decisions of the Dean and Chapter concerning this particular ring of bells and would also include St. Paul's Cathedral.

In this day and age when so many people seem to consider that everything they want is their due, this type of controversy is to be expected. Surely there are enough available towers, inside and outside the Metropolis, with bells varying in tone, weight and number, to satisfy tower grabbers and tour organisers without them hankering after the churches known to be steeped in custom and, as in the case of the Abbey, inseparable with Royalty.

Tradition is dying, and I have little doubt that within a year or two "Percy's Pealers" or "Bertie's Bats" will triumphantly have added the Abbey to their conquests.

Thank you for your logical and anticipated explanation, Mr. Pitstow, and be ready now for the jibes regarding the "Royal Peculiar."—Yours faithfully,

D. J. BEACH.

Greasley, Nottingham.

RINGING WOULD BE BAD WITH VISITORS

Dear Sir,—Our major churches are naturally great attractions for touring bands and casual ringers, and the bells are in much greater demand than those of lesser churches. In any tower where a high standard of ringing is maintained an open to all policy brings a great deal of heartache, particularly when the bells are difficult to ring and the Vicar or Dean is sensitive to bad ringing. I know nothing of the ringing standard at Westminster Abbey but it is certain that without restrictions the Abbey would never be free from visiting ringers and the ringing would be bad.

None the less a rigid and unwavering closed shop principle is unfair and wrong, irrespective of the ability of the resident band, but if it is to be changed a well reasoned letter on behalf of the Central Council would be the best procedure, as has been suggested.

Since the ringing arrangements at the Abbey are a matter for the Abbey authorities and ringers themselves to decide, and there is no requirement for them to give any explanation or excuse, the only response likely to recent excited and extravagant letters in "The Ringing World" would be that the writers should mind their own business. One wonders why six signatures have to appear under one of these objectionable letters? Are they a self-appointed committee with the abhorrent idea that everyone must be made to conform to their narrow-minded views, or are they too timid to take the full responsibility for their transparent nonsense?

There is one reason only for immature outbursts, and that is the desire to add just one more tower and abbey to their tower lists. If the writers' concern that bells are not being rung for service is so great I am quite sure they could find a tower much closer to their own homes where their consciences could be saved, where they might be able to help and where they might even be welcome.—Yours faithfully,

GEORGE EVENDEN.

Maidstone.

SUNDAY RINGING PLEA

Dear Sir,—Working within earshot of Westminster Abbey, I should like to make some observations on the present situation concerning the ringing there.

The bells are rung on average about once a week, but one hears, not infrequently, only seven bells being rung, and the standard of ringing is not always of the highest quality. There must surely be enough ringers working within reach of the Abbey who, if invited, would be pleased and proud to ring for services, thereby ensuring a full band.

One appreciates that the present system of chiming the bells for Sunday services is an historic one, and must be preserved. But would it be too much to ask that the bells be rung for one service each Sunday—possibly Matins, which would not clash with ringing at St. Margaret's? This Sunday ringing could be by visiting bands upon application and subsequent approval by the Abbey authorities.—Yours faithfully,

JANET E. SMITH.

London, N.W.

"REMOVE THIS ANOMALY"

Dear Sir,—First I must take Mr. E. Barnett to task for his remarks about the breaking of a stay at Westminster Abbey in 1936. To state that a visitor who was involved in this pure accident showed "no respect for other people's property" is little short of libellous, as it insinuates that visiting ringers are vandals. As it happened over 30 years ago, one fails to see what it has to do with the present situation.

With regard to Mr. Pitstow's letter, I am now more than ever convinced that neither he nor the Abbey ringers wish or intend to change this unsatisfactory state of affairs, nor have they made any effort to do so, despite the widespread feelings of dissatisfaction among ringers on this issue. Mr. Pitstow uses the "red herring" of a document of the 1600's to support his argument. That is now history and is totally irrelevant. Ringers and ringing everywhere have changed completely since then—except at the Abbey!—and travelling to and from the belfry is easier than it was three centuries ago! No, Mr. Pitstow, you cannot hide behind these old traditions. When traditions become manifestly outdated, then new ones must be established.

I fail to see what Dean Ryle's past dictates have to do with 1968. The present Dean, Dr. Eric Abbott, is a most enlightened prelate, and would not take a bigoted, narrow-minded and reactionary view if the position were properly and objectively presented to him. A copy of the letter we sent to "The Ringing World" was posted to the Dean, and in his reply he stated: "The Dean and Chapter of Westminster would never wish to be exclusive in any wrong sense." It is now up to the Exercise to press the Dean to receive a representative (or a deputation), who would convince him that ringers do feel that the Abbey authorities are exclusive in the wrong sense. Who better could one suggest than our Central Council president, Canon Thurlow?

Visiting choirs sing at the Abbey services, as Mr. Pitstow himself admits. Is it not wholly illogical, inconsistent and unjust that there should be this discrimination against bell-ringers, who are, equally with choristers, servants of the Church of Christ?

I appeal to all ringers who feel the injustice and anachronism of the Abbey's attitude to ringing to write to the Dean in force and ask him to take steps to remove this anomaly despite any protestations from his own self-satisfied band. Until the Abbey authorities are made to realise what the mass of ringers feels, nothing will be changed.—Yours faithfully,

W. BIRMINGHAM.

Stoke Poges, Slough.

P.S.—Why should the Dean have invited only three London Societies to ring for the Abbey's 900th anniversary? Has he not heard of any other Associations, or did his ringers not enlighten him? The Abbey belongs to us all, not to London only!—W. B.

FREE FOR ALL

Dear Sir.—Mr. H. N. Pitstow's letter only confirms what the more informed of us have known for many years. What Mr. Pitstow failed to say, however, was that under the present system the ringing produced is of a fairly high standard.

It would be a retrograde step to provide "free for all" ringing occasions at the Abbey. Nevertheless there is, I believe, a case to be made for allowing visitors to partake in the ringing on certain occasions. This could be done by the issue of tickets, say two or three at a time, to competent ringers, on application. I cannot see that this would offend either the Dean or the ringers, or interfere with any payment the ringers may be entitled to.—Yours, etc.,

K. R. HOLTOM.

Byfield, Northants.

REDUNDANT BELLS

Dear Sir,—The following have been reported to me as being for disposal:

Exeter.—St. Edmund's, 8 bells, 14 cwt.
Brentford.—St. Lawrence's, 6 bells, 11½ cwt.
Southwark.—Holy Trinity, 8 bells, 20 cwt.
Marlborough.—SS. Peter and Paul's, 8 bells, 13 cwt.

Stamford.—St. Mary's, 8 bells, 15 cwt.
Stamford.—St. Michael's, 6 bells, 13 cwt.
Norwich.—St. John's, Maddermarket, 6 bells, 10 cwt.

Morrison, Swansea.—St. John's, 6 bells, 9 cwt.

Privett, Hants.—Holy Trinity, 8 bells, 12 cwt.

High Halstow, Kent.—St. Margaret's, 5 bells, 10½ cwt.

West Tofts, Norfolk.—St. Mary's, 8 bells, 12 cwt.

Anybody with a scheme for rehousing any of these bells should write to me in the first place. Information has already been given about some of these bells and it may be that preliminary approaches have been made to effect a rehousing. If the register is to fulfil its purpose it is important that I should be advised of any movements which take place.—Yours faithfully,

Secretary,

APSLEY SURPRISE

Dear Sir,—I am afraid I must plead "not guilty" to being responsible for Kingsley Mason's false peal of Apsley. Mr. Mason says that he used Middleton's composition on the authority of my "Collection of Surprise Compositions" but he has evidently misread his copy.

The collection contains three peals that are true to Apsley, one by Dennis Knox and two by R. F. B. Speed, and a note against Apsley in the list of methods refers the reader to these and to these only.

Mr. Mason has either misread the note to read Peal No. 6 (Middleton's) instead of a reference to Footnote No. 6, or has taken Peal No. 26 (Middleton's in another form) instead of No. 25, which is Dennis Knox's composition.

Sorry, Kingsley—'twasn't me.—Yours faithfully,

CYRIL A. WRATTEN.

Charlton Kings.

A METHODIST HANDBELL TEAM

Dear Sir,—Reference the article in "The Ringing World" of January 12th on handbell teams, and in particular the paragraph on the team from Hope Baptist Church, we would point out that there has been a similar team of Methodist handbell ringers in existence for a number of years in Harwich. They still give programmes of Methodist hymns and carols at meetings in many of the local churches. —Yours faithfully,

P. ANDREWS (Mrs.),
Secretary,

St. Nicholas' Bellringers, Harwich.

PROUD OF THE LADIES' GUILD

Dear Sir,—I would like to correct some misstatements in Ian Smith's letter on page 8. First, he implies that membership of the Ladies' Guild occupies so much of a lady's time and ability that she is not able to support her local territorial Association as well. This is quite untrue, and in my experience it is the same group of ringers, ladies and gentlemen, who attend both territorial and non-territorial Associations in an area.

Furthermore, what is the purpose of the Ladies' Guild? Surely it is, as with the Policeman's Guild and the Railwaymen's Guild, to bring together people throughout the country who have something in common—in this case their sex. I certainly do not feel I could do more to improve the standard of Sunday service ringing if I resigned my membership of the Ladies' Guild. I am proud of it, for we are still a minority and considered inferior by a number of so-called gentleman ringers.

With regard to the poor attendance at the Sussex District meeting, every area and every tower has its ups and downs, and it is unfair to blame this on lack of support for the Guild. There must be many places which bemoan the fact that a few years ago Surprise Major was rung on Sundays, whereas now they can barely manage Plain Bob Doubles.

I feel there is no case for disbanding the Ladies' Guild, and I resent the statement that it is "dying a slow and dismal death."—Yours faithfully,

CELIA F. H. D'AETH.

Southport, Lancs.

ODD-STRUCK BELLS

Dear Sir,—Referring to Mr. Paul Ebsworth's idea of tapered steel washers (page 62) I fail to agree that a washer with a round hole to fit a square shank would not be satisfactory as it could turn round if the castle nut became loose and make the bell more odd-struck than ever. I have dealt with this for some years and I find that if a leather washer is fitted correctly and the castle nut kept tight there would be no movement to cut and wear the leather washer away. It is the crevice between the square shank and the square hole in the bell that needs taking up; you will find the hole in the crown of the bell is 1/16th in. to 3/32nd in. oversize.

I should like to suggest my idea of fitting a leather washer. Firstly, get a piece of leather ¼ in. thick or as near as possible; soak overnight so that it is pliable, cut a piece two inches round and cut a square hole in the centre 1/8th of an inch less than the thickness of the shank, so that you have to use force to get it in position down the shank. Then put in the clapper and screw the castle nut finger-tight only; next centre the clapper by means of a tape measure. When that is done, screw up castle nut tight, but don't put cotter in, as you will find after a day or so that you can get another half-turn on the nut. Then secure with cotter pin and keep the nut at that tightness. You will find it will give no more trouble.—Yours truly,

E. F. GOBEY.

Ilkeston.

ARE YOU THE RIGHT MAN IN OFFICE?

Dear Sir,—1968 is here, and throughout the country bellringers will shortly be electing their officers to represent them through the year. It so often happens that people are reluctant to stand for office; no doubt we all have our reasons, but how often we hear: "Not willing to stand", and not always has the person nominated really tried to make the time for the job. May I, through your pages, in the interests of ringing, appeal to all ringers to try to fulfil their obligations?—someone obviously thinks you are the right person for the job.

May I also ask those at present in office, particularly if you fill that most important post of tower captain, to ask themselves if they are still the right person? Let us have a bit of soul-searching from you. It is generally accepted now that the captain does not have to be the best ringer, although in my opinion he should be comparable to his better ringers; but it is necessary that he should be the best captain, and on his ability to lead and organise his band, to train and hold his recruits, shall he be judged. How often have captains been appointed with not really enough thought and how often, once in the saddle, do they sit oblivious to changing circumstances while the band struggles on with nobody willing to displace "Old Bert" or "Old John" for fear of hurting his feelings—perhaps all hoping he will surrender his office to allow a new surge of lifeblood into the band, and hoping in vain. Tower captain for the good of your band, please ask yourself are you the right man to be "kingpin", for that is what the office is. If you are not, are you big enough to hand the reins over and support the new man—indeed, are you big enough to propose him?

An afterthought for the band: when you get your man, or if you already have him, do you give him the support he deserves? Don't let him crash himself against a brick wall of apathy; instead feed him with your enthusiasm and loyalty that he may rise to greater things and take his band along with him. If we all do this, no more will bellringing be spoken of as a dying art.—Yours, etc.,

NON-ASPIRANT.

NEMPNETT TRIPLES

Dear Sir,—I am reminded by the 1967 "Index" that no one has queried the peal of Nempnett Triples (page 588). Nempnett places are made in 7-8 (first peal in the method was one of Caters—see page 442). If, as I assume, the places in the peal of Triples were made in 5-6, then the method is Hunslet (of which the first peal of Triples was rung at Leeds on August 4th, 1966).—Yours faithfully,

R. BROWN.

Rothwell.

LINCOLN DIOCESAN GUILD

Quite a busy time ahead was planned at the annual meeting of the West Lindsey Branch on January 20th, held at Gainsborough Parish Church. Canon Roberts presided and members promised their support for a one-day ringing school, the Guild Ringing Festival to be held in the Branch, and a summer outing to Chester.

Upon Mr. Baker's proposition a collection was taken for the Gainsborough Parish Church £10,000 Restoration Appeal. After a short service, conducted by the Vicar, ringing was resumed until 8 p.m.

POINTS FROM PEALS

BY CANON K. W. H. FELSTEAD

I am grateful to Mr. Phillippo for his letter on page 775 last year about the peals rung at Bunwell so that we now agree that the 100th peal was rung on April 12th last. I have, of course, to rely on accurate reporting and in this case a peal rung at Long Stratton appeared to have been rung at Bunwell, hence the discrepancy. Whilst mentioning this, very rarely is one "foxed" by a tower appearing under different names. A case of this appeared last November, when a tower "Culcheth, Lancs." was amongst the peal towers. This name does not appear in "Dove's" or "Crockford's Clerical Directory," etc., but I presume it is the Newchurch tower of unknown dedication mentioned in "Dove," even though the weight of the tenor does not agree with the published one. It would be helpful to have a consistent name.

I am also grateful to Mr. Ian V. J. Smith for letting me know that one of the peals counted in the 50 at Beeston (mentioned in the last article) has been found to be false. Thus the next peal there will be the 50th now. The false peal was rung in 1898!

17 VIRGIN TOWERS CONQUERED

Peals this time refer to the last six months of 1967. In this period another 17 virgin towers were conquered—all but one were claimed as the first on the bells. The exception was Bampton, in Westmorland. The others which I confirm are Leek Wootton, Badingham, Broadwood Kelly, East Allington, Hovingham, Preston-by-Wingham, Parkham, Sutton Maddock, St. Audries, Westleigh, Lostwithiel, Compton Bassett, Milborne St. Andrew, Motisfont, St Neots and Shebbear. What lovely names many of them have! The number seems to be about average for the six-month period.

Rather fewer than usual were the number of infrequent towers—only 11 in fact. The longest silence in the peal lists was at Griston, its name last appearing in 1912. The claim that it was only the second peal on the bells was not quite accurate—it was the third peal, for there was another one in 1911. This was the only tower last to be heard before the first war. Four towers last had a peal in the 1920's. Croston's last was in 1925, so the claim as the first peal for 50 years is again not quite right. The 1925 peal was the only previous peal of Major (Double Norwich). Before that there had been seven peals of Grandsire Triples from 1890 to 1911 and a peal of Stedman Triples in 1914. So there have only been ten peals in nearly 80 years—few for an eight-bell tower.

I confirm that the last peal at Haverfordwest was in 1927. There was also one here in 1926. Carmarthen likewise last appeared in 1927 (not 1923, as claimed). This was the only previous peal I have come across. King's Caple's recent peal of Minor was (I confirm) the first of Minor on the bells. Previously there had been three peals of Doubles, two in 1928 and the last in 1929. Aldwinckle last had a peal in 1931, likewise Hinton St. George. The former had also recorded one in 1919, but the one at Hinton was the first on the bells. We then have to jump to 1938 to find the next infrequent visitors to the peal columns. There were three towers from this year—Brooke (the only previous peal before last year's one); Maiden Newton (where peals were also rung in 1932, 1934, 1935 and 1936—one each year); and Ashburton (peals of Double Norwich in 1902 and 1926 and Grandsire Triples in 1932 and 1938). The last pre-second war tower (which is where I draw my line in mentioning rare peal towers) is Westbury-on-Trym. The claim that the peal was the first of Minor on the bells was correct, but it was not the second peal on the bells. As well as the 1939 peal of Grandsire Doubles there had been one in the same method in 1913. So the recent peal was the third one.

MILESTONES

Then we come to milestones. Further investigation shows that I missed one or two in my last article, i.e. towers which reached certain marks in the first six months of last year. Chief of these was Birmingham Cathedral, where I now make the peal of London Royal on February 18th last the 600th on the bells. I note that peals are once again being rung here after the enforced six months' rest. Then there were three 50-pealers I omitted to mention. They were Caythorpe (50th peal on January 21st), Stafford (March 27th) and Ratby (April 29th). Actually I cannot be blamed for the last one—the account did not appear in the peal list until October 27th. A hint for prompt publication!

To return to milestones in the past six months—Bushey takes pride of place with its 350th peal. It was claimed for the peal on August 21st, but I made it the previous peal, on August 3rd. The peals have been very evenly divided through the years. Thus there were 134 from 1890 (first peal) to 1914, i.e. in 25 years, 97 between the wars, i.e. in 20 years, and 119 since the last war, i.e. 23 years. Duffield reached its 300th peal on December 7th. Here the hey-day was prior to World War I, for 179 peals had been rung when it commenced. Between the wars there was not a great deal of activity, especially in the 1930's. Forty-four peals only were rung in the period. Since the last war the pace has gradually increased again—six peals in the 1940's, 24 in the 1950's and 47 in the 1960's so far. The pre-1914 war average was about six per year and it has now been reached again.

No towers reached the 200's in the period under review, but three passed the 150 mark. They were Shirley, Warwick, Epsom (Christ Church) and Walthamstow (St. Mary's). The Epsom tower claimed as such, but I would not like to be absolutely certain as I have one or two peals which, when published, did not quite make it clear which Epsom tower was meant. All the Shirley peals have been rung since 1923 so there is not much doubt about them. The Walthamstow total includes early peals commencing in 1778.

CENTURY MARK

I confirm the 100th peal at Fairfield. Other towers to reach their century were Cuckfield (July 7th), Trumpington (July 29th), Farnham (July 15th) and Old Swinford (St. Mary's) on November 11th. Fairfield completed its 100 in the quickest time—it did not start until 1933, then came Trumpington, which, as a six-bell tower had 34 peals from 1920 to 1955. The remaining 66 have come since augmentation, from 1958. Both Farnham and Old Swinford have peals going back to the early days of peal ringing, so their centuries have been a long time in coming. Cuckfield's first peal was in 1815, but the 30-odd peals immediately before the first war and a similar number since the last one appear to be the main periods of activity.

Reaching the 50 mark were Harwell (October 14th), Wye (October 28th), Silverdale (November 7th), and Burton-on-Trent (St. Modwen's) on November 11th. The last tower—the old parish church of the town—has taken nearly 170 years to reach this total, having been overshadowed by the famous ringing tower of St. Paul's. Wye has taken even longer, for the first peal I have there is in 1736. Both the other two towers have only had peals in this century.

Finally, some other odd notes. The peal of Yorkshire Royal at St. Helens was not the first such on the bells. One had been rung on December 26th, 1952. Likewise the claim for the first of Surprise at All Saints', Basingstoke, was not justified. Basing Surprise Major was rung in 1966. A minor correction for Humberstone—the peal was the first since 1953, not 1952. The peal at Norton Fitzwarren pinpointed the way in which a tower's fortunes change. Here, there were 24 peals in the three years 1899 to 1901, then came nine from 1902 to 1905 and four from 1910 to 1913. Since then there have been single peals in the years 1953, 1956 and 1967.

SOUTHEND & DISTRICT GUILD

Future Uncertain

The annual general meeting of the Southend and District Guild was held at Rayleigh on January 27th. The Rector, the Rev. G. W. Hatch (acting president), took the chair, and members stood in silent tribute to Canon J. A. Stanley, late Vicar of Prittlewell and president of the Guild for the past seven years. The chairman then welcomed the visitors, who included Mr. Frank B. Lufkin and two ringers from Charing, Kent.

The secretary and treasurer's report was followed by the election of officers, and Mr. Frank B. Lufkin, Master of the Essex Association and founder of the Guild, was elected president.

A proposal was then put to the meeting by Mr. Michael Hallett and seconded by George Eve, that in the event of the proposal to split the South West District of the Essex Association being passed at the Association's annual general meeting on the Spring Bank Holiday this year, the Southend and District Guild will terminate its existence at its next annual general meeting. This was agreed to.

Sgt.-Major H. H. Furminger was elected Master of the Guild, the first Service man to hold this post. Mr. Stephen Halliwell was elected Deputy Master, and Miss Jenifer Emms was elected secretary and treasurer.

The president addressed the meeting and told how he and Mr. Don Coombes had founded the Guild back in 1950. But he agreed with the meeting that, if the proposal to split the South West District of the Essex Association is passed by the Association, then the decision to terminate the Guild at its next annual general meeting was a wise one. The President announced that in future this presentation would take the form of reading out names, a request to stand and a welcome by the President in the name of the Council. He mentioned at the same time that the practice of making obituary tributes would cease, but the customary silence would be kept and prayers said.

Election of Honorary Members.

It was resolved that Mrs. R. F. B. Speed and Messrs. G. W. Pipe and F. A. White be re-elected.

Losses Through Death.

The President reported the deaths of the following members and past members of the Council, the members standing in silence: Messrs. E. G. Fenn (Ancient Society of College Youths, 1939-56), T. R. #### Reports and Accounts.

The following were adopted:

Honorary secretary and treasurer (published in "Ringing World" of June 9th, 1967, page 391).

Honorary librarian ("Ringing World," June 16th, page 409).

Accounts for 1966 ("Ringing World," June 9th, page 391).

Motions.

It was resolved that this Council deprecates most strongly the deliberate submission of false information for publication in "The Ringing World," and asks all Associations and individual ringers to do all they can to stop this practice before serious harm is caused to the Exercise and its journal.

A motion seeking to charge a fee for peals published in the present style was referred to "The Ringing World" Committee, which was instructed to report its conclusions next year.

A motion to amend Section D (8) of the Council's Decision on page 21 to read as follows:

"Peals which contain more than one method shall be called 'Spliced' provided that methods are joined in the fundamental units of which they are constructed (i.e. the leads in treble-dominated methods, the divisions in the case of Stedman, Duffield and the like). In addition where a peal qualifies as Spliced under the above definition methods may also be joined at the half-lead, provided that where this is done only one of any group of methods differing only in the places made at the half-lead or the lead-end may be used in any one composition" was referred to the Methods Committee for its consideration and report.

Future Meetings.

It was resolved that the 1968 meeting at Worcester be held on Tuesday, June 4th.

The Hertford County Association wished to bring forward its invitation for 1969. This was accepted.

Reports.

Canberra Carillon.

The President reported that, following representations from the Australian and New Zealand Association about the precise form of the British Government's gift to the Commonwealth he had corresponded with members of both Governments to try to convince them of the desirability of hanging some of the bells for ringing.

It was therefore resolved that this Council, representing all the ringers of the Commonwealth, unanimously supports the idea, that eight or more of the bells of the Canberra Carillon be hung for ringing in full circle in the English manner.

The President said that copies of this resolution would be sent to all the officials involved in the scheme.

Votes of Thanks.

The Council expressed its gratitude to the Lord Mayor of Nottingham, the Bishop of Sherwood, the chairman of the Southwell Diocesan Guild, to the Vicar of St. Mary's Church for the service of Holy Communion, and also the incumbents of all the other churches for the use of their bells. Thanks were also expressed to all the officers of the Southwell Diocesan Guild and particularly to Mr. W. L. Exton, the honorary general secretary, for all the excellent arrangements.

The members of the Council were the guests of the Lord Mayor and Corporation of Nottingham at tea immediately after the meeting.

BATH AND WELLS ACTIVITIES

Frome Branch A.G.M.

Coincidental with "The Ringing World" frontispiece for the week showing the imposing tower of Chewton Mendip, Frome Branch gathered at this beautifully-toned eight on January 13th for its annual general meeting. With visitors from the Bath, Chew and Glaston Branches, and more from Bristol, Wales and Bridgwater, the event looked more like the Bath and Wells annual general meeting—especially since the Association's general secretary and the treasurer, Messrs. Gilbert and Naylor, were also present.

Ron Beck was like a cat with two tails with two or more "Bristol" and "London" teams, and the general ringing was undoubtedly better than usual.

All the Branch officers and officials were re-elected, which indicates satisfaction and not apathy, and the Frome/Bath/Chew Striking Competition play-off was proposed for March 23rd.

In response to Bishop Wilson's appeal for a bell for Trinidad a collection was taken in Mr. Beck's hat—there is no truth in the suggestion that this hat holds more than others. Philip Jones proposed a vote of thanks to the Rev. A. Clarkson, who had so warmly welcomed the Branch to his church, and to Mr. and Mrs. H. Baker for making all the local arrangements.

M. H.

Cary Branch has 218 Members

About 60 ringers attended the service at Wincanton Parish Church at the Cary Branch's annual meeting on January 27th. The Rector, Preb. R. B. H. Kay, officiated, assisted by the Branch chairman, the Rev. G. S. Robinson, and Mr. L. Lane was the organist.

At the business meeting after tea a silent tribute was paid to Messrs. F. Sparks and C. Whatley, who had died during the year. The secretary in his report spoke of an increase in the membership of the Branch to 218.

Officers elected for the ensuing year were: Chairman, Rev. G. S. Robinson; vice-chairman, Preb. O. H. Skipwith; Ringing Master, Mr. D. M. C. Hill; Assistant Ringing Master, Mr. R. G. Field; secretary, Mr. L. McCreadie.

Twenty-two new members were elected from the towers at Babcary, Cucklington, Evercreech, Henstridge, Milborne Port, Stoke Trister, Queen Camel and Wincanton, and a number of certificates were presented by the chairman.

Meeting places for 1968 were fixed (subject to permission) at Barton St. David, Horsington and Queen Camel, with practices at South Cadbury, Cucklington, Kingweston and Templecombe, with next year's annual meeting at Castle Cary.

Ringing was then resumed and continued during the evening.

SOUTHWELL DIOCESAN GUILD

The annual meeting of the Mansfield District took place at Mansfield on January 27th. The ringing varied considerably in method and quality. The service was taken by Canon R. Warburton, who later joined the 50-strong company for tea at Grove House.

The business meeting began with a moment of remembrance for G. Oakley, A. Munk and F. Salter who had passed away during the year. The secretary's report and accounts for 1967 were adopted, and the following District officers were returned: Chairman, S. W. Fossey; secretary, D. J. Beach; Ringing Master, H. T. Rooke; Assistant Ringing Master, B. A. Richards; committee member, D. A. Whetton. L. Boulter and Mrs. S. Ford, of Eastwood, also A. Rooke and Miss S. Etchles, of Warsop, were proposed and elected ringing members. It was observed from this that three generations of the Rooke family are now ringing at Warsop Church.

The chairman proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Canon R. Warburton, the ladies and all who had helped in any way with the meeting arrangements.

D. J. B.

BELFRY GOSSIP

We have mentioned previously the keenness at Northallerton, Yorks. The quarter of Grandsire on January 28th was the first of Triples for all the band and by a local one!

Mr. John R. Ketteringham, of Bayswater, W.2, will be out of ringing for a few weeks as he has to go back to hospital. A speedy recovery, John.

We have had several notes of appreciation concerning the work of Mr. W. L. Roper in compiling the 1967 (and other) indexes. It is nice to know that readers do appreciate the hours of voluntary work he puts in on behalf of "The Ringing World."

After the reopening and rededication of the Buriton, Hants. Methodist Church, two of its members joined the village captain and three friends from Petersfield and Steep to ring a quarter peal at the Parish Church to mark the occasion. The Methodists—the Misses A and S. Roberts—ring most Sundays before going to the service in their own church.

Three generations of the Rooke family are now ringing at Warsop Church.

Mr. Frank Hawthorne is retiring this Easter and is going to live at Aberarch, near Pwllheli, North Wales.

We regret to learn that Mrs. A. Relfe, of Lamberhurst, died in the Kent and Sussex Hospital, Tunbridge Wells, on February 3rd.

The clapper of the fifth at Hitchin was broken at practice on February 5th. It was promptly despatched for repair. Ringing continues on seven.

Mr. D. Hall, of Burgess Hill, Sussex, is moving to Cheshire shortly after the annual District meeting of the Southern Division of the Sussex Association on February 17th; he is the present hon. secretary.

The peal at Langdale on January 27th by members of the Furness and Lake District Branch of the Lancashire Association commemorated the 70th birthday of Mr. Robin Shuttleworth, who for 21 years was tower captain at St. Michael's, Hawkshead.

GREAT-GRANDFATHER CELEBRATES

Grandfathers ringing for the birth of grandchildren are quite a frequent feature of the columns of "The Ringing World." Much more unusual was the quarter peal at Great Baddow on January 21st, when Dr. P. T. Spencer-Phillips, who is 85, made a return to conducting after ten years to celebrate the christening of his great-grandson, Jeremy Ben Fawcus. The baby's grandfather, Dr. P. J. Spencer Phillips, was also ringing. We only wish the baby's parents were ringers, too!

SOUTHAMPTON UNIVERSITY GUILD

At the annual general meeting, held on January 31st, Canon K. W. H. Felstead was re-elected president, Howard J. Payne was elected Master, David H. Stone Vice-Master, Susan E. M. Davis secretary/treasurer, and Jeremy D. Cheesman to the committee. Communications should be sent to: Miss S. E. M. Davis, c/o J.C.R. Post, The University, Southampton SO95NH.

RECRUITING EXHIBITION AT HEREFORD

To meet a shortage of bellringers in Hereford—there are only nine available with 18 bells at two churches—an exhibition will be held at All Saints' Church on the evening of February 23rd. The public are invited to see eight ringers in action and also inspect the bells.

Mr. Michael V. Powell, the Hereford District secretary, states in the "Hereford Evening News" that there is no stipulation of religious belief for would-be ringers, and whether or not they attend service after calling everyone else in is entirely a matter of choice.

50 YEARS A RINGER

Mr. Charles Brown has completed 50 years as a ringer at St. Andrew's, Wingfield, Suffolk. On February 4th the Vicar, the Rev. W. G. Muir, on behalf of the church and congregation, presented him with a gold wristlet watch together with a commemorative scroll from the Suffolk Guild and paid tribute to his conscientious work and unswerving loyalty over the years.

Another office Mr. Brown holds is that of sexton, the duties of which he has fulfilled for the past 22 years.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY ASSOCIATION

A representative gathering of N. and E. members met at St. Matthew's, Upper Clapton, on January 20th, when the bells were put to good use in the afternoon and evening. The Association's form of service was conducted by Father Cossar, who gave a short and inspiring address. Mr. Dennis Neal accompanied at the organ. At the business meeting the belfry election of Miss Jennifer Indge, prior to a peal at North Mymms, was ratified.

Votes of thanks were extended to Father Southgate, Vicar of St. Matthew's, who is shortly leaving the district to take up an appointment at Fleetwood, for the use of the bells; to Father Cossar and Dennis Neal, and to the local ladies for arranging an excellent tea in the new Church Hall. E. H. K.

AUCKLAND CALLING

Determined efforts are being made by Mr. W. T. Lack to get the bells of St. Matthew's, Auckland, New Zealand, ringing again, but, as his announcement states, he badly needs help. He writes: "One cannot expect young ladies to shine with a 14in. shifting spanner in quite the same way as they did when shovelling pigeon-muck and cleaning the frame down! Also Robert (my son) and I would have welcomed an extra pair of hands when we humped our first wheel up the tower, as jarrah is about 16 per cent. heavier than oak."

While working in the belfry Mr. Lack's thoughts went back to the ringers at Auckland—the pioneers who rang their first quarter of Grandsure Trippies in 1912; the half-muffled quarter for Tommy Biddle, of Christchurch, in 1913; and the peal attempt that year which broke down after two hours of good striking. He adds: "The last tangible link with these men was the copy of 'The Bell News and Ringers Record' for December 26th, 1914, found in the loft adjacent to the ringing chamber, open at page 439 with a controversial letter occupying three-quarters of that page, by one H. W. Fright on 'The Illegitimacy of Stedman.'"

70 YEARS A COLLEGE YOUTH

This month that grand and remarkable veteran, Mr. George E. Symonds, of Ipswich, completes 70 years' membership of the Ancient Society of College Youths. In 1967 he attended the anniversary dinner of the College Youths and it is the hope of the Society that he will be able to be present this year. Earlier this year he and Mrs. Symonds celebrated their diamond wedding. George is now 92 and he seems to be as active as ever, having rung peals for his 90th, 91st and 92nd birthdays.

THE SURPRISE ALPHABET

By taking part in a peal of Oxfordshire Surprise Major at Weedon Bec, Northamptonshire, on January 27th, Mr. Barry E. Saunders became the third ringer from the south of Northamptonshire to complete the Surprise Major alphabet in recent months. Mr. Alan A. Paul was the first with the first peal of Verney Surprise Major at Easton Neston on August 26th, 1967, followed three weeks later by his brother Graham, whose last method was Dorchester, rung at Market Harborough, Leicestershire.

KENT COUNTY ASSOCIATION

The first meeting at Mersham of the Ashford District since November, 1925, took place on January 17th. The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. C. F. Pollard, who welcomed the ringers and in his sermon spoke of the discipline, dedication and devotion required from ringers. The offertory, amounting to £5 16s. 6d., was donated to the John Willis Memorial Fund.

Tea was enjoyed in the Village Hall and over 100 partook of the fare so lavishly arranged by the Mersham ringers. A short business meeting was held after the tea, which concluded with a vote of thanks proposed by Dr. L. Garraway. A. P. S. B.

URANGWOT II

Urangwot II proved quite a popular teaser and attracted 56 entries. There is only one acceptable solution if both towers had the bells hung clockwise—an assumption well justified by the small number of anti-clockwise rings in existence.

The five ringers may very conveniently be represented by A, B, C, D and E. Ringers know well that there are 120 permutations of five numbers or letters when each is different. However, having learned that D and B were adjacent and in that order they can be treated as one and the permutations are thus reduced to 24. Similarly, in the second tower A and E may be treated as one, although the order there is not specified. For the second tower there arise 48 permutations so far. The other conditions impose considerable restrictions in both cases and a final comparison of the few remaining acceptable ones shows which permutations can be taken together to give the answer. Solution:

First tower: (1 Tom), 2 Chris, 3 Alan, 4 Denis, 5 Bob, 6 Ernie.

Second tower: (1 Tom), 2 Denis, 3 Chris, 4 Ernie, 5 Alan, 6 Bob.

Forty entries claimed this solution on its own or with the anti-clockwise solution and 17 of these were ladies, including the winner, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Struckett, Blackdown Border, Tennyson's Lane, Haslemere, Surrey.

One young lady expressed the hope for some more similar puzzles as she greatly enjoyed solving this one—even though the headmaster did not approve of her doing it at school!

BELFRY RHYMES

From "Bell News," December 26th, 1908.

Read by the Master at the dinner of the Society of Royal Cumberland Youths.

Mr. Joseph Crumb, though a good natured chum,

In the belfry would boast like a rebel.
 Every method could ring, but a very strange thing.

He usually made choice of the Treble.

The first peal he rang went off with a bang.
 He felt like Napoleon at Jena;
 When the smoke cleared away, he shouted
 "Hooray!"

'Twas Stedman he rang on the Tenor.

When disputes would arise over London Surprise

Crumb then cut a very fine caper:
 Each error explained and adroitly maintained

'Twas as easy as winking—on paper.

Some thought Crumb a lord, others deemed him a fraud,
 So diverse the opinions of people;
 But all were agreed, should he ever succeed
 Sure 'twould not be inside the steeple.

He invited me once, with my wife, to take lunch—
 In transport our hearts were uplifted;
 But when we got round do you know what we found?

Why, as usual, the bounder had shifted.

Rings of Four in Nottinghamshire—By GEORGE A. DAWSON

Arnold.—Since the church's foundations were underpinned during coal mining operations the bells have not been rung. They are chimed quite often and there are moves to have them rehung in a new frame and augmented to five. When visited the fittings were in poor condition. Two trebles by Samuel Midworth, of Mansfield, dated 1841. He was a brass founder and the only other bells known by him are Warsop (1812, since recast), Skegby (1830) and two bells at St. Mary's, Bulwell (1851), which were recast and incorporated into the ring of eight now there.

The third by George Oldfield I is 1699 and tenor by Thomas Mears in 1799. Weight about 8 cwt.

Calverton.—A good four rehung by Taylor's in 1896, when they augmented them from two. All swing east-west. Tenor on ball-bearings and the trebles on plain bearings. The treble is by George Oldfield I, cast in 1623. The other three are by Taylor's, 1896/7, the second being a recast of one by George Oldfield I in 1667.

The bells go well, but the tenor is slow going. One quarter peal, 1,320 Minimus in two methods, was rung here on October 19th, 1963. There used to be a local band till about 1965.

Car Colston.—The four are not rung as the tower is unsafe. Attempts to ring them about 1964 resulted, according to rumour, in the band departing from the tower at high speed. All are hung side by side along one side of the tower. There is a peculiar stay system here, the stays being about 18 in. long and engage on a sliding block arrangement bolted to the side of the frame.

The two trebles are by George Oldfield I, 1633 and undated respectively, third by Taylor's in 1872 and the tenor bears the badges ascribed to Richard Mellours and his son, Robert, 1470-1525. The inscription on this bell is not one of the more common ones used by them and it reads:

Clara+voce+pia+resono+usu+sca+maria
Tenor diameter is 36 in. so weight will be about 8 cwt.

East Stoke.—A complete four by Henry Oldfield II, in 1591, these fine bells are unringable as the massive wooden frame is now unsafe. Tenor weight about 10 cwt. They are occasionally swing-chimed.

Epperstone.—Although mentioned by Dove as a four, these bells are not a true four but three and a large clock bell. All are now hung "dead" and fitted with chiming hammers, the lighter three in the old wooden frame and the clock bell between this frame and one window ledge. They were ringable in 1901.

The treble is by Thomas Hedderly, in 1742, and is one of the earliest bells by the Hedderlys using the stamps of the Oldfield family. The second is by George Oldfield II, in 1729, the third by Henry Oldfield II, in 1590. The clock bell is by Taylor's, in 1865. Third diameter 33 in. and tenor 45 in.

Farndon.—Condemned by Taylor's in the early 1950s, but prior to this time I believe there was a local band.

The bells are hung in a substantial wooden frame, which looks typical of those made by the Hedderlys, and plain bearings. Treble by George Oldfield II, cast in 1710, the second by Thomas Hedderly, in 1774, and the two tenors by Henry Oldfield II (undated and 1589 respectively). Tenor diameter 38 in., weight in the region of 10 cwt.

Flintham.—These bells are hung "dead" in the central tower on R.G.J.s. The ropes attached to the chiming hammers fall in the very corners of the tower among the choir stalls.

Treble by Thomas Hedderly, in 1777, 2 and 3 by Henry Oldfield II, in 1613 and 1616 respectively, and the tenor by George Oldfield II in 1718.

Quite a pleasant sounding four but alas, only chimable.

CHURCH OF ST. OSWALD, EAST STOKE

Hawton.—All attempts to even look at the bells in this fine three-stage late Perpendicular tower have met with refusal on the grounds that the floors are unsafe.

One bell by Richard Mellours is probably coeval with the tower, which was completed in 1482.

Linby.—Unmentioned in Dove, these bells were the subject of an article in the "R.W." early in 1966. Plain bearings in very poor condition, they are hung in a much-strengthened frame. The fittings are in poor condition; each bell has its own peculiarity; the tenor man is hidden from the ringers of 2 and 3 by the clock case. Definitely bells for tenor kings, the light four, by Thomas Mears, in 1826, have had two quarter peals rung upon them, in November and December, 1965.

East Leake.—A 3-bell tower here, the fourth bell is a small (13in. dia.) sanctus. Rehung by Taylor's in a metal H frame in the year 1920, they are spaced to accommodate six bells. The local band ring them with the treble half down, giving bells in the order 1213, 1213.

Normanton-on-Soar.—Politics keep this pretty four from being rung. An opportunity recently showed that the bells go very well in spite of much neglect in recent years. Rehung by Taylors in 1897, when they recast all the bells, they were previously a complete four by George Oldfield II, in 1634/5. The tenor weighs about 8½ cwt. The tower is a central one with a tall spire.

Norwell.—These bells were rehung in a metal frame by Taylor's in 1932 and a fourth bell was added one year later. The frame is arranged for the addition of two trebles at some future date. Although in good condition, the bell chamber has been of late much neglected and birds have gained entry. The bells are rung occasionally for service by Sutton-on-Trent ringers and go well. The tenor weighs 9-2-5 in G, diameter 39½ in., by Taylor's, 1821. Treble and 2 by Taylor's also, in 1932-3. The third is a fine bell by Henry Oldfield, in 1591.

Oxton.—Eight cwt. four which go well. There is, or was till very recently, a local band. One quarter peal has been rung here, in November, 1963.

A wooden frame and plain bearings; the fittings are in good condition. The treble and tenor by Taylor's, 1885 and 1911 respectively; the 2nd and 3rd are by George Oldfield II.

ST. JAMES THE GREAT, NORMANTON

Gonalston.—Although hung for full circle ringing, the light four have neither stays nor sliders. The bells are hung in two tiers in the small tower in a frame erected by the local joiner, W. Faulks, in 1852, when the church was extensively rebuilt and the tower added. The fittings are in a poor condition but the bells are quite ringable by a strong band. The Bingham District of the Southwell Diocesan Guild have held meetings here.

Treble and tenor by Taylor's, in 1853, 2 and 3 from the Nottingham foundry, possibly William Noon's, in 1684. Tenor diameter 28in., about 4½ cwt.

The 216 has the six shortened courses with 5 and 6 coursing; and the 564 has either 5 or 6 coursing with the treble throughout. The remainder are three-part arrangements all on the same plan, and no doubt further extents could be arranged in a similar way; they are:
